TEACHERS MEETING

Wayne to be Well Represented

It is estimated that fully 700 teachers will be in attendance at the North Nebraska Teachers meeting in Norfolk this week, which began its sessions yesterday. Wayne is to have an important representation on the entire program. The greater part of the music for the Thursday evening and Friday morning meetings is to be furnished by the Wayne Normal. On Friday morning there is to be a memorial service held in honor of the late J. M. Pile, president of the Nebraska Normal School and an editor of note throughout the state. This will consist of addresses by U. S. Conn, Columbus; H. E. Mason, Meadow Grove; C. H. Bright, Wayne; Hon. J. L. McBrien, Lincoln. On Friday evening Otto Voget, a Wayne boy, is on the program for a violin solo.

Our enthusiasm for the new Spring suits and overcoats which we're now offering, especially made for us and our trade by ly made for us and our trade by is based almost entirely on the results our customers get from them. It's worth a good deal to us to know that when we sell one of these suits or overcoats we're giving our customer big value for his money; and that he's going to get the value out of it.

All-wool counts in the wear; so does good tailoring; the correct style is a powerful factor in your satisfaction. We do ourselves good when we do you good; and these clothes do it.

BACK TO NATURE

The Seed Catalogue Now Occupies The Stage.

Back to the attic with the magazines, the novels and others of their ilk! They are only in the way and are being read but little, for the seed catalogue with its bright tints and its alluring offers is occupying the center of the family group.

It's far too early to start the garden, but the seed catalogue has arrived and has brought with it several million "garden" germs which are getting in their good work. The frost is still in the ground, but the garden fiend already is making plans, deciding whether to specialize in flowers or vegetables, purchasing seeds, scouring up the hoe and spade and all the time longing for some of the products of "our own garden."

And so while the sun is pulling the frost out of the ground and getting things in readiness the "garden" germ is at work making people think that there is nothing finer than a garden of their own, and because it is too early to actually plant seeds the garden enthusiast must spend the time planning or even starting seeds in boxes sprinkled conveniently about the house.

The main difficulty is that the garden fever does not keep up long enough to last through the summer and many of the garden plots laid out so evenly with a row of lettuce, a row of radishes and so on, grow up to cockle burrs and sunflowers before the crop is harvested.

"Won't it be fine when we can get out and dig in the ground, plant our seeds and watch things grow?" is the sort of remark that is current at this time of the year, but along the latter part of July, "I guess I'll sit in the shade and not weed the garden until tomorrow," is the characteristic expression of the garden enthusiast.

It's a mighty good thing that there are men who keep the weeds pulled all the year round and supply the fruits and vegetables for the family table, for store vegetables taste all right after the garden fever has spent itself. And right now the market is supplied with a vegetable assortment almost as complete as in "the good old summer time."

We often wonder how any person can be persuaded into taking anything but Foley's Honey and Tar for coughs, colds and lung trouble. Do not be fooled into accepting "own make" or other substitutes. The genuine contains no harmful drugs and is in a yellow package. Felber's Pharmacy.

Some One Should Act

Speaking of the small pox a farmer who resides southeast of town, who was in the office Friday afternoon, told us that a farmer residing in his vicinity, and his son, who are supposed to be quarantined for small pox, in fact the son being broken out with the disease, make trips to Wayne nearly every day. He said he knew this to be so as he knows the parties and saw them on our streets both Thursday and Friday. Such men should be made an example of as there is no earthly excuse for anyone to be so criminally careless regarding the rights of others. What is the use of a man being a law breaker and at the same time subjecting a whole lot of other people to the danger of contracting this loathsome and dangerous disease? If there is a board of health in the township where that family resides they are liable under the law for a failure to enforce strict quarantine.

Marriage Anniversaries

Most married people are satisfied with the celebration of their wedding anniversary at the twenty-fifth year and the fiftieth. Silver weddings are numerous; golden weddings are, in the nature of things, comparatively rare. A pearl wedding is even rarer, probably, as far as the celebration goes. It marks the thirtieth anniversary. In fifty years of wedded life a couple might, without creating a precedent enjoy thirteen of these celebrations. Cotton, paper, leather and wood cover the first four anniversaries. Then there is a jump to the seventh, which is woolen. The tenth is tin, the twelfth is "silk and fine linen," the fifteenth crystal, the twentieth china. After forty years of marriage a ruby wedding is legitimate, and seventy-five justify diamonds. After that it is a matter of individual taste.

SHOLES NEWS

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

Mr. C. A. Beaton went to Lincoln Monday.

Misses Burson and Pawelski went to Wayne Saturday.

C. O. Oline went to Wayne Saturday to help Supt. Littell.

Mr. and Mrs. John McDonald went to Wayne Saturday.

Mr. E. W. Closson shipped three cars of cattle to Chicago Saturday.

Misses Ida and Erma Closson of Randolph, were visiting with Mrs. Clark Saturday.

Mrs. English of Lincoln, gave an interesting talk to the pupils of the school Monday afternoon.

Mrs. J. L. Beaton of Wausa, was visiting with Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Beaton Friday, the latter and her children accompanied the former home and returned Monday.

Who Is Benefited?

It costs a man over 92 per cent more to feed himself and his family than it did nine years ago, according to figures compiled from Sioux City produce prices. In nine years the prices of produce have gone up from 20 to 150 per cent.

The tariff bill is before congress. Also, the great United States steel corporation and the railroads have announced that they will cut wages 25 per cent in the next two months. A cut in the wages of men in other lines of trade will follow.

A man's salary, according to these figures, is growing smaller every day, without any cuts. In the last nine years ham has increased in price nearly 100 per cent; beef over 100 per cent; poultry, 100 per cent; butter, 100 per cent; cheese, 125 per cent; bananas, 125 per cent; flour about 25 per cent, an average increase of 92 per cent.

Makes Them Money

A meeting of the farmers in the vicinity of Randolph was held in the butter and egg building in that town last Saturday afternoon for the purpose of organizing a creamery association similar to the one which has been so successfully operated here. Mr. Corbett, secretary of the home association expected to have been present but it was so he could not get away. But A. P. Gossard went up on the morning train taking copies of their by-laws and had several hours talk with some of those interested. He could not stay owing to there being no chance to get home in the evening. The Randolph Times says that L. P. Klopffing has been sending his cream to the Wayne company and receives 29 cents for his cream while at Randolph the price is about 25 or 26 cents. This difference will pay the farmers who sell where they can get the best prices. Wayne pays two cents under the Elgin market, but gives one cent to the man in charge of their plant as a fee for testing, weighing, caring for the cream, washing cans, etc.

According to the plan the farmers who join the association sign a guaranty bond of $20, binding themselves to sell the cream from their dairy to the association. This must be done to prevent outside cream concerns from attempting to get cream.

People past middle life generally have some kidney or bladder disorder that saps the vitality, which is naturally lower in old age. Foley's Kidney Remedy corrects urinary troubles, stimulates the kidneys, and restores strength and vigor. It cures uric acid troubles by strengthening the kidneys so they will strain out the uric acid that settles in the muscles and joints causing rheumatism. At Felber's Pharmacy.

C. H. LaCroix, Strahan & Kingsbury and Gildersleeve & Lund shipped stock to the South Omaha market Monday.

Did you see that fine red wheeled buggy that Fred Schmill received from the factory Monday? The family can now ride in style.

The Wayne Roller Mills will pay two cents per bushel above the market price for good, milling wheat.

The German Lutheran Church this week installed in their church a fine new organ, one of the best instruments the Estey Organ Co. makes. We understand that Hufford made the sale.

Summers and Beckheimer had a number of their cattle on display on the streets Saturday afternoon and attracted the attention of the large number of farmers in town that day. They certainly had some fine specimens of cattle among the lot.

Yesterday's Norfolk News contained nearly a column article relative to Mrs. Milligan and an episode at Sioux City. The family were at one time residents of Wayne where the husband was employed as a harness maker, but has deserted his family.

Henry Heckert, a brother, of Missouri Valley, Iowa, and Mrs. Miles, of Manchester, Iowa, a cousin, who had been guests at the Dr. Heckert home in our city, returned to the Hawkeye state Monday morning, having had a very enjoyable visit with their Nebraska relatives.

C. F. Whitney and his sister think they are victims of an unfortunate circumstance. When he went home to dinner Saturday he found himself quarantined out of his home, his mother having developed a slight case of small pox. His sister, who teaches a country school near Carroll, came home that morning and is quarantined in, so she cannot teach.

We do not know whether it is the result of imbibing some of the snake juice at Norfolk or is a genuine snake story. The News says that three dozen snakes were found in an old hot bed which was being dug up with the arrival of spring. The bed simply swarmed with big and little snakes, measuring from ten inches to two feet and a half. After the slaughter thirty-six garter snakes were counted.

Rev. C. E. Sharpe and son William took the afternoon train Monday for Excelsior Springs, Missouri, where Mr. Sharpe will take treatment for ten days before going to his new field of labor at Garden City, Kansas. Mrs. Sharpe will visit here for a few days and will then go to South Dakota to visit her daughter for a week before joining her husband at Garden City. The well wishes of a host of friends go with them to their new work.

Scripture Up to Date

And it came to pass that after he had advertised his goods, there came unto him a great multitude from all the regions round about and did buy of him. And when his competitors saw it they marvelled among themselves, saying: "How be it that this man is busy while we loaf idly about our doors?" And he spake unto them: "In this fast age of push and rustle it is easier for a camel to enter the eye of a needle than for a man to flourish without advertising."

Should be Encouraged

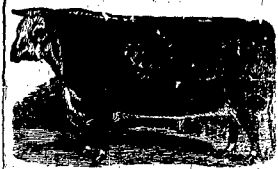

The High School program last Friday afternoon was a very interesting one, especially the debate. There is nothing that will really bring out what there is in a boy or young man as the debating contests. They throw a boy on his individuality, and if he has any of the spirit of conquest in his veins it makes him desire to win, as he pits himself against the fellow classmate. These kind of exercises should be more fully indulged in than they are. The question for debate was "Resolved That Foreign Immigration Should be Prohibited." The affirmative of the question, Harry Gildersleeve, Clement Crossland and Chester Foster, won over John Bressler, Harold Weber and Tracy Kohl. All did exceedingly well in this, their maiden effort in this direction, and are to be commended for having the spirit to try.

Growing Corn Growers

By training the child in the way he should go it is proposed to develop in Nebraska a race of men who will never depart from sound principles of corn growing. The state department of farmers' institutes and the department of education, acting together, have issued a leaflet covering the county corn growing contests which it is proposed to hold this year. Under the direction of a county manager, who is usually the county superintendent of schools, boys under twenty-one are encouraged to plant corn from seed furnished by himself or by the county manager, to keep a record of the kind and amount of seed planted, the kind of soil, manner of preparing the soil, date of planting and dates and manner of cultivation and harvesting. Besides this the expense in time and labor are required to be reported, together with any special incidents, such as attack by insects or unfavorable weather. Instructions in the best methods of seed selection and planting are given, and lists of questions are sent out which are designed to make the youthful farmers read and think about the processes they employ. They are asked, for instance, to tell what are the four principal objects of tilling the soil. Possibly some men have farmed all their lives knowing only one. Lastly, following the harvest, it is to come the competitive exhibition, at which prizes will be given for the best exhibits of corn. The time will come, if these efforts succeed as they deserve, when the average boy would give up his chance to be president if thereby he might win the sweepstakes at a corn show.—State Journal.

THE SHORTHORN CATTLE SALE

Was a Success in Every Particular

The Shorthorn cattle sale of Summers & Berkheimer, of Malvern, Iowa, that was held in Wayne yesterday afternoon was a success in attendance and prices secured. The bidding was active. Auctioneers Bellows, Talbot and Cunningham had charge of the sale and Harvey Ringland acted as clerk. M. T. White of the Homestead Des Moines, Iowa, J. R. Pfander of the Twentieth Century Farmer, and other field men were present. The total receipts were $3,299.50. The twelve bulls averaged $112.75 each; the 25 cows averaged $77.90 each, and the average for the 37 head was $89.17. Below we give the names of those who purchased, the names of the animals they bought, and the price paid.

NATURE TELLS YOU

As Many a Wayne Reader Knows Too Well

When the kidneys are sick, Nature tells you all about it. The urine is nature's calendar. Infrequent or too frequent action; Any urinary trouble tells of kidney ills. Doan's Kidney Pills cure all kidney ills. Wayne people testify to this.

D. S. McVicker, of Wayne, Nebr., says: "A member of my family was troubled by backache for a long time. That the complaint was caused by disordered kidneys was plainly shown by the irregular passages of the secretions from these organs. Doan's Kidney Pills were finally used and they brought great relief. It is a pleasure to endorse this excellent remedy."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Owing to the small pox scare the public library managers decided to call all books in for the present, and let none out until later. There was some complaint among the patrons Saturday. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

If you have backache and urinary troubles you should take Foley's Kidney Remedy to strengthen and build up the kidneys so they will act properly, as a serious kidney trouble may develop. For sale by Felber.

For Sale

I have an upright piano for sale. Call on Mrs. Heady, three blocks east of opera house.

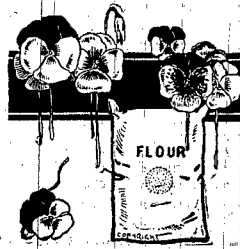

Long ago the Scotch learned this.

The sturdy old Scotchman must be amused at the recent "discoveries" that oatmeal is the best food in the world.

Our scientific men have been making experiments which prove that Americans eat too much fat and grease and not enough cereals.

The Scotchmen say: "Look at our nation as proof. The sturdiest nation on earth." Still we have one good point to make. We make better oatmeal than the Scotch.

They buy Quaker Oats and consider it the leader of all oatmeals to be had anywhere. If you are convenient to the store you'll probably buy the regular size package. For those who live in the country the large size family package is more satisfactory. Follow the example of the Scotch; eat a Quaker Oats breakfast every day.

THERE ARE MANY FLOURS

but there is only one Wayne Superlative brand. To know how superior it is you must try it. So the next time you order flour be sure it is Superlative. It bakes beautifully and goes farther than any other we know. It's good for bread, good for biscuits, good for cakes and pastry. In fact it is the perfect flour you have been wanting so long.

He likes the climate out there real well and expects to return there after the city election, and will very probably buy a ranch in Banner county.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Munson, of Aberdeen, South Dakota, were in Wayne Tuesday morning, being called here as defendants in a suit instituted against Munson by Phil Kohl. The case did not come to trial, however, owing to defects in the papers, which the Judge gave them leave to amend. They greeted a number of friends while here.

It beats all how many men there are in the world who can move from one place to another and forget all about their newspaper subscription. A whole lot of them seem to think it is something real cute to cheat a newspaper publisher out of six months subscription account. And if they would even come in and thank a man for it it would not be so bad.

While county attorney Peterson was at Center this week he brought suit against two parties on complaint of them not sending their children to school according to the compulsory school law of Nebraska. They were each fined $40 and costs. This should be a lesson to parents having children and which they are in the habit of holding out of school.—Wausa Gazette.

A carload of Ford runabouts was received today. With this new garage Wakefield is certainly putting on more metropolitan airs. Success to the new firm.—Wakefield Republican.

The assessors are getting busy and everyone who owns property on the first day of April will soon be called upon to list it. All cash on hand, deposits in banks and with building and loan associations are taxable. It is well known that about 80 per cent of all such property escapes taxation through a remarkable lapse of memory of Mr. Taxpayer and it is estimated that about 99 per cent of all bonds escape taxation. The latter seem to be a favorite investment for the tax dodger because of the security and the futility of any attempt to locate the owners. This is not so bad as it seems, for if the bonds were taxed, cities and school districts would have to pay a higher rate of interest. It is believed the legislature would exempt all municipal and school bonds from taxation as most other states do if our antiquated constitution permitted it.

This is the season of Lenten denials and some people are giving up one thing and some another in emulation of their Lord's season of fasting and prayer. In as far as these little self denials are prompted by genuine piety, it is a commendable custom, but, when they are merely mechanical devices used for effect or to satisfy a guilty conscience, they are a farce. No amount of self denial during Lent will make up for selfishness and excesses during the rest of the year.

Why the Nebraska legislature should buy the Wayne Normal college for the state when it is already doing as much as it will do for the educational interests of the state without cost to the taxpayers, the Fremont Tribune thinks is one of those things no fellow can find out. If the Tribune was sincere on that plea why did it not oppose the state's buying the Fremont Normal school on the same grounds? It never uttered a word as long as there was any hopes for the Fremont school.

A prominent capitalist said recently: "I am generally opposed to the installment business, but in home buying I believe it to be not only legitimate, but commendable in most cases. The investment in a home is one of the first things a married man should consider. If his capital does not allow him to pay cash for it, then he should buy it on payments. This gives him an incentive to save his money, his savings are placed in security, and the natural increase in real estate values goes to his credit." Every renter should consider the above words; they come from a thorough business man, and contain good advice.

Obituary—James Tyler

Mr. James A. Tyler was born in Franklin, Indiana, May 6th, 1848, and died at Wayne, Nebraska, March 24th, 1909, aged sixty years, ten months and twenty days. He was united in marriage to Sarah E. Swift, of Franklin, Indiana, March 8th, 1869. To them were born six children, five of whom are still living, one having died in infancy. Those still living are R. E. Tyler, of Lexington, Nebraska, D. E. Tyler, of Omaha, Mrs. Geo. Rader, of Bloomington, Indiana, Miss Margaret Tyler and Mrs. G. J. Green, of Wayne. The remains were taken to Kearney, Nebraska, and there laid to rest near those of his wife, whose death occurred about five years ago.

We desire to thank all those who so kindly helped us during the illness and death of our father.

Miss Margaret Tyler, Mrs. G. J. Green.

Mr. F. G. Fritts, Oneonta, N. Y., writes: "My little girl was greatly benefited by taking Foley's Orino Laxative, and I think it is the best remedy for constipation and liver trouble. DISTRICT COURT

A Number of Cases Tried With Varying Results

Friday was the first day of the March term of the district court in Wayne and Judge Welch was on the bench to deal out justice to all, although there may have been some who did not wish for that. Friday was devoted to the hearing of divorce cases and six of them were disposed of, Hallie E. Hanuse, Maud Marshall, Amanda Wagener, Mary R. Tillson, Cora B. Shafer and Ella Brown being granted divorces from their husbands without any contest. Saturday was taken up with naturalization cases, there being a large number of applicants who desired to become citizens of this American commonwealth, twenty-one of them, we gave the names several weeks ago.

The jurors were called for Monday, and the first case up was that of R. E. Frish vs. Tom Sundahl, a case from Winside. This was a case where a dispute arose in regard to a threshing machine. The jury rendered a verdict in favor of the defendant, not being able to see where the plaintiff had any cause for action.

The case of Phillip H. Kohl vs. C. R. Munson and Henry Kellogg was continued owing to a flaw in the papers, the judge granting leave to amend.

The case of Fred Warnamunde vs. Martin Erickson came up from Hoskins and was tried to a jury Tuesday forenoon. The cause of the case lay in the fact that Warnamunde bought a horse at Erickson's sale which was represented to him to be all right but experience proved it to be otherwise, in his judgement, hence the suit. The jury brought in a verdict for the plaintiff after being out twenty-four hours.

The case of The State of Nebraska vs. F. H. Brady was dismissed. This is the case wherein Brady was accused of having stolen a team of horses from a farmer near Carroll, the full particulars of which appeared in the Herald at the time. Brady was taken before Judge Hunter and bound over to the District court. After being in jail some little time he secured bail, and now the case is dismissed.

The case of Chas. H. Fisher vs. William Hoguewood, Florence Hoguewood and G. J. Savidge was settled.

The case of Louise M. Dornberger vs. Effie M. Repine, in which Miss Dornberger sued for $1300 damage on account of being run over last summer by an automobile owned by Mrs. Repine. Considerable difficulty was had in securing a jury, most of the afternoon being spent in the attempt. After the jury was secured the court adjourned until Wednesday morning. When court opened Wednesday morning the case was resumed but after five or six witnesses had been sworn Judge Welch took the case from the jury and gave a judgment for the defendant on the ground of contributory negligence on the part of Miss Dornberger, the plaintiff.

The court will adjourn some time today. The last case tried was that of Mapes & Hazen against Peter Jensen. The plaintiffs are from Norfolk and the case was an effort to collect attorney fees in a former action. The jury retired about nine o'clock this morning and when they reach a verdict the jury will be excused until the 14th of June.

Passed to the Beyond

After an illness of about three weeks, Mrs. Hannah Walter, who made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Henry Ley, departed this life aged 81 years and three months. Deceased was born in Indiana January 19, 1828. There are four children living—Mrs. Henry Ley of Wayne, Rollie Walter of Delmo, Minnesota, Mrs. Li Boylan of Lakin, Kansas, and Mrs. Eli Southworth of Shaponee, Minnesota, where the remains were taken for burial by the side of her husband who died about ten years ago. Henry Ley accompanied the body to its final resting place. Since the death of her husband Mrs. Walter has spent her summers with her daughter in Minnesota, and the winters with her daughter in Wayne. The funeral services were held March 30.

Must Live Three Months in City.

"Qualifications of Electors." All qualified electors of this state who shall have resided within the limits of any city of the second class or village for three months preceding any election therein shall be entitled to vote at all city and village elections. See Cobby Sec. 8902 and Wheeler Sec. 1778 p. 460 Statutes of 1907.

From the above it is seen that three months residence is required for voting in the city election while at a general election it only requires forty days in the county and ten days in the precinct.

Some Politics at Winside

There are four tickets in the field here for this year's municipal election, eight candidates for two offices. Clyde T. Ecker, who is chairman for two of the tickets and secretary for a third, says that "from the reports of workers in every part of the city, straw votes and all other mediums for gaining the confidence of the voters, there is no doubt of the election of all of them by overwhelming majorities."

Modern Friendship

Much of the so-called friendship of the day is but pretense. It exists only in name and as soon as it ceases to be advantageous it is dropped. The friendship that continues the same in prosperity and adversity is to be prized, but all other kinds are worthless. It matters not how hard a man may struggle to do right and make a success of life there is always some loathsome reptile, some worthless wretch who is ready to drag him down, to blight his hopes and blast his fondest ambitions. The loss of money and property is not the greatest loss a man can sustain in the business world, far better to lose your money than to lose hope and ambition.—Oakdale Sentinel.

Married at High Noon

At high noon, Wednesday, March 31st, 1909, at the home of her mother, Mrs. M. C. Cross, in Wayne, occurred the marriage of Miss Florence Cross to Guy Root, Rev. Parker Smith tying the nuptial knot. Invitations had been issued to a large number of relatives and friends to participate in the joyous event, and they responded by their presence and the occasion was one of genuine joy and pleasure as all such events should be. After the ceremony a bountiful repast was served and the young folks took the 2:10 train east and will spend a few days before going to housekeeping.

The bride is one of Wayne's most charming young ladies and has grown to womanhood here. The groom is an old resident of the county residing near Sholes and is highly respected and an industrious young man, well worthy the bride whom he has won. They will make a home for themselves on a farm near Sholes and have the best wishes of a very large circle of friends for their future happiness.

Something New

John R. Morris, living near Carroll, who is one of Wayne county's most enterprising farmers, was a caller Monday and in conversation told us that he had started the plows going last week, breaking up some pasture land. On ten acres of this land he is going to try a new experiment this year. He is going to sow it to a mixture of wheat and oats, about two thirds oats to one third of wheat. He tried this mixture last year and found it very satisfactory, the wheat straw being stronger than the oats helped it all to stand up better than oats alone, and as he uses this for feed he found it very satisfactory. He has never tried oats on sod before but will see what the result will be this season. The rest of the sod land he will plant to corn. Knowing that he was very much interested in sheep we asked him regarding this feature of his farm operations and learned that he was well satisfied with the outcome last year. He has bred about 500 ewes this season, and already has over 200 lambs and they are coming at the rate of from fifteen to twenty per day. A great many of the ewes bear two lambs, in fact a far greater proportion of them this year than he has ever known before. The loss of young lambs has been less this season than any other since he began raising sheep, less than one per cent. He says he does not know how many lambs he has got, as they have got so numerous that they have got beyond the counting period by the ordinary method, and he will not know how many there are until he completes the job of cutting off their tails. It has been found that the sheep minus their tails are much cleaner and more healthy than those who wear the appendage with which nature fitted them, besides they bring a little better price on the market and seem to develop into better mutton.

V. A. Senter spent several days the first of the week visiting his father at Bancroft, Nebraska.

In all Sincerity

we say: Do not select your spring suit until you have seen the models of the House of KUPPENHEIMER.

The best talent of the fashion world has been for months concentrated in the designing and production of original, exclusive, praiseworthy designs for Spring and Summer.

Every selection of woolens used by the House of KUPPENHEIMER was made by an expert buyer, made because of its worth in comparison with the offerings of the best mills.

This season KUPPENHEIMER has certainly spoiled the young fellows. He has paid most attention to their whims and fancies. He has invented lots of unusual departures without interfering with the good taste which must balance novelty. They are built in a way that older men won't fancy, and built that way because they're not meant for old folks. That's one reason why you see most of the young men wearing KUPPENHEIMER clothes nowadays. They have the KUPPENHEIMER Label, too. That's another reason.

Come and see them now. Every day we're busier. Every day the selection grows smaller. NOW is the time.

UP TO THE GOVERNOR

The Wayne Normal School Bill Passes the Senate—Wayne Workers Entitled to Much Praise

GROUP OF THE BUILDINGS ALREADY BUILT Petitions Are Being Circulated Urging the Governor to Sign the Bill

The first steps taken at the present time looking toward the establishment of a State Normal School in Wayne, was held the fore part of last December. At this meeting those in attendance believed it to be an opportune time to try to induce the Nebraska legislature, soon to assemble, to purchase the Nebraska Normal College located here, and which had been in successful operation for about seventeen years under the able management and direction of J. M. Pile. Accordingly a circular and set of resolutions setting forth the facts in the case were drawn up and signed by President J. M. Pile and the trustees of the college, J. T. Bressler, H. C. Ley, S. R. Theobald, A. A. Welch, A. L. Tucker, H. F. Wilson, Dan Harrington, H. C. Henney, and R. Phillee, and they were sent broadcast over the state to the newly elected members of the legislature. The resolutions read as follows:

Resolutions passed and signed by the board of trustees and president of the Nebraska Normal college at a meeting held in the office of J. T. Bressler of Wayne:

Whereas, The Nebraska Normal college of Wayne, Nebraska, has been in successful operation seventeen years and has a well equipped normal school plant, consisting of two recitation buildings, five dormitories, president's residence, central heating plant—all supplied with complete lines of appropriate furniture, fixtures and apparatus—with a value of more than $150,000 and could not be duplicated at present for that sum, and

Whereas, The trustees of said Nebraska Normal college and educators of north Nebraska believe the educational interests of this section of the state would be advanced by establishing and maintaining a state normal school at Wayne, Nebraska.

Resolved, That the trustees and president of the Nebraska Normal college tender to the state of Nebraska for $100,000 the entire property of the college for the establishment and maintenance of a state normal school by the state.

Soon after the legislature met in January Representative Pilger of this district introduced a bill for the state to buy the school, asking for an appropriation of $100,000 for this purpose, and since that time Phil. Kohl, H. C. Ley, James Britton, J. T. Bressler, and a number of others have been almost constantly at Lincoln working with the members in behalf of the school. To these four more than any other one thing can safely be attributed the fact of the outcome, which now seems so well assured. They have been loaded with facts and figures not alone relating to the school but also the needs of the northeastern part of the state, and they have labored earnestly in season and out of season for the interests of the school and the town.

On March 6th a committee of House members were here to inspect the school and buildings and were so well pleased with them that on their return they reported favorably on the state buying the school at $90,000, and on March 16th their report was adopted and the bill passed the House.

It was thought at that time that there would be little difficulty in getting the measure through the senate, but the opponents of the measure at Fremont, Norfolk, and elsewhere have been very persistent and obstinate in their fight and it was only by eternal vigilance on the part of the Wayne workers that the bill ever got out of the committee. Tuesday the bill came up on the question of passing to the third reading, the vote standing 16 to 16 and lieutenant governor Hopewell cast the deciding vote in favor of Wayne. Wednesday morning it was put on its final passage and got through by a vote of 17 to 16 so that it is now up to the governor. It is not thought that he will veto the bill as there does not seem to be any good grounds for him to do so, but the opposition will use all the influence, especially Fremont, in their power to have him use his veto prerogative.

There is talk of giving the Wayne workers a reception and a seat of honor when they return and this should be done as they have certainly covered themselves with glory during the past two months.

Petitions were circulated yesterday afternoon for signatures asking the governor to sign the bill, and a mass meeting was held last evening and workers sent into all parts of the county this morning and all the towns in this part of the state, and by tomorrow morning petitions with thousands of signers from all over northeastern Nebraska will be presented to Governor Shallenberger urging him not to veto the bill but put his official signature to it. Today this whole section is full of enthusiasm and the workers for Wayne are everywhere.

quary "What's the use?" it is easy to drift into a spirit of "Don't care." From "Don't care" the movement downward is rapid. History does not record a failure upon the part of any young man who admits to himself at the beginning of life's battle that nothing can beat working and saving. Every fortune began in that way. The time to save is when times are good and the country prosperous. That time is now.

Good Roads Movement

While the farmer may not like the automobile fad, it is working out much in the farmers' interests, for there has been no one thing of late years that has stipulated interest in the good roads movements than has the automobile. Leaving the "choo choo" wagon out of the deal, the good road matter is of grave importance to the merchants and business interests of every town. It has been known that the failure to keep roads in good condition in some western towns was the beginning of their depopulation and decay. Farmers, rather than drive through a few feet of mud, turned their trade to other towns nearby, and the habit of trading became firmly fixed, and so much prestige was lost by the town whose citizens neglected to keep the roads leading to it in proper shape. Every commercial club in the west should have a committee on road improvement and use every endeavor to have county commissioners make appropriations sufficient to keep the roads leading to town in excellent repair. It will pay and pay largely. It means a saving to the farmers and a saving to the people of all the community, and often means that fewer orders will go to the catalogue houses.—Trade Exhibit.

The Marital Unrest

In the time of our great-grandmothers and grandfathers nobody thought of dissolving the marriage tie. A woman's career was marriage, and having once embarked upon it she never thought of going back.

But in these days debate is rampant, and so many persons have considered "going back" that one wonders what slight reciprocal affection induced them ever to advance at all. Probably it was not affection but attraction, which depends upon outward and visible signs rather than inward spiritual graces, and can cause the most unlikely and unblendable characters to find each other irresistibly charming. And while they are finding each other charming, marriage is so easy. Since the beginning of the world, admonition and advice have done very little toward the curbing of passion, and obstacles have only served to excite it.

And it is not too much to say that most young people, if left to form their own characters, with little in the way of responsibility forced upon them and a great deal in the way of comfort and pleasure at their right hand, will form rather self-indulgent characters, which, rushing rapturously into matrimony, as it were into the seventh heaven, are exceedingly chagrined to find how much self-denial is demanded of them when they get there. Nobody has explained to them what marriage, and the companionship of it really means, nor what a fund of tact and tenderness, forbearance, good-will and gentle judgement one must have to tide over the hard places that come, at times, to even the most loving couples.

A Gossip Cure

What is the cure for gossip? Simply, culture. There is a great deal of gossip that has no malignity in it. Goodnatured people talk about their neighbors because, and only because, they have nothing else to talk about. As we write, there comes to us the picture of a family of young ladies. We have seen them at home, we have met them in galleries of art, we have caught glimpses of them going from a book store, or a library, with a fresh volume in their hands. When we meet them, they are full of what they have seen and read. They are brimming with questions. One topic of conversation is dropped only to give place to another; in which they are interested. We have left them, after a delightful hour, stimulated and refreshed; and during the whole hour, not a neighbor's garment was soiled by so much as a touch. They had something to talk about. They knew something, and wanted to know more. They could listen as well as they could talk. To speak freely of a neighbor's doings and belongings would have seemed an impertinence to them, and, of course, an impropriety. They had no temptation to gossip, because the doings of their neighbors formed a subject very much less interesting than those which grew out of their knowledge and their culture.

And this tells the whole story. The confirmed gossip is always either malicious or ignorant. The one variety needs a change of heart and the other a change of pasture. Gossip is always a personal confession either of malice or imbecility, and the young should not only shun it, but by the most thorough culture relieve themselves from all temptation to indulge in it. It is a low, frivolous, and too often a dirty business. There are country neighborhoods where it rages like a pest. Churches are split in pieces by it. Neighbors are made enemies for life by it. In many cases it degenerates into a chronic disease which is practically incurable. Let the young cure it while they may.—J. G. Holland.

DEADLY POISONS.

One Whiff of Pure Prussic Acid is Sufficient to Kill.

The discoverer of prussic acid was instantly killed by inhaling one whiff of his own handwork.

Pure prussic acid is never sold or handled. The smell of it is always fatal. It kills not in three minutes or half an hour, but the instant it enters the lungs as a gas. The mixture ordinarily sold as prussic acid is 98 parts water to two parts of the drug. Even in this form it is very deadly. A 20 per cent mixture of the acid would kill nearly as quickly as if pure.

Tropics, though it has no harmful odor, is so deadly that as much of it as would adhere to the end of a moistened forefinger would instantly cause death. Cyanide of potassium has a pleasant smell which is not injurious, but a small quantity swallowed kills at once. Pure ammonia if inhaled would cause death almost as quickly as prussic acid.

When a carboy of nitric acid is broken some one has to suffer. It will burn wood, eat through iron plates and destroy whatever it touches. Such an accident once happened in an acid factory. Every one ran away, leaving the acid to amuse itself by setting fire to things. Soon it was seen that the building would be destroyed and hundreds of people thrown out of work, and four men volunteered to put out the fire in the acid room. They succeeded and came out all right. Five hours later all were dead.

PUBLIC RIDICULE.

The Time When It Served as Punishment For Lawbreakers.

It is the problem of all ages to make the punishment fit the crime, but they seem to have come nearer its solution in Plantagenet times than they ever were after the introduction of flogging. When burglary meant the total ruin of the man who kept his whole fortune in his house the burglar was hanged. But in the same period public ridicule served as a punishment for most crimes, and the man who sold bad meat was placed in the pillory and his bad meat burned to windward of him; the vintner who sold bad wine was forced to drink some of it and the rest was poured over his head; for more serious offenses the criminal had to walk along Cheapside, bareheaded, dressed only in a shirt and carrying a wax taper, escorted by the mayor's sergeants.

The result was that law and order were maintained far better than when men became brutalized by the horrible floggings of Georgian times. Punishments became worse with religious persecutions, and after the reformation the pillory, with its terrible accompaniment of salt ears, whippings, etc., became popular, to say nothing of torturing, burning at the stake, and so on. At St. Thomas' hospital one of the sisters, "for a grave offense, contrary to ye lawe of God and according to the proffe of three wytnesses," was ordered to "be punished and have xli stryppes well laid on."

But all this, bad as it was, was less demoralizing than the terrible criminal code of George II's reign, when there were forty-eight crimes punishable by death and forty punishable by whipping, transportation or pillory. Flogging for mere vagrancy began with Henry VIII, and as late as 1804 six women were publicly whipped at Gloucester for this unavailing offense. And never did public morality sink so low.

In those good old days we flogged our sailors "to encourage the others," and there were many trussed at the triangles who would now be simply admonished. A pleasant form of punishment was "fogging through the fleet." It was given to the ignorant seaman who struck a superior officer. And when he had been carried from one ship to another and fogged in each he survived—if he was unfortunate—for six months. The lucky man died accidentally.—London Chronicle.

CONFEDERATE FLAGS.

The Stars and Bars and Then the Red Battling.

The first Confederate flag was the stars and bars, a blue field and three stripes, one white and two red, and on the blue field seven white stars in a circle, a star for each state that up to that time had seceded. In battle, however, it was seen that this banner bore altogether too close a resemblance to the stars and stripes, and thus there came into use the Confederate battling; the origin of which seems to have been as follows:

This is the statement of General William L. Cabell: "When the Confederate army commanded by General Beauregard and the Federal army confronted each other at Manassas, it was seen that the Confederate flag and the stars and stripes looked at a distance so much alike that it was hard to distinguish one from the other. General Beauregard, thinking that serious mistakes might be made in recognizing our troops, after the battle of July 18, at Blackburn Ford, ordered that a small badge should be worn on the left shoulder by our troops and, as I was chief quartermaster, ordered me to purchase a large amount of red fannel and to distribute it to each regiment."

This Confederate battling was adopted in September, 1861, and was designed by Generals Johnston and Beauregard. Red was its color, with a blue St. Andrew's cross reaching from corner to corner and white stars on the cross representing the different southern states. The women of the south made these flags by hundreds out of their red and blue silk dresses. Miss Constance Cary, who afterward became Mrs. Burton Harrison, the well known novelist, was one of the three southern girls who made the first three battlings.—Magazine of American History.

The Man in the Moon.

The dark markings so conspicuous on the moon and known as the "man in the moon" are great plains, lying at a much lower level than the brighter parts. In all probability they are old sea bottoms, some of them having undergone upheavals and other changes since the water retreated from them, others presenting the appearance of being unchanged since the time when the waters dried up or were in some other way removed from them.

His Thrift.

Husband—May, just send up some dinner water. Wife—Which was it last night, "Detained at the office" or "A friend at the club"? Husband—Why? Wife—Because I didn't know whether you wanted a tumbler or a painful.—London Opinion.

Oh His Mind.

"Have you forgotten that X that you borrowed of me some time ago?" "Oh, no. I still have it in my mind." "Well, don't you think this would be a good time to relieve your mind of it?"

The sorrow of yesterday is as nothing, that of today is bearable, but that of tomorrow is gigantic because indistinct.—Euripides.

Luck.

"Do you believe in such a thing as luck?" "Of course," answered Miss Cayenne. "Otherwise it would be impossible to explain the success of people we don't like."—Washington Star.

Troubles of the Inanimate. "Tough old world this," sighed the avvil. "I get nothing but hard knocks all day long." "Yes," assented the bellows, "and I am always hard pressed to raise the wind."—Boston Transcript.

Randolph citizens have purchased an entertainment course for next winter.

Bloomfield will do quite a good deal in the improvement line this season.

The Mail says that scarlet fever is very bad at Magnet, and there has been one death.

Scarlet fever seems to be a very fatal disease this season. Our exchanges record several deaths every week.

Norfolk has decided that it does not wish to try to entertain the State Fireman's meeting the coming summer.

It will be unlawful to shoot prairie chickens in South Dakota until 1911 and in Iowa until 1914 at any season of the year.

The Butter and Egg company that has been in operation at Randolph for the past year has decided to go out of business.

All of the teachers in the schools at Norfolk have been elected for another year, except four, who did not wish a re-election.

G. A. Hanssen, of Randolph, has designed a portable feed rack that prevents all waste of hay. It will more than pay for itself in one year.

The Baptist church at Pilger has secured a pastor in the person of Rev. Chas. Sloan, of Clearfield, Iowa, and he will enter upon his work this week.

The city council of Norfolk has passed an ordinance to annex all the outlying districts to the city proper. This will make the incorporation two miles each way.

Considerable discussion is being indulged in as to submitting to the voters of Dakota City the question of issuing bonds for the purpose of installing a system of waterworks.

A doctor in a neighboring town is said to advertise by circular: "I will pay one-half the funeral expenses where I am not successful." That ought to be some inducement for patronage.

L. B. Clore, who won the title "Corn King of the World," by winning the sweepstakes at the National Corn exposition in Omaha last December, will go to Russia on a small salary and assist in showing the interior farmers how to grow corn.

At Pierce they have just installed a new corn products plant with a grinding capacity of 2,000 bushels per day. Eight people are now employed and more will be added, as the proprietors expect to make a bid for the Pacific coast trade where there is a heavy demand for that class of goods.

Walhill is going to vote the question of bonding the town for a water and light system April 12th.

The city clerk of Norfolk, who, under the instructions of the city council has been taking a census of that city, claims to have found 5,341 people within its limits.

Randolph has a bonded debt of $21,000 drawing 5 per cent interest, $7,600.52 of unpaid registered warrants outstanding. The editor of the Reporter feels dead sure that all this can be wiped out and the streets paved with gold if the dear people will only vote for the open saloon there on April 6th.

The discovery of gold is reported from Dixon county. Wells sunk near Martinsburg have gold bearing sand in the bottom of them. Gold in small quantities is found in the watering troughs and along the creeks. The town is excited and proposes to build an electric railroad to Sioux City so that they may become a part of the big live outside world.

A bed of clay almost inexhaustible in extent has been uncovered along the railroad about two miles west of Tekamah, on land owned by C. W. Conkling, that is thought to be perfect for tile and vitrified brick making. Samples were shipped to eastern factories and kilns and the tile and vitrified product turned out is said to equal the very best. If equal to what it promises and capital can be interested in the establishment of a manufacturing plant, it will be a great industry for the county.

In Broken Bow they have been without saloons for ten years and the question has ceased to be an issue and Broken Bow is a "Get there town." The citizens have started a unique way of nominating candidates. They take the two highest names at their union caucus for the various offices and place them on the ballot to be voted for at the spring elections and all are pledged by resolutions to enforce law. They will not vote on the "yes" and "no" proposition according to the following resolution: Fifth; After an experience of more than ten years as a non-saloon city during which time our population has doubled and property values have gone far beyond expectations we express ourselves satisfied with this condition and pledge the nominees of this convention against the issuance of saloon licenses and druggists permits and to use the most stringent methods to wipe out the use of all intoxicants and prosecute to the limit the bootlegger wherever found and to that end we recommend that the question of licensing the sale of intoxicating liquors of any kind be not submitted to a vote.

Killed by a Train

Sunday forenoon about 9 or 10 o'clock the wounded and bleeding body of Thomas Casey, aged about 67 years, was found lying beside the Burlington track a short distance west of the new town of Wareham. When found the unfortunate man was alive and a physician was hastily summoned from Randolph. He was made as comfortable as possible, when a passing freight was flagged and the man put on board for his home in Randolph. As he was being put on the cars he died. It was found that Mr. Casey's right leg was broken and lacerated from the knee down, and his foot partly severed. He was undoubtedly struck by the evening passenger train west bound on the Burlington Saturday night, and was exposed all night to the freezing weather and suffering from his injuries. During Saturday Mr. Casey was in Belden and drank heavily, starting out in the afternoon to walk on the track to Randolph. It is thought that the cars did not pass over him, but that he was lying so close to the rails as to be mutilated as above.

A Seeing-the-Town Party.

"A successful guessing game for a children's party played out of doors was called a 'Seeing-the-Town Trip,'" says a writer in Woman's Home Companion for April. "A large collection of local post cards was pinned about the lawn on tree trunks and other places. The cards were numbered, and of course the names of the views cut off. The children were furnished with pencils and paper and told to travel around town and write down what they saw. It was comical to see how some of the most familiar scenes puzzled them. The prizes were a post card album for the most successful guesser and a collection of cards for the one who recognized the fewest number."

Ganderbone's April

The rain will patter on the roof, and the colt will buck and dance, the tickled calf will shake his hoof and jubilantly prance, the robin will arise at morn and chase the festive worm, the schoolboy will wish chick-enpox would spread and end the term, the old fleas will breed other fleas upon the itching pup, and the dirt will fly with radishes and lettuce coming up.

A fresh and sweeter oxygen will glorify the days, the sun will tempt the flowers with its soft and vernal rays, the farmer will put in his corn, the ducks will lay again, the meadow-lark will wake the morn with ravishing refrain, the native will moulit all his wool and don his summer jeans, and man will pasteurize his blood with sassafras and greens.

Creamed Sweet Potatoes.

"For creamed sweet potatoes, wash, pare, and cook sweet potatoes in boiling salted water until tender," says Fannie Merritt Farmer, the greatest cook in America, in Woman's Home Companion for April. "Let stand until cold, and cut in one-third-inch cubes; there should be two cupfuls. Place in a sauce pan with two tablespoonfuls of butter, and cook three minutes. Season with a slight shaking of salt, pepper and paprika, sprinkle with two tablespoonfuls of flour, and add one cupful of rich milk. Cook slowly for twenty minutes."

Order to Show Cause

In The District Court of Wayne County, Nebraska.

In the matter of the application of May House, Guardian of the persons and estates of Grace House, Abbie House and Charlie House, minors, for leave to sell real estate.

On reading the petition duly verified and filed with the clerk of this court, by May House, Guardian of the persons and estates of Grace House, Abbie House, and Charlie House, minors, for license to sell the following described real estate situated in Pierce County, Nebraska, to-wit:

The Southeast quarter of Section Twenty-two (22) in Township Twenty-five (25) North of Range One (1) West of the 6th P. M. subject to the dower interest of May House therein.

And it appearing to the court from said petition that it would be beneficial to the said wards that said real estate be sold and the proceeds put out at interest or invested in some productive stock: It is therefore ordered that the next of kin of said minors and all persons interested in their said estate and in said real estate appear before me, the Judge of said court, at chambers, at the Court House, in the City of Wayne, County of Wayne and State of Nebraska, on the 17th day of April, 1909, at Three o'clock P. M. to show cause if any there be, why license should not be granted to the said May House, guardian of said minors to sell the above described real estate of said minors for the purpose above set forth.

And it is further ordered that a copy of this order be published at least four successive weeks once a week in the Wayne Herald, a newspaper printed and published in said County of Wayne, and that it shall not be necessary to make personal service of this order upon the next of kin or other persons interested in said real estate.

Done in open court at Wayne, in said Judicial District this 13th day of March, 1909.

ANSON A. WELCH, Judge of District Court.
