W. H. Gibson, editor of the Magnet Mail, has decided to reside in the future in Canada. J. C. Moore will have charge of the Mail hereafter.—Randolph Reporter.

Ernest Muhs, living south of Winside, was before the commissioners of insanity Saturday and was adjudged insane and sent to Norfolk for treatment at the hospital.

Gene and W. O. Hansen returned Sunday from Preaho, South Dakota, where they had gone with a view to taking homesteads. They came back, however, without taking claims.

Ida Hanson, the 11-year-old daughter of Peter Hanson of Carroll, died in an Omaha hospital on Thursday of last week as the result of appendicitis for which an operation had been performed.

R. P. Williams and wife returned Thursday from Trenton, Missouri, and were accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. Lutz, who is in ill health and will spend some time with her parents here.

Judge C. R. Scott, prominent lawyer in Omaha for twenty years, died there Sunday. He was aggressive in politics and as district judge for a number of terms aroused considerable opposition by his decisions.

The 13th talk of an extension of the Hartington branch of the Northwestern to Crafton, Nebraska, and as an inducement to the railroad company to do so it is said the farmers along the proposed line have raised a bonus of $35,000.

Nels and P. O. Nelson, Nels, Jim, Fred, Anna and Clara Thompson, Fred Barger and Tiny Bugliert accompanied A. G. Powers to the territory west of Chamberlain, S. D., Tuesday to locate homesteads if the country suits them.

The 8-months daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. M. Franks died at their home—on the Mrs. Gene Sullivan place, six miles south of town—Sunday morning. The funeral took place Monday afternoon from the Wayne Catholic church. Rev. Father Haley officiating.

United States Marshal T. L. Mathews has been removed from office because of his failure to properly execute the sentence of the court upon Richards and Comstock who were committed to the custody of the marshal for six hours for illegal fencing of public lands.

Rockefeller, the oil monopolist, wears a paper vest to better prevent cold weather from tacking his anatomy, and the crackling noise proceeding from the vest together with his nas-been appearance, often makes people think he is on the verge of breaking and going to pieces.

The ladies who have the free public library in charge wish more money with which to buy new books and have asked citizens to contribute for that purpose. A number have reported, but not enough. The library is a worthy undertaking, its benefits free to all and it should be generously supported.

The following cases have been commenced in the county judge's court: John S. Lewis vs. Ann Phillips to recover possession of building on Main street occupied by the latter with a restaurant; Martin Redmer vs. Henry Horn, suit to recover $312.88; D. L. Gilman vs. Ben Cox of Carroll, suit on a note amounting to $304.04.

F. L. Mudge who for some time has been the auditor of the Peavey Elevator company with headquarters in this city, has resigned his position on account of poor health. Mr. Mudge and family left the early part of the week for Minneapolis where the latter will remain for a time while Mr. M. goes south to seek a climate in which to recuperate and which we hope he will find and speedily be restored to good health.

The corn sheller claimed another victim Thursday. This time it was Mike Kuntz, a boy about 18 years of age who lives with his father, Matt Kuntz, about three miles east of Randolph. The young man was tending the machine, when in some way his thumb became entangled. He exerted all his strength to pull his thumb out before his whole arm was drawn in. He succeeded, but in doing so his thumb was pulled off and the muscles of his arm badly stretched and lacerated. No bones were broken in the arm.—Carroll Index.

Saturday is the day of Peterson's Shorthorn sale at Wayne. His offering is one of the best ever put up at public auction in the state. There are only three animals over six years old, all are young and will give a good account of themselves to their purchasers. They have never been pampered or fitted for show and consequently are not burnt up with heavy grain feeding, but on the other hand have always had an abundance of good healthful feed that has kept them vigorous and growthy. A foundation stock they cannot be surpassed and it is to be hoped our breeders will show their appreciation by being present and securing some of them to put into their herds as improvers.

It was not intended in what we said last week about the poor service rendered by our electric lights to reflect in anyway on the force at the power plant because we do not believe the fault lies there. But those posted on matters of this kind tell us the load is too great for the wires that carry the current in the main part of town. At the time the plant was installed the wires on Main street were supposed to be plenty heavy enough but the builders of the plant never expected that so much would be required. If this is the trouble it seems as though the proper thing would be for the city authorities to have wires large enough to carry the current substituted for the light ones that at present are inadequate for the work demanded.

Winter weather does not shut off building operations in and around Wayne; lumber and other building material keep going out day after day just as though it was summer instead of midwinter. There probably is not a county in Nebraska, or anywhere else for that matter, where more gain in substantial improvements has been made than in Wayne county. Good crops for a number of years and never any failure have given people confidence to put the money they have made here into lasting improvements and the outcome of it all is that good houses and barns are getting to be the rule instead of the exception. The city of Wayne is the best and most substantial of its size in the state, without any exception, and Winside, Carroll and Hoskins are three that are hard to beat.

President's Message

The Senate and House of Representatives have met in joint session to receive the President's message. The people of this country continue to enjoy great prosperity. Unhappily there are still some who are not so fortunate and this is the duty of the Government to see that they are not left behind. A general failure of crops would hurt all of us. Again, if the fall of the year shows the general well-being, then the Government should be prepared to take any part of the penalty inflicted by those who are guilty of the folly. # CONGRESS

The Senate opened its session Monday, and prayer was offered by Edward Beardsley, the chaplain. Sixty-eight Senators responded to the roll call, and the oath was administered to the new members here. Senators Arthur C. Morgan and William C. Clegg were appointed to wait upon the President, with a similar committee from the House. Resolutions in memory of the late Senator Platt of Connecticut were passed. The House convened at 12 o'clock, and Joseph A. Cannon of Illinois was elected Speaker, over John Sharp Williams of Mississippi. Officers of the House were sworn in, and the oath administered to the new members. The House then proceeded to the consideration of the bill for the relief of the Fifteenth Congress were adopted, and bills were assigned by the majority and minority.

While it is reasonable to concede that women should answer for crime in the same manner as men, yet the hanging of a woman in Vermont last Friday makes one shudder at such a fate for a member of the physically weaker sex, and revives interest in changing the punishment for capital crimes from hanging to imprisonment for life. In commenting on the Vermont hanging, Governor Hoeh of Kansas, denounces such mode of punishment as a relic of barbarism and declares that he would resign the highest office in the land before he would have a hand in dealing it out to either man or woman.

Senator Mitchell, of Oregon, who was convicted of complicity in land frauds, is dead. He died in a Portland hospital as the result of loss of blood resulting from having a tooth pulled. While that is given as the direct cause of death, his condition was undoubtedly made possible for such a fate by the extreme trouble through which he has passed since becoming involved in the public land swindles on the coast. The comparatively little pecuniary gain from yielding to temptation and violating federal laws, fell far short of compensation for his intense suffering, shortened life and sad ending. In many reports an excellent man, he lacked strength to resist temptation. His experience, like that of many others, impresses the fact that profit wrongfully acquired brings punishment, self-inflicted, in the forfeiture of character's highest elements which are infinitely more precious than glittering gold.

A son was born yesterday to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Damme.
O. A. King was doing business at Carroll yesterday.
Sheriff Means was called to Winside on business Tuesday.
Born, yesterday, to Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Hammers, a girl.
Frank Exlerben and wife went to Omaha yesterday morning.
Mrs. A. H. Hills and daughter, Miss Libbie, visited Sioux City today.
Thos. Haley who has been here since August, left this morning for the Rosebud country where his father has a homestead.

HERALD paragoners will enhance their inspiration of joy at the beginning of the new year if they pay their subscriptions promptly.
Two Omaha Indians—John Walker and Nathan Lyon—got into a vicious fight while drunk on the reservation this week and the latter was killed.
Rev. E. E. Daley has received a letter from the Christian Home at Council Bluffs, acknowledging receipt of the Thanksgiving offering sent to that institution from Wayne.

Today's Washington dispatches announce the engagement of Miss Alice Roosevelt to Congressman Nicholas Longworth of Ohio, the wedding to take place about the middle of February.
Washington correspondence in the Lincoln Journal contains the following paragraph of interest to Wayne: "Representative McCarthy introduced bill for the purchase of sites and the erection of public buildings at Columbus, West Point and Wayne, Nebraska. An appropriation of $2,500,000 was asked for each town."

The King Solomon Tunnel and Development Company has out two ore-bearing bodies in the main tunnel. In the latter ore of the value of $15 to $35 per ton was found. A contract has been let to drift along this vein and the tunnel will be kept going ahead with the machine drills as usual.—Denver Mining Journal.
While the secretary of the interior is looking for an efficient, reliable and worthy successor to the register or receiver removed from the Valentine land office, the claims of the third congressional district should not be overlooked and for one of the appointees the HERALD would suggest Hon. J. R. Manning of Carroll, who is in all respects well qualified for the place.

Robert Ray, the third man charged with being implicated in blowing open the safe in a Wakefield saloon November 2, was acquitted in the district court at Ponca yesterday. Witnesses on the stand for the defense testified that Ray was in Charter Oak, Iowa, at the time the crime was committed. Immediately after his release, he was re-arrested charged with complicity in the attempted burglary of a Pilger bank November 4.

Justice B. F. Feather has been keeping a record of the births and deaths for the eastern half of Wayne county since October 1. During that month four deaths and four births were reported to him, and in November three deaths and four births. Up-to-date in December there have been three deaths and one birth. According to the record thus far, the territory covered has lost one more than it has gained.

The Weber brothers of this city and their families will have special occasion to observe New Year's day. It will be the fiftieth wedding anniversary of their father and mother, and at the home of the worthy couple in Florence, Nebraska, their children and grand children, to the number of about thirty, will gather on that day to participate in a joyful reunion. Of the descendants of Mr. and Mrs. Weber whose golden wedding is to be honored, all are living and all will attend the festivities excepting Miss Hattie Weber who is taking a medical course in Boston.

The murder and butchery of innocent Jews—men, women and children—by fanatical Russian mobs resembles the atrocities of the middle ages. Nero did not do much worse. It looks as though other nations would do no more than the instincts of humanity would dictate by taking an active stand in correcting some of the abuses carried on under the Omar's government and preventing the oppression and unprovoked slaughter of people, whether they be Jews or Russians or of other nationalities.

Yesterday's Sioux City Journal reports that the Hidden Fortune Mining company, in which there are several Wayne stockholders, is likely to be taken out of the hands of a receiver and put in shape so that the mine can be operated. The report says among other things: "There is a bonded debt on the Hidden Fortune mine for $250,000 and in addition to this a further debt of $30,000 for machinery and supplies. The bonded debt will be refunded, the old operating expenses will be discharged and arrangements made with other creditors for an extension of time, as the mine is fully able to pay all expenses if it can be worked for any length of time. The stockholders are giving their consent for the refunding of the bonded debt and the holders of the bonds have expressed a willingness to take new issues provided the reorganization plan is carried out."

WINSIDE.
There is some hog cholera in the country, but not generally prevalent.
Agent Shrupp is still going on crutches as a result of the falling of a trunk on one of his feet a few weeks ago.
Winside is justly proud of her elegant new brick school building lately completed and equipped in a modern way at an expense of about $12,000.
Building operations go right along regardless of winter weather and driving in any direction you will see houses, barns, granaries, cribs and sheds going up.

Corn and oats are being marketed pretty rapidly just at present, but the corn coming in is not in the best of condition owing to the fact that it is largely of the surplus that was cribbed in piles on the ground and has not dried out as it should to command the very top of the market.
Yesterday an accident occurred at the Peavy elevator that resulted in a broken leg for a young man named Sonnenberg living three miles north of town. He was hauling grain to town and in some way or other the dump at the elevator had not been properly secured and when the wagon struck it a general mix up occurred which brought as an outcome the accident named.

Bonds were voted last summer in the sum of $10,000 to put up a first class system of waterworks and it is expected that during the coming year the works will be built, providing the bonds can be disposed of, but up to the present the town has not been able to market them doubtless owing to the fact that the amount of indebtedness is just a little in excess of the legal limit.
About the usual number of cattle are in the lots of the regular feeders, but the farmers generally are not feeding owing to the high price of corn and the rather unprofitable outcome of their experiments in this line during the past two or three years. But there is a good deal of young stuff in the country that will be carried over for the growth that can be had from next year's pasture.

The merchants of this town are heavily stocked with Christmas goods of every kind and even at this early date are having a very satisfactory trade. Few towns have a better country from which to draw trade than this, surrounded as it is by the thirteenth class of people who have made the hills and valleys bloom like a rose and produce the fruits of the field in an abundance that a few years ago would have seemed utterly impossible. Where twenty years ago and even less than that the jack rabbit and coyote had freedom to roam at will, today comfortable farm homes and great barns abound and well tilled fields give forth a wealth that has brought contentment and happiness to hundreds and has put thousands of dollars into the pockets of the industrious men and women who have cast their lot here.

RANGE EXPLODED.
The range in the kitchen of A. Cross blew up last Wednesday morning and nearly wrecked the interior of the room besides injuring Mrs. Cross, Celia and the baby. The former was struck over the right eye by a piece of the stove and her forehead and face bruised and badly out. She was preparing breakfast over the stove at the time of the explosion. The baby was also near the stove and its little hands and arms were badly burned. Dr. L. R. Phessant was called at once to attend the injuries. It is thought that the explosion was caused by frozen water pipes running to the tank in the bath room above. The kitchen is not furnished with a radiator from the heating plant that warms the other rooms of the house and consequently the severe cold of that night froze up the pipes in the pantry and kitchen. The range was a complete wreck and the ceiling and walls of the room badly damaged from the flying iron and soot. It seems miraculous that the members of the family were not seriously injured.—Pierce Call, Dec. 7.

ABOLISH CELLULOID COLLARS.
Students of a Grand Island college have organized to abolish the wearing of celluloid collars and cuffs and the issue has been drawn so clearly and with such vigor that blood has flowed as it has in the streets of Odessa and Kiev. The celluloid collar is an unmistakable badge of economy and hubbolic environment. But those things are not disgraceful. In fact they often are the foundation of merit and goodness. You don't often see them accompanied by the cigarette or booze breath. They are not the emblem of the duds and extravagance. They are evidence of sane and simple life. The collar and cuff may take fire and burn the neck and wrists and do bodily injury, but they don't leave any scars on the conscience or character. We have noticed that the boys who wore celluloid at school are the ones who wear polished linen and honors in after years. The Redactor hereof attended a college that had for its president, a man who wore celluloid when he was a youth at school and who held the sock on a celebrated "snipe hunt." Those who turned up their noses at his collar and cuffs and who got him into the snipe business, in after years were driving dray or carrying the hod, when he was expounding Sanctori, Greek and Latin, and disclosing the mysteries of the sciences. The ambition to eliminate celluloid from the list of wearing apparel is laudable enough, but it should come by evolution and not by revolution as the Grand Island students have sought to abolish the custom.—Freeport Tribune.

DEATH OF PROF. O. A. PRESTON.
Yesterday's Sioux City Journal gives the following account of the death of Prof. O. A. Preston who was a graduate of the Wayne college and who was well and favorably known by many people here.
The remains of Prof. O. A. Preston, who died at St. Joseph's hospital, have been sent to Gilroy, Cal. Mrs. Preston will take up her residence at Gilroy.
"Prof. Preston was one of the most prominent educators in Nebraska and at the time of his death was president of the Nebraska Teachers' Association. One year ago he went to California for his health and then returned and settled in Winfield, Nebr., to be with relatives. Some weeks ago he came to Sioux City, suffering with chronic nephritis. He was confined to his bed about two months before his death, which occurred Sunday."

On Wednesday, December 20, I am going to sell at my farm 1 1/2 miles south and 1 mile west of Carroll, all my farm stock and implements. In this sale I will sell seven splendid draft mares, all bred to a full blood Percheron, also ten grade Shorthorn bulls out of splendid cows. This sale will begin at 11 o'clock.

Don't forget my Shorthorn sale at Wayne, December 16.

THE VITAL CENTER

No Man Stronger Than His Stomach--Let Mi-o-na Strengthen Your Digestive Organs.

The stomach is your vital center. No man is stronger than his stomach. Every organ of the body is sustained and nourished by food which is converted into nutrition in the stomach and conveyed to every part of the system in the form of blood. For this reason, when the stomach is strengthened with Mi-o-na and is able to convert the food into nourishment all other organs soon become well. This explains many cases of heart, liver or kidney disease in the cases where Mi-o-na is used.
It is the most wonderful health restorer known, and is sold by E. J. Raymond under an absolute guarantee that it costs nothing unless it restores health. Just one little tablet out of a 50 cent box of Mi-o-na for a few days, and you will soon see a great improvement in your health.

to select harness is the way it is usually done. Price is generally the first consideration. If that is very low the goods seem attractive, regardless of quality. Judge our goods the other way about. ## LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS

Dr. Bells visited Carroll Tuesday.

Frank Strahan was in Carroll Tuesday.

Rev. E. E. Duley was a visitor at Randolph Tuesday.

Mrs. H. F. Wilson entertained the Acme club Tuesday afternoon.

The Baptist chapel car is expected to arrive here from Ponca the last of this week.

Wm. House left this morning for Minnesota, expecting to be absent about a week.

The Minerva club spent Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. O. A. Grothe.

Mrs. J. J. Williams visited the family of B. F. Swan in Sioux City Monday and Tuesday.

Geo. Buskirk, living fourteen miles southeast of Wayne, was doing business yesterday.

A. J. Ferguson and wife expect to leave the latter part of the month for southern California.

Frank A. Briner of eastern Iowa, has been here this week to enter a partnership with A. J. Ferguson.

Chas. Robbins went to Carroll yesterday to look after his crop of corn gathered from his farm near there.

Mrs. J. W. Nichols left Tuesday for Harlan, Iowa, where she expects to spend the winter with relatives.

Mrs. F. G. Philpott, Mrs. A. A. Welch and Mrs. M. S. Davies entertained another party of lady friends tomorrow afternoon.

B. P. Peterson was in Wayne yesterday on business in connection with his Shorthorn sale which takes place here next Saturday.

Mrs. Ed. Raymond, Mrs. Walter Weber and Mrs. L. Neely will entertain a party of lady friends at the home of Mrs. Raymond tomorrow evening.

Members of the W. R. C. are urged to attend their next regular meeting, Thursday evening, December 21, when there will be an election of officers and other important business.

Russell Williams, the young editor of the Hopkins Headlight, was a Wayne visitor yesterday. He says he expects to put in a printing plant at Hopkins soon and do all his work at home.

Rev. Wm. Devor, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Ponca, died suddenly Saturday evening of heart failure. He was pastor of the Presbyterian church at Randolph for five years and went to Ponca about June 1, last, being installed there November 1. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon.

Following officers were elected by the Wayside of M. W. A. at the meeting Monday evening: G. H. Wright, V. O. H. Whalen, W. A. Phil Kohl, banker; E. Hunter, clerk; J. L. Wilderborn, escort; Cud Swanson, I. W.; L. P. Roe, O. W.; Frank Thielman and I. Reiffel, managers; Drs. Williams and Blair, physicians.

The 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Tiedke, who reside in the western part of town, died of mauling from a dog Tuesday evening. The child was taken sick late Monday afternoon. She is the little one who suffered the loss of an eye from an accident some months ago. The funeral took place this afternoon from the house, Rev. Ringler officiating.

David E. Thompson, ambassador to Brazil, is enjoining at Lincoln and it is reported that he may be dismissed from the government service. It is alleged that he got into a row with the consular general at Rio Janeiro, and that each filed complaint against the other with the authorities at Washington. A special agent was dispatched to Brazil to investigate the charges.

If the following report, published in Friday's Norfolk Daily News, proves true, Wayne would undoubtedly be touched by the Union Pacific and have the benefits of a competing line: "Another railroad rumor reaches Norfolk. It is to the effect that the Union Pacific will build a line from Norfolk to Sioux City. In this way it is said the Union Pacific would get a stronger hold on trans-continental business, as the M. & O., which now brings business here from Sioux City, is a part of the North-western system."

Wayne lodge of A. O. U. W. elected the following officers at their meeting Thursday evening last: M. E. Root, M. W.; E. O. Tward, foreman; Walter Sherburn, overseer; I. W. Alter, recorder; E. Hunter, treasurer; L. O. Childers, receiver; Geo. Juhlin, guide; S. E. Bradford, I. W.; N. I. Juhlin, O. W.; H. E. Griggs, trustee; Drs. G. A. Nieman and A. M. Canley, medical examiners; A. G. Parker, W. W. Kingsbury and H. E. Griggs, auditing committee. The trustees were instructed to transfer $100 from general fund to time deposit.

The shoppers of Wayne have no occasion to go away from their own town this year to secure anything they may desire for the purpose of making presents. Our merchants certainly have provided most excellent stocks from which one can be had at as low figures as can be obtained anywhere almost anything desired. Of course the man in search of a gift for the lady desiring a husband may not be able to purchase these of the merchants, but we are certain the country has an abundance of chances willing to embrace any good opportunity presented. It is a mighty good idea to at least find out what there is at home before you go browsing around elsewhere.

Harrington correspondence in Saturday's Sioux City Journal: "Harry Haack, of Coleridge, a butcher by trade, attacked his wife while under the influence of liquor, beating and kicking her in a most brutal manner, fracturing four ribs and injuring her otherwise. He was arrested and taken before a justice of the peace, but during the preliminaries he slipped away and started down the street flourishing a long butcher's skinning knife he had concealed about his person. Officers and citizens gave chase and the marshal struck him on the side of the head with a billy which felled him, and he was then disarmed. The prisoner was given a hearing yesterday and pleaded guilty to the charge of assault and battery and was fined $50 and costs, which he paid and agreed to leave town."

The Sioux City Tribune of recent date reports that Harry Welty, nephew of Mrs. M. S. Davies of this place, and formerly of Ponca, has achieved great financial success in the state of Washington, having lately been elected president of a bank at Bellingham with capital stock of $200,000. It will be remembered that Harry's father, T. J. Welty, was employed at one time to investigate the records of Wayne county. Harry went to the coast six or seven years ago with an empty pocketbook and started his fortune through real estate investments. Those who know him intimately at Ponca will be surprised to learn of his accumulation of wealth, for when he left there he was not recognized as a young man possessing exceptional ability in that line. He was misjudged, however, as people frequently are.

Ralph Rundell now has his own delivery and those who have experienced so much inconvenience in having goods delivered promptly will be interested to know that they now have an opportunity of getting orders delivered at once if desired. Phone your grocery order to Rundell and state time of delivery.

SPECIAL HOLIDAY RATES.

For the Christmas and New Years Holidays excursion tickets will be sold Dec. 22, 23, 24, 25, 31 and Jan. 1st, good returning until Jan. 4th. Minimum selling rate fifty cents. Children half fare.

For Xmas trees, oranges, bananas, candies, nuts, etc. and dates place your order with Ralph Rundell. The line is complete and will please you.

NOTICE

We have on exhibition the Cypers Incubator for which we are agent. You are invited to call at The 2 Johns' and we will show you the latest model in a hatching machine. Don't buy an incubator until you have seen the Cypers. The U. S. government use Cypers in all their experimental stations and all the largest poultry plants use only Cypers Incubators. Every machine is warranted to give satisfaction and you can get them on 90 days trial. Money refunded if not as we recommend.

LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS

E. E. Cook moved this week from the Ramsey house into the Orth house.
Mrs. M. A. Horton returned from Des Moines, Iowa, Monday evening.
Attorney Lundberg was doing business in Carroll Tuesday between trains.
A farmers' institute and corn carnival drew a large crowd to Fremont last week.
Charles Heikes of Wakefield, was in town Monday shaking hands with friends.
Mrs. Sherman Saunders was in Wayne Tuesday morning on her way to Bloomfield from Omaha.
County Superintendent Elliott went to Hoskins Tuesday to visit the schools at that place and vicinity.

A. K. Curtis of Omaha, traveling passenger agent for the U.P. railroad, was in Wayne between trains Tuesday.

J. M. Strahan was an arrival in the city Monday to look after real estate interests and visit his son and daughter.

Mrs. H. Hammond, of Randolph, stopped in Wayne between trains Tuesday on her way home from Deadwood, S. D.

The attorney general of the United States has designated the Nebraska penitentiary as a prison for all federal prisoners convicted in this state.

Creighton capitalists have organized a stock company with $25,000 subscribed, for the purpose of installing an electric light plant at that place.

Attorney E. E. Waltham, formerly of this place, but who has been in Omaha lately, was here Tuesday, leaving in the evening on a business trip to Wausau.

Mrs. Mary Young and Miss Kate Young, of Harlan, Iowa, who have been here visiting Mrs. I. W. Alter, left today for Coleridge where they will visit other relatives.

The daughters of Rebecca will have a public supper next Saturday evening in the vacant laundry building one door north of I. W. Alter's office. Everybody is invited.

O. A. Tortat sold his stock of merchandise at this place last week to F. A. Huston, of Mapleton, Iowa, and has moved with his family to their former home at Clesna Park, Ill.

Ray Carroll, who attended school in Wayne a number of years ago, but who has since been living in North Dakota, arrived here Tuesday morning to visit his grandfather, A. G. Howard.

The bill proposing public buildings will give temporary gratification to different towns that would be benefited, but few if any of them are likely to realize their hopes as the gift of the present session.

Sheriff Louis Gonyea of Crookston, Minnesota, passed through Wayne Tuesday afternoon, having in charge a prisoner by the name of Elmer Stearns who was captured in Norfolk and who is wanted in Minnesota on a charge of horse stealing.

A report from Lincoln states that until a court of competent jurisdiction can interpret the anti-cigarette law of the state no attempt will be made to literally enforce its provisions. A test case will soon be had. Accordingly the men arrested for violating the law in Lincoln were released.

A case titled the State of Nebraska vs Fritz Kay was tried before a jury in Judge Hunter's court Tuesday afternoon. It was an action charging Kay with arson—the burning of corn fodder on the farm of John Hoag, Mrs. Hoag being the complaining witness. It seems some fodder was burned on Hoag's place, but the jury did not think the evidence fastened the offense on Kay and so a verdict of not guilty was returned.

Attorney A. R. Davis sojourned from Saturday until Tuesday at Apax which may be described as a spot between Winside and Hoskins, where a little extra bump was left on the earth's surface during the cooling process ages ago. It has an ideal site and plenty of territory for a gigantic city. The nucleus of such a realization is already there in the way of a sidetrack, and it is made doubly promising by the natural facilities for unsurpassed drainage.

The Lincoln Journal gives publicity to this cruel shot at the legal fraternity: "A university man offers the suggestion that United States Marshal Matthews really violated the federal constitution in the Richards and Oomstock case and that his removal was therefore justifiable. 'You know,' he explains, 'that it is provided that cruel and unusual punishment shall not be inflicted upon prisoners. When you compel a man to spend six hours in the company of an attorney, isn't that a clear violation of the organic law?'"

Those who can afford to spend money lavishly, keeping up extravagant decorations, are foolishly emulated by others who lack the wealth and business resources to easily bear the load, and consequently have to exercise every possible means and strain every nerve to make in enough cash to make ends meet. This effort to maintain embellishments and a luxurious show often lead men to become avaricious and center their energy and ambition on money-making to the sacrifice of more worthy impulses. Fewer exactions from business men "for appearances" would enable them to relax their efforts for dollars and devote a share of their time and thoughts to other things. There should be less vying with each other in material display. Ostentation and avarice are twin evils.

HOSKINS.

L. E. Swanson and E. A. Strate traded horses Tuesday.
A. M. Averill shipped cattle and hogs to Omaha Monday.

Gas Schroder shipped two cars of hogs to Omaha this week.

H. F. Wetzeloh was at Norfolk between trains Tuesday.

Otto Wantook and Carl Manther are under the doctor's care.

Hog cholera still prevails north of town in Garfield precinct.

Neivall meetings at the German Evangelical church this week.

The skating at the rink is fine and the young folks are enjoying it.

John F. Crosby took Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Weatherholt.

Andrew Colander and wife of Bega were visitors at C. W. Manok's Tuesday.

Mrs. Louie Krause is under the care of Dr. Langrell and getting along nicely.

Andrew Anderson and C. Oloker went to Omaha with hogs and cattle Monday.

What was it that Prof. Niles said when he broke through the ice down at the dam?

The weather at this time of the year is so pleasant that the boys are playing lawn tennis.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Gleason spent Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. W. J. Weatherholt.

Mrs. J. G. Fostere who has been under the doctor's care for the past week is now convalescing.

Roy Gleason has received his new corset. Silver plated and gold bell and is an extra fine horn.

Frank Phillips was home over Sunday from invoicing for the E. & B. Co., returning to work Sunday night.

August Ziemer purchased a new survey of the Puls Implement Co. so he and his family can hereafter ride in comfort in all kinds of weather.

E. A. Anderson purchased a new buggy of the Puls Implement firm and it is a daisy. Come and buy your buggy before they are all gone. There are a few fine ones left.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ziemer, accompanied by their three youngest children, went to Oklahoma to visit Mrs. Ziemer's mother and sister and will return after Christmas.

J. G. Foster is digging a cistern, and getting ready for a dry spell, and will put in a system of water-works of his own, and he will also put in a hot water heating system and then next electric lights, etc.

Henry Kleiss who lives two miles north of Hoskins, suffered quite a painful accident Friday of last week, by having a wagon load of hay run over his arm, by which one of the bones of the forearm was broken. The fracture was successfully reduced by Dr. Langrell of this place.

Dr. C. D. Langrell who has recently located at Hoskins is highly recommended by members of his profession. The Dr. comes, not without experience and a knowledge of the duties entailed upon the practice of medicine and surgery, for two years actual clinical observation and study of diseases in one of the largest and best equipped hospitals in the Missouri valley is an opportunity that but few have enjoyed. Besides two years general practice the Dr. has served two terms upon the board of health of two of the larger cities of the Missouri valley. Other than this Dr. Langrell has but recently returned from a course of post graduate study under the master minds of the East, where the Dr. sojourned many months. It behooves the people of Hoskins and vicinity to demonstrate their appreciation of having in their midst a medical man of this type, and should do so by active and liberal patronage which the Dr. solicits and will reciprocate. Now that we have a doctor lets patronize him so we can keep him.—Hoskins Headlight.

A BRUTAL HUSBAND.

The Norfolk News relates the following account of a beastly husband: "Trying to prove that his wife was insane, in order that she might be sent to the Norfolk insane hospital, and guilty of mistreating her for some time past, Andrew Roseboom, of Boyd county, was this week justly rebuked by the board of insanity at Bute. His wife was found to be perfectly sane, contrary to his allegations, and it was further found that he had been treating her in a manner that would make an ordinary woman crazy if persistently continued.

"The board not only found that Mrs. Roseboom will not need to become an inmate of the Norfolk hospital, but it found further that her husband should pay all of the costs of the hearing, and they admonished him to treat the woman better in the future."

"The Lynch Journal says of the case: 'Andy Roseboom took his wife to Bute Tuesday evening and had her before the county insanity board who pronounced her sane. The costs were taxed to the husband who was admonished in strong terms to see that she had better treatment in the future.'"

On account of sickness I am obliged to dispose of my Shorthorn herd and seek another climate. On Saturday, December 16, at Wayne, Nebraska, I will sell twenty-four cows and nine bulls, among the latter being Lord Banff 4th, son of the great imported Lord Banff and out of Sweet Forest. There will be sons and daughters of such noted Scotch bulls as Lord Banff, Merry Lad, Lavender Chief 2d, Scotch Fashion, Baron Kear and Banner Pro. There is no better herd anywhere. Write me for catalogue.

Order of Hearing on Original Probate of Will.

STATE OF NEBRASKA ss
County of Wayne

At a County Court, held at the County Court Room, in and for said County of Wayne, on the 1st day of December, 1905.

Present, E. Hunter, County Judge.

In the matter of the estate of George H. Wiedenfeld, deceased.

It is ordered, that the petition of Birtha Wiedenfeld praying that the instrument filed on the 1st day of December, 1905, and purporting to be the last Will and Testament of said deceased, may be proved approved, probated, allowed and recorded as the last Will and Testament of said George H. Wiedenfeld, deceased, and that the execution of said instrument may be committed and that the administration of said Estate may be granted to Birtha Wiedenfeld as Executrix; Ordered, That December 22d, A. D., 1905, at 2 o'clock p. m. is assigned for hearing said petition, and it is further ordered, that all persons interested in said matter may appear at a County Court to be held in and for said County, and show cause why the prayer of the petitioner should not be granted; and that notice of the pendency of said petition and the hearing thereon, shall be given to all persons interested in said matter by publishing a copy of this order in the Wayne Herald, a weekly newspaper printed in said County, for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing.

E. HUNTER,
County Judge.

With Us It's Easy

The question of what to buy for a man or boy for Christmas is easy if you come here. Our long experience in selling clothing gives you an advantage, not only in price, but we can easily please you and your friends. Our experience enables us to fit your friends if you will give us their height and weight, or any description you may make will be sufficient for us to fit them. If you have friends that you wish to make presents you can feel reasonably sure that what you buy here will fit them, and you should not hesitate to send your friends something if they live away, for we can fit them. For this reason alone, you cannot afford to trust an inexperienced clerk to select Christmas presents for you. But there are other reasons why you should come here for Christmas presents. We have more things to select from and the prices are universally lower than other merchants ask. Our goods are up-to-date and you will not please anyone by giving them something that is out of style. It would require more space than we have to mention all the articles we have suitable for Christmas presents, but to assist you we mention a few of the many nice things we have. Suits for boys or men, we have an immense stock to select from and can fit and please you. Hats and caps, plenty of them. Shirts in all the late styles. Suspenders, one pair in box just the thing. Neckties by the thousand, collars, all the latest shapes. Underwear, Staley's, the best on earth. Shoes, latest styles and plenty of them. Slippers, the newest thing out. Sweaters, all colors and up-to-date. Sox, fancy, fine wool, all colors. Handkerchiefs, hundreds of up-to-date. Umbrellas, silk and fancy handles. Suit cases, beautiful and plenty of them. Gloves, anything you may want. Mittens, fur and fur lined. Fur coats, fur lined and all other kinds. Of course you will want some of the things mentioned but we have many other things not mentioned suitable for presents. You can't afford to buy anything for men or boys until you have looked at our goods, for we have more and better clothing than any store in Wayne county. Our prices are strictly one price and every article marked in plain figures. Make this store many visits before Christmas and your friends will always remember you with pleasant thoughts. Come and see.

Eels in Scotland.
Although eels abound in Scotch waters and are caught in great quantities, they are not considered as food there. No matter how plentiful and how very fine they may be in any district of Scotland, no native will eat one. The eel to the east is said to be based on its serpentine appearance and the fact that it is not overfitting as to what it feeds on.

In the churchyard of Grimsdon, Norfolk, an eel may be seen at the head of the grave of a local blacksmith.

Keep Cutting the Dirt Off.

The members of the family were camping out south of town for the day and little George had been assigned the work of peeling the potatoes for dinner. After laboring for half an hour he hunted up his mother.

"Mam," he said, "I gotta have some more potatoes."

"Why I gave you enough for two families like ours," she replied, in surprise. "What did you do with them?"

"I forgot to wash my hands," said George, "and by the time I got all the dirt cut off the potatoes they was too small to eat. I throwed 'em away."

Plausible Theory.

The great detective had been summoned to the plumber's office.

"I can't understand it," said the plumber. "The young man has been in my employ for the last three years and I have always found him honest and trustworthy. But three days ago I sent him to collect a bill in the suburbs and he has failed to show up since. Now, what do you think of it?"

"Oh," replied the g. d., "I don't think you have any cause for alarm. He was probably paid in small bills and is still counting the money to make sure that the amount is correct."

A Valuable Agent.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicines greatly enhances the medicinal properties which it extracts and holds in solution much better than alcohol. It is a valuable solvent, and the properties of its own, being a valuable demulcent, nutritive and astringent. It acts directly to the efficacy of the medicine, by its own action, and in all cases where there is a weak stomach, as in the early stages of consumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and tonic. It is a valuable medicine for the treatment of the following ailments: Cough, chronic cough, bronchitis and laryngitis, throat and lung troubles, and chronic sore throat. It is a valuable medicine for the treatment of the following ailments: Cough, chronic cough, bronchitis and laryngitis, throat and lung troubles, and chronic sore throat.

THE POPULAR PULPIT

SATISFACTION OF SERVICE.

By Rev. Henry F. Cope.

I must work the works of him that sent me while it is day. As long as I am in the world I am in the light of the world.—John ix, 45.

A man always thinks more of his work than of his wages. He would never be content to toil day in and day out but for the thought that somehow to some one his work was worth while. Neither wages, nor salary, nor any other cash consideration would of itself be sufficient to satisfy him. The workman is proud of the product of his hands; his reward is in that he has made; the good shepherd thinks more of the flock than of their fleece or his pay.

Satisfaction in work can only come from service rendered. Whether a man be plowing or preaching, sweeping the streets or building empires, his work is only worthy if his motive be the good he is doing, the value of the work itself. We call the man who preaches a minister, a servant. There is no more honorable title, but it belongs to every one who seeks to do any worthy work in the world.

The purpose of living is service, therefore the business of religion must be the cultivation of proficiency in service. The work of Christianity is to teach men how to be most valuable and useful as children and parents, as neighbors and citizens, how to make the most of their lives and to do the most with them. It aims to bring the ray to its highest efficiency.

Religion reveals to man the worth while object of all his endeavors, to work as a servant for others. Never was Jesus more glorious than when he stooped to lift the paralytic, to heal the sick, to feed the hungry. He found his right to rule men by his exercise of the privilege of serving them. The sheep belong to the good shepherd because he gives his life to them.

This marks the true follower of the great Teacher today; his business is to serve, he makes living an investment for humanity. He is commanded to lose his life, he is willing to give up, to sacrifice all in self-denial, to take his cross and suffer persecution and loss in this way of walking after his Master.

But he is not told to throw his life away as a worthless thing. He is to live it as the seed is lost in the sowing, as the money in the investing; to sacrifice it as the tool is sacrificed to that which it is carving. He who would be of real service to the world must cultivate the best in himself. If living is good sowing, then the seed must be good or the harvest will be thin.

True altruism finds right expression first in self-care. It is a man's business to be strong, healthy, sane, trained, developed; to be the best kind of a man, complete in all his faculties, that he may have the more to offer to the service of his fellows. There is no merit in offering the wrecked body and soured mind. If you are going to give your life to the world you must make it worth the giving.

Heaven's work demands the finest tools. Nothing is too good for the service of humanity. There is a good deal more religion in the honest attempt to make the most of yourself, to keep health, to secure education and culture, in order that you may have the larger, better, weathered self to use in service than in unending ascetic exercises, prayers, devotions, meditations, mumblings, or visions of things spiritual.

The only way you can prove the genuineness of your religion is by your gifts to the children of God, your own brothers about you. There is no gift that begins to compare in value with a well trained, well equipped, strong and clean life. We cannot all give gold or lands, or even learning to men, but we can all give lives, and that which heaven and earth both have a right to expect is that we shall give the best lives we can.

SECRET OF PROGRESS.

By Rev. Dr. Madison C. Peters.

Add to your faith, virtue.—II. Peter i, 19.

This is the translation of our common version, and virtue, in the time of King James' translators, was synonymous with that inflexible quality called grit, bravery or manliness.

Most people fail for want of force. Their backbones is all pulp and their nature all straw.

Look at the men who have made a success of their lives, and whose influence tells for righteousness; few had friends or backing, nothing but pure grit and invincible purpose to commend them.

When Lincoln was asked how Grant impressed him as a general, he replied, "The greatest thing about him is a cool persistence of purpose. He has the grip of a bulldog; when he once gets his teeth in nothing can shake him off." It was "On to Richmond" and "I shall fight it out on this line if it takes all summer," that broke the backbone of the rebellion.

When Phil Sheridan found his army retreating before the victorious Early, the general in command said, "Oh, sir, we are beaten." "No, sir," said Sheridan, "you are beaten, but not this army." Then seizing his army as Jupiter his thunderbolt he hurled it upon the enemy and snatched victory from the jaws of defeat.

Do you know how General Thomas Jonathan Jackson received the sobriquet "Stonewall," which never left him? The troops of South Carolina, commanded by General Bell, had been overwhelmed at the battle of Manassas, and he rode up to Jackson in despair, exclaiming: "They are beating us back." "Then," said Jackson, "we will give them the bayonet." Bell rode back to his command and cried out to them to look at Jackson, saying, "There he stands like a stone wall. Rolly behind the Virginians."

"It is in me and it shall come out," said Sheridan, when told that he would never make an orator, as he had failed in his first speech in Parliament. He became one of the foremost orators of his day.

Behold William Lloyd Garrison. A broadcloth mob is leading him through the streets of Boston by a rope. He is hurried to jail. He returns unflinchingly to his work, beginning at the point at which he was interrupted. Note this heading in the Liberator: "I am earnest, I will not equivocate, I will not excuse, I will not retreat a single inch and I will be heard." That one man of grit became God's red-hot thunderbolt that shivered that colossal iniquity—slavery. Even the yalows erected in front of his door did not daunt him. His grit made an unwilling world hear the word "freedom," which was destined never to cease its vibrations, until it had breathed its sweet secret to the last slave.

Grace will avail little unless it is reinforced by grit. Daniel in the Babylonian court had the same temptations that our young people encounter in social life. He was in a saint in the corrupt household of Darius. He dared to stand alone for principle, and, instead of losing his head, crowned it.

The printer did not make a mistake who set up that verse about Daniel's spirit: "As for Daniel, an excellent spirit was in him." One of the most tremendous words in the language is that mighty monosyllable—"No." Here in lies woman's strength—in her moral excellence. She cannot find her true dignity apart from goodness. The regard paid to women in society depends very much upon the standard of morality she sets up, and in every circle she fixes a standard above which few men care to rise. It may be modifying to men's pride, but it is true that they seldom rise quite up to the standard of morality which women hold before them.

If woman speaks lightly of religion, man will blaspheme it. If she is devoted to pleasure, he will enter into dissipation. If she treats temperance as a joke, he will regard drunkenness as a pardonable fault. Woman is the law-giver; man is the subject. The only hope for the moral advancement of society is to keep woman in the advance guard. Let her grace point the way and her grit lead to it and the right progress is secured.

Do you remember that very striking scene in George Eliot's "Adam Bede," where Mrs. Poyser, while scolding the clumsy Molly for her broken Jug of beer, herself drops a much more precious Jug from her clumsy fingers and exclaims: "Did you ever see the like? The Jugs are bewitched, I think." And then, to keep herself in composure, she proceeds to argue that "there's times when the crockery seems alive, and flies out of your hand like a bird," and concludes with the stern philosophy that "What is to be broken will be broke."

How many of us when arraigned by the sting of our conscience have been ready to excuse ourselves with Mrs. Poyser's theory that we were "bewitched" by some evil influence which was beyond our power. When principle bids you stand upright, it is better to break than to bend.

The devil's proverb, "When you are in Rome, do as the Romans do," would excuse any sin, if one could only find a place where sin is fashionable. Doing as the Romans did ruined Rome. Paul, being as the Romans ought to do, saved enough Romans to make a church. The grade of grit will increase your influence. Stand by your colors and even those who sneer you to your face will honor you in their hearts.

Keep the Kidneys Well and the Kidneys Will Keep You Well.

Sick, suffering, languid women are learning the true cause of bad backs and how to cure them. Mrs. E. G. Davis, of Grimsby, Texas, says: "Back aches hurt me so I could hardly stand. Spells of dizziness and sick headaches were frequent and the action of the kidneys was irregular."
Soon after I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills I passed several gravel stones. I got well and the trouble has not returned. My back is good and strong and my general health better."

If the president would ask James A. Garfield to step down and out as head of the bureau of commerce the people would feel that he was doing about the proper thing. About the only qualifications the young man has shown for any preferment is that he is the son of a great man.

The Tribune insists that the stranding of two theatrical companies in Fremont last week, due to lack of funds, is an unfavorable reflection on the town. It maintains that they reached there too late for help, like the consumptive that goes to Colorado after the disease has made such progress that no climate nor specific on earth can prevent death.

With the Northwestern and Milwaukee both building to the Black Hills and the latter going on to the coast, the new Moffatt line being built from Denver to Salt Lake, the Burlington pushing into the Big Horn country from the east, it begins to look as though the territorial agreement so long in effect was at last terminated and much new country will be provided with railroad facilities.

Report has it that D. E. Thompson is to be asked to get out of the diplomatic service of the country. It will be remembered that as minister to Brazil, Thompson took undue interest in trying to make Brazilians believe the rotten insurance companies of New York were all right. David will find that Theodore requires the representatives of this country to stick to the truth and not aid graft or grafters.

Congressional aspirants for the place now held by J. J. McCarthy are being named from various places. It is said that Judge W. P. Warner of Dakota City and Judge Boyd of this judicial district are both likely to be in the running for the nomination, and E. R. Gurney of Fremont, is also suggested as a very suitable man for the place. There is evidently going to be something doing politically when the congressional convention of the Third Nebraska district convenes.

A special to the Omaha Daily News, corroborated by a number of country journals, reports that Editor M. M. Warner of the Lyons Mirror, was invited to the feast of a friend on Thanksgiving day and stuffed himself with a large and varied assortment of tempting viands and luxuries, and that while under the influence of the feast conceived the idea of running for governor on the pop ticket next year, and that even though the effects of his intemperate indulgence have worn off and his normal condition restored, he is said to still retain the notion that he would like to be the chief executive of the great commonwealth of Nebraska.

Governor Mickey has concluded that to call the legislature in extra session for the purpose of getting amendments to the constitution before the people and for the further purpose of attempting legislation against the free pass, etc., is too expensive for the benefits likely to be derived and it is our belief that the Gov. is about right in his conclusions. The Omaha Bee figures the cost of a twenty day session at $25,000 and the printing of the proposed amendments at another $25,000 and thinks it is worth a try. But is the Bee sure that a twenty, sixty or even a ninety day session will accomplish the desired results? Nebraska legislators don't do as they are expected or elected to do.

T. L. Matthews of Fremont, United States marshal for Nebraska, was summarily dismissed from his position one day last week by President Roosevelt. The reason for this action was because Judge Munger had sentenced Comstock and Richards, who had been convicted of illegally fencing government land, to pay a fine of $300 and be placed in the custody of the marshal for six hours, were by the latter official, turned over to their attorneys instead of carrying out the orders of the court. This dereliction of duty came to the president's ears and the dismissal followed. Matthews is a pretty good fellow but was served right. If there was some way the president could get at Munger and pry him loose from his life job in punishment for giving these big law breakers the ridiculous sentence he did, the ends of justice would be fully met.

It occurs to us that the administration of some of our laws is quite partial. Take as an instance the fellow pulled for drunkenness. He is arraigned before a magistrate, found guilty and fined or imprisoned, but somehow or other the officer making the arrest overlooks the fact that the fellow who sold the miserable unfortunate the liquor that muddled his brain, tangled his legs and made of him an all around nuisance was likewise a law breaker and ought to be arraigned with or instead of his unfortunate victim. The Stoumb law forbids the sale of liquor to persons intoxicated or in the habit of becoming intoxicated and it would seem to be but simple justice that the vendor should suffer for his offense just the same as the buyers, and if he were made to do so there would be an immediate falling off in police arrests for drunkenness. The hand of the law ought to rest as heavily on the fellow that gets the money as the fellow who spends it, and this is especially true when that money represents the bread and butter of innocent children and helpless wives as it does in too many instances.

In the injunction suits brought by the railroads to prevent county treasurers from collecting taxes, some queer evidence is being presented by the roads to show that they are discriminated against in the tax levy. Witnesses are being brought in from various counties of the state who are testifying that lands in their counties were assessed at all the way from 40 to 60 per cent. of their actual cash valuations and for that reason the railroads think their assessment is too great. There may be counties in which the assessments are not as required by law, and where this is true the officials responsible for the non-compliance with the plain letter of the law ought to be prosecuted vigorously. Because someone else has broken the law does not, it would seem, justify another in doing so and it is pretty difficult to see just how the railroads can hope to escape paying their taxes by a showing of that kind. In many of the counties and in Wayne county in particular, it would be mighty difficult to find a man who would think the assessment was not up to full cash value, and yet the farmers and business men of these counties do not resort to the courts to prevent the collection of their taxes; they pay them and that is what the railroads should be obliged to do without putting the state or counties to a lot of expensive litigation.

ERNEST WEEKS KILLED.

Through a reliable source (the editor of the Reporter learns of the tragic death of Ernest Weeks, formerly of this city. The story goes that while under the influence of liquor he became involved in a saloon row in one of the border towns of Oklahoma, and was stabbed to death by a party of Mexicans. Mrs. Weeks died a couple of years ago and the children are inmates of the I. O. O. F. home at Waterloo, Iowa. Thus is the sad ending of what might have been a happy home, but for the baneful and hellish influence of barley corn.—Randolph Reporter.
