IMPORT HORSES

Direct From France to Wayne County.

SIXTEEN EXCELLENT ANIMALS

Billiter & Burress Land Their First Importation of Percherons at Carroll.

Thursday evening Billiter & Burress landed in Wayne county with their first importation of twelve splendid Percheron and one Belgian stallions and three full blooded Percheron mares and now have them exhibited at Carroll in a splendid barn built purposely for their reception. This importation comes direct from LaPerche, France, and the stallions were bought of the breeders and are the choice of even that famous district. Messrs Billiter & Burress left America September 17 and wasted no time in getting right into the heart of the great Percheron breeding district where they devoted pretty nearly twenty days inspecting various animals from which they made the selection of animals they have brought to Wayne county. The horses range in age from two to five years and are largely black in color, there being only two dark brown grays and one brown among the Percherons, and the Belgian is a splendid bay fellow with the action and style of a coacher. The Percherons are great, big boned, excellently muscled fellows with an abundance of heart and lung room and are able to pick themselves up and go in show shape any time. The town of Carroll and Wayne county are to be congratulated on the enterprise of these gentlemen in embarking in this business which is another step towards making the county Nebraska's great center of improved live stock breeding. The bringing of these horses to the county will give a rare opportunity to our horse breeders for the improvement of their stock and we are confident they will be ready to take advantage of the opportunity thus offered.

The Westbrook flour, the Right Kind, is guaranteed by the manufacturers. Buy no other. T. F. WELLS & CO.

LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

The county board is in session today. Artificial heat has been an increasing necessity the last week, winter having been duly installed.

Mrs. Dan Harrington gave a dinner party Friday evening in honor of Mrs. Geo. Damon, of Council Bluffs.

The Wayne high school baseball boys were defeated in a game with the Wakefield club on the latter's grounds last Friday.

J. A. Jones has just about completed his new residence at Carroll and will have one of the neat houses of that growing town.

Ed. Rennieck has purchased the John E. Owen farm just west of town and we understand the price is pretty close to $80 per acre.

Corn picking has begun in earnest and farmers will keep at it until they finish, excepting for a few hours on election day when they will stop to vote.

A number of friends of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Newton gathered at their home Friday evening for a social time in view of the departure of Mrs. Newton for California the next day.

December first J. A. Love and wife will give up possession of the Carroll hotel which they have traded for a half section of land four miles from Aberdeen, South Dakota.

It is getting so it requires a mighty fine discrimination to be able to discern an eminent flanneler from a common grafter. Alas, what are we coming to—Fremont Tribune.

A. B. Smith, representing the Kuppenheimer clothing house, of Chicago, was in Wayne Tuesday selling two Jolins a lot of new goods. Mr. Smith has a novelty in the way of a trunk in which he is able to carry sample coats in perfect shape.

The law in Nebraska requires that county superintendents shall hold first grade certificates and State Superintendent McBrion has ruled that it must be obeyed. It is said that at least one-third of the candidates for superintendent in the state are ineligible.

Frank Benser is certainly a lively crippler. He is showing his party and friends that their confidence has not been misplaced. He is on the road every day, and each day means votes for him. Let a good republican once see and talk to him, and they certainly cannot scratch their ticket afterwards.—Carroll Index.

A monument erected to the memory of J. Sterling Morton was unveiled amidst appropriate ceremonies at Nebraska City last Saturday. Ex-President Cleveland and his former cabinet, excepting Morton, in whose honor the monument stands, were present, together with Gov. Mickey and other state officials.

"Being a team, hitch in front of Ros & Partner's meat market, call for it in two hours and you will find the money to pay for it under the seat." was the message received by one of our liverymen Saturday evening. The team was taken to the rendezvous named and at the hour appointed the liveryman found it there again, and the money also. "A Royal Slave," presented at the opera house Monday evening, was high class entertainment and merited a larger audience than that which attended. The plot of the play, located in Mexico, and taken from the Fair God, was of thrilling interest, and the acting was faultless and the costumes and scenery were splendid. Those who attended were well satisfied.

The 4-year-old son of August Thinn, who lives ten miles northwest of Wayne, had the bone of his right leg above the knee broken last Friday by falling under the wheels of a wagon. He was in the field with his father while the latter was husking corn and fell on the wagon and under the wheels. Dr. Nieman was called and repaired the broken limb.

Some one has started the false report that Frank Benser, candidate for clerk, is the owner of a valuable farm and therefore does not need the clerkship. All the real estate he owns is a small lot in Hoxkins. He is fully as much in need of the office as his opponent, is deserving of it, is competent and affable, and belongs to a political party that can easily give it to him.

Attorney Davis has become so enraptured with the city of Apex that he spent last week at that place and vicinity hunting chickens, ducks, geese, Chinese pheasants and other feathered game, (all wild), and had a delightful time. He brought back a wagon load of trophies of his week's triumphant pursuit as a hunter and generously joyfully distributed them among his friends.

Wayne county is surely having a boom on improvements in the way of new buildings. Down in one neighborhood southeast of here, Wm. Damme, C. O. Bastian, Henry Krovat and Henry Eichoff are building or have built new barns within the past week and Jake Gasper has been over lunch and is proving his residence. Mrs. Morrison and Walter Weber are both getting ready to build new barns on their farms and so it goes from one end of the county to the other.

A hen that died recently on a southern farm lived twenty-three years. During the nineteen years of her strenuous life it was estimated that she laid 4,760 eggs and hatched 270 chickens. The eggs valued at present prices would realize the owner $908.50. This chicks valued at 80 cents each would represent a value of $178.00. On this basis this hen would have earned $1,076.50. Who would object to such hens retiring from active life?—Pender Republican.

Miss Emma, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Onas Nies of this place, was married in the Catholic church of Wayne Monday morning at 8 o'clock, to Mr. Carl Clegberg, agent of the Penney Elevator Co., at Naocora, Nebraska. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Hiley in the presence of a party of relatives and friends. The newly wedded couple departed Tuesday for Naocora where they will begin house-keeping, and were accompanied by the best wishes of many friends.

Once in a while we hear of a Nebraska farmer whose head is turned slightly by his prosperity. Such must be the case of one told about in the Eastie News, who became so interested in taking care and disposing of his crops and to lose the run of time. On a recent morning he drove into town with a load of wheat, and was surprised to find the town as dead as a punctured boom. He drove to one elevator and then the other, but nobody was there, and not a wheel was turning. At length he discovered that it was Sunday.

The dispersion sale of the excellent Shorthorn herd of B. P. Peterson, of Carroll, has been fixed for December 16, at the fair grounds at Wayne. This move is made necessary on account of ill health in the family that compels Mr. Peterson to leave the farm and where it is not for this, under no circumstances would this, one of the best of Northern Nebraska's herds, be dispersed. It has always been Mr. Peterson's aim to get the very best and that he has succeeded splendidly and that he manifested when the herd is brought to the sale ring. The offering will consist of about 36 head and will have in males and females of good useful age and splendidly bred.

Norfolk acts as though it were on the verge of going crazy over the "in rate" and the "out rate." It is presumed that "in rate" and "out rate" bear reference to railroad rates. At any rate, the people and newspapers are "whooping" it up about "in rate" and "out rate." Citizens have become so tied up to thinking about the two brands of rates, that they sing and pray about them, and even talk about them while they are asleep. The Press becomes especially hysterical and shrieks about the "in rate" and "out rate" with a fervor and ferocity that remind one of Don Quixote in his fight against a windmill. It is too bad, as well as inconvenient, for an entire community to lose its balance wheels at the same time, and therefore it is hoped Norfolk people will soon be able to whip the single idea out of their minds. Let them forget the "in rate" and "out rate" for a spell and think about other rates—the rate corn will go per acre, the rate stainers are forsaking the devil and becoming good, the rate people have paid off debts and grown rich in Nebraska under the auspices of a republican administration, and various other kinds of rates, affording healthy and beneficial change in mental exercise.

SURBER RETURNS

F. M. Skeen Talks With Him on Train.

SURRENDERS AT DAKOTA CITY

Prisoner Says He Was in Wayne Wednesday Night—Intended to Return When He Escaped.

Roy Surber, who escaped from the county jail at Ponca with another prisoner the first of last week, gave himself up to the authorities at Dakota City on Thursday. The county attorney from Dixon county happened to be there and took him in charge, returning with him to Ponca. F. M. Skeen of Wayne, met Surber on the train at Emerson and talked with him about his troubles. Surber said he got on the train at Wakefield and that he proposed to go to Dakota City where he was in session, plead guilty and receive his sentence. He was without money to employ an attorney and Mr. Skeen consented to stop at Dakota City and assist him without remuneration. Getting off there they discovered that court had adjourned, and finding County Attorney Kingsbury, the prisoner accompanied him to Ponca. Surber told Mr. Skeen that the jail door had been left un-locked and the other prisoner taking advantage of the opportunity to escape, he concluded to do likewise. He said he left a note stating that he would visit in Wayne and then return to custody. He said he was in Wayne on Wednesday night. His voluntary return without the cost of a reward, will doubtless lessen the sentence which the court will impose on him.

BLOODHOUNDS ON TRAIL.

Stein's bloodhounds performed some remarkable work at Concord, Nebraska, yesterday in tracking a stolen team of horses and a buggy. They recovered the buggy, horses and harness and traced the thieves to a hotel in Concord, where the men had registered, but from which they had departed and taken an outgoing train before the dogs arrived. The dogs were taken from Norfolk at 6:30 in the morning on the Sioux City train. At Wayne they were met by the officers. At 7:45 they were put on the trail of the stolen horses. After a trail of twelve miles the dogs reached the buggy, which stood alongside the road. A portion of the harness was in the buggy. Two miles more of search revealed the team, hitched alongside the road and with the reins over their heads.

Abandoning the horses, the thieves had gone into Concord, where they registered at the hotel. At 7:45 they took a train out of town.

Guy Livingston, youngest son of Olliver Livingston, handled the dogs in the work.—Norfolk News.

RAILROAD REGULATION.

Congressman J. J. McCarthy was in Emerson on business Saturday. He informed us he had been spending considerable of his time this summer studying railroad questions. He said he thought he was pretty well posted on the practical operation of railroads but he found there was considerable yet to learn. He is of the opinion congress will enact a railroad rate law at its next session.—Emerson Enterprise.

We can testify to the fact that he has had abundant opportunities the past summer to study railroading and also staging. Rides on some of the western railroads and stages with which Congressman McCarthy became familiar, force serious contemplation of transportation subjects. The twenty-six miles of perpendicular railroad which lifts travelers into Klamath county, Oregon, and the subsequent journey on the hurricane deck of a stage cannot fail to stimulate mental action along that line. The meditation, irritation and profanity incident to each experience combine to qualify a man to handle transportation questions with expert wisdom.

LITTELL'S RELIGION.

LAUREL, Neb., Oct. 31, 1905.

Herald, Wayne, Neb.

Mr. Editor: Will you please give me space in your columns to speak of a matter pertaining to A. E. Littell, the republican candidate for county superintendent of Wayne county.

I understand that the opposition is attempting to defeat him, and especially in Breana, on the ground that he is an infidel. They are basing the opposition on a false representation that I made such a statement to someone out there. Now I can easily understand how such a statement from one who has been pastor of a church in the precinct for four years might influence the minds of the voters. I do not wish to pose as a politician and especially of a county of which I am not a resident, but I am ready to defend the innocent whenever possible. I wish to say that but twice did the matter of Mr. Littell's religious views ever come up when I was in conversation with any one from the precinct, and in both cases when the charge was made that he was an infidel I said "No, you are mistaken." Furthermore, I desire to say to those who are thus misled: I was also pastor of a church in Winside during the two years immediately preceding this one and was personally acquainted with Mr. Littell. He was a regular attendant at our services when in town, for a time taught a class in our Sunday school, and was a liberal supporter of the church. On every question of morals and the good of society I always found him solid. Also, I am sure he did not take this stand to make votes at the convention that nominated him nor at this time. This was his spirit before his name was mentioned as a probable candidate. Not even those who are opposing him and are prejudiced against him would be justified in saying that these are evidences of infidelity. Those who know him, know the charge is false. I consider him a safe man and worthy of the office in every way. Very truly, S. A. DRAIS.

THE CONVICT'S DAUGHTER.

This is the fourth season of that powerful melodramatic success entitled "The Convict's Daughter." So far it has repeated its yearly successful business, crowding the theatres to their utmost capacity. Surely there must be a reason for such large audiences. The secret of its success lies in the fact that both the author and manager have put forth their best efforts to please and supply the demands of a melodramatic loving public. The box office returns show the wisdom of their judgment.

This is a pure American play depicting love and pathos, hate and passion, a play that touches the heart. There is one way, and only one way, to appreciate this play, and that is to see it. For nearly three hours intense dramatic scenes, laugh-provoking complications follow each other in rapid succession. An unqualified company of artists have been engaged, each one for his or her special character, and a wealth of beautiful scenery, startling mechanical effects has been provided. At the opera house, Wayne, Nebraska, Wednesday evening, November 8.

FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT.

One of the most terrible accidents in Randolph's history occurred yesterday forenoon at the farm of Mrs. Mewman six miles north of town. Herman Myers, thirteen year old son of August Myers, in some way got his coat caught by the tumbling rod of a threshing machine, and the unfortunate boy was whirled over and over and terribly bruised before the machine could be stopped. Dr. Kerley was summoned and found that both thigh bones were broken, one hip dislocated, two ribs broken, one foot broken and many bruises about the head and abdomen and the clothes torn from his body. The poor boy suffered untold agony and was nearly dead from the severe injuries he received. This morning Dr. Kerley took him to St. Joseph's hospital in Sioux City, where he will receive the best of attention. Sympathy is felt for the family in this trial, and hope is expressed that the boy's life will be spared.—Randolph Times.

Now is the time to order, before the big holiday rush. C. M. CRAVEN.

OPPORTUNITIES.

"Opportunities" is the name of a little book published by the emigration department of the Northern Pacific, which gives a list of openings in the different professions and lines of business at the various towns traversed by this road. Each town which needs any industry not at present located there is fully described therein. Persons who are anxious to engage in any particular line of business can readily see, not only where there is an opening, but just how promising the opening is. Along a system as large as the Northern Pacific there are bound to be a great many points where stores of various kinds, mills, brick yards, banks, creameries, factories, etc., are needed. Anyone with a little money to invest, who wishes to embark in any of these lines, will do well to write for a copy of this book to Mr. C. W. Mott, General Emigration agent, Northern Pacific Railway, St. Paul, Minnesota.

RALPH RUNDRELL

Judge Letton's Acceptance.

Gentlemen of the Convention:

I am not in any temper of mind at the present time, or have the power of voice to make a speech. I am not an orator at any time. I want to say that I thank you from the bottom of my heart for this nomination. I think no higher honor can be paid to a citizen of your state than to be nominated for the office of justice of the supreme court. That court carries with it the power of life and death, the disposition of property of any man in the state and it is the most responsible position that can be tendered or given to any man in the state. I appreciate the responsibility of this position.

I want to say, too, that if elected, which I expect to be, I shall know neither rich or poor, neither corporation or individual, and that so far as in me lies, I will dispense justice with even hand to every man within the borders of the state.

I am told that your committee on resolutions will report to this convention declaring against the issuance of free transportation by the railroads in this state. I want to say to you that I am in hearty accord with that declaration.

Further, I understand that they have endorsed our president, and I stand firmly with them on that proposition.

Further, I understand that they will report in favor of a direct primary. The closer you get to the people the better for the interests of all.

I wish to thank the convention for this nomination; I want to thank my friends who made the magnificent fight upon this convention floor for me. I thank you all, gentlemen.

1. Endorses the administration of Roosevelt and supports his efforts to control corporations engaged in interstate commerce.
2. Demands immediate relief through existing laws or legislation from rebates and discriminations.
3. Endorses the declaration of Roosevelt that corporations engaged in interstate commerce should be under the supervision of some branch of the executive government.
4. Demands that Nebraska representatives in congress support the policy of the president in the correction of corporate abuses.
5. Declares for the direct primary system.
6. Commends the economical administration of state offices by republican officials.
7. Declares against the free pass system, and recommends a law to prohibit it.

Make it a clean sweep in Wayne county this time, and next year you will be glad you did.

Don't forget to give Richard Russell your vote for commissioner. He has been a careful, painstaking member of the board and should be re-elected.

The Democrat would have you vote especially for those democrats who will contribute support to that paper and strengthen it as an enemy of the republican party.

Talk about scared candidates. If Jack Chert and Charley Reynolds ain't in that class then there is no spook thing in existence; but they have good reasons for their chills.

Winkles, Ohnipo, Hancock, Garfield and Hawkins will give Frank Bensen a vote of confidence that will be a surprise to the fellows who are banking on the other man as a winner.

One good turn deserves another. Call your point us to a single instance in

It surely looks as though Jack and

Charley would have to walk the plank this time and as for the opponents of Judge Hunter, Sheriff Mears, A. E. Littell and the rest of the ticket, they are simply not in the race for a minute and to a man who banks on one of them winning looks a knowledge of the situation.

Can you remember of a republican, except Judge Martin, being elected to an office in Wayne county when the populists and democrats had a majority of the votes? They didn't waste their votes that way, and why should you grant their candidates favors now that they never gave to your party's candidates?

A republican vote for democratic candidates simply means that if those candidates should be elected, it will be heralded throughout the county and state by democratic politicians and newspapers as a democratic victory in the county. How do you think you would like anything of that kind? Don't allow it to happen.

The Democrat is very much mistaken in assuming that E. Cunningham had any part in the naming of any of the candidates for county office. He was not a delegate to the convention. He is not a member of the central committee and had no part in naming any of the candidates, but if he had, in what respect would that lessen their claims to your vote?

Massie may be a good judge of land, as the Democrat suggests, and he may also be a good judge of a hot lunch or a bunch of milk cows, but it does not necessarily follow that he would make a good judge to preside over the county court. Prove that he is a good citizen doesn't prove that he is a better one than Judge Hunter, nor that he would make as competent a judicial officer as the present incumbent.

Has democracy a life lease on the treasurer'ship of Wayne county or does the county owe Jack Cherry a lifetime job that its voters are expected to abandon their own party candidates in order to keep the treasury in democratic hands or furnish Jack a job? Don't you, as a republican, believe that office can be fully as ably administered by a republican as by a democrat, and if so, don't you think Bert Brown is just as capable, just as honest and just as deserving of the place as his opponent and that as the nominee of your party is entitled to your vote?

The Democrat invites people to inspect Massie's eyes in sizing up his qualifications for the judgeship. He doubtless has a nice looking pair of optics, but really it will puzzle voters to figure out how they are more indicative of judicial acumen than those in the heads of hundreds of others. Such stunning argument of behalf of Massie reminds one of Kiteshaw in Mikado—an old maid who in giving reasons why she should rise to social eminence and become acceptable to Naukipto, the man of her choice, properly announced that she possessed a rare and distinguished bump on one of her elbows.

This is the year to put the battle lines of your party in shape for next year's contest. The hands of President Roosevelt must be upheld if anything is to be accomplished in curbing the trusts and controlling the unjust discriminations by railroads and other corporations, and in order to do this it is absolutely necessary that republicans to a man, stand by their own party and its candidates that there may be no disorder among the forces or breaks in the line of offense. A vote for the opposition candidate for a county office means a vote for disorganization of your own party. Ponder well the situation before you vote and do not make a mistake that you will surely regret.

The candidates of the democratic party in Wayne county are all good fellows and it is not our province to question the ability of any of them, but have you ever known any of them to do anything directly or indirectly for the principles you believe in as a republican? Are not the nominees of the republican party just as capable in every way as the other fellows and have they not the further qualification of working and voting for the principles you believe in? If so, why vote for the other fellow? If you've paid about all the claims of sympathy or debts of friendship you owe the candidates of the opposition, and if not, when do you suppose you can get the mortgage released.

DEMOCRAT, NOVEMBER 4, 1904

The Democrat does not own any farm lands, and what little stuff we have got can get from under, and therefore while still believing that every statement this paper made before election on state government is as true to-day as it was previous to November 8, will promise our readers one and all to "out it all out" hereafter. Even on local issues the Democrat will refuse to be tied up with any and all democrats. We believe the democratic donkey is about starved to death, and like Bryan propose to go way back and sit down, where we can have a party all of our own with no fear of intrusion.

So that is why such supreme effort is being made to get republicans to vote for fellows not members of their own party. In order that Goldie's party may be brought into existence, but it is rather strange that every man he wants elected carries the picture of the old donk on his face.

The Democrat put up quite a talk last week about Grant Mears riding on a pass and at the same time charging up transportation to the county. It tried to create the impression that because of Mr. Mears being secretary of the republican county central committee he was thus enabled to get this favor from the railroad company. Mr. Mears assures us that he never received from any railroad company a pass because of his being secretary of the committee or for any other political reasons and furthermore he says his books are open at any time for the inspection of any and all persons interested and if they can find that he has ever under any circumstances charged the county or any person, a dollar of fees or mileage illegally, he is ready to refund the money and will not ask any man to support him for any office. Charges of this kind, unless well substantiated, ought to receive no attention from any fair minded person and it only shows the extremes to which the opposition are forced in trying to bolster up a very weak cause.

Cunningham has no "bee in his bonnet" for any office, elective or appointive, so Goldie can rest easy on that point. But why talk of Cunningham or Goldie in a campaign unless it be to begot the voters as to the real issues at stake? The issue is between the republican and democratic parties of the county and if you believe in the principles advocated by the republican party it becomes your duty as a republican to stand by the candidates of the party in county as well as state elections and not be coaxed or bullied into the support of the opposition candidates by any claim entirely foreign to the real issue. If you are anxious to have democracy again give the reins of our national government and the days of "us" with all their woes brought into being, the proper thing to do is to vote for the democratic county nominees and thus help to disorganize your own party in the county, and if the same policy is pursued throughout the state and nation you will surely bring about the unhappy conditions of those terrible times. Do you wish to aid democracy to pull down your own party in Wayne county? If not vote for the republican candidates this fall, and see that your neighbor gets to the polls and votes.

When any man, no matter who he is, asserts that Littell did not have C. H. Bright's endorsement in his candidacy for superintendent, and that Richardson was or is his choice, he simply states something of which he is utterly ignorant, or else purposely falsifies. The writer had a conversation regarding this very matter with Mr. Bright and was assured that Littell was the most capable and best fitted of all the persons mentioned in connection with the place. The Herald is not desirous of entering into any personal controversy that may exist between Mr. Littell and any of the parties who are anxious to defeat him for the superintendency, but it desires to here enter a protest against the methods being pursued by certain persons for the purpose of unbecomingly his defeat, and to assure its readers that all there is to the whole matter is a desire to defeat him in order to gratify a personal pique brought about by no fault of Littell. We understand that representations have been made to many of the teachers in the county that it would be much better for them to do what they could to defeat Littell, and if they were successful in doing so, they would be rewarded by the person who would benefit thereby. If this ain't dirty politics we have never run up against anything that was and we believe the republicans of the county will resent this attempt to defeat the candidate of their party who is today acknowledged to be one of the ablest school men in the county, and who, if elected, will be a worthy successor to C. H. Bright.

COLLEGE NOTES.

A pleasant social was held in the chapel Tuesday evening.

Ex-State Superintendent Fowler was a guest of Prof. Pile last week.

Quite a number of the students spent Sunday at home, most of them returning Monday.

Mr. Lowry, of Cass county, enrolled Saturday and expects to be in school for the remainder of the year.

Mr. Jeffrey, of Martinsburg, spent Saturday and Sunday at the college. He brought his son with him. Three of Mr. Jeffrey's children are now attending here.

Misses Stewart and Yakish went to Fairfax, South Dakota, Saturday where they gave a concert Saturday evening and a sacred concert Sunday afternoon. They returned Monday.

Prof. Pile, Sauntry and Buchanan and Miss Neptune represented the college at the Teachers' Association which was held in Emerson Saturday. Miss Neptune read a paper before the meeting.

A good many new students enrolled on Saturday and Monday, and more have written that they will be here this week. The attendance is larger than it was at the beginning of the term last year when the term began two weeks later.

A number of new classes had to be organized at the beginning of this term, among them being Political Economy, Trigonometry, Commercial Law and another class in Arithmetic. The teachers have their time fully occupied.

Among the new members of the graduating classes are Miss Bessie Eaton of Rosebud, South Dakota, Miss Mayme of Teton, and Mr. Moore of Oregon. The graduating classes this year will be the largest in the history of the school.

LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Joe Love was down from Carroll Saturday.

Mrs. M. S. Davies went to Omaha Tuesday morning.

A. B. Clark made a business trip to Sioux City today.

D. G. Savidge is boring a new well at this place for the railroad company. Otto H. Kuhl positively denies the report that he is slated to become P. S. Bower's deputy in case that gentleman is elected clerk.

Representatives of lodges of Woodmen of the World will hold a convention in Wayne tomorrow evening. An interesting program has been prepared.

Halloween parties were given at the homes of T. A. Philleo, Will Weber, and Charley Shuttles Tuesday evening and at each place a splendid time is reported by those in attendance. At Ted Philleo's the guests indulged in a "coon hunt." Negro dolls were hidden in various places about the house and prizes given for the most successful "coon hunter."

B. P. Peterson writes us that in his Shorthorn cattle sale December 16 there will be forty head of males and females and that all of the latter of breeding age will either have calves at foot or be safe in calf. In the sale his great herd bull, Lord Banff 5th, is included and this is one of those excellent rich roans so much sought after by the best breeders. He is three years old and probably as good an individual as can be found anywhere, with an ancestry that puts him in the royal class. Besides Lord Banff 4th there are four yearling bulls and several early spring calves that go in the sale. The entire offering of females are worthy of the inspection of the best and most careful breeders and we hope that the attendance at the sale will demonstrate the appreciation of breeders in this class of animals.

Halloween parties were pretty plenty Tuesday evening and at some of them the guests were indeed ghostly visitors. The home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hurlington was invaded, by probably forty persons whose appearance in dress was very much alike, sheets and pillow cases seeming to be the exterior decorations and a happy crowd of "spooks" they were who never left the pleasant time until almost the midnight hour. The Bressler home was also the center of another happy gathering that allowed the hours to grow pretty late before the adieux were said. There were many other parties of young and old in various parts of the city and the boys and girls made the welkin ring throughout the city until the wee sma hours warned them it was time to get inside or old Sul was likely to take a peep at them ere they were ready for the next day's tasks. Very few if any parties that interfered in any manner with the property of anyone was put into practice and taking it all in all it was certainly a pretty decorous eve.

The crop department of the Nebraska statistical bureau has lately put out its estimate for the Nebraska corn crop and makes it about 16 million bushels in excess of last year. Doubtless the same conditions prevail in most of the state that do in this county and if so the crop is overestimated. Wayne county is put down for an average yield of 40 bushels per acre on the entire acreage planted as returned by the assessors. This is at least 25 per cent too high because hundreds of acres returned by the assessors have no corn at all, being drowned out by the excessive rains in the early part of the season, and thousands more have less than half an acre for the above reason. In this county, speaking generally, the stand of corn looked very much of being good and while the corn is well cared and well watered, the picking which is now in full blast, demonstrates that 30 bushels will be the outside average per acre on the total acreage planted or returned by the assessors. Wayne county was much less affected by the excessive rains than many other counties and therefore it seems safe to say the department has its figures too high on the crop now being harvested.

THE WAYNE HERALD.

Official paper of Wayne and Wayne county published every Thursday.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

State.

For Supreme Judge—Charles E. Letton, Fairbury.

For Regents of the University—Y. G. Lyford, Falls City; Fred H. Abbott, Columbus.

County.

For County Judge—E. Hunter.

For Sheriff—Grant S. Mears.

For County Superintendent—A. E. Littell.

For County Clerk—F. S. Benson.

For County Treasurer—Bert Brown.

For Coroner—Dr. J. J. Williams.

For County Surveyor—E. R. Gibson.

For Commissioner, First District—Richard Russell.

Make it a clean sweep in Wayne county this time, and next year you will be glad you did.

Don't forget to give Richard Russell your vote for commissioner. He has been a careful, painstaking member of the board and should be re-elected.

The Democrat would have you vote especially for those democrats who will contribute support to that paper and strengthen it as an enemy of the republican party.

Talk about scared candidates. If Jack Chert and Charley Reynolds ain't in that class then there is no spook thing in existence; but they have good reasons for their chills.

Winkles, Ohnipo, Hancock, Garfield and Hawkins will give Frank Bensen a vote of confidence that will be a surprise to the fellows who are banking on the other man as a winner.

One good turn deserves another. Call your point us to a single instance in

It surely looks as though Jack and

Charley would have to walk the plank this time and as for the opponents of Judge Hunter, Sheriff Mears, A. E. Littell and the rest of the ticket, they are simply not in the race for a minute and to a man who banks on one of them winning looks a knowledge of the situation.

Can you remember of a republican, except Judge Martin, being elected to an office in Wayne county when the populists and democrats had a majority of the votes? They didn't waste their votes that way, and why should you grant their candidates favors now that they never gave to your party's candidates?

A republican vote for democratic candidates simply means that if those candidates should be elected, it will be heralded throughout the county and state by democratic politicians and newspapers as a democratic victory in the county. How do you think you would like anything of that kind? Don't allow it to happen.

The Democrat is very much mistaken in assuming that E. Cunningham had any part in the naming of any of the candidates for county office. He was not a delegate to the convention. He is not a member of the central committee and had no part in naming any of the candidates, but if he had, in what respect would that lessen their claims to your vote?

Massie may be a good judge of land, as the Democrat suggests, and he may also be a good judge of a hot lunch or a bunch of milk cows, but it does not necessarily follow that he would make a good judge to preside over the county court. Prove that he is a good citizen doesn't prove that he is a better one than Judge Hunter, nor that he would make as competent a judicial officer as the present incumbent.

Has democracy a life lease on the treasurer'ship of Wayne county or does the county owe Jack Cherry a lifetime job that its voters are expected to abandon their own party candidates in order to keep the treasury in democratic hands or furnish Jack a job? Don't you, as a republican, believe that office can be fully as ably administered by a republican as by a democrat, and if so, don't you think Bert Brown is just as capable, just as honest and just as deserving of the place as his opponent and that as the nominee of your party is entitled to your vote?

The Democrat invites people to inspect Massie's eyes in sizing up his qualifications for the judgeship. He doubtless has a nice looking pair of optics, but really it will puzzle voters to figure out how they are more indicative of judicial acumen than those in the heads of hundreds of others. Such stunning argument of behalf of Massie reminds one of Kiteshaw in Mikado—an old maid who in giving reasons why she should rise to social eminence and become acceptable to Naukipto, the man of her choice, properly announced that she possessed a rare and distinguished bump on one of her elbows.

This is the year to put the battle lines of your party in shape for next year's contest. The hands of President Roosevelt must be upheld if anything is to be accomplished in curbing the trusts and controlling the unjust discriminations by railroads and other corporations, and in order to do this it is absolutely necessary that republicans to a man, stand by their own party and its candidates that there may be no disorder among the forces or breaks in the line of offense. A vote for the opposition candidate for a county office means a vote for disorganization of your own party. Ponder well the situation before you vote and do not make a mistake that you will surely regret.

The candidates of the democratic party in Wayne county are all good fellows and it is not our province to question the ability of any of them, but have you ever known any of them to do anything directly or indirectly for the principles you believe in as a republican? Are not the nominees of the republican party just as capable in every way as the other fellows and have they not the further qualification of working and voting for the principles you believe in? If so, why vote for the other fellow? If you've paid about all the claims of sympathy or debts of friendship you owe the candidates of the opposition, and if not, when do you suppose you can get the mortgage released.

The Wayne Doctors

One of the most remarkable things about Wayne is its doctors. You might travel the world over and not find such a collection of doctors as we have in Wayne. We have had considerable experience with doctors, having invested a small fortune in appendicitis we feel that we have a right to speak on the question of good and bad doctors. We believe there is not another town on earth the size of Wayne that can show a crowd of doctors like ours. Every one a gentleman and responsible for anything he contracts for. All live in fine homes and enjoy the confidence of all who know them. Every one is skillful and enjoys a good practice. Why is this so? It's because they are all married to their business and attend strictly to the medical profession. If you are surprised why this store is so popular and why it continues to grow, remember that we are like the doctors, and attend strictly to our profession—the clothing business. We have practiced this same profession as long as any doctor in Wayne has his profession. The same confidence you have in your doctor, you can have in us and you will never be deceived. You are just as safe taking our clothing as you are taking any doctor's medicine. We have been in this business so long that you are perfectly safe in taking anything we recommend. We understand your needs and we always have what you need. Our goods are not adulterated and are pleasant to take and never make you uncomfortable.

We recommend Staley underwear for this climate and you will find that we are right, if you wear it once. We not only cure you but we keep you well and here is where we beat the doctors.

Our clothing has many interesting features that you will not find elsewhere, and as our long experience gives us an advantage over our competitors, you can not afford to buy any clothing before you have seen ours.

Our charges are more moderate than any one in our profession and you will never complain about our bill being unreasonable. If our doctors can do anything for you, see us, and you will soon look like a new man and feel like a king. You will find more good things here than any store in Wayne and graduates to wait on you. Why not trust your case to us? Try us for your next outfit and see if we are right.

Mrs. J. W. Bartlett arrived home yesterday from her visit in California.

Ted Perry and L. O. Gildersleeve are at Sioux City today with two cars of cattle.

Fred Gant of Randolph, was here yesterday visiting the family of Prof. Durrin.

Mrs. Henry Ley who has been very sick, is now reported on the way to recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan of Taber, Iowa, are here visiting their daughter, Mrs. W. H. Morris.

Thomas Shannon, John V. Francis and Robt. H. Jones of Carroll, were in town yesterday.

Judge Moses expects to leave within the next month for the Pacific coast to pass the winter in California.

S. J. Lingren and E. Cunningham are attending the Barto-Mitchell sale of Shorthorns at Wakefield today.

T. H. Fritts, city electrician, goes to Omaha where he has secured a position and will make that city his future home.

A football team has been organized here and will endeavor to interest neighboring towns in a series of contests.

News reached here last week of the recent marriage of Pete Garman to a young lady at Wessington, South Dakota.

Charles Smith and wife of Colorado Springs, are in the city, guests of E. S. Wilson, R. E. K. Mellor and H. S. Rippland.

Rev. Thos. Osborns went over to Polca yesterday to help install a new pastor of the Presbyterian church at that place.

Fred Berry entered the employ of the Union Pacific railroad yesterday as mail clerk having a run between Omaha and Ogden.

Complaint is made that boys are injuring the cement walks by using spikes on them in pushing carts. Such damage should be stopped.

Services in the Baptist church next Sunday at the usual hour. All members are urged to be present at the bi-monthly communion service at 10:45.

One of the most delightful Halloween parties in the city was the "Black Cat" party at the home of Mayor Burton, at which about twenty young people were present.

Harry Hammond, Cecil and Chet Boughn and Will Stageman of Randolph stopped in Wayne today on route to South Dakota where they propose to take homesteads.

E. A. Littell, republican candidate for county superintendent, is strongly recommended for that place by Chas. Bright, former superintendent, and Prof. Gregg, for several years teacher of science in the Wayne Normal.

Rev. E. E. Daley and wife who were called to Chicago by the sickness and death of the former's mother, returned home last evening. Her death occurred last Thursday, before the arrival of Mr. Daley, and the funeral took place Sunday.

Marshal Miner got hold of a fellow Saturday evening who evidently objected to the hotel accommodations furnished and some time during the night knocked a hole in the floor of the boiler and went out walking for his health and has not been seen since.

Olliver Eichor was arrested by Marshal Miner yesterday for being drunk and last evening he was turned over to Sheriff Moore who had a complaint, issued at the instance of Eichor's wife, asking for his removal to the Lincoln asylum for treatment for habits of drunkenness. His hearing will come off this afternoon.

The masons are busy this week putting in the brick work for Harry Fisher's new house in the northwest part of town. M. S. Davies has the excavation completed and breaks on the ground for the cellar work of the new house he is going to erect south of the Lutheran parsonage.

The Funks Shorthorn sale over in Iowa a couple of weeks ago was a demonstration of the excellent judgment of A. B. Clark of this place as a buyer of high-class Shorthorn cattle. Two heifers, Jennie Funke and Jennie Funke 4th, sold for $550 and were out of Jennie 7th, owned by Mr. Clark. The gentleman has many cows that are dropping just as high-class stuff as the two referred to above; in fact Wayne county has within its boundaries some as good cattle as can be found anywhere.

J. C. Pawloski met with a pretty severe shaking up Tuesday and has been unable to do any work since; in fact has been under the care of a surgeon. Pawloski had been out in the country southwest of town and got a load of hay and, as he says, "was coming to town in a swinging trot when the truck jumped from the bolsters" and Pawloski, hay and rack struck mother earth in a rather indiscriminate manner and while he didn't suffer any serious damage, Pawloski got his shoulders and back pretty badly put out of commission.

A FLOOD IN CHICAGO

THREE PERSONS DEAD AND SEVERAL INJURED.

Large Water Main Bursts—Property Loss Said to be Very Great—Railway Tracks Undermined by the Water and Cars Topple Over.

Chicago, Sunday, Sept. 22.—A flood of water, which has been breaking a water main at Eighteenth and Clark streets, Chicago, Sunday, has inundated the business district of the city, and has caused the death of three persons and the injury of several others.

Two of the persons who lost their lives were overcome by gas in the Illinois tunnel at Eighteenth and Arroyo avenues, while attempting to ascertain if the flood had damaged the property of the company. The other death was the result of a shock to an invalid who was found in her room flooded with water.

Several persons were injured in the flood while attempting to recover the bodies of the men suffocated in the tunnel. So great was the force of the water that it carried the broken main that it was several hours before the stream could be stopped. In the meantime all the business houses and residences on Clark street from Seventh street to Twelfth street and those on La Salle street had been flooded with water.

Many of these buildings were damaged by the flow of water, and all the business firms stock was damaged. A great deal of damage was also done to the tracks of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railway between Seventh and Eighteenth streets. At several places the tracks were undermined and cars which were standing on the tracks were overturned and injured by the water.

The flood had subsided fully a quarter of eight o'clock, but the water was still rising and the workmen could not reach the track after filling in the holes caused by the flood.

Five Lives Lost. Mine Officials Enter Death Trap in Pennsylvania Mine. The mine officials of the Pittsburg and Westmoreland Coal Company gave up their lives at 12:30 o'clock Sunday morning when they entered the Hazel King mine No. 1, of the company at Hazel King, Pa., sixteen miles east of Pittsburg.

It is reported that a portion of the mine was still burning as the result of an explosion two weeks ago. All the miners, with large families, and many men of considerable means, were killed.

The bodies also an explosion in the mine caused the death of two men. The entry in which the explosion occurred was filled with water turned on. The bodies of the two men were recovered and the company to investigate the cause of the fire in the entry had been examined.

It was decided that if any more bodies were to be taken those holding positions should take the bodies of the miners.

Death of a Student. A student at the University of Michigan, who was awaiting initiation, was killed by a train at Kalamazoo, Mich., Sunday night while awaiting initiation into the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

There was no explosion, so far as known. According to the statement of members of the fraternity, Plerson and been told to enter himself at the foot of an abutment of the railroad bridge and await the coming of a committee to take him to his fraternity house to initiate him. When they went to the spot an hour later Plerson was not there.

HYSTERIA IN RUSSIA.

St. Petersburg Appears to be Terrorized.

St. Petersburg, Sunday. Following a session by the council of ministers, an Imperial edict was published Friday morning forbidding meetings in the universities to which the general public is admitted and ordering the universities to be closed if such meetings continue.

This edict is taken as evidence of the fact that the slightly meetings show a constantly increasing attendance, and that they are of a revolutionary character. St. Petersburg was in a panic Thursday but to a large extent apparently without reason.

The most alarming rumors were in circulation, and the shopkeepers on all except a few of the principal streets closed their stores and boarded up the doors and windows, while peaceful-minded inhabitants kept within doors.

Anxiety was evidenced in the whole atmosphere of the city, but so far nothing has occurred to justify these fears. There were no disorders. Gen. Trepoft, who has been placed in command of the St. Petersburg garrison and given an additional division of reinforcements, declares that he is amply able to maintain order, and the police are allowing the soldiers to vent their enthusiasm so as to avoid a conflict.

Gen. Trepoft instructed the police not to interfere with the parades so long as they were orderly, but he gave notice Thursday night that he was prepared to open fire on any disorder. He had printed in all the evening newspapers a notification that the troops would be ordered to use live cartridges in case they should be any outburst.

By the strictest monitoring the government succeeded in moving trains manned by military operatives on a few railroads. Trains were resumed irregularly on the Moscow-St. Petersburg line, and on lines to Rostov and Kazan. The main effort was directed to the moving of cattle trains so as to meet the needs of the people, and in the meantime all the business houses and residences on Clark street from Seventh street to Twelfth street and those on La Salle street had been flooded with water.

Many of these buildings were damaged by the flow of water, and all the business firms stock was damaged. A great deal of damage was also done to the tracks of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railway between Seventh and Eighteenth streets.

TWO TRAINS MEET.

Head End Collision on Rock Island Railroad.

Trains Nos. 11 and 12, two of the fastest trains on the Kansas City line of the Rock Island Railroad, met in a head-on collision at Fairfield, Ia., at 3:40 o'clock Thursday morning.

Four persons were killed and twenty-five to thirty injured. The dead are Engineer Milkes, Muscatine; Mail Clerk Campbell, Murray, Ia.; Detective Griffith, Lucas, Ia., and an unknown man.

The injured were taken to Eldon, and the dead are at Fairfield. The trains were going at a rapid rate when they met. None of the injured is fatally hurt.

Traffic was tied up for nearly twelve hours. Several of the injured were able to continue their journey, and these with the other passengers, departed over the Milwaukee tracks by way of Ottumwa and Eldon.

Both locomotives were demolished and four cars of No. 12 derailed and severely damaged. A more serious accident was probably averted by the presence of mind of the engineer, A. Phillips, who jumped the tender of the engine jumped the track about 100 yards from the bridge, and realizing that if the engine plunged the whole train would be dragged after it, he threw the throttle wide open and barely succeeded in getting the engine across the bridge when the bridge was battered down by the cars.

BOY HELD FOR MURDER. Aged Kansan Farmer is Killed Near Chanute.

Henry Tomlinson, a farmer, aged 70 years, was murdered at his home near Chanute, Kan., and Len Rice, aged 16 years, an employee of Tomlinson, who was arrested at Humboldt, Kan., while trying to dispose of a horse and buggy which belonged to the dead man, is believed to have committed the crime.

Both charges of a double-barrel shotgun had been fired into Tomlinson's body, blowing parts of the skull from the room in which the body was found, and the position of the body and the gun, which was left near the body, destroys the theory of suicide. Rice a short time ago was employed for a few days by Tomlinson.

Tomlinson was an old resident of the county and had been living at $8,000. Tug Carrying Roosevelt Collides with a Steamer.

A New Orleans special says: The light-house tender Machona, with President Roosevelt on board, was in collision with the fruit steamer Esparta, shortly after midnight Friday night sixty miles down the river.

The collision was due to a confusion of signals. No one was hurt. The news came through a message from Capt. Cook of the Esparta. Rose reports that both vessels were grounded at the river bank.

The light-house tender Ivy took the president and his party off the Machona and conveyed them through the passes into the Gulf of Mexico, where the battleship West Virginia awaited their arrival.

STATE OF NEBRASKA

NEWS OF THE WEEK IN CONDENSED FORM.

Shoots His Brother-in-Law—Frank L. Busche Protects His Home at Plattsmouth from Murderous Assault—Shooting Was Justifiable.

A Plattsmouth special says: While attempting to break into the residence of his brother-in-law, Frank L. Busche, aged 24 years, at an early hour Sunday morning, George Stadler, aged 37 years, was shot and instantly killed by the former.

Coroner Henry Block held an inquest the same morning. The jurors found: "That the said George Stadler came to his death at about 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning, 1902, by being shot with a shotgun in the hands of Frank L. Busche. We further find that the said Frank L. Busche was justified in taking the life of the said George Stadler, and that in so doing he was acting in defense of his own life and the lives of the members of his family."

George Stadler was a contractor by trade and worked at the Plattsmouth Burlington shops for a time, but later with his family removed to Louisville, where he worked in the stone quarry for Newell & Atwood for some eight years, while his wife ran a boarding house. For some time their home life has not been very pleasant, it is said, that his ill treatment of his wife caused her to leave her efforts and with her five children, remove back to the home of her brother, where she and her children, aged from 17 years to 7 months, were when the tragedy occurred.

When her husband returned home Saturday evening and found the family gone he procured a livery team and drove to the home of his brother-in-law and demanded admittance, but being refused he said that he would break in and kill the whole family. He broke the screen door and smashed the panes out of the other, when the gun was fired and the fatal discharge crashed through the door and entered the left side of the neck and breast of George Stadler.

Fatally Injured by Horace. John Munton, 32, near about 24 years, a laborer, is lying at the door of death at the St. Francis hospital in Grand Island, the victim of an accident at the McCloud sheep ranch. Munton went out to the barn and was taken under one of the heaviest tons of horses on the ranch.

His neck was broken and his head killed. His body was found by a neighbor, and when a physician had been summoned to the ranch it was plain that there was little hope for recovery. Whether he was kicked by the animals or fell under them and was later stepped upon is not known.

A Dying Accident. A Chardon special says: While Mrs. D. N. Jones was driving toward Crawford her team became frightened and with a sudden charge, threw her to the ground, and running on with a year-old baby, went over a mile before the little one was thrown and instantly killed.

The mother, who was severely injured, followed as rapidly as she could, only to find her little child dead by the roadside. The team ran on some distance and was caught by a neighbor, who returned with it to find the mother faint with the dead baby in her arms.

Burglars at St. Paul. Three different parties of burglars in St. Paul were busy by daylight some time during Wednesday night. The thieves entered the general store of J. Kotik and also Joseph Shoberg's saloon and robbed the cash registers of the change left over, some $3 or $4 in each case. The grain office of A. B. Conklin was likewise entered, but there they got nothing whatever for their pains, for the manager, driver, which they broke open, was empty.

The Burlington Reorganized. Judge Munton in the United States district court at Omaha Thursday, pending an application of the Union Pacific Railroad company for an injunction restraining the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad from interfering with the construction of a line being built by the Union Pacific on the North Platte valley. The application prays that the injunction be made perpetual.

Gas Explosion. Acetylene gas used in lighting the large room of Joseph Zulek at Humboldt, who went into a rear room carrying a lighted kerosene lamp, when he noticed a loosened lid on the top of a can used for storing carbide, from which the gas was made. He lifted the lid and went to look into the can when the gas exploded and Zulek received severe burns about the face and hands.

RACE ALONG NORTH PLATTE

Union Pacific Will Parallel Extension Announced by Burlington.

An Omaha dispatch says: The Union Pacific Railroad has filed amended articles with the secretary of state for the extension of its lines up the North Platte valley from the city of North Platte. This extension will be 115 miles long and will parallel the new line to be built by the Burlington announcement of which was made recently. The Burlington will follow the valley on the south side of the river and the Union Pacific on the north side.

It is stated unofficially that the contract for the building of the Union Pacific extension has already been let to the Standard Co., of Denver. The country about to be opened up has been regarded as a fruitful pasture for railroad extensions, and it is expected that there will be a race to reach the North Platte country by the Harriman and Hill systems.

Right of way men have been in the field for some time, and the announcement of extensions by both roads is the culmination of a strong competition to reach promising country which up to this time has been without railroad facilities.

WOMAN ASSAULTED. Grand Island Young Lady Has an Annoying Experience.

While Miss Lillian Johnson was on her way to her home in the northern limits of Grand Island Wednesday evening she was attacked by a man, whom she has since identified, from whom she managed to escape. It was very dark and she could not well see the man until he was close to her, when he suddenly forced his hand over her mouth. She succeeded in wresting herself free from his hold, however, and gave an outcry.

A. D. Owens, residing in the vicinity, has been called out to the place from which it seemed to come. The policeman, hearing his approaching footsteps, gave up the attempt and made his escape. Miss Johnson, beyond the scare, was unharmed. There is no clue to the assailant.

HOMER LINE GETS READY. Trust Deed Conveying $200,000 of Bonds Filed at Dakota City.

A trust deed of the Sioux City, Homer and Southern Railway Company, conveying to the National Bonding and Guaranty Company, of Topeka, Kan., $200,000 of bonds, executed Oct. 2, 1902, was filed Monday at Dakota City.

The deed covers a five-year bond issue of $200,000, which is to be used for the purpose of paying the interest on the bonds. The deed is signed by John H. Baker, president of the railway company, C. E. Sibley, secretary, and the National Bonding and Guaranty Company by J. H. Foy, president, and J. E. Leuder, secretary.

It was announced Monday that a $175,000 gasoline propelled car would be in operation on the line between South Sioux City and Dakota City within ten days.

Buy a German Paper. The Westliche Press, published at Omaha, has passed into the management of Otto Kinder. This is the German weekly newspaper of which L. O. Simons was formerly manager and Mr. Kinder, editor. Mr. Simons sold the paper to the National Printing Company last winter and left Omaha for Los Angeles. Mr. Kinder continued as its editor. He began negotiations for the purchase of the paper some weeks ago and completed these negotiations and took possession of the paper Thursday.

Gas Company Defaults. J. O. Moore, deputy United States marshal, was in Beatrice Monday and served summons upon Albert Maxwell, president of the City Gas Company, in an action brought by the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, of New York, trustees of the mortgage of the City Gas Company, which was sold subject to a mortgage of $30,000. The plant has been a paying proposition and Mr. Maxwell does not understand why it is in default.

STRIKE IN RUSSIA.

CZAR'S GOVERNMENT FADES GRAVE CRISIS.

Labor Disturbances Spread to Many Factories and Rioting Follows in Moscow Capital. Agitators Believe They Have Authority at Their Mercy

Confronted by a situation most crucial, the czar's ministers, under the leadership of Count Witte, spent all of Wednesday in conference in the hope of finding some way out of the crisis into which the revolutionaries and the czar's officials have cast Russia.

COUNT WITTE.

The general strike on the railroads is complete except in a few border provinces and St. Petersburg, Moscow and other large cities are almost completely beleaguered as if they were besieged by besieging armies. Even the czar in his palace at Peterhof is cut off from train service and the commerce of the empire is paralyzed.

At the same time the industrial plants assumed large dimensions. Unemployed elements in several localities are offering open resistance to the police.

On Wednesday a general strike broke out between strikers and police. In several places shots were exchanged. A number of persons were killed or wounded. The striking railroads are being enforced by the military in other branches.

Head Authorities Helpless. The railroads at a standstill. The czar's government is helpless. The czar's officials are unable to move troops to quell the strike in the various cities and provinces. In fact, with the railroads at a standstill, no information of the most serious disorders could be sent out. This situation is reported by the czar's ministers already reported from St. Petersburg and other places. A large Anglo-Japanese movement has been organized in the government of Siberia across the border. The strength displayed by the socialists has amazed the authorities, who were taken quite as much by surprise at the decline of their power as they were at the time of the Gopnik revolution.

The officials have become so careless of the seriousness of the situation shown when the special meeting of the committee of ministers was held in the afternoon under the presidency of Count Witte to consider the situation. The meeting was the result of a request by Prince Ilkoff, chairman of the empire assembly, to the presidency of the czar to take action. The emperor approved the request, but announced that he had chosen Count Witte to preside. The ministers continued their deliberations until long after midnight. Prince Ilkoff believes that the strike cannot be prolonged, as the government has no funds. Besides this, he believes that it is impossible for the government to realize their dream of tying up all the railroads simultaneously. With the assistance of the railroad battalions, the trains will be run, he says.

Unless the leaders of the 400,000 railway employees in the empire attempt further trouble. They have arranged a big meeting, when the representatives of the men, who get an average wage of $140 a year, will be absolutely gone over.

Summary of Situation. Reports received in St. Petersburg summarize the results of the strike in various localities as follows: Petersburg is practically cut off from the world, except through Murmansk and Sweden.

In the battle provinces, the situation is very bad at Riga and Lihul. Lines in Poland are tied up. The strike has begun on the southwestern system, covering the territory southward from Kiev to the Black Sea.

Sparks from the Wires. In Norfolk, Va., John D. Dwyer, aged 22, shot and killed William H. Davis, aged 30, then hid in and set fire to his father's barn, being seriously wounded.

The Supreme Court of California, in appointing a special administrator for the estate of Alexander Dumas, at the request of Edna Wallace Hooper, his daughter.

WASHINGTON GOSSIP

President Roosevelt is mapping out a lot of work to occupy the attention of Congress when it next assembles.

Questions that are of great moment to the business world and the public in general are to be placed squarely before the legislators for action. The President's attitude on the railway rate question has not been modified since he first directed attention to the manifest evil that has grown up under the insidious system of rebates.

Mr. Roosevelt strikes the keynote when he says the highways must be kept open to all on equal terms. The abuses of the private car line and the private terminal track and private side switch system must be stopped. The President says: There is little doubt that the majority of the people echo his sentiments in this regard. If the President has his way, power to revise and regulate rates will be invested in the Interstate Commerce Commission. Another measure of great importance that will be recommended by the President is a bill to prevent bribery and other forms of corruption in Federal elections.

State courts have shown in a lamentable number of instances that they are not beyond the imperious influence of ward leaders and attempts to punish violators of the sanctity of the ballot box have ignominiously failed. The absolute purification of politics probably will ever remain an idle dream. But there is little doubt that a Federal statute, asking the trial of offenders against the ballot out of the control of State courts would be a long step forward in a commendable effort to free the ballot box of fraud.

Federal control of insurance is another question that will be discussed in the President's message. The disclosures that are being made in the investigation in New York have aroused a storm of indignation among policy holders who demand that their interests shall be protected and safeguarded by Federal control.

The new Anglo-Japanese treaty differs from the earlier treaty in several important particulars. It runs for a period of ten years; it embodies a recognition on the part of Great Britain of the paramount political, military and economic interests of Japan in Korea, and on the part of Japan of the right of Great Britain to take such measures as she may find necessary for safeguarding her Indian possessions; it implies the principle of the "open door" for the commerce of all nations to Korea; and, most important of all, it pledges each power to come to the assistance of the other in war, not merely when its ally is attacked by two powers, as in the earlier treaty, but when it is involved in any war in defense of its territorial rights or special interests "in the regions of eastern Asia and India."

The folly of manufacturing custom houses to serve the interests of politicians is clearly outlined by James B. Reynolds, second assistant of the United States treasury, who says that of the 157 custom ports in our country 113 do not pay expenses. Crisfield, Md., received $22.70 in customs last year and $2,700 was paid out for salaries. Beaufort, N. C., took in $1.55 in revenues and the salaries paid to gather this tiny sum were about $1,500. All told, these 113 offices, where the receipts fall behind the expenses, cost the government nearly $300,000 every year.

Surgeon General R. M. O'Reilly of the army has submitted an exhaustive annual report on health conditions to Secretary Taft. The report says that the enlisted strength of the army, as shown upon the monthly sick report, was 68,740, and on the returns of the military secretary 69,139, and calculations are made up on the latter figures. There were 70,880 "admissions to the sick report" during the year, and deaths from all causes and 1,377 disabilities for disability. The figures, Dr. O'Reilly says, show a steady and progressive improvement in the health of the army.

When the civil war closed the little army had an enrollment of a little more than 400,000. In June of this year the report of the Commissioner of Pensions showed more than six hundred and eighty thousand survivors on the pension rolls. There are probably many veterans who do not appear on the pension rolls, so that the number of survivors is remarkably large. Certainly the sentimental cartoon which the newspapers print each Memorial day of the "thin blue line" and decorated ranks does not represent the facts.

Because of the loss of submarine boats in Europe, the Secretary of the Navy has ordered that no American submarine be allowed to go down unless accompanied by a convoy equipped with hoisting apparatus for use in case of accident. Every mother whose son goes aboard a submarine vessel will be glad that this order has been issued. And when the President went down in the Plunger at Oyster Bay in August, the nation rejoiced that the convoy was at hand.

BULLETS FOR THE MOB.

Ball Cartridges for Rioters in Warning. Pasted in St. Petersburg.

General Troppoff, who by Imperial order was made the military director of St. Petersburg, had posted a notification that the troops would be ordered to use ball cartridges without any preliminary firing of blank cartridges in case they should be used on rioters.

The strike is spreading rapidly all over European Russia. Cities (Ossetka) have fired into crowds of idle people, strikers and demonstrators. Business is at a standstill and martial law prevails. Little squads of soldiers are scattered along the streets and in the markets in presence of order. Even detachments of the czar's guard regiments are doing patrol duty.

Beneath the surface there was much excitement. The revolution had begun and the things that a revolution had begun and St. Petersburg was filled with the wildest rumors. For example, a story was set afloat that a provisional government had been established. Warnings were issued that the government would not permit revolutionary meetings at the universities and higher schools under the guise of student assemblies, and Gen. Troppoff had his troops surround the buildings.

To add to the alarm the strikers succeeded in stopping the machinery of the electric light plant and the city was plunged in darkness. Though the task of continuing the general strike more than a few days seemed utterly hopeless to the practical mind, it is significant of the deep-seated feeling for liberty that the strikers have experienced little difficulty in inducing all classes of workmen to join in the anti-government demonstration. At a meeting of delegates from the professional unions, comprising doctors, druggists and lawyers, it was decided to strike until a constituent assembly is summoned. Street cars in St. Petersburg ceased running Thursday and the employees of the bureau of ways and communications and even the light and office employees agreed to affiliate themselves with the strike movement.

The railroad tie-up throughout central, eastern, western and northern Russia is complete and the strikes is gradually extending southward. The railroad companies are not able to move a train in the strike-affected districts. In some places, troops are moving a few trains with extreme difficulty.

Unless later developments bring to light proof that the constitution which the czar has offered to grant Russia is virtually nullified by qualifying restrictions he has considered, his adoption thereof will be considered a momentous step forward in the life of that nation.

The czar's action can only mean that absolutism is near its end, and that truly representative government is soon to take its place. The question of constitutional forms has still to be settled, but as a basis for their government of the people are to have the guarantee of a free press, freedom of assembly and equal rights. The further fact of Count Witte's to be made premier is an earnest that the new program will be carried through in good faith. With him as a guide the czar will endeavor again to stem the rising tide of revolution.

PRESIDENT IN PERIL.

Roosevelt Narrowly Escapes Death in a Midnight Sea Collision.

After a narrow escape from losing his life in a midnight collision, in which the lightship tender Magnolia, on which he was traveling, was so much damaged that he had to abandon her, President Roosevelt was landed safely on board the cruiser West Virginia Friday, having been transferred from the Magnolia to the revenue cutter Ivy, which carried him to the cruiser West Virginia. Neither the President nor any member of his party was injured in the accident.

The first news of the accident reached New Orleans by telephone on an early hour Friday morning, coming in the shape of an appeal for help from Capt. Rose of the United Fruit Company's steamer Epavaria, which was the vessel that was in collision with the Magnolia. Capt. Rose gave no details except that the boats had struck each other, that the Magnolia was adrift, but that the President was unhurt. The message came from Natchez, La., near which point the accident occurred.

Immediately upon the receipt of the news two powerful tugs left New Orleans with orders to go at full speed to the scene of the accident. Meantime, however, the president's party had started on their journey up the river, where it was known that the lightship tender Ivy was lying. The Ivy immediately got underway and covered the forty miles in rapid time. President Roosevelt, Secretary Taft and Surgeon Wilcox with their baggage were at once transferred and the Ivy proceeded down the river to the West Virginia.

BOUNDS A RATE LAW CALL.

President Roosevelt in a Speech Urges More Power Over Railroads.

In his tour of the South President Roosevelt has spoken many times. At Raleigh, N. C., the President in beginning his address reviewed North Carolina's part in the making of the history of the republic, and alluded to its present condition of prosperity. He spoke of the duties of the individual citizen to the nation and to the State, and then launched into the main purpose of his address, the government supervision of railroads. On this subject he said:

I do not believe in government ownership of anything which can with propriety be left in private hands, and in particular I should most strenuously object to government ownership of railroads. But I believe with equal firmness that it is out of the question for the government to exercise a supervisory and regulatory right over the railroads; for it is vital to the well-being of the public that they shall be managed in a spirit of fairness and justice toward all the public.

Actual experience has shown that it is not possible to leave the railroads uncontrolled. Such a system, or rather such a lack of system, is fertile in abuses of every kind, and puts a premium upon mismanagement and misrule. There are some big shippers and some railroad managers who are always willing to take unfair advantage of their weaker competitors, and they thereby force other big shippers and big railroad men who would like to do decently into similar acts of wrong and injustice, instead of being left behind in the race for success. Government supervision is needed just as much in the interest of the big shipper and of the railroad man who want to do right as in the interest of the small shipper and the consumer.

Experience has shown that the present laws are defective and need amendment. The effort to prohibit all restraint of competition, whether reasonable or unreasonable, is unwise. What we need is an administrative body with ample power to forbid combination that is harmful to the public, and to prevent favoritism to one individual at the expense of another.

In other words, we want an administrative body with the power to secure fair and just treatment as among all shippers who use the railroads—and all shippers have a right to use them. We must not leave the enforcement of such a law merely to the department of justice; it is out of the question for the law department of the government to do what should be purely administrative work.

The abuses of which we have a genuine right to complain take many shapes. Rebates are not now given openly. But they can be given just as effectively in covert form, and private cars, terminal tracks, and the like must be brought under the control of the commission or administrative body, which is to exercise supervision by the government.

A UNIQUE DISTINCTION.

Senator Fulton, Oregon's One Honest Member of Congress.

The unique distinction, set in a framework of disgrace, is that which falls to Hon. Charles William Fulton of Oregon. He is one honest man out of four sent by his State to Congress and will be the only one to meet with the national lawmakers when they assemble at Washington in December. The other three are either in State prison or on their way to that institution.

Senator Fulton, having been convicted of criminal acts in connection with the government lands in the Northwest. The three whose seats will be vacant are Senator John H. Mitchell, Representative Binger Herman and Representative Charles N. Williamson.

Senator Fulton was born in Lima, O., Aug. 21, 1853, and moved to Iowa, where the family lived 10 years. There he was educated. Next the family moved to Nebraska, where the future Senator studied law at Pawnee City. He also taught school. In 1875 he landed in Oregon, taught school for a while and then began the practice of law. Within three years after entering the State he was a Senator in the Legislature.

Later he was elected attorney general of Oregon and then served the State Senate for several terms, being president part of the time. He succeeded Joseph Simon in the United States Senate in 1903.

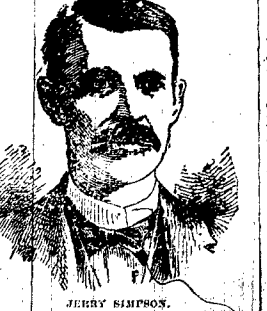

Brief News Items. The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad has purchased 100,000 tons of iron at Tacoma, Wash., for $750,000. Through police headquarters a county-wide alarm has been sent out for Abraham Schiffer, a banker of Alamosa, Colo., who is missing.

Judge A. G. Brandner of Kansas City committed suicide because of grief over the death of a year ago of his wife. On Oct. 3, 4 and 5 he made unsuccessful attempts to kill himself at his wife's grave in Olathe.

JERRY SIMPSON IS DEAD.

Noted Kansas Ex-Congressman Passes Away at Wichita.

Ex-Congressman Jerry Simpson died in Wichita, Kan., early Monday morning. The patient's condition became hopeless ten days before, and since then he had kept alive chiefly through his own will power. He was afflicted with a valvular ailment of the heart. Mr. Simpson had been in ill-health for nearly a year. Six months ago he consulted a specialist at Chicago, who pronounced his case hopeless. took place at Wichita under the auspices of the Masonic order. This last illness attacked the noted Kansan in New Mexico.

Mr. Simpson was born in New Brunswick in 1842 and raised as a boy in Onondaga County, New York. His early days were marked by so little a poverty that he said one day, "I mean and fame had come to him; 'till those days God seemed to have selected my branch of the Simpson family for every kind of a hard knock. The knocks came to us in bunches." He was a lake captain of note in

AROUND THE WORLD IN A MOTOR CAR.

Mr. C. J. Glidden of Boston, Mass., who, with his wife, is making a tour of the world in a motor car, believes that already he has seen more of the world and strange peoples than any other individual man living. So far he has traveled more than 23,000 miles, and has visited thirty-four countries. He has driven along the most northern road on the earth, and the most southern road. In Australia and New Zealand he has driven where the road would have been better had there been no road at all. But he is already convinced that the world was made for motoring, and that the pastime of the immediate future will be motoring around the world.

"For pleasure there is nothing on earth like it," said Mr. Glidden in a recent interview. "For education, a man as to what the world is like and what its peoples are doing, nothing could equal it."

Mr. Glidden has taught two kings how to drive a motor car, and has left behind him a longing for the new vehicle wherever he has been. He is looking forward to the time when the world will be laid down with special motor car tracks, railed like the railways, and every man will be his own train.

"Hardly anything has surprised me more," he said, "than seeing the astounding rapidity with which the motor car is making its way in the world. It is everywhere. Mine was the first to be seen in Fiji. Perhaps I shall find a few places in Africa where one has not been before. But already the motor car is everywhere, and everywhere it is being wanted."

"When I landed in Fiji the natives were very scared at first, and declared that the father of all the devils had fallen among them. I believe, that in Fiji the motor car will now always be known by a native name, meaning 'King of the Devils.' But after I had taken King Ratu Kadavu, Levu, Hoko, Tulakana, for the first ride and then given him a taste of speed, he wanted to know whether he could go at sixty miles an hour, and was quite disappointed because I could not."

"R. K. Levu R. T. Taloon, the king of the Fijians, is a fine specimen of a modern king. He is doing his best for his people. His father was a cannibal. He himself is a man of most polished and up-to-date manners, and he is gifted with excellent common sense. He still wears the bare legs and little white apron of his country, but above them he has European dress, and he does not do his hair in the grotesque native fashion. He met me in an English check jacket and waistcoat and cap to match, with white apron and bare legs underneath. For the instruction of his people he got me to take many of them for rides."

"One old aristocrat whom I drove about admitted to having presided at no fewer than 47 human feasts in his earlier years. He looked it. He was not good at arithmetic, and there were no doubt many other festivals on human dishes which he did not count in with the 47. Whenever his mind went back to those occasions, you could see that he was reviving pleasant memories with evident relief. He liked riding in my car, but I believe he would have liked better to see me nicely roasting. But cannibalism is out of fashion now in Fiji, and is only indulged in on the sly; the authorities have practically put an end to it."

"I have just left a different sort of monarch, the Sultan of Java. He only resembles the ruler of the Fijians in the length of his name. All I have of it is 'S. P. J. M. Toean S. G. Soeboema P. Koe Hoewono Soekarta Adinigrant.' But that, I believe, is only what he is called for short. He did write the whole of it for me on a beautiful photograph of himself with which he presented me. By writing in a very small and cramped hand he just managed to get it all in six lines. Each line is twelve inches long, and there is no waste of room by having spaces between the names."

"But the Sultan of Java has plenty of spare time on his hands. He can afford to have a name like that. He manages most of the affairs which are in any way involved with the religious ideas of the people; but the Dutch do most of the other work for him."

"We arrived at Solo, the capital, on a Friday and his majesty sent a prince to meet me, and express his royal regrets that the day being the Mohammedan Sunday he could not visit the palace. Our reception by him was one of the most wonderful ceremonies ever conceived. The palace of the Kraton stands in walled-in grounds four miles square. Out of those grounds the Sultan very rarely goes. Until a couple of years ago he had never seen the sea, which is only fifty miles away. The Queen had never seen even the streets until she crossed them on her wedding day. The buildings of the palace consist almost entirely of columns covered with immense roofs, and with great ornamentations in gold and silver."

KAISER AT CLOSE RANGE.

He is a Nervous Man and an Usually Early Riser. I have seen the emperor of Germany at close range several times, and, without hesitation, I can say that he is one of the most nervous of mortals. He shifts from one foot to the other, paces two or three steps backward, forward or sidewise, shakes hands with this one, speaks to that one, returns a salute, always moving, constantly doing, and never for a moment ceasing to give pent-up energy vent in one way or another, says a writer in Success. He rises early and is in his office, arranging affairs of state, when most of the other sovereigns of the world are still in bed—that is to say, he is customarily at work by 6 o'clock. He finds such early habits absolutely necessary if he is daily to accomplish the task which he sets for himself, for, on an average, besides signing innumerable documents, every one of which he reads himself, and holding countless conferences with ministers and chiefs of departments, it is estimated that he either writes himself or dictates an average of twenty letters a day.

It has always been a habit of the Kaiser to do what has to be done, and to do it at once. Even on the morning of his marriage he appeared at the barracks at Potsdam at 6 o'clock to give a medal to a sergeant-major. He was then simply Prince William, but to the officers, who were astonished to see him at such a moment, he said: "I am only doing my duty." Later, as emperor, he has said: "It is not necessary that I live, but it is essential that I work."

Once on his way to catch a train, and having an hour to spare, he stopped to chat with the Austrian ambassador. Suddenly he exclaimed: "Horror! I am late. Pray connect your telephone with my castle, that I may bid my wife good-by."

They called up the castle, but the empress was not there. Presently a carriage drove up to the embassy and out jumped the empress. She threw her arms around the emperor's neck, kissed him repeatedly, then turned to the ambassador and said: "I beg Austria-Hungary's pardon for interrupting state business."

He loves to call his children his "little company" always takes their photographs with him when he travels, and when he returns he always calls upon them to assemble and luncheon with his own hands a boxful of presents for them.

Equal to the Occasion. The Westphalian defendant, fined 10 shillings for driving without a light, who has insisted upon paying his fine in coupons because he could not find a "ratten affair" has his precedent in the tradition of an Oxford undergraduate whom the proctor fined 5 shillings for some breach of university law. He also brought out the money in coupons with a view to "scoring off" the proctor, but the latter was equal to the occasion. "Only all money is good," he said, "only all money is good for you to bring me a penny at a time at 9 o'clock every morning until the sun is paid."—London Chronicle.

Confinement in India. Of the fifteen long-term Indian prisoners now incarcerated in the United States penitentiary at McNeil's Island, on Puget sound, twelve who have been there for less than three years are in the last stages of consumption and none can live more than another year. All are under sentence for from ten to twenty years. Warden O. P. Hilligan, in discussing the situation, says: "From my experience with the Alaska Indians and Ethnols doing terms in this institution, I am of the opinion that the majority of both races have hereditary tuberculosis and that the confinement develops it."

The president man opens his eyes and shut his mouth.
