It would be far from the editor's surpose to tread upon the toes of occopie undergoing grief and sorrow the loss of loved ones, yet there about which we would ke to speak. It is a universal fact, people undergoing grief and sorrow at the loss of loved ones, yet there is one thing about which we would like to speak. It is a universal fact, that, during sickness and death, friends and neighbors are quick to respond to the need of help and sympathy. "A Touch of Sorrow Makes the Whole World Kin" has been well and truly said. IWe vie with one another in sharing the toil incident to sickness in a household, and, at death, we reach out with our puny sympathy in an endeavor to allay grief. Sympathy shows the kindly feeling but, in no way does it relieve the gnawings of anguish which lacerate the hearts of the bereaved. To the point, however. Reople of a death stricken household are always grateful for help and kindly condences given them, but they make a mistake when they attempt to repay the doch thy a "Card of Thanks," in the cold and unfeeling type of a pt it as "compensation" for t you did? Keep Working in Orchard.

Apples and some other fruits have been almost a total failure this year. Do not allow this to let you neglect the furn orchard. Set out and care for the fruit trees just the same. Our fruit crop has not been a large one, yet we worked with the orchard last year and this spring, and have been selling apples, peaches, grapes and pears all summer and fall at high prices, much to the surprise of our near melghbors, who are always discouraged when a fruit crop is light. We are going to work right along with our trees and try to make them been some good fruit each year. There is often as much in the faith and work of the grover as in the season.
