ARE YOU PROUD OF IT?

Nebraska is a Great State. Do You Help Tell of its Advantages?

"The total of wages paid in the various industries in Nebraska is over $30,000,000, not including farm and domestic labor."

The egg crop of Nebraska is worth more than the mineral output of Colorado.

The poultry, butter and egg crop of Nebraska is worth more than the total tobacco crop of the nation.

Our small grain crop each year is worth more than the copper output of the United States by over $30,000,000.

Our agricultural and dairy output is worth as much as Pennsylvania's coal output, anthracite and bituminous.

An average corn crop in Nebraska would fill enough standard freight cars to make a train reaching from Denver to Chicago, 1,040 miles, with 172 miles of corn-filled cars to ornament the side tracks.

The 1909 wheat crop of Nebraska would fill enough Burlington cars to make a solid freight train reaching from McCook to Omaha, with a few cars left over to ornament side tracks.

If the total grain and hay production of Nebraska should be loaded into standard freight cars, the cars would make a train long enough to reach from Omaha to San Francisco, with a few hundred miles of cars left over for good measure. When the engineer in the cab at Omaha recognized the signal from the conductor in San Francisco, it would be one day, twenty hours and thirty minutes before the conductor heard the answering whistle.

It is not to be wondered at that the people of other states refuse to believe us when we tell them of the great resources of Nebraska. No need to stretch the truth in order to make a good impression. On the contrary, the truth is so great that we will have difficulty in making people believe it, and the only way to prove our contentions is to bring people to Nebraska and let them see for themselves.

What a Public Library Does

It keeps the boys at home in the evening by giving them well written stories of adventure.

It gives teachers and pupils interesting books to aid their school work in history and geography, and makes better citizens of them by enlarging their knowledge of their country and its growth.

It provides books on the care of children and animals, cookery and housekeeping, building and gardening, and teaches young readers how to make simple dynamos, telephones and other machines.

It helps clubs that are studying history, literature, or life in other countries, and throws light upon Sunday School lessons.

It furnishes books of selections for entertainments and home amusements, and hints on correct speech and good manners.

It teaches the names and habits of plants, birds, and insects of the neighborhood, and the differences in soil and rocks.

It tells the story of the town from its settlement, and keeps a record of all important events in its history.

It offers pleasant and wholesome stories to readers of all ages.

These are some of the many reasons why you should encourage your boys and girls to patronize the Wayne library. Not alone the books of fiction but also those of reference and books from which they may learn many valuable things.

Blood Poison

(By Dr. A. E. Gadsden)

Much has been said and written in regard to blood poison, but the average person has as yet a vague idea as to what this condition really is. It is, therefore, the purpose of this article to elucidate upon the meaning, cause and prevention of the above term in the hope of preventing the frequency of this condition by giving the people a better understanding of its modus operandi.

Strictly speaking, blood poison is a symptom, and not a disease, and comes in the same class as the term fever. Like the latter, it may be associated with many different diseases, and the expression "John Jones has blood poison" conveys no more meaning than the one "John Jones has fever."

The question naturally asked in the latter case would be "What kind of fever?" And the question in the former case should be "What kind of blood poison?" If blood poison is not a disease, you ask "What is it?" The answer is this: It is a condition in which the blood contains highly toxic or poisonous substances, either in the form of living germs or the poisonous products thereof which by absorption have entered the circulation.

There are several well traveled routes by which these germs reach the blood stream, as through the digestive of respiratory tract, etc.

It is my intention here to consider but one route and that is what is known as the external; generally through a bruise, cut or abrasion of the skin. When germs enter by any of these gates, we of the medical profession call it an infection.

There are two families of microbes that occasion nearly all of the trouble caused by this route. One is a very modest creature and seems to be contented with just a plain living. He seldom gets in a hurry, and in only exceptional cases, or upon extra delicious food does he get rampageous. This fellow goes by the name of staphylococcus, and is the one most frequently met with and while he causes a large amount of pus or matter, he is not especially virulent, but occasionally exhibits a bulldog tendency to hang on. The other fellow is very virulent and energetic. He works rapidly and is the cause of many deaths of so-called blood poison. He causes very little pus, but his field of operation may be recognized by the angry appearance of the wound or scratch and the intensely red lines traveling along the lymphatics. This is also the germ that has waded many a mother into the vale beyond by causing child bed fever. It is also the cause of that dread disease known to all as erysipelas. The name of this germ is streptococcus.

The way to prevent this havoc from little cuts, scratches, etc., is very simple and within the reach of all. Just apply the principles of cleanliness. The best way to do this is to use soap and clean water freely. Germs that have been introduced at the time of the injury should be washed out and all other germs excluded. To accomplish the latter we should be the first to receive this treatment as nothing is so liable to introduce germs into a wound as dirty fingers and nails. After this has been accomplished the application of pure alcohol, turpentine or tincture iodine will not only kill any stray germs that have not been washed out, but will also harden the tissue so as to prevent the entrance of any other infection until nature has an opportunity to erect defenses and protect itself against invasion.

 Sit in the long distance telephone office for half an hour and you will see what a busy place it is, and what a really necessary thing the telephone has become. While we were there a few minutes Friday evening waiting for a call from Norfolk, there were calls from Omaha, Neigh, Emerson, Pender, Norfolk and a number of other places, carrying messages of various kinds, some of business, some of sorrow, some of anxiety and concern regarding the condition of loved ones. It almost seems to us that the world could not get along without all these things that go to make life more enjoyable and communication with one another easier, and yet before they came into existence the world moved around day by day and the inhabitants thereof were fully as happy as those of the present age.

 There seems to be a misunderstanding in regard to Judge Weld's decision in the Leedom case. It was not a damage case for libel but a criminal one, the state prosecuting and not an individual, the individual named being simply the prosecuting witness. It was shown that the elder Leedom had nothing to do with the writing of the article, was in no way responsible for it, and in fact knew nothing about the article until after it was published, therefore he could not be held to be criminally liable for something he did not have any part in producing.

Why They MUST Wear

The Secret of the Long Life of Armor Plate Hosiery

HARMS NAUT DYE
 is the first and greatest reason. It's the only dye known that does not rot or weaken the yarns.
 Every stitch in Armor Plate is knit from the very best long staple yarn yarn for which the makers pay above the market.
 Heels made to resist wear. In Armor Plate they are extra high, too, but not the kind that are "bunchy" and uncomfortable. Toes that won't go through. Toes that will resist service and save you darning worries.
 These are the good features of "Armor Plate" and some of the reasons why its wearers are so well satisfied.
 Don't you want to save on your hosiery bill. We'll gladly show you how.

The House of Kuppenheimer
Chicago

THE MAKING of young men's clothing is an art in which Kuppenheimer particularly excels. They have always recognized the fact that clothes for the young man must be distinctly different, and have succeeded in producing a type of garment which almost every manufacturer in America has endeavored to imitate. If you want to know whether they have succeeded or not, just compare their garments with the ones we are showing this fall. You will decide that the Kuppenheimer line is decidedly apart from all theirs. We will be glad to show you Kuppenheimer clothes. Look for the label for your protection.

Lucky Escape
Tuesday forenoon while Mrs. Cunningham and two children, who reside three and one-half miles southeast of Wayne, were coming to town they met with an accident that had an ending far different than what it looked like for a few minutes. When at the corner about one mile south of town, they met John Liveringhouse going east with his automobile. The animal has heretofore paid but little, if any, attention to these vehicles but this morning it was feeling more than usually frisky on account of the cold and as the automobile approached it suddenly jumped to one side and cramped the buggy so quickly that it was upset. Mrs. Cunningham was driving and it was all done so quickly that she did not have any chance of getting the animal under control. The older girl was holding the baby on her lap at the time and all three were thrown out on the ground as the buggy upset, fortunately entirely clear of it, although it was a top buggy, and all escaped without any serious consequences, the baby not even getting a scratch. Some spectators who saw the accident caught the horse before it ran very far and were glad to find that the occupants of the buggy had escaped so fortunately. When the horse made its first jump the iron clip that held the shaft to the buggy broke on one side letting the shaft fall on the animal's heels, thereby adding to its fright and causing it to plunge to one side more than it otherwise would have done. It was certainly a fortunate accident, if there are such things.

Now Then
Tuesday's Omaha Bee correspondent from Lincoln has the following to say about a law suit of interest to a number of our people. The latter part of the item will no doubt cause a smile. The correspondent says: "Affidavits were filed Monday in district court in the case of Edna McCabe against William McCabe, a suit for divorce and $75,000 alimony, to the effect that the defendant was dependent upon his parents in his own name. The step-father, N. A. Matheny, and the mother, Mrs. Matheny, testified as to the value of the land owned in Wayne county and that it belonged to the mother. H. F. Wilson, the cashier of the Wayne bank, set forth that the value of the land had been placed too high." McCabe was said to be a law student at Omaha and was dependent for his funds to put him through college. This is his senior year at Creighton Law College.

Something New
Not the least of modern inventions calculated to lift the burden from the back of the farmer is the new-fangled dump and elevator used for unloading corn as it is husked and to put it into the crib. When the husker has gaped about among the stalks all day in search of all the ears and nubbins that go to swell the volume of coin in the bank, it is no fool job to heave the load shoveful after shoveful to the far side of a high crib. It bears hard on a physical system, already exhausted by a vigorous invasion of the field, adding to the white man's burden. Now he drives onto a rigging that accommodates the front wheels of the wagon, changes his team from the wagon to a small "power," takes out the end gate, the horses tilt the wagon, the corn runs into an elevator and this carries it into the crib, all so quick and easy that the unloading is transformed from a drudge into a pleasure. Farming is no longer being done by main strength and awkwardness. The corn dump is only a sample of what is being done all along the line. And these things explain in part why farm lands here and hereabouts are bringing from $100 to $150 per acre.

Last Thursday evening occurred the first number of this season's lecture course. It was by Hon. Champ Clark, of Missouri, for many years the recognized leader of the Democrats in the National House of Representatives. His subject was "Picturesque Public Men." The title and theme accounted perhaps in the speaker's not measuring up to the high standard it was expected that he would do, as a public orator as there is not much in public men to cater to the spirit of oratory. The lecture, however, abounded in many good things. His thought, however, clearly shows that he has no use for civil service reform. He believes thoroughly in the old doctrine that to the victor belongs the spoils, and that the habit of republicans retaining in office democratic officials makes poor democrats out of them even though they make good officers. He also clearly illustrated the thought that it is thorns and briars for the living and roses and bouquets for the dead by his eulogistic reference to Thomas R. Reed and David B. Henderson, both former speakers of the House. We well remember how Champ Clark and every other democrat referred to Reed as "Czar Reed" and other vile epithets, in fact, there were not enough words in the dictionary to express the contempt they felt for him, and yet the speaker of the evening said that Reed was one of the very best men who has ever sat in the House, in all the years he has been a member of that body.

About twenty-five men gathered in the M. W. A. hall Sunday afternoon for consultation and prayer regarding the Y. M. C. A. work in Wayne. It was decided to form a Bible Study class and meet every Sunday afternoon at three o'clock. It is hoped to make this service of such vital interest that hundreds of our citizens may be induced to attend it. There will be good music and an interesting program at each session. A committee was appointed to look after the details of the work.

Mrs. McCain and Mrs. Wells, who had been guests at the Livinghouse and Bonawitz homes, and had also visited other relatives in this part of the state, returned to their homes at Marshalltown, Iowa, Monday.

G. W. Worth, who had been visiting at the John Livinghouse home, returned to South Dakota, where he resides, Monday morning.

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES for JUDGES of THE SUPREME COURT. 1909.

JUDGE JOHN B. BARNES
Member of Nebraska Supreme Court and Republican Candidate for Re-election

JUDGE JACOB FAWCETT
Member of Nebraska Supreme Court and Republican Candidate for Re-election

JUDGE SAMUEL H. SEDGWICK
Former Chief Justice Nebraska Supreme Court and Republican Candidate for Election

EACH WITH A RECORD OF FAITHFUL SERVICE TO THE PEOPLE.

JUDGE JOHN B. BARNES: Member of Nebraska Supreme Court and Republican Candidate for Re-election.

JUDGE JACOB FAWCETT: Member of Nebraska Supreme Court and Republican Candidate for Re-election.

JUDGE SAMUEL H. SEDGWICK: Former Chief Justice Nebraska Supreme Court and Republican Candidate for Election.

Judge John B. Barnes, of Norfolk, Judge of the Supreme Court of Nebraska, and present acting chief justice of the court, was first selected by the republican voters of the state as one of the candidates of the republican party for re-election to the place on the supreme bench which he has so ably and honorably filled for the past term of six years.

Judge John B. Barnes is a native of Ohio a veteran of the Civil War and a citizen of Nebraska since 1871, when he located in Dixon county and was admitted to the bar in 1873, engaging in the practice of law, to which he has since given his entire attention.

In 1875 Judge Barnes was elected district attorney of the Sixth judicial district, was re-elected and served until appointed judge of the district to fill a vacancy caused by the election of Judge Valentine to Congress, but declined re-nomination to enter upon the practice of his profession. Judge Barnes was appointed Supreme Court Commissioner in January, 1902, serving as commissioner until his election as a member of the court in 1903, since which date his service as a member of the court has been continuous. He is now approaching the completion of the six-year term to which he was elected in 1902 and holds the honor- able position of acting chief justice of Nebraska in the absence of Judge M. B. Reese.

Judge Barnes' splendid record as a lawyer and jurist has gained for him the confidence and approval of the people of the state. This is well evinced by the general support given Judge Barnes' candidacy for supreme judge at the recent state-wide primary election.

Judge Jacob Fawcett, of Omaha, associate justice of the Supreme Court of Nebraska, and Republican candidate for re-election, is a native of Wisconsin a veteran of the Civil War and was admitted to the bar at Galena, Illinois, in 1872. Judge Fawcett was appointed county judge of Jo Davies county, Illinois, by Governor Olesburg, and was elected to the office at the expiration of the term for which he was appointed. He resigned the office the following year and removed to Omaha and was selected as one of the lecturers at the College of Law in the Nebraska State University in 1895. Judge Fawcett was elected a judge of the district court of the Omaha district and was re-elected in 1899, serving eight years on the district bench of Douglas county. He returned to the practice of law in Omaha in the fall of 1904, continuing in practice until appointed supreme court commissioner in October, 1907. Judge Fawcett continued on the supreme court commission until the adoption of the constitutional amendment depriving the supreme court at the last general election, when he was appointed a judge of the supreme court to serve until the general election of this year. He is now completing the term of one year for which he was appointed.

Judge Fawcett's long period of service on the bench, eight years as judge of the district court of Douglas county, more than a year as a Commissioner of the Supreme Court and the past year as a member of that court, eminently fitted him for the distinguished service of a full term on the supreme bench for which he is the nominee of the Republican party.

Judge Samuel H. Sedgwick, of York, Neb., former chief justice of the Supreme Court of Nebraska and republican candidate for election as judge of the supreme court, is a native of Illinois, in which state he spent his youth on the farm and in the district school, graduating later from Wheaton college. He studied law at the Michigan State University and in a law office, and was admitted to the bar at Green Bay, Wis., in 1874, since which time he has given his entire attention to his profession.

Judge Sedgwick removed to York, Neb., in 1878, and entered at once into active practice in which he was eminently successful. Serving one term as judge on the district bench, he was later supreme court commissioner and was subsequently elected a justice of the supreme court at the general election in 1901, serving as chief justice in the closing two years of his term.

At the close of his first term Judge Sedgwick was a candidate for re-nomination, but was defeated in the primaries by Judge M. B. Reese, who had been denied a re-nomination some years previously, the republican voters of the state seeming to desire to right without delay the wrong done Judge Reese at the previous period. In this decision no one acquiesced more cheerfully than Judge Sedgwick, although feeling that patient, faithful work fairly entitled him to a second term.

Since the expiration of his term, Judge Sedgwick has successfully continued the practice of law at York. The splendid vote cast for him at the recent primaries evidences the desire of his fellow citizens of Nebraska to return him to the supreme court, which he rendered such distinguished and meritorious service.

FOR regents of the State University, the republican party has nominated three of the prominent citizens of the state best equipped to perform the duties that fall to the board in charge of the state's most important institution of learning.

Charles S. Allen, of Lincoln, William G. Whitmore, of York, and Frank L. Haller, of Omaha, the republican candidates for regents, constitute a trio of citizens who will bring to the work they undertake almost ideal qualifications for its personal completion. Neither of these men were or are candidates in the recent primary election for the honor conferred by membership on the directing board of the University. Each is a candidate in response alone to the insistent demands of many who know well their exceptional fitness for the duties involved and who have done at heart the best and broadest interests of the University.

Messrs. Allen and Whitmore are both completing a term of six years' service on the Board of Regents, a term of service which has redounded to their personal honor and credit in the same full degree that it has been of exceptional value to the growth and prosperity of the University. Those who know best the present and future needs of the University are the most insistent that their service be not interrupted, but be continued to the great and lasting benefit of the institution. In this lies the highest praise, the highest of personal compliments.

Mr. Frank L. Haller, a leading business man of the state, a man of large experience, broad culture and great executive ability, completes the trio of candidates on the republican ticket.

For fourteen years Mr. Haller has been a member of the board of directors of the Omaha public library and is at present the president of the board. Mr. Haller is also president of the Nebraska Public Library Commission, a position which he held since the resignation of Chancellor Andrews from the commission in 1906. He is a member of the executive committee of the Omaha Commercial Club and a moving spirit among the directors of the National Corn Association.

A graduate of the Iowa State University, he has long taken a particular interest in the Agricultural College of the Nebraska University and will bring to the Board of Regents a wide experience in business affairs and a broad general knowledge that will be of the utmost value to the continued progress of the University.

Mr. Haller is of German descent and has spoken the language from childhood. In addition to university training, he has broadened his education by extensive travel in this country and Europe.

THERE is one overwhelming reason why the Republican party can successfully appeal to all the people for support at the ballot box for the candidates of the Republican party. It is this—The Republican party has given the state Responsible, Effective, Economical and Intelligent Government in every department, Executive, Legislative and Judicial, whenever entrusted with authority by the people. The record is before the people and it is a good record. You can trust the Party which has proven true and responsible in every test. On that record the party asks the support of the voters of Nebraska for its candidates for the Supreme Court, Judges Barnes, Fawcett and Sedgwick, all of whom have served on the Supreme bench with ability, honor and fidelity to the interests of the people and asks also for the approval of its candidates for Regents of the University, Messrs. Chas. S. Allen, W. G. Whitmore and F. L. Haller, the first two of whom have served with distinguished ability and usefulness on the Board of Regents for nearly six years past, the last named an able, prominent and self-made business man of the state who has long given much attention to the University School of Agriculture. The candidates of the republican party have responded to every test of citizenship every test of official duty. The party they represent has a broad foundation of performance of duty well discharged; the republican party asks for its candidates the confidence and support of the voters of Nebraska.

My! It must be an awful load that Senator LaFollette has to carry up on his shoulders. He appears to think that all the affairs of the state must needs be looked after by himself. Now he feels called upon to make an investigation as to why Mr. Crane was recalled as a minister to China. It is none of his business. Neither President Taft nor Secretary of State Knox are amenable to the senator from Wisconsin for their actions.

A. B. Clark was over to Laurel Monday. For cheap insurance and bargains in real estate see W. F. Assenheimer Altona, Neb.

Have you thought that it is less than two months to Christmas? Most of the pocket books will be pretty flat before that date arrives, but somewhere there is always enough left over to fill the stockings.

The many friends of Henry Ley will be glad to learn that he has steadily improved in health since his operation and will soon be in a better physical condition than for some time past.

Justice Rufus W. Peckham, who was appointed to the United States supreme court, bench by President Cleveland in 1895, died at his home in New York State Sunday night, aged seventy-one years.

BOUND TO GET THAT BARGAIN
Determined Woman Shopper Would Not Let Little Thing Like Closing Time Interfere.

"You're too late," said the man, "they're closing up." The woman looked at the door of the store where a boy was drawing down a curtain.

"It's not six o'clock," she said determinedly; "they can't close 'till six o'clock. Wait here for me." She tried the door and found it opened to her hand.

The woman went in and found a scene of confusion. Shoppers were being skillfully hustled toward the door with due respect to their feelings, and down every aisle people were covering the counters with protecting covers.

Young women with mouthfuls of hatpins scowled at her and continued to put on their hats. Men in shirt sleeves who were carefully protecting the stock looked at her and said things to each other.

A procession of employees passed on its way to outer air and freedom and clouds of dust arose.

Outside the man stood on one leg and watched the curtained door. He tried to give himself the air of one waiting for a car, and hoped nobody would mistake him for a Johnnie waiting at the door for the ladies to get through work.

The stragglers grew fewer and fewer. The door opened less frequently to let them out. And at last through the door came the woman in triumph. She had a package in her hand and did not seem to observe that the man who let her out muttered and slammed the door after her, securely locking it.

"I've got it," she said triumphantly. "You see I just had to. The sale was only for to-day, and all their 50-cent ribbon was reduced to 39 cents."

ONE QUESTION ALWAYS ASKED
Employer of Labor Wants to Know If Formation of Law Is Natural or Acquired.

"There is one question I always ask a man who wants a job," remarked the business man who has to hire several hundred men for different positions each year.

"The question I always ask them is: 'Do you smoke a pipe much?' Of course the answers are various. Some of them smoke a pipe a great deal and others not at all. Some smoke cigarettes, although I seldom can get a man to admit it. There seems to be a general guilty feeling when a man is a cigarette smoker. Some of them smoke cigars. My business is such that it makes very little difference to their availability to me no matter what they smoke.

"Why do I ask about the pipe? Well, not that I have the least interest in their habits, or that I have any prejudice one way or another in the matter. The reason is that I want to know whether the formation of their lower jaw is natural or acquired."

"A man with a firm lower jaw is always a man of parts and of will. I say 'always,' anyway, most always. If he does not smoke a pipe his square jaw, back near where it hinges, is to the upper one, is natural. If he is a pipe smoker the looks are deceiving, and I have to judge his caliber some other way.

NUMEROUS CHANGES OF NAME. SOCIAL CLIMBERS IN NEVADA

Blonde Woman's Adventures on the Matrimonial Sea Evidently Had Been Many.
They met on the street car—the intoned little woman and the much adorned, pithy blonde. Both evidenced that extravagant pleasure which comes of meeting by accident an acquaintance one has not thought of for months.

"How d'ye do, Mrs. Gray?" panted the blonde, extending a plump, damp hand.

"Why? How do you do, Mrs. Williams?" effused the other woman.

"Mrs. Williams," prompted the blonde, automatically.

"Oh, to be sure," the little woman apologized, "I heard you were to be married—Mrs. Strubinski, of course. I hope it isn't too late for congratulations."

"That's so, I was Strubinski," recollected the blonde, "that musician—but now I'm Madam Theodore; he's a cheat."

The little woman's chin dropped, and for half a block she sat with a face like an exclamation point.

"This is my corner," she announced, jumping to her feet as the car slowed up. "Would you—would you mind, Mrs.—Madam Theodore, telling me what your name is the next time we meet?"—New York Press.

The Tyrannical Husband.
The tyrannical husband may be the trustiest of lovers, but if he always insists that the compromise shall be on the blue, his wife will shed many tears in secret. This good man seems to think that four walls are not enough of a sphere to satisfy a sensible woman, and he is amazed her words if his wife ever bestres anything outside them. Should she intimate a wish to go away for a visit of a week or a month, he rates objections without number. Instinctively the masculine mind is quick to see the other side of any question presented, and can scarcely avoid raising objections whenever a new course is proposed. Men do not mean to be wet blankets, yet wet blankets they are in five cases out of six. When the despotic husband wraps the wet blanket of his opposition around the wishes of a docile wife, there is an end of the matter. She will yield her own position rather than have a scene or a fuss.—Woman's Home Companion.

Locked Shah in House of Commons.
The predecessor of the deposed shah of Persia, who made a state visit to England in 1873, had a curious experience in the distinguished strangers' gallery of the house of commons. He soon got tired of watching the legislators at work, but when he made a move to go he was told he could not leave the gallery. It happened at that moment that a division was called, and in accordance with the practice which then prevailed all the doors of the house were locked until the vote was taken. Mr. Gladstone made an interesting comment on the incident. "It is," he wrote in his journal, "probably, or possibly, the first time for more than 500 years that a foreign sovereign has been under personal restraint of any kind in England."

HE WANTED TO BE ON TIME
But it is Probable Mrs. Blank Had Something to Say to Him That Night.

He was a very busy man, and like all of his kind, he hated to waste time by unnecessary waiting. That was why in the midst of his correspondence, along about 11 o'clock the other morning, he paused, and, turning to his secretary, requested him to ring up his residence on the phone.

"Jemison," he said, "get my house on the wire and ask Mrs. Blank to come to the phone. Just tell them that I wish to speak to her."

The secretary was off, and in a few minutes the required connection was made.

"Is that you, Mary?" he said.

"Yes," was the answer.

"Well, this is John," he said. "I have just rung you up to tell you that Barker was in here this morning with two tickets for the theater to-night. He and Mrs. Barker have been called suddenly out of town, and he thought we might like to use the tickets. How about it?"

"Fine," replied Mrs. Blank. "I have nothing else to do."

"All right, my dear," continued Blank. "The curtain rises at 8:30."

"Yes, I know," said Mrs. Blank.

"I thought I'd let you know in time, so that directly you have had your lunch you can begin to put your hat on," he went on. "Then we can get there before the middle of the first act. Bye-bye."

The only answer was an angry click at the other end of the wire, which seemed to indicate that another receiver was in trouble, but Mr. Blank only laughed as he returned to his work.—Lippincott's.

A strong flow of water was struck near Roseland on the A. J. Goettsch farm, twenty-five miles north of Dallas, at 1100 feet, while drilling for an artesian well. The water is hot, registering one hundred degrees. When piped, the pressure will carry sixty feet up, and the water flows from a three inch hole.

Mrs. Housewife:—There's a Happy Medium in Everything

Anything that is overdone or underdone is not good. This is especially true of baking—and it is just as true of baking powder. If you use the cheap and Big Can Kind you are getting quantity at the sacrifice of quality. It cannot be as good—or as economical as Calumet—the medium price kind. If you use the High Price Kind, you are paying tribute to the Trust—the quality is no better.

Here's the "Full Value" in BAKING POWDER

The Cheap and Big Can Kind
In this can you get more substance but not more baking powder. It is great in quantity only—not in economy—not in satisfaction.

Calumet
Calumet, in the Standard 1 lb. can, sells at a moderate cost—but is great in all round satisfaction. You use less of it—it makes the baking lighter, purer—more delicious. One baking will prove its superiority—try it. Ask your grocer and insist on Calumet. Free—send to nearest recipe book. Send to and a sample found in powder.

The Trust Kind
Great in price, little in quantity and the quality is no better—if at all good.

THAT FINAL WORD THIS WEEK

ELECTION NEXT TUESDAY

The Republican Candidates Should Receive The Full Republican Vote

Be sure and cast your vote for Alfred Bohlender, the republican candidate for county clerk. He will make one of the best officials that the county has ever had.

Remember R. A. McEachen when you vote next Tuesday. A representative farmer, progressive and alive to the best interests of the county as a whole he will make a record as a commissioner that has never been excelled.

Chas. Beebe for treasurer needs but mighty little boosting, but just the same we should like to see him get every vote in the county, not because he needs them, but as a further compliment to his competency as an official.

Grant S. Mears as a tried and true official is worthy of your vote next Tuesday. You all know Grant. You have known him a long time as a citizen and an official and he can be trusted for the future as well or better than in the past. Give him your vote when you go to the polls.

The new law makes the Precinct Assessor elective by a vote of the people instead of being appointed by the County Assessor as heretofore. It is important that the right kind of a man be chosen for this place. He should be a man of good judgment and a man acquainted with values. The republicans have nominated such a man in the person of J. W. Bartlett. Give him your vote next Tuesday.

Republicans should remember when they go to the polls to vote next Tuesday that if they wish to vote a straight ticket that it will be necessary to mark an X in the circle at the head of the second column on the ballot. The republicans have always had the first column heretofore but this year the democrats have first place. If you mark the head of the second column on the ballot you will make no mistake.

Voters should take notice that election day this year comes early, as early as it ever will come at any time, this year falling upon the second of November. You should not be careless about this privilege, thinking that everything is running along nicely and that election will come out all right without your vote. The candidate you wish to see win may lose out on account of not getting your vote. Remember the date, Tuesday, November 2nd, and take an hour or so off to cast your vote.

Mrs. Elsie Littell as asking for your votes as a candidate for superintendent of schools on the republican ticket. This is her first venture in the political arena. Since her appointment by the board she has proven her interest and efficiency in school work. Well qualified by education and experience in the school room as a teacher, she comes before the voters presenting her claims for recognition. There can be no question as to her fitness or qualifications. Be sure and make an X opposite her name.

A good many republicans are probably going to be tempted not to go the polls on November 2. The individual will think that one vote will make no difference, which in fact probably would not. But let from one to a dozen in each of the polling places in the county get to thinking that way and act upon it and it is easy to see what the result would be. Every republican candidate on the ticket ought to and will be elected this fall if every republican in the county gets out and votes. Its now only five days to election. Make up your mind now that you will not miss going to the polls.

This is the last issue of the Herald before the election. Every American citizen has a duty to perform on that day and if he fails to vote he is just that much less a good citizen than he ought to be. It is a privilege that every voter, regardless of party, should esteem and use, for only by so doing can the real will of the majority be expressed. To be sure certain men may be elected to office and certain measures endorsed by a majority of the votes cast and yet at the same time it may not really represent the majority sentiment in any community simply because of the indifference of a large number of voters. We believe that every man who will not exercise the right of franchise vouchsafed to him under our form of government should not be allowed to enjoy the privileges that our system of government affords. Every man has the inherent right, if he is a legally qualified citizen, to help shape the legislation and policies of our country and if he fails he does not measure up to the standard of citizenship that he should do. We have advocated the election of the republican nominees because so far as we know they are in every way as well qualified for the offices they seek as are those on the other tickets. Perhaps we are not as well informed as we should be, but we think that the republican voters of the county should stand by their party candidates and not be led away by any sort of a non-partisan argument. We firmly believe it is the duty of the voters to defeat a candidate at the primary or in the caucus if he is deemed unworthy rather than to work against him after the nominations are made. We are always willing to concede everyone else the same rights in this and all other matters that we demand for ourself. We simply place it before the minds of the voters as we believe it best, then if they do not look at it in the same light that we do or cannot see their way clear to vote for the candidates or principles that we advocate, we have no quarrel with them regarding the matter. We are sure that our own county and town will be well served for the next two years if the voters shall see their way clear to elect the following:

County Judge, James Britton.
Clerk, Alfred Bohlender.
Treasurer, Chas. Beebe.
Sheriff, Grant S. Mears.
Commissioner, R. A. McEachen.
Supt. of Schools, Elsie Littell.
Surveyor, Guy R. Strickland.
Coroner, Dr. J. J. Williams.
Assessor, J. W. Bartlett.

Live Stock Show

The International Live Stock Exposition is to be held at the union stock yards in Chicago this year from November 27 to December 10. The prime object of this exposition is the promotion and improvement of live stock, it might not be amiss to refer to it as the right arm of the industry that is absolutely necessary for successful agriculture, and, in view of the fact that the International Live Stock Exposition stands today as one of the leading educational institutions, absolutely free from local or sectional prejudice, whose scope is not only national but truly international, it would seem that this great Show would be abundantly entitled to the unequalled and active support of the entire press. If any two of our good farmer friends are thinking of attending, we can furnish them something of interest if they will call at this office.

Sunday School Convention

The County Sunday School Convention will be held at Carroll, Nebraska, on November 20 and 21. The sessions will be held in the M. E. church, and we are all given a hearty welcome, and the interest shown at this date promises the best convention we have ever had. Every Sunday school in the county should have at least two delegates in attendance. Rev. Chas. H. Lewis, the state general secretary, is well posted on the Adult Department of the school and will be ready to answer all your questions. His "Better Engines and Hotter Fires" will stir you to do bigger and better things. You will want a delegate from the Adult Department in your school to hear him. His "Heart of a Boy" will be helpful to solution of the boy problem.

Miss Margaret E. Brown, the state elementary superintendent, presents the work with the children in her own charming and convincing way. Her "Little People, Big Plans and Proven Possibilities" will make you want to be a teacher of Little People. You must have a delegate from the teachers of children.

A Close Call

A peculiar incident happened at the L. S. Needham home one night last week, and on account of the peculiarity of the affair, it might be well to mention it so that people may take a few precautions regarding such matters. Mrs. Needham has been in the habit of wiping up her polished floors with a cloth saturated with linseed oil. After the performance last week, the cloth was put away in its accustomed place on a shelf in the cellarway. When some more cleaning had to be done, and the cloth was required, great was their surprise to find it in ashes. During the night it had caught fire, through spontaneous combustion it is thought, and burned up entirely. It was a miracle almost that the house was not set on fire from the burning rag, and if it had been, it would always have been a mystery how the fire originated. Now, godd housewives, be very careful where you keep your oily rags. Out in the air is the best place for them.—Winside Tribune.

The Family Reading Problem

To find reading that satisfies one's craving for the bright and attractive, and is at the same time perfectly suitable for impressionable young people, is at times difficult. The best magazines are admittedly published for mature readers only. The Youth's Companion alone is for all the family. While the editors keep in mind the eager desire of the young for tales of action, enterprise and adventure, these stories in The Companion are so well written as to fascinate men and women in all stages of life's journey. And this is true not only of the fiction in The Companion, but of the entire contents. The articles, by famous writers, convey knowledge that is useful to the wisest and most experienced as well as to the immature. In short, The Companion solves the reading problem for the entire family. It is entertaining and it is "worth while."

Every new subscriber will find it of special advantage to send at once the $1.75 for the new 1910 Volume. Not only does he get the beautiful "Venetian" Calendar for 1910, lithographed in thirteen colors and gold but all the issues of The Companion for the remaining weeks of 1909, from the time the subscription is received.

THE YOUTH'S COMPANION, Companion Building, Boston, Mass. New subscriptions received at this office.

Got a Jolt

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 21.—Nicholas Liewer, a Nebraska farmer from the vicinity of Wisner, gave a jolt to professional note raisers in the United States circuit court that may act as a wholesome lesson to this class of gentry, showing that the day has passed when the average farmer can be made the placid victim of their smooth games.

The case of which the lesson was administered was that of the First National Bank of Shenandoah, Iowa, against Nicholas Liewer, to recover on a note for $2,400, alleged to have been given by Liewer in payment for some patent stock powders.

The Shenandoah bank was an innocent purchaser of the note and brought suit to recover, which Liewer resisted on the ground that the note was a forgery, in that it had been raised from $24, since having been signed by him and after having been raised it fell into the hands of the Shenandoah bank. The bank, of course, was exempt from any blame for wrongdoing.

If the remainder of the material for the school house arrives, as the contractor has reason to hope that it will, he expects to finish his work on the new building the present week. This will be good news to all the teachers, pupils and patrons.

MAN'S CRUEL CRIME

SHOTS HIS CHORUS GIRL WIFE AT NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Through sheer necessity Mrs. Short drifted to the stage, but had been imported to return and live with her recreant spouse.

Enraged because his chorus girl wife preferred a life on the stage to his companionship, William H. Short, of Washington, D. C., Sunday shot and perhaps fatally wounded her on the west portico of the union station and then sent a bullet crashing through his temple. He died an hour later.

The tragedy, which followed a series of quarrels between the couple, created a sensation among the large crowds at the station. Mrs. Short had just alighted from a cab, which also was occupied by her husband and a girl friend, Miss Caldwell, and was hurrying to catch a train for Pittsburg when Short without warning whipped a revolver from his pocket and fired three bullets into his wife's back.

The woman, who now lives near death, is known to the stage as Evelyn Howard, and played in Washington last week with the Motor Girl company.

She was formerly Evelyn Lewis, of Jacksonville, Fla., and married Short, who is a native of Livingston, Ala., about seven years ago. They lived in New York, where he was employed as a bookkeeper in a bank, but shortly after their marriage the man got into the clutches of the law through alleged misappropriation of funds. Mrs. Short told the police when she regained consciousness at the hospital, and served a term in Sing Sing.

Through sheer necessity Mrs. Short said she drifted to the stage as a means of livelihood. Short recently was paroled from prison. Mrs. Short said, and began a new start in life. He importuned his wife to return to him, but she declined and he followed her.

Y., died at St. Catherine's hospital at 1:50 o'clock Saturday morning, never having rallied from the effects of an operation for appendicitis October 13. His death was not unexpected. In fact, Friday the senator himself realized throughout the afternoon and the earlier part of the night that the end was near.

Patrick Henry McCarrren, by trade a cooper, by profession a lawyer and by vocation a politician, was one of the most picturesque figures in the political history of New York. No leader was more roundly condemned, yet at the close of sixty-one years of life he was probably the most strongly entrenched leader in New York state and had even wielded some influence in national politics. Born in East Cambridge, Mass., he settled in Brooklyn when he was 8 years old and was graduated from the public schools. He but having mastered his trade, he answered the call to something more intellectual. He took the law and in the law went into politics. In 1852 he was sent to the assembly and has since served almost continuously in the legislature. He was elected to the senate in 1881, but two years later was defeated. Elected again in 1895 it was to stay there regularly until his death.

Followed by a posse of officers and farmers, every one strongly armed, the bloodhounds followed the trail assiduously all of Thursday night. What Gold Cannot Buy. By Mrs. Alexander. Author of "A Crooked Path," "Maid, Wife or Widow," "By Woman's Wit," "Boston's Bargain," "A Life Interest," "Mona's Choice," "A Woman's Heart."

CHAPTER XIX.—(Continued.) The tenth day came, and Mrs. Saville seemed sinking rapidly. The doctor remained all night. Hope sat by the bedside, Haggard, dry-eyed, sometimes the sufferer uttered the name of her offending son, sometimes she murmured inarticulately. The eleventh day dawned gray and overcast. Hitherto the weather had been fine, and warm enough to make it difficult to keep the sick-room tolerably cool. In after-years, the shimmer of moonlight on the sea, and the sweet soothing rhythm of the soft upward rush and backward sweep of wavelets on a pebbly beach, always brought the sick-room and the terrible anxiety of those days vividly before Hope's mind. A cooler wind now blew gently, and Hope, who had snatched half an hour's rest, came soon after dawn to resume her watch. She was startled. Had the proud, hard, disappointed woman passed away? She lay so still, with something of that "rapture of repose" which only death can bring. She looked at the sister—a look of terrified inquiry. "She lives," but scarcely breathes," was the whispered reply. Hope bent over the bed, and touched the thin hand which lay outside the covers. "She is breathing regularly. Her hand is not burning. Go call the doctor, Sister Marie. Oh, go quickly."

WAGNER'S STORMY BEGINNING

Comfort came to Composer from Patience of Mad Monarch. A fugitive for debt and refused a job in a chorus, a despondent and a political exile, then a stormy crusader against the widest and wildest campaign of abuse and ridicule in the history of art, then the most successful composer that ever lived, and finally again a political exile because he had become so powerful that he was called the pope of music—this is a scenario of the life of Wagner," says Rupert Hughes in Smith's.

HOW NATURE CURES.

Physician Describes the Struggles of the Body to Eject Poisons. Some millions of years ago, when it first happened that groups of three or four cells clung together to form organisms, the waste products of the cells in the interior of each group became a source of danger to their partners, and unless some way was devised for getting rid of these waste products the colony was a failure. Hence at a very early period there were rudiments of systems of body sewerage providing for the escape of waste poison. The result is that when the human body is confronted by actual disease it has all ready at hand a remarkably effective system of appliances for sewer flushing, street cleaning and garbage burning. If in an unguarded moment one partakes of one of these darlings of the economical housekeeper which so skillfully disguise scraps containing the bacteria of putrefaction or their poisonous products, nature may prevent serious injury by causing the outraged stomach to eject its contents.

AGE NO BAR TO SUCCESS.

Entertaining 90-Year-Old Verdict on the Truth of the Saying. A man is no older than he feels is a saying that finds ample exemplification in the case of James Franklin Hyde, the youthful 90-year-old City Treasurer of Lincoln, Ill. Although he has long since passed the age when it is said that one's future is behind him, says Space Moments, he has shown that when it comes to a mere matter of running for office he is as up to date as any of the youngsters of a later and supposedly smarter generation. When two years ago he was defeated for a fourth term for the office of City Treasurer, he said nothing, but quietly thought out his plan of campaign when the opportunity came to him for another chance.

Securing the nomination of the Citizens' Party, he contracted for advertising space in the daily papers of both parties, and ran a series of displayed advertisements calling attention to his superior qualifications for the office. He enlarged on the neatness and accuracy of his books, a fact which has attracted the attention of other record keepers all over the State. The fact that he was not so liable to errors as was this younger and less experienced opponent was pointed out. When the votes were counted it was found he was the only successful candidate on the ticket.

Our Seniors and Juniors are going to Wakefield next Friday evening, where they will be entertained at a Hallway party by the Juniors of the Wakefield High School.

Mrs. Wightman and Raymond were pleasant visitors during the Domestic Science period of the seventh grade, Tuesday afternoon.

Prof. E. J. Huentner, of the College, was a visitor Monday morning and made a most pleasing and instructive address to our high school and eighth grade along the lines of Manual Training and Domestic Science.

So many boys wanted the Manual Training work that we found it necessary to make a Saturday class. There are now seventy-seven boys taking this work.

Among The Churches

Items of Interest Concerning the Churches in Wayne

The special evangelistic services will begin at the Presbyterian church next Sunday. Rev. Weyer is a good preacher and expounder of the faith. Hear him every evening next week and also the singing in charge of A. Nicodemus, of Indianapolis, one of the sweet singers of Israel.

Remember the series of special meetings that are to begin at the M. E. church November 14. Much good is hoped from these services and plans are being made to accomplish it.

Special prayer meetings were held at three Presbyterian homes last evening instead of the one at the church. (This was as a preparatory service for the revival meetings.)

The Methodist ladies held another one of their good food sales Saturday afternoon.

The rally day services at the Presbyterian church last Sunday were very successful. The attendance was good and the exercises interesting.

Next Sunday will be observed as rally day at the M. E. church, especially at the Sunday School hour. All who are enrolled as members are urged to be present.

The Holy Communion will be administered at the St. Paul's Lutheran church next Sunday morning.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Good singing, gospel preaching and a cordial welcome. "Come thou with us and we will do these good." - J. W. Kirkpatrick, pastor.

Yea, Verily

And it came to pass in the first year of William, the First, whose surname is Taft, that at Wayne, Nebraska, there was a firm called Orr, Morris Company which did much advertising in the Herald at Wayne. So much so that the inhabitants of the surrounding country said one to another, "Come let us let us go down and see whether or not these men tell the truth about their goods and the bargains they will give the people if they will call at their store." And it was even so that when they came to Wayne and had searched out the place where these men held forth, that they found it even as they had said, and so much greater than had been told them that they at once said one to another, "The half had not been told to us regarding the goods nor the prices thereof." So they returned to the land from whence they came and told others of the marvelous things they had seen and heard, and the fame of this business firm spread into all the hamlets and villages in the surrounding country and the firm got greater fame and riches unto themselves thereby. So mote it be.

Special Millinery Announcement

Miss Schawweker now has charge of this department and will be pleased to have you call and inspect our Big Stock of Millinery. We just received a big shipment of trimmed hats.

Very truly,
MILLER & JONES.

"Why is it," remarked a man the other day from the eastern part of the state, in speaking of Wayne and its improvements, "that the towns out this way develop so much faster than they do nearer the eastern border?" Speaking for Wayne, we can say it is because its business men are of an enterprising class, that they work unitedly together for those things that count in true upbuilding and keep the town and its advantages constantly in the minds of the people. It newspapers also reflect the thought of its business men from week to week in a liberal amount of advertising and are always ready to speak a good word in the city's behalf at all times. These things are what count. It is not the spasmodic spurts, but the steady, continuous talk and action that brings results.

Mrs. Mary Cullen, one of the old time residents of Wayne, the family having settled here in 1886, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. M. T. Haley, at Spaulding, Nebraska Sunday, aged seventy-seven years. Her husband died about nine years ago, and Mrs. Cullen was a highly respected resident of Wayne up to about two years ago, when she broke up housekeeping, since which time she has been living with her children. She went out to Spaulding last spring. One son, E. W. Cullen, resides at Winside and two daughters, Mrs. Massie and Mrs. McGinty, are residents of Wayne. The remains were brought here for burial Wednesday morning and the funeral services were held at the Catholic church in the forenoon. Burial was made in the Wayne Catholic cemetery.

Word received from W. O. Gamble at Kirksville, Missouri, who submitted to an operation there last week that it was very successful, but that the cancerous growth was much more extensive than it was thought to be. The doctors found it a very delicate operation, and worked as close to the brain as it was possible to do, and it is thought that the cancer was entirely removed. While Mr. Gamble seems to be getting along very nicely his loved ones here are somewhat on the anxious seat regarding him and the possible outcome of the disease and operation.

The Bible Study ladies entertained the College Y. W. C. A. girls at the Methodist parsonage Saturday afternoon. It was a most pleasant and helpful occasion in every way. After some interesting games a short program was given, and Miss Kingsbury told briefly how the Circle could be helpful to the Y. W. Dainty refreshments were served and each girl was given a pretty souvenir bearing a comforting scripture promise.

A. L. Tucker and family took their departure Wednesday morning for their home at Boise, Idaho, to spend another winter at least.

Vote for Mrs. Elsie Littell to fill vacancy, as well as for the regular term, if you do not want a muddle in the schools. Mrs. Littell's name does not appear on the ballot to fill vacancy, through an oversight on her part. Do not forget this when you vote.

A number from here went to Sioux City this morning to attend what is termed "Neighborhood Day" at the great Biedewolf revival meetings now in progress there. The program of the day is certainly one well worth attending by those interested in such things.

Accepting the invitation of the pastor, Rev. T. C. Osborne, the men of the Presbyterian church met together Tuesday evening for a pleasant, social time, and it is probable that out of this meeting will come the organization of a Brotherhood, a committee having been appointed to look the matter up.

Otto Voget, Junior, went to Sioux City on business Wednesday. He dropped into the office Tuesday afternoon for a few moments, that, the first time since coming from his trip to the northwest. When asked if he had a good time while gone he said "You bet." Asked how he liked it out there he replied, "Not very well. It is too uneven; the climate is too hot, and it is no place to make money, neither are the people congenial."

Every farmer should prepare to attend the corn show and select a sample of their corn for exhibition. In the selection of these ears size alone does not count, but firmness, depth of kernel and evenness enter into the contest as to the best corn. The dates for the Wayne corn show are December 1 and 2. It is none too early to begin planning what you are going to do to make the exhibit a success. The managers of this enterprise are hoping to make this, the first of its kind in Wayne, such an eminent success in every way that it will prove a permanent fixture as a means of advertising our thriving town. You can help a good deal. Will you do what you can?

The Best Food for Workers.

The best food for those who work with hand or brain is never high priced. The best example of this is found in Quaker Oats. It stands at the top among foods that supply nourishment and vigor, without taxing the digestion, and yet it is the least expensive food one can eat. The great food value and low cost make it an ideal food for families who want to get the greatest good from what they eat.

Laborers, factory or farm hands, fed plentifully on Quaker Oats will work better and with less fatigue than if fed on almost any other kind of food. All of these facts were proved and very interesting information about human foods were gathered by Professor Fisher of Yale University in 1908. In addition to the regular packages Quaker Oats is packed in large sized family packages either with or without china dishes.

Things Worth Remembering
The rural mail box is a sort of postoffice on one leg.
There is no place in any well-kept pantry for family jars.
It will cost no more per pound to grow a colt than a calf.
Put a blanket on the driving horse now to keep his coat short and glossy.
If you are ever beaten it will be by your own self. Nobody else can beat you.
There are several ways to break a colt, but don't let the man do it with a club.
A wishbone won't do a man much good unless along with it goes a good deal of backbone.
We are never satisfied to have our happiness on the installment plan. We want it all at once.
The longer you keep sheep the more fine, white clover you will have in your pastures.
The only man not deeply concerned in good roads in your county is the tramp who goes that way but once.
Eighteen hens that were fed milk last winter, laid more eggs than one hundred fed on cut bone and meat.
When roasting a turkey, stuff the breast with pared sweet potatoes. They get a fine flavor from the juices.
Take time to put a quietus upon rattling windows and banging shutters. They are not tranquilizing winter evening sounds.
Choice, hand-picked winter apples, each one wrapped in paper and stored in a cool place, will keep a surprisingly long time.
Have an old leather mitten to slip on your hand while scouring the top of the stove and you will not be troubled with the black.
When a cake recipe calls for two eggs and eggs are scarce and high, use one egg and sift one tablespoonful of cornstarch with the flour.
You may sometimes think that mother is a little old-fashioned, but after awhile you will acknowledge that she is the best advisor you have ever had.
When you must go out in the rain wrap your ankles above the shoe tops in paper, draw the stockings up over it and the dampness will not penetrate it.
Of all things, a horse hates to lie down in a filthy bed. By nature he is a cleanly animal. He is worthy of a good, clean bed every day that he lives.
Late in the fall, plow a furrow down through the orchard between every two rows of trees, if the ground is apt to be wet. The trees will do a great deal better for this drainage.
I should rather have one happy hen than two grumpy ones. A happy hen is the one that fattens the pocket-book; a hen with a grouchy isn't worth her space, no matter what her breed may be.

Stop and Consider
When the democratic politician comes buzzing around as a "non-partisan," asking the voter to support democratic candidates, it might be well for the voter thus implored to lay off a minute and consider what the republican party in the state has accomplished in the recent past for the benefit of all the people of Nebraska and also what, if anything, the democratic party which is seeking his vote has done for the general good.
The republican party gave to the state a direct primary law which, while perhaps not perfect, had in it the sound principles for safe-guarding of popular government in the hands of the people. The party gave to the state the railway commission law, the two-cent passenger fare law, the anti-pass law, the commodity rate law, the express rate law and the best revenue law under which the state has ever rested. Republican administration paid off without burden to the people a state debt aggregating nearly two millions, through economy and business management of public interests.
What has the democratic party done to deserve public approval over and above the republican record? Nothing—added to which its mistakes and failures have been widespread and phenomenal. The democratic party garbled the primary law out of all semblance to its original intent and meaning and has rendered it a by-word instead of a powerful instrument for good. The democratic party has amended out of the revenue law its vital features for securing equity and uniformity in the valuation of all property, whether private or corporate. In constructive legislation the democratic party failed utterly and left only a record of legislation creating places for democrats on the public pay-roll, abortive attempts to further extend the list of householders by the attempted creation of a board of "beer inspectors" whose combined salaries would "touch" the public treasury for the neat sum of $11,000 per year.
This is but a passing glance at the comparison that may be truthfully made of the records of the two parties in Nebraska.
When the democratic politician goes out this year with his "non-partisan" gun to bag a few republican votes for the democratic candidates, put his party record up to him as a target and his score card will show "no hits."

For Those Who Wear Glasses

Spinal Disease Now Spreading
Norfolk, Neb., Oct. 23: Whether this disease which is now epidemic in Nebraska is meningitis or myelitis is a question for physicians to discuss. What concerns the public is that it is a grave disease and is contagious from person to person. When it attacks the membranes that cover the brain and spinal cord it is called cerebro spinal meningitis and is rapidly fatal. When the inflammation is in the substance of the spinal cord and attacks the anterior columns it is called anterior polio myelitis. The death rate in this form is lower, but in nearly all cases there is subsequent permanent paralysis and wasting of the muscles. It is said that there are at least 600 cases now in the state, mostly in the southern part, but it is slowly working north.
Torturing eczema spreads its burning area every day. Doan's Ointment quickly stops its spreading instantly relieves the itching, cures it permanently. At any drug store.
It doesn't make much difference whether you cook pumpkins for hogs or not. Corn meal and bran are both good to feed with them.
Fall colds are quickly cured by Foley's Honey and Tar, the great throat and lung remedy. The genuine contains no harmful drugs. Felber Pharmacy.
The folks who do the most dawdling in the fine autumn weather are often the most surprised when the cold, wet season catches them, with their outdoor work half done.
Mr. F. G. Fritz, Oneonta, N. Y., writes: "My little girl was greatly benefitted by taking Foley's Orino Laxative, and I think it is the best remedy for constipation and liver trouble." Foley's Orino Laxative is mild, pleasant and effective, and cures habitual constipation. Felber Pharmacy.
Keep a lot of bag strings hanging in the granary; and, many times, some in the barn come handy. A broken harness snap is a good thing to hang them on.
Foley's Honey and Tar clears the air passages, stops the irritation in the throat, soothes the inflamed membranes, and the most obstinate cough disappears. Sore and inflamed lungs are healed and strengthened, and the cold is expelled from the system. Refuse any but the genuine in the yellow package. Felber Pharmacy.
Chattel Mortgages, Mortgages, Deeds, Leases, and other blanks for sale at this office or printed on short notice.
If people with symptoms of kidney or bladder trouble could realize their danger they would without loss of time commence taking Foley's Kidney Remedy. This great remedy stops the pain and the irregularities, strengthens and builds up these organs and there is no danger of Bright's disease or other serious disorder. Do not disregard the early symptoms. Felber Pharmacy.

A good many folks will have cold fingers before they are through husking corn this fall. Don't let that somebody be you.
Doan's Regulents cure constipation, tone the stomach, stimulate the liver, promote digestion and appetite and easy passages of the bowels. Ask your druggist for them. 25 cents a box.
You may have an idea that poultry can hunt their own grit. You are wrong. Grit is as essential as feed. Get a grit box, fill it with crushed rock and oyster shell, and hang it on the wall where dirt will not get scratched into it.
C. R. Kluger, the Jeweler, 1060 Virginia Ave., Indianapolis, Ind., writes: "I was so weak from kidney trouble that I could hardly walk a hundred feet. Four bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy cleared my complexion, cured my backache and the irregularities disappeared, and I can now attend to business every day and recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy to all sufferers, as it cured me after the doctors and other remedies had failed." Felber Pharmacy.
Some farmers are surprised the first time their wives sell enough eggs and butter to furnish the table and the wardrobe, and after that they are surprised if she doesn't keep it up.
Both Boys Saved
Louis Boon, a leading merchant of Norway, Mich., writes: "Three bottles of Foley's Honey and Tar absolutely cured my boy of a severe cough, and a neighbor's boy who was so ill with a cold that the doctors gave him up, was cured by taking Foley's Honey and Tar." Nothing else is as safe and certain in results. Felber Pharmacy.
GIVING OUT
The Struggle Discourages Many a Citizen of Wayne
Around all day with an aching back.
Can't rest at night.
Enough to make any one "give out."
Doan's Kidney Pills will give renewed life.
They will cure the backache.
Cure every kidney ill.
Here is Wayne proof that this is so:
Frank Thielman, of Wayne, Neb., says: "I had a great deal of trouble from backache last spring. It would come and go by spells and often made it hard for me to do my work. The kidney secretions also passed irregularly, causing me much annoyance. When I had the good fortune to hear of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box and they brought me relief in a short time. Backache has never bothered me since."
