Fine Residence

Architect Foster has secured the contract for the erection of John Larison's handsome new residence. It is to be 39x39 feet, two full story and a basement, erected on the site of his present residence, the work of removal having already begun, and will be by far the handsomest residence in every respect of any in Wayne. The estimated cost is $15,000. The Larison family will have a magnificent home, well made in every detail, for this is the kind of work that Mr. Foster turns out.

Died in California

P. C. Crockett received a telegram Saturday morning announcing the sudden death of his brother, C. Crockett, at his home in San Diego, California. The deceased was for a number of years a resident of Wayne, and built the brick farm residence just west of town, but for the last seventeen years has resided in southern California. While here he was a member of the Masonic lodge, also of the G. A. R. Post, he having served in the Union army during the civil war. He was well known in Wayne and vicinity and many friends will regret to learn of his death.

Decoration Day

Next Monday will be observed as Decoration Day. The program of the day may be found in this issue. All the old soldiers, civic societies, college students and the citizens in general are invited to participate in this great annual event of honoring the soldier dead. The number of graves in the cemeteries of our land grows larger year by year and not many years hence the last of the blue and the gray will have been called to their final resting place, and unless the custom of decorating the graves shall be continued by each coming generation the stirring events of our great civil war will become only a dream or as a tale that is told, then forgotten. Then "cover them over, those heroes of ours, cover them over with beautiful flowers."

Has Sold His Bank

Word reached this city yesterday that Senator C. A. Randall, who has been connected with the First National Bank of Newman Grove for a great many years and who has been a prominent factor in the growth of that live little city, has disposed of his interests there to E. H. Gerhart and others and will probably leave Newman Grove. Although no particulars of the transaction are at hand, it will have it that Senator Randall will possibly move to Wayne where he may engage in business. Senator Randall has been prominent in Madison county business and political affairs for years and his removal from the county will be greatly regretted. Madison Post.

Wayne people will be very glad indeed if Senator Randall shall decide to cast in his lot with them. He is a good kind of a citizen for any town to have.

Who Will It Be?

At the June session of the Wayne county commissioners it will be the duty of the Board, no doubt, to appoint some one as county Superintendent of Schools to finish out the unexpired term of A. E. Littell, deceased. Of course there are several who contemplate being candidates at the fall election for this position and the board could appoint one of the prospective candidates. There is also a feeling that it would be no more than just for the board to appoint Mrs. Littell for the unexpired term. This would place all the prospective candidates on an equal footing, and at the same time provide some one for the office that was entirely familiar with the work, as Mrs. Littell has assisted her husband to quite an extent while he was in office and could take it up where he laid it down when he was taken ill. We do not know that any pressure will be brought upon the board from any direction in this matter, and they are well qualified to do what they consider best in the matter.

Wilbur Wins His Case

Last Sunday's Lincoln Journal contained the following Supreme Court decision which is of interest to a number of Wayne people. Charles L. Fritscher and P. A. Berry were the attorneys for Hoffman, and George R. Wilbur attorney for Alter. The case was entitled State ex rel Hoffman vs Alter. Appeal, Wayne. Affirmed. Reese, C. J., Fawcett, J., not sitting.

1. In an application for a mandamus to the police judge of the city of Wayne to compel him to strike out certain recitals in his docket in a case wherein the relator was prosecuted on a charge of having committed a misdemeanor, such recitals being to the effect that a trial was had and certain witnesses sworn on behalf of the state, and also to insert in the docket a recital that no plea was entered to the complaint and no trial had, it was shown that three persons were jointly charged with similar offenses, that they entered their pleas of not guilty and demanded separate trials; that one was tried, but before judgment it was agreed that the evidence would be the same, from the same witnesses and as to the same material facts and that the evidence so introduced might be considered and treated as the evidence against relator and on which a finding and judgment should be entered, the docket entry to contain a recital that the same witnesses were sworn, etc. The court found the defendant guilty and sentenced him to pay a fine, from which he appealed to the district court. Held, that there was no error in the judgment of the district court refusing the writ and dismissing the action.

METHODIST SOCIETY MEETS

Madison Convention Consumed Two Days—Meet in Norfolk Next

Madison, Nebraska, May 24. The Woman's Foreign Missionary society closed its convention, which had been in progress for two days, in the Trinity Methodist church of this city. The officers chosen for the coming year are: President, Mrs. Mae Orris, Stanton; vice-president, Mrs. Ida M. Blair, Wayne; second vice-president, Mrs. Weaver, Wakefield; recording secretary, Mrs. F. E. West, Wayne; treasurer, Mrs. D. W. McGregor, Madison.

The following delegates were present: Mesdames Mae Orris, John Holstein, W. R. Locke, A. A. Antlers, Emma Schultz, J. F. Poucher, J. C. Clark, Stanton; Mesdames M. C. Hazen, D. K. Tyndall, A. G. Kuhl, J. H. Oxnam, Norfolk; Mesdames J. W. Kirkpatrick, Ida Blair, F. E. West, Wayne; Mrs. Roberta Fisher, Madison; Mrs. Edith Winebrener, Walthill; Mrs. Ida J. Moe, Fremont, and Mrs. Clara Clark Gates, Lincoln.

At Saturday evening's session Mrs. D. W. McGregor of Madison, delivered the address of welcome, to which fitting response was made by Mrs. Mae Orris, of Stanton, the president of the society. After the singing of a solo by Miss Clark, the teacher of music in the Madison public schools, Mrs. Ida Moe of Fremont, gave an able address using as her subject, "Our Young People." This was followed by a paper on Korea by Mrs. Grattan, which was well received. In closing the evening's program, Mr. Sweet of Madison gave a solo.

The devotional exercises this morning were led by Mrs. F. E. West of Wayne. The address of the morning was then delivered by Mrs. Clara Gates of Lincoln, which was followed by a paper on "Zenana Work in India" by Mrs. D. K. Tyndall of Norfolk. Several musical numbers, one of which was a solo by Mrs. Ida Blair of Wayne, enlivened the occasion.

The afternoon's exercises were opened with music by the Madison male quartette. Papers were read by Mrs. Kirkpatrick of Wayne and Mrs. Poucher of Stanton. The address of the afternoon was delivered by Mrs. Gates of Lincoln, on the work in Mexico. Mrs. John Holstein of Stanton, sang a solo, and duets were given by the Misses Litka and Miss Clark and Mr. Sweet.

Fitting and appropriate resolutions were read and adopted at the close of the meeting this afternoon eulogizing the work of the society, extending a vote of thanks to Mrs. Gates for her interesting addresses, and expressing the gratitude of the members for the generous treatment accorded them by the people of Madison.

The next meeting will be held at Norfolk.

Meat-Loaf Recipe for Large Company
This recipe makes delicious meat, as has been proved by frequent experience. Twenty pounds of beef, two pounds of salt pork, one pound of butter, one pound of crackers (rolled fine), one quart of sweet milk, two teaspoonsful of pepper (heaping), three tablespoonsful of salt and fifteen eggs. Put the beef and pork through the meat chopper, add the seasoning, the eggs well beaten, the crackers and milk; mix all thoroughly, and bake two hours in common bread or cake tins. This will make five or seven loaves, according to the size of the tins. This is nice for church suppers.—Woman's Home Companion for June.

The Captain Wirz Monument.

The dedication of a monument to the memory of Captain Wirz, who was executed for his human and cruel treatment of federal prisoners under his charge at Andersonville prison, contrary to the custom of civilized warfare, stands out as the shame of the south and of the Daughters of the Confederacy.

The nation today can grant to the southern people a full right to properly commemorate their fallen heroes, who died for a cause that they sincerely thought was right. But nothing could more abuse the blood of any true patriot than this dedication of a monument to the man who was responsible for the atrocities at Andersonville, on the former prison site—Norfolk News.

In no nation except this could such a thing occur, and it is a disgrace that the government should allow a monument to be erected anywhere in this fair land of ours to a man with the attributes of Wirz, and a double disgrace, shame and insult that it should be erected within sight of the 15,000 or more, graves of the Union dead, men who were literally starved to death in the living hell over which he was the commanding officer, and by whose cognizance at least, the fiendish work was done.

New Primary Law

The primary election will be held on the third Tuesday in August for the nomination of all candidates to be voted for at the general election. Sixty days before the August primary the governor shall issue his proclamation designating all the offices to be filled by the vote of the legislature and judicial districts. The name of no candidate shall be printed on said primary ballot unless at least thirty days prior to such primary, either he or twenty-five qualified electors of the party with which said candidate affiliates shall have been filed a written application. A provision is also made for the election of presidential electors at the primary.

The name of any candidate may appear on one or more of the party tickets if the proper filings have been made.

There shall be as many blank lines on the ballot below the names of candidates as there are candidates and if any voter elects to write in the name of any other party than the one on the ballot such vote shall be returned and counted for said person.

If there shall be more than one candidate for an office, the names rotate but not alphabetically. In printing the tickets for the various election districts the position of the names shall be changed. In making the changes of position the printer shall take the name at the top of each division and place it at the bottom of that division showing up the column so that the name that was second will be first on the ballot in the next election district and to rotate in like manner until all the ballots for the county have been printed and all sample ballots shall be printed the same way.

Ballots shall be marked by a cross by the voter after each candidate for which he desires to vote. But all candidates voted for must appear in the party column. Should any voter vote for candidates in more than one column the ballot shall not be counted. A judge of election shall instruct the voters that they can vote for their choice of candidates for each office, using only the ballot under one party name.

Ed Sellers

Mesdames F. E. West, J. W. Kirkpatrick and E. S. Blair went to Madison, Nebraska, Saturday morning to attend a district meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. church, to be held there Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. They report a very interesting session and a pleasant time.

The track team of the Randolph high school passed through town Saturday forenoon on their way home from Harrington, where they met a number of the teams from several towns in this part of the state in a field meet. Friday. They were feeling in very good spirits as nearly everything came their way.

CONSTIPATION

MUNYON'S PAW-PAW PILLS

Munyon's Paw-Paw Pills are unlike all other laxatives (cocoas or cathartics). They coax the liver into activity by gentle methods. They do not irritate the bowels, but they do start all the secretions of the liver and stomach in a way that soon puts these organs in a healthy condition and corrects constipation. In my opinion constipation is responsible for most ailments. There is really a sewer pipe. When this pipe becomes clogged, the whole system becomes poisoned, causing biliousness, indigestion and impure blood, which often produces rheumatism and kidney ailments. No woman who suffers with constipation or any liver complaint can expect to have a clear complexion, or enjoy good health.

Munyon's Paw-Paw Pills are a tonic to the stomach, liver and nerves. They invigorate instead of weakening; they enrich the blood instead of impoverishing it; they enable the stomach to get all the nourishment from food that is put into it.

These pills contain no iodine, no dope, they are soothing, heating and stimulating. They induce the bowels to act without physic. Price 25 cents.

FASHION HINTS

A hasty and practical suit of gray linen is shown here. The skirt is box pleated and fits the ground easily. Self-covered buttons finish the coat, set in ground of three. The hat is rough black straw, and two gray unfurled feathers are held in place by a black rosette.

Pure Milk and our Babies.
If babies had a vote the milk supply would be reformed. But babies are inarticulate and the slaughter goes on. Is there any reason why babies should die, asks Walter West in Success Magazine, not occasionally, not now and then and here and there, but occasionally like flies? We are so cruelly accustomed to the little coffin and the white shroud that we never look at the facts of our ourselves the question. But is there any reason why babies should die?

Suppose you enter the house of a poor family and see a new-born babe in a corner of the room, and there near the fire, doddering over his slumberous pipe, the babe's great-grandfather, a rheumatic, asthmatic old man of ninety. The babe was born, to-day, this very day, endowed with all its heritage of thousands of generations, the great-grandfather was born in 1819, when Monroe was President and Napoleon was alive. Crabbled age is frail, and yet the statisticians will prove to you that nine are the chances of the very old, the babe is more likely than his great-grandfather to die in a year, and very much more likely to die within three months. If the mother knew how great was the danger to her baby, she would never even move anxiously over the cradle. If she knew how often babies are slain by the milk of the city—if she knew, there wouldn't be so many slain.

THINK HARD.

It Pays to Think About Food.
The unthinking life some people lead often causes trouble and sickness. Illustrated in the experience of a lady in Fond du Lac, Wis.

"About four years ago I suffered dreadfully from indigestion, always having eaten whatever I liked, not thinking of the digestible qualities. This indigestion caused palpitation of the heart so badly I could not walk up a flight of stairs without sitting down once or twice to regain breath and strength.

"I became alarmed and tried dieting, wore my clothes very loose, and many other remedies, but found no relief.

"Hearing of the virtues of Grape-Nuts and Postum, I commenced using them in place of my usual breakfast of coffee, cakes, or hot biscuit, and in one week's time I was relieved of sour stomach and other ill-attending indigestion. In a month's time my heart was performing its functions naturally and I could climb stairs and hills and walk long distances.

"I gained ten pounds in this short time, and my skin became clear and I completely regained my health and strength. I continue to use Grape-Nuts and Postum for I feel that I owe my good health entirely to their use. There is a Reason."

"If like the delicious flavor of Grape-Nuts and by making Postum according to directions, it tastes similar to mild high grade coffee."

"Read 'The Road to Wellville,' in pgs.

"Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest."

USES OF THE WIRELESS TELEPHONE.

—Chicago Journal.

CHICAGO "L" WRECK HURTS 23.

Man Running Express Held Guilty of Carelessness by Road President.

Following a collision of two North-western elevated trains in Chicago Tuesday morning, in which twenty-three passengers were injured, rigid investigation to learn the cause of the wreck was begun by city officials. The collision, which occurred at North Franklin and Ohio streets, was attributed by President Mason B. Starring to "gross carelessness" on the part of A. Winterberger, the motorman in charge of a Wilson avenue express train, which on a straight track, ran into the rear end of a Ravenswood local. Both trains were city bound.

The motorman's explanation that the brake refused to work was disputed by Mr. Starring and by Millard B. Hereley, city traction expert. The latter declared the car was inspected less than ten days ago and found to be in perfect condition. Both trains were jammed to the doors with passengers on their way to work in the loop district. Among those most seriously injured was William C. Schroeder, cashier of the Continental National Bank, who suffered fractures of both legs and cuts about the head and body. In addition to those injured many passengers on both trains were shaken up and the women became panic-stricken. Firemen rescued many persons bewildered and imperiled by the third rail by carrying them down ladders to the ground.

The accident occurred shortly before 8:30 o'clock. The rear vestibule of the last car of the Ravenswood train was partly demolished and the front of the motor car of the express train was wrecked. President Starring and other officials of the road supervised the work of rescue and the clearing away of the wreckage.

POLITICS and POLITICIANS

Judge Milton D. Purdy has resigned from the United States District Court bench.

To the amazement of West Virginia liquor interests, the city council of Charleston voted 22 to 7, to make the city dry.

An authoritative definition of the attitude of the tariff administration toward economic problems was given to the officers of many banks in New York by Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh during a dinner in his honor at the Union League. He said that a new study was to become a part of the government, the study of economic, intelligent and systematic expenditures and revenues in their natural relations.

That the census office has in its employ in one bureau the wife of the secretary of a representative in Congress, the wives of two officials of the War Department and the wife of a prominent official in the Treasury Department was the charge made by Senator McCumber in criticizing the census report on the census bill. The North Dakota Senator said Washington was getting to be a city of official families, the younger members of which had never seen the States to which they were credited.

Sam H. Nicholas, secretary of state, in Washington has resigned owing to scandals connected with his office. Insurance Commissioner Schwab will probably be compelled to take the same course. Former Governor A. E. Mead is a candidate for Nicholas' place.

Colorado has a new law which provides that the State shall contribute for campaign expenses every two years 25 cents for each vote cast at the preceding general election, the sum to be divided among political parties according to the vote cast for their candidates for Governor.

HIDES IN PENITENTIARY.

News Crawls Beneath the Floor and Under Ohio Prison Guards.

Within the walls of the penitentiary in Columbus, Ohio, Harvey Johnson, a life prisoner, who was received a few days ago from Franklin County, is hiding. Since Wednesday the penitentiary officers and guards have been searching for him. Twice during the night he was seen. One of the wall guards said he saw him stick his head out of a boltshop window and he fired. The bullet afterward was found. Imbedded near the window. Capt. Krouse of the guardroom also kept the little prisoner, who is a negro, but was unable to capture him on account of the darkness. A double guard was on duty all night and Warden Jones slept only a few hours. The entire floor in bolt shop No. 6, where the "colored man" worked, was ripped up, and it was found that Johnson had crawled beneath the floor. His working clothes were found there and also a crude, improvised ladder. Warden Jones has ordered the guards to shoot to kill if Johnson does not voluntarily give up. The police department has been notified.

CAPITAL INTERESTED IN LEPER.

John R. Early, Ex-Soldier, Not Afraid of Some Specialists Decline.

Many persons in Washington, D. C., are beginning to take a lively interest in the case of John R. Early, the ex-soldier who, government officials declare, is a leper. The authorities have separated Early from his wife and two children and have provided a tent for him adjoining the cottage in which they live. A fence is built between the cottage and the tent. There are several specialists who believe Early is not a leper. Among them is Dr. Bulkeley of New York, who was induced by Mrs. Early to study her husband's case. His action has met with the disapproval of the authorities because they were not consulted first. Mrs. Early is devoted to her husband, and with her two children often may be seen conversing with him "across the fence."

MORRIS TO BUILD BIG PLANT.

Will Invest Millions in Oklahoma City Packing House.

Involving an investment between $3,000,000 and $5,000,000, a deal was closed in Oklahoma City the other night by the Chamber of Commerce with representatives of Morris & Co., Chicago, for the erection of a packing plant there. The plant will have a capacity of 1,000 cattle, 2,500 hogs and 1,500 sheep per day and between 1,600 and 1,700 men will be employed. Representatives of the company say preliminary arrangements for the construction of the plant will begin at once. With such a plant there the live stock industry of the State will be changed materially, as now all cattle slaughtered go to Kansas City and hogs to Fort Worth, Tex.

Stray Dog Saves Man's Life.

The actions of a dog on the tracks of the Reading railroad near Chester, Pa., caused William Foot of Chester to follow the animal. The dog led him to a quagmire a hundred yards from the tracks, where he found Harry Morrison of Chester stuck in the mud up to his armpits and sinking. Morrison was rescued. The dog is a stray animal.

New High Record in May Wheat.

A new high record was made in May wheat at the Chicago Board of Trade Tuesday when the price went quietly to $1.30, a figure not before reached this year.

$1,500,000 Fire in Akron, Ohio.

Fire in the seven-story Tower Power block in Akron, Ohio, practically destroyed the building and its contents, causing a loss of $1,500,000. Many girls employed in the building were thrown into a panic. They had narrow escapes.

GEORGE MEREDITH IS DEAD.

Succumbs in London to Attack of Heart Disease at 81.

George Meredith died at 8:35 Tuesday morning in London. The news of the great novelist's illness caused deep and widespread regret and it had been generally feared that because of his great age—he was past 80—the chances of recovery were slight. The immediate cause of death was heart failure, following grave symptoms that developed early in the evening. Mr. Meredith's illness began on May 14 and he steadily declined since that time.

George Meredith was born Feb. 12, 1828, in the county of Hampshire, England. He was educated in Germany, but returned to England after qualifying for a university, and read for the bar. He gave up this for literature after meeting with success in articles written for prominent reviews of his time. In 1851, Meredith published "Poems," his first volume of verse, and since then throughout his active literary life he published poems and books every few years. Recognition, however, was slow, and not until 1885, when the novelist was 57 years old and "Diana of the Crossways" appeared, did he receive the recognition which was to be his until his dying day. After the success of "Diana of the Crossways" Meredith's early works were recognized as masterpieces and his novel, "The Order of Richard Lyster," is now ranked as one of his best efforts. Of his many prose works those which are declared by critics, to be certain of undying fame are "The Egoist," published in 1879, "Rhoda Fleming," published in 1865, and the two books already mentioned.

FOREIGN ISLANDS

The government of Peru has called a meeting of the representatives of the public utility companies, and will ask them to provide for the unemployed.

The Persian Nationalists lost sixty men killed and 100 wounded in the sortie from Tabriz, in which H. C. Baskerville, an American school teacher, of Royalton, Minn., lost his life.

The outbreak of the Albanian garrison at Uskup, Tuesday, about 100 miles north of Saloniki, where the deposed Sultan of Turkey is a prisoner, was believed at Constantinople to be the beginning of an uprising under the leadership of the Sultan's son, Berreh-Eddin, for the purpose of re-instating Abdul Hamid on the throne.

The commission which is taking an inventory of the property at the imperial palace at Yildiz has discovered, according to the local newspapers, bank notes to the value of $2250,000 and a large quantity of jewelry, including one rosary alone valued at $75,000. Papers seized at the palace show that Abdul Hamid had over $5,000,000 on deposit in foreign banks. These refuse to give up the cash to the Young Turks.

The Zoppelli company is negotiating with the Lucerne, Switzerland, authorities for the establishment of a daily aerial service between Lucerne and Friedrichshafen. The airships will be used also for excursion parties.

The Shah of Persia has once more proclaimed the resumption of the constitution, calling upon Said ed Dowleh to form a Liberal Cabinet, with himself in his former post as foreign minister, while Sashid Mullu, now a refugee in Europe, is called back to become the premier.

THE SPY.

By ORMSBY MACKNIGHT

THE older we grow the firmer becomes the conviction that we had better keep within the strict limits of duty. I once bustled myself about correcting an evil and instead of receiving thanks for doing so got nothing but kicks and cuffs. That was when I was a very young man. Since then I have known better.

I was a private in the Union army operating in Virginia. While we were in camp between marches and skirmishes I was one day on picket when I saw a girl up in a tree making signals to the enemy. She thought she was concealed from our picket line by the branches. So she was, from every one but me. Between her and me was an opening just big enough for me to see her wigwagging with a white handkerchief. I should have called the corporal of the guard and reported the matter; but, thinking I might win promotion for myself by attending to the matter personally, I left my post, went to the tree, ordered the girl down and marched her to the headquarters of the general commanding.

The general took her in charge, then rated me soundly for leaving my post. I was arrested for a breach of duty, but was soon after released with a reprimand.

A few weeks later came a fight in which, with others, I was taken prisoner. We were kept temporarily in an open field, waiting transportation south when they should pass by on the road but the girl I had seen wigwagging to the enemy. She saw me, recognized me, but passed on quickly without noticing me.

"There's one of your spies," I remarked to a Confederate guard. "I saw her one day in the Union lines making signals to your men." I turned her over to our general and supposed she'd been put out of the way of doing any further damage. I guess she escaped, after all.

Without making any reply to me the soldier called for the officer commanding the guard. I saw him point to the girl and say something, whereupon the officer went rapidly after her.

The next day the officer came to me and thanked me for putting him on to a Union spy. I asked him to explain, and he said that on my information the girl had been arrested. She had been loitering about their camp, and complete information was found upon her as to every corps present, including artillery and cavalry. The general commanding was puzzled what to do with her since she was a woman, and he revolted against hanging her. I told the captain that they were making a mistake since I had myself seen her making signals to the Confederates. But he told me the girl stoutly denied ever having been within the Union lines. To this I replied that the troops then confronting the Union forces could not have been the same as now. I think I impressed him that possibly a mistake was being made, but whether he followed the matter up or not I don't know. I asked him the next day what had become of the spy, and he said she was under guard awaiting information from some one who knew her to be a good Confederate, but after the unfolding of the documents on her, go one doubted that she was a Federal spy.

The next morning at daybreak I heard a volley, followed by artillery firing. Then I saw a blue line scurrying across a cornfield, and then—Well, I hugged the ground to escape a hail-storm of bullets. It wasn't a minute before the Federal troops passed over me, following the Confederates; they had surprised, flying in every direction. They rallied and made a stand just beyond the limits of their camp and put up a good fight, but they didn't succeed in recapturing the ground they had lost.

I was in the wildest state of excitement imaginable, for I had been saved from what I dreaded most—a southern prison. While I was shouting the general hurried past, and with him, riding straddle on a strayed Confederate horse, was the girl spy. She caught sight of me and reined in, with flashing eye and scowling brow.

"Hold on, general," she said. "Dismounting she ran up to me, hit me a sharp blow with her fist and before I could recover from my surprise knocked me down and stamped on me. All the while she was calling me the vilest names and swearing at me like a pirate. The officers of the general's staff laughed, immoderately, at the grotesque sight, but the general evidently considered it a serious matter.

"That'll do, captain," he said at last. "Let him up. He's only a fool who doesn't know enough to attend to his own business and leave others to attend to theirs. You're lucky to escape a halter, and you'd have been dead before this if they'd have found out you were a man." Then, turning to me, he said: "This last blunder is too much. Report to your captain under arrest. The most I can do with you is to try you for deserting your picket post, but that'll do."

However, he thought better of it, for it would have been hard to convict me since all I had done was through ignorance. The spy was young Mac Cracker of his staff, one of the most daring boys of the army. He had signaled the Confederates to gain their confidence preparatory to going into their lines for information. Had I not given him away he would have gone back with a full knowledge of the enemy's strength and position. That was years ago. Since then I have attended to my own business.

At Gettysburg:
The fields of Gettysburg are green
Where once the red blood ran;
The oak leaves throw a dancing sheen
Where perished horse and man;
The saplings whisper on the hill
Where raged a fiery tide,
And some birds splash the laughing rill
Where brimles fought and died.

A marble sentry guards the field
And granite crosses crown
Where dusty regiments once wheeled
And shot and shell rained down,
But o'er the sentry's martial face
Now sits the cooling dew,
Breaking the silence of the place
With murmuring notes of love.

The only colors in the glades
Are those of buds and flowers;
They rallied and made steady shades
Are made by passing showers.
Huge hay carts now are chariot cars
And soldiers' boys at play;
The only campfires are the stars
The fiery glory, day.

Thank God that all things in life
Together move for right;
That Night and her half sister, Strife,
Shall die in joy and light;
That through a mystery above,
His merits men shall measure,
That out of hate shall issue love,
And out of war come peace.
—New York Mail and Express.

A Woman's Welcome to the Flag.
A resident of Monticello, Ky., speaks of the number in which the people received the Federal troops in the advance all that place, says, "One old lady said as she saw the column rushing on after the Confederates, 'When I see the old flag a-comin', I just threw my old bonnet on the ground and stomped on it.'"

Taps.
Dear old emblems of the G. A. R.,
Laid away in an ungued drawer,
You will not shine on parole to-day,
When the bugles call the Blue and the Gray.
For a grave that's new
Marks another blue,
That answers the silent bivouac lay.

Sacred relics of a noble band
Piling onward to that unknown strand,
Golden memories of sixty-one,
When young hearts throbb'd to life and drum.
Many soldiers true
In their suits of blue
Have answered Taps to their last review.

Are you talking about the coming chautauqua? It will be a good thing for everyone to talk it from now until it occurs. The array of talent is a good one and the days and evenings will be given up to a program that cannot fail to please.

Plays may come and plays may go, but Hamlet lives on forever, and that is as it should be, for there is no other play in all the world that deserves so much consideration as does "Hamlet, Prince of Denmark." Mr. Sanford Dodge, who is to produce it here, comes with a splendid company, special scenery, and all accessories to give this immortal play a splendid presentation. Reserve seats now. Don't miss this opportunity of seeing the world's greatest play, brilliantly acted. At the Wayne Opera House, June 2nd.

A gentleman living up near Wausa, whose name we did not learn, came very nearly getting badly injured if not killed, at this station Saturday forenoon. He got on the front end of the west bound train when it began to pull out of the station, and then concluded he would rather ride in the rear coach and instead of going through the train he attempted to step off and was doubtfully foolish to step off backward, with the result that he was carried off his feet. He held on to the hand rail and was dragged quite a distance before the train was stopped. He escaped serious injury but it is safe to say that he will not try to get off a train in that manner again.

Children and Money

The State Supt. of Public Instruction has certified up to the various counties their various portions of the semi-annual school apportionment. The total is much less than one year ago. Wayne county has 3,614 school children and gets $2,864.90. The counties bordering on Wayne are Cumming, 5,375 children $4,269.85; Stanton, 2,797 children $2,217.18; Thurston, 2,696 children $2,137.18; Cedar, 5,289 children $4,192.72; Dixon, 4,074 children $3,224.25; Pierce, 3,685 children $2,921.18.

Sunday at the M. E. Church

There will be regular services at this church Sunday, both morning and evening. The subject for the morning discourse will be "Testing One's Christian Life." Text, "Try your own selves, whether ye are in the faith." [The subject for the evening will be, "Self Sacrifice for Others Salvation." Text, "He saved others, himself he cannot save."]

The Sunday school meets at 12 o'clock P. M. and the Epworth League at 7 o'clock P. M.

All persons who do not worship elsewhere are most cordially and earnestly invited to worship with us. Visitors and strangers made welcome.

Farewell Visit

Miss Lizzie Glenn, of Choshi, Japan, will make Wayne friends a farewell visit the first of June before leaving for her far away field of labor. Miss Lizzie has been assisting her talented sister Agnes in carrying on a beautiful work among the fisher folk and their children of Choshi. Her departure, being the only missionaries in that out of the way and neglected part of the Flower Kingdom. The rugged sea coast prevents the landing of any vessels near Choshi hence it is known as an inland town. In the village work in the interior these two devoted Scotch lassies have won some three hundred heathen worshippers to the faith in the living God. Their work however is chiefly among the fisher folk and here again they are doing faithful work, gathering in hundreds of children for instruction in the christian religion. These women are college graduates and have hazarded their lives for the sake of the Gospel of Christ.

Wayne friends are hoping to be able to supply them with some necessary things for their work, such as bedding, clothing, toilet articles, books, picture cards, etc. Anyone wishing to share in this work please report to Mrs. C. A. Grothe or Mrs. Edwin B. Young.

What Rambler Economy Means

Here is what Mr. C. F. Showalter, 1626 Wirt Street, Omaha, Nebraska, writes:

"I believe I have them all beat for mileage and small expense. I bought my Rambler March 24th, 1926, and drove it until November 12th. During that time I had covered 24,000 miles. A great deal of this was over country roads, and quite often with six or seven passengers. The expense of my car during this time would not amount to over $25.00 at the most; this does not include tires and fuel. The four-cylinder Rambler has them all beat for simplicity, durability, and economy."

Rambler

The Car with the Offset Crank Shaft

The great economy and efficiency of this car is due to such exclusive Rambler features as the offset crank shaft, straight-line-drive, safety spark retarder, Rambler Spare Wheel, etc. Let us prove this to you. Class Sermon

Owing to the rainy evening, or some other cause, there was a very small audience at the Presbyterian church last Sunday evening to listen to the class sermon by Rev. C. J. Ringer to the 1909 graduates of the high school. The pulpit platform was well covered with plants and flowers and the room was laden with the perfume of the blossoms, glad emblems of the happy spring time both in nature and in youth. Rev. Ringer used for his text these words: "A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches." The truth of the text has even more of an application in these days than back in the years when the wise man uttered them, and from them the speaker wove a series of thoughts that were helpful, or at least should be, to those to whom they were particularly addressed. A good name, character, is an asset that can never be taken away unless one loses it himself, and therefore it is better than riches. A man does not necessarily have to be great in order to be good but oftentimes men and women are great on account of their goodness.

NORMAL NOTES

Mr. John Sauntry visited an aunt in Cherokee, Iowa, over Sunday.

Miss Ida Gleason, Miss Hattie Best, and Miss Etta Marsh were College visitors, making arrangements for the summer term.

Mrs. Pile was an over Sunday visitor at the Neihardt home in Bancroft, Nebraska.

Mr. E. J. Simonds, State Secretary for the Y. M. C. A., was a guest of the Association over Sunday. He found the society flourishing and in good condition.

Miss Lizzie Busted, of Madison, was here a few days last week, making arrangements for the summer term.

Prof. John T. Sauntry gave the Saturday talk at one o'clock. His subject was "Heroes in Plain Clothes."

Thompson--Madsen

Married, on Wednesday, May 26, 1909, at noon, Mr. Eric Thompson and Inga Madsen, at the home of the father of the bride, Hans Madsen, in Leslie precinct, this county; were united in marriage by Rev. C. J. Ringer, in the presence of about twenty near relatives.

The couple is well known, the bride as one of Wayne county's successful teachers and the groom as one of the substantial farmers. After a short wedding trip the couple will live on the farm of the bride's father, four miles southeast of Wayne where we predict for them a successful career.

No one has been complaining about the extreme moisture that we have. And yet if we get a little more rain than we need you will begin to hear complaints about the way Providence is treating us. There are men who every spring worry themselves half sick for fear they won't have any crops. In the fall after nature has dealt bountifully with them they begin to worry about the season a year ahead. They keep up a continual fret. It is a bad habit to get into and one ought never to begin it.

John R. Morris, of Carroll, was a caller Monday morning. He was on his way to O'Neil, Nebraska, where he went to look after some grazing grounds for his sheep during the summer. He has a large number of these animals and wishing to give his own land a rest this season he is going to put them out on the range.

In the report of the secretary of the Commercial Club last week the receipts for the third and fourth quarter got mixed, that is, the 4th quarter figures were overlooked altogether and it said 4th quarter when it should have been the 3rd. It was no fault of the book-keeper, his figures were all right, but the compositor got things mixed.

Prof. C. H. Bright, of the Nebraska Normal, delivered the graduating addresses at Decatur, Waterbury, Magnet and Creston last week and this. Prof. J. T. Sauntry, of the same school, is also delivering similar addresses in different parts of the state. A goodly number of the faculty are well adapted for that line of work.

This is what might be termed a busy week in the realm of entertainments. The carnival attractions arrived Monday and will be here the entire week; then there is the class play of the high school this evening and the graduating exercises proper on Friday evening, and Mahara's Minstrels held the boards at the opera house Tuesday evening.

W. L. Fisher and J. W. Souders went to Keith county, Nebraska, Tuesday morning to look after their land interests there. W. L. is having some breaking done on his land and will also build a house later on and he wishes to make some changes in the plans he had heretofore outlined.

Peter Peterson, who has been visiting his mother at Winside, is spending a few days in Wayne visiting his sister, Mrs. Chas. Reese. He has served three years in the U. S. army two in Alaska and one Fort Harrison, Indianapolis, Indiana.

As an index of how some of the farmers regard the poultry business we cite the fact that the man who has purchased the Abbott farm north of town paid $28 for 100 eggs for hatching.

Miss Edna Moles, who has been teaching a country school since her parents went to their Dakota home, left Monday morning to join them at their present place of residence.

It is said that a poor beginning makes a good ending. The carnival company arrived in town Sunday afternoon and Monday it rained all day, so they did not get a good start at least.

Do You Know

you are wearing stockings that have been burned? It's a fact. All black hosiery is dyed by what is known as the "oxidized" process, which means nothing less than a "burning" process. That's exactly why even the best stockings you can buy sometimes "go wrong."

Armor Plate Hosiery

is not dyed by this burning process. The manufacturers have been working for years trying to produce a dye that would not burn the hosiery, and they have just perfected such a dye which they have called the "Harms Naut Dye." It harms neither the hosiery nor the skin. The original strength of every yarn in Armor Plate Hosiery is retained. Hence the wearers have the assurance of the most serviceable and longest-lived hosiery ever manufactured.

For the Entire Family

Armor Plate Hosiery is just as good for the woman who expects service from a light-weight gauze stocking as it is for the boy who must have a stocking that will stand the strain and wear.

If you want to cut your hosiery bill in half, insist upon Armor Plate Hosiery every time and for all the family. We carry in stock all the desirable sizes, styles and weights. Let us show you hosiery satisfaction and economy.

While here in Wayne we have had a number of rains the past month which appeared to be general, yet reports from the south, west and north show that only a few miles away they have not been getting near the amount of moisture necessary. Sunday night's rain was more general than any heretofore.

Quaker Oats Griddle Cakes

Try them today!

The family that hasn't eaten Quaker Oats griddle cakes has a delightful surprise coming to it. Besides the delicious flavor, there is the pleasure of knowing you can eat all you want, and the more you eat the better for you. The best of all foods for anyone wanting more strength and vigor.

Hundreds of thousands of packages of Quaker Oats are consumed in Germany annually and almost all of it is eaten in the form of Quaker Oats griddle cakes. In the New York cereal restaurant of the Quaker Oats Company these griddle cakes are very popular.

Here's the best recipe for making them:

2 cups Quaker Oats (uncooked); 1 1/2 cup flour; 1 teaspoon salt; 1 teaspoon soda; dissolve in two tablespoons hot water; 1 teaspoon baking powder (mix in flour); 2 1/2 cups sour milk or buttermilk; 2 eggs beaten lightly; 1 tablespoon sugar; 1 or 2 tablespoons melted butter (according to richness of milk).

Process: Soak Quaker Oats over night in milk. In the morning mix and sift flour, soda, sugar and salt--add this to Quaker Oats mixture and quantity of melted butter; add eggs beaten lightly--beat thoroughly and cook as griddle cakes--they make your mouth water for more.

THE SAFETY assured by our Guaranteed Non-Explosive Cans is now generally acknowledged by prominent Chemists, State Oil Inspectors, Chiefs of Fire Departments, Insurance Experts, as well as by dealers and users everywhere. All of these endorse them highly. Fires and serious accidents occur daily by exploding oil cans. Life insurance will not prolong life, nor fire insurance prevent fire. All tests prove that our cans do both. Think what this means. Their use secures lowest obtainable insurance rates, because the fire risk is less. Whether gasoline or kerosene are sold, handled or used, our ELECTRO-CHEMICAL cans are

A PROTECTION TO LIFE AND PROPERTY.
Actual use proves that the self-acting apparatus built into each can strains and purifies these oils, removing chemical impurities and greatly increasing their fuel and illuminating values. No other can will do this, or is guaranteed in any way. All experts who have tested our cans declare them perfect and positively non-explosive.

Good wishes will go with them to their new field of labor, and the Chadronites will find them good citizens and the Prof. an A. No. 1 school man in every way.

The joys of childhood are many and varied, and if they could only understand and appreciate them more fully the memory of them would linger longer with them. A large number of the little friends of Mary Wilson gathered at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Wilson, last Friday afternoon, after school hours, and gave her surprise. My, how they did shout and play, and why should they not, their hearts were full of glee, and the day was one to make one feel glad that they were alive. Several very happy hours were spent together.

In spite of the rain quite a few Sunday School workers went down to Grace church to the Sunday School convention. Some of us were too late for the dinner, which we know was excellent, having in years gone by partaken of Brenna picnic dinners. The church was crowded and the talks given by Supt. King, Miss White, Revs. Ahrends, Kirkpatrick and Osborne brought out many helpful ideas. Miss Mason, Supt. of the Primary Department, gave a very suggestive talk along her line of work. It seems a pity that all the workers in all the Sunday Schools could not have been there.

Miss Whittier, of Whiting, Iowa, was the guest of her former school friend, Miss Theobald, the first of the week.

What is better than a good dish of ice cream these warm afternoons or evenings? Whalen makes the kind that touches the spot.

Miss Page, who has been principal of our high school, has secured the same position in the Randolph schools for next year at $70 per month.

You cannot help being pleased with the treatment you will receive at Whalen's if you go there for a Sundae, dish of ice cream, some of his delicious cake or confections.

Mack Miller, the horse trainer, had an animal get away from him Sunday morning, throwing both men out and smashing the buggy into kindling wood.

The changes made in the store of Miller & Jones last week added materially to the appearance of the stock and also assists to a marked degree in the convenience of handling the different lines of goods and waiting on customers.

Having found it necessary to have additional help in his barber shop, M. E. Root has secured his old partner, P. L. Mabbott, who is handling the razor and shears with his usual skill. All old patrons of the firm are cordially invited to visit the new location, and all new ones will be carefully looked after at the shop first door south of the Union Hotel.

Mrs. H. C. Leisenring, who has been sick for so long, does not gain strength as fast as it was hoped she would. While she is able to get about the house a very little with the aid of crutches she is still very weak. Now that summer is here her many friends are hoping for more rapid improvement in her condition.

Dr. G. J. Hess, who comes here from Holt county, has leased the Grant S. Mears residence, just east of R. Philleo, and will occupy the same this week. He has been spending the past winter in New Orleans and comes here because he feels that it is a place in which he would like to reside with his family even if it shall not prove so good a location for his professional business. Some of our people are acquainted with the gentleman and say that he will be a good acquisition for the town.

Judge Hunter issued two marriage licenses the past week. On Friday, the 21st, to Willie Miller and Miss Minnie Miller, both of Hoskins, and Saturday the 22nd to Fred C. Ahrendschildt and Miss Anna Lenser, both of Hoskins. On the 24th, Eric Thompson, of Wayne and Miss Inga Madsen, of Wakefield; on the 25th to George Otto Utecht and Ella Matilda Ulrich, both of Hoskins; on the 26th to George W. Wilkinson, of Kansas City, Missouri, and Lottie Wilson, of Sioux City, Iowa. The last named couple were both colored and the Judge united them in marriage.

The Acme Club held its annual picnic at the pleasant home of Mrs. Davies Tuesday evening. The rooms and tables were tastefully decorated with carnations, lilacs and ferns. A fine three course dinner was nicely served by Misses Helen Blair, Kate Bressler, and Neva Orr. Dainty hand painted place cards designated each guest's place at table. Music, games and charades completed an evening long to be remembered. In the bean game contest Mrs. Orr received first prize, Dr. Williams consolation. Besides the husbands of the ladies, Mr. and Mrs. Orr, Dr. and Mrs. Smith of Colorado Springs, and Mrs. Glarker of Gilman, Illinois, were invited guests.

J. W. Morgan, who has been spending a week or two visiting his daughter at Malvern, Iowa, returned home Tuesday night. He says Ross Jones is doing fine, which all of Ross' friends will be glad to hear.

Mrs. George Snowden is suffering with a badly poisoned face. She can account for the trouble in some way, except that the dust from some grain which she was helping Mr. Snowden clean out did the mischief. Winside Tribune.

Ahern had some neat signs put on the front windows of his store Monday, not only on the room he now occupies but also on the one from which Whalen will move out in the not distant future and which will also be occupied by Ahern.

There are no dandelions on the court house lawn, and that part of the city is much more free of the pest than that part south of 4th street. The court house grounds are good to look upon showing that the janitor has an eye for neatness and a love for the beautiful.

The Wayne Marble and Granite Works received Monday something new in the monument line, a piece of Black Belgium marble, imported direct from Belgium, it being ordered last October. The piece weighed over 2,000 pounds and was polished on all sides except one. It will certainly make a fine piece of work when set up, as it probably will be in Greenwood cemetery.

It Cannot Be Done by Using Cheap Materials and Cheap Painters. In arranging for painting, a good many property-owners try to save money by employing the painter who offers to do the job cheapest—or try to save money by insisting on a low-priced paint. But no property-owner would run such risks if he realized what must be taken into consideration in order to get a job that will wear and give thorough satisfaction.

No houseowner will go wrong on the painting question if he writes National Lead Company, 1902 Trinity Building, New York, for their Houseowner's Painting Outfit No. 49, which is sent free. It is a complete guide to painting. It includes a book of color schemes for either exterior or interior painting, a book of specifications, and an instrument for detecting adulteration in paint materials.

Nearly every dealer has National Lead Company's pure white lead (Dutch Boy) paint trademark. If yours has not notify National Lead Co. and arrangements will be made for you to get it.

Canada and Canonist.

The following anecdote of Uncle Joe Cannon is told by A. E. Thomas in Success Magazine:

"In some ways he's an engaging old despot," Uncle Joe, and occasionally his victims have to laugh, even while they agonize beneath his yoke. On one occasion an unusually large number of Republicans happened to get together about the same time, while for some unknown reason the Democratic appetite did not require attention. Catching the Speaker napping, the Democratic floor leader, perceiving that he had a majority, called up a bill and pushed it to a vote. The Speaker strung out the voting in all of the various ways that are known to him, but at the end of the second roll-call the Democratic votes were still in the majority. Though the rules of the House expressly forbade such a thing, a third roll-call was ordered by the Speaker, a proceeding which called out a red-hot protest from one of the Democratic leaders, who demanded to know the reason for the Speaker's extraordinary action. The Speaker indignantly advised the protesting Democrat.

"The chair will inform the gentleman, said he. 'The chair is hoping that a few more Republicans will come in.'"

"As a general thing," observed Uncle Jerry, "I believe in letting women have whatever they want; but when I see one of 'em goin' around with a speck on her head that looks like an old-fashioned beehive that's been tarred and feathered and then struck by lightning, I begin to wonder, by George, if I wouldn't be safe to treat her with the Katoo!"—Chicago Tribune.

CHAPTER X. Signs multiplied. When Charles and I returned to the house we found muddy footprints staining the dining-room floor and tracked across the kitchen. No intruders were to be seen, nor other evidence of their visit, but the mere fact that the sanctity of my home—hitherto always left open to the winds—had been invaded, angered me. I bade Charles see that the bushes were securely locked hereafter whenever he left it in my absence.

Over the mantel in my den hung two muskets, out-of-date but still capable of boring holes in the atmosphere. My little armory held a shotgun, for use in the marshes, and two revolvers, whose only use heretofore had been for target practice. I took them from the drawer and locked them over; they were ready for work when needed.

I sat on the porch, and considered the situation. Something was about to happen, something I could not tell what—that centered around this man who had mysteriously taken possession of the ship and proposed to offer combat on the sands. What he was or who he was I could not guess; speculation in these lines brought me immediately into blind alleys; but there was no doubt that in situation and character he was certainly the direct descendant of a more adventurous age.

It was unmistakably drawn to him, he could see him as he stood on the bench, buffeted by the storm, leaning at the men who were pulling away, and as he had stepped from the hatchway, but in hand, bowing to Barbara Graham with the chivalrous manner of a cavalier, and again as he sat across the table from me, his slender hands ready to seize upon the pistols, his eyes, full of amusement and audacity, looking straight into mine.

There was no doubt about it, the ship belonged to him by right of inheritance, and his arrival had brought me strange tidings. I thought over the matter a long time before I went to bed.

Early the next morning I took my dip in the sea, and was returning, clad in a bath-robe, when I caught sight of a man peering at me from the pines. I waved my towel, and he disappeared. As I was finishing dressing, a little later, I stepped out upon my balcony, and I saw the same man, much nearer now, gazing intently at the cottage.

"Hi, there! What do you want?" I cried, beckoning to him. He came forward rather sheepishly, and touched his hat. "I was only taking a look at your house, sir."

"And is that what you were doing some twenty minutes ago?" "Are you an architect?" I demanded. He wore a plain blue suit, with an old straw hat, and might have been almost anything.

WASHINGTON GOSSIP

The Interstate Commerce Commission has sent to Congress the third installment of its report on railroad discriminations in the coal and oil traffic, this one relating to coal only. It tells of the merging of various Ohio and West Virginia coal companies and of their control by the Trunk Line syndicate. The commission found that the syndicate tended to discourage the development of other mines not connected with its companies, thus retaining so far as possible a monopoly of the field.

Charles M. Pepper, special agent of the Department of Commerce and Labor, who has been studying the fiscal systems of Europe, reports that Great Britain raised $167,000,000 in revenue from the income tax law during the last fiscal year, that being the largest single source of revenue. Mr. Pepper analyzes the various sources of the principal one is the corporations and large business and professional interests, the next being the owners of houses and lands.

The new Philippine tariff bill as amended by the ways and means committee, has been presented to the House, has been scheduled for the House. As amended petroleum and its products are placed on the free list, while hides are also added. Light steel rails for tramways are provided with a lower duty than was contained in the original bill and a lower rate is placed on sugar-making machinery, which was assessed a duty equal to that on other machinery.

The Treasury Department has decided to do away with the present system of customs weighers; in view of the fraudulent practices of the sugar trust weighers, as disclosed in the recent trial at New York, and to install, as soon as possible, electrical weighing machines which register weights automatically. This will throw out of the service a large number of men employed as weighers.

Secretary Bollinger, opposed to forest conservation, and Secretary Wilson, in favor of it, have argued their differences before the President, and the entire cabinet. The President expects to ask Attorney General Wickham and the other legal lights of the cabinet to file written opinions on the merits of the controversy before he finally decides it.

Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, recently elected president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, has written to President Taft tendering the government for certain research and lecture work the use of the handsome marble home of the Daughters, now about completed.

A delegation of women operatives from Pennsylvania who went to Washington to urge higher rates of duty on hosiery called upon the President and were cordially received, although the President did not in any way commit himself to their side of the question.

Speaker Cannon recently celebrated his 73d birthday. The Republican members from North Carolina, where the speaker was born in 1836, presented him with an unusually large dinner made of a gourd from the Tarheel state.

The President has declared that he favors an income tax only as a last resort; that recourse in case of a deficiency under the new tariff act should first be had to an inheritance and next to a corporation tax.

Consular representatives will investigate and report to the state department on the story that the crew of the whaling ship, Carrie K. Knowles, supposed to have been lost at sea five years ago, are prisoners in Venezuela.

Secretary Dickinson of the war department will visit St. Paul sometime during the summer to make an inspection of the military post at Fort Snelling.

A Sign of Prosperity. A sign of the return of prosperous conditions is seen in the recent heavy importations of precious stones. The total value of stones imported during the month of March by diamond dealers in New York City, who handle 90 per cent of all diamonds coming into the country, amounted to $3,354,407.47, an increase of 800 per cent over the value of the importations in March, 1908. In the months following the panic of 1907 scarcely any precious stones were imported on the diamond market, but during the holiday season of last year the demand for stones, practically exhausted the supply on hand, and buyers were hastened to Europe to obtain diamonds and restock the large dealers.

Step in a Concrete Bed. Anything that was so-called good enough for a bed to John Murray of Philadelphia, as he tried to wend his way homeward at 6 o'clock in the morning, and when he stumbled into a bed of cement mortar in front of a new building he felt that he need go no further. He slipped gently down into the cement and slept. When he awoke he couldn't move. A policeman heard his cries and pried him out with a crowbar.

Habe of 3 Months Talks. Charlotte Gray, the 3-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gray of Hopkins, Mo., startled its parents by saying, "My hand hurts." It made the statement in reply to the anxious inquiries of its mother, who solicitously asked it what made it cry. The baby's outburst, as it is called, startled the parents that for a physician and the baby's grandmother. The child's voice is as strong as a child of 10 years old. Since its first articulation it refuses to quit talking.

THE HOUSEHOLD

Homemade Soap. An old-fashioned recipe for home-made soap, which in its time was credited with great powers of softening the skin, consisted of a mixture of three pounds of yellow soap—shredded finely—and worked with an ounce of camphor and an ounce of lavender water in a mortar until the mixture was converted into a thick paste. This was always rolled on a marble slab until worked into a ball, and then placed in a warm, dry cupboard to harden.

Tea Balls. Heat two cups of milk in the double boiler to the boiling point, add a tablespoonful of butter and one of sugar and a level teaspoonful of salt; when cool, add one-half yeast cake dissolved in a little lukewarm water; mix with flour to make a dough that can be kneaded for fifteen minutes; cover and let rise, then shape into rolls; set in a buttered pan and let rise again before baking.

Hot Salt Potatoes. Put two quarts of water in a kettle and add enough coarse salt to make a brine that will hold an egg up to the surface. Heat the brine and put in the potatoes, washed, but without paring or cutting the skin in, even the smallest globe. Cook the potatoes until they seem done; then it will do no harm to test them with a fine skewer or knitting needle. Serve hot with their jackets on.

Rhubarb Sherbert. Cook rhubarb without peeling, sweeten it well, add orange juice to taste and a little gelatine in the proportion of one teaspoon to three cups of sherbert. Strain, add one beaten egg white to two cups of the mixture and freeze. Serve in glasses, and garnish with candied kumquats, one in each glass. The salad, though simple, is excellent for this season.

Fried Cakes. Mix together a large cup of thick sour cream and a full cup of sugar. Add five small eggs, or four large ones, well beaten, one teaspoonful of baking soda and a little nutmeg. Add enough flour to make the proper thickness for frying. Do not put in too much at first, but try a bit of the dough in the boiling fat and if it is too soft add more flour to the dough.

Coffee Layer-Cake. Two eggs, one cup brown sugar, one-half cup molasses, one-fourth cup cold coffee, one-fourth cup of wine, half cup butter, one teaspoonful soda, two cups flour, one teaspoon baking powder in flour, half teaspoonful salt, half teaspoonful spices and nutmeg grated. Put together in layers with a hollie frosting in which has been put one cup of chopped raisins.

Fruit Glaze. Make a sirup by boiling together, without stirring a pound of sugar and a gill of water. When a little dropped into cold water is brittle, take from the fire and set in an outer part of boiling water. Add to the sirup the juice of a quarter lemon, run a thin skewer through each bit of fruit, dip this in the sirup and lay on waxed paper to dry.

Wafers. Rub one-quarter cup of butter in two cups of flour and mix with ter water to make a stiff dough. Turn on to a floured board and roll as thin as possible. Cut in small rounds, lift with a knife to another part of the board, and roll as thin as paper. Lift with a bread knife on to a slightly floured pan and bake in a quick oven.

Quick Brown Bread. One cup of rye meal, one cup of Indian meal, two cups of flour, one scant cup of molasses, one cup of boiling water. Mix these ingredients well together, then add a level teaspoonful of baking powder and a teaspoonful of salt. Put in a Boston brown bread tin and steam for four hours.

Baked Tongue. Soak a corned (beef) tongue over night; boil until tender; remove skin and roots. Cover with fine cracked crumbs and brown sugar and bake half an hour in a slow oven. Garnish with mashed potato forced through a pastry tube and delicately browned.

Bee-wax. To make beeswax place comb in coarse muslin bag and put a small stone, to weigh the contents; put in kettle, cover with water and boil. The wax comes to the top of the water and the sediment remains in the bottom of kettle. Remove wax when cold.

Don't Pile Hot Dishes. A point to be given the new waitress is that china plates, cups and saucers should not be piled one upon another while they are hot. The heat must be cool before they are packed otherwise the glaze will crack easily.

Foredoomed. There is a man in a Midland town whose name is Burst. It is misfortune that would not have attracted much attention if he had not called his two children Annie May and Ernest Will.—Tid-Bits.

Beef Sandwiches. Cut two parts of chopped lean beef, one part of finely minced onion, salt, pepper and a little made vinegar. Place on a lettuce leaf between thin slices of bread and butter.

To Make Steak Tender. A steak that is tough may be made tender by reaching it, both sides, with vinegar and oil, thoroughly mixed at the meat stand for two hours by steaming.

Physicians at Washington. The twenty-fourth annual convention of the American Association of Physicians has been held at Washington. Dr. Vaughan, of Ann Arbor, Mich., president of the association, made an address upon "The Physical Basis of Life," in which he attacked the Emmental movement and other mind cure cults, which he said had never had scientific support or led to the discovery of a single scientific fact. He ridiculed the idea that the brain or mind controlled the body and that it was superior to matter.

THE REVOLUTION of the PRESS

The Revolution in Turkey. Turkey is acquiring the South American temperament in fine style.—Atlanta Journal.

Castro ought to be glad that he is out of range.—Look at Abdul.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Now that we see if the rebel can knock his plumes out of Turkey.—Cleveland Leader.

It is announced that Abdul Hamid has been in Cairo. It so it must have been a visit to the dogs.—Cleveland Leader.

It would be interesting to know how many of Abdul Hamid's good friends are saying "I told you so."—New York Star.

When the Sultan crosses an American as a spy he is taking the chance of an imprisonment of the sort not likely to be placed on file.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Turkish soldiers made the revolution barely because they pay was not arrears. Now they naturally want their pay from the new regime.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

If Abdul Hamid is driven to seek an asylum in America, he would make a corking good "denying" secretary for some President or statesman.—Washington Post.

Under the present circumstances, Abdul Hamid would doubtless accept with pleased alacrity an invitation to accompany President Taft on his visit to Alaska this summer.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

White Abdul Hamid may be tried for treason, murder, embezzlements, perjury, bribery, hoodluming, and exacting bribes, and he will think of his eleven wives and conclude that his punishment is "enough."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

That Message to Mars. Here's another fellow who cuts prices and offers to talk to Mars for $20,000.—Herald Union.—Cleveland Leader.

A message to Mars can be sent for $10,000,000, says Prof. Pickering. Let's send it collect and see what will happen.—Cleveland Leader.

What attracted attention was not the idea of signaling Mars, but the discovery of a brand-new way of spending $10,000,000.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

An eminent professor says it will cost $10,000,000 to talk with Mars in long distance toll, that's the limit. Hang up the receiver.—Atlanta Constitution.

It would be a shame to spend $10,000,000 to talk with the Martians only to find in the end that they couldn't understand this baseball language.—Toledo Blade.

For some unaccountable reason, no enterprising citizen has yet ventured forward with that $10,000,000 which Prof. Pickering requires before opening a conversation with Mars.—Kansas City Journal.

Speaking of Suffrage. The nine hundredth ballot from the suffragette movement has called herself a governmentalist.—Washington Post.

Suffragettes are particularly requested not to disturb Parliament while England is struggling with the question of a deficit.—Washington Star.

Westchester County, New York, has developed a lady horse thief, which goes to show that woman's sphere of activity is constantly expanding.—Houston Post.

Speaking of the matter of woman suffrage, about what per cent of the general average of men throughout the country believe their wives are incapable of voting intelligently.—Toledo Blade.

It's always the way, at first, to be ruled by sentiment, but after woman have exercised the elective franchise for a few years they will develop common sense in selecting their candidates.—Detroit News.

With this "Pain." They have unveiled a monument to the "father of baseball" in New York, but the game will never need one.—Cleveland Leader.

While golf is Mr. Taft's favorite sport, he recognizes that he is President of all the people. He went to a ball game the other day.—Kansas City Journal.

It is said that President Taft fears he is a baseball hoodoo. But as far as the Washington club is concerned, he is only one hoodoo in many thousands.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Englishmen, who object to the language employed by baseball writers have too little knowledge of the game to know that if they want to attract any attention they must reserve their critical energies for the empire.—Washington Star.

Hazing at the Canal. The Gatun dam is at it again. But we decline to get scared.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

It won't be Congressman Rainey's fault if the canal isn't finished on time. He is making desperate digs at it.—Atlanta Constitution.

The canal is going to cost a few millions more than we expected it to, but what, are a few millions between oceans.—Cleveland Leader.

The Panama canal will now be justified in expecting a Yale lock.—Indianapolis Star.

Still the Panama canal can be built on the level without being built on the sea level.—Arkansas Gazette.

King Peter and the $50,000. King Peter wants $50,000 a year to give up the crown of Servia. Looks to us like a bargain for Servia.—Augusta Chronicle.

King Peter agrees to resign if given $50,000 in spot-cash, which shows that kings are as human as the rest of us.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

LITTLE BITS OF STATE NEWS

Also Some Other Items of Interest to our Readers.
$500 has been contributed toward a 4th of July fund at Osmond.
The entire revenue of the city of Tekamah for the year ending May 1909 was $12,613.42.
Stanton feels that a live commercial club is just what it needs and is taking steps to organize one.
The Craig News estimates that $25,000 will be expended in new buildings in that town this spring.
Of the 173 that took the 8th grade examination in Cedar county, only 75 passed, and ten of those were at Laurel.
The Advocate says that the Omaha stock yards at Laurel are altogether too odiferous for the public health.
Laurel defeated Randolph 11 to 8 in a game of ball Thursday, and Wakefield did a like service for Hubbard 7 to 0.
There are already fourteen candidates for the office of sheriff of Pierce county in the field and more to hear from.
Wakefield will observe Monday the 31st, as Decoration day instead of Saturday, the 29th, as it had intended doing.
There are sixty car loads of cattle in the feed yards in the vicinity of Pierce county in the vicinity of last year at this time.
Owing to the severe dust storms a number of farmers near Laurel were compelled to plow up their oat fields and plant to corn.
Ernest Wagner, of Stanton, was badly burned in a fire at Dallas, South Dakota, last week by the explosion of a gasoline stove.
A. E. Ward, who was congressman Boyd's private secretary, is a candidate for the Superintendent of Schools of Madison county.

Winside will vote on the 11th day of June on the proposition of issuing bonds for a lighting system—gas being the proposed illuminant.

The Blair Pilot is of the opinion that there is an awful waste of money and energy expended in that city in maintaining twelve churches.

The village treasury of Uehling shows receipts of $6,000 in three years but it is now empty and some of the citizens are inquiring what has become of it.

Judge Basler, of Tekamah, has decided to locate at Grants Pass, Oregon, where he will engage in fruit raising, and expects to get away to his new home next month.

Paul Steufer, a farmer living near West Point, has just marketed sixty hogs, only eleven months old, that averaged 313 pounds each and topped the market at $7.40 per 100.

Miss Katherine Linton, primary teacher of the West Point public schools, has resigned her position and will become principal of the schools at Naper, Boyd county, at an increased salary.

The Methodists, who have been working for some time on the project of building a church at Walthill are now about to the point of receiving bids on construction. They intend to erect an edifice costing about $3,000.

Storekeepers may not rent sidewalk space for the sale of goods in the city of Lincoln, says the state supreme court. Goods may be displayed in front of the stores but the sidewalk cannot be made a place of business.

The citizens of Rosalie have just completed a counting of noses and find that within their boundaries there are 217 persons. Articles are now being drawn up and Rosalie expects to soon be an incorporated village, being entitled to that recognition upon a population of 200.

The state supreme court has announced the following rule for measuring damages resulting from the destruction of a perennial crop: Ordinarily the measure of damages is their value at the time and place of destruction but in case of a permanent or perennial crop such as alfalfa the measure of damages is the difference between the value of the land before and after the destruction of the crop.

Joseph Kase, an estimable business man of West Point, is seemingly marked for more than his share of trouble. About a year ago Mrs. Kase, with her two daughters, left for her old home in Moravia, Austria, to visit her aged mother and in the hope that a change of climate would benefit her failing health. In a few months after their arrival one of the little girls died of scarlet fever and now the wife and mother is on the verge of dissolution. A cablegram conveyed the sad news that Mrs. Kase is suffering from pulmonary trouble and is not expected to live. Mr. Kase immediately started for Europe, in the hope of seeing his wife before she breathes her last.

The Nebraska supreme court has rendered a decree that a lessee is responsible for the condition of a building it leases. The case was from Omaha where a woman was killed by falling plaster from the ceiling, and suit was brought for damages for her death.

To Rev. L. V. Slocum and W. E. Kelso is due the credit of soliciting $1,620 in 64 hours for the remodeling the Methodist church and parsonage at Wisner. The people of Wisner are responding liberally to this call and the prospect for a larger church and better parsonage are good.

Lynn McKinnis, the Tekamah boy who rescued the little daughter of a neighboring family from a well into which she had fallen, has been presented with a badge of Heroism by the publishers of the American Boy. His name has also been enrolled in the American Boy's Legion of Honor. The father of the little girl also presented him with a gold watch and chain.

Nebraska bankers are going to test the guarantee of deposit law in Nebraska, because the one passed does not guarantee, is unconstitutional and vicious to the extent of being almost criminal," was the declaration of Henry W. Yates, president of the Nebraska National bank, of Omaha in outlining the plan of attack which bankers are to make on the guarantee of deposit law in Nebraska.

What Makes Coal Dear

Interstate Commerce Commissioner Clark Friday rendered an opinion in the case of the complaint made by Sunderland Bros. of Wausa, Nebraska, alleging excessive rates were charged by the Chicago & Northwestern and the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Northern Pacific railway on a carload shipment of soft coal from Christopher, Illinois, to complainant, in which the rate charged, $5.20 per ton, is found to be unreasonable and a rate of $2.70 per ton is prescribed and reparation awarded. An order for reparation in the sum of $63.75 and interest will be entered against the defendant railroads; and, further, these roads will be required to establish on or before July 1, 1909, and for a period of not less than two years thereafter to maintain a rate not to exceed $2.70 per ton on shipments of bituminous coal in carloads from Sterling, Illinois, to Wausa, Nebraska, when such shipments originate at Christopher, Ill.

In the words of the Scotch poet "The oak, the elm, and the bonnie willow tree, are all growing green in my ain country." The past week has been the pleasantest of all the season thus far. There have been some showers and the whole nature rejoices.

Bad Men

The primaries came a month earlier this year which means that the candidate will have to interview his friends some sooner than heretofore and bring out the information that they are very anxious, in fact, they insist, that he make the race. In several neighboring counties the early birds are already out after the worms. It is to be hoped that Wayne county aspirants will make their desires known before the primaries and not "sneak" on the ballot as several did two years ago.—Winside Tribune.

Many weak, nervous women have been restored to health by Foley's Kidney Remedy as it stimulates the kidneys so they will eliminate the waste matter from the blood. Impurities depress the nerves, causing nervous exhaustion and other ailments. Commence today and you will soon be well. Pleasant to take. Felber's Pharmacy.

Look out for the dry goods peddlers who are about the country selling dress goods and cloth for suits at "great bargain prices." The goods are of inferior quality, although they show up nice; and if you purchase some of them you will get your eye teeth cut good and plenty. Patronize known dealers, and shun these traveling fakirs as you would small pox.

The Lincoln team now has a long string of games at home and ought to go rapidly to the head of the percentage column. The dates to be played in Lincoln in the immediate future are as follows: Denver, May 17, 18, 19; Topeka, 20, 21, 22; Wichita, 24, 25, 26, 27. These games should all be corkers and no visitor to Lincoln who attends them will ever regret it. So far, the out-of-town visitors to Antelope park have been numerous, and the Lincoln management is glad to see them.

A. E. Hildebrand, superintendent of the junior department of the National Corn Exposition, has announced that the largest cash prize goes to the boy who raises the best two acres of corn. This prize is $100.00 in gold. The corn ought to yield seventy-five to eighty bushels to the acre. It will be worth at least $75 which will give the boy securing the first prize a total of $175 for his summer's work on two acres. The boy winning the second prize will get $50 in gold and when he sells his corn will have from $75 to $80 more. Besides he will have plenty of time to produce a big crop of watermelons and help do the chores.

Mr. E. E. May, of Hay Center who has been elected to the principalship of the Carroll school, comes highly recommended. He taught two years at Hay Center as principal and has since attended the Fremont Normal. He is a graduate of the scientific course of that school.

Ed Davis has been in Lincoln most of this week attending the meeting of the grand lodge of the A. O. U. W. Much work has been done at this meeting of the order. The reports show the order in this state to be in exceptional condition.

Mr. Thomas Hamer and Will E. James departed Thursday noon for Florida. Will thought that possibly the climate there would be a benefit to his health, Tom accompanying him as company. If the ocean air agrees with him Will will cross to Wales with Tom, who has delayed his sailing purposely for him.

The following shipped wool this week: John R. Morris 3610 pounds, Bonner Morris 800 pounds, Newton Morris 530 pounds, Cradoc Morris 600 pounds, Ed Carroll 179 pounds. In all there was 5719 pounds. The market at present will pay about 20 cents for wool.

Gomer Jones has been elected as principal of the schools at Bellwood, Nebraska, for the coming year. Bellwood is about forty miles from Lincoln. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe A. Jones, are thinking strongly of moving to Lincoln so as to be near their two sons, Gomer at Bellwood and Elmer, who will attend the state university at Lincoln.

The school board has elected the following teachers for the Carroll schools next year. Prof. E. E. May, of Fremont, principal; Miss Ruth Brandt, assistant principal; Miss Amorette Sewell, intermediate; and Miss Blanche Young, primary. No one has been secured as yet to fill Miss Myrtelle Robinson's place. Miss Robinson will teach next year at Plankinton, South Dakota.

Rev. I. W. Williamson's Letter
Rev. I. W. Williamson, Huntington, W. Va., writes: "This is to certify that I used Foley's Kidney Remedy for nervous exhaustion and kidney trouble and am free to say that it will do all that you claim for it." Foley's Kidney Remedy has restored health and strength to thousands of weak, run down people. Contains no harmful drugs and is pleasant to take. Felber's Pharmacy.

ONE WEAK SPOT
Most Wayne People Have a Weak Part and Too Often It's The Back

Everyone has a weak spot. Too often it's a bad back. Twinges follow every sudden twist. Dull aching keeps up, day and night. Tells you the kidneys need help—For backache is really kidney-ache. A kidney cure is what you need. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys. Cure backache and urinary ills. Good proof in the following statement.

Everett Harbison, farmer, Creighton, R. F. D. No. 1, Bloomfield, Neb., says: "From my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills, I know that they can be relied upon to bring relief from kidney disorders. I suffered from an extreme lameness across my loins and every move I made was painful. Since using Doan's Kidney Pills I have felt a great deal better and my back has given me little trouble. I heartily recommend this remedy."
