CORNER STONE IS LAID

By the Nebraska Grand Lodge of A. F. & A. M.--Ceremony is an Impressive One.

ADDRESS DELIVERED BY DR. HORN

Praises Work Done by Nebraska Normal--Banquet Follows the Ceremonies.

The corner stone of the new Nebraska Normal College building was laid at 4 o'clock on last Friday afternoon by the Grand Lodge of the Masonic Order of Nebraska. The ceremony was a most beautiful and impressive one.

Francisco this morning arrived at its destination the evening before or yesterday which means that by summoning electricity to our aid in this progressive age we can do things in eight hours less than no time.

being done by the school and of the growth of the institution since its founding fifteen years ago. He remarked that the founders little realized the greatness to be attained and predicted the same prosperity in the future as in the past.

MANNER OF VOTING.

Owing to the fact that differences of opinion exist among voters as to the correct manner of marking the ballot, we reproduce here the portion of Section 140, Election Laws of the State of Nebraska, relating to the same:

What you desire, it seems, is not the good of the church for, I take it, he estimates the bulk of the membership; not the benefit of the community, for he stands well there; but you don't want him for "personal reasons" for your pastor. Suppose you take your letters (if you can get them) and leave the church--go to some other pastor that you can like! You seem to be of no value where you are. You do not support the church with your money, nor influence; much less with your prayers. You are walking disorderly and schismatically. It is easier for you to move than it is for your pastor. He has a wife and children; he is a poor man; he has been earnest, conscientious, faithful and consecrated in that field. However, if he is non grata to you, we cordially advise you to sell your house, find some other field where you "like the minister personally" and strive to live orderly and peaceably in your church relations.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.

The following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Nebraska, as hereafter set forth in full, is submitted to the electors of the State of Nebraska, to be voted upon at the general election to be held Tuesday, November 6, A. D., 1906.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Nebraska:

Section 1. That at the general election for State and Legislative officers to be held on the Tuesday, succeeding the first Monday in November, 1906, the following provision be proposed and submitted to the electors of the State as an amendment to the constitution.

Section 2. There shall be a State Railway Commission, consisting of three members, who shall be first elected at the general election in 1906, whose terms of office, except those chosen at the first election under this provision, shall be six years, and whose compensation shall be fixed by the Legislature.

Section 3. That at the general election in the year 1906, on the ballot of each elector voting thereat, there shall be printed or written the words: "For Constitution Amendment, with reference to State Railway Commission." And "Against Constitutional Amendment, With Reference to State Railway Commission." And if a majority of all votes cast at said election, shall be for such amendment, the same shall be deemed to be adopted.

I, A. Galusha, secretary of state of the state of Nebraska, do hereby certify that the foregoing proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Nebraska is a true and correct copy of the original enrolled and engrossed bill, as passed by the Twenty-ninth session of the legislature of the State of Nebraska, as appears from said original bill on file in this office, and that said proposed amendment is submitted to the qualified voters of the state of Nebraska for their adoption or rejection at the general election to be held on Tuesday the 6th day of November, A. D. 1906.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the great seal of the state of Nebraska. Done at Lincoln this 24th day of July, in the year of our Lord One Thousand Nine Hundred and Six, of the Independence of the United States the One Hundred and Thirty-second, and of this state the Fortieth.

(Seal) A. GALUSHA, Secretary of State.

THE RUFUS RASTUS MINSTRELS The bill to be presented by the Rufus Rastus Minstrels, Saturday night, Oct. 27, is said to be not only cleverly arranged as to numbers in the first part, but so good in the olio that it is hard to determine which act should be the "headliner."

Strander and Strander, who introduce Oon Love Dittles and African Swords in costumes have often been awarded the coveted position. Another audience awards the honor to Moody and James, while some other place prefers the act of the Great Layton. Here the marvelous Drake may make the best impression, or the famous St. Clair, Al Strander as a comedian is exorbitantly funny. His lines and gags are all clever; but his way of saying them and his managements are a constant inspiration of laugh.

It has often been noticed that Will Jones runs Mr. Strander a tight race for first place, although his fan is of a more frolic character. The other principal fan-makers are satisfactory at all times and the performance is bright, snappy and mirth provoking from start to finish. The lovers of old time minstrelsy will most assuredly enjoy a rare treat if they go to hear the charming Southern melodies introduced by the Albernaz Quartette, Al Edwards and others.

Fred Brown was a passenger east on Tuesday.

L. U. McKee came home from Iowa Saturday.

"Dad" Vredenburg went to Sioux City Monday.

E. A. Sylvanus was down from Carroll Saturday.

Rev. J. H. Karpenstein preached at Emerson Sunday.

Ike Walden, of Carroll, was in Wayne Monday afternoon.

P. M. Peterson, of Wakefield, was a caller at this office Saturday.

Geo. and Oscar Edwards, of Carroll, were Wayne visitors Saturday.

Chas. Craven and Theo. Duerig were passengers for Dakota Tuesday morning.

Carl Olesberg went down to Sioux City Sunday afternoon returning Monday.

Oed Swanson, of Hartington, visited over Sunday with his parents in this city.

Frank McDonald has recently had a fine new barn erected on his farm west of town.

Thos. Hayes and "Jim" Miller went down to Sioux City Saturday afternoon and returned Sunday evening.

Mrs. Chas. Reynolds returned Saturday from a visit of several days at her former home at Minden, Neb.

Had it not been for the wet weather corn husking would have been nicely begun in this section this week.

Ed. Merrill has given up his position at Lincoln and is again with the M. & O. railroad company at Sioux City.

Henry Bay was down from Wimpole Saturday afternoon, representing the farmers of his section of the anti-horse-choief meeting.

E. L. Mahler was an Emerson visitor Friday, returning Saturday. He is opening a harness repairing shop at that place this week.

Wm. Marton, who has the contract for the erection of the new college building in this city, spent Sunday at his home in Emerson.

Chas. A. Randall, republican candidate for state senator, was in Wayne Monday. Mr. Randall is making an excellent campaign and is meeting with encouragement on every hand.

Fred Remander returned Saturday from a short visit to Randolph and Plainview. He tells us that the framework has been erected for the fine new Methodist church at the latter place.

Mr. E. W. Huse and family arrived from Wayne, Neb., and are registered at the Paddock. Mr. Huse has come to assume the management of the Express.

He is said to be a newspaper man and a gentleman.---Economic Sun.

The Beatrice Daily Express, of Beatrice, Neb., with E. W. Huse, formerly of Wayne, in charge as manager, has been coming to our table for the past few days. The paper is one of the brightest little daily sheets in the state, editorially and typographically, and it is unnecessary to predict its prosperity under the present management.

Owing to lack of space the HERALD last week was unable to publish a list of the officers elected by the local order of Eagles organized at Wayne on last Wednesday evening. They were as follows:

Thos. Wheeler, past president; F. E. Strahan, worthy president; D. E. Miller, vice president; Wilson Rookbaugh, secretary; J. R. Rudell, treasurer; Sam Davies, chaplain; Bert Surber, conductor; Fred Eenshoof, inside guard; O. B. Thompson, outside guard; A. Jones, Chas. Schultheis, Ellis Gilton, trustees.

The many Wayne friends of "Johnny" Nelhard will be pleased to learn that the John Lane company, of New York and London, one of the big international publishing houses, will bring out a volume of fiction by Mr. Nelhard, entitled "The Lonesome Trail," sometime in January, the book having been passed on by the London office of the company in a way highly pleasing to the author. It will contain something over three hundred pages and will be produced simultaneously in New York and London. Mr. Nelhard has another book, "A Bundle of Myrrh," which will be brought out in the spring, and has a novel under way which will probably appear within a year.

It was rumored the first of the week that a change had been made or was about to be made in the management at the power house. This, however, was a mistake. Electrician Edw. F. Schurig, of Omaha, the gentleman who drew up the plans for the improvement now being made in the system, was in town a couple of days the first of the week arranging the machinery at the plant so as to make it possible to use both outfits when the load becomes too heavy for one as it will this winter. The one engine and dynamo are now being used already taxed to its utmost capacity and both rigs will be put in use as soon as the new line has been built. This, it is expected, will be accomplished in two or three weeks.

Proposed New College Building at Wayne, the Corner Stone of Which Was Laid Friday Afternoon.

Wayne people and many from outside towns were in attendance.

The member of the grand lodge and visitors present from outside were: Zwingle M. Baird, of Hartington, Neb., Grand Master; Harry A. Cheney, Orlington, Grand Marshal; Rev. F. M. Druffner, Hartington, Grand Chaplain; Judge R. E. Evans, Dakota City, Past Grand Master; John A. Ehrhardt, Stanton, Past Grand Master; J. K. Brown, Orlington; J. J. Sarge, Bloomfield; Walter Gabel, Winde; C. R. Boughn, L. P. Holtz, E. O. Aegerter, E. L. Hammond, Geo. Warner, W. A. Hamman, A. L. Townsend, J. J. W. Fox and Geo. Hyatt, Randolph, and O. H. Mattison, Wisner.

After the conclusion of the ceremonies Dr. E. O. Horn, of the First Methodist church of this city, delivered an excellent address in which he paid many glowing tributes to the Nebraska Normal and the other schools of its kind. Mr. Horn said:

"When the history of the great state of Nebraska is completed, chief among the annals of its noteworthy institutions of learning will be the record of the Nebraska Normal College. The uplifting influences it has launched are a permanent contribution to the state and nation.

"As a very influential agent in the development of thinkers it has acted the part of a skillful yet powerful thought-involving dynamo. By this college workable plans have been wrought which are being applied by the teachers throughout the public school system far and near.

"Nebraska has rapidly forged to the front in both the quality and quantity of its agricultural products, and it is significant that this advance has been most in evidence since the introduction of the science of agriculture into our educational curriculum.

"Every department of life is now more than ever before demanding people who can think and see relations and make practical application of the knowledge obtained.

"Many persons had doubtless observed falling apples, but the world waited for an Isaac Newton to see the relation between a falling apple and the wheeling universe upon which we live, thereby enabling him to draft the law of gravitation. Many persons had observed the kettle lid dancing under the propulsive power of steam, but it fell to the lot of James Watt to see the relation between that clattering lid and the steam engine which now draws multiplied loads of human freight from ocean to ocean and literally pushes floating fortifications and superimposed city blocks from shore to shore. Others had observed the lightning flashing and playing among the clouds, but the world waited patiently for a Franklin to harness the electric energy, permitting us to use it in sending messages by land as well as under the biny deep. By its use we can now annihilate space as well as time. A message cabled to Hong Kong from San cash fifty cents, and that the loss of one day means the loss of that amount.

"Rising higher in the scale of education it has been computed that each year spent in college is worth at least one thousand dollars. If the cost to the student is two hundred dollars per year and the value received is one thousand dollars it is plain to be seen that attendance at college is the most profitable business proposition now open to acceptance. It is also estimated that at least thirty doors of opportunity swing wide open to the college graduate whereas but one opportunity beckons the person who elicits to go through life without college training and equipment. Therefore I have no hesitancy in asserting that woe do go into bankruptcy when used in an attempt to portray the excellencies of any institution that returns to the investor five hundred percent profit on every investment and multiplies the opportunities of young men and women thirty fold who graduate from its halls.

"The president and faculty of such an institution deserve the plaudits, prayers and financial support of every loyal citizen.

"Though a crude bar of iron worth five dollars is worth ten dollars when advanced to the condition of horse shoes, and to two hundred and fifty thousand dollars when turned into watch springs, which is fifty thousand per cent of an advance, yet a crude student may be brought into this college, be introduced to the language and sciences, and be finally advanced upon a million fold beyond former expectations.

"This progressive age is noteworthy for its advances in the realm of thought. Not many centuries ago when engaged in war the Persians saturated their arrow heads in peach juice in order to poison the enemy. Since that day thought has been applied to the peach and by cultivation the poison has been eliminated until peaches have become chosen fruit for kings' tables. Not many years ago seedless oranges were unknown. On account of the application of thought in the progress of elimination seedless oranges are common in every market. By the application of the same principles seedless apples have been developed and, no doubt, will be on the market in due time. Not satisfied with his rare accomplishment, man has undertaken apparent impossibilities in that he is laboring faithfully in the horticultural laboratory endeavoring to graft the strawberry plant upon the milkweed, so that from one and the same bush may soon be gathered both strawberries and cream.

"Truly this is an age of progress and he who fails to keep up to date may soon find himself practically an eternity behind time.

"All honor to the Nebraska Normal College which this day registers another step on the ladder of progress."

After the conclusion of Dr. Horn's remarks A. A. Welch, of Wayne, in a short address, spoke of the great good dorsed constitutional amendment of that party on the ballot. If the voter does not wish to vote a straight ticket he shall make a cross in the square to the right of every candidate for whom he desires to vote, or, in a presidential election, by making a cross in the circle to the right of the presidential electors of his choice; if he desire to vote for all the electors of one party, or by writing the name of the person for whom he desires to vote, and whose name is not printed on the ballot, in the blank space provided therefor and making a cross in the square to the right thereof; and in case of a question to be submitted to the vote of the people, by making a cross in the square to the right of the answer he wishes to give. When a voter shall have made a cross in one of the circles for a straight party ticket, and shall have also made crosses in any of the squares to the right of the name of any candidates or in either square to the right of any constitutional amendment his vote shall be so counted as a vote for said candidates and for or against said amendments, as the case may be, but for all other officers or constitutional amendments, his vote shall be counted for the candidates and party action concerning amendments of that party in whose party circle he has made a cross. When two or more candidates of the same party are grouped on the ballot for the same office (as two or more representatives) a cross in the circle to the right of the group will be a vote for all the candidates in the group; if the voter wishes to vote for one or more of the candidates for that office of another party or parties, he must make a cross in the square to the right of each candidate of his own party for whom he wishes to vote for that office, and also make a cross in the square to the right of the name of each candidate of any other party or parties for whom he wishes to vote for the same office.

AN ANSWER.

A subscriber asks us to publish the following clipped from the query department of the Baptist Record of Pella, Iowa:

"Anxious." "Our church numbers about 200 members. Our pastor is a good man, a fair preacher and a pastor; but he is personally unacceptable to me and at least six other strong members. We have quietly told him we would like a change of pastors; but he 'sticks.' What can we do? If we who are dissatisfied work with him it will strengthen his hold on the church. Moreover he has many friends in the community who for some strange reason like him and on his account support the church. We would like to get rid of him without trouble."

Ans. Well, it is a perplexing case! Of course you could not very well shoot him, for the affair would be noisy. Poison is risky. No doubt you have done some meddling. Breaking his heart by perpetual pounding on it would fetch him; but that is a slow process.

CAUSES STOCK FLURRY.

Bank of England Hoists the Rate of Discount. The bank of England Friday raised its discount rate to 6 per cent. Not since Nov. 7, 1890 just before the Baring panic, has the rate been put to 6 per cent. A release in American exchange, indicating a renewal of demands for gold, and the probability of large withdrawals of metal from Egypt seemed to have contributed to the action taken.

FREIGHT RATES

ARE UNJUST

Oppressive System by Which Nebraska Lands Are Depressed in Value.

WHY RAILROADS OPPOSE SHELDON

Only Hope of Continuing Abnormal Profits Rests in the Election of a Democratic Congress and Legislature.

It costs the Custer county farmer three and a half cents more for a bushel of wheat, 14 cents for a hundred pounds of corn, 18 cents for a hundred pounds of oats, 27 1/2 cents for a hundred pounds of hay, making a total of 73 1/2 cents for these 400 pounds for this 215-mile haul.

This same stuff will ride across Iowa and Illinois, 500 miles, for 27 1/2 cents. It costs 6 cents more for the 215-mile haul in Nebraska than for the 500-mile haul across Iowa and Illinois.

The Custer county farmer produces four times as much corn, wheat, and a considerable amount of alfalfa, and a half time as much cattle, and two and a half times as much on hogs, per distance, on this side of the Missouri as he pays on the other side.

When the Custer county farmer starts out with his load of wheat, there is an arbitrary high rate of freight against him that changes his distance from Chicago and puts his wheat 50 miles, his corn 150 miles, his cattle 325 miles, and his hogs 325 miles further from the market than they ought to be. In other words, these high Nebraska rates add advantage of 40 per cent to the distance in cost of transportation between these food products and the Chicago market.

It puts the Custer county farmer out half way across Nebraska, where he really is only half way to the market. The effect of this is to depress the Custer county farm out of the market and thus cheat it out of its true value, for the value of food producing in miles, but on its distance in transportation costs from the food market.

Do you see the point? This same injustice through rate extortion is worked against all the food producing lands of Nebraska. The whole state, with its annual output of food stuffs, is pushed away from the food market and its lands are thus cheated out of their true value in order that Nebraska railroad stocks and bonds owned in Wall street may be pushed up in the stock market of Wall street.

The real contest in this railroad question here in Nebraska is a contest between the value of Nebraska lands to the Nebraska farmer and the value of Nebraska railroad stocks to the Wall street millionaire.

The big wrong done to Nebraska farmers is that in the three or four hundred dollars taken from the value of his annual food product, but the three or four or five hundred dollars taken from the value of the 160-acre farm. See the point?

Lower the freight rates in Nebraska and you raise the value of Nebraska lands.

High freight rates mean high prices for railroad stocks and low prices for the bottom of it is a struggle between the farmer and the Wall street millionaire. The railroad property says to the farmer: "You go down and stay down in order that I may get up and stay up."

The railroad magnates understand this when they established the free pass system years ago for the purpose of protecting their freight rate extortion from law.

They understood it when they raised their freight rates and defeated George F. Sheldon in the Democratic convention. They understood it when they tried and failed to defeat George Sheldon in the Republican state convention. They understand it now, while they are trying to defeat Sheldon's election.

They understand this underlying proposition with all the millions that it means to the value of their property while they are trying to defeat the election of the Republican legislative ticket.

A Republican legislature with George Sheldon in the governor's office will reduce rates and these railroad managers know it. A Republican legislature will elect Norris Brown to the United States senate and they don't want him there, for he will elect for a fair value on Nebraska farm products and property, just as he stood for a fair assessment on Nebraska railroad property.

B. F. FEATHER.

Vote for B. F. Feather for Clerk of the District Court.

Nebraska democracy talks of its opposition to corporate domination in state and national affairs and then presents as its candidate for governor of the state a notorious railroad man. The old party has not been consistent for a long time and it don't look as though it were improving.

Do you know that democracy and the railroads of Nebraska have joined hands in the present campaign and the defeat of the republican state ticket means the placing of the corporations in the saddle? Has your forgotten the promises made prior to the election of Holcomb for governor, and don't you remember he the most servile of all corporation tools?

Why don't Judge Graves come out and over his own signature say he had never used a pen during the time he has been Judge in the eighth judicial district? The irresponsible assertions of a lot of political liars is not what people care for, but they like to put a man who is posing as a reformer but his self on record in black and white. Dare Guy T. Graves do it?

All democracy has to offer is promises for the future. It dare not revert to its past record and ask the support of any intelligent business man on the strength of its achievements. Twelve per cent interest on government bonds and a civil war was a part of the last democratic administration prior to Grover Cleveland, and of that, O Lord, deliver us from a repetition.

A vote for C. A. Randall and Harry E. Siman is a vote for the election of a republican United States Senator and a vote for their opponents is a vote of discredit for the administration of Theodore Roosevelt. Remember democratic congressmen and state officers are interested in discrediting and not in repudiating the policies of the President.

If the candidates on the two tickets are of equal ability and integrity, personal reasons should not induce you to vote for the man on the ticket of the opposition. It is couched by bitter partisans that the republican candidate on the county ticket are the equals in every respect of their opponents and for this reason it is but simple justice to the man who represents the principles you believe in that he should receive your vote.

If you desire a repetition of the grand good old times of '98 to '97 one of the best ways on earth to bring them about will be on November 6th to cast your vote for Graves for congressman from the third district of Nebraska instead of for Judge Boyd. It may be the fact as to whether either of these gentlemen have in the past ridden on a pass or not is of great moment to you and the country in general, than whether democratic or republican policies shall prevail in the conduct of our affairs. Really, don't you think this pass issue is pretty thin stuff in this case?

Whenever a candidate for an office presents his card to you and it does not bear any designation as to what party's candidate he is, you will generally find it safe to put him down as a democrat. Candidates of the republican party almost invariably fail to have their printed bearing the announcement of their party allegiance, but a democrat hardly ever does. The democrat seems to be ashamed of his party, or else he thinks he can fool voters into voting for a party they do not understand, or, for that reason, he tries to keep from divulging his party allegiance.

Corn at 8 cents, oats 10 cents, wheat 32 cents, wool 4 and 5 cents per pound. Hogs as low as $3.75 per hundred pounds, a good horse selling at $35, the best farms in Wayne county worth $15 to $25 per acre, is only a small part of the record of the last attempt of demagogues to handle national affairs. If you are anxious to again tempt fate along the same lines you have a golden opportunity by casting your vote for Graves for congressman. He will do all in his power to bring about the downfall of the present corrupt administration and to aid in the election of a democratic President in 1908. If you are a young man and do not believe conditions were somewhat uncomfortable under the last democratic national administration, just cast your vote for Graves and you will find it well worth the trouble to do so. He is a farmer whose interest are identical with the masses of the state and that is one of the reasons why the railroads and corporations of the state are putting forth such great efforts to do the farmer wrong. He will elect the smooth talking, suave banker, lawyer candidate of the democratic party. It is up to you to place your vote where it will count for Nebraska's real interests by giving it to George L. Sheldon.

The Winfield correspondent of the Omaha World-Herald seems to be determined to place the republicans of Wayne county in a wrong position on the question of Norris Brown's candidacy for the United States Senate. Wayne county republicans are loyal to the action of the state republican convention in its naming of candidates for United States senator, and believes in the man named by that convention, and any man or set of men attempting to put them in any different light does not voice the sentiment of Wayne county republicans. The republicans of Wayne county are not a set of men who neither are they a lot of fanatical ignoramus who will condemn a man on unsupported accusations of his enemies, and the man who attempts to put them in the light of a set of men who are not those of men who vote the republican ticket in Wayne county. The party in the county may have plundered in one of its nominations for a place on the ticket—this, however, is only a minor misfortune and the party will not be held responsible for any wrongs that will tend in any way to place it out of harmony with the party in the state.

When it comes to choosing a man to represent you in Congress, the personality of the man should not be the only consideration. It should be borne in mind that the candidates of the various parties represent the principles and teachings of their parties, and that the man who represents the principles of the party is the man who should be chosen. In the congressional district Boyd and Graves are not the issue, but it is whether you desire the policies of the republican party representing the principles of progress, prosperity and the greatest good for the greatest number, or whether you desire to put into effect the policies that have always brought retrogression, calamity and the complete paralysis of individual and community efforts. The eloquence of orators or the seething of a party mass should not be allowed to prevail against your good sense and judgment matured by the awful record made by democracy when ever entrusted with the reins of government. Be governed entirely by what you believe to be for the best interests of the people, and not by the ambitions or desires of self seeking men, who care nothing for the welfare of the nation if their own selfish ends can be accomplished.

WHAT OF THE FUTURE?

Every generation of Americans since the first settlement of the country down to the present has had a certain amount of faith in the future. It has been inclined to think they had reached the summit of advance in education, in comfort and material achievements, and some way or other their successors would be wiser, more advanced, and in the laboratories. Man is a progressive being and in fulfilling his destiny cannot in the fulness of time go backward, but must go forward, or else he is not created in the image of God. In fulfilling the work he is put on earth to do he is bound to learn more accurately just what nature has stored away in the earth's great store-house, and as the years roll by become wiser and more capable of applying the forces of nature to his own uses and for greater comfort and happiness of the race. Man may err, and by his blunders may check the wheels of advancement for a time. There may and doubtless will be other dark ages, but eventually the sun of enlightenment, of progress will break through the clouds and shine in greater splendor than ever before. Look up, look forward, get busy, young man, the opportunities of today are greater than your father enjoyed, and your children and your children's children will be more blessed than you, but there is no room on earth today for the idler and tomorrow there will be less room.

STATE VS. ANDY CHANCE.

An action before Judge Hunter this week outlined the State of Nebraska vs. Andy Chance, charging assault and battery, and wherein his wife, Mrs. Mary Chance, the complaining witness, attracted considerable attention, and those who attended the hearing anticipated something sensational were not entirely disappointed. The assault was alleged to have taken place near the home of Andy Chance, on the morning of 12 o'clock on the 11th of October 1900, when Andy Chance, who had been charged with the belief on the part of Mr. Chance that his wife had not been conducting herself exactly as she should. It appears that Chance, believing that his wife was not well, had in company with Bill Hester, a friend of his, and his wife, who with her daughter, had been driving around town that evening, and that between 11 and 12 o'clock saw Liverman Fred Brown get into the buggy with the pair and drive east from their barn on Main street. This naturally caused the complaint to be filed together with Hoguewood, repaired to an orchard adjacent to the Chance home to await the arrival of his better half, who appeared about 1:30. The result was that the wife, who had received several favorable testimonials of her infidelity in the shape of the application of Andy's nose to small shoes of diverse parts of her anatomy, and, as she alleges, a slap or two administered for good reason. As a warrant was issued for Mr. Chance, with the woman as complaining witness, and Chance arrested under the charge above named. A continuance was taken to Monday afternoon when a jury was impaneled and the case set for trial. The jury were "Doc" Burson, Sam Miller, A. A. Witter, O. R. Munson, Gust. Wills and James Wright. Witnesses for the state were Mrs. Chance and daughter Blanche, the defendant's mother, Bill Hester, George Wadsworth, who had been eyewitness to the assault. County Attorney Siman acted for the State and F. A. Berry for the defense.

Mrs. Chance was first to take the stand and testified to the assault having taken place as she and her daughter were returning home between 12 and 1 o'clock on the night named; that Chance had risen up out of the weeds beside the barn on Main street, and had hidden; that he didn't say much but did considerable; that he kicked and slapped her and her daughter each several times; that she had told him not to strike her again, this being the first time that she had told him to do so for ten months; that there had been trouble in the family for the past twenty years, etc. The girl corroborated her mother's story, and testified to having called the matter some rather high-colored names on the occasion of the fracas and said she had meant them and meant them still. Bill Hoguewood was next called. He told the jury that he and Chance had walked home together about 9:15; that they had heard Chance's wife and daughter drive past; he and Chance went back to town a few minutes later, to watch the pair; saw them driving around town; came from west past Baptist church; saw Brown get in the buggy; returned home with Chance and saw the assault.

Owing to the lateness of the hour, Hoguewood's testimony was here interrupted and an adjournment taken to 8 o'clock Friday morning. Hoguewood failed to show up at the appointed time and Constable John Soules was dispatched by the court to his home. Upon his arrival, Soules told court that one of his cows had gotten loose and for this reason it had been necessarily detained. However, it is said that during a conversation between Hoguewood and the complaining witness recently the latter showed him a six-shooter and threatened to shoot him full of holes if he went on the stand in the case, and perhaps this fact may have influenced the tardy witness.

While awaiting the arrival of Hoguewood the defendant, Andy Chance, was called. His story as to the movements of his wife and daughter and Brown tallied with that of Hoguewood. In addition he told of going to Bonawitz's livery barn, calling up Mrs. Brown and saying he had kept her husband at home or he (Andy) would put a bullet through him. Went up home and saw his wife and daughter coming home; asked them why they didn't bring Brown along; kicked wife twice, did not slap her, had told Brown to keep away from his family; yet ago, said had told his wife to keep away from Brown; told his wife that he had shed his last tear over her, that from now on he intended to fight; that his wife had accused him of being unfaithful; she had not spoken to him since; that she had supported her during that time.

Geo. Wadsworth was called, but gave no new testimony. Mrs. Chance was again called. Said Brown got in the buggy when show was out shortly before 12; had been hiring rig of Way; had reasons to suspect her husband and had followed him; he said there were better looking women in Norfolk than in Wayne; accused Andy of stealing chickens, "14 at one time"; he had not provided sufficiently; Chance had attended the bear drive; Hoguewood told her; gave as reason for Brown getting in buggy that it was late and they did not want to walk home, he could drive them home and bring the rig back; night was dark; drove east because barn was congested with teams leaving for the barn, and had driven across the crossing on the east side of Main street expecting to call a liverman to take the team and walk home; saw Brown starting home and decided to have him drive them home; walked last few rods because road was bad to drive over; left barn at another place; arrived within block of home at about 12:35.

Chance was then given an opportunity to deny the mean things said about him by his wife, which he did, and Hoguewood wound up the evidence by saying that he and the complaining witness had had a falling out some months ago and that she had made a great many "nooses" at him since.

The jury, after being out about ten minutes, decided that Andy was not guilty of assault and battery as charged and rendered a verdict accordingly.

The plot and story of "On the Bridge at Midnight" which is to appear at Wayne opera house on October 25, is a triumph of ingenuity and play construction. A blind mother seeks her kidnapped child and meets with an experience that would overwhelm any other, left behind at another child is an important part that furnishes most of the interest. The play was an instantaneous success in Chicago where the scenes are laid and the famous bridge located.

HORSE OWNERS MEET.

Pursuant to a call published last week, signed by Sheriff Grant Meers, a meeting of horse owners and others interested met at the court house on Monday for the organization of an anti-horse-theft association. The attendance, owing to the very bad weather, was not as large as it should have been. However, those in attendance proceeded to form an organization.

The meeting was called to order by Sheriff Meers. J. M. Cherry was appointed temporary chairman and W. H. Gildersleeve temporary secretary. After considerable discussion as to whether a constitution in connection with nearby associations be effected or an independent company organized, it was decided to organize independently.

A motion was carried to organize a society at Wayne to be known as the Wayne County Live Stock Protective Association, which adopted the constitution and by laws of the Norfolk association. The following officers were elected: Frank E. Strahan, president; R. A. McEachen, vice president; W. H. Gildersleeve, secretary and J. M. Cherry, treasurer. On motion it was decided to appoint a captain in each precinct, but owing to the small attendance only a part of them were named. They were as follows: Henry Bays in Chapin, John Hadley in Shilman, J. L. Legman in northeast of Wayne in Dixon county, Chas. Norton in Hunter, Geo. Hofeldt in Strahan, Ike Walden at Carroll and Grant Meers at Wayne.

Following is the constitution and by-laws adopted: "We, the undersigned citizens of Wayne and adjoining counties in the State of Nebraska, for the purpose of mutual protection, organize ourselves into an association and adopt the following Constitution: "1—The name of this association shall be the Wayne County Live Stock Protective Association.

"2—The place of general business for this association shall be at Wayne, Nebraska.

"3—Officers of this association shall be a President, Vice President, Secretary, Treasurer, and Captain, who shall constitute the Executive Board.

"4—The Officers of this association shall be elected annually by a majority vote of the members present and voting and shall hold office for one year or until their successors are elected and qualified. The first annual election shall be held at Wayne on the first Saturday after the first Monday in January, 1907.

"5—Duties of Officers: The President, Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer shall perform the duties common to like officers in other deliberative bodies.

"6—The Captain shall have charge of all work in searching for stolen stock and may draw upon the treasury in emergencies for necessary expenses, orders for such sums to be signed by the President and Secretary, and shall make all reports to the President.

"7—No person may become a member of this Association by paying a fee of $2 and a quarterly due of $1.00 every three months when called upon to do so by the executive Board.

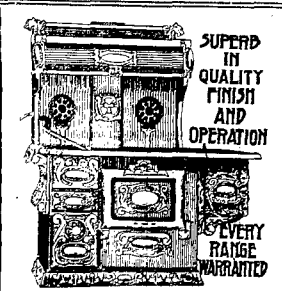

"8—Financial Penalties.—Any member being called out by the Captain and not responding without a reasonable excuse shall pay into the treasury of the association the sum of $5.00 and any member failing to pay his dues within 30 days shall be denied all privileges and protection of this association.

"9—The funds of the association shall be deposited in the treasury and paid out only for the purpose of recovering stolen live stock and property of the

But Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee has not a grain of true coffee in it. Diarrhea is often caused by catarrh of the stomach—Perina Relieves Catarrh of the Stomach and is Therefore a Remedy for Diarrhea.

Hon. M. C. Butler, Ex-U. S. Senator from South Carolina, for various terms, in a letter from Washington, D. C., writes to the Perina Medicine Co., as follows:

"I can recommend Perina for dyspepsia and stomach trouble. I have been using your medicine for a short period and I feel very much relieved. It is indeed a wonderful medicine, besides a good tonic."

CATARRH of the stomach is the correct name for cases of dyspepsia. In order to cure catarrh of the stomach the catarrh must be eradicated. Only an internal catarric remedy, such as Perina, is available. Perina exactly meets the indications.

Criminal Sneezing. Great public interest is being manifested in the case of a man who has been prosecuted for sneezing in a public street. The hero of the incident is Johann Furtmann, a resident of Mulhausen, a small town in Prussian Silesia.

No Use. "Do you notice what a lot of women are going in for silences?" "Yes, my wife's got the fever, too."

Difficult. In a spirit of bravado the defeated pugilist went to a photographer to have his picture taken.

Nothing More. "Why don't you go to work?" queried the kind lady. "A railway stone machine no more, you know."

A FOOD CONVERT. The pernicious habit some persons still have of relying on nauseous drugs to relieve dyspepsia, keeps up the patient medicine business and helps swell up the army of dyspeptics.

QUINSEY, SPRAINS AND SWELLINGS CURED.

"In November, 1901, I caught cold and had the quincy. My throat was swollen so I could hardly breathe. I applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm and it gave me relief in a short time. In two days I was all right," says Mrs. L. Conasia, Otterbarn, Mich. Chamberlain's Pain Balm is a liniment and is especially valuable for sprains and swellings. Sold by Raymond's Drug Store.

SHORT HORN BULLS FOR SALE

When the tip of a dog's nose is cold and moist, that dog is not sick. A feverish dry nose means sickness with a dog. And so with the human lips. Dry, cracked and colorless lips mean feverishness, and are as well ill appearing. To have beautiful, pink, velvet-like lips, apply at bedtime a coating of Dr. Shoop's Green Salve. It will soften and heal any skin ailment. Get a free trial box at our store, and be convinced. Large nickel capped glass jars, 25 cents. Folber's Pharmacy.

HOW TO CURE A COLD.

The question of how to cure a cold without unnecessary loss of time is one in which we are all more or less interested, for the quicker a cold is gotten rid of the less the danger of pneumonia and other serious diseases. Mr. B. W. L. Hall, of Waverly, Va., has used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for years and says: "I firmly believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be absolutely the best preparation on the market for colds. I have recommended it to my friends and they all agree with me." For sale by Raymond's drug store.

Sprained wrists, use Electric Liniment, 25 and 60c a Leahy's Drug Store.

A noted production, "On the Bridge at Midnight" due here in a short time, is a remarkable example of true comedy-drama. It is in fine contrast with the sensational horseplay that is often foisted on the unsuspecting who seek real dramatic entertainment. The celebrated scenic superiority of "On the Bridge at Midnight" including the great bridge scene, has supplied a deeply interesting, wholesome story of humor, pathos and romance woven together with naturalness. Such comedy characters as Ruddy, the newsboy; and Germany, the professor, arouse the most genuine laughter because truly humorous. The serious roles are pictures from life and especially convincing as played by the exceptional company presenting the play this season.

Hobart M. Cable Piano Character

Character is as essential in the first-class piano as it is in the first-class man. The difference is in kind and not in degree. In its relation to the Piano, character means tone, the soul of the instrument; the one trait that gives it a distinct individuality. To win lasting approbation a Piano must have this sort of character. If the tone be musical and sympathetic the effect is enduring because it appeals to an aesthetic sense that never tires of beauty in sound, the musical instinct that is implanted in the soul of every human being.
