HOLDOBLER

Efforts for Parole from Asylun Will Likely Fail

THE GOVERNOR IS INTERESTED

Old Neighbors Fear Him and Would Be Alarmed at his Return to Wayne County

The efforts that have been made to secure the parole of Jos. Holdobler and his wife from the Norfolk asylum and the reports that have been in circulation that Govern-or Sheldon would in the near future come to Wayne to investigate the case has caused a renewal of interest in the Holdobler case that a couple of years ago was talked about and written up in the papers all over the country. Holdobler and his wife are both in the Norfolk asylum and the manager of the asylum Dr. Young, does not think he should be paroled unless someone will be responsible for him.

The efforts to have the two paroled was started some time ago by Editor Chas. Weiss of the Cedar County Wachter where Holdobler lived before coming to Wayne county. Mr. Weiss interested a number of German societies throughout the state in the matter and it is said the w was to have Holdobler and his wife taken back to Germany The movement however has not gained much headway for there are legal questions involved and should an attempt be made to deport an insane person there might arise question of an international character. The public is more or less familiar with the way into which this family came to public attention. Holdober rented the Stumph farm near Wayne one season and later moved over towards Wakefield. It was from there himself and family suddenly disappear-ed along about harvest time leaving his grain uncut and his cows and other farm stock in the yards. There was much conjecture as to the mystery and it was some time before the facts were known. Holbobler had suddenly decided to move and with one team and his family had started overland for Chicago for the purpose it is said of consulting the German Consul about an estate in the old country they imagined be-longed to his wife. At Woodbine, Iowa they put the team in a livery barn and took the train for Chicago barn and took the train for Chicago where by their queer actions they fall into the hands of the police and were held in an asylum there for several months. The hallucination the wife labored under was that she was decendent from some royal family in some of the provinces of Germany and that a big estate back there belonged to her, and in this delusion it seems the husband was not hard to convince. Finally they with their two children were returned to Wayne county and at a hear ing before the commissioners it was decided that they should be sent to the asylum and the two children were sent to the Nebraska Childrens Home at Omaha by the county. The girls are aged respectively five and seven years of age and Dr. Quivey, superintendent of the home says the children already show eviden insanity which they no doubt get by heredity.

Holdobler is a man of magnificent physique and a heruclus in strength and many are the stories of what he can do in the way of lifting heavy weights. There are many stories as to the peculiarities of the man and wife and it is said that during and wife and it is said that during their residence here they both carried big revolvers whether at the house or in the field as though they were in deadly fear of being attached. Holdobler was at one time in the German Army and he also served in the United States Army and was in the Philipping which is the property of the philipping which is the philipping which his collection of personal property in charge of the Clerk of the Dis-trict Court are quite a collection of these and also some badges and cheap jewelry. In reference to this case Dr. Young of the Norfolk asylum in an address before the Ne-braska conference of charities and orrections at Omaha is reported by the daily papers to make reply to certain charges that had been made against the hospital in this case.

"This man, Joseph Holdobler, has had nothing but the kindest treat-ment," said Dr. Young. "His par-ticular malady is that he lives in onstant fear that his supposed mies are going to destroy him is property. The delusion his property. The delusion has worked on his mind and he believes he is the most persecuted man in the world, while his conversation and letters which he writes have an air of convincing sanity to those who do of convincing sanity to those who do not know the man.

"There is no doubt in my mind that if Mr. Holdobler was given his liberty the result would be that a murder would be committed some day, and he might injure a number of convincing the sanity to the sanity of the of people, laboring as he does the idea that enemies are seeking to destroy him.
"This patient is continually writing to friends and public officials, and the German consul, and every one else whose name occurs to his mind," said Dr. Young: "Always with the same story that he is unjustly confined and stating or intimating that a plot exists against him. Some time ago the editor of a German paper in which was pub-lished some of the patient's poetry complained to me and I offered to parole the patient to him, providing that he would be responsible for the man's actions. He wrote to the governor at the same time and I informed the governor fully of the circum-stances and of what I had done.

*Instantly there was an uproar in from which the man had been sent, against his release. It seems that in his fear that some one was trying to destroy his property he had plant ed spring guns on his farm, warn ing people to keep off; and he went to cultivate corn with a repeating shotgun. The German editor replied that he did not want to assume the responsibility, but that he would try to find someone who would, and that the two would come together for the patient. No one has called for him yet."

The patient in this episode, Dr. Young stated, is a paranoiac—or one possessed of all his normal facilities and to the casual observer a mar should be free but yet who ha the belief that some person or persons are continually plotting to destroy him or his property; a condi-tion that evidently leads to homicide. Such was both, who killed Lincoln; and Czolgolz, who killed McKinley, in Dr. Young's opinion.

It is really very touching the colicitude the democratic papers are showing in the selection of a republication of a republicat lican candidate for president. Such kindly interest is likely to result in the republicans nominating a man who is pledged to continue the Roosevelt policies and thereby deeply offend a lot of democratic politicians.

At a meeting of the republican county central committee held last Saturday the call for the county convention was made for Saturday, uary 29, and it was recommen ded that precinct caucus be held the Thursday night preceding. It was the unanimous sentiment of the committee that no primary be held for voting on the preference for president as it was thought that not aufficient interest would be taken to et the general expression of the waters of the county.

LAND! LAND! LAND!

Land that grows 15 to 25 tons of sugar beets to the acre. 200 to 400 bushels of notators. 40 to 100 bushels of corn to the acre, and all kinds of fruit, berries and all colors in abundance. Rich, virgin soil, that grows immensacrops like magic. when the water that the U.S. government provides at cost is flowwhen the water that the U.S. government provides at cost is flowed upon it. There is no such thing as crop failure under irrigation. The farmer plants his crop and absolutely controls the amount of water his crops need at exactly the proper time, and he can grow more profitable crops than he can grow in any natural rainfall country, such as sugar beets and affafa. Government statistics show that irrigated land will produce from one-third to one-half more crops than any natural rainfall country. Officials of the U.S. Reclamation Service say that the North Platte project, which will irrigate the land we are selling, is best adapted to irrigation of any land in the country, and the supply of water is unlimited.

RENTERS. Why pay from $3 to $10 an area rent for land when rigate the land we are selling, is best adapted to irrigation of any land in the country, and the supply of water is unlimited.

RENTERS. Why pay from $3 to $10 an acre rent for land when you can get 160 acres of fine irrigated land for about the same money you are paying for one year's rent of an eastern farm?

COME TO THE NEW LAND and own a fine farm that will grow larger crops than the high-priced land you are renting. Uncle Sam will supply you with water to irrigate 160 acres of the most productive land in the country at cost. I can secure you a line 160 acre, irrigable farm for from $1 to $5 per acre.

DON'T WAIT! It won't last iong. Thousands of people are flocking to this country, and the sooner you come the better bargain I can get you. Don't waste your life renting somebody, else's, farm at a high price. Come to the rich and fertile North Platte Valley, and make a home and fortune for yourself and family. Don't needlet this splendid opportunity. There's big money in it. This and that you can now secure for practically nothing, will be worth from $100 to $300 per acre as soon as irrigated and improved. It is better land than Colorado land, that is now selling for as much. You can hire all the work done on sugar beets for $45 an acre, and at the average yield of 20 tons an acre, you can clear $55 an acre, and do no work on it yourself.

FARM OWNERS, Why farm $100 eastern land when you can buy irrigated land here for from one-tenth to one-fourth the money, and get land that will produce larger crops and increase rabidly in value? Sell out and come to the rich North Platte Valley. We are value? Self out and come to the rich North Platte Valley. We are not pioneering. There are no hardships in this country towns, railroads, schools and churches are close at hand. The Platte Valley is centrally located and convenient to all markets. Railroad communications are unexcelled to all good shipping points. All kinds of produce cattle, hogs and sheep command a high price. The Burlington R, R. now runs through the valley and the Union l'acific is rapidly mushing north and through the state. rapidly pushing work an a through line to the coast, which line also ruus through the valley. Thousands and thousands of tons, of hay are cut in the river bottoms every year.

INVESTORS: We can sell you deeded land that is increasing rapid-

Iv in value and will continue to increase in value for years to come. Arigated land is not subject to the depression in land values, that always go with a period of crop failures in any natural rainfall country. No matter what the weather you can grow a crop every year under irrigation. I control the sale of thousands of acres of interested and dry lands that always go. irrigated and dry lands, hay land and ranches, any kind of land at a price that will make money quicklo for you.

"Clocks don't eat," scoffed the infant scientist.

'You have to oil them, don't you?' defended Tim. "That's it," he went on as Willie nodded assent. "They only eat very fat little boys."
Willie glanced at his own plump person and then looked up in alarm.

'Can they run fast-faster'n me?" he demanded.

"How fast can you run?" demanded Tim, with a glance at the oval path around the laws. Accepting the hint, Willie traversed the oval as rapidly as his pudgy feet could carry him.

"They can run three three as fast as that," declared Tim. "Come to think if over, some of the whumps can run three and a half times faster."

"Then I won't run away into the woods again." promised Willie, and he trotted soleunly around the corner of the house to play in the sand heap in the back yard.

"It was all I could do to keep my face straight," she said, with a laugh. "I don't think we will lose Willie ag in as long as we stay in camp. It was an inspiration, Tim, but what would the

There was a lovely big green bullfrog in the marsh. Perhaps even now, he was sitting on a tuft of grass fairly begging a small boy to throw stones at him. With the delightful feeling of adventure Willie cost discretion to the wind and slipped into the shady spaces.

But no big frog was amiably waiting to become a target. Willie could hear to become a target. Willie could hear them croaking, but not even a baby frog offered itself to his aim, and the boy wandered on. He found a new charm in the woods, since at any mo-ment he might be called upon to flee from a whump, and he pressed on-ward

Suddenly his heart stood still for one awful instant. From the bushes just beyond came a sound of voices suddenbeyond came a sound or voices sudden-ly raised in bue and cry. Willie dodged behind the bush, scarcely daring to breathe lest his respirations bring about his discovery, but the sounds died away in the distance, and, grow-ling bodder, Willie crept forward and beheld the lair of the whumps.

It was a rather inviting spot, not at all what one would expect in the clock-work beasts. Three white tents were pitched in a little glade opening to the lake. On the shore were boats and ca-noes, while about the tents were easy chairs of rustic manufacture. The only fearful object was a kettle winging from a tripod over the fire. This probably contained the last victim of the whumps' canaballistic tendencies and Willie shuddered as he thought liow narrowly he had escaped a simi lar fate. He was still congratulating himself upon his safety when without warning some of the whumps burst in to the open, and Wille's blood chilled as he saw that they bore as captives Bess and Tim. own body, so is he slow in iningining what others are suffering. A grownup Kaffir related, says Dudley Kidd in "Savage Childhood," that when he was a child his father threatened him with a beating if he did something or other. The child was puzzled as to what sort of thing a beating might be, for, although he had often seen his bigger brothers beaten, his imagination was unable to work on the sight and reconstruct the experience of these others into terms of his own senses. into terms of his own senses.

The manager of a shop in Lewes stood in the doorway the other day when a man with a wooden leg and a crutch came along and said:

"I want you to do me a favor. I want to leave my leg with you for a few minutes and go around to the next street and work a house for half a street and work a house for half a crown. I've an idea that the folks are very sympathetic. If I go with one leg l am sure of it."

Workings of a Statute Passed by Indiana Legislature.

TWO TAXES PROVIDED FOR.

One is For Road Repairs, the Other For Highway Improvement—Working Roads in Payment of Taxes Entirely Done Away With.

Done Away With.

Few laws passed by the Indiana legislature are of more general importance than the new highway law, and the following detailed account of its workings will be of interest not alone to farmers, but to all who have occasion to travel the country roads, says the Motor News.

The law provides for two highway taxes—the road repair tax, assessed on all property in the township outside the incorporated villages, which tax shall not exceed 50 cents on each $100 valuation; another tax of equal amount, known as the highway improvement tax, assessed on all property in the township including that in Dut Willie was determined to save the life. "You can be engaged," he instand with a glance at Tim. "Please, Bess, for my sake." "And mine, too," tall cases perform his duties, as in pleaded Tim, leaning against the chair, case of globuss, death, removal or "Elanas dam". Per Sected 4. These disqualification.

The compensation of the highway commissioner is fixed by the township board, but must not be less than $2 nor niore than $3 a day. The overseer nor more than $3 a day. The overseer of highways receives not less than $1.50 nor more than $2.50 a day.

The most important and beneficial change is that this law does away entirely with 'working the roads' in payment of road taxes. All highway taxes must hereafter be paid in money. The highway compulsationer can employ is. highway commissioner can employ in inglines commissioner can employ in-bor and will of course employ such farmers along the line of the road as can give their time to the work when it is needed, but the law yery wisely provides that hereafter no work except a few repairs can be done after Sept.

The amount of taxes to be raised in each township each year is voted by the electors at the annual meeting, but if they neglect or refuse to do this it then becomes the daty of the township board to fix the amount to be raised for repairs and permanent improve ments

Of course under this law there will be but one highway district in each township, and the multiplicity of districts heretofore will be done away

According to the new Kausas road law, all road work must be finished yilly 15 each year. This is a good thing, but we imagine enforcing this law is going to be another proposition says the Agricultural Southwest. I says the Agricultural Southwest. It should be enforced, but it is going to take awhile to get into the way of working the road work along in the fall has been traveled in so long that we doubt if many can get out of it without two or three years of trying. As well as doing the road work earlier, other sensible reforms are gaining headway. One is putting in more of the work repairing the real bad places of the roads, instead of stringing it out over a whole mile. There are many over a, whole file. There are many miles of roal that are passably good except at a time when the best of roads are bad, but two or three sloughs and sumps that are not drained out make the whole road seem bad. And it is had for heavy hauling. It's a good idea to fix the worst places first of all, letting long stretches of grading on fairly well drained ground co.ac on to after.

Useful Association.

KINGBIRD OF PARADISE.

Hie Brillian Plumage and His Dance and Love Song.

A most magnificent fellow is the kingbird of paradise, and his man-ner of displaying his charms to the female that has captured his heart is in keeping with his plumage. The kingbird of paradise is small, six and one-half inches long, having the head, throat and upper part of the richest glossy crimson, shading to orange crimson on the forehead. The under parts are of a silky white, relieved by an orange red throat, bordered below by a band of metallic green, while the flank feathers are produced into long plumes of an ash gray color and tipped with buff and metallic green. The two middle tail feathers are produced into long slender stalks, terminat-The under parts are of a silky white, into long slender stalks, terminating in a wonderful disk of emerald green. The beak is yellow and the legs are cobalt blue. During those estatic moments in which he proclaims his undying devotion to the bird he desires for his mate the body is drawn close to the bough which serves as a perch, while the head is bent downward toward the breast, and the wings are spread and extended forward so as almost to meet in front of the downcast head, as though the performer were overwhelmed by a sudden panic of modesty.

Suddenly all is changed. The body is extended to its full length and the wings are violently beaten as though flight were contemplated. Then in a moment he gives himself a half turn and, facing the spectators, fluffs out the silky white underfeather like an apron and throws up the long flank feathers till they form a fan arching above his back and on either side of the gorgeously tinted throat, the beak being now pointed skyward. Meanwhile the tail has been drawn forward over the back, so that the long, wirelike and disk bearing feathers are raised high above him. All the while the body is swayed gently from side to side, and this motion causes the disklike ends of the long tail feathers to shimmer in the light, like balls of burnished metal being tossed to and fro in the air.

As if these strange antics were not enough, he bursts into song, which bears a close resemblance to not enough, he bursts into song, which bears a close resemblance to which bears a close resemblance to that of the skylark. Then comes the finale, which hastsonly for a few seconds. He suddenly turns right around and shows his back, the white fluily feathers under the tail bristling in his excitement. He bends down on the perch in the attitude of a fighting cock, his widely opened bill showing distinctly the light apple green color of the gallet, and sings the same gurging het, and sings the same gurgling note without once closing his bill, and with a slow dying away movement of his tail and body. A single drawn out note is then uttered, the tail and wires are lowered and the dance and song are over. Chicago

Won on the Call of Time.

Excitement was more or less high in the clubroom that night, for Jones had been trying for close on an hour to get Brown, the williest man in the club, to answer a certain question. But his efforts were all in vain.

"Look here, Brown," he shouted angrily at last, "will you answer me with a plain 'yes' or 'no.?" That's all I want!"

me a plain 'yes' or 'no' to one of my questions." And Jones assented readily. "Done!" he said "Fire away!"

"What is the time, please?" in-"What is the time, please quired Brown blandly.

Then Jones, with both hands pressed to his suffering brow, faded silently from the scene." London

The Lyre Bird.

Of Australia's lyre bird a naturalist writes: "It imitates the notes and songs of other birds and reproduces a hissing noise similar to that uttered by an alarmed snake and a uttered by an marmod like that pro-sharp knocking sound like that produced by striking a tree trunk with a stick. All these sounds are utter-ed apparently for the bird's own amusement. The sounds of imita-tion include the calls and cries of every creature that is found in the localities which the lyre bird inhabits, including those of such noisy birds as the eagle and the laughing jackass. The lyre bird nearly aljackass. jackass. The lyre bird nearly al-ways interposes snatches of its own song between its mimic cries.

POLITICAL TENSION IN PORTU GAL IS SLACKENING.

LISBON QUIET UNDER NEW RULE

Former Dictator Franco's Downfall Is Unraveling Murder Plot—Funeral could explain clearly the motives of his animosity toward Prince de Sagan of King and Son Next Saturday.

Inston, Feb. 5.—Liston is beginning to recover from the shock and horror of Saturday's bloody tragedy, but a strong undercurrent of popular and governmental nervousness remains. The political tension is slack-Admiral do Amaral, a devoted friend of the queen, who assumes pow-er, is committed to the reversal of the entire policy of the dictatorship, the abolition of repressive measures and the restoration of "the old liberal monarchy." On Saturday government by decree will be withdrawn, amnesty ac-corded political offenders not impli-cated in deeds of violence and the embargo on the press raised.

Franco's downfall is complete. recognized that it was impossible to saddle the youthful king at the outset of his reign with the stern program involving the immediate banishment and deportation of several hundred olitical offenders, to which he had omnitted himself if he retained ofice. He told a friend that the assas-sination of the king ended his polit-port of all the monarchial factions.

Practically no headway has been made in unraveling the plot, of which the murder of the king and crown prince was but one step. The police now admit that the three men arrested were not involved. Every one of the desperate band, except the three men killed, escaped in the confusion. The identification of these three throws but little light upon their connections. While it is believed by some that they were involved in the conspiracies which were unearthed in the latter part of January, it is possible that the unearthed in the latter was planned and executed spur of the moment after the rance of a decree by a small of militant revolutionists or anarchistic socialists, who may have imagined that the obliteration of the Braganza dynasty would cause a spon taneous uprising of the people. The as the younger prince escaped and the people went in mourning for the ouble funeral on Saturday.

Most of the European states are sending special missions to attend the funeral, these including the Prince of Wales and the Duke of Aosta. The Countess of Paris, Queen Amelie's mother, arrived here last night. Two ships of the British fleet at Vigo are expected here, King Carlos having held rank as an admiral in the British havy.

The two queens remain in the palac with their dead, prostrated with grief. The queen mother is broken hearted. Both are devoted Catholics and spend much of their time in prayer.

APPOINT TARIFF COMMISSION.

DELEGATION PLEADS IN VAIN

Announcement is Made by Chairman Payne, With Tacit Approval of Speaker Cannon, to Representatives of Leading Manufacturing Interests

Washington Feb. 5 .- The present congress will not appoint a tariff com mission. A revision of the tariff wil of the tariff will winter at the undertaken next winter term. These announcem substance, were made by Chairman Payne of the house committee or ways and means, in the presence and with the tacit approval of Speaker Cannon, the occasion being a call upon those leaders by a tariff revision dele gation from various parts of the coun try, comprising representatives of the higgest manufacturing and industrial concerns in the United States and headed by James W. Van Cleave of St. Louis, president of the National Association of Manufactur ers; Governor J. N. Batchelder of New Hampshire and H. E. Miles of Wisconsin, chairman of the tariff committee of the National Association of Manu facturers.

The delegation spent more than an hour presenting their case and listen ing to replies by the two foremost Re publicans leaders in the house, which, while they were cordially couched, were practically a refusal of all that the delegation had journeyed to Wash ington to plead for.

In introducing the subject of the appointment of a tariff commission, in line with the Beverldge bill, recently offered in the senate, Mr. Van Cleave said it was the firm belief of the vas interests represented by the members of the delegation that a wholesome re-vision of the tariff could be best got at by a commission appointed to as certain the costs of domestic produc tion, the relative profits derivable from home and forcign sales and all the multitudinous facts apper(aining to so complex and important a subject Sneaker Cannon's Reply.

In his general answer to the state ments of the delegation, Mr. Cannon said that what troubled him far more than the problem of tariff revision was the presence of the "period of liquida tion" following twelve years of "such prosperity as the world had not seen in all its history" and he ventured if th country could have the opportunity to return to its status of six months agthat chance would be hailed and em braced by every man within his hear ing as of inestimably more worth than any tariff revision that the skill o man could frame.

"The national conventions" contin ued Speaker Cannon, "may determine that the next congress shall rovise the tariff, for it goes without saying tha the policies to be enunciated by those conventions will be the policies gov erning the two parties and if the Democrats should be entrusted with the power, we know the tariff will be revised, and if with the Republicans remains the majority we know the power to revise will be in the next congress vested. But let me ask you frankly: In this present time of finan-cial depression and liquidation, how far in the hands of a partisan commis sion would a tariff investigation prog ress toward accomplishment?

Payne States His Position.

Mr. Payne made his position clear at once by appealing to the delegation to see the unwisdom of the appoint ment of a "necessarily" partisan tariff commission, as proposed in the Bever-idge bill, "at the heels of a financial panic and on the eve of a presidential campaign. My position is that when it shall be best for the interests of the Américan people to undortake a re-vision of the tariff, that is the time when I shall favor a revision and I should urge a minimum and maximum tariff, coupled with the existing law, empowering the United States to make trade agreements with other countries and I would follow France, Germany and Russia in the provision that the minimum tariff should afford a far protection to home products. I think the signs of the times are that next winter the congress will undertake a revision of the tariff. Shall we get our working information at first hands from the producers themselves or shall we content ourselves with get-ting it second hand from a body of men appointed as a tariff investigation commission? From what I have seen of the formation of tariff bills, and I have been eighteen years a member of the ways and means committee, and for the last nine years its chairman, I should by all means seek it at first hand. You cannot convince me, gentlemen, of the wisdom of appointing such a commission at the see. e such

TRIBUTE PAID TO DEFENDERS

Prosecutor Denounces Generals Stoes sel, Fock and Reiss for Surrender of Port Arthur and Urges Court to Impose Extreme Penaity.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 5.-The sions of the Stoessel court-martial ar-nearing their end. Generals Stoessel Fock and Ress are being tried for the surrender of the Port Arthur fortress to the Japanese.

In his summing up, General Gursky, the juage advocate, demanded that the court impose the death sentence upon Stoesser, Fock and Reiss-upon upon Stoessei, Fock and Reiss—upon Stoessel as the responsible agent for the shameful surrender, and upon Fock and Reiss as the men who inspired and abetted him. For General Smyrnoff, who was declared guilty of not having taken measures to prevent the surrender, the judge advocate asked punishment of imprisonment at forced labor for four years. The judge advocate admitted, however, the right of the court to take into consideration the former security of forced tion the former records of Stoessel and Fock. He alluded to General Fock's heoric conduct in the battle of Shipka pass, during the Russo-Turkish war, for which he was given the cross of St. George, but he said that General Reiss did not have the slightest claim to clemency; that he was a liar and

During the scathing indictment of the judge advocate, which lasted for nearly six hours, Stoessel, Reiss and Smyrnoff showed extreme nervous ness and depression. Stoessel shifted uneasily in his seat and flushed and paled alternately as General Gursky tore his reputation to shreds. He made no attempt to interrupt the speaker. Reiss, when his turn for castigation came, wrung his hands in distress, while Smyrnoff was entirely without the flippant air of self confispeaker. dence which he has hitherto main tained. Fock alone was not intimidated. During the entire address of the judge advocate he giared ferociously at his accuser from under his bushy

Tribute to Defenders. General Gursky paid the highest tribute to the brave defenders of the fortress, several hundred of whom were seated in the crowded court room He said it was necessary to draw a sharp distinction between them and sharp distinction between their leaders. He said history might be searched in vain for failure to punish the men responsible for such a surrender and he declared that their undeserved decorations should be torn from the breasts of the uniforms the had disgraced. Continuing, the judge advocate made light of the idea of a massacre, which Stoessel had ad-vanced in justification of the surrender, and said that even the civilians in Port Arthur had no fear of such a

M., to show cause if any there be, why the prayer of the petitioner should not be granted, and that notice of the pendency of said petition and the hearing thereof be given to all persons interested in said matter by publishing a copy of this order in the Wayne Herald, a weekly newspaper printed in said county, for three successive weeks prior said day of hearing. E. HUNTER, (Seal)

Good Cough Medicine for Children

Good Cough Medicine for Children

The season for coughs and colds s now at hand and too much care cannot be used to protect the children. A child is much more likely to contract diptheria or scarlet fever when he has a cold. The quicker you cure his cold the less the risk. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the sole reliance of many mothers, and and few of those who have tried it are willing to use any other. Mrs. F. F. Starcher, of Ripley, W. Va., says, "I have never used anything otner then Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for my children and it has always given good satisfaction." This remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidently to a child as to an adult. For sale by Raymonds Drug Store.
