High School Graduation

A very important epoch in the lives of nine of our young people will occur on next Thursday and Friday evenings at the Wayne opera house, it being the graduation exercises from our high school. This is the last class that will go out from under the old white building and also the last one under the direction of Prof. E. P. Wilson. The class is composed of Ben H. McEachen, Bessie Marsteller, Ruby M. Hughes, Richard Forbes, Charlotte Ziegler, Bessie M. Trevett, Charles S. Nicholas, Mattie E. Relyea, and Marguerite Mae Forbes—six young ladies and three gentlemen, all as good as any who have heretofore passed out of the portals for once and all of Wayne's temple of learning. The class colors are, pink and white; the class flower, pink carnation; and the class motto, "A posse ad esse."

PLAY--"The Princess."

How to Make Wayne Beautiful

No. 11, Euclid Young, 7th Grade (Ward Building)

In order to beautify Wayne we must first make a study of our city and its present conditions. We must hunt out its weak points and try to improve them. It might also be a help to look at other places and see how they have been beautified.

One thing that makes picturesque England so beautiful is its graceful climbing vines and its well trimmed hedges. Even an old building, when covered with rich clusters of fragrant roses, is much to be admired. Choice shrubbery or the old-fashioned holly-hocks arranged artistically around the old out-buildings and fences would be a great help towards covering the weak points of the back alleys.

There isn't much encouragement in clearing the old tin-cans and other old truck, which, when partly filled with water breed mosquitos and disease germs, out of the alleys when they are all grown up to weeds. Let us take the thought of the Japanese. They have found that wherever a weed will grow there a pretty flower will grow. Their country now is called "The Flowery Kingdom." Some missionaries of Japan say that they never have seen a weed growing there.

Well kept lawns add beauty to any town. Wayne has some nice lawns, but others are open for improvements.

Choice ornamental vines on the houses will attract the attention of many.

If a stranger were to come into our town he would notice the streets first, therefore we must look well to our streets. If he were to come in on the train about the first thing that would meet his gaze would be the foul-smelling saloons and the slouchy crowd that is always gathered about them. These things should be removed.

It would be a good plan for every storekeeper to look and see if his buildings were disfigured by any ugly signs. A fresh coat of paint would improve many of the buildings.

A thriving city of Nebraska has a fine plan for the planting of trees. All of the trees of each street are of the same variety, as a street bordered with ash trees, another with maple trees, etc.

Speaking of this makes me think of the park. Every care and attention should be given towards the growth of the park. After awhile seats and swings could be placed in it. A fountain and beautiful flowers would also add to its beauty.

A great improvement could be made along the line of sidewalks. A new cement walk should be put in south of the College. If every place where there is no sidewalk would be filled in with good solid cement it would be an extra good plan.

After all the people of the town are of more importance. Every one should create a cheerful, kind, gentle spirit. Even a homely face when lit up with a bright smile is beautiful.

Prizes Awarded.

The prizes for school essays on How to Make Wayne Beautiful are awarded as follows:

- 2nd Grade, Ward—Louise Schroer, Charlie House.
- 2nd Grade, High—Elouise Miner, Emmett Dewey.
- 3rd Grade, Ward—Gladys Whitney, Claire Brown.
- 3rd Grade, High—Helen Main, Ben Peterson.
- 4th Grade, Ward—Izetta Johnson, Marian Grothe.
- 4th Grade, High—Vivian Johnson, Frances Moran.
- 5th Grade, Ward—Vera Cox, Harold Crogan.
- 5th Grade, High—Gladys Goldie, Herschel Thomas.
- 6th Grade, Ward—Loretta Crogan, John Massie.
- 6th Grade, High—Mary Lewis, Hayes Main.
- 7th Grade, Ward—Henrietta Mohler, Ensign Young.
- 7th Grade High—Elsie Mildner, Maurice Philleo.
- 8th Grade—Bernice Beebe, Anthony Agler.
- 9th Grade—Neva Orr, Harold Weber.
- 10th Grade—Marguerite Chace, Harold Mears.

The essays were full of good ideas and in many cases it was hard to decide on the best. Many "honorable mentions" were also given by the judges.

One block from school, 3 blocks from Main street, 2 blocks from church. Free mail delivery. Renting for $15 per month. Price $1800. Also 5-acre tract, (rented for beets this year at $20 per acre) one share of water included from Morgan ditch. Half mile of C. B. & Q. depot. Unincumbered. Price $1,000. Also homestead relinquishment 8 miles of Ft. Morgan, Colorado, taken under new law, 320 acres, coming under ditch soon. Would trade for land at $50 or equity. All this property located in Ft. Morgan and Morgan county, Colorado. Address owners, 707 Grant St., Ft. Morgan, Colorado.

Was Loaded

It has been said many times that a gun is dangerous without a lock, stock or barrel. They are most always dangerous in the hands of a careless person, and there is far too much carelessness in handling a gun anyway. Herman Hoffman, near Winside, did not know the gun was loaded Friday, which was his unlucky day, and the result was it went off, as did also a portion of his hand.

Died in Minnesota

James McIntosh, who a number of years ago used to be a resident of Wayne, and who died at his home in Minnesota, was brought here for burial Saturday evening, and the funeral took place Sunday afternoon under the auspices of the Masonic Lodge, there being over forty of the members in attendance. Deceased was a cousin of James McIntosh of Wayne. He was about forty years of age and leaves a widow to mourn his death. She accompanied the remains of her husband here and tarried several days after the funeral.

Was It Libelous?

We believe that attorney Berry perpetrated a libel on Bro. Goldie and his force of helpers Friday forenoon, while they were engaged in cleaning up the rubbish in front of the Democrat office, the effects of the fire, when he said that it would be a good thing if some one could take a kodak picture of the entire lot, as that was the only way in which the public could be convinced that they ever did any work. Mr. Goldie got a good settlement out of the insurance company for his loss and the work began Friday morning in putting the building in shape for occupancy again.

What Is an Occupation Tax?

We may be densely ignorant but we would like to have someone explain to us just what an occupation tax is, as we notice by a number of our exchanges that the council in various towns are passing that kind of a tax or ordinance. If it is to make them pay for occupying property in the business portion, which they already own or rent, and on which they already pay taxes, insurance, and other expenses, we can see neither sense nor justice in the movement, and we cannot see how such a tax could ever stand the test of a law suit. We are sure we do not know what it means.

Mr. Fred Sandahl lost a valuable horse last week.
Miss Bertha Auker is home to spend the summer.
Mr. Lindquist will leave here next Saturday for a trip to Sweden.
Mr. James Steele, of Dakota, is visiting at the home of Mr. Fox.
Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Samuelson visited at the home of his parents Sunday.

Are Going to Sweden

Axel Vennerberg, who resides on route 3, and his sister Jennie, who has been one of the efficient corps of teachers at Carroll, expect to leave next Saturday for an all summer's outing in Sweden. They were born in that country, and while they love the land of their adoption, they have a desire to see once more how their native land looks after many years absence from it. They have chosen a pleasant season of the year to make the trip and their many friends hope that they may get even more pleasure out of it than they anticipate.

Manual Training

The fourth Mother's meeting was held at the home of Mrs. C. A. Chase on Thursday last. A large number of mothers were present and inspired by the two excellent discussions of the afternoon. Miss Helen Pile opened up the possibilities of and the great need for domestic training in the schools while Prof. Hunter showed the demand of the times for manual training for boys. For years the schools of France and Germany have given instruction in domestic science and manual training and are at present filling the places where skill is required in the United States while American children must serve as bell boys, cheap clerks and factory girls. Do our common school courses help the masses or simply the few? This movement is no longer new in the United States but only recently coming into strong demand in the middle west. Here's to Wayne! May she step into line and keep up with the procession.

Will Not Celebrate

At the Commercial Club meeting Monday evening the question of celebrating the coming 4th of July was discussed to some length. After the sentiment of a large number of the business men present had been given a vote was taken on the question and it was decided not to celebrate. From the tenor of the remarks made we think that the principal reason for the decision lies in the fact that the business men have contributed quite liberally toward the expenses incident to securing the State Normal School for Wayne, and did not feel that in justice to themselves they could donate at this time a fund sufficient to make a celebration what it ought to be therefore it was better to pass it up now and have a big day or two in connection with the corn show in the fall.

Which do you think won?

Not long ago two men, athletes, went into a contest to see which could stand erect and hold his arms stretched out full length at either side of his body for the longer time. One man had fed on steaks and chops, sausage, ham, roast beef, etc.; the other ate heartily, but confined himself to such foods as Quaker Oats, rice, macaroni, etc. Which do you think held out longer?

The first man lasted twenty-two minutes. The Quaker Oats-macaroni-rice chap concluded to stop after he had eaten it more than three hours.

There's more strength and economy in eating lots of Quaker Oats than most people imagine.

Every family should eat plentifully of Quaker Oats at least once every day; breakfast is the best time. It strengthens you for the day.

NEELY & GRAVEN

HIS LIFE WORK IS ENDED

HE FOUGHT A GOOD FIGHT

After Many Weeks of Illness the Death Angel Calls.

OBITUARY—A. E. Littell.

Archie Edgar Littell was born October 25th, 1877, at Wyoming, Jones county, Iowa. When about 13 years of age he came with his parents to Pierce county, Nebraska, where he attended country school and worked on the farm. When the Spanish war broke out he enlisted in Company L Second Nebraska Infantry at Norfolk, Nebraska. He was mustered into the U. S. service at Lincoln, Nebraska, May 9th, 1898. On May 17th his regiment was ordered to Chickamauga Park, Georgia. At the close of the war he was honorably discharged and mustered out of the service at Omaha. He then entered into the service of the Omaha street railway company as conductor. It was while thus engaged that he felt the need of a better education to prepare himself for greater usefulness in life. With this in view at the age of 22 he left his home and position and entered the Nebraska Normal college at Wayne, Nebraska, where he worked himself through by doing different kinds of work and at the end of one year he completed the Teachers' course. The following year he taught a country school. In 1904 he completed the Scientific course at the Nebraska Normal. He was principal of the Carroll school for one year and of the Winside school for two and one-half years. In 1905 he was elected Superintendent of the Public Schools in Wayne county. On January 10, 1906, he was married to Miss Elsie Ringer of Wayne. In 1907 he was re-elected Superintendent. In this office he executed his duties without fear or favor. He held a high conception of what the moral standard of a teacher should be and constantly strove to create a similar impression in the mind of the teacher.

After a severe illness of nine weeks during which he was a patient sufferer, and in which fear and hope predominated in the minds of his friends as he seemed to gain or lose, he passed away to the shores of the eternal world on May 14th, 1909, at the age of 31 years, six months and nineteen days. He was a firm believer in the Christian religion, took an active part in the Lutheran church and Sunday school. Upon every moral issue he was always on the right side, and had the courage of his convictions.

The funeral was held from the home on Main street Monday afternoon, May 17th, at 10:30, conducted by Rev. Parker Smith, assisted by Rev. T. C. Osborne, and was attended by almost the entire community, who desired to show their sympathy for Mrs. Littell and the family. A quartette from the Baptist church sang sweetly, "Nearer my God to Thee," and "In That City." The words of the text were from John 10: 10, "I am come that they might have life."

His wife and father survive him, the latter residing at Pierce, Nebraska. His mother died about three years ago. An uncle and some other relatives from Pierce and the editor of the Call, attended the funeral, coming over in an automobile Monday morning. Burial was made in Greenwood cemetery.

COMMERCIAL CLUB'S ANNUAL

THE SMOKER WAS A SUCCESS

Reports Read, Speeches Made, and a Good, Social Time.

The annual meeting of the Wayne Commercial Club and Smoker was held in the Odd Fellows' Hall Tuesday evening with a large attendance. The program mapped out was quite long but of interest. There was excellent music by the cornet band and the Mandolin Club, plenty of cigars, a luncheon of sandwiches, coffee, ice cream and cake, all of which was excellent. There were also a number of addresses. F. L. Neely spoke on the "Progress of the New School House," and told his listeners a few additional things regarding the building from those they already knew, as to its safety, cost, and a determination to keep the expense well within the contract price.

Jas. Britton had for his theme "The Normal School, what it means to the community and our duty toward it." He had his subject well in hand and pointed out a number of things regarding the school, the benefits to be derived from it, and the advantages that may be made to accrue to the community on account of its location here. Some of these things we hope to take up and mention more in detail later on.

O. A. King gave a synopsis of the school children's papers on the City Beautiful, many of which contained pithy suggestions that might well be carried out.

Henry Ley was to have spoken on "The Sewerage Project" but was not able to be present.

J. H. Kate talked about "The New Incubator Factory," and proved himself, as he always does, a ready and interesting talker. In conclusion he brought down the house, so to speak, in relating a stuttering contest in his early days that he had with a landlord, which would have to be heard to be understood and appreciated.

After this J. W. Jones, S. R. Theobald and H. C. Sweet were appointed a committee to nominate an executive committee for next year. While they were selecting the committee J. J. Ahern made a report of the delegates to the state convention of commercial clubs held at Norfolk in the early spring. H. C. Sweet, secretary for the past year made his report, which may be found below. A committee in regard to the 4th of July celebration made a report and after some discussion it was voted not to celebrate this year. The following were nominated as an executive committee and on motion the report was accepted and the gentlemen duly elected: Theo. Duerig, J. J. Ahern, Chas. Craven, Wm. Orr, H. Craven, H. Fisher, H. S. Ringland, J. E. Hufford, Fred Pile, Wm. Hansen, J. W. Johnson, J. W. Dalley and Mr. Jeffries.

SECRETARY'S REPORT

There have been held during the four month meetings—nine regular and five special. The regular meetings in September, November, January and March were omitted but three special meetings held. The work of the executive board has been perhaps not all that it might have been, yet many things of a very substantial character have been accomplished. The idea of many seems to be that the club should do some big thing every few days, something that makes a noise, but we do not think that necessary. The fact that there is a meeting of the business men of the community every four weeks who devote from one to two hours at those times discussing various things of interest to the city is in itself an important factor in the business life of a community.

But we feel that the Club has done much more than this; things that are evidenced in a material way. Perhaps you had not noticed that the postoffice is now open all day Sunday and every holiday, or if you have noticed it you did not think about or realize that the Commercial Club is responsible for it. A committee was appointed to see that the club should have the honor of having the lobby open Sundays, holidays and every holiday, or if you have noticed it you did not think about or realize that the Commercial Club is responsible for it.

There has been considerable tendency on the part of the grain men to pay a better price for grain in seasons where competition is lively by a farmer's elevator or truck buyer, than they offered here. The committee took up this matter with the head of one of the elevators with the result that we got a promise of no greater difference in price between this point and Wakefield—the station that was causing us the most trouble, than one-half cent per bushel. The fact that there is a daily train to Wayne at least 250,000 to 400,000 bushels of grain is fact readily to be seen that a saving to the farmers of from one to two cents is a big item besides bringing to this city the trade that of right belongs here.

The first day of the chatauqua was last year and the Commercial Club only an hour was made by the Club to make that a big day. We succeeded in getting the people here but were not at all responsible for the character of the program. We also backed up a proposition for a special train from the branch for one evening program which proved a source of considerable profit to the Chatauqua management.

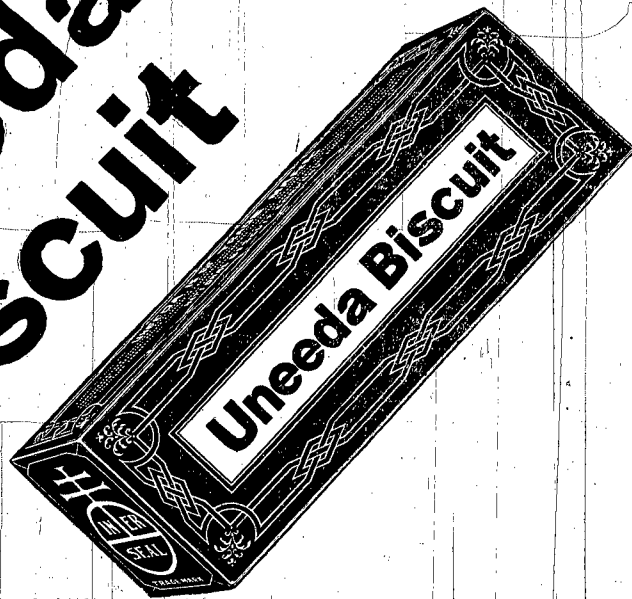

I suppose there are but a few of you who know what an important part the Club played in securing Sunday train service for Wayne. The secretary was instructed to correspond with the railroad company regarding such service. The letter was written the first of the month and you have already heard their reply. They will make some substantial improvements at the station as soon as the sewer system is complete, so that sanitary conditions can be better maintained.

Two delegates were in attendance at the State association of Commercial Clubs held at Norfolk and you have already heard their report. One of the ideas which will probably be taken up by the Club this year is a corral show to be held some time in the fall. Definite arrangements for this have not yet been made but the secretary has sent to York, where they

If present plans are carried out the North Platte conference of the Nebraska synod of the Lutheran church will meet at Dakota, City on June 8 and 9.

A monument twelve feet three inches in height, a life sized figure of a soldier at rest on a pedestal of bronze, will be unveiled at Pierce Decoration day. The cost was $1000.

There are no old soldiers buried in the cemeteries at Wauss. We did not suppose that there was a cemetery anywhere in this fair land of ours but what had one or more old soldiers at rest therein.

If the low bid for Norfolk's new Carnegie library building comes under the $10,000 limit, the members of the library board see no reason why work on the new building should not start by July 1.

One of the most important business deals in Norfolk in recent years has just culminated in the purchase of the business of The Sturgeon Music Company by the Bennett Music Co. of Omaha, the largest wholesale and retail piano dealers in Nebraska.

Decor citizens established a library a year ago. Now comes the first report and shows a library of 193 volumes. The number of readers for the year was 569 and but one book was lost. They are going to keep right on and make a nice growth the second year.

The Magnet Mail says: The farmers are going to plant corn on the ground which they had sown to oats on account of the high winds having damaged the oats to such an extent that they will not make crop enough to pay them to let them stand. It is hoped that the damage is not so great as reported.

Deputy State Game Warden John B. Donovan and Special Deputy F. L. Domisse of Norfolk, together with Local Deputy William K. McKenzie, gathered up thirteen seines and four hook nets in and around Wisner Monday afternoon, making practically a clean-up of all unlawful fishing tackle in that community.

Judge W. L. Henderson of Creighton, a pioneer attorney there and one of the best known men in Knox county, died at his home in Creighton at 8:30 o'clock Monday morning from heart failure, brought upon him by an attack of the grip. He was sixty-one years old and served in the Union army in the civil war, with an Illinois regiment.

Former Governor Lorenzo Crouse died on the stroke of midnight Thursday. He had been ill for a long time, and at different periods of his illness had seemed on the verge of death, but had rallied in rather remarkable fashion. For the last few days the former governor has been failing rapidly, and hope of recovery was practically abandoned early in the week.

An election under the new drainage act will be held at the county clerk's office at West Point to determine the question of the formation of the Bancroft drainage district and to elect a board of directors for that portion of the ditch lying in Cumming county. The election is set for May 24. The proposed ditch is of considerable length and will drain a very valuable portion of this county. It starts in Thurston county and runs through Cumming and Burt, the largest acreage affected being in Cumming county. Five directors will be chosen at the election.

Things That Have Disappeared

Ever stop to think, you middle aged people, of the things that were so familiar in your early days but which have practically disappeared. It will be interesting to recall some of them.

For instance, there is the "button string" that the girls used to make. Every girl in the neighborhood had a button string, and the girl who could get the greatest variety of buttons on her string was the envied one.

Then there was the "what not", often made of spoons, always three-cornered, and always used to hold the trinkets of no intrinsic value but of incalculable worth from a sentimental point of view. Usually a china vase occupied the top shelf and was always in danger of falling off when a heavy man or woman walked across the floor.

Then there was the "hair wreath" made of some deceased relative's hair and wrought around a photograph of the original owner. This was enclosed in a deep glass case and hung on the parlor wall.

Remember the old home's kitchen? To be sure, and you remember the cupboard with the tin doors, and the doors perforated with holes in a most intrinsic pattern. The upper part held the chinaware, and the lower part usually held a supply of bread, cookies, etc. That is, it would hold cookies for a little while. Funny how rapidly cookies would leak out through those tiny little holes in the tin front.

From the kitchen to the parlor of the old home is not a far cry, but thank goodness the old-fashioned "parlor" has practically disappeared. If it boasted an ingrain carpet it wouldn't do to let the sun shine in for that would fade the carpet. And of all the gloomy, uncomformtable, appalling places within memory, the old-time parlor is entitled the first place. The carpet was laid over straw, and it usually took about six months for the straw to settle until the carpet did not resemble the waves of the ocean in a storm.

And the "spare bed room!" Gee whizz, how cold that room could get in winter! Peary in his dashes for the pole never endured agony of cold like the unfortunate guest who was consigned to the old time spare bedroom on a January night.

Remember the aroma that filled the house when mother made "salt risin" bread? That is, it was delightful if you like that sort of aroma. But no matter how it smelled didn't it taste good? If the "button strings" have disappeared—along with the autograph album—you can bet the girls have something else in place thereof and something much more expensive.

The Whatnot has given way to the expensive china closet, the tin front cupboard has given way to the patented kitchen cabinet, the "hair wreath" has given way to etchings and artist's proofs, and the dismal old parlor has given way to the sunny front room with its rugs and hardwood floors and windows that seldom have the curtains drawn. The "spare bed room" is now warmed by the furnace, and salt risin' bread is an almost forgotten luxury; for luxury it would be compared with the baker's bread of today.

After all, it is more pleasant to sit and recall those old times and old things than it would be to have to endure them again after experience with more modern things.

Some Stray Thoughts

Don't grunt. Do your stunt.

No one ever thinks that a boy may be tired.

Fear is a belief in your inferiority; nothing else.

It's the things we didn't do that we regret most.

Every man makes a different noise when he sneezes.

A pup is as friendly as a candidate two days before election.

Automobiles are like people; the cheap ones are noisy.

It takes more than a cork-screw, nowadays, to draw a customer's order.

There are many ways to do a thing wrong, but only one way to do it right.

The value of your services depends upon how valuable you make them.

Carelessness causes more men trouble than laziness and wickedness combined.

It so often happens that by the time one is well off in this world he is well on toward the next.

There are many occasions to say human nature should be changed, but you can't change it.

It is a question who is first to know there is a new moon, a lover or the manager of an electric light company.

There is one thing that should be said to the credit of boys; they never pretend to like people they dislike.

The less a man has to do, the more he complains that he does not have time to accomplish that which is expected of him. Things move along so rapidly nowadays that people who say "It can't be done" are interrupted by somebody doing it.

The first ten years of a man's life, he is the sweetest thing on earth; the next ten, he is the most worthless; the next ten, he is petted the most; the next ten, he is the most useful; the next ten, he begins to see his greatest troubles; and for the next ten years he is the most neglected creature in the world.

Ten Reasons For Trading at Home

1. Because: You examine your purchase and are assured of satisfaction before investing your money.
2. Because: Your home merchant is always ready and willing to make right any error or defective article purchased of him.
3. Because: When you are sick or for any reason it is necessary for you to ask for credit, you can go to the local merchant. Could you ask it of a mail order house?
4. Because: If a merchant is willing to extend you credit, you should give him the benefit of your cash trade.
5. Because: Your home merchant pays local taxes and exerts every effort to build up better your market, thus increasing both the value of the city and country property.
6. Because: The mail order merchant does not lighten your tax or in any way help the value of your property.
7. Because: The mail order merchant does nothing for the benefit of markets or real estate values.
8. Because: "If your town is good enuf to live in it is good enuf to spend your money in." Gov. Folk of Missouri.
9. Because: The best citizens in your community patronize home industry. Why not be one of the best citizens?
10. Because: If you will give your home merchant an opportunity to compete, by bringing your order to him in the quantities you buy out of town, he will demonstrate that, quality considered, he will save you money.

Divorced from Mother Lodge

The Nebraska grand lodge of the A. O. U. W. has summarily and finally divorced itself from the supreme lodge of the United States. This action was taken in spite of the fact that the supreme lodge sent two missionaries to the meeting last week to patch up a peace. All that the Nebraska lodge is willing to do is to be on fraternal relations, but it will no longer pay any part of the losses incurred by the national order in doing business in other jurisdictions.

The whole trouble came up over the fact that the Nebraska order has a much lower death rate than the national order, and as it had the right to constitute itself into a separate jurisdiction, levying such assessments only as are necessary to pay death losses within the state, it concluded that it was economy to keep on doing so. It has paid a considerable sum into the national coffers, but a supreme court decision has been secured to the effect that it does not have to do so, and it has been decided not to do it.

They Mean Business

For some time a large number of folks have taken the rural route inspector as a joke and the talk of his coming to cut off a portion of a mail route where a piece of road is bad as a bluff. This year the rural route inspector has had his orders to do more than bluff. He is actually cutting down routes and in a few cases discontinuing the route altogether. This means business, and road makers should sit up, and take notice. The inspector who is to visit every mail route at some time this year, so we are informed from a reliable source, will not take "what we are going to do," as an excuse for passing by a poor road, but the fact that the road is bad will mean the discontinuance of the mail until the road is fixed, or until, such a time as the department pleases to re-establish service. Promises won't go this time. The roads must be there in reality, instead of the promises of a man only interested in keeping his mail service intact. It behooves us all to get busy. A movement has begun among the leading men in Cincinnati to have the working day begin at six o'clock in the morning instead of eight. That might be all right for the men, but how about their wives? Is it worth the candle to make them get up that much earlier in the morning in order that the men may have more time to play in the afternoon?

The New York supreme court has decided that verbal betting is not gambling within the meaning of the law. Some people are able to dodge almost anything through the technicalities of the law.

The Sibley act of the 1907 legislature, known as the express rate law, is declared to be constitutional by J. J. Sullivan in an opinion filed Monday afternoon in federal court in Omaha and with the Nebraska supreme court and also declares that the rates fixed are reasonable.

What freaks some women are. A St. Louis woman has brought suit for divorce because her husband could not make good biscuits, and a Georgia woman has confessed that she had her husband killed because he was not a good manager.

An Illinois Judge has decided that it is the husband's business to get up and get breakfast whenever she desires that he should do so. That sort of events things up. It was not so very many years ago when it was thought proper for the wife to black the husband's boots.

Wayne People Should Not Wait Until It Is Too Late

The appalling death-rate from kidney disease is due in most cases to the fact that the little kidney troubles are usually neglected until they become serious. The slight symptoms give place to chronic disorders and the sufferer goes gradually into the grasp of diabetes, dropsy, Bright's disease, gravel or some other serious form of kidney complaint.

If you suffer from backache, headaches, dizzy spells, if the kidneys create an irregular flow of passage and unnatural in appearance, do not delay. Help the kidneys at once. Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for kidney disorders—they cure where others fail. Over one hundred thousand people have recommended them. Here's a case at home:

Mrs. P. Pryor, of Wayne, Nebr., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills proved very satisfactory in our family, bringing relief from an annoying attack of kidney complaint. I feel that it is but my duty to recommend this remedy."
