ON IN EARNEST!

The Contestants in the Voting Contest Forging Ahead.—A Big Success Assured.

WHY THEY MAKE HEADWAY.

The several young ladies who have entered the contest have been doing good work for themselves the past month. Last week the showing made was a surprise and beyond our expectations. Several days of fine weather the previous week had stimulated activity, and the ladies were out hustling subscriptions for the HERALD and the Nebraska Farmer for which they secure votes in order to win one of the beautiful prizes which we are going to give away. Every dollar they collect from an old subscriber entitles them to 400 votes, and every dollar they secure from new subscribers entitles them to 800 votes.

Our first prize is the beautiful $350.00 Cabinet Grand Piano now on exhibition in the show window of Fleetwood & Johnson's furniture store, and a half-tone of which appears on another page of this paper. This elegant instrument is made by the Hobart M. Cable Co., and carries a ten years guarantee. The second and third prizes to be valued at $75 are to be decided upon and announced shortly. Besides these objects of reward, $10.00 in gold goes to the contestant securing the largest number of new subscribers to the HERALD with $5.00 to each contestant who secures 50 new subscribers.

This contest was started with the avowed purpose of adding several hundred new names to our already extensive list of Wayne county readers. Judging by the headway made thus far, this contest will lift the HERALD past the 2000 mark. We have spared no expense in promoting the contest, and are offering prizes that challenge the respect of everybody and merit the very best efforts of those who are working for them. From now on the contestants will find their way easier, for the people now realize our purpose and are anxious to take advantage of our liberal offer in giving every one who pays money on subscription to the HERALD during this contest, a free year's subscription to the Nebraska Farmer of Lincoln. The Farmer is published especially for Nebraska Farmers and is recognized as the leading agricultural paper of the west. Printed on good book paper and containing from 24 to 36 pages in each issue. It is published weekly and contains a fine household page, a children's page, stories and interesting articles of various sorts in addition to the regular agricultural and live-stock features.

The HERALD is the leading county seat paper, and furnishes twelve pages of interesting matter to its county readers every week. In its new form eight pages are given to the use of Wayne merchants and the general news of the county while four pages are devoted to an excellent serial story, all Nebraska news briefly told, as well as a review of the nations doings and a series of illustrated articles. The best is none to good for HERALD readers, and we are determined that the paper should be a regular visitor into every home in Wayne County.

The contestants will call on you at an early date. Kindly receive them in the spirit in which they come, and give them your subscription and your votes. If you make your remittances direct to this office be sure to state who you are voting for. The young ladies are all worthy and deserving. Now is the time to pick the winner and boost for them all the while.

Prof. Gregg at Beatrice.

In its write up of the Southeastern Teachers' Association held last week the Beatrice Express says, that:

"Prof. Gregg, of the Peru State Normal, delivered an extremely interesting and instructive lecture, 'The Midas Touch.' Prof. Gregg has that rare quality of a speaker which makes his audience feel he is giving them a heart to heart talk. He is perfectly at home before an audience and always has a message for them, as he had this morning.

He preached the gospel to 'do things' and queer as it may be, he is one of those rare fellows who practice what they preach.

Give the boys something they can do and want to do.

He characterized the midas touch by something about as follows:

"When the teacher says to a foreigner, say 'three,' and he says 'tree,' he thinks he is saying just what the teacher said. Repeat 'three' all you please and he'll still say 'tree.'"

The thing to do is to have that child look you square in the face, see how you fix your tongue and it will be a revelation to him. He will say "three."

"Touch the present coming generations and make them men and women of power by doing, that is our Midas Touch."

Service by Publication.

B. F. Smith will take notice that on the 19th day of March, 1907, before I. W. Alter, a Justice of the Peace in and for Wayne county, Nebraska, issued an order of attachment for the sum of $16.20 in the action pending before him, wherein J. M. Ross is plaintiff and the said B. F. Smith is defendant, that the property of the defendant consisting of One Red Dehorned cow, weight about 1000 pounds, has been attached under said order. Said cause was continued to the 12th day of April, 1907 at 10 o'clock.

Remedy for Corn Root Lice.

Dr. S. A. Forbes, chief of the Office of the Illinois State Entomologist, has found that a mixture of oil of lemon and wood alcohol, costing about 10 cents an acre, will keep the corn root louse from attacking the corn crop. In short, Dr. Forbes finds that six tablespoonfuls of a mixture of one gallon of wood alcohol and one pint of oil of lemon applied to a gallon of seed corn directly before planting keeps the ant that carries the lice away from the hill of corn.

Tests show that if this mixture is applied to seed corn so that each kernel is reached, the corn is safe from attack for about six weeks. The reason is that the odor given to the seed corn is so offensive to the corn field ant; that it will not go near the corn until after the odor disappears.

Information of this kind is worth millions of dollars to the farmers of Illinois, and yet Dr. Forbes is not supplied with sufficient funds by the state to properly publish and distribute this information to say nothing of properly prosecuting his investigation.—Threshermen's Review.

Called to Her Reward.

Mrs. A. A. Jeffrey died April 7, 1907, at her home in Wayne, Nebr.; aged 70 years, 6 months and 10 days.

Margaret Hermiston, was born in Scotland, Sept. 27, 1836, and was married to A. B. Jeffrey, December 25, 1855. In June 1866 they emigrated to Canada where they resided four years, moving to Baltimore, Md. in 1870, and from there to Jones county, Iowa, in 1881, finally coming to Wayne county, Nebr., in 1885.

Ten children came to bless the home and the mother is survived by the father, five sons and four daughters, all of whom were present at the funeral except one daughter, living at Baltimore, Md., and one son residing in Washington state.

The deceased was one of God's noble women whose life of the allotted three score and ten years, was filled with kind acts and generous deeds. As a loving companion and mother her memory is honored and revered by her children. Her cheerful temperament and kindly disposition won lasting friends, and a host of them mingle their sorrow with the grief of the stricken family.

The funeral services were held at the Presbyterian church, of which she was a faithful and consistent member, on Tuesday, April 9. In the absence of her pastor, the services were conducted by Rev. C. J. Ringer.

Another Pioneer Gone.

After an illness of barely a week J. J. W. Fox died at his home in Randolph, Neb.; Friday, April 5, of an acute attack of Bright's Disease. The remains were brot to Wayne on Monday for interment in Greenwood cemetery. The funeral services were held at 2:00 o'clock p. m. at the St. Paul's Lutheran church, being conducted by the pastor Rev. C. J. Ringer.

At the cemetery the services were under the auspices of the I. O. O. F. of which he was an honored member. A large representation of the Randolph lodge with which Mr. Fox was identified, accompanied the remains to Wayne, as did also, a delegation of the Carroll branch of the order, while the Wayne Odd Fellows attended in a body.

James Joshua Wills Fox, aged 58 years 8 months and 4 days, and was born in Marshal county, Ind., near Rlymouth. He moved to Lee county Ill. in 1871 and to Wayne county, Nebr. in 1873, where he resided until 1903 when he removed to Randolph. His mother now past 80 years of age, survives him as do also four brothers, F. W. and L. C. of Randolph, J. S. of Gregory, S. D. and C. A. of Laurel.

Mr. Fox is counted among the early, sturdy pioneers of Wayne county and was closely associated with its development for more than a quarter of a century. When its history is written his name will rank with the first of those who came, endured and achieved. He was known for his integrity and square dealing, and an extensive acquaintance over Northeast Nebraska will be grieved to learn that J. J. W. Fox has passed to the great beyond.

A State Prize Banner.

Balthasar Court, No. 14. Tribe of Ben Hur celebrated the presentation of the State Prize Banner of Thursday night, April 4th. Having secured this very beautiful banner for having gained the most members of any Court in the state and it being the first time the banner has been in the north half of the state the members feel very proud. About 300 members and friends gathered at the hall and a fine program was given consisting of vocal solos, readings, recitations, etc. The Mandolin club and the Wayne band, each rendered some excellent music. Bro. C. G. Way, Supreme State Manager gave a very able address on fraternal insurance which was listened to with marked attention. In his closing remarks, when he presented the Court with the banner he said it was for us to decide whether would keep it all the time. Other towns were working hard for it, but if each one put forth an effort to secure it, he was sure we could keep it, for by winning it for another six months it was ours.

The audience was served with ice cream and cake, and a short time was spent in a social way and a good time enjoyed by all present.

Marvelous Growth Of Mining and Steel Making

By CHARLES M. SCHWAB, First President of the United States Steel Corporation.

I PREDICTED four years ago that the steel industry would increase to such an extent that before the year 1910 this country would be consuming from 28,000,000 to 29,000,000 tons of steel annually; that the railroads and workshops would be UTTERLY UNABLE TO FILL THE DEMAND and that we would see such a volume of business as we have never dreamed of. That prediction is being very rapidly VERIFIED. As nearly as I can estimate the consumption was 24,000,000 tons of steel in 1906.

We used to consider 2,000,000 to 3,000,000 tons of steel rails an enormous output for one year. Now the rails required to replace those worn out amount to more than 2,000,000 tons. That is saying nothing about extensions and NOTHING ABOUT IMPROVEMENTS. Twenty years ago there were scarcely any steel frame buildings. Now 3,500,000 to 4,000,000 tons of steel are used annually for buildings, saying nothing of subway tunnels. Anywhere you can go, ANYWHERE you can look, steel is being used.

I BELIEVE THERE WILL BE PERIODS OF DEPRESSION, BUT TO MY MIND THEY WILL BE SHORT, AND THE GRAND AVERAGE OF OUTPUT MUST ALWAYS BE INCREASING.

The factories everywhere are increasing their capacity. I do not agree with those who think manufacturers are extending their plants TOO MUCH. The increase in capacity will all be needed.

The Bethlehem Steel company is expending $15,000,000 to enlarge its plant for commercial output.

When I first went into the steel business twenty-five years ago things were done in a pretty CRUDE WAY. I think the same condition exists in mining today. Modern methods can cheapen the production of precious metals and make mining a PROFITABLE business. In the production of steel the improvements possible to be made now are small, but in mining there have not been many improvements in the last twenty years.

A MAN WHO HAS AN ADVANTAGE IN COST OVER ANOTHER IN THE MAKING OF STEEL MUST COUNT IT IN PENNIES, AND NOT IN DOLLARS.

Mines are being equipped now with machinery and appliances of the most modern, UP TO DATE DESCRIPTION and it is my belief that the application of these principles to the industry in the years to come will make it profitable.

THE MINING WEALTH OF NEVADA IS INCREASING MOST RAPIDLY. IT IS THE GREATEST PRECIOUS MINERAL BELT, DOWN THROUGH NEVADA, TO MY MIND, IN THE HISTORY OF THE WORLD.

The Woman Question Can Be Settled by Man

By Bishop WILLIAM STANG of Fall River, Mass.

I EMPHATICALLY deny that in the present Christian civilization woman is regarded as the INFERIOR of man and that she has no chance—as we often hear stated by socialists—to rise from her state of servitude under PRESENT conditions.

Socialists declare the present conditions must change—everything is radically wrong, and a complete tearing down is necessary before reconstruction. But I seriously question if a majority of our good women realize that such is the case. Christian women simply wish TO LOVE AND OBEY. The modern woman agitator, with her head full of undigested information, usually does not find the right kind of man to appreciate her.

SUCH WOMEN GO ON THE PLATFORM TO CLAIM "RIGHTS" THAT NEVER BELONGED TO WOMEN.

At the present hour, however, there are many grounds of LEGITIMATE COMPLAINT among women. Many noble hearted women are forced by circumstances to leave their natural sphere of action, the home, in order to earn an honorable existence. They are FORCED into public professions. Now, this is not a healthy condition of things; and if we should look for the cause, what is at the bottom of this dissatisfaction? It is the unworthy conduct of so many of OUR MEN—the rapid increase of male loafers, volunteer bachelors. Men are made strong, their characters are strong, and they should be willing to use their brains and muscles TO PROVIDE FOR WOMEN, and if this came about then the woman question, the great social question, would be settled at once.

THEN WILL WOMEN LEAVE PUBLIC LIFE, THE MART AND FORUM, AND RETURN TO HAPPY HOMES.

We Should Have Income Tax

By Ex-Judge ALTON B. PARKER.

I BELIEVE that EVERY STATE in the Union ought to have an income tax. The FEDERAL government has sometimes levied a tax on incomes.

There are, of course, many inherent difficulties in the LEVY AND COLLECTION of such a tax in this country, where the people are so much less settled in population than in the old country, but it remains for the state to provide for the collection of its revenues by such methods as will operate best for the GENERAL INTEREST. These methods must be practical—that is to say, they must be such as can be enforced WITHOUT SERIOUS MISCHIEF and such as will provide the revenue.

But when the question is "What is and what is not practical" apparent fairness and equality as between individuals are of the highest importance.

TO THE COMMON MIND NO RULE SEEMS TO BE MORE JUST AND FAIR THAN THAT PERSONS SHOULD BE TAXED FOR THE SUPPORT OF THE STATE OR GOVERNMENT IN PROPORTION TO THE REVENUE—THAT IS, NET INCOME—THEY ENJOY UNDER ITS PROTECTION.

Cured of Rheumatism
Mr. Wm. Henry of Chattanooga, Tenn., had rheumatism in his left arm. "The strength seemed to be gone out of the muscles so that it was useless for work," he says. "I applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm and wrapped the arm in flannel at night, and to my relief I found that the pain gradually left me and the strength returned." In three weeks the rheumatism had disappeared and has not since returned. "If troubled with rheumatism try a few applications of Pain Balm. You are certain to be pleased with the relief which it affords." For sale by Raymond's Drug Store.

No more caucuses and conventions. All hail, the primary! Now, as good citizens, let us resolve never to miss a primary.

The Beatrice Express says that: "Teachers are of a far different order from what they were one hundred years ago. There is none of the Squeers type now. The grim visage of a Hindoo deity, and the tyrant tread of a slave driver, whip in hand, that were winning credentials of the old-time pedagogue, have passed with other brutal errors of a former civilization. The ennobling doctrine of kindness, heart-interest and patient reasoning is the source of the present-day teacher's power of correct discipline and has a large part in his or her success as an educator."

The trial of Brink at Ponca for the murder of his sweetheart, was ended this week by a finding of the jury that the man was insane. The doctors put him through a series of stunts he couldn't do, and when they saw he couldn't, all hands agreed that the poor fellow was sure crazy as a bedbug. We went out into our back yard the same evening and tried to do some of the same stunts. We couldn't do 'em. If we have overlooked any of the maidens around here, who have trifled with us in times past, they had better hurry to cover, for when our next "brain storm" overtakes us we are going to go back over our list and shoot about seven holes through every girl we ever loved and who rejected us and has not yet gone to her reward. —Walthill Times.

Another session of the Nebraska legislature has gone into history. Even at this early date its importance and good work is generally conceded. It truly represented the people and their interests were uppermost in the consideration of every measure. Railroad domination was not in evidence at any point in the game. This notable feature can not be claimed for any other legislature since the organization of the state. It may be that some of the work appears too radical in its effect on corporations but they can not complain for they have had their way too long, and its both meet and proper that the tables should be turned. They can only hope to reap as they have sown. The people are now in control, and with the pass holder ousted and the direct primary in force, they are able to hold fast the reins of government.

The Primary Law.

[Lincoln Journal.]

When candidates for county and state offices come to be named this year and succeeding years, the voters of Nebraska will go to the poles and register their preference for candidates for each office. The candidate for a nomination will submit his claim and make his promises to the man in the fields, on the street, in the shops, for the decision of these men will be final. The citizen with an ambition to serve the public in an official capacity will have to go before the people and convince them of his fitness. Every man will be the boss, his own boss. No man will be the boss in the old sense of controlling the distribution of offices.

This, in a word, is the meaning of the direct primary law. The act agreed upon gives a genuine direct primary. Very many of the best friends of direct nominations would have liked it better with the party test eliminated, some claiming that it disfranchises the independent voter, but this objection is a question of principle rather than practice. So long as the president of the United States is elected by the people and exerts his present great powers, government in the United States must be by parties. The only way a citizen can enfranchise himself, therefore, in any case is by exerting his influence in the control of parties, and then voting independently at the polls. There is nothing to prevent this in the direct primary law as now passed. It may offend the voter of independent leanings to have to announce formally a party affiliation, but he can afford to overcome these scruples for the sake of the influence in public affairs which direct nominations give him. After awhile, when the idea has died down that government and people are made for parties instead of parties for government and people, they may be able to improve the law to their liking.

When time has thrown its perspective upon the work of the legislature of 1907 this law is fairly sure to stand out as a master gift of a legislature that has been rich in achievement. Not that the direct primary insures perfect government or even good government. Nothing but a good and perfect people can do that; but it does insure a government or even good government, intelligence, honesty and civic spirit of the Nebraska people. What more can they ask or desire?

Passing of the Pass.

The pass is dead in Nebraska. Pledge No. 4 in the republican state platform of last year has been kept. The legislature has enacted an anti-pass law and the governor signed it. It contained an emergency clause and became operative the moment the Sheldon signature was attached.

Thousands of persons in the state who have enjoyed the discriminating favor of the roads must now relinquish the precious pass. The law is not iron clad but it heads close to the line. The only dangerous latitude is in determining who are railroad employes "devoting the major portion of their time to the service of a railroad." The letter and spirit of these are sufficiently restrictive but the pass-holding lawyer and doctor may affirm that inasmuch as they hold themselves in readiness at all times to report for duty they are constantly in the employ of the road. But no court will so hold if a test case is made, and there will be test cases if there are violations.

Under the law now in effect there is not a man in Dodge county, outside the operating department of a railroad, who can legally hold a pass—except those classes specifically mentioned in the law. Not a lawyer or doctor or public official or political heeler has a right to it. Anyone of them who undertakes to ride upon it is punishable, along with the railroad and so it is thruout the state.

The pass has played a leading part in the civil and political drama of Nebraska. It has bribed voters, influenced legislatures, corrupted judges, selected jurymen, affected their verdicts, packed conventions, perverted justice and been a confessed and disputable work of iniquity in a hundred dark and devious ways. It has helped to build up the country, has been the means of charity extended to the helpers and has some things to its credit, just as there are streaks of good in every bad man; but the evil it has wrought has outweighed the good a thousand times. Therefore, praised be those who put it to death.

The passing of the pass in Nebraska marks a new era. It also reminds that the republican party has kept a pledge.—Fremont Tribune.

America's Generosity.

Washington, April 9th.—Columbia is not alone the "Gem of the Ocean," she has become the Lady Bountiful of the World. Through its open-handed generosity the United States has taken a unique position among the nations. There is not a country stricken by war, by famine or by cataclysms of nature that does not appeal to this country for aid, and very rarely do such suffers appeal in vain. As a result the name of the United States in far off countries is synonymous with kindly generosity.

The State Department this week received from Consul General Rodgers at Shanghai a cablegram declaring that the food supplies sent and those now on their way to relieve the Chinese famine sufferers are sufficient to meet the needs of the people. The sufferings that this food relieved were pitiful, the Chinese in some sections actually having been driven to cannibalism before the United States stepped in with its aid. Consul General Rodgers however, says that a small amount of money will be necessary to complete the work of rescue.

Now the relief of the Chinese is completed, the American people are turning their eyes to the fearful suffering borne by the Russian peasants. President Roosevelt has subscribed to the fund, accompanied by a letter to Bishop Potter, chairman of the lately organized Russian famine relief committee, which has its headquarters at 135 East 15th street, New York city. In this letter the President urged upon the American people the necessity of co-operation with the committee in this humanitarian cause. Largely as a result of this letter the committee has already collected about $25,000, many of the contributions being small ones from scattered sources.

More than $100,000 still is needed to save a large portion of Russia's peasant population. There are thirty millions of Russian men, women and children in the most abject condition, and disease is threatening the lives of those who already have not succumbed to starvation. The committee announces that $5,000 sent to it at this time will be sufficient to save a human life until the next harvest. When this fact is thoroughly understood it is expected that sympathetic Americans will pour their contributions into the fund. The money thus subscribed will be expended by the committee's own agents, and care will be taken that none of it passes over the itching palms of Russian officials.

The latest advice from the famine territory depicts the suffering as extreme, a letter this week from a village near Moscow saying:

"At present the temperature in this village is in the neighborhood of twenty degrees below zero Fahrenheit. Many of the peasants are living in holes dug underground. They are almost naked and they are without fuel. Their food is a sort of bread made of ground acorns or other uneatable, to which have been added a little rye meal. Typhus, scurvy and blindness, resulting from starvation are on all sides striking down grown up people and children. This is not a single village; there are thousands like it, and these thousands of villages have no hope unless help can come to them from the outside. Seventy-five cents will keep an adult alive for a month. It is bitter to ask for alms; but it is still more bitter to look upon these agonies with empty hands."

Dr. Samuel J. Barrow, who is secretary of the Russian Famine Relief Committee, would not be surprised if the famine situation in Russia were made a strong argument for universal peace at the next conference at the Hague. The famine beyond doubt is a direct result of the war with Japan, and the work of relieving the present suffering directly taxes civilized countries for the effects of a struggle in which they were not involved.

FORCING VEGETABLES.

Leading Varieties That Are of Commercial Importance.

Nearly all the vegetables are forced to a greater or less extent, but only four, radishes, lettuce, tomatoes and cucumbers, have assumed much commercial importance. All vegetables which are forced are classed under one or two groups—cool or warm plants. This grouping is determined by the relative amount of heat the vegetables require to secure the best results. Of the four vegetables just mentioned two, radishes and lettuce, belong to the cool plants, while the tomato and cucumber belong to the warm plants. Cool crops require a temperature of 40 to 45 degrees at night and of 55 to 65 degrees during the day.

Soil For Forcing Houses.

Soils differ so much for the various crops that no definite statement can be made which will cover all. Lettuce, particularly the heading sorts, is very exacting in this regard. A soil which holds a goodly supply of moisture without baking or puddling is necessary. One which retains water in excessive amounts in the upper inch of soil is conducive to the lettuce rot, the worst pest which infests this crop. Non-heading sorts are less influenced by soil. A good garden loam, with a liberal supply, say one-fourth to one-third well rotted stable manure, produces very good results. Radishes demand a more sandy soil and yet one which is retentive of moisture.

Watering Greenhouse Crops.

Watering is one of the most important factors in growing crops under glass. The great tendency is to water too often. If the soil is kept in a proper condition of tilth the upper surface of a bench may appear dry while the soil an inch deeper may contain a sufficient amount of moisture to answer the requirements of the plants. If water is given too frequently the soil is kept damp and soggy, air is excluded and the plants suffer as much as, if not more than, if they were allowed to show slightly the effects of the lack of moisture before it is given. We make a practice of soaking the benches thoroughly when we apply water and then let them go for a period before giving a further supply. In this way we have been able to bring a bench of lettuce into a marketable condition by the use of three applications of water. With bottom heat it is possible to have the bottom soil of a bench dry and the surface soil quite moist.

Crops That Require Most Care.

The warm crops, tomatoes and cucumbers, require more attention than the cool crops. Their temperature requirement is from 60 to 65 degrees at night and 75 to 85 degrees during the day. Bottom heat is necessary for the profitable production of either. Ventilate whenever the temperature reaches 80 degrees or above.

In soil requirements neither is as exacting as head lettuce. A rich garden loam, three parts garden soil and one part well rotted manure, answers the purpose well. As soon as the plant comes into bearing liberal quantities of liquid manure are applied after the benches have been thoroughly watered. This manure is prepared by placing one bushel of fresh cow manure in a barrel and then filling the barrel with water. This fertilizer should be applied at intervals of ten days.—Professor J. G. Moore Before Wisconsin Horticultural Society.

THE FARM HORSE.

Some Things From Which It Often Suffers in Winter.

A great many farmers now have basements in their barns in which the horses have comfortable quarters in cold weather, yet we find them in every neighborhood with the buildings so constructed that the stables are anything but what they should be for comfort in zero weather, and this is not the only way that farm horses suffer from cold in winter. Careless exposures after they have been worked or driven cause discomfort and often bring on colds and other forms of disease.

Overwork for short periods in winter when the horses are soft is another evil from which many farm horses suffer. Quite often the farm team is required to draw harder in winter than at any other time, especially when the snow is deep and roads are bad. This should not be the case; but, on the other hand, care should be taken that the team is worked gently when out of practice, as many of them are at this season.

Improper feeding and watering, poor protection from cold and irregular work are evils that are largely preventable and are matters that to quite an extent are under the control of those who care for the horses.—C. in Country Gentleman.

Iowa Farmers.

In November, 1903, there were less than twenty farmers' companies engaged in handling grain in this state. At present there are nearly 150 co-operative grain companies which are doing a thriving business. When the farmers' companies were established the prices for grain increased from 3 to 7 cents per bushel above the prices paid when there was no competition.—G. W. in Orange Judd Farmer.

Carbon in the Feed.

There is comfort to the corn belt farmer in the statement that the energy required of a working team is supplied better by corn than by oats. Protein makes muscle, but the energy in the horse is produced by carbon in the feed, much as that of the engine is due to the carbon in coal. Corn is all right for the horse at hard labor, while oats are necessary for the growing animal.—Exchange.

Some Insect Injuries to Wheat during 1905 and 1906.

Since 1901, there has been in this state a succession of unusually wet springs and summers, which have resulted in the prodigious increase of a number of insects detrimental to the wheat crop, and these for a time threatened to completely ruin the crop of 1904-1905. As it was, the state suffered a loss of nearly 5,000,000 bushels of wheat at that time thru the depredations of these insects which annually destroy at least one-tenth of the crop. Bulletin No. 96 takes up these destructive pests, species, by species, discussing their appearance, distribution and life histories, the nature of the injury done by them, and the methods of control of each. The insects thus considered are the Hessian fly, the wheat stem-maggot, the frit-flies, the wheat midge, the wheat straw-worm, and wheat joint-worm, the stalk-borer, and the wheat louse.

Preeminent among these is the Hessian fly, which became so alarmingly formidable in the fall of 1904. This insect has been present in the state since 1867, varying in abundance from year to year, but becoming very abundant and harmful during wet seasons. It is double brooded, and destroys the wheat by the larvæ lodging between the sheath and the stem and absorbing the plant juices. The important preventives against its attacks are late sowing, and burning of the stubble, while a rotation of crops and the destruction of volunteer grain are strongly recommended also. Such additional methods as the direct application of poisons or repellants, the planting of decoy strips, the plowing under of infested wheat, pasturing, growing resistant varieties of wheat and the proper management of soil and seeding are discussed and commented upon with special reference to local conditions.

The wheat stem-maggot has proved to be a very destructive insect also, and the burning of waste grasslands in winter is necessary to control it, as it infests certain wild grasses as well as wheat. Against the wheat-midge the deep plowing of the ground after harvest and the burning of useless chaff after thrashing is recommended. The burning of the stubble is the most effective measure against the wheat straw-worm and wheat joint-worm. The stalk-borer and wheat louse, while destructive, seem to be well controlled by their natural parasites. NEBRASKA EXPERIMENTAL STATION.

Crop Production in Western Nebraska.

The Nebraska Experiment Station has just issued Bulletin No. 95, which covers the results of three years' work in crop production at the Substation at North Platte, Nebraska. This bulletin deals with varieties of grains and forage crops adapted to western Nebraska, and with methods of tillage to conserve moisture and insure a crop in the drier sections of the state. The bulletin may be obtained free of cost by residents of Nebraska upon writing to the Experiment Station, Lincoln, Nebr., for Bulletin No. 95.

Poor Paint is Expensive

If one is rich enough to repaint his buildings every year for the pleasure of having a change of color scheme, the quality of the paint used may cut little figure. But if it is desirable to cut the painting bills down to the least amount possible per year, it is of the utmost importance that the paint be made of and the best of Linseed Oil. There are imitations in the form of alleged White Lead, and there are substitutes in the form of ready-prepared paints.

Would Meet Requirements

If a pure clothes law should be passed and pure clothes inspectors appointed by the government, the brands of clothing we handle would be found to more than meet requirements, special honorable mention would be given us and the reputation of our goods would be immensely increased. Everyone would want to buy of us. But without a pure clothes law, some stores will continue to sell sweet shop clothing.

Are you getting clothing of the best quality and style, and made in sanitary shops? Are you, for a fact? Or is it doubtful? There is no use trying to convince yourself that you can buy as good clothing any where else as we handle. It is useless to try to save money over the prices we ask. To assume that you get the service or satisfaction from cheap, sweat shop clothing as you would get from our high grade "Best Quality" clothing, is to argue that right is not might, and that value does not count.

If you had lived in the last generation you could have been more or less indifferent about the quality and style of clothing you bought, but in this day and age of the world you must insist on getting the "Best Quality" sanitary made clothing, and to do so you must necessarily make this store a visit before you buy. We would welcome a pure clothes law.

A FREAKISH RIVER.

The Fondness of the Colorado For the Salton Sea.

DIFFICULTY OF PROBLEM.

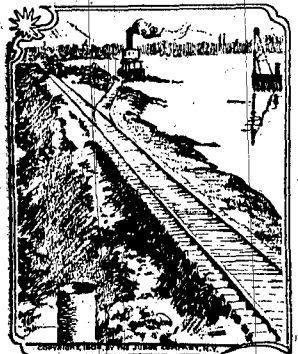

The Situation Which Occasioned a Special Message to Congress From the President—The Mistake Made by the California Development Company.

GOVERNOR PARDEE.

The efforts of President Roosevelt to get the turbulent Colorado river under control and solve the troublesome Salton sea problem have called national attention to a situation of peculiar character and exceptional difficulty. The Colorado, which is one of the longest streams in North America, having a length of over 1,000 miles, is very unruly at times, and in the neighborhood of the Salton sea it has overflowed its banks with great damage to surrounding property. These overflows are not like the freshets of an ordinarily well behaved stream which subside soon, leaving the river to resume its normal course without further ado. By pouring into the Salton sea, where it is not wanted because of the valuable salt deposits at the bottom of the lake and the fertile lands of the vicinity, it leaves its lower courses and the surrounding country dry, and no water pours through its natural outlet into the gulf of California.

The Salton sea was until recently the dry basin of an extinct inland lake. It lies in the Imperial valley. In the lower portion of California, where extensive developments have been undertaken in the way of irrigation. The Colorado river forms the eastern boundary of California, separating it from Arizona, and after crossing the international boundary it flows through Mexican territory into the gulf of California. It is just below the line separating the state of California from Lower California that the break in the Colorado river has occurred, and this makes it necessary for our government to take action in the matter in conjunction with Mexico. The lands of the Imperial valley are 200 feet or more below the level of the Colorado river and are indeed below sea level. Down as far as the international border they are protected from inundation by low lying hills. South of the boundary, in the republic of Mexico, the hills cease abruptly, and only the broad, low mud banks of the river protect the valley from being converted into an inland sea. President Roosevelt, who took up the matter at the instance of the governor of California, George C. Pardee, and Senator Frank P. Flint, said in his message to congress: "In order to get any water to this vast tract of fertile but desert land, or, on the other hand, to protect it from too much water, works of supply or protection must be built in Mexico, even though they tap the river in the United States. Nature has for many centuries protected this great depression from overflow, but the restless river, constantly shifting, has

... WHICH FAILED TO STOP OVERFLOW, annually threatened to break through the banks. Only a little human aid was needed to cause it to do so."

This aid was supplied when the California Development company undertook to make the desert blossom like the rose by means of water from the river. It spent a great deal of money advertising all about the fortunes to be made through location in the valley on the lands to be irrigated, but did not spend money enough on its engineering works, with the result that the river broke loose upon several occasions, the last and worse break having occurred in November. Much money has now been spent in the building of dams, etc., but so far without completely stopping the flow of the river into the valley, the injury of fertile lands and destruction of industries and populous settlements. The Southern Pacific railway, which runs through this section, was compelled, in order to protect its own interests, to go to the rescue of the California Development company and lend it money. The Southern Pacific is a Harriman road, and it was in this way that the president came to write to Mr. E. H. Harriman, calling upon him to do his utmost in the matter. It is estimated that at least $2,000,000 will have to be spent now to get the river again under control, and unless this is done about 700,000 acres of fertile lands will be submerged or rendered uninhabitable and about 8,000 people will be driven from their homes.

One Dollar Cheaper.

During the one week of April 22 to 27, inclusive, the Lincoln Daily News will accept $2 from mail subscribers for a whole year to May 1, 1908. The regular price is one dollar more than that. This cut price is good only during this Bargain Week, and all you have to do is to mail your $2 the The Daily News, Lincoln, Nebr., during that time, and you will receive the paper until May 1, 1908.

The News does not receive any free railroad tickets, and has cut off several traveling solicitors. Instead of paying out railroad fare, hotel bills and other expenses, these savings will be given to our subscribers direct by this big bargain offer. More things are being done this year for the people in Nebraska than ever before. The new deal seems to suit everybody who has not had some sort of a pull. The Lincoln News keeps in the midst of the fight and wants every man who believes in a square deal on its list.

At $2 for a whole year there is not a family in the state that cannot afford a daily paper. The News has the reputation of printing the truth and printing it plainly, no matter where it hits. Its the liveliest, snappiest newspaper proposition in Nebraska and if you become a subscriber at this cheap rate, you will stay with it for a long time to come. Remember the bargain week—April 22 to 27. The price will be $3 after that week.

It is generally agreed that "there is a time for everything." The dispute is as to who shall hold the watch.

WEAK KIDNEYS MAKE WEAK BODIES

Kidney Diseases Cause Half the Common Aches and Ills of Humanity

As one weak link weakens a chain, so weak kidneys weaken the whole body and hasten the final breaking-down.

Overwork, strains, colds and other causes injure the kidneys, and when the activity is lessened the whole body suffers from the access of uric poison circulated in the blood.

Aches and pains and languor and urinary ills come, and there is an ever increasing tendency towards diabetes and fatal Bright's disease. There is no real help for the sufferer except kidney help.

Doan's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys and cure every kidney ill. The cures are the proof.

W. A. Tracy, printer, living at 1123 Jule street, St. Joseph, Mo., says: "For eight or ten years I suffered at times severely with pain in my back, and although I used doctor's prescriptions and various advertised remedies, I received little relief. I scarcely knew what it was to be without a plaster on my back, and at night, after standing all day at my work, suffering was always worse. As Doan's Kidney Pills were advertised and recommended by people right here at home, I procured a box and obtained such relief that I kept on using the remedy until all the pain and lameness in my back had left me. I soon felt as strong and well as I ever did. I was so surprised with the results obtained that I gave a statement for publication, advising the use of Doan's Kidney Pills by kidney sufferers. During the six years that have elapsed I have had no indication of a return of the trouble, except when a cold settled in my back or I feel slightly tired or lame in the back, and then I take a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills and the trouble is always removed. I am pleased to re-indorse Doan's Kidney Pills.

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Many a man has taken a sure case into court, and carried nothing out but experience.
