News From N. N. College

From Alumni Echo:

The class pictures of all graduates hang in the hall on either side of Chapel entrance. They make quite a gallery and attract much attention. Some of the early classes had but few members and the number has increased until last year's class contained more than 80. The present class has more than 100 and probably that number will be in the coming class picture.

Principal H. E. Hiatt, '00 Teachers' of Gregory, S. D., has a new school building and a growing town where are located a number of Normal folks. He writes a nice letter of his success and same for his school friends. President Pile has promised to pay them a visit in the early spring and give them an evening talk.

Miss Charlotte M. White of Teachers' '92 class lives at Norfolk and is enjoying good health. Her experience in school work as country teacher, as principal, as county superintendent covers a longer period than falls to the average teacher. In every place, she was a success and thousands of boys and girls owe their good start in life to this excellent woman.

Mrs. Ellen Cunningham-Gearhart of '93 Teachers' spent several weeks this winter with her mother after her sister's death. Her husband is Congregational pastor at Wakonda, S. D. For several years after graduating, she was a successful teacher at Madison, Pierce and Wayne. She is a splendid woman and was very popular as a student and teacher.

M. O. Cunningham of '95 Scientific is practicing law at Omaha and is as industrious as a lawyer as he was as a student. He entered the Normal from the country school in 1892 and by earnest work completed the Teachers' in '94 and Scientific in '95. He at once took up the study of law and for several years has been located in Omaha where he is doing well.

Among the many holiday callers was Carrie Stewart of '97 Teachers'. She gave up teaching a few years ago on account of her health and took a traveling position for the Children's Home Society. Her work is in the central part of the state along the U. P. railroad. She is doing a good work and enjoys excellent health. We never saw her looking so well. She finds great pleasure in the work.

A number of new books have come to the library since the first of November. More than 100 are read each month, limited to the members of the graduating classes. All members of the Scientific and Teachers' read a book a month while those of the Commercial read a book each term. Prof. Saunty looks after the latter's reading while the Misses Kingsbury and Bellows direct the others.

C. E. Wilson of '00 Scientific has given up school work and is located on a large ranch near Wessington, S. D. Charlie was an excellent teacher and principal but preferred other work. He was a student with us several years and was one of the most earnest workers the school ever had. He liked everybody and everybody liked him for he was a most true friend.

If any of the girls of the '00 class know of the whereabouts of G. W. Swanson of that class, we want to know it. George was the special friend of all the girls and they may know where he is but the school has lost all knowledge of his location. The same is true of Anna Kels of that year. Now, girls, do not be timid but help us to find Swanson. He may be in the legislature for aught we know.

Quite often, someone tells of meeting in the Black Hills' country Thos. R. Nelson of '02 Professional. He is a successful lawyer with headquarters at Rapid City. His line of business keeps him on the go and according to all reports, his success is fully up to what his friends expect. Thomas did good work as teacher and principal before going into professional work.

Dr. Mike Hofer, better known to many of the members as little Mike, is doing well in his practice at Dallas, S. D. He is well located and a worker who will succeed. From a country school boy, through a course at the Normal in '03 and this followed with a four-year course at Medical college which enables him to have a large practice, all in a short eight years shows what comes from hard work.

Prof. Pile met several of our folks at Lincoln during the meeting of the state association on December 26 and 27. These meetings are so large that you do not see all friends present so we do not try to list those in attendance. Where there is something worth the while, you will find lots of N. N. C. Alumni and that is right. Professional spirit is a business asset.

One of the strong members of the senior class at the state university is Kathryn Lewis of '05 Scientific. Her diploma from the Normal admitted her to the sophomore class and she graduates in three years. She expects to teach and we predict for her a brilliant success. As a student here, she was strong in every line and such a record she has at the university.

J. Milan Webster of '04 Teachers' has a $1200 position in the Lincoln post office. A number of former students have met him recently and tell us he has a pleasant work with reasonable time for study and development. We always felt a lively interest in this young man and are pleased to note his success which comes on merit and not on pull.

Carroll's principal, Jennie Vennerberg of '03 Teachers', is not marking time but is marking progress as a school woman. This town has been favored with a list of good principals but none has enjoyed a greater popularity than the present one. Success has been hers from the time she got started as a Normal student. She has tact, executive ability and bushels of the uncommon thing "horse sense".

The Echo is sure that all '02 members and others who know Miss Reeves of that year's class will regret to learn that poor health caused her to give up her place as primary teacher at Creston. After some days at her home, she was taken to the hospital at Omaha where she remained some weeks. All wish her restored health. None had more friends and none were truer nor more loyal.

Last month we mentioned that R. I. Elliott, Scientific '01, had been chosen a member of the university debating team. The debate with Iowa university was won by Nebraska with a unanimous decision. Mr. Elliott was the leader of his team and received much credit for his able effort. Honors have fallen to him because he is entitled to them. Preparations and manliness are winners.

A Christmas card from India reaches us from that lovely little woman, Lena Nelson of '98 Teachers'. She is doing missionary work in that far away country and is as happy as when she used to so carefully explain the hardest problem of the geometry lesson. No one ever claimed to have seen a better girl. She just could not help being the best of the good.

Alice Brouillette of '06 Teachers' was a holiday caller. She is teaching in Pierce county again this year and enjoys the work. Her patrons were so pleased with the school last year that they insisted she return this year. We hope to see her in a good primary department next year as she will prove a leader in such a place.

E. O. Blackstone of '05 Professional did not allow his defeat for office of county superintendent to hinder his progress. He at once accepted the principalship at Glenville where he will prove the success he did at Harrison and Callaway. His friends wish for him the best and know his work will advance him to larger positions.

The marriage of Amy R. Hanson is announced. Wayne county loses an excellent teacher by this marriage. The Normal in behalf of faculty and Alumni extends congratulations. Miss Hanson completed the course in Instrumental music last year, and became a member of the association last August.

Another '06, Lizzie James, has given up her job of teaching and is now Mrs. Auker. She did well in school work and has done well in changing her name as she gets one of the good, honest young men of the county. He is a prosperous farmer who enjoys the confidence of all who are well acquainted with him. Best wishes to you.

Principal E. J. Huckleberry writes nicely of his work at Merriman. He needed a strong grammar room teacher and the school was able to send him such as he wanted in Miss Hunter who has been with us since September. He is building well and has correct notions of what a teacher for the grade should be and do.

Of the many splendid fellows of '07, none worked harder nor had greater enthusiasm in accomplishing any task, easy or hard, than Joe Chicoine. As a teacher, he pulls along with same strength and his people swear by him and not at him. He has a large school near Pender and it is a pleasure to know what splendid satisfaction he is giving.

We doubt if any of last year's class had more genuine friends than W. L. Campbell. His preparation and good qualities led to his securing the principalship at Anselmo. Parties acquainted with the school assure us that he is master of the situation and doing a work appreciated by his pupils and even to a greater extent by his patrons and the general public. A good record is worth while.

Miss Van Conett stopped a few hours on her way home for the holidays. She finds her work at Central City pleasant. Her position is that of teacher of the Normal branches in the high school. About sixty high schools of the state have a Normal Training department and we are sure none have a more successful teacher. She has substantial notions on school teaching and her class will show it in the examinations.

Hattie M. Schultheis of '07, Scientific spent vacation with her parents in Wayne. She is enthusiastic over her work at Cedar Rapids where she teaches the second primary. She enjoys the town, her associate teachers and in every way finds things quite satisfactory. She is a strong worker and a lovely woman who desires to do the very best for everybody.

Evelyn Jeffrey of '06 Professional has charge of the Martinsburg school this year. She remains at home and has a good position. Several of our girls have proved themselves very successful as principals and why not. They make the same preparation as young men and their names are found as frequently on the "Honor Roll". All such are entitled to the best.

All friends of E. D. Lundak will be ready to congratulate him on the good record he is making as principal at Verdige. Perhaps his losing out on the superintendency may prove a blessing to him. He will make a leader in school work and, no doubt, advance rapidly to better position and better salary. His town stands by him and is immensely pleased with the school's progress.

Jas. H. Pile spent vacation at home. His work along agriculture lines is such as he finds pleasure in and he thinks his advance is quite satisfactory. His record as a student stands out well and his grades are strong. The preparation he is making will help out in similar line at the Normal when the new course is established this summer.

The Signal of Mercer, Mo., reached us recently and there we found the picture of J. B. Cash of '00 Teachers' class. He is the pastor of the Baptist church of that place and is highly spoken of by his church people and the paper. As a student and friend, he was a pleasant earnest man who had the confidence of all who knew him. I am sure his many school friends will read this item with pleasure.

The Wayne Chautauqua begins July 23 and closes July 30. Our Commencement exercises begin July 31 and close August 7. The Chautauqua program is extra good with the best lecturers the country affords together with music and other entertainers. The Commencement programs will be the best. Come and spend the summer with us. Many good things are prepared and we hope for a lot of former students to attend during the term.

The disposition to claim that the present is inferior to the past is noticed by one of America's greatest thinkers. He remarks that this appears to some true; his father so observed and the same was told the father by the grandfather who claimed that his father had frequently made such criticism. However, the world goes speedily to things larger, better, purer, sweeter, nobler, happier.

Critics of school teachers have learned enough about the real good done, not only for pupils but for the community, that they are giving attention to the people in general. The whining, pessimistic sayings show a narrowness which must surprise any observer broad enough to see the wonderful improvement in every line of human activity during, even, the last 20 years and less.

Additional Locals

There has been a rumor on the streets to the effect that Governor Sheldon was coming here this week but no one seems to know anything definite about it.

Dr. H. E. Eells is enjoying a visit from an old college friend Dr. Filmer of Buchanan, Michigan. Dr. Filmer is on his way to Redlands, California.

N. J. Bjorklund of Logan precinct was a pleasant caller at this office today. Mr. Bjorklund has lived in Wayne county twenty-three years and is one of the prominent and influential citizens of that part of the county.

The work of drilling for the new railroad well is progressing. They have got down about three hundred feet with an eight inch hole and may have to go five hundred feet before striking a good vein of water. The old well is only fifty feet deep but the company seems determined to get a good water supply here.

The editor of Public Opinion of New York has this to say of General Sweeney who will lecture here Friday January 31st: "Gen. Z. T. Sweeney is chancellor of Butler University, and is recognized as one of the thinkers of the day. He has the courage of his convictions, the ability to have right convictions, and he fearlessly proclaims them from the pulpit and platform, or through the press."

At a recent contest of the Hastings College Oratorical Association, we notice that H. Clare Welker a former Wayne boy won first honors, his subject being Government Ownership of Railroads, this gives Mr. Welker a chance to represent his college in the State contest which will be held in Omaha next month. The Welker family moved from Wayne to Omaha but have since moved to Hastings on account of the two boys that are students there and both doing good work.

Agent Moran with the baggage man and the three section foreman from here went to Sioux City on the special train Sunday to be present at the meeting of railroad employees. There were about 500 railroad men there and addresses were made by the general manager and Superintendents of the different divisions and also of the heads of the different railroad organizations. The main object of the meeting was to urge the employees to use economy in the working of the system. The management reported that there had been the past few months a great decrease in the earnings of the road and that for the entire system the first week in January showed a decrease of $57,000. over the same week a year ago, and that the outlook for the building of new lines and improvements this year was not flattering and that the chances were there would not be as much demand for labor this year as there has been in the past two or three years.

Elmer E. Thomas of Omaha spoke in the Methodist church Sunday afternoon to a large audience on the temperance question and this would no doubt be considered the opening of the local campaign on the question of another effort to put the licensed saloons out of business in Wayne. Mr. Thomas is an attorney and has represented the Anti Saloon League here in their prosecutions. His address was not so much an appeal on the temperance question as it was a history of the local situation here in the past year. He said the question now was not so much a question of law enforcement as it was a question of the absolute elimination of the saloons. That the saloon interests everywhere had by lawless acts brought upon themselves the wrath of the people and that by counties and by states the wave of temperance reform was sweeping over the country in a manner to bring the most encouragement to temperance people everywhere.

He criticised the city council members for what he termed their unwavering loyalty to saloon interests, and said the reason the saloons here as well as elsewhere had such a powerful hold was because they played all their strength in politics and that heretofore a man would not think of aspiring to a political office without first being assured of their support. Mr. Thomas presented the question in the most optimistic light for the future of temperance legislation and urged the league to make their organization county wide as he believed the next legislature would pass a county local option bill. The audience was appreciative and was in accord with sentiments expressed by the speaker. It was the sort of an address that was calculated to inspire confidence in the workers of the anti saloon league.

NORMAL COLLEGE

Quite a number took the county examination held Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Dobbins of Hoskins spent Saturday and Sunday visiting her daughter, Elsie.

Mr. Alton of Creighton spent Saturday at the college visiting his brother, Guy, who is in school this term.

Mrs. Page of Page, Nebraska, accompanied by her daughter visited with her son, George, last week.

Miss. Ella Ruck, who graduated from this school in 1906, was a pleasant visitor Saturday afternoon.

Prof. Buchanan gave the one o'clock talk last Saturday. Next Saturday, Prof. Sauntry will address the students at that time.

The college orchestra made its first public appearance this term when it played at the Chapel exercises Wednesday morning.

Rev. Smith spoke to the students at the Chapel exercises Wednesday morning. His talk was both interesting and instructive and was thoroughly enjoyed by all who had the privilege of hearing it.

A large number of the students are taking work in the gymnasium this term. The students realize that they must pay some attention to their physical welfare in order to do themselves justice in their studies.

Prof. Wilson visited the College Saturday morning and spoke to the students. Mr. Wilson always has something of interest to say to young people and his talk Saturday morning was very much appreciated by both teachers and students.

Rev. and Mrs. Millard spent several hours at the college last week. This was Rev. Millard's first visit to the school for several years and he was very agreeably surprised at the wonderful changes that have taken place on the Hill since he left Wayne.

Mr. Northrop of our city spoke to the students at the Chapel Monday evening. A large crowd was out and all enjoyed Mr. Northrop's address very much. He took for his subject "Law." During the term, several of these Monday evening talks will be given by prominent citizens of Wayne and others.

Reports Increased Business

O. A. King returned last evening from his trip to Madison and Chicago where he and S.R. Theobald have been attending the annual directors and stock holders meeting of the King Solomon Tunnel & Development Co. He reports the best meeting that has ever been held by the company.

Theo. Duerig of Wayne was elected director to succeed one of the eastern men which means a great deal to Wayne county stockholders as it puts the management absolutely in the hands of the Wayne county stockholders and directors.

Mr. Duerig is a man that needs no introduction to Wayne county people. His long career as a business man; his integrity and up-right business methods have placed him as one of the leading and most successful business men in the city.

The business for the year shows a good substantial increase over the previous year and after spending a great deal for development and improvements and having put in one of the finest plants of machinery in the state it still leaves a balance in the treasury of about 28,000.00 which is about $8,000.00 more than the amount on hand the year previous. The place of meeting was changed to be held hereafter in Denver and the time changed to August instead of January so that it would be more convenient for stockholders to attend the meeting in person and then go up and look at the property. Stockholders will all receive in a few days copies of the minutes of the meeting and the financial statement.

The Mushroom Farm.

By J. LUDLUM LEE. Copyright, 1907, by P. C. Eastment.

The girls were holding an indignation meeting. Clara Carruthers was curled up on the window ledge, Myrtle Reed had stretched herself comfortably on the lounge, Mary Sands was perched on the side of a table swinging her feet, while two or three other girls were comfortably seated in armchairs. Myrtle Reed was reading the Goshen Leader, the principal local paper.

"Girls, it ought to be stopped. Here she is advertising for a man to fix the roof of that old stable. Yesterday she wanted a man to fix the furnace, and the day before it was a boy she wanted to water the mushroom beds. Her family are poor enough without encouraging Florence Weiss in any more of her foolish fads. Why doesn't she marry, as the rest of us have done?" "That's what I asked Jack the other night," chimed in Mary Sands. "But he says she hates the men and wants to raise mushrooms and make a fortune of her own. Her grandmother's left her $200, you know, and that's what she invested in the mushroom business."

"Let's go down in a body and apply for the job," suggested Clara. "It is a splendid day, and the walk will do you good." The meantime Florence Weiss was knocking the door of the old stable opened in a short walking skirt and a white sweater, with an old tumbler under her golden hair, she made a most unflattering appearance. Her dress was spotted with anticipation as she entered the cellar of the stable to view her mushroom business. Florence had planted her beds, and she meant to fix them in. If the family expected her to marry but to rebuke their parents, she was sadly disappointed. When she was born for another fad, she had money with her own hands and she had not to herself to any man. She knelt down by the side of one of the beds and with a spoon set out a mushroom spring up over her shoulder, she examined the spawn in addition, felt the temperature of a table, and then went to the door to call Malachi, the boy whom she employed to dig holes.

"Malachi, Malachi!" she called out. Malachi did not appear, so she went out to look for him. Behind the stable on the side hill she found him covered with tar and beating a fire. "Malachi, what is all this?" she demanded. "Yes, ma'am—you see, ma'am—O Lord, miss, I've set fire to the tar," he wailed. "You see, miss, I was getting ready for the man to fix the roof, and I opened the barrel of tar, and it wouldn't run, so I thought, 'if I wouldn't run, so I thought I'd melt it—yes, ma'am.'"

"Well, Malachi, you're an idiot, that's what you are, and I never want to see your face again. You've melted it all right, and I'll have to buy more tar—$8 a barrel." Malachi was discharged, and the man who applied to put on a new roof was installed in his place. "Clean up the place," said Florence, when asked what he should do until more tar arrived for the roof. Florence started for town and dismissed the call that the girls put. She was back the next morning, however, to see her new man started on his work. "Get some of that fertilizer, Joseph and bring it to me. This bed is in very poor condition and will never yield anything unless we work on it." Joseph stared in blank amazement. "Fertilizer, ma'am," he said, "is that pile of rotten stuff that was left out yonder, what you're speaking of?" "Yes, yes!" answered Florence. "Right there at the side door." "Well, I'm after dinner!" It in the brook, ma'am," he announced. "You told me to clean up the place, and I done it, ma'am, to the best of my ability." And he straightened up his some what bent shoulders as if to emphasize his brilliant stroke of work. It was too much added to the loss of the barrel of tar, and Florence sat down on the damp cellar floor and cried, but not for long. She soon dried the tears on her old apron and vented her bitter anger on the head of Joseph. He stood for a moment listening, then turned and went out, muttering: "I thought it was a lady, but I might of knowned diggin' in the dirt never made a lady yet." And Joseph was a thing of the past. Florence sat upon the stone wall to think it over. Eight dollars for the tar of yesterday, $12 for the fertilizer of today. Ideas were not always practical, and ideas did not materialize as they might. Fights as she would against them, the tears would come again. The sound of wheels on the road near at hand roused Florence. She turned to see the express wagon from the general store about to deliver the barrel of tar. She jumped down from the fence and hurried to the gate which led to the old stable.

"Why, Mr. Rivers, what are you doing? Driving the express wagon?" she exclaimed as she recognized in the driver one of Goshen's leading young men. "Hello, Flo!" he cried as he tied the old horse to the gatepost. "It's me, all right. Just loafing around for a few days, finishing up a business trip. Dad said you ordered this tar from the store, and I said I'd deliver it and kill two birds with one throw. I was coming up to see the wonderful mushrooms anyway before I left. Call you man to help me unload the barrel, will you?" "Oh, Dick—Mr. Rivers, I mean. I haven't any man, nor any boy, nor any mushrooms. Yes, I've been crying," she added, as he glanced sharply at the somewhat wet cheeks. "You see, she went on, 'I've had bad luck with my farming.' They wandered instinctively toward the wall. Dick took out his pipe and began to light it. "Didn't your idea work out?" he said, with due impersonal interest. "Not very well," she admitted. "The idea is all right, but skilled labor is hard to get, and after all I'm only a woman." "What about the ideals?" suggested Dick as he puffed away. "Seems to me you told me that you had ideals as well as ideas." "Oh, I still have them—in my mind, of course, but they are so hard to find in real life." Dick crossed his legs and hugged the uppermost knee. He was not looking at Florence, but straight ahead, across the fields which lay before them. It was one of those beautiful winter days which apparently had nothing but warmth of sun and breadth of blue sky to offer. "It's just a year ago today," he mused aloud, yet as if talking to himself. "A year ago today, a man in love and a girl with ideals. Couldn't make it go. Such a team couldn't pull together in harness. Twelve months finds the man still in love and the girl clinging to her ideals. Hopeless case, eh, don't you think?" "Oh, I don't know!" sighed Flo. "Not so hopeless as raising mushrooms, for instance." Dick's knee slipped through his grip, and he stood beside the girl.

"What do you mean, Flo?" he demanded. "Can you forego the ideal and take me after all?" and he stretched forth both hands. "Will you take me, Dick?" she said as her two hands met his. "Take you, darling!" and he drew her close within his arms. "But you said 'No!'" "But I didn't mean it," she whispered as she nestled close to his neck. "Didn't mean it!" he cried, looking down at the radiant face. "Well, but you said it, and how was I to know? You told me you had ideas of your own and an ideal besides, so I got out to give the other fellow a decent chance." "Men are such stupid creatures," she assured him. "I didn't think you'd take 'no' for an answer, and my ideas were to be happy in a home with you, and you, Dick—oh, you old dear—you are my ideal!" "The strains of the wedding march sung in several different keys by untrained voices reached them, and they were confronted with the girls, who, having failed in their mission the day before, had returned to meet with better results. On the wedding day among the presents arrived a barrel of tar labeled "Stick to It." Dick suspected his paternal parent, while Florence has always attributed it to Malachi. It stands in the yard of "Mushroon Farm," the title of their country place, so called because Dick asserts that his hopes sprang up in a night.

One Way to Get Food. Four young fellows left Kimberley to try their luck at diamond digging near Christmas, South Africa, but were very unfortunate. All but their last shilling having been spent in buying meale meal, ways and means had to be found to replenish the larder. After considerable discussion and wonder as to where their next food was coming from, a bright idea struck one of them, who, talking out of the tent, said, "All right, mates, leave it to me." Proceeding to the camp store, he asked for a small bottle of diamond acid, in which the digger cleans his diamonds of impurities before selling them. "Yes," said the owner, "but surely you want some stores?" "Well, I do," said the starving one, "but I intended sending you an order perhaps tomorrow." "Never put off till tomorrow what you can do today," was the shopkeeper's response. "Make your order out and pay when you come up to sell your diamonds." The miner acquiesced, and there was great rejoicing in those poor beggars' tent when the wagon delivered that order. It is evident that the storekeeper thought the party had found some diamonds, or what use could have been the acid! After this luck changed, and the account was paid, the storekeeper joining heartily in the laugh at how he had been done for the time being.—London Scraps.

The New Footman. Fun seems all the funnier when coming from the Quakers, because it is unlooked for and in contrast with their usual sobriety. For instance, what could be funnier than the method used by Nicholas Wain, a gifted minister of the Friends who lived in Philadelphia during the eighteenth century, to mortify the carnal pride of his wife? The story is as follows: The wife of Nicholas Wain was an only daughter, and for those days possessed a very large inheritance. She thought it would be suitable to her wealth and station to have a footman behind her carriage. This wish being frequently expressed, her husband at last promised to comply with it. Accordingly the next time the carriage was ordered for the purpose of making a stylish call she was gratified to see a footman mounted. When she arrived at her place of destination the door of the carriage was opened and the steps let down in a very obsequious manner by the new footman, and great was her surprise and confusion to recognize in him her own husband.

KINGBIRD OF PARADISE.

His Brilliant Plumage and His Dance and Love Song.

A most magnificent fellow is the kingbird of paradise, and his manner of displaying his charms to the female that has captured his heart is in keeping with his plumage. The kingbird of paradise is small, six and one-half inches long, having the head, throat and upper part of the richest glossy crimson, shading to orange crimson on the forehead. The under parts are of a silky white, relieved by an orange red throat, bordered below by a band of metallic green, while the flank feathers are produced into long plumes of an ash gray color and tipped with buff and metallic green. The two middle tail feathers are produced into long slender stalks, terminating in a wonderful disk of emerald green. The beak is yellow and the legs are cobalt blue. During those ecstatic moments in which he proclaims his undying devotion to the bird he desires for his mate the body is drawn close to the bough which serves as a perch, while the head is bent downward toward the breast, and the wings are spread and extended forward so as almost to meet in front of the downcast head, as though the performer were overwhelmed by a sudden panic of modesty. Suddenly all is changed. The body is extended to its full length and the wings are violently beaten as though flight were contemplated. Then in a moment he gives himself a half turn and, facing the spectators, fluffs out the silky white under-feather like an apron and throws up the long flank feathers till they form a fan arching above his back and on either side of the gorgeously tinted throat, the beak being now pointed skyward. Meanwhile the tail has been drawn forward over the back, so that the long, wirylike and disk bearing feathers are raised high above him. All the while the body is swayed gently from side to side, and this motion causes the disklike ends of the long tail feathers to shimmer in the light, like balls of burnished metal being tossed to and fro in the air.

As if these strange antics were not enough, he bursts into song, which bears a close resemblance to that of the skylark. Then comes the finale, which lasts only for a few seconds. He suddenly turns right around and shows his back, the white fluffy feathers under the tail bristling in his excitement. He bends down on the perch in the attitude of a fighting cock, his widely opened bill showing distinctly the light apple green color of the gullet, and sings the same gurgling note without once closing his bill, and with a slow dying away movement of his tail and body. A single drawn out note is then uttered, the tail and wires are lowered and the dance and song are over.—Chicago News.

Excitement was more or less high in the clubroom that night, for Jones had been trying for close on an hour to get Brown, the wildest man in the club, to answer a certain question. But his efforts were all in vain. "Look here, Brown," he shouted angrily at last, "will you answer me with a plain 'yes' or 'no' That's all I want!" "Yes," said Brown suddenly, "I will on condition that you first give me a plain 'yes' or 'no' to one of my questions." And Jones assented readily. "Done!" he said. "Fire away!" "What is the time, please?" inquired Brown blandly. Then, Jones, with both hands pressed to his suffering brow, faded silently from the scene.—London Express.

The Lyre Bird. Of Australia's lyre bird a naturalist writes: "It imitates the notes and songs of other birds and reproduces a hissing noise similar to that uttered by an alarmed snake and a sharp knocking sound like that produced by striking a tree trunk with a stick. All these sounds are uttered apparently for the bird's own amusement. The sounds of imitation include the calls and cries of every creature that is found in the localities which the lyre bird inhabits, including those of such noisy birds as the eagle and the laughing jackass. The lyre bird nearly always interposes snatches of its own song between its mimic cries."

The Genius of Love. Durable love is a sublime drama played by two actors equal in talents, a drama where the sentiments are catastrophic, where desires are events and where the lightest thought causes a change of scene. But how will you find in the flock of bipeds which is called a nation a man and woman possessing in the same degree the genius of love when talented people are already so rare in other sciences?—Honore de Balzac.

NORMAL COLLEGE

A subscriber suggests that while the Alumni news is of interest and helpful, that more consideration might with profit be given as to many things which might be done. The suggestion seems good. We expect to have something along that line from some of the older members also some review of early Normal history by those who were part makers of such history.

What can 500 active Alumni do for their school and their association if they only think so? To unite more closely to advance the interests of each other and to stand firmly for success of each would mean much. Such was in the minds of Mason, Miller, Culler, Ahern, Bright, Vaught, Lundberg, Ley, French, Mullen and others when they organized Alumni Day.

Alumni notes are reprinted in many local weekly papers, when they refer to members engaged in the locality and those who are known by people of the locality. This is right and a little attention from our readers in calling attention to items of special interest may do a member a favor by acquainting the public with the success of the party.

Progress may be measured by the student body of our higher educational institutions. The student whom a school with its Alumni honors embodies the ideal of school life. A study of student life becomes a study of social progress. The distance travelled in 25 years is measured by comparing student conduct with that of which our grandparents tell us.

On Christmas day, Mr. C. F. Cooper of Decatur was a pleasant caller at the office. He was a student with us several months four years ago and has since been teaching. He may get into school in the spring and complete his course of study. School boards where he has taught, as well as county superintendents, speak highly of him as a teacher. He is a fine man and a strong student.

Emma Bennett of '96 Professional sends a photo from Longbeach, California. The picture shows the traveling home in a large, well fitted wagon, the father, mother and Miss Emma are seated on the front seat of the wagon. All look as natural as when they started on this trip in the summer of '06. They have enjoyed the overland travel and the outdoor life. No doubt they will return in the best of health.

No teacher who is growing, who is learning, is conceited. Such a one may be impatient with the slow and the dull, or with the common place; may be extra cheerful over a new thought by others or a discovery by self, but such is far from conceit. Conceit which brings stupidity and stagnation means one who thinks that he knows all that can be known on a subject and those think otherwise are absolutely wrong.

Last month President Pile delivered an address on "Experimental Life" to the teachers of Madison county at a meeting at Madison. He met a number of Normalites who are located in the county. Supt. Perdue has his schools in splendid condition with a loyal band of teachers.

Miss Corbin who completed the shorthand and typewriting last year and has been engaged as stenographer in the office of the county judge of Burr county since leaving here, has charge of the classes in these branches. She is a bright woman who will do the very best of work in teaching these lines.

A brief description of the Model School with the daily program was crowded out of this number but will appear later. I am sure it will interest our readers. Miss Dugger is a real artist of a teacher if such a designation is permissible. Students find much of value in the work and the children are receiving the best possible instruction as to books, to conduct and life.

All the faculty got away for their vacation Saturday the 21st. The family with the matron and outside men remained on the hill. Painting, cleaning and general work occupied the time and no one had much idle time. Everything was in good shape for the large number who came in for the term.

The city council has had street lights put up extending north to the street which passes between the recitation buildings and dormitories.

Also, a light has been placed in the street just south of the college building. This is appreciated as we now have good lights all the way from the buildings to town.

Miss Aileen Hunter of Skeley, Minnesota, has been with us since September. She is a graduate of her home high school and has given her time here to review and study of methods. Her work is strong and the school aided her in securing a grammar room at Merriman where a strong teacher was required.

The large attendance this term requires an extra number of classes. Everyone seems to be doing nicely and most of the new ones who came in for the term will remain for the next term which opens February 24. Others will enter at that time. We have plenty of room for all who come.

The regular work for the Scientific class this term is trigonometry, geology, chemistry, Cicero. The class is well up with the work and several are ahead in a study or two. They find time to strengthen themselves with review or advance work. A specially strong class will go out at the end of the year.

The exhibition by the young men of the athletic club at close of last term was a splendid entertainment. The club swinging, the dumb bell drill, the tumbling, the horizontal bar work were extra good. Lienhart, Bentley, Ziemer, Richardson, Altig, Golder, Anderson and Siebert took leading parts.

The exercises of the literary societies begin at 7 o'clock Saturday evenings and the business meetings are over by 8:30. This is followed with a social and after a full week's hard work, students are in a condition to enjoy these entertainments. Everyone is encouraged to be present at all these as part of school training.

During the term, two chapel talks a week have been arranged for. The faculty one o'clock talks and some evening lectures, with the weekly meetings of the literary societies and Christian associations will furnish valuable things for the students outside of daily class work. This general work is worth much to every student.

The ladies of the athletic club gave a pleasant exhibition the first Saturday evening of the term. The practice under direction of Miss Jennie Bellows enabled the young ladies to make a splendid showing in marching, club swinging, dumb bell practice and other proper exercises. Both athletic clubs are getting the best of training.

The orchestra is furnishing some good music for various evening entertainments. The organization will continue throughout the school year and will prove a great help in furnishing something pleasant for the students. Also, it affords some of the young men an opportunity for regular practice in connection with their music lessons.

President Pile addressed the members of the Christian Church at Norfolk on the evening of January 1st. His subject was "Wrong and its Remedy." Rev. Stine former principal at Hartington, is the pastor and extended the invitation in behalf of his church and friends. A good crowd was out and showed appreciation of the lecture.

The Christian associations have been doing good work by getting new students to attend the meetings. Many have become members. The Sunday meetings are made interesting. Outside speakers are frequently present to address the members. Both the prayer meetings and Bible classes are well attended. These things are very helpful.

Fred and Carl Von Seggern own and manage at Gregory, S. D., a large elevator, a lumber yard and a coal yard. They are doing a large business and are most successful. They were the best of boys and students while at the Normal and are possessed of the characteristics which make men of service not only for self but for the public.

The arrangement by which the morning classes recite Saturdays and not Mondays is so satisfactory that it will be continued for the present, at least. Many students who live near can spend Sunday with home folks and not miss any classes. Another good thing which results is we get Friday evening for study and this gain shows in the term's work.

Most of this issue was prepared during vacation week as it was evident all would be busy with the opening of the new term. It requires time to gather the information, prepare the copy, read the proof and attend to the mailing. If we seem short on news, this is our reason. I teach seven daily classes which is about enough to keep me at work.

The professional class received some additions at the opening of the term. A few former students came in to finish the course, also new ones enrolled for the class work. The regular work of the class for the term is algebra, rhetoric, general history, elocution and methods. Many of the class are ahead of the regular work and get the advantage of higher classes.

Miss Elsie Sprague, a Normalite of some years ago, is the teacher of common branches in the business college at St Paul, Nebr. She has taught at Chadron and Weeping Water since leaving Emerson six years ago. She is getting along nicely and enjoys her line of work. Seldom do we hear of a former student failing to make good in any position secured.

The faculty reception on the first evening of the term was directed by the officers of the Christian associations. Members of the faculty made pleasant short talks and after the introductions were all said and each had passed down the line, the evening's doings were concluded with a short social in the gymnasium and the new students were relieved of any homesickness.

Tilden loses a good teacher and a Mr. Higel gains a good woman in the person of Audrey Cloyd. She is a genuine Normal girl and is entitled to all the good and happiness in life which comes her way. She worked faithfully to get an education and has succeeded. Another Normalite, Selma Braasch, has taken a man to direct and cherish. Mrs. Rohrke is her name. Congratulations.

A pleasant letter comes from Margaret Collins of Linwood. She was one of our good girls about ten years ago. After a few years of teaching, she engaged in store work but has returned to the school room. She had the 3rd and 4th grades and finds her work more to her liking than the store. The school is fortunate in getting so strong a teacher and woman. I hope she may continue teaching.

The graduating classes represent the following counties: Antelope, Boyd, Burt, Boone, Cedar, Dixon, Dakota, Holt, Knox, Madison, Nance, Pierce, Platte, Stanton, Thurston, Wayne; South Dakota, Charles Mix, Douglas, Gregory, Kingsbury, Union; Minnesota, Hubbard. This list includes only those of the Scientific and Teachers' classes. The commercial graduating class has over 60.

Probate Notice to Creditors
In the County Court of Wayne County, Nebraska.

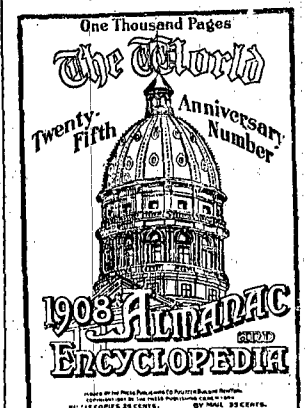

In the matter of the Estate of Charles O. Fisher, deceased.
Notice is hereby given, that the creditors of the said deceased will meet the Administrator of said estate, before me, County Judge of Wayne County, Nebraska, at the County Court Room in said county, on the 31st day of January 1908, and on the 30th day of June 1908, at 2 o'clock P. M. each day, for the purpose of presenting their claims for examination, adjustment and allowance. Six months are allowed for creditors to present their claims and one year for the Administrator to settle said estate, from the 31st day of December 1907. This notice will be published in the Wayne Herald for four weeks successively prior to the 31st day of January 1908.
Witness my hand and seal of said court, this 31st day of December A. D. 1907.
E. HUNTER,
County Judge,

Also a quantity of farm machinery.—Emil and Ed. Carlson.

Beware of Frequent Colds
A succession of colds or a protracted cold is almost certain to end in chronic catarrh, from which few persons ever wholly recover. Give every cold the attention it deserves and you may avoid this disagreeable disease. How can you cure a cold? Why not try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy? It is highly recommended by Mrs. M. White, of Butler, Tenn., says: "Several years ago I was bothered with my throat and lungs. Someone told me of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I began using it and it relieved me at once. Now my throat and lungs are sound and well. For sale by Raymonds Drug Store.

Good farming, based on sound principles of science and practice, was never more important or profitable than now. The Homestead, an agricultural and live stock paper published every Thursday at Des Moines, Iowa, is the best exponent of good farming. The Homestead is edited by farmers who live upon and operate their own farms right here in the middle West, so that their teachings are thoroughly practical. It has departments devoted to horticultural, poultry, sheep, dairy, veterinary, laws affecting farmers, current events, house and home Sunday school lessons, editorial comment, live farm gossip, etc; and its contributors include able and successful farmers and experiment station experts throughout the West. Many farmers in this vicinity are already subscribers for the Homestead and all should be; as whatever adds to the practical knowledge of the farmer increases the value of land and enhances the prosperity of the community. We take subscriptions for this splendid farm paper at this office; and, by special arrangement with the publisher, can give you a low subscription rate for it in connection with the Wayne Herald.

Itching, bleeding, protruding or blind piles yield to Doans Ointment. Chronic cases soon relieved, finally cured. Druggists all sell it.

LAND! LAND! LAND!
Land that grows 15 to 25 tons of sugar beets to the acre, 200 to 400 bushels of potatoes, 40 to 100 bushels of oats, 25 to 60 bushels of corn to the acre, and all kinds of fruit, berries and melons in abundance. Rich, virgin soil, that grows immense crops like magic, when the water that the U. S. government provides at cost is flowed upon it. There is no such thing as crop failure under irrigation. The farmer plants his crop and absolutely controls the amount of water his crops need at exactly the proper time, and he can grow more profitable crops than he can grow in any natural rainfall country, such as sugar beets and alfalfa. Government statistics show that irrigated land will produce from one-third to one-half more crops than any natural rainfall country. Officials of the U. S. Reclamation Service say that the North Platte project, which will irrigate the land we are selling, is best adapted to irrigation of any land in the country, and the supply of water is unlimited.
RENTERS, Why pay from $3 to $10 an acre rent for land when you can get 160 acres of fine irrigated land for about the same money you are paying for one year's rent of an eastern farm?
COME TO THE NEW LAND and own a fine farm that will grow larger crops than the high-priced land you are renting. Uncle Sam will supply you with water to irrigate 160 acres of the most productive land in the country at cost. I can secure you a fine 160 acre, irrigable farm for from $1 to $5 per acre.
DON'T WAIT! It won't last long. Thousands of people are flocking to this country, and the sooner you come the better bargain I can get you. Don't waste your life renting somebody else's farm at a high price. Come to the rich and fertile North Platte Valley, and make a home and fortune for yourself and family. Don't neglect this splendid opportunity. There's big money in it. This land that you can now secure for practically nothing, will be worth from $100 to $300 per acre as soon as irrigated and improved. It is better land than Colorado land, that is now selling for as much. You can hire all the work done on sugar beets for $45 an acre, and at the average yield of 20 tons an acre, you can clear $55 an acre and do no work on it yourself.
FARM OWNERS, Why farm $100 eastern land when you can buy irrigated land here for from one-tenth to one-fourth the money, and get land that will produce larger crops and increase rapidly in value? Sell out and come to the rich North Platte Valley. We are not pioneering. There are no hardships in this country—towns, railroads, schools and churches are close at hand. The Platte Valley is centrally located and convenient to all markets. Railroad communications are unexcelled to all good shipping points. All kinds of produce, cattle, hogs and sheep command a high price. The Burlington R. R. now runs through the valley and the Union Pacific is rapidly pushing work on a through line to the coast, which line also runs through the valley. Thousands and thousands of tons of hay are cut in the river bottoms every year.
INVESTORS: We can sell you deeded land that is increasing rapidly in value and will continue to increase in value for years to come. Irrigated land is not subject to the depression in land values that always go with a period of crop failures in any natural rainfall country. No matter what the weather you can grow a crop every year under irrigation. I control the sale of thousands of acres of irrigated and dry lands, hay land and ranches. I can secure you any kind of land at a price that will make money quick for you.
WRITE TO-DAY FOR FURTHER INFORMATION. Local real estate dealers correspond. We can make some money for you.

THE OFFICIAL PAPER OF WAYNE AND WAYNE COUNTY

William H. Taft

The steadily increasing popularity of William H. Taft and his growing strength as a Presidential candidate, as disclosed by recent incidents in Ohio and elsewhere, are beginning to clear the public mind as to his relations with President Roosevelt. Under ordinary conditions it would be a heavy handicap to a candidate to be known as the choice of an outgoing President. The strength of Secretary Taft is not only evidence of Mr. Roosevelt's astonishing hold on the people, but it is decided proof of the confidence and esteem in which Secretary Taft is held. The public discriminates in this case with nicety, accepting President Roosevelt's view of Secretary Taft without placing the president in the attitude of attempting to misuse his official power or placing Mr. Taft in the attitude of being a mere shadow of the President.

The reason why the public is turning toward Taft is not only because it is sure he is in harmony with the Roosevelt politics, but because he is individually and distinctively, in his own right, admirably fitted for the Presidency. The public does not demand from Secretary Taft or any other candidate a pledge that the Roosevelt policies will be executed to the letter, exactly as Roosevelt would execute them. In the first place, no one can foretell what is best to be done under circumstances not yet developed. Mr. Roosevelt himself can not tell what he will do in the remaining year of his administration, nor would it be wise to exact a pledge from him. The plan that appears wise now might be foolish when the time arrives for its execution.

Secretary Taft believes in the Roosevelt policies, and if elected he will no doubt, endeavor to carry them into effect. But he will do so in his own way. Has any one so short a memory as not to recall the declaration of Mr. Roosevelt when he took up the work laid down by McKinley? Mr. Roosevelt labored faithfully to execute the McKinley policies, knowing they were approved by the people. No one charges him with failure, but surely no one would have the hardihood to contend that the history of last six years is what it would have been if McKinley had lived and remained President. Temperamental differences between Roosevelt and McKinley have caused surprising episodes in this history, although there may be no radical departure from any of McKinley's plans.

Through the same cause similar effects could be expected if Mr. Taft were elected President. As a man of individuality and sound common sense, he would not even try to execute the Roosevelt policies in the Roosevelt way. His manner would be the Taft manner—the manner native to the man. He would travel along the pathway of his predecessor but he would deal with each situation as it arose, acting according to circumstances for the best, without regard to outer appearances. No fair minded man would insist upon a slavish imitation of any preceding action, however renowned. As President Mr. Taft would be in possession of all available information, and he could be relied upon to make prudence his first consideration, whether his decision would be one that Mr. Roosevelt would have made or otherwise. Mr. Roosevelt himself is the last man in the United States, probably, who would try to tie Mr. Taft down to a certain course of action on future events.

As a winner of friends by personal contact, Secretary Taft is world-famous. His wholesome personality, his good cheer, his evident ability and readiness to tackle and carry heavy burdens without perceptible strain, and his hearty Americanism of manner and ideals make him a marked man in any company. He has not suffered by comparison with any other American against whom he may be pitted for the Presidency. It is not surprising to note that Mr. Taft's advertisers have pointed out the advantage of his frequent appearance before the people. Personal acquaintance with him means admiration and warm regard. The idea that he is an unreal shadow of Roosevelt speedily fades wherever his substantial personality appears, and in its place is left a decided liking for and reliance upon a man who is seen to be equipped by nature and training for the performance of public services of the very highest importance.—Washington Post.

In the republican state convention to be held at Omaha March 12th, Wayne county will have ten delegates.

Ex Congressman McCarthy of Ponca has written a letter to the State Journal strongly endorsing La Follette for the republican presidential nomination. Mac says this may not bring him in sight of the band wagon but he declares with vehemence that he never did try to get a seat on it at the expense of his opinions.

Solomon was fain to admit that there were three things too wonderful for him; yea, four which he knew not: "The way of an eagle in the air; the way of a serpent upon a rock; the way of a ship in the midst of the sea, and the way of a man with a maid." Had Solomon lived till this day and generation, says the Philadelphia Ledger, he would have added a fifth puzzler, to wit: The way of an express company with a prepaid package.

There will be no primary election in Wayne county to vote for preference for a candidate for republican nomination for president and it looks very much now as though the delegation from this county to the state convention will be a Taft delegation. There is considerable La Follette sentiment—more than would be imagined, but it is scattering and unorganized and it is doubtful if there will be any effort made to solidify it. Wayne county republicans wanted Roosevelt to run again but that being out of the question they are lining up for the big brainy statesman of Ohio.

Attempted Reaction

Rumors that hope has not yet been given up of breaking down the state-wide direct primary are heard occasionally, but such talk will be slight till after the election next year. Men are scarce who declare like Mr. Andeberry of Minden, that the voters do not know enough to select their own public officers. Yet there is not the slightest doubt that men who were reduced to the ranks by the direct primary still hope to defeat the law. Not that they will declare opposition to it. The method of attack will be by legislative amendments to the law such as will permit them to take it by the beard and kiss it as Joab did Amast, meanwhile driving a sword under its fifth rib. There will be amendments to make the law apply to counties but not to state or district officers. There will be amendments to make it optional, so that counties where bosses reign can still be ruled by bosses, and counties where bosses do not reign can still be without them. There will be amendments to make it still more distasteful to the independent voter than it is now. Whether any or all of these amendments succeed will depend on whether the two or three hundred thousand plain voters of the state who gain by the direct primary generate as much influence as the two or three thousand who lose by it.—Lincoln Journal.

It is an original melodrama in four acts and eight stupendous scenes, abounding in surprisingly novel climaxes, vivid sensations and situations of intense dramatic power. It wins strong recognition from all classes and can be truly rated as the most conspicuous success of the past three seasons. Abundant life and color combine to make this one of the best American plays ever produced.

NOTICE—I desire to inform the public that in locating in Wayne for the practice of Dentistry, I formed no partnership or other interest, direct or indirect with any person whatever, nor at any time since have I formed any such relationship.—Dr. G. J. Green.

The big sale of the J. M. Strahan estate was held at Malvern, Iowa yesterday. E. Cunningham was one of the auctioneers and others from here who attended were, Frank Strahan, administrator; D. A. Jones, June Conger, Chan Norton. The sale was principally of draft horses and a large herd of cattle.

S. R. Thebold returned Saturday from Chicago, where he has been on a business trip. He got there the day after the big storm in Chicago and says there was little if any signs of it on State street as a large force of men had cleared the snow away but in the outlying districts the streets were almost impassable as the result of snow drifts.

While the A. T. Chapin family were absent from their home this week, a skunk moved in. The return of the family brought on a fight for possession that caused a big "stink" in general, but finally resulted in the murder of the intruder by the irate head of the Chapin household. "Signs" of the battle are still perceptible to the nostrils of passers-by.—Winside Cor., Norfolk News.

The Sunday services at the Methodist Episcopal church will be of special interest. In the morning the pastor will preach on the following subject "The Pillars of a Mighty Faith" In the evening Wayne Lodge No. 103 A. O. U. W. will attend service in a body. The sermon will be on "The Ideal Workman." As a special musical feature the Buroke Brothers will give a cornet duet. The general public is cordially invited.

The financial stringency, so called, don't seem to be having any very serious effect on the farmers of Wayne county if farm auctions are any criterion from which to judge. The other day at the Abbott sale east of town more than five hundred people were present and personal property amounting to a little over four thousand dollars was off between the hours of 12 and 4 o'clock. Eleven head of grade cows averaged $45.32 per head and 40 brood sows averaged $18.15 per head and 6 two year old heifers averaged $32.33 per head. Oats sold as high as 55 cents per bushel and everything else at proportionate figures. The C. F. Carpenter sale the day following was equally as good, milch cows selling as high as $63 and on Friday the L. L. Lush sale was another of the same kind. In fact it seems stuff is selling at figures as high as any preceding year and in some cases even higher.

Mr. Ware of Wakefield was a business visitor in Wayne on Wednesday morning.

W. O. Gamble left for North Platte on Monday to look after his interests there.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Richardson of Ashland are visiting with his brother W. L. Richardson.

"The Moonshiner's Daughter," now in its sixth year will be presented at the opera house, Monday January, 27.

The Holy communion will be administered at the St. Paul's Lutheran church next Sunday at 10:45 a. m. Everybody welcome.

Remember that the next number of the Wayne lecture course will be General Z. T. Sweeney at the opera house Friday evening January 31.

W. A. Emery has just opened a barber shop next to Gaertner's furniture store. With five shops in town there's no excuse for going unshaved in Wayne.

Mrs. Duerig of the Acme Club and Mrs. Shulteis of the Minerva Club have invitations out for a reception of the members of the two clubs at the home of Mrs. Shulteis this evening.

Clarence E. Lisle and Miss Effie O. Nelson of Dixon were united in marriage at the Methodist parsonage Thursday, Jan. 16th. They will make their future home in Custer county. The Herald extends congratulations.

It is surprising the number of people troubled with rheumatism. If you are tired of experimenting and want a cure, come where special treatment is given that gives permanent and satisfactory results.—F. E. Gamble, Osteopath.

It is said that there is a foot of ice on the Bressler lake a mile and a half east of town. This is somewhat of a surprise as it was not thought there was over five or six inches of ice in any of the lakes hereabouts and the work of putting up ice will soon commence.

The W. L. Richardson family were all taken suddenly sick Monday, the symptoms being that of ptomaine poisoning but it is a mystery as to what caused it. The members of the family were all quite sick for a day but none seriously and it is fortunate that it was no worse.

The Sioux City Daily Tribune is the first of the great daily newspapers to arrive in this vicinity with news of the world, a reliable market page, and news of general interest. Subscriptions received in this office at the regular rate at $2.00 per year.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Bressler and daughters and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Ferguson will leave tomorrow for California to spend the winter. Mr. Ferguson will first go to San Diego and Mr. Bressler has not decided just what part of the state he will stop in.

Dr. J. J. Williams was called to the W. C. Carlton home thirteen miles southeast of Wayne the last of the week, where he found their two-year-old child sick with smallpox. He at once quarantined the home and it is hoped there will be no further spread of the disease.

E. B. Philleo returned Saturday from attending the convention of the Managers of Independent Telephone Lines in Nebraska. He reports an interesting and instructive meeting and says that there is more independent lines and better organization in Nebraska than in Kansas. Mr. Philleo found on inquiring that Wayne had some of the best operators in the state and also that the operators here received higher wages than the average elsewhere in the state.

Sheriff Grant Mears went to Blair Saturday to investigate a report that one of the horses stolen from near Wakefield three years ago was near that place. Three years ago Frank Crane and John Sundall each had a team stolen from them and someone thought one of the mares was at Blair. Frank Crane, Harry Britton and John Sundall accompanied the sheriff but when they came to examine the mare they decided that it was not the one they were looking for and so the investigation was a fruitless one. There is, however, some quiet work being done in looking up some of these cases.

On motion J. E. Harmon is hereby appointed janitor of the court house for the year 1908, and salary fixed at $40.00 per month.

On motion the salary of the sheriff is fixed at $1100.00 for the year 1908.

On motion it is resolved that at this time no allowance be made the county clerk for the performance of the duties of Clerk of the Board of County Commissioners for the year 1908. Provided, however, that at the end of the year it be found that the fees earned by the office of the clerk be less than $1500.00 for clerk's salary and $700.00 for deputy hire, then this board shall allow a sufficient sum up to $400.00 to bring the salary of the clerk, together with his deputy, up to $1500.00 and $700.00 respectively; provided however, that any extra help needed by the county clerk and granted by this board shall also be taken into consideration in making the eventual allowance of $400.00.

On motion the county clerk is allowed $100.00 for extra help during the year 1908, said help to be employed when needed and such sum so allowed to be paid from the fees of the office.

Upon motion it is hereby resolved that each member of the Board be and is hereby appointed a committee of one to investigate claims of demand upon the county for pauper maintenance at the poor house, and for temporary relief; and also to investigate claims and demands of any party on county road and bridge funds to be expended in the several road districts of the county. R. Russell is hereby directed to act as such committee in the 1st district; J. F. Stanton is hereby directed to act as such committee in the 2nd district and Geo. S. Farran is hereby directed to act as such committee in the 3rd district. Provided, how-

New 1908 De Laval Cream Separators

Jan. 1, 1908 marks another great move forward in the development of the Cream Separator—the introduction of a complete new line of DE LAVAL farm and dairy sizes of machines, ranging in separating capacity from 135 lbs. to 1350 lbs. of milk per hour.

As nearly perfect as the DE LAVAL machines have been before, they are now still further improved in practically every detail of construction and efficiency, and every feature reflects the past two years of experiment and test by the De Laval engineers and experts throughout the world.

The principal changes are in greater simplicity of construction, ease of cleaning and replacement of parts; less cost of repairs when necessary; easier hand operation; more complete separation under hard conditions; greater capacity and a material reduction of prices in proportion to capacity.

The DE LAVAL was the original cream separator and for thirty years it has led in making every new separator invention and improvement. Every good feature is now bettered and retained and many new and novel ones added, rendering DE LAVAL superiority over imitating machines even greater in every way than ever before.

A new 1908 DE LAVAL catalogue and any desired particulars are to be had for the asking.

ever, that in any case of emergency any where in the county coming to the knowledge of any of the commissioners where it is necessary to give immediate relief to a pauper, and no other commissioner being present, the commissioner present shall see that the necessary relief is provided.

Each member shall report to the full Board at its next session any and all acts performed by him as such committee, with his recommendation for action by the Board. All justices of the peace and the county clerk are hereby forbidden to give any aid whatsoever, except as stated below, and all persons requiring county aid, such as medical attendance, admittance to the poor house, and other necessities shall make application direct to the commissioner of the district for which he acts. Under this resolution the county clerk and superintendent of the poor house are given authority to call the county physician for medical attendance when they deem it necessary.

Whereupon Board adjourns to January 27th 1908.

THE COUNTY

Carroll Notes

Clement Jones is still confined to his bed.
H. J. Candor was in Sioux City last Sunday.
Will Jenkins is home again on account of sickness.
The horseshoe players are taking advantage of this fine weather.
This weather has killed skating, even now they can't put up ice.
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Francis entertained a few friends Tuesday evening.
Simon Tracht has sold his store to Mr. Miller. We all hate to see Simon leave.
It was certainly fine to see the children join church last Sunday morning. They will never regret it.
Phil. Burrens took fourteen horses to Sioux City Monday. He will hold his annual sale there the 23rd. He has a fine bunch.
E. E. Jones returned to Iowa Tuesday morning after a short visit with folks here. His wife and sister will remain a few days.
J. A. Jones had a family reunion at his place last Thursday. All his brothers and sisters and families were there also his father and mother. The old folks had the golden wedding anniversary the 29th of last October.

From Index:
N. O. Anson was among the Carroll people at Wayne Saturday.
Mrs. S. W. Williamson was in Wayne Monday having some dental work.
Ed Stephens is now half owner of the livery barn coming into possession last week.
Grant Simmerman and Howard Porter were among the visitors at Wayne Saturday.
Dr. Lovig reports the arrival of a baby boy at the John L. Jones home Monday morning.
Mrs. Metland, of Wakefield, visited the first of the week with her sister-in-law, Mrs. H. J. Cander.
Emil Stoltenberg, Gus Eksman, Geo. Rohwer, Mart and George Peters were some of the Carroll gents who visited at Wayne Saturday afternoon.
Will James of the settlement started to haul lumber this week for a new house which is to be built on his place. This new house business is a rather dangerous venture in leap year.

Rev. J. N. Funk, of Tecumseh, has accepted the call of the local Baptist Church. He arrived here the first of the month. It has been some time since this church has had a regular pastor, and Mr. Funk will no doubt receive a warm welcome.
Louie Steuer and two oldest daughters left on the noon train Monday for Ohio, where they will visit with his folks. Mr. Steuer received word last week of his father's illness, which was the cause of the visit at this time.
Few of the good people of Carroll are aware of the fact, that Mr. John Hughes, present visitor at Joe Jones, is father of that famous New Yorker, Mr. Charles Hughes, prospective heir to the White House. He is a jovial old gentleman of seventyfour, hale and hearty, and as spry as a kitten. He can out-talk, out-smoke or out-walk most men of thirty of the present generation.
Monday of this week witnessed the dissolution of the firm of Bredemeyer & Tracht, Mr. Tracht selling his interest to Mr. Miller of Norton, Neb. It is a matter of regret with the public the dissolution of this firm. During the three years that they have been here they have earned a high place in the esteem of the public. Mr. Tracht has a large circle of personal friends who regret his departure. His plans for the future are indefinite.

John Shannon was a passenger on the noon train Saturday for Rochester, Minnesota, where he will consult with the Mayo brothers, surgeons, as to his physical condition. If they advise an operation he will undergo the same before returning. The operation contemplated is a serious one as it is for the purpose of eradicating an ulcerous condition of the stomach. One thing is greatly in John's favor, his exemplary habits, never having used tobacco or liquor in any form during his life. It is the earnest wish of all who know him that he will return a well man.

From Sholes

Mike Halpin had business in Randolph between trains Monday.
Ben F. Robinson spent Sunday visiting with his parents near Carroll.
Misses Clara Burson and Mary Pawelski went to Wayne Saturday morning to spend the day with home folks.
Miss Florence Cross and Miss Carrie Moats each attended to school matters at Wayne Saturday.
Ray Kuhleman of Deadwood, S. D., is making an extended visit with his parents at this place.
Clayton Tripp, Harry Sellon, Lewis Kenny and the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Beaton are all on the sick list this week.

Miss Anna Fair returned Tuesday evening from Norfolk where she had spent several days visiting with friends and relatives.
R. L. Nance, formerly of Sholes, came in from South Dakota Monday night and will spend a few days attending to business matters in this vicinity.

Chas. Horn and Bessie and David Grant enrolled as pupils in the high school room on Monday. We are glad that the young people are availing themselves of the opportunity to spend a few months in school.

The Sholes Literary Society and Debating Club is certainly meeting with the greatest of success. Good crowds are always in attendance and the best of interest prevails. Next Friday night being the last meeting of the first term, a new corps of officers will be elected. Come out and have a voice in the election.

Winside

Herb Taylor was in Omaha Monday with a load cattle.
Arthur J. Weatherholt and Miss Minnie M. Koehn, of Hoskins, were married this week.
The four-month-old baby of Chas. Schellenberg, who lives eight miles northwest of Winside, died Monday evening and the funeral will be held at the house today.
Ben Knecht and family moved to their new home near South Bend, Cass county, this week.
G. A. Kruger is here from N. D., visiting relatives and friends. He will return in a few weeks to Warwick, N. D., where he has a good job waiting for him.

Miss Ollie McGinty has been sick at her home in Wayne for a couple of weeks, and Miss Loretto Cullen has been taking her place in the school room in the Long district.

Louie Dimmel, son of John Dimmel, who underwent an operation last week, in Omaha, is reported as getting along nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Gehrke are receiving congratulations of friends over the arrival of a fine boy at their home Saturday.

W. H. McClusky shipped four cars of cattle to Chicago Saturday, he and Wiley accompanying them.

Philip Templeton was born April 16, 1819 in Armstrong County, Penn. and died Jan. 8, 1907, being nearly ninety years old. He was married to Isabel Huntge Feb. 26, 1852. Five children were born from the union, four boys and one girl, four of whom, Wm. Templeton of Winside, Mathew and Henry Templeton of McClusky, N. D., and Mrs. R. M. Baily of Sioux City are living. Mr. and Mrs. Templeton came to Nebraska eighteen years ago and located with their son William on a farm two miles east of Winside. Mrs. Templeton died Feb. 10, 1895. Five years ago the family removed to Winside where the old gentleman spent his remaining years surrounded by every comfort and the tenderest care of his son and family.

Monday one of these little black animals, decorated more or less with white, took up his abode in the cellar at A. T. Chapin's residence without leave or license. Though generally very hospitable, the family could not feel very friendly towards this little fellow, in fact they objected strongly to sharing their abode with him, but not as "strongly" as the animal persisted in staying. Mr. Chapin had to commit murder in order to remove the animal and it is needless to say that no inquest was held over the remains. Now the family are devising all kind of schemes to change the atmosphere around their pleasant home, yet people know immediately that it is not the odor of geraniums that tickle their nostrils as they pass by.

Eastern Hunter

Chas. Nies loaded his car Tuesday and started for his home in South Dakota Wednesday.
Mr. Harry Robinson returned from his visit with friends and relatives last Friday.
Nettie Sandahl who is attending College at Wayne spent Saturday evening and Sunday at Worth's.
Fred Sandahl started for a visit with relatives in Illinois about a week ago. He expects to be gone about five or six weeks.

Ed. Samuelson was seen driving toward home with some furniture in his wagon the first of the week. This looks rather suspicious but we suppose, perhaps, it is partly the result of some of his trips up the line.

Mrs. Aug. Samuelson has been sick the past week, but is now improving.

Brenna

Mrs. Oscar Burkhaumer is suffering from a severe attack of the la-grippe.

Fred Baird left last Friday for an extended visit with relatives at Topeka, Kansas.

Quite a number of Brenna young people attended a surprise party at the George Risbon home Wednesday evening. Dancing was the pastime of the evening.

Bonnie Reed of Winside visited at the Miles home Sunday.

The Ladies' Aid of the Grace M. E. church spent Wednesday with Mrs. Benshoof. They report a fine time with lots of good things to eat.

Mrs. Anna Downey is reported very ill. Dr. Naffziger was called from Wayne Wednesday morning.

Sunny Slope

Oscar Obst is visiting old friends at Concord.
Mr. and Mrs. R. Atkinson of Malvern, Iowa, are making a visit at the home of T. F. Summers.
Jas. Stephens, made a business trip to Wayne Friday.

Arthur Robbins and family visited over Saturday and Sunday with his father near Randolph.

Grant Neff, took advantage of the fine weather and moved this week.
W. M. Aitken was looking after business interests in Randolph Saturday.

J. W. Bicknell and W. M. Aitken shipped a car load of hay to Sioux City.

It has been reported, that a new German school will be built half way between districts 75 and 80. That will locate it across the road from A. Rethwisch's.

North Bend Items

Mrs. Chas. Morris spent Saturday at Wayne.

Mrs. Joe Garwood and Chas. Nairn have both suffered from the la grippe the past week.

Ben Robinson who teaches at at Sholes spent Sunday at home.

Misses Winifred Pawelski and Ella Buch were at the county seat Saturday.

Matie Mick is recovering quite rapidly from the injury of a broken ankle. She is now walking with crutches.

The meetings held by Rev. Anderson at the Flag School last week were very interesting and well attended.

A literary society called the Pleasant View Society was organized in Dist. 18, two miles east of Carroll, several weeks ago and the meetings are good for a newly organized society.

A HOME INDUSTRY

The X-Ray Incubator Factory a Busy Place These Days

FIFTEEN MEN NOW EMPLOYED

A Payroll of $200 a Week. Factory Will put out 5000 Incubators this Season

About the busiest place in Wayne these days is the X-Ray Incubator Factory and when the writer called there the other day and was shown through the factory it was surprising the magnitude the business has already assumed.

There are fifteen men now employed in the factory in putting together the incubators. Over four car loads of stock for the machines is packed away in the warehouse. The different parts being all ready to be put together and shipped. J. H. Kate the manager of the company is kept busy superintending the work and E. J. Raymond the secretary showed us through the office which is equipped with the latest office fixtures and all the business is conducted in a systematic manner. Since the issuance of their fine 56 page catalogue their mail has averaged about 200 letters a day and within the next month this will no doubt be increased to 400 letters a day. It will take nearly 50,000 postage stamps for their immense correspondence. The weight of the catalogues alone make nearly two tons of paper.

They are now shipping machines to every state in the union as well as filling some orders from foreign countries. The promoters of this enterprise feel very much pleased with the progress this far made and contemplate building a larger factory another season and preparing to manufacture all the parts of the machine out of the rough lumber. If this is done it will mean the employment of about a hundred and fifty men in this factory and that means with such a payroll an important addition to the business of the town. Such factories as this are what make and support so many of the prosperous towns of the east and we know of no reason why such an enterprise should not be as successfully conducted in Wayne as in any other place. There is no question but that this company have the best incubator on the market and the only real invention made in years in the incubator business. That it will continue to develop and grow should be the desire of every citizen of Wayne as it is the sort of an enterprise that will accrue to the benefit of the whole town.

Hoskins

Rumors are afloat that a new butcher shop is about to be started here.

Mr. Schroeder, sr., has been ill for the past week and is slowly improving.

The sale of Aug. Deck occurred at his farm six miles east of Hoskins and one of the best and largest sales this year was reported.

Mr. Lundberg of Wayne is about to start a new newspaper at this place in the old Headlight office.

Miss Minnie Koehn and Arthur Weatherholt, both of Hoskins were united in marriage at the home of the groom's parents in Norfolk the latter part of last week.

Verne Zeimer was seriously ill the latter part of last week, but is now recovering.

Frank Phillips and John Kaulen were Norfolk visitors Monday.

Quite a few young people from Hoskins attended the play at Norfolk Saturday evening.

Frank Phillips and Will Barge were Sioux City visitors Sunday.

Mrs. Roehrke of Meadow Grove is visiting her mother, Mrs. William Zutz.

A great many sales are scheduled for the latter part of January and latter part of February. Almost all the owners are intending to go to South Dakota.—Norfolk News.

A new romantic love story has been dramatized and is called "The Moonshiner's Daughter." It is a play far above the average and produces many wonderful scenic ideas. The play will be at the opera house on January 27.

The most ungallant Nebraskan has been found in Holt county. He says his idea of luxury is to spread over both warm spots in bed while his wife is making the fire these chilly mornings.

Fremont's Bachelor club has reorganized with avowed purpose of protecting its members during leap year. The club was once before a thriving organization, but broke up when its president got a chance to get married.

A Burt county man named Washington, who asserts he is as truthful as George, says he saw two live grasshoppers last week, while his neighbor declares he killed a snake which was crawling across his back yard the other day. Those who are shivering with chills in Florida are invited to come to Nebraska as a winter resort.

A tickling cough, from any cause, is quickly stopped by Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless and safe, that Dr. Shoop tells mothers everywhere to give it without hesitation, even to very young babes. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung-healing mountain shrub, furnish the curative properties to Dr. Shoop Cough Cure. It calms the cough, and heals the sore and sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no cholorform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Simply a resinous plant extract, that helps to heal aching lungs. The Spaniards call this shrub which the doctor uses, "The Sacred Herb." Always demand Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Felber's Pharmacy.

Order of Hearing and Notice on Petition for Settlement of Account

In the County Court of Wayne County, Nebraska.

To Marguretta Kniss, the heirs of, and all persons interested in the estate of George Kniss, deceased:

On reading the petition of Gus Schroder, Administrator praying a final settlement and allowance of his account filed in this Court on the 15th day of January, 1908, and for the distribution of the residue of said Estate according to law. It is hereby ordered that you and all persons interested in said matter may, and do, appear at the County Court to be held in and for said county, on the 1st day of February A. D., 1908, at 2 o'clock P. M., to show cause if any there be, why the prayer of the petitioner should not be granted, and that notice of the pendency of said petition and the hearing thereof be given to all persons interested in said matter by publishing a copy of this order in the Wayne Herald, a weekly newspaper printed in said county, for three successive weeks prior said day of hearing. E. HUNTER, County Judge.

Good Cough Medicine for Children

The season for coughs and colds is now at hand and too much care cannot be used to protect the children. A child is much more likely to contract diphtheria or scarlet fever when he has a cold. The quicker you cure his cold the less the risk. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the sole reliance of many mothers, and few of those who have tried it are willing to use any other. Mrs. F. F. Starcher, of Ripley, W. Va., says, "I have never used anything other than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for my children and it has always given good satisfaction." This remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidently to a child as to an adult. For sale by Raymonds Drug Store.

The finest coffee substitute ever made has recently been produced by Dr. Shoop of Racine, Wis. You don't have to boil it twenty or thirty minutes "Health Coffee" is really the closest Coffee Imitation ever yet produced. Not a grain of real Coffee in it either. Health Coffee Imitation is made from pure toasted cereals or grains, with malt, nuts, etc. Really it would fool an expert were he to unknowingly drink it for Coffee. Ralph Rundell.

..Keen Kutter..

A Big Book Hardware Encyclopedia

An enormous catalogue has been issued by the Simmons Hardware Company, St. Louis, containing 4,200 pages. They printed 25,000 copies, the entire edition weighing 250 tons. It required 16 car loads of paper and 18 3-4 tons of tar board binding. They say that all pages put end to end would make 8,600 miles or one-third the way around the world. One and one-fourth tons of ink was used in printing. The book contains some beautiful colored inserts and is systematically indexed. It contains, exclusive of inserts, 79,139 items and 21,535 illustrations. Call and see this book at our store.

A Great Roast!

Over a ton of Arbuckles' Ariosa Coffee is roasted at a time, in a large revolving cylinder, which drops the coffee through heat again and again until each bean is uniformly roasted.

No other coffee is in sufficient demand to afford such scientific and perfect preparation.

The sales of Arbuckles' Ariosa Coffee exceed the sales of all other packaged coffees combined, and this scientific roasting, which no other coffee can afford, by its very magnitude, reduces our cost to a minimum, and enables us, with our other advantages, to give better value in Arbuckles' Ariosa Coffee than is possible for any one else.

Arbuckles' Ariosa Coffee is the cheapest good coffee in the world and the best of all for you.

ARBUCKLE BROS., New York City.
