ANOTHER CHAPTER ADDED

The Atkinson Graphic Gives the Following as the Inside History of the Mrs. Lundburg Affair Published Two Weeks Ago

The sensational article appearing in the Carroll Index and Norfolk News in which Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Shutts, well known and respected residents of this city, are charged with the crime of kidnapping Mrs. Eva Blanche Lundburg, nee Eva Blanche Shutts, thirty-three years ago, from her mother Mrs. Sarah Bennett of Malone, Franklin county, New York, and kept her from her lawful heritage of a good home and the kind influence of a cultured, loving mother all these years, are not borne out by the facts, reluctantly given, to a representative of the Graphic after Mr. and Mrs. Shutts had read the accusations against them.

In 1875 Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Shutts residing at Malone, Franklin county, N. Y., when some charitable inclined ladies persuaded her to accept the care and responsibility of rearing a little two weeks old girl, a waif of the county, abandoned by its mother, Sarah Bennett, and raise it to womanhood, having no children of their own they accepted of the charge, bringing her to their home on the first of July, 1875. They continued to live there for two and one half years from that date when they moved to Lyons, Iowa, where after a residence of nearly eight years they came to Atkinson and made this their home, keeping up a correspondence by mail with former friends and relatives at Malone. When they arrived here Blanche was given their name and treated as a daughter as can be attested to by all of their neighbors. She was given all the advantage that our schools permit, graduating from our high school with honors.

In 1903 she became engaged to Elmer Lundburg, the editor of the Carroll Index, and was given in marriage to him by them at their home after Mr. Lundburg had been informed of the existing relations between them. That Blanche appreciated their loving care and kindness is shown by the appended letter written by Mr. Lundburg in answer to one written by them to him disclosing her parentage. The following adoption papers bear out the truth of their statement and sympathy for this aged, kind hearted, couple whose act of charity brings grief and sorrow to them in their declining years, is freely expressed by their friends and neighbors who have known them for the past twenty years and it is hoped that the press who have given prominence to the false accusation against this worthy couple will make amends by making known to their readers the facts in the case as they appear to be.

March 15, 1903.
 My Dear Mrs. Shutts:
 Your unexpected letter was received last evening. Its contents were truly a revelation. The truth seemed so strange and startling at first and I cannot perhaps realize your sadness at heart in revealing it, yet I can see nothing to alter my plans. Did I know all the story my impulses and sober thoughts would be no different. Blanche is the same dear girl as before; her identity could in no way be changed to me. The little orphan babe was one of God's innocent children and He gave it into a true mother's keeping that it should be loved and cared for to grow to a noble womanhood.

Blanche so often has spoken of mother, and always with reverence and a grateful heart for her home training and teachings. Deeper, indeed, must be her love for you, now that she knows the truth of her life and yours.

Speak to her for me and say; that our days are filled with God's blessings after all and that we ought always to be happy.
 Guarding your secret most carefully and remembering you with the deepest and kindest regards.
 Very sincerely,
 Elmer Lundburg.

WHEREAS Eva Blanche Bennett has become chargeable to the County of Franklin, the State of New York; now, therefore, this indenture, made the 1st day of July in the year eighteen hundred and seventy-five, between H. Powell Wilson, Superintendent of the Poor, of the said county, party of the first part, and Sarah E. Shutts of the town of Malone, in the County of Franklin of the second part, witnesseth that the said party of the first part, in pursuance of the provisions of the statute in relation to children supporting by the public of the covenants here in after contained does hereby bind the said Eva Blanche Bennett to the said Sarah E. Shutts to serve as an apprentice in the employment of Sarah E. Shutts until the 19th day of April, in the year eighteen hundred and ninety-six when the said apprentice shall have arrived at the age of twenty-one years. And the said party of the second part, in consideration of the above binding and of the services of the said apprentice and of one dollar by her paid hereby for herself, her heir, executors and administrators, covenants to and with the said party of the first part, and her successor in office, that she will cause the said apprentice to be well instructed in the business of seamstress and she will board and clothe, and support in sickness, the said apprentice as a member of her own family during the term of service herein specified, and that the said apprentice shall be in no manner chargeable to the said county or town during said term. And the said party of the second part further covenants and agrees she will cause said apprentice to be instructed to read and write and for that purpose will send said apprentice to a common, district or other public school, at least three months in each year for five years after she shall be old enough to attend school and at the expiration of said term of service will furnish said apprentice with clothing, suitable for holidays for a person in her condition of life, and also, with suitable changes of every day and under clothes. And she further agrees that she will give to such apprentice at the expiration of the said term of service a new Bible.

Signed and sealed by said H. P. Wilson, Superintendent of the Poor, And by said Sarah E. Shutts.

Centenary Methodist Episcopal parsonage, Malone, New York, November 16, 1908.

Mrs. Sarah E. Shutts.
 Dear Madam.
 Yours of the 13th received. The following is the record of the baptism of Eva Blanche Shutts. She was baptised June 10, 1877. Infant. Sprinkled by Albert Smalley.
 Very truly yours,
 M. D. Still, Pastor.

SHORT WEIGHTS

Local Dealers Better Look Into This Matter

A campaign against the sale of short weight sacks of all kinds of cereal mill products has been begun in Nebraska by the pure food commission. This matter has been under investigation for a considerable time. The short weight runs as high as 7 per cent in many cases and frequently cases have been noted in which the short weight in a car load of flour would amount to $25 a car. When confronted with this short weight in mill stuffs the retailers are inclined to excuse themselves from prosecution on the theory that they had not weighed the packages; had simply handed them out to their customers without regard to whether or not they were full weight, or that it was the business of the manufacturer to look out for the correct weight and proper branding of the packages. The food commissioner takes the ground that the local dealer participates in the profit that is in this short weight, for the price made by the manufacturer to the local dealer takes this short weight into consideration. The commissioner further holds that it is the business of the local dealer to know when he hands the food packages out to his customers for good money whether the packages are honest or not as to the amount that they contain.

A Christmas Blotter.

"With two large sheets of blotting paper of contrasting colors and an ordinary little calendar pad may be made an extremely useful gift," says Woman's Home Companion for December. "Out of the large blotter cut twelve small ones of uniform size, about ten by four inches. Paste a 'month' from the calendar, one on each small blotter, and with the colors alternating. Keep the twelve together by tying ribbon around them, with a pretty bow on top. Each month a fresh blotter may be slipped from under the ribbon and the month's calendar is right at hand. Red and green blotters tied with red ribbon are a Christmas combination."

Chanticleer Egg Cozy.

"New York girls are making for Christmas presents this year fascinating little rooster heads in flannel of two colors," reports the Woman's Home Companion for December. "Each head is cut double and wadded on the inside with cotton batting. The roosters are invariably white, with a comb and wattles of scarlet. When completed, Sir Chanticleer makes a novel egg cozy to slip over the breakfast egg in the egg cup when cereal or some other breakfast preliminary is to be eaten first."

Tested Free.

The state agricultural experiment station at Lincoln says: We are now in a position to test herds of cattle free of charge. We have been fortunate enough to secure some assistance from the Government, the Bureau of Animal Industry having stationed two veterinarians with the Department of Animal Pathology to co-operate with us in this work. Therefore any dairyman or farmer wishing to have his dairy or breeding stock tested should send in his name and address to the Department of Animal Pathology, Nebraska Agricultural Station, Lincoln, Nebraska, and state how many head he wants tested.

Land Accounts Adjusted.

The reclamation fund account from the state of Nebraska has been adjusted. During the fiscal year 1908 there were received from fees and commissions $65,146.28, of which amount $22,756.93 was earned by various registers and receivers, leaving a balance of such moneys of $42,389.35. The surplus arising from the net proceeds of the sales of public lands and fees and commissions aggregate $109,264.82, which amount will be credited to said fund. The account with the state of Nebraska for the same period has been adjusted. The gross proceeds from sales of public lands in Nebraska were $68,973.62, from which amount is deducted the pro rata share of expense chargeable to the state of $8,985.55, leaving $59,988.07 as the net proceeds, of which amount the state is entitled to 5 per cent, or $2,999.40. There were received from the sale of Indian lands in Nebraska during the said period $4,545.60 and from fees and commissions the sum of $64,956.38.

Looks Like Waste.

On first thought it seems like a great waste for a farmer to turn a drove of fattening cattle into a field of corn that will run from 50 to 70 bushels per acre and let them have their sweet will with it day after day rather than pay four cents per bushel for corn huskers to gather it. Those who have been doing that kind of work, however, are those who have plenty of hogs to follow the cattle and this way there is not much, if any, waste and the swine are fattened at the same time as the cattle and there is no trouble of feeding or any work of that kind. Those who have adopted this method argue that it is cheaper for them to do this way than it would be for them to pay huskers and then have to haul the corn out into the feed lot after it was gathered. Some of the farmers who have not got hogs enough to follow their fattening cattle are offering 25 cents per 100 more than the market price for shoats so that they may even things up.

Do Not Be Scared Out

We heard several men in the depot Monday discussing the Tripp county land. These men, or at least two of them, have been up over the land since the drawing, and they said that there were about 1800 claims in the whole opening that were good, and that any one who had drawn a number below that should by all means hang on to their chance for a claim. They said that there were some sharks or flim flamers, as they called them, who are making it a point to discourage people who go there to look at the land by telling them that there is no water and no depth of soil, and to prove the statement they take the prospector to different parts of the reservation with which they are acquainted and bore and dig down a few inches or feet and find either a hard pan or rock, with the result that very often the man becomes discouraged and offers to relinquish his chances for a little money. If he has a low number the sharks take him up and then dispose of it to some man who had drawn a higher number at a good advance over what they paid. There is good land there and if you have a low number hang onto it.

SENSATION AT TRIAL

LETTER WRITER INSISTS MRS. GUINNESS IS ALIVE.

Communication Received by Defense's Attorney, and All Day Efforts Were Made to Communicate with the Anonymous Writer of the Note.

Laporte, Ind., Attorney Worden, who is defending Ray Lamphere, now on trial for the murder of Mrs. Belle Guinness and her children, made public Sunday night a letter received by special counsel by the law partner, Edward Darrow. The writer, whose full name and address is withheld by Mr. Worden, says he knows that Mrs. Guinness is alive, and declares that he was the man who accompanied her to the Guinness farm on July 9, the date on which D. M. Hudson and his daughters say they saw Mrs. Guinness and a man driving away in a Buick. The letter follows: "Chicago, Nov. 27, 1908.—Lamuel Darrow, Mayor, Laporte, Ind.—Dear Sir: I hope you will see that this letter gets into the right hands, so that it will help the poor innocent man, Lamphere, that they have on trial for burning Mrs. Guinness' house and herself and children.

BELL COMPANY IS EXONERATED.

Judge Taylor Grants Plea of Innocent Lives. Cleveland, O., United States Judge Taylor granted an injunction against the American Telephone and Telegraph company (Bell company) operating in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, restraining them from interfering with the business of the independent companies operating in those and adjoining states. The injunction was granted at Cleveland upon the application of Clarence Brown, general counsel, and James S. Bralley, Jr., president of the United States Telephone company, the independent long distance telephone company operating in Ohio and adjoining states, in a suit brought by the Bell company.

FISHING STEAMER RAMMED.

Admiral Dewey Runs Down the Mt. Desert Fruit Boat. Washington, D. C., The fishing steamer Mt. Desert, with 400 passengers on board, while bound down the bay in a dense fog Sunday, was run into by the fruit steamer Admiral Dewey, inward bound. The Dewey's bow struck the Mt. Desert's paddle box and tore a hole in her side to the water's edge. The Dewey was kept afloat by a hole in the Mt. Desert's passenger cabin on board the fruit boat. Both steamships to the east beat near Coney island, where the Dewey grounded and remained fast. The tug Mutual and Tarrus are believed also to have taken off some of the Mt. Desert's passengers. A number of amateur fishermen had a day's sport on the Mt. Desert were injured.

OPIMUM SMUGGLED TO MANILLA.

Large Quantities of Drug Shipped in Barrels of Cement. Manila, Evidence of an extensive plot to smuggle opium from China have been discovered. A fortnight ago workmen employed at the military buildings at Camp Sotomayor discovered a quantity of opium concealed in cement which had been shipped from Hong Kong. Workmen engaged on the Manila forts opened a supposed barrel of cement and found it to be half filled with opium. The opium has been turned over to the customs officials and the government is now investigating.

WANTS HEARST CASE RECONSIDERED.

Chicago, Ill., Gov. Haskel has asked the federal court to reconsider the $500,000 suit for libel against W. R. Hearst to the state court, for trial. The cause is now in the federal court as the result of motion made by counsel for the defense in the state tribunal, where the suit was instituted in the first place.

FARMER HELD FOR ATTACK.

Dign, Ill., Archie Moore, a farmer, was held in $500 bonds for the crime of attacking Miss Virginia Martin, a school teacher.

Bloomington, Ill.: By a fall downstairs at her home Mrs. Thomas Williamson of this city fractured her skull, being soon.

ARE 'THAW'S RECONCILED?

Rumors Find Form in a Visit of Evelyn to Mattewan.

Fishkill, N. Y., A visit which Mrs. Evelyn Noble Thaw paid to her husband Saturday at the Mattewan state hospital for the criminal insane, gives rise to a belief, widely expressed here, that a reconciliation has been effected between the couple. Indications are not wanting either that Mrs. William Thaw, Harry's mother, is a party to the reconciliation. The visit of Mrs. Thaw, the younger, to her husband, have been rare, and it is months since she has seen him at all. Her last visit to him at the Mattewan state hospital was on Feb. 13 last. Her counsel, Daniel O'Reilly, accompanied her there. Only twice since has she visited Thaw, both occasions being confined in the county jail at Poughkeepsie.

ATTEMPTS TO BLOW UP SALOON.

Bombthrower Continues to Puzzle the Chicago Police.

Chicago: The mysterious bomb-thrower, who for two years has eluded and puzzled the Chicago police, Saturday night threw a bomb on the roof of a building occupied by John D. Gazzolo's saloon in West Madison street. Although no one was injured, part of the roof was torn out, windows were broken and the report was heard for blocks. People in adjoining buildings, including fifty women in a charitable institute, rushed frantically to the street. This is the twenty-sixth bomb which the culprit has hurled at alleged gambling resorts. As has been his custom, the thrower called up a newspaper office to make public the fact of the explosion. "Have you heard that Gazzolo's place has been blown up?" he said. "It is a wreck and I just saw ambulances going there."

FOURTEEN MEN SENT TO PRISON.

Accessories to Killing Alleged Claim Jumper Followed by Others.

Great Falls, Mont.: Fourteen men charged with murder in Valley county have pleaded guilty to manslaughter and were sentenced to terms in prison. The crime to which the men pleaded guilty was a raid on the cabin of John Hayes, a miner, which resulted in the death of Hayes and his daughter. Hayes, it was charged, had jumped a claim, and settlers warned Hayes to leave the country. When he did not go a force went to the cabin at midnight, shot through, and attempted to burn it.

HELD FOR TRAFFIC IN WOMEN.

General Shakeup in Immigration Offices at Seattle Expected.

Seattle, Wash.: With the arrest of Capt. R. G. Gawley, former master of sound steamships, and K. Katayama, a Japanese interpreter, charged with the importation of Japanese women into the United States, a general shakeup in the affairs of immigration officers is expected. A few months ago the department at Washington sent a woman agent to Seattle and, according to her statement, she completed negotiations for as many Japanese women as Gawley could get at $300 a head. A retainer of $200 was given him and a few days ago upon request or demand, he was given $25 more. Gawley then became suspicious and was arrested.

TOWN ALMOST WIPED OUT.

Fire Destroyed the Larger Portion of Illinois Town.

Marion, Ill.: The village of Crab Orchard, seven miles east of Marion, was almost destroyed by fire. The general store of C. A. Murphy with his residence and household goods, the postoffice, the store room of the Fowler drug store and a number of other buildings were reduced to ashes. Other buildings, including the Fowler drug store, were damaged. The fire is supposed to have been caused by the Murphy family were over the store room when the fire broke out, and fled below. They escaped by jumping from the second story window. The damage was $75,000.

FINDS $4000 IN AN OLD PUMP.

Well Driller Invests Ten Cents in Junk and Discovers Fortune.

Union, N. Y.: John Roberts of Watkins, Schuyler county, a well driller, purchased a junk dealer, a junk dealer, an old pump for ten cents. It was apparently of no value, but he thought there might be some parts that he could use in his business. When Mr. Roberts and his assistant took the pump to one of the wells they were drilling and started breaking it up, when they were surprised to find gold coins drop out of the holes they made. They at once finished the job and found $4,000, nearly all in $20 gold pieces.

RUNAWAY HORSE KILLS GIRL.

Miss Grace Brewis, of Sycamore, Ill., Meets Death in Runaway.

Aurora, Ill.: Miss Grace Brewis, of Sycamore, Ill., who has been visiting in Aurora for several weeks, was run down and killed by a runaway horse while crossing in front of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy passenger station. When Mr. Robert and his assistant took the pump to one of the wells they were drilling and started breaking it up, when they were surprised to find gold coins drop out of the holes they made. They at once finished the job and found $4,000, nearly all in $20 gold pieces.

POCA MILLS START AGAIN.

Closed for Two Years for Lack of Power. The Iowa Milling company at Pocahontas, is once more ready for the production of flour. For two years the mill has been silent. The lower part of the town was flooded several times and the city called for the removal of the dam, which furnished splendid water power. The city paid the company $2,000. The company was reorganized last spring and George Mattison elected manager. Under his direction a great engine has been installed and started. The engine worked so well that it will be attached to the mill machinery. It is a tandem of sixty-horse power operated by a gas producer. Pocahontas bears the distinction of having the first of this class of engines in the state of Nebraska. The mill has a capacity of sixty barrels of flour per day, besides cornmeal and feed. The new engine has attracted the engineers and machinists from all over the place. It is hoped that it will supply the place of the lost water power.

Mr. and Mrs. McCabe were visiting her parents, and they were out hunting when the accident occurred. The couple were shot through the accidental discharge of a hammerless shotgun while hunting with her husband near Venus in the western part of the county. The shot entered the stomach, the terrible force of the bullets carrying a coat button, and a piece of corset steel into the body of the unfortunate woman.

RICE AND DAVIS ON STAND.

POCA MILLS START AGAIN.

Closed for Two Years for Lack of Power. The Iowa Milling company at Pocahontas, is once more ready for the production of flour. For two years the mill has been silent. The lower part of the town was flooded several times and the city called for the removal of the dam, which furnished splendid water power. The city paid the company $2,000. The company was reorganized last spring and George Mattison elected manager. Under his direction a great engine has been installed and started. The engine worked so well that it will be attached to the mill machinery. It is a tandem of sixty-horse power operated by a gas producer. Pocahontas bears the distinction of having the first of this class of engines in the state of Nebraska. The mill has a capacity of sixty barrels of flour per day, besides cornmeal and feed. The new engine has attracted the engineers and machinists from all over the place. It is hoped that it will supply the place of the lost water power.

MASONS ASSEMBLE AT HASTINGS.

Scottish Rite Bodies Institute Lodge Knights of Redoubt. With a grand Masonic reunion which began Wednesday morning, Hastings, is elevated to a position of commanding importance in the Scottish Rite of Freemasonry, situated in authority and jurisdiction all over Nebraska except Lincoln and Omaha. The specific event which will mark the beginning of the new era of local Freemasonry will be the coronation of the new grand master, No. 2, Knights of Redoubt. Heretofore Masons of the Scottish Rite have gone to Lincoln or Omaha to receive the degrees above the eighteenth. With the new council of Knights of Redoubt all degrees up to and including the thirtieth may be conferred at Hastings, and with the establishment of a consistory, which may come in the near future, the thirtieth and thirty-second may also be given there.

New Restaurant.

R. Penney, who comes here from Omaha, where he has been working in a restaurant for some time and knows the business thoroughly, has leased the building second door north of the Wayne Incubator factory and will open up a first class restaurant therein. The room is being put in fine shape for him and he has high grade fixtures and expects to give the public the best there is going in short order meals, lunches, etc.

Fined For Assault.

About two months ago, Edward Perry of Wayne and A. B. Clark of Dixon county, got into an altercation in that county over a line fence and came to blows. Afterwards the deputy sheriff of that county came to Wayne and arrested Perry on the charge of assault and battery, and the matter came to trial at Ponca last week. It was a jury trial and the jury, after being out a few minutes, brought in verdict of guilty and the Judge fined Mr Perry $30 and costs the costs amounting to $44. A. B. Clark was the prosecuting witness and was taken into the court room in a wheel chair, not having yet fully recovered from the injuries received at the time the difficulty between the two men occurred.

Hotel Changes Hands

A deal was consummated this week whereby Hoar & Girton disposed of their interest in Hotel Boyd to John Meister. The two first named gentlemen have always given Wayne a first-class hotel and the public has been well treated in every respect and old patrons will regret to see the change. Mr. Hoar will go to California for the winter at least and we have not learned what Mr. Girton's plans are. Mr. Meister has had experience in running a hotel and will therefore be no novice at the job and will, no doubt, keep the Boyd up to its present excellent standard. It is not known just when the change will take place in the management, but the deal has been made.

Met With an Accident

Mrs. Gus. Wendt and Mrs. R. M. Patton had an exciting experience Sunday. They had been visiting at the home of Mrs. Tangeman, and, while driving over a bridge across Logan creek, the team became frightened at a pile of lumber on the bridge and refused to go forward. They began to back up and in spite of all the driver could do continued to back up until the wheels of the buggy were fired off the bridge and Mrs. Patton was thrown into the creek. Then they took a notion to run and they did until the buggy was pretty well smashed to pieces. The marvelous thing about it is that both ladies escaped without serious injury, although badly shaken up, bruised and frightened. A horse or team that shies at things in the road are the worst possible kind for a woman to drive, or any one else for that matter.

Taxes Being Paid.

Taxes are beginning to be paid into the county treasury to a limited extent. About next week the volume of money passing over that counter will be materially increased.

Passed Through.

Col. G. A. Gearhart of Buffalo, N. Y., who lectured in our Chautauqua two years ago, passed through Wayne Tuesday morning enroute to Randolph where he lectured that evening. He left with us a little folder on "Boosting" which we may give our readers in the near future. It may not apply largely to Wayne, but it surely will to some towns in every state. Col. Gearhart fills a season of seven months consecutive lecture work and more than two months in Chautauqua. He is a Veteran of the Civil war, serving three years with Sheridans Cavalry Army of the Potomac.

Not as as they were.

Truly things are not as they used to be in the early days in this section. Then with half the bumper crop of corn that there is this year the railroad company would not have had room enough on their right of way to hold all the cribs. Now it does not make a particle of difference, as the farmers have found two reasons for not hauling their corn to market in the ear. One is that the cobs make excellent fuel, and it is much better to burn them at home than it is to haul them to town and then haul out high priced fuel in their stead, and the second reason is that it used to take so long to market their corn in the ear. Now when they get ready to shell the neighbors all turn in and help each other and have a regular hauling bee, and it does not take long to market 1,000 or 1,500 bushels of shelled corn.

A Piano at a Nominal Price.

Chicago's largest music house, Lyon & Healy, announces a Rebuilding Clearing Sale of Pianos. Nearly one thousand splendid instruments are offered without reserve until all are sold. In this stock are fine new Mehlin, Hardman, Ivers & Pond, Smith & Nixon and other noted pianos formerly owned by the Thompson Music Co., the Healy Music Co., and the big F. G. Thearle Piano Co. All these concerns were bought out for spot cash by Lyon & Healy and the public may now share the advantage. In this sale are also a number of Steinway and Weber pianos. In upright pianos neat instruments at $100, $120, $140, $150, $165, $190, $200, and upwards. This is an unprecedented opportunity that will not occur again. Any piano not proving entirely satisfactory may be returned at their expense. Address Lyon & Healy, 10 Adams street, Chicago. Distance is no obstacle, for in proportion to the saving to be made the freight charges are insignificant. Any banker will assure you of the entire responsibility of Lyon & Healy, and their record of 45 years for honorable dealing. Write today so as to avoid disappointment.

The Hot Sands.

Governor-elect Shallenberger of this state, does not seem to be as good at riding a camel across the desert sands as a Shriner initiation as he did in running for governor on the democratic ticket. At an initiatory ceremony at Lincoln last week he got thrown off the camel and the bones on one of his feet fractured.

Not Higher

The Winside Tribune two weeks ago tried to make its readers believe that taxes were higher this year on farm property than last year. In a few instances, where the school district taxes have shown a decided increase this may be true, but in the general run of cases it is not a fact. Below are given a few instances of the illustration of our statement, and these farms are all near Winside:

Nw 1/4 20-26-2	$48.50	$47.04
All of 16-26-2	194.02	171.34
Sw 1/4 25-26-2	58.99	51.45
Se 1/4 29-26-2	58.00	50.89

Dried Eggs.

The committee on tariff revision, which is now in session, is ascertaining a whole lot of things in relation to the working of the tariff and its connection with the every day affairs of this country. Last Thursday H. G. Heath of New York asked for a specific duty on dried eggs, a powder which he said was prepared from fresh and stale eggs. He showed the committee samples and said custards and other foods in which froth eggs are used are also made of dried eggs. "Do you mean that I can get a dish of scrambled eggs made of this stuff?" asked the chairman. "Is that what is served in hotels and restaurants?" inquired Mr. Bell. "Yes," replied the witness.

Gets Set Back.

Champ Clark, the greatest free trader of them all, who is a member of the tariff revision committee now looking into the present schedule and seeking light toward a revision if necessary, gets a set back once in a while. Thursday the citrus growers of Florida and California were before the committee and Clark asked one of them, "When are you fellows going to stand on your feet and have your trade self-supporting without the perpetual protection of the tariff?" "When the democratic party gets into power and labor is reduced to twenty-five cents per day," was the sharp rejoinder. "Lowering of tariff duties to any great extent means cheaper labor for the two go hand in hand. With a low tariff labor must of necessity be more cheaply paid and that means a lessening of the price of all commodities as well as that of labor for it is impossible for the great army of wage earners to pay the prices prevailing today on a salary reduced to any extent, and that is the one thing labor has been and is fighting against; the reduction of wages. One thing is certain, you can not have your cake and eat it too.

Treasury Department, Office of the Comptroller of the Currency.

Washington, D. C., September 29, 1908.

WHEREAS, by satisfactory evidence presented to the undersigned, it has been made to appear that the "CITIZENS NATIONAL BANK OF WAYNE, in the city of Wayne, in the County of Wayne, and State of Nebraska, has complied with all the provisions of the Statutes of the United States, required to be complied with before an association shall be authorized to commence the business of Banking. Now therefore, I, Thomas P. Kane, Deputy and Acting Comptroller of the Currency, do hereby certify that the Citizens National Bank of Wayne, in the city of Wayne, in the County of Wayne, and State of Nebraska, is authorized to commence the business of Banking as provided in Section Fifty-one hundred and sixty-nine of the Revised Statutes of the United States. In testimony whereof witness my hand and Seal of office this Twentieth day of September, 1908. T. P. KANE, Deputy and Acting Comptroller of the Currency.

The Wrong Horse.

Bridget had been in America only a few months, but she believed in the principle of pretending to know what she ought to know. She had been engaged as laundry girl in a small family of well to do people. When asked if she understood all the details of her work she unhesitatingly replied, "Sure I do, ma'am." Her mistress was not quite satisfied, however, and while she was busy with her first washing looked in upon her. Bridget seemed to be doing all right, and she left without offering suggestions. Next morning the ironing was in order, and Bridget was hard at it when her mistress looked in to say, "As you get the clothes ironed, just throw them over the horse."

"All right, ma'am," the busy laundry girl replied without stopping to raise her eyes from her work in hand.

The laundry room was located in an outhouse adjoining the barn, and occasionally the neighing of the family horse and the merry voice of Bridget resounded throughout the house.

Returning to the laundry house a couple of hours later, the lady could scarcely believe her eyes nor restrain her mirth when she beheld the family horse, standing patiently beside Bridget, loaded down with newly ironed sheets, pillowcases, tablecloths and lace trimmed waists and skirts. With an anxious look on her honest face Bridget observed, "I'm glad you've come, ma'am, for I'll have to have another horse."

Working Too Hard.

The owner of the farm had been enjoying himself at the county fair, while his hardworking wife stayed at home to see that the farm suffered no loss in his absence.

"Well, Sarah," said the owner upon his return, "I'm about all tired out. Is the cows in the barn?" "Yes; long since," replied his wife, barely looking up from the task then in hand.

"Is the horses unharnessed and fed?"

"Clickens locked up?"

"Wood chopped for mornin'?"

"Yes."

"Wagon heel mended and ready to start in the mornin'?"

"Yes."

"Well, then," concluded the exhausted owner, with a sigh of relief, "let me have my supper. I'm goin' to turn in. Fardin's beginnin' to tell on me."—New York Herald.

The Popular Coral.

The dealer held up two strings of coral. They were of equal size, but one was dark and dull in hue, the other beautifully pink and translucent.

"The dark one," he said, "is worth 50 cents; the pink one is worth $500. That is what makes coral so popular. It suits all pocketbooks. All over the world it goes. These strings of rough, uncut beads are for the dead of India. They are put round the necks of the bodies about to be burned in the ghats. These large and blood red beads go to Africa. They are much liked by the natives, whose dark skins they perfectly suit. Here are a lot of coral hands with fingers extended in a V—the gesture that wards off the evil eye. The coral bands are for Italy, where the belief in their efficacy is widespread."—Buffalo Express.

He Would Return.

Marlow was three years old. One day his mother said to him, "Now, Marlow, you may go outdoors to play for a while, but if I see you crossing the street to play with that naughty little boy Willie Burr again I'll give you a hard, hard spanking."

Half an hour later the mother looked out after her boy and saw him playing with Willie Burr. She raised the window and called with forced gentleness: "Marlow, come here to me!"

Marlow came, but as he did so he turned to his companion and said: "You stay right here, Willie. I'm doin' to get spanked. I'll be right back."—Dellmeator.

Catching Rats.

The best way to catch rats is to put any animal substance, well perfumed with oil of rhodium, into a trap. This induces them to enter readily and even draws them from a considerable distance, as they are extremely partial to this oil. An ounce of oil of rhodium will cost you 50 cents. Catnip to a rat is nothing like rhodium to a rat. Oil of rhodium is made from a species of blueweed and is used in perfumery.—New York Press.

The Wrong Shoulder.

In a timber yard two workmen were carrying a large piece of wood when the manager, who happened to come up at the time, accosted one of them: "Joe," said he, "you've got that batten upon the wrong shoulder." "I know that," was the ready reply. "It should be upon yours!"—London Scraps.

Extending Zone.

"Teacher says," exclaimed the precocious child, "that we live in the temperate zone." "Yes," answered Colonel Stillwell. "And if these Prohibitionists keep going it'll be worse than that."—Washington Star.

Worrying.

Worrying is one of the greatest drawbacks to happiness. Most of it can be avoided if we only determine not to let trifles annoy us, for the largest amount of worrying is caused by the smallest trifles.

Let him who has bestowed a benefit be silent. Let him who received it talk of it.—Seneca.

According to a prominent democrat, who will have some influence with the coming legislature, the statute which prohibits the sale of any fish or game caught or killed in Nebraska will be repealed, says the Lincoln correspondent of the Omaha Bee. The last legislature made it unlawful to catch fish and sell them in Nebraska or to sell or offer for sale ducks, prairie chickens or other game of that character.

CARROLL CORRESPONDENCE

(A Regular Epistle)

Miss Maggie E. Davis spent last Sunday with her sister in Wayne.

Miss Hattie Batty is making an extended visit with her father at Carroll.

Will James and family spent last Sunday with the Carter family at Winside.

Len. Richards and family arrived home last Friday night, after a visit of about six months across the ocean in Wales.

Thanksgiving services were held at M. E. church on Wednesday evening. It was an interesting meeting and Bible study.

Charley Bailey came to Carroll about ten days ago and is making a short visit with friends and relatives. He expects to leave for Minnesota this week.

The young ladies of the M. E. church have organized a class with Miss Bryant as teacher. Five were present last Sunday and it is hoped that many more will be present next Sunday. All are invited.

Mrs. J. R. Morris, who met with a painful accident by coming in contact with a limb of a tree, thereby receiving a badly bruised eye and a gash across her forehead, is improving.

The ladies aid society met at the home of Alex. Laurie last Wednesday. It being a lovely day over thirty were present. Plenty of work was furnished and a bountiful supper served. In two weeks they will meet at the home of W. Black.

A pound social was held Wednesday evening at the M. E. parsonage. The pounds were gathered at the parsonage while the pastor was at the praise service, and then all went from the church and had a merry time.

A party was given at the home of J. A. Jones in honor of Ervil and Wayne Evans before they left for their new home at Traer, Iowa. A large crowd was present, consisting of their grades and teachers. They were each given a valuable gift in remembrance of their kind friends. Ervil a pair of cuff buttons and Wayne a stick pin.

T. E. Evans and family left the first of this week for his wife's former home, where they expect to reside in the future. Relatives and friends regretted to see them go. They have brought up a prosperous family of young men in our community, and they leave behind them many friends. The two elder sons will go to Colorado in the spring.

A Kearney county boy was recently ordered to the state industrial school on a charge of using profane language, and the supreme court upholds the verdict. The plea of attorneys for the defendant, that "swearing" is not an offense punishable in this way, was in vain. The court's ruling, in effect, was that a boy who uses the kind of language alleged in the complaint is in need of repression in a state institution.

Osmond Republican.
Miss Preston left this morning for a short visit with friends in Wayne.

How long must children attend school? Ans. Two thirds of the entire time in which school may be in session in the district in which such children reside, providing that no child attends less than 3 months in any district.

Ponca Journal.
Jas. Britton of Wayne was in town Tuesday holding referee's court in the Johnson bankruptcy case of Newcastle.

A. F. Rakow informs us that there will soon be a tenant in the Commercial hotel and it will be opened to traveling public.

E. H. Diernfield has decided to close on his stock of musical goods, merchandise and toys at a very low figure and in all probability will move away from Ponca.

Winside Tribune.
Frank Bronzyski received a very painful injury to his left eye Tuesday evening which may deprive him of his sight. He was repairing a barbed wire fence and one of the above struck him in the eye with the barbs result. He came to Winside yesterday morning and took the train for Omaha to consult a specialist.

Mrs. S. H. Row was called to Emerson again Saturday to see her sister Mrs. Peterson, who was injured in the railroad accident Friday evening at Thurston, as she was on her way to an Omaha hospital. Mrs. Row returned Monday evening and reports that her sister was badly injured and with her other ailments is in a critical condition.

Randolph Enterprise.
Phil Hill is having a clearing sale of winter goods.

D. Gandy was up from Wayne today looking after the repairs on his residence property.

S. C. Fox got his left foot badly mangled last Thursday while helping unload the new wagon for the Standard Oil Company.

Will Meyer came up from Wayne Wednesday for a visit at the Chas. Aswell home.

A new altar and pulpit and twenty eight feet long have been ordered from a Dubuque firm for the German Lutheran church.

W. H. Jones and family, from Marshal, Oklahoma, today took possession of the Randolph house, having leased the same from John Scharwarth.

The news reached the Hammonds here this week that Harry M. Hammond, former editor of the Reporter, had met with an accident which will undoubtedly mean the loss of his eyesight. It is stated that he was in the coal shed breaking coal with an ax, when a piece flew up, striking him just over the eye, and cutting through the lid into the ball of the eye. His many friends here regret very much to learn of his misfortune.

Carroll Index.
T. E. Evans and family are packing their belongings in preparation for their removal to their new home at Traer, Ia., the fore part of next week.

While catching chickens at her home Wednesday night Mrs. John R. Morris was struck in the left eye by a limb of a tree. The eye is very sore and is causing considerable pain.

The fourteen year old son of C. Meyer met with a painful accident Tuesday. While assisting in butchering a hog. The animal bit his right hand badly lacerating the first two fingers.

During the last ten days John Shannon has shipped in eight carloads of feeders, which he sold to the following parties: J. W. Mason & Son of Laurel, 23 head, Henry Peterson 52 head, Henry William 36 head, Ernest Busch 60 head and John Gettman 40 head.

The names of Chas. Jones and B. P. Peterson will be submitted to Supt. Littell as desirable appointees to take the places vacated by T. E. Evans and R. D. Merrill. Mr. Littell will certainly appoint the gentlemen mentioned as they are men well qualified and having children of school age they are directly interested.

Rev. Sutton, who is conducting a series of special meetings at the Baptist church, was sick several days the past week, and unable to be out. Rev. Smith, the pastor, had charge of the meetings, and Rev. Osborne of the Presbyterian church, preached Friday evening.

NORMAL COLLEGE

There will be no school on Thanksgiving Day but all classes will recite at the regular time on Friday following.

Prof. Fred File will give the one o'clock lecture Saturday. Professor Bright delivered a most interesting address on "The Dream of Two Lovers" last Saturday.

The results of the examinations held last week show splendid work on the part of most of the students. The graduating classes are large and the student body as a whole is stronger than usual.

The girls of the Young Woman's Christian Association are making arrangements to hold a bazaar in the Y. W. C. A. rooms on Saturday, December 5th. Each member has donated one or more articles which will be sold; also pennants will be on sale at that time.

The social Saturday evening in charge of the different graduating classes was among the most successful of the year. Each class did its "stunt" and the young men gave several musical selections.

Miss Julia Davis of Emerson, who completed the Teacher's Professional course last year, made a short call on the Hill between trains Saturday. She teaches near Emerson, boards at home and is finding things real pleasant.

The play "Diamonds and Hearts" which was given by the special elocution class Friday evening in the Chapel was well attended and a neat little sum raised for purchasing books for the elocution library.

Among new students to enroll this week for the winter are: George Rockwell of Hubbard; Floyd Most of Laurel; Eugene Anderson of Marianville. All these young men have been here before and have returned to complete a course.

A mission study class was organized last week, consisting of both young men and women. The work will probably not begin until after the holiday vacation, as it will require some time to get the books. The book to be studied first is "The Future Citizens of America."

Miss Margaret Jamieson of Norfolk spent Saturday and Sunday with college friends. We are sorry that on account of her mother's poor health, it is impossible for her to be in school this term, but we hope she may return in the spring and graduate with the class.

This week we enjoyed pleasant visits with Misses Nannie Cassell who teaches near McLean; Elva Elwood and Carrie Tourtelotte who teach near Creighton; Helen Hoffman, who has a large school near Pender; Lulu Ward who is teaching this year in Knox county.

Case Reversed

In the Supreme court proceedings of this state reported Friday we note the following:

Watt vs. Davidson. Appeal, Wayne. Reversed and remanded. Calkin, C., Department No. 2.

1. Where an agent authorized to accept the unconditional delivery of notes, receives the same upon conditions that he was not authorized to make, the principal does not ratify such conditions by accepting the notes without any knowledge of the fact that they were received by the agent upon condition.

2. A vendor who has made a written contract for the sale of chattels, the price of which is to be paid in notes, does not by sending blank notes to a bank for the purpose of securing the signatures of the purchasers to such notes in pursuance of such written contract, give the bank real or apparent authority to accept the notes in escrow, nor under any new or different conditions than those specified in the contract.

From Wayne County Teacher

We understand that four districts in this county have decided to purchase the Waterbury Heat-Ventilating plant. These plants are, if all their representative claims for them, certainly a boon to any school not heated by furnace. We understand that a plant will be installed in the school house of district No. 43, one and one-half miles southeast of Wayne, also in the school house of district No. 57.

The great question of sending boys and girls away to school when they are of the age they should be under the influence of the home has been solved by the parents living in consolidated district No. 76 of Wayne county. In that school three years of high school work is offered to the pupils who have finished the grades.

Has your school house floor been oiled this year? One seventh of all deaths are caused by consumption, the direct result of breathing into the lungs the germ laden dust particles. The expenditure of very little money for floor oil may go far toward arresting the inroads made on human life by this fatal disease.

Many of our teachers are obliged to spend at least half a day in securing their salary at the close of the month. It seems as though there ought to be some arrangement making it possible for a teacher to get her order without so much inconvenience. Many directors send the order to the teacher by the pupils on Thursday, so that she may send it to the moderator the same evening and have it returned the following morning.

The Y. M. C. A. organization as being worked out in this district, composed of Cedar, Dixon and Wayne counties, will in all probability prove to be as potent a factor in the building up of the moral, physical and intellectual forces in Nebraska as it has in other states. The plan of this organization is to reach out its benefits those who have hitherto been overlooked as well as to strengthen other fields. The district secretary, Mr. Hollaway, has received much encouragement over the district and it is to be hoped that he will find willing assistants in this county.

(One of the resolutions adopted by the 4000 teachers assembled at Lincoln at the late teachers' meeting was to the effect that a concerted effort be put forth over the state to better school conditions in the country in the manner, and to the extent, that the people of Sholes, Neb., have done by the consolidation of several districts. It is true that the property holders in that district are taxed to the limit this year but they will not only run their school in an up-to-date manner, but they will pay off over two thousand dollars of debt. If any person doubts the statement that the people are satisfied that they are getting value received, he should consult patrons of the school.

It is said that it is cheaper to commit murder than it is to steal, and the saying would seem to be borne out by the facts judged by two cases at Hammond, Indiana. A man who had killed one man, stabbed another in the abdomen and crushed the skull of a third, got only thirty days in jail, while a man who stole a pair of boots got eight years in the penitentiary.

Gompers was re-elected president of the American Federation of Labor with but one dissenting vote.

The Chinese Hoe.
The Chinese farmer stands second to none in all the world. This is all the more remarkable since he has really so few implements with which to work the marvels he produces. His only implements are the hoe, the plow and the harrow. Beyond these the Chinese farmer never dreams of desiring any other. The first of these tools seems never to be out of his hands, for it is the one upon which he relies the most and is his most effective implement. It really takes the place of the spade in England, though the latter is never put to such extensive and general uses as the hoe. The Chinaman can do anything with it but make it speak. A farmer well on in years can easily be recognized amidst a number of workmen by the curve his hands have taken from holding the hoe in the many years of toil in his fields. With it, if he is a poor man and has no oxen to plow the ground, he turns up the soil where he is going to plant his crops, and with it he deftly and with a turn of his wrist levels out the surface so that it is made ready for the seed. With a broad bladed hoe he digs to the bottom of a stream or of a pond, draws up the soft mud that has gathered there and, with a dexterous swing, flings the dripping loam on to his field nearby to increase its richness by this new deposit.—London King.

'Extract of Knowledge.
An article on "Examination Humor" in a periodical called Normal Echoes contains some good "howlers." They are none the less interesting for coming from students in training for teachers. A criticism of William Blake that "as a child he was precocious in poetry, but in later years it developed into dogmatism," is a lesson in the art of being inarticulate, while the remark that "the works of the time were mostly steepers" is quaint, though obvious. Of course there is nothing, indeed, so good as the description of Cromwell as "a man with coarse features and having a large red nose, with deep religious convictions beneath," or the case of the "lapsed man" who, having by way of exception attended church, admitted to the rector's wife that he had benefited, for he had learned that Sodom and Gomorrah were two cities, whereas he had always thought they were man and wife.—Manchester Guardian.

Fat and Disease.
If the Medical Record is right, man is pursuing in the matter of bodily weight what is bad for him, a common trick, and woman plies for a physical ideal that would mean long life if achieved, something rare indeed for women to do. Most men struggle to be fat. Most women diet to be lean. Dr. Brandreth Symonds draws from a study of life insurance weights that people past the age of thirty live longer if below normal weight than they do if at or above standard. Heart disease is as rare among the underfat as it is common with the heavy folk, and this is true also of Bright's disease, apoplexy, paralysis, cerebral congestions and aneurysm of the liver. Only in pneumonia and tuberculosis do the underweights carry a greater risk. In all the cases which he examined Dr. Symonds found not a single fat man who reached the age of eighty years, while forty-four short weights passed this mark.

The Best Pride.
A titled Englishman while in Newport talked most entertainingly to a group of ladies about ancestral pride. "Ancestral pride is an excellent thing," he said, "but there are better things. We have long felt in Great Britain that there are better things, I heard the sentiment rather neatly expressed last season by a duchess. Hers is a great family, but she was talking to a young marquis whose family is incomparably greater. He is a rather worthless, lazy, dissipated young marquis, and he boasted to the duchess about his people.

"I am very proud of my ancestry, you know," he ended.
"Yes," said the duchess, "and you have cause to be, but I wonder how your ancestry would feel about you?"

Half a League.
The class had just finished reciting "The Charge of the Light Brigade."
"Now," said the teacher, "can any one present tell me the meaning of those words, 'Half a league?'"
Up shot the hind of Thomas Jones, aged eleven, football captain and indomitable fullback.
"Please, sir, it means they couldn't get enough clubs to make up the full league."
Some one had blundered.—London Answers.

Not a Bargain.
"Do you think that Miss Kidder was having fun with me?" asked Chawtle.
"Well, old chap, give me the details," was Awthor's response.
"You see, I had my bull terrier with me, and I said to her, 'That dog knows as much as I do.' And she said, 'Don't you think $1.50 was too much to pay for him?'"—Cleveland Leader.

The Right Bone.
"Fred, dear, I feel it in my bones that you are going to take me to the theater tonight."
"Which bone, darling?"
"I'm not sure, but I think it's my wishbone!"—Kansas City Independent.

Apprehensive.
The Helices—I want to be loved for myself. Cost de Broke (apprehensively)—My dear lady, is there any possibility of this being a case of mistaken identity?—Illustrated Bits.

Suspicion always haunts the guilty mind.—Shakespeare.
A California man has secured a divorce from his wife because she would persist in bathing the children in gasoline.
While we were enjoying balmy, spring-like weather last week Arkansas and Florida were experiencing hard freezing weather, ice having formed an eighth of an inch thick several nights. All tender vegetation was killed.

MAGAZINE CLUB RATES

I wish to announce to the Magazine readers of Wayne, that I have made arrangements with one of the largest subscription agencies in the country for Magazine clubbing offers, and am now in position to duplicate any club offer you can get anywhere.

Will be pleased to have you come in with the list of Magazines you want to take the next year and see what prices I can quote you on the combination in club rates.

To early Christmas shoppers I want to say that our Xmas goods are nearly all in now and by Saturday will be displayed for your inspection. We advise early buying, as you then have the complete stock to select from. You can select your Xmas goods and make small payment on same and we will lay them away for you till the time you want to call for them.

Come in and look over what we have, and learn our prices.

J. E. HUFFORD.

Notice to Tax Payers.

All personal property taxes of the county is now due and will become delinquent December 1st. Unless paid by that date interest must be charged at the rate of 10 per cent.
Chas. S. Beebe, County Treasurer.

Crop Gathered.

This week will see the most of the 1908 corn crop in the crib. A great majority of the farmers are almost through and they are glad of it for the corn was not only down to quite an extent but considerable of it had already fallen off from the stalk so that if there had been deep snows the loss would have been considerable. Among all the other blessings of the year for which our farmer readers should give thanks today is that they have been favored with one of the finest falls for gathering in their corn crop ever known.

To Straigten Creek.

The government engineering corps which has been surveying Logan creek from Wakefield southward to Pender and beyond for the purpose of straightening the stream, will soon make its report to the interior department at Washington. The work of straightening the creek is expected to commence next spring. The object is to prevent overflows of farm lands during the spring months. If the stream has a straight course, instead of its present crooked one, a lot of fine bottom land can be saved from overflow.

In Old Kentucky.

This four act comedy drama will be presented at the Opera House, Wednesday evening, December 2nd, under the auspices of the Ben Hur Lodge, by an excellent Home Talent Cast. It is one of the best Comedy Dramas ever written and has a national reputation, having the record of the longest continuous run of any play ever produced in Kansas City, having 250 performances. The play is owned by Jacob Litt, proprietor of McVicker's Theatre, Chicago, and has been played at that theatre every Christmas week for the last 12 years. The royalty for producing this play is $20 for each performance. A powerful play, full of pathos, and bubbling over with bright, sparkling comedy, thrilling scenes, and startling climaxes. A thrilling Kentucky Thoroughbred Horse race with real horses. See the full page Sunday American write up of the play at Raymond's Drug Store. The rehearsals and directions of the play are in the hands of Frank Lambert, a well known, professional actor, of over 20 years experience, and promises to be a real treat. There will be new scenery painted especially for this play.

Ensley Moore, of Jacksonville, Ill., who had been here since Friday, returned home Tuesday afternoon. He has property interests near here but does not usually come but once a year, but our balmy climate has drawn him four times during 1908.

Will You be There.

Next Tuesday evening is the time and the M. E. church is the place, where the Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist Episcopal church are going to hold an entertainment. They do not know hardly what to call it but there will be a program and a jolly good time and no doubt something to eat. Anyway if you attend you are sure of having a very pleasant social evening with your friends and acquaintances. Such gatherings are oasis in the journey of life and you had better enjoy this one.

Educational Directory.

An educational directory has been issued from the office of the state superintendent. It shows that there are 6,783 school districts in the state and 6,874 schools. Teachers employed last year numbered 10,059 and they were paid in salaries $3,627,476, or an average of $48.59 each per month. The census shows that 372,464 children were eligible and 276,464 of this number were enrolled. The school property is valued at $12,765,384 and new books valued at $274,238 were purchased during the year, bringing the total expenditure on schools to $5,759,222. The cost of education was $20.88 per pupil.

High School Notes.

The 10th grade has finished studying Bryant's Forest Hymn.

Miss Wallace's room gave a Thanksgiving program Wednesday afternoon.

All the ward school room gave a program Wednesday to impress upon the scholars the necessity and importance of Thanksgiving.

All the scholars appeared bright and smiling Monday morning despite the gloomy weather. This shows that the young generation is optimistic.

The new plan of granting a quarter holiday to the grade that has the least tardy marks has proven to be an inductive golden apple, there being only four tardies the last two weeks.

Stamp pictures seem to be the medium of exchange in the high school at the present time. Each flatterer depicts to his companion some particular beauty of his pictorial likeness.

The warm rays of the bright sun last week seemed to increase the activity of the brick masons while it had an opposite effect on the brick and mortar carriers, for one might hear during the dwindling hours of the afternoon the cheery words of the masons, calling: "Come on with that material, more material."

It is of the Duroc Jersey breed and arrived Tuesday by express. That it is a good animal may be inferred by the fact that it cost them $100 in Des Moines, Iowa.
 John C. Davis, who lives on route four and about four miles from town, was a caller Saturday afternoon and renewed his allegiance to the Herald for another year. He said that he had a regular cyclone of a young fellow husking corn for him last week. On Monday he husked 123 bushels and averaged 110 bushels every day for the week. Mr. Davis will finish his corn husking this week.
 Mr. Morris, father of W. H., and Mrs. Orr, who has been making his home here with his children for some time, suffered a severe stroke of paralysis Monday afternoon and is in a very serious condition. His entire right side is affected, and, as he is over seventy years of age, grave fears are entertained as to the outcome. His daughter, Mrs. O. Strahn, of Malvern, Iowa, was called here, arriving Tuesday morning.
 The entertainment at the Presbyterian church Tuesday evening by the Fortnightly Club, for the benefit of the public library, was greeted with a fair audience and was pleasing program of readings and music, both vocal and instrumental. The principal event of the evening was the paper by Mrs. Wightman, who discussed learnedly, from scientific standpoint, the atmospheric conditions surrounding the planets, the development of life, and the canals and other evidences of life on the planet Mars. The receipts were about $15.

 The daily press has been bragging about President Roosevelt's twenty-six pound turkey for his Thanksgiving feast. He should have come to Nebraska where they grow large things. Hanssen Bros. had a turkey at their meat market that weighed thirty pounds, dressed.
 The Herald folks would like to have had a chance to take a part of this Thanksgiving day the same as other people, but our advertisers would not help us out a little by getting their ads in early, and as a result we will have to work all day the same as any other day of the year.
 The man who exhibits the best sixty ears of corn at the National Corn Exposition in Omaha December 9 to 19, gets the most valuable prize, a Port Huron Husker Shredder, worth $925. This is by $25 the most costly premium of all those that go to make up the premium list aggregating $54,000.
 As showing the importance attached to the National Corn Exposition which opens in Omaha December 9th, two of the largest grain commercial organizations in the United States have jointly arranged to charter a special train and go to that city on Grain Dealers Day, December 15. These organizations are the famous Chicago Board of Trade and the Illinois Grain Dealers Association.
 Don't nurse a grudge. Perhaps the one against whom it is lodged is no more at fault than you are. He may not think exactly as you think, and still be as sincere and as deserving. One suffers distinct loss in harboring ill will. Life is too short and opportunities for doing good too numerous to waste time and exhaust vitality in hating one another.
 City and county officials are forbidden to send out in the future any postal card notices of taxes due, which contain any suggestion of a penalty imposed for non-payment. Such is a ruling of the postoffice department on a specific case referred to it from Lincoln. The only way the notices can go through the mails hereafter is by enclosing them in envelopes or omitting the portion which refers to penalty.
 We have been telling our readers ever since we have been here that Wayne was a good town, and that its business men were enterprising and reliable. Also that they carried a line of goods that could not be excelled anywhere, and that they sold them at right prices. What better evidence could you want that our statements were true than the fact that the Johnson Furniture Company of this city, sold one of their handsome Hobart M. Cable Pianos Tuesday to a resident of Sioux City and have shipped the instrument there. This is one of the best instruments in the piano line made, and any city home will be enchanted with its tones and the richness of the music furnished.
 The X-Ray Incubator Company, of Wayne, put out between 2,000 3,000 machines last year and expect to double that amount this year. At least they are going to more than double their advertising contracts in the magazines and farm papers throughout the country. They are great believers in advertising and realize fully that the business they have been able to do and expect to do in the future comes to them largely through this means. They paid last year $64 for one insertion of a two inch ad in an eastern farm publication and received more enquiries and sales from it than any other advertising they done. The company is putting out a fine machine and have made one or two changes for the better in it this year. It is a good machine made by a good company, in a good town.

 Here is an interesting fact called to the attention of the reporter: A man husking eighty bushels of corn a day, averaging eight ears to the bushel, makes a total of nineteen or twenty thousand motions—counting three motions to the ear. How would you like to be a farmer these days?
 The contest for membership in the Epworth League closed last Saturday and was very successful in awakening interest in a good society.  Howard Antles, president of the district Epworth League was in Wayne over Sunday and addressed the local Epworth League and the audience at the M. E. church in the evening on "Business in Religion."  We note through the Western Publisher that the Wayne Democrat has installed a new type setting machine. Bro. Goldie has one of the best weekly newspapers in this part of the state and is always looking toward the betterment of his plant. Crofton Journal.
 Bro. Goldie tells us that the nearest he came to buy such a machine was several weeks before election when the traveling representative was here. At that time he told the traveling man that if Bryan was elected he would buy one.
 Dr. Eells informs us that while he was at Auburn, Nebraska, spending part of his recent vacation visit, he met a gentleman who has been running a canning factory at that place for a number of years, but who recently sold out and will seek a new location somewhere in this state. Mr. Eells tried to induce him to come to Wayne and he has promised to at least come up and look the field over. This is something it seems to us in which our commercial club could interest themselves to a good advantage. Such a factory has proven a paying investment in other places in our own state and elsewhere. They are a good thing not only for the town but also the farming community as they furnish a good market for a large acreage of sweet corn and other products and a remunerative price, and it would be a good plan to at least have an interview with the gentleman and see what could be done. There is nothing like making an effort. We have a good town here, one of the best in this part of the state, but it can be made much better and larger by a united and persistent effort by all working together for its advancement. Let us get a move on ourselves.

WAYNE COUNTY TAXES—A COMPARISON.

Something About The Taxes For The Years 1907 and 1908.

Taxes are something that the majority of our citizens cannot escape, it is therefore a subject of more than passing interest, and through the kindness of county treasurer Beebe we are enabled to give our readers the following facts concerning the taxes in Wayne county:

	1907	1908
Total assessed valuation of county	$3,998,705.00	$4,391,050.00
Decrease in valuation		363,345.00
Total State and county taxes	76,976.07	74,228.11
Decrease in State and county taxes		1,746.86
State levy	7 mills	6 1/2 mills
County levy	12 1/2 mills	11 mills
Decrease in State and county levy		2 mills
Decrease in State taxes		933.37
Decrease in county taxes		1,012.59
Total taxes of county for all purposes	152,703.97	155,538.06
Total increase of taxes for all purposes		2,984.09

As a general rule the taxes in the farming districts are lower this year than last, and where this is not true it is due to local conditions in the school districts or small towns. To illustrate this fact we give below a tabulated statement of a portion of the county:

J. O. Lyle, of Dixon county, has a field of corn that is yielding 72 bushels per acre.

Governor-elect Shallenberger would like to cut the legislative session to forty days but the constitution provides that the session shall be not less than sixty.

The democrats of the state spent $24,000 in the recent campaign, but there is no record as to how much the different counties received for their work, except in a few cases.

Chas. Warner of Allen has been showing an ear of corn over one foot in length, ten inches in circumference, having 25 well filled rows and 1500 kernels.

J. S. Humphreys, chief mail clerk, says that the two clerks injured in the Thurston wreck are in bad shape and that he does not think one of them will ever be able to get back on the road again.

W. S. Shoemaker, one of the democrats elected to the lower house of the state legislature, intends to introduce a bill at the coming session of the assembly providing for the codification of Nebraska's laws. Mr. Shoemaker says that the laws have never been codified in this state, as they have in many other states, and were they assembled and the obsolete provisions stricken out and only the laws force retained, he says that the work of the lawyer would be much easier and simpler. His idea is to have a commission of three or five men to do this work with good salaries.

President Roosevelt has let it be known that he will recommend to congress in his annual message the organization of all existing national health agencies into a single national public-health department.

Laurel, Nov. 24.—Walter Thomas, engineer at the mill, got his left hand caught in the machinery this morning and severely mangled. He will probably lose one or two fingers. He had just started the engine a few minutes before and was looking over it to see that everything was all right.

Applications are pouring into Governor-elect Shallenberger by the hundreds and each day brings more and more. From reliable sources it is learned that practically every democratic patriot is an office-seeker. The new governor said the other day he intended to make his appointments hot off the bat and not wait until he had taken his own seat, so those who are hoping for lightning to strike will have to get their names in early or be forever barred.

Blunders of the Types.

Ever since the introduction of typesetting errors, weird or comical, have emanated from printers' offices. The mistakes are not always to be shouldered on to the compositor, for bad handwriting must be taken into account. Here are a few instances of actual blunders collected by a proof-reader in the course of his daily work: "His blushing bride" was transformed into "his blustering bride."

A major was stated to have "served with destruction in the army." The writer thought he used the word "distinction."

"The Galley I Love" was the description of a picture entitled "The Galley Slave."

Speaking of theatrical folk, a critic wrote that "nearly all have husbands or wives." The paragraph printed read "hundreds of wives."

"They sailed for three days around the cape and finally slaughtered a small Italian" should have been "sighted a small island."

One more in conclusion. "He takes delight in talking on his family shame" was a shameful thing to say when "favorite theme" was meant.

A Three Legged Bison.

In 1867 Small Eyes, a Blackfoot who had come down from the north and joined the Arapahoes and lived with them, told Black Kettle, a Cheyenne in George Bonr's lodge, about having killed, between the Cimarron and Beaver creek, a tributary of the north fork of the Canadian, a buffalo bull which had only one hind leg. According to Small Eyes' story, it did not appear that the bull had lost one of its hind legs, but rather that it never had more than one. The hind leg was very large, seemed to be in the middle of the body instead of at one side, and there was no sign of any missing leg. It looked as if the two hind legs which the buffalo ordinarily has had in some way fused together.

The war party with which Small Eyes was traveling was passing along near a hollow when the bull came up out of it, and some of the men ran ahead, got around it and shot it with a gun. It was not able to run fast, but rather hobbled along.—Forest and Stream.

Saved by a Photograph.

A very remarkable incident occurred at Rio de Janeiro.

A passenger on board one of the large liners took a photograph of the harbor. It included a small yacht which had sailed in the morning with two men in her, but returned in the evening with one only. The survivor said his companion had fallen overboard, but his statement was not believed. He was tried and sentenced to death. The matter had by this time come to the ears of the photographer, who remembered that the picture had been taken on the day of the "crime" (or accident) and that the scene embraced a yacht. On examining the print more carefully he noticed a small speck on the sail and in order to determine what it was had an enlargement made. It proved to be the figure of a man falling. It was shown to the authorities at once, and the condemned man was released.

Dropical Oysters.

With a sneer the oyster opener pointed to a brownish smear upon a Saddle Rock shell.

"Some fool," said he, "has been trying to fatten up a batch of Saddle Rocks with cornmeal. You might as well try to invigorate flowers with corned beef hash. But it is a common error to believe that cornmeal or oatmeal will fatten oysters. I continually wash oysters with their shells stained with those grains. It makes me laugh. As a matter of fact, there is no such thing as fattening oysters. All you can do is swell them up with water, precisely the same as water swells a sponge. You put them in fresh water, which, being less dense than the soft tissue are accustomed to, by the principle of osmosis penetrates and distends their tissues—gives them, as you might say, dropsy." For my part, I don't like fattened oysters.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

For a Bride's Dowry.

There is a very pretty custom in some of the northern parts of Europe. There the white poplar in good soil increases a shilling in value every year. The trees are generally cut down at the age of twenty years, as they are then supposed to have attained their full growth. When a daughter is born in the family of a well-to-do farmer the father as soon as the season permits plants a thousand young trees, and these are to constitute the dowry of the maiden, "which grow as she grows, and increase in height and value as her virtues and beauty increase."

Out to Work.

"What society needs is a clearing house."

"What do you mean?"

"I wish I didn't have to go to the Van Squawks' ball next week. The Van Squawks wish they didn't have to ask me. Why can't we exchange certificates and call the thing even?"—Kansas City Journal.

Why He Barked.

A witness in an Irish court talked so loud that Charles Phillips, who was counsel on the other side, said, "Fellow, why do you bark so furiously?" "Because," said the man, looking hard at Phillips, "I think I see a thief!"

Retribution.

Tommy—Pop, what is retribution? Tommy's Pop—Retribution, my son, is something that we are sure will eventually overtake other people.—Philadelphia Record.

One of the novelties of the year will be the Christmas stamp, which is a happy idea borrowed from the Red Cross society of Denmark, and whose proceeds will be devoted to the anti-tuberculosis campaign in the United States.

Did the Best He Knew.

Geordie Horn was a character well known among the country folk of the Scotch highlands twenty-five years ago. He belonged to a class rather hard to classify, for he was neither a tramp nor a farm hand, although frequently following the habits of both. Wandering from farm to farm, the greater part of the time he was kindly treated and hospitably entertained generally. While he was a man of unusual strength, he was mentally weak and exceedingly lazy.

"He's a gie cute chiel, though slow in the uptake" (understanding), was the way a good many described him.

One day he arrived at his friend the doctor's and complained of a severe pain in his breast. The doctor handed him a plaster, with instructions to put it on his chest without delay. Geordie gave him one of his knowing looks and took his departure. The doctor met him a few days later and inquired how he was feeling now. Geordie replied, "Nae better." "Did you do as I told you with the plaster?" the doctor went on.

"Weel, no, not exactly. I done the best I could. I didn't have a chest, sne I stuck it on my handbox" (hat box).

An Expensive Dollar.

Not long ago in this town a kind friend of the family gave one of the kids a dollar. Of course it was too much to let the kid get out and spend for candy and gum, so it was religiously put up on the sideboard or some other safe place to be kept—just for what the deponent saith not. In about a week the juvenile owner of the big round coin remarked at the breakfast table, "Papa, mamma spent my dollar yesterday." The head of the house took the hint and fished up another dollar, which, like its predecessor, was placed in a good safe place to keep.

During the next month by a carefully tabulated record which he kept on his cuff he repaid this elusive dollar just thirteen times. So at the end of the month you will not be surprised to learn that our friend sent the donor of the original dollar this curt note:

Dear Sir—Inclosed you will find a check for $1. It's the dollar you gave our younger son. I return it simply to avoid bankruptcy. (Already it has cost me somewhere between fifteen and twenty.)

—Lamah (Mo.) Democrat.

Dollar Fish.

"Have you any dollar fish here?" a woman asked of one of the attendants at the aquarium.

While the question may seem curious, it was really very simple, for the dollar fish is only a young moonfish.

The moonfish is a curious but beautiful creature, almost round in shape and extremely thin and having the loveliest of pearly sides. It swims on edge, so that, it always presents its sides of pearl to view. It takes its name from its shape and because, further, in color it suggests the silvery moon.

Young moonfish of the size of a standard silver dollar—and they are scarcely any thicker—are called dollar fishes because of their resemblance to that coin in size and shape and color, and the woman making the inquiry about dollar fishes was duly informed that there was none in the tanks at the present time, but that they did have them occasionally.—New York Sun.

Three Sabbaths Each Week in Tangier.

Morocco is a country of many Sabbaths. The first three days I spent in Tangier were all Sabbaths. Arriving on a Thursday night, the next day was Friday, the Mohammedan Sabbath, which was followed by the Jewish Sabbath—the Hebrew element in Tangier is considerable and strict in religious observance—and that in turn by the Christian Sunday. Subsequent comparison, however, revealed little difference between any days of the week. On the Mohammedan Sabbath a black flag is hoisted on the minarets at the prayer of dawn, instead of the white flag that announces the time of devotions on other days. It remains up until the middle of the forenoon, by which time everybody is supposed to have found out what day it is.—New York Post.

The Word "Charlatan."

"Charlatan," says a writer in the London Chronicle, "is compauion to 'quack' in our vocabulary, and of this word the origin is certainly Italian. It is 'charlatano,' merely a chatterer, and describes the traveling doctor in his cart who used to offer in an overwhelming torrent of talk his pills to villagers in the market place. He was a dentist as well as a physician and wrenched out the tooth in public. The genus is not yet entirely extinct."

A Word Breaker.

"Fine looking old gentleman."

"Yes, but he was never known to give a man his word that he did not break it."

"Dishonest, eh?"

"None, he stutters."—Houston Post.

Dignity and Ignorance.

"So you have decided to call in another doctor?"

"I have," was the reply. "The absurdity of the man prescribing linseed tea and mustard plasters for people of our position!"

A Noble Parent.

In writing a sketch of Washington a pupil ended her essay by saying, "Washington married a famous belle, Martha Custis, and in due time became the Father of His Country."—Delineator.

Kind words are benedictions. They are not only instruments of power, but of benevolence and courtesy, blessings both to the speaker and hearer of them.—Frederick Saunders.

This woman says she was saved from an operation by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lena V. Henry, of Norristown, Pa., writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

'I suffered untold misery from female troubles. My doctor said an operation was the only chance I had, and I dreaded it almost as much as death.'

'One day I read how other women had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I decided to try it. Before I had taken the first bottle I was better, and now I am entirely cured.'

'Every woman suffering with any female trouble should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.'

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN. For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, indigestion, dizziness, nervous prostration, etc.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has granted thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.
