THE ELECTRICAL HOME

Calendar of Weekly Events in the Wonderful Electric Home of J. E. Davidson, Montpelier, Vt.

It is astonishing how much our daily comfort depends upon electricity. It is such a faithful slave to our convenience that we use it dozens of times a day and do not give it a thought. Electricity has come to such a prominent position in our everyday life that we think we could not live without it, although our forefathers struggled along for centuries with candles, wood fires and hand power.

The weekly calendar of events in the electric home of Mr. J. E. Davidson, Montpelier, Vt., which is fully equipped with the standard General Electric household devices, best illustrates the various uses to which electricity can be put today. Life in the electrical home can be arranged as follows:

Sunday:— Breakfast prepared on the electric stove with the electric kitchen utensils. The men of the house use the electric shaving mug, and the family boots are polished on the electric shoe shining apparatus. The chill is taken from the rooms with the electrical luminous radiators. A newsboy rings the electric door bell and announces the Sunday paper (which was printed on electric motor driven presses.) The electrically prepared dinner is served and for dessert ice cream has been made in the motor driven freezer. After dinner cigars are lighted on an electric cigar lighter, and the family takes a ride in an electric automobile. After church an electrically cooked lunch is served, and later in the evening, after the electric lights are ablaze, corn is popped in the electric corn popper.

Monday:— Wash day loses half its terrors when the work is done in the electrical way. The water is heated by electricity. The washing machine and wringers are turned by motors, and the clothes are dried by electric fans if the day is rainy. Of course the cooking every day is done by electricity. Orders are placed with the butcher, baker and grocer over the phone.

Tuesday:— The good wife irons in comfort with electric irons, and if the day is hot the work is accomplished on the back porch. The electric refrigerator takes care of the provisions delivered in an electric delivery wagon to the electric dumb-waiter.

Wednesday:— The family sewing is done on the motor driven sewing machine, and a small electric iron is used for pressing. The children play with electric toys. Water is pumped to the house by motor driven pumps. The rooms are heated by electricity if cold. The family attend the theatre in the evening by trolley and greatly admire the spectacular electrical effects at the play.

Thursday:— The house is swept by a motor driven carpet sweeper and the parlor floor is polished by an electric polisher. The silver is burnished on a motor driven buffer and the kitchen knives are sharpened on the same machine. The vegetables and meats are prepared for dinner in the electric meat chopper. The house is ventilated by electric exhaust fans. In the early evening the family take an outing in the electric runabout. A concert is enjoyed later in the evening by the telharmonium.

Friday:— Fish broiled on electric grid. Shopping by electricity, utilizing the runabout. Calling on friends. At home evening with electric luncheon. In case of sickness the electric heating pad and water heaters are in readiness.

Saturday:— Baking day, with the electric oven and the electric dough mixer. The electric dish washer and potato peeler are also used. After noon in the country by trolley. Saturday night bath, using the electric instantaneous water heater and the electric massage.

Boys, better hurry up and get a Watch.

Judge Welch

Norfolk News: That Judge A. A. Welch of Wayne, who was appointed last winter by Governor Sheldon to fill the vacancy in the Ninth judicial district of Nebraska, has at once commanded the respect of all people regardless of politics, because of his eminent ability as a jurist and his pre-eminent fairness, is beginning to be strikingly apparent all over the district. Judge Welch has won the esteem and high regard of the bar and the general public alike. No higher compliment could be paid him than the motion on the part of the Creighton Liberal looking to the nomination of Judge Welch by all parties and his unanimous election. The Liberal says:

All over the United States is moving a spirit asking that the judicial department of our national and state government be divorced as far as possible from politics. There is no more healthy sign of progress visible.

Taking this for a theme why would it not be a good stroke of enterprise, if nothing else, to give the present appointee of Governor Sheldon for this judicial district, Judge A. A. Welch, a non-partisan or better and more within the requirements of the primary law, a nomination of both parties?

Judge Welch has made an impression on visitors to his court irrespective of the way suits have terminated, which is complimentary indeed.

Of a democratic temperament which is easy of approach yet there is a certain reserve that is very becoming to a man holding the scales of justice.

The fact that this is a strong republican district and that Judge Welch could be elected anyway may detract in a measure from the force of a non-partisan tender of this kind but it should be considered that the salary of twenty-five hundred dollars is a very serious obstacle in getting first-class attorneys to aspire to the bench.

If a candidate has to make a canvass over those five counties it eats quite a hole in one year's salary.

In making a suggestion of this nature we are not speaking for anyone but this paper but we would like to see an agitation started for a judiciary independent of politics and it has appealed to us that here was a good place for a start. The equity courts of this state and nation are going to have a great deal more work in the next twenty years than they ever have had before. The commercial movement must be headed off by the strong hand of the law or if tactics are permitted such as have been the rule for the last ten years this generation will live to see themselves headed for conditions very much alike unto the French commune.

Only of a slight acquaintance and without any direct experience, yet somehow Judge Welch has impressed us as a man whom spontaneous and irresponsible public opinion, the glitter of eloquent counsel, or the sympathies of interested parties cannot move from a clear and cold analysis of the question of right and wrong.

State Fair

The management are actively engaged in improvements which when completed will mark an advanced step in the history of the Nebraska State fair. A number of men and teams are now employed in the building of a complete sewer system extending a four-inch water main a distance of 1,700 feet around the new speed barn and filling in the low land west of Administration building, so that will be a part of the very best land in the tract. The dirt for this fill is secured north of the Rock Island track. The plans and specifications for the new cattle barn to be built this year shows a barn 174x257 feet, with stall room for 632 head of cattle, sanitary closets for Ladies and Gentlemen and a Superintendent's office. The arrangement will be so that a person coming into the building at any of the numerous doors can see over the backs of all the cattle at a glance.

The seed of slander is often sowed by a shoulder shrug.

Sweet-Lauman

Clipping from the Butte Gazette Friday, June 14th 1907: Cards are out announcing the marriage of J. Earl Sweet to Miss Nellie Lauman at the home of the bride's parents, at Wayne, Nebr., on the 26th of June 1907.

Mr. Sweet is the well known Oliver Typewriter salesman and his friends in this part of the world join the Gazette in wishing the couple much prosperity and happiness.

Mr. Sweet is one of those irrepresible salesmen, who never "forgets the owl," and if J. E. does not sell the Rev., that ties the nuptial knot, an Oliver before he leaves the parlor, he will not be living up to his enviable and well earned record as a salesman.

The young couple will be at home in Council Bluffs after July 15.

HARRINGTON,

The afternoon trains from the west have been from two to four hours late the past week, because of waiting on connections at Norfolk. Big washouts on the main line near Sturgis, S. D., made it necessary for the Northwestern to use the B. & M. tracks in order to get their trains thru at all.

B. F. Feather was taken by surprise yesterday when a sister, Miss Hattie Feather, suddenly appeared at his home on a visit. She lives at Elkhart, Ind., and had been visiting at Kansas City, when she concluded to make her first trip to Wayne before returning home. She will remain a week or two.

Miss Gladys Geff, of Wakefield, returned home this morning after a visit at the Rayburn home.

Mr. Chester Chubb, of Sioux Falls, S. D., was a Saturday to Wednesday guest at the Moses home in Brenna precinct.

Rev. Mr. Foskett field secretary for the Baptist College at Grand Island will preach at the Baptist church, Sunday morning.

Prof. F. M. Gregg, late of the Wayne college but now of the Peru Normal, is one of the instructors for the Madison county institute which will be held at Norfolk, August 19-23.

The Norfolk Commercial Club has decreed that Norfolk people shall wear holidays badges and advertise the city whenever they attend doings at nearby towns or help neighbors to celebrate. Good idea. Let's adopt it and wear "Wayne badges" to Winside the 4th.

Thursday night the Wayne band assisted by the Elwin Strong musicians gave an open air concert on Main street. A good share of the resident section of the city availed themselves of the opportunity and came down town to promenade to the music and truly enjoy the delightful evening. Nothing like good band music to wake them up and draw the people together.

Ponca experienced a flood yesterday from a waterspout which happened above the town. Over fifty residents on the bottoms were driven from their homes, while half a mile of the railroad track in town was washed away and no end to damage done to property and live stock. West of Ponca, a big school house was washed ten rods from its foundation and toppled over on its side.

Sheriff Mears had official duties that took him up near Sholes Monday.

The ladies of the German Lutheran church will have a bazaar and ice cream social on the 29th of June in the Britton building oppsite the post office.

Winside is prepared to furnish an ideal celebration July 4th, for she has one of the prettiest parks in the country and right in the heart of the town. The other necessary feature for a big celebration is a good brass band and this the Winsiders have arranged for by engaging the services of the prince of musical organization in the state—the Wayne Commercial Club Band. Jim Jam McAllister, of Dakota City is to be orator of the day, while a big purse has been hung up for ball games and other necessary noise and sports. A quiet Fourth is not in conformity with either custom or the American spirit, so Wayne is going to tag her band to Winside to celebrate in due and proper form.

Watch!

Randolph has decided to make the eagle scream July 4th.

Don't forget the bazaar and ice cream social in building opposite the postoffice Saturday, June 29.

Rev. J. H. Karpenstein tells us of an interesting letter he received from Henry Goll this week. Mr. Goll is located at Waterville, Wash., and is farming. He has 420 acres of growing grain and crop prospects were never brighter. The health of the family is good, and Henry is glad he's alive, and that his home is east in such a pleasant place as Waterville. This is good news for his Wayne friends.

George Thieman of Sholes and Miss Theresa Enebach of Arcadia, Ia., were united in marriage at the latter place two weeks ago. Mr. Thieman and his bride came to Sholes Monday and will at once begin house keeping in the place that will be their home. Mr. Thieman is a young business man at Sholes and has been doing well. He is thoroughly reliable and is highly thought of by all who know him. His bride will be welcomed to her new home and the Times joins a large circle of their friends in wishing them much joy and happiness.—Randolph Times.

Clum Connor, a farmer living near Thurston, Nebr., wrote Sheriff Mears the first of the week, of an old man by the name of Geo. Angelbright, who came to his home and asked to stay and while there was taken with a paralytic stroke, which left him unconscious until he died. Mr. Connor says the man had grey hair and beard and that he was about 50 years of age. He claimed to have a brother living in Wayne county, and if any Herald reader knows such a one, let them kindly communicate with Mr. Connor at Thurston.

Elwin Strong and his players open their tent theatre in Wayne Friday night. A good turnout greeted their opening and the production was most satisfactory. Saturday night the tent was crowded, but after an act or two of the play and where everybody's interest was aroused, a storm broke without and nearly all left the tent. The company now includes a fine band and orchestra and if merit is rewarded the organization will win wealth and applause everywhere they go.

Atty. J. H. Kent, of Fullerton, Nebr., was in the city between trains yesterday. He had been to Center, Knox county, to conduct a divorce case for a client in the person of Mrs. J. W. Hodson. The Hodsons formerly resided south of Wayne. Mrs. Hodson's marital relatives were severed and with the loosened knot passed alimony in the amount of $450, with a monthly allowance of $12. WAYNE CHAUTAUQUA ...ASSEMBLY...

....A WORD.... ABOUT SOME OF THE ATTRACTIONS

The "Kilties" Band, of Belleville, Canada, will furnish two big concerts. This is the only Canadian Band which was engaged at the World's Fair at St. Louis, and the band is now at Jamestown Exposition. Watch for announcements.

United States Senator, Ben Tillman, of South Carolina, is known in the Senate as "Honest Ben" and the people of this country have endorsed the title. No man in the United States can get and hold a bigger crowd.

Dr. Jon P. D. John, Ex-President of DuPauw University, is too well known to demand comment. Judges, Statesmen, Doctors, the Clergy, and Educators, as well as the rank and file of the common people write in the highest commendation.

Dr. D. F. Fox, of California Avenue Church, Chicago, is known to many people in Nebraska. His lecture on "The Neglected Cavalier" is a master piece of eloquence and power, and is worth going fifty miles to hear. Dr. McIntyre says of him, "Don't miss his lecture unless you have a grudge against yourself."

A. W. Hawks, Humorist and Poet, who is known as the "Dispenser of Sunshine," has been secured for two days. Hawks is a born humorist and could not be otherwise if he wished.

Col. H. W. J. Ham, the Georgia humorist, in his lecture, "Old Times in Dixie," is a "whole show with a dog under the wagon." Col. Ham has been on every old Chautauqua program in the land and has more calls than he can fill. If you hear him once you will probably live ten years longer.

Hon. G. A. Gearhardt, of Buffalo, N. Y., is known as the man who always returns. He has a message for the people which has been received with great ovations. His "Coming Man" should be heard by every young man in the land.

Dr. Thomas McClary is known almost everywhere. He has the "honor of Artemus Ward combined with the rare oratory and learning of Wendell Phillips." His lecture, "The Mission of Mirth," has brought gladness to thousands. He is known as the "People's Favorite."

Elliott A. Boyd should give his lecture, "The Seen and the Unseen" to every audience in America. He is an eastern man, well known in college circles. His lectures are noted for the wealth of thought, wit, humor, word paintings and good common sense.

Lucian Edgar Follansbee is a humorist, educator and preacher. He has more return dates than any other attraction sold by the Midland Bureau.

Frank H. Gamel presents a wonderfully beautiful illustrated lecture on "The American Boy—His Pranks, Perils and Possibilities." Mr. Gamel has just added a series of very humorous motion pictures. Every boy and girl will be interested and instructed, and every father and mother should hear this lecture.

Spillman Riggs, Humorous Lecturer and Character Delineator, will give his "Musical Fits and Mishaps," which has been delivered more than a thousand times. Mr. Riggs spoke at the Waterloo assembly last year to three thousand people. It was his second year there and he was at home.

Prof. J. Lorenzo Zwickey is a Canadian by birth and an American citizen by choice. His art lecture on the subject, "The Philosophy of the Beautiful," should be given before every public audience in the land. He illustrates his lecture with colored crayon work executed during the lecture.

Marvin Williams, Entertainer, is a man of education and culture. One of his "Jolly Evenings" is worth the price of a season ticket. He is called "the live wire."

"Ritchie," the Magician, will give one big entertainment which will attract five thousand people. He performs the famous levitation illusion.

The Ritz-Nebras Combination consists of Miss Josephine Ritz and Miss Dorothy Nebras, who furnish piano, violin and vocal music together with popular readings.

The Hite-Monroe Moving Picture Company is made up of a trio of artists well known in the Lyceum world. Chas. J. Hite, formerly operator and electrician with the Ben Hur Concert Company, and Mrs. Gertrude Monroe Hite, violinist, and Miss Jessie Beatrice Monroe, contralto soloist and pianist, are musicians of ability and reputation.

Carter's Original Virginia Warblers, one of the oldest companies now before the public, was first organized in 1893 and reorganized in 1905 under the management of Walter R. Carter. This company of singers is composed of carefully selected talent whose ability has been put to the severest test. They sing the real negro melodies, plantation and camp-meeting songs of olden days.

The Royal Male and Trombone Quartette is one of the foremost quartettes in the country. They are young men, fresh from college halls, and sing with vigor and spirit, which not only pleases but captivates. This is their fourth Chautauqua season.

The Midland Concert Company and their almost national reputation is an interesting story which cannot be published in such limited space. The company consists of a Soprano, Violinist, Reader and Accompanist, each an artist. This company has a splendid reputation wherever they have given their concerts.

Good Walks For Wayne

Mr. Frank Gordon of Sioux City has been in Wayne a little over a week with his gang of workmen putting in cement walks. He has completed some five thousand feet of splendid walk already and has thousands of feet contracted for. Mr. Gordon's long experience in the cement business guarantees to property owners of Wayne the best of workmanship and materials. Don't put up with the old board walks any longer, tear them up, and put in cement, that Wayne may have many miles of good walks of uniform construction. We understand that the city is aiding in this movement by putting in cement approaches and alley crossings where the new walks are built. The Chautauqua crowds are coming, let us all be ready for them with good safe sidewalks.

Relief from Rheumatic Pains.

"I suffered with rheumatism for over two years," says Mr. Roland Curry, a patrolman, of Key West, Fla. "Sometimes it settled in my knees and lamed me so I could hardly walk, at other times it would be in my feet and hands so I was incapacitated for duty. One night when I was in severe pain and lame from it my wife went to the drug store and came back with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I was rubbed with it and found the pain had nearly gone during the night. I kept on using it for a little more than two weeks and found that it drove the rheumatism away. I have not had any trouble from that disease for over three months." For sale by Raymond's Drug Store.

Hoskins News

(From the Headlight)

The sale of the personal property of the estate of the late George Kneiss was well attended and every thing sold at good figures.

Next week we will publish the evidence in the suit Harding had brought against the editor of the Nebraska Volksblatt. It will no doubt be interesting reading.

Several days ago, as ye scribe was awaiting the coming of the evening train, we noticed a couple of handsome young ladies practicing the gum-sucking art, and judging from their control of the osculatory muscle they are very near profeshs. No danger of them being "old maids."

Mrs. Anna Kneiss left last Saturday for Lincoln, where she expects to visit her brother for a week or two and then go to Colorado to visit with her father and a sister. Later in the summer she will return to Hoskins on matters connected with the settlement of the Henry Kneiss estate.

We understand that Harding has his salesmen out trying to divorce the farmer from his hard earned cash and giving them about a $20 interest in old cream cans, vats, churns etc., and the remainder of the $100 is paid for the hot air blown into the Farmer's concern. It seems that the people they are plying among are those who do not read much, and consequently they have not learned of the questionable features of the concern at Omaha. An effort on the part of every honest American citizen should be put forth to prohibit the sale of watered stock.

In most towns there seems to be a number of business (?) men, who make a horrible howl over the farmers buying goods from catalogue houses, while their wife takes a silver chain with a four-legged poodle attached to one end, set a one glassed spec' on her snoot and boards the train for the nearby city to do their summer's shopping. Hoskins we are told, has a couple of these. It brings grief to us to learn this, but if true those people have no right to expect home people to buy of them. If the goods handled in a town are not good enough for the town people, they are certainly not good for the farmer. The best is none too good for the farmer. But the farmer should, so long as he gets a square deal, patronize his home town, but the business man should set a good example by purchasing at home. It's poor policy to adopt the motto, "Don't do as I do, but do as I say." Come now let both business man and farmer patronize Hoskins' business houses, as an increased business means larger and better stocks,

Winside News

Mrs. Chris Jensen's brother and sister arrived Sunday, from the old country. We understand that they were about fifteen days coming over.

Tom Prince is in town most of the time now days looking after his elevator business, and soon will be identified as one of Winside's progressive business men.

Winside will have a big 4th of July celebration on firecracker day, and as everybody knows we never do any thing by halves in this man's town, the old eagle will probably scream its old head off.

Thursday evening Mrs. Anton Jensen got a "surprise" from the Royal Neighbors, it being the occasion of her birthday anniversary. A most enjoyable evening was spent and cake and punch were served as refreshments.

Mrs. Wm. Templeton and her two daughters, Elva and Loise, left for Wessingtons, S. D., Saturday afternoon to spend the summer with Mr. Templeton on their claim. They will stop off at Sioux City for a few days visit with relatives. Miss Jessie will remain in Winside to look look after their home.

For some time the Tribune has patiently waited for two or three couples to give us an opportunity to write up their wedding notices, and perhaps print their cards, but we are disappointed every week. Now if some one don't get married before next week's issue, we will have a wedding of our own. So there.

The Winside high school will have to put in the twelfth grade it seems, and it is over-crowded now. This probably will necessitate the building of a wing on the west side or else a room in the basement will have to be finished up so that it can be used for school purposes. Applications for free high school attendance are already coming in and the school board is in a dilemma.—Winside Tribune.

A BOXING KITTEN.

Its Funny "Fistic" Antics Made a Big Dog "Laugh."

The proprietor of a small store in New York owns a black kitten that cultivates a habit of squatting on its haunches, like a bear or a kangaroo, and then springing with its forepaws as if it had taken lessons from a pugilist. The Telegram tells how the kitten conquered a big dog.

A gentleman took into the store an enormous black dog, half Newfoundland, half collie, fat, good natured and intelligent. The tiny kitten, instead of bolting at once for shelter, retreated a few paces, but erect on its hind legs and put its "fists" in an attitude of defiance.

The contrast in size between the two was intensely amusing. It reminded one of Jack the Giant Killer preparing to demolish the giant.

Slowly and without a sign of excitability the huge dog walked as far as his chain would allow him and gazed intently at the kitten and its odd posture. Then, as the comicality of the situation struck him, he turned his head and shoulders around to the spectators, and if animal ever laughed in the world that dog assuredly did so then and there. He neither barked nor growled, but indulged in a low chuckle, while mouth and eyes beamed with merriment.

The Earth's Interior.

It has been found by subterranean boring that the temperature increases about one degree for every fifty feet. Water would boil therefore at a depth of less than two miles, and at a depth of thirty miles all known substances would melt. The scientists believe that the interior of the earth is a molten mass. The volcanic discharge of lava, which is nothing but melted earthy matter, goes to confirm this belief, as do also the hot springs that are found in different parts of the world. It has been proposed to make use of the hot water that lies in beds underground by sinking shafts to reach them. Many things even more wonderful than this have been done, and therefore the suggestion does not seem unreasonable.—Chicago News.

What Tommy Dropped.

"Oh, dear me, isn't dinner served? I think you're awful slow!" And Tommy fumed and fretted till his father said: "Oh, hoo! Go pick up what you dropped, my son, before you came inside." And Tommy quickly ran to look. But not a thing he spied. "That's strange," quoth father, "for I saw two boys with faces bright, Who talked together at the gate. In manner most polite. I heard a voice speak pleasantly, 'Till on the porch it stopped, And so I thought your manners, Tom, Outside the door you'd dropped!" —Pauline Frances Camp in Little Folks.

"I never could understand," said the man who delves into unusual subjects, "why it is always a tropical or semi-tropical ruler who has an abundance of wives. We never hear of a ruler in a cold country having 200 wives?" "Well, I should hope not," replied his friend. "Imagine 200 wives going downtown to select their winter furs. The bills would bankrupt a nation." —Chicago Daily News.

By Another Name.

Lawyer—On what ground, madam, do you base your action for divorce? Client—On the ground that my husband has what they call the artistic temperament. That's sufficient, isn't it? Lawyer—Yes, that is ample, but to comply with the legal forms we specify it as incompatibility, neglect, and extreme and repeated cruelty.—Chicago Tribune.

Costs $1,000 a Word.

At the Franklin Inn, a literary club of Philadelphia, a young poet, licking his lips, said that Conan Doyle was paid $1 a word.

"That is nothing," said a railroad advertising man. "I know of a case where a man was paid $1,000 a word. Our line used to have at its grade crossings a very long and complicated sign that began, 'Beware of the engines and cars,' and then this sign went on with a lot of injunction and warning that would have taken five minutes to read.

"In a number of accident cases the complaints for damages declared that our long signs were not clear warnings. Therefore the line decided at last to get a new grade crossing sign, and Judge Paxon was engaged to write one.

"The sign that Judge Paxon wrote cost $1,000 a word, but it was a classic. It remained a classic. It is as well known among us as 'Father, I cannot tell a lie' or 'England expects every man to do his duty.'

"The sign that cost $1,000 a word, or $6,000 in all, was the famous 'Railroad Crossing—Stop, Look, and Listen'." —Philadelphia Bulletin.

Interesting Grave Excavations.

The excavation of the pre-Christian grave field at Muenstingen, near Bern, have, according to the Vossische Zeitung been discontinued for their year, after no less than 200 graves had been opened and examined. The rich yield is being preserved in the historical museum at Bern, forming one of the most precious collections from the La Tene period (fourth to second pre-Christian centuries). Numerous are in particular the discoveries of arm and foot rings, made of gold, silver, bronze, iron, glass and amber. A gold ring of a girl of 10 years is such an artistic piece of workmanship that even today a lady of rank could wear it. In the same grave was found a necklace of 140 beautiful amber beads. Of weapons there were unearthed, besides lances, etc., sixteen swords, mostly short blades, that evidently were used for cutting. In some graves pots filled with calf and swine bones were found, which recalls the custom of some ancient people of providing their dead with food.

David Hume Makes Request.

A joignant request of David Hume to his friend, John Home, was curious. Home liked claret and disliked port, calling it poison, and the two friends had many discussions on the subject. They also used to have disputes as to which of them took the proper way of spelling their common family name. The philosopher, about a fortnight before his death, wrote with his own hand the following codicil to his will: "I leave to my friend, Mr. John Home of Kilduff, ten dozen of my old claret at his choice and one single bottle of that liquor called port. I also leave him six dozen of port, provided that he attests under his hand, signed John Hume, that he himself alone finished that bottle at two sittings. By this concession he will at once terminate the only two differences that ever arose between us concerning temporal matters." —New York Tribune.

A Winter Wish.

I've read of folk who calmly glide down life's river, side by side. With Cupid at the helm to steer Their bark from rocks and breakers clear.

Or walk sedately in the way Of matrimony, day by day. Somehow I've managed to sneeze At such slow, poky ways as these. If I might choose, I'd ask, with Kate, Forever down life's stream to skate! —Grace Stone Field in Woman's Home Companion.

"Did you say that your daughter was studying Spanish?" inquired the visitor of Mrs. Goldlocks.

"Yes," replied Mrs. Goldlocks, "and she is getting along beautifully."

"Who is her teacher?"

"Oh, she ain't got no teacher. She's learning mostly from cigar boxes."

"So you are going to marry Count Puresh," said Miss Cayenne.

"Yes," answered the impressionable heiress. "He says he would love me if I hadn't a cent."

"Well, at his rate of spending money there may be a chance for him to prove it." —Washington Star.

A—You can do me a great favor; lend me a thousand gulden.

B—Quite impossible.

A—Why impossible? You are a rich man.

B—To be sure, but I cannot part from my money; it is a cherished souvenir of my father.—Bombs.

Simkins—I'd like for you to give my nephew a job in your office.

Timkins—What can he do?

Simkins—Oh, he can turn his hand to almost anything, and he's as honest as the day is long.

Timkins—Yes, but the days are growing shorter.

MANAGING A SERVANT.

Have Neither Too Much Nor Too Little Supervision.

Said a notable and successful housekeeper in a recital of her domestic experiences:

"I make it a rule to give a new servant orders for the first day and leave her to carry them out in her own way as the best test of her skill and ability. Upon this basis I begin the work of instructing and correcting. I do not hesitate to say that I have gained much valuable information in certain directions from girls who knew better ways than my own."

For guidance of the domestic machine a golden mean, neither too much nor too little supervision, promises most favorable results.

Communication and kindness may be trusted to strengthen and confirm good traits already in evidence, while expression of faith in ambition and ability will develop others to be cultivated in like manner. A servant's failure should be the mistress's regret, and if thus treated the sympathy proves a stronger incentive to well doing in her future than any amount of reproof and fault finding.

Servants are not exempt from trials and anxieties and often perform the labor of the day with heavy hearts from some trouble in their homes or among their kindred. To know that they have a friend in their employer in whom they can confide and trust for advice is a great comfort at such times. With abundant leisure for enjoyment it scarcely is possible sometimes for the mistress to comprehend how much an unexpected pleasure or privilege means to those engaged in a constant round of daily toil.—Washington Star.

TINTING LACE.

Good Way to Treat a Fabric That Will Not Wash Well.

When one desires to color lace for a gown, procure a tube of oil paint the color desired and squeeze it into a cup of gasoline and stir until dissolved. Then pour into a larger vessel.

Dip a small piece of the lace into it and if too deep add more gasoline until the shade desired is obtained. When it is the right color, put all the lace into it, take out, shake gently and dry in the open air.

When thoroughly dry, expose it to extreme heat for a few minutes, taking care, of course, that it is not near a fire or blaze, where it might ignite. This exposure to the heat will remove the odor of gasoline.

Lace which has been used and will not wash well can be given this treatment if first dry cleaned by being sprinkled generously with fullers earth, then rolled up and put away for a few days. Upon taking out shake well and then proceed with the tinting as above.

Flowers and straw may be tinted by the same method. As gasoline is inflammable, it is always best to use it out of doors or as far away as possible from a flame or intense heat.—Chicago News.

CULINARY CONCEITS.

A pinch of grated nutmeg added to potato croquettes improves them.

The nutritive quality of fish and its flavor are best obtained by roasting or baking.

Remember that green vegetables should not be covered with the saucap lid when they are being boiled.

Broiled meats are more nourishing than fried meats, and roasted meats yield more nourishment than broiled ones.

Baked potatoes are quite possible for breakfast if small ones are chosen. These will bake in twenty-five minutes, while the muffins are baking and the rest of the breakfast being prepared.

If cup custards are placed in a pan of water and cooked on top of the stove, there will be less liability of their overcooking, as they can be carefully watched. Just before they are done place in the oven to brown them on top.

Scratched Furniture.

Where there are fine pin-like scratches on new furniture they may be easily remedied by using pulverized rotten stone that can be bought ready for use. This put on a soft flannel rag and rubbed into the surface of the seat, back or arms of a chair or on to the top of a table will not only take off the defects, but bring a polish to the wood. To remove the rotten stone with a damp piece of chamois carefully wipe the wood, and when all trace of this is gone a bright luster can be brought to the surface of the wood by rubbing it lightly with a soft piece of cheesecloth moistened with alcohol. The latter must be used sparingly on furniture, for it burns the varnish and will ruin the appearance of the rocker or table if enough is put on to scorch the surface.

Balancing Expenses.

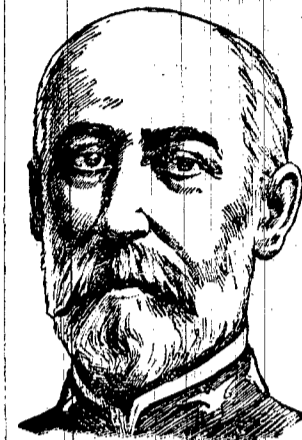

Young housekeepers so often utter the plaint, "I can buy the ordinary food for three meals a day on my table allowance, but there are so many extras." A woman of many years' experience, accustomed to working domestic miracles with an infinitesimal income, once said: "I would never have kept out of the poorhouse if I had not had a system. I make a list of the sundries without which no house is complete—soap, starch, flour, salt, etc.—and keep it under my eye. Each week I apportion so much money for my sundries and buy something. Thus I never add myself face to face with an empty salt box or vinegar jug at a time when there is no money to fill the lack."

REAR ADMIRAL DAVIS.

Naval Officer Who Figured in the Swettenham Episode.

Rear Admiral Charles Henry Davis has figured in several noted episodes, but none perhaps was so peculiar as his experience in going to Kingston, Jamaica, to render aid to sufferers from earthquake and receiving an invitation to get out more quickly than he came. Admiral Evans' prompt dispatch to Kingston of Admiral Davis, who stands next to him in command of the Atlantic fleet, the good work done by the American officer and his men and the correspondence between him and Sir Alexander Swettenham, the English governor, caused much comment.

The episode recalls the first occasion on which Admiral Davis came before the public in a prominent way. That was when President Cleveland appointed him official escort to the Princess Eulalia of Spain, who visited this country on the invitation of the government at the time of the Columbian exposition at Chicago. The princess proved a difficult subject for even an officer of the diplomatic attainments of her American guardian, who was then an officer of the rank of commander. His duties were of a delicate nature. His card read, "Commander Charles Henry Davis, United States Navy, representing the President of the United States near the person of H. R. E. the Infanta Eulalia of Spain." Being "near the person" of the princess did not enable him unfortunately to prevent the latter from snubbing Chicago's foremost society woman, Mrs. Potter Palmer, because her husband kept a hotel. The incident caused the discreet naval officer much embarrassment.

It was the admiral's good fortune during the Spanish war to receive the surrender of the port of Ponce, Porto Rico, and in 1904, after the Russian warships under Rojestsensky had fired on British fishing vessels, he served as the American member of the North sea commission, which was appointed to arbitrate the resulting dispute. It was his support of the British contention that turned the scale in favor of that government in the decision.

FORTY-SIX STORIES.

The Metropolitan Life Building's New Tower Will Break Record.

The tower of the Metropolitan Life Insurance building in New York, which is to occupy the site of Dr. Parkhurst's old church on Madison square, will make the Park Row building, which has held honors as to height heretofore, look small. It will soar away above its freakish looking neighbor, the Flatiron building, at Twenty-third street and Broadway. It will even beat the height record the tower of the new Singer building on lower Broadway is expected to make. The Flatiron building is 286 feet in height, the Park Row building 382 feet, but the tower of the Metropolitan Life building will be 638 feet high from the sidewalk and 600 feet from its foundation. It will have forty-six stories above the sidewalk and two stories below. The tower will have six passenger elevators, so that persons occupying offices far above the huddling crowd of the great city may have real rapid transit in going to and fro. The cost of the tower will be $3,000,000.

Miss Harriett Mae Weber and Mr. George Arthur Darnell Wedded Wednesday, June 19.

The beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Weber was the scene of a happy wedding on Wednesday, June 19, 1907., when their daughter, Miss Harriett Mae, was pledged as the life long helpmeet of Mr. George Arthur Darnell, of Winterset, Iowa. Rev. C. J. Ringer, of the Lutheran church following a simple ring ceremony, read the marriage service in the presence of a small company of immediate relatives and intimate friends.

The attendants were Miss Gertrude Weber, a sister of the bride, Miss Laurel Lundburg, Miss Cleo Meeker, Mr. Byron Hoile, Mr. Roy Lathrop Chas. Young, with little Miss Natalie Harrington as ring bearer. Miss Hazel Weber, a cousin of the bride, played Mendelshon's wedding march. The ceremony was performed beneath a beautiful wedding bell in green and white.

The bride was attired in a becoming gown of white silk crepe de chine over white silk and carried bride's roses in two bouquets, one the gift of Paul Harrington, a cousin, and sent by him from Ithica, N. Y. The bride's maids were also gowned in white and carried roses. The color scheme of green and white prevailed in the decorations of the house and porch, and on every hand was a profusion of smilax with white carnations and roses. Following the ceremony the guests sat down to a sumptuous wedding supper, served in an excellent manner by caterer Whalen.

The reception opened at eight o'clock and continued till ten. The young couple with their respective parents and attendants received some hundred seventy-five guests in turn. Refreshments were served in a dainty variety to all, while the Commercial Club band on the lawn outside enlivened the auspicious occasion with a rich lot of music.

The presents were many and costly, consisting of a variety of cut glass, silverware and hand painted china. The groom's parents making a gift of $100 in gold together with a deed to a beautiful residence property at Winterset, Ia., while the bride's parents give a set of dining room furniture.

The bride has a host of friends who are proud of her as a Wayne girl, for here she grew from childhood into womanhood. She is talented in music and is recognized as an accomplished singer and piano player of exceptional ability. Her departure from Wayne is a loss to the music and social circle of our city.

The groom is a prosperous young business man of Winterset, Iowa, junior member of the firm of Tangle & Darnell, clothing dealers. While a stranger to us he comes of excellent family and with the best of recommends. We can only congratulate him on the prize he has won. Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Darnell leave this week for their future home at Winterset.

Those at the wedding from out of town were: Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Darnell and daughter, the parents and sister of the groom from Indianapolis, Iowa. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Latta, Mrs. M. R. Hopewell, Mrs. E. W. Bryant, of Tekamah, Mr. and Mrs. J. Weber and Misses Amelia Griffen and Maude Grebe, of Florence, Nebr. Mrs. Lulu Waite, Miss Gertrude Weber and Messrs. C. D. Young, Roy Lathrop and Byron Hoile, of Laurel. Mrs. Wm. Slade, of Boone, Iowa. Mrs. L. J. Hoile, of Crofton, Nebr. Mrs. Geo. Mattison, of Sioux City, Ia.

CLUBS AND SOCIETY.

Tuesday afternoon the Acme and Fortnightly club ladies were entertained at the home of Mrs. M. S. Davies. Mesdames J. G. Mines, A. M. Jacobs, J. J. Williams and M. S. Davies as hostesses. The guests spent a most enjoyable social afternoon, which will be remembered by the participating clubs. Large clusters of pink Peonies in the reception rooms added to the festal appearance of the home. One of the amusements consisted of a tree contest in which Mesdames Culler and Buchanan won the honors. A two course luncheon was served.

Mrs. Schulties entertained the Weber-Darnell bridal party at dinner Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Hamer Wilson was hostess at a delightful one o'clock luncheon, Saturday afternoon. The reception rooms were artistically decorated with festoons of flowers. A very excellent four course luncheon was served at small tables arranged in the different rooms. The ladies enjoyed a social time while engaged with their Kensington. The hostess was assisted in serving by the Misses Mary and Zoe Mellor.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Harrington and Mr. and Mrs. John Harrington gave a six o'clock dinner Monday at the home of the former, in honor of the principals in the Weber-Darnell wedding. Only the parents to the parties with their brothers and sisters were present.

Boys, better hurry up and get a Watch.

RECEIVE THEIR DIPLOMAS

Interesting Exercises carried out in Honor of Fifty-three Eighth Grade Graduates.

On Saturday, June 15, occurred the graduating exercises for those completing the eighth grade in the rural districts of Wayne county.

The court room was beautifully decorated in the class colors, crimson and silver grey, with ferns, palms and flowers, lending their beauty and fragrance to the occasion.

Promptly at 2:30 the long line of graduates filed in and took their places, forming three rows inside the railing. Never in the history of Wayne county has the court room been honored by such an appreciative audience. County Supt. Littell had charge of the order of Ceremonies. After the Invocation by Dr. Horn, the male quartet consisting of Messrs. Frank Gamble, Ed. Johnson, W. H. Morris and Geo. Wilbur, rendered a selection in their usual easy way to the delight of all.

Supt. Littell then announced that on account of the inability of State Supt. McBrien to be in Wayne, Deputy State Supt. Bishop would give a talk. Mr. Bishop held his hearers to the end with an entertaining and instructive discussion. Among the notable statements he made was in regard to the percentage of perfected students. One-third of those in the first grade reach the eighth grade, one-tenth the eighth grade reach the twelfth, and one-tenth of the twelfth finish college. This shows the small percent of young people who are getting a good education. He recommended a common school education for the many rather than a higher education for a few. The strength of the government depends so much upon the common sense of the common people also that altho they as students had gained a great deal of knowledge they must always assume the teachable state, as there is a world of learning before them. He urged the great responsibility which young people should realize that of increasing mentally. While they are not responsible for their physique they are responsible to themselves for mental development.

Following Mr. Bishop, Prof. Wilson made a presentation speech and presented diplomas to the graduates. Prof. Wilson emphasized the great duty we owe our parents for the sacrifices they make that we might attain an education and that this occasion should long be remembered by each one of the graduates as a beginning for better work. Mrs. E. B. Philleo delighted the audience with a reading after which Prof. Sauntry acting on behalf of Pres. Pile of the Wayne college presented the scholarship to Geo. Madsen of Dist. No. 47 who received highest markings of the class of 53, while Miss Louise Wendt followed him a close second for the distinction.

Mass Meeting at Opera House Tonight—Band Music and Speeches

If you believe in Wayne and are anxious for her material and educational welfare, be sure to turn out this (Thursday) evening, and attend the meeting at the opera house. The Commercial club band will be on hand with an abundance of their inspiration in the way of an excellent article of music, and a happy lot of speeches will be made directed to the advantages of Wayne's Chautauqua Assembly.

It is to be an open meeting, and everybody, regardless of race, station or servitude is privileged to air his notions and tell the people what's what. The Chautauqua Assembly is the most popular form of entertainment and amusement that can be provided, and Wayne is going to receive thru her gates a good share of the people of North Nebraska. All that is needed in preparation by means of an understanding all around and unity of action. Come let us reason together and plan our campaign. In unity lies our strength and Wayne's future good name.

If one is rich enough to repaint his buildings every year for the pleasure of having a change of color scheme, the quality of the paint used may cut little figure. The back aches because the kidneys are clogged. Help the kidneys with their work. The back will ache no more. Lots of proof that Doan's Kidney Pills do this.

W. H. McKay, engineer at the Abernathy Mfg. Co., and living at 110 Dakota street, Leavenworth, Kan., says: "Though I doctored and tried all kinds of medicines I suffered severely from kidney trouble for all of a year, an nothing seemed to do me the least bit of good. The pain in my back was terrible and the sharp twinges would cramp me up at times so that I could hardly move. The kidney secretions were irregular and contained a great deal of sediment that looked like brick dust. Our physician who had treated me said I had muscular rheumatism, but he did not help me. After giving up all hope of finding relief I happened to learn through a friend about Doan's Kidney Pills and got a box at E. C. Fritzsche's drug store. I found benefit in the treatment and continued it until I had taken three boxes. I was entirely cured of kidney trouble and have had no sign or symptom of it since. If ever any medicine saved a man's life Doan's Kidney Pills saved mine. I have been well for nearly six years, and know several people who have used Doan's Kidney Pills on the strength of the testimonial I gave in 1899 recommending them. I have yet to hear of a case in which this remedy failed."

Harrigfeldt sold his home place, near Squirrel, last week, consisting of 640 acres at $50.00 per acre. A few years ago this same land produced only sage brush and "lode" weeds, the latter destructive to animal life. Under magic effect of water with cultivation the wonders of its fertility is revealed, and land values have taken a decided and continued advance. When Mr. Cunningham returns to Idaho he will be accompanied by Mrs. Cunningham and her mother.

SECRETARY TAFT AT NORFOLK

Makes a Brief Speech and Says North Nebraska the Finest Country he Ever Saw

Norfolk News:

William H. Taft, secretary of war and a presidential possibility exchanged greetings with Norfolk on Tuesday afternoon. The big secretary alighted from the Deadwood passenger at the Junction depot at 3:05 p. m. From an open carriage, speaking for several minutes, he addressed a representative gathering of Norfolk people.

The secretary was introduced by Congressman Boyd of the Third Nebraska congressional district.

Secretary Taft said in part:

It is an outrage upon you people to invite you to come down here to listen to a man who is so uncertain in his appointments as to be three hours behind schedule time. Floods in the Black Hills interfered with our trip and the delay is the result of accidents for which Providence and not the Northwestern railroad is responsible.

It is a pleasure for me to speak in a town like Norfolk, for I know something of the country around about in your neighborhood. As I came down here Sunday night from Sioux City I remarked upon the beauty of the countryside, and I am frank to say that I have never anywhere seen a more beautiful country than that in northern Nebraska.

The prosperity of a region is confirmed by the healthy, happy, handsome faces of its residents and the ladies appearing in their most attractive mood is the best evidence of any land's prosperity. Such prosperity signs are visible here this afternoon.

It is the hardest kind of work to make a short speech and say anything. We have had ten years of abundant material prosperity. Material prosperity will lead to degeneration unless it teaches us to more fully appreciate our responsibilities of citizenship. The pessimists are pointing out that this great increase of wealth which has marked the past few years of our national life, will mean corruption and the downward trend of the nation.

But in spite of the great amassing of fortunes, this country today has something to show that we are sound morally. In spite of our growing wealth, there has been a quickening of the public conscience, a quickening of the public morality that has called a halt and has caused men in public office and men in great commercial enterprises, private and public, to gauge their actions and deeds in obedience to the law of the statutes and the moral law as well. (Applause.)

This country is rising to higher and higher levels of morality and our increasing prosperity will be used for spreading a greater intelligence and greater morality.

Money is nothing unless a man can base his claim to a reputation upon good character, and sooner or later they find that out.

All the failures of a lifetime, but with good character as a foundation, makes a successful career.

And all the successes in the world, without character, mean failure. (Applause.)

The first primary election for Nebraska is set for September 3, and will be held in every precinct in the state. All parties will take part and decide the party's choice of candidates. Now is the time to study up the provisions of the new law and avoid mistakes. Experience is likely to show up imperfections in the law, but if intelligence directs its operation at first the defects can be eliminated by our lawmakers and time will provide just what is needed. The primary law principle has its enemies and they are active and alert to condemn it in whatever form it is submitted to the people.

Rev. Horn and Mr. Drager accompanied about fourteen boys from the Methodist Sunday school on last Monday morning, for an outing on the Elkhorn river. The boys will be back today or tomorrow.

Judge E. Hunter and J. D. King were up in Holt county the first of the week on a fishing expedition. They put off at Atkinson but found the lakes and streams out of their banks—conditions very unfavorable for fishing. Under normal conditions Holt county and adjoining counties to the west is a recognized mecca for devotees of the rod and reel. The lakes are numerous and the little streams found here and there with clear water and sandy bottoms makes them the home of the pickerel, sun fish, bass and speckled trout.

In the criminal cases of Ramsey, Thomsen, Hoffman and Mildner, recently convicted of selling liquors to minors, there seems to be some dispute between the lawyers as to whether the defendants, after conviction in the police court, took the necessary legal steps to get into the district court. On Thursday of last week County Attorney Wilbur served notice upon the defendants' attorneys that on the following Saturday he would move in the district court that these appeals be dismissed, which, if done, will put the defendants back in the lower court where they will have to pay their fine imposed upon them. At the appointed time the matter was presented to Judge Welch, but on the pressing plea of Attorneys Berry and Fritcher for more time, a continuance was granted until Monday, June 24th at which time Judge Welch will hear the arguments and pass upon the legality of the appearance bonds filed by the defendants.

No man ever won another's trust by trailing his own name in the dust.

The Norfolk Daily News is offering to give away to some popular young lady in this section a beautiful $300 piano.

Every penny in advance subscription on The News gives one vote and the young lady receiving the greatest number of votes by 6 o'clock August 31, gets the piano.

Norfolk girls are barred from the contest and Norfolk subscribers are barred from voting, as that would be unfair.

A "square deal" is being given in this way and some girl from a small town or in the country is going to get the piano.

The instrument is a fine one, guaranteed, and one that any young lady might be proud of.

Here is an opportunity to win honor and a substantial prize for some young lady of this vicinity and we would suggest that a candidate ought to be started by our citizens at once.

There is every chance that she will win, with proper support from the people here. The News is the best newspaper in this territory for this locality, bringing more news of this territory to us than all other papers and bringing more telegraph news, including live stock and grain markets, a day ahead of other city dailies.

The price is $3 per year and a $3 advance subscription would get 300 votes. Start somebody from this section today! Yours truly,
The Norfolk Daily News.

Have You Catarrh?

If you have catarrh with offensive breath, burning pains in the throat, difficulty in breathing, raising of mucous, discharge from the nose, tickling or dropping from the back of the throat, coughing spasms, etc., begin the use of Hyomei at once.

Its medication is taken in with the air you breathe, so that it reaches the most remote part of the respiratory organs, killing all catarrhal germs and soothing any irritation there may be in the mucous membrane.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but one dollar; and E. J. Raymond gives a personal guarantee with each package that money will be refunded unless the treatment does all that is claimed for it.

MRS. EMMA A. SUMMERS.

The California "Oil Queen" and Her Business Ability.

One of the most interesting personalities in California is Mrs. Emma A. Summers of Los Angeles, the "Oil Queen." This name has been bestowed upon her primarily because of her vast operations in one of the greatest mineral resources in the state, but it most aptly describes one who by virtue of a most superior mental powers rules. There is no brute force in her sway, but nevertheless it has been most effective, and could the story be told, this modest, refined and truly feminine woman has gained victories over combinations of masculine training and abilities that have been backed by capital and influence so powerful that strong captains of industry have gone down under the impact.

But the story of today is success. It has come through purpose and genius. Inheriting from her father, a banker, a farseeing intelligence in financial matters, but reared in a southern home, where all the womanly qualities were accentuated, she is a rare combination of the artist and the business person—one seldom seen, but when found always at the heights of attainment. It was with money earned at music teaching that she made her first investments in lands and oil wells. In the former, depending upon her own judgment, she has had wonderful success, and she owns lands and houses in various sections of Los Angeles, buying and selling for herself.

But it is in her oil operations Mrs. Summers has attracted the widest attention. When oil was first discovered in the vicinity of her California street home she secured a location for her first well. This was most profitable, and she kept adding to her collection of wells until she had a large number. From the very first she has been thoroughly businesslike in all her dealings and soon commanded the respect of all with whom she was associated. It has not been plain sailing. She has taken her hard knocks without whimpering, however, and has asked no favors in her business because of the fact that she is a woman. Possessed of an undaunted spirit, every backward step has meant an effort that has lifted her still further in her business career.

Among all men she is known as a "good fellow," and there isn't one of them better in touch with crude oil conditions and the market than is she.

In personal life Mrs. Summers is a charming woman, full of spirit and delicate intuition. She is intensely interested in Los Angeles and feels herself a part of its innermost workings. Its development is the spirit that animates her. Simple and unaffected in her home life, she is one to comfort and command.—Los Angeles Times.

Sink Knowledge.

Several times a year the average housewife finds herself confronted with a stopped up sink. Amateur efforts at opening the drainpipes are unavailing. Trained skill must be called in, and completion and plumber's bills follow.

This is one of the many instances where an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. There are kitchens to which the plumber's visit is almost as rare as a blue moon, and with a fairly modern system of drainage and a little care their number might easily increase and multiply.

Sink stoppage is usually caused by grease, sometimes by coffee grounds and in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred by carelessness. See that your plates are scraped free from grease and scraps before they go into the dish pan. Insist that coffee grounds shall find their way into the garbage can rather than the sink. Keep a small, stiff scrubbing brush and an iron sink scraper with a rubber edge near at hand and enforce their use after each dishwashing time.

If these few simple rules are obeyed, if none of the greasy water in which vegetables have been cooked, gravies or other greasy liquids are poured into the sink—and it is not the place for them—if the pipes are sealed daily with clean water and plenty of common washing soda, you run very little risk of stoppage.

A plumber once said to me: "If women would use more soda in their sink pipes, there would be less work for us. Some of them use lye, which cuts the grease, but ruins the pipes. Soda is far better."

Study Department and Delfy Old Age. Now, department is all a matter of education and habit. In the bringing up of some girls it is utterly neglected. They are never taught to hold themselves properly, and as they get older they deteriorate in this particular to a dreadful degree. Some women at thirty-five look fifty and more simply from the ungainliness of their deportment and the way in which they have allowed their figures to, as it were, run to seed.

They have neglected to throw back their shoulders so as to preserve the flatness of their backs; they have neglected the selection of a suitable make of corset; they have neglected the exercise which would make them agile and keep them supple. The consequence is that they grow stiff of limb, heavy of movement and unwieldy of figure long before they are old.

In some cases, of course, advice is superfluous and perhaps impertinent. We have all a right to do what we like, with our own, and if we prefer to look old before our time there is no law to hinder us from doing so.

Those, however, who think otherwise and who consider it worth while to make the best of themselves as long as they can should remember that in this particular the figure is as important as the face, and that if we wish to keep looking young we must of all things not neglect to attend to our deportment.—St. Louis Republic.

In the Bathroom.

The one thing to be avoided is a clutter of small things—too many bottles and boxes on the shelves and tables, a number of rumpled towels and, above all, a rack of clothes hung up to dry. The nickel plate should be kept shining with constant polishing and the white porcelain, tiles and enamel immaculate. The nickel quickly collects the green oxide, and the white enamel takes on a peculiar yellow stain if neglected. Any one who has attempted to correct the results of this neglect in either case has found her task a difficult one and if the neglect has continued too long almost an impossible one. With daily care, soap and water, combined with vigorous scrubbing and rubbing, are quite sufficient. A gritty soap should not be used on either the nickel or the enamel.—Harper's Bazar.

Spots on Tablecloths.

The best way to remove any sort of a spot from a tablecloth is to place a bowl under the spot and draw the cloth over it so there is a little dip in the center. Then pour boiling hot water over it, and it will be found when the spot is dry that the stain has entirely disappeared. This is an excellent way to remove a spot after the table is all set, for by putting a plate underneath the stain can be removed without difficulty with the boiling water, and by pressing and smoothing it afterward with a dry napkin there will be no trace of it by the time the luncheon or dinner is ready.

Hiding the Radiator.

An unsightly steam radiator has been thoroughly eliminated and disguised by putting an ordinary shelf on iron braces about a foot above it and hanging a curtain in front. The top of the shelf is covered with denim or burlap, and curtains are tacked at each end that hang straight to the floor. The curtain across the front is hung from a slender brass rod and may be pulled to one side when more heat is needed. The shelf extends some distance beyond the ends of the heater and is used for books and pretty bits of china.

Mending Mackintoshes.

An excellent mending cement for mackintoshes is made by dissolving some shreds of pure India rubber in benzine, which will form a stiff paste. Spread the injured part of the mackintosh on something flat, apply a little of the paste to the part to be mended and leave until the cement is hardened. This may also be very satisfactorily employed in mending rubber gloves.

Oiling Floors.

When oiling floors, use a woolen cloth rather than a brush. If the oil is thoroughly rubbed in with the cloth, the result will be much more satisfactory than when put on with a brush. The same is true in staining floors, and in this case the stain should be rubbed into the wood with one cloth and then rubbed off with another.

Rusty Old Oak.

Old oak that has been neglected should be washed in warm beer; then, when dry, wash it again all over with a soft brush with the following mixture: One quart of beer, in which has been boiled a piece of beeswax the size of a walnut, and a tablespoonful of sugar. Leave this to dry, then polish with a soft cloth.

Trays in Drawers.

If one finds herself confronted with deep drawers in which many things must be kept smooth, inserting trays as in a trunk is a good idea. If tape hangers are sewed at either end, the tray is easily removed when wishing to get at things beneath.

It is a good plan to tack a piece of white oilcloth on the wall back of the kitchen tables, as otherwise it will soon become discolored and greasy, a result that is almost unavoidable.

When linoleum begins to show wear, paint the surface with a good quality floor varnish and allow it a longer time to dry than would be necessary for wooden boards.

Hand massage is very helpful in distributing superfluous flesh over the chest and neck. No other treatment can accomplish this.

An undershirt that is outgrown can be lengthened by a yoke at the top or a ruffle at the bottom.

The wrong way

A select harness is the way it is usually done. It is generally the first consideration. If that is very low, the harness will be very low, the harness will be very low, the harness will be very low.

Then it will be seen that it is a very cheap price. But a harness is a high. Value considered it is a remarkably low.
