Laugh and the world laughs with you;

It makes us laugh to think that there are some people who think that Wayne flour will not make "as good" bread as some flour that has been manufactured 500 miles away by the "largest mill on earth." To be sure, we don't make 10,000 barrels of flour daily, but, you know, we DO make a fine article and can prove it to your satisfaction if you will only try a sack of it. It makes a whiter, finer-grained, flakier and sweeter loaf of bread than any other flour you can get, and it is sold so cheaply that you cannot afford to allow this opportunity to pass. It is handled by all of our Wayne merchants and they all say it is a first-class article. Just ask for it. The Wayne Roller Mills are turning out the best flour they have made in twenty years. You will use no other after giving it a trial.

CORN AND SPELLING.

The WAYNE HERALD tries to take a fall out of us for what we said about the famous own contest, and, as we think, the greater need of reviving the art of spelling. It claims that very recently Supt. Bright had a spelling on the teachers of the county the complete mastery of spelling by the scholars, etc., etc. We hope this is a matter of fact, but we never heard of it before. In fact, we never heard of the amible Charles ever getting very mach interested in anything except his salary until the corn-growing episode and then the plunged in all over. If Supt. Bright is "persistently urging" the teachers, to push reading, writing and spelling to the front, he must have mighty little influence, for they, with a charming unanimity, are neglecting his wise counsel, a state of affairs that he must he aware of. The Hisa.D wants us to broaden a little and discover that a boy or girl ambittons enough to go into a corn-growing contest has the istuff in them to learn spelling whether it is properly taught or not, but we fail to see where the last of raising corn has anything to do with the line the super-intended the week his salary to look fafter, intended the ways the salary to look fafter, intended the ways the salary to look fafter. where the last of raising corn has being to do with the line the supersudget raws his salary to look atter, to fact still remains that spelling, ding and writing are sadly neglected Wayne county and never more so an under the present head who blindbelieves in the system of today, nich forces pupils into Latin before by have the first radiments creditably urned.
