JOE GOSHORN DROWNED

A Former Wayne Boy Meets Death With Two Companions on Lake Washington.

A special telegram in Monday's Sioux City Journal, gives the following account which contains sad news to the relatives and friends of Joe Goshorn:

Seattle, Wash., May 19.—Three young college students, two men and a girl, in an accident on Lake Washington today. The two men were J. A. Goshorn, son of Robert Goshorn, editor of the Kalispell, Mont., Interlake, and a junior of Stanford university, and Glen Jacqueth, a sophomore student at the institution. The girl was Edith Vogt, a junior of the University of Washington.

These three, with Eugene White, another Washington University student, were out on a small canoe when a sudden squall came up and struck them. The canoe filled with water and sank, leaving the occupants struggling in the choppy waves. White almost succeeded in getting the girl to the canoe when both the other men threw their arms around him and the four sank, White alone coming up. Three students in a small boat made a sensational rescue, picking White up while the boat was going at high speed.

Value of a College

Fremont is threatened with the loss of their Normal College, and last week a monster mass meeting was held in the interest of retaining the school. In the points brot out the Tribune of that city, notes one that applies with equal force to Wayne, and deserves our serious attention. Paste it in your hat, "lest you forget it." The Tribune says: "There have been in the college since it started from fifteen to twenty thousand young men and women as students. Last year alone the enrollment was 2,200.

These old students are for the most part citizens of Nebraska, the hundreds are residents of other states. The college's fame has thus been carried far and wide. These students are as a rule the foremost citizens of the communities in which they live, for the education and polish given in such an institution are sufficient to place those who attend a little above those who do not, and other things being equal. It is thus that the college has acquired a favorable reputation that serves as a valuable asset for it and for the city in which it is located. It is a powerful impetus for the success and progress of both.

Fremont cannot afford to underestimate the advantage it has in this. Every young man and young woman who goes away to school knows how memory of that school ever after lingers, and how interest in the town never fails. School days are at a romantic and impressionable age and the experiences gained then create lasting impressions, and those of school and the town are nearly always favorable.

This army of twenty thousand young men and young women filling responsible positions in private and public life thruout the west is a mighty force for the weal of Fremont. Let us appreciate it and ever give aid and encouragement to the worthy enterprise that has done so much for Fremont and for which Fremont has done so little."

Boy's Essay on Hens

Hens is curious animals. They don't have no nose, nor no teeth, nor no ears. They swallow their vittles whole and chew it up in their crops inside of 'em. The outside of hens is generally put into pillers and feather dusters. The inside of a hen is sometimes filled with marbles and shirt buttons and sich. A hen is very much smaller than a good many other animals, but they'll dig up more tomato plants than anything that ain't a hen. Hens is very useful to lay eggs for plum puddings. Hens has got wings and can fly when they are scairt. I cut my Uncle William's hen's neck off with a hatchet, and it scairt her to death. Hens sometimes make very good spring chickens.

B. Y. P. U. RALLY

Wayne Entertains the Northeastern Association in a Two Day's Session.

Saturday and Sunday, May 18 and 19 the Baptist Young People's Union for Northeast Nebraska held their annual meeting in Wayne at the Baptist church.

The church was neatly decorated for the occasion in the colors of the society—yellow and light blue. Pretty festoons and a profusion of flowers were everywhere in evidence. The forenoon trains Saturday brot in twenty-three delegates, representing the towns of Creighton, Ponca, Randolph, Norfolk, Plainview and Martinsburg.

The services Saturday evening opened at 7:30 in the way of a devotional meeting led by Rev. Parker Smith. A good crowd of town people attended this meeting. The address of welcome was made by O. A. King, who in a few, well chosen words, on behalf of the Wayne citizens opened the church and homes to the visiting delegates and bade them feel at home.

Rev. A. O. Broyles, of Plainview responded in a happy vein congratulating Wayne on being possessed with a band of hospitality that made them all, as visitors feel that this was but a gathering of old time friends.

The secretary then read the minutes of last meeting. This was followed by a reading of reports from the different societies that were represented, which was both interesting and encouraging. The reports showed that a marked increase in membership had been made all along the line. On roll call each attendant responded with quotations of Scripture. At the end of the program, conversation and hearty hand shaking was indulged in.

A praise service, led by Miss Lucy Hammond, of Randolph, opened the Sunday morning session at 9:30. This was followed by a Bible Exposition by Rev. Broyles, of Plainview, who took up for consideration the Fourth Chapter of Revelation, from a spiritual standpoint. His discussion was able and helpfully interesting. The morning service was greeted by a crowded church. The regular Sunday school was held at twelve o'clock and was closed by a talk from S. H. Alexander, a former superintendent. Miss Mann, of Omaha, then took up the matter of the International B. Y. P. U. Convention, which is to be held at Spokane, Wash., July 4, 5 and 6.

Sunday afternoon a song service was opened at 2:30 under direction of Prof. M. S. Davies. The professor also gave a fine talk along the lines of music, relating incidents in the lives of the great composers, bringing out the fact that their greatest compositions had become familiar church songs. Prof Davies' efforts were greatly appreciated and his good work was attested in the excellence of the choir music.

"Junior Work" by Mrs. R. A. Huptly, of Pawnee City, reminded her hearers of the great obligation imposed upon the church in directing the little tots, and she admonished both the parent and teacher to always remember the Master's teaching when he said "Feed My Lambs."

Miss Mann, of the state B. Y. P. U. gave an interesting talk on the general work that is being done by the Union over the state. This was followed by Miss Manning, one of the teachers in the public schools of Wayne, who discussed the relations existing between the church societies and the day school.

A business session was then called and it was decided to hold the next meeting of the Union at Ponca.

The regular Young People's service was held Sunday evening and was led by Miss Jennie Olmsted, of Wayne. The subject of the lesson was "The Little Things That Spoil Lives," and a lively discussion was had and great interest aroused. The lesson was deeply impressed and all went home feeling as the poet has said:

"There is so much bad in the best of us,
And so much good in the worst of us,
That it hardly behooves any of us
To speak ill of the rest of us."

The evening sermon was preached by Rev. Parker Smith on the subject of "Man, the Workmanship of God" in which he ably portrayed that God's work is unfinished until man's work on earth is done and he has been called to meet his maker; showing man what folly it is to judge the work of God.

A conversation meeting closed the successful convention.

Miss Ethel Huff, president of the Young People's Society of the Baptist church of Wayne, presented the association with a very beautiful banner.

Ben-Hur Initiation

One of the largest classes taken into a fraternal order in this city was initiated in the opera house Friday night by Degree Team of Balthasar Court No. 14 T. B. H. assisted by C. E. Wilkinson Supreme Guide taking part of Ben Hur, E. M. Clement Chief of North Nebraska Court No. 9 of Norfolk, taking part of Arrius, O. W. Rish, Norfolk Court Assistant Master of Ceremonies and M. N. Baker of Lincoln operating the stereopticon. 72 new members out of a class of 82 were able to be present for the ceremonies which were impressively rendered. Balthasar Court Dregree team will be strengthened until it will become the first team in North Nebraska. Much credit is due sons of Hur—Clark, J. H. Wright, Bush and daughters of Hur—McNeal, Kingsbury, Wright, Corbit, Jeffries, Karo and others for the large class secured during the campaign. This class almost insures the holding of the state banner by this court, but in order to pass all competitors by a safe margin a friendly contest between the old and new members has been entered into for two weeks ending in another big initiation about June 1st. The side securing most new members will be banqueted by other side. Rate for membership during this contest will be examination fee of $1. Balthasar court now has over 250 members and it is expected to reach 300 members at the end of this contest.

Happiness comes as a result of making others happy. When you rise in the morning from a resolution to make the day a happy one to a fellow creature, says Sidney Smith. It is easily done—a let-off garment to the man who needs it, a kind word to the sorrowful, an encouraging expression to the striving. Trifles in themselves as light as air will do it, at least for the twenty-four, and if you are young, depend upon it, will tell it when you are old, and if you are old it will send you gently down the stream of life to eternity. By the most arithmetical sum, look at the result—you send one person, only one happily through the day; that is three hundred and sixty-five during the course of the year. And suppose you live only forty years after you commence that kind of medicine; you have made fourteen thousand six hundred beings happy, at all events for a time. Now, is not this simple? It is too short for a sermon, too homely for ethics, to early accomplished for you to say, "I would if I could."

Edwin Strong and his Players will play a special engagement of three nights and a matinee at the Opera House commencing Thursday, May 23, when they will present that beautiful drama, in four acts, "Our Teddy," depicting home life in Maine. Mr. Strong has surrounded himself with a company that is second to none now on the road, and much stronger than when they appeared here some time ago, while the plays presented will be entirely new. Mr. Strong and his company have just closed an engagement of seven weeks at the Lyric theatre, Sioux City, and bears the proud distinction of having broken the house record for the largest business ever done in that theatre. Let everybody turn out and give Mr. Strong a royal welcome next Thursday night.

HER CHOICE

Miss Lighthouse's Preference When It Came to a Question of Love.

"Maud," he began as he was preparing to leave her the other evening, "before I go I want to talk over a very serious matter with you."

"What is it, Bertram?" she asked. "It's about Ted," he went on. "You seem to take more enjoyment in this society of late than in mine."

"Why, you jealous fellow?" "I know I am, Maud, but I can't help it. I love you so. Lately I have noticed a great difference in you. You are not as affectionate, and I don't believe you miss me at all when I am away."

"Why, I—!" "You needn't try to deny it, Maud," he interrupted her, "for I know the truth. You don't miss me because you and Ted are always together. In fact, I believe you even hate to hear my ring now, as it may take you away from him for a few moments."

"You know that's not true, Bertram." "Then, Maud, I'll put it to the test right here and now, for I cannot let things go on as they have. You must choose between us. Who is it to be—your own loving Bertram or Ted?" "What?" she exclaimed. "Give up Ted? Never!"

"Very well, then," he bitterly said as he sighed and walked out into the hall and put on his hat and overcoat. "I'm not of a jealous disposition, and I'm called a fair minded man by my friends, but I'm not the sort of fellow to share a girl's affections with one of those confounded Teddy bears. Miss Lighthouse, farewell forever!"

And as he went out into the night and slammed the door after him she picked up the cause of all the trouble and buried her face in its wool and wept.—A. B. Lewis in Judge.

Old Sam had been for several days patiently sitting on the bank of the Rappahannock river, near the dam, holding his shotgun in his hand.

Finally he attracted the attention of a passerby, who asked, "Well, Uncle Sam, are you looking for something to do?"

"No, sah," answered Sam. "It's gettin' paid fo' what I's doin'."

"Indeed!" answered the stranger. "And what may that be?"

"Shootin' de muskrats dat am underminin' de dam," answered Sam.

"Well, there goes one now," exclaimed the stranger excitedly. "Why don't you shoot?"

"S'pose I wants to lose my job, sah?" answered Sam complacently.—Lippincott's Magazine.

Rev. C. N. Dawson of Stanton was in Wayne last Thursday shaking hands with friends.

There was considerable excitement near the Steele bridge at the creek yesterday afternoon, when a bull belonging to Gene Gildersleeve and which he was driving to town, sought a cool berth in the middle of the stream and refused to go further. Violent threats and demonstrations of force availed nothing for the animal continued in his state of enjoyment. When the owner tendered a dollar to anyone who could land the critter. Nick Eicher volunteered. Eicher waded into the water and grasped Mr. Bull by the horns, but only succeeding in getting it deep into the mud at the water's edge. Then a team, with the aid of a long rope, was required to pull the animal out of the mire and induce it to follow to the stock yards.

SOLD LIQUOR TO MINORS

Criminal Charges Filed Against Peter Thompsen, Harry Ramsey and Henry Hoffman

Another, and rather unexpected chapter has been opened in the local controversy over the saloon question in Wayne. Last week information was filed with County Attorney Wilbur, charging Harry Ramsey, Peter Thompsen and Henry Hoffman with selling liquor to minors. The complaining witness being A. P. Gossard. Warrants were issued Saturday for the parties and as all three were absent from town, Sheriff Mears set forth to scour the state in search of them. His clues as to their whereabouts were evidently reliable for he returned on the noon train from the west Monday, with the desired parties in custody. Thompsen was found at Wahoo, Neb., where he conducts a saloon, while Ramsey runs a similar joint at Johnson, in Nemaha county. Hoffman happened to be spending a few days with his friend Thompsen at Wahoo, when Sheriff Mears appeared on the scene. All three of the man pleasantly received the Sheriff's message and became agreeable companions in travel on his return. The warrants were issued by Judge Alter, and a day of hearing was set for Thursday May 30, when, it is very likely, the defendants will be bound over to the district court.

The selling of beer and whiskey to the minors in question, took place in what is known as the "middle saloon" in Wayne. The license for the place was issued to Harry Ramsey, who conducted the place less than two months, when he transferred his rights and privileges by virtue of the same to Peter Thompsen, who has acted in the capacity of manager of the place, altho he has been in Wayne but a small part of the time. Henry Hoffman has resided in Wayne and has filled the position of bartender all along.

We presume its a question, whether the owner of the license under which this saloon is operated, is alone guilty, or whether guilt attaches only to the party making the sale. In either event it seems that by the arrest of all three concerned it might be possible to punish somebody.

The particular instances of unlawful sale made to minors as recited in the warrants are as follows: April 22, 1907 to Leonard Gossard, Nov. 22 1906 to Ellwood Williams, March 30, 1907, to Roscoe Legan April 1, and May 4, 1907 to Vere Miller and Feb. 22, 1907 to Albert Wendell, all of whom, it is stated are minors.

O Ye Tears!

The president of one of the well known colleges tells this story of one of his professors of chemistry:

It seems that the professor and his wife had not agreed upon some domestic question, the professor asserting that his means would not warrant the expense involved. His wife had used all her powers of persuasion without avail and at last resorted to the final feminine expedient, a flood of tears. At this the professor picked up his hat, but paused to remark:

"You might save yourself the trouble of that, my dear. Your tears have absolutely no effect upon me. Why should they, being nothing but common water with a very small percentage of phosphorous salts and a trace of chloride of sodium?"—Harper's Weekly.

He Was the Whole Thing.

The overburdening egotism shown by Governor Sweeneyham of Jamaica the other day recalled to the mind of a naval officer the story of the commander of a ship whose ego was larger than his brain.

A seaman had died. The crew was lined up on deck, and the chaplain began reading the service for the dead.

"I am the resurrection and the life," he began.

"Back to your quarters," commanded the captain. "I want you to understand that on this ship I am the resurrection and the life."—New York Globe.

Still Cheerful.

"Blakesley's the most persistent optimist I ever knew. He slipped and fell in a mud puddle yesterday, and you never saw such a sight as he was when he got up."

"What did he say?" "He congratulated himself on the fact that it was so nice and soft where he had struck and expressed the opinion that if it had been hard he might have broken a bone or two."—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Wayne Herald

Entered at the postoffice at Wayne, Neb., as second class mail matter

Published By HERALD PRINTING COMPANY
J. W. Johnson, Editor and Business Mgr.
E. R. Lundberg, Local Editor.

Official paper of Wayne and Wayne county
Published Every Thursday

Subscription, $1.00 a Year In Advance

Norfolk is showing enterprise by organizing and establishing a Pickle and Vinegar Co., and last week advertisements in the papers told that they were ready to contract for the growing of cucumbers for this season's pickling. Its evident that if Norfolk can't have her heart's desire, a Union depot, she is ready to take up with any kind of an industry, even if it is a sour proposition.

Tom Dennison, a well known character with a unsavory record secured a verdict of $7,500 in a damage case for libel against the Omaha News. The cowboy mayor of Omaha, Jim Dahlman, gave his "O. K." to Dennison's character which had great weight with the jury, when he testified that Tom was as square a man as ever cut a deck or whirled a wheel.

The school children of Wayne are to take part in the exercises Memorial Day again this year, by following the old soldiers to the cemetery to help them decorate the graves of their comrades. What a world of meaning in the simple ceremony, and how it touches emotions that are sacred to the human heart. No scene appeals to our patriotic nature more than this. Holding proudly aloft the starry emblem that they so valiantly upheld in years of war while keeping step to familiar strains of martial music, these old, grey-headed veterans of the Sixties, lead the school children, who come laden with the flowers of springtime to be placed upon the little mounds that mark the resting place of our departed heroes. Every time the children go thru this simple form, in love and gratitude they renew in their hearts a vow to yield a willing service and their lives if need be, for their country's honor and defense. Its a beautiful custom and an effective means of instilling patriotism into the hearts of the rising generation—the Nation's hope, indeed.

Dr. Osler who reached for notoriety by saying a man's age of usefulness was passed at forty and suggesting that he should be chloroformed at sixty, has of late been deducting more sensible conclusions. His latest is that physicians and people in general are using too many drugs, and that it was all moonshine to contend that medicine could cure all diseases. A careful observer will agree with the doctor on this point. The amount of pills and liquid nostrums that some people continually dope themselves with is appalling. In many quarters a physician's erudition is measured by the number of concoctions and the frequency and size of doses he prescribes. On the other hand the habitual use of patent medicine in most instances is but a chronic habit, and truly as senseless a practice as tobacco using in all its disgusting forms. People who dose themselves morning, noon and night for ills in the almanac, would live longer and happier lives, if instead, they would swallow a few of the elementary principles of Christian Science. They might, at least, lift themselves into a decent respect for the laws of nature. Right thinking, aided by sunshine, pure water and fresh air, with regular exercise, will give a thrill to the circulation, and tint the complexion with the blush of roses, and make life a sweet song instead of a doeful dirge. While the doctors and apothecary shops want business, yet the world needs more of the gospel of right living to guide it to the priceless boon of health.

Board of Equalization.

Notice is hereby given that Board of County Commissioners, the County Assessor and the County Clerk will sit as a board of Equalization, commencing Tuesday June 11th, 1907, for the purpose of reviewing the Assessor's books and hearing any and all complaints regarding the assessment of property, both real and personal.

The Board will continue in session for not less than three days, and all complaints must be made at this time.

Dated at Wayne, Nebraska, this 15th day of May 1907.

County Clerk.

Alice Lee Takes a Hand

The By Dad man of our town,
Who runs the Temperance people down,
Who on Munson Sundaes seems to frown,
A thing he doesn't dare to do,
Is at present winning great renown;
But in just what line we dare not dwell,
Indications point toward, — you tell.
He must be getting very dry,
From the sound of that plaintive,
wailing cry
Which in last week's paper did appear
Too bad our Dad can't get his beer.
We can't blame the eddis for missing his sips,
We know his saloon ads brought in the tips.
Why, who in his place would do the same?
Any hypocritical snob of Wayne.
He in the church choir used to sing;
But it failed sweet-flavored tips to bring.
He is singing still, but a different tune,
Which won't last long, the crazy
lopn.
No telling how soon he'll ring off
on gin,
And flop back into the choir again,
His flip-flop ways may be quite sane,
But they don't look good to the people of Wayne.
The boozers we rejoice to admit
Have sobered up a little bit,
There is one who is sober without a doubt,
Or he couldn't have thrown all that red tape out.
If the money sent to Omaha
Will help enforce the Slocum law,
We have plenty back and some to spare,
To see saloons run fair and square
About Norfolk's money all we'll say
T'was surely spent the wrong way.
Stortz Brewing Co. don't think so,
Of course they don't
They set the dough.
The defeated candidates, says Dad
Are shooting it to saloonmen bad,
Doubtless the tipsy crew is sad
Since Munson Sundaes are the fad.

"There is a growing enthusiasm for agriculture as a means of 'livelihood,'" says an exchange. "The farmer has less trouble to keep his boys on the farm, and some day will have to figure how to keep the town boys off of it. The telephone and rural delivery gives farm dwellers even greater advantages than most people who live in cities, and these will increase as electric railroads place them practically in the suburbs. Each year shows that farm life is not only the healthiest and best, but is fast becoming the pleasant as well. There is less drudgery and more independence about it now than about almost any other calling."

How a Wily Suitor Becomes a Member of a Certain Family.

As the young man entered the old man looked up and scowled.

"Well?" said the old man shortly.

"Your daughter"—began the young man, but the old man cut him off abruptly.

"I've noticed that you've been hanging around here a good deal," he said. "I suppose that you've come to tell me that you love her and want to marry her?"

"No," replied the young man calmly.

"I've come to tell you that she loves me and wants to marry me."

"What?" roared the old man.

"She says so herself," persisted the young man.

"I never heard of such an exhibition of egotistical impertinence!" said the old man.

"Then you misunderstand me," explained the young man. "My assertion is dictated by policy and not by impertinence. You see, it's just this way. What I want is nothing to you. Now, is it?"

"Why—er—not exactly."

"I might want $1,000, but that wouldn't matter to you, would it?"

"Certainly not."

"You're under no obligation to supply me with what I want, are you?"

"Easily."

"Then what a foolish proposition it would be for me to come to you and say, 'Mr. Parkinson, I have been very favorably impressed with your house and furniture,' or 'I think I'd like your daughter,' or anything else in that line. But when your daughter wants anything it's different. Now, isn't it?"

"It certainly is different," admitted the old man cautiously.

"Precisely," said the young man. "She and I figured that all out very carefully last night. You see, I have no particular prospects, and we could both see that there wasn't one chance in a hundred that you would give her to me. Then she suggested that you had never yet refused anything that she wanted, no matter what the cost might be, and that perhaps it would be a good plan to change the usual order somewhat. We sort of felt that it wouldn't be right to ask you to do anything for me, but it's different in her case, as I remarked before."

"I'm here merely as her agent to say that she wants me and that she wants me very much and so ask you to please see that she gets me. She never has wanted anything so much as she wants me, and I am so favorably disposed toward her that, if you care to make the investment, I shall be quite willing to leave the terms entirely to you and her."

Naturally she got him. No wide awake business man is going to overlook a chance to get such a fine sample of nerve in the family.—Tit-Bits.

Speed Versus Capacity.

At a recent dinner given to the newsboys of a great city one of the gentlemen in charge of the feast noticed a "newsy" stowing away the food at a rate that boded ill for the immediate future of his digestive apparatus.

"Why do you eat so fast, sonny?" he inquired.

"So's I kin get a hull lot down 'fore I feel full," was the choked reply.—Lippincott's Magazine.

Once Was Enough.

"May I kiss you?" he asked.

"Yes, on the forehead," she answered.

"Nothing doing," he rejoined. "The last time I kissed a girl on the forehead I got a bang in the mouth."—Houston Post.

When Her Shoe Came Untied.

When her shoe came untied what could I do but stoop.

And fumble the strings till I'd fashioned a loop That would serve for a bow and then knotted it tight.

The while she was blushing, confused at her plight? Yet Cupid, the scamp, might his darts have shot wide Had I not thus stooped down when her shoe came untied.

For after the knot I'd adjusted, it seemed, Her eyes with a spirit of roguishness That knotted it tight.

And of course, being down on my knees, I well might ask something I long had deferred.

So I said a few words, and she something that sounded like "Yes"—when her shoe came untied!

—Roy Farrell Greene in Judge.

Don't Let Them Die

Life is too short for any person to waste time trying to raise chickens without chick feed. You will waste time and money if you buy chick feed that is not the right kind. Some merchants sell chick feed because they can buy it cheap and make a good profit, but such feed will not prove satisfactory to anyone raising chickens. We sell chick feed that we have tested for years and we know it will raise a larger percentage of chickens than any other kind. It costs you no more than other kinds. Why not have the best?

A Factory and Foundry Now Building on South Main Street

A new building is being erected this week on the old co-operative creamery site in the south part of Wayne on the banks of Logan river. When completed it will be used as a machine shop and foundry for the manufacturing of C. J. Rundell's patent scap and shovel grip. The demand for this simple invention of Mr. Rundell's has made it necessary to establish a factory. One Omaha hardware firm alone, has put out at wholesale an average of nine dozen a day since they commenced to handle them. J. C. Cocklin, who is an expert machinist, will superintend the factory. Big returns are promised Mr. Rundell on his patent and the value of this new industry to Wayne is equally as promising.

No admission was charged but a contribution was taken, the patrons responding liberally.

The people of Grace expressed themselves as highly pleased with the entertainment, and many requested that the contestants come again. The ladies are entitled to all the compliments they have received, and should feel much encouraged to exert even greater effort; for any honest effort in the cause of temperance is certainly commendable.

The class sermon will be given by Rev. Parker Smith at the Methodist church Sunday morning.

The pupils of Mrs. Jones' room received a quarter holiday last Friday, no one having been tardy for a month.

One of the swellest as well as one of the most unique of this season's entertainments was the junior party, given in honor of the senior class, at the home of Will Weber, last Friday evening. The house was beautifully decorated with flowers and the colors of the two classes. As the guests arrived each was given a program of the evening's fun. These were quickly filled out and the opening exercises, a five course dinner was begun. As the dinner was prepared by Mrs. Weber, description is unnecessary. It was "just fine," and for over an hour full justice was done to it. The other events then followed. Maria Kennick received the prize in the "shooting gallery," Carl Grothe in the "whistling contest," Hazel Weber and Harry Ringler in the "botany examination" and Weldon Crossland and the Misses

Let me mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative and my book on either Dyspepsia, the heart or the kidneys. Address me, Dr. Shoop, Ragine, Wis. Troubles of the stomach, heart and kidneys are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak stomach nerves—the inside nerves—means stomach weakness always. And the heart and kidneys as well have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy ever claims to treat the inside nerves. Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write for my free book now, Dr. Shoop's Restorative sold by Felber's Pharmacy.

Elwin Strong and His Players will play a special engagement of three nights at the Opera House, commencing Thursday, May 23, when the opening bill will be "Our Teddy." New plays and new specialties will be produced during the engagement.

Good Words for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

People everywhere take pleasure in testifying to the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mrs. Edward Phillips of Barclay, Md., writes: "I wish to tell you that I can recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. My little daughter Catherine, who is two years old, has been taking this remedy whenever she has had a cold since she was two months old. About a month ago I contracted a dreadful cold myself, but I took Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and was soon as well as ever." This remedy is for sale by Raymond's Drug Store.

Trust magistrates make it read: "In the sweat of thy brow shall I gather the best of the earth."

"I suffered habitually from constipation. Doan's Regulents relieved and strengthened the bowels, so that they have been regular ever since."—A. E. Davis, grocer, Surplus Springs, Tex.

Some men are so busy praising themselves for wanting to be good that they haven't time to go any further.

A story illustrating the many impossible requests made of telephone girls is told of a Pierce woman who was going out shopping for a few hours but her baby to sleep in it's carriage and taking down the receiver, placed it beside the sleeping child. She then notified central of the arrangement and asked if she would please sing to the child if it woke up and cried.

Normal Notes.

Prof. Buchanan gave a demonstration of wireless telegraphy at 1 o'clock Saturday meeting.

Rev. Howard Young, of Blue Springs, gave the students a pleasant talk Wednesday morning at Chapel exercises.

Mrs. Prince who lives near Winside came up Saturday and arranged for her daughter to attend next term.

Miss de Groot has accepted an invitation to give two piano solos at Emerson graduating exercises the 30th.

A nice new clock has been placed in the hall at the new building, being the gift of Jeweler Welch. Teachers and students express thanks for kindness.

Mr. Schneider of the Scientific class and assistant teacher in the commercial department, has been elected principal at Decatur to succeed Henry Raubach.

Several pastors visited College last week on their way to and from Randolph. Rev. Lawson of Winside, Rev. Goodell of Beemer, Rev. Vallow of Norfolk, Rev. Warren of Pilger were among the number.

Mr. Mack of the Teachers' class has been elected by the Y. M. C. A. as delegate to the students' conference at Lake Geneva in June. He has been chosen president of the association for the next school year.

Rev. Tyndall, presiding elder of the district, was entertained at the College Wednesday night. He led exercises at the Chapel Thursday morning and made a good talk to the students which was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

The young ladies organized this week an independent debating club. No men will be admitted to membership nor allowed to attend the exercises. Some wonder the subjects for discussion.

Miss Carroll has received a lot of dumb bells for use in her physical culture classes. She is getting most satisfactory results from all her classes taking physical culture and finds it necessary to have several divisions.

Several new students enrolled the past week. Miss Niblock re-entered to finish up her course. Walter Power came in and enters the Scientific course. Miss Bottolfson of Hartington and Mist Davis of Norfolk take up the review classes.

Miss Van Conett has accepted the position at Central City to take charge of the Normal Training in the High School. The salary offered on receipt of notice of election was advanced $15 per month before she would accept. She is a most successful teacher and will prove very strong for the work assigned her.

Contestants has been chosen for the Prize Contests on oration, debate and recitations for the close of the year. Members from each of the graduating classes are on the various programs. The literary societies have likewise selected their contestants. Strong programs will be given for a week.

The State Superintendent designated Miss Neihardt as representative of the department to conduct the examination of our students for county certificates. She had a large number writing on Friday and Saturday. He will send questions each month. This makes it convenient for all concerned.

Miss Blanch Wales went to her home in Brown county Saturday. She has been with us since last fall and her work and pleasant disposition has made everybody on the hill a warm friend. She is a great worker, a bright woman and always ready with a kind word and deed to encourage and help others. Such a character is appreciated.

It is a question whether the regular class work or the general work of the school is most productive of good for the student who completes a course of study. Both are necessary. The good coming from literary societies, socials, Saturday lectures, chapel talks, debating societies, dramatic clubs, Christian associations, etc. can hardly be estimated.

Dates for this week for graduating addresses are as follows: Miss Kingsbury at Pilger, Tuesday; Miss Chase at Battle Creek, Wednesday; and Decatur Friday; Miss Neihardt at Hoskins Friday and Prof. Saunty at Waterbury Friday. On account of measles in the Orchard school, the board has closed the schools. Prof. Buchanan was to go there Thursday.

Prof. C. G. Hutchins and wife visited the College Saturday afternoon and took supper with the family. They go to Clearwater next year. He is principal and she has the grammar room. They are excellent people and most successful people. He is a member of last year's Scientific while Mrs. Hutchins was of the Teachers'. Their influence will be lasting in any community for the good. She teaches at Magnet this year.

WEAK, WEARY WOMEN

Learn the Cause of Daily Woe and End Them

When the back aches and throbs. When housework is torture. When night brings no rest nor sleep. When urinary disorders set in. Women's lot is a weary one. There is a way to escape these woes.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure such ills. This is one Kansas woman's testimony.

Mrs. Melissa A. Love, of 211 Hendricks street, Fort Scott, Kan., says: "Last winter I had an attack of the grip, and it affected my kidneys so that I suffered for a long time afterwards with pain and lameness in the small of the back. I felt this trouble coming on all during the fall, and a cold I took was the final means of bringing it to a climax. If I swept the floor or exerted myself in any other way, I had to go and lie down, but the dull heavy aching would commence again as I got up and stirred around. My son urged me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and I got a box at T. W. Atkins' drug store, and began using them. I found such gratifying relief that I continued the treatment until the trouble had entirely disappeared. My experience certainly warrants me in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills to others."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

A spring poet up in Minnesota tears off the following: "The frisky lambs afield will race; and then against their mothers brace, and while they draw the lacted cheer their tails will stir the atmosphere. Ah, little lamb, enjoy your life, ere long you'll meet the butchers knife. The playful calf is full of glee and makes the cow moo anxiously. It soon will be subdued and quiet, enfeebled on a skim milk diet. Ah, little calf, your stomach soon will be swelled out like a young balloon. The bluejay scolds and chews the rag because the tardy spring days lag; the turkey gobbler's neck turns red; the hens are cackling in the shed, down by the creek the geese is found, she's laid an egg that weighs a pound. The crows are nesting in the woods, the rabbits are no longer good, the squirrel from the hollow tree, looks saucily down at you and me, but none of these knows what it means to fill up on a mess of greens."

Relief from Rheumatic Pains.

"I suffered with rheumatism for over two years," says Mr. Rolland Curry, a patrolman, of Key West, Fla. "Sometimes it settled in my knees and lamed me so I could hardly walk; at other times it would be in my feet and hands so I was incapacitated for duty. One night when I was in severe pain and lame from it my wife went to the drug store and came back with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I was rubbed with it and found the pain had nearly gone during the night. I kept on using it for a little more than two weeks and found that it drove the rheumatism away. I have not had any trouble from that disease for over three months." For sale by Raymond's Drug Store.

Here is something which a Missouri exchange thinks is worth a dollar to every farmer to know: Sprinkle lime in your tank and not a particle of scum will form on the water. When the lime loses its strength scum will begin to form, which may be twice a season. Then wash the tank and repeat the dose. It is cheap, not only harmless, but wholesome, keeps the water sweet and saves the live stock.

Soothes itching skin. Heals cuts or burns without a scar. Cures piles, eczema, salt rheum, any itching. Doan's Ointment. Your druggist sells it.

The wrong way

To select harness is the way it is usually done. Price is generally the first consideration. If that is very low the goods seem attractive, regardless of quality. Judge our goods the other way about. Examine into the quality of this harness first. Then it will be seen that it is worth almost any price. But our prices are not high. Value considered they are remarkably low.
