Candidate for Governor in His Speech at Wayne Cites Some Interesting Examples of Discriminative Freight Rates.

OTHER CANDIDATES ARE PRESENT

Each Speaker Strongly Favors Railway Commission and Election to Congress and Legislature Men in Harmony With President.

Saturday was republican rally day in Wayne and hundreds of the country people were in the city to hear the speakers who came in from Randolph Saturday morning, they having held a good meeting at Randolph the evening previous. The meeting at this place was held for 1 o'clock, and after the band with Chas. A. Randall, candidate for state senator, assisting, had dispersed a few selections, a good-sized audience gathered at the opera house to hear the popular issues discussed.

The party of candidates and speakers present at the meeting were Hon. Geo. L. Sheldon, candidate for governor; J. A. Williams, candidate for railroad commissioner; Chas. A. Randall, candidate for state senator from the 11th district; U. S. Marshal Wm. Warner, of Dakota City; Prof. Maggi, of Lincoln, a prominent democrat of that city who is laboring in the interests of Mr. Sheldon for governor; and H. E. Siman, candidate for representative. It was the intention of Judge Boyd to be present and address the meeting, but a phone message was received by him during the afternoon saying that he had missed the train at Norfolk and would not attend. Mr. Siman was introduced by Attorney A. A. Welch and spoke a few words.

Attorney A. R. Davis, of Wayne, presided and introduced Judge J. A. Williams, candidate for railway commissioner, as the next speaker. Judge Williams made an excellent ten minutes' speech in which he explained the duties and purposes of the proposed railway commission. In speaking of the personnel of the commission he said the men on the commission should be intelligent men, who understand the law, men absolutely fearless, who have no strings upon them, upon whom nobody shall draw the line, and who will be perfectly free to render fair judgment between all interests. "I stand before you," he said, "as a man who proposes to stand on the republican platform absolutely free from any influence of power except the power that rules this universe."

Wm. P. Warner, of Dakota county, was next introduced. Mr. Warner expressed pride in Northeast Nebraska, pride in the fact that he had been so long a resident of this section. Mr. Warner came to Northeast Nebraska in 1868, has been in close touch with existing conditions hereabouts since Wayne county was young, and drew comparisons between those conditions during republican and democratic rule. Mr. Warner spoke of electing republicans to congress, men that will uphold the policies advocated by the president, and spent a few moments discussing the situation in the Third district. He believes that the democrats, by the pass proposition, are attempting to blind the voters to the real issues in the congressional fight, and predicts an overwhelming majority for Judge Boyd. "Judge Boyd," said he, "is in harmony with the republican party, and is a man whom the people can trust." Mr. Warner spoke of Geo. L. Sheldon as Nebraska born and raised, a home product, as it were, and made brief mention of the balance of the ticket.

After the close of Mr. Warner's address, Attorney Davis in a few well chosen words, introduced the principal speaker of the afternoon, Hon. Geo. L. Sheldon, candidate for governor. Mr. Sheldon is a man of good appearance, very pleasing personality, is a forceful speaker and chock full of interesting and convincing facts and figures.

After a few words regarding railroad taxation Mr. Sheldon spoke at considerable length on discriminatory freight rates and the two-cent passenger rate. He showed the impracticability of the democratic plan of providing for a two-cent rate by enactment of a law as in all probability such a law would be contested by some of the poor roads, who could make it appear that such a rate was discriminatory in their case. If the courts deemed it unconstitutional of course it could not be applied to any other road. On the other hand the republican plan of securing a railway commission would allow the commission to decide what roads could afford to accept lower passenger and freight rates and what roads could not.

In the matter of freight discrimination he called particular attention to the rates upon certain articles between this place and Omaha, comparing these rates with the Iowa rates on the same articles for a like distance. The Iowa rate in each instance was much lower. The figures given were interesting.

Wayne were shown to be 40 cents, 25 cents and 28 cents per cwt. respectively as compared with the Iowa rate for the same distance of 28.4 cents, 21 cents and 12 cents. The rates on grain per cwt. between Wayne and Omaha, a distance of 118 miles, and between Omaha and Chicago, 500 miles, over four times the distance from here to Omaha, were also compared. The rates on wheat and corn between Wayne and Omaha are 13 cents and 10 1/2 cents per cwt. respectively while the rates on the same cereals from Omaha to Chicago are only 10 1/2 and 9 1/2 cents. As compared with the Nebraska rate on corn of 10 1/2 cents from Wayne to Omaha the Iowa rate for the same distance is 7 1/2 cents. Rate on hogs was shown to be 18 1/2 cents per cwt. in Nebraska and 11 cents in Iowa for the same distance. Wayne shippers pay a rate of $28.60 per carload on horses to Omaha while Iowa roads had the same distance for $18.25. The rate on lumber from Omaha to Wayne is $3.75 per thousand and the Iowa rate $1.02.

The earnings per mile of the Union Pacific, according to sworn statements by the company, during last year were $2,400.00 as against $1,500.00 per mile in Iowa. The earnings of the Burlington during 1904 were $2,300.00 per mile in Nebraska; in other states west of the Missouri $1,100.00 per mile and in Iowa $1,900.00 per mile.

Mr. Sheldon showed that the Iowa rate on corn, if it were in effect in this state, would save to the farmers of Northeast Nebraska the difference between 9.95 and 14.7 bushels per acre, that is now being deducted for freight.

The most surprising were the figures pertaining to rates on flour by which it was shown that it costs 13 cents per cwt. to ship flour from Wayne to Omaha while the same flour can be shipped from Nebraska to Liverpool or to other foreign points of like distance for only 33 cents, the rate across the sea being the same as from here to St. Louis.

Mr. Sheldon cited instances of rate discrimination in other localities. As an example, the rate on corn from Hastings to Omaha, a distance of 150 miles, is 16 cents while the rate from Concordia, Kansas, a distance of 198 miles, is 13 cents, and it costs but 1 cent per cwt. more to ship corn from Grand Island to St. Louis than from Grand Island to Omaha.

Mr. Sheldon believes that the most feasible plan for abolishing the present system of rate discrimination and for establishing a system of fairness to both the shipper and the railroads would be the formation of the proposed railway commission.

"The democrats claim the republican party has stolen its principles," said the speaker, "and, if that is true, I want to appeal to you democrats to support the republican party in order that those principles may be carried out."

The last speaker of the afternoon was Prof. Maggi, of Lincoln. Prof. Maggi is a democrat, but believes that George L. Sheldon is the ideal candidate for governor. "Mr. Sheldon," says he, "is a firm believer in equity and justice, a man who is near to a people who have faith in his honesty and integrity." Prof. Maggi emphasized the advisability of electing to the legislature men who will uphold the governor, and the formation of the railroad commission for the establishing of fair freight rates.

The party left on Saturday evening for Norfolk where a good meeting was held.

OMAHA PIRACY.

The Omaha candidates for the legislature on the republican ticket have held a meeting and decided to support an Omaha man for United States senator, but, failing to get such an one elected, to then support a candidate outside of Omaha who is not antagonistic to Omaha.

It seems incredible that such a bold piece of piracy as this could be deliberately planned by men in their right minds. It would be just as decent for the Omaha candidates to repudiate the nominees for governor or for any other office as to repudiate the nominee for United States senator.

It is only a question of expediency and honor in either case, and the obligation is just as strong in one as in the other.

The republicans of Omaha, and the business interests of Omaha, may expect notes of reprisal if the plan announced by the legislative nominees is carried out by the candidates and the voters. If after Omaha has had one or two United States senators every day since the territory came into the Union as a state, it is going to play fast and loose with the remainder of the state and it will be high time for the remainder of the state to return the compliment. And it can easily be imagined that the state outside of Omaha will soon find abundant opportunity to inflict a proper penalty.

In the republican platform adopted by the convention that nominated Norris Brown for senator is a plank endorsing the municipal taxation of railroad terminals. This was intended for the benefit of Omaha. It is not likely that a legislature that is not bound by a convention nomination will consider itself bound by a convention declaration. And thus it is probable that Omaha may expect to struggle along without local taxes from the railroads. This is one point at which the dagger may be inserted in return for Omaha treachery. There may be other points.

But there is a saving clause in the Omaha declaration, after all. If an Omaha man cannot be elected, then the delegation is to support some candidate not antagonistic to Omaha. An Omaha man cannot be elected. That much may be set down in advance. Then it is that the members from Douglas county will go to a friendly candidate. Norris Brown is friendly to Omaha. If he were not he would not get a vote in the state of Nebraska. The state wants him to be friendly to Omaha. He would be unfit to be senator if he were not. But the state does not expect him to be owned, body and soul, by Omaha, to the extent that he will sell out the state that Omaha and certain interests may prosper beyond reason.

Meantime we shall see what we shall see what we shall see.—Fremont Tribune.

DISGRACEFUL CONDUCT.

We clip the following reference to a disgraceful action of Congressman J. J. McCarthy at Ponca last week, from Sunday's Lincoln Star:

"Still indignant because of his defeat for renomination for Congress in the Third district, Congressman J. J. McCarthy threatened to assault W. N. Huse, editor of the Norfolk News, last Thursday evening, shortly after the funeral of Mr. Huse's father at Ponca, Neb.

"It is asserted that McCarthy followed Huse from a butcher shop, where they met, to a drug store and a considerable distance up the main street of the town, calling him names and threatening him with a stove from a picket fence.

"After Mr. Huse had been taken away by a friend, McCarthy continued to follow him, still talking of what he intended to do to the editor.

"The encounter took place at 8 o'clock in the evening on Thursday. William Huse, father of W. N. Huse, was buried at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Although worn out by reason of sickness, which accompanied a recent operation, and sorrow because of the death of his father, Mr. Huse made no attempt to avoid McCarthy and had to be led away by force. It is asserted by friends of Huse that McCarthy had repeatedly threatened to horsewhip the editor and during the conversation Thursday evening, he admitted making such assertions.

"I may horsewhip you if you mention my name in the paper again," he is said to have declared.

"Why didn't you say these things to Mr. Huse when you were in Norfolk?" asked a friend of the editor who stood by. "Why do you commence a thing like this when he is burying his father?"

"Congressman McCarthy has been bitter because of his defeat for renomination at Fremont by Judge J. F. Boyd. This defeat he attributes largely to the influence of Mr. Huse through the columns of his paper. The editor worked night and day to accomplish the defeat of the congressman, and when it was accomplished the editors of his district gave him the credit of the achievement.

"The trouble between the two men dates from a libel suit which was brought against the editor because of the printed statements which the congressman had authorized.

"Mr. Huse always asserted that he was forced to pay the damages assessed against him by the court through the fault of the congressman."

"In a Woman's Power" was first produced two years ago and sprang into immediate favor. In fact its success was almost miraculous. But there was a very good reason for it. The title is fascinating and the play tells a beautiful story of heart interest. The company is strong in acting ability. Manager Britton has secured "In a Woman's Power" for one night, Monday, Oct. 29.

HOW TO CURE A COLD.

The question of how to cure a cold without unnecessary loss of time is one in which we are all more or less interested, for the quicker a cold is gotten rid of the less the danger of pneumonia and other serious diseases. Mr. E. W. L. Hall, of Waverly, Va., has used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for years and says: "I firmly believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be absolutely the best preparation on the market for colds. I have recommended it to my friends and they all agree with me." For sale by Raymond's drug store.

WILLIAM HUSE.

Wm. Huse, a brief mention of whose death was published in last week's Herald, was buried at Ponca, Nebraska, on last Thursday, at which place he had settled upon coming west in 1873 and where he had spent the greater part of his newspaper life.

Among other articles concerning the life of Mr. Huse, the following appeared in the Norfolk News:

"William Huse was born July 7, 1828, at Binghamton, New York, consequently was 78 years of age last July. After completing the common school and academic courses he took a seven years' course in a lay college, the length of time then required, and after he was admitted to the practice in Chautauque county, he was for four years law partner of M. B. Champlin, attorney general of New York. Failing health forced him to give up his practice in New York, going to Missouri in 1865. Here the climate was found to be still worse for him and at the end of six months he took his family to Minnesota, settling at Owatonna. Later he moved to Janesville, Minn., where he practiced his profession.

"Late in the fall of 1872 he removed to Nebraska and became one of the pioneer newspaper men of the state, the Northern Nebraska Journal at Ponca being established in January, 1873. At the time this paper was started, it was practically the pioneer in the north Nebraska country. The same year only strengthened his belief that an enlarged sphere awaited the conclusion of his work in this world.

During his late illness he suffered no pain and did not apparently realize the seriousness of his condition, though at lucid times he thought of death and regarded transition with pleasant expectancy. As an instance, the attending physician asked him to allow a second injection of digitalis, and when he offered opposition and was asked if he didn't want to get well, he replied that he didn't care. On one occasion he talked at length about death and emphasized the evident fact that he was never more happy in his life. Thus, during his last moments, when his mortal life was peacefully ebbing away, and as his loved ones stood around his bed with hearts wrenched with grief, it seemed almost selfish for those left behind to wish for his return.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.

The following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Nebraska, as hereinafter set forth in full, is submitted to the electors of the State of Nebraska, to be voted upon at the general election to be held Tuesday, November 6, A. D. 1906.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Nebraska:

Section 1. That at the general election for State and Legislative officers to be held on the Tuesday, succeeding the the Mail was started in Dakota City, edited by John T. Spencer, lately deceased, two years before the West Point Republican was started and was then edited by O. F. Bayha. A year later the Nebraska Pioneer was established by Ed. A. Fry, now publisher of Fry's Wonderland Magazine. Mr. Huse was responsible for the appearance of several other newspapers in this section of the state, among them being the Wayne County Herald, established in 1874 at the town of La Porte, now extinct, long before the town of Wayne was on the map. The paper later removed to Wayne when that town started, with the rest of La Porte. In 1879 the Jackson Reporter was established and two years later the Hastings Herald was brought into existence. All these papers were operated for a time until sold, Mr. Huse continuing to retain the paper at Ponca. In 1888 he was one of the partners in the purchase of The News, retiring a few years later. About that time he started the Newsweek Times, and placed it in charge of his son E. W. Huse. In 1896 he published a History of Dixon County, which is a credit to its author. He remained with the Ponca paper until late in the 90's, when he removed to Oregon and successively owned and published two papers there. But he yearned for the old home, and four years ago W. Huse & Son again became owners of the Wayne Herald. This paper has now passed out of their hands.

"Wm. Huse was married to Ruth E. Berry in Chautauque county, New York, in 1857, who survives him. Seven children, of whom four are living, were born of the union. Those still living are: E. W. Huse, Wayne; Mrs. Wm. Wheeler Fairfield, Neb.; Mrs. R. Hopkins, Lincoln; W. N. Huse, Norfolk."

No one ever heard Wm. Huse express fear of death or doubt of a future existence. While never flogging in his determination to overcome the many obstacles incident to the experience of pioneering and though anxious to provide sufficient wealth to meet the material needs of his family, he gave increasing attention to psychological questions and fully convinced himself that this life was merely a preparatory school for greater study, usefulness and enjoyment beyond the grave. Years ago he joined the American branch of the London Psychical Research society, and had been a constant student of its books and magazines. More than a half century of investigation and thought first Monday in November, 1906, the following provision be proposed and submitted to the electors of the State as an amendment to the constitution.

Section 2. There shall be a State Railway Commission, consisting of three members, who shall be first elected at the general election in 1906, whose terms of office, except those chosen at the first election under this provision, shall be six years, and whose compensation shall be fixed by the Legislature.

Of the three commissioners first elected, the one receiving the highest number of votes, shall hold his office for six years, the next highest four years, and the lowest two years. The powers and duties of such commission shall include the regulation of rates, service and general control of common carriers as the legislature may provide by law. But in the absence of specific legislation, the commission shall exercise the powers and perform the duties enumerated in this provision.

Section 3. That at said election in the year 1906, on the ballot of each elector voting thereat, there shall be printed or written the words: "For Constitution Amendment, with reference to State Railway Commission." And if a majority of all votes cast at said election, shall be for such amendment, the same shall be deemed to be adopted.

I, A. Galusha, secretary of state of the state of Nebraska, do hereby certify that the foregoing proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Nebraska is a true and correct copy of the original enrolled and engrossed bill, as passed by the Twenty-ninth session of the legislature of the State of Nebraska, as appears from said original bill on file in this office, and that said proposed amendment is submitted to the qualified voters of the state of Nebraska for their adoption or rejection at the general election to be held on Tuesday the 6th day of November, A. D. 1906.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the great seal of the state of Nebraska. Done at Lincoln this 24th day of July, in the year of our Lord One Thousand Nine Hundred and Six, of the Independence of the United States the One Hundred and Thirty-second, and of this state the Fortieth. ### A CERTAIN CURE FOR COUGHS USED FOR TEN YEARS WITHOUT A FAILURE.

Mr. W. C. Bost, a Star City, Ind., hardware merchant, is enthusiastic in his praise of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. His children have all been subject to cough and he has used this remedy for the past ten years, and though they much feared the cough, his wife and he always felt safe upon retiring when a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was in the house. His oldest child was subject to severe attacks of cough, but this remedy never failed to effect a speedy cure. He has recommended it to friends and neighbors and all who have used it say that it is unequalled for cough and whooping cough. For sale by Raymond's drug store.

It will soften and heal any skin ailment. Get a free trial box at our store, and be convinced. Large nickel capped glass jars, 25 cents. Felber's Pharmacy.

QUINCY, SPRAINS AND SWELLINGS CURED.

"IN A WOMAN'S POWER."

One of the stellar attractions of the season will be a new, original sensational melodrama by Ernest Stout. It is described as a play of intense heart interest and containing uncommon realism as well as lifelike characters. The company is a large and capable one. The play is booked at the opera house Monday, Oct. 29.

The new Pure Food and Drug Law will mark it on the label of every Cough Cure containing opium, chloroform, or any other stupefying or poisonous drug. But it passes Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure as made for 20 years, entirely free. Dr. Shoop all along has bitterly opposed the use of all opiates or narcotics. Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure is absolutely safe even for the youngest babe—and it cures, it does not simply suppress. Get a safe and reliable Cough Cure, by simply insisting on having Dr. Shoop's. Let the law be your protection. We cheerfully recommend and sell it. Felber's Pharmacy.

If you like coffee but dare not drink it, try Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee. It is true that real coffee does disturb the stomach, heart and kidneys. But Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee has not a grain of true coffee in it. Being made from parched grains, malt, etc., it forms a wholesome, food-like drink, yet having the true flavor of Old Java and Mocha Coffee. "Made in a minute." Call at our store for a free sample.—Sold by Ralph Rundell.

Preventics, as the name implies, prevent all Colds and Grippe when "taken at the sneeze stage." Preventics are toothsome candy tablets. Preventics dissipate all colds quickly, and taken early, when you first feel that a cold is coming, they check and prevent them. Preventics are thoroughly safe for children, and as effectual for adults. Sold and recommended in 5 cent and 25 cent boxes by Felber's Pharmacy.

Sprained wrists, use Electric Liniment, 25 and 50c a Leahy's Drug Store.

A noted production, "On the Bridge at Midnight" due here in a short time, is a remarkable example of true comedy-drama. It is in the contrast with the sensational horseplay that is often foisted on the unsuspecting who seek real dramatic entertainment. The celebrated scenic superiority of "On the Bridge at Midnight" including the great bridge scene, has supplied a deeply interesting, wholesome story of humor, pathos and romance woven together with naturalness. Such comedy characters as Biddy, the newsboy, and Germany, the professor, arouse the most genuine laughter because truly humorous. The serious roles are pictures from life and especially convincing as played by the exceptional company presenting the play this season.

Wood For Sale—Good, dry cottonwood.—Henry Wolf, 6 miles southeast.

A number of women got divorces last week, but their husbands did not wear Staley underwear.

MEN GO WRONG!

Men are peculiar creatures and sometimes hard to understand. Nearly all of them are all right when they get married, but for some reason, not known, they go wrong afterward, and the divorce court find it necessary to grant a divorce. There are a number of things that will help a man to go right, and our long experience with men has proven that clothing has much to do in keeping men in the "straight and narrow path". We will mention a few facts and you can draw your own conclusions. During the thirty years we have sold clothing, not one that bought his wedding suit of us, got or asked for a divorce. No one in twenty-seven years has asked for a divorce that bought Staley underwear of us. No one that made our store his trading place failed to support his wife or asked for a divorce. Consider these facts for what they are worth and remember that we have more and better Clothing than anyone in Wayne county, and we charge you less. Get the habit of trading with us and you will have the satisfaction of knowing that the best men have that habit, and that you will never go wrong. We never were so well prepared to please you as we are this fall. Just step in anyway and look at our Clothing. We will be pleased to show you, no matter if you do not buy.

THE WAYNE HERALD.

Official paper of Wayne and Wayne county Published every Thursday. Frank A. Bryner, Publisher Entered at the Post Office at Wayne, Neb., as second class mail matter.

B. F. FEATHER. Vote for B. F. Feather for Clerk of the District Court.

Judge Graves says his pocket was never polluted with a pass. It was the hired girl's pocket.

It may have been all right for Judge Graves to get a pass for the hired girl to Denver and return, as some men's conception of the privileges of that employee is unlimited.

Remember the "solid south" can be absolutely counted on for 100 democratic members of Congress. With this in view it is well for you to consider the probable harm the casting of your vote for a democrat may do.

"It was my wife, mother-in-law and hired girl that put me to the bad on the pass question. The only trouble with me was I began talking and acting holy when I ought to have kept my mouth shut and been less conspicuous about the matter. I am not the only man that has yielded to the tempter."—Graves.

A. R. Davis, the republican candidate for county attorney, is today one of the leading attorneys of the county. A man abundantly fitted in every way to fill the office he seeks. He deserves the united support of his own party and if cleared we feel certain the county matters will be carefully looked after so far as its legal affairs are concerned.

Ed. Owen, one of the present members of the board of county commissioners, is the republican candidate for reelection this fall. He is one of the county's heaviest taxpayers, is a farmer by occupation and has been successful as a business man and has made a record as an official that ought to entitle him to re-election with but slight opposition. No commissioner has ever looked more closely after every interest of the taxpayer than has Mr. Owen during his incumbency of the place and is today thoroughly acquainted with the needs of the county and is much better fitted by experience to give the county good service than can be given by any new and inexperienced man, no matter how much natural adaptation he may possess and it hardly seems possible that the voters of the county will fail to embrace this opportunity of keeping a good and tried official in place.

In '92 the democrats assured us their party would not if given the reins of government do anything that would check the tide of prosperity prevailing at that time—what was the result of accepting their promises as true? Today they have the effrontery to say to you they are in harmony with Roosevelt and ask your support for their congressional candidates to help him put his ideas in force. If they are in harmony with the President the best way to show it is to vote for republican congressmen, men pledged to support him. Can you find anything in any democratic platform that endorses republican policies as interpreted by Theodore Roosevelt? Or can you name any democratic journal of prominence endorsing his policies and at the same time advocating the election of democratic congressmen. The fact of the matter is your democratic friend thinks you are an easy mark—what do you think about it?

By the suffrage of Wayne county republicans two democrats hold down the best offices in the county and by the positions they occupy are brought in closer touch with the masses of the people than any other officials. These two incumbents never allow an opportunity to pass where there is the least hope of getting a republican to vote for democratic candidates without taking advantage of it. They do not stop at soliciting votes, but by virtue of their places embrace every chance that offers to throw discredit on their fellow officials and play into the hands of democrats and democratic interests. At present their efforts are centered on the election of a democrat to the office of county commissioner and if they can by any hook or crook succeed in this, they feel that democratic interests will be taken care of to their entire satisfaction. Are the voters of the county going to be parties to the schemes of these wily fellows much longer?

Mr. Shallenberger, the democratic nominee is trying to injure the question of railroad ownership by the government into the state campaign as an issue. In so doing he is not in harmony with democratic ideas, because railroad ownership would mean a centralization of power—one of the things his party has always taught against. Then again the American people look upon a doctrine of that kind as altogether visionary. The railroads of the United States are valued at over $10,000,000,000 and this is an amount of indebtedness that would cause some hesitation on the part of thoughtful people before they would incur it. Then again, there are about 1,500,000 employees on the railroads of the country, a salient number to hold any administration having control of this vast force in power almost perpetually if desired. Mr. Shallenberger is evidently a dreamer of dreams, like unto another of Nebraska's illustrious sons.

The HERALD is not a railroad organ or sympathetic in any sense of the word and believes its record during the past three years is well enough known to justify its claim in that respect. It is not in sympathy with pass granting or pass holding, but it believes that when a candidate accepts a nomination from the republican party and pledges himself to in every respect abide by and live up to the platform declarations of the party and the man is known to be one who does in all cases exactly as he agrees he is entitled to the undivided support of his party, even though prior to his becoming a nominee for place or office the party had taken its present stand on the pass bill be accepted and need a pass. That is why the HERALD is for Judge Boyd. It has known him as a man and judge for 10 or more years and has always found him square and upright, doing exactly as he agrees and as a judge has never even heard of him being accused of being influenced in any manner for friendship's sake or for any favors extended. All this talk about passes in his case is simply so much dust being thrown to blind voters to the real issues involved in the approaching election. It is a matter of republicanism versus democracy, their principles and policies that are involved and not the personalities of the two candidates that are at stake. Voters surely cannot be blinded by the partisan desires of the opposition to allow their own interests to suffer for the sake of giving place to enemies of the policies now in effect.

HORSE THIEVES.

Team, Buggy and Other Property Stolen on Streets of Wayne.

One of the boldest pieces of thievery that has been committed hereabouts for many years took place in Wayne on Sunday evening. A fine black team belonging to R. Lauman had been driven to town during the evening and at eight o'clock were tied near the Two Johns' clothing store. A few minutes later the team and buggy together with a robe or two, a saddle belonging to S. E. Anker, taken from the bank of a kidnapped child and meets with an experience that would overwhelm anybody but such a mother. The child is an important part that furnishes much of the interest. The play was an instantaneous success in Chicago where the scenes are laid and the famous bridge located.

The Two Johns say that the demand for Staley Underwear is much greater this year than ever before.

The Duroc-Jersey sale of M. S. Moats & Son on Tuesday was a very good sale in every respect. Considering the small attendance of farmers the prices were very satisfactory, the 95 head sold averaging $31 per head. The doctor of one train and the engineer of another had a misunderstanding in Wayne Tuesday that came near ending in a fight. Parties who have recently been building cement walks on College hill are justly indignant because of the carelessness or deviltry of someone in damaging the walk by walking over it before the material had become hardened. The trick was undoubtedly done out of a spirit of meanness as the stretch of walk had been hauled out at both ends in order that pedestrians should not unconsciously step upon the freshly laid cement.

A fist encounter occurred on our streets one day this week, caused by a most disgraceful state of affairs. The aggressor in the sparring match says that forbearance has ceased to be a virtue with him and that from now on there will be something doing. E. W. Huse and family left Saturday evening for their new home at Beatrice, Neb., where Mr. Huse takes charge of the Beatrice Express, one of southeast Nebraska's bright daily papers. That Mr. Huse will succeed in his new field goes without saying, because he is one of those painstaking, industrious fellows who is not afraid to put lots of good hard work into anything he undertakes and his efforts are directed with an intelligence that always insures success. The HERALD wishes him the success it knows he will attain and knows it will be well deserved.

HORSE THIEVES.

Team, Buggy and Other Property Stolen on Streets of Wayne.

One of the boldest pieces of thievery that has been committed hereabouts for many years took place in Wayne on Sunday evening. A fine black team belonging to B. Lannan had been driven to town during the evening and at eight o'clock were tied near the Two Johns' clothing store. A few minutes later the team and buggy together with a robe or two, a saddle belonging to S. E. Anker, taken from the back of a horse standing nearby, and an overcoat belonging to Ray Petrus, were missing.

Early Monday morning descriptions of the stolen property were sent by Sheriff Grant Meers to all of the towns in this section and the Concord bloodhounds were sent for, arriving here at 11 o'clock. With the assistance of the dogs the team was followed to a point about fifteen miles west where the trail seemed to end abruptly, the hounds refusing to work farther.

Wayne county has offered $50 and Sheriff Meers $25 as a reward for the capture and conviction of the thieves and Mr. Lannan will pay $25 for return of property.

The stolen property is described as follows: Team of black mares about ten years old, weight about $2,000 pounds, one had J H brand on left shoulder, the other had notch in top of neck, both shod in front with Keever-Slip shoes, a very nice looking team Buggy was rubber tire, red gear, in very good shape. Harness used about one year. A very showy rig that will be easily noticed.

The rig was reported to have been seen by farmers Tuesday forenoon a few miles north of Randolph and headed toward Yankton, S. D. By communicating with the authorities at Yankton it was learned that the thieves had not crossed the river at that place.

Yesterday morning the team and buggy was again seen in the vicinity of the ferry crossing several miles of Yankton. There is much rough country thereabouts that affords excellent places of hiding, and the thieves as yet have not been apprehended.

NECK BROKEN.

Wm. Griffiths Falls and is Instantly Killed.

The home of Wm. Griffiths, of Sholes is a sad one because of the untimely death of the husband and father Monday afternoon. Mr. Griffiths was a farmer living just northeast of the town of Sholes and on Monday was helping one of his neighbors thresh and was working on the straw stack. When the setting was finished and the straw stack completed Mr. Griffiths started to slide down off the stack and in some way or other his heels caught in the straw and threw him head first to the ground, breaking his neck and causing instant death. Mr. Griffiths was one of the well-to-do Welsh farmers of the county, aged 54 years and became a resident of this county about three years ago from Iowa. He leaves to mourn his untimely ending a loving wife and two children, and a large circle of friends whose deepest sympathies go out to the awfully stricken family. The funeral was held yesterday at the Welsh church west of Carroll.

Man dropped dead in Wayne, but did not have on Staley underwear.

The Columbia Fire Insurance Co., of Omaha, was the first to settle their loss in the Union hotel fire. The loss occurred October 9 and the claim was paid in full on the 14th. This company was also the first to settle in the Bressler and Miller fires last spring.

The plot and story of "On the Bridge at Midnight" which is to appear at Wayne opera house on October 25, is a triumph of ingenuity and play construction. A blind mother seeks her kidnapped child and meets with an experience that would overwhelm any body but such a mother. The child is an important part that furnishes much of the interest. The play was an instantaneous success in Chicago where the scenes are laid and the famous bridge located.

The Two Johns say that the demand for Staley Underwear is much greater this year than ever before.

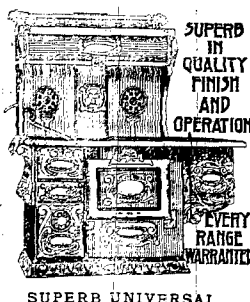

Learn to play the mandolin. Full harmony and duo style, the new form of self-accompaniment taught. For further information see O. SALSBERRY at Craven's Studio.

Hobart M. Cable Piano Character

Character is as essential in the first-class piano as it is in the first-class man. The difference is in kind and not in degree. In its relation to the Piano, character means tone, the soul of the instrument; the one trait that gives it a distinct individuality. To win lasting approbation a Piano must have this sort of character. If the tone be musical and sympathetic the effect is enduring because it appeals to an aesthetic sense that never tires of beauty in sound, the musical instinct that is implanted in the soul of every human being.
