WHAT WILL BRYAN DO

Query of Great Importance to the Country is Put to the Nominee

ISSUE IS VITAL TO NATION

Says The Democratic Leader Should Tell Policy in Case of Crisis

Walter Wellman in Chicago Record Herald: Will Mr. Bryan answer one plain and important question? It is a question which raises a vital issue in this campaign. There are other issues of importance about which there may be honest differences of opinion and upon which some good citizens may agree with Taft and others with Bryan. But this is an issue which goes to the very heart of things, which may mean disaster to the country and to every man and woman in it, which may mean such a retrogression as the country could not recover from in a generation. With such a question as this presented to him, I hope and believe Mr. Bryan will give a plain and direct answer as to what his attitude is, without dodging or evasion. Upon his answer much depends—so much that silence will not serve. It is in no spirit of antagonism to Mr. Bryan to bring this question to his attention; that, the only desire is to find out where the candidate stands upon a really vital issue, for the information of the people. The question is: If elected President, will Mr. Bryan, in case of need, protect the gold reserve and maintain the gold standard?

So far as I know this is a new question in the campaign. It is proper to explain why it is raised in these dispatches. It is not I that raises it. It is not "Wall street" or any New York financier or banker. It is raised by an Ohio business man, a manufacturer, a German-American, whose politics I do not know. A week or two ago, in one of these dispatches, it was pointed out that Mr. Bryan was stronger than ever before in the East, because few, if any, people now looked upon him as a menace to the country in the way they did in his former campaigns for the presidency. Upon this the manufacturer at St. Mary's, Ohio, wrote me a letter, recognizing my impartiality and fairness as an independent observer, but adding that there is one question business men want Mr. Bryan to answer before they are willing to accept the statement that he is no menace and that his election could work no great harm to the country.

The salient part of that letter follows: "Assuming that Mr. Bryan will be elected, assuming that a certain percentage of the people will become nervous over this fact and that in consequence the gold reserve goes down, as it did in Mr. Cleveland's second term, assuming, further, that the revenues fall off, as they did in Mr. Cleveland's second term, question:

"Inasmuch as there are outstanding (I have my information direct from the Secretary of the Treasury) United States bonds as follows: Loan of 1908-18, $198,792,660, issued June 13, 1898; loan of 1925, $162,315,440, issued Jan. 14, 1875, and these bonds and the interest on them are by law made payable simply in coin; the question which arises in the minds of many people is this:

"Will Mr. Bryan be equal to Mr. Cleveland and maintain the gold reserve, or will he order his Secretary of the Treasury to pay the interest in silver, as he would legally have the option of doing?"

You no doubt know just what will happen should Mr. Bryan pay any part of this interest in silver. That would mean alarm, and every dollar of gold will instantly go into hiding. There is absolutely no question about this. We should be on a silver basis at once. What the business world wants to know is this: Where would Mr. Bryan stand and what would he do in case of such an emergency as this?"

The foregoing question is not only a fair and pertinent one, but of tremendous importance. It is not at all impossible that such an emergency may arise during the next four years. The bonds named by my correspondent are payable in "coin," not in gold, thanks to one of the cowardly compromises effected in Congress during the silver agitation. Mr. Cleveland construed "coin" as meaning gold. To get gold he sold bonds. Among those who attacked President Cleveland for this action and denounced him most bitterly was Mr. Bryan. Mr. Bryan then said President Cleveland should have used silver in paying the interest and other obligations of the government.

Mr. Bryan has declared he would have no right, if elected President, to try to force upon the country anything not declared for in the Denver platform. Almost everyone construes this as meaning that the issue of free silver has been dropped, once for all, by the Democratic candidate. As he is an honest and sincere man, no one believes he will endeavor, if elected to revive that issue.

But what will he do if he becomes President and the gold reserve dwindles to the danger point? Will he sell bonds to buy gold, as Mr. Cleveland did, despite his denunciation of Mr. Cleveland for that action? Or does he hold to his former view that the intent of the law is plain that "coin" means either gold or silver?

My correspondent is right when he declares that if an emergency arises and President Bryan adopts the latter course he will drive gold into hiding. Not only that, he would destroy the gold standard in the twinkling of an eye. He would plunge the country down to a silver basis. He would bring on a panic the like of which has not been seen in this land for many a year.

Hence it is we have in this matter a new, a vital question. The whole country is demanding of Congress a reorganization of our currency and banking system in order to avert all danger of such crises as that of last autumn. A national commission is now investigating the problem. But it will be idle to work for or to expect any valuable reform if this menace of the possibility of a crumbling away of every foundation of the whole system of finance is to hang over the future.

In all respect and friendliness, but with great earnestness, I urge Mr. Bryan to give answer yea or nay.

Railroad Men Have Ticket

The Nebraska Railway Employees, a new organization, has made its debut into the political arena of Nebraska and with its 12,000 members expects to help shape the political destiny of the state. The organization claims that it is wholly independent of the railroads and not dictated by the companies. It claims to be organized for the express purpose of counteracting the "fool legislation" of last year whereby they were in danger of having their wages reduced and their transportation taken away from them by prohibitory enactment, and in some way they expect by banding themselves into a political organization to ameliorate their condition. They cry out against the tendency of railroad legislation as started last year (we say started because we do not believe it is completed yet) and express the fear that further legislation means a reduction of wages. No one will contend but that railroad employees should have good wages and as a labor organization they have been powerful in protecting their wage rates and demanding their equitable share of the earnings of their employees. However the tendency of the times is not toward reactionary legislation. The people as a whole are of the opinion that when the water is squeezed out of the corporation stock that the earnings are amply sufficient to pay interest on the investment and good wages to the employees.

It is said the association has issued a circular and a list of recommendations are made for both republican and democratic voters of the organization. A complete ticket for both parties is offered and where it so happens that only one man is a candidate that name is used, whether it suits them or not. For Governor there is only one candidate on the republican ticket, George L. Sheldon, and he is endorsed. From the three democratic candidates A. C. Shallenberger is chosen. On the balance of the republican ticket they have M. R. Hopewell for Lieut. Gov., Geo. C. Junkin, Secy of State; S. R. Barton, Auditor; L. C. Brian, Treas.; Jas. E. Delzell, State Supt; W. T. Thompson, Atty. Gen.; J. M. Shively, Land Comm; Myron D. Karr, Railway Comm. On the balance of the democratic ticket they have E. O. Garrett, Lieut Gov; John Mattes, Secy. of State; E. H. Linkhart, Auditor; Clarence Mackey, Treas.; N. C. Abbott, Supt; H. B. Fleharty, Atty. Gen; W. B. Eastham, Land Comm; Geo. O. Brophy, Railway Comm. In this senatorial district they have R. Y. Appleby on the republican ticket and David Rees on the democratic ticket. In the 8th Senatorial district they have G. L. Wood on the republican ticket and Nick Fritz on the democratic ticket. No recommendations seem

SLUTS SOLVE CHICAGO'S $173,000 TREASURY MYSTERY.

Though Living Modestly Detectives Find Former Teller G. W. Fitzgerald Engaged in Several Speculative Deals Involving Large Sums.

The mystery of the theft of $173,000 from the United States treasury at Chicago a year and a half ago, one of the largest losses the government has ever suffered in this manner, is believed to have been solved by the arrest of an early hour Sunday of George W. Fitzgerald. Others are believed to have been implicated in the crime which for months completely baffled government secret service men.

Fitzgerald was an assistant teller under Assistant United States Treasurer Edwin Beckwith. Suspicion at the time of the theft, Feb. 20, 1907, rested on him, but so plausible was his story and so intense his apparent interest in discovering the real culprit that interest ceased to center on him. Much work was done on the theory that the crime had been perpetrated by the defunct man.

Meanwhile, Fitzgerald was discharged from the government employ for culpable negligence for allowing the theft to be consummated under his very eyes. The money stolen had been used and was tied in packages, some of which had been sent for destruction at Washington. Any of the bills would readily have passed anywhere except for their large denominations. None of the bills was under $500, and some were of the $1,000 and $5,000 denominations, the $1,000 ones predominating.

The theft created a sensation throughout the country and congress at the last session was asked and refused to release Assistant Treasurer Beckwith from liability, although it was promised that congress would again consider the matter at its new session.

GOOD SHOWING BY BANKS.

Treasury Officials See Indications of Improving Business Conditions.

Treasury officials are greatly encouraged in their belief that the business conditions of the country are gradually but certainly improving not only by the increase in receipts from customs and internal revenue, but by the favorable showing made by the national banks throughout the country. A comparison of the last summary of conditions of the national banks made by the comptroller of the currency, July 16, 1908, with the corresponding period for 1907 shows an increase in specie and legal tenders held by the banks of $147,395,217.

DETAIN MORMON CONVERTS.

Party of Fifty-Four Girls Arrive in Boston from Europe.

Because of recent orders received from Washington immigration officers at Boston, Mass., Sunday detained fifty-four young women Mormon converts who arrived on the steamship Republic. They came from Germany, Holland and Scandinavia. There were 108 converts in the party and none were allowed to depart until the examinations, which were very thorough, had been concluded. Among the number detained are Margaret and Katherine Roe, two young girls, who belong in Liverpool, Eng., and whose father cabled that they be held. The girls were indignant and declared that they had paid their own passage.

Arrangements had been made to take the entire party west by special train Sunday night, but owing to the activity of the immigration officers the plan was abandoned. Those who were not detained were quartered at a hotel while the Mormon elders, having charge of the party were looking into the cases of those held up. Whether or not any of those detained will be deported has not been decided. Immigration Commissioner Billing and a special board of inquiry will continue further investigation into the case.

NO RUSH TO INSURE.

National Banks of Oklahoma Not in Stamped.

T. P. Kane, deputy comptroller of the currency, stated Friday that the published statement that a large number of national banks in Oklahoma had notified the comptroller of the currency of their intention to surrender the national charters and enter the state banking system because of the opinion rendered by the attorney general that they cannot lawfully avail themselves of the state guaranty laws was not in accordance with the facts.

"There are about 310 national banks in the state of Oklahoma," said Mr. Kane, "only fifty-seven of which entered in the guaranty scheme. On Aug. 8 last, these fifty-seven banks were notified that they must withdraw from the agreement. So far replies have been received from thirty-three of them. Thirty-seven have informed the comptroller that they desired to withdraw from the guaranty agreement and seven had indicated their intention to surrender their national charters and reorganize as state banks, and only two have thus far gone into voluntary liquidation for that purpose. Replies have been received from 154 of the 310 banks that have not entered into the agreement. A majority of them state that they had no intention of doing so, as they were not in sympathy with the movement. One national bank recently chartered stated that its purpose in charging from the state to the national system was to escape the requirements of the guaranty law."

SOLDIERS ASSAULT GIRL.

Prisoners at Wyoming Camp Under Guard to Prevent Lynching.

While every effort has been made by the authorities at Camp Emmet Crawford, the military maneuver grounds near Larimer, Wyo., to keep the secret, it is known that one of the most atrocious crimes imaginable was committed last Sunday by members of an artillery battery, who assaulted a young woman, leaving her bruised and unconscious upon the ground.

According to the story a non-commissioned officer of the Twenty-first regiment was escorting the young woman when they were attacked by thirty-two men of the artillery. The officer was beaten into insensibility with a gun and the unfortunate young woman was dragged to an isolated spot and assaulted.

After lying half dead for hours the victim of the outrage revived and succeeded in crawling to a house, some distance away and told her story. Twenty-six men alleged to have been implicated in the outrage are under arrest and are chained together in the camp prison.

MOB IN GRIP OF LAW.

Springfield Leader Confesses to Murder of Keys.

Springfield was inflamed Thursday night by a report that Rolla Keys, a 17-year-old boy who testified before the special grand jury when that body indicted George Richardson for an alleged assault upon Mrs. Mabel Halam, had been shot by friends of the accused negro. Before the panic had time to spread far it was learned that the shooting was accidental, the wound having been inflicted by a bullet from a revolver belonging to a companion of Keys. The boy is so seriously injured that he may not recover.

Ten indictments against two of the alleged mob leaders were returned by the special grand jury of Sangamon county Thursday. Six of these are against Abram Raynor and four are against Kate Howard. Raynor is charged with murder, four cases of malicious mischief and one of riot. The charges against the Howard woman are for malicious mischief and are identical with those against Raynor on these counts.

The murder charge against Raynor is based on his alleged participation in the lynching of William Donigan, the 30-year-old negro who fell a victim to the mob's fury on Saturday night. Considerable of the evidence upon which this was secured was obtained by a military court of inquiry which has been sitting under the direction of Lieut. Col. Chipperfield, of the First cavalry, and which Thursday turned over to the state's attorney the result of its investigations.

"We secured enough evidence to indict ten or fifty participants in last week's rioting," said Col. Chipperfield. "We have practically a complete confession from Raynor and we have also discovered the convincing evidence of arson on the part of a former police officer of Springfield. The evidence is not only available for grand jury work, but it is of such a character that convictions are almost bound to follow its presentation in court. I will stand sponsor for that statement."

Scores the Judges Who Knocked Out the Oil Trust Fine.

The second annual meeting of the national organization of attorney generals opened at Denver Thursday. Herbert S. Hadley, of Missouri, president of the association, made the opening address. His subject was "Results of Anti-Trust Litigation."

President Hadley in the course of his address referred indirectly to the $29,000,000 Standard Oil fine.

"A judge," said he, "who cannot see the Standard Oil company of New Jersey in the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, and who cannot see through both of these legal fictions to the real owners and real offenders, John D. Rockefeller, H. H. Rogers and others, is either blinded by prejudice or an unfortunate disposition to obscure the merits of the controversy by strained and irrelevant technicalities."

NEBRASKA STATE NEWS

NOVEL WELD MAY BE IN VAIN.

Effort of Rich Farmer to Evade Contests is Threatened with Defeat.

The efforts of William Topper, the wealthy Elkhorn farmer, to so devise his property that his will could not be contested after death may be in vain. Some of the heirs, it is asserted, have employed an attorney to look into the will with a view to contesting its provisions. General John C. Cowin, who has been employed, said he had been examining the will but could not say just in what way the contest would be filed or not. General Cowin is said to represent several of the heirs.

Mr. Hopper left his property to his nine children. Mrs. Lonia McLean's daughter, is said to be one of the dissatisfied heirs. She will not under the provisions of the will receive any of the property in fee. The will provided for a trust of 600 acres and sixty-five acres of land, the income of which is to go to her during her life and at her death the property is to descend to her children. Bryan H. Hopper, a son, was left nothing by the will except what he owned the estate for debts paid by his father during the latter's lifetime. The estate provided these should be canceled.

Daniel C. Hopper was given sixty-six acres of land, with a provision he should pay Mrs. McLean interest $5,000.

The other six children were given deeds to property owned by the old grantor during the life of the grantor before his death and transmitted to the executors in a sealed package. Mr. Hopper provided in his will if any of the children refused to accept the terms of the testament and tried to break it they should lose all their interest in the property to the heirs who were in contest and should receive only $100 each. The estate is estimated to be worth $200,000.

FIVE MEN HELD FOR TRIAL.

Charged with Attacking Camp near Cedar Creek.

Judge Archer's court was crowded Saturday during the trial of Edward Dowling, George Wilson, Joe Keenan, Percy Fernon and John Andrews, charged with having made an assault upon B. E. Hill, of Omaha, with intent to do great bodily injury. The defendants pleaded not guilty to the charge. The men are employed by the National Ice company in its quarry near Louisville.

Mr. and Mrs. Hill testified they were married in New York, but had made their home in Omaha for two years; that they had been camping near Cedar Creek on the Platte river since Aug. 10 and the five men came to their camp about 9:30 in the evening, in a drunken condition and bringing liquor with them from the hotel. Percy Fernon threatened to kill Hill unless he turned his wife over to them. Refusal made it necessary for him to defend his camp, but he was beaten into unconsciousness and his collarbone broken.

After coming to the evidence the district court and they being unable to give a bond of $200 each they were taken back to the county jail. Judge Clerk and Will Robertson appeared for the state and Judge Sullivan for the prisoners.

OPTION FIGHT IN GAGE.

County Option and High License Candidates in Close Race.

As the date for holding the republican primaries draws near the light and shade of the candidates becomes more and more interesting. For state senator the contest between H. C. Sackett, of Beatrice, and Adam McCallister, of Wymore, is one of the most bitter held in Gage county, and is expected to have their friends become for the success of their respective candidates that many have lost sight of the present candidates and others at the head of the ticket. Many opinions are held in the county on the subject. Mr. Sackett favors this system of regulating the liquor traffic, while McCallister is an avowed high license candidate.

MIKE'S SALARY IN QUESTION.

Nebraska City Fire Chief's Compensation in Controversy.

The city fathers of Nebraska City had their hottest session Tuesday evening when they were in session on the question of Mike Bauer's salary. The council, Dr. J. D. Houston, also a member of the council, voted against the salary of $1,000 per year, and when it was allowed over his head he enjoined the city clerk from issuing and delivering it. The worthy was fasted for several hours, and for a time it looked as if there might be bloodshed. Mr. Bauer is head chief of the fire department and is also a member of the council. Dr. J. D. Among the many causes to which was attributed the business depression which first manifested itself in March, 1927, and which reached its climax in the panic of October, was the high level of prices to which practically all commodities had been forced.

ILLINOIS CAPITAL IS RULED BY RIOTERS

Five Persons Killed, Many Injured, and Stores Wrecked—Mob Lynchs Two Blacks.

NEGRO QUARTER IS BURNED

After Destroying White Restaurant Houses of Blacks Are Fired by the Crowd.

Springfield correspondent: Riot, arson and slaughter held possession of the black belt and levee of Springfield, Ill., all through Friday night. Two men were killed, nearly 100 wounded, the streets were full of militia, and rioters set fire to negro houses in all parts of the black belt.

Mob Balked by House. All this turmoil grows out of an attempt to lynch a negro who had attacked a white woman. The negro was spirited out of town, and the mob balked in its vengeance, immediately turned on the man who loaned his automobile to the authorities to enable them to convey the negro to a place of safety. This was the spark that started the riot.

Special trains were hurried from Decatur, Jacksonville, Bloomington, Peoria, and half a dozen other towns bearing infantry, cavalry and artillery. Early in the state of riot all the saloons and disorderly houses in the city were closed by the Mayor, and the militiamen did their best to prevent the collecting of any crowds in the streets. Their efforts were futile, however. They would disperse a crowd in one neighborhood, and it immediately reassembled in another.

and were carried away by their friends before their identity was discovered. Origin of the Trouble. The inciting cause of the trouble was an assault made on Friday on Mrs. Earl Hallam, wife of a street car conductor. Mrs. Hallam, whose husband works at night, was pulled from her bed at midnight by a negro, who then dragged her into a garden in the rear of the house, where he assaulted her.

George Richardson, a negro, was arrested for the assault upon Mrs. Hallam and placed in the city jail with Joseph James, who was accused of the Ballard murder.

Mutterings of mob violence began soon after the Richardson identification by the woman, and a great crowd collected about the jail. After Richardson had been identified by Mrs. Hallam the crowds grew even more violent, and it was decided to take the prisoner out of town.

SHORT NEWS NOTES. A record for excavation was made on the Panama canal on July 3, 1927, 103,640 cubic yards having been taken out.

was stopped to let the sheriff's men and their prisoners get on board. As soon as this was known the mob began to gather, howling for vengeance against the man who had assisted in the escape of their prey. The cry, "Come on to Loper's," was raised, and a few minutes later bricks were crashing through the windows. Loper met the mob with a rifle. They paid no heed to him, and he was forced into the back part of the building, where he was compelled to witness the complete destruction of his property.

The restaurant was the largest in the city, and had a large trade. Within an hour it was a complete wreck. All of the furniture was taken out and piled on top of the automobile, which had been turned over on the street, and then a match was applied to the gasoline tank. The bonfire raged until midnight. The police were utterly powerless to cope with the mob and the fire department, which had been called out, was not allowed to extinguish the flames.

During the attack an attempt was made to do bodily harm to Mayor Reece. At 10 o'clock Louis Johnson, a 10-year-old boy, was found dead in a rear stairway leading to the basement of a downtown building. He had been shot through the groin.

GRAND JURY BEGINS TASK

Investigation of Outrages at Springfield, Sequel to Disturbances. Springfield Monday entered upon the investigation of outrages and the arrest of accused men. A special grand jury was summoned by Judge James A. Creighton of the Sangamon County Circuit Court as the result of a conference between Governor Deneen and State Attorney Frank Hatch. A large amount of evidence, implicating many citizens, was obtained during the rioting, and this will be submitted. Suspects were arrested each day during the reign of terror, and will be held awaiting the deliberations of the official body.

SOLDIERS RULE SPRINGFIELD

Iron Grip of the Militia Overawes Mob in Illinois Capital. Springfield correspondent: After three days and three nights of riot and bloodshed the fourth day dawned with the face war situation seemingly just as ominous and threatening as it was during the hours in which the torch was being applied and negroes were being lynched and shot and stoned in every street. The anti negro element in the community has been crushed and overawed by the militia, but there has been no suppression of the spirit of anarchy against the colored race.

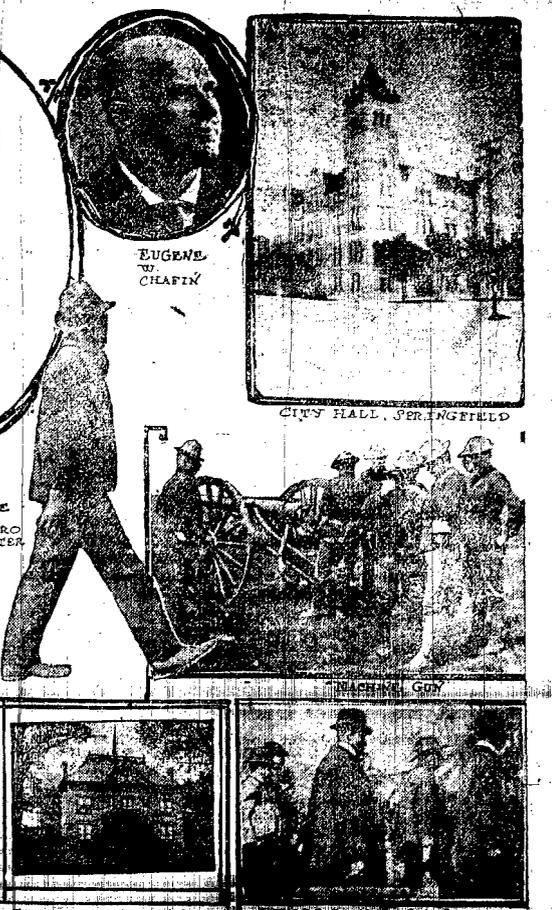

The most recent act of Saturday night was an attempt to cut the fire alarm and telegraph wires at 7th and Washington streets, in the heart of the business district. With the wires down, the city would have been practically at the mercy of the incendiaries, who found their buildings in which negroes lived or maintained small businesses the easiest way of spreading the rioting going. The man who would have cut off the fire protection of the city was discovered in the act of reaching for the wires. A half-dozen shots from troops who were on patrol in the courthouse square were aimed at him as he stealthily slipped toward the wires. One bullet probably hit him; he dropped to the roof of the building, but made a successful escape. To this affair is added the attempt to fire the negro section on the northwest side of Springfield.

BAYONET KILLS A BOY

Shot at Kankakee is Stabbed to Death by Soldier on Guard. At Kankakee, Earl Nelson, a delivery boy for a local grocery, was stabbed to death by one of the soldiers of the First Regiment, U. S. A., of Chicago as it passed through on its way to Springfield. About 300 residents of the town witnessed the staking and clamored for revenge. According to the story told by Arsen Arres, a French boy, and witness of the slaying, at the inquest the killing of Nelson was unprovoked. His story is borne out by the testimony of Elmer Osborn and Eli Barnett, other Kankakee youths who were with Nelson and saw the murder. After a lengthy session of the board of inquiry at Springfield, Private Joseph B. Klein of Company A, First Infantry, was sustained in his plea of self-defense in the fatal stabbing with a bayonet of the youth at Kankakee.

NOTES OF SPRINGFIELD RIOTS

A second negro was hanged, but rescued by soldiers. Governor Deneen ordered the First, Second and Seventh Regiments to Springfield from Chicago. Springfield pastors united Sunday in preaching against the rioting which has disgraced the city. Forty-five hundred soldiers at last overawed the mobs in Springfield and restored a semblance of order. Troops aided the Springfield fire department, keeping a mob in check while games in negro refuge were fought. Prominent negroes in Chicago denounce the mob violence at Springfield and demand the law should be sufficient to punish all offenders.

TWO NEGROES ARE LYNCHED

Deadly Work of Frenzied Mob Creates Reign of Terror. Scott Burton, 65 years old, a barber, was lynched Saturday morning. Burton conducted a little barber shop at 12th and Madison streets in Springfield. He is said to have quarreled with a white man. A house near his shop was fired by the mob. He ran in terror. The frenzied mob saw him and he was captured. He drew a revolver and was knocked down. A razor fell from his pocket. A 10-year-old boy saw the rioters. Grabbing it, he slashed the negro on the neck. The sight of blood so incensed the crowd that it secured a rope and hoisted the old man instantly. Thirty shots were fired into his body after he was dead.

STATE ARSENAL, SPRINGFIELD

Chicago sent 1,500 additional soldiers, including 250 cavalrymen, to Springfield, making a total of more than 5,000 guardsmen in the capital to maintain order. A boy who attempted to board the First Regiment train at Kankakee was stabbed to death with a bayonet by a soldier from Chicago, but Kankakee will demand the soldier's surrender and trial. Many lynchings and race riots have marred the peace in the last few years. A total of 1,530 had been lynched in twelve years prior to 1928. Self-defense in the fatal bayoneting of a boy by Private Klein of Chicago was the decision of a military court of inquiry, but Kankakee will demand the soldier's surrender and trial. William Peterson Lien of Luskfield, Minn., was one of the victims of Mrs. Berta Guinness. Liam led Rashford on April 2, 1907, for Raporte to marry a rich widow. He carried with him $1,000. He never returned home. His parents, who live in Norway, are confident he was disposed of by Mrs. Guinness. An effort will be made to recover $1,000 from the Guinness estate. Gossip among New York insurance men says that a stock exchange lounge has taken out a policy on the life of W. H. Taft for $100,000.

King Solomon Takes Another Advance

Price of Stock Goes Up October 1st, or Before

Two New Veins Discovered in the Tunnel

I wish all my Wayne County friends could go with me into the King Solomon tunnel. It is a busy place. Two monster machines are pounding the rock in the breast of the tunnel. One is working in Vein No. 2 and another in Vein No. 7.

Great improvement is shown in Vein No. 4, with every shot, and No. 7 is also getting better. Rich ore shoots will doubtless be opened up in these big veins. You have all heard of the rich ore found in Vein No. 2. Work is being done in that, too, and it is still looking good. The work in No. 4 is being done by hand.

Two new veins have been discovered by Foreman Davidson. These were cut some time since but nothing was said of it at the time. One of them is between three and four feet wide and while the ore shoot has been found there is every reason to believe that it is a good vein.

Never has the tunnel looked so good to me as it does today. Not only are the veins improving with development but the breast is very encouraging and I expect soon to hear of the cutting of another good vein.

On account of these new veins that have been found—the fact that the tunnel is in nearly 2000 feet—and the fact that the stock is actually increasing in value every day it has been decided to

O. A. KING, District Manager.

Office over First National Bank.

WAYNE, NEBRASKA.

Republican National Ticket

FOR PRESIDENT:
William Howard Taft, of Ohio.
FOR VICE-PRESIDENT:
James S. Sherman of New York.

Mr. Bryan has commenced to talk. Republicans need have no fear of the result now.

Next Tuesday is the day and then it's just nine weeks until the next big political day.

The primary election will be held next Tuesday from 12 o'clock noon until 9 o'clock p. m.

The straw hat season is near its limit but the open season for the straw vote lasts till November.

Election officers for next Tuesday will be the same as the election boards at the last general election.

The paramount issue is:—Shall the Roosevelt administration be endorsed by the election of Taft or repudiated by his defeat.

A survey of the democratic congressional situation gives one the impression that the Tekamah banker has the advantage over his competitor, Edgar Howard.

If Hon. J. P. Latta of the Third district loses out at the primaries it will be on account of his whiskers and not because of his fat bank balance.—Lincoln Journal.

One peculiar thing the railroad employees probably have noticed is that when the managers start in to trim down salaries they always commence at the bottom and never trim clear to the top.

It is suspected someone has designs on the democratic nomination for commissioner by having the name written on the ballot and thereby save a filing fee. See if it don't "pan out" about that way.

There seems to be a difference of opinion among the Generals of the Wayne democracy as to what's best to do next Tuesday in the matter of supporting Latta or Howard. The result will probably be a considerably divided vote.

Jim Dahlman is making his race for the democratic nomination for Governor on the strength of the fact that he is the bosom friend of W. J. Bryan and that as Bryan is the democratic leader in the nation, Jim Dahlman occupies the same place in Nebraska.

J. A. Williams of Pierce county, for railroad commissioner on the republican ticket, seems to have some good endorsements for what he has done in the short time he has been in office. There is a feeling anyhow that the corporations are against him and if they have reason to think he is not right the rest of the people have reason to think he is right.

The proposed amendment to the constitution that will be voted on next Tuesday are non-partisan measures and are endorsed by all parties. The one relating to judicial powers is to provide for four additional Supreme Court Judges to more quickly dispose of court business and is of much importance as the amount of work has been greater than the court as now constituted can handle. The other amendment is to enlarge the field of investment for the permanent school fund. Both amendments are endorsed by leading men of all parties and should carry at the election.

Deputy State Superintendent E. C. Bishop was in town between trains Saturday morning on his way home from the Knox county Teachers institute. On account of his ability as a lecturer on educational topics, he is in great demand at teachers' institute and public meetings. Although the leading republican candidate for state superintendent, Mr. Bishop is giving strict attention to the duties of the office he now holds. His standing as an educator is such that his candidacy for state superintendent has met with wide spread favor among the school men of the state. At the primaries in north Nebraska he will be far in the lead of any other candidate. His education, his experience in the various positions of school work and his acquaintance with the needs of the entire state fit him especially for good service to the state as state superintendent.

It is believed that the primary election here will bring out a larger vote than last year. There is considerable interest over the contests for nomination for some places on both party tickets. On the republican side the friends of Randall and Appleby will bestir themselves for their favorite. The republican party has two good men for this place. Senator Randall made a most excellent record in the last legislature and it is on the basis of this he will have much strength for a renomination. Mr. Appleby is one of the leading republicans of Stanton county and has that county for him, and the republicans there ask that in accordance with the old custom Stanton be allowed her turn in choosing the nominee. Both men are good republicans and have canvassed the district pretty thoroughly and expressed their views. Whichever is chosen will no doubt to the best of their ability represent the sentiment of the district in the next session of the legislature.

Up to the Nebraska Farmers Now

The primary election law which has had but one trial was enacted by the legislature over the protest of the professional politicians. The demand for such a law came from the farmers of the state and the great majority of the voters of the state are farmers. The politicians argued that the farmers would take no interest in the primary election and that the law was therefore unnecessary.

The first test of the primary plan made a year ago came very near bearing out the contention of the politicians, as the country vote cast at the primary was very scattering. However it was the initial primary election and its friends contended that much could not be expected then. More is expected now. The principle objects to be attained are better understood and unless a good showing is made next Tuesday there is going to go up a howl for its repeal.

It is up to the people in the country districts, the farmers who demanded the law, to vindicate the principals of primary-nominations.

The primary law may need amending in some parts but it isn't likely the people will ever want to return to the old system for then the farmers had ample reason for complaint. But if the candidates are not acceptable this year it will be chargeable to the voters themselves. The power to make a "slate" and force it upon the people has been taken away from the politicians if the people merely exercise the right of suffrage granted them by the primary election law and next Tuesday is the day.

For County Attorney

I wish to announce myself as a candidate for the republican nomination as County Attorney, to be determined at the primaries to be held Sept. 1st.—Richard Closson, Carroll, Neb.

Announcement for County Attorney

I desire to announce to the republican voters of Wayne county, that I am a candidate for the nomination for County Attorney of Wayne county, subject to the will of the voters at the primary election.

Announcement for Senate

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for the nomination for senator in this Eleventh senatorial district, subject to the will of the republican voters at the primaries to be held September 1, 1908.—C. A. Randall.

Announcement for Commissioner

I hereby announce myself for a candidate at the primaries Sept. 1, 1908 for the republican nomination for county commissioner of Wayne county, of the east district, for the unexpired term and for the full term commencing January 1, 1909.

Announcement for Senate

I desire to announce to the republican voters of the eleventh Senatorial District, that I am a candidate for the nomination for Senator of said District at the Primary Election to be held September 1st, 1908, and hereby earnestly solicit the vote of every Republican in the District.—R. Y. Appleby.

Announcement for Commissioner

I wish to announce to the republican voters of Wayne county that I will be a candidate at the primaries September 1, 1908 for the republican nomination for county commissioner to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of R. Russell and for the full term commencing January 1, 1909.—Eph Anderson.

Announcement

I hereby announce myself a Candidate for county attorney on the Republican ticket. If elected I will undertake to fulfill the duties of that office to the complete satisfaction of all persons and parties concerned in good government. The office of County Attorney has been monopolized many years for ring and private purposes. I am not and never have been tied up with any political ring or clique and if elected I will undertake to save Wayne county and the tax payers a large amount of money that no mere political-ring-made attorney would dare undertake if he wished to retain the future support of the ring. I very respectfully solicit the votes along with the moral support of all persons and parties regardless of political affiliations, who, I hope, believe as I do, that we should be vigilant not only in reform measures of law, but very vigilant in preventing political rings from monopolizing elective offices, county or state.

Will Be National Bank

The Citizen's bank is preparing to change to a national bank to be known as "The Citizens' National Bank of Wayne." The articles of incorporation have been accepted at Washington and the capitalization of the new institution will be $60,000. It is not expected the change will take place until about October 1st, and there will likely be no change in the officers of the bank. The Citizens' bank has been operated as a state bank for twenty-one years.

A POWER on Every Farm

THERE should be a power of some kind on every farm. It saves labor, time and money, and increases the earning capacity of the farm. It will work the raw material of the farm into a finished product. All up-to-date farmers agree that the modern gasoline engine is the best farm power. Our I. H. C. gasoline engine is the best gasoline engine. It is strong, durable, long-lived and is of full rated, actual (not estimated) horse power. It is easy to operate and is easily kept in working order. It develops the maximum of power with the minimum of fuel. Specially adapted to cutting dry fodder and ensilage, husking, shredding and shelling corn; threshing and grinding feed; sawing wood, separating cream, pumping water, etc. Indeed there is no service required of a power that will not be performed most satisfactorily by this engine. I. H. C. gasoline engines are made in the following styles and sizes: Vertical—2, 3 & 5 Horse Power; Horizontal—(Portable and Stationary), 4, 6, 8, 10, 12 & 15 Horse Power. If you are not intending to purchase an engine now, you may want one in the future and really ought to know more about them. Call on our Local Agent, let him show you the engines and supply you with catalog, or write for further information. Do it now.

In stating what Emil Hansen paid for his South Dakota land last week we should have said $4800 for one quarter and $5600 for the other. The Wayne Commercial Club will attend the street fair and carnival to be held at Wausa Sept. 4. This was decided at a special meeting of the executive committee of the club held Monday evening for that purpose. The Commercial club feels that it is much indebted to Wausa for the splendid showing they made on the occasion of the opening day of the Chautauqua, and the club is going to make a special effort to reciprocate by attending their Harvest Jubilee in a body. C. J. Rundell has issued his booklet on "Financial Panics, Their Causes and Cure." It is a seventy-two page book and he sells it at a quarter. The treatise is wholly on the money question from the standpoint of an ardent believer in free silver. Mr. Rundell has printed on the cover that railroad managers forbid the sale of his book by news agents. We have not read it thoroughly enough to give an extensive review of the same but there is no question but that the author is a thorough student of the financial question and without regard as to whether or not one agrees with him his book is interesting reading. Mr. Rundell thinks Walter Wellman has rather put Mr. Bryan in a hole on the question as to what he would do in case it became necessary to protect the gold reserve or go to a silver basis. He thinks Bryan does not understand the fundamental principles of the financial question and in that there are many who agree with him.

Mr. Bryan has commenced to talk. Republicans need have no fear of the result now.

Next Tuesday is the day and then it's just nine weeks until the next big political day.

The primary election will be held next Tuesday from 12 o'clock noon until 9 o'clock p. m.

The straw hat season is near its limit but the open season for the straw vote lasts till November.

Election officers for next Tuesday will be the same as the election boards at the last general election.

The paramount issue is—Shall Roosevelt administration be indicated by the election of Taft or repudiated by his defeat.

A survey of the democratic congressional situation gives one the impression that the Tekamah bank has the advantage over his competitor, Edgar Howard.

If Hon. J. P. Latta of the Third district loses out at the primary will be on account of his white and not because of his fat bank account.—Lincoln Journal.

One peculiar thing the Republican employees probably have noticed is that when the managers start in to trim down salaries they always commence at the bottom and never trim clear to the top.

It is suspected someone has designs on the democratic nomination for commissioner by having the name written on the ballot and thereby save a filing fee. See if it don't "pan out" about that way.

There seems to be a difference of opinion among the Generals of the Wayne democracy as to what's best to do next Tuesday in the matter of supporting Latta or Howard. The result will probably be a considerably divided vote.

TEACHERS INSTITUTE

Good Attendance and Work Progressing Nicely

The county Teachers Institute opened Monday and the work is getting along well under the management of Supt. Littell and his corps of instructors. Mrs. Phillips, one of the instructors, stated that she had never worked in a county institute where better attention was given to the work than the teachers of Wayne county show. With them it is not a season of pleasure but a time to better equip themselves for the coming school year's work.

Prof. F. M. Gregg gave his lecture Monday evening on "Landscape and School Gardening," which was enjoyed very much and last evening Ex-Supt. Bright gave a very instructive and entertaining lecture concerning his experiences as teacher in the Philippines. To night Miss Francis Wallace will give a reading.

The work of the institute closes on Friday. The enrollment to Wednesday morning was as follows:

Eugene Huckleberry, Georgia Blakeman, Hazel Weber, Mary Lovitt Winnifred Pawelski, Mary Pawelski, Edna Moler, Florence Cross Ethel Prince, Pearl Sewell, Amorette Sewell, Sadie Darnell, Helen Hoffman, Maude Grothe, Sarah Sears, Francis Spahr, Essie Spahr, Pearl Bell, Edna Moles, Anna Bressler, Mary Severence, Myrtle Robinson, Mary Fenski, Ella Burke, Nellie Herper, Nannie Nygren, Trix Miller, Etha Shaw, Esther Olson, Edna Kemp, Laura Perry, Elizabeth Olds, Ollie Jones, Edith Beechel, Clara Schneider, Jennie Larson, Miss Burson, Leo Pryor, Bonnie Reed, Grace Jones, Olive McGinty, Hattie Hunter, Gertrude Bayes, Josephine Carter, Emma Martiny, Rosa Martiny, Mamie Moran, Claire Moran, Christine Busch, Hazel Ferrin, Jennie Vennberg, Effie Norton, Anna Cathraheis, Florence Henyan, Alice Wadsworth, Gertrude Phipps, Minnie Nelson, Berdie Cross, Charles Kingsbury, Blanche Bell, Emma Hughes, Myrtle Stubbs, Blanche Young, Sarah Milliken, Hattie Shulteis, Florence Welch, Edith Porter, Grace Dawes, Laura Dawes, Sarah Ziemer, Francis Leslie, Ella Ziemer, Inga Madsen, Eugenia Madsen, Maude Woodworth, Valie Armacost, Pauline Braunger, Lois Patrick, Elsie Clark, Elsie Samuelsen, Vernon Ziemer, Kate Engert, Madge White, Mrs. Auker, Alvina Saha, Leona Hansen, Celia Buck, Alice McDonald, C. On The Trail

Sheriff Mears went to Fremont this morning in response to notice that a man was trying to sell a horse there that answered the description of the one stolen from Behmer near Hoskins. The sheriff thinks they have the right man this time.

Although the leading republican candidate for state superintendent, Mr. Bishop is giving strict attention to the duties of the office he now holds. His standing as an educator is such that his candidacy for state superintendent has met with wide spread favor among the school men of the state. At the primaries in north Nebraska he will be far in the lead of any other candidate. His education, his experience in the various positions of school work and his acquaintance with the needs of the entire state fit him especially for good service to the state as state superintendent.

It is believed that the primary election here will bring out a larger vote than last year. There is considerable interest over the contests

TEMPORARY INJUNCTION

Granted in the Tile Ditch Case of Perry Against Clark

Judge Welch yesterday granted a temporary injunction in the application of Ted Perry vs. A. B. Clark against continuing work of filling his land in Wilbur precinct the water of which empties into the land of plaintiff. The case was heard by Judge Welch and no testimony other than affidavits was introduced at this time. The case will come up at the regular term of court next week for final hearing on the application for permanent injunction. The case has created a great deal of interest on account of the precedent it would establish. Davis and Tyler are attorneys for plaintiff and Wilbur and C. A. Dixon for defendant.

District Court

The district court will convene Monday with Judge Welch presiding. There will likely be several jury cases tried, but just how much court work there will be to do this term is hard to tell. There are two divorce cases on the docket, that of Emma Boeck vs. Bertus Boeck and Hallie E. Hanuse vs. John F. Hanuse.

Wheat Nets Over $45 Per Acre

Threshing of winter wheat has commenced. The first wheat, threshed was that of Wm. Bakers, one-half mile east of Ashton. On exactly 10 acres of ground he raised 501 bushels, this wheat which is of the Winter Fife variety, was sold at 90¢ a bushel bringing an income of $45.90 per acre.

The above is a clipping from the Ashton, Idaho Enterprise, and is a sample of crops raised in the country where E. Cunningham is ranching.

What's Wayne County's Share

The County Attorney, H. E. Burkett, on July 22, commenced an action against the Estate of William Goddard, deceased for inheritance tax due the counties of Cedar, Knox, Pierce, Stanton and Wayne. While it will take some time yet to litigate this matter and to determine the exact amount of inheritance tax due from this estate there has been sufficient progress made so that it is known that Cedar county's share of this inheritance tax will be between $1000 and $1500. The law as inheritance tax shall be used for the purpose of improving the country roads. This amount ought to go quite a ways towards making better roads for Cedar county.—Hartington News.

When the above was shown to County Attorney Wilbur he said he would investigate the matter and see what part of this inheritance tax Wayne county was entitled to. Charlotte R. Goddard, mother of Wm. R. Goddard, was in her lifetime rated as a millionaire. She bought about ten thousand acres of land in this part of Nebraska direct from the government. She died in Rhode Island about 1876 and a copy of her will which was probated here is the longest and most complete will ever filed in the county records, it covering 36 pages of record.

A Winside correspondent to the Sioux City Tribune says: "All business houses in Winside were closed Thursday afternoon in memory of its beloved citizen and friend, W. H. McClusky, whose funeral was being held in Sioux City. Mr. McClusky was the leading factor in the building and development of the town in its infancy and during the hard times of the 90s many a Wayne county farmer and a number of Winside business men were saved financial bankruptcy and the loss of their farm or property because he saw them through." A score of Winside Masons accompanied by a like number of friends attended the funeral.

Married

Last Thursday afternoon at the home of the bride's father, Charles Lund, occurred the marriage of his daughter Anna to Herman Lundberg. Only a few close friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony which was performed by Rev. C. J. Ringer after which an elegant luncheon was served and the young couple were driven to Winside in an auto and from there they took the train for Creighton for a weeks visit with friends. The young people planned the event so carefully that their friends were hardly aware of it till they were well on their way to Winside although the folks at the Liveringhouse home, where Herman has boarded the past few years suspected that Herman was not acting just right and accused him contemplating matrimony, but he put up a good bluff.

The bride is the daughter of Chas. Lund and one of Wayne's most estimable and worthy young ladies. The groom is assistant cashier in the State Bank of Wayne. He is a quiet young man of industrious habits and is working his way up in the business world. They are both worthy young people and the Herald joins with many friends in wishing for them a happy and prosperous future.

STRONG AND STEADY

By HORATIO ALGER, JR.

CHAPTER XXI.

Though Walter was in a room on the second floor, the darkness of the night was so great that he could easily miss the window sill and jump without injury.

"I'll rest a few minutes, and then push on," he thought. It was late, but the excitement of his position prevented him from feeling sleepy.

He was leaning against an immense tree on the edge of the forest and oldest in the forest, Walter began to examine it.

Quickly the hollow trunk occurred to him. With a little donkey as possible he concealed himself in the interior.

It was certainly a very uncomfortable situation for Walter. He hadn't dared to breathe or stir lest his enemy should hear him.

"I wish he'd go," thought our hero. But Jack was in no hurry. He appeared to wish to waylay Walter, and was constantly listening to catch the sound of his approach.

Then he started, and Walter, listening intently, heard the sound of his receding steps. When sufficient time had elapsed, he ventured out from his concealment.

What should he do? It was hardly prudent to go on, for it would only bring him nearer the enemy.

Jack pushed on, believing that our hero was in advance. It had been a fatiguing day, and this made his present midnight tramp more disagreeable.

While he is sleeping we will go back to Walter. He was slaying, and would gladly have lain down and slept if he had dared.

"I can't stand this watching till morning," he said to himself. "I will find some one to stay place, and try to sleep a little."

"You'll be sorry for it, then," said Jack, fiercely.

He had walked back about fifty feet, and then faced round. His intention was clear enough.

Jack stood still for a moment, and then, gathering up his strength, dashed forward. Arrived at the brink, he made a spring, but the soil bank yielded him no support.

He was now in his power. This was what he wanted, but an instant later he saw his mistake.

SIoux WOMEN.

Among the Sioux it was no disgrace to the child's daughter to work with her hands. Indeed, says Charles A. Eastman in "Old Indian Days," Generosity is a trait that is highly developed in the Sioux woman. She makes many necessaries and other articles of clothing for her male relatives.

There is an etiquette of sitting and standing, which is strictly observed. The woman must never raise her knees or cross her feet when seated.

Nearly all her games are different from those of the men. She has a sport of wand-throwing which develops fine muscles of the shoulders and back.

Why He Kicked. "Some people are chronic kickers," growled the hotel clerk, "and it's no use trying to satisfy them."

Part of the Treatment. "So you believe in charging heavy fees?" "Yes," answered the physician, "but only for the patient's own good."

Family Reprieve. "If you could only make money like your father," sighed the disappointed wife.

Useless Sacrifice. "Myth—It's too bad that Clara was in love with Jack when he proposed to me."

In a Quandary. Brother—Yes, I like Jack well enough, but how did you ever happen to marry a man a head shorter than you are?

Questions. "Can you tell a dog that's mad?" "Tell it what?"

THE POPLES

"In the early months of the Civil War," said the Colonel, "many girls attempted to play the part of soldier."

"It was a scene, too, when few questions were asked, and when insisting officers were not overparticular, a time when men from different neighborhoods, counties and States were thrown together to form in a day unexplainable and romantic attachments."

The flag of the Confederacy, or rather the flags of the Confederacy, had some curious bits of history attached to their brief existence.

On one occasion a rumor flew through camp that a woman had been discovered in one of the companies. There was excitement at once, but when a frolicsome young fellow in Company B was hurried up to headquarters under guard no one suspected that the person under arrest was a woman.

What became of her? She was taken in charge by the colonel's wife, and led as honest a life as any one, though possibly not a very comfortable one.

Before many weeks she was seeing hard service in a Union regiment, and was associated with three young fellows of slighter figure and fairer complexion than herself.

General John S. Mosby, the Confederate cavalryman, used to tell of a dome incident which happened in the Shenandoah Valley in 1861.

On a farm in the neighborhood of a cabin on a farm in the dark, and called for the person inside to come out.

A negro woman, known at that time as an intelligent contraband, opened the door and asked him what he wanted.

She replied, "Yes, Mosby is here." "What?" said he, in a whisper. "Is Mosby here?" "Yes," she said, "he is in the house."

After the colonel got inside he looked round. But the woman seemed to be all alone and utterly unconscious of having so important a person for a guest.

In a loud voice the colonel demanded, "Where is Mosby?" "Ere he is," answered the terrified negro, at the same time pointing to a cradle on the floor.

all work related to the young lady the gossip of the camp as to the doings of her several adherents.

"Then the laughs in the dark were not quite pleasant to the men who felt that they were being talked over, and attempts to interrupt the laughs led to a quarrel between our lieutenant and sergeant, in which the latter resented a light remark of the former by a blow.

While under guard the sergeant was taken seriously ill, and was sent to the hospital. While there he had no more devoted friend than the lieutenant, but when he recovered the girl whose laugh in the dark had caused the trouble was gone.

"On his return home at the close of the war the one-armed captain was lionized in his native village, and there were many gatherings in his honor. Going to one of these one evening, he and his sister stopped for the minister's daughter, who called to them not to come into the yard, as she would meet them at the gate.

The colonel looked into the cradle and saw a little African plectanlony sucking its paw.

Homemade Linoleum.

A good, strong linoleum may be made from old Brussels carpet. It has not been worn through, says Popular Mechanics.

Melt a tablespoonful of butter in a chafin dish. When well heated add a tablespoonful of Mexican pepper and a half-teaspoonful of mustard and a little salt.

For those who have no walls from a room, or to decorate the walls in a given place, beat the white and yolk of an egg separately.

A Tomato Sauce. For a tomato sauce such as the chef in one of the best hotels makes, mix two tablespoonfuls of butter in a saucepan and cook in it half an onion cut fine.

Quick Coffee Cake. Sift together one pint of flour, one-third of a cupful of sugar, three spoonfuls of baking powder and half a spoonful of each of salt and ground cinnamon.

Baked Turnips. Have a few pickled egg turnips if very salt let lie in cold water for one or two hours before cooking.

Yorkshire Pudding. Mix one cupful of flour with one-eighth of a tablespoonful of salt and add one cupful of milk gradually to form a smooth paste.

Flexible Glue. For attaching leather to metals may be made by adding one part of Venetian turpentine to four parts of glue.

Baked Cornish Hens. To each cup of finely baked and freshened codfish allow two cups of chopped cold potatoes.

Best Way to Melt Butter. Never melt butter on the stove. Heat your cake dish by filling with hot water, wipe dry, then put in butter; it will then melt.

Short Suggestions. A twin string is better to an ordinary heavy screw answers the same purpose as the lost corkscrew.

When arabic starch is obtained by pouring boiling water over the grain arabic, then diluting it to the right consistency, it is an excellent starch for pieces that are stretched to dry and must not be ironed.

Instead of trying to "cristin" sugar and butter for a cake with a tinesome spoon or knife blade, try using a wire potato masher. This chops the butter finely and blends the two with little trouble in a comparatively short time.
