Anton Jensen, Living Near Winside Suffers Serious Injury — Thrown From High Wagon

Anton Jensen, a Wayne county farmer living six miles east of Hoskins, was seriously injured in a runaway yesterday afternoon.

Jensen was thrown from a high wagon. The injuries sustained consisted of a severe scap wound, an internal injury in the right chest, a fracture of the left arm and a bad fracture of the left thigh. It was thought possible that the internal injuries might prove fatal.

Jensen had been to Hoskins with a load of hogs. The runaway occurred on a steep hill. Jensen was rendered unconscious by the fall from the wagon and was at first thought to have fractured his skull.

The injured man was taken to his home and medical aid summoned from Norfolk. Mr. Jensen has a family. — Norfolk news.

Effect of Moisture on Wood

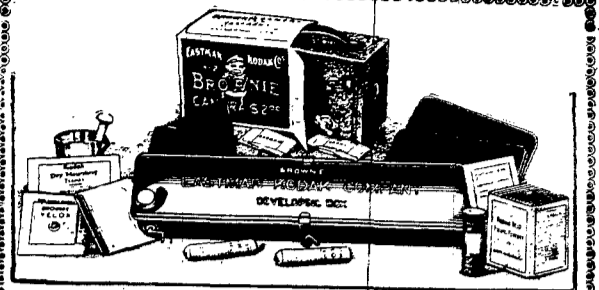

The effect of water in softening organic tissue, as in wetting a piece of paper or a sponge, is well known, and so is the stiffening effect of drying. The same law applies to wood. By different methods of seasoning two pieces of the same stick may be given very different degrees of strength.

Wood in its green state contains moisture in the pores of the cells, like honey in a comb, and also in the substance of the cell walls. As seasoning begins, the moisture in the pores is first evaporated. This lessens the weight of the wood but does not affect its strength. It is not until the moisture in the substance of the cell walls is drawn upon that the strength of the wood begins to increase. Scientifically, the point is known as the "fiber-saturation point." From this condition to that of absolute dryness the gain in the strength of wood is somewhat remarkable. In the case of spruce the strength is multiplied four times, indeed, spruce, in small sizes, thoroughly dried in an oven, is as strong, weight for weight as steel. Even after the reabsorption of moisture, when the wood is again exposed to the air the strength of the sticks is still from 50 to 150 per cent greater than when it was green. When, in drying, the fiber-saturation point is passed, the strength of the wood increases as drying progresses, in accordance with a definite law, and the law can be used to calculate from the strength of a stick at one degree of moisture what its strength will be at any other degree.

Manufacturers, engineers, and builders need to know not only the strength but the weakness of the materials they use, and for this reason they are quite as much interested in knowing how timbers are affected by moisture as they are in knowing how they are weakened by knots, checks, cross-grain, and other defects. It is obvious that where timbers are certain to be weakened by excessive moisture they will have to be used in larger sizes for safety. So far engineers of timber tests, while showing that small pieces gained greatly in strength, do not advise counting on the same results in the seasoning of large timbers, owing to the fact that the large timbers usually found in the market have defects which are sure to counterbalance the gain from seasoning.

The Forest Service has just issued a publication entitled "The strength of wood as influenced by moisture," in which are shown the strength of representative woods in all degrees of moisture from the green state to absolute dryness, and the effects of reseasoning. This publication will be sent free on application to the Forest Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Unmerited praise wrongfully bestowed is as harmful as well earned commendation withheld.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE

Cuts His Throat Because He Thought a Mob Was After Him.

One evil of mob violence is shown in the reflex on weak minds. A man under a delusion that the Bancroft lynchers had discovered they had taken the wrong culprit as the Coppel murderer and that they were after him as the real criminal is now in the Wayne county jail.

Sheriff Mears received a midnight call from Leslie precinct, Monday night with instructions to bring a doctor and hurry, for a man had cut his throat and was liable to bleed to death. The call came from the Henderson home, which is one of the Sullivan farms near the old Slaughter place.

In company with Dr. Williams the Sheriff arrived at Henderson's about three o'clock and found several men guarding an unfortunate who had attempted to cut his throat with a big butcher knife and had succeeded in inflicting a gash about a half inch deep and two inches long in the fleshy part of the neck, from which he had bled profusely. After the wound was sewed up the fellow was brot to town in the carriage.

It appears that the man had fled from a gang of railroad laborers, while working near Pender, because he thought they were suspicious of him as the Coppel murderer. He said he escaped from their hands several days before and had hid in the weeds and brush and slept in haystacks, and that he was glad he had got away.

He walked unannounced into the Henderson home, where several women were preparing supper for the threshers at that place. His actions were such that it was evident he was demented. But when he picked up a knife from the kitchen table and slashed his neck, the men were called for and he was overpowered and guarded until the arrival of the sheriff.

He gave his name as Joen Coleman, and is apparently about thirty-five years of age. The commissioners of insanity will have him sent to the Norfolk asylum this week.

HO! FOR WAUSA.

About fifty members of the Commercial Club in company with the band go to Wausa today to assist the Improvement Club of that hustling burg in their carnival festivities. We have all a kindly feeling for Wausa down this way and this visit of our business men in a body is a means of absorbing a little of the enthusiasm and progressiveness of our enterprising friends up the branch. A coach will be attached to the night freight so our excursionists will be able to return home before morning.

LEWIS-SIMINON.

A pretty home wedding took place at the Joe Siminon home two miles south of town at four o'clock, Wednesday, Sept. 4th. To the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Mable Surber the contracting parties, William H. Lewis and Miss Fern Siminon took their place under a neatly decorated arch from which was suspended a beautiful white bell. Rev. Parker Smith of the Baptist church spoke the words that made them man and wife. The bride was attired in a beautiful white silk gown trimmed with val lace, and is well known in Wayne, having attended the Nebraska Normal. The groom was attired in a conventional black. After the ceremony the party was invited to a dining room where they did ample justice to the good things with which the table fairly groaned. The young couple will go to housekeeping at once on the Strahan ranch west of town.

Randolph Times: Harold Holtz had a birthday last Saturday and invited a number of his young friends to help him celebrate the event, and right royally did they respond to the invitation. A very fine monument with cut stone approach and steps is being put in the Wayne cemetery above the resting place of J. J. W. Fox. Louis Sommer of this city has the contract. Henry Gramkau, the 12 year old son of Wm. Gramkau near Sholes, was quite severely injured last week in a runaway. His head was cut in two places and the surgeons needle was required to close the wounds. At present the lad is doing nicely. Carroll's ball tournament last week was a success. On Friday a large crowd was present and saw good ball games. Henry Gaertner was down from Wolsey, S. D. this week. He is manager of W. H. Stageman's land office there and reports the country as the garden spot of the west.

Joseph Dobbin was down from Garfield precinct yesterday afternoon and related a frightful accident that happened on Tuesday evening, which brot death and sadness into the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Gillin, who reside on the Ed. Lot farm, seven miles north and one east of Hoskins. Mrs. Gillin had taken her two children, one a child of five years and the other a little tot of eighteen months, in the buggy to the home of her mother nearby to spend the afternoon. On returning home and upon their arrival at the head of the lane leading to their home, Mrs. Gillin got out to open the gate, leaving the team standing with the two children in the buggy. Just as she swung the gate clear of the roadway the horses started up and Mrs. Gillin's quick movement to stop them frightened them the more, and they jumped and ran, throwing the buggy into the fence and nearly demolishing it, while the two children were pitched violently to the earth. The older of the two sustained several severe bruises, and a broken leg, while the baby received injuries about the head from which it died within a few hours. It was a most unfortunate accident, and the grief of the parents is nearly the limit of endurance. We understand that the burial services are being held today.

Mrs. Geo. Theis and Mrs. Wm. Splittgerber, of Altona, are at Lincoln this week attending the fair. They visit at Crete, Nebr. before returning.

Sheriff Mears received a hurry up call by telephone last Thursday night about eleven o'clock. The neighborhood in the vicinity of the Phil Sullivan farm which is occupied by Jas. Franks, south-east of Wayne had been annoyed for several days by the strange actions of an old fellow that gave every evidence of being out of his mind. He had removed most of his clothing and hung them on a barb wire fence, while he strutted around on the highway almost naked. Sheriff Mears arrived on the scene about 2 o'clock in the morning, and assisted by several men of the neighborhood, a search was made and the unfortunate fellow was found in the tall grass along the roadway where he had crawled to sleep. He was in a pitiful condition with only a few rags to cover his body and dirty from the miserable life he had been living of late. The sheriff and the men gathered up some of the other cloths the unfortunate had scattered around, and bundled him into a buggy and brot him to Wayne. The board of insanity passed on the case Saturday and he was committed to the asylum at Norfolk where he was taken Saturday evening. The man is of German origin, apparently fifty years of age and gave his name as William Wester. He said he had lived in this country about twenty-two years and "knows nobody and nobody knows him." He had been about the neighborhood of Jas. Franks two or three days and had begged food at several of the farm houses and slept wherever weariness found him.

Amendment to Articles of Incorporation of Citizens Bank.

I, D. C. Main, Cashier of the Citizens Bank of Wayne, Nebraska, hereby certify that at a meeting of the stockholders of said Bank, held at its office in Wayne, Nebraska, on August 6th, 1907, Article Five, of the Articles of Incorporation of said Citizens Bank was amended to read as follows:

ARTICLE V.

"This Corporation shall commence business on the 6th day of September, A. D., 1887, and shall continue for a period of forty years, unless sooner dissolved by the consent of a majority of its stock vote." Witness my hand and seal of said Citizens Bank, this 22nd. day of August, 1907.

There is nothing like a fair association dividing its profits with its patrons. Therein lies the success of the Interstate Live Stock Association of Sioux City. This year the men who are at the head of this "largest independent fair in the world" as the eastern horse papers describe it, are spending more money for attractions of every kind than the majority of state fairs do. The stellar attraction to many people, no doubt, will be Horace Wild, the world-famed aeronaut, who will make daily flights in his air ship, the "Eagle" The free vaudeville attractions will be a show in themselves. In these will be the great "thriller" of the year, "Leaping the Death Gap Flumes."

Saturday evening. A large crowd was in attendance and a royal good time was enjoyed by all.

The tennis court east of the drug store has been cleared from weeds and put in shape to play on. The boys will now spend their evenings in this pleasant past-time.

J. M. Barto of Gordon, Nebraska, stopped in Hoskins Friday on his way home from Lincoln. He had been to Lincoln with W. J. Weatherholt to purchase a Northwest threshing outfit.

We have been wondering why Henry Krause was always smiling and saying "come have a cigar." It is a boy that came to make his name with Mr. and Mrs. Krause on August 21st.

Rev. Gruber left today for Reedsburg, Wisconsin, where he will visit for a week with friends and members of his former charge, as Mr. Gruber was pastor of the Lutheran Church there before coming to Hoskins.

Wm. Eckert came to town with a team and buggy Sunday afternoon and took the editor and his family out for a few hours visit at his country home. Wm. and his estimable wife certainly have a fine farm, with its good substantial buildings, its herds of horses, cattle and hogs, and its fields of corn and stacks of grain. After partaking of a delicious supper we were taken home, and must say that we all certainly enjoyed our short visit very much. As to entertainers Wm. and his wife are hard to beat.

The editor attended the carnival and stock show at Carroll last Friday and enjoyed himself immensely. The handsome pavilion in which the stock was kept would have been a credit to towns twenty times the size of Carroll and the stock was as fine a bunch as you ever saw at any stock show. They were all Wayne county products and shows that our farmers are right and up-to-date. The ball games and street attractions were good and something was doing all the time. Stands were numerous but no grafting was permitted. The management gave value received for every penny spent. Carroll certainly knows how to do things right.

We are informed that the farm machinery exhibit at the Interstate Fair, Sioux City, Iowa, which will be held September 7-14th, will be very large and attractive. Many large manufacturers who have never been represented at the Interstate Fair before will be present this year with their latest improved machinery such as manure spreaders, improved corn harvesters, threshing machines, grain elevators, plows, discs, harrows, seeders, wagons, buggies, wagon scales, wind-mills, gasoline engines, pumps, fanning mills, seed, corn graders, seed testers, etc. If you are interested in any line of machinery come to the Interstate Fair and see the best. The way to keep in touch with the marvelous progress that is being made in the farm machinery line is to attend one or more of the big fairs every year. There is positively no other way for the average farmer to get posted on these things than to see them at the fairs. A man who has seen a new plow or a new corn harvester or a new improved disc or a new line of paper is naturally interested in seeing the articles with his own eyes and study the improvement made. See the exhibit at the Interstate Fair. It has made a greater effort than ever to secure as much variety in the machinery exhibits this year as possible. Fully realizing that fair patrons will be interested in exhibits of this kind, we have endeavored to

REAL MAGNATE HER GUEST.

"It has happened at last," exulted the woman. "I have dined at the same table with a real magnate. I knew it would happen if I kept on going to that little Hungarian restaurant where they are all magnates, exiled princes and things."

"It happened last night. I hadn't been there for a long time. I sat at the big square table where I always sit. Not far from me was a very distinguished looking man with iron gray hair and such a manner! He passed me everything on the table. He bowed so courteously every time he did it in a noble way; nothing servile; just a high and mighty courtesy, you might call it. At last I said to him:

"This is an interesting little place, isn't it? Have you ever been here before?"

"This is my first visit," he replied, with a smile. "I heard so much of it I thought I would come down and look it over. I am in the same business myself." He bowed and smiled again as he revealed the nature of his business.

"I am head waiter at the Hotel Astor," he said.—New-York Press.

The Georgian Bay Canal.

The Georgian bay canal survey has been completed after two years of work and a heavy expenditure of money. It is an undertaking comparable with the Panama canal, for the rough estimates of its cost already reach a total of $125,000,000, and the revised estimates, based on the survey just finished, may be materially higher. The project calls for a channel with a minimum depth of twenty-two feet from the great lakes to Montreal by way of French river, Lake Nipissing and the Ottawa river. Its completion would mean the shipping of cargoes from great lake ports to any part of the world without breaking bulk. How such a plan will appeal to the powerful transcontinental Canadian railways will not be seen until the report on the canal is made public.

A Fan Run by a Lamp.

In India the intense heat during most of the year makes fans of some kind a necessity to the comfort of Europeans, and great success is predicted for the new apparatus that is being introduced by a German firm and which consists of a portable fan driven by a hot air engine using kerosene as fuel.

The lamp, holding about a quart of oil, has a small glass chimney fitting into a larger metal chimney connected with the engine, and the fan, resembling the ordinary electric fan, is hung upon the top of the engine. The speed is regulated by turning the flame up or down. One filling of the lamp is sufficient for more than twenty-four hours, and the cost of running is only one-fifth of that of the electric fan.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

"Silent" Smith's Kindness.

"Silent Smith," said a New York broker, "was an eccentric man, but in many ways a kind one. To his friends and employees he was exceedingly kind. Once, indeed, his kindness saved a lad from ruin: Mr. Smith, a good many years ago, employed a young man in a confidential capacity. Another employee came to him one day and told him he had better look out for the young man, as he was living beyond his means."

"Mr. Smith frowned. 'Living beyond his means, is he?' he said. 'Dear me, that won't do. Send him to me at once. I'll have to raise his salary.'"—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Few Whites in Bolivia.

Bolivia extends for nearly 1,200 miles from north to south and almost 700 miles from east to west. In all this vast extent of territory there are only about 1,600,000 people, more than half of whom are full blooded Indians, degenerate descendants of the valiant Incas. In number of inhabitants to the square mile the hermit republic ranks the lowest of all the nations of the world, having at the last census only ninety-nine one-hundredths of a person to every mile, while Tripoli, which comes next in this respect, has one full inhabitant to the mile.—Boston Transcript.

The Cave of Minneapolis.

It was discovered some years ago that a part of the business district of Minneapolis was built over a great subterranean cavern, whose rocky roof lay some sixty or more feet below the surface, but the fact has been kept quiet until now, when the roof of the cave has been put upon the support of great concrete pillars. The cave had been caused by a subterranean waterflow, which has been diverted. When accidentally discovered the cavern contained a lake of fine ice cold water, ten feet deep and large enough to have quenched the city.—Arizona.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. John Schalmus were held at the Catholic church on Saturday Aug. 31, at 10:00 o'clock a. m. The lady died on Thursday morning at her home on college hill. She has been an invalid for nearly two years, and a sufferer from dropsy, which finally caused her death. The family formerly resided near Grace church south of Wayne but moved to town in the hopes of having better care and medical treatment for her. Besides her husband a son and a daughter survive her. Deceased was highly esteemed by neighbors and friends.

The pastor of the Methodist church left on Tuesday for a short vacation which will be spent at Columbus, Ohio, where he will visit his mother and sisters, his last trip home being made nearly five years ago. Arrangements have been made to supply the pulpit during his absence. A special service will be held next Sunday morning at 10:45. There will be special music and two attorneys will speak. The service will be of special interest to the Sunday School and every scholar is urged to be present in addition to those who usually attend the morning service. THE MODERN "PITTSBURGH PERFECT" WIRE FENCE, WELDED BY ELECTRICITY.

What a Marvel it would have been to Abraham Lincoln, splitter of rails.

Mr. Farmer: Your progressiveness is keeping you in close touch with improvements in farm machinery, in dairy methods, and with all the scientific facts that bring about the greatest possible agricultural production.

You are also informing yourself about fence. We know you are.

- First—there was the stone fence of medieval history.
- Second—pioneer America converted its timber into rails.
- Third—somebody found a way to weave wire and slats.
- Fourth—along came barb wire, with its marvelous sale.
- Fifth—machines were invented to twist or clamp one wire around another: the woven wire fence.

But, most important of all, electricity now welds the wires at the joint, making no longer necessary these wraps and clamps. Stay and strand, wizard-like, become one.

The greatest step forward in fence building is thus accomplished at a single, master stroke.

Of course, you are not using anything else. Surely you are familiarizing yourself with this remarkable improvement, to be found only in "Pittsburgh Perfect."

"If you answer a fool according to his folly you will be as big a fool as he, the Bible tells us, but if you answer him in a sensible way he will think he is a philosopher. Not comprehending your argument he will still cling to his folly and flatter himself that he has won out in the argument. It is obviously the best way, from every view point to pay no attention to a fool, but let him revel in his folly and go his own way."

If you seek evidence of the opulence of Wayne county, increasing with the advance of each year, make an examination of the two bank statements appearing in this issue of the HERALD. We have certainly reached the high water mark when the First National and Citizen Bank, of Wayne, only two of six banking institutions of the county, have together lifted their totals past the million dollar mark. These bank statements are the thermometers of business and reveal the prosperity of the farmers. Study their contents in detail and you'll find cause to congratulate yourself on living in not only a healthy but a wealthy section of your Uncle Samuel's domain.

Following its first trial, and in an off year in which party sentiment was at low ebb, the enemies of the primary law have arisen to express their great dissatisfaction at its operation. But such criticism is to be expected. It was heard at the time of the laws enactment, and has been echoed and re-echoed from the same mouths ever since. The direct primary has its defects and now that a trial has revealed them, they can easily be eliminated and additions looking to its perfection can be made. As you listen to the fault finders kindly recall the storm of objections raised when the Australian ballot system was adopted and first used in Nebraska. Today no one would be so rash as to venture an opinion that our secret method of voting was aught but the best plan of all. These protests against the people making the nominations will grow noticeably less each passing day, and in time will likewise disappear. The principles of the primary will be adhered to, and the would be political bosses and slate makers might just as well quit the game.

Safety in Ugliness.

"Daily Drift" in State Journal: Sad is the fate of the man who is so charming that married women fall in love with him. We find much greater happiness in being plain and unpretentious. A handsome man, with winning ways, is a danger, a menace, as it were, to himself if not to those whom he associates with. The man who bemoans his ugly looks is foolish, for therein lies his safety. He can rest in perfect security behind his countenance, knowing that whoever comes along may be frightened away by a frown. While other men look fair and snug and stand some chance of being caught, Secure behind this florid mug I rest as honest virtue ought. I sit upon my porch at night And frown on women when they pass They hasten onward at the sight— My smile would break a looking glass. So, through this vale of time and sense I trudge toward a higher sphere; My features are my strong defense, Thus armed, I have no cause to fear.

Mark Twain says that all are lazy; Some are able to fight it down while others fail. He knew a noncombatant of this class when a boy in Hannibal. His name was Jim Black and one summer morning he was lying under a tree beside the river, listening to the birds and watching the steam boats glide up and down the great stream. "Well what are you here for?" Mark asked him. "I'm here," said Jim, "for to pile them bales onto the wharf." "Oh, and now you are resting are you?" "No," said Jim, "I ain't resting, because I ain't tired. I'm just waiting for the sun to sink down behind that there hill, so's I can knock off work."

PRIMARY RETURNS.

The results of the primary election held Tuesday, as far as the county is concerned are not available for this weeks paper. The election boards and others interested failed in most every precinct to take the vote from the poll books before they were sealed and sent to the county clerk. It will require the official canvass of the returns to know the outcome. This will be tomorrow.

However, it appears that Farran wins for commissioner over Ziemer in the Third district as republican candidate, while Ed. Carroll, of Sherman has been voted his democratic apponent.

In the state it is conceded that Reese is victorious over Sedgwick as the republican choice for Supreme Judge and that Loomis, of Fremont is the democratic candidate.

A Cut Rate Price.

This is the first campaign in Nebraska in which political bosses cut no figure. The people will nominate the candidates and afterwards elect them. You are one of the people and should take an active interest in these primaries and elections hereafter. Politics from now on means a square deal for the masses, lower passenger rates, lower freight rates, less extortion by trusts and combinations. These things can only be accomplished by every honest voter making it a part of his business. The people can only know what is really going on by reading the newspapers. But you ought to read a newspaper that can print the truth about all the candidates; a paper that has no self-interest in politics; whose owners are not office-holders or office-seekers. The publishers think the State Journal is such a paper and in order to prove it to you make the special offer of only 50 cents from now until after election; seventy-five cents if you want the Sunday also. The earlier you send in your order the more you get for your money. Lincoln is the news center.

Harmful Stomach Dosing.

The best physicians believe that the less medicine one swallows the better. Do not try to cure catarrh of the head by dosing the stomach; this is neither common-sense nor scientific. Breathe Hyomei, and its medication will go right to the spot where the catarrh germs are present and free the system from all catarrhal poisons. E. J. Raymond has seen so many cures of catarrh made by Hyomei, some of them chronic and complicated cases, that he gives an absolute guarantee of cure or money will be refunded with every outfit he sells. The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00.

Though every man has a right to express his opinion, the rest of us can hang up the phone when we get tired of listening.

Sheriff's Sale.

By virtue of an Order of Sale, to me directed, issued by the clerk of the District Court of Wayne County Nebraska, upon a decree rendered therein on the 25th day of April 1907, it being a judicial day of the regular March, 1907 term thereof, in an action pending in said court wherein Mary J. Fowler was plaintiff and the Heirs of Alexander Beattie, J. M. Cherry, as Administrator of the Estate of Alexander Beattie, Rollie W. Gilbert, State of Nebraska, were defendants, I will, on the Seventh day of October, 1907, at nine o'clock a. m., at the door of the office of the Clerk of said Court, in the court house in Wayne, in said county, sell to the highest bidder for cash, the following described real estate, to wit: The North Half of the Southwest Quarter of Section Thirty-four (34), Township Twenty-five (25), Range Four (4) East of the 6th P. M., Wayne County, Nebraska, to satisfy the aforesaid decree, the amount due thereon being $732.50 with interest at ten per cent from April 25th, 1907, and costs and accruing costs.

Dated at Wayne, Nebraska this fifth day of September, 1907,
 GRANT S. MEARS, Sheriff.

The average man would not believe the true story of his own life, if he saw it in print.

THE OPTICAL LEVER.

The delicate measurements demanded by modern scientific processes and machines have led to the invention of many instruments of precision that surprise the uninitiated by their capabilities, which are often based on extremely simple principles. Among these is a little apparatus recently put upon the market in France for determining the thickness or, one might say, lack of thickness, of extremely thin plates, wires and threads. The inventor likens its action to that of a lever in which a ray of light takes the place of the beam. Essentially the apparatus consists of two carefully ground plates in contact with one another, the upper one being attached to a movable arm. When an object is placed between the edges of the plates the upper plate is displaced a little in level, and the effect of this displacement is magnified by a reflected ray of light which falls upon a graduated scale. Thus the most delicate measurements of thickness are easily and quickly made.—Youth's Companion.

Historic Texan Oak.

When General Zachariah Taylor came to Texas on his way to Mexico during the Mexican war he landed at Rockport on a point adjacent to the Bayview hotel. He then marched his forces up to where Fulton now stands and halted there before going on to Corpus Christi. When Taylor's army halted General Taylor camped beneath the shady boughs of an oak that is still standing sentinel there.

This oak is over eight feet in diameter and is probably the largest oak in Texas. It is gnarled and battered. Vandals have built fires against it that have almost eaten its heart out, but still the leaves are green upon its branches and its friendly shade is sought by the hundreds who frequent the locality.

It is king of a grove of large and stately oaks. One peculiarity about these and all other trees in this locality is that the prevailing wind has bent their branches so that they lean toward the northwest.—San Antonio Express.

"Passed With Distinction."

An incident is recorded that is characteristic of a section of Russian studentdom of the present day. A leaving examination, a certificate to which is a valuable credential, was held at the Baku grammar school. As the students took their seats for the examination, each pulled from his pocket a revolver, which he coolly laid on his desk. The examiners not only did not venture to interfere, but, tamed by the sight of the weapons, allowed the students to discuss the examination papers at their own sweet will. They finally granted to every one a certificate declaring that its holder had passed "with distinction."—St. Petersburg Cable to New York Sun.

Saving Further Trouble.

Ambassador Bryce at a dinner in Urbana, Ill., gave a young lady some tips on European travel. "And above all," he said, "don't fail to tip your cabman liberally. Hansoms and four wheelers would be cheap in London if one only paid the legal fare for them, but he who tries to pay the legal fare—well, he doesn't try it more than once. "One day I saw an old lady stop a hansom, look up at the driver and say timidly: "Driver, I want to go to Ludgate circus. I see by the book that the legal fare is 2 shillings. If I give you 3 shillings will you promise not to swear at me afterward?"—Indianapolis Star.

Poor Wages.

John B. Lennon, treasurer of the American Federation of Labor, delivered recently in Bloomington an address on strikes.

Turning to the amusing features of the strike question, Mr. Lennon said:

"I remember a strike of bobbin boys. These boys conducted their fight well, even brilliantly. Thus the day they turned out they posted in the spinning room of their employer's mill a great placard inscribed with the words: "The wages of sin is death, but the wages of the bobbin boys is worse."—New York Tribune.

A Famous Pitcher.

Elmer Stricklett, the "spit-ball" pitcher, had been listening a long while in a New York club to the boasting of a rival.

"Well," he said, exhausted at last, "you are pretty good, Mike, but out in Mountain View there is a young fellow who can beat you. You'll hear from him next season. His specialty is the slow ball. This young fellow has such a slow ball that when he pitches it and sees that it is going to be hit he can run after it and fetch it back again."—Exchange.

Pres. Pile, of the Normal, was a passenger for Niobrara, Nebr., Thursday, where the Knox county teachers institute was in session.

As a means looking to the comfort of the office force, a new awning now shades the front windows of the Herald office. It was put up Monday.

The German Lutheran people have beautified the interior of their church edifice by the use of paper. Lee Buroker completed the job last week.

Jake Roush came up from Elm Creek, Nebr. last week. He will remain here for a short time looking after property interests of his own and those of his brother Dan Roush, late deceased.

John Nydahl, residing near Winside, is arranging with the lumber men and carpenters for a new bar on his premises. The structure will be 40x40 ft. and contain all the modern conveniences.

Clarence Sears was here from Omaha over Sunday to visit his mother and sister. He is a traveling salesman for a big tea company of Omaha, and his trips bring him near home several times a year.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Cherry and child leave for Rush county, Kansas, this week where they visit with a sister of Mrs. Cherry's. This is about the first vacation Mr. Cherry has taken during his two terms as county treasurer.

A lot of new job type and borders has been received at the Herald office the past week. The best of facilities and competent workmen enables us to meet all competition and excel in up-to-date, attractive printing.

Wm. Mears was called to Manning Iowa, Monday by a telegram announcing the dangerous condition of his daughter, Mrs. Doty. She is a consumptive and has been failing rapidly of late and now the worst is feared. Mrs. Mears has been quite ill for some time and on Monday was unable to go to the bedside of her daughter.

The German Lutheran church of which Rev. J. H. Karpenstein is pastor will have its annual Missions fest next Sunday, Sept. 8th. Sunday school will begin at 9:30 a. m. The services at 10:30 a. m. There will also be services in the afternoon. Several neighboring ministers will assist the pastor. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

A news item that was overlooked in our haste last week was a surprise party given little Miss Erna Voget by a dozen of her young friends on Thursday evening Aug. 22. A jolly time was had by the girls and Miss Erna received a lot of little presents in remembrance of the occasion. Those present were: Bessie and Hattie Crockett, Elsie Mildner, Josie Ellis, Molly Piepenstock, Elsie and Helen Thielman, Mary and Martha Weber, Edna McVicker, Helen Rawhauser, Ida Kingsbury and Francis Kate.

D. A. Jones, Albert Berry and J. F. Jeffries were passengers for Omaha, Monday.

Frank E. Strahan, Nebraska director of the Interstate Fair, arrived yesterday on the Sioux City live stock market with 100 head of cattle which he sold for $6.40. Speaking of the probable attendance at the fair from people in his part of the country, Mr. Strahan said it seemed to him that every one he met was coming, and he said he believed Sioux City would have the largest crowd within its gates that it had ever seen.—Sioux City Journal(Sat.)

It is write up of the Dixon county Teacher's Institute the Ponca Leader makes note of Pres. Pile's part in the program as follows: "On Friday evening Pres. Pile, of Wayne, gave his lecture on Some Evils and Their Remedies, to one of the largest audiences ever assembled in the Opera House. Pres. Pile had been lecturing all week on Didactics and as usual had been having his fun. The few of our citizens who had attended these lectures were not quite prepared for the intellectual treat they were given on Friday evening. Pres. Pile has spent his entire life in the teaching profession and has always been a strong student of human nature, consequently he was a complete master of his subject and held the entire attention of his audience for almost an hour and a half."

J. R. Washburn, of Mercer, North Dakota, has been spending a week with his Wayne county friends. He is on his return from Buchard, Neb., where he had been to place two of his daughters in school and in charge of their sister, who is married and residing at Buchard. The Washburn family formerly owned a farm three miles north of Winside, but Mr Washburn is now engaged in the meat business at Mercer, and is apparently well satisfied with that country. He reports that James Murphy is married and settled on a farm within three miles of Mercer, and is getting on nicely. Mercer is a new town in McLain county and west of Denhoff, where the Winside colony is located. It is well supplied with the various lines of business and last week a newspaper was added to the list.

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Relyea and neice, Miss Ruth Olmstead, were passengers for Pierre, S. D. Tuesday near where they visit a sister of Mrs. Relyea's for a short time, Miss Olmstead is from Wisconsin and has spent the past month in Wayne.

J. W. Epler made a hurried trip to Holly, Colorado, last week, taking in Denver and Pueblo enroute, returning home Saturday. His brother, Chas. Epler, who will be remembered by many Wayne people is located on a quarter of irrigated land near Holly.

Mrs. Mick of this city and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Will Mick of Carroll, arrived home from North Dakota last evening. They have spent several weeks visiting the Carroll colony, among whom are two daughters of the later, located in Hettinger and Morton counties.

Mort McManigal was in Wayne, Saturday, on his return from Custer county, Nebr., where he had been looking up land. However, he found nothing to suit him in that section of the state, for the price asked are about as high as those prevailing for land in North-east Nebraska.

Sheriff Mears received a communication the past week from the Warden of the Kansas penitentiary, enquiring after a certain fellow by the name of Straddler, whom Sheriff Mears held in custody for a time last spring. Straddler, is now under sentence in the Kannas penitentiary, and will be remembered as the suspicious character that Marshal Maher, of Carroll, winged with a shot gun. At the time every peace officer in north Nebraska was alert and on the lookout for Higgins, the diabolical murderer of the Coppel family at Rosalie, who was then at large. A lot of Randolph men had turned out to capture the fiend, who had been located in a deserted farm house east of that town. When it was found he had escaped, he was traced in the direction of Carroll and the authorities of that town notified. When the supposed, arch criminal arrived at the outskirts of the town he was met by the dauntless village marshall, whose commands to halt, were ignored, with the result that a charge of shot was used to stop him. After he had been landed in the county jail, the real Higgins was captured near Hooper, sympathy turned to the unfortunate fellow in Sheriff Mears' care. However, since he is doing time in Kansas, the elements were mixed for the worst in him, not knowing what crimes he has since committed.

Sassaman, the Anchor Grain Co., manager, was an over night visitor at Randolph, Tuesday.

Mrs. M. A. Spears, has enjoyed a visit from her daughter, Mrs. F. B. Smith of Emerson, the past week.

A. D. Collins, of Essex, Iowa, is here looking after his land interests near the German church north-east of Wayne.

Mrs. Chas. Madden's mother Mrs. McKay, left for Budy, Ills., Tuesday where she will visit a daughter and sister for a few weeks.

Miss Edna Relyea returned to Sioux City, Tuesday, to resume her duties as stenographer with the New York Life Insurance Co. She has been enjoying a vacation the past few weeks.

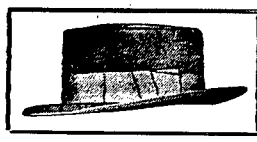

G. W. and L. L. Lush in company with their sister Miss Lena Lush, were among the Dakota excursionists Tuesday. They go to Lyman county, west of Chamberlain, where L. L. Lush already has a claim. It is the purpose of the other two to enter homesteads.

The HERALD's foreman, Mr. I. C. Trumbauer, is back and into the harness again. In company with his wife, he has enjoyed a month's outing with Iowa relatives, winding up their trip with a visit at the Iowa State fair at DesMoines, and arriving in Wayne Saturday.

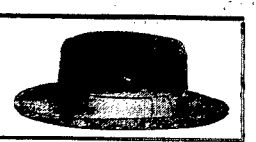

The horses on two single rigs that were hitched on the corner west of Roe & Fortner's market got into a bad mix up and created considerable excitement Saturday afternoon. Several men finally succeeded in extricating the animals from their tangle and aside from a few broken shafts little damage was done.

Old man Vredenburg, who is familiarly known about town, had a hearing before the commissioners of insanity, Saturday, with the result that he was taken to the Norfolk asylum that evening. With his advanced years came a weakness of mind, and suitable care and medical treatment became necessary for his well being.

Daniel Jett, a former Wayne boy who completed a course in the Omaha High School this spring and went to Chicago, has changed his plans and will enter the University of Nebraska at Lincoln this fall. He found the paper route, he had taken hold of in Chicago, unprofitable, and is assured of more opportunities to work his way thru the Nebraska University.

ONE WEAK SPOT

Most Wayne People have a Weak Part and Too Often It's the Back

Everyone has a weak spot. Too often it's a bad back. Twinges follow every sudden twist. Dull aching keeps up, day and night.

Tells you the kidneys need help—For backache is really kidney-ache. A kidney cure is what you need. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys.

Cure backache and all urinary ills. Wayne people recommend the remedy.

Berhdjt Juhlin, living two blocks east of Opera House, Wayne, Neb., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have proved of great benefit to me. My first symptom of kidney trouble came about a year ago. I grew gradually worse and was scarcely able to drag myself around, could not walk at all and tried at least ten physicians, none of them did me the least good. I had a sensitiveness in my back constantly and a soreness around the kidney regions. About four months ago I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills which I saw highly recommended and received great relief. I continued using them and am now free from backache, the kidney secretions have been restored to their natural condition and I am glad to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agent for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Just because a woman laughs at every stupid joke you make does not give you license to ask her who her dentist is.

Deafness Cannot be Cured.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. Cheney & Co. Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Though every man has a right to express his opinion, the rest of us can hang up the phone when we get tired of listening.

A Cut Rate Price.

This is the first campaign in Nebraska in which political bosses cut no figure. The people will nominate the candidates and afterwards elect them. You are one of the people and should take an active interest in these primaries and elections hereafter. Politics from now on means a square deal for the masses, lower passenger rates, lower freight rates, less extortion by trusts and combinations. These things can only be accomplished by every honest voter making it a part of his business. The people can only know what is really going on by reading the newspapers. But you ought to read a newspaper that can print the truth about all the candidates; a paper that has no self-interest in politics; whose owners are not office-holders or office-seekers. The publishers think the State Journal is such a paper and in order to prove it to you make the special offer of only 50 cents from now until after election; seventy-five cents if you want the Sunday also. The earlier you send in your order the more you get for your money. Lincoln is the news center.

A weak stomach, causing dyspepsia, a weak heart with palpitation or intermittent pulse, always means weak stomach nerves or weak heart nerves. Strengthen these inside or controlling nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative and see how quickly these ailments disappear. Dr. Shoop of Racine, Wis. will mail samples free. Write for them. A test will tell. Your health is certainly worth this sample trial. Sold by Felters Pharmacy.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

Suggestions as to the Care of the Wardrobe—Helpful Hints.

Wishing to give the wardrobe proper care, do not forget to look every day at the binding of skirts, at the buttons on boots, at veil and gloves. Indeed one must glance at all that has unceasing wear. A fresh binding sometimes will alter the entire appearance of a girl, making her look neat and dainty where before the ragged edges of her skirt suggested that she was at once untidy and ignorant. Shabby finery is inexcusable. Chiffon that has become worn and ragged when it cannot be replaced should be removed and something simpler substituted for it. Tears, worn places and rips never are seen on the well bred girl, for from her early youth she has learned how to wield her needle well and mend her belongings with as much daintiness as she embroiders.

When a Child Has Convulsions.

The first thing to do after sending for the doctor when a child has convulsions is to plunge the little one up to the neck in a bath of hot water, but remember that the water must not be too hot. Test it with your elbow, which is not as hard as your hand. When the heat is right for your elbow it will not hurt the baby. The child's head should be sponged also with cold water. As soon as the little one is able to swallow give a small dose of castor oil. This helps to remove blood pressure from the brain.

Diphtheria Cure.

At the first indications of diphtheria in the throat of a child make the room close. Take a tin cup and put into it a quantity of tar and turpentine, equal parts. Then hold the cup over a fire, so as to fill the room with fumes. The little patient on inhaling the fumes will cough up and spit out all the membranous matter and the diphtheria will pass out. The fumes of the tar and turpentine loosen the matter in the throat and thus afford the relief that has baffled the skill of physicians.

Boiled Ribs of Beef.

Take the middle of the flat ribs of beef, stew until the meat is tender and the bones slip out easily, using just water enough to cover the meat, to which a bouquet of sweet herbs has been added. Take up the meat and herbs. Set the liquor away to cool, remove the fat. Add to this gravy diced carrots, turnips, celery and six small onions. Cook until tender. Thicken the gravy with a little flour, put the beef back into it to warm and serve.

Sore Throat Gargle.

Strong sage tea, one-half pint; strained honey, common salt and strong vinegar, of each two tablespoonfuls; cayenne, pulverized, one rounding teaspoonful. Steep the cayenne with the sage, strain, mix them and bottle for use. Gargle from four to a dozen times daily, according to the severity of the case.

Whitewash Hints.

If one pint of wheat flour is made into a thin cooked paste and added to each pailful of whitewash the whitewash will not rub off easily. Add to this a small quantity of carbolic acid and it will purify the cellars and dairies where used, keeping down all musty odors that might taint the milk and butter.

Apron of Handkerchiefs.

Obtain two large size handkerchiefs. From one cut a corner about seven inches. Then gather the part that is cut. The other handkerchief can be cut up for the band and strings. The corner cut from the first handkerchief can be sewed on the right hand side of the apron for a small sized pocket.

Cement For China.

Take a very thick solution of gum arabic in water and stir in plaster of paris until the mixture is of proper consistency. Apply with a brush to the fractured edges, stick them together and in three days' time the article will not break in the same place.

Cleansing Fluid.

For yellow or grimy things make an emulsion of kerosene, clear lime-water and turpentine in equal parts. Shake them together until creamy, and then add a cupful of a boilerful of clothes and boil for half an hour.

Baked Apple Jelly.

Fill a two quart granite or earthen dish with alternate layers of sliced tart apples and sugar. Bake three hours, closely covered. This is delicious and should turn out a solid pink jelly.

Mustard Sauce.

Blend over hot water six tablespoonfuls of mixed mustard, six tablespoonfuls of cream, six tablespoonfuls of melted butter, a salt-spoonful of salt and dusting of paprika.

A LITTLE NONSENSE.

We Demanded a Trial by a Jury of His Peers.

"I have been engaged in the practice of law a good many years," said S. S. Army, police judge of Topeka, Kan., "and about the most humorous thing I ever saw in a courtroom was in Topeka.

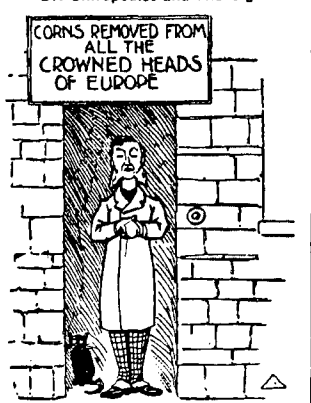

"One day an old negro man was being tried in the justice court—that was before the office of police judge was created—and he demanded a trial by a jury of his peers. He could neither read nor write, and his lawyer insisted that the jury, to his peers, as required by law, must be unable to read or write too. To avoid dispute I agreed to it, but we had a time finding twelve men in Topeka who could neither read nor write. But we did find them, and the case went to trial.

"Before the jury retired I took two pieces of paper and wrote 'guilty' on one piece and 'not guilty' on the other and instructed the foreman of the jury to destroy the one he did not wish used and to return the other to me when the jury reached a verdict. The jury was out only a few minutes when it came in. The foreman handed me a piece of paper with the word guilty written on it.

"Well, gentlemen, you find him guilty, do you?" I asked.

"No, sah, judge, no, sah. We done found him not guilty," spoke up one of the jurymen. Then he added, with disgust, "I tote that fool nigger he was tearin' up the wrong piece of paper." — Kansas City Star.

Didn't Know the Dialect.

It is probably a fairy tale, but nevertheless it is told that Andrew Carnegie had just emerged from the White House when he was approached by a newspaper man.

"What did the president say to you, Mr. Carnegie?" questioned the reporter.

"Hoot, mon, gang awa!" answered the ironmaster in the language of his boyhood.

"Yes," said the reporter, "and I see you went away, but did you hoot?" — Woman's Home Companion.

"Hands up!" said the footpad. "And if I refuse?" queried the belated pedestrian.

"Well, in that case," resumed the footpad, "I can only say that you don't know the rules of the game. I decline to negotiate with one so grossly ignorant. Good night, sir." — Philadelphia Ledger.

"Do you keep anything from your wife?"

"Well," answered Mr. Meekton, "I try to tell her everything. But she finds my conversation so dull that she generally goes to sleep before I am half through." — Washington Star.

Thwarted.

The airship inventor was puzzled. "If I could manage to apply the hot air I talk about my machine to the machine itself I'd fly, all right," he added.

But he couldn't. — Brooklyn Life.

A Traveling Man's Experience.

"I must tell you my experience on an East bound O. R. & N. R. R. train from Pendleton to LeGrande, Ore.," writes Sam A. Garber, a well known traveling man. "I was in the smoking department with some other traveling men when one of them went out into the coach and came back and said, 'There is a woman sick unto death in the car.' I at once got up and went out, found her very ill with cramp colic, her hands and arms were drawn up so you could not straighten them, and with a deathlike look on her face. Two or three ladies were working with her and giving her whiskey. I went to my suit case and got my bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy (I never travel without it) ran to the water tank, put a double dose of the medicine in the glass, poured some water into it and stirred it with a pencil; then I had quite a time to get the ladies to let me give it to her, but I succeeded. I could at once see the effect and I worked with her, rubbing her hands, and in twenty minutes I gave her another dose. By this time we were almost into LeGrande; where I was to leave the train. I gave the bottle to the husband to be used in case another dose should be needed, but by the time the train ran into LeGrande she was alright, and I received the thanks of every passenger in the car." The wrong way to select harness is the way it is usually done. Price is generally the first consideration. If that is very low the goods seem attractive, regardless of quality. Judge our goods the other way about. Examine into the quality of this harness first. Then it will be seen that it is worth almost any price. But our prices are not high. Value considered they are remarkably low.
