WHAT'S WRONG WITH THE RUSSIAN NAVY?

The above question is asked, and the answer made is not always satisfactory. The Russian navy is big enough and nearly everything is up to date. The officers are educated and all experts in war, but fail to punish the Japs in battle. It is not the large navy or the best guns that count in battle, but the man behind the gun is what counts when engaged in war. I once had a rooster that was a big fellow and weighed ten pounds. He looked through the fence with contempt at a little fellow that weighed six pounds. The wind one day blew open the gate and the big fellow walked up to the little fellow and commenced a battle, expecting to do him up in a short time, but in less than twenty minutes the little fellow killed him. Russia has found out that size don't count in war. It is the same in business. You can find clothing stores that are larger than ours, and the proprietor may be a big fellow, but you will find our prices lower and you will get better satisfaction doing business with us than you will with the big department stores. We are like the Japs—we are small, and fighting for our homes, and we can beat any clerk that is merely a machine working in a big store. Do your clothing business with us and you will do business with men that have an interest in the business and are ready to give you satisfaction or give you another suit. This is not the largest store in America, but stands ready to meet any prices and beat them, no matter how big the store is. You will find us always ready for business and you will find what you want here at right prices. We have no old, out-of-style goods to show you. Come in and see if we have made any statement that is not correct. We are loaded with hot weather clothing and can cool you off to your entire satisfaction. Try us, it's refreshing.

In spite of anything we can say there will be a lot of "mercerized cotton" clothing sold and worn this season. There are still a good many clothiers who are more anxious to get your money than to give you good value for it. There are also a lot of men who can't withstand the temptation of a dollar or two difference in price, even when they know they're losing in quality and service much more than they save in cash. You, who believe in genuine things, and detest sham, and despise dishonesty all the more when it tries to look honest—don't let these things worry you. It takes all kinds of people to make a world; and all kinds of clothes to clothe them.

You go on wearing all-wool clothes and we'll go on making them; there's enough of you for us. Our label means all-wool, and a lot of other genuine things in clothes; it's a small thing to look for, a big thing to find.

of the Wayne school board visit the city schools during the past year. Now we do not want to assume the role of a fault-finder, but it seems to us that when one accepts a place of that kind he should feel that in order to perform the duties of the office intelligently it is necessary to have a personal knowledge of how the schools are being conducted and not entirely dependent on teachers or others for information regarding the schools, and if this is true the only method of arriving at a satisfactory knowledge would be to occasionally visit the schools.

In the wee small hours of Sunday morning Marshal Miner made a raid on one of the rooms of the Union and caught "Doc" Rogers, a Pilgrimage doctor, and Ada Boze occupying the room and not believing them to be jozney with him to Hotel de Mears where they were assigned separate quarters until Monday afternoon when a complaint was lodged with Judge Hunter charging them with fornication. The pair pleaded guilty and were fined $10 and costs, given a good lecture by the Judge and after paying fines and costs were set at liberty.

Carelessness on the part of a boy on a bike was responsible for a pretty ugly runaway on Main street Monday afternoon. Spotty Martin was driving a pair of colts belonging to Strahan & Warnock to lumber wagon when the bike rider dashed along by the side of the team and frightened them and started them on a run northward. The farther they ran the worse they were started and part of the tugs beeping loosed from the single trees let the wagon tongue drop, but Spotty hung to the team like grim death and finally succeeded after a run of three blocks in checking them and got out without any serious damage to man or team.

Wayne Superlative

$1.50 Per Sack

Wayne Snowflake

$1.35 Per Sack

Last week the moon changed and the weather changed also, and yet, up to the present moment, there has been no change in the price of Wayne flour. We are very busy these days trying to fill orders of flour for our Wayne merchants. We have been compelled to stop filling outside orders, because we cannot make flour fast enough to supply them. We are buying hundreds of bushels of nice milling wheat every day and are still making a flour not only "just as good," but BETTER than any other flour that is sold here. Why should you pay 10 or 15 cents more per sack for outside flour when "our own make" is better? Suppose you are using a sack every two weeks, or 26 sacks per year, at 15 cents more per sack would cost you $3.90 more. Why should you pay it? There is no sense (cents) in it. Save your money. You will need it sometime during your life--if you live long enough. We also manufacture fresh graham every day. It is a first-class article. Ask for it. Try it. Or if you have a nice bunch of pigs and want to keep them growing use some of our bran and shorts. Makes the finest slop for pigs or hogs that you have ever used.

TOO BUSY TO WRITE "AD'S"

Will just say to the buying public that we have had a crowd of buyers of late and we have been kept extremely busy, but our bargains are not yet exhausted and we will treat every person courteously that desires to inspect our goods. Another thing we wish to emphasize is that we are making the price of cream, butter and eggs higher in Wayne than anywhere in the country. Next week our advertisement in this paper will contain some very interesting news and if you don't read it you will always regret it.

A CATTLE SALTING DEVICE.

Mr. Editor:

"I would like a little space in your columns to explain a little more fully the ingenious device you mentioned in your last issue for it is evident by the letters I have received, and questions asked, that the public has a vague idea of what it is or what it is used for, and think it a very complicated affair. It is not. It is simply a salt-box that the rain can't get into and dissolve the salt, and yet the stock have access to it at all times. It is simply a self-feeder, in a little house. The house has a door on each side which the animal shoves open with nose, takes what salt it wants and as it withdraws its nose the door closes itself. A great many farmers mix sulphur and other blackleg preventatives with the salt as it is the only means of feeding it while the stock is in the pasture. To all such, this box will be of great value as there is no possibility of waste from any cause. It is the same with the hogs. Every farmer knows what to feed his hogs to keep them healthy, but lacks the means. Where is the farmer who has not attended farmers' institute and after hearing them tell what will prevent swine plague, gotten the prescriptions filled, taken it home, nailed a box in one corner of the hog house, put in part of the medicine and with a happy smile watched the hogs devour it and on his next visit found the box filled with filth and the medicine on the floor? The result was that the hogs died of cholera and the medicine that would have saved them was on the shelf. They call this neglect. I don't like to, for I have done it myself and did not mean to, just put it off until I had time and never got it and that is just what lead me to devise something to overcome this difficulty and this box is the result of my experiment. To the man who makes it his business to take care of stock it may be a useless outlay to buy one of these; but to the farmer in the corn belt who works ten to fourteen hours in the field and attends to his stock morning and night this is a very valuable article as one box will do for both hogs and cattle, set it in the fence between the lots. There is a partition inside to keep the contents separate and will be made for salt alone or for both salt and medicine—holds a barrelful. I have been using one for two months and have found it very satisfactory. Before putting it on the market and to introduce it, I will sell the salt-box for cattle for $5 and the combined cattle and hog for $6, freight prepaid. These prices are good two weeks only from date of this paper. Pay when you receive goods.

ARE YOU LOUSY OR HAVE YOU GOT THE ITCH?

Your grandfather had both and if you are free from lice and never had the itch you should thank your mother for cleaning out these diseases. How about your cattle? All over the west it is a known fact that mange and lice kill more cattle than cold weather or storms. In this section the farmers have not yet made arrangements to get rid of these diseases which, even if they do not kill any of their cattle, yet retard their growth and make it less profitable to raise them than if they were rid of the lice and scabs. I have just completed a dipping tank and am ready to dip your cattle, sheep and hogs at a reasonable price and guaranteed satisfaction. You may believe that your stock don't need dipping, but if you will examine them or have some one look them over that understands these diseases you will find out that it will be a profitable investment to have them dipped. It will rid them of lice and help to keep them free of gnats and flies during the hot weather. The large cattle ranges find it profitable to dip their stock and as land in Wayne county is much more valuable it should prove a better investment here to have all stock dipped. It will pay you to investigate and find out my terms to have your stock dipped. Rhone No. 190 or write me for information. I will be pleased to have you call and examine my plant for dipping all kinds of stock. It always pays to get rid of lice and mites in any kind of stock.

WHEN MY DREAMS COME TRUE.

I.
When my dreams come true—when my dreams come true—
Shall I lean from out my chamber, in the twilight and the dew,
To listen—smile and listen to the tinkle of the strings
Of the sweet guitar my lover's fingers fondle, as he sings?
And thus the maid moon slowly, slowly shoulders into view,
Shall I vanish from his vision—when my dreams come true?

When my dreams come true—shall the simple gown I wear
Be changed to softest satin, and my maiden braided hair
Be revealed into glossy tresses of rarest, fairest gold?
To be invited to kisses, more than any heart could hold?
Oh—the summer of my tresses shall my lover liken to—
"The favor of his passion"—when my dreams come true?

II.
When my dreams come true—I shall bide among the shadows
Of happy harvest noons; and the grasses and the leaves
Shall lift and lean between me and the splendor of the sun,
Till the noon shadows fall, and the glowers' work is done—
Save that you an arm shall, bind me, even as the reaper do,
The meaneat, sheaf of harvest—when my dreams come true.

When my dreams come true, when my dreams come true:
True love in all simplicity is fresh and pure as dew—
The blossom in the blackest night is kindest to the eye
Than any light of pride that looms against the sky.
And so I know my heart will gladly embrace you,
My loveliest of lovers, when my dreams come true.

Don't Poison Baby.

Forty years ago almost every mother thought her child must have PAREGORIC or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and A FEW DROPS TOO MANY will produce the SLEEP FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labelling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without you or your physician know of what it is composed. CASTORIA DOES NOT CONTAIN NARCOTICS, if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Letters from Prominent Physicians addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Dr. J. W. Dinsdale, of Chicago, Ill., says: "I use your Castoria and advise its use in all families where there are children."
Dr. Alexander E. Smith, of Cleveland, Ohio, says: "I have frequently prescribed your Castoria and have found it to be a reliable and pleasant remedy for children."
Dr. J. S. Alexander, of Omaha, Neb., says: "A medicine so valuable and beneficial for children as your Castoria is, deserves the highest praise. I find it in use everywhere."
Dr. J. A. McCallan, of Buffalo, N. Y., says: "I have frequently prescribed your Castoria for children and always got good results. In fact I use Castoria for my own children."
Dr. J. W. Allen, of St. Louis, Mo., says: "I have recently prescribed your Castoria in my medical practice, and have always found it to do all that is claimed for it."
Dr. C. H. Childen, of St. Paul, Minn., says: "My experience as a practitioner with your Castoria has been highly satisfactory, and I consider it an excellent remedy for the young."
Dr. H. D. Jenner, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "I have used your Castoria as a purgative in the cases of children for years just with the most happy effect, and fully endorse it as a safe remedy."
Dr. J. A. Hoffman, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "Your Castoria is a splendid remedy for children, known the world over. I use it in my practice and have no hesitancy in recommending it for the complaints of infants and children."
Dr. J. J. Mackey, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I consider your Castoria an excellent preparation for children, being composed of reliable medicines and pleasant to the taste. A good remedy for all disturbances of the digestive organs."
Dr. Howard Jones, of New York City, says: "It is with great pleasure that I desire to testify to the medicinal virtue of your Castoria. I have used it with marked benefit in the case of my own children, and have obtained excellent results from its administration to other children in my practice."

Cheap clothes

do not always make a cheap man; but they're apt to make him look and feel cheap, and that's bad enough.

After all, the worst thing about the "mercerized cotton" cheat isn't that you pay more than it's worth; or that it isn't good to wear. The worst is it lowers your standards of excellence in clothes; it substitutes "good enough" for "good," it demoralizes clothes moral.

We use all-wool because there's no question about it; we see no reason for using cotton. Our label is a small thing to look for, a big thing to find.

The Russian warships that after the naval fight in the sea of Japan sought refuge at Manila have been disarmed and will be compelled to remain at that place until peace is fixed between Japan and Russia.

It is claimed that the International Harvester company, the name by which the great trust is known, made last year a profit of $10,000,000. The total value of farm tools purchased by the farmers last year is estimated to have been about $100,000,000.

It really looks as though Russia has about all the fight knocked out of her by the Japanese and she has intimated her willingness to quit and President Roosevelt has been authorized to convey to Japan the desire on the part of the big bear for an armistice at which terms can be fixed and the dogs of war called off.

Paul Morton has been elected chairman of the board of directors of the great Equitable Life Insurance Company and the salary attachment is to be $150,000 per year, making him rank second to Schwab as the highest salaried man in the world. Schwab as President of the Bethlehem steel trust nets a cool million per year. Morton is a Nebraska product, a son of J. Sterling Morton of Nebraska City.

The union existing between Sweden and Norway for one hundred years has been dissolved by the Norwegian Storting and the present state council of Norway is empowered to act as a government for Norway until further notice and to exercise the powers heretofore vested in the king of Sweden who has been the ruler of both countries. Norway wants a king of her own to be selected from the house of Bernadotte and asks the king of Sweden to co-operate with them in the selection of their king. The desire for dissolution of the governmental ties existing between the two countries has been agitated for a long time and probably the direct cause of the present action of Norway was brought about by the king of Sweden vetoing a measure of the Norwegian Storting asking for separate consular representation.

The following is a portion of a lecture delivered by Dr. Peters of the Nebraska experiment station before the cattle growers association at Alliance and ought to be read by all cattle raisers: Mange in cattle is a very severe disease and causes great loss for cattle affected with mange because they are weak and emaciated. This disease is due to a small insect which is barely visible to the naked eye. This disease spreads rapidly throughout a herd. It usually effects animals after they have been exposed from four to six weeks. There is no doubt that this disease spreads by direct contact of infected with healthy animals. The problem of successfully stamping out this disease on our ranges is a very serious one for the reason that it requires dipping vats and that the majority of the stockmen naturally will wait until the herd becomes infected and then hope that the disease will disappear without any treatment. On this account it has spread over the western states. When dipping is resorted to, the average ranchman is compelled to drive his cattle from five to seven miles to a dipping vat, and on this account the majority of stockmen do not dip but once. They are only successful in killing the first batch of mites and the eggs that are still on the cattle are hatched out in ten to twelve days and if they are not dipped within fifteen days after the first dipping then this breed will return to the state and so the dipping will not do very much good. With the co-operation of the government, who are giving valuable aid to the state and educating the people on the needs of dipping, it is hoped that they can eradicate this disease in a number of years, but it can only be done with the hearty co-operation of the cattle owners.

This representative district once had a representative who played to the gallery and would not do anything for the he travel back and forth between his home and the state capital. The railroad agents promptly sized him up as a fool. After he had been in the session a while the people decided that the agents were right and after a while the representatives reached the conclusion that the representatives of the railroads and the people were right, and at last reports none of them had changed their minds in the least. A man can be honest without playing to the galleries.—Stan ton Dicker. We have no idea who the Picket refers to, but we do not think the acceptance or refusal of a railroad pass brands a man as a fool, and we are inclined to think the people of this representative district are not the kind of people that would send a fool to the legislature of the state as their representative; but we do believe that a majority of the people of this district and the state have come to the conclusion that the man who accepts favors at the hands of any person will naturally feel himself under some obligations to the party extending the favor and is too likely to reciprocate in a way that at times is not wholly in the interest of the people as a whole and for that reason have decided to cut out the past taking officials. Of course it our brother insists that because of the stand the people are taking on this proposition they are fools, we presume there is no law that will compel him to change his view and if the sentiment against past taking continues to grow for the next year and a half as it has during the past year he is likely to see the great majority of the next legislature of that class he dubs "fools."

Considerable interest has of late been manifested in the commencement exercises of the various high schools of the state and especially to the small percentage of boys completing the courses of study and has naturally led people to make inquiry as to the reasons therefor. Some are inclined to lay the blame on the shiftlessness of the boys and others to the parents in not compelling the boys to stick by the ship to the last. In some instances one or both of these reasons may be good, but in the larger sense we believe these are not the true reasons. It is our humble opinion that the cause of the falling off from the boy attendance at the schools above the eighth grade is attributable to another cause altogether. This is truly an age of commercialism, of business, of the sharpest kind of competition and of the absolute necessity for a training that will fit the boys to make a winning race so strongly emphasized on all sides that stern necessity enforces a different training, to meet the demands, that is given by the schools. The sharp, bright boy realizes that he cannot afford to be putting in his time in school for a number of years in the study of something that is not going to fit him for the occupation that he intends to follow in after life and sees that the years so occupied are but wasted. He sees on all sides young men, who have finished the high schools, graduated from the colleges, placed in the race of life in competition with his fellows, who have only received a limited education in the schools, but who have put in the years, while he was acquiring a book learning, in the severe school of practical training, outlasting his school friend in the race of life and naturally comes to the conclusion that he cannot afford to waste his time in this useless book education and at once seeks the practical school under the tutelage of the practical successful man of affairs. Too many of our schools are conducted on the theory that an educated brain is all that is necessary to fit a man for life's race and do not educate along practical lines. It is a day of specialism and the training must be such as will fit men to use their hands and brains in perfect harmony and must go together each being an aid to the other.

Omaha, June 6, 1905.—To the Editor of the Bee: "My attention has been called to a seven-line editorial in your columns on May 16. In this editorial you insinuate that my recent appearance before the senate committee on interstate commerce at Washington was at the instigation of the railroad companies and because I was one of a class of "manufacturers and jobbers that are close to the traffic managers." As a matter of fair play I believe I am entitled to reply to that aspersion. I went to Washington because I believed the proposed governmental regulation of rates would work in a detrimental manner, not only to my own business and the business interests of Omaha, but also to the agricultural interests of Nebraska and the middle west, on which all our property is based. I paid my own expenses to appear before the committee—both railroad fare and other incidental expenses. I did not receive "one penny" from any railroad or railroad official, nor any promise of remuneration in any manner, shape or form. I am well enough known in this community to be believed when I say that I went to the national capital solely because I am of the firm opinion that governmental interference of the railroads would be calamity. I am not defending the railroads, they are guilty of abuses—such abuses as to be found in all businesses involving so intricate a system and so great a diversity—but the existing laws if enforced are capable of effectively curbing these practices. In my opinion enforcement of the present laws is what his address was filled throughout with cogent and impressive illustrations that tend to fix the thoughts in the minds of his hearers. The graduating class this year consisted of twenty-one members, while that of last year had but eight. Adella Spahr succeeded in capturing the scholarship from the North Nebraska College given to the one ranking highest in scholarship. Superintendent Bright expressed his gratification over the increase in numbers of graduates and reported to be the last year that such a highly efficient year in our public examination passed by the

the long haul and it will be an unhappy day indeed for this western country should this state of affairs be changed or greatly modified.—Arthur C. Smith. The above is reproduced in the columns of the HERALD, not because it in any manner reflects the views of the paper on the subject, but in order to put before our readers some of the reasons urged against government interference with existing transportation conditions.

W. L. Robinson, the Carroll real estate agent, was in the city yesterday.

CALUMET Baking Powder

The only high grade Baking Powder sold at a moderate price. Complies with the pure food laws of all states.

Trust Baking Powders sell for 45 or 50 cents per pound and may be identified by this excellent price. They are a menace to public health, as food prepared from them contains large quantities of Rochelle salts, a dangerous cathartic drug.

ORDER OF HEARING ON ORIGINAL PROBATE OF WILL.

STATE OF NEBRASKA, ss: Wayne County, ss: At a county court, held at the county court room, in and for said county of Wayne, on the 7th day of June, 1905. Present, E. Hunter, county judge. In the matter of the estate of John Boeckenhauer, deceased. D. 1905, at 10 o'clock a. m., is assigned for hearing said petition, when all persons interested in said matter may appear at a county court to be held in and for said county, and show cause why the prayer of the petitioner should not be granted; and that notice of the pendency of said petition and the hearing thereof, be given to all persons interested in said matter by publishing a copy of this order in the Wayne Herald, a weekly newspaper published in said county, for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing. It's a Good Thing to trade at a store where you know without a doubt that your orders will have prompt attention and be filled with THE BEST on the market.

It's a Good Thing to be able to say: "Send me that particular brand," and get what you ask for. We often go out for things out of stock or something "special." We never substitute, unless you so.

It's a Good Thing to buy SLEEPY EYE FLOUR, and you know before you bake that you'll have perfect bread and light and dainty pastry.

It's a Good Thing to buy "ZEST," with a nice cup and saucer in each package. On sale for one week at 20 cents. Regular price, 25 cents.

It's a Good Thing to talk to us by phone and ask about the new things that are arriving daily.

DON'T FORGET that we sell Tomatoes or Corn three for 25 cents. And as you pass our window look upon our Cracker display. Get a package of the Big Sioux Crackers. This is a full weight package and costs but 10 cents. You will buy again.

FANCY TABLE BUTTER in 2-pound jars. This is one item worth your consideration. Thousands of pounds of good butter becomes unfit for table use after it arrives at the store for want of proper care. My best butter is originally packed in 2-pound jars and after a thorough cooling is sent to the consumer. The butter arrives to you in first-class condition and will keep much longer than in the ordinary open vessel. Give me a trial order. You will come again.

"People are not as good as they used to be!"

The above remark is made in our store nearly every day. Old people that lived in this country when newspapers were scarce and crime was not heard of if committed outside the county, now think that the people are not as good as they used to be. It seems that newspapers enjoy printing the history of every crime they hear of and devote but little space to the good that is being done by mankind. If it was made a crime to print anything that was of no benefit to humanity there would be less crime committed and the world would be much better. Advertising crime is the same as advertising poor clothing. The people will buy things they see advertised and if it's good clothing that is advertised it is a benefit to all that buy it, but if it is poor clothing that is advertised it is an injury to anyone that buys it. So it is when a newspaper advertises that a man turned on the gas and committed suicide; it induces many persons, who are despondent, to try the gas route. Our prayer should always be: "Lead us not into temptation." We never advertise anything that will not give satisfaction to our customers. If this advertisement should bring you to this store you will be convinced that what we have said is true, and should you buy anything here you not only get satisfaction but the price will please you. It is a mistake to think that by advertising every criminal act done it will lessen crime. Don't read such stuff if you desire to have a pure mind, and don't patronize a merchant that advertises clothing that he is not willing to warrant to give satisfaction. If you trade at this store and keep your mind filled with good, pure literature you will prosper, and enjoy wearing up-to-date clothing that will never fail to please you. Try us and see if all we have written is not true. You can't make a mistake to buy clothing of us.

True Prescott is another Wayne county farmer who finds his barn too small and is building a new one 36x40 feet.

Guess the gait was too swift for Otto Kuhl and Grant Means up at Niphrava at the lawyers picnic as they came back Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Kingston and Brown, of Stanton, are guests at the Way home in this city. The former lady is Mrs. Way's mother and the latter her sister.

P. L. Miller has purchased the interest of B. F. Swan in the corner store building occupied by the Fair store and the litigation commenced has been dropped.

M. S. Linn, of Carroll, was in town Tuesday morning on his way to Sioux City. Mr. Linn was travelling on crutches because of a badly sprained ankle.

Mrs. H. E. Harris and children, of La Junta, Colorado, are in the city visiting her mother, Mrs. Davies, and her brothers, M. S. and Sam, and sister, Mrs. A. A. Welch.

R. E. K. Mellor has begun to remove the old buildings to get ready for the construction of the big new brick hardware building on the lot occupied by Neely & Craven and will begin work on the new structure about July 1.

The ladies of the Monday club wound up their year's work by a splendid picnic at Cunningham's grove south of town Monday and report a very enjoyable day's outing—not a wicked man to make trouble or cause alarm in any way.

Richard Ritz, a farmer living near Altona, was severely kicked in the face by a horse Sunday and had his lip and cheek cut so badly as to necessitate several stitches at the hands of Dr. Williams who was called to repair the damage.

The college is going to have a summer school of two months in the Ward building of which our readers will find a notice elsewhere and we desire to urge on pupils and parents the advantage this school will offer to any who are anxious to do special work.

Quite a number of college students gathered at the depot Monday morning to say farewell to Prof. Wolfe. Mr. Wolfe filled his position at the college in an admirable manner and we understand that he is to accept the presidency of a business college in Indiana.

August Brackner, a well known Wayne county farmer living three and one half miles southeast of Hoskins, was thrown from his buggy on Monday and suffered a fracture of the skull. The team was unruly and ran away with him at Hemlit, one mile east of Hoskins. The physicians express a hope of saving his life although the accident was a serious one.

Eugene Hansen and his father returned Monday from their land hunting trip in North Dakota and did not purchase any soil. Gene says lands are going at a pretty lively rate and the prices are climbing up the grade at a pretty lively rate. Warren Shulteis did not return with the Hansens but is going to stay for a while with his father who does not expect to return until after harvest. Everything looks well in the Dakotas and the prospects of a big crop are very promising.

Quite a number of Wayne people are going to take advantage of the cheap rates to Chicago over the Illinois Central next Saturday to visit that city and other eastern points. Among those going will be Phil Kohl and wife, and Lambert Roe for Milwaukee to attend the meeting of the National Head Camp of Modern Women, and those going to visit friends are Mesdames Henry Bush, Charles Shulteis, W. H. McNeal and George Roberts.

Leigh Bros., who for several months have been conducting the general merchandise store between the Owen Shoe Company's place of business and the Fair store, sold out their business on Monday to a party by the name of O. A. Tortat, of Cessna Park Illinois, who has since been invoicing and preparing to take hold and operate the business. Leigh Bros. have succeeded in building up a very nice business and have made many good friends in the few months they have been here and we trust the new proprietor will not only be able to hold the trade but will succeed in adding to it largely.

The children's day exercises at the various churches, of the city, were held Sunday forenoon in the form of a contest and on Monday in the evening. The exercises were very creditable to those taking part and the little folks enjoyed themselves hugely. It was their day and they knew they were the ones that hold the attractions for the good-sized audiences that greeted them and they made good in all cases. The cradle roll at the M. E. church in the morning was a new and somewhat novel feature of the day's exercises and was quite liberally responded to by proxy.

The farmer is a pretty busy man just at present. Both the corn and weeds have been doing a growing business by day and by night and the cultivators can only work during the daylight hours, but they have succeeded in keeping pretty well up with the weed growth and the corn is coming at a rate that is very pleasing indeed to the man behind the plow. While the stand of corn is not as good as desired, yet it is far from being so thin as to materially shorten the crop with the right kind of weather from now until time of maturity. Some hills are entirely missing and others do not contain a full complement of plants, but seasonable weather will do much to make up for this in the way of larger and better ears.

We are frequently asked the question: "Why don't you sell your flour direct to the consumer, giving him the benefit of the commission which you allow the merchant?" Well, we don't aspire to be a Montgomery Ward & Co. or a Sears, Roebuck & Co. They don't sell to the local trade in Chicago. If you lived in Chicago and wished to buy an article from either firm, they would not sell to you. They are strictly "mail order" houses and live off the people who patronize them outside of Chicago. They ship goods to all parts of the world. With us it is different. We don't believe in that way of doing business. We have lived in Wayne twenty years. We like it here, have always liked it and wish to live and let live. Our merchants have rent, water tax, light, clerk hire, fuel bills and personal taxes to pay and are entitled to a profit on the goods which they handle. We say: Buy your goods of them and while we are saying this we wish to add "on the quiet," ask for a sack of our flour. We also manufacture bran and shorts which is a splendid feed for hogs and cattle. Give them a change of feed.
