CHRISTMAS AT THE CHURCHES

APPROPRIATELY OBSERVED

Good Audiences Listen to Excellent Programs--An Evening Remembered by All.

The German Lutheran church in Wayne, of which Rev. J. H. Karpenstein is pastor, celebrated Christmas eve with a splendid program given by the children. A large audience listened to the program which consisted of recitations, solos, and songs well rendered, after which the pastor made a speech. A beautifully decorated tree gladdened the hearts of the children. About one hundred and sixty children were presented with books, picture cards and goodies. On Christmas day a sermon was held at 11 o'clock a. m.

Christmas eve was observed at the Presbyterian church by the rendition of a cantata by the children of the Sunday School. The program was one of the best ever given at the church. The exercises by the infant class are always appreciated. It is impossible to single out any individual as each one seemed to enter in and do his or her part in a creditable manner. Santa Claus appeared at the proper time and assisted by the boys in E. B. Phillo and Mrs. Leisinger's classes, distributed the presents, together with candy, nuts and oranges. Freda Ellis was well pleased as one possibly could be when she was presented with a young water spaniel. The dog was handed her in a neat basket. Mr. F. H. Jones, Superintendent of the Sunday school, was presented with an elegant pocket watch, a slight token of appreciation for his earnest work for the school.

At the Baptist church the decorations were beautiful and a large Christmas tree hung with tinsel and prettily lighted was a joy to the children and an inspiration to older folks as well. The entertainment was provided by the little folks, and was made up of songs and recitations. Prof. Davis conducted the music which proved a pleasant feature of the evening. As the superintendent of the Sunday school, O. A. King, stepped forth to announce the first number of the program, a telegram was handed him, dated at the North Pole, from Santa Claus, saying that he had started on his trip with his reindeers, and a big pack of toys for the good girls and boys of the Baptist Sunday school. Other telegrams were received at intervals telling of his arrival at New York and later at Chicago and finally he made an appearance in person to the great delight of his "kiddies" as he called them. The capacity of the church was taxed, but all enjoyed the evening immensely.

Christmas was observed at St. Paul's Lutheran Church. The Sunday School assisted by the choir rendered an excellent and appropriate program. "Christmas Praise," consisted of songs by the choir; Class songs by the primary class; Solo by Vivian Johnson; Duett by the Johnson sisters, and recitations. At the side of the rostrum stood a beautifully decorated and illuminated evergreen tree. The pastor spoke about the significance of the evergreen for Christmas and that Luther started the custom of using it in order to remind his little flocks, that as the evergreen tree shows a perpetual life, as green under the snow of winter as under the warm sun of summer, so the followers of Christ are to let their Christian life be seen every day in the year. As the candles made the tree more bright and cheerful, so the Christian is to be cheerful and ever let his light shine. The whole program was so arranged as to help the child to better understand the significance of the birth of Christ. At the conclusion of the program the children were remembered with candy. On Christmas morning at 10:30, Rev. Risger delivered a sermon appropriate for the occasion.

The Sunday school of the First Methodist church rendered a cantata on Christmas eve entitled "A Substitute for Santa Claus." It was decidedly an unique entertainment consisting of solos, duets, choruses, besides monologues and dialogues. Mrs. E. A. Johnson rendered the part assigned to Mrs. Santa Claus in a manner that elicited much favorable commendation. The production was completed on the supposition that Santa Claus was ill and that a substitute was wanted. A host of fairies and brownies applied, but were rejected on account of numerous shortcomings. However they were allowed to assist in packing and labeling gifts, and in this capacity, proved by their pranks that they were up-to-date. Propositions as substitutes were presented by characters representing the business world, jack frost, the sand man, and from the Old Woman who lived in the shoe, none proving worthy. Besides the brownies and fairies, there were in special costume nine Paritan maids and as many nuns and mammoth eyed automobiles. Finally a representative Santa Claus appeared wearing crutches which were cast aside after he secured one glimpse of the happy young people who were evidently delighted to see him. The usual Christmas decorations and treat were in evidence. Altogether the Christmas exercises were of unusual interest, indicating extensive preparation.

DOWN IN LESLIE

The school team who sends in Pleasant Valley News to the Pender Times, sizes up conditions down in Leslie precinct as follows.

"After five years of trials and heart-aches, we are back at the same old stand. And five short years have wrought a noticeable change in the shifting scenes of time. Edward McQuiston is taking his last long sleep. Billy McQuiston is married and got a girl. John McQuiston is married and got a girl. Wilson McGuire is married and got a girl. Chas. McGuire is not married and got a couple of cats. Frank McGuire is decidedly unmarried and got a longing for the old days when he left a sunny-haired girl swiping on the gate. Some who have long been married seem pretty well fagged out. Some who are still single seem sad and forlorn in the world and wonder what use life is anyhow. But good land, of girl babies and Mary Ann cats and felicitous feminine genders gobbling up the yellow corn! Of the apprenticeship benedict, Henry Wollmer was the first to add a girl to his household edition. Across the road, his neighbor, Herman Long, and a little further away, Amos Long, followed suit, Bill Korth trumpeted, while Oomer Bressler lowered the record with a boy.

THE DESIGNER

The Designer for January offer a line of new ideas for the New Year. The main requirement for a magazine of any kind is to keep a little ahead of the times. It is a difficult proposition, but with hustling and perseverance it can be done. The Designer makes this its chief aim. Readers who have an eye for important details should not overlook the superiority of the illustrations in The Designer over other fashion magazines. The models pictured and described are the latest designs of the fashion makers. Besides this, there are special articles by people who know their subjects well. Among these articles are, "The Business Woman's Outfit," "Lesson in Dressmaking," "Instructions in Millinery," "Homelike Interiors," Laura Seiple's up-to-the-minute descriptions of the new fashionable fashions in dress, etc. The other half of the magazine is devoted to stories and poems appropriate to the season, among which is an exceedingly graceful little sketch, "A Cinderella of a night," by Helen Clark Balmer, and poems by Arthur Powell, John Kendrick Bangs and Sasse M. Best. The astonishing part of it is that you can have The Designer for a year for fifty cents, postpaid. Send subscriptions for 1907 now.

The next number in the Lecture Course will be given by the Temple Quartette on Thursday evening, January 3rd. Seats may be reserved at Raymond's Drug Store after nine o'clock on the morning of Tuesday, January 1. A charge of ten cents will be made for reserving each seat. Course tickets for the remaining three numbers two of which are concerts, may be had for 60¢ each by the general public and for 50¢ each by pupils in the public school and college students. The general admission for the public will be 50¢, for the public school pupils and college students 35¢.

Dr. Mackey, played nurse to the Norfolk Democrat for eight weeks from its birth, and then turned the paper over to its owner, H. F. Baghardt. The new editor assumes charge "with fear and trembling" and modestly says he is not a brilliant writer, and while being a lawyer, yet can tell the truth and tell it in such a way as to be understood.

white socks, shoes and broad-brimmed straw hats. "How wonderfully alike these two little half-brothers, each possessing his father's face in miniature; the same pale, healthy complexion, the fine, clear-cut features, the dark eyes so deeply set with in their long lashes, and the wavy brown hair, soft as silk. But in disposition they were quite different. Cyrus was bold, self-willed, masterful, Charles gentle, silent and kind. One was tall and slender and forward beyond his years; the younger, or else was yielding, childish and backward. Already Cyrus constituted himself his brother's protector, and Charles in his hands was a tender reed. The affection between them was great, rather unusually so.

Some people had prophesied that Lady Grace would repent her imprudent marriage. They proved to be wrong. Grace was intensely happy in it. She had brought with her only five hundred a year to augment Mr. Baumgarten's means. It was all she would enjoy until Lord Avon's death. She made a fairly kindest stepmother to the little Cyrus, but she had not the same affection for him as for Charles. Her baby, now in Jaquet's arms, was a fair girl, the little Gertrude. A large, low open carriage, driven by liveried coachmen, was stopping at the gate. Mr. Baumgarten was to assist Lady Avon from it, and give her his arm. She walked slowly to the bench where her daughter was sitting. She was just the same as ever, had been so all these years; but she did not seem to grow weaker. The boys sat up to her. "The boys are like their father, Grace," she observed, looking down at the infant "but Gertrude is like you."

COMMERCIAL FINANCIAL. CHICAGO. The underlying conditions generally favor sustained strength in commercial operations, but there is, as expected at this time, a smaller volume of new demands in the leading industries. Production and distribution, however, meet with no interruption. Railroad earnings are the largest ever known, bank exchanges steadily gain, Christmas lines enjoy unprecedented demand and, notwithstanding the strain of demand, business defaults remain low.

Miss Mayne Ecker returned from Chicago, Monday evening, where she has been taking music for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Needham visited Sioux City one day last week.

Mr. Arthur Tucker was in town Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Meers and wife of Wayne, spent Christmas with Mr. Smith's.

Mr. Mielke of Sioux City, is spending the holidays with her daughter, Mrs. Needham.

Sidney Price returned home from Moose Jaw, Canada, one day last week.

G. W. Jones went to Wayne to spend Christmas.

The Christmas exercises at the M. E. church Christmas eve was largely attended and was greatly appreciated by all present.

Prof. Wright and Robinson spent Christmas with their folks.

Mrs. Rhoda Vreeland returned home, Wednesday, after spending several weeks with relatives and friends.

First Methodist Episcopal Church, Wayne

The First Methodist Episcopal Church was organized in Wayne early in 1884, the services being held at the First Baptist Church. In April the Rev. Dr. David Marquette, Presiding Elder of the District, made a canvass of Wayne and vicinity in company with William Miller. The canvass completed a meeting was called of those interested, when it was decided to build a church edifice. In May the church was incorporated with the following trustees: J. D. Slater, Judson Garwood, and William Miller. The first pastor was H. C. Pittenger, who held services first at the Baptist Church then at the Town Hall until it burned, July 4th, 1884. By special arrangement services were continued at the Baptist Church until Dec. 28th when the original frame edifice was dedicated on the corner of Main and Sixth streets. The work of construction was in charge of R. M. Farr and the cost was $3800.00.

After worshipping a number of years in the old building the congregation outgrew it, making the construction of a more commodious edifice imperative. Consequently the erection of a modern church home was undertaken and the leadership of Rev. Thomas Bithell, D. D. and so thoroughly was the work accomplished that the present edifice of pressed brick which cost $10,000, was completed and dedicated Oct. 20th, 1891, the Rev. Dr. T. F. Hill of Denver delivering the address. Freewood and seated with pews and provided with a splendid pipe organ, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Pingree, the church ranks among the very best houses of worship in the state. The trustees serving at the time the church was built were: O. O. Fisher, J. D. King, Theodore Duerig, J. Cherry, Dr. Blair, R. M. Farr, O. A. Grothe, A. Jeff, and R. Russell. During the pastorate of Rev. T. J. Wright, the new parsonage was built. It contains nine rooms, is modern in every detail, being valued at $4000. From the beginning the pastoral record is as follows: H. F. Pittenger '84-'86, William Gorst '86-'90, H. C. Myers '90-'92, H. H. Millard '92-'97, Thomas Bithell '97-'02, O. N. Dawson '02-'03, T. J. Wright, '03-'06.

THE WAYNE HERALD

Entered at the Post Office at Wayne, Neb., as second class mail matter. Published by HERALD PRINTING COMPANY, J. W. Johnson, Editor and Business Mgr., E. R. Lundberg, Local Editor. Official paper of Wayne and Wayne county. Published every Thursday. Subscription, $1.00 a Year in Advance.

The Herald Changes Hands.

The Herald has been sold. On Saturday the transfer was completed and the new owners, in the persons of J. W. Johnson and E. R. Lundberg, are now in possession. The sale includes the good will and subscription list, together with all book accounts, whether for advertising, job work or subscription. The new proprietors are to collect all accounts, due and payable to The Herald, and all out paid in advance subscriptions. While The Herald as a newspaper property is recognized as one of the best in the state, yet I have felt unafflicted to its proper care and management, and it is for this reason alone that the sale was made. At this time I wish to thank the business men of Wayne for their liberal patronage in the past and at the same time commend the long list of Herald subscribers for their loyalty. With our Good Bye we wish all a happy New Year.

FRANK A. BRYNER

The New Editor's Assurance.

In assuming a controlling interest and the business and editorial management of The Herald, it seems best to comply with custom, and in the main, at least, reveal our intentions. We recognize in the paper an excellent business proposition in due of the truly enterprising cities of Nebraska. As a newspaper we shall endeavor to conduct it in furtherance of the best interests of Wayne and Wayne County, and to make its news features so attractive that it may continue to be a welcome visitor into any home.

In politics The Herald retains its Republican proclivities, and shall at all times adhere steadfastly to the principles of President Roosevelt as applied to the Nation's politics. Yet we hope our enthusiasm for them may never blind us to the good qualities in men and measures when championed by an opposing party. We recognize that thoughtful citizen will not content himself with illegitimate methods in politics any more than in business. Yet when republican candidates are the peer or equal of their opponents, it should be our pleasure, as of every member of the party, to stand by them.

The local news and of The Herald will remain in charge of E. R. Lundberg, who has had both training and experience for the work, together with a wide acquaintance over the county.

Mr. W. J. Finerty, 29, Neola, Iowa. Miss May Harmon, 28, Wayne, Neb.

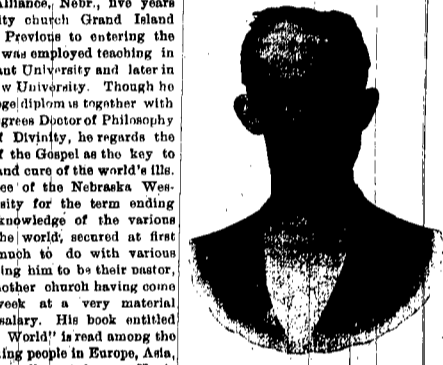

Wedding at Mt. Hope.

A pretty little wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Kelley, Wednesday eve, Dec. 20, 1906, when their daughter Edna Pearl was united in marriage to Leroy L. Kibby, Rev. Dr. Horn of the M. E. church officiating. The bride was beamingly gowned in white silk, the groom wearing the conventional black. Only relatives and a few invited friends were present at the ceremony, after which an elaborate wedding dinner was served. The bride received many beautiful gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Kibby are two well known young people who have grown up from childhood in this county and the groom is well worthy of the prize he has won. After a short wedding tour in Iowa, they leave for their new home in Boyd county, Neb. The Herald joins with their many friends in wishing that their married life may be a continual ray of sunshine.

Gibson-Goss Nuptials

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Goss four miles north of town was the scene of a pretty home wedding last Monday evening, when their daughter, Miss Alma Blanche Goss became the bride of Mr. Earl Gibson formerly of Wayne, but now of Omaha. The house was prettily decorated with holly and Christmas greens. Bouquets of white carnations being placed throughout the rooms. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Thos. C. Osborne of the Presbyterian church in the parlor under a canopy of holly, evergreen and wedding bells and was witnessed by the relatives only. The bride was beamingly gowned in white Japanese crepe silk trimmed with Valenciennes and baby Irish lace, and carried a bouquet of white carnations. She wore a diamond brooch, the gift of the groom's mother, Wilma Goss attended her sister as flower girl. After the ceremony an informal reception was held after which a collation was served. Among the guests present were, Mr.

Rev. E. C. Horn, the present pastor, was pastor of the First Methodist Church at Alliance, Neb., five years and at Trinity church Grand Island three years. Previous to entering the pastorate he was employed teaching in the U. S. Grant University and later in the DePaul University. Though he has four college diplomas together with the higher degrees Doctor of Philosophy and Doctor of Divinity, he regards the application of the Gospel as the key to the solution and cure of the world's ills. He is a trustee of the Nebraska Wesleyan University for the term ending 1910. His knowledge of the various nations of the world, secured at first hand, has much to do with various churches calling him to be their pastor, one call to another church having come only last week at a very material increase in salary. His book entitled "Around the World" is read among the English speaking people in Europe, Asia, and Africa as well as at home. He is 35 years of age and was born in Franklin county, Ohio.

Forgets to Put Him In.

Mrs. Maud Miller Hipple, whose advocacy of a course in "motherhood" for young mothers already has begun to bear fruit, was talking of the duties of young mothers. "And no young mother," she said, "no matter how many her millions not how high her station, should trust her little one entirely to a nurse's care. A nurse may be most intelligent, most conscientious; but to rear a baby properly is a difficult task, and only one person is sufficiently interested in this task to perform it well. That person is the baby's mother." Mrs. Hipple smiled: "A young mother," she said, "was walking with her husband on the Atlantic City board walk. Suddenly she gave a little cry of pleasure. "Oh!" she said; "there is nurse-nurse wheeling baby." "And she ran lightly to the luxury of a baby carriage, with its swab wheels, and she pushed back the parasol that shaded the occupant from the sun. "Oh, my baby!" she cried. "Where's the nurse?" The nurse gasped. "Goodness gracious, ma'am! I forgot to put him in!" - Cleveland Plain Dealer.

THE WELSH SETTLEMENT

The Congregational and reformed churches of the Welsh Settlement hold their annual Christmas entertainment on Tuesday evening last. The managing committee adopted a very novel plan this year which proved a great source of amusement to the large audience. A log cabin complete in all details was built on the platform. The appearance of Santa at the chimney top and his exit through the old fashioned fireplace was very vivid and real. A telephone by means of which the Rev. Vincent Jones kept posted as to Santa's whereabouts added greatly to the interest of the entertainment. Mr. Howell Ross presided and a full program was given which reflected much credit on the children.

Dick Roberts arrived for a visit with settlement friends, Friday. He is now located at Salida, Colo., following the duties of a car inspector with the railroad company.

VETERAN CONDUCTOR DIES

Scott Halbrook, formerly conductor on the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha R. R., died at Norfolk, Neb., December 10, 1906, from cancer, from which cause he had suffered for two years. Winfield Scott Halbrook was born at Nebraska City, September 10, 1862. Was 44 years 4 months and 6 days of age at the time of his death, and is survived by his wife and son, who live at Norfolk. Mr. Halbrook started railroading at the age of 14 years for the B. & M. R., later working for the U. P. for several years. He came to Omaha in the early 80's and went to work for the O. S. P. & O. R. E. Co., for which road he worked until 1898. The funeral was held from the Presbyterian church at Florence. Interment at Forest Lawn cemetery, December 18, which was the seventeenth anniversary of his marriage.

At Wayne Opera House Jan. 3

Wellington (Kan.) Star: The local lecture club has given Wellington patrons several good male quartettes in times past, but the singing of the "Temple" excelled anything in the line ever given by the club. From the very first note the superiority of the voices was apparent. The auditorium was crowded, and the audience so appreciative that the Quartette seemed delighted to entertain, and put a soul and melody into their songs never heard in the auditorium before. Time and space forbids further enlargement on their merits, but we must refer to the closing number, "Abide with Me," undoubtedly the most glorious blending of human voices ever heard on the local platform.

LOCAL NEWS.

Harry Armstrong was over from Sioux City to eat Christmas turkey with his parents.

Mark Stringer sr. of University Place arrived Saturday to spend Christmas with his son George.

Miss Chace of the college faculty left on Friday afternoon for Chicago, where she will spend the holiday vacation with her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hiscox with the children were passengers for Madison, Monday, to spend the Christmas season with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Patterson and daughter returned to Omaha, Wednesday morning, after spending Christmas at the Gamble home.

Harry Owen, who is spending the holidays at home, has been holding down a position as fireman on one of the big railroads in Wyoming at good pay.

Miss Bessie Dorsett was the recipient of a beautiful Hobart M. Cable piano as a Christmas present, the gift of her mother. Fleetwood & Johnson made the sale.

Rev. J. H. Karpenstein, wife and children drove over to Winside on Christmas day, where the former held childrens Christmas services in the evening. They returned Wednesday morning.

The passenger traffic at this point the past week has been exceptional. Conductor Adar of the Norfolk train who has held the run for nearly ten years, says that the record for holiday traveling was never so large.

The following were elected officers of the Presbyterian Sunday School for the ensuing year: F. H. Jones, Supt.; Fred Philico, Ass't Supt.; Helen McNeal, Secretary; Alton Kate, Treasurer, Dr. F. E. Gamble, Chorister; Mrs. A. R. Davis, Organist.

Otto Sebald was an arrival in Wayne the first of the week to spend the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sebald. Otto is now living in Richardson county and engaged in loan and real estate business and doing well. He served a term as deputy county recorder, and previ us to that attended college at Kansas City.

The morning subject at the First Methodist church next Sunday will be "Foundations for Belief in the Future General Judgment." The third address in the Holy Land series will be given in the evening at 7:30 Epworth League at 8:30. There will be special music at both services. All will be welcome. E. O. Horn, pastor.

Mrs. E. J. Nangle suffered a bad fall just east of the Gamble Store, on Friday night, while returning from church. It seems that a troop of careless boys were crowding the sidewalk, and as she stepped to one side to let them pass, they pushed her from the walk and she fell striking on her head. It was necessary to assist her to her home.

Mrs. Katherine Elsie Ladiges living near La Porte, died on December 24, Deceased emigrated to America in 1890, with her daughter, Mrs. Benning with whom she has been living. She was 70 years 8 months and 8 days old. Of a family of five children, three survive her, a son and two daughters. Funeral services were held in the German church today. Rev. Karpenstein officiating.

Fern Newkirk sold his residence on the corner east of the Baptist church to Mrs. Warnock last week. We understand Mr. Newkirk goes to Bloomfield where he has bought a flour and feed store. He was formerly engaged in the implement business with A. G. Powers and later Wm. Larson. Mrs. Warnock will occupy her new purchase living in the house she now lives in to P. Price, of Winside, who is to take possession shortly.

Word from the Dr. Cadwell and Jas. E. Sneath families at Checotah, Ind. Ter., is to the effect that they are not exactly pleased with their new home. Everything from furniture to grocery supplies is high in price, and this condition together with a bum brand of weather puts the ambrosia here on future prospects. We kind of look for veterinary Cadwell to return to Wayne, Nebraska may have drawbacks but its attractions are many and a better place to hard to find.

On Friday night a goodly number of members of the Presbyterian church gathered for a special meeting appropriate to the completion of the twenty-fourth year of the organization. The evening was given partly to a social time in that various members related individual experiences and called up different events in the history of the church, while the pastor T. O. Osborne, looked into the future a bit by unfolding plans to reach outsiders—the men in particular—by organizing some sort of a brotherhood, and then fix up the basement of the church for reading rooms, etc.

The depot has been the scene of several merry crowds the past week. The college students in leaving for their homes to spend their vacation made a numerous and noisy lot at nearly every train on Friday and Saturday. The college spirit and the college yell were certainly in evidence. On Thursday evening the city girls over-ran the platform as they came to meet the girls returning home from Brownell Hall. It seemed surely to be a joyous occasion all around. The girls from Brownell seem well pleased with the school, but complain somewhat in not having matron served often enough to suit them.

John B. Morris is down from Carroll, today. The new pool hall is up and nearly enclosed.

Sam'l Hurlbut was in town from Carroll on business, yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Harmon, had most of their children with them for Christmas, and the star event of the happy occasion was the marriage of their daughter Miss Ida to W. J. Finerty, of Neola, Iowa, Judge Hunter, performing the rite in the presence of the assembled relatives.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Jeffrey was the happy scene of a family reunion Christmas day. All the sons and daughters but one came home for the occasion. The oldest daughter, Mrs. T. J. Kelly had not been home for twenty-eight years and had never seen her youngest sister Miss Hattie. She is now living at Baltimore, Md. The other members of the family are R. T. of Ames, Iowa, C. H. of Bloomfield, and Mrs. Frank Spahr, Mrs. Honyon, Roy and Alex of Wayne, while Mark, residing at Lakeside, Wash. was unable to be present. A family picture was taken as a remembrance of the happy event.

The mere fact of going through a school or college will never educate a man; the college course simply puts him where he can educate himself, and he must do the rest by the aid of good books. Therefore the circulation of books is even more important than the maintenance of our educational institutions. The Standard Book of Knowledge is Just out—An American Home Educator.

FOR SALE—Poland China male pigs. W. B. Gamble, 3 1/2 miles south of Wayne.

Something new in the line of sales is being held at Miller & Ahern's. The boys are getting ready to invoice and in order to make the job of unwinding and measuring and rewinding and counting and figuring as small as possible and at the same time get at a true valuation of their stock they have adopted a busy sorting out winter merchandise which they wish to get out of the way before inventory, and marking it down to prices that they feel sure will sell it with a rush. In other words they will sacrifice goods before involving which most firms wait and sacrifice after inventory. Looks like a good plan, especially for us, we can buy winter goods right now when we need them at prices as low as they generally ask in February and March. Let us go up and save some money.

A Home Made Humpy by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

About two months ago our baby girl had measles, which settled on the lungs and at last resulted in a severe attack of bronchitis. We had two doctors but no relief was obtained. Everybody thought she would die. I went to eight different stores to find a certain remedy which had been recommended to me but failed to get it, when one of the storekeepers insisted that I try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I did so and our baby is alive and well today.—Geo. W. Spence, Holly, Springs, N. O. For sale by Raymond's Drug store.

You, each of you are hereby notified that on the 20th day of October, 1906, Mary J. Fowler, plaintiff herein, filed her petition in the District Court of Wayne County, Nebraska, against you, the heirs of Alexander Beattie, deceased, the names of such heirs and their residences being unknown to plaintiff, implored with J. M. O'herry, as administrator of the estate of said Alexander Beattie, deceased, Edille W. Gilbert, and the State of Nebraska, as defendants, the object and prayer of which are to foreclose a certain mortgage executed by the said Alexander Beattie, during his lifetime, to one William L. Fowler, dated August 11th, 1900, upon the following described real estate, situated in Wayne County, Nebraska, to-wit: The North Half of the Southwest Quarter of Section Thirty-four (34), Township Twenty-five (25), Range Four (4), East of the Sixth Principal Meridian, to secure the payment of a certain promissory note of even date therewith, for the sum of $800.00, in favor of one William L. Fowler, one and payable August 11th, 1905; that there is now due upon said note and mortgage, the sum of Six Hundred Thirty ($630.00) Dollars, with interest from August 11th, 1905, at Ten Per Cent per annum, for which sum with said interest, plaintiff prays for a decree that defendants be required to pay the same, or that said premises may be sold to satisfy the amount due, and defendants foreclosed and barred of all right, interest and equity of redemption in and to said premises, and for such other and further relief as may be just and equitable.

You are required to answer said petition on or before the 14th day of January, 1907.

to select harness is the way it is usually done. Price is generally the first consideration. If that is very low the goods seem attractive, regardless of quality. Judge our goods the other way about. Examine into the quality of this harness first. Then it will be soon clear it is worth almost any price. But our prices are not high. Value considered they are remarkably low.
