Miss Linnie Abbott, one of the two graduates participating in the program gave with pleasing effect a recitation entitled "How the Britnell Cup Went from Hilton." Following this came Weldon Crossland, as class representative and validictorian, in an oration entitled "Centralization of Power." His thought and delivery gained him the enthusiastic plandits of the house. Mr. Crossland's class record and scholarship during the high school course entitled him to head the twelve graduates, while Miss Hazel Weber made a record in excellence that gave her second place.

The address to the class was made by Rev. Dr. McFadeen, of Sioux City, 1a. He had for his subject "The Struggle of Sixty-one and its Message to the Young Men and Women of the 20th Century." Gen. Grant proved the central figure of discourse and from his wonderful career as a soldier Dr. McFadden drew many suggestive lessons. His address while perhaps a bit lengthy, was of a superior order and most appropriate for the occasion.

The diplomas were presented by Prof Wilson, who as Superintendent.

Memorial day was approriately observed in Wayne last Saturday and despite the threatening weather there was a good attendance from the country. The business houses were decorated with flags and bunting and the decorations in the opera house where the exercises were held in the afternoon were very beautiful. Judge A. A. Welch presided at the heeting and the opera house and gallery was crowded, when the services commerced shortly at the services commerced shortly at the business of the proposition and the services commerced shortly at the service girls were grouped together at the north side of the hall near the stage. In opening the services Judge Welch In opening the services Judge Welch paid a tribute to the soldier dead and the soldier living, but he said this day was not only to pay honor to the heroes of the Civil war and the Spanish war, but to inculcate patriotism in the rising generation. After invocation by Rev. Parker Smith there was music by the Wayne Commercial band. A male quartet Messrs. Morris, Gamble, Sweet and Wilbur rendered two numbers of

CUT OUT FAKE ADVERTISING

CUT OUT FARE ADVERTISING
The business men of Norfolk are to be commended for the wisdom in organizing to protect themselves against the dozens of petty advertising schemes of doubtful value with which the business men of all communities are constantly besieged.
The larger the community, the greater the number of these advertising schemes into which merchants and other business men are incess-anty triged to drop odd dollars, and what of the schemes are entitled to no more complimentary a term than graft. Few of them have any real value as advertising mediums. These schemes have been increasing until the Norfolk Commercial club took up the matter and as a result most of the business men of this city have signed an agreement to patronize no more of them. Newspaper advertising is about the only form of publicity in the opinion of the business men, which really brings adequate returns. It is the concensus of opinion that if the money being expended on this, that and the other petty scheme were devoted to newspaper publicity, the advertisers would realize far greater benefit.

greater benefit.

The stand taken by the business men of Norfolk is along the same line as that adopted some time ago by Lincoln business men.

Memorial day has come to be the only holiday in the year unmarked by commercialism and hilarity—it has grown to be a Memorial day not only for the nation's dead heroes and the inculcating of patriotism in the younger generation but a day which has been set anart for all the living to pay tribupat for all the living to pay tribupat for her loved ones who have gone on before, and it is a reflection on any community to tolerate its desceration. The Herald hopes that there may always be an aroused sentiment against allowing it to be made, a day of sports or merry making.

Sunday night horse thieves entered the barn of J. M. Huey, of Randolph and took a fine bay mare and bridle, leaving no clew. The mare is described as a bay with white strip in face, 6 years old, weighs about 1,050, and has white left hind leg. A reward is offered for the capture of the thieves, and parties from Randolph are searching the country for traces of the horse and robbers.

That the Wayne Roller Mill is now making a pure white flour since installing some new machinery, recently. We warrant every sack of our flour to give entire satisfaction or money refunded. A great many dislike to return a sack of flour, although it is poor flour, after using a part of a sack. We will cheerfully take back a sack, or part of a sack of our flour, which does not come up to our guarantee. This flour is being sold for less money than any other flour in Wayne, not because it is inferior to other flours, but as an inducement for people to try it. Sold by every merchant in Wayne at the following prices: Wayne Superlative $1.50 and Snow Flake $1.35
