Farmers' Institute

The most successful farmers' institute in both attendance and interest ever held in Wayne county took place here last Friday and Saturday. Special credit is due Attorney E. B. Lundburg through whose untiring efforts unusual success was largely attained. He was instrumental in adding excellent musical numbers to the program of each session and took special pains to arouse general interest and get together a large crowd. Every session found the court room filled with eager listeners, but Saturday afternoon the room proved of insufficient capacity to accommodate the crowd and many had to turn away disappointed.

Friday morning was devoted to the Wayne county boys' corn growing contest. D. P. Ashburn carefully examined and scored each exhibit, making awards according to merit. Following are the contestants for the best ten ears, and they are named in the order to which they were entitled by the score, the first five named being the prize winners:

Herato Pond, Edward Steele, Almond Pond, Alfred Thomas, Willie Evans, Geo. Hofeldt, Wionfred McDaniels, Boyd Carroll, Rolie Miller, Alton Cobb, Gustave Paulsen, Pearl Jones, Gilbert Carlson, Frank Jones, Roy Cadie, Henry Brune, Clifford Busley, Gottlieb Haller, Eddie McGuire, Ernest Samuelson, Herald Quinn, Albert Kinsley, Clyde Marr, Eddie Brummels, Albert Jennings, Herbert Sillett, Albert Uttooth, Gustave Splittgerber, Geo. Elchoff, Ohas. Keller, Donald Raines, Roy Reed, Ernest Smith, Richard Forber, Floyd McRoberts, Willis Wrobel, Frank Henohke, Guy Quick, Ralph Horn, Loyd McRoberts, Fred Gildersleeve, Willie Bostow, Andrew Anderson, Ohas. Kieffer, Geo. Madsen, Louie Schenrich, Wm. Cadie, Henry Farrow, Ralph Porter, Virgil Chambers, Willie Todd, Arthur Obst, Arthur Herschedt, Fritz Wendt, Jennings Dobbin, Eddie McGuire, Harvey Nealey, Fred Schroeder, Max Henske.

The institute proper opened Friday afternoon with a violin solo by Otto Yeager, followed by invocation by Rev. Thos. Osborne. An address of greeting was given by E. B. Lundburg, with response by F. M. Northrop.

"The Breeding and Selection of Seed Corn" was the first subject for discussion and it was handled in an able manner by D. P. Ashburn. The speaker described the best corn for seed. The ear should be large at both ends and well filled at each end, the kernels long and wedge shaped. He said there should be uniformity in the color of the cob. He emphasized the necessity of increasing the production and wealth of the farm to meet the demands of greater expense in living. He did not advise more acres of corn, but urged the importance of more corn to the acre.

Hon. Henry Wallace of Des Moines, Iowa, is not only distinguished as the editor of a widely known agricultural paper, but is a practical farmer, owning considerable land in Nebraska and Iowa and devoting a great deal of personal attention to its development. He followed Mr. Ashburn in an address on "Castle Feeding". He gave emphasis to the practice of a balanced ration and said that oats would nearer serve that purpose than any other grain. He thought corn should not be fed alone only during the fattening season. He lauded alfalfa as a nutritious and healthful feed for stock.

Friday evening a male quartet, comprising Messrs. Gamble, Johnson, Morris and Wilbur, furnished the music. Instead of discussing the dairy cow, Mr. Ashburn talked about raising poultry. He spoke of the industry as a most profitable auxiliary to the farm and one that is carried on with little expense. He did not favor any special breed, but on the contrary thought the kind best suited to one's liking and purpose should be raised.

The closing address Friday evening was given by Mr. Wallace who enlarged the subject of character development on the farm. He spoke of the habits of industry which no population develops as thoroughly as the farm. He referred to the innumerable distinguished names in life that had their foundation laid in the agricultural districts. He declared that the highest type of citizenship—the foremost people in all accomplishments would be found in the middle and central west. He incidentally lambasted insurance scandals and professional politicians, among the latter of whom he gave special mention to Chauncy D. Paw. He hit dishonesty wherever found—whether among the lawyers, doctors, merchants or farmers.

Saturday morning's session was opened by a vocal solo by Mrs. W. H. Morris, followed by invocation by Rev. Wright.

O. Hull on "Economic Pork Production" gave an interesting talk, treating of the kind of pigs to select and the feed that should be used.

While hogs were being discussed in the court room, Mrs. Welton addressed a gathering of women in an adjoining apartment. She urged the importance of organizing a women's auxiliary to the farmers' institute, and her advice was followed, an organization being effected, with these officers: Mrs. J. E. Abbott, president; Mrs. E. L. Rennick, vice president; and Mrs. Clyde Omsen, secretary and treasurer.

After a vocal solo by Miss Bush, C. A. Scott of the United States forestry service, was introduced and gave an interesting explanation of the work and accomplishments of his department. He said a species of pine was being grown successfully on Nebraska reserves and that the authorities expected to set out a thousand acres of trees every year.

A vocal duet by the Misses Gamble and Nangle opened the afternoon session.

"Growing Alfalfa" was the subject of a talk by O. Hull who treated it especially with reference to its desirability for hog feed, claiming that it contains all the elements necessary for quick and healthy growth.

At this juncture John Kats was to appear with one of his inimitable talks on chickens, but owing to a sore throat he was compelled to decline, much to the disappointment of all.

Miss Yankish gave a reading and violin solo, and was followed by an address by Mrs. Welton who dilated the matter of domestic science in the home. She said the only disgrace in doing housework was when it was not well done. She commended improvements in the home and thought conveniences should be added as fast as possible.

After two violin solos by Miss Yankish, G. D. Marshall talked on spraying fruit trees to prevent disease and improve the quality of the fruit.

At the close of this most successful institute, the recommendations of a committee, appointed to name officers for the ensuing year, were adopted as follows: F. E. Moes, president; W. E. K. Neely, vice president; E. B. Lundburg, secretary and treasurer; W. O. Gamble, Levi Diltz and A. E. Littell, executive board.

LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

O. A. King went to Carroll on business yesterday.

A. T. Clark went to Foster, Nebraska, Tuesday morning.

Byron Holle of Laurel, was visiting relatives in Wayne Monday.

R. E. Parinton of Parker, S. D. visited Wayne last week, being a guest of Rev. Duley.

Mrs. G. P. Hitchcock was called to Blair Saturday by the death of her brother-in-law.

Wisner citizens have taken steps to organize a fair association with capital stock fixed at $5,000.

A B. Clark left Saturday for Marysville, Mo., where he has gone to inspect a herd of Shorthorns.

Wm. Beman, clerk in Rundell's grocery, went to Rock Rapids, Iowa, Tuesday to visit relatives.

Wm. Larsen has sold his farm north-east of town to Peter Nygren, consideration being $3250 per acre.

Adolph J. Janika, a farmer living near Ponder, mistook carbolic acid for brandy and as a result is dead.

A. G. Powers, Pete Kimon and M. J. Shoon went to Prescho, S. D. Tuesday, the latter two in search of land.

G. W. Jones, Phil Lundberg and a son of Aunt Lewis left Tuesday morning for the Big Horn Basin, Wyoming.

Otto A. Vogel will have charge of the music during the presentation of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" on the 15th inst.

Wm. Mielstaedt and Miss Sarah Boje, both of Hoskins, were united in marriage in Wayne Saturday by Judge Hunter.

Mrs. McLeod of Stanton and Mrs. Sigworth of Wayne left here Monday for Sioux Falls to visit their sister, Mrs. Mark Miller.

A three year old child at Pierce choked to death last week as the result of eating popcorn, one of the kernels lodging in its wind pipe.

Mrs. M. S. Davies and Mrs. E. S. Blair entertained the members of the Acme club and their husbands at the former's home Tuesday afternoon.

It is to be hoped the Commercial Club will arouse from its lethargy and soon give attention to some of the things necessary to promote the welfare of the town.

Jas. Pordue has bought of J. D. King the residence property occupied by Dr. Eggle. The price was $2,300. It is understood that Mr. Pordue expects to move into town.

Wm. Erskelen is building a new house and barn on his quarter section southeast of Wayne, preparatory to moving there. The improvements are large and substantial.

A little Tartarus is being built up over the disputed superintendency in Stanton county. It helps occupy attention and prevent mental idleness during the dull season.

Mrs. Nellie Porter, daughter of J. H. Porter of Carroll, was called to St. Louis within the past week to care for her brother, George, who was taken very sick there while attending a medical college.

W. H. McNeal who has been reappointed postmaster at Wayne, received his commission and expected his bond this week, and is now securely and serenely launched for another four years' term.

John Debbin, who has clerked at the Holle & Ware store since it started up here, leaves the 10th to enter the employ of his brother-in-law, Ohas. Robbins, who is about to start a general merchandise business in Wayne.—Laurel Advocate.

Turning too short, a wagon upset with Geo. Denkinger, John Fret and a man from Pierce, near the fair grounds one day last week. Fret escaped unhurt, but Denkinger had both feet badly sprained and the Pierce man was considerably bruised.

Attorney Geo. Wilbur informs the HERALD that his mother who went to Fort Clark, Texas, late in December, to spend the winter with her brother, has been sick during her sojourn there and has not been pleased with her experience in the south. She expects to return to Wayne about March 1.

Raymond Roberts from near Wayne, and Miss Nellie Martz of Coleridge, were married by Rev. G. C. Porter at the Presbyterian parsonage Tuesday forenoon. They were attended by a brother of the bride and a sister of the groom. The young couple will reside on a farm near the home of the groom's parents, eight miles this side of Wayne.—Laurel Advocate.

The "Novellie Boshul" given by the ladies of the club federation Thursday night attracted a big crowd and netted something over $107 which will be used for the benefit of the public library. An admission was charged and in addition a duly authorized committee fixed and collected fines in accordance with the laws prescribed by the federation. Guests were fined if they did and fined if they didn't, and so there was no escape. At an appropriate hour excellent refreshments were served. All had a merry time, and the efforts of the ladies in behalf of a worthy cause, were amply rewarded.

Ralph Rundell and D. E. Miller arrived home Saturday from the Big Horn country, Wyoming. While there they were so favorably impressed with the possibilities of the hot springs at Thermopolis that they want to the state land board at Cheyenne and secure a lease of the waters for bottling purposes. They are required to begin business as the springs within ninety days, and both gentlemen expect to locate there. Mr. Miller says while he is planning to go to Thermopolis early in the spring, he will not move his family until the railroad is completed to Worland where it will probably arrive in June.

Messrs. Rundell and Miller think the near future will see wonderful development in mining and agriculture in the Big Horn Basin. They say those who went with them are doing well and are contented.

Joseph Holdobler, wife and two children about whom many erroneous reports were published after they had gone from this county to Chicago last summer, were returned here Friday by the authorities of that city who maintained that they were legal citizens of Wayne county. The board of insanity met Saturday afternoon and ordered Holdobler and wife committed to the asylum at Norfolk. They were taken there Monday morning by Sheriff Meares and wife. The authorities will find a suitable home for the two children. The stories published last fall to the effect that Mrs. Holdobler was a descendant of the royal house of India, and an immense fortune had been wrongfully withheld from her, were groundless. Also the notion that she had a string of pearls imbedded in her breast and the report that one of her children was a mute, were not true.

Ohas. Robbins returned from Chicago last Thursday after spending almost three weeks making a careful study of the newest and best things in dry goods, carpets and rugs. The goods purchased for the new store are arriving every day and as soon as the building is in readiness will be put in shape with all possible haste. Next week he will be able to tell you the date of opening, at which time you will have the privilege of visiting the only complete new dry goods store in Wayne county.

We are in the market to buy a pair of young, well matched Driving horses, weight should be from 1100 to 1200 each. PHILLEO & SON.

The Kajah of Altara. In the cast of this clever musical comedy that will play Wayne Friday, February 9, is Katherine Wioche, one of the daintiest dancers on the American stage. She made a remarkable hit as Valida, the dancing maid, in Florodora last year, and will be remembered for her clever work several seasons ago as "Tootie" in The Telephone Girl Co. when it was in its first season. Aside from her remarkable dancing, she is a clever and dainty sourette.

Watch for the announcement of the White Froot next week.

SUPERINTENDENT'S NOTICE. Teachers' examinations will be given the third Friday and Saturday following of each month. A. E. LITTELL, County Superintendent.

The wife of the late Charles T. Yerkes, multi-millionaire, has already married another man, and in consideration thereof has transferred to his right one million dollars. Cheap enough!

The daughter of Marshall Field feels disappointed and terribly hard-up because she receives only $8,000,000 of her father's estate. With such poverty staring one in the face, who wouldn't ache with chagrin and anxious uneasiness?

We believe there is a growing tendency to less partisan prejudice and hatred. We believe young recruits in the business and professional world are less inclined to engender political animosities than were their fathers. In party politics, like religion, people are becoming broader and better able to tolerate opinions with which they do not agree.

John D. Rockefeller has dropped out of the whirl of business for a time and it is supposed that he has gone to see his pa who is living in retirement at an advanced age. It is said that the senator Rockefeller who is now nearing the period of dissolution, has been a very heavy employer of profanity, and it is presumed his pious son has gone to him with an entreaty to reform, in preparation for a grand Rockefeller reunion among the seraphic wings of diysian eternity.

Recently a church congregation in a little burg not far from here built a new church. To pay for it they were obliged to call upon the merchants of the community for donations. The merchants responded liberally and $300 was raised from this source. The last man asked to subscribe was John Smith, the jeweler. "I will give $10 if you will let me add something to your subscription list," he said. The permission was accorded him and he wrote at the foot of the list: John Smith, $10; Sears, Roebuck & Co., 00; Montgomery Ward & Co., 00. The church people saw the point when the minister read from the pulpit the list of donors to the building fund. Since the dedication of the church the mail order houses have fallen off somewhat.—St. Joseph Record.

A Missionary Institute will be held in the Baptist church Tuesday evening, Wednesday and Wednesday evening, February 13 and 14, conducted by Rev. Henry Williams, D. D. of Des Moines, Iowa, assisted by Miss Ella D. McLaurin and Prof. Henry Tapping of Tokio, Japan. A cordial invitation is extended to the citizens of Wayne and vicinity to attend and participate in these meetings. Bring your lunch with you on Wednesday and spend the day. Coffee will be served at noon. Bruce Spears did not last long at the head of the Hoekins Headlight. Last week he notified W. H. Gibson, the real owner, that he would have to forego the enticing prospect of becoming proprietor of that paper and expected to ship himself to some other commercial center—probably on account of falling health. He came down from Hoekins

Saturday afternoon on the 2:15 train, but soon disappeared and hasn't been seen since. It is presumed that he journeyed east on the 2:45 train, doubtless expediting a change to a more salubrious climate in order to derive its benefits as soon as possible. The necessity of kicking himself out of the health-devouring rigors of a Wayne county winter without delay probably accounted for his failure to exchange greetings with the HERALD before leaving.

GUARDIAN'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

Notice is hereby given that in pursuance of license therefor issued by J. E. Boyd, judge of the district court of Wayne county, Nebraska, on the 2nd day of February, 1906, for the sale of no real estate hereinafter described, I will sell at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, at the door of the office of the clerk of the district court of Wayne county, Nebraska, in the court house at Wayne, Nebraska, on the 2nd day of March, 1906, at the hour of 11 o'clock a. m., the following described real estate, to-wit:

USEFULNESS OF SHARKS.

A Word of Praise for the Scavenger of the Ocean.

The shark is undoubtedly a "dog with a bad name." He is called opprobriously the "tiger of the seas" or the "sailor's foe" or any other scurrilous name which happens to be handy. Much mud is thrown at him, and as he seldom finds a defender most of it sticks. Hard lines this! Because in reality this blue water bogy is a humble and useful public servant, who performs uncomplainingly the duties connected with the sanitation of the seas. The shark is the common scavenger and general undertaker of the ocean. He is not and, for reasons connected with his very moderate speed limit, never can be primarily a fish of prey. Open any captured shark and you will find clear proof that this is so. A few tangled bits of rope yarn, a battered corned beef tin, a corked bottle containing an insulting message to the finder (thrown overboard by some nautical wag) or a sailor's cap which has been lost in a gale, all tend to show that the shark is a fish of businesslike habits, with a keen eye to any chance windfalls which may come in his way. But the more digestible contents of his stomach, consisting mainly of carrion of every kind, all give the clearest of evidence that the original owners of them were not alive—in fact, were very much dead—when this marine sanitary inspector came along and, condemning them as unwholesome, removed them into his own internal refuse bin.

MENTAL ATTITUDE.

It Has Much to Do With Wining Success in Life.

The mental attitude which we always hold toward our work or our aim has everything to do with what we may accomplish. If you go to your work with the attitude of a slave who goes to his task and see in it only drudgery; if you work without hope, seeing no future in what you are doing beyond getting a bare living; if you see, no light ahead, nothing but poverty, deprivation and hard work all your life; if you think that you were destined to such a hard life, you cannot expect anything else than that which you look for.

If, on the other hand, no matter how poor you may be today, you can see a better future; if you believe that some day you are going to rise out of the drawing room, where beauty, comfort and joy await you; if your ambition is clean and you keep your eye steadily upon the goal which you hope to reach and feel confident that you have the ability to attain it, you will accomplish something worth while. The direction of your effort will follow your eye. If that looks up as well as on, you will climb.

That one quality of holding persistently the faith in themselves and never allowing anything to weaken the belief that somehow they would accomplish what they undertook has been the underlying principle of all great achievers. The great majority of men and women who have given civilization a great uplift started poor and for many dark years saw no hope of accomplishing their ambition, but they kept on working and believing that somehow a way would be opened. Think of what this attitude of hopeful-ness and faith has done for the world's great inventors—how most of them plodded on through many years of dry, dreary drudgery before the light came, and the light would never have come but for their faith, hope and persistent endeavor.

What if they had listened to their advisers? Even those who loved them tried to beg them to give up the foolishness of chasing their lives into that which would never be practical or useful. We are enjoying today thousands of blessings, comforts and conveniences which have been bequeathed us by those resolute souls who were obliged often to turn a deaf ear to the pleadings of those they loved best as they struggled on amid want and woe for many years.—Success.

CHRISTMAS.

Negroes consider Christmas day the best in the year for a wedding. Christmas was first celebrated as a feast of the Christian church about the year 100 A. D.

At Cullinstown, in Ireland, the game of kamman, a sort of hockey, is played on Christmas day.

A leaf from Christmas decorations is preserved in Yorkshire as a remedy against toothache.

Scottish servants each endeavor to be the first to draw water from the well on Christmas morning.

It is an old Irish superstition that gold should not be pulled away on Christmas day nor silver lent.

Christmas day at Cape Town is usually celebrated with picnics. The temperature averaged 82 degrees.

On Christmas morning in Norway every gateway, stable or barn door is decorated with a sheet of corn fixed on a tall pole in order that the birds may eat from it their Christmas dinner.

To Make a Canary Sing. Generally my kind of soft, sibilant noise will tempt a bird to sing. A canary hung in a kitchen will usually start his song if he hears, say, the sizzling of a frying pan. We utilize special devices to tempt the shy singer, who is perhaps rendered the more bashful by finding himself in novel surroundings. For this purpose we employ whistles and song organs, which artificially reproduce the "tours" of the roller. This latter method is found to be irresistible when all other plans have failed. The bird feels apparently that he is being challenged and forthwith responds to the challenge by pouring forth the best of his song.—London Post.

The One to Brag. "He's bragging that he doesn't owe a cent to any man in the world."

"Well, he hasn't brag that he does not owe me."

"Why not?"

"I'm doing the bragging for that."—Omaha News.

Some cottage who met at the cross of the safety summer day in the year 1878 to hold a prayer meeting. They were overtaken by a sudden shower of rain and were compelled to seek the friendly shelter afforded them by a neighboring haystack.

The group of young evangelists who were present at the prayer meeting on that particular occasion consisted of Samuel J. Mills, James Richards, Francis K. Robinson, Harvey Loomis and Byron Grant. Sheltered from the rain by the haystack, they continued amid the conflict of the elements their devotional exercises and discussed religious topics of deep interest to themselves. While the storm raged Mills communicated to his fellows the plan of executing a great life work. It was nothing less than a mission to some heathen land and the ultimate evangelization of the world.

They communicated their plan to such of their fellow students as they believed would sympathize with them and organized the Society of Brethren, a secret society, which had for its object the establishment of foreign missions.

The result of the prayer meeting was the organization in Bradford, Mass., in 1810 of the American board of commissioners for foreign missions. From this start grew the great society of the American board, which has distributed millions of dollars. Since the first meeting of five persons its corporate and honorary members have increased to over 70,000.

Years after the students had formed their great scheme of evangelization the spot where they held the prayer meeting was marked by a cedar stake. This led to the purchase of Mission park by the alumni of Williams college and in 1867 to the erection and dedication of what is now known as Haystack monument. The cedar stake monument became marble through the design and at his own expense reared the prayer meeting site marker.

The monument stands on the identical spot where the haystack stood. It is a strictly Berkshire county production, composed of Berkshire marble, quarried at Alford and wrought in the workshops of the Berkshire Marble company. Its height is twelve feet, its shaft, cap and base square polished, its color a silver blue.—New York Tribune.

Hindoo Caste.

The four grades of society among the Hindoos are the Brahmins, or sacerdotal class, who are said at the moment of creation to have issued from the mouth of Brahma; the Kshatrya, or Chuttees, or military class, sprung from the arm of Brahma; the Vaisya, or Bais, or mercantile class, from the thigh of Brahma; and the Sudras, or Sooders, or servile class, from the foot of Brahma. The business of the Sudras is to serve the three superior classes, more especially the Brahmins. Their condition is never to be improved, they are not to accumulate property and are unable by any means to approach the dignity of the higher classes. These divisions are hereditary, impassable and indelible.

Meyerbeer was so nervous and "fidgety" about his works that when they were in course of preparation or rehearsal or performance he never gave himself or any one else concerned a moment's peace of mind.

He was constantly making changes or alterations in the score and would sometimes write a passage in three or four different colored inks in order to try the different effects and then could not make up his mind which was the best. He worried over his opera "L'Africaine" so long, delaying, retouching and polishing, even while it was in rehearsal, that the self imposed labor made him ill, and he died before the first public performance.

Dynamite Whiskers.

The name "whiskers" is applied to feathery crystals which gather upon the outside of the wrapping of frozen dynamite. The "whiskers" are more "irritable" than dynamite itself. A case is on record where sticks of dynamite had been thawed out in hot water and the can of hot water in which it was done left in the blacksmith shop without being emptied of the residual mass of grease and whiskers. The first blow of the blacksmith's hammer on a nearby anvil was sufficient to set off the whiskers by concussion. The can was blown to pieces, but fortunately no one was hurt.

The Kafirs.

The Kafirs are great philosophers. If an ox should die the owner never grieves, but remarks: "Now I must go to work for master (all white men who treat them well are called masters), and in six months he will give me a cow. It will have a calf. If it is a bull calf in a year I'll have a pair of oxen, but should it be a heifer calf I'll have the richer for the next year I'll have two calves instead of one."

The opinions of the misanthropical red upon this very positive basis, they adopt the bad faith of a few as evidence of the worthlessness of all.—Bover.

Frequently in the south one finds among the negroes as remarkable Christian names as those bestowed upon their offspring by the Puritan fathers.

A gentleman of Virginia tells of a negro living near Richmond who for years had been familiarly known to him as Tim. It became necessary at one time in a lawsuit to know the full name of the darky. The not unnatural supposition that Tim stood for Timothy met with a flat denial. "No, sah!" exclaimed the negro. "Mah name ain't Timothy. It's What-tim-or-some-such-see-poor-mortals-be Jackson. Day jest calls me Tim to 'short.'—Success Magazine.

Once a painter notorious for plagiarisms executed a historical picture in which every figure of importance was copied from some other artist, so that very little remained to himself.

It was shown to Michael Angelo by a friend, who begged his opinion of it. "Excellent!," he said, "only at the day of judgment, when all bodies will resume their own limbs again, I do not know what will become of that historical painting, for there will be nothing left of it."

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

If a man is saying anything he shouldn't and his wife gives him a little punch under the table he takes it for an encore and says it again.—Atchison Globe.

Early Glassmaking.

The first attempt at glassmaking in this country was some years before the Revolution and was made at Quincy, Mass., by a company of Germans. Some specimens of their articles still exist. The place in Quincy where their manufactory was established acquired from them the name of German town, which name it retains to the present time. The site of their manufactory is now occupied by the institution called the Sailors' Snug Harbor. About 1785 Robert Hewes, a well known citizen of Boston, made probably the first effort to establish a window glass manufactory on this continent. Mr. Hewes erected his works to the east and erected his factory in the forest of New Hampshire.

Safety in Elevators.

Many persons have an objection to riding in elevators, or more properly speaking, this objection should be classed as a feeling of dread or fear. But according to the superintendent of a big office building in Philadelphia the safest place for a person to be in an elevator—that is, statistically speaking. In the set of elevators for which statistics have been kept by the superintendent there has been an average transportation of 2,400,000 persons each year for seven years, an aggregate of 16,800,000, and of this number but one person has been injured, and that injury did not result fatally.—Rochester Post-Express.

A Famous Widow.

One of the most famous widows of antiquity was the widow of Sennacherib. During the lifetime of her husband she attended him in all his campaigns and shared his dangers. Suspecting that her husband had been poisoned, she had his presumed murderer assassinated and was herself soon after treated with such indignity by the Babylonians that she was driven to despair and starved herself to death.

Transition Defied.

The bird had just entered the china shop. "Here," he remarked, "is where I knock tradition endwise." Carefully backing from the place without so much as jarring a saucer, he inquired the route to the stockyards and went his way.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Breaking the Record.

HAYSTACK MONUMENT.

Mark's Birthplace of Foreign Mission Work in This Country.

Many a visitor to Williams college is taken to the birthplace of American foreign missions, marked by a unique monument in a little park near the college grounds.

For once in the history of the world a prayer meeting is commemorated by a monument. In Mission park in Williams town stands a shaft which was dedicated on Sunday, July 28, 1867, to the memory of five students of Williams college who met at the cross of the safety summer day in the year 1878 to hold a prayer meeting. They were overtaken by a sudden shower of rain and were compelled to seek the friendly shelter afforded them by a neighboring haystack.

COLLEGE NOTES.

Miss Siem's brother visited with her for a few days last week.

The musical given Saturday evening was a success in every way. The large crowd present was very attentive and all enjoyed the program.

Mr. Dan Harrington accompanied Mr. Davis to the college Friday morning, and after the chapel exercises they visited several of the classes.

Much confusion has been caused lately by persons coming in late to the literary programs and other entertainments. In order to avoid this the doors will be locked in the future at 7:30.

Many of the students attended the sessions of the Farmers' Institute Friday afternoon and Saturday. The students are all urged to attend meetings of this kind as they hear much which is of benefit to them.

Among the new students enrolled during the past week are Messrs. Slaughter of Wakefield, Waylay of Emerson, Miller of Stanton, Smith of Pierce and Droger of Norfolk. Several of these gentlemen will be in college for the rest of the year.

The chapel exercises have been made very interesting this term. Several mornings each week visitors address the students, and these talks are very much enjoyed. Among those who have spoken during the past week are Rev. Tretz of Omaha, Mr. Davis of Wayne and Rev. Wright of Wayne.

The man who can make a characterization stick in one's memory like Mr. Stroud did in Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde at Blaza theatre last night is a true actor.—Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiser.

E. C. Tweed and wife visited Wakefield yesterday afternoon.

E. R. Lundburg attended the farmers' institute at Carroll between trains yesterday. He reports that there was a large attendance.

John J. Hayes, aged 80 years, died of kidney trouble at his home in Winside Tuesday. He was the father-in-law of Ed. Cullen, county commissioner. The funeral took place from the Wayne Catholic church this morning at 10 o'clock.

Miller & Abern opened their new store to the public last Saturday, and the young men enjoyed a big "send-off" in the way of trade and compliments on their new stock and splendid arrangement. They have begun well and it is believed their expectations will be realized.

The Pioneer Whist Club executed a very pleasant surprise for Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Franks Tuesday evening when sixteen members unexpectedly gathered at their home to show their respect before the departure of the family for the west. Whist was followed by the serving of an excellent supper, and then came the presentation of an elegant hand-painted rose bowl to Mrs. Franks. All had an enjoyable time. Members present: Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Neely, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Matheny, Dr. and Mrs. Hammond, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Strahan, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ley, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Schmitzels and Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Raymond.

A statistician has estimated that if one good grain were added to each ear of corn in one of the states of the corn belt, it would add $300,000 to the yearly product of the state. If, instead of one grain, a dozen were added or if a whole ear were added to each hill, the whole would be correspondingly greater, running into the millions in the latter case. Not only in corn, but in all the products of the farm, including live stock, improvement is the watchword of the times. A single county like Wayne would be largely enriched by adopting the best methods in any agricultural or live stock line of work, as many of our farmers are already doing. A good agricultural paper like The Homestead, of Des Moines, Iowa, setting forth each week the best methods of increasing the size and value of the farmer's output, is a boon to any community. The HERALD has completed clabbing arrangements with this excellent farm

Beacon lights to guide the way tossed marines to a safe harbor must have been almost equal with the earliest ones. There is positive record that lighthouses were built in ancient times, though few evidences now remain to be from old writers or in crumbling ruins. This is not strange, for light towers, near the most stable architectural form, were exposed to the storms of sea and war.

The Greeks attributed the first lighthouses to Hercules, and he was considered the protector of voyagers. It is claimed by some that Homer refers to lighthouses in the nineteenth book of the "Iliad."

Virgil mentions a light on a temple to Apollo which, visible far out at sea, warned and guided mariners. The Colossus at Rhodes, erected about 300 B. C., is said to have shown a signal light from its uplifted hand.

The oldest towers known were built by the Lybians in lower Egypt. They were temples also, and the lightkeeper priests taught pilotage, hydrography and navigation. The famous tower of the Isle of Pharos at Alexandria, built about 285 B. C., is the first lighthouse of undoubted record. This tower, constructed by Sostratus, the architect, was square in plan, of great height and built in octahedron. An open brazier at the top of the tower contained the fuel for the light. At Dover and Boulogne, on either side of the English channel, were ancient lighthouses built by the Romans. But the lighthouse at Coruna, Spain, built in the reign of Trajan and reconstructed in 1864, is believed to be the oldest existing lighthouse.

Nebraska Normal

From the first tap of the rising bell at 6 a. m. the North Nebraska Normal—the bee hive on the hill—is a scene of energy, activity and industry, but not until 9:15 a. m. does the visitor see the pupils on a mass which is at chapel exercises. Brown, splendid boys and thoughtful, womanly girls they are indeed, and one feels a thrill of pride at living in a town that can boast of such an institution. Seven hundred strong they came to chapel until the capacity of both chapel and commercial room is taxed to its utmost for their accommodation, emphasizing the immediate need of an audience room of fully three times the dimensions of the present one.

The chapel exercises were interesting and inspiring and it was right there one could readily see how Prof. Pile obtains and retains the hold on his students that he has; while his rules are stringent and must be obeyed, yet there is a good fellowship existing between professor and students that tells the story.

Tuesday morning only one of many, Rev. Wright talked, as he knows how, to the students along the line of right living, right thinking and right reading, sending them forth to their day's work with renewed purpose. After chapel the different classes met for recitation.

The faculty is an exceptionally strong one and unless a student is under written and also deaf and dumb there is absolutely no chance of him not learning. While we were duly interested in the educational work being done by this great school it was the culinary department that interested us most, and knowing that Prof. and Mrs. Pile are feeding the minds of 700 and incidentally the stomachs of 820 we fell to wondering how it could be done on the small rate charged and the seemingly easy way.

10-11 meals per day! Think of it—1020 meals every day for 10 weeks, but it is easy if you know how and they do. A casual observer is actually "from Missouri" until they are "shown" and they "showed" us. Systematic, judicious management does it. The kitchen is large, airy, and immaculately clean, provided with every convenience is supervised by Mrs. Ella Whitney with three assistants. The amount necessary to supply the table is enormous.

Breakfast consists of a cereal, potatoes, bread and butter or toast and coffee with plenty of good rich cream. Dinner consists of meat, two kinds of vegetables, bread and butter, pickles and dessert, either pudding or pie. Supper consists of cold meat, potatoes, bread and butter and fruit. It takes 200 loaves of bread and 80 pounds of butter every day to furnish the staff of life. They raise their own porkers and one whole hog is cooked at a time. When beef is cooked, which is every other day, it takes a quarter at a time. One beef and two hogs are cooked every week; 12 bushels of potatoes are prepared and cooked every day, while 60 to 80 pies are baked nearly every morning. One half bushel of beans are prepared for one meal, and 8 gallons of tomatoes are cooked at a time; 30 dozen doughnuts or cookies are eaten at a meal and all other food prepared in proportion. They keep 6 fine cows which furnish an abundance of milk and cream which are used on the table. A cold storage room which takes 4 tons of ice to pack, banks the kitchen on one side and here anything perishable is kept fresh and sweet. Groceries are bought by the quantities and in the storage basement are stacks of Curtis canned goods. Good, wholesome, hearty victuals, well cooked and plentiful and all this for the small rate of a little over eight cents per meal.

The capacity of the dining room is inadequate to seat the great number and tables are provided in rooms adjoining to accommodate the overflow. The dining room, with its restful green walls and dainty white curtains is set with tables mostly seating six. Well kept linen and attractive dishes with shining glasses and silver give evidence of the capabilities of the waiters who are all girls working their way through college. These young ladies are singularly fortunate, having an opportunity to learn well demonstrated lessons in domestic economy aside from their regular studies. There are 18 of these deft, capable girls who are under the supervision of a head waiter, Miss Glassburn, who regulates and oversees, having everything run like clock work. To see those 340 hungry boys and girls pour into the big room quietly and orderly, with no more confusion than an ordinary large family is indeed a sight. After a meal is eaten the girls take out dishes, each taking care of the silver and glass of her own table, the whole process taking only the time consumed in any household, and then are ready for their studies again. And so it goes day after day, fifty weeks in the year.

A number of young men are also working their way, taking care of the stock and in the summer tending the garden. They raise their own vegetables of all sorts for summer use and put away potatoes and other winter vegetables. Last year putting away 10 barrels of pickles. During the year they kill about 75 head of hogs, thereby having the finest pork and lard.

This North Nebraska Normal has gradually grown until it has reached its present proportion making it one of the first institutions of its kind in the state of Nebraska. It has a master hand at the helm, and Prof. Pile by indefatigable work and constant supervision, thereby systematizing everything to perfection, has placed this college where it stands today. He has left no stone unturned to provide the best teachers obtainable, while Mrs. Pile besides conducting classes daily, keeps the kitchen, dining room and dormitories under her eagle eye letting no detail escape her. There is one thing needed however and that is more room. The chapel and most of the class rooms are crowded and in order to keep the college up to its present standard and allow the progression it is bound to make, there must be more room. Another building for class work and more dormitories are badly needed. Wayne has a right to be proud of the College and every citizen should wear a North Nebraska Normal badge.

LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

from Bloomfield, passed through Wayne Monday, being returned to Bloomfield for burial.

Robert Pritchard of Carroll bought two fine pure-bred hogs at A. B. Winger's sale at Kingsley, Iowa, on the 31st ult. His purchases are State Maid 92320, costing $180, and a gilt costing $65.

The real estate firms of Ellis & Son and C. O. Blake sold to D. E. Miller, of Wayne, Neb., last Monday, the 120 acre ranch of Harry Smith, located at the mouth of the Greyball river.—Basin (Wyo.) Republican.

Both Ralph Rendell and D. E. Miller bought tracts of land in the Big Horn Basin last week, and they are well satisfied with their investments and believe real estate values there cannot fail to advance steadily and rapidly.

The women's auxiliary to the farmers' institute has already begun preparation for next year's meeting by appointing the following members a committee on program: Mrs. W. A. K. Neely, Mrs. Wm. Oldersleaves and Mrs. F. E. Moses.

THE HERALD is requested to state that donations to the library fund on the occasion of the ladies' social Thursday night amounted to $25, and that any other who wish to contribute may do so by seeing Mrs. Walter Weber, or Mrs. D. E. Miller.

At a recent meeting of the Logan Valley Protective Association in Wakefield to decide on the keeping of two lately acquired bloodhounds, it was voted to establish their headquarters at Concord and give Cal Hoggel $100 per year for taking charge of them.

Fred Sagen who lives between Wakefield and Wayne lost all of his chickens one night last week, but the thief who stole them dropped his pocket-book containing $80.00 in money in the chicken coop, we are told, so the thief was several dollars loser.—Wakefield Republican.

A total eclipse of the moon is on the program for tonight. It will begin about 11 o'clock. It is figured that the total eclipse will occur at 48 minutes past midnight, and that the entire performance will last 3 hours and 48 minutes. The show is free and everybody is invited to attend.

A party of forty-two neighbors and friends of O. W. Worth and family assembled at their home south of town Tuesday, to give them a surprise before their removal to their new home in South Dakota. The guests were laden with good things to eat and a sumptuous dinner was the result.

THE HERALD appreciates the promptness with which subscribers have paid up and renewed during the past few weeks, and also appreciates the many new names that have been added lately to its family of readers. There is still a considerable number in arrears, however, and we expect all will remit without delay. THE HERALD's list was never in so satisfactory shape as it is now, and it will be made better.

Don't buy a cheap incubator for your wife; she has trouble enough now. Buy a Cypers of Kate and she will be happy.

Two large audiences saw a splendid young actor, Elwin Strong, in Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde yesterday. When he presented the play here last season, it was then remarked that Mr. Strong was superior to many stars seen here. He is an excellent reader, he has learned the secret of almost instantaneous changes which demand the greatest dramatic power.—Chattanooga (Tenn.) Sunday Times.

The Rajah of Altara is the title of the musical comedy that will play Wayne Opera House on Friday, February 9. It is founded on a visit of a party of Turkish officers and diplomats to the Rajah of Altara, a province in India. The scenes are laid in India and give ample opportunity, beautiful costumes, and a great chance for the comedians Ralph and Bud Riggs, the supporting comedians, dancers and singers, to make an evening of musical comedy rarely seen these days of musical shows without plot, rhyme or reason. The organization is made up of well known people whose names insure a fine entertainment.

If you have ever had Incubators you will buy a Cypers. If you never had one you can't afford to buy any other kind. See Kate about it.

With the dual role of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde, Mr. Elwin Strong was superb, everyone is satisfied with him in every detail.—Bridgeport (Conn.) Herald.

It will take two weeks to get a Cypers Incubator. Better see J. E. Kate now and check your order.

THE
is today by all odds the one affording Investors and Homesteaders

the greatest opportunity. The elevation is only about 3,000 feet above sea level and the climatic conditions are ideal for farming. The great Crow Indian reservation to be opened to settlement sometime during the present year lies within a few miles of the city of Billings and provision has been made for the reclamation of these lands by the national government. This district offers market opportunities not afforded by many of the cheap land districts to which people are flocking in almost countless thousands. The lands already under ditch can be bought on terms that gives the settler advantages not offered elsewhere. Drop a line to the

RALPH RIGGS.

Of this clever young comedian who is to appear here Friday, February 9, in the musical comedy "The Rajah of Altara," much can be said. He has barely reached his majority, but has already been starr d in some of the largest musical comedies: "The Maid and the Mumsey" re-ent revivals of comic opera in New York, and last season his performance of Antony Tweedlepunch in Florodora earned the very highest encomiums from the eastern press. He has played Tom in all the "Comferts of Home." The Aunt, in "Oharlie's Aunt" and hundreds of parts that have made him famous. At the head of his own comic opera company, this season, and in "The Rajah of Altara," he has a part that fits him like a glove, and has ample opportunity for introducing his phenomenal dancing. The supporting company are all clever comedians, selected from the musical comedies, The Silver Slippers, Florodora and others.

From all appearances there is plenty of luck at the White Fr. at this week.

The Ralph Riggs comic opera company in the musical comedy by William Glover, "The Rajah of Altara," is underlined for Friday, February 9, at the Wayne opera house. Among the well known people in the cast are Ralph Riggs, who performed Antony Tweedlepunch in Florodora; Rose Stillman last season, Lady Holywood in Florodora; Bud Riggs, last two seasons Britton in The Telephone Girl; Chas. Britton, baritone last two seasons in The Silver Slipper; William Glover, several seasons conductor of the Sultan of Sulu and King Dodo, Katherine Wooty and the Pony Spanish dancers from Florodora, William Willis, Elaine Gilbert, soprano, William Doyle and others recruited from the best musical shows. It is said this comedy is exceptionally funny. Other clever singers, dancers and comedians in the cast of The Rajah of Altara are Mary Fairbroe, Lucian White, May Roylton and Jennette Lewis.
