Will do a General Banking Business. Interest paid on Time Deposits

The bad roads of the past week have made lots of repair work for the wagon and carriage makers.

A wreck on the Hartington branch between that town and Coleridge resulted in pretty seriously injuring the mail clerk.

Judge Hunter performed the ceremony on Monday that made Otto G. Book and Anna O. M. Mumma of Winfield, husband and wife. The HERALD extends best wishes to the newly married couple.

Five members of the ladies' band at Norfolk foolishly joined the Chase Lumber Theatrical company at that place Saturday at salaries of $5 apiece per week and expenses. It won't be long before they will wish they were home again.

The First National bank whose statement appears in this issue, has made great gain in deposits and business during the last year. Its deposits have increased about $21,000 since its former statement. Every bank in the county shows increased volume of money, which is a most healthy symptom, speaking well for the county and times.

A letter from Leona Hunter to her parents bears the news that the young lady will sail from the Philippines for home on April 5. She will come by way of Honolulu and San Francisco. Miss Hunter has been a teacher in the far away islands for three years or more and doubtless will be much pleased to again put foot on the home land and once more be with kindred and friends.

The citizens' caucus was held at the court house Friday evening, March 17. E. M. Gregg was chairman and E. A. Lundberg, secretary. James Britton was made the nominee for mayor, A. T. Witter clerk and H. S. Ringland for treasurer. T. W. Moran and Theo. Duerig for members of school board. J. P. Gaertner was nominated for councilman in first ward, D. S. McVicker in second and Lambert Roe in third ward.

It is best not to know a great deal about people. Much familiarity with the follies, frailties and skeletons of others chills esteem and often breeds abhorrence. Sortinize and emphasize weaknesses to the disregard of strong and noble points and no one could be given a fair estimate. Though it may tickle one's back to drag it through the affairs of another, and though one may relish absorbing facts or lying gossip regarding the idiosyncrasies of a neighbor, he should at least take a counter-irritant in the way of soaking up some of the good in the world, forcing himself to be cheerful and hopeful at times, even though the weather be abominably lugubrious as it has been the past few weeks.

Every man thinks he knows how to run a farm, just as most men believe they could edit a better newspaper than those who are in the business. In both cases the man who really knows most feels most modest about it. Book farmers have long been the butt of universal ridicule; and book farmers often get control of agricultural papers and make a sad mess of it as leaders of the hard-headed, common-sense farmers who have learned how to do things by doing them. Fortunately for Wayne county, the farm paper most generally read here is the Iowa Homestead which is edited by practical farmers who live on and operate their own farms, besides being experts in the science and theory of agriculture. The HERALD takes pleasure in recommending this excellent farm journal as the best exponent of practical and scientific agriculture, horticulture, stock-raising, dairy farming and the allied industries of the farm. We take subscriptions at this office, and believe that in so doing we are best promoting the interests of Wayne county.

CARROLL NEWS.

Ed. Honey has moved to his father's farm northwest of town and will farm this season.

Mrs. Frank Owens of Wayne was calling on her many friends in Carroll the latter part of last week.

A Mr. Patten of Randolph has taken a position with Blankin Irons. He occupies the Oscar McKay house.

The Baptist church is preparing for a series of special meetings. The pastor will be assisted by an evangelist.

Verily, this weather is a fright. Boats, rubber suits and life preservers are the staple commodities in these parts just now.

The A. O. U. W. hall is being treated to new paper which greatly adds to its appearance. The work is being done by M. W. Williams & Son.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Berry of Wayne attended the A. O. U. W. anniversary last Friday night. Mr. Berry is a charter member of the Carroll lodge. The school is preparing for an entertainment to be given Friday evening, March 24, in the A. O. U. W. hall. The proceeds will go to purchase an organ for the school.

A. R. Stillman has disposed of his restaurant business and will devote his time to the sale of a gas lamp in which he is interested. Seth Moseman is the purchaser of the restaurant.

Mr. and Mrs. Jenken Sinnerman celebrated their silver wedding at their home two miles east of town last Sat-day evening. A large crowd was present and a good time enjoyed by all. They were the recipients of a number of beautiful and appropriate presents.

The local A. O. U. W. lodge gave their annual banquet last Friday night at their lodge rooms. A short program of music, reading and speeches was rendered after which a bountiful supper was served to all. Notwithstanding the bad condition of the roads a large crowd was in attendance.

The Ladies Aid Society of the M. E. church gave the Spinster's Return to a crowded house last Thursday night. This is the sequel to the Old Maids' Convention which was given two years ago, and it proved a worthy successor to this popular entertainment. The proceeds were $34.65, which will apply on the new pews about to be put in the church.

The little eleven weeks' old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Halpin died of pneumonia fever at their home in Carroll Sunday afternoon, March 19. The little one had never been strong and rugged, yet the end came as a shock to the parents. The body was shipped to Madison, Nebraska, Tuesday morning where it was interred. The grief stricken parents have the sympathy of the town and community.

A deal was closed last Thursday whereby the elevator business of E. J. Veal passes into the hands of the Benson Grain Co., of Herron Lake, Minn. This company owns a line of elevators in Minnesota, and two years ago bought the J. O. Milligan line in Nebraska and are gradually branching out. The transfer was made Monday. Mr. Veal will make an extended visit to his boyhood home in England and will then locate in business further west, probably in Oregon. Carroll will be sorry to have him and his family move away but will wish them abundant success wherever they may cast their lot.

SEEDING IN PROGRESS IN WESTERN CANADA.

Mild weather is bringing thousands of settlers to the West. The special fields of wheat, oats and barley produced by the farmers of Western Canada...

It is quite interesting to look through the letters received from the Americans who have settled in Western Canada during the past few years...

"I am located one and one-half miles from a beautiful lake ten miles long where there is church, school, three stores, creamery and two post-offices..."

Telegraphic advices from Medicine Hat say that seeding has commenced at Medicine Hat, Letbridge, and other points.

During the last few days in February considerable ploughing was done near Letbridge, P. A. Puley, a recent arrival from Montana...

At Hartley, further east, on the 25th of February, the sun was warm and bright, wheeled carriages were in use and the plowed fields look as if they are ready for the press drills.

SILVER SPUR

CHAPTER XIX. Night came, and found us both midway between the camp and the mountain...

"By day-break we stood on a ridge above a hollow vale into which the sunlight had yet passed, but passed over to a high conical hill beyond sunset level on the level of the valley...

"It lay on the slope, and midway down we passed some water-fires burned out, and then a soldier or two running and fastening their straps and last a little child, who seemed with the joy of his eyes to be looking at the world as if it were a new thing...

"What a plague have we here?" cried the big man as we drew up.

"I answered him with a bow.

"The General Hopton?" cried I.

"The Lord Mohun nodded, surly enough.

"I would be tedious to tell the whole of this long fight, which, beginning soon after sunrise, ended not till four in the afternoon...

IN SUCH A NIGHT

CHARACTERS—Walter Bennett, Edith Layton.

Scene—A garden at night. Bennett and Edith are seated on a rustic bench. Bennett, with his arms folded across his breast, is gazing with a rapturous expression at the moon.

Edith—And her hat! Why, it was shapely apropos! It might have been all right to lounge about in on a house-boat...

Bennett—No. In the "Merchant of Venice?"

Edith—What lines?

Bennett—(Edging a little closer)—Hum—Edith, I say, Miss Layton, if I must have been a little like this, a man, you know—that is to say, some men—

Edith—(facing him suddenly and tapping him on the shoulder with her fan)—O, I say! Who do you suppose I saw at the Garrick the other night?

Bennett—(sighing, and letting his amorous arm fall over the back of the seat)—Who?

Edith—(Guess)—Bennett—Well, I really can't, you know.

Edith—Give it up?

Bennett—(wearily)—Yes.

THE CZAR AND HIS HEIR.

The baby heir to the Russian throne was born on Aug. 12 last, and by imperial edict all Russia was given over to a week of rejoicing and thanksgiving.

Bennett (frigidly)—I never admired Mrs. Sheraton.

Edith—Why, Mr. Bennett? Every one likes Mrs. Sheraton. (She isn't pretty to be sure, but everybody admires her.)

Bennett—(folding his arms across his breast)—I am really very sorry for everybody, and feel constrained to say that everybody's taste is questionable.

Edith—(in amazement)—Booming ho—! Mr. Bennett, you are getting angry.

Bennett—(desperately)—Yes, the principle of the thing. I was talking to you about Venice, and then Mrs. Sheraton's eccentric views on Rome inspired you to—

Edith—(But I'm sure Lorenzo didn't propose to Jessica that way.)

Bennett—(stroking her hand)—No—no—I dare say Lorenzo didn't. It was in such a night as this, but (kisses her), well, the circumstances were different, dear—Black and White.

SCIATIC TORTURE

PAIN SUFFERED BY MR. MARSTON AS GREAT AS MORTAL CAN STAND.

The case of Mr. Marston shows that sciatica can be cured, and no one afflicted by it should allow himself to be discouraged. He was first stricken about a year ago, and for six months he suffered pain which he thinks the most intense that any man could possibly stand.

Asked about the details of his remarkable recovery, Mr. Marston gave the following account: "I was attacked by sciatica on my left leg, and my back was very stiff, but thought it would wear away in a short time. It didn't, however, and soon the pain became so very bad that every step was torture for me."

"The doctor was sent for, and when he had examined me he said I had sciatica. He prescribed for me, and my wife was not to try to leave my bed. The medicine was unnecessary for I didn't get out of bed if I wanted to. It was impossible for me to turn from one side to the other. The moment I attempted to move any part of my body, the pain became so excruciating that I would have to lie perfectly motionless."

"I suffered this torture for six months without getting any relief. Then I discharged the doctor and on the advice of a friend I bought a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and began to take them, three at a dose, three times a day. I was determined to give them a thorough trial."

"Two months after I began to use them I was able to leave my bed and walk about the house, and a month later I was entirely cured and able to go to my work as usual. I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the best medicine I ever used, and I heartily recommend them to anyone who suffers from sciatica."

Mr. Marston is a prosperous farmer and is completely cured of his sciatica. He has four sisters, and has already been loaded down with titles and honors, and is commander of several of the Czar's picked regiments of the guard.

Every person arriving places a flower in the bowl on the cotton, and it is completely filled with gorgeous tropical blossoms. Soon after sunset the torches commence with a long prayer to the morning star, the tutelary genius of the Cora, who is invited to come and to bring with him all the other gods.

Just before dawn, when the morning star is brightest, the ceremonies are concluded with fervent prayers. Then a bowl is brought to the officiating leader in the singing. This bowl contains water from a sacred lake in Cora land, and dipping a red orchid into the sacred water, he sprinkles the water over the "Mother" bowl, over the ears of seed corn to be used for the spring planting, and over all the people and the food the women have prepared for the feast to be held after the dancing and other ceremonies are over.

Indigestion Causes Catarrh of the Stomach.

For many years it has been supposed that Catarrh of the Stomach caused indigestion and dyspepsia, but the truth is exactly the opposite. Indigestion causes catarrh. Repeated attacks of indigestion inflame the mucous membranes lining the stomach, and expose the perigastric vessels, thus causing the glands to secrete mucus instead of the juices of natural digestion. This is called Catarrh of the Stomach.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

Anything but your troubles will go, and even some of the latter would not be altogether objectionable at times when news is as scarce as hen's teeth.

Whalens, the Wayne bakery people, have been giving their place of business a complete over hauling from cellar to garret and with paint and paper have made the place look entirely different. It is now one of the nice business rooms of the city and patrons as well as proprietors are proud of the improvement made.

The Presbyterian people have not entirely concluded the deal for their pipe organ. At this time it looks as though the Estey people would furnish the instrument, but the deal is a little uncertain as yet and may possibly not be consummated. The organ they are figuring on buying is a good one and the cost will be over $3,000.

John Heeren of Carroll is one of the latest of our good farmers to go into the improved cattle business. A few days ago he attended a sale of Shorthorns and Polled Durhams at Newton, Iowa, and purchased seven head of cattle, four polled Durham cows and a bull and two Shorthorn cows. Mr. Heeren did not go there with the intention of purchasing so many but the prices were so low that he took them in and feels that he made a pretty profitable trip.

From the way things are shaping up it begins to look as though there might be quite strenuous times between now and city election day April 4. It is apparent that some work is being done and a great deal more is likely to be done before the polls are closed. Several of the fellows have on their war paint and have their knives and hatchets out and propose to make trouble for the other fellows. Let 'er go Gallagher, a little excitement will do everybody good.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Citizens' bank last Thursday afternoon, all of the former officers and directors were re-elected with the exception of J. S. French, deceased, whose place as vice-president and director is filled by a new stockholder in the person of H. C. Henney. Mr. Henney is a man of wide acquaintance, excellent business qualities and high integrity, and is rightly recognized as a very valuable acquisition to the bank. Also Gilbert S. French was added to the board of directors.

Two city tickets are in the field and the voters are invited to take their choice and pay their money afterwards. If you are a "dry" or a "wet" believing one or the other policy should prevail, pick out your men and vote for them. If you believe in economical administration of city affairs and want to get value received for the money paid out, vote for the man or men that you think will be most likely to administer the affairs of the city with that end in view. Remember in casting your vote that the mayor is really the purchasing agent, the real disturber of your taxes and that the bills presented to the city council for its approval or rejection may be the price for the articles bought or they may be otherwise, and consequently it becomes quite essential to know that the purchasing agent is absolutely honest and is not in on any rick off or rebate. The voters have a duty to perform on April 4th that should not be passed over lightly.

There is a matter of vast interest to farmers, cattle breeders and feeders that is not being given as serious consideration as it deserves, and that is the itch or mange with which nearly if not all of the herds of the county are affected to a greater or less degree. It is an impossibility to make a good growth or to put on good gains of beef on animals so affected and some concerted move ought to be made for the eradication of this disease from the herd. Experience has demonstrated that the only effective method of getting rid of the disease is to dip the animals. The expense incidental to this method is pretty heavy for the owners of small herds and they do not usually feel justified in going to the expense of putting in a plant for this purpose. It would probably be a good thing if some one were to institute a dipping plant and charge so much per animal for dipping them, or a number of owners go together and put in a plant at a convenient point and use it jointly. Talk the matter over.

"MACBETH"

Shakespeare's greatest play, according to most commentators, is Macbeth. You have a volume of Shakespeare at home. Be sure to get it out and read Macbeth. Read it carefully. You will understand it all the better when you see Mr. Dodge and his excellent company play it. Still, reading it will give you only a vague idea of what the play will be when presented with all the characters living, breathing, talking, feeling, fighting men and women.

The scenes include the witches' heath, Castle of Inverness where Duncan is murdered, Castle Dunsinane, the witches' cave, the apparitions, Lady Macbeth's great sleep walking scene and the great sword fight and death of Macbeth. Not a dull moment, no long waits, everything spirited and thrilling, one climax leading to another until the greatest climax of all is reached and the curtain falls on the last scene of the great play of Macbeth. Get your seats now.
