JONES & FELBER

LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

A 15-pound boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Jim Richards on Monday.

There is complaint that chicken thieves have been operating in some parts of town.

Judge Moses returned Saturday evening from Ohio accompanied by his brother-in-law, Mr. Tinker.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Wilson went to Shenandoah yesterday to be present at the marriage of Miss June Bogart.

Claude Wright has been elected to the principalship of the Winside schools to succeed A. E. Littell, January first.

Ralph Roundell and Joe Banoche left Tuesday for Pierre, S. D., where they propose to file on homesteads.

The Rebecca lodge will have a public supper on the evening of December 10. The place will be announced next week. A young man would like to receive a place to work for board and lodging in Wayne while attending school. Inquire at this office.

Mrs. L. S. Miller arrived from Gandy, Nebr., Friday afternoon to spend the winter in Wayne with her daughter, Mrs. E. W. Hese.

The Winside Tribune finds it was premature in announcing the resignation of Elsie Ringer as a teacher in the schools of that place.

Annual union Thanksgiving services were held today in the Lutheran church the sermon being preached by Rev. Thos. J. Wright of the M. E. church.

Henry Stolle, whose residence is four miles south of Winside, was adjudged insane at this place Friday and taken to the Norfolk asylum Saturday morning.

The local ministers have been encouraged by the increasing attendance and interest to continue the union revival meetings this week and probably longer.

The Wisner and Wayne high school football teams had a game at the former place last Saturday, resulting in a victory for Wisner, score standing 28 to 0.

Frank Strahan and Dr. Hammond visited Robt. Warnock in the hospital at Sioux City Monday and found him doing well, with favorable prospects of recovery.

Horse stealing has become so frequent in Dixon county that citizens have effected organizations for the purpose of preventing it by the prompt capture of the thieves.

Henry Lessman returned Saturday morning from Omaha where he had accompanied Mrs. Chris. Flago who remains there for some time under treatment in a hospital.

Joe Love of Carroll was in town Saturday and said he would quit the hotel business sometime this week and that a party from Emerson would take possession and run the hotel.

The question of issuing bonds at Randolph to provide a lighting plant was defeated at a special election on Tuesday of last week, the failure being attributed to the apathy of citizens.

The cemetery association at its meeting Friday effected a permanent organization with Mrs. Blair, President, Mrs. Benny Vice Pres; Mrs. Darrin Secy; Mrs. Bruner treasurer.

Mr. Walter A. Peterson of Pilger, Neb., and Miss Bertha Zahn of Wayne county were united in marriage at this place on Wednesday of last week, Rev. Thos. J. Wright of the M. E. church officiating.

Friday afternoon the proper authorities pronounced Everett Sherman a suitable subject for treatment for drunkenness by the state and accordingly Sheriff Mears left for Lincoln with him Saturday evening.

D. C. O'Connor, for a number of years at the head of the schools at Norfolk, has been appointed superintendent of education in the Panama zone and left Monday for that territory. E. J. Bodwell of Omaha fills the vacancy in the schools at Norfolk.

Clark Campbell, a son of J. W. Campbell who formerly lived east of the city and some years ago moved to Iowa, was an arrival in the city Saturday for a visit with former friends. Both Mr. and Mrs. Campbell have died since leaving Wayne.

Wealth alone cannot make people happy. Every one in a while a man of ample means gets tired of living and goes to the great hereafter over the suicide route. It takes good health, a clear conscience, and honest purposes to create a heaven on earth, and it will have that result though there isn't a dollar in sight anywhere.—Lincoln Journal.

T. A. Craig, a man who has passed the years of three score and ten by almost five years and who is a resident of this city went out into the country the other day and set a pace for some of the boys in corn picking by husking 30 bushels in four hours. Do you realize that is about 75 bushels for a day of ten hours and not very slow work for a 75 year old boy.

Butler county citizens had a mass meeting at Davitt Saturday to express their firm approval of the B. & M. and U. P. railroad companies in failing to voluntarily pay certain taxes in that county. They passed ringing resolutions condemning the action of the roads and recommended that the people of the county give their business as far as practicable to the North western railroad which it is claimed has paid its taxes in full.

Phil Most and Obert Nelson, living southwest of Laurel, had each a team stolen from their barns last week and no trace has been had of either horses or thieves. Seems to us horse thieves are getting mighty promiscuous in this part of the country of late and probably a dose of pioneer day punishment would leave a deterring effect on these gentlemen who seem to covet their neighbors property. The rope cure is pretty stringent, but very effective in some cases.

West Point city authorities have been compelled by popular complaint to amend their ordinance closing stores Sundays. They are now allowed to open part of the day to accommodate the farming people who go there to church, and the reason given is that they want the stores available for shelter and warmth. Looks as though the churches ought to afford plenty of heat and comfort until the worshippers get ready to journey back to their own firesides. We are fearful that they are not clamoring for open stores merely as a treat to get warm after church, but that they want to do some trading on the side. The saloons, however, remain closed removing the temptation from any who might be inclined to mix the spirituous with the spiritual.

It is suggested that all towns the size Wayne ought to have a play ground in close proximity to the town where all kinds of athletic games could be indulged in by the boys and girls. The need of something of this kind is certainly demonstrated in the showing that our baseball and football teams have made in the past few years. Wayne ought to have baseball and football teams equal if not superior to any town in North Nebraska and we believe would have if grounds for practice were provided near at hand. If you expect to have good able bodies for performing the tasks that will fall to your children in after years, remember that now, while they are growing is the time to lay the foundation. Good healthy exercise is as necessary to the proper development of the physical being of the boy or girl as good healthy food, and play is the one great and easy means towards the end desired. Education is all right, but an educated head without a good healthy body is pretty nearly useless; you must have both to round out and fit the child for the great battle of life. Think this matter over parents and see if your boy or girl is getting the good healthy outdoor exercise they should, and if not begin to think and talk about devising ways and means to bring about what you know they ought to have. This is no country for drivello, cigarette smoking dudes. It is a country of health, of work, of strenuousness, of mighty endeavor where mind and body must both be attuned to the highest pitch in order to successfully grapple with the great problems of life.

ILLEGAL PUBLICATIONS.

Postmasters have received an order from Postmaster General Cortelyou which puts a ban on all newspapers publishing the results of all raffles and church fair lotteries, or anything of the kind, and prohibiting such publications from the use of the mails. The order is sweeping in its provisions and calls upon postmasters to strictly enforce the laws. This means that in future where there is a church fair of any kind with a raffle or lottery attachment, or if there is anyone with a shotgun or watch to raffle off, the winning number must not be printed in the newspapers. Endless chain enterprises for the sale of articles by the circulation of coupons, etc., are also barred. So strict is the order that it commends itself to all who have heretofore had an interest in these matters.—Laurel Advocate.

SAUNDERS DIVORCE CASE.

The pleadings in the Saunders divorce case are becoming involved. Friday the husband, the husband, Sherman Saunders, filed an answer to the amended petition of his wife and an amended cross-petition. The latter sets out more in detail the grounds upon which Saunders seeks to frustrate his wife's attempt to secure a divorce and to obtain one himself.

Because of the prominence of Mr. Saunders, who is a Bloomfield banker, and the nature of the charges made on both sides the trial of the case promises something of a sensation.—Omaha World-Herald.

Several young people from this county are expecting to attend the Grand Island Business & Normal College at Grand Island, Nebr., this winter and we understand it is one of the best equipped Business Schools in the United States. All graduates who desire it are placed in good positions and if students prefer, they are allowed to pay for their schooling after they graduate and have positions. The literature sent out by this College is the kind that makes an editor wish he was young again so he might attend the school.

Judge Letton's plurality for justice of the supreme court is 23,218 and his majority 14,736.

The Norfolk hospital for insane is overcrowded and work is being pushed on the reconstruction of part of the old building not entirely destroyed by the fire a few years ago.

The prevailing and advanced idea of "getting" religion, as we have heard expressed in sermons lately, is refreshing in comparison with the old notion, according to which it was deemed necessary for the evangelist to create a smell of sulphur and arouse his converts to a frenzy of emotion. A man gets religion by eliminating his meanness, treating his fellows on the square, scoring bad practices and cultivating noble, unselfish thoughts—in fact, exemplifying as nearly as possible the life and teachings of the meek and lowly founder of Christianity. One can't acquire religion as he would a new shirt. He can't draw his face down long enough to feed out of a churn, sing and pray with a sanctimonious air, and then be in collusion with the devil the rest of the week. The rebuked Pharisees were of that stripe. Either heaven or hell is a progressive condition which may begin here and develop through eternity. Let's be good. That's the point.

Ross Hammond of Fremont is being quite prominently mentioned as a candidate for the United States senate to succeed Millard. The writer has known Ross for a good many years and knows him to be abundantly qualified for the place and from a personal standpoint there is no man whom we would sooner support for the place, if it were not for just one thing of which we are not altogether certain. It has been our impression for some time that Ross was tied up pretty closely to the Union Pacific and Elkhorn railroads and until we are convinced that we are wrong in this respect we are not going to hurrah very loudly for Hammond. It is pretty difficult to figure out how the state of Nebraska would be the gainer by dropping out of the senate the banker of the B. & M. for an organizer of the U. P. or Elkhorn. Let us have a United States senator from Nebraska, of whom it cannot be said that he is the tool of any particular interest, either corporate or otherwise. It is not necessary to have the state represented by one who is either for or against the railroads. Let us have a man big enough, broad enough and just enough to see fair play for all interests.

Congressman McCarthy was at Fremont last week and the Tribune quotes him as speaking of next year's campaign: "I am expecting at present to be a candidate for re-nomination. Of course there will be other candidates. That nearly always happens when a congressman is up for a third time. There is a pretty extensive sentiment to the effect that two terms of any office is enough for any man." Perhaps that is true, but it often happens that it isn't enough for the best interests of the people. I do not wish to make any boasts, but it is clear to one who has had experience or observation in Washington life that one but an old member can become useful there. I have given the best service of which I have been capable and will of course have no ground to appeal for support except on the record I have made. If the people want me to continue I suppose they will see to it that this is done. However, he naively added, "I am among a few of the republicans of the district and talking to them about crops and things." Mac shouldn't have admitted the likelihood of there being any candidates for the nomination but himself, for, don't you know, the Premier Republican or some other of his over-ardent friends said some time ago that Judge Fales declared there would be no other candidates.

For a long time the illegal fencing of the national domain by big cattlemen has kept up considerable local agitation in western Nebraska, and when at last a United States marshal was given power to arrest the outlaws and bring them before a United States court to answer for their offenses it was generally supposed the penalty inflicted would be in accordance with the crime committed. A merciful court, however, thought that a penalty of six hours in the custody of the marshal and a fine of $800 was sufficient, and as we are law-abiding citizens it is presumed we will accept the judgment of the court as being just. But while we accept the judgment of the court, we are led to believe that our conceptions of justice have heretofore been all wrong, because it has always seemed to us to be a greater crime to fence thousands of acres of government domain and drive scoundrel settlers from their homes by a lot of rough, bullying cowboys, than to sell a pint of whiskey to a thirsty Indian, but according to the sentence imposed in the case, it is not, and we must readjust our ideas of right and wrong and put ourselves in shape to believe that a rich cattlemen is not liable to as severe punishment for a great offense as the poor bootlegger is for the trivial one. It seems courts believe that big, rich criminals who have a good "strong pull" ought to be treated with much greater deference than the little fellow without friends, "pull" or wealth.

We are Thankful

That we don't live in Russia, as we would have to shoot men that want liberty.
That God has blessed us with good crops, and our preachers are working hard to save our souls.
That we live in the best part of the world and have the best neighbors on earth.
That we married the best woman and that she hasn't asked for a divorce.
That we are blessed with children and have the best schools in America.
That we have no cranky customers, and nearly all wear Staley underwear.
That we have a dollar for every customer that rips a pair of Dutchess trousers.
That the Wayne college has more students than ever before and the Professor wears Staley.
That the boys can't wear out our Bad Boys Shoes and that they are the best lot of boys in Nebraska.
That we can give anyone another suit if our suits fail to give satisfaction, and that the best dressed men buy their clothing of us.
That we have the largest stock of shoes for men and boys in Wayne and can warrant them to give satisfaction.
That we have "Snag Proof" arctics that will wear one winter, and have the exclusive sale.
That no one has died, or gone wrong, or asked for a divorce in Wayne county that wore Staley underwear.
That we have the largest stock of overcoats and fur coats and the lowest price.
That we have the best doctors in Nebraska and that they recommend Staley underwear for rheumatism, colds and all lung troubles.
That we have the best banks on earth and don't have to worry about our money, and can borrow.
That we came to Wayne, to live in this beautiful town, and that the people associate with us as well as give us a liberal patronage.
That we are able to show more and better clothing at less price than any merchant in Wayne.
That we raise the best chickens on earth and had a nine-pound one for Thanksgiving dinner.
That we have many other reasons to be thankful and everyone that will patronize this store will be thankful that we are here.

... WHY RENT? ...

When You Can Own a Home of Your Own in ...ROOSEVELT PARK...

- 1 Why rent when you can own a home of your own in Roosevelt Park?
- 2 If the landlord can make money out of rents the tenant should doubly prosper by owning his own home.
- 3 Buy a home with your first earnings, then build to it as you prosper.
- 4 Somehow the nest of a willing bird is always built and it follows that it is filled with that happiness that comes of honest toil and effort for self preservation.
- 5 A very common experience "Where there is a will there is a way," especially for the well meaning.
- 6 A good rule—pay no rents nor pay no interest if possible, but of the two, choose the latter by making a judicious investment in Roosevelt Park where you can obtain a beautiful, sightly place to build a home at reasonable prices. Buy now while the opportunity presents and before property advances in price by reason of other people's improvements which are sure to come very soon.
- 7 Do not procrastinate, have thoughtful decision, buy a home while you are in the prime of life, able to work and to see your way to the goal though in debt, often once owning a home there is that pleasant incentive to struggle out that broadens a man's experience and ability to cope with larger transactions of life.

- 8 Don't be afraid to venture to own a home of your own but rather be afraid of dying on somebody else's property and, buried from somebody else's door.
- 9 If possible be born on your own soil, enjoy life and prosperity on your own soil and be buried from your own door sill. To attain all these very desirable and highly respectable ends, buy a home in Roosevelt Park and the good people of Wayne will insure you a first-class exit from this world and a joyous entrance into the next even if they have to use a rope to do it.
- 10 Do not beg some cracker and cheese landlord for a place to store yourself and family but resolutely determine to own your own fireside in Roosevelt Park and next Thanksgiving you can humbly bend your knee in thanks and adoration not only to a good God but to yourself as having wise judgment and decisive character besides your wife and family will decide by a very decided vote that you are a governor, by governor for the governor.
- 11 If you cannot take all the above advice do the best you can, by aiding somebody else to do well and remember that any amount of kicking will not stop the revolution of the earth, progress, prosperity or poverty. Choose which you will have and strike. We hope it will be progress.

Skeen & Skeen

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

J. W. Alter of Wayne was in the city over night on his way home from Grand Island, where he had been attending the monthly meeting of the finance committee of the A. O. U. W. At the meeting held yesterday the grand lodge settled in full all claims of the supreme lodge against Nebraska, amounting to $59,000, the payment of which was authorized by the grand lodge at its session in South Omaha last May.—Norfolk News.

"Charley Neis says he has not sold his saloon yet, not that he knows anything about it." "Chris Sodemans was in Norfolk Monday. He tells the Democrat he expects to buy one of Wayne's saloons for next year's business."—Democrat.

Of course it wouldn't do for Charley to say he had sold out to Chris because, don't you see, Charley's license would be no good for Chris and it would mean that the latter would have to put up about $600 for permission to sell booze from December 1st 1905 to May 1st 1906 and as long as the business can be run in the old name the license is good.

Wayne county has sent five lubricates to Lincoln within five months to be cured of the booze habit. Each one sent there costs the county over $100. The saloons pay $500 each into the school fund for the privilege of selling booze. In making an estimate of the gain to the county by reason of license money received some account must be made of the children that go to bed without supper, face the blasts of winter without sufficient clothing to protect them. Then take into account the retrogression of the drinking man himself and you may be able to put the books in proper shape.

To the merchants business and professional men of Wayne: I take this method of asking you to kindly cooperate with good will in aiding as best you may the little enterprise of establishing the new addition to Wayne, Roosevelt Park, and after mature understanding I am sure you will. The Connable tract of land has heretofore only supported one family whereas now there will in all probability be homes built on the addition for 30 or 40 families; each of them will insure increased business for the merchant, the banker, the professional man, the carpenter, the tradesman of every character besides a lot of day labor that will be necessary in laying six or eight thousand feet of sidewalk; besides giving the lumber merchants an increased business, the hardware men etc., will get a large increase of business for the ensuing year; well the bulk layers, masons and brick yard men also will come in for a share of the business that is sure to come with this little enterprise, though it looks small it all helps to increase every line of business, profession or trade in the community, but the greatest good will come to the city itself in the way of general improvement and an increase of valuation and consequently taxes to its benefit, etc. In view of all these advantages and many more that could be pointed out, clearly among them the general need of expansion of the building south of this little city and the extraordinary need of more houses to accommodate the fast increasing population. I ask you to take a hand in the enterprise by your good will or preferably by your investing as your judgment suggests. And along with myself and all those who take an interest in the welfare of the community share the glory and gain for we cannot help admitting that humanity is somewhat selfish in all its transactions, and why not? We are placed here not by our own voluntary act and deed and we find the very first thing on looking out on this world's arena, that we are face to face with the law of self preservation, therefore we must not blame humanity too harshly for the trifling appearance of selfishness that necessarily appears in all transactions of life.

Respectfully,
F. M. SKEEN.
