LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Events of the Week Dished Out in Brief.

Mrs. C. B. Owens is quite ill. Smallpox has broken out at York, Neb. Geo. Oman of Carroll, was a Wayne visitor Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Mashom went up to Carroll, Saturday.

"Bob" Carr returned to his home at Okmank, Kas., Saturday.

S. R. Theobald & Co. are moving into their new addition this week.

Leonard Blasinger and wife are down from Wayne for a visit.—Pender Times.

Dr. C. S. Ellis and wife returned the last of the week from a visit with friends in Sioux City.

W. B. Gamble and family visited friends at Laurel Saturday, returning Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Sayidge returned to Wayne the last of the week from a trip to the Dakotas and Minnesota.

Judge Hunter married Mr. William Jordan and Miss Beale Conley, Tuesday afternoon. Both reside near Randolph.

August Thies, Wm. Stettman and August Behrens arrived here Monday noon from Altona and took out their naturalization papers.—Stanton Register.

Mr. and Mrs. N. I. Jublin and Mrs. Chas. Schutholtz went to Winside, Friday to be present at the organization of a Rebekah lodge at that place that evening.

Beverly Graham and Guy Strickland went by train to Pilger today where they will take the train for Lincoln. They will attend the state university the coming year.

Messrs. and Mesdames Tyler, Darnell, Goff and Jones, and Mesdames. Broomin and Jones of Winside, were taken into the Ben Hur lodge at this place Saturday evening.

Daily papers would have commanded fancy prices here this week. Neither telegraphic nor telegraphic communication was the best and the city was practically isolated so far as news was concerned.

Dr. O'Neill, a highly recommended veterinarian from Lyons, Neb., will arrive in Wayne as soon as the weather will permit and will make his headquarters at the Palace Livery barn of L. L. Way.

Harry Farrell moved this week from the Crockett house in the east part of town to the residence second door north of the county jail. The property will be occupied by J. R. Morgan, the city electrician, as soon as his household goods can be shipped from Omaha.

Last Saturday afternoon quite a number of the cream sellers met and formed a temporary organization for the purpose of organizing permanently later. Frank Dahlheimer was chosen chairman. The interest taken warrants the public in believing that something definite will come from the agitation. A committee of three was appointed to go to Wayne and investigate the situation there.—Carroll Index.

Prof. B. Darrin, proprietor of Wayne's marble and Granite works, tells us that other monument men are scouring the country, and in order to get business are representing some of his best jobs as their work, and practicing other frauds upon the public. Prof. Darrin has no salesmen throughout the country, doing all the business from his headquarters in Wayne and is thus unable to protect himself from the dishonest methods being practiced by other parties.

The country newspaper business suffers its full share of inconvenience during the prevalence of such conditions as we have experienced the past week. Things general being at a standstill, the sources of news become paralyzed, making the editing of a readable sheet almost an impossibility. The inability of Miss Kelly, the HERALD's compositor, to return from Sioux City, where she went for a visit the last of the week, has contributed to our grief.

There was quite an excitement in Winside Sunday afternoon when an irate parent came to town looking for a fellow whom he thought had eloped with his daughter. There was no harm done for the poor fellow only had the girl out for a buggy ride. Although many threats were made the young man took the train for his home in Iowa and the bluster all blew over. Charles Miller returned from Oregon last Friday evening. He is looking and feeling quite tired after his long trip home, but this pure Nebraska air will soon make him feel all right again.—Winside Tribune.

Senator John J. Williams, of Wayne, Neb., is a guest of the Pickering families, having come hither with his wife, who was formerly Miss Lou Pickering, to enjoy the reunion of these estimable pioneers. A number of years have come and gone since the Pickering "olans" gathered together in Iowa City at the same time. W. J. Pickering and wife, of Seattle, are among the "reunions" happily spending the current fortnight here. Senator Williams is one of Wayne county's leading physicians and surgeons, also, and is a graduate of S. U. L.'s college of medicine, which he left a quarter of a century ago.—Iowa City Daily Press.

Mr. Robert Pritchard, of Carroll, Nebraska, purchased of Mr. Pratt, of Frankfort, Kansas, the first prize under six months pig at the Nebraska State Fair last week and he will be put at the head of his herd. He will be mated with his girls sired by Combination, the boar he paid $275 for at the Kirkpatrick sale last fall. The firm of Messrs. Burress, Billiter & Burress, of Carroll, Nebraska, showed Percherons and Belgians at the Nebraska State Fair last week and got fifth on Belgian and sixth prize on Percheron stallion. Their Belgian show horse is Marquis

De Deramon, and he was one of the best movers in the show. He lacked somewhat in flesh to show to best advantage, but was one of the most popular horses with the audience who watched the judging.—Homestead.

A petition for a sidewalk to be built from the corner of block 17, College Hill ad, thence east four blocks to the southeast corner of block 15, College Hill ad, being on the north line of 11th street, signed by 24 freeholders, was read and referred to the street and alley committee.

Moved and seconded that the report of street commissioners now on file be adopted and that the city clerk be instructed to prepare notice in accordance with ordinance No. 180 and that the city marshal be instructed to serve the same; carried.

Moved and seconded that the appointment of J. R. Morgan as city electrician by the mayor be approved. Motion to adjourn carried. A. T. WITTER, City Clerk.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.

The following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Nebraska, as hereinafter set forth in full, is submitted to the electors of the State of Nebraska, to be voted upon at the general election to be held Tuesday, November 6, A. D., 1906.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Nebraska:

Section 1. That at the general election for State and Legislative officers to be held on the Tuesday, succeeding the first Monday in November, 1906, the following provision be proposed and submitted to the electors of the State as an amendment to the constitution.

Section 2. There shall be a State Railway Commission, consisting of three members, who shall be first elected at the general election in 1906, whose terms of office, except those chosen at the first election under this provision, shall be six years, and whose composition shall be fixed by the Legislature.

Of the three commissioners first elected, the one receiving the highest number of votes, shall hold his office for six years, the next highest four years, and the lowest two years. The powers and duties of such commission shall include the regulation of rates, service and general control of common carriers as the legislature may provide by law. But in the absence of specific legislation, the commission shall exercise the powers and perform the duties enumerated in this provision.

Section 3. That at said election in the year 1906, on the ballot of each elector voting thereat, there shall be printed or written the words: "For Constitutional Amendment with reference to State Railway Commission" and "Against Constitutional Amendment with reference to State Railway Commission." And if a majority of all votes cast at said election, shall be for such amendment, the same shall be deemed to be adopted.

I, A. Galusha, secretary of state of the state of Nebraska, do hereby certify that the foregoing proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Nebraska is a true and correct copy of the original enrolled and engrossed bill, as passed by the Twenty-ninth session of the legislature of the State of Nebraska, as appears from said original bill on file in this office, and that said proposed amendment is submitted to the qualified voters of the state of Nebraska, for their adoption or rejection at the general election to be held on Tuesday the 6th day of November, A. D. 1906.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the great seal of the state of Nebraska.

Done at Lincoln this 24th day of July, in the year of our Lord One Thousand Nine Hundred and Six, of the Independence of the United States, the One Hundred and Thirty-second, and of this state the Fortieth.

A. GALUSHA, Secretary of State.

REMARKABLE HATCHING.

Last week J. H. Kate loaded one of his X-Ray incubators on a wagon and hauled it to Wisler, a distance of 22 miles, hatching along the way and finishing the hatch on the fair grounds, out of doors and without any protection whatever. The machine hatched all except seven eggs. The hatch was a remarkable one considering the weather of last week. Mr. Kate seems to have a machine that will do the business under any condition.

A GRAND OLD PLAY.

To those who have read Alexandre Dumas' masterful romantic creation "Monte Cristo", the dramatization of the story must be regarded as a clever piece of dramatic construction, as this all absorbing novel has been converted into an equally absorbing and entertaining drama and will be presented at Wayne opera house, October 15. The story in its entirety is a masterpiece and when it is taken into consideration that all the stirring events narrated therein are so deftly blended and explained as to make every point clear during a two and one-half hours performance, it may be said without flattery that the present version as presented by Eugene Moore is one of the most notable given in recent years of this grand old play.

AMERICANS IN CUBA.

ARMED GUARD FROM U. S. CRUISER IS LANDED.

Action is Taken at the Request of President Palma, Who Feared of an Uprising in Havana—Troops to Guard American Interests.

President Palma, in a moment of panic Thursday, asked for the protection of American sailors and guns and 180 men were landed from the cruiser Denver. Commander Colwell of the Denver and Mr. Steeper, the American charge d'affaires, explain that the sailors were landed only to protect American interests. It is admitted, however, that President Palma asked for protection, fearing an almost immediate attack on Havana from the rebels.

Later in the night Commander Colwell was shown a press dispatch from Washington stating that the sailors from the cruiser Denver had been ordered to return. He said he believed he had done right. However, if after receiving an understanding of the situation the Navy department ordered the return of the sailors on board ship, the order would be carried out.

President Palma and his colleagues in the government were in a state of demoralized panic when they asked that the sailors be landed. The rebels were at the doors of the city and a large body started to march on Havana. The report was current that a mutiny at the head of 8,000 men would enter the city and that the population would rise almost as a unit in its behalf.

The administration already had lost control of the entire island, except certain considerable towns. Havana was isolated, as the rebels were out in every direction. All railroads had suddenly been brought to a standstill. There were popular demonstrations everywhere in favor of the revolution. Of rebels were turning over towns to the rebels and the defeat of the Palma administration seemed inevitable. It was these facts which led Palma to appeal for American sailors.

THE CUBANS: "PLEASE TRY TO STOP US."

STORY OF CUBA'S STRIFE.

Present Conditions in the Island and Causes Leading Therein.

The present revolution in Cuba has set the eyes of the world on that island and the issues at stake are so important that every American wants to know the background which has resulted in the present crisis, says a writer in the New York Times.

When Cuba was granted into the family of nations it was on the understanding that she should abstain from the custom of indulging in revolutions and revolts. It was stipulated that she should "go to the polls" and that she should handle by the rules and regulations of the law and order in nations, pretending to civilization. The world did not take her unsupported word for this promise. The United States went on her bond to keep the peace, and as a consequence there was inserted in the treaty of Paris a clause which is known as "the Platt amendment," which gives the United States government the right to interfere in Cuban affairs at any time when the peace and prosperity of Cuba are threatened.

In any consideration of this Cuban problem—and the people of the United States will have to consider it and decide it, whether they wish so or not—there are certain essential facts which must be kept in mind.

In the first place, Cuba is too valuable a piece of property to be made a perpetual battlefield. Not in all the world is there within reach of speedy development so much land in area of territory and the application of labor tempted by money. Cuba has a tillable area almost if not quite equal to that of Java—Cuba has a scattered population of perhaps 1,750,000. Java supports a swarm of nearly 30,000,000. Cuba is inevitably destined to become the agricultural Golconda of the earth, and from her exhaustless soil look to the United States for the protection pledged them.

The causes underlying the present revolution in Cuba are various. In the first place, her people are not immune from that proclivity of all Latin-American countries, which makes them prefer an appeal to arms rather than resort to the peaceful arbitration of the ballot box.

In the second place, too many of the male inhabitants of Cuba of voting age desire to hold political or military positions, and there are not and never will be enough paying positions to go around.

In the third place, there are several thousand men on the island who were engaged in wars since they were boys, and who do not know how to do anything else and who do not care to learn.

Ever since Columbus discovered Cuba it has been a battlefield. For 150 years, prior to the Spanish-American war, the native Cubans and the negroes were at almost constant warfare against the Spanish authorities. Time and again until the record is tiresome, the island was devastated. Sugar cane fields and mills were burned, tobacco plantations laid waste, and the land marked with ruin from Capes Male and San Antonio. Not until the natural productivity of the soil that fortunes were made in the interests of Spain, and billions of dollars poured into Spain from the island, did the war with Spain cease. It was waged to the purpose that the long era of oppression, bloodshed and lawlessness should forever end. In order that we might be acquitted of any national ambition of new territory, we freely permitted Cuba to attempt the task of assuming the responsibilities of self-government.

It is probably true that there was sharp practice and open fraud in the last national election in Cuba. There is good reason to believe that President Palma of the Moderates is not the choice of the majority of the qualified voters of the island, but it is equally certain that an armed revolt would have followed the election of any liberal candidate who might have been elected. The cause of the complications and the trouble which enter into this problem, but the only way to control the present conditions and to lead to the future peace and prosperity of Cuba is to permit the Cuban population to settle its own affairs by the peaceful means of the ballot box.

The Cuban government must be reorganized. President Palma's general authority over Cuba is the $25,000,000 to support the revolutionary and normal but not to be used to support the revolutionary cause. These are being drawn into the hands of a few individuals.

THE BOOMING CANNON

RECITALS OF CAMP AND BATTLE INCIDENTS.

Survivors of the Rebellion Relate Many Amusing and Startling Incidents of Marches, Camp Life, Foraging Expeditions and Battle Scenes.

The late Gen. John B. Gordon, the last of the corps commanders of Gen. Lee's Confederate Army of northern Virginia, gave this story to the narrator only a few months before he died, says a writer in the Los Angeles Times.

A few days before Christmas, 1863, when the army of Gen. Lee was suffering the greatest privations, there was a dramatic scene in the tent of the judge-advocate general.

Edward Cooper, wearing the gray uniform of a private soldier in the Confederate army, stood before the court-martial charged with desertion. The facts had been stated by the prosecution, and the prisoner was asked to produce any witnesses he might have for his defense. He calmly replied: "I have no witnesses."

Astonished at the calmness and dignity of the soldier, and the indifference with which he seemed to have submitted to an inevitable fate, Gen. Battle said to him: "Have you no defense whatever? Is it possible that you abandoned your comrades and deserted your colors in the presence of the enemy and without reason?"

"There was a reason," replied Cooper. "but it will not avail me before a military tribunal."

"Perhaps you are mistaken," replied the general. "You are charged with the highest crime known to military law, and it is your duty to make known the cause or causes which influenced your action."

Thereupon Cooper approached the president of the court and presented a letter, saying as he did so: "There, general, is what led me to go."

The letter was produced as the prisoner's defense. It was in these words: "Dear Edward: Since your connection with the Confederate army I have been prouder of you than ever before. I would not have you do anything wrong for the world; but before God, Edward, unless you come home we must die. Last night I was aroused by little Eddie crying. I called to him and said: 'What is the matter, Eddie?' He said: 'Oh, mamma, I am so hungry!' And Lucy—your darling Lucy—she never complains, but she is growing thinner and thinner every day. Before God, Edward, unless you come home we must die. YOUR MARY."

Turning to the prisoner Gen. Battle said: "What did you do when you received this letter?"

Cooper replied: "I made application for a furlough. It was rejected. Again I made application, and was rejected. That night I wandered around our camp thinking of my home, the wild eyes of Lucy looking up at me and the burning words of Mary seething in my brain. I was no longer the Confederate soldier—I was the father of Lucy and the husband of Mary. If every gun in the battery had been fired at me, I would have crossed those lines. When I reached home Mary hung her arms around my neck and sobbed: 'Oh, my Edward! I am so glad you got your furlough. She must have felt my shoulder, for she turned pale as death, and catching her breath at every word she said: 'Have you come without your furlough? Go back, Edward, go back! Let me and the children go down to the grave, but for heaven's sake do not touch the body of your mother!'"

CANADA WHEAT CROP

ALL REPORTS INDICATE A BIG YIELD.

Great Harvests in the Canadian Northwest Bring Unparalleled Prosperity to the Farmers of That Region.

Winnipeg correspondence: For the past four or five weeks the result of the harvest in the Canadian West has been an absorbing topic, not only with the Canadian people, but with a large and interested number of Americans—millers, grain dealers and farmers particularly.

Two Sons of the South. After the hardest fighting at the first Battle of Manassas, where "Stonewall" Jackson was wounded in the hand, Dr. Hunter McGuire, Jackson's medical director, was handling the wound. The scene of the operation was the porch of a little shop at the crossing of a stream. From his knowledge of the battle Dr. McGuire said: "I was, actually, the physician of thirteen Presidents. I think it must have been here where the Surgeon-General Young's Branch met the Washington pipe. At any rate, the tide of the battle had turned in favor of the Confederates, and Jackson had taken time to have his wound dressed."

At that place was a large number of men awaiting their turn most of them wounded, some of them stragglers, no doubt. But Jackson knew the situation thoroughly, and was not afraid of their presence.

Just then a horseman in civilian dress, greatly excited, dashed up, and reeling up his horse in the stream, rose in his stirrups and began an impassioned appeal to the men, begging them not to give up the fight, assuring them that they were not whipped; that the enemy was in retreat, and that if they would not set like cowards and craves victory was assured.

The horseman, having arrived upon the field and hearing of the reverses of the morning, but not of the subsequent successes of his side, had dashed forth and induced them to return to battle. Neither Doctor McGuire nor General Jackson had ever seen him before, and they had no idea who he was.

Upon hearing this outburst, Jackson literally hung inside the badging Doctor McGuire was placing on his hand, and with more excitement than he had ever known to have shown before he advanced quickly toward the horseman, saying: "What is all this fuss about? These men are not cowards. These men are not deserters. These men are not stragglers. They are my men, and are most likely wounded. We are not hard-pressed. We have whipped the Yankees and the fighting is over. Who are you, sir?"

"I am President Davis, sir. Who are you?"

"I am General Jackson, sir," said Jackson, now realizing the situation and saluting.

Then he calmly returned to have his wound dressed, and Mr. Davis departed for some other part of the field. Jackson was evidently very judgment at the situation cast upon his men, and Mr. Davis evidently did not like the language of the father of his subject. Doctor McGuire said that in all the years of his experience Jackson never uttered a single word but that he was a man of great judgment and was not afraid of the truth.

A dispatch from Mr. Steeper, American charge at Havana, says it is reported that 300 insurgents attacked the rural guards in the morning of Sept. 12 at Zaza (Santa Clara province) and that the government lost eleven men while the loss of the insurgents is not known. The government forces retreated to Sancti Spiritus. Mr. Steeper adds that at a moment of an uprising in Camagney. The postal service between Santiago and Havana is interrupted. STATUE TO WAINLEY.

Elaborate preparations were made for the dedication, but there was no ostentatious display on formal parade. An immense open stand, seating 4,000 people, handsomely decorated with flags and bunting, was erected along the entire west front of the capitol building, and it was crowded with distinguished huckeyes from all over Ohio.

Mrs. Longworth and her immediate party occupied an especially constructed stand sitting out from the center of a general stand, and she could thus be easily seen by all. The wide space of ground between her and the statue was packed with people.

A Clucky Dash.

Gen. Ripley, whose recent death re-opens another well-known figure from the rapidly thinning ranks of the Civil War veterans, was one of the earliest among Vermont men to respond to the first call of President Lincoln. His company was the old Rutland Light Guard, and he afterward had a command in the First United States Sharpshooters in Vermont Rifles. The general holds a bold charge of that gallant company.

A great sovereign once addressed the general of his army thus: "I send you against the enemy with sixty thousand men." "But," protested the general, "there are only fifty thousand." "Ah, but I count you as ten thousand," was the monarch's reply.

OUR GREAT FALL OPENING OF MEN'S AND BOYS' CLOTHING.

"Just Twenty Years Ago."

Twenty years ago the 17th day of this month we opened our doors to sell the men and boys of Wayne county their clothing. Every year and month our business has shown a substantial increase over the previous year and month. This, our 20th year, we hope to make the banner one.

ASSOCIATE Laurel and Wakefield STORES.

We are now buying for three stores instead of one, thereby making a wonderful saving in our purchase. This puts us in a position to underbuy others and also to undersell them. With these advantages in our favor we are sure that it will be to your interest to inspect before making your selections.

A Square Deal For Men and Boys!

There are three things necessary to the production of a good suit.
First: The knowing how—that's knowledge;
Second: The necessary facilities—that's equipment;
Third: Wanting to do it—that's disposition. THAT'S OUR PART.

There is one thing necessary to the PURCHASE of a good suit—LOOK AT THE LABEL, H. S. & M. when you buy. THAT'S YOUR PART.

These Four Factors give you a SQUARE DEAL with every suit purchase.

The LABEL is the Keynote.

RESOLVED
THAT WHEN ANYONE REACHES THE TOP OF THE LADDER IT MEANS HE IS A SUCCESS. SOME PEOPLE ARE FOOLISH ENOUGH TO THINK THAT SUCCESS IS AN ACCIDENT. OF COURSE IT IS NOT. SUCCESS IS THE RESULT OF HARD WORK AND GIVING PEOPLE SOMETHING FOR THEIR MONEY. WHICH PROVES THAT HONESTY IS THE BEST POLICY. IF YOU WANT TO DRESS GO WHERE THEY HAVE MADE A SUCCESS AT DRESSING PEOPLE—AND DRESSING THEM WELL AND CHEAPLY.

LOCAL NEWS.

Otto Kuhl came in from Dakota yesterday, coming from Emerson by team. The Sanford Dodge company arrived by team from the east yesterday and will show this evening.

C. J. Randall came in from Sioux City yesterday via Norfolk, walking from two miles beyond Winside.

Rev. Wadsworth, president of Bellevue College, will occupy the pulpit at the M. E. church in this city next Sunday.

Rev. Thos. Osborne drove to Pilger yesterday, leaving there by train for his constituency in the western part of the state.

Rev. Thos. J. Wright was given the charge at Grand Island by the recent M. E. conference. Rev. Horne of that city comes to Wayne.

Lee Cone who has been confined to his room at the Panther home with an attack of typhoid, is considerably improved in health.

A choral union of fifty voices is being organized in this city with Mrs. W. H. Morris as director. They expect to meet at the Oddfellows' hall every Tuesday evening for practice.

Among those who are unable to return from Sioux City on account of the absence of train services are Mrs. F. A. Dorry, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lay and Mrs. Blair and children.

Weber Bros. flour advertisement in last week's Herald should have read "Wayne Suppliative $1.30 and Wayne Snow Flake $1.05," instead of $1.25 and $1.10 as appeared in one ad.

A recent letter to the family of E. Cunningham from Mrs. Chas. Robbins at Boise, Idaho, states that they are enjoying themselves, are well pleased with country and that her health is good.

Notwithstanding the exceedingly inclement weather of last Saturday evening, about fifty-five were present at a meeting of Balthazar Court, Tribe of Ben Hur, at which time twenty new members were initiated and about thirty candidates voted upon. State Manager C. E. Way, of Lincoln, addressed the lodge.

A reception was given at the residence of Rev. Father Haley last evening by about eighty friends, and a very enjoyable evening was passed. A purse of $10.00 was subscribed and presented to Father Haley as a token of the esteem in which he is held by the congregation. Father Haley leaves tomorrow for the east, driving to Pilger from here.

COLLEGE NOTES.

Helen and Jim Pile spent Saturday in Sioux City.

Prof. Pile spent Saturday afternoon in Emerson on business matters.

Rev. Osborne conducted chapel exercises Friday morning and delivered a fine address to the students.

Many of the students who went out to town to visit at their homes over Sunday, were unable to return on account of the suspension of the train service.

A social was held in the chapel Saturday evening. The officers of the Christian Associations had charge of the program, and all present enjoyed a pleasant evening.

Mrs. Pile arrived home the last of the week from her visit in Ohio, driving over from Emerson. Her father, who has had a severe spell of sickness is very much improved.

The disagreeable weather of the past week has held back the work on the new college building and the central heating plant. Work on the new dormitory, however, is going along nicely.

Miss Nelhardt went to her home in Bancroft Saturday afternoon, and on her way back got as far as Emerson where she stayed until Tuesday when she drove to Wayne. The other teachers took charge of her classes until her return.

Next week the State Secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association will be here. The officers of the Associations are very much pleased that the state officers should visit them so early in the year, and start the year's work off in good shape.

Miss Nelhardt spoke to the students at the Saturday afternoon meeting at one o'clock, her subject being "Irrigation." Miss Nelhardt showed familiarity with her subject and it was entertaining as well as instructive to her listeners.

Mr. E. J. Simonds, assistant state secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, has been visiting at the college during the past week. He spoke to the young men at their meeting Sunday afternoon and to the students at the chapel exercises Monday morning. Mr. Simonds is a very pleasant speaker and showed that he was very much interested in the welfare of young people.

YELLOWSTONE PARK.

This is the grand tourist resort of the people and one of the most beautiful parts of the American Continent.

Only by a trip to this region can the tourist comprehend the endless variety and stupendous grandeur of the features embraced in this tract of country.

Very low round-trip rates to this resort have been put in effect this summer by the Union Pacific and its connecting lines.

For full information in regard to rates, and Yellowstone Park folder, address A. K. CURTIS, T. P. A., Omaha, Neb.

LOW ONE WAY RATES

Every day to Oct. 31, 1906, the Union Pacific will sell one way colonist tickets from Missouri river terminals, Council Bluffs to Kansas City inclusive, at the following rates:

$35.00 to Everett, Fairhaven, Whatcom, Vancouver and Victoria, via Huntington and Spokane.

$35.00 to Tacoma and Seattle, via Huntington and Portland or via Huntington and Spokane.

$35.00 to Portland and Astoria, or Ashland, Roseburg, Eugene, Albany and Salem, via Portland.

Correspondingly low rates to many other California, Oregon, Washington, Montana, Utah and Idaho points.

Through tourist cars run every day on Union Pacific between Missouri river and Pacific coast; double both $5.75. For full information call on or address H. K. CURTIS, T. P. A., Omaha, Neb.

GET THE MOST PLEASURE OUT OF YOUR VACATION.

To do this, you should go to Colorado where you breathe the purest air and see some of the grandest sights in the world. Here are to be found all the recreations of the east—golf, polo, riding, hunting, fishing, tennis, boating, etc., together with all the attractions of a new and mountainous country.

Very low round-trip rates to Denver, Colorado Springs and Pueblo, are now in effect, via the Union Pacific, whose splendidly equipped trains and perfectly ballasted road-bed insure you a pleasant journey. For full information in regard to rates and Colorado literature, inquire of A. K. CURTIS, T. P. A., Omaha, Neb.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy one of the Best on the Market.

For many years Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has constantly gained in favor and popularity until it is now one of the most staple medicines in use and has an enormous sale. It is intended especially for acute throat and lung diseases, such as coughs, colds and croup, and can always be depended upon. It is pleasant and safe to take and is undoubtedly the best in the market for the purpose for which it is intended. Sold by Raymond's Drug Store.

Lame Back.

This is an ailment for which Chamberlain's Pain Balm has proven especially valuable. In almost every instance it affords prompt and permanent relief. Mr. Luke LaGrange of Orange, Neb., says of it: "After using a plaster and other remedies for three weeks for a lame back, I purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and two applications effected a cure." For sale by Raymond's drug store.

A FINISHED ARTIST

Eugene Moore, who will appear at the Wayne opera house, October 15, in Alexandre Dumas' great romantic drama

"Monte Cristo", is a stirring representative of the actors of the old school—a school in which the mania for stardom did not exist and where a player built up a great repertory of classic parts, and so in the course of years became qualified to interpret any role that suited his age. These actors know very little about publicity of the kind in which people of the stage now bask, and know more about the art of acting than most of the flatter-budged new-comers on the bill boards ever will know, but staller exploitation was never a goal they struggled for; they were too busy acting to be occupied with the task of differentiating the hundreds of parts they played with making each one a definite, solid, enduring study of human nature. Most of them go on from year to year, serving their public conscientiously and delighting by their finished art the judicious observers in the play-going body.

Don't forget the date for the Meister & Bluechel big buggy sale Oct. 4, 5 and 6th.

FROM A GOOD SCHOOL

Eugene Moore, who portrays the part of Edmond Dantes in "Monte Cristo" which appears at Wayne, October 15, has had the training which gives him complete command of the technique of acting. It is said that so thoroughly has he mastered the mechanics of his art that any effect he wishes to obtain he secures with absolute surety and with the least possible expenditure of force. He has reached the point where a single line or word, or even a look or mere movement can be made to express an or produce a dramatic effect.

KRELL TONE

As a rule we have little to say about the tone of other pianos, which we leave entirely to the purchaser to decide. Tone is such an allusive, intangible thing, and there is so much difference of opinion as to tonal beauty. Some go into raptures over the tone of a certain piano, others say they do not like that tone. But it is surprising what an unanimity there is among artists and music loving people as to the tone of the KRELL. Not too voluminous, not too soft. Capable of great expression qualities. Not wearing down to a thinner tone through use, but retaining its pristine sweetness. That is the KRELL—a tone that has been admired for half a century. The most effective trap work yet introduced is the

WORST IN YEARS

Northeast Nebraska Visited by Bad Storm.

MUCH DAMAGE DONE

Water Higher Than Ever Before Known—Miles of Railroad Washed Out and Traffic at Standstill.

The worst flood that has ever visited this section occurred on last Saturday night and Sunday. Early in the evening dark clouds to the west and north told of a severe rain and electrical storm in that quarter and rain began to fall in this locality at about 9 o'clock. Parties coming home on the excursion train from Sioux City noticed the rising waters upon reaching Wakefield between 12 and 1 a. m. at which time the Logan creek was out of its banks and the valley covered. The train, however, came on in safety, the water at that time not having risen high enough to damage the track, arrived here about 1 o'clock and went on to Winside. Upon arriving at that place however, conditions were considerably worse. In spite of the high water, however, the crew decided to make the run to Norfolk, but when about half a mile west of Winside were obliged to stop on account of the soggy condition of the roadbed.

Wreck Narrowly Averted.
 The fireman who was with the engine pulling the excursion train was in Wayne Monday and in conversation with a HERALD reporter said that they were unable to stop the heavy train until they had almost tipped over a couple of times and that had they gone two feet farther ahead the engine would have toppled off the grade, with no chance of the crew or the engine saving themselves from death by drowning. As it was, the locomotive leaped so far as to uncouple itself from the train, and with considerable difficulty was backed in upon a sidetrack at Winside where the train now stands. It was a narrow escape and the train crew consider it lucky that it was no worse.

Came With a Rush.
 The water that did the greatest damage in and around Wayne, however, came down Deer Creek from the direction of Carroll sometime between 4 and 6 a. m. on Sunday morning. Everett Craig, one of the section hands, who was patrolling the track west of town at that time, says that the water came down the Deer Creek valley in a great wave sweeping away fences, small buildings and everything in its path and that about 5 o'clock the railroad track began to leave the grade. About one mile of track was damaged west of town, on Norfolk line, most of it being washed into the ditch on the south side, ties gone in places and some of the rails bent and twisted. The bridge across Deer creek at the Y remained intact.

Miles of Track Gone.
 East of Wayne, between here and Wakefield, six and one-half miles of track is off the embankment, most of this being just east of town, the west end of the washout being to the east of the Gamble farm. Throughout the entire distance to Wakefield the track is damaged, and unsafe to run trains over until repairs are made.
 Near Hubbard, Neb., about one and one-half miles is out.
 About half of the track between this place and Carroll, on the Bloomfield line, is out. A mile or so of road west of Carroll was damaged, but has been repaired and yesterday (Wednesday) trains were running down the branch as far as Carroll. Telegraphic connections with Carroll, except by a roundabout way, are cut off. Part of the line between here and that town has been destroyed, the poles being washed out and wires broken.

The extremely heavy rain seemed to be general throughout Northeast Nebraska. The Great Northern between Sioux City and O'Neill was out of commission between Dixon and Jackson. The train for Sioux City left O'Neill as usual Sunday morning. It got as far as Dixon and was forced to return. In front of the station at Jackson the track was under two feet of water. It was washed out in several places between Jackson and Dixon. The track was not broken, but slowed from the right of way, and in some places was under six feet of water. The first train since the storm passed over that line yesterday afternoon. Regular service, however, has not been re-established as it is necessary to run at a very low rate of speed.

Repair work is being pushed on all lines as speedily as possible, but we understand that Supt. Nicholls, of the Omaha road, gives it as his opinion that trains will not be running through Wayne before next week.
 A gang of Italian laborers with their living cars, etc., were brought up to Wakefield from Emerson on Tuesday by Roadmaster Pierce. While they were in Wakefield a portion of the track went out east of them, bottling them up at that place which they were compelled to leave by team or on foot. This gang has since been transferred to the Emerson-Omaha line.

On that line, one-half mile of track was taken between Bancroft and much more of it rendered unfit for travel. Trains ran between Sioux City and Omaha for the first time yesterday.
 Trains from Sioux City are running as far west as Wakefield today.
 The Hartington line was badly wrecked between Concord and Wakefield. Beginning about one mile south-east of Concord, seven miles of track is out, some of it lying three-fourths of a mile from the grade. The company expects to be able to get trains over the line Monday. Trains are now running from Hartington to Concord. Express and mail is being transferred at Laurel from the Shortline for Hartington branch towns. Over 150 bags of mail were transferred at that point yesterday.

About 8 inches of rain fell at Laurel on last Saturday night.

Four Days Without Mail.
 From last Saturday evening until Wednesday evening of this week Wayne was without mail service of any kind. On Tuesday Sam Davies drove over to Emerson after the daily papers, but the railroad company refused to let them go unless authorized by the department to do so. On Wednesday Liveryman Fred Brown was deputized by Postmaster McNeal to carry the mail each day by stage between Emerson and Wayne. He went down that day and brought back the late daily papers, the rest of the mail having been returned to Sioux City and from there sent to Norfolk by a roundabout way. This mail will be brought by train to Winside and on to Wayne by team as soon as possible. From now until the railway service has been re-established all mail for Wayne will be pouched at Emerson and carried by Mr. Brown, at the expense of the company.

Much Loss of Stock.
 Considerable stock is missing. At the Roe & Fortner slaughter house near the bridge south of town the water reached the top of the fences. Out of 172 head of hogs but one remained in the yards, the balance being scattered over the valley down stream for a distance of three miles. About 125 head were recovered. The herd consisted of thoroughbred and high-grade O. I. C. white stock and the loss is a heavy one. W. J. Bressler also lost several head of hogs. Cows belonging to Wayne parties, being pastured south of town are missing. Six head of cattle in the pasture of Madison Breasler on the Henry Evans farm southeast of the city were drowned. Several hundred head were swept from the pasture of Kirwan Bros., on the Graves farm. All except one were found at Jas. Finn's place, a short distance below. J. W. Jones and Jas. Smith are among those losing cattle, we understand. Frank Owen lost one steer out of a herd of 181. Others were small losers.

Ray Hurst Heavy Loser.
 Ray Hurst, living on the bottom just north of Henry Klopping's and just south of the track, lost thirty-five head of hogs. The remainder of the herd took refuge on a manure pile, and were saved. The family were awakened by a hog trying to get onto the porch and in a few minutes thereafter the water was two feet deep in the house, doing much damage to furniture, etc. Hurst will also lose several hundred bushels of oats in the bin.
$3,000 Loss to John Sherbahn.
 John Sherbahn tells us that his loss will reach fully $3,000. Out of 400,000 unburned brick in the drying sheds, 375,000 are a total loss, the water having risen to the height of five feet in the sheds. He had just commenced setting a new kiln and had expected to begin burning in about ten days. The flood, besides causing him the loss of brick already mentioned, will put a stop to his brick-making for the season as it will take his force of men at least a month to clean out the mud from the drying sheds, make repairs and place the works in shape. Mr. Sherbahn expected to burn still another kiln of brick after the present one had been finished and will thus close the season $50,000 short of his expectations.

Mr. Sherbahn tells us that the water was three feet higher on Sunday morning than has ever before been known. When Horace Sherbahn and son Ben, who sleep in the little house just west of the kiln, awoke the water was up to the bed rails. They were forced to wade breast deep in order to get out of the yards.
 John Lewis, proprietor of the other brick yard, which is situated on higher ground, suffered a comparatively small loss. He loses between 2,000 and 3,000 green brick.

Impossible to Estimate Loss.
 It is impossible at this time to arrive at any estimate of the loss to this section. More than a score of large bridges across Deer, Doughton and Logan creeks, in this county, have been swept away, besides hundreds of smaller county bridges, culverts and private bridges. Nearly every fence in these valleys is gone. Thousands of tons of hay will be lost on account of the soaking received. Some grain in the stack has been damaged.
 Seven out of eight grain stacks belonging to L. B. Tharp, just southwest of town, were picked up and carried 200 or 300 yards down stream where they were deposited, close together and with not a bundle missing. They were left standing upright and in as good condition as though they had been built on the spot.

Boy Drowned at Pender.
 Water was 22 inches higher at Pender Monday morning than ever before known. Eight-year-old Guy Warren was drowned by a wagon tipping over while the family were moving out to escape the flood. The body was recovered at 4 o'clock the same afternoon. Much difficulty was experienced in rescuing people from the lowlands in that vicinity. The damage to buildings, grades, etc., is estimated at $10,000. The railroad was damaged on both sides of Pender.

Lightning Does Damage.
 Lightning struck the Presbyterian church at Emerson, damaging it to the extent of about $400, covered by insurance. People in nearby houses were stunned and Conrad Wolf and Andrew Luth, who were across the street at the time, were knocked down, but not seriously injured.

Water High at Ponca.
 The storm was severe at Ponca and the water was several inches deep in some of the business houses.

STALEY UNDERWEAR

This is our thirtieth year selling Staley Fine Wool Underwear and we have yet to find a man that has worn Staley Underwear that is willing to wear any other kind. That alone should convince anyone that Staley Underwear is superior to any other make. It may seem strange to some that we continue to advertise this well known underwear, but we will never be satisfied until every man in Wayne county wears Staley and we will continue advertising it until all are convinced that they can't afford to get along without it. There are some things in business that cannot be understood. One of them is that men may know that they need Staley Underwear, but because they are trading at some store where they don't have Staley, they fail to come here and get what they know they ought to have. Now if Staley Underwear was high priced and they couldn't afford to wear it, there would be a good excuse for not buying it, but Staley Underwear is made for the poor as well as the rich and every person can afford to wear it and enjoy health and be comfortable. Come in and look at it, feel it and find out why so many wear it.

How It's Made

It is made to fit, not stretched to cover. The seams are sewed with a double over-stitch that makes a smooth seam that will never rip. This stitch is only to be found in Staley Underwear. You will always feel comfortable wearing Staley. Try it and you will wear no other.

Why It Is Better

The wool used to make Staley is pulled (not sheared) which leaves the end of the fiber smooth and this underwear will not irritate the skin as do all other kinds of wool underwear. The wool is put in a solution before it is washed and burns out all the foreign matter. This is an expensive way to treat wool, and therefore not practiced by other manufacturers, and for that reason anyone can wear Staley even though they cannot wear other kinds. We have never found a man that could not wear Staley fine wool underwear.

45 Different Kinds

Staley Underwear is made in 45 different kinds. We can satisfy you, no matter who you are. We please the rich and poor alike. We fit anyone at same price, big or little. We have it in union suits. We have all colors. It will wear so long that you will forget what you paid for it before it wears out. We guarantee it to give satisfaction.

Why You Should Wear It

The best medical authority in the world concede that wool underwear is the only underwear fit to wear. If you will ask your doctor what kind of underwear he wears he will tell you Staley. Now if it's good enough for him it should be good enough for you. You don't have to wait until you are broken down in health before you buy Staley, wear it now and keep well, don't wait until rheumatism gets hold of you before buying Staley. Avoid bad colds that may lead to lung trouble by wearing Staley fine underwear. Come in and let us show you this underwear.

Rheumatism Cured

If you will come in we will give you the names of more than fifty cases of rheumatism that have been cured by wearing Staley underwear. We do not claim that everyone that has rheumatism will be made entirely well, but no matter how bad you may be you will receive benefit by wearing Staley. It will keep your blood warm and your skin dry which is a great relief to those having rheumatism. You will never be without Staley if you once wear it. You can't afford to die as long as you can get Staley wool underwear at our price.

In Jail

No one wearing Staley underwear, except the sheriff, has been found in jail since we came to Wayne. You need Staley underwear.

No One Has Died That Wore Staley

We have sold thousands of suits of Staley underwear during the seven years we have been in Wayne, but no one has died that wore Staley since we came here. Why not live and enjoy life by wearing Staley underwear? Think this matter over and decide to visit us this fall. We will do you good.

No Divorce

No one has asked for a divorce in this county in seven years that had on Staley. Every good wife should see that her husband wears Staley underwear. They need it.

A NERVOUS WRECK

Mrs. Green Gained 26 Pounds and Recovered Her Health by Taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

General debility is a term that covers a multitude of cases where there is no acute disease, yet the patient continues to lose strength and the doctor's medicines have no apparent effect. This is the condition that leads to death if means are not found to check it. In a great majority of cases Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will check it and restore health and strength because they actually make new blood and so send renewed vitality to every organ and tissue of the body.

Between Two Fires

By ANTHONY HOPE

"A wise man will make more opportunities than he finds." —Francis Bacon.

"Hullo, Johnny! Why not at the Home?" said I to him. "You'll want every vote to-night. Be off and help the ministry, and take Donna Antonia with you. They're eating up the minister of finance."

to the payment of the interest falling due next month. It appears from their communication that it is apprehended that some difficulty may occur in the matter.

"If I were his friend I should like to tell him what he knew, Madame Devarges," I replied.

"I think we may reassure Mr. Martin. Tell your directors this, Mr. Martin. The government does not see any need of a public notification, and none will be made. I think we agree, gentlemen, that to acknowledge the necessity of any such action would be highly derogatory."

"I don't know," she said. "But if I owned national bonds, I should sell."

"When I went back to the bank, revolving those things in my mind, I found Jones employed in arranging the correspondence. It was part of his duty to see to the preservation and filing of all letters arriving from Europe, and, strange to say, he delighted in the task. It was part of my duty to see he did this; so I sat down and began to turn over the pile of letters which he had put in front of me; this surprised me, and I said:

"I wonder if the immense majority will include me?" said I. "I think I will go and see his excellency."

CHAPTER VIII. The next morning I took my way to the Golden House, where I learned that the President was at the ministry of finance. Arriving there, I sent in my card, writing thereon an humble request for a private interview. I was ushered into Don Antonia's room, where I found the minister himself, the President and Johnny Carr. As I entered and the servant, on a sign from his excellency, placed a chair for me, the latter sat rather stiffly.

Unless I could add $5,000 to my $10,000 before the end of the month I should have to default.

This melancholy conclusion was ventilated and rendered demonstrable by a letter which arrived, to crown my woes, from my respected father, informing me that he had unfortunately become indebted to our chairman in the sum of $10,000, the result of a deal between them, that he had seen the chairman, that the chairman was urgent for payment, that he had made violent language against our family (which, at the moment, I might have considered as a matter of indifference to the paternal debt), "If he doesn't like it he may go and small loss." This was a most unjustifiable proceeding, but I was hardly in a position to take up a high moral attitude toward the chairman, and in the result I saw myself confronted with the certainty of beggary and the probability of jail. But for this untoward occurrence I might have been encouraged and made a clean breast of my misdoings, relying on the chairman's obligations to my father to pull me through. But now, where was I? I was, as Donna Antonia put it, very deep in indeed. So overwhelmed was I by my position, and so occupied by my frantic efforts to improve it, that I did not even find time to go and see the Signor, much as I needed comfort, and, as the days went on, I fell into such despair that I went nowhere, but sat dismally in my own rooms, looking at my portmanteau, and wondering how soon I must pack and fly, if not for life at least for liberty.

At last the crash came. I was sitting in my library one morning, engaged in the last of a series of trying letters to fifteen, when I heard the clatter of boots. A moment later the door was opened, and Jones ushered in Colonel McGregor. I nodded to the Colonel, who came in with his usual leisurely step, sat himself down, and took off his gloves. I roused myself to say, "What can I do for you, Colonel?"

"I've got to the bottom of it at last, Martin. That old scamp's villainy, I said, jerking his thumb toward the Piazza and the statue of the Liberator. "He's very cute, but he's made a mistake at last."

CHAPTER IX. The plan appears at first sight to have so much to recommend it that one wonders some enterprising capitalist has not come forward and built a street with a kind of "administrative kitchen" at one end, which should contain the kitchen and a proper staff of cooks and housekeepers, whence proper meals should be sent out to all the tenants of the houses. General domestic service could also be provided in the same way.

CHAPTER X. The next week was a busy one for me. I spent it in scraping together every bit of cash I could lay my hands on. If I could get together enough to pay the interest on the $10,000, I should be invested in approved securities—bonds deposited in a manner only known to his excellency—I should have six months to look about me. Now remaining out of my "bonuses" was nil, out of my "reserve fund" $10,000. This was enough. But, how happened it that this sum was in my hands? Because I had borrowed $5,000 from the bank! If they wouldn't let their own manager overbid, whom would they? So I overbid. But if this money wasn't back before the monthly balancing, Jones would know! And I dared not rely on being able to stop his mouth. The Signor said Johnny Carr was the only honest man in Argentina and I forgot Jones. Jones also was honest, and Jones would consider it his duty to let the directors know of my overbid. If once they knew, I was lost, for an overbid effected privately from the safe by the manager is, I do not deny it, decidedly irregular.

Robert B. Brown, of Zanesville, O., who was elected commander in chief of the G. A. R. at the Minneapolis convention, enlisted in the 15th Ohio Infantry at the age of 16 years and served in the 14th Army corps in the Cumberland until he was mustered out in 1894. He then re-enlisted as a veteran soldier, and served as such until the end of the war. He was a private throughout the first three years of his service, and then became a non-commissioned officer. He has always been active and prominent in the work of the Grand Army. Mr. Brown is now editor of the Zanesville Courier. He was born in 1845.

DIXIEE SEES MANY HOSPITALS

Will Make Recommendations as to the Service in U. S. Surgeon General Rixey of the navy in a trip around the world required considerable information concerning the hospital service of several countries, but more particularly of those which had been particularly successful in their sanitary conditions. At Yokohama the United States has a large naval hospital, over which the medical corps exercises complete jurisdiction. This was found in good condition and work was in progress upon a new administration building. At Nagasaki and Shanghai the sanitary conditions of the hospitals where the sick sailors are taken were found in a fair condition, but not satisfactory as the hospital at Yokohama. At Cebu the hospital is still in a state of incompleteness, the sick quarters were found unsatisfactory. At Paris and London the general visited the hospitals. From the naval hospital at London, an institution similar to the building this government is erecting at Norfolk, he obtained information that will be useful in the arrangements of the Norfolk hospital.

At least 250 persons have been buried alive. The streets are flooded with dead, and the people are fleeing in terror. The town of Kwarall is in the mountainous region of the Caucasus, where the mountains are of a semi-volcanic nature and there hot sulphur springs abound. Disasters of the kind occurring at Kwarall are so common the people have learned to disregard them, but it is comparatively seldom that towns are destroyed, much of this region being sparsely inhabited.

The son of the late Marshal Bazaine of France will soon publish a book to vindicate his father's memory. He is an officer in the Spanish army.

Mrs. Pearl Mary Teresa Craigie (John Oliver Hobbes) died suddenly in London of heart disease. She was 39 years old. In addition to her work as a novelist and playwright, she was best known for her frequent contributions to newspapers and magazines. Mrs. Craigie was born in Boston. Her father, John Morgan Richards, was the first American to introduce improved advertising methods into England. At the age of 19 years Miss Richards married Reginald Whitely Craigie, an Englishman. The union was unhappy and soon ended in divorce.

J. S. Sargent, the painter, is cosmopolitan to a degree. He is the son of an American parent; he was born in Germany, gained some of his education in France and France, and makes England his home.

Norris Brown of Lincoln, Neb., who was nominated for United States Senator by the Republican State convention at Lincoln, is Attorney General in the present State government. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. H. Brown of Des Moines, Iowa, and was born in Jackson County, Iowa, forty-three years ago. He has been a resident of Nebraska since 1888. An Attorney General he has won a number of important cases against corporations.

Charles Hercules Road, keeper of antiquities of the British museum and successor of the late Sir Wollaston Frankes, has sailed from Queenstown for America.

Caroline Grobe is the first woman to be nominated for a State office in Illinois. She received the nomination of the Democratic State convention for the office of State Superintendent of Public Instruction. Although under the laws of Illinois she cannot vote, she is the only one who came before the convention for the office. The nomination was put through by acclamation. Miss Grobe lives in Belleville, Ill., and has devoted her life to educational work. At present she is County Superintendent of Schools of her home county.

William J. Bryan's daughter Ruth, who is now Mrs. William H. Leavitt, has blossomed out as a playwright. She might about six months ago when she was attending the production of a new play in Boston. She declared to some friends that she could write a better one herself. In due time she finished a one-act sketch. It entitled "Mrs. S. Holman Deteriorate," which has since been highly praised. Mrs. Leavitt is not quite 21 years of age. She is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, and married Mr. Leavitt, who is an artist, in 1903.

PACKERS' BUSINESS INCREASE

Grilling Has No Appreciable Effect on the Domestic Sale. The output of products of the Chicago stock yards packing companies for domestic consumption, for the first seven months of this year has increased materially over the volume of business for the same period in other years. In spite of the severe grilling this has been achieved during most of that time at the hands of federal, state and city officials and the newspapers of the entire world. The report of the Department of Commerce and Labor, made public in Washington, shows that it is a fact. The figures are as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Month, Domestic Sales (in pounds). Rows include July, August, September, October, November, December, and Total for 1903.

Miss G. M. Leavitt, who is now Mrs. William H. Leavitt, has blossomed out as a playwright. She might about six months ago when she was attending the production of a new play in Boston. More than likely you speak the same words yourself, and do doubt you feel far from well.
