The Herald for good job work.

Attorney Barnhardt, editor of the Norfolk Democrat, says: "District court adjourned Tuesday evening and this will no doubt be the last term of court held by Judge Boyd in this county and is about his last judicial act in the district. It is expected that he will soon resign and in March will assume his duties at Washington as congressman from the Third, to which office he was elected at the last fall election. Judge Boyd is now serving his second term as district judge of the Ninth judicial district of Nebraska and of him, as judge, we have to say that no man has held that position and came nearer giving universal satisfaction than Judge Boyd. He has endeared himself to the common people and at each term of court seemed to become more popular than at the last. He has the happy faculty of drawing litigants and jurors to himself and he is very popular with officers of the court. His rulings during the trial of cases were prompt and decisive and were made in such manner as to counsel that he meant it. His decisions in equity cases were broad and based upon equity justice and common sense and have most generally been affirmed by the supreme court. Sometimes the lawyers felt aggrieved at adverse rulings. I did, and sometimes thought and said unpleasant things. I did that, too; but Frank Boyd was judge just the same and we know it."

THE NATION'S PROSPERITY

Washington, Jan. 14. It is not surprising that the one discordant note in the gladsome peean arising to acclaim prosperity should, jar gratefully on the nation's ear. The statement made by Secretary Fish, to the effect that the country is drifting toward a commercial crisis, is not taken very seriously here in Washington. Neither Secretary Shaw, nor any other cabinet member, can see anything but prosperous times ahead.

In fact the storm of protest against Mr. Fish's pessimistic views has been surprising. George Gould, at the head of a great system of railroads gridironing the country, is emphatic in his declaration that the present year will exceed in point of business and in general prosperity the banner year of 1906. Senator W. A. Clark, rated the best wealthiest man in the country to John D. Rockefeller, endorses Mr. Gould's view. Now comes Carroll D. Wright, former Federal Commissioner of Labor, and at present head of Clark College, with a statement in which he declares that the present commercial structure of the country is too firm to be shaken by the conditions that brought about the panics the country has suffered periodically ever since 1814. In his declaration Mr. Wright says:

"This occasion for a depression is not so likely to occur under present conditions of industry and great operations as in the past. Whether one approves the modern system of great combinations, he must recognize that they have this steady influence to which I have alluded. The condition has changed entirely, and we must look to see the great combinations each depending upon the other in a way—railroad depending upon shippers, shippers upon railroads, great concerns depending upon these—associate themselves together for the purpose of preventing a financial crisis and a consequent industrial depression. This influence alone, I think, has already delayed the appearance of the elements of depression and may postpone its coming an indefinite number of years.

On industrial and commercial subjects Mr. Wright is recognized as one of America's leading thinkers. The fact he has never been regarded as especially favorable to great corporations lends added weight to his statement. He speaks as a student and a thinker and not as an advocate for great aggregations of wealth. Just at this time Mr. Wright's summing up of the present commercial situation is especially happy. There is consideration apprehension among the administration leaders that the prevailing sentiment in the country, leveled at corporations, in the end will have a tendency to shake existent prosperity if it does not overthrow it.

That this belief is entertained not only by cabinet officers but is shared by the President as well, is seen in practically all of the public documents that have commanded the attention of the present Congress, from the President's message down to the various reports of the heads of the different departments. Every one of the writers urges caution on the part of the public in its treatment of business institutions. The unmaking of the piratical corporations, which form a very small percentage of the whole, seems to have aroused in the American public a determination to fall upon all corporations and destroy them, whether they be evil or good. This spirit is reflected in the State legislatures, which in a number of States at the present time are engaged in the enactment or the consideration of drastic laws for the supervision of private business enterprises.

NEWS OF THE WEEK IN CONDENSED FORM.

Had Been Working for Farmers in Vicinity of Tecumseh. Two paid convicts from the Nebraska penitentiary who were working for Johnson county farmers, have been arrested and returned to the penitentiary.

PAID FOR CONVICTS ESCAPE. Had Been Working for Farmers in Vicinity of Tecumseh. Two paid convicts from the Nebraska penitentiary who were working for Johnson county farmers, have been arrested and returned to the penitentiary.

ONNELL ALLEGED ROBBERY. Victim of Bruie Wreck Said Diamond Ring Was Taken from Him. It has developed in the case of the death of Eugene O'Neill, a victim of the Los Angeles Limited wreck at Bruie last week, made the ugly charge that immediately after the wreck and while he was in a boxcar, injured so badly that he could not help himself.

FLEES FROM PEST HOUSE. Patient Alleges that Patients Are Neglected at Alliance. Escaping from the pest house at Alliance, W. H. Rodes came to Lincoln Thursday to report to the state health officer that he had been neglected at the pest house.

A Wayward Girl. Dora Teel, a girl from Tekamah, preferred a wayward life to returning home with her mother. The mother fled to New York from Tekamah and attempted to induce the girl to go back home, and the girl promised.

BRIDGE CONTRACT FULFILLED. S. A. Kinney, of Wynmore, Thursday filed an injunction against the county board of supervisors and the John D. L. legal bridge company, of Falls City, to prevent them from carrying out the contract for building a bridge over the river for bridges in Oage county during the year 1917.

GRAND ISLAND TO CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY. A semi-annual celebration will be held in Grand Island next summer in observance of the anniversary of the settlement of that section of the state. Eight of the pioneers, who came by wagon from Davenport, Ia., in 1847, located their homesteads at and out the settlement on July 4, 1847, the celebration of the nation's birthday, and went actively to work on July 4 of that year, still remain.

FARMER'S WIFE SCALDED. A farmer living near Humboldt, Ia., Saturday morning was scalded by a boiler which exploded by the explosion of a rail of boiling water upon which the cover had been pressed down too tightly, causing the steam to escape.

REBUILDING MAIL CARS. In compliance with the request of the postoffice department for the reconstruction of mail cars to conform with new specifications, the Burlington is presently engaged in rebuilding seventy mail cars of the 60-foot class in the Plattsmouth shops.

NO SURPLUS OF COAL. The Crowell Grain company, of Herman, received a car of hard coal the other day and the car had not been on the siding over an hour until the farmers were waiting for it. There has been no suffering there for a car of coal, but there is none of the reports that can keep any stock of it on hand.

SCHOOL PRINCIPAL RESTLESS. Prof. Malot, the principal of the schools at Alnsworth, tendered his resignation Wednesday.

"BLACK HAND" VICTIM. The body of a man, burned beyond recognition with kerosene, was found in a patch of woods at Guttenberg, N. J., Thursday. There is little doubt the man was murdered and that he was an Italian. It is supposed he was the victim of the so-called "Black Hand."

Hospital Cases are Prognostic. The Norfolk Insane hospital attendants charged with assaulting patients with intent to do bodily harm, again succeeded in continuing their case in district court at Norfolk. It will not be tried before spring.

Wanted for Burglary in Kansas. John Lahey, aged 18, who lives with his parents at Norfolk, has been arrested at Norfolk on a charge of burglary preferred by a Kansas sheriff at Norfolk. The sheriff will take young Lahey back for trial.

No Lack of Opportunity. Miss Goodwin—Think of those poor neglected children of Miss O'Connell. How can you expect them to be well trained?

Miss Tartin—O, I don't know. They have had five or six different stepfathers. Some of them quite respectable and well meaning men.

News of Minor Notes. William Pitman, of Beaver Meadow, Pa., a shoemaker, shot and killed Harry Stewart, a farmer, from Quakertown, Pa., at Pitton's home.

A loss of $100,000 was caused by fire which destroyed the heavy machinery of the State of Georgia at Atlanta, Ga. Insurance companies are expected to pay the loss.

Sixteen persons were killed and many injured in a wreck of the North British railway near Aberdeen, Scotland. The disaster was caused by the heavy snow.

Several hundred Nebraska farmers gathered in Lincoln last week to attend the sessions of the various agricultural societies of the state which will meet at that time. In addition to the business sessions, commercial and professional societies will hold meetings, and men prominent in these lines throughout the country will address the meetings. The agricultural meetings will begin next Monday, Jan. 14, and continue five days. The attendance of the farmers at the former annual meeting was very large and satisfactory, but this year's crowd is expected to break all records. Most of the societies will hold their sessions at the state farm. The following societies will meet: Association of Agricultural Students, Nebraska Cattle Producers' association, Nebraska Duroc-Jersey Breeders' association, Nebraska Tractor Association, Nebraska State Poultry Breeders' association, Nebraska Veterinary Medical Institute, Nebraska State Farmers' Institute, Nebraska Live Stock Raisers' association, Nebraska Improved Live Stock Breeders' association, Nebraska Park and Forestry association, Nebraska State Horticultural society, Nebraska Stock Breeders' association, Nebraska State Board of Agriculture, Nebraska State Breeders' association.

A slight decline in quotations is not accompanied by falling prices for leather, consumers of which remain busy, especially in foot wear, hatting and millinery. Importation in quantities of numbers is limited, but

CLUBS AND SOCIETY. The Menerva Club hold no meeting this week.

The young peoples club held a dance at the opera house, Wednesday evening of last week. They meet bi-weekly.

Miss Buffington entertained the Shakespeare Club, Tuesday evening. The ladies are studying "Anthony and Cleopatra."

The Acme Club gathered at the home of Mrs. Hamer Wilson, Tuesday p. m. The ladies are giving the year of work to the study of American history.

The Mandolin Club meets Saturday nights at Craven's studio. The members are making good progress under the instruction of Prof. Salsbury.

The ladies of the Presbyterian Aid society, living in the north and eastern part of the city, meet with Mrs. Ella this afternoon. It is to be a "Pagot Social" and each lady brings a bundle of storks, for some purpose or other. Supper will be served, the proceeds of which go into the parsonage fund.

The Monday Club met with Mrs. Leisnering, in the afternoon of January 14. All members being present the meeting proved of unusual interest. Following a discussion of current events, in which all participated, Mrs. Chase led in the consideration of a carefully prepared lesson on "Glass Cloisonne, etc."

The U. D. Club met Monday afternoon with Mrs. H. B. Jones. Instead of the regular program "Half a Penny Day" was celebrated, by each member preparing some part of a three course supper. Partners were determined through matching limericks, which occasioned no little merriment. The club will meet with Mrs. R. H. James, next Monday.

The Five Hundred Club met at the Henry Loy home on Tuesday evening. Cards provided the means of entertainment, and light refreshments were served after half the series of games were played. Mrs. J. J. Williams received the reward accorded the best player among the ladies in the form of a beautiful hand painted bread-and-butter plate, while among the men, Mr. Kohl was handed a box of cigars as a recognition of his skill. The club meets with Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong next week.

The Federation of Clubs held a meeting at the home of Mrs. E. S. Blair, Tuesday evening. The following officers were elected: Mrs. Duerig, president; Mrs. Hamer Wilson, vice president; Mrs. J. M. Cherry, secretary; and Mrs. Blair, treasurer. The federation have the matter of the public library on hand and will devote special effort to its development the coming year. The ladies are considering the advisability of securing a levy for library purposes at the hands of the city council the coming spring.

School News

By County Superintendent A. E. Littell

Prof. Gregg, formerly of the Neb. Normal College, present instructor of science in the state normal, has recently had published a 60 page booklet on parliamentary law. Prof. Gregg has been recognized as one of the best parliamentarians in the West. His wide experience as a teacher and legislator made him familiar with the needs of those who wish to acquaint themselves with parliamentary rules, and with this knowledge, he set about to give the public something that would meet their demands along this line. Judging from the fact that such parliamentarians as General Robert and Mrs. Fox have highly commended his book, he has succeeded. The book is said to be a model of system, arranged so the facts are readily accessible.

The Wayne section of the teachers' association was well attended considering the inclemency of the weather. The program was carried out in full. Miss Alice Brown read an excellent paper reviewing two chapters of Pitman's psychology. In the general discussion following, many good points were brought out. Miss Alice Wadsworth's paper on "Reading" was well taken being full of practical suggestions. The closing number was an address by Dr. Horn of the First M. E. Church. This was indeed a treat for teachers.

The president of the Winnside section reports that the chapters in psychology were reviewed and discussed fully by the teachers. He says "Miss Leslie's paper on Discipline in the country schools" was short, witty and practical, and the discussion which followed was lively." Mrs. Wolf's primary pupils took part in the program.

The managers of the Carroll section report the an interesting and profitable meeting of the year, and that the next program will be still better. Teachers are beginning to realize that it means something besides higher grades to prepare their lessons; hence the increasing interest taken in the Reading Circle work.

The work of many excellent teachers is commendable for no other reason than because they show a friendly spirit toward pupils in the district who are on the "outside" with others who imagine their efforts are being discussed and that the teacher is "taking sides". Let these spirit bear in mind that a true teacher may listen to troubles of others, but has no many cares of her own to mix in a neighborhood quarrel. Miss I. J. Olson reports that some excellent work has been done by her agricultural class. Another very commendable feature of the work in Miss

Olson's school is the fact that the pupils fully realize the importance of the dictionary.

This is the season when patrons and school officers ought to visit the schools, in order to determine their teachers teaching ability. It is a hard matter to judge a teacher when she has only a few scholars representing one or two grades.

On Friday January 28, Miss Palminter and her school will give a play, which will be followed by a box supper. The entertainment is for the benefit of the school library. Liberal patronage ought to be expected for a cause of this kind.

Representative Cono of Sankilars Co. has introduced a bill in the Nebraska House of Representatives providing that every school be provided with a library. The bill is known as H. R. 72.

Teachers and pupils who show such genuine interest in the community ought not to be obliged to lay out the proceeds of such entertainments for such necessities as dictionaries and text books.

A great percent of the troubles arising between teachers and patrons is brought about, not by lies, but by childish exaggeration not properly weighed by parents.

The Wayne County Teachers' Institute will be held Aug. 26-30. The June institute has some disadvantages that make it impractical in Wayne county at least.

Ivor Morris of District No 55 won a spelling contest given in his home school Dec. 28. Oelyn Morris came out in ciphering match victorious a week later.

Miss Burson who teaches in District 40 and who has been ill for several days was able to teach this week.

A box supper will be given by Miss Bonnie Reed of District 35, for the benefit of the school library.

Miss Minnie Hensche of district 27 has been obliged to leave school on account of severe eye trouble.

The unexpected death of William H. Martin, more familiarly known as "Scotty" Martin was announced Saturday noon. Heart failure seems to have been the cause. Scotty had been ill for some time, but most of last week was able to be about town. Friday evening he attended the show at the opera house, and an hour or two before his taking off, was around town talking with his friends. He had preceded his wife home for dinner and on her arrival she found him lying on the floor dead, having rolled from the lounge. The coroner was called and reported the cause above stated. Deceased was born in Aberdeen, Scotland in 1860, coming to this country in 1886 and has resided in Wayne for 18 years. He leaves two brothers and three sisters now living in Scotland, besides a wife and daughter were dependent upon him and are left in poor circumstances. The funeral services were conducted from the Baptist church, Monday by Rev. Parker Sulth, and burial taking place in the Wayne cemetery.

Wayne School Notes

The High School Literary Society will give a program next Friday.
Della Gildersleeve and Jennie Lovitt are out of school on account of illness.
The 11th grade have finished Plane Geometry and have begun Solid Geometry. The 10th grade having just taken up Plane Geometry.
The pupils of Miss Wallace's room received a quarterly holiday last Friday, because no one had been tardy for the preceding four weeks.
The 7th grade of the North Ward have begun the study of Longfellow's "Evangeline" from which they are participating much pleasure and profit.
The story of King Arthur and his knights is being read and discussed by the pupils of Mrs. Phillips room as a part of the opening exercises each day.
The pupils of the North Ward are proud of the fact that there was no tardiness in the building during the week following midwinter vacation nor during the four weeks just preceding the holidays.
Mrs. Solomon, the supervisor of infants in the schools gave a music lesson in each grade room in the High School building last Friday afternoon and met the teachers immediately after the close of school.
The second grade of the Ward school have just completed some posters which they made to illustrate the story of Hiawatha. These will be mounted and bound in booklet form with the stories they have written.
Miss Bouchemin finds the library books lately purchased for her room a valuable addition, all of them being in constant use and very much enjoyed by the pupils. These will be reviewed by the pupils for opening exercises.
The primary grades have completed their paper weaving and free hand-outlines. The manual work for some time will consist of yarn mat weaving and weaving book sacks from carpet warp. The looms designed by Miss Stockett and put out by a local hardware firm will be used for this purpose.
The electric lights have been off at intervals the past two evenings. The chief reason seems to be a poor grade of coal. Our troubles are few, however, for over at Pierre the light plant was out of commission for two weeks on account of a broken shaft. While at Tokamah the glim factory is shut down and in the hands of a receiver.
"Laugh and the world laughs with you" is a true axiom. To be sure that you laugh with the world you will have to see "A Jolly American Tramp," which Manager U. D. Newell presents at the opera house, January 21st. The scenes are funny, its comedy is bright and its specialties so clever that you will regret it if you don't see it.

If you are thinking of buying a top buggy, carriage or vehicle of any kind, call on C. W. Hilscox and examine his new line just received.
Mrs. F. M. Skgon is spending a few weeks with her son Homer at Cody, where he is in the banking business. Homer now has three girls in the family the third making her advent Jan. 5.
Dr. J. C. Clark will be at Wayne, Boyd Hotel, Monday, January 21st to treat all diseases of the Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat. Glasses perfectly fitted. Since establishing his Optical Manufactory past Dr. Clark can furnish glasses at the smallest cost.
ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE
In the District Court of Wayne, Nebraska.
In the matter of the application of Daniel Davis, Guardian of the Estates of Harry Griffith and Anna Griffith, minors, for leave to sell real estate.
On reading the petition, duly verified and filed with the Clerk of this Court, by Daniel Davis, Guardian of the estates of Harry Griffith and Anna Griffith, minors, for leave to sell the following described real estate, situated in Wayne County, Nebraska, to-wit:--
Their undivided one-half interest in and to the Northwest Quarter of Section Seven (7), Township Twenty-six (26), Range Two (2).
And it appearing from said petition that said real estate consists of farm lands owned in common by said minors with one E. R. Wittling, and that it would be for the benefit of said minors, and their said estates, that their interest in said lands be sold, and the proceeds thereof put out at interest or invested in some productive stock;
It is therefore, ordered that the next day of said minors and all persons interested in their estates, appear before me, at chambers, in the Court house in Neligh, Antelope County, Nebraska, on the 15th day of February, 1907, at 10 o'clock a. m., to show cause, if any there be, why license should not be granted to the said Daniel Davis, guardian of the said minors, to sell the said real estate for the purposes above set forth.
And it is further ordered that a copy of this order be published at least three successive weeks, once a week, in the Wayne Herald a newspaper printed and published in said County of Wayne, and that it shall not be necessary to make personal service of this order upon the next of kin or other persons interested in said estate.
Done at Chambers, at Neligh, in said Judicial District this 17th day of January, 1907.
J. F. Boyd,
Judge of the District Court.

Comedy and pathos richly blending, touching that well spring of emotion, the heart, and causing the risibilities of its beholders to broaden from a smile into a hearty laugh are some of the promises made by Manager U. D. Newell for his sensational comedy drama, "A Jolly American Tramp" which comes to Wayne opera house, January 21st.

MT. HOPE HAPPENINGS

Mrs. Frank Hallick was at Sioux City, Monday, having her eyes treated by a specialist.
Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Kelly went to Malvern Iowa, Wednesday, for short visit among relatives and friends.
Mrs. Plumb who has been visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jas. Kelly, left for Henderson Iowa, Wednesday.
Friday evening about thirty-five young people met at the home of Ned Lloyd and enjoyed themselves as only young folks can, dancing till the "wee wee wee" hours in the morning.
Thursday morning, January 10, the neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Kibby planned a nice surprise for that worthy couple. About eleven o'clock friends arrived with well filled lunch baskets and enjoying a social day, leaving a nice gift as a token of the esteem in which this family is held by neighbors. We are sorry to have them leave our community but our loss is Boyd county's gain. Those present were Messrs and Mrs. James A. J. Laughlin, J. L. Kelley, Spencer, Milo Kramke, Geo. Porter, Geo. Hofeldt, Ray Hurst, Miss Vera Simons.
"A Jolly American Tramp," one of the biggest success now on tour, will be the attraction at the opera house January 21st. It was written by Edward E. Kidder, the man who constructed "A Poor Relation" and "Peaceful Valley" for Sol Smith Russell, and is said to be a fine companion play to these great successes. "A Jolly American Tramp" will be interpreted by a very capable company under the able management of U. D. Newell.

Geo. Stringer has purchased the big ten horse power gasoline engine that has been used by Gossard & Son in the old Newton feed mill. George moved the engine to his blacksmith shop yesterday where it will do service. The Gossard's intend to put in a steam engine, as a great deal of hot water is needed in connection with the cream business they handle.
A jolly crowd of young people planned and successfully executed a surprise on Orin Garwood at his home last evening. The occasion being in honor of his twenty-first birthday, which is today. A delightful time is reported and a good lot of refreshments added to the pleasure of the evening. As a memento of the event Mr. Garwood was presented with a beautiful gold watch fob, by the following young people who were present: Misses Mabel Wright, Maria Wright, Jennie Nelson, Marie Rannick, Blanche Belle, Dimple Reddick, Maude Grothe, Mabel Stinson, Edith Stinson, Pearl Stinson, Agnes Coleman, Sadie Mick, Lucy Miller, Messrs Walter Miller, Bond Goffeyear, Carl Grothe, Ed. # Our Annual Clearing Sale

:: Lasts for Only Two Weeks More ::

That this has been a sale worth while, has been proven to us by the way the people has flocked in and carried away the goods we placed on sale. It is a sale with a reason in that we hate to burn up good clothes, and have therefore applied the old fashioned method of reducing the prices regardless of the first cost of the goods. As we are bound to get rid of this special lot of goods, The bargains are better and greater than at any other sale we have ever conducted. A few of the many items in this sale are:

Boys' Suits

Which were formerly sold at from $3.00 to $6.00, now on sale at $2.00. These are cheaper to buy for school wear than overalls.

Boys' Long Pant Suits

That sold from $5.00 to $9.00, now at $3.00. Not just the latest cut, but great bargains, for every day wear.

Mothers Do you realize the great savings you can make by buying some of the above suits for your boys for school wear. Some extra good spring suits among them. Buy them now at bargains and let your boy have a new spring suit.

Men's Suits

That sold from $7.50 to $11.50 in this sale at $5.00. Sizes run from 34 to 44. Why not throw away that suit that is patched up and greasy, and be dressed up for $5.00.

Men's Suits

That sold from $12.50 to $17.50, in this sale at $7.50. Sizes from 34 to 42. When we started this sale this line was put on sale at $10.00, but they did not move fast enough for us. We have therefore reduced them to $7.50, as they must go.

We have a lot Boys' and Men's Sweaters that must be cleaned out, and have put same on sale at one half price.
We also have a few pairs of Shoes, in good common sense styles, but odds and ends from the last two seasons purchases; these are good serviceable Shoes, regular $2.25 to $2.75 Shoes. To clean them out, we have placed them on a table in the front of our store at $1.50.
For the next two weeks we will give 20 per cent discount on all Overcoats, and we have a number of the latest styles in Overcoats yet—fur coats not included.
We have only one way of keeping our stock clean of all out-of-style goods, and that is by sorting out all the odds and ends and reducing the price in a generous and fearless manner, by disregarding profits and overlooking losses.
Sleeping is believing. Please call and let us show you.

IN FORTY-EIGHT HOURS PE-RU-NA CURED HIM.

Cold Affected Head and Throat—Attack was Severe.

Chas. W. Bowman, 1st Lieut. and Adj. Gen. of the 1st M. Cav. Vols., writes from Louisiana, Mo., as follows: "I have been afflicted with a cold for several days, which has become so severe that I am unable to do my duty. I have used Pe-Ru-NA and in forty-eight hours I am cured. I use it as a preventive whenever threatened with an attack."

"I have been particularly benefited by its use for colds in the head and throat. I have been able to fully discharge my duties in a few days. I have used it in all my expeditions to the front and it has cured me of all the colds already written concerning the military powers of Peruana."

MARK TWAIN'S HARD FATE.

Painted Stories Belonging to His Personal Petrarchade Current.

The first critic that ever laid occasion to describe my personal appearance littered his description with footnotes and parentheses, and the result was a distinctly and distressfully unkind-sounding. That description flitted around the country in the papers and was in constant use and wear for a quarter of a century.

It seems strange to me that apparently no critic in the country could be found who could look at me and have the courage to take up his pen and destroy that lie. That lie began its course on the Pacific coast in 1874 and it likened me in personal appearance to Petroleum V. Nasby, who had been out there lecturing. For twenty-five years afterward no critic could furnish a description of me without reaching in Nasby to help out my portrait.

I knew Nasby well, and he was a good fellow, but in 1874 I have not felt mentioned in about any more than three persons to charge these persons with robbing Nasby. It hurts me to the heart. I was always handsome. Anybody but a critic could have seen it. And it had long been a distress to my family—including Susy—that the critics should go on making this wearisome mistake year after year when there was no foundation for it.

Even when a critic wanted to be particularly friendly and complimentary to me he didn't dare to go beyond my clothes. He never ventured beyond that old safe frontier. When he had finished with my clothes he had said all the kind things, the pleasant things, the complimentary things he could risk. Then he dropped back on Nasby.

Mark Twain in North American Review.

A Big Housemaid. The missionary was at once pale and yellow-pale, he explained, from an avoidance of the deadly Indian sun, yellow from a disordered liver. "Nevertheless," he said gaily, "India for me first, last and all the time. On the money you and your family are paying at this hotel do you know how you would live in India?" He lighted a cigarette and resumed: "You would live in a beautiful house set in a lovely garden, with a lot of servants that would include a kitchen maid, or rather a kitchenmaid, or table servant; a chambermaid; a muslin-seller; a light bearer; a maid of cook; two sweepers; or grounds; a house-keeper; a water carrier; a scullion; a house-coly; a muller; or fender; a block of washwoman; a butler; or private tailor; an ayah; or nurse; a stirlin; or valet; a trash bearer; or hand-tray; three footmen; coolies to work the fan; a durwan; or lodge-keeper; a janitor; or doorman; and several chuprassies, or messengers."

Haughty Attendants. The man from Arizona was taking his first view of Central Park and its environs. One thing seemed to rouse in him mingled interest and scorn. It was the sight of four or five young women of horseback, each followed at a respectful distance by a groom.

"These fellows that are in a haughty tone," said the man from Arizona, "are a funny set. I have never passed by a haughty girl without being in the rear. I don't blame the girls for not throwing me so much as a look over the shoulder. I wouldn't be in their place."

"There goes another couple with as much as eight rods between," he told after a moment's silence. "I tell you, they ought to see the way we do it out in Arizona! We may be behind in some things, but I never saw a fellow out there that hadn't got spunk enough to ride up ahead of his girl when he'd had grit to invite her out."

Babel in Boston. After answering the telephone and talking Spanish into it without apparently getting results, the clerk at a hotel hung up the receiver and remarked: "My Spanish isn't the best in the world, I know, but I should think a man would know how to talk at least. The fellow just talking to me never the phone couldn't talk enough Spanish to order a meal, and to save me I couldn't make him understand, although I know I used correct language. While he was talking an American rushed into the hotel and up to the desk. He says: 'I just tried to telephone here and the idiot trying to talk Spanish over the phone knows mighty little about the language.'"

"I was talking to you," said the clerk. When apologies were made the conversation continued in English.—Mexican Herald.

Nothing Easier. Beginner: "It doesn't take any particular skill to operate a fountain pen, does it?" Expert: "Hardly any. You need a good inkling of the nodus operandi the first time you try to fill it."

If possible, select your brood sows when the pigs are 5 or 6 months old. Sunshine, crude carbolic acid and air-slaked lime will keep the hogpens sweet.

Fowls that get a little charcoal and a few sunflower seeds once or twice a week will have red combs and bright plumage.

It is about time for some fakes to bop up with some new variety of alfalfa with wonderful qualities. A variety that will do well anywhere and live on anything.

The advertiser of a breed not only lays the foundation for a paying business for himself, but helps boost his breed and his association, and thereby indirectly benefits his brother breeder.

When a farmer sells a horse he must give a guarantee. When the same farmer buys nursery stock he has to wait until the trees come into bearing to see whether he has what he bought.

The woman with a gasoline stove and the farmer with a gasoline engine have all of a sudden discovered that the demand for gasoline by automobiles has caused it to slide up a notch or two in price.

A thorough farmer can get more out of the scrub than a scrub farmer can. As a rule that kind of a farmer does not keep the scrub any longer than he can help. A scrub farmer will soon make a scrub out of a pure-bred animal.

Hogs shipped into the stock yards show the result of too much breeding by careless farmers, who reason that it does not pay to get a new boar each year while they have one which will breed, and they lose enough in a litter or two to pay for a new sire.

Breeding at random and repeating at leisure has run its course—at least it should have by this time. It is now in order that less time and money be spent on this, or that the other breed and more attention be paid to the individual animal.

A chisel can easily carry a weight of one thousand pounds on its back, about four times as much as a horse can carry. The camel bears work at the age of 3 and is useful for half a century; the horse, as a rule, is nearly played out at the age of 15.

Mowing down strawberry tops just after fruit has been gathered is just what you need to do to cause the plants to stool out more vigorously and to retard runners. This is sometimes followed by a thin dirt covering to further encourage stoloning.

An exchange remarks that "what is known in the market as chamois skin is really old-tanned sheep skin. The supply of real chamois is very limited, and all there is in the world would not supply the United States for a single day." Another decided score for the sheep!

Now come the news that food adulteration is practiced in Germany just as extensively as in this country. That is awful after that comical refuting of pork products. It is presumed that Germany wants to do its own adulterating. The number of prosecutions for adulterating food in Germany have increased from 1,400 to 6,000 in 1903. Who'd thought it?

More money may be made from orchards on this land when the trees are set close, twenty to twenty-five feet apart, than when only half that many are set. The trees shade the ground better, and heat and drought will not do as much damage as when the greater part of the ground is exposed to the sun to burn up the humus and dry the moisture out of the loam.

When snow is on the ground, rabbits have a hard time securing food, and will eat anything that will prevent starvation. It is then they gnaw trees and do damage which is not worth in the power of the farmer to repair. Smearing the trunk with blood or wrapping the trees with tarred paper or mosquito netting two feet from the ground serves as a protection.

For twenty years the Ohio Experiment Station produced an average of forty bushels of wheat in a three-year rotation consisting of potatoes, wheat and clover. On another farm a rotation of corn, oats, wheat, clover and timothy was carried on with a yield of twenty-eight and one-half bushels of wheat per acre. With proper market privileges for a series of years a clover, potatoes and wheat rotation will be hard to beat.

If a garden is manured heavily and not kept in growing crops all through the growing season the fertility will leach away into the subsoil, where it will be out of the reach of surface-feeding crops. If kept growing something all through the summer it will not leach and it will be all the better for the soil. If allowed to leach it will be better to change the spot occasionally and put the old garden spot to clover to bring up the fertility again.

Ask a cattle feeder in the corn belt how he is coming out with his steers, and he will say that if his steers don't make him any profit his hogs will let him out. So often does this happen that the hog has come to be an important factor to reckon with in all cattle-feeding operations. Indeed, if it were not for the grunners, the business of cattle feeding might be a precarious one. There is a sad lack of profits, as a general thing, in handling hogs, just because there is a lack of management on the part of those who have no one can teach another, and those have more to do with it than general rules. The blood, the care, the warm shelter, the proper food are all on the list, but only the practical man learns those which are not written.

To get Rid of Cockerleeks. A correspondent of a farm paper says: "Cockerleeks can only be exterminated by pulling up the last one of them in a field for two years running. This necessity is for the fact that every cockerleek according to our correspondent contains two seeds, one of which will grow the first year and the other one the second. By planting corn for two years running, the cockerleek cannot get a chance to grow, and the field, it is claimed they can be exterminated."

Producing Denatured Alcohol. "If a farmer or other person desires to go into the business of manufacturing denatured alcohol, at a plant however small," says Internal Revenue Commissioner Yerkes, "he will be required to furnish his plant in the manner prescribed by the general laws and regulations. He will be required to give a bond, the object of which is to prevent him from defrauding the government of the tax on any distilled spirits produced by him. He will be required to establish a distillery warehouse to deposit the spirits established by him in the warehouse, and to tax payor or distiller. Just as he may wish, the alcohol produced by him. All of this will be done under government supervision, but the government pays for this supervision. The manufacture of alcohol does not bear one cent of it. There is no objection to a farmer manufacturing his alcohol in his back yard provided he wants to establish a distillery there. If you will take the trouble to investigate you will find, in my opinion, that the laws and regulations relating to the manufacture of alcohol in Germany do not differ to any great extent from the laws and regulations in this country."

Horse Maintains His Position. The horse is always about to be, but never is put out of business. On the appearance of every new agency of transportation the announcement is solemnly made that the horse, after passing through an era of decreasing prices, will cease and determine. It was so when railroads began to gain headway, when bicycles came into use, and when the electric cars commenced to buzz along the highways when the auto developed into something more than a curiosity, but yet here the horse is still with us, and more valuable than ever.

Stables Submitted to the House of Representatives. In connection with the agricultural appropriation bill, show that there has been a notable increase both in the number and value of horses in the United States in the last nine years. The aggregate of horses Jan. 1, 1904, stood at 18,718,578, against 18,387,047 at the corresponding date of 1907. Their total value increased from $425,614,336 in 1907 to $1,610,890,800. This startling rate of increase in value is no more marked than that of quies, according to the same government authorities. There were 2,216,654 mules in 1907 and 3,104,613 in 1906, and the values were, respectively, $92,302,600 and $144,680,320.

Blanking Corn. The following extract of an opinion is from one who has been watching the work of blanking corn by machinery. Much of the work will be done by the power taster and shredder, but a number who had their corn husked in this manner last year are going to return to the old method as being cheaper and more satisfactory.

The shredder is the natural companion of the binder, and most of the corn cut by the latter will be shredded. There are, however, some binders in this vicinity that have stood still while their owners cut their corn by hand, their thinking it cheaper and fully as rapid and easy, where help for shredding could not be obtained. A single hour of time cut out of a field with a shredder, but could have cut it as quickly by hand, and went back to the binder for the next field. He will shred these shocks, and, I think, find them hard to handle, as they are so tightly compressed.

In husking by hand, it will be found convenient to have crates enough for one or two loads and scatter a load of them along the rows before husking, throwing the corn into them while husking. This will save picking up and shoveling off, and the hauling will be easier and more rapid.

Shredded fodder is all right if the stock are thoroughly cured. It is not so good if not cured, for spoiled fodder, and also corn, unless put in a narrow, well-ventilated crib.

Of every branded man who professes anxiety for the quality of their cigars owing to the Cuban rebellion, scarcely one could, if put to it, interpret the meaning of the various words which are stamped on the lid and sides of a cigar box. These are not the names of the maker, but terms actually descriptive of the cigar. On the lid is the name of the cigar, as Pedro Martin, Villa y Villa. The front of the box describes the shape and size, as Conchos, Reina, Regalias, which state the shape and Perfecto Infantes, Princesses, which signify the size. These may be combined as Conchos Speciallyes, Conchos Finas, to state both shape and size.

At the back of the box, where the lid turns over, is stamped the quality of the cigar—Superior, Fina, Flor, Superior and Bueno, defining the terms in the descending scale. The color of the cigar is denoted on the right-hand side or end of the box. Claro signifies the lightest color, Colorado Claro rather darker, Colorado dark, Colorado Maduro darker, Maduro very dark, Oscuro extremely dark, Negro darkest.—London Chronicle.

Spelling a March. "Hang it all!" exclaimed Mr. Sulubs, arriving home from the office, "we'll have to call on the Duhleys to-night." "Why, George, you said you wanted to stay home with me in comfort to-night," exclaimed his wife. "Yes, but Duhley told Balkotz he and his wife meant to call on us to-night. We can leave their house earlier than we could make them leave ours."—Philadelphia Press.

Trouble Ahead for Johnny. "George," said Mrs. Ferguson anxiously as she straightened the bed clothes over her sleeping boy, "what makes Johnny's fingers so yellow? Does jaundice ever attack anybody that way?" "No, Laura," answered Mr. Ferguson. "It isn't jaundice. It's worse than that—but it will yield to proper treatment. I'll apply the treatment to-morrow morning."

The question of alien immigration is now far more serious to London than it ever was in California.

Utterly Worn Out. Vitality Sapped by Years of Suffering With Kidney Trouble. Capt. J. W. Hogan formerly postmaster of Indianola, now living at Austin, Texas, writes: "I was afflicted for years with pains across the loins and in the hips and shoulders. I had headaches, a loss of sleep, nervousness, and my right eye from pain was of little use to me for years. The constant flow of urine kept my system depleted, causing nervous chills and night sweats. After trying seven different doctors' and using all kinds of medicine I had the good fortune to hear of Chamberlain's Kidney Pills. This remedy has cured me. I am as well to-day as I was twenty years ago, and my eyesight is perfect. Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, N. Y."

Yarn Regret. "But, Bertie," said his mother, "you asked for two socks and I gave them you. Aren't you satisfied?" "No, I ain't," growled Bertie. "You was so easy I'm kickin' myself 'cause I didn't ask for four."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Always to Be Depended Upon. When a person gets up in the morning with a dull headache, a tired, stretched feeling, it is an almost certain indication that the liver, or bowels, or both, are decidedly out of order.

At such times Nature, the wisest and best of all doctors, takes this means to give warning that she needs the help and assistance which can best be obtained from that old, old, family remedy, Brandreth's Pills, which has been in use for over a century.

They are the same fine laxative (tonic) pill your grandmothers used, when doctors were few and far between and when people had to have a remedy that could be depended upon.

Brandreth's Pills can be depended upon and are sold in every drug and medicine store, either plain or sugar-coated.

The Cheerful View. Her—Dan, Herbert, dear, do you think we can afford to go to housekeeping on your salary? Him—Sure. After we're married, you know I won't have to buy you any more flowers, chocolate creams, or theatre tickets.

Big Gun Gone Wrong. The biggest gun in the world, and which, it might be expected, was to be sent to the front in Great Britain, but definitely been declared unsafe, and will go to the scrap heap. As only one of these mammoths was built, and that as an experiment, the loss is comparatively small, even though it is about $100,000. This gun was constructed to shoot a 16-inch projectile a distance of twenty-one miles, even though it would be impossible ever to hit a mark at such range. The big gun was found to be unsafe after a few firings, and really was as dangerous to our own folks as it was expected to be to the enemy. Twelve-inch guns are likely to be the limit for a long time, and certainly until some gun metal not now known is discovered.—Popular Mechanics.

THE DISCOVERER

Of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the Great Woman's Remedy for Woman's Ills.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM. No other medicine for Woman's Ills in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has been a record of cures of female illnesses or such hosts of grateful friends as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For more than 30 years it has been curing all forms of Female Complaints, Inflammation and Ulceration, and consequent spinal Weakness. It has cured more cases of Backache and Local Weakness than any other remedy. It dissolves and expels tumors in an early stage of development. Irregularities and periodical pains, flatulency, indigestion, indigestion, Bloating, Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility quickly yield to it also deranged organs, causing pain, dragging sensations and backache. Under all circumstances it acts in harmony with the female system. It removes that wearing feeling, extreme lassitude, "don't care" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feeling, excitability, irritability, nervousness, dizziness, faintness, sleeplessness, flatulency, melancholy or the "blues". These are indications of Female Weakness, or some derangement of the organs which this medicine cures as well as Chronic Kidney Complaints and Backache, of either sex. Those women who refuse to accept anything else are rewarded a hundred thousand times, for they get what they want—a cure. Sold by Druggists everywhere. Refuse all substitutes.

CARROLL NEWS

Mrs. C. S. Beebe returned from Sioux City, Saturday, and reports her sister, Mrs. Craven of Wayne, as recovering nicely from her operation. A. Anson was an over Sunday visitor at Wayne.

W. E. Bellows and Walt Hurlbert, transacted business at Wayne, Saturday.

H. O. Grovjohn visited Wayne, between trains, Monday.

Simon Tracht was a passenger to Lincoln, Monday, to attend the agricultural meetings in session there this week.

John Ebersole was in Carroll from Wakefield the first of the week. Frank Emch and family were over Sunday visitors with Mrs. Emch's mother at Hoskins.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Morris returned from a visit with relatives at Wales, Ia., Saturday.

The Shannons sent four car load of fat cattle to Chicago, Monday, which were accompanied by James Shannon. The cattle were bot of Howell Beese, Geo. W. Yarran and Hansen Bros.

Mr. Reynolds of Kullerton, was the guest of his daughter, Mrs. C. S. Beebe the first of the week.

Honry Peterson spent Monday on a visit with his brother, P. E. at Wayne.

O. E. McCabe will occupy the farm now held by Emch Bros., when the latter leave for North Dakota in the spring.

Cass Belford is now the owner of the old Conyer residence property near the depot, buying it from P. Van Buskirk for $1100.

The Carroll Farmers' Institute is set for February 6 and 7. The committee of arrangements have about completed their work and the program will be published the coming week. A feature of the sessions will be a basket dinner in which all attending are urged to participate. Take your dinner and bring the whole family. The business men use to prepare comfortable quarters and provide hot coffee free to all. The plan is a good one and will afford the farmers' family an opportunity for a social visit and an indoor picnic. A poultry show is also being arranged under direction of Dan Shannon, W. B. Hornby and Ed. Trautwein.

Three Shannons arrived home Monday from Sioux City, where he had been to visit a daughter and his son Ed. The latter is owner of a fruit and poultry farm at Morningside, and did remarkably well last season, selling over a hundred dollars worth of plums alone and small fruit in proportion. He has discovered, however, that the amount of work connected with the running of a small fruit farm is enormous and is somewhat disposed to get back to plain farming again.

Box supper at the Morris school west of town tomorrow night. Proceeds for the library fund.

Will and Dave Thomas have rented the Wm. Larson place for next year.

W. L. Robinson was a passenger to Lincoln, Tuesday morning as a delegate to the annual meeting of the Farmers Mutual Insurance Co. John Beach and Fred Wilcox drove to Winslow to catch the morning train and accompany Mr. Robinson to the capital city, where they will take in the various agricultural meetings in session there this week. Mr. Beach and Mr. Robinson will likely make a trip into Kansas to look up land.

The youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Martin met with a fearful accident Sunday by running into a telephone pole while coasting on a sled. It happened at the corner near the German store, when coming down the hill from the west. He was picked up in an unconscious state and carried home. He is about again but with a sore head and otherwise bruised. It was a narrow escape.

Another delegation of Carroll people are arranging to leave for North Dakota in the spring, to join the colony already started in Morton county. The party is made up of the families of Emmett Clark, Frank Emch and Wm. Kamrath, together with Ora Emch. They intend to enter homesteads. The people who moved up last spring seem well pleased with their new home and report fairly good crops for the first year. The Emchs raised nearly 900 bushels of flax that sold around a dollar. With this they raised quite a bit of oats and squaw corn. While they are some distance from a market, yet the prospects for a railroad the coming year are bright. The country is settling up rapidly and it is only a matter of a short time when all the government land will be pre-empted.

The best time—the best paying time—that a farmer can spend, is what he devotes to a careful selection of seed. Healthy seed corn means a good stand, and seed corn selected because of its desirable size or ear and shape of kernel means better and more evenly developed corn in the field—both together mean "more and better corn" in the crib.

WHAT THE KIDNEYS DO

Their Unceasing Work Keeps Us Strong and Healthy

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood. They work day and night. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily. When unhealthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gout, gravel, disorders of the eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, dropsy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right you will have no trouble with your kidneys.

Mrs. Nellie May, of 808 Pennsylvania ave., Joplin, Mo., says: "I know from my own experience that Doan's Kidney Pills are a reliable kidney remedy. I was bothered for six or eight weeks with a constant dull heavy aching in the small of my back. I was tired all time, lacked ambition and in the morning always felt worse. Having reason to believe these symptoms were caused from the kidneys, I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills. They proved to be the very remedy I required, and under the treatment the headache, languor and other symptoms disappeared."

Get these pills at all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McBarn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

It's a pleasure to tell our readers

about a Cough Cure like Dr. Shoop's. For years Dr. Shoop has fought against the use of opium, chloroform, and other unsafe ingredients commonly found in Cough remedies. Dr. Shoop, it seems, has welcome the Pure Food and Drug Law recently enacted, for he has worked along similar lines many years. For nearly 20 years Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure contains have had a warning printed on them against opium and other narcotic poisons. He has thus made it possible for mothers to protect their children by simply insisting on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Sold by Felber's Pharmacy.
