ITEMS OF GENERAL INTEREST

Some of Them by our Correspondents and others from exchanges

H. Splitgarber living three miles over in Wayne county brought in 280 bushels of wheat Tuesday which he sold to Nye Schneider Fowler Co. at $1.10 per bushel or $308.00. Mr. Splitgarber is one of Wayne county wealthy farmers and seldom comes to Pilger as he lives about 12 miles from here but owing to the market being higher here than at Wayne he brought it to Pilger.—Pilger Herald.

Wm. J. McCrady returned from Wayne last Saturday, where he had been called by the serious illness of his daughter, Bessie, who was operated upon for appendicitis. The operation was successful and the patient is getting along nicely. Mr. McCrady informs us that the attending physician said had the operation been delayed a couple of days his daughter would not have recovered. Mrs. Jos. Forsyth, who accompanied Mr. McCrady to Wayne upon receipt of the news two weeks ago, will remain at the bedside of Bessie until she has fully recovered.—Pierce Call.

Lyons Sun:
An alley littered with tin cans and old bottles is not the very best badge of good citizenship.

From the amount and quality they shove and pour into it there are many men who do not seem to realize that the mouth is the gateway to the whole works.

Dawn Sears came down from Wayne last Friday evening. Saturday she and her father visited in Sioux City and Monday morning she returned to her school duties.

Pender Times:
Mr. McNish, of Wisner, and former Sheriff Kreader, of Fremont, were in town Monday in the former's auto. They came up from Bancroft and were accompanied by Pender by Attorney Allen Burke, of Bancroft, who stopped at Pender while the balance of the party went on to Wakefield and Wayne.

Mrs. Wm. Hugelman, who resides on the Driscoll farm in Wayne county, was badly burned yesterday afternoon at her home. We have not the particulars. Miss Caroline Hugelman came up from Herman last evening and went out to her brothers this morning.

Mrs. Fred Oberg, Mrs. Albert Kratke, Mrs. Henry Gilster and their mother, Mrs. Fred Schmidt, were over to Wayne the first of the week to see Mrs. Brummond who was quite ill.

Carroll Index:
Rev. H. O. Morris, formerly of Carroll, is expected to arrive from Wales next week. He comes at this time to make arrangements for moving his belongings to the old country. He has secured a pastorate in Wales.

Henry Otte is carrying his left arm in a sling as a result of a fracture incurred a week ago Saturday. The accident is doubly unfortunate coming at this season of the year when there is so much work to be done on the farm.

Dr. and Mrs. H. Phillips returned home Monday from a two weeks visit in Crawford, and other points in western Nebraska. The doctor is not decided about moving to Crawford as the druggist he was buying is not so anxious to sell as he was.

On Tuesday, May fourth, Mrs. Claud Hancock and Mrs. Ralph Taylor will leave for their new homes at Ashton, Idaho. Mrs. Jenk Simmerman will go with them from here and will stay for some time with Mrs. Hancock before returning. This party will be joined in Omaha by Mrs. W. L. Robinson and children, who will also make the trip to Ashton.

On Tuesday afternoon of this week at the J. E. Woods home, occurred a pleasant social event. It was the occasion of the sixty-second birthday of Mrs. Woods. A number of the elderly lady friends were invited in for the purpose of a surprise. Mrs. Woods received a beautiful band ring from her children and a number of other handsome presents from her friends.

A good joke is being told about a certain young couple from Carroll who went for a drive a couple of Sundays ago. For some reason that is unknown to the public they became absolutely unconscious of their surroundings for a time. When they "came to" they were horrified to find that they were lost. Yes, it is so that the young lady has grown up from girlhood here but the young man is only a recent arrival.

Bredemeyer & Miller and Wm. B. Hornby & Co. have each purchased a patented egg-packer. The device is a success and is a great labor saver. All that is necessary is to pour eggs from the receptacle in which they are carried to the store upon a screen, here the oats in which they may be packed are taken out. They are then rolled an incline upon a level base in which are sunken cups, which by means of a foot lever are adjusted to the eggs, a filler is then adjusted and the eggs are ready for the case. This machine is sure to be popular with storekeepers.

He Should Listen

Someone who signs himself "Fairplay" is sending out cards from Omaha giving a diagnosis of the results of the recent village elections throughout the state, to show that prohibition in Nebraska is "not making progress," and that the town people are very largely against prohibition. Looking at it from his view point and taking the figures presented shows a pretty good case. If Fairplay will get out from under the protecting wing of the Merchants and Manufacturing Association and get his car to the ground he will discover something entirely different and if a direct vote on "wet or dry" should come up he would find that prohibition in Nebraska was making progress.

Better Let Them Alone

Occasionally some person with a malicious trait in his makeup, meddles with a mail box on a rural route. In doing so he commits an act which the postoffice department looks upon as very serious. The law provides that anyone guilty of injuring or tearing down a mail box or stealing or damaging the mail in it shall be punished by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $1,000, or by imprisonment for not less than one year nor more than three years. Thoughtless or malicious persons should bear this in mind when tempted to meddle with a mail box. When the postoffice inspectors start after a violator of the law, they invariably get him.—Humphrey Democrat.

Has Reached a Decision

For several weeks Prof. C. H. Bright has had under consideration the question of whether or not he would be a candidate for the office of County Superintendent at the election the coming fall, and has, we are reliably informed decided to do so. Under the new law it will not be a partisan contest and all candidates will have to go on the ballot by petition. Mr. Bright has heretofore served the county in this capacity faithfully and well, so understands fully the necessary details of the office. He is now one of the professors in the Nebraska Normal College, and is in every way fitted to fill this important office. He will have no difficulty in securing the requisite number of signers on his petition and will no doubt be sure of an abundant endorsement at the polls.

A New Law

According to the provisions of the new election law, there will be no more partisan candidates for any supreme, district or county judge, regent of the university, state or county superintendent of schools. They will all go on the ticket by petition and on a separate ballot marked "no partisan." Candidates for these offices are forbidden to accept party nominations, and parties are forbidden from nominating or endorsing any candidate for them. A candidate for supreme judge must have 5,000 names on his petition, not more than 500 of them from any one county. Candidates for regent, state superintendent or district judge must have 1,000 petitioners, and for county judge and superintendent, 200 petitioners. The names on the official ballots are to be rotated so that no advantage will accrue to any candidate on account of having his name printed first on the list.

The Farmer's Life

The farmer has the most sane and natural occupation, and ought to find life sweeter, if less highly seasoned, than any other. He alone, strictly speaking, has a home. How can a man take root and thrive without land? He writes his history upon his field. How many ties, how many resources, he has—his friendships with his cattle, his team, his dogs, his trees, the satisfaction in his growing crops, in his improved fields; his intimacy with nature, with bird and beast, and with the quickening elemental forces; his cooperation with the cloud, the sun, the seasons, heat, wind, rain, frost! Nothing will take the various distempers which the city and artificial life breed out of a man like farming like direct and loving contact with the soil. It draws out the poison. It humbles him, teaches him patience and reverence, and restores the proper tone to his system.

Blessed is he whose youth was passed upon a farm. Make much of it, put yourself into it, bestow your heart and your brain upon it, so that it shall savor of you and radiate your virtue after your day's work is done.

Clark Got Decision

It will be remembered that early last fall A. B. Clark and Ted Perry got into an altercation and also a lawsuit over a question of drainage. Clark was seeking to drain his land, following the natural flow of the water, which after it left, his tilling would run across some land, belonging to Perry and others, following the natural fall of the land until it reached a creek. Perry claimed that Clark had no right to drain on to his land and sued out a temporary injunction restraining him from so doing. A suit was then brought before Judge Welch to decide the question as to whether or not the proposed drainage could be perfected. After hearing the evidence in the case and looking over the lay of the land himself, the judge took the matter under advisement, and, after studying over it for several months, last Saturday rendered a decision in favor of Mr. Clark, dissolving the injunction and deciding he had a legal right to construct the drain. George Wilbur, assisted by attorney Dixon, of Sioux City, represented Mr. Clark in the contest, and of course are feeling good over the outcome. F. A. Berry and A. R. Davis were attorneys for Perry. We are informed that the case will be appealed to the State Supreme Court.

Test Your Seed Corn

In one acre of corn planted 3 1/2 feet apart there are 3556 hills. The entire corn product of Nebraska for 1908 only averaged one ear six inches in length to the hill, or an average of 28.17 bushels to the acre. Generally there are three stalks of corn to the hill, and if by proper scientific principles we can raise even two 8 to 9 inch ears to the hill, we can take 75 bushels from the acre just as easily as we are now taking 28. It is surprising to go through a corn field and count 100 hills, in any direction, and notice the number of hills which are barren or yielding but nubbins, oftentimes it runs as high as 50 per cent and very seldom less than 25 per cent. If your field is in the latter class you are just throwing away one-quarter of your labor for man and team used in preparing the land, planting and cultivating the corn. Does it pay to do all this extra labor in order to save the trouble of conducting this germinating test, so as to be sure you have seed that will grow.

In making this test you will be surprised in the created interest it gives to the young people of your household. This fact alone, is worth a great deal to the farm home. Do anything to create an interest in the work of the farm, and by keeping the young people interested in farm work, you will be building well for the future.

In some communities the school children test the corn for farmers in their district, for ten cents per bushel, and use the proceeds in purchasing some needed article for their school.

Only Favoritism Wanted. George Gould spoke of railway difficulties at a recent board meeting. "A railway finds it impossible, by being just to please all hands," Mr. Gould concluded. "There is truth in the story of the commuter who entered a railway superintendent's office with a black gown. "Well, what next? the superintendent said to the man impatiently. "By our new time table don't three additional trains stop at your station now?" "Yes, but," growled the commuter, "they stop at all the other little stations, too."

CHAPTER IV. I happened to be sitting in my den, writing, the following afternoon, when glancing out of the big window that looks out on the beach, I caught sight of a woman walking near the water. I picked up my binoculars and focused them on her. It proved to be Miss Graham, dressed in a riding-habit, and with a broad felt hat on her head. She was walking in a somewhat aimless fashion, exhibiting the waves as though she were playing with them. I saw her glance once at the ship and once in the direction of my house. I put down the glasses and laid my papers aside. When I went down-stairs I roused Charles out of a sound sleep in the kitchen. "Do you remember how to make tea—good tea?" I asked him. "Yes, Mr. Felix. Aren't you feeling well, sir?"

My sister will be down in a minute," said little Clarence, who was entertaining the young man in the parlor. "I heard her tell 'mama a little while ago that she would give you your written permission to perambulate to-night. What do you reckon she meant by that?"

"I think I know," Clarence said to the young man, reaching for his hat. "You may tell her, if you please, that I have decided not to wait for it."

THE TURTLE'S HEAD. Chopped Off. It Retains Life for a Number of Hours. On the counter, in a porcelain dish, stood the severed head of a large turtle.

"That is rather greswome," said a man who was buying oysters. The oyster opener glanced at the head carelessly.

"It is a bet," said he. "I bet Gus Schmidt that the head would keep alive twenty-four hours. It's nearly twenty-five now since I chopped it off. Gus is late. But I win anyhow," he added.

"Where's my money? Pay me my money!" a deep voice shouted at this moment, and a short man swaggered in. "You've lost, Gus," said the oyster opener. "There is still life in her."

"There is—nil," said Gus Schmidt. "Nil on the life!"

And he extended a stumpy finger carelessly toward the turtle's head. "Gus!"

Startled, amazed, Gus Schmidt leaped back. For in the turtle's open eyes a fierce light had flashed, the ugly mouth had opened and shut with a sharp snap, and the head in some strange way had advanced an inch or two toward the tempting finger, much as a piece of steel advances toward a magnet.

"This may surprise you, Gus," said the oyster opener, wiping his wet hands in order to pocket his winnings. "But it don't surprise me none. I've seen turtle heads keep life in 'em long 'ern this here."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

FOOD FACTS. What an M. D. Learned. A prominent Georgia physician went through a food experience which he makes public.

"It was my own experience that first led me to advocate Grape-Nuts food and I also know, from having prescribed it to convalescents and other weak patients that the food is a wonderful builder and restorer of nerve and brain tissue, as well as muscle. It improves the digestion and sick patients always gain just as I did in strength and weight very rapidly."

"I was in such a low state that I had to give up my work entirely, and went to the mountains of this state, but two months there did not improve me. In fact, I was not quite as well as when I left home."

"My food did not sustain me and it became plain that I must change. Then I began to use Grape-Nuts food, and in two weeks I could walk a mile without fatigue, and in five weeks returned to my home and practice, taking up hard work again. Since that time I have felt as well and strong as I ever did in my life."

"As a physician who seeks to help all sufferers, I consider it a duty to make these facts public."

Trial 10 days on Grape-Nuts, when the regular food does not seem to sustain the body, will work miracles.

RAISE CHILDREN OR TOLL. Economist Says That One Thing or the Other Must Be Done by Wives. In the way of practical plans for the amelioration of conditions leading up to unhappy matrimony, two interesting suggestions have been forthcoming in recent weeks, says the New York Herald. One of them happens to be only a new variation of the old proposition of taxing the unmarried, but the other, by Prof. Patten of the University of Pennsylvania, adopts an entirely different attitude in advising that in all families where there are no children the women should be bread earners. The two news items in the matter follow:

That wives should be largely self-supporting is the view taken by Dr. Simon Nelson Bates of the chair of economics of the University of Pennsylvania. It came here last week to tell the League for Political Education of his ideas and returned to Philadelphia, where he is at present the center of a storm of criticism. The doctor, whom I saw yesterday, still maintains that his wife should go out to do a day's work, as her husband does, so that by the joint income the family revenues may be kept at a figure large enough to insure a good home and the proper care and education of the children. He finds that women of all ranks of life are entering a leisure class, to the detriment of the birth rate, the degeneration of society and the peril of the state.

"It all resolves to this," said he, "that woman is ceasing to become a producer in an industrial way. Her work has been taken away from her. In other generations she worked. With the introduction of machinery and of the department stores much of her vocation has been taken from her. A large part of the work which was once hers is now done outside of the home. Once she made clothes and even wore the cloth from which she fashioned her garments. She went into the garden and raised vegetables; she milked the cows. There was a time when the farmers sheered at the man who milked. A woman always did that. I have traveled extensively through the farming districts of the West without ever having seen a farmer's wife milk a cow."

"Formerly the woman was the man's industrial partner. Her work now has gone out of the home and nothing remains for her but to leave the home in search of it. There is no use for her to waste her time in trying to do that which is now being better and more cheaply done by other means."

"It is far better that she should toil at some remunerative occupation and leave to other agencies the production of articles for household consumption."

Division of Labor. "Got any work this month, Mjstah Boyd?" asked old Billy Bulger, safe in the knowledge that no work would be entrusted to him.

"No," was the response; and then, before Billy could ask for the customary contribution: "But walt a minute. Lawyer Phillips has owed me $20 for twenty years. Collect it and I'll give you half." And the merchant, knowing how bad was the debt, winked at a waiting customer.

The old man found the lawyer in the middle of a group of prospective clients and influential citizens. Thrusting through the group, he called, in stentorian tones:

"Mistah Phillips, suh!" "Well?" queried the lawyer, much annoyed.

"Mistah Boyd done tell me that you've owed him $20 for about a hundred years; and he wants to know kin you pay him, suh?"

The lawyer hurried to Billy's side. "You idiot," he said sotto voce, "do you want to ruin my business? Here!" and he thrust a $10 bill into the old man's hand.

Back to the merchant toddled the old man.

"Well, Billy," said the merchant, "did you get it?"

"The old man grinned.

"I got my half, all right," he chuckled; "but you'd better look out when you go back to get your half—his right smart hot over it, suh!"

Ripening Bananas. It is a familiar fact that banana are imported green, but it came as a new thing to a visitor to the banana district in Colombia to find that bananas are not permitted to ripen on the plant even though they are cut and set to hang somewhere until they wither ripe, as the phrase is. Bananas do not have to be yellow to be ripe. That is only the color of the skin when it has dried up. To the person who is accustomed to eating bananas only when they are yellow it seems odd to peel them when they are green and find that they are perfectly ripe within and fit to eat.—New York Sun.

1875—Boston celebrated the centennial of Paul Revere's ride.

1876—President Grant voted a bill to reduce the President's salary to $25,000.

1879—Over 200 persons perished in a colliery explosion at Mons, Belgium.

1882—Frederick Maclean, sentenced to prison in England for attempting to shoot Queen Victoria.

1892—Hehring Sea mounds virendi adopted in United States Senate.

1894—South Carolina Supreme Court decided the dispensary liquor law to be unconstitutional.

1895—State capitol at Springfield, Ill., damaged by fire. Railroad traffic impeded in Vermont and New Hampshire by heavy floods. Treaty of peace between Japan and China signed at Shimoda.

1897—International Copyright Congress held its sessions in Paris.

1903—Ex-President Cleveland spoke in New York in the interest of industrial education in the South. Ninth annual Congress for Combating Alcoholism met at Bremen.

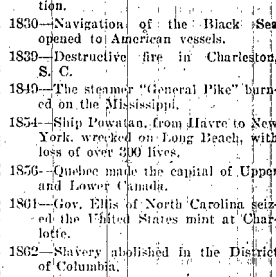

1904—Andrew Carnegie established a fund of $5,000,000 for the reward of those who risk their lives for others. An explosion on the United States battleship Missouri killed twenty-nine men. Fire in Toronto destroyed $10,000,000 worth of property.

1906—Earthquake and fire destroyed a large section of San Francisco.

1907—William J. Bryan declared in favor of the initiative and referendum.

1908—President Roosevelt sent a special message to Congress, advocating the building of four battleships.

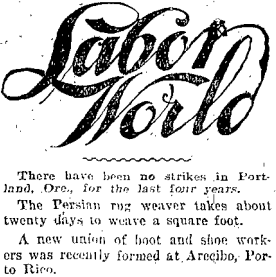

BASEBALL SEASON OPENS.

Flees Fourth Set of Twins. Informed that his wife had given birth to two bounding girls, James D. Jordan, a well-to-do citizen of Carterville, Ga., cried: "This is too much!" packed a valise and fled. This is the fourth set of twins in the Jordan family and the father announced after the third pair came that a fourth set would cause him to leave home.

Bodies Washed from Graves. Several hundred fanatic persons gathered at the entrance to St. John's Cemetery, near Pittsburg, after a water main burst, allowing a flood of water to pour into the cemetery during the night. Many monuments were thrown down. A number of bodies were washed from their graves, and the tombstones over a large area thrown aside by the force of the water. The crowd excitedly demanded admittance to the cemetery to learn if the bodies of friends or relatives had been washed away by the water.

Sheds His Skin Yearly. Gus Kushel, 65 years old, a Colorado miner, is in the St. Louis City Hospital for the annual shedding of his skin. Kushel says that as long as he can remember, he has shed his skin every spring. Kushel is afflicted with a hereditary skin disease known as ichthyosis. Unlike the snake, he does not crawl out of his skin. Every spring his skin from his neck to the soles of his feet peels off in little scales—like those of fish, hence the name of the disorder. The disease is painless and is attended by no internal disorder.

There have been no strikes in Portland, Ore., for the first four years. The Persim rug weaver takes about twenty days to weave a square foot. A new union of boot and shoe workers was recently formed at Arcadio, Porto Rico. Civil servants from all over the Dominion will meet in Ottawa and form a federation. During a recent year the German labor exchanges found situations for 1,250,000 persons. A committee is devising ways and means for building a labor temple in Ft. Worth, Texas. Carpenters at Hot Springs, Ark., have formed a club for the purpose of studying craft problems. The building laborers' international union is said to be assuming a controlling influence in the West. A trades assembly at Greenville, Texas, was organized recently with twenty-one unions of farmers affiliated. Winnipeg (Canada) street car men have presented their demand for a nine-hour day without reduction of pay. Special organizing efforts by the engineers are now under way in Brockton and Salem, Mass., and their vicinities. Freight handlers at Chicago affiliated with the Freight Handlers' International Union, are seeking a nine-hour day with the pay now received for ten hours. A local union of the women employees of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing at Washington, D. C., has been organized with a charter membership of 200. Boston C. L. U. metal trade section, has decided to take steps to see if the laws regarding blowers in metal shops and the foundry sanitary law can not be enforced. The bill prohibiting any school not entitled to do so from wearing a button of a labor union or carrying a union card has passed both houses of the California Legislature. Mayor Hibbard, of Boston, will ask the Legislature to pass a bill providing for the pensioning of all employees who have worked for the city twenty-five years or more. There are no trade unions in Germany composed exclusively of women. Neither are there separate locals for women members as is sometimes the case in the United States. By unanimous vote the Chicago Federation of Labor has endorsed a bill drawn by a special committee for the punishment of bribe-givers and bribe-takers in labor affairs. The International Bakers' Union has asked all subordinate unions to vote on a proposition to establish an international printing office in Chicago, where all work for the affiliated unions will be done. Labor has fared well at the hands of the Kansas Legislature. Eleven laws asked by organized labor were enacted, and a number of bills containing provisions detrimental to labor and opposed by the State Federation's legislative committee were defeated. An effort is to be made in Boston, Mass., to organize the school teachers of the United States and Canada into a union. The object is to extend the scope of the league, obtain higher salaries, pension for the teachers, and national and State aid to education. A one-half mill tax on incomes of $10,000 a year and over and an amendment to this effect was prepared by Senator Bailey. He estimated that it would produce $30,000,000 a year revenue. Senator Daniel walked the streets to favor his proposition, but the cross curdling of corporations at the matter was not acted upon. A conference of the Democratic Senators decided to vote as a unit for amendment to the tariff bill imposing a tax of 3 per cent on incomes of $10,000 a year and over and an amendment to this effect was prepared by Senator Bailey. He estimated that it would produce $30,000,000 a year revenue. Senator Daniel walked the streets to favor his proposition, but the cross curdling of corporations at the matter was not acted upon. For the second time Dakota Wesleyan young women debaters won from the girls of Huron College, when they debated at Mitchell. The Minnesota House of Representatives passed the Allen bill increasing the permanent university tax from .25 mill to one-half mill. A new impetus has been given to the crusade against secret societies by a recent occurrence in Dunkirk, N. Y., where complaints have been filed with the Board of Education alleging cruelties inflicted on three high school boys by fellow members of a secret organization. The initials of the society were burned into the checks of the boys with acid and one at least, it is said, will be disfigured for life. In suspending nine students of Brown University for exhibiting President Panzer's portrait, the great source of wrath in American life is not deliberate resolve to lie. No man consciously chooses falsehood as his mode of success. The real source of the evil is intellectual slovenliness, unwillingness to buckle down to hard work and willingness to take shelter in the first and easiest shelter that offers. Through a memorial presented to the president of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, Andrew Carnegie, its founder, has been asked to revise the list of colleges eligible to the foundation so that some thirty colleges excluded because of denominational control may be included. It is explained that many colleges which are called secular are no longer so in spirit, accepting, as they do, students of any or no denomination. To eliminate the danger of children being kidnapped, the St. Paul school board has ordered principals to investigate every request that the pupil be allowed to leave the building. During the recent convention of the American Physical Education Association at Philadelphia, Director Anderson of the Yale gymnasium advanced the belief from numerous tests that the observer of athletic contests or of strength tests is affected unconsciously but with similarly beneficial results. The muscles and nerves of the observer work in unison with those he is looking at. Dr. C. M. Jordan, superintendent of schools in Minneapolis, says that either eighth grade pupils will spend less money on class and graduation clothes and graduation festivities, or eighth grade graduations will cease in Minneapolis. President Stryker of Hamilton College, at Clinton, N. Y., has announced the gift of $200,000 from Andrew Carnegie as a recognition of the services of Senator Gilman Root in the cause of international peace by means of arbitration treaties negotiated by him. This is to be held by the Root fund, the proceeds of which will be devoted to the salaries of instructors. Postmaster General Hitchcock has approved a rectangular design for a special issue of stamps on June 1, commemorative of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition.

THE BUREAU OF THE CENSUS at Washington reports that the real taxable property of the United States amounts to about fifty-five billion dollars, exempt to six billions. Railroads and their equipment, including street railways, add to our wealth nearly $10 billion more, and nearly another billion and a half comes from telegraph and telephone systems, adding cables and shipping. There is half a billion under the head of electric lights and power stations. Live stock amounts for four billions more, and all sorts of agricultural products, with farm machinery, give us two and a half billions. Manufactured products, added to manufacturing machinery, amount to over ten billions. Coal and sugar, cotton and hessian add another two billions; clothing, two and a half billions; and furniture, with carriages, and that sort of property, sum up nearly six billions more. There, with other similar items, give us a total of one hundred and seven billions to be compared with seven billions in 1850, and about five and a half billions at the close of the war. It would not be altogether pleasant to add to this national showing, if we must, that millions own nearly the whole of it. Mr. Root says there is no reason for believing that this is true. He begins at the other end of the reckoning and shows that the common people have an enormous holding in farm lands and homesteads. In bank deposits and other forms of real and personal property. We hope that the next census will make this point definitely definite.

In a speech on tariff, delivered to the House, Representative C. R. D. of Minnesota, denounced the multimillionaires of his State as one of the methods by which the Northwest had been drained of its resources. He said that he had been a resident of Minnesota, and that he had seen the scene of the greatest business success and that he had seen the woods being cleared, the land being purchased at a price that was almost for the asking, and then the timber demolished and the land left in its place. The only valuable timber of any magnitude now is in the extreme Northwest, and save and except some in the Southern States. Eight years ago his neighbor was the timber center of the continent, and today about the only thing left from that immense forest is a large number of mill chimneys.

FASHION HINTS

Feet are high in favor this season and really there is nothing more practical and satisfactory for a gown that must fit many occasions. The model shown here would be very good for a foulard, either plain or figured. If plain material is used, then the neck and lower sleeves should be in an open work pattern in lace or batiste. If figured silk is used then make the neck and sleeves of net or chiffon cloth.

Nuts and Nuts. The stock argument against votes for women that they could not bear arms in event of war—is not unanswerable. History is explicit concerning women's efficiency as private soldiers, and at least one good regimental officer should be credited to the weaker sex. Caught Three Tons of Moths. An electric light trap to end the caterpillar plague by destroying the brown-moth moths that lay the eggs from which the caterpillars are hatched has been devised and placed in successful operation at Littau, Germany. ABDUL TO HOLD HIS THRONE

Report Agreement Is Concluded with Rebels—Panic in Constantinople and Thousands Flee.

A special dispatch received in London from Athens says that telegrams that have come in there from Mesopotamia for the last 100,000 persons were killed in the anti-Christian rioting of the last few days in the Adana and Tarsus districts, and other thousands fled for safety. Entire villages were razed, and the country is a smoking wilderness. A special dispatch from Constantinople says that a definite agreement between the government and the committee of union and progress has been concluded. Abdul Hamid is to remain as Sultan of Turkey, but the present cabinet will resign.

Religious and anti-European outbreaks from end to end of the empire overshadowed the fight for constitutional freedom with the Byzantine capital as its vortex. Missianian piety in all its fanaticisms has been let loose and cries of "Death to the Franks" have drowned the speeches of the constitutional leaders of the army surrounding Constantinople who are seeking to insure the peaceful abdication of Sultan Abdul Hamid and the establishment of parliamentary rule.

From Delian pass, Alexandretta, Marjib, Marash, Aintab, Mersina, Adana and Tarsus come shocking reports of fresh outrages in which Christians and Armenians have paid the toll by thousands of lives. In Monastir 1,500 Albanians revolted, terrorizing the district and killing their colored and a large number of Young Turk officers, as well as the mayor. Advances from Uskup, 100 miles from Salonica, say that the rising has spread throughout the whole of Northern Macedonia. Eight thousand armed Albanians have overpowered the small bodies of troops remaining in the country, and Christian families are fleeing. Crowds are taking refuge in the Greek and Servian consulates.

The adjustment of the Sultan's status with the Constitutionalists is now a matter of secondary importance. Working in secret, families of a new party, the party of religious zealots, have circulated among the troops and the sailors of the fleet and poisoned their minds both against their leaders and the Sultan.

NINE KILLED IN OHIO STORM

Six Fatally Injured and Property Losses Over $1,000,000.

Nine persons were killed, six fatally and, at least fifty sustained injuries and property valued at more than $1,000,000 was destroyed in a gale which swept through Cleveland and northern Ohio Wednesday. Fred Grugel committed suicide during the height of the storm because he was afraid he was about to be killed. He rushed into a barn out of the rain and drank carbolic acid. He left a note explaining his action. Rods were lifted off houses, walls hurried down, strongly brewed smoke sticks picked up and chimneys demolished. Porches were stripped off residences and small buildings were carried away. The largest single injury that was done will be to St. Stanislaus' Church, East Sixty-fifth street and Forman avenue in Cleveland. The wind practically demolished the structure. The loss is estimated at $125,000.

DEMAND $6,000 OR WILL KILL

Members of a Gang Terrorize Minnesota Farmer with Grave Threats.

Six young men have been arrested in Preston, Minn., in suspicion of threatening murder and kidnaping. Their names are kept secret until others believed to belong to the same gang are gathered in. Emil Dreckman, a farmer, is the complainant. He says he recently received a letter demanding $6,000 in cash and when he ignored it a second note warned him to hurry with the payment. Later his house was surrounded one night by a crowd of fifteen men and boys who fired shots and shouted threats. Promising to kill any who invaded his home, he held the gang at bay until daylight, when all left. A dog's dynamite was found on his porch and in the evening it did not pay, his little boy would be stolen or himself killed. The investigation and arrests followed.

PITTSBURG FACING CAR STRIKE

Employees Decide to Walk Out Unless Company Grants Concessions.

By a vote of 2,388 to 125, the employees of the Pittsburgh Railways Company have decided to strike unless the company makes concessions. The company's offer to renew the last year's contract was rejected. The company refused to grant the advance in wages demanded by the men and the vote to strike was taken. The company says it will put on new men if the old men quit work. Thousands of applications for employment have been received. President W. D. Mahon of Detroit, head of the national railway employees' organization, is reported to be on his way to advise with the men.

WILL BUILD $2,000,000 CANAL

Private Capital to Dig Extension to the U. S. Irrigation Channel.

Through the filing in Grand Junction, Col., of a plan for an extension to the government high line canal to be built by private capital the first public indication was given of a project second only in importance to the government project itself. The canal will cost $2,000,000 and will reclaim 250,000 acres of land.

Beginning at the lower end of the government canal the extension will run 100 miles into Utah to a point in a canyon where a reservoir five miles in length will be built.

Some of the dairymen were disposed to resent the hue and cry raised about dirty dairying, thinking that the makers of substitutes for dairy products were at the bottom of it all. If prices are an indication of the demand for dairy products the dairymen has no cause to worry.

The milk goat industry is occupying considerable attention in the East. Seventy-seven goats have been accepted for registration by the American Milch Goat Association during the year. One hundred and eighty-seven are now on record. Any goat yielding one quart or more of milk a day is eligible.

Ohio has a stringent law in reference to the sale of milk products. It prohibits the sale of milk under the following conditions: 1. From cows fed on unwholesome feed. 2. From cows fed on wet distillery or starch waste. 3. From diseased or sick cows. 4. From cows kept in a place that is unclean or in an insanitary condition. 5. From cows kept in a cramped or unhealthy condition. 6. When water or other foreign substance has been added. 7. When it is impure, impure, unhealthy or unwholesome.

Fowls Take Cold Easily. On cold nights the fowls roost closely together and in this way keep warm. Should they crowd on the roost they are apt to sweat and in the morning when they get down on the floor of the pen are apt to feel chilly on account of the difference in temperature. If, however, there is litter on the floor and the night before grain was thrown among the litter it will not take the fowls long to understand that by scratching they will not only keep warmer, but there is a strong possibility of finding something to eat. Hens are not as dumb as they look.

The Horse Will Stay. The horse was going to be driven out by assistance by the locomotive, but instead thereof he multiplied exceedingly and increased in value, although his iron substitute was tearing all over the country in every direction. Then he was to be reduced to innocuous desuetude by the trolley car, and after that by the automobile. But the Department of Agriculture reports that in eleven years the number of horses in this country has increased from under fourteen to more than twenty millions, the aggregate farm value of them has advanced from less than half a billion to very nearly one billion, and the average value of the animal has advanced nearly three-fold, from $24.29 in 1868 to $65.64 in 1900. Perhaps some of our thund manufacturers who are in a panic lest they should be crushed if they were exposed to a little competition may take encouragement from the prosperity of the horse.—Exchange.

Care of Poultry. The farmer must keep his poultry under the same conditions the poultryman does his, if he wishes to profit by the work and build up a reputation for reliable goods. Instead of the fowls having unlimited range, they should be confined to generous-sized runs—100 feet in length and as broad as the width of the house—and these pens must not be overcrowded. The farmer should build houses that will enable him to readily ventilate (use, for instance, the scratching shed house) and the manure should be gathered at least once a week. Nothing but the purest grains and meat scraps and green stuff should be fed. The eggs should be gathered one or more times a day, according to the condition of the weather. And no eggs should be held longer than one week; the enterprising poultryman ships twice a week.

An egg should never be sent to market unless its condition and age are known to the shipper and can be guaranteed. Under no circumstances should eggs found in the "hidden nest" be allowed to be palmed off on the innocent buyer.

WHAT COLORS SHALL I USE?

This question is important in painting a house or other building. A proper color scheme is extremely important in painting a house. It makes all the difference between a really attractive home and one at which you wouldn't take a second glance. And it makes a big difference in the price the property will bring on the market.

As to the exterior, a good deal depends upon the size and architecture of the house, and upon its surroundings. For a good interior effect you must consider the size of the rooms, the light, etc.

You can avoid disappointment by studying the books of color schemes for both exterior and interior painting, which can be had free by writing National Lead Company, 1902 Trinity Building, New York, and asking for Houseowner's Painting Unit No. 40. The outfit also includes specifications and a simple instrument for testing the purity of paint materials. Pure White Lead which will stand the test in this outfit will stand the weather test. National Lead Company's famous Dutch Boy Painter trademark on the keg is a guarantee of that kind of white lead.

Beautiful Glass Garments. Spinning glass for practical uses was very well known by the ancient Egyptians, and we are now rediscovering it. Spun glass has long been known as a curiosity. A Frenchman in the middle of the last century developed the process along commercial lines, but died without revealing his secrets. These seem, however, to have been recently re-discovered in Germany.

Glass thus drawn out into very thin threads is flexible and it is thought it will be possible to spin and weave it into clothes. These garments would be incombustible, non-conducting and impervious to acids. It has been beautifully tinted by using tinted glass. The insulating properties of the glass wool would render it valuable as packing where it is desirable to keep in or exclude heat. In this case we should be resorting to the mineral kingdom for our clothing, though as yet we have not these asbestos garments which could be washed by throwing them on the fire.

WISHED FOR DEATH. Suffering from Kidney Trouble Were So Acute.

Mrs. Josephine Jeffrey, 24th and Washington Sts., Marion, Ind., says: "To look back upon what I have gone through, it seems a miracle that I live, and I feel that I owe it to Doan's Kidney Pills. My case developed gradually. First backache, floating spots before my eyes, weakness and exhaustion, then a terrible steady pain over the kidneys and an extreme nervousness. Doctors finally said there was no hope for me, but I began using Doan's Kidney Pills and gradually recovered my health."

Greely Doubted Lincoln. President Lincoln, having been often and severely arraigned in the New York Tribune for what Mr. Greely considered his slowness in prosecuting the war, had said: "If he (Greely) objects to my policy, I shall be glad to have him state to me his views frankly and fully. I shall adopt his if I can. If I cannot, I will at least tell him why. He and I should stand together."

"If I were to go," said Greely when the words were repeated to him, "I would simply twist me around his fingers, as he always does."

"Lincoln's subtle would will me in half a minute," he said on another occasion when again urged to see the President and have a talk with him. "He is a wonderful man—wonderful! I never can harbor a thought against him except when I keep away from him."

Western Canada's Happy Prospects. In no year since the development of Western Canada began has spring brought a brighter outlook than it brings this year. In no preceding spring has there been greater assurance of advancing development and prosperity. The movement of immigration has already assumed large proportions and is as desirable in character as it is satisfactory in volume; from across the Atlantic sturdy, industrious and thrifty newcomers are arriving in large numbers, homeseekers from Ontario and the other older provinces are coming in a steady stream, and from across the international boundary a movement is already in full flow which, it is confidently predicted, will beat the records of all previous years; special settlers' trains are crossing the line, loaded with effects, actual material wealth being thus brought into the country at the rate of millions of dollars' worth monthly.

The movement is so unprecedentedly large that extra Dominion immigration officials have had to be provided at both North Portal and at Emerson, and it is estimated that the total number of new settlers from the United States this year will be 70,000 at least, and may run well up toward 100,000. Last year's total of new settlers from the South was 53,723; thus the area that will be placed in wheat and other grains this year will greatly exceed that of last year. Settlers are making extraordinary efforts to get on their hands and begin seeding operations. The price of wheat now, away above the dollar mark, is incentive enough, and when one has in view the splendid results that the past few years have shown, it is not to be wondered at that the present will be the banner year for immigration to Canada. Ask your nearest Canadian government agent for rates of transportation, and he will also send you illustrated pamphlets.

The Smooth Way. In the last generation Tyler Cobb, Esq., was a well known citizen of North Bridgewater—now Brockton—Massachusetts. He was famous throughout Plymouth County, says a contributor to the Boston Herald, for his witty retorts and dry humor.

Never having taken a sea trip, Mr. Cobb one day conceived the idea of making a voyage to New York. Accordingly he sailed from Boston in a small schooner.

The first day out a storm was encountered and Mr. Cobb became violently sick, but after several hours he mustered up courage and strength to look out upon the troubled waters.

As he looked from the side of the little ship up the trough of the sea, it seemed very smooth to him. The captain's cutting of the waves was "senseless," he told himself.

But as this mad steering continued, the unhappy passenger finally crawled out on hand and knees to where the captain stood at the wheel, and raising his voice above the din of waves and wind shouted:

"Man, man, keep in the ruts, keep in the ruts, (sl) cut away cut away in the ruts!"

CURED ITCHING HUMOR. Big, Painful Swellings Broke and Did Not Heal—Suffered Three Years—Tortures Yield to Cuticura.

"Little black swellings were scattered over my face and neck and they would leave little black scars that would itch so I couldn't keep from scratching them. Larger swellings would appear and my clothes would stick to the sores. I went to a doctor, but the trouble only got worse. By this time it was all over my arms and the upper part of my body in swellings as large as a dollar. It was so painful that I could not bear to be on my back. The second doctor stopped the swellings, but when they broke the places would not heal. I bought a set of the Cuticura Remedies and it was less than a week some of the places were nearly well. I continued until I had used three sets, and now I am sound and well. The disease lasted thirty years. O. L. Wilson, Furber, Tenn., Feb. 8, 1908."

Arrangements of Wealth. "What's them apples worth?" asked the farmer, stopping in front of a fruit stand.

"In that pile?" said the proprietor of the stand. "Five cents apiece."

"So, well, I guess I'll eat about a dime's worth."

Thereupon he took two big red apples out of a capacious pocket in his overcoat and stroled on, placidly munching one of them.—Chicago Tribune.

The Experienced Swine. The crowd around the postoffice stove, after exhausting the possibilities of politics, local and national, had been discussing the alleged lack of the truth-telling instinct in Old Man Stampkin. Uncle Ezra came in, and Mr. Peters said:

"What do you think about it, Uncle Ezra—would you call Old Man Stampkin a liar?"

"Well," answered Uncle Ezra, "as he has thoughtfully studied the setting, I wouldn't go so far as to call the old man a liar, but I do know it to be a fact that when feedin' time comes to get any response he has to hear somebody else call his boss' fur him."

DOCTOR ADVISED OPERATION

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Paw Paw, Mich. "I suffered terribly from female troubles, including inflammation and congestion, for several years. My doctor said there was no hope for me but an operation. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I can now say I am well woman."

ANOTHER OPERATION AVOIDED. Chicago, Ill. "I was advised to know what that wonderful medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, has done for me. Two of the best doctors in Chicago said I would die if I did not have an operation and I never thought of getting a well day again. I had small tumors and made troubles so that I suffered day and night. A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I bought a well woman—Mrs. A. W. C. LINDSAY, 111 Langdon St., Chicago, Ill.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has proved to be the most successful remedy for curing the worst forms of female troubles, including displacements, inflammation, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pain, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result has been worth millions to many suffering women.

The House of Kuppenheimer
Chicago

MEN who place their confidence in our clothes should know the truth about them. We haven't a single garment in this store that we would hesitate to truthfully describe to you. Kuppenheimer clothes are all wool, all of them. Cotton is a cheat and should not be found in good clothes. We have some clothes in this store that contain cotton but we sell them at cotton prices and keep them only because there's a certain trade that demands them.

The cloth in Kuppenheimer clothes is thoroughly shrunk, the canvas and hair cloth are of the very best quality, and the garments are sewed throughout with silk. You cannot buy better clothes than these. Men who pay $60 and $70 for clothes appreciate the quality they find in these clothes at $20 and $25.

You will make a great mistake this season if you buy clothes and do not investigate the Kuppenheimer make. They are the clothes you really ought to wear. They give you more service, more style, more satisfaction generally for every dollar invested than any clothing you can buy.

Come see them. We'll leave it to you to decide.

J. H. KATE.

HEALTH
Every part of the work on Kuppenheimer garments is done in their own shops, under most careful supervision and the best sanitary conditions possible.

IMPORTANCE OF DRAINAGE

Thoughtful Paper Sent Out by United States Office of Public Roads

With an average of 27,000 tons of water falling in the form of rain on each mile of public road in the United States annually, it is scarcely to be marveled at that the ten commandments of the road builder can be summed up succinctly in the word "drainage."

The saying has truth for a basis, as good drainage is the primary requisite for all roads. Even in sand roads this holds true, for there "good drainage" means such as will safely remove the storm water without erosion or gullying and still retain the surface moisture.

To secure good drainage one must take into consideration both the surface water and the underground water. The surface water must be removed quickly and completely and without subjecting the road to excessive scour or erosion. For this reason, the center of the road must be raised and the slope toward the side ditches should be from one-half to one inch to each foot distance, or so that the water will run freely to the side ditches and not flow down the road or remain in puddles on the roadway. The side ditches should be of ample size to care for the severest storms with a fall of not less than six inches to each 100 feet. Frequent and ample cross drains should be constructed and every opportunity taken to get the water away from the road as quickly as possible. Any road along which you see water standing in the side ditches or on which puddles of water have collected or which has been badly gullied and eroded by the rains has poor drainage and is in need of immediate attention. In fact, earth roads nearly always require a little attention after each rain. The split-log drag is essentially a tool to maintain good drainage on our earth roads, and should be used after each rain. On a heavy clay or gumbo soil the drag when properly used tends to puddle the road surface, keep it free from ruts, dense, smooth and hard, thus securing the best surface drainage possible.

But in many places the underground water is too near the surface and must be removed before a good road will be possible. This means that some form of sub-drainage must be resorted to, usually tile drains, or clay or concrete. Water from whatever source must be gotten rid of effectively, for water plus clay or gumbo invariably equals mud when mixed in spring and summer. Water in freezing winters expands one-eighth its volume, the road heaves out of shape and when the ice melts the road disappears beneath the rising tide of mud, constantly fed by rains, melting snows and underground springs.

In seepy and boggy places the sub-drainage, in order to be fully effective, should lower the water level to not less than three feet below the road surface.

If tiles are used they should be carefully laid, true to grade. Most failures in tile drainage can be attributed to carelessness in laying, or too flat grade. Tile less than four inches in diameter should rarely be used, nor should a grade of less than six inches to the 100 feet be used unless absolutely necessary. In a very dense soil, it is always advisable to cover the tile to at least a depth of 6 to 12 inches with coarse sand or fine gravel. Care should always be taken to secure a free outlet for the drains and to protect the outlet with a concrete bulkhead or catchbasin, which can always be kept clean and the outlet free.

The kind of tile to be used depends on local conditions. Concrete tile if properly made, are equally as good as clay tile. Which kind to use is entirely a local question of dollars and cents. If concrete tile can be made more cheaply than clay tile can be had, use concrete; if not, use clay tile.

One great advantage of the concrete tile is that they can be easily made by the local users at or near the place where they are to be placed, so that the freight charges are dispensed with as well as the large breakage losses due to handling. Placed in the ground, both are durable. If concrete is used, great care should be taken to see that a good grade of Portland cement is selected, and that the drains are properly constructed. The impression, which prevails to some extent, that tile disintegrates is erroneous.

A bulletin is now in course of preparation by the United States Office of Public Roads, telling how to make concrete drains. This bulletin will treat the subject fully, explaining carefully every point that may arise in making drain pipes and culverts.

Stricken On the Train

Ammi Lewis, an old soldier, who had been in the Soldier's Home at Grand Island, was stricken with a stroke of paralysis Wednesday forenoon, while on a train between Columbus and Norfolk. He was coming to Wayne to visit his son, John A. Lewis, who resides in east part of town. Ted Perry, who chanced to be on the train and knew Mr. Lewis, acted the part of the good Samaritan and assisted the aged gentleman to make the transfer at Norfolk, and, on arrival here, secured a team and took him out to his son's home. This is the second stroke he has suffered, and, owing to his advanced age, fears are entertained as to the outcome. Mr. Lewis served his country faithfully during the civil war.

Pleasant Affair

On Monday evening of this week Wayne Chapter 194, O. E. S. entertained their husbands and the members of Wayne Lodge No. 120, Ancient Free and Accepted Masons and their wives. Floral drill was presented, which in beauty and execution has never been equaled in Wayne. Those taking part in the drill were: Misses Nettie Craven, Rebe Nangle, Messrs J. E. Marsteller, Dr. Naffzieger, H. B. Craven, F. L. Neely, A. R. Davis, P. H. Kohl, A. A. Welch and J. G. Mines. They wore dainty white dresses, each carrying an American Beauty rose resting on the left shoulder, with trailing stems. The precision and accuracy with which the drill was executed showed much hard work and care. Mrs. Ed A. Johnson presided at the piano. A duet, "Ruth and Naomi," rendered by Mrs. D. C. Main and Mrs. Ed A. Johnson was much enjoyed, as was also a vocal solo by Mrs. George Wilbur. A two-course luncheon was served, 120 covers being laid, by twelve ladies of the Order. There was fine music by the orchestra and the whole affair was one of the very pleasantest and most enjoyable gatherings of the entire season.

NORMAL NOTES

A number of new students enrolled Monday for the remainder of the year. Among the number who have been here before were: Miss Nellie Whaley, Mr. Louis Podany and Miss Bess Jay.

Dr. C. H. Taylor, of Yankton, South Dakota, an old time friend of Prof. J. M. Pile, called at the College one day last week.

Mr. George Newton, a Bostonian, was a visitor on the Hill recently. A certain young lady is very reticent as to his intentions, but we guess

Miss Ora F. Dugger, who was at the head of the Model School for two years, writes that she has purchased the relinquishment of a well improved Kinkaid homestead and, together with her father and mother, will reside on it.

Robert Elliot, whom Wayne people remember so well, has been elected principal of the Junior Normal at Broken Bow. Robert will be superintendent of the schools there the coming year. This is a great promotion for a well deserving young man.

The faculty are now at work on the Commencement program. The largest class in the history of the school will graduate this year, which is most gratifying to the present management. The Commencement exercises will be carried out as planned by Prof. J. M. Pile.

Miss Charlotte M. White spent a day with us this last week. Miss White recently fell and broke her left arm but despite this accident, she is the same cheery individual we have always known her to be. She is a rare woman, and one whose friends are legion.

Prof. Bright gave a most interesting talk on Switzerland Saturday at one o'clock. This week Mrs. Pile will give the one o'clock lecture on "Paris." Talks of this nature are most entertaining and instructive. We believe much more so for the fact that these parties have visited these places and their descriptions are more vivid, being given from personal observations.

Scotts Bluff Country

UP THE
FAMOUS NORTH PLATTE VALLEY OF NEBRASKA

Best Irrigated Lands in the West

Thirty thousand acres fertile land in a splendid climate, watered by one of the biggest irrigation systems in the country. No Nebraska land of equal area will support more families.

Men from the Greeley district of the South Platte country say the advantages of the North Platte are superior and the prices are from one-fourth to one-third. Read again! Think!

April 21 to May 4 we begin the sale of the famous Tri-State land at Scotts Bluffs, Nebraska, said to be the finest single body of irrigated land in the United States, embracing 30,000 acres, of which 10,000 will be sold immediately.

This land is owned by the Tri-State Land company, of which E. A. Cudahy is president, and is under the Great Tri-State Canal, one of the largest systems of irrigation in the west, constructed at a cost of $2,000,000. Six four-horse teams, 24 horses, can stand abreast across the bottom of the canal, which for the first few miles is ninety feet wide on the bottom. It is half as large again as the immense government Pathfinder canal. Its headgates, dams, intakes, wasteways and drops are wholly constructed of steel and reinforced concrete. Its every part represents the highest achievement of modern engineering, skill and workmanship.

The Tri-State Land Co. has practically the first water right out of the North Platte river, and for an immense amount of water. When it is also remembered that the South Platte waters all the irrigated land at Fort Collins, Greeley, Fort Morgan, Brush, Sterling and Julesburg, and supplies only one-fourth as much water as the North Platte, the sufficiency of water under the Tri-

State canal can never be questioned. It is this fact that is bringing so many of the Greeley, Fort Collins and Fort Morgan farmers to the Scotts Bluff country, who all declare its land and water equal to or superior to anything in Colorado, while the prices are only a fraction of the Colorado prices. This magnificent body of land at Scotts Bluff represents the best there is in irrigated land. The two big canals, the government and the Tri-state represent a combined cost of nearly $4,000,000, which is an evidence of the value of the lands.

Speaking of Irrigated Land, just remember:

First—Irrigated land produces the maximum EVERY year. Your eastern Nebraska and western Iowa land NEVER produces the maximum because even if you get just enough rain at the right time for one crop it would destroy part of another.

Second—On your eastern land you raise 40 bushels of corn on an average at 40 cents per bushel, at a cost of $3.00, leaving you $8.00 clear profit. We will take you to many men at Scotts Bluffs who raised 250 to 400 bushels of potatoes per acre and sold them at 40 cents, this year considerably higher than that; 15 to 25 tons of beets at $4.50 to $5.00; 4 to 5 tons of alfalfa at $8.00 per ton; 100 bushels of oats at 40 cents per bushel.

Third—It is a singular thing that while the majority of farmers who buy irrigated land know nothing of irrigation, you can never interest an irrigation farmer in any other kind of land. He doesn't have to understand all about irrigation to succeed. The ditch rider knows and the farmer soon knows.

Fourth—While your Eastern Nebraska land will go on up to $150 per acre, it may then stop, or it may go back to $50 or $75, like the same land did in Pennsylvania, Ohio and New York. But your irrigated land, increasing its fertility and producing power each succeeding year, will do like the other irrigated land in this country and Europe—go on up to $200, $300, $400 and $500 per acre, and will not only "keep you," but will make you rich.

This land has so perfectly that a flat price of $70.00 per acre has been fixed on all unencultivated land and $80.00 upon cultivated land; hence the first excursionists have the choice of the entire tract. Our first excursion on Tuesday, April 27, will be made especially attractive, and each agent is limited to two buyers. A regular excursion will be run every two weeks.

One price to all—$70.00 per acre for uncultivated, $80.00 for cultivated. First come, first served; no favorites.

Irrigated Lands advance steadily to $300 and $500 per acre; they never go back. Think once more! Act!

TERMS: One-fifth cash, balance in nine annual payments commencing at the end of the second year, 6 per cent. interest. The profits annually from the crops on this land will more than pay the deferred payments and interest.

Simon of Winside, stands an excellent show of being the next grand chancellor of Nebraska. His friends are confident that enough support has been assured him to make his election certain. A number went down from here in an automobile and had a good time.

able lot as they were brought here in less than a dozen trunks. We judge from notices in our exchanges that these are the same men who have been hawking their goods about the state from one point to another. That class of goods is never a money saver to the investor. Besides your home merchants, the men who stand by your community, the men who help pay the taxes, the men whose money helps improve the town and surrounding country, are the ones who should receive your patronage. Keep your money in circulation at home rather than give it to some traveling men who are here today and gone tomorrow and have no interest in you or your community except to take out from your pockets as many dollars as they can in exchange for a class of goods below that which you can buy in the stores here every day in the year, except Sunday.

After a short visit to Gregory and Herrick, South Dakota, the young couple will make their future home on a farm seven miles northwest of Wisner, where we bespeak for them a successful career.

A so-called wrecking company opens up a stock of goods in a building on Main street today. They claim to have $25,000 worth of goods. If so they must be a valuable lot as they were brought here in less than a dozen trunks. We judge from notices in our exchanges that these are the same men who have been hawking their goods about the state from one point to another. That class of goods is never a money saver to the investor. Besides your home merchants, the men who stand by your community, the men who help pay the taxes, the men whose money helps improve the town and surrounding country, are the ones who should receive your patronage. Keep your money in circulation at home rather than give it to some traveling men who are here today and gone tomorrow and have no interest in you or your community except to take out from your pockets as many dollars as they can in exchange for a class of goods below that which you can buy in the stores here every day in the year, except Sunday.

J. H. Kate has a fine brood of little chicks at the Incubator factory—100 of them, a new breed too, the Columbia Wyandotte's. They are a handsome bunch and John says that they are worth $50 to him now.

By the council proceedings in another column it will be seen that Saturday, May 8th, is to be a cleaning up day in Wayne. Whistles will be blown and bells rung as a reminder for everyone to get out and hustle.

Some of the ladies at Winside and Carroll have a new way of making pocket money. They buy one or two of the X-Ray Incubators, which are no trouble to operate and then sell all the little chicks they can hatch at 25 cents each.

John Hirschman, of Hartington, was in our town Wednesday with samples of sand and gravel from his pits at that place. Some of our dealers are handling his materials and he was seeking interested others. He had the genuine article all right and an inexhaustible supply.

Dr. Will R. O'Neal now has the right to write Assistant State Veterinarian on his letters if he desires to do so, he having been appointed one of the state assistants. It is only a partial recognition of his work in that line, but he is too busy every day to put on any airs over this honor worthily bestowed upon him.

Wayne is now the highest licensed saloon town in the state. The new ordinance which goes into effect on May 4th, not only provides for day light closing—from 7 in the morning until 8 in the evening being the hours in which saloons may be opened—but raises the license to $2150 per year, an increase of $500 over the amount anyone has heretofore had to pay for that line of business in Wayne.

Mrs. A. E. Gildersleeve, who has been in the hospital at Sioux City for three weeks past, where she underwent an operation, has made rapid recovery. Her husband went over there Wednesday morning and expected to accompany her home last evening or today. Her many friends are glad to learn of the good fortune that has attended her, and that the recovery will be permanent.

PEACE IN COAL MINES

Operators and Workers Practically Agree on New Contract.

Peace in the anthracite coal region is assured for another three years.

President Thomas L. Lewis, of the United Mine Workers of America, who with the three district presidents had been in conference with a subcommittee of the operators in Philadelphia for two days, made a positive announcement Thursday night that a new working agreement would be signed before the end of the next week.

The new agreement will be based upon a proposition which was submitted by the operators, and which, in the opinion of Mr. Lewis and his colleagues, contains a number of important concessions.

An Auction Bargain

As he entered Lufkin's store at Hard-back Corner, Uncle 'Blah' Neale paused before a larger poster, which he recognized as something new among the advertisements and notices that adorned the drug wall.

"Uncle 'Blah' is going to be sold," said the whispered prophecy of a young man conspicuous among his fellows by his knowing look and his gandy red necktie.

"It's curious," the old man began, as he accepted a seat on a tall keg, "what an attraction an auction always has for the majority of folks."

"Well, that was the time Cap'n Sam Owen's household goods were auctioned off, about three years before I moved down here from Poodeuk."

"There was quite a crowd at the auction, and the bidding was bidding brisk. Of course some things went for little or nothing, and then again others fetched full all they were worth."

"Well, I was the cap'n's niece, and had kept house for him ever since he buried his wife. Or, rather, she was his wife's niece; but the old cap'n thought a lot of her, and everybody else did, for that matter."

COMMERCIAL AND FINANCIAL

Trade is stimulated by the more seasonable weather, and there is notable reduction of idle hands in the spread of industrial and farming activities.

Confidence in the business outlook is reflected in a larger investment in bonds, stocks, and improvements. Agricultural advances show more agreement as to extending acreage, there being much breaking of soil for the first time in the Northwest, where new settlements multiply rapidly.

Implement factories have increased outputs and there is wider absorption of wagons and hardware. Lumber receipts exhibit considerable gain, and the mills remain well employed, but shipments of various woods to Western points steadily grow, and building needs draw heavily upon planing mill outputs and quarry products.

Failures reported in the Chicago district number 32, against 21 last week, 34 in 1908 and 19 in 1907. Those with liabilities over $5,000 number 8, against 5 last week, 10 in 1908 and 7 in 1907.

Trade conditions are without much change, and irregularity is still the leading feature in business and industrial lines. Results of spring business are as a whole disappointing.

Business failures in the United States for the week ending April 22 were 247, against 201 last week, 254 in the like week of 1908, 157 in 1907, 177 in 1906 and 193 in 1905.

Chicago—Cattle, common to prime, $4.00 to $7.00; hogs, prime heavy, $4.50 to $7.47; sheep, fair to choice, $3.00 to $6.40; wheat, No. 2, $1.35 to $1.28; corn, No. 2, 60c to 71c; oats, standard, 50c to 51c; rye, No. 2, 84c to 81c; hay, timothy, $8.00 to $12.00; sugar, No. 2, $12.50; butter, 1 lb., 22c; potatoes, 25c to 28c; eggs, fresh, 17c to 22c; potatoes, per bushel, $1.00 to $1.10.

GOEBEL CASE ENDED; PARDONS FOR EXILES

Former Governor Taylor and Secretary Finley Freed of All Charges.

Only Those Who Turned State's Evidence and Youtsey Now in Prison, Under Cloud.

Governor A. E. Wilson has issued pardons for every one—except those who turned state's evidence—charged with conspiring in connection with the assassination of Senator William Goebel nine years ago.

It is Governor Wilson's opinion that there was no conspiracy. He asserts that he believes that Youtsey committed the murder unassisted and alone.

Following the election, which showed that Taylor had received a majority of about 3,500 in the vote of the returns, Goebel and his associates on the regular Democratic ticket filed contests.

The assassination of Senator Goebel in front of the state house on Jan. 30, the shot being fired, as afterward conceded in various trials, from the office of Cate Powers, the Secretary of State, and adjoining the reception room of the executive offices.

For days following the shooting the capital was in charge of troops called out by Governor Taylor. The Democratic majority in the Legislature declared Senator Goebel Governor, and he was sworn in practically on his deathbed.

Among the more prominent men indicted were former Governor William S. Taylor, former Secretary of State Cate Powers, his brother, John Powers, Charles Finley, another former Secretary of State; William Cullton, James B. Howard and Youtsey.

Those whom the Governor did not pardon are William Golden of Knox County, now said to be in Colorado; Frank Cecil of Bell County, now working as a railroad detective in St. Louis; and William H. Conlton, of Owsley County, who is said to have died out West several years ago.

Three Persons Are Drugged. The captain of a canoe in Madison county, Danvers, Mass., Victor Dargis, automobile editor of the Boston Traveler, and Mrs. Ernest Norris, wife of the cashier of the Merchants' National Bank in Boston and her infant son were drugged. Mr. Norton was rescued.

NIGHT RIDERS' CASES.

Twenty-two Men to Be Tried for Capt. Rankin's Murder.

This week the cases of the Night Riders, convicted of the lynching of Captain Quentin R. Rankin last October, are before the Tennessee Supreme Court. Of the eight men convicted, six were sentenced to be hanged, while two received sentences of life imprisonment. Appeals to the Supreme Court were taken in all the cases and Attorney General D. J. Caldwell is now busy opposing the efforts to secure new trials.

The disposition of these eight cases will not end the legal proceedings over the sensational and cold-blooded murder of Captain Rankin. Twenty-two other men are under indictment for the same offense and it is expected that their trials will soon open. Practically the same evidence will be used against them as in the cases of those who are now under sentence.

The murder of Capt. Rankin thoroughly aroused the State and led to a determined effort to end the reign of lawlessness of which it was the most sensational development. Capt. Rankin and his friend, Judge Zachary Taylor, organized the Western Tennessee Land Company, which purchased the bulk of the land bordering on Reelfoot Lake, a little body of water noted for its fish and game.

It is Governor Wilson's opinion that there was no conspiracy. He asserts that he believes that Youtsey committed the murder unassisted and alone.

At a County Court, held at the County Court Room, in and for said County of Wayne, on the 8th day of April, 1909.
Present, E. Hunter, County Judge.
In the matter of the estate of J. M. Pile, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of Ella J. Pile, widow, praying that the instrument filed on the 8th day of April, 1909, and purporting to be the last Will and Testament of said deceased, may be proved approved, probated, allowed and recorded as the last Will and Testament of said J. M. Pile, deceased, and that the execution of said instrument may be committed and that the administration of said Estate may be granted to Henry Ley as Executor;
Ordered, That May 1, A. D., 1909, at 9 o'clock a. m., is assigned for hearing said petition, when all persons interested in said matter may appear at a County Court to be held in and for said county, and show cause why the prayer of the petitioner should not be granted; and that notice of the pendency of said petition and the hearing thereof be given to all persons interested in said matter by publishing a copy of this order in the Wayne Herald, a weekly newspaper printed in said county, for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing.
