A ball player at West Point recently snapped the knee cap of his right leg by making a quick turn to throw a ball, and as a result it was necessary for him to go to an Omaha hospital.

Father Haley went to Jackson Tuesday to attend the two-days' celebration of the semi-centennial anniversary of the arrival of the Father Tracy colony at St. John's, near Jackson.

Phil Kohl went to Sioux City Tuesday morning and expected to go from there to Crystal lake to spend the remainder of the week. The promise of an unexpectedly large harvest of winter wheat encourages the planting of that variety.

Last year a general scarcity of apples and the almost prohibitive prices for the small amount produced compelled people to put the brakes on their appetites for such fruit. This year it will be different. There is promise of abundant apple crops every where.

About a dozen delegates attended a meeting of the Northeast Nebraska Baptist association in Wayne on Tuesday. The chief purpose of the session was to give attention to the different churches of the district not at present supplied with pastors. binations bridge which has been leased. The electric road will place Dakota county in still closer touch with Sioux City.

John Anderson, the man who layette, had a sunstroke Wednesday afternoon. He was digging a ditch for Henry Bartels, and was in a place surrounded by high grass where no wind could get to him and consequently was overcome by the heat. He was brought to town where he was given medical attention and at last reports was getting along all right.—Wakefield Republican.

Dr. Lelsnering was slated for local examiner of applicants for military service, and supposed from the extensive examination and ceremony required that the compensation would justify the time and skill. But he inquired into the pecuniary part of the performance, and learned that the magnificent sum of $1 would be paid for each examination. As a result he promptly declined to serve.

The present season has been one that illustrates the truth that farm writers and lecturers have for years been trying to teach—keep cultivating and stirring the soil in a dry season, and don't let it bake. There is no surer or better method of withstanding a drought than this surface stirring of soil. When the surface of the ground begins to dry no further evidence is needed that the cultivator should be brought into use.—Randolph Times.

Turner Bros. are threshing a top-notch yield of wheat grown on their ranch northwest of the city. They have put through the machine the product from about twenty acres and the average yield of this is one of the best ever recorded in Dodge county. It went 42 bushels to the acre, weighing 62 pounds to the measured bushel. The local price is 62 cents a bushel, making the gross returns of the land $26.14 per acre, attesting the profitability of winter wheat growing in Nebraska.—Fremont Tribune.

County Superintendent Littell was called to Omaha last week by the death of his mother. Speaking of her death, the Pierce Leader says: "Mrs. Littell will be remembered by Pierce people, she having lived in this county for about ten or twelve years. All those who had the pleasure of making her acquaintance will remember her as a kind, noble and christian woman, and the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community goes out to the afflicted in their sad and irreparable loss."

"Occur" means that it just happened so, by chance—as when the editor has a good dinner. "To take place" means what is done by design and taking thought, as when the bank president us with a sight draft. We are almost tempted to say that the next man who brings copy in here saying that a funeral or a wedding "occurred," or that a death "took place" will get whanged with the office towel, the same being fatal. We want grammar as "she is wrote" and the above old error is ancient enough by this time to be turned out to grass.—Fairfield Herald.

Mrs. John Meister and children, Joe, John, Mary, Annie, "Toots" and Mrs. Herbert Bluechel and son, Theodore, left for their new home at Wayne, Monday morning. Messrs. Meister and Bluechel having preceded them. A goodly number gathered at the depot to say good-bye. The Meister family, were among the oldest and most respected residents of our city and will be missed in business and social circles. Wayne is the gainer and we predict the family's popularity there. May all that is good be theirs. The News will visit them as of yore.—West Point News.

Thos. B. Nelson who left Tuesday morning with his father and mother and sister for their new location at Rapid City, S. D., goes there with the intention of entering the law business in partnership with an old practitioner of ability and long and successful experience. Mr. Nelson graduated with high standing from the law department of the Nebraska university this year, and he is a young man of talent, industry and good habits. His many Wayne friends extend best wishes and believe he will satisfy the expectations of those who are looking forward to his success in the law.

According to reports of the scientists the seventeen-year locusts are due this year, and if they are on schedule time, within a few weeks the fields of Iowa, Nebraska and South Dakota will be alive with the pests. It is asserted also that thirteen-year viceroy are also due this year, and the coming of both varieties at once is something which only happens once in 200 years. It is claimed that when hoppers are few the time is ripe for hordes of locusts, as the ordinarily destroy the locusts eggs in great quantities, but there is nothing to destroy the eggs this year, and it is said it is time for the old curse of Moses, uttered 3,367 years ago this summer, to be realized again.—Sioux City Tribune.

A story of revolting cruelty to two helpless young children comes from Broken Bow. After the mother died, they were placed in charge of a sister, in whose family they were subjected to abuse and barbarities that would be scorned by the savages of the South Sea Islands. The brutal father consented to the diabolical manner in which his offspring were kept. The guilty hyenas were fined, whereas they deserved to go to the penitentiary and stay there. The stakes should prescribe a penitentiary treatment for those who are guilty of inflicting cruelties on innocent, defenseless children. The two little sufferers in question are to be sent to their grandmother at Pender, and they will hereafter receive proper care.

The Sure Hatch incubator factory, recently acquired by Fremont capitalists at a cost of $40,000 and moved to that city from Clay Center, is to be started off in big, new buildings and its capacity for turning out machines greatly enlarged and improved. Material costing $115,000 has been ordered for the immediate construction of 26,000 machines, for which there is a ready market. Orders for the Sure Hatch come not only from all parts of America but also from foreign lands, the demand being mainly built up through extensive and judicious advertising. The X Ray incubator, invented by Dr. Porter of Ponca and which has met a successful test in the hands of John Kate at this place, is believed to be superior to the Sure Hatch. All have to create a demand for it is to have its merits properly placed before the public.

Celebration of the semi-centennial anniversary of the landing of the Father Tracy colony near Jackson recalls the fact that that town's first paper was started about thirty years ago by a brother of W. S. Goldie, editor of the Democrat, and that after piloting it along for some months he sold his plant, part of it to W. Huse, Sr., then of the Ponca Journal. Whereupon Mr. Huse started the Jackson Reporter and ran it as an auxiliary to the Ponca Journal. Jackson people didn't like the "auxiliary" idea, and the publication was accordingly suspended after an existence of nearly a year. It was some time before the town got another newspaper visitation. Jackson was wild and unruly in those early days and took to the trimmings of civilization slowly and reluctantly. Fights and drunken brawls were so commonplace that they attracted little notice unless some one got killed or badly hurt, which happened frequently. Standing in society seemed to be graded according to the amount of liquor inspiration that a man could consume. In time the elements of semi-civilization were tamed and the town yielded to the propensities of good order.

Saturday's Sioux City Journal reported the following action relative to the Hidden Fortune mine, in which a number of Wayne capitalists have been interested: "The Hidden Fortune stockholders met today and instructed the board of directors to accept the proposition made by the Columbus Mining company. This offer includes the taking over by the Columbus of the Hidden Fortune property and the payment of sufficient Columbus bonds to liquidate the Hidden Fortune indebtedness, including the judgment of $250,000 recently assumed in favor of the bondholders; further, 2,000,000 shares in the newly organized Columbus company will be issued to the stockholders of the Hidden Fortune. The Columbus will bond its property for $400,000, this amount to be used to build an adequate mill for treatment of its ores. Arrangements have already been completed for disposing of these bonds. If this consolidation is effected, as seems probable, the new company will be one of the largest and strongest in the Hills and will have an acreage of 299 acres. Both properties have large bodies of low grade ore similar to those in the Homestake."

DEATH OF MRS. SNYDER.

The death of Mrs. Chas. Snyder occurred at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eli Bonawitz, in Wayne, Monday morning, July 16, at 8:30 o'clock. Mrs. Snyder had been ill with consumption for about a year, but had only taken to her bed since Friday night. She came with her parents from Holt county about fifteen years ago and has resided in Wayne county ever since, being at the time of her death aged 23 years and two days. Mrs. Snyder leaves to mourn her death, besides her husband and three small children, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eli Bonawitz, one brother, Wesley Bonawitz, and one sister, Mrs. Chris Hanson, all of Wayne.

The funeral took place Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Methodist church, Rev. Wright conducting the services.

INDIAN BLOWOUT.

The annual celebration of the Winnebago tribe of Indians began yesterday at the agency, two miles from the Winnebago station on the Burlington road, and will continue until Sunday night. It will consist of horse racing, foot racing, and ceremonial dancing, including the brave dance and the soap dance.

According to Arthur E. McFatrige, government agent in charge of the reservation, who was at the Mondamin last night, it will be one of the most interesting tribal gatherings ever held at the reservation and distinctly worth seeing. On Sunday, the last day of the celebration, 1,000 Indians are expected to gather in paint and feathers and execute their weird native dances. Mr. McFatrige last year succeeded in keeping the Indians sober during the big week and he said last night that the gathering would be orderly if it could possibly be made so.

The Burlington road began the operation of trains to the reservation yesterday. Those who wish to see the dancing and racing can leave here at 6 o'clock in the morning, arriving at the reservation in a little more than an hour and returning to Sioux City at 5:30 o'clock. The new road is not in shape to handle a heavy excursion business and no excursions or low rates have been arranged.

Mr. McFatrige said the use of the mescal bean was spreading and that as many as 200 Indians are addicted to the pernicious drug. The agent has no power to prohibit its use and the fact that it is part of a religious rite makes it particularly hard to control. If the Indians are chided for drinking the tea which they brew from the bean, they answer with quotations from scripture. It is probable that the state legislature will enact a law prohibiting the use of the bean, at the next session.—Sioux City Journal.

THE NOBLE HEN.

John Kate, champion of the majesty of the American hen, presents the following quotations as expressive of his sentiments:

Fresh eggs are said to be practically the only unadulterated food on the market.—Kansas City Star.

All honor to the truthful hen.

P. and bird that stoops not to deceit; Who plays no crafty "shell game" when She fills her eggshells full of meat. She with the dove should be pictured be In emblematic purity.

—Chicago Tribune.

Ill-treated barnyard fowl despised With frozen comb and frost nibbled legs; On whom a frowning fate has smiled, Small thanks for nullified eggs, Which warm the Epicurean heart Or—criticize the Theopial's art.

Nesting in dirt or outcast straw Cheated by china door-knob eggs; Scratching to fill your empty craw On weeds and worms and scraps and dregs; Still thou art honest! noble hen! Well mayest scorn the ways of men.

Home-Made Milk Cooler. It is not an easy task for those who have but a small quantity of milk to care for to do it with economy. Creamed New Potatoes. Rub the thin skin from new potatoes and cook in salted boiling water. Make a sauce from one rounding tablespoon each of flour and butter and one cup of milk and season with salt and pepper. Set in the oven just long enough to cook the egg in the sauce, for both sauce and potatoes are hot when put together. Sprinkle with a very little finely minced parsley and serve in the same dish...

Raspberries Almond. The German recipe for raspberry vinegar is very good. Take one quart of ripe raspberries, pour one pint of the best white vinegar over them and let them stand for three days in a cool place, stirring well twice each day. Boil in a granite, porcelain or brass sauce pan until it is like syrup. Take off the foam from the syrup, let it cool, and then bottle it...

Guanoberry Olives. Select large, fully-grown green guanoberries. Strip off the skin, being careful not to break the skin. Fill the seeders as full as they will hold of the fruit, then pour in cold water until two-thirds full and fill in the rest with the best olive vinegar. To every two-quart jar add two tablespoonfuls of salt, and half that amount for a quart jar. Seal up tight. Put in a cool place, and will be ready for use in two weeks, although they improve with age...

Pen Batters. Cook a pint or three cups more peas than you need for dinner. Mash white hot with a wooden spoon, seasoning with pepper, salt and butter. Put up in tight tins. Curious Habits of Sheep. To compile all the peculiar habits of sheep would require a great deal of space. It is quite generally known that when one sheep of a flock goes the whole flock is sure to follow. One sheep finds a branch in the fence and soon the whole flock is out and some of them may not even wait to find the branch, but will go but in any way possible, even if they are compelled to jump. Sheep do not like to get their feet muddy and they are averse to putting their feet in the water...

Lime and Salt Keep Eggs. The water-bath method is not the only one of keeping eggs in fairly good condition for quite a long period. Some years ago the Rhode Island Experiment Station tested a number of different methods, and found that salt brine and lime water, used in equal parts, was the best preservative. The eggs were held over a year in the pickle, and all came out good. The station reported as follows: The surface of the liquid was crusty, and considerable silt had settled to the bottom of the jar...

Economy in the Legume. Agricultural chemists tell us that while two tons of timothy hay, or a good average crop from an acre, takes away fifty pounds of nitrogen, a crop of clover of same weight takes over eighty pounds; likewise while the timothy hay takes off thirty-six pounds of potash, the clover takes nearly ninety pounds. With phosphorus it is different; the timothy takes twenty-one pounds, but the clover only fourteen pounds. But the nitrogen which is the most expensive element is drawn from the air, to a large extent. In the case of clover, and so need not be supplied in the fertilizer. Here is the economy in growing the legume, which has the power, as it were, of making its own fertilizer, or most of it...

Manure Aid to Fruit Trees. A Pennsylvania states that he has never used commercial fertilizers in an apple orchard. If the ground is too poor to produce apples, nothing is better than barnyard manure, which answers every purpose, both for a mulch or for enriching the ground. In planting an apple orchard the ground should be manured every year for about ten years, growing such crops as potatoes, truck, etc., so that the ground will get manure as often as the crops will require it, and that will be sufficient for the growth of the apple trees and fruit. After that time the land may be seeded down and occasionally farmed and manured sufficiently to keep the land in a fertile condition...

Money for Experiment Work. The Adams bill becomes a law by the approval of the President. Under its provisions the annual Federal experiment station is increased from $15,000 to $20,000 at once, and hereafter by the addition of $2,000 annually until a total of $15,000 is reached. At the end of five years each State station will receive $30,000 annually from the government, which must be expended in experimental work, not instruction. Not to exceed 5 per cent of the additional Adams appropriation can be expended for building, repairs, purchase or rental. It means more work for the stations and this material aid will be heartily welcomed...

Save Ammonia from Manure. All stable manure will be improved if potash in some form is added, especially of the potash salt. Kautz has been found useful for this purpose. It is a crude sulphate of potash and contains a large proportion of salt. It will arrest the escape of ammonia and prove valuable of itself when applied to the land. It is also excellent on land infested with grubs, though not a complete remedy for such pests. It is cheap and should be used more extensively where manure is being saved...

The Best Calf Food. Separated milk as a food for calves, when fed alone from the machine, makes a muddled milk food. Careful experiments show that practically no calves can be raised on separated milk direct from the machine, as can be obtained on whole milk, provided the butter fat lost in the removal of the cream is replaced by linned meal, corn meal, or flour or molasses...

Greatest Alfalfa Field. Kansas has the largest continuous alfalfa field in the world. This belongs to Colonel J. W. Robinson, Eldorado, and includes more than 2,500 acres, the product of which brings a small fortune to its owner each year...

Will Row Till Judgment Day. There is a shrewd, shaggy legend among the people who live along the Hudson River which is to the effect that that stream is the everlasting boiling waters of a specter who is personified as Rabbott Van Dam. Many a back in colonial times Rabbott and his friends were delirious until late at night. Finally this man Rabbott started for home, some distance up the river, in his boat, swearing that he would row the distance if it took "a month of Sundays." Rabbott never reached home, and the superstitious people say that he has been condemned to row until Judgment day...

Utterly Worn Out. Vitality Sapped by Years of Suffering with Kidney Trouble. Capt. J. W. Hogan, former Postmaster of Indiana, now living at Austin, Texas, writes: "I was afflicted for years with pains across the loins and in the hips and shoulders. I had headaches, also, and neuralgia. My right eye, from pain, was of little use to me for years. The constant flow of urine kept my system depleted, causing nervous chills and night sweats. After trying every different medicine and using all kinds of medicine, I had the good fortune to hear of Doan's Kidney Pills. This remedy has cured me. I am as well to-day as I was twenty years ago, and my eyesight is perfect..."

Beauty Outweighed by Boorish. "A pretty girl, even if she is poor, can have all the attention she wants, can't she?" "Yes, there's only one that can beat her." "Who's that?" "A homely girl with the coin." Cleveland Teller.

FOUR YEARS OF AGONY. Whole Foot Nothing but Proud Flesh—Had to Die Crutches—Cuticura Remedy the Best on Earth. "In the year 1890 the side of my right foot was cut off from the little toe down to the heel, and the physician who had charge of me was trying to sew up the side of my foot, but with no success. At last my whole foot and way up above my calf was nothing but proud flesh. I suffered untold agonies for four years, and tried different physician's and all kinds of ointments. I could walk only with crutches. In two weeks afterwards I saw a change in my limb. Then I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment often during the day and kept it up for seven months, when my limb was healed up just the same as if I never had trouble. It is eight months now since I stopped using Cuticura Remedies, the best on God's earth. I am working at the present day, after five years of suffering. The cost of Cuticura Ointment and Soap was only $6, but the doctors' bills were more like $600. John M. Lloyd, 718 S. Arch Ave., Alliance, Ohio, June 27, 1905."

George D. Mecklejohn ought to stay in Nebraska longer at a stretch if he expects high official honors thrust on him.

The HERALD has heard favorable mention of two Wayne county men for representative—County Attorney Sيمان and Bert Brown.

John Alexander Dowie's influence as the reincarnated Elijah, has petered out. He is now regarded by his former army of satellites as a consummate mountebank.

Rev. Luther P. Ludden of Lincoln, who has long been prominently associated with the progress of the Lutheran church in Nebraska, is a leading candidate for the republican nomination for lieutenant governor.

Monday's Sioux City Journal makes the startling announcement that Governor Mickey will accept the endorsement of the republican state convention of Nebraska for United States senator if it is tendered to him.

A Norris Brown supporter, who has traveled over the state considerably, was heard to remark in Wayne recently that if the republican choice for United States senator were left to the people, Edward Rosewater would be the man.

Wouldn't increased passenger traffic warrant the installation of Pullman service from Sioux City to connect at Norfolk with Black Hills and Wyoming trains? Probably however, the railroad company knows more about it than does this department.

It is to be inferred from his editorial expression that the chief pledge of the platform on which Moses Warner expects to ride into the governorship as the democratic nominee, will be one promising to land the entire republican newspaper aggregation within the smoking precincts of Tartarus.

As between the two candidates aspiring to become the choice of the republican state convention for United States senator, it appears, from what the HERALD can learn, that the sentiment in Wayne county is favorable to Edward Rosewater, the veteran editor of the Omaha Bee. His long record as an active enemy of oppressive combinations of wealth is believed to be consistent with the demands of the public.

Imagining the supremacy of Congressman McCarthy in the congressional contest in this district, the editor of the Pender Republic, in a spasm of ebullient exultation, incidentally says the HERALD has given malicious opposition to McCarthy and treated him to false accusations. The HERALD's files refute the Republic's filig. Not a syllable, either showing malice or falsehood, has appeared in the HERALD in opposition to McCarthy or any other candidate. It is likely, however, that the Republic man gets his statement as nearly correct as his pyrotechnic and unhealthy imagination will allow him to make it. He is also—though naturally enough—battling against contrary indications when he assumes and announces that McCarthy is a sure winner.

THE DEMOCRACY OF DEATH.

John J. Ingalls: In the democracy of the dead all men are equal. There is neither rank nor station or prerogative in the republic of the grave. At this fatal threshold the philosopher ceases to be wise and the song of the poet is silent. Dives relinquishes his millions and Lazarus his rags. The poor man is as rich as the richest and the rich man is as poor as the poorest. The creditor loses his usury and the debtor is acquitted of his obligation. There the proud man surrenders his dignities, the politician his honors, the worldling his pleasures; the invalid needs no physician and the laborer rests from his unrequited toil.

Here at last is nature's final decree in equity. The wrongs of time are redressed, injustice is expiated, the irony of fate is refuted, the unequal distribution of wealth, honor, capacity, pleasure and opportunity, which make life so cruel and inexplicable, ceases in the realm of death. The strongest there has no supremacy and the weakest needs no defense. The mightiest captain succumbs to that invincible adversary, who disarms alike the victor and the vanquished.

HOMESTEADS AND IRRIGATION.

The opening to homestead entry of the million acres of the Wind River reservation in Wyoming enforces attention to the fact that the public domain still available for free homes is largely confined to the region of insufficient rainfall. From the Canadian to the Mexican boundary line most of the good government land suitable for general farming purposes without artificial water supply has already been taken. There are indeed areas which by special methods not required in the great rain belt to the east can be profitably cultivated, but relatively to the unoccupied dry portion they are of small extent.

It is suggestive of the change of the conditions which up to this time have confronted the movement of population westward across the continent that elaborate arrangements are being now made in advance of the homestead filings to irrigate the Wind River tract. In fact the homestead law would be futile without reclamation of the land by irrigation.

The homestead question is thus rapidly becoming practically a question of irrigation. The government, indeed, under the initiative of President Roosevelt, took up that subject in the last

Congress in a broad way, none too quickly, and in spite of the energetic administration of the irrigation law the probability is that the pressure of population for homes within the dry region may soon outrun the means of reclamation.—Omaha Bee.

Does It Pay?

WE HAVE BEEN ASKED the question numberless times: Does it pay to raise winter wheat? For five years we have taken a good deal of pains to find out as to whether it pays or not. We find after investigating this matter thoroughly that it DOES PAY. When wheat yields from 25 to 40 bushels per acre and sells at 75 cents per bushel it pays to raise it. It has been and can be done. It should be sown, in this latitude, with press drill as early as possible, on ground that has been plowed and prepared for it. Crops should be rotated. No soil will produce the same crop year after year without reducing the yield and impoverishing it. Land values are advancing. Keep up with them by producing crops that pay. Winter wheat is one of the crops that pays. Now is the time to investigate for fall seeding before it is too late.

Locusts, thought to be the 17-year variety, have appeared in parts of Minnesota and Colorado. As yet, they don't seem to be sufficiently numerous in America to do much damage. In Hungary, however, swarms of locusts have destroyed a great area of growing crops.

The republican county convention comes one week from next Saturday, when a candidate for county attorney will be nominated and delegates to the various conventions chosen. There are no outstanding interests locally, and the convention promises to pass off harmoniously and to the satisfaction of all.

The Pender Republic commends Judge Graves as the proper man for the democrats to nominate for congress. The Republic thus takes a kindly interest in a home man, but why does it urge the nomination of a home man by the opposition if it thinks Congressman McCarthy will triumph in the convention and later at the polls?

The Quaker Medicine show, running all week in the big tent north of the court house, has attracted large crowds at each performance. These performances are altogether meritorious and should not be gauged by the admission price, which is absurdly low for the entertainment given by these excellent people.—West Point Republican.

Mrs. A. A. Welch and Mrs. A. M. Jacobs entertained a social gathering of young people Tuesday evening at the home of the former in honor of Miss Florence Welch and Miss Mable Davis, the latter of Boston. There were between thirty and forty guests, and the evening was pleasantly spent. Music was furnished by Otto and Pauline Veget.

John Kate has found the X Ray incubator, invented by Dr. Porter of Ponca, to be a success beyond expectations. Of the eighty-seven eggs which he set, seventy-nine hatched, being over ninety per cent, which is a record unequalled by other makes. An incubator usually consumes six or seven gallons of oil during a hatch, while the X Ray uses less than one gallon, needs filling but once and regulates and distributes its heat. Little attention is required to bring a hatch through in good shape. Negotiations are now in progress looking to the establishment of a factory in Wayne with John Kate at the head of it. There is good prospect that the institution will be started here, and as the success of a factory or any business depends largely on the management, it would start off auspiciously in the hands of John Kate. He is known as a successful manager, and in undertaking the incubator business is entering a field with which he is perfectly familiar. The question of establishing a factory here will probably be settled within a week.

If the 17-year locusts, now said to be due, don't appear in larger numbers or do greater damage than they did seventeen years ago, there is no occasion for alarm. This department doesn't remember that there was any invasion by locusts seventeen years ago, and if there were any they were so few and feeble that no injury to crops resulted. Not since the grasshopper scourge of the early seventies has this country been damaged by flying pests, and there is no reason to suppose that such an infernal visitation of manranging insects will ever recur.

The Wayne capitalists who organized a company last fall and bought 30,000 acres of land in Mackintosh county, North Dakota, have already sold about 1,500 acres of the tract and the land-selling season has just commenced. Growing crops in that country could not look better and there is assurance of an enormous harvest. Naturally as a consequence, the demand for real estate has been greatly stimulated. The Wayne dealers have an excellent body of land and are able to sell it at prices that will accrue to the profit of present buyers.

Crops in this locality are certainly about up to the average and farmers are feeling good, although the time may be a little shorter on account of the dry weather. The other crops are probably better; corn is cleaner from weeds, and oats are well filled and free from rust. All things considered, we have no reason for complaint. We creatures are usually too ready to complain, anyhow.

HIGH TIDE IN CROPS.

GREAT RICHES FOR THE AMERICAN FARMER.

Grain. This Year Big Fair to Eclipse Record—Total Yield of Billions—What of Best Quality—Corn Prospects Brilliant.

Yields.

Total indicated grain yield, 4,291,444,000 bushels.

Actual yield last year, 4,518,267,000 bushels.

Area of grain fields, 177,772,000 acres.

Area planted in wheat, 47,012,900 acres.

Area planted in corn, 105,337,000 acres.

Area planted in oats, 27,675,000 acres.

Indications that American farmers will harvest the largest grain crop in the history of the country are given in the government report on conditions of July 1, and nothing shows in the way of unprecedented prosperity throughout the farming regions.

Not only is the prospect for a bumper harvest most bright, but market quotations show that the farmer will receive a fair price for his grain, while crops from Europe are that the crop will be 15,000,000 bushels short of that of 1905, indicating that there demand will be large, and prices will have to fill a good part of it.

It was thought when last year's crop was harvested that the market for wheat was reaching a point where the price would be high, but the fact that the crop was 100,000,000 bushels above the indication of the crop, however, indicate that the price will be suppressed in the fall.

The Cure of Graft.

W. J. Ghent, the well-known Socialist writer, presents in the Independent the view of this necessary and the present question of graft. He says that the graft and the conditions of the existing regime are protesting against further motion of this subject for fear that it will destroy confidence in our institutions and leaders and will shake the foundations of the Republic.

DREYFUS IS VINDICATED.

French Supreme Court Annals Captain's Conviction.

The French Supreme Court Thursday announced its decision annulling the conviction of Dreyfus without a retrial. The effect of the decision is a complete vindication of Dreyfus, entitling him to restoration to his rank in the army as though he had never been accused.

As the decision was pronounced the scene was one of impressive dignity. The court, consisting of forty-nine judges, gowned in flowing red robes, solemnly mounted the bench. Deep silence prevailed as the presiding judge read the lengthy decision, minutely reviewing the series of sensational events of the last twelve years and completely exonerating Dreyfus of all wrong doing, freeing him of the accusation of being the author of the famous incriminating documents, and ordering the annulment of the judgment of the Rennes court-martial with the publication of the final announcement of his innocence in fifty newspapers to be chosen by Captain Dreyfus.

The reading of the decision lasted an hour and it was only at the close that the spectators realized the sweeping nature of the vindication. As the final determination was announced there was a buzz of excited comment and some exclamations of approval, which the court officers sternly repressed.

History of Famous Case.

Capt. Alfred Dreyfus was arrested on the charge of treason in Paris on Oct. 15, 1894. His arrest was the beginning of one of the most marvellous stories of conspiracy, fraud and forgery known to the military annals of a modern nation.

For more than a year it was known to the French government that a traitor in the French war department was selling military secrets to foreign governments. Suspicion was directed toward Dreyfus. This suspicion was seemingly confirmed by the discovery by a French spy in the waste paper basket of Lieut. Col. von Schwartzkoppen, the German military attaché in Paris, of the fragments of a paper which when pressed together formed a memorandum in reference to the military head of the French army. This memorandum came to be known as the famous bordereau which figured so extensively in the trial.

Dreyfus was arrested by Major Du Tilly de Cham. Of five experts who compared the bordereau with the handwriting of Dreyfus, three declared it to be his. The handwriting was found to be a striking similarity and possibly disguised.

Dreyfus was convicted and publicly degraded on Jan. 5, 1895. He was taken before his regiment, drawn up in parade order, and his uniform torn from him. He was marched to the accompaniment of a military band to the front of the regiment.

On Feb. 9, 1895, Dreyfus was transported to Devil's Island, off the coast of Cayenne.

Almost at once the French people, convinced that a great wrong had been done to an officer of the army, began an agitation for a revision of his trial. The belief that Dreyfus was innocent was strengthened by the discovery in 1895 of a card-telegram—the famous "petit bleu"—in Lieut. Col. von Schwartzkoppen's handwriting, and addressed to Commandeur Esterhazy, calling upon him for more detailed information on a certain subject.

It was this famous "petit bleu" which finally brought about Dreyfus's final liberation. His writings were found to be the same hand as the bordereau and all indications pointed to Esterhazy and not Dreyfus as being the traitor.

There was a formidable, far-reaching conspiracy in the French army to prevent the vindication of Dreyfus. Col. Picquart was discovered by the "petit bleu" and was removed from the office of chief of the intelligence department, and Lieut. Col. Henry applied. Gen. de Boisdeffre, chief of the general staff, announced in parliament that Dreyfus had been convicted on secret and irrefragable evidence. Gen. Moresco confirmed this. Esterhazy was acquitted by a military court.

It is interesting to note that the military court made himself the champion of Dreyfus. He wrote the celebrated "petit bleu" which aroused public opinion. Zola was convicted of slander and forced to go to Metz, but his famous letter gave Dreyfus a new trial.

In the meantime Col. Henry had committed suicide in his cell, his last act being to forgive in connection with the case. It has always been believed that Henry was forced to kill himself by his superior officers.

Dreyfus returned to France on July 1, 1899. His second court-martial began at Rennes on Aug. 7. The same forged personality evidence was used against him and he was again convicted a few days later. Since then he has been fighting for rehabilitation.

JOINS THE THEOSOPHISTS.

Lyman J. Gage, former Secretary of the Treasury, Goes to California.

Lyman J. Gage, former Secretary of the Treasury, has given up financial life, in which he had been a most prominent figure in Chicago, Washington and New York for many years, and has taken up a residence, which he expects will be permanent, with the colony of Theosophists at Point Loma, Cal., of which Madame Hingley is the high priestess. Mr. Gage says that this final step in a direction he has long been inclined is the result of a vision and that during his sleep he was commanded to join the Point Loma colony.

While the news of Mr. Gage's action comes as a surprise to the financial world to those who have been thrown into intimate personal contact with the banker his leaning toward theosophy has long been known. Even before the death of his wife, which occurred while he was Secretary of the Treasury, during the McKinley regime, Mr. Gage looked a deep interest in that cult. This interest has grown since Mrs. Gage's death.

Even so far back as 1892, when he was one of the great directing forces of the world's fair in Chicago, Mr. Gage gave much thought to theosophy. In a personal talk with a correspondent, he said at that time that he believed theosophy explained many things that all other religions and even science left in darkness. He spoke of Madame Blavatsky and while he refused to give her his personal endorsement or confidence, he declared his belief that she was endowed with remarkable powers. From the mysterious abilities he acknowledged in her, he then forecast the occultist of the West he argued the truth of his beliefs.

ALIENS SET NEW MARK.

Total of 1,042,051 Immigrants Admitted During the Past Year.

During the year ended June 30 there was a record in the number of immigrants arriving in this country, as compared with last year. The total number of arrivals during the year in this country was 1,042,051, as compared with 950,000 in 1905, and 850,000 in 1904.

Of the grand total of arrivals during the fiscal year just passed, 885,454 were aliens who were admitted to the United States. That is more people than there are in the State of Florida, for instance, and more than there are in any one of the several great Western States. Of the 885,454 aliens, 695,734 were males, 279,820 females, 109,900 were under the age of 14, 16th sexes, and 38,200 were over the age of 15 years.

Approximately these aliens brought into the United States with them a total wealth of $100,000,000 or enough to buy an entire block of Broadway skyscrapers with probably a snug nest-egg left over.

Of the number of arrivals 1906 were citizens who came in the past year. There were 156,597 of whom 105 were naturalized. One of those who were naturalized was a woman who had been a resident of the United States for many years.

Many immigrants arrived from the South of Italy, from Italy, from Greece, a city of 100,000, from the East, about 220,000. The Jews come next, with 125,000, many of whom were forced to leave their homes in Russia on account of the massacres.

The total number of arrivals in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1906, was 1,042,051, of whom 788,219 were admitted to the United States.

ALTON IS HEAVILY FINED.

Hull and Two Former Officials Must Pay $100,000.

Judge Landis at Chicago passed sentence on the Chicago & Alton Railroad and two former officials of the road in the case charging the granting of rebates. A total of $100,000 in fines was imposed. The defendants were found guilty under the Elkins law. The sentence was as follows:

Chicago and Alton railroad, $100,000; $20,000 on each of two counts.

John N. Hulthorn, former vice president, $10,000; $5,000 on each of two counts.

Ernest A. Wynn, former freight agent, $10,000; $5,000 on each of two counts.

Judge Landis declared he saw no extenuating circumstances in the case, and in passing sentence the judge said: "A jury has rendered a verdict, and from it I see no escape. Counsel has talked about this being open and unimportant in Kansas City, but there is no fact before me that this was not a serious offense. The Elkins law was passed in 1903. There was considerable negotiation concerning its passage. I do not forget that railroad men and shipmen were diligent and diligent attention to that law and any man interested in the general situation would have had no trouble in finding out about the law. These offenses took place one year after the law was passed. I will say there are not many facts in this case in support of the arguments, that this is not a case for substantial punishment."

Former Senator Dwight Coburn, who was appointed by Gov. Hoar to be United States Senator from Kansas, succeeding Joseph R. Burton, declined to accept the appointment. Gov. He has held the office of judge of the Franklin-Douglas Judicial district and has served in the Legislature. Judge Benson is a close friend of Gov. Diseases like cramp colic and cholera morbus require prompt treatment, and have in many instances proven fatal before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. The right way is to keep at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. No physician can prescribe a better medicine for these diseases. The wrong way to select harness is the way it is usually done. Price is generally the first consideration. If that is very low the goods seem attractive, regardless of quality. Judge our goods the other way about. Examine into the quality of this harness first. Then you will see that it is worth almost any price. But our prices are not high. Value considered they are remarkably low.

Nebraska People Profit by the Great Earthquake and Fire at San Francisco.
Two of the largest San Francisco piano companies were forced by the great catastrophe to forfeit heavy contracts with eastern factories. The Schmolzer & Moller Piano Company, of Omaha, were successful in securing one hundred and twenty of these instruments at a great sacrifice by acting promptly and paying spot cash. They now propose to give the benefit to their customers by disposing of them quickly at a slight advance over cost, as follows:
Handsomeness, new upright pianos of New York and Boston manufacture in Colonial cases of dark Mahogany or French Dark Walnut finish (seven favorite) and have made to sell for less than $200. will be closed out at the remarkable cut price of $175. Do not delay. Call or write at once for catalogues and circulars. Information given six hundred pianos in stock. Address The Schmolzer & Moller Piano Co., 1524 Broadway, Omaha.

Don't Let Them Die

It is not necessary for anyone to lose many young chickens. One cent invested in CHICK FEED will save and raise a chick. Try it.
