There was not a very large attendance last Thursday afternoon to listen to the lectures by R. A. Miller and Miss Wolford, on corn growing and domestic science. The few farmers present, however, were deeply interested in all the speaker had to say about corn, what constituted an ideal ear, and his explanation of why some varieties of corn were so much better for feeding than others. The difference lies in the amount of protein or starchy ingredients. Corn that has much of the latter will not produce fat on stock nearly as fast as that which contains protein. The speaker said, however, that if a well balanced ration was used in the fattening of stock, as it should be, that the kind of corn did not make so much difference as it used to be when corn alone was fed. He explained the different types of corn and urged that more care should be taken in the production, selection and care of seed corn in order to breed up a type of corn that would not only be an early ripener but also that should be large enough to make a good yield and at the same time contain the best elements for the fattening of stock. He said that with care year after year corn having these essential elements could be bred up and in a few years would become so well established that it could be depended upon to produce corn like unto itself. The same could be said of all other grains, but this being a great stock producing region and corn being an essential article in the best of beef and pork, it was best that more attention be placed upon the production of this grain.

Miss Wolford's talk on Domestic Science was also very interesting and she brought out many ideas that might well be inculcated in the hearts and minds of the young ladies of this and every other locality. Man's prosperity and happiness depend largely upon the care, forethought and attention given to the household duties by the women of his household, and anything that will bring woman to a proper realization of her importance as a home maker should be encouraged, whether you call it domestic science or what not. Many of these homely virtues used to be taught in the home by the wives and mothers of a past generation but in these latter times far too little attention has been given to them in the home life and now it is necessary to hire instructors to teach our children what it should be a pleasure and a duty to do around one's own hearthstone.

UNITED STATES' CURRENCY

THERE ARE TEN KINDS

All Are Not Legal Tender. What do you know about them?

Officially there are just ten kinds of money in circulation in the United States. Could you name them all off-hand? Do you know which of those besides gold coin are legal tender and in what amount? It may be that "all money looks alike to you," but there's a difference, and here is the list:

Gold coins, standard silver dollars, subsidiary silver, gold certificates, treasury notes (1890), United States notes (greenbacks), national bank notes, nickel coins and bronze coins.

Looking upon this formidable classification of United States money as made by the treasury department it becomes more formidable when it is considered from the highly technical point of view as a legal tender. Some of the most imposing of the paper currency is not a legal tender at all, while, as to the minor coins, they are legal tender in such small amounts as to startle the average layman. It may be well to recall to this layman that the term "legal tender" owes its significance to the fact that in payment of debt or obligation of any kind it can be forced upon the creditor "in full of all demands."

Gold certificates, silver certificates and national bank notes, of which such enormous numbers circulate everywhere, are not legal tender. If you have plenty of money and if you have forced Jones to sue you in order to get judgment, Jones can turn down every one of these bills tendered in payment and force you to dig up something better.

Should Jones do such a thing you might conceive the idea of fixing him by unloading a whole lot of silver coins upon him. But you want to know what you're doing there, too, for he'll take only $10 worth of halves, quarters and dimes, while of nickels and copper cents only 25 cents value is legal tender.

But as to the standard silver dollar, there's no limit to your shoveling them out to Jones. This old "dollar of our dads" still is the real thing in all business transactions unless some clause in a contract has provided otherwise. Jones may refuse the silver certificate, but when you dig up the metal dollar they go unquestioned at their face value. And 1,000 of them weigh 58.92 pounds.

Treasury notes of the act of 1890 are legal tender to their face value in payment of all debts, public and private, unless expressly stipulated in the contract.

Strictly speaking, the United States notes or greenbacks are legal tender, with the exception of duties on imports and interest on the public debt. Practically, however, since the resumption of specie payment in 1879, greenbacks have been received freely and without question by the government, though the law respecting them hasn't been changed.

While the gold and silver certificates are not legal tender as between individuals, both issues are receivable for all government dues of whatever kind, in this respect legally more acceptable than is the greenback.

National bank notes, while not legal tender and not receivable for duties on imports, still may be paid by the government for salaries and all debts of the government except interest dues and in redemption of national currency.

By especial enactment no foreign coin of any kind or denomination shall be a legal tender in the United States, so that if some time, the street car conductor does balk at the chance Canadian lime fished from your pocket keep cool and dig for something that is United States.

SOME R. F. D. RESULTS

VITALIZING TO RURAL LIFE

A Few of Many Advantages Resulting to Farmers From Rural Free Delivery

To most of us, says the Omaha Bee, the rural letter carrier is a personal unit, a modern convenience who pauses at the gate once or twice a day with the outside world, and passes out of view and out of thought until the morrow. But at large the rural letter carrier numbers an army of 42,000, traveling more than 1,000,000 miles of road each day, and serving 4,000,000 families. Only when we consider that the first experimental route was served only thirteen years since the full county service was attempted, can we realize with what suddenness this prodigious growth has been acquired. Notwithstanding its suddenness, it has been accompanied by the development of the auxiliary business, the field being full of houses that have sprung up to fill the requirements of the carriers for special clothing, vehicles, wagon heaters, stamp and coin cabinets, mail boxes and all sorts of devices and appliances peculiarly for the convenience and comfort and dispatch of the rural carrier's business. That the rural carrier does keep abreast of affairs is testified to by his flourishing national association, at whose recent convention P. V. DeGraw, fourth assistant postmaster general, reviewed some of the public benefits resulting from the establishment of the service.

Looking at the gain from only the financial point of view, DeGraw calculates that the farmer annually saves $488,000,000 by having his mail brought to his door, instead of going once a week to the postoffice. Since the beginning of the service the government has saved $20,000,000 through the abolition of fourth-class offices and star routes. On the other hand, the service costs the government $37,000,000 a year, which is $25,000,000 more than it directly yields in revenue. It is to be noted, however, that the system is steadily developing increased patronage.

Good roads constitute another direct benefit attributed to rural delivery, it being estimated that $75,000,000 in road improvements may be credited to the advent of the rural carrier. Furthermore, expert opinion traces an increase in country realty value of $750,000,000 as due to advantages accruing to farmers through the agency of the rural delivery.

Material gains have not been the only attainment of the service, however; it has been also a vitalizing agent in social life. Conditions among farmers, miners and other dwellers in the remoter districts have come under civilizing influence which has in part checked the drift to the cities, thereby aiding in the solution of a serious sociological problem; the service has been a decided stimulus to agriculture.

J. H. Weaver, the weather observer at Wakefield, says that the rainfall this year to December 1st, has been 28.40 inches, and that there were fourteen clear days in the month of November, nine partly cloudy days and seven cloudy ones.

It is said that "A new broom sweeps clean." They ought to if, as the Winside Tribune says they are to sell for $1 each before many months, according to all reports.

A Business Fable
Salesmanship stood in his stall in the marketplace and built up a trade with those who passed by that way; he learned their tempers, inclinations, desires and how to win their custom by the art of personal contact.

The business grew and prospered with the increase of his skill in dealing with people, but being progressive, he desired to expand and employed Advertising to assist. Advertising used methods to attract more people to the market place, to whom he sold more than Salesmanship had ever been able to do.

Salesmanship coached Advertising in the art of closing the sale and each found in the other elements of helpfulness of much benefit to both.

So long as these two worked in harmony business expanded and prospered. Advertising had the job of creating desire in the minds of the people to possess what was sold in the market place; the duty of Salesmanship was to take care of them after they came.

Salesmanship understood the art of selling but he needs must have the people brought to the market place. Advertising alone could do that; both were necessary to make a bigger and more profitable business. Salesmanship dealt with one customer at a time. Advertising brought his logic to bear on men, on classes. His efforts required the refining of all the elements used by Salesmanship, reducing them by scientific principles into convincing arguments and publishing them where every word costs money, hence the necessity for brevity yet without loss of strength.

The services of Advertising were soon recognized, and when the amounts expended by him in the United States are summed up they are found to be in excess of $1,500,000,000; quite a tidy sum. It is indicative of the importance of the employment of such a helper in your business. Advertising is the link that connects the goods with the consumer and no business can succeed without the link.

The X-Ray incubator factory is a very busy place these winter days. Three car loads of redwood lumber is being sawed up into the required lengths to make 5,000 incubators.

Notice is hereby given that on Wednesday, January 12, 1910, the regular annual meeting of the stockholders of the Farmers State Bank of Altona, Nebraska, shall be held at its banking house, between the hours of one p. m. and three p. m. of said day, for the purpose of electing a Board of Directors and transacting such other business as may come before the meeting. dec-9-w-4

A young man whose name we could not learn, who has been working for Surber, northwest of town, was very seriously frozen Tuesday night, while in an intoxicated condition. He left town, missed his way, and drove all night, both hands and feet being frozen. His brother-in-law came up from Blair this morning and took him home.

The jury in the first one of the cases of Mrs. Nieland against a number of the saloon men in town, were given the case Wednesday morning. Up to today noon they were still out. They came in with a verdict about 11 o'clock, but the judge sent them back with instructions to make a somewhat different disposal of the judgment, and they are still at it. At noon they brought in a verdict of $900 for plaintiff.

Owing to the very severe weather the attendance at the school benefit given at the assembly room of the high school building on last Friday evening was not as large as it otherwise would have been. However, about $25 was realized. Owing to the illness of one or two on the program, a small portion of it had to be dispensed with, the Commercial Club hard substituting. The entertainment consisted of musical numbers with the exception of readings by Miss Graves and the debate upon the question "Should Women be Allowed to Vote" the affirmative of which was upheld by Profs. Hunter and Gantry, of the College, and the negative by Rev. Osborne and Attorney Rooney. The debate was perhaps the most interesting portion of the program, each of the speakers presenting much good argument favoring their particular side of the question. The decision was given to the affirmative. The entire entertainment, however, was a good one and thoroughly enjoyed by those fortunate enough to be in attendance.

Were Much Surprized

It is said that "speech is silver and silence is golden," and we have also read somewhere that "Discretion is the better part of valor." There has been a number of things happened during the past week in connection with the normal school deal and the State, that makes a man feel like opening the vials of his wrath and saying any number of harsh things, but we forbear for the present. We will simply recite the fact that when the delegation from Wayne, that went to Lincoln last week, and met with the State Normal Board at its meeting Thursday, they were almost thunder struck with surprise at the offer the board made for the Wayne school. The legislature having passed a bill appropriating $90,000 for the purchase of the Wayne school, by the State, and the board having been here and looked the property over and expressed themselves as being well pleased with the property and location, it was supposed that they would take over the school at the price named in the bill. However, the board saw fit to make the Wayne representatives an offer of $60,000 for the school. This was promptly rejected. At another meeting held on Friday the board rescinded its action of Thursday and made an offer of $70,000 and said that was as high as they would go, and the Wayne delegation was given one week to consider what they would do in the matter.

They returned home and steps were at once taken to make arrangements to raise an additional amount over and above the offer made by the State in order to free the property from any obligations resting upon it and get it in shape to close the matter up. The committee appointed met with gratifying success in their efforts, and a delegation will go to Lincoln tomorrow fully prepared to accept the offer of the board, and unless some unforeseen incident arises the deal will be closed and the school will pass into the hands of the State before the close of the week. Our people sincerely hope that there may be no further delay.

New 10-Cent Stamp

With a view to enabling anyone to determine the denomination of a postage stamp at a glance, Postmaster General Hitchcock has decided to have printed, as an experiment, the 10-cent stamp in a rich brown ink on yellow paper. If the experiment proves a success, other stamps of a higher denomination will be printed in a like manner. A supply of the new stamps will be placed on sale as soon as possible. Heretofore there has been much confusion over the colors of the various denominations of stamps because of the use of inks of different shades of the same colors.

Charley Moran is now acting as helper at the depot. Young Bell, who has had the job, went to Emerson to act as night transfer man but did not like the looks of the job and came back home.

We saw a catch line in a newspaper advertisement lately which impressed us. "Eventually," it read, "why not now?" If you decide that you must quit smoking, and eat less, why not now? If you decide that sometime you will quit working so hard, why not now? If you intend to be less intemperate, or less ill-natured, in future, why not now?

It was advertised last week that the Brotherhood would have charge of the evening service at the Presbyterian church last Sunday evening and the brethren to whom had been assigned different parts were all prepared, but just as the scripture lesson was being read a fuse burned out and the building was left in total darkness. There was nothing to do but grope their way to the door in the dark and go home.

Be natural. Do not try to impress people with your importance. If you are really important they will find it out. If you are of no account you will not deceive anyone by acting as though great interests rested in your keeping. The day of pompousness is past, we hope never to return. More people than ever before are intelligent and able to judge those with whom they come in contact. This means that they are able to judge you and place a true rather than a false estimate on your abilities.

S. E. Auker feels glad that he will not have to get up these cold winter mornings and feed a lot of cattle and hogs, and it is the first time in thirteen years that he has been in such a situation. He took all of his fat cattle and hogs to market, the first of the week, realizing $6.10 per hundred for his steers, or $77 each, and $8.15 per hundred for his hogs, or $27 each, net. Cattle have not, according to all reports, made a very satisfactory gain thus far this season, and all the feeders have been able to realize the increase price of what they paid for feeders and the selling price.

The case of August Deck vs. Peter Kautz et al., from Hoskins, occupied the attention of the district court and a jury last Friday. Ex-Senator Allen, of Madison, appeared for the plaintiff and Judge Sullivan, of Omaha, for the defense. Both are strong men in the legal profession. The case grew out of some difficulty in a saloon at that town in which Deck got a severe beating, so much so that he thought he ought to have $4,000 damages, his doctor's bills and some other items of expense paid by Kautz, and brought suit for said sums. The jury thought $74.40 was the extent of his damages, etc., and awarded him a verdict in that amount. Surely a great fall from the sum asked for.

State Auditor Barton, rightly or wrongly, seems determined to carry out his declaration of making all the fraternal insurance organizations in the state assume a representative form of government. He has heretofore called the Ben Hur organization to account, with no satisfactory results, and, in concluding a letter under date of December 3rd to the Supreme Scribe he says: "In conclusion, I desire to say to you, as stated in my letter before, that if I do not receive tangible evidence that your organization will be made representative at the next session in May, you will not be permitted if the law will sustain me, to write another certificate in the state of Nebraska."

C. Clasen was fortunate enough to get the concrete foundation for his new factory building all in before Saturday's freeze, so that work on the superstructure has been proceeding.

Many patrons of the mail place their postage stamps on the back of their letters. The department rules that "Postage stamps should be placed on the upper right hand corner of the address side of all mail matter."

Postmasters have been instructed that parcels not properly wrapped must not be accepted for mailing. The limit of weight applicable to parcels admissible to the parcels-post mails between this country and Denmark has been fixed at eleven pounds, and the value $30. Heretofore the weight limit has been four pounds. The rate of postage between Hawaii and Germany is now five cents per ounce or fraction.

The only foreign countries to which letters can be sent at the domestic rate of two cents an ounce are Great Britain and Ireland, Germany, Newfoundland, Canada, Cuba, Mexico and Panama; and that to all other foreign countries the rate of postage for letters is three cents for each additional ounce. The only foreign countries to which domestic rates for articles other than letters extend are to Canada, Cuba, Mexico and Panama, and they must not be sealed.

Fred Burgess slipped on some ice last week and fell, tearing the ligaments loose in one of his ankles. The injury is a severe one and it will be several weeks before Mr. Burgess can walk.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Simmerman met with a painful accident Sunday night. He fell upon a file that he had in his hand. It tore through the upper lip and pierced the roof of the mouth, tearing an ugly wound there.

Sealed bids for the construction of a water works system for the Village of Carroll, Nebraska, will be received at the office of the Village Clerk, until eight o'clock p. m. on the eleventh day of January, A. D. 1910, when they will be publicly opened and considered.

We stated last week that the first prize for a fancy apron at the corn show was given Miss Bessie Marsteller, and so it was when the award was first made, but Miss Bessie, having also been given the first prize on another entry, and there being so little difference between her and the second, it was deemed best by the lady in charge to make a change and give first in that class to Miss Ima Elming, which was done. The sewing on both of the aprons was so well done that Miss Wolford, the Domestic Science lecturer, said that they were better than anything that she had heretofore seen in all her travels through the state examining such work. Both of the young ladies are to be congratulated on their taste and skill. We understand that some of the Domestic Science exhibits will be shown at the state meeting.

When You Call the Doctor

A local physician submits a few common sense suggestions that may well be read and remembered.

Have plenty of hot water.

Get the turpentine bottle.

Have matches, a spoon, empty glass and a glass of cold water at hand.

Don't get hysterical.

Don't wring your hands if you see a little blood, and say "what a butcherery."

Don't tell all your troubles. Nobody really cares to hear about some disagreeable experience you have undergone and that so-and-so had the same operation and died inside of a week.

Be cheerful and optimistic at a bedside.

Tell a sick person that he is looking pretty well, every sick one is happy to hear that.

The Magic Mirror

I went out one night with my high-priced thirst to loaf in the booze bazaar, and as I sampled the old red dope I leaned on the hand-some bar. My purse was full of the good looz green, and my raiment was smooth and new, and I looked as slick as a cabbage rose that's kissed by the nice wet dew. Behind the bottles a mirror stood, as large as your parlor floor, and I looked and looked in the shining glass, and wondered, and looked once more. My own reflection did not appear, but there where it should have been, I saw the form of a cringing bum all crumpled and soaked with gin. His nose was red and his eyes were dim, unshorn was his swollen face, and I thought it queer such a seedy bo would come to so smooth a place. I turned around for a better look at this effigy of despair, and nearly fell in a little heap, for the effigy wasn't there! The barkeep laughed. "It's the Magic Glass," he said with a careless yawn; "it shows a man how he's apt to look years hence when his roll is gone."—Walt Mason.

A Card of Thanks

In behalf of myself and children I wish to express our thanks to the kind friends who have so kindly aided us during the illness and burial of our companion and father and to those who have contributed to the beautiful floral offering.

Presbyterian Church Notes

On Sunday morning the Communion Service will be held.

On Monday morning Rev. Osborne left for Kearney to attend a special meeting of the Nebraska Synod, called to deal with the educational situation in the Presbyterian church.

Just as the service at the Presbyterian church last Sunday night got fairly under way, something went wrong with the lighting plant and the service was dismissed. The program will be carried out next Sunday night, barring accidents. There will be special music and several men of the Brotherhood will speak on the subject "The Worth of a Man."

Dallas Briggs Passes Away

Dallas Briggs was born August 16, 1845, and died at his home in Athens, Ohio, Nov. 6, 1909. A severe cold contracted while attending the funeral of a relative was the cause of his death.

Mr. Briggs served three years in the civil war. He was married to Miss Adeline Caver March 15, 1865. To this union were born three sons, Clarence and Fred, of Emerson, Iowa, and Frank of Bohmer, Montana, who, with his second wife survive him. Mr. Briggs lived at Emerson for about twenty years, removing from there to Wayne, Nebraska. After the death of his wife, December 31, 1895, he returned to Emerson, but in about two years took up his residence at his old childhood's home in Athens, Ohio, where he resided at the time of his death. He was married to Mrs. Elizabeth Lawrence of Athens, Ohio, August 17, 1907.

He had been a member of the M. E. church for years, and a member of the Masonic order since 1893.

Mr. Briggs has a wide circle of friends in this vicinity who will be pained to hear of his death. The kindest of fathers, the gentlest of husbands, has gone to his reward.

Dear father, thy life's work is ended.
With patience thy path was trod.
Thy soul is released from its bondage.
In thy glorious realm of thy God.
Thy soul has been drawn that divides us.
And yet have both left alone.
With thee in a glorious morning.
Be still Jesus from the white throne.
So gentle and kind, dear father.
We wish thy presence all that thou met.
Take the rays of a beautiful sunset.
Thy finger and comfort us yet.

McCool-Wilbur

At the home of the bride, on Tuesday evening at six o'clock, Warren L. McCool was married to Clara A. Wilbur.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Wilbur, was born in this county and has lived her whole life here, and is known as one of Dixon county's most popular young ladies. She was dressed in pale blue messaline, heavily brocaded in back and front and finished with pale chiffon garniture of the same, and made a handsome bride.

Warren L. McCool is a younger son of Rev. Wm. C. McCool, who was formerly the beloved pastor of the Lutheran church for many years. He was dressed in conventional black and made no less handsome groom, as to the strains of Lohegrin's wedding march, rendered by Miss Anna Kahn, the young couple marched to the bridal altar in the spacious Wilbur parlor, where they were united in holy marriage by Rev. George Bray, the vows being audibly given, the ring service being used. They were accompanied as best man and maid, by Mr. Carl Lindvall, of Platte, South Dakota, and Miss Daisy L. Wilbur, the bride's sister.

Immediately following the ceremony the guests were entertained to a wedding dinner of four courses, served in the spacious dining room of the Wilbur home, one hundred and twenty-five guests being present. After dinner the guests were entertained with music and dancing until the morning hours, when Mrs. Wilbur had a house party of twenty-three for one night.

Many beautiful presents were received by the young people, whose beginning of their matrimonial career is so auspicious.

The out of town guests were Mrs. W. E. Grant of Morningside, the Misses Esther and Gertrude Buetow and Mr. William Buetow of Wayne, Dean Hanson of Wayne, Mr. Chas. McCool of Des Moines, Mr. Carl W. Lindvall of Platte, South Dakota. The young couple will occupy the J. A. Wilbur home with the bride's parents. The leader joins their hosts of friends in wishing them a happy voyage through life's journey.—Ponca Leader.

The Presbyterian church at Pender is receiving a thorough overhauling—among other things is the putting on of a new steel ceiling and installing of electric lights.

There was a boys and girls corn and domestic science corn test at Stanton last Saturday. Prof. Hunter, of the Nebraska Normal, was on the program for an address and also to give an exhibit of some of the manual training work from his department.

With less than seventy-five entries all told Randolph declares that its corn show was an unqualified success. That was the 3rd annual exhibit. Wayne ought to feel considerably puffed with 245 exhibits and one hundred entries that could not get in on account of the bad weather and roads. Watch our smoke next year.

It is probable that the roads and streets never froze up in a rougher condition than they were last Friday and Saturday. It was worse than the rocky road to Dublin to try to ride over them, and the jolting a person received in so doing, ought to have made the jiver work very actively. It is an open question which is the worse, mud or the frozen lumps.

There is certainly something doing at the Herald office these days. Besides the usual run of advertising and job work the office force has on their hands a 56 page catalogue and cover, 15,000 of them for the X-Ray Incubator Company. It takes over two ton of paper for the job, the cover being in three colors, and it promises to be by far the finest job of printing ever turned out in this part of the state.

Mrs. A. E. Woodruff got a bad fall from a chair on which she was standing, at her home Tuesday evening. It was at first thought she had sustained serious injuries, but the doctor who was called could find no broken bones, and aside from a number of severe bruises, which will keep her pretty quiet for a few days, she escaped anything serious. A later investigation showed that one rib was broken, and the doctor says it will be three weeks before she can wrestle up buckwheat cakes and such things for the editor.

Christmas is coming, so announces a thousand merchants. The town puts on a holiday attire; the stores hum with activity; the Sunday Schools begin to fill up—the very air is full of holiday suggestion. Evidently our merchants anticipate a big trade this year for they are displaying unusually large and attractive stocks and the Santa Claus stores are already drawing the early shopper.

The high school pupils were frozen out again Monday, the plumbing not being done so that any heat could be got into the upper rooms. The valves that were missing a month ago, that are needed to complete the work, are still missing. It is too bad. It is not probable that the contractor could get a recommendation from the school board on account of his swiftness in completing a job.

Wayne Council No. 23, Mystic Legion of America held its regular meeting on Monday evening this week and elected the following officers:

Worthy Councilor John L. Soules
Worthy Vice Councilor E. C. Tweed
Worthy Secretary Addie E. Bell

madam. Don't be misled. Cheap and Big Can Baking Powder is Only Big in Size - Not in Satisfaction - Not in Economy

A large can and a small cost does not make baking powder cheap - or even less expensive than Calumet - the high-quality, moderate-price kind. It certainly cannot make it as good. Don't judge baking powder in this way. The real test - the proof of raising power, of evenness, uniformity, wholesomeness and deliciousness will be found only in the baking.

CALUMET BAKING POWDER the Happy Medium is a better baking powder than you have ever used before. And we will leave it to your good judgment for proof. Buy a can today. Try it for any baking purpose. If the results are not better - if the baking is not lighter, more delicious, takes it back and get your money. Calumet is medium in price - but great in satisfaction. Free - large handsome recipe book, illustrated in colors. Send a card and slip found in pound can.

SMALL DOG'S CLEVER SCHEME

How Tatters Solved the Problem of Escaping Punishment for Wandering

A proof that animals think was given by a little skye terrier who did everything but talk. There was a fence around the lawn and he was never allowed to go out alone, but in the spring when the ground was soft he would dig a hole under the fence and go on a little outing, says Out Door Animals. One day he was discovered digging. I kniddled on the window and said, "No, Tatters." He looked up at me, then deliberately went around back of the house and began to make another hole. In front of his home was an open field and across that was a house where this same little dog had a fancy for calling and where he knew we objected to his going. He was scolded for disobeying and finally given a gentle chastisement.

We mattered ourselves he was contented at last but his fertile brain was busy to the occasion. Missing him one day we saw him going up the street. There we went around the block till he got to the house where he stayed for half an hour, then came back home the same way, instead of taking a short cut across the field as he had been in the habit of doing, and where he knew we would be sure to see him.

ACCORDING TO THE CONTRACT

Rug Merchant Overreached Himself in Making Terms for Sale of Carpet

"While I was in Damascus," said a globe trotter the other day, "some royal highness or other potentate passed through that ancient city and the governor of the town delivered an address of welcome. It was in verse and everybody who knew of the occurrence felt sure that the governor had been richly rewarded by the prince for his effort. That afternoon, so the story goes, the governor called on a dealer in rugs with whom he had been negotiating for a long time over a magnificent carpet which he coveted for his palace. After several cups of coffee the rug merchant offered the governor the carpet in exchange for the present the prince had given him for his poetic welcome to Damascus. The governor, after a little hesitation, agreed and the carpet was rolled up and delivered to an attendant who started for the governor's palace.

"Thank you," said the governor, as he arose gracefully to his feet.

"But the prince's present," demanded the rug merchant.

"You have it," said the governor. "All he gave me was 'thank you,' and this I have given you for your carpet."

THE RULING PASSION STRONG

Physical Discomfort Counted Little as Opposed to Miser's Love of Wealth

Dr. Charles McCormick, the physician who says that "the man with the grouch" can not resist disease like his more contented brother, referred again to this assertion at a recent dinner.

"The man with a grouch," said he, "is gloomy, and gloominess brings on ill health, weakness, dyspepsia.

"A confirmed grouch can't be got rid of. A grouch person is governed by his grouch as a miser is governed by his meanness. And when it comes to misers!"

Dr. McCormick laughed.

"A little, lean, pale miser of Pecos," he said, "was one evening observed fighting with the town blacksmith. Though his nose was bleeding and one eye was closed, the miser fought determinedly. The blacksmith blacksmith panted blow on blow, but the little miser never bulged an inch.

"Run, ye fods!" issued a friend. "Ye stand up chance here. Run!"

"But the little miser, as he received heartily a smashing left hook, answered in a low voice:

"Run? Nix! I've got my foot on a 10-cent piece!"

A Matter of Time.
A Toledo lawyer was recently retained to defend an individual charged with housebreaking and larceny. The accused requested that his lawyer outline his plan of defense. This being done, the prisoner evinced much disgust.

"How long is it going to take to get through with this case?" he growled.

The lawyer smiled politely. "I think," said he, "that it will take me about two weeks, but I'm afraid it's going to take you about four years."

Dispersion Sale Of Hereford Cattle!

2 Miles South of Wakefield
Friday, December 17th
Commencing at 12 o'clock sharp. Free Lunch at 11.

Having decided to quit active farming, it becomes necessary to dispose of my herd of registered Hereford cattle. This herd it has taken me many years to build up and I consider that I have some as rich blood as there is in the breed, and the individuality is as good as the breeding.

This herd consists of good useful stock. It has never been pampered or overfed, but has been cared for as farmers usually care for their stock and for this reason are in shape to do the purchaser good. There are thirty-seven head of registered cattle; there are three bulls ready for service and eight bull calves; the rest are cows and heifers.

There are also twenty head of cattle not registered that will be sold at this sale. Three are steers coming two years old, the balance cows and heifers and bull calves. There will be one last spring colt and one yearling colt sold; two mares will also be offered.

Free entertainment to and from trains to those from a distance.

TERMS: Cash or year's time on approved notes bearing 10 per cent.

HAS GOLD MINE IN IRELAND.

Lies in County Donegal and Rock Rich in Various Minerals.

Not long ago the known globe, but especially that part of it known as Ireland, was thought that on Irish soil a gold mine had been discovered. Nothing afterward was heard of it for a long time and many may have classed the news about with those discoveries of perpetual motion and instantaneous transportation that are constantly being made.

But now come detailed descriptions of the mine, with the assurance that it is an actuality. It lies in County Donegal and is owned by a company under the control of one Robert Johnston, Belfast timber merchant. The rock is said to be rich in all sorts of minerals, but richest of all in gold, holding as much of this metal as two ounces to the ton. This would make it one of the richest mines in the world.

Machinery for working the ore has been purchased and may by now have even been installed. Work is expected to be in full swing in a few weeks' time. And so Ireland has struck it rich.

Mrs. S. Joyce, Claremont, N. H., writes: "About a year ago I bought two bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy. It cured me of a severe case of kidney trouble of several years standing. It certainly is a grand, good medicine, and I heartily recommend it." Felber Pharmacy.

A Noble Tree.

I wish those persons who view Chantilly, and are fond of fine trees, would not forget to ask for the fruit tree; this is the finest I ever saw; straight as an arrow, and as it grows, not less than 80 or 90 feet high; 40 feet to the first branch, and 12 feet diameter at five from the ground. It is in all respects one of the finest trees that can anywhere be met with. Two others are near it but not equal to this superb one. The forest around Chantilly is immense, spreading far and wide; the Paris road crosses it for ten miles, which is its least extent. — Arthur Young, "Travels in France," 1787.

Hexamethylenetetramine

The above is the name of a German chemical, which is one of the many valuable ingredients of Foley's Kidney Remedy. Hexamethylenetetramine is recognized by medical text books and authorities as a uric acid solvent and antiseptic for the urine. Take Foley's Kidney Remedy as soon as you notice any irregularities and avoid a serious malady. Felber Pharmacy.

Methods of the Hookworm

Parasite a Most Obnoxious Guest in the Interior of Human Body.

The hookworm's nature is that it will be, in turn, in the human body, contracted with its tiny body, less than an inch long and looking like a bit of solid coarse thread, the well-developed organs—namely, stomach, intestinal canal, various glands, etc., to which the female adds capacity for several thousand eggs.

The mouth is cup shaped and bordered by a thin, red ring that can be succeeded in passing between the interstices of the host, during the dark, and the strong, muscular esophagus thus becomes a powerful and effective suction pump. As the mouth is two pairs of sharp, chitinous jaws, and prominent at the rim is a single sucker-like ring (the conical dorsal tooth), with a long gland in its base. When the hookworm is ready to eat, it presses its mouth disk against the intestine, draws a tiny piece of the mucous membrane into its mouth, and punctures it with its jaws and fangs. Through the minute holes thus made the blood is sucked out. The punctures are repeated many times; the pouring of a meal, finally filling the bit of mucous membrane with holes. If not actually gouging it out, after the worm has dropped off, pyogenic bacteria frequently find lodgment in these holes, producing small ulcers, which often run together to form irregular ulcerations. — McClure's.

Stanton county has decided to dispose of its county farm—640 acres—at forced sale on December 18.

Rastus and His Money.

Bank President (to Rastus, employed about the house)—Why don't you put your money in our bank, Rastus, where it will draw interest?

Rastus—Not much, sah: Dat bank's only workin' six hours a day and without havin' a habit at dat. When Ah puts mah money any place, it'll be somewhere dat it'll be workin' all de time, sah.—Judge.

Itching, bleeding, protruding of blind piles yield to Doan's Ointment. Chronic cases soon relieved, finally cured. Druggists all sell it.

Meanness to a Blind Man.

A man with dark glasses over his eyes touched the conductor on the shoulder as the car neared Euclid avenue and East Fifty-fifth street.

"Pardon me," the man said, "but if you're the conductor, I want to take a favor. I'm blind, and I want you to lead me over to the curb when the car stops, if you'll be so good."

"Not that I minded the little bother of doing that for him," remarked the conductor when he got back on his car, "but 'tain't right to let a blind man go around all alone like that at night trying to find his way around in the dark." — Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Foley's Orino Laxative is best for women and children. Its mild action and pleasant taste make it preferable to violent purgatives, such as pills, tablets, etc. Cures constipation. Felber Pharmacy.

Measure for Measure.

The milkman presented a bill for one dollar.

"All right," said the customer, tendering some change.

"This is only 75 cents," the milkman demurred.

"That's one view of the matter, yes," rejoined the customer, "but while three of your quarts make a gallon, three of my quarts are going to make a dollar, and don't you forget it."

Naturally, this led to an argument too long for detailed record.

After exposure, and when you feel a cold coming on, take Foley's Honey and Tar, the great throat and lung remedy. It stops the cough, relieves the congestion, and expels the cold from your system. It is mild laxative. Refuse substitutes. Felber Pharmacy.

Oldest Coin Semic.

What is regarded as the most ancient coin in the world is one discovered by a German archaeologist during his explorations in north Syria. It is a coin of pure silver, bearing a perfect Aramaean inscription of Panamu Bar Rerub, king of Schamun, who reigned 800 years B. C. It is the same as the coin found by the Lydians, had always been regarded as the inventors of money, but this new find showed that the Semite Aramaeans, who lived two centuries before the Lydians, are the oldest known coiners of money.—Indianapolis News.

Foley's Honey and Tar is the best and safest cough remedy for children. At the first symptoms of a cold, give as directed, and ward off danger of croup, bronchitis, sore throat, cold in the head, and stuffy breathing. It brings comfort and ease to the little ones. Contains no opiates or other harmful drugs. Keep always on hand and refuse substitutes. Felber Pharmacy.

NATURE TELLS YOU

As Many a Wayne Reader Knows Too Well

When the kidneys are sick, Nature tells you all about it. The urine is nature's calendar. Infrequent or too frequent action; Any urinary trouble tells of kidney ills.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure all kidney ills. Wayne people testify to this.

D. S. McVicker, of Wayne, Nebr., says: "A member of my family was troubled by backache for a long time. That the complaint was caused by disordered kidneys was plainly shown by the irregular passages of the secretions from these organs. Doan's Kidney Pills were finally used and they brought great relief. It is a pleasure to endorse this excellent remedy."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
