MARRIED UNDER DIFFICULTIES.

Sunday afternoon witnessed rather a romantic marriage in this locality, Mr. Julius Peterson and Miss Mary Johnson were to be married at the Danish church service in Laurel in the afternoon. A large concourse of friends crowded the building to the door and the ceremony was about to proceed when the pastor, Rev. J. Magnusen of Plainview, made the startling discovery that the license had been obtained in Wayne county. After some delay the religious ceremony proceeded, but when the happy couple left the church they were still in a delicious state of abject blissfulness, so far as the civil law was concerned.

But they were not to be diverted from their purpose by such a little thing. If that license was not good in Cedar county they knew where it was good, so, accompanied by several carriage loads of friends, they drove immediately to the Wayne county line, and crossing the same, stopped at the first farm house along the road, which happened to be the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Harneler, who reside just in the edge of Wayne county. The pastor alighted and requested at the house the privilege of entering for few moments. Mr. and Mrs. Harneler were away from home but a brother of the former who was there readily consented, as he supposed, to the entrance of one or two of the party, when, to his surprise, the whole number left their carriages and entered. Their impromptu host made room for them as best he could, and to his further astonishment, a marriage ceremony was at once performed. This over, the guests departed, as suddenly as they had come. The young man who so unexpectedly entertained the wedding party says it was a very jolly one.

The groom is well known around Laurel, as he was in the employ of Phil Meier for two years; of late he has been employed on a farm near Wayne. The bride is a Wayne young lady, and they will make their home at that place—Laurel Advocate.

Henry Peterson sold a car of fancy cattle to John Shannon Monday, at the fancy price of $600. The average weight of the critters was 1400 pounds. These cattle were bought of John Shannon last spring at $3.95. They gained over 500 pounds during the summer. This demonstrates that it pays to buy good stock. Henry Peterson is one of the best feeders in Wayne county, and knows a good steer when he sees one. The condition of these cattle proves his reputation as a feeder.—Carroll Index

A Sunday School Convention for the Sunday Schools in the west half of the county will be held in Carroll on Sunday, November 25th. Miss Haines, one of the State Sunday school workers will be there and teach the Sunday school lesson at the regular hour in the morning. In the afternoon she will speak on "How to Teach the Boys and Girls," and in the evening will lecture on "Her trip to Toronto." The entire day will be taken up by Sunday School work and a good program is being prepared.—Index

"Don't burn your leaves, if you have a lot on which you grow flowers of any kind. Leaves contain a great deal of lost valuable food matter for growing plants. Put the leaves in close pile in some corner of your lot, put a few boards or sticks on the pile to keep the leaves from blowing away. By spring most of the leaves will be well rotted, and you will have a lot of the best 'leaf mould' you ever saw for your flower bed and your potted plants. Leaves are too valuable to be burned. You might as well burn up your manure pile as to burn up your leaves.—Prof. Chas. E. Bessey.

"I hate the man who always grunts and kinks and groans around, and moans with his briny tears a mile or two of ground," sings Wat Mason. "He grunts when the rain is falling fast, he grunts when days are dry, at every mark along the road you hear his doeful cry. He is the damper on your hopes, the nourishment of fear; we ought to take him out by night and out of both his ears; he is the modern stumbling block, the hoodoo of the town; we ought to build a roaring fire and bake him nice and brown; he is the grease upon the track, the brake upon the wheels; we ought to take him to the woods and hang him by the heels; he is the mud that soils the brook, the cat that spits the cream; we ought to take his head some day and soak it in the stream; he is the blight, the pest of pests, the frog that nips and chills; we ought to try to kill him off with Billjaw's Patent Pills."

BAND CONCERT, NOV. 26.

The entertainment promises to be of an exceedingly high order, and every lover of good band music will surely take it in. The proceeds will be used toward buying new uniforms for the organization. The purpose is worthy, and the band merits your support.

ABOUT KING SOLOMON.
King Solomon is spoken of in high terms by Leadville paper. "The success which has followed the Yak tunnel project has resulted in another great scheme, back of the King Solomon Tunnel and Development Company, of Frisco, Summit county. The tunnel is situated in the heart of the mineral belt in this section of the state—Leadville, Kokomo, Robinson, Alma and Breckenridge surrounding it.

It opens at the foot of the range, and the plans call for it to be driven two miles, which will cut at least fifty well known mineral veins, many of which have already been prospected and opened at the surface. The project of the company calls for the development of a great territory. It is confidently expected that the tunnel will traverse the mother lode of the gold found in the Breckenridge placers on one side, and those of McNulty's gulch on the other side of the Ten Mile district.

The tunnel is in 1100 feet and has already uncovered a number of ore bodies of greater or less value. These streaks have only been superficially investigated, the intention of the company being to complete the tunnel and demonstrate the character and extent of the mineral before making any attempt to mine and ship the ore.

The tunnel opens on a huge quartz dike, heavily mineralized. Several carloads sent to the smelter from veins along the line of this tunnel have shown values of from $10 to $100. The depth at present is 650 feet, but when the tunnel is completed a depth of from 2000 to 4000 feet will have been reached.—Leadville Herald-Democrat.

EDITORIAL

Pay your election bet.

Republican state victory
Sheldon! Sheldon! 'Rah for Sheldon!

And now we are to have prosperity for another year.

Have you heard how it happened in New York state? Its Hughes 5000

You can't always judge a man's political strength by the size of his appetite for office.

We are satisfied for another year with victory on every hand. The other fellows will have to grin and bear it.

Now that election is over, some of those who were candidates will have time to attend to their business affairs.

About the only thing the democratic party wants out of the free lunches, free trade, free silver and free passes, is the free lunches

Did you ever see the man in the moon? Well, it looks just like the democratic party does since election. Rather lonesome.

It is said that lightning never strikes twice in the same place. Well, something most awfully powerful struck the democratic party of Nebraska last Tuesday.

Perhaps a good many voters thought very strongly of the good old times of Grover and clover? When they went to deposit their ballot last Tuesday. And they should, too.

Has anyone heard from Shallenberger since election? He seems to have lost the straight and narrow path to victory and wandered off on some demo-popocratic broad road that leads not to Lincoln.

And they say that Grover has had a new photograph taken of himself. That was all needless, as we all remember his looks without going to so much expense. He is probably fuming on the 1906 presidential campaign.

The republican party stands far above all other so-called parties, as is plainly visible on each election day the way the republican majorities roll up. It stands without doubt the greatest political party that ever had birth or life under the warm sun of God.

Reports are current in the newspapers as to the main features of President Roosevelt's message to the coming session of congress. The authority is good that it will contain a strong recommendation for a graduated inheritance tax. This is in line with his well known views, that there should be a limit to individual fortunes. It is also said he will advocate an income tax, and strongly support government supervision over or all lines of transportation and communication, as well as corporations handling the necessities of life, while any intention to acquire a permanent foothold in Cuba will be disallowed.

F. D. Fales, for some time judge of Dixon county, but more recently the political manager and private secretary of Congressman McCarthy, has turned his back on the strenuous activities necessary in politics to take up a vacation more peaceful and serene. Mr. Fales has entered the grocery business at Leola, Iowa. There is a deal more satisfaction and generally a greater reward, through catering to the common wants of mankind, than through seeking preferment in the agitation of politics. Its easier on the nerves and more conducive to length of days at least. The same determination and energetic effort expended for an office, if brought into business or professional life, would lift its subject into independence if not affluence. Yet men will plan an scheme and barter their God-given talents for the privilege of feeding at the public crib. Its well enough to serve your country, and slave for party, perhaps, but its generally because most aspirants are more ambitious than wise. The defeated candidate often gets the best end of the deal, while the other fellow in his temporary triumph has all his future success consumed in the victory.

ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE.

In the District Court of Wayne County, Nebraska.
In the matter of the application of

Minnie Miller, Guardian of Paul Miller and Frank Miller, Minors.
On this 27th day of October, 1906, this matter came on for hearing upon the application of Minnie Miller, guardian of Paul Miller and Frank Miller, minors, for license to sell at private sale certain contingent interests of said minors in and to the following described real estate, situated in Wayne County, Nebraska, to-wit:

The undivided one-tenth interest of each of said minors in and to the North-west Quarter of Section Thirty-two (32), Township Twenty-five (25), Range two (2), contingent, however, upon one Otto Miller dying without issue before the death of Minnie Miller, the mother of said Otto Miller, and mother of said minors, and also subject to the contingent dower interest of said mother therein;

Also an undivided one-tenth interest in and to the South Half of the South-west Quarter of Section Twenty-nine (29), Township Twenty-five (25), Range two (2), contingent, however, upon one Herman Miller dying without issue before the death of said Minnie Miller, the mother of said Herman Miller, and the mother of said minors, and also subject to the contingent dower interest of said mother therein;

Also an undivided one-tenth interest in and to the Southeast Quarter of Section Thirty-three (33), Township Twenty-five (25), Range two (2), contingent, however, upon one Barnett Miller dying without issue before the death of said Minnie Miller, the mother of said Ernest Miller, and the mother of said minors, and also subject to the contingent dower interest of said mother, therein;

And to invest the proceeds of such sale at interest or in some productive stock, for that it would be for the interest and benefit of said minors and their estate that their said contingent interest in said lands be sold and so invested, and was submitted to the Court;

On consideration whereof, it appearing to me, that said minors and said guardian are residents of Wayne County, Nebraska; that said Minnie Miller was appointed by the County Court of said Wayne County, Nebraska, guardian of said minors, on the 6th day of November, 1904, and is now such guardian;

And it further appearing to the Court that it would be beneficial to the estate of said minors that their aforesaid contingent interest in said real estate be sold, and the proceeds thereof put out at interest or invested in some productive stock;

It is, therefore, ordered that the next of kin and all persons interested in said real estate of said minors, appear before me, J. F. MISTAKES THAT MEN MAKE

A man came to us last week with a new overcoat on and looked at ours and said he made a mistake in not looking at ours before he bought. Another man sent away for a fur coat and came here to find out how much he made by sending away. He said he would never send away for a fur coat again. Another bought a suit before coming to see what we had and said he might have saved $2 if he had looked here before he bought. Another man said his wife got a divorce and he thought if he had worn Staley underwear he would still be a married man. Another man had suffered with rheumatism for years bought Staley and is now well with his toes out, in a pair of shoes a month. He said he always wears a pair of shoes a year, but he thought he bought Staley because the price was lower. As we are to show anyone what we have, we want to buy of us or not, we men should make these mistakes.

VERY MUCH THE BEST EVER.

"The Hidden Hand," which will be soon at the opera house, Monday November 12, is dramatization of Mrs. E. D. E. N. S. Northworth's famous novel of the same title and is a comedy drama of intense human interest. The scene is laid in old Virginia in the good old days "before de war." It is said that the play is being produced in a first-class manner in every particular. Special scenery and a complete company of first-class artists, engaged by reason of their ability to interpret the characters assign to them. The play and company are securing an enviable record and has highly pleased both press and public wherever it has been produced.

The comedy drama, "The Hidden Hand" is said to have a favorable impression wherever presented, the spectators finding himself in the absorbing attractiveness and charm of the story. The elements of comedy, pathos, love and in fact all the passions are said to be artistically employed. This attraction will be seen at the opera house Monday, November 12.

Where You See the Oldest Trees in the World

IMAGINE this if you can—3 square miles of forest, containing 8000 trees measuring over 300 feet in height and 50 feet around. When you consider that every one of these trees is as high as the ordinary skyscraper of today, and that there are 8000 of them in this one forest, you have only a vague idea of the sight before you as you ride among them and look up among their branches. Even a tree as large as any tree near your home. Expert estimates place the age of these trees at 3000 years. They were growing before the pyramids of Egypt were built. The

A HAPPY IRISHMAN.
Last week John Kato asked a customer why he was so happy, and Dennis said, "I used to have rheumatism and 7 years ago I bought Staley Underwear and it cured me, then I have had two surgical operations and am getting well. I guess a man can't be if he has on Staley." Why not all be as happy as that Irishman? We all will be if we wear Staley Fine Wool Underwear.

Where You See the Oldest Trees in the world

IMAGINE this if you can—3 square miles of forest, containing 8000 trees measuring over 300 feet in height and 20 feet around. When you consider that every one of these trees is as high as the ordinary skyscraper of today, and that there are 3000 of them in this one forest, you have only a vague idea of the sight before you as you ride among them and look up among their branches. Even a tree as large as any tree near your home. Expert estimators place the age of these trees at 8000 years. They were growing before the pyramids of Egypt were built. The

The Greatest Seaport.
New York is the second great seaport of the world. In 1903 over nine million tons of imports and eight million seven hundred thousand tons of exports were cleared through New York Harbor. London is the greatest seaport, exceeding New York in imports, though not in exports. Antwerp and Hamburg are third and fourth, respectively.

A Matter of Figures.
"Yes," said Farmer Cornwell, "long about July the population of this 'ere town just doubles up."

"Summer boarders or green apples?" asked the new arrival innocently.—Boston Transcript.

$100 Reward, $100.
The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh of the Bladder. It is the only reliable cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Dr. Williams' Catarrh Cure is a new and powerful remedy, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the germ of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and aiding nature in doing her work. The proprietors have so much faith in its cure, they offer any one who is afflicted with this disease for any length of time that it fails to cure, a reward of $100.

World's Finest Harbor.
From the capital of Brazil, half the land and half the people of South America are governed. It is the chief financial and industrial city of the greatest undeveloped empire on earth. Rio Janeiro is a fast-growing town. It had just crossed the half-million mark in 1900. In 1906 it reached three-quarters of a million, and today it has at least 1,000,000 more. It is bigger than any town in the United States excepting New York and Philadelphia. Chicago, New York, and St. Louis are only 1,000,000. Buenos Ayres, which has just passed 1,000,000.

HARD TO SEE.
Even When the Facts About Coffee Are Plain.
It is curious how people will refuse to believe what one can clearly see.

Tell the average man or woman that the slow but cumulative poisonous effect of caffeine—the alkaloid in tea and coffee—tends to weaken the heart, upset the nervous system and cause indigestion and they may laugh at you if they don't know the facts.

Prove it by science or by practical demonstration in the recovery of coffee drinkers from the above conditions, and a large per cent of the human family will shrug their shoulders, take some drugs and keep on drinking coffee or tea.

"Coffee never agreed with me nor with several members of our household," writes a lady. "It enervates, depresses and creates a feeling of languor and heaviness. It was only by leaving off coffee and using Postum that we discovered the cause and cure of these ills."

The only reason, I am sure, why Postum is not used altogether to the exclusion of ordinary coffee is, many persons do not know and do not seem willing to learn the facts and how to prepare this nutritious beverage. There's only one way—according to directions—bottle it fully 15 minutes. Then it is delicious. Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the little book "The Road to Wellville," in every Postum tin.

JUDGE GARY DEAD.
Heart Disease Carried Off Nestor of Chicago Judiciary.
Judge Joseph E. Gary, for forty-three consecutive years a Judge of the Superior Court in Chicago, died at his home in Chicago Wednesday of heart disease. Death, though sudden, was peaceful for the "grand old man" of the Cook County bench. For eighty-five years the sands of Joseph Gary's life had been running their course, and when the final grain had dropped he had gained the things that are sought after and cherished as eagerly as gold—the love and veneration of his fellows.

Joseph E. Gary was born in Pottsville, N. Y., July 9, 1821, his parents being of puritan stock. He became a carpenter and then studied law. In 1843 he came west to St. Louis, working at the bench and reading law during spare time until 1844, when he was admitted to the bar in St. Louis, where he remained until the gold diggings attracted him to California, where he practiced law and dabbled in mining. While en route to the west he met Murray F. Tuley in Las Vegas, N. M., and in 1856 he located in Chicago, where he found Mr. Tuley. They formed a law partnership and their close personal friendship continued until the death of Judge Tuley.

Mr. Gary ascended the bench of the Superior Court of Cook County in 1883 and he was elected at each succeeding term. He was given a popular ovation on the occasion of his fortieth anniversary on the bench, on which occasion he sat as an ex-officio Judge of the Criminal Court.

Probably the most notable utterance by Judge Gary was that on the sentencing of the anarchists, some of whom were hanged Nov. 11, 1887. He said in part:

The people of the country love their institutions. They love their homes. They love their property. They will never consent that by violence and murder their homes be broken down, their property destroyed, and the people are strong enough to protect and sustain their institutions and to punish all offenders against their laws; and those who threaten danger to civil society, if the law is enforced, are leading to destruction, whoever may attempt to elevate such threats.

Vaccination for Green Diseases.
Sir Almroth E. Wright, the eminent London physician, who is credited with the discovery of the opsonic index, which indicates the power of the blood to destroy diseased germs, is now existing in this country, and recently delivered an address at the Philadelphia College of Podiatry. He said he had reached the conclusion, after much experimentation, that bacteriological inoculation is the best means to fight any disease that owes its inception to germs, not excepting even tuberculosis. The general plan of treatment is the same with all such other diseases. After the opsonic test on the patient's blood the vaccine is introduced into the body until the blood is sufficiently strengthened to throw off its impurities.

Stats of Churches in Germany.
The official record book of church membership in Germany, issued by Pastor Schneider of Ellersfeld, as translated and reviewed by the Literary Digest, shows that the number of conversions from the Roman Catholic church to the Protestant is constantly greater than those who have gone from the Protestant ranks into the Roman faith. According to this authority, 75,878 members of the Catholic church in Germany became Protestants between 1899 and 1901, while only 1,454 went from Protestantism to Catholicism. The only book draws attention to the fact that not only in the empire as a whole, but in each and every State the Protestants have been making the greater gain. Relatively there are much greater in France than elsewhere.

Farmer's Holding Back Wheat.
The scarcity of wheat on the market indicates that the farmers in the wheat belt are dissatisfied with the low price of 50 and 60 cents per bushel and are forming unions to hold the crop out of the market. The vast quantity of grain coming from the Canadian northwest has kept the price low.

Mexico Fighting Beef Trust.
The Mexican government has decided to establish meat markets throughout Mexico City and other cities at actual cost, and a large per cent of the human family will shrug their shoulders, take some drugs and keep on drinking coffee or tea.

English Girl's Swimming Record.
Miss Jennie Flecher of Leicester, England, a 16-year-old girl, has beaten the world's swimming record of 100 yards for women, her time being 1:20.5.

Farm Produce Trust Antives.
The big butter distributing firm of James Rowland & Co., New York, in the interest of the American Farm Produce Company, drew attention to the extensive operations of the latter concern, which aims to control the entire market for eggs, milk and poultry throughout the country. The headquarters of this trust are at Chicago, and it is understood to be financed by such men as Ryan, Brady, Morton, Whitney, Spear and others. Although the company is capitalized at $2,000,000, it is supposed to have unlimited resources.

Keeping the skin of the work horses clean, enables them to sweat freely and this is essential to their health.

The true type of a dairy cow is that which furnishes the most and best of any commercial product at the lowest cost.

Do not undertake to keep too many hens at a time. A few well cared for is better than a large number left to look out for themselves.

Get rid of the surplus horses that are not growing into money. There is no advantage in keeping enough extra horses to eat all that useful ones earn.

It is rather poor economy to cream 50 cents worth of dregs down the throat of a sick chicken that would not be worth over a quarter if it were well.

Some people seem to regard it a pleasant surgical operation to "feed their heads off," and they feel it is not expensive to keep stock that will do that same thing.

Regularly costs no more than irregularity and it means much in the management of stock. Stock have no timepieces, but it wonderful how they can tell when feeding time is at hand.

Without expense, it is impossible for the muscles of young horses to develop, hence the necessity of a good sized field for them to run in. If you would have horses with endurance, give the colts a chance to develop their muscles.

Good sense and decency as well as lack of sense and treachery are matters of transmission by inheritance. This is true of ailments, habits of action, disposition and all those things which go to make a good or bad horse.

A cavalry authority in Belgium estimates that there are more than 8,000,000 horses in the world. There are 22,000,000 in Russia, while Germany and Austria-Hungary each has more than the British Isles, which it is reckoned there are about 3,000,000.

It is usually the hired help that watch the clock that complain most of bad luck, hard times and lack of appreciation on the part of their employers. The kind who don't watch the clock have little time to complain, and even less inclination to do so.

Farmers and gardeners in the vicinity of Beadington, Vt., are sustaining large losses as the result of the broods of Belgian hares, which have the offspring of pairs of these animals which were turned loose when this craze subsided some three or four years ago.

In securing a good supply of eggs the laborer tendency of heavy laying is an important point. It is to be noted that which goes in certain strains the same as in certain families of cattle, and without it no amount of skillful care and feeding will produce the best results.

The largest individual wool clip ever grown on the American continent was shipped from Billings, Mont., to a Boston firm. The clip weighed 1,500,000 pounds, and forty-four cars were required to carry it. The owner refused an offer of 24 cents a pound for the wool.

Let the farmer who wants good colts select the best grade mares and breed them annually to one good type of horse. Of course, the quality of the dam always has more of influence upon the progeny, but no matter how good or how poor the mother, the best sire obtainable is none too good.

Indiana has a fertilizer law which is aimed to protect the farmers and gardeners within her borders. It provides that fertilizers offered for sale shall not only bear the inspection label of the chemist, but shall give the percentages of the ingredients which they contain, so that the purchaser may tell at a glance what he is buying.

From observations made with a number of hens it was found that in every instance the eggs were moved every day and did not remain in the same part of the nest more than three days. The thorough manner in which the hen turns the eggs may well furnish us a clue to the most natural treatment of the eggs when under the artificial conditions of the incubator.

In Missouri, where sheep or domestic animals are killed or maimed by dogs, the owner of such animal may recover against the owner of keeper of such dog or dogs the full amount of damages, and the owner shall forthwith kill such dog or dogs; and for every day he shall refuse or neglect to do so after notice, he shall pay and forfeit the sum of $1 and it shall be lawful for any person to kill such dog or dogs.

Cotton is king of the exports of the United States, according to a statement issued by the department of commerce and labor. The total value of the raw product sent out of the country in the last fiscal year is placed at $100,000,000, exceeding by far the value of any other article of merchandise shipped from our shores. The export of breadstuffs aggregated $138,000,000 and those of provisions $211,000,000 and satisfied them all.

Aunt Panthea, Ebrooks lived in a little New Hampshire village very many years without quarreling with any one and was so thoroughly liked by every one for miles around that her popularity excited the interest of a summer visitor.

"Aunt Panthea," he asked, "how is it that you keep on such good terms with every one, while they are all quarreling among themselves?"

"Well," said Aunt Panthea, "being as you want to stay here long till you go. When I go down the street I meet Jason Purdy, and he says, 'Why, Panthea, how well you look!'"

"I'm glad you think so, Jason," I say, smiling at him.

"Next minute up comes Ezra Draught."

"Well, now, Panthea," he says, "how poorly you are looking this year?"

"My land, Ezra," I say, "how quick you are to notice those things."

"So it is with everything. Those who like to think one way, I let 'em think it, and those who like to 'em the other, I let 'em think it."

Who can deny that Aunt Panthea had discovered a comfortable philosophy of life?—Youth's Companion.

A suggestion which has been made by a number of experiment stations, and one that will at least be recorded by the stations of all states, is that agriculturists should send samples of anxious weeds to their respective state experiment stations with a view to securing a scientific and reliable analysis of them and such suggestions as will prove helpful in their destruction. The state officials in charge of this line of work are always ready and willing to render assistance to residents of the state in the manner indicated.

A recent bulletin issued by the Iowa experiment station on the subject of alfalfa culture, condenses the good points of this valuable legume as follows: It yields from two to three times as much as clover and timothy and is at the same time a more valuable hay. It is rich in protein. For long pasture alfalfa has no equal. It is superior to any other crop for enriching the soil. Alfalfa fed in conjunction with corn will make most economical gains. The bulletin further states that the growing of alfalfa is entirely feasible for the north half of the great belt and even more northern latitudes, provided care is exercised in the matter of getting it started. The most successful growing of alfalfa is found to increase as its merits become better known.

The Tussock Moth.
The Province of Quebec is threatened with a plague of the tussock moth, which is very numerous in the region of Montreal and attacks many kinds of trees. The authorities are fighting the pest by destroying their nests. This insect is some years very abundant in the Northern States. The nests resemble white patches of cobweb and contain hundreds of eggs which will hatch in the spring.

When tired poultry on the farm. If you have made up your mind to raise the poultry industry instead of ungrateful, determine also to keep only one breed, one color and one type, where arrangements are not usually found for raising poultry separate. Very often a complete reorganization of the poultry appliances will be necessary. It is perfectly obvious that, however valuable and pure bred a stock may be, it cannot be kept so unless certain things are observed.

Planting Tree Work.
Grading and building young trees is fascinating work for ladies, and we know several who can do a good, neat bit of work. Quiet, precise movements are requisite and the ladies pick it up readily. Every boy should learn the process. One Massachusetts farmer's son recently applied for work on a California ranch. "We have plenty of farm help," said the owner, "but I wish I could get a man who understands grading and building. If you can do that I will pay you high wages and board the year round."

Saving the Corn Fodder.
While the selling price of hay has in the past, as a rule, largely determined the value of corn fodder, the price of hay, such a system of handling the corn crop should be adopted as will put an end to the enormous waste which is annually witnessed in practically all of the corn belt west of the Mississippi river. A more careful and sensible handling of the stalk and leaves of this important cereal plant will mean the addition of many acres to the farm area. The thorough waste methods which have prevailed in this respect have without doubt been due to the existence of large farms, relatively cheap land and that system of handling the crops which marketed the products of the soil in the shape of the grain, but rather than in the more contained form of butter, pork and beef. However, with land values steadily increasing and more and more time being devoted to dairying and stock raising, a condition has arisen which practically compels more thrift and care in the handling of this most important farm crop.

Sowing of Winter Wheat.
At the proper time for seeding, winter wheat is sown, using the press drill. Unless the soil is to be brought the wheat is drilled in about the middle of September. This method of treatment accomplishes two things, the plowed land will take up more of the rainfall than unbroken stubble, and it will keep it up for the soil in the shape of crop. The best plowing and sowing is done by disking and harrowing make a fine, well-compacted subsoil free from large air spaces and give a fine, loose surface. Such a seed-bed is ideal for wheat. The moisture stored up enables the young plants to make a good, vigorous start and to develop a strong root system before freezing weather stops the growth. They are thus much better able to withstand the rigors of winter.

The fourth year, after the wheat crop is harvested, the soil is treated just as for the oat crop. If the land is in fairly good shape, the rotation is repeated by putting into the corn the following spring. If the land shows that it is running down in fertility, it is seeded to the clover grass, if the season is wet enough, so that the grass about the last of August or the first of September. Fall plowing gives a crop that first year, thus saving the loss of the land for one season. If too dry for fall seeding, the land is sown to grass the following spring. The land is thus left in grass from two to five years, when it is again broken up and put under cultivation.

Women's Woes.
Thousands of women suffer daily backache, headache, dizziness, nervousness and a dozen other symptoms of kidney trouble that lay it to other causes. Keep the kidneys well, and these aches and troubles will disappear.

Mrs. Anthony Galt, 77 Mechanic St., Leominster, Mass., says: "My sight failed, I had sharp pain in my back and bearing-down pains through the hips. I was nervous, fretful and miserable. The urine was greatly disordered and I began to have the swellings of dropsy. I was running down fast when I started using Doan's Kidney Pills. A wonderful change came and after using them faithfully for a short time I was well."

What Joy They Bring To Every Home.
as with joyous hearts and smiling faces they romp and play—when in health—and how conducive to health the games in which they indulge, the outdoor life they enjoy, the cleanly, regular habits they should be taught to form and the wholesome diet of which they should partake. How tenderly their health should be preserved, not by constant medication, but by careful avoidance of every medicine of an injurious or objectionable nature, and if at any time a remedial agent is required, to assist nature, only those of known excellence should be used; remedies which are pure and wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, like the pleasant laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. Syrup of Figs has come into general favor in many millions of well informed families, whose estimate of its quality and excellence is based upon personal knowledge and use.

Syrup of Figs has also met with the approval of physicians generally, because they know it is wholesome, simple and gentle in its action. We inform all reputable physicians as to the medicinal principles of Syrup of Figs, obtained by an original method, from certain plants known to them to act most beneficially and presented in an agreeable syrup in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to promote the pleasant taste; therefore it is not a secret remedy and hence we are free to refer to all well informed physicians, who do not approve of patent medicines and never favor indiscriminate self-medication.

Please to remember and teach your children also that the genuine Syrup of Figs always has the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package and that it is for sale in bottles of one size only. If any dealer offers any other than the regular Fifty cent size, or having printed thereon the name of any other company, do not accept it. If you fall to get the genuine you will not get its beneficial effects. Every family should always have a bottle on hand, as it is equally beneficial for the parents and the children, whenever a laxative remedy is required.

A Methodist Minister Recommends Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

We have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in our home for seven years and it has always proved to be a reliable remedy. We have found that it would do more than the manufacturers claim for it. It is especially good for croup and whooping cough.

REV. JAMES A. LEWIS, Pastor Milaca, Minn., M. E. Church. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is sold by Raymond's drug store.

Be thankful if you have been especially favored this year, so that you may be able to meet your obligations.

Withstood Other Treatment But Quickly Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"Last winter I caught a very severe cold which lingered for weeks," says J. Urquhart, of Zephyr, Ontario. "My cough was very dry and hoarse. The local dealer recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and guaranteed it, so I gave it a trial. One small bottle of it cured me. I believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be the best I have ever used." This remedy is for sale by Raymond's drug store.

The wrong way

To select harness is the way it is usually done. Price is generally the first consideration. If that is very low, the goods seem attractive, regardless of quality. Judge our goods the other way about. Examine into the quality of this harness first. Then it will be seen that it is worth almost any price. But our prices are not high. Value considered they are remarkably low.

Hobart M. Cable Piano Character

Character is as essential in the first-class piano as it is in the first-class man. The difference is in kind and not in degree. In its relation to the Piano, character means tone, the soul of the instrument; the one trait that gives it a distinct individuality. To win lasting approbation a Piano must have this sort of character. If the tone be musical and sympathetic the effect is enduring because it appeals to an aesthetic sense that never tires of beauty in sound, the musical instinct that is implanted in the soul of every human being.
