FARMERS MEETING

THREE INTERESTING SESSIONS

Val Keyser, D. P. Ashburn and Dr. Gains are Assisted by Good Local Speakers.

Although falling short in the enthusiasm and attendance of last year the three sessions of the Wayne Farmers' Institute held on Friday and Saturday in the county court room were a complete success. The state speaker for the first day was Mr. Val Keyser of the Nebr. Experiment Station, and his talk on the "Results of Government Spraying in Eastern Nebraska" was worth dollars to the farmer whose orchard has been yielding poorly. He showed that proper spraying was very necessary to insure a crop of apples or other fruit, and one of the most profitable things a farmer could give his attention to if done at the right time. The first spraying is to be done just before the flowers open, to be followed by a second just as the petals fall. If this is followed by another spraying in June and another in July, the yield of perfect apples can be raised from 20 to 30 per cent. It is necessary to kill the fungus growth in order to kill scab and this is done with the Bordeaux mixture made up of copperas and lime dissolved in water, and this is applied by the use of a good spray pump and nozzle. To destroy the insects that cause wormy fruit some one of the arsenical preparations must be used. Better fruit and more of it will be coming where orchardists spray their trees.

Mr. John Kate was present with one of his beautiful white hens and regaled the crowd with a lot of mirth as well as a lot of good sound hen sense. Even the hen appreciated the sentiment uttered by joining in the applause of his periods with a hearty amen. Mr. Kate is certainly entitled to the thanks of the entire institute for his various parts in the program.

Miss Hattie Weber then favored the meeting with a vocal solo to their great delight. This was followed by Mr. Val Keyser on "Soil Fertility and proper Tillage." It proved an important and interesting subject to the farmers and brot out many questions for the speakers answer. He showed how the farmer can use means available on the farm to make it more productive and build it up. This is attained thru a rotation of crops, in which alfalfa proved the most valuable. Tillage and other means were discussed together with the proper use of barnyard manure.

Saturday sessions were better attended. D. P. Ashburn, of Gibbon, opened the day with a brief talk on forage crops. The relative values of alfalfa cuttings were shown. While the first cutting was the largest in quantity, yet its value as hay was not as good as the second cutting, and the third crop was far better than the second for feeding. Ex-Governor Poynter was necessarily absent, but Dr. Gains, of Lincoln, one of the deputy State Veterinarians was present in his stead. Dr. Gains' address was on horses and proved not only instructive, but most interesting. Being recognized as one of the best horse judges in the west, a great privilege was accorded his hearers in his considerations of "man's best friend." Mr. Ashburn's second talk was on seed corn selection, the points of which our readers are more or less familiar. The entertaining feature of the afternoon was heightened by a vocal solo by Miss Daisy Gamble.

P. M. Corlit acted in the capacity of chairman of the institute and the success of the meeting is to his credit. A committee has the selection of officers for the ensuing year and their choice will be announced later.

The Women's Auxiliary

The Ladies Auxiliary, to the Farmers' Institute convened in the County Supt. office, with Mrs. Abbott in the chair. The session was opened by a solo by Miss Daisy Gamble and a reading by Miss Carroll, the elocution teacher at the College, both renditions were thoroughly enjoyed. The Ladies then adjourned to the County Commissioners room, where the program proceeded. Mrs. Pile read a carefully prepared paper, on "The Home," which was excellent, part of which we give for those who were not present.

"Wonder the wide world over, as we will, across mountains, valleys and seas, though we build homes of fancy in many lands, yet to none of them does memory turn back with the love filled heart and moistened eyes that respond to the thought of our first childhood home. This spot is surrounded with a halo, whether it was rich or plain matters not, for it was home; the other places are incidental to home life, marking its progress toward the final home.

Thus the word 'home' to the human mind touches the spring of a large complex group of ideas and sentiments, some older than humanity, some recent enough for us to trace their birth, some as true and inalienable as any other laws of life, some as false and unnecessary as any other of mankind's mistakes. It does not follow that all the earliest ones are right for us today, because they were right for our remote predecessors, or that those later introduced were therefore wrong.

The Chaldeans built of brick for years unnumbered, because clay was their only building material. When they spread into Assyria, where stone was plenty, they continued calmly pulling up great palaces of sunbaked brick, (adobe) and each new king left the cracking terraces of his predecessors' pride and built another equally ephemeral. The influence of our ancestors has dominated the home more than it has any other human institution, and the influence of our ancestors is necessarily retroactive.

The line of comfort may be followed in its growth like the line of safety. At first anything to keep the wind and rain off was comfortable. Then that old A B C of all later luxury, the bed appeared—something soft between you and the rock, something dry between you and the ground. So on and on as ease grew and skill increased, till we robbed the eider duck and stripped the goose to make down heaps for our flesh to lie on and so on to the costly modern mattress. In the furnishing, a stone, a block of wood to sit on, a shelf to put the food on. See that block of wood change, crawl up on its legs—a stool, a chair, a sofa, a settee, and now the endless ranks of settable furniture wherewith we fill the home. Our homes, thanks to other ideas and habits, are not thus ultra cushioned.

Go to the household furnishing store of our today—remember the one pot of the savage family to boil the meat and wash the baby—and see the difference between 'world made' and 'home made' things. So far as home industry has progressed it is through contact with the moving world outside; so far as it remains undeveloped it is through the limitations of the home itself.

The advance of women, during the last hundred years is a phenomenon unparalleled in history. Never before has so large a class made as much progress in so small a time. From the Harem to the Forum is a long step but she has taken it. From the ignorant housewife to the President of a College, from the penniless dependent to the wholly self supporting business woman is a long step but she has taken it. She who was confined to the house now travels freely. Even political equality is won in more than one state. In what way does a man best benefit his family? By staying at home and doing what he can, or by going out and serving other people in a specialized trade? In what way does a woman best benefit her home? By staying at home or by enlarging her motherhood as man has enlarged his fatherhood, and giving to her family the same immense advantages he has given it? We have always assumed that woman could do most by staying at home, is this true? Why is that which is so palpable false of a man held to be true of a woman? The right service of the home, the right care and training of the child, call for human qualities and powers, not merely for sex distinction. The home in its arbitrary position of arrested development does not properly fulfil its own essential functions, much less promote the social ones."

The subject of providing a Rest Room in Wayne for the Chautauqua next summer and to be a permanent affair if possible, was discussed with much animation. It finally being agreed that an appointed committee meet with the representatives of the several Ladies Clubs of Wayne to confer on the "Rest Room" question. The following officers were elected for the coming year: Pres., Mrs. Corbit, Vice Pres., Mrs. Abbott, Sec., Mrs. Clyde Oman, Treas., Mrs. W. A. K. Neely. The committee appointed was: Mesdames, W. H. Gildersleeve, F. C. Moses Wm. Pond, Henry Klopping, and Forbes. It is our opinion that the "Rest Room" will materialize when taken in hand by these ladies, and here's hoping that it does.

Mr. Kate then favored the ladies with an excellent chicken talk. He said that it was the first time in his life he had occasion to address so many ladies at one time, but however he didn't seem much abashed, but proceeded with some valuable information in regard to incubation, making it an object lesson by presenting and demonstrating the two incubators, "Biddy" and his "X Ray." He also told how incubation originated. It dating back to early history when the Egyptians hatched eggs by burying them in the sand or in manure, and from this suggestion we have our modern incubator. The members gained some helpful points on the thermometer which gives so much trouble during the period of incubation. All hens will not raise to the required temperature is one of the reasons that they make poor brooders, and it would save time and money if we would carefully test the eggs, which are being placed for incubation. Mr. Kate grew quite eloquent at the close of his speech, and wound up by telling of the number of eminent men, among them presidents, who were born in his native state Ohio, and that if he ever reaches the distinction of the governmental, seat his first act will be to remove the Eagle from our coin and place in its stead the beautiful American hen, and that when he passes in his checks and goes to that great unknown, he will ask good old St Peter to give him wings like that.

The death of W. M. Kelly an old residenter of the county was announced from his home at Winside, Friday. When is the Best Time to Spread Barnyard Manures?

In years gone by it was thought necessary to compose the manure, that is, have it well rotted before spreading. It has been fully proved that this is a mistake. The Storrs Experiment station of Connecticut says: "rotting and composting does not add one pound of plant food to the value of manure. It deteriorates rather than improves." The reason for this is that the most valuable part of the manure is in the liquid and when the manure is piled in an open barnyard and is subjected to the elements of the atmosphere, the liquid manure runs off into some neighboring ditch or seeps into the ground. The manure goes through a process of heating. It is very plain to see why there is a loss when the manure is exposed in the open yards.

Mr. Voorhees of New Jersey says that "more than one-half of the total animal manure product of the cow may be a loss by exposure in less than four months. The manure should be spread on the land as soon as possible after made."

The Kansas Experiment station says that "the waste by exposure in six months amounts to fully one-half of the gross manure." The Cornell, New York station indicates a loss of nearly one-half in six months. "If the question is how to get the best results from a given amount of manure, there is no question but that it may be done by moving it to the field and spreading on the land as soon as possible."

Statistics from almost every experiment station and agricultural college show practically the same as indicated above. If it be a fact that there is a loss of more than one-half of the value of the barnyard manure by exposure in six months, and that this loss can be entirely stopped by spreading the manure daily, the farmers of this county should see to it that the manure is hauled to the fields regularly, not less than once a week.

We take pride in every improvement that is made in the country. It has ever been our practice to recognize advanced ideas and to enlighten our readers on the most interesting topics of the day. We feel that the fertility of the soil is one of the most important to our readers, and therefore, we have made arrangements whereby we shall publish interesting articles on this subject at least once each month for the next year.

Break Loose From the Creamery Trust

Farmers Organize to Manufacture and Market Their Own Product

If you are tired of milking cows and getting small returns; if you want more money for your butter fat; if you want to be freed from the danger of combinations to keep down the price paid you; if you want to get the most for your cream, and to have a voice in its manufacture and sale, you will join the great movement for that is sweeping over the state like wildfire and become a member of the FARMERS CO-OPERATIVE CREAMERY AND SUPPLY CO.

It is your only hope of getting your fair share of profits from your milk cows. You do the hard work—you ought to reap the profit. Organize! Co-operate! Control the manufacture and sale. That's the only way. This movement will unite 5,000 cream producers in a purely co-operative movement. The society, incorporated under the laws of Nebraska, has already purchased the immense plant, equipment and business of the Harding Cream Co. of Omaha with more than 5,000 patrons and a well established trade. So we start with a growing, paying business. No money need be spent in experimenting or in pioneer work. Our plant has a capacity of 40,000 lbs. of butter, 5,000 gallons of ice cream, 25 tons of ice per day, and a good market for every pound we produce. Members of the association not only share in the profits of this entire business, but also have their butter fat manufactured and marketed at actual cost. Will you, as a cream producer and clear headed business man, join with us in the movement for co-operation and control of our products? Why not reap our legitimate profits from our cream? Why let them go to enrich a corporation or combination? Why not be our own masters?

SEND FOR FULL PARTICULARS

Write today for prospectus of the company and full particulars of our plan for mutual help. Find out why the combination paid on an average 6 and 8 cents more for butter fat in Central Iowa than was paid in Nebraska and other states. Find out how to keep your profits in your own pockets. Niobrara has an artesian well that pours forth hot water the year round. This well is used for the purpose of running the flouring mill and from the mill flows through town to the river. It looks a little strange to see a stream of water from which the steam is constantly rising, when the mercury is 26 below zero.—Plainview Republican.

In speaking of the vacancy of the district judgeship, the Plainview Republican says Pierce is entitled to the office. We would like to know on what it bases its claim. Pierce has once been represented on the bench in this district and now has a man at Lincoln. It is now Lent and we are strictly against pork in any form.—Crofton Journal.

And now comes W. W. Quivey of Pierce and wants to wear the cast-off shoes of Judge Boyd in this district. Not for us. Hon. A. A. Welch of Wayne is the man for the place and there are going to be some mighty sore spots if he doesn't get it. Let Pierce take her railway commissioner and keep quiet.—Crofton Journal.

BLOCKADED

Every Household Should Know How to Resist It

The back aches because the kidney are blocked. Help the kidneys with their work. The back will ache no more. Lots of proof that Doan's Kidney Pills do this. W. H. McKay, engineer at the Abernathy Mfg. Co., and living at 110 Dakota street, Leavenworth, Kan., says: "Though I doctored and tried all kinds of medicines I suffered severely from kidney trouble for all of a year, an ointment seemed to do me the least bit of good. The pain in my back was terrible and the sharp twinges would creep up on me at times so that I could hardly move. The kidney secretions were irregular and contained a great deal of sediment that looked like brick dust. One physician who had treated me said I had muscular rheumatism, but he did not help me. After giving up all hope of finding relief it happened to learn through a friend about Doan's Kidney Pills and got a box at E. C. Fritsche's drug store. I found benefit in the treatment and continued it until I had taken three boxes. I was entirely cured of kidney trouble and have had no sign or symptom of it since. If every medicine saved a man's life Doan's Kidney Pills saved mine. I have been well for nearly six years, and know several people who have used Doan's Kidney Pills on the strength of the testimonial I gave in 1899 recommending them. I have yet to hear of a case in which this remedy failed. For sale by all dealers. Price, fifty cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents in the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Neglected Colds Threaten Life

(From the Chicago Tribune)

"Don't trifle with a cold," is good advice for prudent men and women. It may be vital in the case of a child. Proper food, good ventilation, and dry, warm clothing are the proper safeguards against colds. If they are maintained through the changeable weather of autumn, winter, and spring, the chances of a surprise from ordinary colds will be slight. But the ordinary light cold will become severe if neglected, and a well established ripe cold is to the germs of diphtheria what honey is to the bee. The greatest menace to child life at this season of the year is the neglected cold. Whether it is a child or adult, the cold slight or severe, the very best treatment that can be adopted is to give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is safe and sure. The great popularity and immense sale of this preparation has been attained by its remarkable cures of this ailment. A cold never results in pneumonia when it is given. For sale by Raymond's drug store.

Dr. Shoop, it seems, has welcome the Pure Food and Drug Law recently enacted, for he has worked along similar lines many years. For nearly 20 years Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure containers have had a warning printed on them against opium and other narcotic poisons. CLUBS AND SOCIETY.

The Methodist parsonage was a scene of a merry evening Thursday, when the Ladies of the Church gave a Valentine social. The rooms were very tastefully and beautifully decorated in red festooning and hearts, appropriate to the occasion. The reception committee, Mesdames Culler, Main and Blair had a unique entertainment prepared, and everyone joined in with enthusiasm. Two word contests occupied much thought, and proved quite amusing. When the company was turned loose and a tussle began in the search for candy hearts, which had been hid in every conceivable place. At the close of the hunt, Dr Blair had his pocket full of hearts, so received the prize. Partners were found by matching comic valentines. The refreshments were excellent and reflected great credit on the ladies of that committee, Mesdames Crossland, Hunter, Marsteller, Rod, Elliott and Farr.

The U. D. Club spent Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Welch. Mrs. Hufford had the subject of "Indian Art," which was made impressive by the display of some rare specimens of Indian pottery, blankets, books from the Smithsonian Institute, rare bead work, etc. Mrs. Harry Jones gave the lesson on "Lace Origin and history. The club will meet with Mrs. Miller next week.

The Royal Neighbors gave a farewell party to Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Wright, Tuesday evening at their Lodge rooms. The evening was spent in a social way ending with an elaborate banquet. The members presented Mr. and Mrs. Wright with a set of solid silver teaspoons in acknowledgement of their faithfulness to the order.

The Shakespeare Club met with Mary Mason, Tuesday evening, their next meeting will be with Miss Effie Buffington.

Mrs. Main was hostess of the Monday Club at their usual hour. The program consisted of two subjects. "Art Out of Doors," was an excellent paper prepared by Mrs. Wightman. Mrs. Epler's lesson on "Book Binding" brought out some interesting facts. The club will meet with Mrs. Heckert next week.

Tuesday evening marked the twenty-second anniversary of the Wayne Acme Club. The elegant and spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Bressler was thrown open for the occasion. Mesdames Bressler, Orr, Davies and Williams were hostesses. The house was decorated with flags and cut flowers. The tables with covers for thirty was unique in that the center piece was a part of the identical cherry tree—although the beautiful hatchet was more modern. The place cards and in fact all the appointments recalled the name and fame of the "Father of His Country." After an elegant five course dinner, skillfully served by the Misses Pile and Blair the company repaired to parlors; when all without warning the lights went out. Tallow candles were substituted, which added a realistic impression of the times of our forefathers. After the excitement incident to this unexpected diversion, the company was entertained by Mrs. Blair and Messrs. Davies and Weber with patriotic songs. This was followed by Reminiscences of the Civil War. Mr. Bartlett was especially interesting, he having been an actual participant, in Sherman's memorable March to the Sea. Mr. Corbit's experience was of a little different character, as was that of Messrs. Jacobs, Pile and Williams. Mrs. Keefe, State President gave a short talk on how men could aid the club movement. Eleven o'clock came only too soon, but the 22nd Anniversary of the Acme Club, will be remembered as one of the most interesting. Mrs. Keefe of Walthill, President of State Federation, Mrs. Reed of Madison, Vice President of the Third district, and Neihart of Bancroft, were the visiting guests.

Mrs. Elmer Lundberg gave a Luncheon last Thursday, at 1 o'clock, complimentary to her guest, Miss Idelle E. Taylor, of Battle Creek. Those in attendance were the Misses Fleetwood, Pile, Chase, Nangle, Craven, Niehardt, and Mrs. E. B. Philleo.

An invitation was given from the pulpit by Dr. Horn requesting the young people at the parsonage, Saturday afternoon, from 3:30 to 5:00. One hundred and eleven of the young people responded and enjoyed the occasion immensely to say the least. Amusements of various kinds were provided to the delight of young America. Refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Weber entertained a number of their friends at a Dinner party Friday evening, February 15. After an elegant three course dinner, the evening was spent at high five. Mrs. Kate and Mr. Strahn winning the prizes, the ladies' being a beautiful decorated plate, and the gentlemen's, a cup and saucer. During the evening a splendid musical program was rendered by Mr. Emil Weber and Miss Hattie Weber. The piano and violin selections were excellent, Miss Hattie's solos were full of life, and showed the benefit derived from her work the past few years. The guests who were honored by the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Weber were, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond, Mr. and Mrs. Neely, Mr. and Mrs. Bressler, Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Witter, Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. Kate, Mr and Mrs. Strahn, Mr. Emil Weber, and Mrs. Ellis, and Miss Hattie Weber.

Little Miss Helen Felber was four years old Saturday, and about thirty of her friends came to her home to help her celebrate the event. The guests arrived at three and played, and feasted on goodies until five. Many wore their first party dresses, but did credit to their mammas. The hostess received many pretty presents to remind her of the occasion. Invitations were sent to: Winifred and Helen Maine; Alice Blair, Nathalie Harrington, Cyril and Margie Naffziger, Donald Miller, Margaret Mines, Marion Grothe, Catherine and Oscar Brown, Lois Ellis, Elizabeth and Jerome Welch, Norris Epler, Alice and Marselene Lewis, Perry and Catherine Goldie, Johnnie and Berdise Marsteller, John and Harold Hufford, Ruth and Joe Ringland, Donald and Suzanne Wightman, Knox Jones, Marion Surber, Realto Philleo, Faith Philleo, and Eleanor Wilson.

Mrs. E. J. Nangle invited a few couple of young people to her home Wednesday evening. It was a surprise on Miss Reba. A very pleasant evening was spent.

Thursday evening in connection with the Turner Art Exhibit, at the College, a program was rendered in Chapel Hall, for the benefit of the Ladies of Wayne. The Clubs turned out in full force, each one having a representative on the program. Some of the numbers deserve special mention. Mrs. Keefe, president of the State Federation of Clubs and Mrs. Reed Vice Pres. of this district, gave short addresses. The Ladies who took advantage of the opportunity of attending, are grateful to Mrs. Pile for the excellent entertainment. After the program light refreshments were served in the Physical Culture room.

The Culture Club met with Mrs. E. B. Philleo Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Keefe, President of State Federation, and Mrs. Reed, Dist. Vice President were present and gave some valuable information in regard to club organization and State Federation work. The hostess served dainty refreshments. The next meeting will be with Mrs. A. R. Davis.

Mrs. Fred Philleo was hostess to a few ladies last Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Geo. Philleo of Carroll being out of town guest.

Miss Julia Ramsey took her Sunday school class out to Mable Gossard's home Wednesday after school. The occasion was Miss Mable's eighth birthday.

A Farewell party is being planned for tonight on Mr. and Mrs. John Koefoed. Nine couple are going out from Wayne.

COLLEGE NOTES.

Mrs. Keefe, President of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Neihardt of Bancroft, and Mrs. Reed of Madison, were guests of Mrs. Pile, this week.

An enjoyable social was held Saturday evening, the Crescent Literary Society having arrangements in charge. The physical culture room is well adapted to entertainments of this week.

The Art Exhibit which is being held in the physical culture room is well attended by the students. The pictures are of great value, not only from a financial point of view, but educational as well.

Several former students were on the hill Saturday, visiting friends and looking over the new buildings. Among those noticed were Misses McGee of Magnet, Blanche Goss and Claire Coleman of Wayne.

Classes have been reciting in the new building for a week, and everything is now moving smoothly. Examinations will be held in all the classes this week, and in most cases, good results are looked for.

Mr. C. L. Culler visited the college, Monday morning. He conducted the chapel exercises and gave a short talk to the students. Mr. Culler is interested in the young men and women and all were very glad to hear him.

The graduating classes met Saturday and elected the following officers for next term: Pres. Neal B. Mack of Pender; V. Pres., Manuel Boshart of Joy; Sec., Mary Williams of Emerson; Treas., Herman Rundquist of Royal.

The office force has been busy the past week enrolling the present students, so that the time the last of this week may be devoted to the enrolling of new students. The next term begins Tuesday, February 26, and judging from present indications, a large number will be in attendance.

Those in the Commercial Department who have completed the work of the course received their diplomas at chapel Wednesday morning. There were fifteen who have completed the prescribed work. There will be another class of graduates next term.

Mr. James Britton spoke to the students Saturday afternoon on the subject "Bankruptcy." Mr. Britton not only explained the details of the Bankruptcy Law, but gave a general outline of the causes for enacting such a law. A large number of students heard the talk and all enjoyed it very much.

THE GREAT WESTERN MANURE SPREADER. Endless Apron

WE have selected for our trade the Great Western spreader because we know it to be the best spreader on the market. We know this because we have looked over other makes of spreaders and compared them piece for piece, and we know there is no other spreader that is as good as the Great Western. We have found this out just the same as you can find it out, and what you buy a manure spreader you should know how the machine is made, as a spreader is a machine that must stand hard knocks and a big strain. The Great Western will never be found wanting.

"It is Made for the Man Who Wants the Best."

The main frame is all made of oak. It has two big heavy steel truss and stay rods which keep the frame square. Here and there other manufacturers fall down. Many manufacturers make their spreaders frames out of pine and do not use any stay rods. The frame that carries the wheels is very soon twisted out of shape, causes friction, binding and breaking.

The front axle has a big oak axle cap 4 1/2 inches, running the full length. Bolted to the axle is a big heavy 16-inch malleable iron fifth wheel bracket front and rear. The fifth wheel is oscillating so that if one wheel drops into a rut the body is carried practically level, there is no twisting out of shape.

Above the fifth wheel are two oak boisters, each 3 1/2 in. They carry the front end of the machine. The front axle is set back under the front end of the body so the load is nearly equally balanced over the front and rear wheels. You know that oak is the frame is better than pine. You know that the front end of the machine is better than the front end of a machine with an arched axle, because you know it won't pull out.

We believe, in fact, we know we can show you if you will call, that the front end of this machine costs at least $3.00 or $4.00 more than the cheap axle machine is worth. We say it is worth $10.00 more.

This machine has an oak pole. We don't believe there is a wagon in this country that has a pine pole; yet, pine poles are put on many makes of spreaders. It is just as essential that a manure spreader has a good pole as a wagon. The angle-trees are made of hickory and are wagon style, not sawed out square like cultivator single-trees.

The seventy-bushel spreader which we recommend weighs 2500 pounds. Most other seventy-bushel machines weigh 1500 pounds to 1600 pounds.

We know the heavy machine costs more to make; we know it is stronger; we know it will be lighter with the same load than a light machine spreader, because all of the parts are always in line, there is no binding or twisting.

When you buy a GREAT WESTERN manure spreader you get what you pay for; it will always be ready for service. It is your kind of a manure spreader, because it is made for the man who wants the best. We can afford to take a little less profit on a good machine like the GREAT WESTERN that will never give you any trouble than on a light machine that will keep you chafing out in the country, to keep it in repair.

You can afford to pay a little more that won't cause you any trouble because it will always be ready to hitch to.

THE GREAT WESTERN spreads more of manure. It has a hood and end gate to keep the manure away from the beater while loading. It has an endless apron (not a half apron). It is so simple that a boy can operate it. If you want a real good manure spreader, come and let us show you at the 20th point, or we will send a great many of these machines and we have never sold any other machine or implement that has given us as much trouble. Wherever you find a GREAT WESTERN spreader you find a satisfied customer.

Washington Doings

Washington, Feb. 17.—It is seldom that anything that can be viewed in the light of a joke creeps into the solemn, staid and respectable pages of the Daily Consular and Trade Report, issued by the Department of Commerce and Labor. However, such an occurrence took place this week, and his official colleagues are poking considerable fun at "Jimmy" Garfield, Commissioners of Corporations.

Pursuant to a resolution introduced by Senator Hansbrough of North Dakota and adopted by the Senate, Commissioner Garfield is undertaking an "investigation" of the International Harvester Company which has been dubbed with the title of the "harvester trust." In the present inflamed state of the public mind there is a surprisingly small tendency to credit any so-called "trust" with possessing any powers for good. However, United States Consul H. W. Harris of Mannheim, Germany, has sent in a report, which is published this week in the Daily Consular Report, dwelling on the increased sale of American goods in the Kaiser's empire.

"American mowers, reapers, harvesters, hay rakes and a few other agricultural implements have had a considerable trade in this part of Germany, due largely to the consummate skill with which they have been handled. No more admirable text book could be placed in the hands of those who would sell American products abroad than a concise history of the methods which have placed an American mower and harvester in so many grass and grain fields of the world. Probably no other branch has concerned itself so little with the conventional ideas of how merchandise ought to be sold, with which the European agent is apt to be well supplied, and no branch has more fully demonstrated the superiority of the American agent for the American goods."

This recognition, from one on the ground, of the International Harvester Company's work in creating a foreign market for American manufactures is really laughable when it is considered that the Department of Commerce and Labor has been striving, ever since its organization, to advance this foreign commerce. The Department, now is put in the attitude of aiding in the tearing down of one of its strongest allies. It is a decidedly uncomfortable position for the officials and it is not altogether likely that Commissioner Garfield appreciates the full value of the supposed joke.

There is a well defined basis for the belief, however, that the inquiry into the "harvester trust" will go far to putting the corporation question right before the American people. If the government had such an end in view it could not have selected a more favorable medium for attaining its ends. In spite of the greatly increased price of steel and other raw materials, this corporation has maintained a practically uniform price on its finished product, and the American farmer today is paying almost the same for its agricultural machinery as he did five years ago. The International Harvester Company, it is declared, has been enabled to do this because of the elimination of destructive competition and the cheaper cost of production consequent upon the consolidation of warring trade elements.

In the meantime envious acquaintances of Compigner Garfield are chuckling over the native report of Consul Harris and wondering what Mr. Garfield's official report of the investigation will be. It has put him rather a peculiar position.

Letter from Idaho

Weiser, Idaho, Feb. 13, '07.
EDITOR HERALD:—Having to write you in order to receive the Herald for another year, I will add a few lines that may be of interest to my friends in Wayne. We see quite often in the columns of the Herald that some one who had moved away was very much dissatisfied and intended to return to Wayne. This letter is of a different character as it stands for a man who moved from Wayne three years ago and is mighty glad of it and has no intention of ever returning. I have lived in six different states and while Nebraska is better than four, this particular part of Idaho is the best of all. We have a live, growing town, splendid city schools and churches. The Jason Lee Academy and the Idaho Industrial Institute and a $40,000 opera house will be completed this week. I have a much better business than I had in Wayne and am doing twice the amount. We have had all kinds of weather this winter except wind, when snow falls it says where it fell until it melts, farmers will be plowing next week unless it turns much colder. There has been no frost on the windows this winter unless a few times in the latter part of November, so you see it has not been very cold. Alfalfa, small grains, fruits and berries do well, and bring good prices. I am glad to note that some of the young men of Wayne are making substantial progress in business and other affairs and hope they will succeed.

Respectfully yours,
CHAS. WARNER.

Supt. C. W. Hubbard, of Pender, says of the dedication exercises in the Republic, the following: Last Tuesday was a great day in the history of educational affairs of northeast Nebraska, it being the occasion of the dedication ceremonies attending the opening of the new buildings of the Nebraska Normal college at Wayne. This has become one of the leading schools of the state and is an institution of which all northeast Nebraska may well be proud. At present there is a total enrollment of about 900 students and with the new buildings dedicated last Tuesday the equipment is of the best. Among those having a place on the program were Chancellor Andrews of the State University, State Supt. McBrien and all the county superintendents of this part of the state. It was a day long to be remembered in the history of the Nebraska Normal college, and President Pile is deserving of the gratitude and commendation of the friends of education everywhere. He is doing a great work for the upbuilding of society, a work that is achieving results in civilization.

El Hunter, as secretary of the local lodge of the Modern Woodman, informs us that a draft for $2,000 in settlement of policy carried by W. B. Larson in that order, was received by him and turned over to Mrs. Larson yesterday. The death occurred Feb. 5, while the necessary proofs were made up to secure a payment of the claim in 15 days.

A. G. Grunemeyer, tells us he severs his connections with Masteller & Peterson, March 1st, and will open a shop on his own hook to do plumbing and general repair work. He has secured quarters in the rear of the Mabbott & Root barber shop. He intends to get an entire new set of tools from Sioux City in time to be ready for business by the first of the month.

The ladies and their husbands, making up Pleasant Valley society, planned and executed a neat surprise on Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Wright one night the last of the week. It was given as a farewell, as they will leave shortly for South Dakota to make their home. The self invited guests brot well filled baskets, and taking possession of the kitchen, prepared an elaborate spread to the great enjoyment of all. It was an occasion to be remembered, especially by the recipients of the honor.

Rev. Parker Smith, of the Baptist church performed an agreeable service about noon on Wednesday, Feb. 20, 1907, when he united in marriage Albert E. Marsh and Miss Elsie A. Kesterson, two popular young people from the east end of the county. The bride is an accomplished young lady who for some time has been one of the county's successful teachers. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kesterson, well to do, and highly respected residents of Logan. The best wishes of the HERALD are extended to the worthy couple.

A Peculiar Incident

Last Friday morning when O. A. King called for his mail, among the letters was one from Herbert M. Richmond, of Exeter, Nebr.

Mr. Richmond is a perfect stranger to Mr. King but it seems that Mr. Richmond had a dream one night and upon rising the next morning put his dream in the following verse and sent it to O. A.

A Miner's Dream

Luck has come my way at last, pard;
Listen, and I'll tell you how.
You gave me half your money once,
And I'll repay it now.
I have always been a miner,
Working day by day for gold;
I had a good mine, partner,
But was starving, and I sold.
It brought a little money,
So I left the mines for home,
And settled on the farm, Jack,
But my thoughts would ever roam;
One night, as I lay dreaming,
A man wearing robes of gold
Appeared beside my bed;
He seemed a man both wise and old.
He spoke, "I am King Solomon;
Go not to dig for gold;
Money makes more if handled well,
I leave thee this", behold!
A paper fluttered to my side,
I took it up and read;
Then looked around in mute surprise—
No man stood by my bed.
I woke; the paper was not there,
But I had read it well;
My memory clung to the words
As to a magic spell;
They told me of King Solomon,
The mine that was to be,
The best that ever gave it's wealth
To bless humanity.
Did I buy stock? Of course I did.
I got it for a song,
And now it's climbing up the hill
And taking me along.
We're rich, my boy, I never told
Truer or gladder tale;
For some is yours and some is mine,
And none of it for sale.

An Elopement.

The sixteen year old daughter of John Loebsock eloped yesterday with a young man from Colorado, where the Loebsock family formerly lived. It is thought that the couple went to Sioux City yesterday. An effort is being made to overtake them.

It Is Judge A. A. Welch.

The appointment of A. A. Welch, of Wayne, to the district judgeship was made by Gov. Sheldon yesterday to take effect Feb. 23, and to succeed congressman elect Boyd. The selection is in hearty accord with the sentiment of the district, and while Wayne is recognized, the district is honored as well.

For a short time we will give the Herald, the Nebraska Farmer and Chicago Inter Ocean, all for $1.25.

T. J. Thomas was a passenger to Bassett and Long Pine to look after land interests the first of the week, returning Tuesday. He reports the hay supply short in that country and that cattle feeders are getting a bit anxious over the situation.

The next number on the lecture course will be "The Harp of the Senses; or Secret of Character Building," given by Prof. John B. DeMotte. Mr. DeMotte is recognized as an elegant speaker thru-out the country, and is deserving of a full house. Everybody come. February 28, 1907. Seats on sale at Raymond's drug store.

All those who wish to enter the contest please let us know at once so your name will appear with the first and you will have an equal chance with the rest. The standing of the contestants will be published every week, and at the close the contestants will choose their own judges to recount the votes.

$10.00 IN GOLD

A special prize of $10.00 in gold will be given to the contestant who secures the largest number of new subscribers to the Herald during this contest. This will not have anything to do with contestant securing any of the other prizes.

$10.00 IN GOLD

Two Papers for the Price of One

The price of The Herald is $1.00 per year. We have made special arrangements with the Nebraska Farmer, of Lincoln, and will combine the two papers and give our subscribers the benefit of getting the two papers at the $1.00 per year rate. The regular price of the Nebraska Farmer is $1.00 per year and would cost that if one were to send to that office for it. It is published every week and is the leading farm paper of the west.

How to Secure Votes

For each cent paid The Herald on NEW subscriptions—that is by some one not already a subscriber—eight votes will be allowed; $1.00 will equal 800 votes.
For each cent paid The Herald to RENEW a subscription four votes will be allowed, $1.00 paid will equal 400 votes.

We Want Contestants

We want contestants from all parts of Wayne County. There is no fee or charge of any kind to become a contestant; all that is necessary is to send your name in to The Herald office and it will be entered on the list of contestants and we will then furnish you with full instructions how to proceed with the work. The contestants will be treated fair and square, and one will stand as good a chance to win as the other. This is a splendid chance for the young ladies to secure some valuable prizes for a little work. All that is necessary is to hustle around among your friends and neighbors and get them to subscribe or pay back subscription.

Voting Cards.

When the subscription money is received at The Herald office a voting card filled out in ink will be issued. This card may then be cast in the ballot box for one of the contestants, or it may be taken away from the office and voted at any time before the close of the contest, or it may be taken away and burnt up, torn up or anything that the holder chooses to do with it. There will be no duplicate votes issued, and no votes will be counted or published in the paper until they shall have been deposited in the ballot box in our office. After votes have been placed in the box they cannot be changed or transferred in any way, and they will be counted and published in the paper every week. Ballots will be carefully kept, and no one except the party authorized to have charge of same will be permitted to open or handle the ballot box.
