TWENTY-NINTH YEAR.

WAYNE, NEBRASKA THURSDAY, MARCH 16, 1905.

NUMBER 7.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

L. L. Neely made a business trip to Carroll Tuesday.

Fred Schroeder was down from Hoskins on business Monday.

A. N. Matheny returned Friday from Oakland where he went on telephone business.

The old storage plant of Davenport Bros., at Norfolk, was entirely destroyed by fire Friday.

Attorney A. A. Welch returned Tuesday from Hartington where he was called on legal business.

Wakefield is talking electric lights and has appointed a committee to visit the various towns in Northeast Nebraska where the lighting plants are owned and operated by the towns.

Neil Williams, aged about 40 years, died at his home in Wayne Sunday, leaving a wife and five children. The funeral took place Tuesday and was conducted by Rev. Dully of the Baptist church. The family is in indigent circumstances and deserves the favorable consideration of charitably inclined people.

The Farmers and Traders bank closed a land deal one day last week which Mr. Haskell says is the largest that has been made in years, the transaction involving a money consideration of over $40,000. The deal was the sale of the P. J. Neff farm to J. W. Fredericksen for $21,150 and the J. W. Fredericksen farm to F. O. Borg for $20,915.—Wakefield Republican.

Lewis Owen is making the old Everingham farm just northwest of the city shine. He has built several new barns, granaries, etc., and is now busy erecting a new house that will be large, commodious and strictly modern in every respect, having furnace heat, bath room and all the accessories necessary to make home life comfortable.

Joe Ringland, the four-year-old son of H. S. got up an excitement of his own in town Friday afternoon. The little fellow found some acorn pills and poured some water into the bottle containing the pills, dissolving the pills and his mother supposed he drank a part of the contents of the bottle. Medical aid was at once summoned and pretty vigorous measures were adopted to offset any ill effects of the medicine.

The English Lutheran congregation of this city have begun excavating at their church and when they have finished the work now planned, their will be one of the nice churches of the city. They intend to build on quite an addition to the present edifice and to entirely remodel the old part, finishing the entire building in hard wood and putting in electric lights and furnace heat. The anticipated cost of the improvements will be from $2000 to $2500.

After Mr. Levi Kimball had left Wakefield last week for Kansas City where he expected to meet his son Tom, he received a telegram stating that Tom was still in Phoenix, Ariz., and Mr. Kimball continued his journey to that place. On Monday they left for Wakefield expecting to arrive here last night. When Tom left here last summer he went to Colorado where at that time it was rainy and damp and he concluded to go to Arizona. But we understand it has been raining there and as Tom has been camping out for the benefit of his health he contracted a severe cold and is now very ill with slight hope of recovery.—Wakefield Republican. The young man is now at home in Wakefield and is very ill.

John Morris and John Shannon visited Wausa last week to investigate the Farmer's Elevator at that place. They were shown through the whole establishment by the manager and returned highly pleased with the workings and success of the enterprise. The price of grain is higher at Wausa than other points along the line. Farmer's elevators are being started all over the state and now about 140 are in successful operation. Hartington and Laurel have been taking it up and Randolph is about to fall in line. Carroll must be attentive to her interests and hold every advantage with her neighbors. If a co-operative elevator is necessary to do it, why not shine with our rivals? Turn out Saturday afternoon at the A. O. U. W. hall and consider the project.—Carroll Index.

The Stanton Picket of last week has the following item of news regarding our former citizen H. E. Mason: "The Picket learns with regret that Prof. Mason has decided to sever his connection with the Stanton schools and retire from teaching at the end of the present year, and has so notified the board of education. For six years Prof. Mason has been at the head of the Stanton schools and has rendered effective service. There has been a constant improvement in the schools. As a rule patrons have been satisfied with his work. But little fault has been found and there have been many commendatory remarks. At a recent meeting of the board resolutions were passed and unanimously signed commending his work and regretting his determination to retire from the work. These resolutions cannot at the present time be procured for publication, owing to the absence of the secretary F. A. Raabe, from town." The indignities grip still prevails and increases the burden of living for a considerable number of inefficient people.

It will take a longer stretch of respectable weather than has been dispensed thus far to drive the disease entirely out of business. An occasional bright day tossed in among a week or two of ice, snow, slush and sloop is not enough. Several days of warm sunshine in succession are needed to restore health, and there seems to be no very brilliant prospect of getting them until after we have waded through March. The grip may not be as fatal as the bubonic plague, but it rivals it in stubborn tenacity, and the smallpox is easy in comparison. The grip is working a number of specialties this season. Besides filtering a series of aches through each bone of the anatomy, it tackles the ears and liver and finally, after becoming fully organized, lands in the weakest and most defenseless spot. The disease is a quick repeater. It may return, unheralded, several times and give one its entire program of misery each time. As a creator of fever, pain and apprehension, the grip is shrieking success, and we may well be thankful that its flourishing period will soon disappear before the glow of summer warmth.

Of late we have frequently been asked who the candidates were likely to be for the various county offices to be filled this fall and each time we have given the same answer, "don't know." This may seem strange and to some of our readers who are well acquainted with us and know what our tendencies have been in the past to mix in matters of this kind, a declaration like the above may sound like an evasion or an outright untruth, but we hasten to assure such that it is neither. Experience has taught us a few things and one of these is that a man that gets mixed in politics for the other fellow's sake generally gets the hot end of the poker and age and experience have taught us some things and one of these is to attend strictly to our own business. Now we like politics all right but we are not jumping into the fray just for the sake of helping some fellow to pull through all O. K. and then have him give us the laugh that gratifies. Past experience with office seekers and domestic animals has taught us that there is but mighty little difference between an office seeker and the hog, except that the hog will sometimes get his fill of the contents of the crib while the office seeker never does. Help a friend to an office this year and next year he will expect you to aid for some other place and so it will continue until the clouds of the valley cover one or both of you. We know of no appetite-so voracious and so impossible to satisfy when once fixed on a man as the appetite for office. It becomes his absolute master and usually drives him to financial and moral ruin, and as we have no friends we care to see traveling this pathway and are not expected to help our enemies we are not in it for the present at least.

In many Nebraska towns the annual scrap over saloons or no saloons, or for a greater or less number than they now have is on. People that never enter a saloon are championing the cause of the saloon in some instances because they are afraid it will hurt the trade of the town to refuse to maintain these places, or perhaps the reason is given that the revenue derived goes to the support of the public schools, forgetting the suffering and privations endured by others in order to enable the saloon to pay the revenue. When the line-up comes on election day you will find the saloon keeper and church man jostling each other in order to get into the booth to vote for the same man or men and both thoroughly convinced that he or she will put into operation a municipal policy such as will meet the individual ideas of the voter and both of them will be deceived to a degree. More than once in the city of Wayne have the saloons and good people of the town lined up and given their support to the same set of men and invariably the saloons got what they wanted and the other fellows got left and it is safe to presume the experience of our city is only that of many others. But why must the town elections of Nebraska be centered around the saloon issue. Let men be elected to fill the municipal offices who are qualified to properly discharge the duties incumbent on them, and who are broad enough to treat all questions in a manner that will reflect credit on themselves and the city or town. Don't let the saloon question hide all other things from view when you attend the caucus or go into the election booth to vote.

MRS. HALL'S MIRACLE. Experiences Similar to This Have Occasioned Considerable Comment in Wayne. Few women are better known in Lookport, N. Y., than Mrs. Pattle D. Hall, as she belongs to one of the best families and has a large circle of friends and acquaintances. In a recent interview Mrs. Hall says: "The experience I have been through in the last two years seems like a miracle. I was so badly off that life seemed unendurable, and my deafness increased so that I could scarcely hear anything. The suffocation in my chest and the indignation caused by my catarrh, produced very severe suffering. I had five different physicians, bought everything that anybody recommended to me, but finally gave up in despair. "One day my milliner asked me if I had ever tried Hyomel. I began the treatment, and can thankfully testify that Hyomel does cure this terrible disease. Since using it my hearing is greatly improved, and the only time I have any catarrhal trouble is when I take cold. I then use Hyomel, and always get instant relief. My friends and acquaintances marvel at the change in my health and hearing."

Hyomel has made many cures of catarrh, and in connection with Hyomel balm, of catarrhal deafness, in Wayne. Similar experiences to that of Mrs. Hall have created a large sale for Hyomel with E. J. Raymond. The complete outfit, including the inhaler, costs but $1, while extra bottles are but 50 cents. Ask E. J. Raymond to show you the strong guarantee under which he sells Hyomel.

The republican party of Nebraska is going to be held responsible for the failure of the present legislature to give the state relief from the domination of the railroads.

Passes may not influence all members of the legislature possessing them, but they influence a sufficient number to meet the requirements of the interests issuing them.

If you could get the railroad passes away from every member of the Nebraska legislature there would be some hope of rate regulation legislation, but with the great majority carrying annuals there is no hope.

It is pretty difficult for a man carrying an annual pass in his pocket to vote for any legislation that is going to beat down on the railroad that has given him the pass. Most of the members of the Nebraska legislature have passes.

When so many politicians and jack-leg lawyers ride on passes in this state it seems like a travesty upon consistency for the legislature to be compelled to legislate so shippers of live stock may accompany their consignments free of fare so as to care for the stock.—Eremit at Tribune.

The legislature of Nebraska in its great wisdom has seen fit to kill all primary election legislation and incidentally will knock out the anti-pass bills. The political bosses and the railroads certainly have a much stronger pull than have the wishes of the people of the state. Better please the candidates before they are elected.

Representative McLeod acted wisely when he fought the $50,000 appropriation for a museum at the state university. The university of Nebraska uses the educational club to bleed the state most unmercifully and has become in a few years very rapacious in its demands. It is time to call a halt and demand greater economy.

The great battle of Mukden between the Russians and Japanese will go down in history as the greatest in loss of life. It is claimed now that the Russians have lost in killed, wounded and prisoners more than 150,000 men, of whom the killed will amount to over 80,000. Up to the present time no accounts are at hand of the Japanese losses.

The Tokamah Herald is stirring up quite a hornet's nest among Burt county office holders and is charging some of them with doing not at all creditable. Go after them Sutherland and the Japanese triumphed that as soon as the great bear could pick himself up he would proceed to wipe the little brown men from the face of the earth. More than a year has passed, many awful battles on both land and sea have been fought and not once have the armies of the great czar won a fight. The Japanese seem to be unconquerable and every detail of the battle appears to be fully determined before the first gun is fired and then no variation is made from the program mapped out; every thing is carried out just as intended without regard to cost in men or ammunition.

If in the face of the awful fate the Russian army has suffered in its latest battle with the Japanese around Mukden, the czar and his advisers continue the war it certainly indicates a rashness that sensible men are scarcely supposed to possess. There is not a shadow of hope left for Russia in the fight against the armies of Japan and it seems that everybody except the ruler of that unfortunate country knows it. The czar is so hemmed about by scheming grand dukes and others who fatten from just such undertakings as Russia is now engaged in, that the real facts never become known to him, and if they were known, it is doubtful if he possesses the strength of character necessary to take a stand in accord with humanity and common sense.

How can a man with an annual pass in his pocket consistently vote to make it a misdemeanor for his successor to do the same thing? It is a condition, not a theory, that confronts the members of the legislature on the question of an anti-pass law, and there is little hope that the measure introduced will be passed at this session. The defeat of the measure will, however, serve to emphasize the purpose of the railroads in giving these passes to legislators, as well as the false position in which the recipient is placed in position in which the recipient is placed by accepting such a favor. It may be that some day the people will become sufficiently aroused on this question to refuse to elect any man who has ever ridden on a pass to any office within their gift, and when that day comes some untrammelled railway legislation may be expected.—Norfolk Press.

There is no disguising the fact that the general public is very much disappointed, if not generally disgusted with the report of Commissioner Garfield, head of the department of commerce on the alleged beef trust. He declares that the profits of the great packers have not been exorbitant, only an average of 50 cents per head on each animal slaughtered. The American people, especially those interested in the production of beef are convinced that the commissioner is not onto his job and do not believe for a minute that the margin between the price paid to the producer and that obtained from the consumer after expenses are deducted only amounts to 39 cents per head. If this showing is true, then the expense of conducting the packing business is certainly very great and the economies we have been told these people practice is all a myth. The commissioner has been imposed upon and it looks for thinking people as though he is hardly big enough for the job he is attempting to hold down.

Reports are current in railroad circles that the Milwaukee is about to begin the construction of a line of railroad from the Missouri river west to the Black Hills. It is said the line will be extended from either Chamberlain or Everts, S. D. The line it is said will go through Belle Fourche and Spearfish with a spur running to Deadwood and Lead. The road will enter Wyoming through Sun Dance pass. An agreement is in force it is said by the Milwaukee and Northwestern not to invade the territory of each other without the consent of the other. In order to evade this agreement the White River Valley railroad company has been organized and after it has built the line referred to, it is expected the Milwaukee will acquire the newly built road by purchase or otherwise.

Father Haley has consented to give the students one of his characteristic chapel talks, discussing in an entertaining and inspiring manner on the elements of true greatness.

Misses Douglas and Mayden, two Burt county students, decided last week to divert their energies from the delights of learning to the pursuit of the practical. The former is engaged with one of our local milliners, and the latter with a local dress maker.

Misses Nepton and Stewart are on the program of the Northeastern Teachers' Association which meets at Norfolk the 30th inst. The former will give an address on the teaching of English, and the latter will have charge of the music at several sessions.

The "department of agriculture" at the N. N. C. desires an ear or two of seed corn such as was described by the seed corn specialists on their recent tour over the Northwestern. These ears if forthcoming will be placed in the biological cabinet and used for illustrative purposes.

Last week closed the tenth week since Christmas and as there were some seventy students entered just after Christmas and not a few of them for a ten weeks' stay, last Saturday saw a considerable delegation leaving for their homes. As in the past, doubtless, a very large per cent. of these will return, some for a term next winter, others for all next year, and sooner or later many of them will take diplomas from the N. N. C. Meanwhile chapel hall is still full to overflowing and a vigorous throng of laborers are at work in the education hall.

Indigestion Causes Catarrh of the Stomach.

For many years it has been supposed that Catarrh of the Stomach caused indigestion and dyspepsia, but the truth is exactly the opposite. Indigestion causes Catarrh. Repeated attacks of indigestion inflame the mucous membranes lining the stomach and exposes the nerves of the stomach, thus causing the glands to secrete mucus instead of acids of natural digestion. This is called Catarrh of the Stomach.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

Don't Be a Russian

Japan has licked Russia every jump in and yet Russia says she will send more men and ships to continue the war to the bitter end. Some people in this county are like Russia. They continue to do business where they are beaten every time they make a purchase. If they get a poor bargain they dig up more money and try it again, just like Russia. Russia blames her generals for defeat and these people blame the clerk and they try another clerk if they get swindled. If you have a well in which the water stinks, you can't change the water by putting in another pump. Dig a new well. If your clothing don't fit and don't give satisfaction or the price is too high try us and everything will be satisfactory. Everybody thought Japan was foolish to fight so big a nation as Russia, but we now know that it not the size of an army that counts, but it is the intelligence and strategy used that wins victory. So it is in the clothing business. It is not the biggest store where you get the best satisfaction. It is the up-to-date store that uses good judgement and has plenty of cash and fully understands their business that gives the best satisfaction. We have what you want and have used good judgment in selecting it. We have had over twenty-five years' experience in the clothing business. We have plenty of cash and understand our business. Expense in war is great and often determines the result. So it is in business. There is no clothing house on earth that has less expense in doing business than we have. We own our building. We have no clerks to pay. We have light insurance. We clothe the editor for advertising. We have plenty of cash. These are some of the reasons why we beat all competition. If you are not successful in getting good clothing at the right price where you are doing business make it change and try this store. Everything is up to date here, and you get another suit if you are not satisfied. Our spring goods are now here and we have more of them than ever before. Step in any time and look at them even if you are not ready to buy. We are small men like the Japs, but we do the business. Small but mighty in the clothing business. It will pay you to try us.

There is not going to be much room for complaint of lack of moisture in the ground this spring. The heavy snow of the winter has largely gone into the ground and these are being followed by rains so that the cry of "too much wet" is already being heard.

News was received in this city Tuesday by H. J. Leuders of the death of his brother, Henry Leuders at Glenwood Springs, Colorado. Mr. Leuders was 37 years of age and for many years was a resident of this city until the dread disease, consumption, fastened itself upon him and it was in the hope of being cured that he left here a couple of years ago and became a resident of Colorado. His remains are expected to arrive here this afternoon or tomorrow morning and the funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at one o'clock at the German Evangelical church and will be conducted by Rev. Karpenstein.
On Tuesday Charles Craven received a telegram announcing the death of Mrs. A. P. Childs in Youngstown, New York, where the lady was visiting with relatives. The telegram was brief, simply saying she had died very suddenly. It is expected the remains will be shipped here for interment as both her husband and daughter, Mrs. Chas. Craven, are buried here. Mrs. Childs is very well known here, having, with her husband and family been among the very early settlers of the county, and until a few years ago her husband was editor of the Democrat and under the second Cleveland administration was the postmaster of this city.
City caucus is called for tomorrow evening and it is pretty nearly a certainty that the nominees of this caucus will be the officials of the city for the next year. Will the good people, the people who are always kicking about maladministration, official corruption and extravagance come out and help choose the best in the land or will they sit at home and allow the caucus to go by default so far as any effort of theirs is concerned and then kick for the next twelve months? These people who never act themselves, but set around on their haunches like a lazy dog and howl eternally about what the fellows do deserve mighty little respect. They are about as near nonentities as it is possible to conceive.

Two years ago most people believed land prices in Wayne county had reached the very top and that instead of going higher would gradually drop down to a lower level. It was figured that we had never experienced a boom and we would be obliged to suffer the consequences of becoming unduly excited. The passing of time has demonstrated that even the shrewdest were mistaken. Instead of prices going lower, every acre of farm lands that has been made, and they have been quite numerous, has been at an advance over prices prevailing at the time referred to until it is safe to say that today prices are about ten dollars per acre higher on an average than in 1908, with the prospect of further advances. Wayne county farm lands are looked upon as being the best in the state and even at the prevailing prices are pretty eagerly sought.
Many of the city papers poke fun at our country fellows because we tell about the arrival and departure of local people and our write up of local events. It probably does seem to these fellows who peep the pencils on the city papers and receive salaries as princely as to enable them to live off the fat of the land that the columns of the average country paper is largely filled with very trifling things, but let them bear in mind that life is not composed entirely of the great things and that the departure of John Jones or his sister Sue, is of as much consequence to him and his friends as are the goings and comings of the Astors, Morgans, Vanderbilts or any of the other people to whom they devote columns. Let them also bear in mind that the country press is representative of the plain people and that this country owes its greatness in a large measure to these same plain people. To sensible people the doings of real men and women is of much more importance than the doings of any of the swells and their dogs.
Within the past year the cemetery association of Wayne has bought an addition of ten acres and the HERALD understands a committee will soon lay out the acquisition in symmetrical, artistic, up-to-date style, which course is eminently the proper one to follow in caring for the present and future city of the dead. While such provision is being made, however, it appears as though there ought to have been an addition of more than ten acres. The old cemetery contains a similar area and has been filled in ten years and with a growing population the new plot cannot last as long. If unable to increase the addition at this time, however, it is hoped the association will adhere strictly to the plan of arranging and keeping it according to system and modern good taste. Wayne is foremost among towns of its size in public improvements generally and should not allow its cemetery to be an exception to the rule. People should take more interest and pride in properly maintaining the final resting places of their dead. The grounds ought to be large enough and suitably laid out and then neatly and attractively kept by a union of interest and effort.

FLEETWOOD-HETTS.
At the home of the bride's parents in Ft. Atkinson, Wisconsin, on Wednesday, March 15, Mr. Earl Fleetwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Fleetwood, of this city, and Miss Nellie Hetts were united in marriage, and will arrive in Wayne tomorrow evening. The young couple will immediately begin house-keeping in the O. A. King property on the east side, which Mr. Fleetwood has already beautifully furnished for the reception of his bride.
The first named of the contracting parties needs no commendation at our hands among those who have become his acquaintances in Wayne or elsewhere. Since coming to this city he has made a multitude of friends who will wish the couple lives of happiness and prosperity. Mr. Fleetwood has been in the telephone business for several years and is at present with the Independent Telephone company of this city.
Of the bride, of course, we are not prepared to speak, but we are confident that Mr. Fleetwood's choice has been a good one and his friends here will unite in welcoming her to their midst.
The HERALD joins in extending congratulations.

The Sholes signal is the last effort in journalism in these parts. It is edited by Russell Williams and issued from the Carroll office. It is a lively youth and we predict for it a good future.
A farmers' elevator is receiving attention again. A meeting was held in the A. O. U. W. hall last Saturday afternoon to discuss the proposition of building one. No definite action was taken, but many of the farmers are in favor of it, and others are gradually falling into line so that it seems only a matter of time when the fourth elevator will adorn our town.

Bill with rage because of his defeat in a lawsuit in which K. The wife of Geo. Schistler is prostrated over the fear and may die from the shock. Schistler had brooded over his troubles with the Bill family, who were immediate neighbors, and influenced Sunday that he would even go matters.

NEW YORK TRIBUNE NOT AUTHORIZED BY NATIONALS

Seventy jobholders detailed to duty in and about the subway began at One Hundred and Forty-fifth Street and Lexington Avenue, New York, were notified by a police man in charge Sunday at midnight that strikers intended trying to stop all trains on the subway and elevated roads at 1 o'clock and that they should leave as much damage by violence at that hour as they could.

The executive committee of the joint bodies of the Manhattan and the Bronx school after a meeting Thursday night, issued a statement denying that Mr. Stone had ordered the men to return to work, and adding that the strikers would fight until they were dead.

President Pepper and Messrs. Jencks and Madden, the latter secretary of the engineers, supplemented the committee's statements with attacks on Mr. Stone, declaring that the local unions were quite independent of the national union in this matter.

Mr. J. M. Malton, president of the National Association, supplemented his earlier statements with a longer letter in which he took practically the same stand as Mr. Stone. The strike he said, was declared against his advice, for, in addition to the demands for better conditions, the document presented to the company contained the imposition of the local divisions of engineers (motormen), which violated the agreement with the company.

MUKDEN HAS FALLEN

The fate of the Russian army of upwards of a quarter of a million men and the last pieces of artillery with which it was equipped, including the Kurapatkin and his lieutenants could prevent the advances of the Japanese beyond the Shasha and Hun Rivers. It is still in the balance.

The Japanese have been driven from these positions, and now are pushing northward towards the Pass above which are high hills which were prepared for defense after the battle of Liao Yang.

In St. Petersburg there was no hope at that time that the Japanese could allow the defeated army to rest south of the Pass. That the Japanese have lost nearly all their large quantities of ammunition and supplies is certain.

For with but a single track railway to the north it would be impossible to re-move the large stores which had been gathered together at Mukden. Those, it seems certain, have been destroyed.

The Japanese have not reported the capture of guns, which they generally do almost immediately, but it seems hardly likely that Kurapatkin could have removed all of his artillery. On the 1st of March, according to correspondents, he was just returned from Mukden.

The Russian army, which was in the Shasha and Hun Rivers, 1,500 guns, including a number of six and eight-inch guns on cement foundations, straddling the railway just north of Shasha station.

In addition, many guns arrived in Mukden during January and February, so that the Russian artillery, when the big battle started, must have numbered nearly 2,000 pieces. It is likely that Kurapatkin has sacrificed some of these, and is holding all his energies to extricating his army.

STATE OF NEBRASKA

NEWS OF THE WEEK IN A CONDENSED FORM

Charged with the Murder of Clyde Lester last December. The trial of John R. Lester, who shot Clyde Lester last December, is now in full blast at Holdrege.

The story brought out by the testimony was to the effect that Lester, on the morning of Dec. 6, came across the field from a neighbor's, where he had been residing and had seen the opposite side of the field, with a fence on both sides of the road. Lester was on the road and Lester came from the east.

Lester was unharmed and had done nothing except to walk toward Lucas. The defense admits the shooting, but says Lester was in the act of self-defense. Several witnesses told of conversations with Lester in which Lester might threaten against Lucas on account of the failure to pay wages which Lucas owed Lester for work.

JAPS WIN VICTORY

Russians Are Defeated in Great 18-Day Battle at Mukden.

Russian Armies Shattered Divisions Fly to Escape Annihilation. Prolonged Battle at Mukden the Bloodiest of the War Slughtered on Both Sides in the Fight Estimated at 100,000 - Defeated General Kurropatkin Ordered to Lighten Burden of Retreat.

As the result of the flanking movements and desperate fighting of the Japanese during a continuous eighteen days' struggle, the Russians, under Kurropatkin have been driven from their strongly entrenched positions and forced to take another hurried backward step toward Hailin, which is the point Marshal Oyama is aiming for.

The rout of the Russians became an irregular battle, a contest of the shells to cut their way through to Tieling. Field Marshal Oyama has once more pushed himself one of the greatest masters of offensive strategy since Napoleon.

GENERAL KURROPATKIN.

The Japanese had massed an enormous force to the northwest of Mukden, necessitating his hasty retreat.

FIELD MARSHAL OYAMA, THE NAPOLEON OF TO-DAY.

making attack after attack, especially on the center and westward, against machine guns and infantry fire which literally mowed down the advancing columns, making human life so cheap that the survivors could bastion themselves behind piles of corpses.

After this action General Kurropatkin's deposition may be regarded as certain. War Minister Sahharov, sacked through the hands of Nicholas Nicholasovich, of the board of strategists, may be entrusted with the direction of affairs.

The Russian losses are enormous in killed and wounded. Kurropatkin lost 10,000 men in four days trying to check Oku's advance. Sunday he lost 2,000 men in his last onslaught. Monday he lost 4,000 to 6,000 more. Tuesday and night he lost 7,000 more. General Rehnenkamp's corps had nearly 50,000 men when he went into battle. In the eight days of fighting he lost 20,000 of his men.

THE "YELLOW DEMON" WITH THE BAYONET.

Tuesday morning's dawn marked the beginning of the rout. At that hour Kurropatkin, exhausted after four days and nights of continuous battle, was still fighting with the desperation of despair at Tieling, seven miles west of Mukden railway station, while Nogai was extending his lines still farther northward toward Tsi Pass.

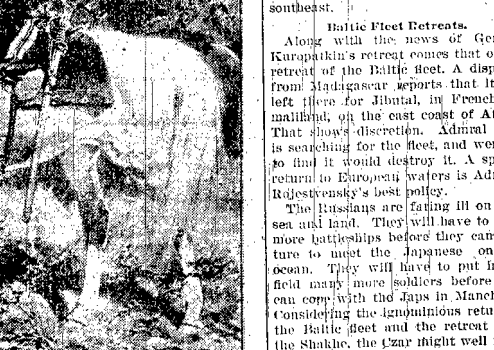

Ussurin troops too hard a nut for Kurropatkin to crack. The houses of the villages were surrounded with thick walls and the villages are surrounded by high clay ramparts, converting them into fortifications impervious to rifle bullets.

Again and again the Russians advanced to the attack. Under the eyes of General Kurropatkin, who with his staff, moved about where the "bait" of iron was thickest and who seemed to bear a cherished life, the Russians deployed over the plowed fields as if at maneuvers and without firing a shot. Though bespattered by the continuous bursting of shrapnel and bent they pushed eagerly forward in close skirmishing order, captured the village, and advanced on the Japanese flanks.

The fight then grew more bitter, the Japanese attacking madly, and at 4 o'clock in the afternoon the Russian position became untenable and General Kurropatkin withdrew his troops, the Japanese bidding them adieu with a burst of sizzling shells.

Opposite Tatcheliao the fighting was of an equally desperate nature. The Russians established themselves during many of the days, the snow was so thin that the gunners sighted their artillery only by the roar of the guns in the opposing trenches.

The battle which has resulted so disastrously to Russia was brought on by the aggressive tactics of General Kurropatkin's new army commanders. General Linowich, just placed in command of the left wing, attempted to turn the flank of Kurropatkin's army, just as Grippenkamp had tried to turn the Japanese flank at the battle of Lushan in 1915.

GENERAL KURROPATKIN.

Along with the news of General Kurropatkin's retreat comes that of the retreat of the Baltic fleet. A dispatch from Madagascar reports that it has left here for Hailin, in French Somaliland, on the east coast of Africa. That shows discretion. Admiral Tozo is searching for the fleet, and were he so ill it would destroy it. A speedy retreat in European waters is Admiral Rozhkovsky's best policy.

The Russians are falling ill on both sea and land. They will have to build more battleships before they can venture to meet the Japanese on the ocean. They will have to put in the ocean more soldiers before they can cope with the Japs in Manchuria.

General Kurropatkin's retreat has been beyond that of Fabius and neglected to take account of favorable opportunities for counterattacks. Friends of Kurropatkin, however, say no other general is apt to do well as he has done.

War Minister Sahharov, sacked through the hands of Nicholas Nicholasovich, of the board of strategists, may be entrusted with the direction of affairs. A strong faction of the army, those high in influence about the Emperor, opposed General Kurropatkin from the first and though his early defeats were condoned because it was realized that General Kurropatkin was doing all that man could with the tools at his command, it is now felt that after twelve having had the opportunity to show what he could do with a powerful army and having failed to accomplish victory either time his removal is advisable.

CONGRESS

The Senate convened at 10 o'clock Saturday, with practically no business before it. A resolution was adopted to provide for the expenses of the education, and a resolution of thanks to President Pro Temmore Frye was presented by Senator Gorham and unanimously passed. Senators Allison and Rato, who were appointed members of the joint committee to notify the President that Congress was ready to adjourn, reported that the President had no further communication to make. The oath was administered to Vice-President-elect Fairbanks, who, at the conclusion of his speech, declared the Senate adjourned.

The special session of the Senate opened Monday with a new figure in the president's chair—that of Vice President Fairbanks. The chamber adjourned at 12 o'clock each day, and at 1:35 the Senate adjourned Monday. The House met at 10 o'clock, containing the legislative day of March 21. The conference of the two bodies in the selection of the final limits in lieu of lands in forest reserves was adopted. The usual committee was appointed to join a committee of the Senate to notify the President that Congress was ready to adjourn.

The President Tuesday sent to the Senate the following nominations: Treasurer of the United States, Charles T. Treat, New York collector of internal revenue, Charles W. Anderson for the second district of New York; district judge, Alton S. Dayton, northern district of West Virginia; secretary of embassy, John Ridgely Carter, Maryland; and London second secretary of embassy, Craig W. Wadsworth, New York, at London; third secretary of embassy, James H. Emswiler, New York; at London; William B. Brintnall, New York, at Paris. The most interesting of the appointments were those of Charles H. Treat, present collector of internal revenue, to be treasurer of the United States, and Charles W. Anderson, the "Colonial Donor," to be collector of internal revenue, to succeed Mr. Treat. Both of the New York Senators have "acquiesced" in the Anderson appointment, and there will be no objection to his confirmation.

President Roosevelt on Wednesday sent a second message to the Senate, in which he showed how the San Domingo treaty would prove beneficial to both nations. The Senate committee on foreign relations has loaded the treaty with so many amendments, by which the original meaning of the instrument is considerably changed, that it may possibly be rejected by the President.

Thursday the committee on foreign relations by a strict party vote reported the amended treaty to the Senate. All the members of the committee were present and the vote was recorded as follows: For the treaty, Senators Caffery, Frye, Lodge, Clark of Wyoming, Foraker, Spooner and Keating, against the treaty, Senators Morgan, Bacon, Money, Clark of Montana and McCready. All the amendments which were agreed upon previously and an additional amendment changing the language of the second article of the treaty were formally adopted without division. The protest of Senator Morgan and his Democratic colleagues against further consideration of the treaty was laid upon the table after a very sharp party vote. The dissenting members of the committee took part.

The House rejected a joint resolution appropriating $10,000 to defray the expenses of the Senate in conducting the trial of Judge Charles Swayne.

The House conferred accepted the House provision in the army appropriation bill limiting the pay of retired officers strictly to the retired pay of their rank. Senator Crang introduced a bill appropriating $250,000 for the establishment of a bureau of investigation of alleged lepers on some abandoned military reservation. The House committee on immigration and naturalization has authorized a favorable report on the Adams bill to prohibit the entry into this country of more than 50,000 persons from any one country in any one fiscal year.

SIZE OF SHOES NOT MARKED.

What number does she wear? It should be a surprise to a few men, at least to know that she wears women's shoes of many different sizes. The old 1, 2, 3 way of numbering women's shoes has been discarded. Now sizes are no longer designated by numbers, at least not in the places where she buys shoes that cost as if they were made of gold and a precious stone or two. There are marks and numbers that tell the story of length and breadth to the clerk, but they mean nothing to the customer. Who would guess that $17.98 means 4 1/2? Only the shoe clerk and he's not one.

There is the purpose of the absence of numbers on women's shoes. "I always wear a 3 1/2," she would say, and the clerk would get a No. 4 1/2 shoe resting in the little display stand. Without comment he would bring shoes to fit snugly and not with too great a discomfort.

"That's very pretty, I think I'll take those," and he would begin to hope a sale had been made. "Now, if he could only get them into a box without—"

"I want to look at them again. Just a moment, please. Why, you said these were 3 1/2 and now they are 3 1/2. Why, I never in all my life wore anything bigger than 7 1/2. No, indeed, I shall be obliged, please, I assure you. I care to see no other shoes. I shall go somewhere where I can be given proper treatment." And a sale took place because the clerk could not hide the true facts about the proper size of shoes for her to wear.

So a few years ago the manufacturer and the merchant resorted to cipher in designating shoes, and a "number" nowadays reads like a full name. "Some women have even penetrated the cipher and, consequently, by some signs request that nothing be said about numbers. The salesman conceals the fact and bring a shoe to correspond. That is all well and good, but he brings the shoe to the buyer to have the satisfaction of asking for something smaller.

Meanwhile the dealer's shoes still have sizes marked in plain numbers and in plain sight—Kansas City Star.

Found at Last. Mch 13. 1919. After suffering for twenty years from Rheumatism and Kidney Troubles, and spending a fortune in doctors and medicines that brought him no relief, Mr. James H. H. of this place was cured completely for all his aches, pains, and weakness, in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Naturally Mr. H. G. is much pleased over his cure and gives credit to the remedy that gave him health. "Yes," Mr. C. says, "My Rheumatism and Kidney Troubles are all gone and I feel like a new man. Dodd's Kidney Pills did it. Before I used them I spent a small fortune on doctors and one remedy after another. I cheerfully recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to anyone suffering from Rheumatism or Kidney Trouble.

Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure sick kidneys. Heavily laden with all kinds of acids and poisons from Rheumatism—out of the blood. That's why Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure Rheumatism.

The King of Mollusks. The king of mollusks lives in the Indian and South Pacific oceans. He weighs to a weight of 500 pounds, and the shell is of the bivalve kind, and the shape is about the same as that of a common fresh water mussel. The gigantic Tithacoa is the largest mollusk known to have lived on the earth since the Silurian Age. It is found on the bottom of the shallow parts of the ocean, and the large individuals have no longer the power to move about. They lie on their sides, and all about them are corals built up until King Kong is sometimes found in a well-like hole in the coral formation.

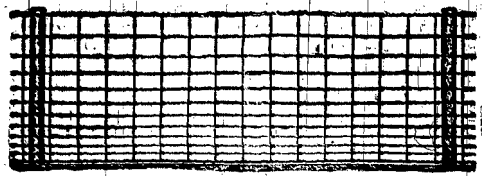

NERVOUS HEADACHE

MARRIED A YOUNG WOMAN'S HAPPINESS FOR SEVEN YEARS. Interfered With Her Social Duties and Threatened to Cause Her Retirement—How She Was Cured.

Every sufferer from nervous headache knows how completely it unites one for the duties and pleasures of life. Any little excitement, or over-exertion, or even a little sleeplessness, or a long train of pathos or a little strain on the head, or a weight splitting it open, or a band tightening about it. At one time it is all at the top of the head, at another it is all at the base of the skull.

Most headaches can be traced to some fault state of the blood. When the blood is scanty or charged with poisons, the nerves are imperfeclty nourished, and the digestion weak, and the consequences result in frequent and severe headaches. The important thing is to get rid of the diseased condition of the blood that causes the attack by the use of a remedy that will do the work quickly and thoroughly. What is that remedy? The experience of Miss Ellen McCanna witnesses the answer. She says: "For more than seven years I was a great sufferer from nervous headache and dizziness. My stomach was always empty and I became so restless that I could not get any length of time. Dizziness interrupted my work greatly. The attacks were not so severe, but gradually grew more violent, and finally became so acute that I was on the verge of relinquishing my membership in all the different organizations to which I belonged."

Then she tried Electric Bitters, which helped her at once and finally made her entirely well. She is now strong and happy." Wayne Drug Co. sells and guarantees them, at 50c a bottle.
