MURDERERS HIS BROTHER THEN KILLS HIMSELF

A Duel Tragedy Enacted Near Hoskins.—Motive Not Known.

Hoskins, Neb., May 27.—Henry Knies, a German-Russian farmer, living four miles north of Hoskins, today killed his brother, George Knies, and then turned the smoking revolver upon himself and inflicted wounds which caused his death this afternoon.

Motive for the double tragedy is a mystery. It is rumored that the two brothers had had trouble, but the widow of the murderer and suicide says her husband never told her of any old trouble between himself and the brother whom he killed today.

The tragedy occurred at the house of Henry Amends, a neighbor. George Knies followed with murderous intent. George Knies stood in the doorway of the Amends' home when the three bullets were pumped into him and he fell dead on the threshold when the second shot pierced his heart. The murderer then seized his slain brother by the feet and dragged him out upon the bare ground.

With one loaded shell still in his revolver, Henry turned the weapon upon himself and fired. Whether or not this bullet took effect is not known. Afterward he reloaded the gun and shot at himself four more times. He sent two bullets into his own body, one in the abdomen and one in the neck; the other three bullets, missed his body. Staggering with fatal wounds, the slayer fell within three feet of the brother he had killed.

Both men formerly lived in Norfolk on the George Williams farm southwest of the city. George Knies, the murdered man, lived in and around Norfolk for seven years. He was the elder. Henry Knies, who did the shooting lived at Norfolk three months.

Henry was induced to leave Norfolk and come to Hoskins by the brother whom he murdered today. Formerly both worked in packing houses at South Omaha. They lived on rented farms here about a half mile from each other.

It was early this morning that George Knies went to the farm of Henry Amends, in the neighborhood. Amends and George Knies jointly owned a bull, which the two men today took to the Amends farm. The animal, under terms of ownership, remained alternately three months at each farm. It had been at the George Knies farm and today was taken to the Amends farm to remain three months.

The two men went past the farm of Henry Knies. Henry was hauling hay in his barnyard. When he saw his brother and Amends pass the farm on the road, he immediately hitched his horses to a spring wagon and placed a club and a pitchfork in the wagon box and drove to the Amends farm. The pitchfork was one that Henry Knies had borrowed from Amends, so that he was returning it.

Apparently Amends knew something of the trouble that existed between the two brothers. He saw Henry approaching and told George to go indoors. George went in the doorway. Amends looked into the wagon and saw the pitchfork and club.

"You don't need to pack them off; I have something else that will fix him!" This was the remark of Henry Knies when Amends looked at the pitchfork. The man who was to murder his brother and kill himself a moment later seemed excited when he drove into the Amends farmyard.

Henry Knies got down from the wagon and walked toward his brother standing in the doorway. He went to within ten feet of the brother. Amends stood between the two men. Suddenly Henry drew a gun and began shooting. The first bullet whizzed by Amends, barely missing his head. This ball of lead struck George Knies. A second one closely followed, that also taking effect. These two bullets struck in the groin and the right leg. The wounded man doubled up with pain and turned slightly around.

Then came another bullet. It struck the victim in a glancing manner on the right side. Probably it pierced the heart of George Knies for instantly he fell over dead. He dropped backward into the house, his hat landing ten feet from the threshold.

The brother-killer advanced to the door, grabbed the feet of his dead victim and dragged the corpse out from the house into the bare yard. He dropped the body at a point four feet from the doorstep, seven feet from the house.

Three shots had been fired at the man who lay dead on the ground. One more loaded shell remained in the gun. The weapon's smoking muzzle was turned toward himself by Henry Knies and the trigger was sprung. Whether or not a wound was marked by this bullet, nobody knows. There was no witness to this shot.

But whether or no, Henry Knies reloaded his revolver and turned its nose once more upon his own body. The gun began rapidly spitting fire and lead. Four bullets plunged from the weapon's barrel. One of them sank into the abdomen; one dug into the neck, at the right side of the windpipe; three sped away into the air and did no harm.

The tragedian tried in vain to pump one more clump of metal into his own frame, but the bullet failed to discharge.

For a moment the wounded man stumbled about wildly, and then sank down mortally wounded, within three feet of the dead brother whose life he had just taken.

The dead body of George Knies was left lying in the spot where Henry had dragged it, to await the coroner's inquest at 3 o'clock. The wounded body of the murderer was carried to his home. He was at no time expected to live. He seemed only half conscious and made no statement.

The shooting occurred at 8:30 o'clock this morning; George Knies dying instantly; Henry died between 12 and 1 o'clock this afternoon.

The wife and children of Henry Amends were inside their home when the dual tragedy was enacted in the doorway.

It was difficult to get a story from Amends, witness to the shooting, who only speaks broken English. He went to the home of his brother-in-law, Peter Schwindt, and gave the alarm. Hoskins was immediately notified by telephone and Constable Kaulen and Dr. Schenel were the first Hoskins people at the scene of the tragedy.

George Knies leaves a widow and five children, the youngest of whom will be a year old July 8 and the oldest of whom is ten years.

Henry Knies leaves a widow but no children.

The parents of the two men, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Knies, live six miles north of Hoskins.

Henry Knies would have been thirty-three years old next Sunday. George Knies was five years older.

Sheriff Mears and Coroner J. J. Williams arrived from Wayne to hold an inquest at 3 o'clock. There was a rumor that Henry Knies had at one time been insane, but this was not verified.

It is said that the two brothers had some difficulty over hay which they raised jointly last fall, but there seems to be no evidence of any fresh trouble.

It was a 38-calibre revolver, Smith & Wesson, which claimed the two brothers' lives.—Norfolk News.

AN ADDRESS TO THE AMERICAN PEOPLE

Urging The Due Observance of Flag Day, June 14, 1907

June 14th will be the 131st anniversary of the birthday of the United States Flag.

When it is considered what it has cost to give birth to this Flag, what it has cost to maintain it and what it means to this Nation and to the world, there is no honor too great that should not be conferred upon it.

Our Flag was born in the throes of Liberty, wounded in the battles of Freedom and sanctified in the cause of Humanity.

It should be honored for all the Security it guarantees; all the Mercy it proclaims; all the Power it implies.

It is the Flag that has been ever raised in honor and never lowered in disgrace. It is the Flag that represents liberty of thought and religious right, and floats to-day, beautifully hovering in the breeze around her Cuban protege, a protectorate against 'man's inhumanity to man.'

The Flag that gracefully waves in the Orient, a respected monitor in the Celestial Empire, guiding the world in the solution of a Divine problem, remonstrating against avarice and admonishing against treachery.

It is the Flag that must not be disgraced as an advertisement of merchandise nor displayed for idle purpose.

It is sacred! It is sublime! Next to Holy Writ it should be our guide, standing for equality of man, and of woman to man. It is now the peacemaker between hitherto domestic foes. It is a guard against foreign interference. It forgives the past and points to the future, grandly, with more grandeur than our prevision can encompass. It is the Flag of our Re-union. The Flag of the New Possessions which providence has bestowed. So let the American People, with one hand on the casket of the Golden Rule and with the other saluting the emblem of our Liberty and Strength, do honor to our banner as it stands for loyalty between ourselves and the elevation of all mankind.

As the day dawns on June 14th let the morning breeze kiss the fluttering flag from EVERY house top, and as the school bell sounds the assembly hour let there be glad hearts among the children as it is made their festival day to sing praises to the Flag and to cheer it as it floats in the air above a token of their noble birth.

Every school should fittingly honor this day with special exercises as a day of rejoicing, adopting a program suitable to the occasion—

Prayer,
 Salute to the Flag,
 National Hymns,
 Addresses by Soldiers, Patriots,
 Flag Drills,
 Quotations from orations of the Flag,
 Ringing of Bells.

Every child waving a flag and possessing it for himself as a treasure to be admired and revered. There are no school children too young to love the Flag, none too old to be ashamed of it. Patriotism is a sentiment—an emotion, capable of being cultivated to a high degree by inspiration. It is not an incentive to military action with a tendency to war, rather a promoter of peace, and no nobler sentiment can be created than love for the Flag, which is the mantle of Columbia standing in the foreground beckoning to the oppressed of all mankind to come under the folds of the Robe of Love, there to dwell in harmony and security in this land of Peace, the Canaan where the wanderer may rest, the oppressed find relief and all be the equal of his fellow-man.

ALLEN C. BAKEWELL,
 Aide to Commander, Chief G. A. R.
 BRAD P. COOK,

Pure White Lead is the Natural Paint Pigment

Numerous compounds are being offered to take the place of white lead as a paint, but no real substitute for it has yet been found. Pure White Lead has a peculiar property of amalgamating with the wood upon which it is used—added to this it has an elasticity which permits the paint to follow the natural expansion and contraction of the wood. Pure White Lead alone fulfills all the requirements of the ideal paint.

Red Seal Pure White Lead

is White Lead with its full natural tenacity and elasticity unimpaired by adulterants. Every keg of it bears the Dutch Boy trade mark, which is a positive guarantee of absolutely Pure White Lead made by the Old Dutch Process.

TO PROFESSOR MATTHEWS.

Wordman, spare the word
Or start an awful row!
In youth its sound, I heard,
And I'll protect it now!
It was my father's switch
When I was but a tot
That made my spelling sitch;
Thy pen shall harm it not!

That old familiar word,
Whose glory and renown
O'er land and sea, were heard—
And wouldst thou back it down?
Wordman, forbear to stun;
Cut not its hidebound ties.
Oh, spare that aged one
Now yelping to the skies!

When but an idle boy
I sought its grateful aid:
In all their gushing joy
Here, too, my sisters stayed.
My mother spelled it so:
So father did demand.
Forgive this foolish word,
But let that old word stand.

My heartstrings round thee cling;
Strong is thy spell, old friend.
Thy shall not do a thing
To clip thy old tail end.
Old word, the storm still brave!
And, wordman, leave the spot!
While I've a word to save,
Thy pen shall harm it not!

We Are Not Guilty

Of misrepresenting goods. There are some merchants who will resort to all kinds of schemes in order to make a sale. They will misrepresent their goods, both material and workmanship, and seem only to think of the profit which they make. Our policy is to sell goods for just what they are, give you the best goods made for the money, and have satisfied customers, rather than make a few cents more profit by selling inferior goods. Honesty in advertising implies honesty in merchandising, and in offering you choice pickings from a stock of KUPPENHEIMER suits, we know we are giving you an opportunity to buy the BEST ready to wear clothing on the market, and when you look over these suit offerings you know beyond the shadow of a doubt that the values we are giving cannot be duplicated in the city.

When buying a suit you have in mind at least three requirements that the garment must fulfill in order to meet your demands. It must possess good style, must be of good material, and must be well made. All these at a fixed price. The suit must satisfy you, must please you to the utmost, whether it be $10.00 or $25.00.

You may or may not be a competent judge of these qualities, but in either event you are dependent in a greater or less degree as the case may be, upon the merchant from whom you buy. It is our business to know clothes, to know them in every detail, for understand, our selections mean the investment of thousands of dollars by us, and we must devote just that much more care and thought to our purchasing. We have access to practically every line of fine clothing that is worthy of consideration, we investigate and compare them all, and when we buy the Kuppenheimer clothes in our judgment (and we ought to know) it is the best in the market.

We shall be pleased, indeed, to have you call and try on any suit you may wish to see, and in justice to yourself you cannot afford to make your purchase of your spring suit without first seeing the spring season's styles we have to show you, and shown by a merchant who WILL NOT misrepresent his goods.

GROOM PUT UP $20 FOR MARRIAGE PAPER

Friends Put Up Job on Nebraska Youth, But He Was 'Game' to Finish

August Erleben, a young farmer of Wayne, Neb., about to get married was dead game to the last minute. He would have paid $20 for a marriage license, and showed his willingness to do, if it was required. Friends of Erleben, upon learning that he was going to marry Miss Lillie Bodenstedt, also of Wayne, plotted a joke for him when he went to apply for his license. They secured the co-operation of the county clerk and waited for the victim to arrive.

When Erleben came to the clerk's office and had secured the license, he asked about the charges. "Twenty dollars," said Deputy Clerk Frank Tripp. "Since when?" inquired the dumfounded groom.

It was explained the charge had recently been raised. "Well, there's your $20, I won't back out this late in the game." Some time later, Erleben was given back his change. He and Miss Bodenstedt were married by Justice Naglestad yesterday afternoon.—Sioux City Tribune.

The Coroner's Inquest.

Dr. Williams, coroner, accompanied by Sheriff Mears and County Attorney Wilbur, drove to Hoskins Monday, as soon as the news of the killing of George Kneis by his brother and the latter's suicide, reached Wayne. Late in the afternoon a coroner's jury was secured in the persons of Wm. Weatherholt, Frank Berser, Peter Kautz, August Reinlou, L. Ziemer and D. E. Nellor. According to the Norfolk News the evidence was as follows:

There had been trouble between the two families living on the adjacent farms, that was shown early in the evidence. Trouble over hay land, trouble over a horse cut in a wire fence, trouble over a dog fight and perhaps more serious trouble between the wives of the brothers, was mentioned during the afternoon. None, however spoke of recent differences or of the sudden decision that took Henry from his hayfield to slay his brother in cold blood and to inflict a murderer's punishment upon himself. The widow of Henry on the witness stand told nothing new of the tragedy and would not admit noticing anything unusual in her husband's earlier acts of the morning.

Believes Children Have Taste.

One Boston matron who has theories of child culture undreamed of by early New England says it is a great mistake to dress children on uniform lines, but that they should be consulted as to what they wish to wear and to exercise their own taste in dress. The Boston woman adds: "The thoughtful child of today appreciates what is good form in dress and other things, and when a little girl gets to be half a dozen summers or so her preferences should be taken into consideration. It is a mistake for reproving elders to frown upon any little fancy which does not coincide with their own ideas." She further remarks that, given an idea, many of these geniuses of the nursery go ahead and improve upon it with a cleverness that would put many dress-makers to the blush.

ROOM FURNISHINGS.

They Should Be Simple, Durable, Sanitary and Artistic.

Do not act on the supposition that everything old is beautiful. "Your grandfather's taste may have been worse than yours," observes an expert. Do not buy many things. Do not make a museum of your house.

The furnishings should be adapted to the use to which the family wishes to put them. The life for which the white and gold chair was designed is elaborately and distantly formal. Conventionality and ceremony, rather than cozy comfort are suggested by the white and gold room. The use of the room and the purpose of the articles should be kept in mind in the selection of furnishings.

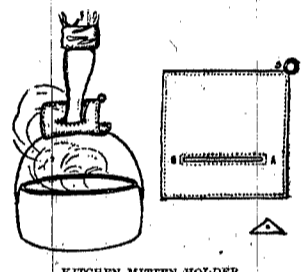

Furnishings should be simple, durable, sanitary and artistic. Color is one of the most important elements in the selection of furnishings. Do we realize that the indefinable difference between the restful room and the inharmonious room is largely a matter of color? A room requires its color to be in unison if it is to soothe and rest.

Frequently the householder may recall Morris' words, "I have nothing in your homes that you do not know to be useful or believe to be beautiful." And those from Henderson: "One must surround oneself with wholesomeness and beauty. This parallelism between consciousness and nature makes this insistence upon convenience of arrangement and respect for form and color more than a mere matter of taste. It makes it a matter of moral obligation. A man's surroundings are not accidental. They are a part of himself and must likewise be chastened and purified. An ugly room, badly lighted, poorly ventilated, inadequately heated, must be regarded as morally reprehensible, whether provided for oneself or for somebody else. It is the projection of an evil thought and, entering into consciousness, lowers the level of human life."—Boston Traveler.

The Simple Bedroom.

A simple bedroom is most desirable and the most comfortable. Large closets are a great convenience. Under one of the windows a box can be built in which shirt waists may be kept and also serve as a seat. Mirrors may be set into the wall, framed to match the woodwork. If the walls are in good condition it is better to have them painted a delicate tint, though it gives a room a cold appearance. Nothing, however, is as sanitary or economical. If the walls are painted, the hangings and furniture coverings should be figured. If flowered or figured paper is used, then the material for draperies and coverings should be plain. In some bedrooms both wall paper and hangings are of the same design. The floors, of course, should be of hard wood or be painted. It is possible then by removing the rugs and wiping up the floor with a damp cloth occasionally to keep the room free from dust. The rag rugs now so popular are desirable for bedrooms, for they can be washed without much trouble.—New York Post.

Wayne was treated to a return engagement of Elwin Strong and his Playors last week. The friends and admirers of the talented actor, showed their appreciation by turning out in goodly number to hear him and his excellent company. His casts have been much improved since his last visit to Wayne, and we have no hesitancy in saying that his aggregation of players outrank in ability any theatre company that has held the board in Wayne for years. Mr. Strong certainly has a promising future before him, and the great success he has achieved is a source of pride to his Wayne friends.

Dr. Eells, the dentist, has located him self over the First National bank in the office rooms heretofore occupied by Dr. Cosner. Last week the latter made a sale of his dental establishment to Dr. Schaft, who in turn made an assignment of the same to Dr. Eells. A new man by the name of Green is to go into possession of Dentist Eells former office quarters over the State Bank, of Wayne. These changes in business affairs means that we are liable to lose Dr. Cosner. He informs us he will not take up dental work again for some time and for the present is not determined just where he will reside.

A chilly morning with threatening rain seemed to have but little effect on the attendance at the union memorial services held at the opera house Sunday. The building was comfortably filled. A chorus of some twenty voices under direction of Prof. Davies gave several selections, while Mrs. Moler rendered a solo in a very pleasing manner. Rev. Chas Herron preached the sermon. Sedow has a Wayne audience been honored with a more scholarly address. It greatly pleased the old soldiers and was highly instructive to everybody. In a most logical manner the speaker traced slavery from its inception in our government, into the constitution, then its development as a cancerous growth in the nation's life, and how the question was finally settled in a clash of arms. He paid a beautiful tribute to the victors but had kind words for the vanquished as well. There was not a sentiment in the entire discourse that could offend, but rather, all was eulogistic to the people of a mighty nation, whose history is filled with illustrious deeds of worthy heroes.

THE LITTLE WOMAN.

Exercise and Tricks of Dress That Will Make Her Seem Taller.

The woman who wants to seem taller must see how slender she can be. The thinner she is the taller she will look, other things being equal. But there are things she must do.

These are the things to be learned: First, to hold up your head; second, to dress in long skirts, and, third, to dress your neck longer and wear the hair as high as possible. You must wear your gowns broader on the shoulders and must dress wider, so to speak. Little women make a mistake if they wear tight fitting shoulders and long, thin sleeves. They only make themselves look thinner.

The following is a good exercise to practice: Lift the arms. Then stoop and rest on the right knee. Rising, reverse the motion and rest on the other knee. Then run down the room, jumping from foot to foot. Then come back, still jumping and this time lifting the feet as though you were skipping. The final movement is to toss the arms upward and bend backward.

There is a reason for all things, and the reason why these exercises make the little woman taller is that they make her supple. She grows much more limber, and if you are limber you will seem to be taller than you really are. The little woman who can skip about if necessary is much taller in appearance than the little stiff woman who cannot jump about to save her life and must walk as though she were in a vise.

PERFUMED CAPS.

Dainty Method of Imparting a Faint Scent to the Hair.

For the woman who enjoys delicate scents the most bewitching cap has been invented. It is made of either pink or blue tulle and lined with soft white silk. It is gathered up like the caps of our great-grandmothers, leaving a charming little ruffle at the edge, from which a curl or two may legitimately escape.

The cap is softly wadded and perfumed. One night's sleep in the pretty affair leaves your hair delightfully scented for days, or it may be worn for a short time in the afternoon before going out for a dance in the evening, and the hair will be sufficiently perfumed.

The hair has the quality of retaining any odor, pleasant or unpleasant, for a very long time. That is why the housekeeper is urged so strongly to cover her locks with the rubber cap when trying buckwheat cakes.

Liquid perfume should always be used in an atomizer. It will then be scattered in the minutest quantities and will reach those near you in what poets are pleased to call "faint, indefinable waftings." If you place your handkerchief at the top of the bottle and swish the contents against the fabric, you will waft anything but an "indefinable" perfume. Atomizers are to be had in all sorts of charming designs, both expensive and inexpensive. —Chicago News.

THE HOME DOCTOR.

Goose oil persistently applied for a few weeks will loosen stiff joints.

Celery tops and roots steeped in hot water makes an excellent tea to be taken by nervous persons.

Olive oil mixed with quinine and rubbed on the back and chest prevents cold settling on the lungs.

The moment pimples and cold sores appear on the face take a dose of citrate of magnesia, which will cool the blood and put the system in better condition.

As soon as a cold sore appears wet the spot with camphor and cover with powdered sublimate of bismuth. Camphor by itself will also lessen the inflammation.

Certain kinds of toothache can be relieved by painting the gums with a solution of one-half tincture and one-half glycerin. If there is a cavity in the tooth, saturate a small piece of absorbent cotton in oil of cloves, tincture of myrrh or lutanum and place it in the cavity.

Shirt Waist Boxes.

Very frequently shirt waist boxes may be bought at reduced prices in the shops, owing perhaps to the coverings, which do not always suit the taste of the purchaser or harmonize in tone with the furnishings of the room for which they are desired. These boxes are very useful not only for shirt waists, but for children's short clothes and shoes, and are often used for patch boxes. They can be easily upholstered and made more fanciful with little trouble. One seen recently had a box plated bounce or valance around the box of a dainty patterned cretonne, and the lid was covered smoothly with the same. The inner lining was of self colored chintz corresponding with the dominant shade in the cretonne. Sometimes rollers or casters are used to give more height to the box when it is to be used as a seat. In this capacity it is well to stuff the lid with hair or cotton, and the edges may be finished with a narrow furniture gimp.

Handkerchiefs.

To keep handkerchiefs a good color, instead of damping them in the usual way before ironing, proceed as follows: Put two quarts of tepid water, with five drops of blue and a small piece of lump starch, into a basin, and into this mixture dip each handkerchief separately, thoroughly wetting it, then squeezing it as dry as possible. When all the handkerchiefs have been treated in this way spread them out smoothly on a clean cloth or towel until they can be ironed.

CLUBS AND SOCIETY.

The members of the Baptist church choir held a practice Thursday night that was merged into quite a surprise for their director, Prof. Davies, before the evening was over. At the conclusion of the practice hour, the pastor purposely detained the Prof. while the choir members hastened to the Davies home and took possession. With Mrs. Davies in their plans all gathered in the parlor and in darkness awaited the coming of their music director. The surprise was complete for just as Mr. Davies stepped into the room the electric lights were turned on. It proved a happy event in a social way, with several music numbers as a part of the entertainment. The uninvited guests had provided a supply of ice cream and cake, which was served about 10:30. A picture of Handel, the composer, was left the Professor as a token of esteem and remembrance.

Tuesday evening, May 28, occurred the social event of the season, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ley. A number of their friends knowing the day to be the thirty-first anniversary of their marriage, decided on a surprise for them in honor of the event. Invitations were sent out to a large number of friends to which more than eighty responded. All were invited to appear in their wedding suits and gowns, if possible. A dozen or more of beautiful dresses greatly added to the attractiveness of the occasion. Miss Hattie Shultheis presided at the punch bowl and was assisted in the serving by the Misses Marjorie Kohl and Goldie Chace. For once Mrs. Ley's friends got the best of her. Early in the afternoon the unsuspecting lady was invited to the Lew Owen home for six o'clock dinner. As soon as the coast was clear the ladies in the plan took possession of the Ley home, and things were arranged for entertaining their friends. The evening was given over to cards. Mrs. McNeal winning the ladies prize in the form of a large vase, while Mr. Harry Fisher received the gentleman's prize in the way of a book. Elegant refreshments were served.

As a little token of friendship and remembrance the assembled guests presented Mr. and Mrs. Ley with a beautiful piece of furniture in the form of a hall seat and hat rack. The evening proved a most enjoyable one and all departed with wishes for many returning anniversaries for the worthy people, and as many happy surprises as well.

The Wayne friends of H. L. Kimball have received announcements of his coming marriage to a Miss Fairchild, of Wisconsin. Mr. Kimball is now a prosperous Spokane, Wash., lawyer, but who formerly resided in Wayne.

The Shakespear Club closed their year's work with a club banquet at the home of Miss Virginia Cunningham, Tuesday evening. The dining table was artistically decorated with ferns and carnations, they being a gift, from Miss Beuschman to the club. The place cards were beautifully hand painted, tied in club colors—lavender and white, the work of Miss Stocking. Early in the evening Mrs. Phillips on behalf of the club, presented a souvenir spoon as a token of remembrance to Miss Olmstead, who leaves Wayne this year to attend Overland College where she will study music. After a three course supper a jolly social time occupied the evening hours. The Shakespearians adjourned for this year with a happy remembrance of the past.

Cards are to be sent out this week announcing the marriage of Miss Hattie Weber to Mr. Arthur Darnell for June 19, 1907. The bride to be, is the talented daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Weber, of Wayne, while the fortunate young man is a prosperous clothing dealer of Winterset, Iowa.

Those who visited Miss Mae Cunningham's room Wednesday say they were highly entertained, and that the little folks did themselves proud in the Cantata, "Jack and The Bean Stalk." Herschel Thomas, Gladys Goldie, Mary O'Niell, and others starting in some of the principle parts made their parents and teacher glad while receiving many complements for their selves. An entertainment was given by Miss Manning on the same afternoon intitled "Dance

Britt Tribune: A school boy assigned to prepare an essay on "Ducks" wrote: The duck is a low heavy set bird composed mostly of meat and feathers. He is a mighty poor singer, having a hoarse voice, caused by getting so many frogs in his neck. He likes the water and carries a toy baloon in his stomach to keep from sinking. The duck has only two legs, and they are set so far back on his running gear by nature that they came near missing his body. Some ducks when they get big have curls on their tails and are called drakes. They dont have to sit or hatch but just loaf, go swimming and eat. If I was a duck I'd sooner be a drake every time.

Frank Gildersleeve and Miss Alice Kate were pleasant visitors at the high school room last Tuesday. We are always glad to have our old fellow-students visit us.

Wednesday afternoon each of the lower rooms of the High school gave programs. These were well attended by the parents and friends of the pupils. Miss Cunningham's pupils dramatized "Jack and The Beanstalk."

Miss Stocking's pupils have just completed a doll house built entirely out of paper. It is prettily furnished with mats and rugs which the pupils have woven. It is now on exhibition in the window of Neely & Craven's hardware.

Last evening Mrs. E. B. Philleo very pleasantly entertained the juniors and Seniors. Dainty refreshments were served and after a few hours of fun the jolly party left vowing that Mrs Philleo could not be excelled as a hostess.

Troubles of the stomach, heart and kidneys are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak stomach nerves—the inside nerves—means stomach weakness always. And the heart and kidneys as well have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy ever claims to treat the inside nerves. Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Life is too short for any person to waste time trying to raise chickens without chick feed. You will waste time and money if you buy chick feed that is not the right kind. Some merchants sell chick feed because they can buy it cheap and make a good profit, but such feed will not prove satisfactory to anyone raising chickens. We sell chick feed that we have tested for years and we know it will raise a larger percentage of chickens than any other kind. It costs you no more than other kinds. Why not have the best?

(From the Headlight)

C. W. Anderson went to Omaha Sunday, returning Monday evening.

Frank Cedestrom was up from Wayne and spent Sunday at the Swanson home just south of town.

C. W. Anderson is moving his implements into his own building on the corner west of the drug store.

Mrs. Baker was up from Wayne Saturday and got her daughter, Gertrude, who was released from quarantine.

Fred Remender of Wayne and Dan Nicholson of Madison were here on Monday looking over land in this neighborhood.

H. Magdanz and wife and Wm. Praul and wife from Pierce spent Sunday at the Fred Schroeder home north of town.

Robert Schlack and family accompanied by the former's sister and brother came down from Battle Creek and visited over Sunday with their sister, Mrs. Carl Buss.

We asked a fellow at the depot the other day where he was going and he said he was leaving the town for good, but neglected to state whether for his own good or for the good of the town.

Mrs. Henry Green celebrated her 37th birthday Sunday evening. A large number of neighbors and friends gathered and the young people were given the use of the floor to trip the light fantastic. All report a good time.

Tuesday forenoon Aug. Ruhlow had occasion to make a business trip to the home of Peter Brummels and while there engaged in conversation with that gentleman, a dog sneaked up behind him and nipped at his side out of the calf of one of the worthy marshal's legs. Although the wound was a painful one, no serious results are anticipated from it.

Harry Ziemer arrived home from Wolsey, S. D., Saturday, where he had been principal of the schools during the past year. He closed his term Friday and every one of the patrons of his school were unanimous in their praises of Harry's work there. He will attend the summer Normal at Wayne, so as to be still better fitted for the work another year.

On last Thursday morning George Weatherholt got up and upon going to the barn found that one of his horses was gone. The night before he had left the door open, so that the animal had only strayed away. Since then he has scoured the country in every direction but can find no trace of the animal. No one has seen anything of the animal and the only conclusion is that some one must have helped themselves to a horse.

An important business change we neglected last week was the change of officers in the Hoskins State Bank. Ernest Behmer, Sr., the vice-president, retired from that position and E. O. Behmer, his son, was elected to take this place. Wm. Behmer was also elected as a member of the board of directors. This institution is a good, safe and sound banking house young, but good level-headed young farmers, adds materially to its future.

The editor and Peter Brummels were down to West Point this week in attendance of the big criminal libel suit of E. M. Von Seggern, editor of the Nebraska Volksblatt. The case was bitterly contested and among the best legal talent of the state were retained by the parties interested. A. R. Davis of Wayne and F. D. Hunker and J. C. Elliot of West Point appeared for the defense while the county attorney was assisted in the prosecution by Andy Oleson of Wisner and Mr. Stout of Omaha. Every step of the way was bitterly contested by both sides, but the evidence, which was principally given by Charles Harding himself, convinced twelve jurors that the newspapers of Nebraska had simply fulfilled their mission calling attention to the questionable features of such concerns. Later we will publish the evidence as given by all witnesses. All that we have to regret is that Cuming county has to pay the freight, which will be in the neighborhood of $300.

THE DROUTH BROKEN

Judge Welch's Decision Permits The Opening of One Saloon

The matter of the application of Peter Thompson for a liquor license came on for review in the District court before Judge Welch Saturday morning. The same lawyers that handled the case before the city council presented the arguments Saturday. Attorney Elmer E. Thomas, of Omaha, appeared for the remonstrators, while Atty. Fritcher, also of Omaha, appeared in behalf of the applicant for license. The case occupied the court a good share of the day, when the same was taken under advisement. On Monday Judge Welch handed down a decision that permitted the city council to issue license to applicant in accordance with its decision in the matter.

There appears a spirit in several quarters to criticize Judge Welch for his opinion, but a careful investigation reveals no grounds for complaint. The case was taken into the district court on an appeal, and on such procedure the review court is restricted to the evidence in the records alone. On a hearing of a remonstrance before the council the statute makes the following provision:

"The testimony on said hearing shall be reduced to writing and filed in the office of application, and if any party feels himself aggrieved by the decision in said case he may appeal therefrom to the district court, and said testimony shall be transmitted to said district court and such appeal shall be decided by the judge of such court upon said evidence ALONE."

The testimony carried into the district court was very meager. In fact all that might strengthen the case of the remonstrators was excluded by the rulings of city attorney Berry at the hearing before the council.

Had the remonstrators carried their case up on error, the correctness of the rulings on the evidence by the council would have been put in question, and there is little doubt but that the case would have been referred back to the council for re-hearing.

The supreme court holds that an appeal is not a proceeding in error, but that an appeal requires a decision upon the merits of the case and that error was waived by taking an appeal from the decision of the city council to the district court. The appeal in this case required a decision upon the merits, as shown by the evidence in the record, and was not a proceeding to review errors made by the council on the hearing of the remonstrance.

Automobile Proposal.
The big green automobile sped down the frosty road. Above the noisy "chug-chug" of the machine he had proposed and had been refused by the girl.

"Life is not worth living," he sighed. "My heart is punctured." The beautiful girl smiled.

"Thank goodness!" she exclaimed in great relief.
"Thank goodness for what?"
"That it is your heart that is punctured and not a tire. We are twenty miles from a repair station."

Without a word he put on full speed and ran over a pig and two cows just to let his feelings out.—Chicago Daily News.

Turkey Talk.
"My dear," remarked Mr. Grouch, "this turkey is unusually tough. May I ask where you got it?"

"Certainly," returned Mrs. Grouch sweetly. "I purchased it at a stationery store. Do you suppose I got it from the butcher shop?"

"No, indeed," replied Mr. Grouch, jabbing the carving knife into the hard flesh of the bird. "I have been under the impression for the last ten minutes that you procured it from a hardware store."—Woman's Home Companion.

Wanted—Three salesmen for our new county, township and railroad surveys of Nebraska. The surveys are a splendid compilation of facts, figures and drawings, and of wonderful value. Counties and towns are fully indexed and populations of each are given; railroads plainly shown and distances between all stations also shown; congressional districts outlined, numbered and populations given. Other features too numerous to mention. A splendid opportunity for energetic men.

Mrs. Pile, Prof. Sauntry, Miss Chase and Miss Neihardt report enjoyable trips for their graduating addresses last Friday. All were detained by rain.

The piano tuner, Mr. Beels, spent Friday afternoon and Saturday at work on the eight pianos. The constant use six days in the week makes tuning about each three months necessary.

One of Laurel's bright young men Mr. F. J. Spencer, goes to Hendley as assistant cashier of the bank. He has been bookkeeper in a Laurel bank for some time. He was an excellent student here a few years ago.

Fred Pile returned from his vacation Friday. He was away four weeks and comes back in good shape for his work. He spent two weeks with friends in Maine at Colby College and stopped in Ohio to see relatives.

Prof. Pile goes to Schuyler tomorrow to deliver the graduating address and returns by West Point, where he will address the school boards. Next week, Friday he goes to Newman Grove to give the commencement address.

Mr. Theo. Halla of '05 Teachers' class and of this year's Scientific has been elected principal at Elba, Neb. He is an earnest worker not only in the class work but in general work as literary societies, socials and Christian associations.

A program from North Western Medical College, Chicago, is received from Mike Hofer. He graduates near the head of a large class. He graduated here in 1903 from the Teachers' course and at once entered the medical college.

The young men of the base ball club will give a play in the Chapel Saturday evening to raise expense money for the team. A good time is assured and the boys hope to have a full house. The manager expects to have some good games during the summer term.

G. W. Husted of '94 Teachers' writes the president a long and interesting letter from Grey Bull, Wyoming. He hopes to visit Wayne some time in the near future. As a teacher, he made many friends about Wayne. He has quit school work and does not expect to take it up again.

The ball game last week between the High school and Normal team was interesting and was won by the Normalites by a score of 5 to 4. Messrs. Lundak and Leinhart who are out of school this term will return for the summer and the team will be strengthened. Both are strong players.

A committee of the Y. W. C. A. managed a pleasant social for the students Saturday evening. Some new games were introduced and all enjoyed the evening. This is the last social of the term. The ball team play June 1 and the contest June 8 fills out the term's entertainments. Many good things are planned for next term.

Supt. Sherman of Columbus gave two 45-minute period talks and a 15-minute chapel talk to students last Wednesday and Thursday. His talks were practical, helpful and thoroughly enjoyed by every student. He enjoyed visiting the classes and found the work fully up to the standard of other schools visited.

WHAT THE KIDNEYS DO

Their Unceasing Work Keeps Us Strong and Healthy.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily, when unhealthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gout, gravel, disorders of the vesical and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, dropsy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right you will have no trouble with your kidneys.

Mrs. Nellie May, of 308 Pennsylvania ave., Joplin, Mo., says: "I know from my own experience that Doan's Kidney Pills are a reliable kidney remedy. I was bothered for six or eight weeks with a constant dull heavy aching in the small of my back. I was tired all the time, lacked ambition and in the morning always felt worse. Having reason to believe that these symptoms were caused from the kidneys I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills. They proved to be the very remedy I required, an under the treatment the backache, languor and other symptoms disappeared."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Sympathy makes no claim to being a cure-all, but its soothing helps many sores to heal.

Relief from Rheumatic Pains.

"I suffered with rheumatism for over two years," says Mr. Rolland Curry, a patrolman, of Key West, Fla. "Sometimes it settled in my knees and lamed me so I could hardly walk, at other times it would be in my feet and hands so I was incapacitated for duty. One night when I was in severe pain and lame from it my wife went to the drug store and came back with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I was rubbed with it and found the pain had nearly gone during the night. I kept on using it for a little more than two weeks and found that it drove the rheumatism away. I have not had any trouble from that disease for over three months." For sale by Raymond's Drug Store.

What is Catarrh?

Catarrh is an inflammation of the mucous membrane of the nose, throat and lungs, with many annoying symptoms. In this climate there are few who do not suffer from this disagreeable disease, often in a chronic and dangerous state.

The one scientific and commonsense treatment is Hyomei, a combination of healing and germ-killing balsams which is breathed through a special inhaler that comes with every outfit.

A complete Hyomei, outfit costs but $1, and E. J. Raymond will give his personal guarantee with every package that money will be refunded unless the treatment cures.

Politicians are pretty much alike, only label themselves differently.

Good Words for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

People everywhere take pleasure in testifying to the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mrs. Edward Phillips of Barclay, Md., writes: "I wish to tell you that I can recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. My little daughter Catherine, who is two years old, has been taking this remedy whenever she has had a cold since she was two months old. About a month ago I contracted a dreadful cold myself, but I took Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and was soon as well as ever." This remedy is for sale by Raymond's Drug Store.

The wrong way to select harness is the way it is usually done. Price is generally the first consideration. If that is very low the goods seem attractive, regardless of quality. Judge our goods the other way about. Examine into the quality of this harness first. Then it will be seen that it is worth almost any price. But our prices are not high. Value considered they are remarkably low.
