EDWARD REYNOLDS IS DEAD

Another Old Soldier Has Answered His Final Roll Call and Passed to the Beyond.

While it has been known for some time that the health of Edward Reynolds, of Fullerton, Nebraska, and a former long time resident of Wayne, was very poor and that he had gone to Kirksville, Missouri, for examination and possible operation, the news of his death came with a shock to his family and friends. He submitted to an operation for gall stones November 11, and never rallied from its effects.

Deceased was born at Marysville, Ohio, October 8, 1844, being at the time of his death one month and three days beyond sixty-five years of age. When five years old he removed with his parents to Clayton county, Iowa, where he resided until the civil war, and when but seventeen years old he enlisted and served his country for four years and five months, enduring all the hardships of the weary march and battlefield. At the close of the war he returned to Iowa and in that state he was united in marriage to Miss Mary J. Hill, who still survives him. To this union eleven children were born, nine of whom are still living, they being Mrs. L. C. Gildersleeve, Mrs. C. S. Beebe, Mrs. Gene Gildersleeve, Mrs. H. B. Craven, Mrs. Rollie Ley, Chas. Reynolds, Ray Reynolds, all of Wayne, and Delos Reynolds, of Kirksville, Missouri, and Clyde Reynolds, of Fullerton, Nebraska. James E. and Mary Elizabeth preceded him to the better world.

Mr. Reynolds and family moved to Wayne county in 1886, settling on a farm. Finding farm life too arduous for his physical condition, he removed to Wayne and was elected to the office of sheriff, which he very acceptably filled for a period of six years. In 1902 he and his wife removed to Fullerton, Nebraska, where he engaged in the mercantile business, in which he was still engaged at the time of his death.

Besides his wife and children he leaves sixteen grandchildren, a sister at Waterloo, Iowa, also a sister at Boise, Idaho, and a brother at Meta, South Dakota.

The funeral services were held at the M. E. church in Wayne Sunday afternoon, and were largely attended by members of the G. A. R. and A. O. U. W. Orders, of which he was a member, (he having served as Commander of Casey Post G. A. R. several terms), and a large number of citizens, who thus paid respect to one who had long been a citizen and a friend to many in the community. The floral offerings were many and beautiful, silent tokens of respect. The pall bearers were C. S. Beebe, H. B. Craven, Rollie Ley, Gene Gildersleeve, L. C. Gildersleeve and Frank Howard, all sons-in-law but Mr. Howard, who was a nephew. Rev. H. H. Millard, of Albion, Nebraska, a former pastor of the M. E. church in Wayne and a long time friend of the deceased and his family, had charge of the services, assisted by Rev. Kirkpatrick. The speaker delivered a thoughtful address and paid a feeling tribute to his departed friend. Burial was made in Greenwood cemetery in Wayne. Those from abroad attending the funeral were his son Delos and wife, of Kirksville, Missouri, his son Clyde and wife, of Fullerton, Nebraska, and Frank Howard, a favorite nephew, from Waterloo, Iowa. After life's fitful fever he sleeps well.

SCHOOL LIBRARY LAW

Schools Expend Required Amount To Secure Apportionment

November 1, 1909.

To County Superintendents:

I wish to call your attention to the enforcement of the school library law, as outlined in an official decision to Superintendent W. A. Posey, of Thayer county:

"Your letter submitting to this office the statement that district number 85, Thayer county, had refused to set aside the sum required by section 11, subdivision 18, school laws of Nebraska, for school libraries, was received in due time.

We submitted this question to Hon. W. T. Thompson, attorney general, and have his reply under date of October 1, from which we quote the following:

"I think that there is no question but that the county superintendent has a right to require the director to show in his report the amount of money set apart each year for the district library fund, and in case the report is silent on that subject to return the same for correction. In case a school district fails or refuses to make the census report properly or to make the proper financial report required by law, the district treasurer is not entitled to a certificate from the county superintendent that such a report has been made. In that event the district treasurer cannot draw the amount of the state apportionment from the county treasury."

It will be your duty, therefore, to refuse to the districts which have not complied with the free library law the certificate provided in section 10, subdivision 11, school laws of Nebraska, and to notify your county treasurer in writing not to pay to such districts the money apportioned to them for the support of the common schools until their report on file in your office shows compliance with the laws, and until you have issued to the proper officers of such district a statement that their report filed with you shows full compliance with all the provisions of the school laws."

Exemptions from the requirements of the school library law are enumerated in section 13, subdivision 18. In addition to the exemptions here enumerated, school districts may be excused from the requirements of this law when a levy of twenty-five mills is made and expended for the school term in the district within the school year and by such levy and expenditure the school district is only able to meet the requirements of section 14, subdivision 2.

Very truly yours,
E. C. BISHOP,
Superintendent.

Questions For Boys and Girls

As there is to be a corn show in Wayne December 1 and 2, and as the subject of corn is always an interesting one to this part of our state, we append a number of questions regarding this cereal, below, and will give to any boy or girl under sixteen a year's subscription to some good magazine for the best list of answers received before December 1. What do the farmer boys and girls know about corn, the most important grain that is grown in our state. Let us see if you know anything about it except the fact that it grows.

1. To what family does corn belong?
2. To what country is it native?
3. How far north does it grow in the United States?
4. How high do the stalks grow?
5. What are brace roots? Where do they grow?
6. How many kinds of flowers has corn?
7. What are they and what are their uses?
8. How many rows of grains on an ear?
9. Are there ever odd numbers of rows?
10. How did "the Pilgrims" raise their first crop of corn?
11. When did the Indians tell them to plant it?
12. When and how do we plant corn at the present time?
13. How far apart are the rows? The hills?
14. What is considered a good stand of corn?
15. What are the most important varieties of corn?
16. Which variety is most extensively grown?
17. Why does popcorn turn inside but when heated?
18. What are different methods of harvesting corn?
19. About what is the annual production in bushels in the United States?
20. How many times greater in value is the annual production of corn than the annual production of gold?
21. What are the five leading corn producing states of the Union?
22. Name ten uses to which the kernels are put.
23. Name three uses of the cobs.
24. Two uses of the stalks.
25. How is corn oil made?
26. For what is it used?

THE Big Brick Store

THIS is the time of year when you begin to think of your winter needs. We advise you to come now and make your selections while our stocks are complete. We have made preparations to supply the wants of the trade that look to us to supply them. Our business is growing every year, which goes to show that good goods at the right prices win in the end. The farmers of this vicinity, who have been in the habit of sending to the catalogue houses for their merchandise, are beginning to realize that they don't want their cheap, shoddy merchandise, made to sell to the unsuspecting. They want their money's worth in good merchandise and not cheap, poorly made goods at any price. That is the reason why our trade is increasing. The larger the trade, the better values we can offer our customers.

We are here to supply wants at the very lowest prices possible. Call in and inspect our line of

First Annual Corn Show AND Domestic Science Exhibition

To be held at the Opera House, Wayne, Nebr.,

November 30 and December 1 and 2,

Under the auspices of

The Wayne Commercial Club

TO OUR FARMERS:

Your prosperity and our prosperity depends entirely upon the production of the land in our community.

We are interested in increasing this production and raising the quality of our products.

The Corn Show will be a great help. You will inspire your neighbor to improve his crop by exhibiting some product you have raised which is better than his farm produced. You will be influenced to improve your own farming when you attend the exhibit and see other farm products better than your own. Co-operate with us to make the show a successful and permanent institution. You can do this by bringing in some of your best products for exhibition, because it is a good big list of exhibits that will make the show a success. Don't fail to bring in at least one exhibit.

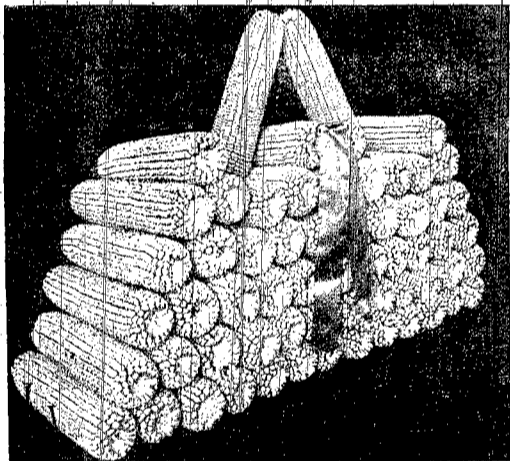

WAYNE COMMERCIAL CLUB.

PROGRAM:

Tuesday, November 30, entering exhibits

Wednesday, December 1st, display of exhibits, opera house open from one p. m. to ten p. m.

Thursday, December 2nd, display of exhibits. Lecture by representative of the State Agricultural School. Lecture by representative of the Domestic Science Department of the State University. Awarding of premiums. Auction of grains, fruits and vegetables.

10 best ears of corn, 1st prize $25
2nd prize $15
3rd prize $10
Large list of other prizes

INVITATION

Your presence and co-operation are requested for our first Corn Show to be held at the Wayne Opera House, November 30, December 1 and 2. While we have named it Corn Show the exhibits will not be confined to corn alone but will include all the important products of the farm and liberal premiums have been provided for the best exhibits in each class. Rewards will also be made for the best work in sewing and cooking by the girls of school age, thus making our show an instructive and entertaining event for the whole family.

In order that the Corn Show may be a great success and that it may become a yearly institution your active co-operation is necessary. While the Commercial Club has provided a very liberal list of premiums and will do all the work necessary to have your exhibits well displayed, the real success of the show depends upon how many exhibits are brought in, and that depends on you. We ask you to read the premium list over, select one or several classes in which you can exhibit and then bring in the very best you have in these classes. We will take good care of your exhibit, have it well displayed and fairly judged and promptly deliver any premium which you win.

The list is so large and varied that every family should find at least one class in which they can make an exhibit. It is upon your exhibits that the success of the whole show will depend, so bring in at least one exhibit and more if you can. This Corn Show can be developed into a great educational and entertaining yearly event. Good ideas for improvement in all agricultural work are bound to come from observation and comparison of the exhibits and from the exchange of information which can be made so conveniently at such a time. Lectures by men and women trained in this work at our State University will also add greatly to the educational value of the show.

The success of such a worthy undertaking is worth a good effort by everyone of us. If you can possibly make an exhibit bring it in and we will do the rest of the work necessary to make the show a fine, successful exhibition.

When and Where To Bring Your Exhibits

The opera house will be open all day Tuesday, November 30, for receiving exhibits. For the convenience of those who will find it difficult to get here on Tuesday, the Commercial Club has arranged for rooms over Ahern's store and the Secretary will receive exhibits there on Saturday, November 27 and Monday, November 29. Good care will be taken of whatever you bring and these exhibits will be taken to the opera house for you.

How to Enter Your Exhibit

Take your exhibit either to the opera house on Tuesday, November 30, or to the room over Ahern's store on Saturday or Monday and the secretary will attach a numbered card to it. A receipt bearing this same number will be given you so that you can claim your property when the show is over. The number of your exhibit and your name will be entered in the secretary's book thus insuring the utmost fairness in judging as your exhibit will appear at the show with only a number attached and no other mark to give a clue as to the owner.

How the Exhibits Are to be Judged

A judge from the Agricultural School at Lincoln will judge all the entries in agricultural products. A judge from the Domestic Science Department of the State University will judge the exhibits in sewing and cooking.

More Than One Member of the Same Family Cannot Contest For the Same Premiums

For Example—One member of the same family can compete for the prizes for the best 10 ears of corn—another member can contest for the prizes for the best 10 ears of popcorn, but both members of the family could not make entry for the best 10 ears of corn or popcorn, etc.

How to Get Your Premiums

If you win any of the premiums listed, the secretary will give you an order upon the business man who donated the premium and he will deliver it to you promptly upon presentation of your receipt at his place of business after the show.

How to Re-claim Your Exhibit

The Secretary and his force will remain in charge of all exhibits after the show and upon presentation of the receipt which was given to you when you entered your exhibit, they will look it up and return it to you. Except that all exhibits of grains, fruits, vegetables and cockery becomes the property of the Club and will be auctioned to the highest bidder on Thursday afternoon, December 2, immediately at the close of the lecture.

Admission

In order that the opera house may be reserved for those interested, a small admission of ten cents will be charged. All exhibitors will be given a pass which will admit them free to the show. This pass will be given when you enter your exhibit.

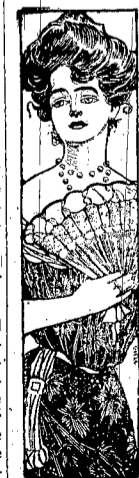

Where to Get the Pamphlets on Corn Growing and Domestic Science

The State Association of Boys and Girls Clubs publish a pamphlet on corn growing which gives valuable information on how to select your corn and on what points corn is judged. Every boy of school age is urged to get this book. Call upon your district school teacher or address a card to the County Superintendent and the book will be sent to you.

A book for the girls on cooking and sewing is issued by the same association. The girls will find recipes for bread, corn-bread, etc., also instructions as to how to make the aprons, shirt waists and pillow tops which are to be given premiums, at our exhibition. The girls may get these books from their school teacher or by writing to the County Superintendent.

The Commercial Club urges you to get these two books. By following their suggestions you will aid us in getting our corn show in line with the work of the State Association and put us in shape so that next year we can get the benefits for you of their work along these lines.

CHRISTMAS PHOTOS

Now is the time to have them taken. Nothing will please your friends more than a nice photo of yourself or family. Come in now and have them made before the big rush is on. It is only about five weeks until Christmas.

Come in now; don't put it off; give us time to finish them.

FREE!

With each dozen of $5.00 photos made before December 15th we will give a beautiful present.

We are showing some very nice, new styles.

ONLY AS OLD AS SHE LOOKS

Woman of To-Day Retains Youthfulness Longer Than Her Grandmother Did.

Women in Switzerland grow old more gracefully than any of the other women in Europe, according to a letter to the Empress (Kan.) Gazette. That does not mean that women who work hard in youth and sap their lives out before they are 30 are pretty. Not even American women of that type are beautiful. Perhaps it means that, owing to social and economic conditions, women do not have to wear themselves out as their mothers did, and hence they are beautiful in their forties and fifties. It may be pertinent to digress here and present this query: Are not women the world over, as a rule, adding a decade to their years of youth? It does seem that there are more handsome women between 35 and 45 than there were 25 years ago. Or perhaps a boy in his 'teens isn't so charitable to the minor failings of a woman in her forties as a man is in his forties. But discounting the pride of youth, it does seem that to-day, all over the world, the woman whose family income is between $10 and $1,000 a week—a wide range, surely—this woman retains her youthful freshness and charm longer than her grandmother retained hers. Labor-saving machinery seems to have done that much for the woman in general everywhere in civilization.

METHOD IN THEIR MADNESS

Timid Man Gets New Wrinkle as to the Management of the Church Bazar.

A timid man unused to the methods employed in the management of a church summer bazar looked with dismay upon the heap of china fragments that had been swept into one corner of the room.

"Did all this stuff get broken here tonight?" he asked.

"The pretty attendant at a nearby booth assured him that it did."

"Then how on earth do you make any profit," he asked, "if so much of your stuff gets smashed?"

"Oh," said she candidly, "it's the smashing that counts. It is the funniest thing, but somehow everything happens to get broken just at the time when some person who is able to buy gets through looking at it, and as the guilty wretch feels that his carelessness may have caused the accident he squares himself with his conscience by paying about three times as much as the thing was worth. Wouldn't you like to look—"

She waved her hand above her own table full of fragile bric-a-brac.

"Not on your life!" said the timid man, and he backed off to a respectful and safe distance.

Had No Complaint to Make.

Two young women boarded a crowded street car and were obliged to stand, says the Washington Post. One of them, to steady herself, took hold of what she supposed was her friend's hand. They had stood thus for some time, when, on looking down she discovered that she was holding a man's hand. Greatly embarrassed, she exclaimed: "Oh, I've got the wrong hand!" Whereupon the man, with a smile, stretched forth his other hand, saying: "Here is the other one, madam."

Broken Leg
William Baden, residing about ten miles southwest of Wayne, sustained a broken leg Tuesday evening. He was at work in his barn, trying to make some of his stock more comfortable, endeavoring to separate a cow and a young heifer. He was standing with his leg bent to one side when the heifer laid down on him, breaking the bones about half way between the ankle and knee. Dr. Leisenring was called, and although he had but just got in from a trip to the country over the bad roads, he responded and found the break a bad one. He set the fracture and his patient is getting along in good shape but will not get out for some time.

Rev. A. F. Ernst, a former pastor, of the Presbyterian church returned to Macomb, Ill., this afternoon, his wife to remain until after Thanksgiving at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Gamble.

In the seven so-called surplus states of Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri, Kansas, Indiana and Ohio, this year's crop is 149 million bushels more than last year's. These seven states produced 1,575 million bushels of corn, or fifty-six per cent of the total crop of the country.

Nebraska ranks fourth in the production of corn this year, the states above her being Illinois, Iowa, and Missouri. The quality of wheat produced this year is a little inferior to that of last year while oats are considerably heavier. The supply of apples is less than last year by one per cent.

NORMAL LAW IS VOID

Supreme Court Reinstates Old State Board

The supreme court has declared void the normal board law which State Oil Inspector Arthur Mullen had introduced in the last legislature. As the court declared the new board invalid it did not pass on the question of the eligibility of T. J. Majors of Peru who was a member of the legislature when he was appointed by Governor Shallenberger. The object of the law was to legislate out of office the old state normal board to give place to a new one that was to be appointed by the governor. About the only change in the law as to duties of boards was to add to the duty of the new board the control of junior normal schools, which are now under control of the state superintendent.

Among many other things held in abeyance awaiting the court's decision on this law, was the closing up of the matter of buying the Wayne Normal School, and it is very probable that the board will at once take this matter up and dispose of it. The Omaha and Lincoln papers have said the past few days that this question was optional with the board but the attorney general holds that this is not the case. The question of buying was an act separate and apart from the normal board bill and was acted upon by the legislature itself and the bill was signed by Governor Shallenberger. The normal school board bill took the management of the educational institutions of the state away from the state superintendent and placed them in the hands of a board, with some additional powers over the one in existence.

DISTRICT COURT CALENDAR

The docket for the November term of the Wayne County District Court is now made up and has been issued. Court will convene next week. The naturalization cases will have attention on the 24th, and the work of the attorneys, judge and jury will be taken up on the 26th. The following are the cases:

Sam L. Watt vs. Theo. R. Davidson, C. O. Sallon, M. S. Moats, and T. A. Jackson.
 Ed. Owen, Ed. Cullen, and Richard Russell the board of county commissioners vs. Wayne county agricultural society.
 Nebraska Land Co. vs. Wayne county.

AN INTERESTING SUBJECT

Something About Your Mail

There is no interest of greater importance to the public than that of securing good mail service at a post office and a few suggestions to the patrons who don't claim to know it all, may aid them in getting a better understanding of the laws and a more acceptable service.

If you are a box renter don't forget your combination. If others get your mail give them the combination or an order to get your mail from your box. The postmaster and employees are prohibited from giving out mail from rented boxes, by the postal laws.

The postal law prohibits a registered letter or package to be delivered to any person only to the one it is addressed to, unless the owner gives a written order for it to a reliable person known to the postmaster. A registered letter marked personal will not be delivered upon an order as the law will not permit it. Don't send a child for mail of this class.

If a letter is delivered to your box or in person which is not for you, do not open it or retain it. Return it "opened by mistake" and sign your name; to retain it and not sign your name makes you liable to a fine and prosecution.

To get prompt delivery of your mail, notify your correspondents the number of your box, and if you get your mail at the general delivery, have your letters marked or directed in care of the "general delivery." Remember there may be one or several persons of your name who gets mail at the postoffice.

Use ink in addressing your letters and other mail—writing your name and box on the upper left hand corner of the envelope and be sure to put sufficient postage and then your letter will not be sent to the dead letter office, but returned to you for postage and proper address.

More than thirteen million pieces of mail matter went to the dead letter office last year—could not be delivered on account of no postage and carelessness in writing addresses.

Don't ask at the general delivery: "Is there any mail for me, our folks or for us?" Give the full names of all the persons who get mail who are members of your family.

Do not stand at the register, stamp and money order windows to write or wrap packages and address letters.

Don't ask the postmaster or clerk to swap stamps with you. It is prohibited by the postal laws. Certain stamps are redeemable under the law.

Don't fail to register valuable letters. Registering insures safe delivery or indemnity amounting to $50 if the article was first class mail.

Don't send money in ordinary mail.

Don't ask the postmaster or clerk the number of any person's box or mail as the law will not allow such information given out.

Get your mail to the office early for the outgoing trains. All mail is dispatched from the postoffice to trains from twenty-five to thirty minutes before train time, unless the train is unreasonably late.

Don't send children under twelve years of age for your mail.

All delayed mail should be reported to the postmaster without delay, so as to avoid careless service and secure its prompt receipt.

NOTED RUPTURE EXPERT

Seely, Who Fitted the Czar of Russia, Will Beat the Oxford Hotel, Norfolk

F. H. Seely, of Chicago and Philadelphia, the noted truss expert, will be at the Oxford hotel and will remain in Norfolk this Friday and Saturday, November 19 and 20, only. Mr. Seely says: "The Spermatic Shield Truss as now used and approved by the United States government will not only retain any case of rupture perfectly, affording immediate and complete relief, but closes the opening in ten days on the average case, and costs no more than common trusses." This instrument received the only award in England and in Spain, producing results without surgery or harmful injections. Mr. Seely has documentary references from the United States government, Washington, D. C., for your inspection. If any interested call he will be glad to show the truss without charge or fit them if desired. Anyone ruptured should remember the date and take advantage of this unusual opportunity.

Encourage Them

Encourage every home enterprise: Take an interest in every industry, invest liberally in the stock of faith and good will, and distribute it all over your city, in every factory, and every business house. It will pay you large dividends, and will cost very little. It can never depreciate in value. It will always be above par. Buy home made goods. Ask your merchants for them. Eat home made articles of food, read home made newspapers, buy home made flour. In this way the money you spend is only loaned. It will come back to you again with interest. Praise up your city—don't run it down. Stand by your merchants and city's industries, they are the bone and sinew of your city. Stand by your churches and your schools—they are the hopes of your future. Stand by your press, it is the tireless sentinel that guards your interest.

Queer Law

Last week Bernard C. Martin, who was arrested for burning the village of Belden, last summer, was tried at Hartington. The defense argued that, even if he did set the fire, it was no crime as under the statutes of this state it is not a criminal offense to burn the building of another if you are the occupant. The matter was argued for a full day, the defense taking the matter back into history as far as the time of King George II, of England, when it appears this was also the rule, and which rule supreme courts have intelligently and enterprisingly followed in many states since they were established. It appears that our supreme court may be one of them. So Judge Graves ordered the jury to bring in a verdict of acquittal.

Thanksgiving Proclamation

Governor Shallenberger has issued a proclamation setting aside Thursday, November 25, as a "day of solemn and public thanksgiving to Almighty God for his blessings to us as a state and nation."

Governor Shallenberger's proclamation is as follows:

"At the close of the harvest season, when the labors of the farmer are crowned with the bounteous gifts of nature and the material growth and prosperity of our great state has become the pride and admiration of every citizen, our hearts are filled with a spirit of hope for the future and gratitude for our present prosperity.

"As a people we should not only take into account the great progress that has been made in a material way, but be thankful that with it has come a fuller realization of the duties and responsibilities of American citizenship, and above all else, we should render a sincere acknowledgment to Almighty God for the many blessings and divine favors he has bestowed upon his people.

"In harmony with this sentiment and by virtue of the authority in me vested by law, I, Ashton C. Shallenberger, Governor of the State of Nebraska, do hereby proclaim and set apart Thursday, November 25, 1909, as a day of solemn and public Thanksgiving to Almighty God for his blessings to us as a state and nation, and I direct that no business be transacted on that day at any department of state. I earnestly urge upon the people of Nebraska an appropriate observance of the occasion by a universal expression of our profound devotion and reverent thanks to Divine Providence for the many blessings we have received."

That "Association"

We are in receipt of a courteous offer from the Merchants and Manufacturers Association of Omaha to furnish "Without cost, express prepaid" a plate service that might help us very materially when we were in a hurry.

No, sirs! We cannot use the same either in the paper nor for papering the pantry shelves or underlayment carpets. On the contrary we will try and call attention to the junk when we find it in other papers.

This commercially named body of high binders fill about the same pages in English speaking historical epochs that Dick Turpin did in his day.

Omaha seems to endorse the campaign those men prosecute and the metropolitan village will have it to account for some day.

If those gentlemen question our sincerity or fairness we will reel off a few of the exploits of their authorized representatives at Lincoln last winter that fairminded people will say justifies our words.—Creston Liberal.

The Monitor received the same generous offer, we promptly consign it to our waste basket without the least hesitation.—Bloomfield Monitor.

We are glad, brethren, that you are taking these stands and not encouraging a concern who fights teeth and toe nails men like Wislie, and others of his kind. We had the proposition also, yes, even better than what above is mentioned.—Wausa Gazette.

To our mind the Association believes its name. If there are any reputable merchants and manufacturers belonging to it they would do well to repudiate the whole thing. We would not even disgrace our waste basket by giving it a place!

Ellis Girton and wife, who were passing through Wayne Monday forenoon, stopped off here for a couple of days and then went to their Colorado home.

Mrs. Wheeler of Grand Island, Nebraska, who had been visiting at the home of her son, Prof. C. H. Bright, went to Winslow Monday forenoon to visit a son and daughter.

The Holer Barber College of Omaha, Nebraska, wants men to learn the barber trade. They offer splendid inducements and a short term completes. They mail free a beautiful catalogue and ask all our readers to send for it.

A. C. Dean, who has been the operator at the depot here for some time, is taking a vacation and has gone to New Orleans. N. A. Wells has relieved him. That is, he was to do so but before Dean could get away the other fellow took sick, hence the trip was abandoned for a time.

The special meetings that had been in progress at the Presbyterian church for nearly three weeks, came to a close last evening with a praise service. Rev. Weyer preached ably and earnestly and well. A. Nicodemus and his chorus choir furnished most excellent music and the meetings were productive of much good.

There is no kind of advertising that pays like newspaper advertising. If those who profess to believe that posters and circulars through the mails is the thing, could stand in the post office corridors any day after the arrival of the mail and see how contemptuously their offerings are thrown on the floor, they would be convinced that it was not the thing.

At the district Y. M. C. A. meeting held at Wakefield last week W. T. Graham was elected a member of the district committee to fill the unexpired term of E. P. Wilson, of Wayne, who has removed from the district. H. S. Collins, Wakefield; J. C. Robinson, Hartington; C. E. Nevin, Laurel; Levi Kimball, Wakefield, and D. C. The Lucy Lee Concert Company is an unusual company. An audience may look forward with pleasure to the time when this attraction shall appear. They will appear at the Wayne Opera House November 30. It is the second number of this year's course.

The engine that hauls the branch line passenger train out of here broke down Saturday forenoon while doing some switching in the yards here, and another engine had to be secured from Sioux City so it was after twelve o'clock before the train got away.

The Union Thanksgiving services are to be held at St. Paul's Lutheran church and the sermon will be by Rev. Kirkpatrick of the M. E. church. Next Thursday forenoon at 10:30 is the hour and so far as possible it would be well for the people to attend.

Rev. Millard, a former pastor of the M. E. church in Wayne, was here Sunday to preach the funeral sermon of Ed. Reynolds. He also occupied the pulpit in the evening and preached a very excellent sermon from the words: "Christ came to seek and save the lost." He met many friends while here.

The most prosperous farmer is he who raises crops of grain and forage; then feeds them to well bred cattle with hogs after them, thus not only obtaining the highest price for his grain, but leaving on his farm that which constantly improves its fertility. And the most prosperous sections of the nation are those where farming and first-class stock growing are carried on together.

On November 22 the Monday Club will meet at the hospitable home of Mrs. W. G. Wightman. "Music" will be the subject. Mrs. Leisenring is to be the leader. Roll call, "An American Musician." Mrs. Mellor will read a paper on "Music as a Means of Culture," and Mrs. Welch will show "What Americans Have Given to the World in Music." Negro melodies will be the closing songs.

The state labor bureau is out with its table of statistics regarding the corn crop of this state for this year. How it gets its figures we do not know as not much more than one-half the crop is gathered in Wayne county as yet. The yield is placed in this county at 38.3 bushels per acre, with 98,510 acres; Cedar county, 127,574 acres at 42.5 bushels per acre; Dixon county, 77,079 acres at 33.2 per acre; Cuming county, 106,987 acres at 35.5 per acre; Pierce county, 89,977 acres at 30 per acre; Stanton county, 76,092 acres at 34 bushels per acre and Thurston county, 90,636 acres at 41 bushels per acre.

The Lucy Lee Concert Company is composed of four fine artists. The company is and is not of the usual type of concert companies. While there are four people in the company, there is more than one artist. You can hear them at the Wayne Opera House November 30.

That pie sociable given by the Epworth League at the home of Miss Bessie Marsteller last Friday evening was an abundant success. There were pies like mother used to make, too numerous to mention, and despite the fact that the evening was not at all pleasant there was a large number present, to enjoy the evening, and they did so.

Our people take kindly to Walter Savidge and his theatrical troupe as they come here every season and start out from here with a three night's engagement, and this season has been no exception to the rule. Last Thursday evening at the opening night, for the first time in five years every reserved seat in the opera house was sold out, and that before supper, too, and when the curtain went up it was a fine audience that greeted the company. Mr. Savidge has gathered together this season a troupe of actors of more than ordinary merit and has stage settings and scenery that far exceed anything he has heretofore carried. His company gave three plays here, Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, and was greeted with good audiences at all of them and the company did not disappoint those who attended in any particular.

Next Monday, November 22, "Charlie's Aunt" will be given at the opera house. "Charlie's Aunt," a bright, sparkling, refined comedy, is the most laughable play of this generation. It keeps the house in a roar from start to finish. There is no let up in the laughter.

Phil Kohl, one of the best known real estate men in this part of the state, was honored by Governor Shallenberger by being appointed as one of the delegates to the national land congress which began its sessions in Chicago on the 16th. Mr. Kohl knows a whole lot about land and its value.

"Everybody works but father; he sits around and loaf," was the refrain of a song that used to be sung a good deal a few years ago. But even father had to get out and shove the snow Tuesday morning. It was probably as heavy a November snow storm as has ever been known in this section, eight or ten inches of the beautiful snow on a level.

The Ernest Fisher Players are a high class aggregation of fine actresses and actors, drawn from the best companies of America, and headed by Mr. Ernest Fisher, who will play the star role in "Charlie's Aunt" on Monday, November 22, at the Opera House. Mr. Fisher has some great comic songs which will be entirely new in Wayne. Although this is a special engagement, prices will be as usual, 25c, 35c and 50c.

Judge Welch Brings Tears
 Madison, Neb., Nov. 12.—In imposing a light jail sentence of thirty days upon Emory Bonney, leader of the Norfolk boy bandits, who had already served five months in jail, awaiting trial, Judge A. A. Welch last night made one of the most affecting addresses ever heard in a Nebraska court room. When he had finished there were tears running down the cheeks of the most sophisticated attorneys, and young Bonney was greatly touched.

Judge Welch referred to the crippled condition of the youth pleading guilty to burglary, and made it plain that a young man laboring under the handicap of a lost foot and a crippled hand, ought to make extra effort to qualify himself to earn an honest living, that he might earn the respect of his fellow men and not always be an object of povertry.

The judge told of his own hard struggles in early life and held out the hand of sympathy to the youth. It was a most impressive speech.

Appreciated
 The flowers that bloom in the spring time or in the greenhouse are not the only kind that blossom and shed their fragrance in this world of ours. Those of kindly thoughts and deeds shed an aroma far more lasting than the former. The Epworth League of the M. E. church in Wayne, remembering the assistance of the former pastor, Rev. C. F. Sharpe, and knowing the poor state of his health, gathered some money together and sent it to the chairman of the Mercy and Help Department of the League at Garden City, Kansas, where Rev. Sharpe is now pastor, with a request that a bouquet be purchased at the greenhouse and sent to his home. The receipt of this token of remembrance brought tears to the eyes of his good wife and himself, and a letter in which he says, "I am confined to my bed now most of the time, and the remembrance of your kindly thought will linger with us long after the flowers shall have shed their petals and their fragrance has disappeared. We thank you beyond expression for the thoughts that prompted the act." The many friends of the family sincerely regret to learn of his serious condition and trust that a decided change for the better may speedily come.

William Jennings Bryan started Saturday for a five months trip in South America.

Thanksgiving
 How quickly the days, weeks and months chase each other around the dial of the year. One week from today has been designated as the annual Thanksgiving festival. The memories of the present are not so sacred as those of the past so far as this occasion is concerned. In the years gone by what associations came trooping through the mind of past events. What glorious anticipations dwelt in each childish mind of a trip to grandpa's, and the well laden pantry shelves attested the fact that ample preparations had been made to meet all the demands made upon the larder. How father and mother looked and longed for the joyous home gatherings and rejoiced when once again all the boys and girls were gathered around the family hearthstone. In the early days the children did not stray so far from the parental nest as they do in the later years so home gatherings were a great feature of each Thanksgiving day.

The year just past has been one of peace and prosperity, not only in our own city and state, but in the nation as well, and it is no more than right that we should pause for a little while on one of the busy work days of the week to return thanks for all the blessings of the year. Their character is varied and many and if we shall only look, all will find something to be thankful for. There are vacant chairs beside many a hearthstone that were not there a year ago but despite that fact there is a silver lining to every cloud and things might be much darker than what they are. If there are aged, sick or poor upon whom you can let a little more of the blessed spirit of good cheer and friendliness fall on this day, you will be more than repaid for all the loss of time or money it may take to bring this pleasure to their lives. The blessings of life are all about us, let us be thankful for them and appreciate the great Giver for them all.

"Charlie's Aunt" is a high-class farce-comedy, in which such funny things happen, that it ran continuously in London for three years, and for over two years in New York City. Mr. Ernest Fisher has to pay a large royalty for permission to play the great laughing success. "Charlie's Aunt" comes to the opera house on Monday, November 22. No increase in prices of admission, which will be 25c, 35c and 50c.

Honest Merchandise

There's a Difference Between Price and Value

Carefully bought, with the purpose of giving every purchaser honest values for all money expended, is the basis upon which we are building our growing sales. We call your attention to the special values we are offering this week and are certain that upon seeing the lines you will conclude that this is the place to trade

Special Values in Misses' and Small Women's Suits

We find, as usual, that the lower priced suits are the ones that sell slowly. In order to decrease our stock of medium priced suits we will offer very special inducements to prospective buyers for the next week. These suits run in size from age 13 to age 20 and most of them are $12.50 suits. Special Sale Price, $8.75.

Children's Cloth Coats, 98c

These coats are out of style, but they are warm and look pretty well too. Come early for they'll soon go at this price. One of these coats will save the good one.

While you are thinking of cold weather goods here are some items that you will need and we guarantee the goods as well as the prices:

A Good Coat for Half Price

We told in our ad. of last week about some coats that we had in stock last season. You see coats just like them on our streets every day, you may have bought one for a year's coat for in some cases it is hard to tell the difference. We are offering these coats at such a sacrifice that you owe it to yourself to see them.

Furs

We have been highly complimented upon our choice of furs. The splendid sales are a fine recommendation. This shows what purchasers think of them. Come and let us show you our furs. Prices, 75c to $25.

If the advertisers could realize how much work it was to get their ads. in shape, they would certainly be more prompt in getting their copy to the printer. Type cannot be thrown together by the line or handful but every letter has to be handled separately, as well as all the rules and slugs, and if anyone will sit down and count the different pieces in an ad, he will realize how much work it is. Besides that when they all come in late they cannot get as good a position in the paper as they otherwise would do.

The County Convention meets next Saturday and Sunday at the M. E. church, Carroll, Nebraska, and every school should have delegates in attendance if possible. Here we will discuss all phases of the Sunday School work.

Normal Board Here

Following close upon the decision of the State Supreme court that the new law in relation to the state normal board was unconstitutional and an announcement that the old board was to meet, the Wayne commercial club sent J. T. Bressler and Phil Kohl to Lincoln to look after the interests of the Wayne school. The board held a meeting yesterday afternoon and within two hours after getting together the whole party were on their way to Wayne to investigate the location and property here. There is no small anxiety here this morning as it appears that the wording of the law for the purchase of the school is not plain. The party, consisting of State Treasurer Brian, State Superintendent Bishop, D. W. Hays, H. M. Childs, L. P. Ludden, B. L. Shellhorn, and N. P. McDonald, arrived here in company with Bressler and Kohl. They found teams in waiting for them and were at once taken to the Normal School. After looking over the school and grounds, which some of the party had never seen, and with which they were all well pleased, they were served a bounteous dinner by Mrs. Pile, and returned to Lincoln on the afternoon train. The matter will be taken up by the board at its meeting in December and will no doubt be finally disposed of that time. Profs. Crabtree, of the Peru State Normal, and Thompson of the State Normal at Kearney, were also with them.

Will Prosecute

The Pender board of education has asked the county attorney to prosecute all parties—dealers or others—that sell or give away tobacco or cigarettes to school children. The following are from the laws of Nebraska upon the subject:

Section 2361.—That hereafter no person, firm, association or corporation in this state shall sell, give, or furnish in any way any tobacco in any form whatsoever, or any cigarettes or cigarette paper to any minor under eighteen years of age.

Sec. 2362.—Penalty.—That any person, firm, association or corporation violating the provisions of this act shall, upon conviction thereof, for each and every offense, be fined in a sum of not less than twenty dollars and not more than fifty dollars, and costs of suit, or be imprisoned for not less than ten or more than thirty days, in the discretion of the court.

Sec. 2363.—That it shall be unlawful on and after the date this act shall go into effect to manufacture, sell, give away or willingly allow to be taken any cigarettes or the material for their composition known as cigarette paper within the State of Nebraska.

Sec. 2364.—Penalty.—That any person, firm, association, or corporation in this state violating the provisions of this act he or they, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall upon conviction thereof, be fined for each and every such offense, a sum not less than $50.00 nor more than $100.00 at the discretion of the court, together with costs of prosecution.

Grand Jury Law Defective

Lincoln, Nov. 15.—The indictment of any person by a grand jury called in Nebraska at this time or at any time since the first regular term of the district court following the adjournment of the late legislature may be seriously questioned in the courts. This state of affairs is due to the action of the late democratic legislature in amending the law providing for calling grand juries and very likely there can be no more grand juries called legally in Nebraska under the present law.

The amended law reads as follows: "Section 1 (grand jury). Unless otherwise ordered in writing by the court of a judge thereof, a grand jury shall be drawn and summoned in the manner provided by law, on the first day of the first regular term of the district court of each county in the state."

This section repealed section 584 of the criminal code of Nebraska, which provided a judge of the district court could call a grand jury at any time.

The first day of the first regular term of court has been interpreted to mean by lawyers the first day of the first regular term of court following the adjournment of the legislature, and these lawyers hold that inasmuch as criminal statutes are usually held by the court to mean what they say literally, it is doubtful if another grand jury can be called under the present law.

In fact, the matter has already been put up to one district judge in a county where there was a murder committed, and he has discovered that he has no legal right to call the grand jury, and unofficially he is of the opinion the time has passed when that county can have a grand jury, he having failed to call one on the first day of the first regular term.

SHOES NEWS

Dan Carroll, Clifford Pettys and Joe Kenney were in Wayne last Saturday afternoon.

Oscar Edwards returned from Idaho last week and is shucking corn for Hadley & Minke.

The Sholes teachers were in attendance at the Wayne meeting Saturday, Prof. Robinson having a place on the program.

The new furnace is being installed in the school building this week. A gentleman from Sioux City is doing the work.

An old-fashioned literary society is to be organized here as soon as corn shucking is over.

The pupils and teachers of the public schools will give a Thanksgiving program in the church next Wednesday. Everyone cordially invited to attend.

I. J. Dunn, deputy city attorney of Omaha, was indefinitely suspended from the practice of law in all state courts by the supreme court on the 19th, and subjected to a severe scolding by Supreme Justice Reese, not only for his statements in his objectionable brief, but because of his attitude since being summoned into court to answer for writing the document held to reflect on the court.

Carroll Index Items

All the general stores of Carroll will close all day on Thanksgiving.

Dave Theophilus has hired out to Bagley-Renard Co. He will take up his work with them December 1.

Will Olmstead has bought a half interest in the Geo. LaCroix business. The new firm began work the first of this week.

Louie Richards has sold the eighty just north of town that he recently bought of Bill Bellows, to William Lewis for $72.50 per acre, which is an advance in price over what Louie gave.

Miss Heeren, sister of John Heeren, started Monday on a long trip. She will stop in Illinois to visit relatives and from there she will go on to Germany where she will make an extended visit.

Irv Porter returned home Wednesday from the hospital at Sioux City. He has rallied in good shape from the operation, which was to remove an obstruction from a kidney.

Mrs. Richard Closson went to Randolph yesterday on the invitation of the ladies of the Presbyterian church, to sell and exhibit her hand-painted china at the ladies' annual supper and bazaar last evening.

W. E. James arrived home Wednesday evening from Wales, where he spent most of the summer and fall. From appearances we would say that Will's health has been greatly improved by the trip. He visited with an uncle in New York on his way home.

Glady, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Jones met with an accident Saturday evening that might easily have proven fatal. She was in the yard about the horses when a colt kicked her a vicious blow on the left side of her forehead cutting a long, deep gash that required ten stitches to close. The little Miss is getting along nicely.

The National American Woman Suffrage Association, for the first time in its history, is to have a mass meeting in the city of New York. This is to be an historic evening. It will occur on November 17, at Carnegie Hall. The National president, Rev. Anna Shaw, will preside and will speak. The program will include the names of other speakers of national reputation, several of whom will speak upon subjects not hitherto introduced into the Suffrage campaign. Delegates and visitors are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

Station agent Moran is off for a little vacation this week, going up into the Dakotas to look over the land where his daughters drew claims.

Now Beat This

Elmer Phillips reports having husked and cribbed 150 bushels of corn for his father, F. L. Phillips, one day last week. He had been averaging a little better than a hundred bushels a day since he began husking this fall, and Wednesday morning of last week he started out to see what he could accomplish in the husking line, with the result as above stated. He is getting six and a half cents a bushel, and that day earned pretty fair wages. Who can beat this?—Laurel Advocate.

As one result of the meetings at the Presbyterian church there have been ten accessions to the membership, and more to follow, and the membership was greatly helped.

GRATED ON JURY'S FEELINGS.

Lawyer's Oratorical Flight Well Meant, But It Did Not Tend to Help His Client.

According to an Indiana lawyer, the verdict of the jury in a case tried in that state was distinctly influenced by an unfortunate break made by a youthful attorney in his closing address.
 The defense put forward had been
 that the defendant was an imbecile,
 and consequently was unable to distinguish between right and wrong. In his summing up the young lawyer made clever use of this point; but,
 when about to close, expressed himself in this extraordinary manner:
 "Gentlemen of the jury, gaze upon this unfortunate defendant. Regard, gentlemen, that receding forehead,
 the insignificant angle of those ears,
 the listless expression of those eyes. Need I remind the gentlemen of the jury that these are unmistakable evidences of Nature's deprivation of the power to distinguish right from wrong? Ignorant of this distinction between right and wrong, gentlemen of the jury, how can this poor imbecile be convicted of the charge brought against him? Why, gentlemen, this unhappy man is like a two-year-old child—he neither knows why he does a thing nor how. Therefore, gentlemen, it is with peculiar pride
 I reflect that, such are the institutions of this, the greatest and most glorious of all nations, that my client, imbecile though he be, to-day stands
 for a trial by a jury of his peers!"—

YSAYE GETS PRECIOUS VIOLIN.

Renowned Virtuoso Owes Possession of Instrument to the Generous Act of a Friend.

An interesting story is told of M.
 Eugene Ysaye. In his younger and poorer days he was very anxious to secure a Guadagnini violin which he saw in a pawnbroker's window in Hamburg. Although he had not the wherewithal, he asked the pawnbroker to lay it aside, as he might be able to purchase it some day. The man agreed to keep it for a certain time. Ysaye went back to his rooms with very mingled feelings. How could he raise the necessary money?
 That was the question which puzzled and worried him. To his great surprise he met a friend who had just arrived from Belgium, and in deep distress begged him to lend him enough to buy the wonderful instrument. "It's a large sum to pay," said the friend,
 "but I have enough money with me." "Would you lend it if you had?"
 asked the violinist. "Yes," said the reply. "Look here, then," said Ysaye,
 "you deal in diamonds?" "Yes," "Then leave a few diamonds as security and get me the precious Guadagnini!" Ysaye's friend was surprised at the proposal, but realizing the earnestness of the request, consented to do so. "In this way," says Ysaye, "I was married to my first love among the fiddles—my Guadagnini!"

Man Good Excuse.

On his estate in the Catskills a New York man employs a great deal of local help, giving the farmers and their folk the preference whenever possible in his big-hearted way. Not long ago, his cook needed an assistant and he engaged a neighboring farmer's wife to come over the next day. "When she arrived at 7:30 a. m.
 she apologized for being late and explained that before leaving home she had got breakfast for the family of six, had put up a lunch for her husband and one son, who were going to work in the field, and another lunch for three of the children who were going to school, had milked five cows, fed the pigs and chickens and walked
 a mile to the New York man's place.
 He said he would excuse her for not getting there at six."

Richard Wagner.

Every one finds some fault with Wagner, but that is because he is a mountain, a huge bulk of a soul with black caverns, scorched edges, barren wastes and empty craters. He has been weather-stained, mud-spattered, lightning-struck, dynamite-blasted, but still he is a mountain; his thrust is upward, the peak is snow and sunshine, and he commands the horizon.
 He belongs with the master heights
 of human glory, with Homer, Dante, Shakespeare, Milton, Michelangelo,
 Beethoven, and he is of a bigness with the biggest!—Rupert Hughes in Smith's Magazine.

Dickens Family Lost Big Fortune.

Dickens was one of the most successful financially of all authors. His was no case of genius starving in a garret. "Dickens" placed him above wealth at 25, and for a period of 30 years following its publication in 1857, he received a princely income from his writings. His American tour brought him $50,000. His estate at his death in 1870 was estimated at $400,000. That his grandchildren should now be in need of the trifling pension bestowed on them is a painful illustration of the vicissitudes of family fortune.

A Deal That Fell Through.

"Baron Fewcash was rather exacting as to his dot."
 "That wasn't what broke the engagement," answered Mr. Cumby. "I don't object to seeing a young man look out for his interests. But when he applied for a cash advance in order to buy an engagement ring, I must say it struck me as unbusinesslike."

 venile offenders where treatment is given according to the individual merits of cases and not according to the rigors of the law for adults.

In some states adults are also treated in this manner. We have given up the old draconian spirit. A century ago there were about 100 crimes in England punishable by death. When it was proposed to raise the death penalty for theft from five shillings to ten it met with the most bitter opposition in parliament and many men of supposed wisdom announced that the country was done for, property
 no longer safe and society incapable of caring for itself. We are now trying to treat crime in a twofold manner. To punish the offender and to reform him so that he will not prey upon the community so soon as he regains his freedom.

Especially is this necessary in the case of children. We must not give a dog a bad name, much less a potential citizen. The decision of the New York legislature is one that ought to be generally followed. We need to learn a great deal about criminology,
 a science which is just now in its infancy.

EYE OF THE CAMERA IS KEEN

Has Been Used to Decipher Documents Substantially Obliterated
 by Age.

Often the eye of the camera will decipher documents of which the writing had been substantially obliterated
 by age, says a writer in Van Norden's Magazine. I have successfully copied with the camera the utterly faded photograph of a classmate of 40 years previous.

Changes in the pigment of the skin, undiscovered by the eye, appear with distinctness on the sensitive plate, and it is said that simple warning of approaching disease has been thereby given.

The camera takes pictures of subjects which cannot be made to appear on the ground glass, and of those which the eye can never see. The human eye can penetrate space
 no further in at how thin in a single instant. Yet the eye of the camera will gaze into the sky for hours, looking deeper and seeing more with each second that passes.

Through this attribute of the camera a great chart of the heavens is now being made. In this work distinguished astronomers and photographers throughout the world are cooperating. Yet not one in a hundred of the stars already plainly pictured by them was ever seen by the unaided eye of scientists.

No Old Maids.

"We'd have no old maids if we took a lesson from the ancient Babylonians," a spinster said. "In Babylon unmarried women were graded by the state according to their looks. For a beautiful young wife the state remitted a large number of gold pieces, a less desirable wife lost a smaller number of gold pieces and this money was all paid out again as rewards to those who married 'delectable' girls. This is one of a fortune to marry beauty, but if you married ugliness a fortune came to you.
 Hence all was happiness in Babylon,
 and old maids were unknown."

MISS VANITY VERY, VERY OL

Feminine Nature Proved to Have Undergone Little Change Throughout the Centuries.

The Egyptian belle of 5,000 B. C.
 was no less extravagant in the matter of toilet requisites than the beauty of to-day. She required among other things a long stone palette with a hollow in the center in which to mix her green eye paint. This palette also held a small, delicate sea-shell, wherein she mixed the paint with the necessary grease for stiffen-ing her eyelashes; ivory hairpins which rivaled in length the hairpins
 of the present day and quaint ivory combs. All these articles were shown at an exhibition in London of the trophies recently dug up by the officers of the Egypt Exploration Fund.
 There was also a small red clay cast of a face, with the green paint bringing the eyes into extraordinary prominence.

The housewife of 7,000 years ago had household goods similar to those of the housewife of to-day. She had copper pans and strainers, stone blades, wooden bowls and copper mirrors and to decorate her home she acquired alabaster vases and painted pottery vases.

Too Tough a morsel.

"Tenderfoots" are not necessarily fools, as the guide of whom a writer in the New York Herald tells discovered. He was recounting some of his early experiences with the brethren of the wild for the benefit of his oft-mouthed audience of easterners.
 "Yes, sir," he said, "it was my first grizzly, and I don't deny I was proud of having killed him in a hand-to-hand struggle. We began fighting about sunrise, and when he finally rolled over, done for, the sun was going down."
 He paused. No one said anything, and so he added slowly, "for the second time."
 "Do you mean that it took you two days to kill a grizzly?" asked the English tourist.

"Two whole days and one night," replied the guide. "He died mighty hard."
 "Choked to death?" asked the tourist.

"Yes, sir," the guide said, calmly.
 "Well, well! What did you try to get him to swallow?"

WHEN HER BACK ACHES

A Woman Finds All Her Aches
 and Energy Slipping Away

Wayne women know how the aches and pains that come when the kidneys fail make life a burden.
 Backache, hip pains, headaches, dizz-zy spells, distressing urinary troubles, all tell of sick kidneys and warn you of the stealthy approach of diabetes, dropsy and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills permanently cure all these disorders.
 Here's proof of it in a Wayne woman's words:

Mrs. Henry Hansen, of Wayne, Nebraska, says: "I was subject to attacks of backache for years, always being worse during cold weather or when I over-exerted myself.
 At night I could not sleep on account of the pain in my back and I felt run-down. Last spring I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills and in a short time they made me feel like a new woman. I take great pleasure in endorsing this remedy."

A Religious Author's Statement

Rev. Joseph H. Pesperman, Salisbury, N. C., who is the author of several books, writes: "For several years I was afflicted with kidney trouble and last winter I was suddenly stricken with a severe pain in my kidneys and was confined to bed eight days unable to get up without assistance. My urine contained a thick white sediment and I passed same frequently day and night. I commenced taking Foley's Kidney Remedy, and the pain gradually abated and finally ceased and my urine became normal. I cheerfully recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy."
