STATE AGREES TO PURCHASE

CONTRACTS TO PAY $70,000 FOR THE WAYNE NORMAL

The State Journal, John J. Brossier, editor, of the trustees of the Wayne Normal, arrived at the state house yesterday to arrange for the transfer of the Wayne Normal in addition to the city of Wayne, in the county of Wayne, Nebraska, also the personal property belonging to the state normal college at Wayne, a schedule of said personal property being hereto attached and made a part of this contract, the same comprising the college building, auditorium, five dormitories, the president's residence, the power and heating plant, and ten acres of land in the college campus or more, for the sum of seventy thousand ($70,000) dollars. Said parties of the first party also agree to furnish an abstract of title to said land, showing the same to be of good and perfect title.

It Costs
It costs a very tidy sum to run this government a year; The estimate just submitted to congress by the secretary of the treasury amounts to $732,223,075. Upon assuming office, President Taft made it known very emphatically, that he would not stand for padded estimates and strongly urged that cuts be made wherever possible. The result is gratifying, for the 1911 estimate is $103,270,303 less than that of 1909 and $123,060,493 less than that of 1910. The President believes that the government should set the individual example in the matter of economy and he will find many people sharing his belief. It may be of interest to mention the items that make up the 1911 estimate.

If you ever happen to hear by letter that you have an imprisoned relative in Spain with a darling daughter whom he wishes to settle upon you and also one-fourth of a $30,000 estate just write the Department of State at Washington, D. C., as they will unfold an international bunco game which has been carried on more or less successfully for twenty years and due to the peculiarity of Spanish laws regarding such frauds none of the scoundrels implicated have ever been brought to justice, although frequent arrests have been made. Above all else don't forward any draft for the darling daughter's passage across the ocean, for she has never come up-to-date and a good many drafts have been forwarded for the express purpose of paying her way.

WONDERFUL DISCOVERY

Norazhozhi Bridge, the largest natural bridge in the world, discovered in southern Utah last summer by Dean Cummings of Utah University, who is soon to flavor Wayne people with one of his scholarly addressees. Utah's greatest stone arch—the largest natural bridge in the world was possibly never seen by civilized man until Dean Byron Cummings led his party through its huge span early in August of this year. The bridge became known through a Navajo tradition, the translation of which was given Professor Cummings by Mrs. Wetherill, wife of John Wetherill, the trader guide of Ojato, Utah. Although the Indian myths have been known for some time, the credit of first sight belongs to Professor Cummings. Much credit is also due Mr. Wetherill, who span of 274 feet. All of the Utah bridges are in the same formation. The impressions of that first sight can not be described. Winding in and out, up one ledge and down another, through cactus beds and yucca plants, around huge blocks of stone, fallen from the cliffs above, and over smooth treacherous rocks, the pack train advanced and unsaddled an hour later in the shadow of the bridge.

Most Utah people have read the stories of the White Canyon bridges, therefore little need be said at this time concerning them, but a brief comparison of the greater of these three, the Augusta, and the new bridge may not be altogether out of place. The dimensions of the former, as taken by the Wall expedition of 1907, were: height, 222 feet; span 268 feet. The new bridge is considerably the larger, being, as above given, 301 feet high, with a span of 274 feet.

Attorney General Thompson drew no claim and received deeds to the property. The warrant for $70,000 earned he ordered issued till the normal board meets January 3 at Altona. The school is to become the property of the state, but as there is no appropriation to conduct in the buildings will remain in possession of the present owners and will be conducted during the biennium or till April 1, 1911. It must be turned over to the state at the end of that period in as good condition as it was in when the purchase was made. A private bond was filed with Governor Shallenberger by the owners to bind this part of the bargain. Until the school is turned over at the end of the biennium the owners will enjoy the use of the property free of charge.

The contract to be signed as agreed upon is as follows:

This contract made and entered into by and between D. C. Main, H. F. Wilson and Henry Ley, trustees, and Henry Ley as administrator of the estate of J. M. File, deceased, parties of the first part, and the state of Nebraska by the board of education, party of the second part, witnesseth:

That the parties of the first part agree to sell and convey to the state of Nebraska, on or before the fifth day of January, A. D., 1910, by good and perfect title, free and clear of promises and agreements of parties of first part, hereby agree to pay to the parties of first part, therefore the sum of seventy thousand ($70,000) dollars.

This contract is made in pursuance of and by virtue of house bill 139 of the legislative session of 1909, which was approved by the governor April 6, 1909, the same being chapter 127 of the session laws of 1909.

It is further agreed by and between the parties hereto, that the policies of insurance on said buildings shall be assigned to party of the second part, and that party of second part is to pay thereon the unearned premium, providing the same are in good solvent companies and said insurance is written at reasonable rates.

Has Clothing Torn Off
Emerson, Neb., Dec. 12. S. A. Zappi met with a peculiar accident here Saturday. He was working in his planing mill alone when, in some unknown manner, he was caught in the belting of the machinery. Every thread of clothing was stripped from him, and he was thrown unconscious to the floor, where he lay for several hours, suffering greatly from the cold. While he is bruised and sore it is thought he is not dangerously hurt.

C. F. WHITNEY.

Lyon's Son: A farmer near Wayne was arrested last week and plead guilty to shooting at the passenger train between Wayne and Wakefield a few days previous. He pled for mercy upon the grounds of being drunk and not knowing what he was doing. He was released upon payment of $20. Its another case of the beauties of liberal use of intoxicants that should be published in the official organ of the Omaha "red nose brigade."

Wayne citizens are finding now that it was no cinch they had on the state to make a state normal of their school. The period of rejoicing they had, immediately after the session of the legislature, was timely. If they hadn't had it then they would scarcely be celebrating now.

According to the findings of the state normal board the Wayne property is not worth within $20,000 of what the owners ask for it and in order to turn it over to the state Wayne citizens must dig up the $20,000 out of their private funds.

There is a computing scale on the market, which its manufacturers claim, will enable its owner to buy 20 pounds of pork loins at 9 cents per pound, retail them to the trade at the same price and yet the dealer will get his money back. How do they do it?

guided the party into the most forbidding country in the United States and brought it out again without a single mishap.

Four days were consumed in the journey from the Ojato post to the bridge. The trail, where there was any, was rough and uncertain. The pack animals were unsaddled repeatedly in order to take them safely around the more treacherous points. Now and then a horse would slip and roll over the cliff, drawing the one chance in a thousand that permitted its advance. Two horses fell a distance of twenty feet, landing in a heap in a creek bed. They miraculously escaped with only a few scratches. The rough cobble stones of the dry streams tore the shoes from the hoofs of the animals; the smooth sandstone ledges wore their bare feet to the quick; at times the trail of the expedition could be traced by the blood on the rocks. The climate was severe and exhausting, but the reward at the year's end so far exceeded all expectations; that the difficult part of the trip was momentarily forgotten.

The great arch was seen shortly before noon. The first view was dazzling. Far down the canyon a half mile away, the red-pink bridge stood out against the deep blue and purple of the massive bluffs, rising

NINE FOUND FROZEN

PART OF SUNKEN BOAT'S CREW
BROUGHT TO PORT.

III Fated Bessemer and Marquette
Steamer No. 2 Left Conneaut, O.,
Tuesday Morning Carrying Thirty-
Two Men and Probably Boundered.

With her flag at half-mast the state fisheries boat Commodore Perry, Capt. Gerry Driscoll, brought to Erie, Pa., Sunday the dead and frozen bodies of nine of the crew of Bessemer and Marquette Ferry No. 2, which left Conneaut, O., Tuesday morning carrying 32 men and which has probably foundered in the middle of Lake Erie. The Perry sighted the tiny half sunken vessel at about noon Sunday.

As the Perry came abreast of the drifting and half water-logged yawl the men gathered at the side of the ship saw that they had arrived too late. The nine occupants of the boat which was marked "Bessemer and Marquette No. 4" were frozen stiff. Taking the yawl in tow, the Perry made all steam for Erie.

In the bow-end of the boat was found complete clothing for one man, and it is believed that the yawl originally contained ten men and that one becoming crazed had discarded his clothing and jumped into the icy waters of Lake Erie.

Albert J. Weis of Erie, treasurer of the Keystone Fish Company and the Bethlehem Iron works, was a passenger on the ill-fated boat, although his body has not been found. The officers of the car ferry company gave up all hope Saturday and since Thursday every available tug between Buffalo, Cleveland and other lake points had been searching the lake for some news of the wrecked craft.

FIRE LOSS OF $50,000.

Racine Manufacturing Plant and Other Buildings Burn.

The big plant of the Racine, Wis., manufacturing company, manufacturers of automobile tops and piano stools, together with the Danish Brotherhood hall, the Mitchell-Wagon works and several residences were destroyed by fire Sunday, entailing a loss estimated at $50,000, of which all but $50,000 is borne by the Racine Manufacturing Company's plant. The latter concern carried $200,000 insurance. The origin of the fire is not known.

About 1,200 men will be thrown out of employment until the plant is rebuilt.

SPILLER MAY REMAIN.

Panama's President is Overruled by the Supreme Court.

The supreme court of Panama decided Sunday that the decree issued by President Obaldia expelling W. Spiller from that country was illegal and he may remain in Panama. Spiller was charged with inducing canal laborers to leave the Isthmus and Lieut. Col. Coethens, chief engineer of the canal, requested the Panamanian government to deport Spiller. In order to meet the case President Obaldia issued an executive decree declaring that the enticing of canal laborers from the country was a misdemeanor punishable by expulsion.

FALLS FROM AEROPLANE.

Bleriot's Machine Strike a House and He is Injured.

M. Bleriot, the French aviator whose flight across the English channel was one of the most remarkable achievements of the year, and who has had more narrow escapes from death than any other aviator, met with another serious accident in Constantinople Sunday. He was flying an exhibition in the presence of an immense crowd, when his airplane collided with a house. The force of the impact turned the machine completely over and Bleriot fell to the ground. He was hurt on the left side, and it is feared is internally injured.

ZELAYA IN DEFENSE.

Complaint of Treatment Accorded by Uncle Sam.

"From my administration," said President Zelaya, in an interview with a staff correspondent of the Associated Press Friday, "I proposed to Secretary of State Knox that he submit the case to an investigation of his own choosing, agreeing to surrender my rights to the presidency if the charges in his letter to Isidoro Hezera, former Nicaraguan minister to the United States, were sustained. Secretary Knox has not replied."

"Defenders against the hostility of a powerful nation, I must submit, although I have been condemned unheard."

"The conduct of the United States will not redound to the credit of that nation, whose motives are questioned in all Latin America. The shooting of Groce and Cannon was a pretext. Both were amenable to the laws of Nicaragua, which distinctly authorize the shooting of individuals commanding rebels. It is different if a person is captured during the course of an international war. The attempt of Secretary Knox to establish the inviolability of Americans participating in foreign revolutions will result in constant revolutions led by immune Americans."

"The initiative in the shooting of Groce and Cannon was not mine. I simply refused to extend clemency to them after a properly constituted military tribunal had passed upon the case."

President Zelaya then cited several instances of alleged hostility against him in the United States through paid articles appearing in American newspapers. In one of these instances, he declares, he had been endeavoring to raise a loan in France when his enemies persuaded the United States to interpose an objection through the French ambassador at Washington upon the pretext that the money sought was intended for the purpose of war materials, when in reality it was to have been used in the construction of a railway.

VICTIM OF FIENDISH PLOT.

Theory That Man Was Killed Through Own Carelessness Exploded.

According to the story of the sailors, all attempted to leave the Clarion as soon as it was ascertained that she could not be saved. Capt. E. J. Bell, of Ogdensburg, N. Y., and twelve other members of the crew took to the lifeboat.

The mate was frozen to death. A sailor was made by the six survivors to enter another lifeboat. One sailor fell overboard and was drowned in his efforts to launch the lifeboat. The men were forced to remain on the Clarion.

The Clarion is a 1,700 ton steel boat. She was bound from Detroit to Erie, Pa., to lay up when fire broke out.

CROWD WHITE HOUSE.

Waterways Men Urge Their Projects on Taft.

Assurances that steps of an important character toward the development of a system of waterways improvement in the heart of the country would be taken by the present congress were given by President Taft to delegations which he received in the east room of the White House Thursday afternoon. To perhaps 300 commissioners, representing the Ohio Valley Improvement association, the president promised to bring what influence he could in favor of the improvement of the Ohio and later to the committee of 500 at the New Orleans Lakes to Gulf Deep Waterway convention he said that "something is doing," and that the interest of those in congress who heretofore have turned a cold shoulder to the entire subject of waterways improvement had been aroused.

"I shot it this morning," he continued, "we'll use it."

"What do you mean?" asked Altamont.

"I mean to blow up the bears en masse with 100 pounds of powder."

"But where is the powder?" exclaimed his friends.

"In the magazine. This passage I dug with lead to it. I made it pur-

"He thought over it a long while, and at last drew the captain aside in the kindest, gentlest way:

"Hatteras, do you believe in your word?"

"Most certainly I do," replied the captain, earnestly, "my best, indeed, my only friend."

"And if I give you a piece of advice without your asking, will you consider my motive is perfectly disinterested?"

"Yes, for I know you have never been actuated by self-interest. But what are you driving at?"

"Wait, Hatteras; I have one thing more to ask. Do you look on me as a true-hearted Englishman like yourself, anxious for his country's glory?"

Hatteras looked surprised, but simply said:

"Do it."

"You desire to reach the north pole," the doctor went on, "and I understand and share your ambition, but to achieve your object you must employ the right means."

"Well, I will not sacrifice everything for it."

"No, Hatteras, you have not sacrificed your personal antipathies. Even at this very moment I know you are in the mood to refuse the indispensable conditions of reaching the pole."

"Ah! It is the boat you want to talk about, and that man—"

"Hatteras, let us discuss the question calmly, and examine the case on all sides. The coast on which we find ourselves at present may terminate abruptly; we have no proof that it stretches away to the pole; indeed, if our present information prove correct, we ought to come to an open sea during the summer months. Well, supposing we reach this arctic ocean and find it free from ice and easy to navigate, what shall we do if we have no ship?"

Hatteras made no reply.

"With go on," said Altamont, finding himself in the minority.

With charts the doctor told the history of McClure's voyage. Still Hatteras and Altamont were dissatisfied.

"Well, if arriving on one side and leaving at the other is not going through, I don't know what is!" said Hatteras.

"What of that?"

"Everything; that is the gist of the whole argument. It was not the investigator that went through."

"Altamont," said the doctor, "we all consider that you are wrong."

"You may easily do that," returned the American. "It is four against one, but that will not prevent me from holding my own opinion."

"Keep it and welcome, but keep it to yourself, if you please, for the future," exclaimed Hatteras.

"And pray what right have you to speak to me like this, sir?" shouted Altamont, in a fury.

"My right as captain," returned Hatteras equally angry.

"Am I to submit to your orders, then?"

"Most assuredly, and woe to you if you do not," said Altamont.

The doctor did not allow him to proceed, for he really feared the two antagonists might come to blows. Bell and Johnson seconded his endeavors to make peace, and after a few conciliatory words, Altamont turned on his heel, and walked halelessly away, while "Yankee Doodle" Hatteras went outside, and paced up and down with rapid strides. In about an hour he came back, and retired to bed without saying another word.

"My right as captain," returned Hatteras equally angry.

QUEER THINGS IN NICARAGUA.

Ministers Unnecessary, in Zelaya's Manager Republic by Phone.

According to the statement of an American resident of Nicaragua, who has the confidence of President Zelaya of that republic, the Mexican Herald says, the reports of the difficulties suffered in paying the Emery claim have been exaggerated or based upon misapprehension.

The above gentleman was in Nicaragua quite gently and white there.

He looked at the question in its moral aspect. Here is an Englishman who sacrifices his fortune, and even his wife, to win fresh glory for his country, but because the boat which bears him across an unknown ocean, or touches the new shore, happens to be made of the planks of an American vessel—a castaway wreck of no use to anyone—who will lessen the honor of the discoverer? If you yourself had found the hull of some wrecked vessel lying deserted on the shore, would you have hesitated to make use of it; and must not a sloop built by four Englishmen be English from keel to gunwale?

Hatteras was still silent.

"No," continued Clawbonny, "the real truth is, it is not the sloop you care about; it is the man."

"Yes, doctor, yes," replied the captain.

"It is this American, I detect; I hate him with a thorough English hatred. Fate has thrown him in my path."

Hatteras was still silent.

"To run me. He seems to defy me, and speaks as if he were lord and master. He thinks he has my destiny in his hands, and knows all my projects. Didn't we see the man, in his true colors, when we were giving names to the different coasts? Has he ever avoided his object in coming so far north? You will never get out of my head that this man is not the leader of some expedition sent out by the American government."

"All right," was the reply.

Johnson pulled the rope that brought the body of the fox on top the lee.

The next instant the bear had eagerly rushed to seize the booty.

"Fire!" called out Johnson, and at once the electric spark was sent along the lines right into the lee of powder.

District court adjourned last Saturday. There were several other cases that interested parties wished to try at this term, but as Judge Welch had to go elsewhere, and the farmer members of the jury were anxious to get home to look after their stock on the farms, it was decided to adjourn and the next session will be in March, 1910.

He is one of the very few who was fortunate enough to get his corn crop all gathered before these weeks of unseasonable weather came upon us. It used to be figured that the farmer who expected to break even on feeding 50 per cent corn must get 5 cents a pound for his hogs. This 10 to 1 ration has been changing to the very decided advantage of the farmer. Some one with a taste of figures has found that with alfalfa for use as feed during the growing period, pork can be produced at a cost of but 30 cents per pound, even when corn is high in price. With hogs bringing better than $7 per hundred on our home markets it doesn't take much figuring to find that the farmers of Nebraska are not likely to be objects of charity right away.

The warrant for the school will be delivered to the trustees after the normal board holds its meeting at Alliance January 5. The school will be managed as now until the close of the biennium, by which time the legislature will have set and appropriated money for its maintenance.

Will Appear

At the opera house, something new, Dec. 17th, THE NEW HUMPTY or THE YANKEE KING. This promises to be a decided novelty, inasmuch as it combines the wealth of scenery and delightful fairyland mystery usually seen in spectacular trick pantomime together with a strong dramatic story and up-to-date musical comedy. The musical numbers range from tropical to classic. The company is large and is headed by New York's comedian, Mr. L. D. Ellsworth. The well known leading lady, Miss Julia Gray, is also in the cast. The costumes are novel and elegant. Special attention is called to the prices, they are from 25¢ to 75¢. This is not a popular priced attraction, but absolutely first class in every respect. A large house will no doubt greet "The New Humpty-Dumpty."

Farm Bulletins

Below is given an extract of a letter received from Congressman Latta. Where the word "you" is used it means any farmer in the Congressional district, or anyone else interested in matters of agriculture. Anyone can secure the printed list from Mr. Latta and order any that they want. Many of them would be of great value to the farmer and they could also be used in the schools in the teaching of agriculture.

My Dear Sir:

For several years past the Department of Agriculture has been conducting experiments along lines of practical interest to farmers. The reports of this work are being published in pamphlets known as Farmers' Bulletins. I know that the farmers of my district are as much interested in methods that mean better farming as the people of any other district, and I want them to get all the good possible out of this work of the Department of Agriculture. That they may do this, I have secured printed lists of these Bulletins and am inclosing one in this letter. Upon receipt of this letter, if you will write me, designating by the number given in the list some of the Bulletins that you would like to read, I will secure them for you. Save the list and send them to me for others whenever you wish them.

I would like to see our district the leading agriculture district of the country and I propose to give you the benefit of this work of the Department if you want it. It is my chief desire to do the greatest good for the people of my District. Please let me hear from you, and call on me if there is any matter in which I can serve you.

A case that has been hanging fire for several years, has been in the lady school teacher in these strenuous weeks and from there sent to the supreme court and from there sent to the circuit court for trial was disposed of at Wayne last week. It is the case of high school teacher combined. She

Sam L. Watt, vs. T. R. Davidson, must be able to build fires, adjust fallen stove pipes, put in window panes, sweep, dust, split kindling, drive a horse, keep out of neighborhood quarrels, know how and where to whip a bad boy, understand giving their notes in part payment. The machine fell short of the guarantee, and was returned to the company, and the makers of the notes refused payment. A man named Allen held transfer of the notes, and at once made an alleged transfer of the notes to Sam Watt of Sac City, Iowa, and the latter attempted to force collection under the innocent purchaser plea. The bona fide transfer of the notes was so questionable that last week the jury found for the defendants, represented by C. B. Willey. Randolph Times.

A Seed Corn Test

The articles which have been going the rounds of the press the past weeks to the effect that this year corn would not be fit for seed because the October freeze killed the germ, is pronounced by some merely a scare started by seedsmen, with the hope of creating a demand for seed corn at a big price this spring season. R. S. Hart of ... is being interested in the matter. It was not selected for seed but taken from corn husked at intervals during the past few weeks, and for feeding purposes. Fifty of the ordinary run of the ears are all sprouted except three, showing an average of ninety-five percent. Surely no fault can be found with the growing quality of this corn.

Good weather has no effect on interest. It works just as hard at 20 degrees below as 20 degrees above zero. Interest paid on time deposits at The First National Bank of Wayne.

P. A. Gossard and wife have been having a sort of double family reunion the past two weeks. Week before last two or three of her sisters were here and last week their children made a home visit.

W. R. Richards from the state of Washington, who used to be a resident of Wayne and was at one time in the livery business here, came Monday for a short visit. He notes many changes since he went away five years ago.

One of the cases that occupied the attention of the district court and a jury for nearly three days last week was that of Ethelyn Moler vs. the Village of Carroll. A. R. Davis appeared for the plaintiff and Richard Clossen for the village, and its jury found in favor of Carroll. The lawyer editor of the Carroll Index can feel no little pleasure over the fact that he won the only case he had at this term of court.

Ladies don't miss seeing the gown worn by Miss Gray in "The New Humpty-Dumpty" or "The Yankee King." It is a novel creation. An importation from Cairo Egypt, designed from Zetoria, the Hindoo's daughter. The dress was designed for Miss Hoffman to be worn by her in her now famous Salome dance. This is one of the many splendid costumes shown in this production, which comes to the opera house December 17th.

One item we failed to get last week was the death of a sister of Mrs. P. A. Gossard at Randolph. She attended the funeral.

A thank offering was taken at the M. E. church Sunday morning for the local branch of the Woman's Home Missionary Society.

Mrs. Elsie Little, the county superintendent, went to Omaha Tuesday morning to look over some sections of the corn show.

Orr & Morris Company has caught the Christmas spirit early and have their store handsomely decorated with green and red crepe paper and bells.

Mr. and Mrs. Schultz, of Denver, Colorado, were guests of her sister, Mrs. Frank Skeen and family several days since our last issue. They went last Monday morning.

"The worth of a man" was discussed by a number of the members of the Brotherhood at the Presbyterian church Sunday evening. The talks were interesting, but it is doubtful if the true worth of a real man has ever yet been measured.

It will be ten days or more before Mrs. F. M. Skeen is able to return home. She got along nicely from her operation but a severe attack of gall stones gave her a back set and come near proving fatal for two or three days. She is now, however, getting along in good shape.

More machinery has been added to the incubator factory and additional men put to work the past week, and still more machinery is on its way. If you think the factory does not amount to much, drop in and look over the different machines and the number of men employed and you will change your mind. It is a good thing.

Sometimes red tape is positively silly. The Postoffice department urges the public to mail its Christmas gifts early and then prohibits writing on the parcels the legend, "Not to be opened until Christmas." Such an order defeats the department's own attempt to relieve congestion.

The Randolph Times in commenting on a small blaze that Hansen Bros. had in their meat market at that place last week, states that some of the water hydrants were found frozen up. Does anyone know how the hydrants are in our city? That is something that some one should look after carefully during the winter season.

F. G. Philleo and wife are now nicely settled in their fine new home corner of 4th and Douglas streets. Mrs. Philleo has the satisfaction of knowing that she has the nicest home in the city, so far as interior appearance and every detail of convenience is concerned. In this respect the planning is largely of her own choosing and is certainly fine.

There was no school in any of the rooms Monday or Tuesday. The plumbing contractor said that if the board could give him Monday and Tuesday without school he could complete all of his work, and there would be no further delays, hence school was dismissed Friday afternoon until Wednesday morning. There will be school next Saturday to make up one of the days lost the first of the week.

Edgar Howard of Columbus is trying to make the people of this district believe that Congressman Latta made the promise that he would not be a candidate for the second term. The bee in Howard's bonnet is that he wants the office himself. The editor of the Tekamah Journal says he has not got much use for Latta or his politics, but that he is a whole lot better man than the Columbus editor.

We are sure that the many friends of William Crossland will be glad to hear that he has again been successful in the oratorical contest at Lincoln, where he is attending the Wesleyan University. This gives him $25 in cash and a chance to represent his class in the state contest. William has won the class contest in oration every year since he has been at school. This is Junior year and he was given first place by three out of four of the judges at the recent contest, higher markings than he has ever before received.

Miss Ruth Drake, of Spokane, Washington, who had been visiting at the Drake home in Wayne, started for her western home Saturday.

Owing to the extreme bad roads there has been a hay famine in many parts of the state the past week. Farmers have been unable to get the hay to market.

In its list of marriage licenses published in the Sioux City Journal last Thursday, there appeared that of Owen S. Roberts, aged 30, and Dora E. Copley, aged 28, both of Wayne.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Stephens were passengers to Wayne Friday morning being called there by the serious illness of Mrs. Stephens' mother, Mrs. J. E. Harmon, Randolph Enterprise.

Miss Pauline Biegler came home from Randolph just in the nick of time to help us out of a bad place. She is now assisting in the Herald office while Mrs. Seeger looks after her mother's home duties.

Freddie Stone, aged seven years, who was operated on for a severe case of appendicitis, is now improving nicely, but there were several days after the operation was performed that it was feared it would prove fatal.

Mrs. John Soules met with a peculiar accident last Thursday that came near costing her her life. While working around a gasoline stove, she was overcome by the escaping gas and it was some time before she fully recovered from its effects.

W. F. Crossland, one of our Wayne young men, who is attending Wesleyan university at Lincoln, has been chosen one of the debaters from the Freshmen class at the university for the coming debate between the Sophomore and Freshmen of that institution.

At the special meeting of the Nebraska Synod of the Presbyterian church, which Rev. T. C. Osborne attended at Hastings last week, it was unanimously voted to consolidate the school at Bellevue with the one at Hastings, locating it at the latter place and calling it Bellevue College. This will make it a stronger institution than heretofore.

We believe that the city officials could not use a few dollars any better than by hiring a couple of men with a sled to gather out of the streets all the loose lumps of dirt, which in their present condition are as hard as stone. It would not take so very long and would be a blessing, not in disguise either, to every person who has occasion to drive along the streets. Try it.

E. C. Powell, one of the farmer in the south part of the county, has bought the right to manufacture and sell the Dairy City Farm Gate in Wayne county. He and John Long, the general agent, have one of the gates set up just south of the Union Hotel, and would be pleased to have the farmers call and see it. Mr. Long has the best kind of reference as to his integrity, and the gates appear to be just the thing to fill a long felt want on every farm. The gate will raise up and will swing either way, and is certainly a good thing. It is substantial, easily put up, and will prove all that is recommended to be. Call and see it.

When you buy a Red Cross Christmas stamp for a cent and put it on your holiday parcel, you do good in two ways. Your penny goes to the support of the largest and most helpful single movement for the conservation of public health on foot. It helps provide the money needed to carry on a splendid work that will properly supported, wipe out tuberculosis as surely as the sun will rise tomorrow. On the other hand, your stamp reminds others of the work that is being done to rid humanity of this terrible drain, and by assuring them of your interest, it will create and increase their interest. Public interest and support are indispensable; and no easier way of enlisting that interest and support has been devised than the Christmas stamp. In Wayne the sale of these stamps will be in charge of Dr. Leisenring, of whom they may be obtained in any quantity desired. Buy at least a few of them and use them.

RAILWAY RATE FIGHT OPENED BY CUMMINS

Iowa Senator Introduces Bill at Washington for Radical Changes in Law.

POWER TO THE COMMISSION.

Uniform Classification, Interstate Body to Act on Own Motion and No Court Interference.

A controversy over railroad legislation which for interest and importance promises to surpass the legislative conflict over railroad rates four years ago will be precipitated in Congress this winter. The first gun was fired by Senator Cummins of Iowa when he introduced a bill proposing radical changes in the interstate commerce act.

In brief, the Cummins bill requires the Interstate Commerce Commission to promulgate a uniform classification of freight and to prepare a plan for the statement of rates, which thereafter would be made in a uniform way. The carriers are required to adopt this classification. The commission is to be authorized to consider rates on its own motion, with a view to determining their reasonableness, and is empowered to fix minimum and maximum rates. In an action in court to set aside an order of the commission respecting rates, the courts would be prevented from inquiring into the reasonableness or sufficiency of any rate fixed by the commission.

The bill also provides that changes shall not become effective before they are approved by the commission. It prohibits acquisition of control of parallel and competing lines by any common carrier, or acquiring of capital stock or bonds of any other carrier that is a competitor.

A carrier is prohibited from issuing capital stock without payment at par either in money or in property, and, in effect, the commission shall have supervision of issuance of stocks and bonds by any carrier. Specific directions are set forth for the disposition of the proceeds of any sale of bonds. After Jan. 1, 1931, no railway doing interstate business shall be permitted to engage in other business than that of a common carrier.

A resolution authorizing the President to take the necessary steps for the apprehension of President Zelaya of Nicaragua and for his punishment on the charge of murder, if the facts in the possession of the State Department warrant such action, has been introduced in the Senate by Senator Rayner. The resolution recites the circumstances connected with the execution of two Americans, Grace and Cannon; by order of President Zelaya, as generally understood through published reports from Nicaragua.

SAVANNAH IN A FRENZY.

Enraged Citizens Aid Police in Hunt for Murderous Negro.

Savannah was swept by a狂怒 of police officers and enraged citizens who were seeking a negro charged with the murder of one woman and the murder of his victim, and two women companions in a home in the very heart of the city.

Sprawled hideously about the hall and rooms of their home, Mrs. Eliza Gribble, aged 70 years, and her daughter, Mrs. Carrie Ohlander, were found early in the afternoon by a patient who was attracted by the voice of a third woman, Mrs. Maggie Hunter, aged 32, who died later, with her skull beaten in, at the Savannah Hospital.

An ax was used, and physicians say Mrs. Ohlander was attacked. A negro woman who is said to have lived for two days in an outhouse in the rear of the Gribble home is missing. The murders were most brutal. Mrs. Gribble was killed as she sat in her easy chair reading. Her gray hair is blood-clotted where the ax crushed her skull. Beside her body on the floor were her newspaper and her spectacles. One blow, or two at the most sufficed to end her life. Mrs. Hunter was found by a patrolman as he stepped inside the front door. She was probably struck down as she attempted to escape from the house.

In the hope of securing the murderer of the three women the police dragnet in Yamacraw, a negro district, caught 150 negroes. This is only a start, as the police are determined on the arrest of every negro in any way resembling the description given of the murderer.

35 HURT IN CAR ACCIDENT.

Thirty-five passengers on a streetcar were injured, none fatally, and few seriously, when a car was struck by an inbound Indianapolis passenger train at the South street crossing in Indianapolis and hurled thirty feet. Savvy Table Recipe for Colds.

The bottle is to be well shaken each time and used in doses of a teaspoonful to a tablespoonful every four hours." Any druggist has these ingredients or he will get them from his wholesale house. This is wonderfully effective.

The concentrated pine is a special pine product and comes only in half ounce bottles each enclosed in an air-tight case, but be sure it is labeled "Concentrated."

Irish Gooseberries.

An Irishman—or Irishwoman—is rarely at loss to give quite as good as he gets. The American tourist who figures in Sketchy Bits found this out to his cost.

An old Irishwoman, who kept a fruit stall, had some melons exposed for sale. The Yankee, wishing to have some fun with the old lady, took up one of them and said:

"These are small apples you grow over here. In America we have them twice the size."

The woman slowly looked up at him and in a tone of pity exclaimed:

"Sure, soor, ye must be a stranger in Ireland and know very little about the fruits of our country, when ye can't tell apples from gooseberries!"

STEADILY GREW WORSE.

A Typical Tale of Sufferings from Sick Kidneys.

Mrs. L. C. Fidley, 1934 N. Main St., Delphos, Ohio, says: "Five or six years ago I began to suffer with kidney trouble and grew steadily worse until my health was at broken down. For weeks I was in bed and could not turn over without being helped. My back was stiff and painful, I was tired and languid, and when I tried to get around I could not do my work. The first box of Dr. Cook's Kidney Pills helped so much that I kept on using them until rid of every symptom of kidney trouble. During the past three years I have enjoyed excellent health."

SOUNDS LIKE A FAIRY TALE.

The Farmers of Central Canada Hemp—Wheat and Riches.

Up in the Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the provinces that compose Central Canada have such a quantity of land suitable for the growth of small grains, which grow so abundantly and yield so handsomely that no fear need be feared of a wheat famine on this Continent. The story reproduced below is only one of the hundreds of proofs that could be produced to show the results that may be obtained from cultivation of the lands in these provinces. Almost any section of the country will do as well.

With the country recently opened by the Grand Trunk Pacific, the latest of the great transcontinental lines to enter the field of the development of the Canadian West, there is afforded ample opportunity to do as was done in the case cited below:

To buy a section of land, break it up and crop it, make $17,550 out of the yield and $10,880 out of the increase of value all within the short period of two years, was the record established by James Bailey, a well-known farmer within a few miles of Regina.

Mr. Bailey bought the 640 acres of land near Grand Coulee two years ago. He immediately prepared the whole section for crop and this year had 600 acres of wheat and 40 acres of oats. The wheat yielded 19,875 bushels.

The whole of the grain has been marketed and Mr. Bailey is now worth $17,550 from the grain alone. He bought the land at $18 an acre, and the other day refused an offer of $45 an acre, just $17 advance from the time of his purchase. The land cost $11,320 in the first instance. Here are the figures of the case: Land first cost, $40 acres, at $18, $11,320. Wheat yielded 19,875 bushels, at 84 cents a bushel, $16,695. Oats yielded 4,750 bushels, at 28 cents a bushel, $1,320. Offered for land, $40 acres at $35 an acre, $22,000. Increase value of land, $10,880. Total earnings of crop, $17,550, together with increase in value of land, a total of $28,540.

It is interesting to note the figures of the yield per acre. The wheat yielded 3,812 bushels to the acre, and oats 118.7 bushels to the acre. The figures are a fair indication of the average throughout the district.

Agent of the Canadian Government in the different cities will be pleased to give you information as to rates etc.

From 100,000 to 200,000 a Year Said to Die in America of Preventable Causes.

WARNING BY CENSUS CHIEF

Dr. C. L. Wilbur of Vital Statistics Department at Washington Has Recommendations.

Were to Have Received $4,000—Got Only $260 on Account Before Explorer Disappeared.

The New York Times publishes affidavits from Captain August W. Loose, who says he is a pilot and navigator of ocean-going steamships, and George H. Dunkle, an insurance broker, who claims to have been hired by Dr. Frederick A. Cook to supply books and charts whereby his data and observations in the Arctic were to be "doctored" so they would be accepted by the University of Copenhagen. Dr. Cook's affidavits are submitted to the census bureau, who has prepared a bulletin on the basis of present-day knowledge of sanitary measures. Dr. Wilbur believes that prompt registration of births and more careful and precise statement of the causes of death by physicians are needed.

Of the number of deaths returned for 1908—691,574—which covers the registration area, Dr. Wilbur has found that nearly one-half were of infants under 1 year old and more than one-fourth of children under 5 years of age. Reduced to figures, Dr. Wilbur makes the following estimate: More than one-eighth of a million babies under 1 year old and fully 200,000 children under 5 died among the United States in the year mentioned. It is considered probable that fully 200,000 more died in cities and states not included in the census bureau death registration area.

In this connection Dr. Wilbur quotes Prof. Irving Fisher's conclusion that of all the diseases of infancy having the median age 1 year 47 per cent may be prevented, and that of the diseases of childhood having a median age of 2 to 5 years 67 per cent may be prevented.

"It does not seem unreasonable," Dr. Wilbur says, "when we consider the fact that there is apparently no reason why infants, if properly born, and this means simply the prevention of ante-natal disease and the improvement of the health and conditions of life of their parents—should die in early infancy or childhood except from the comparatively few accidents that are unavoidable."

The bulletin continues with a statement that the general death rate of a country is dependent largely upon its infant mortality and says:

"In the light of the figures quoted it would seem that practical sanitization has only made a beginning in the work of preventing the occurrence of infant and child mortality. The ground has only been scratched over deep stirring of the soil and thorough cultivation of all the means available with our present scientific and medical knowledge for the guarding of young lives, would produce startling and from all human experience, almost unbelieveable, results."

A friend recommended Foley's Honey and Tar, the great throat and lung remedy. It stops the cough, relieves the congestion, and expels the cold from your system. Is mildly laxative.
