The Golden Wedding Of C. E. Hunter and Wife

(Courtesy of Wakefield Republican)

It does not fall to the lot of every man and wife to celebrate the 50th wedding anniversary but such has been the good fortune of our esteemed neighbors and friends, Cyrus E. Hunter and Mary Hunter. They were married in 1860 just before the breaking out of the great rebellion. The fifty years of their married life have witnessed wonderful changes in our country. Slavery has been abolished, the great open domain unpeopled except by savages, is now dotted with prosperous cities and towns, telephone, telegraph and railroad lines. Forty years of their married life have been spent in the immediate vicinity of Wakefield.

This fiftieth anniversary was made the occasion of fitting celebrations. The entire family, Mr. Hunter and Mrs. Hunter, ten sons and daughters with wives and husbands and grandchildren, 27 in number, gathered around the family board of the Hunter home. In the afternoon a reception in the Masonic Hall was held to which were invited old friends living in the country and in the neighboring towns and in the evening a large reception was held in the same place to which were invited the friends in town. About 150 were in attendance in the evening. It was a very delightful gathering. The venerable couple with their children made a fine spectacle. There was some music and refreshments were served and at the close a beautifully framed and prepared testimonial from the Masonic Blue Lodge and Chapter, a purse of $50 from the Masonic brethren and another purse of gold from other friends were presented with fitting remarks, responded to in an impressive manner by Judge Hunter. Judge and Mrs. Hunter have led useful lives and we hope they will be spared for many years to come.

Mr. Hunter was born December 21, 1835, at Westfield, Tioga county, Pa. When nine years of age his parents removed to Jefferson county, Pa. In the year 1855 he went to Illinois and settled near Paw Paw Grove. On February 23, 1860, he was married to Miss Mary E. Agler. In October, 1861, he enlisted in Co. 11th Illinois Cavalry, and participated during his term of service in the capture of Forts Henry and Donelson, the battle of Shiloh, siege of Corinth, and many other battles and skirmishes around those places. He was discharged in November, 1862, by reason of surgeon's certificate of disability. In the spring of 1869 he removed with his family to Nebraska, settling on a homestead in Wayne county, then unorganized territory. He took an active part in organizing the county and was elected its first county clerk in which office he served five years. In 1875 he was elected delegate to the State Constitutional Convention from the district composed of the counties Cedar, Stanton, and Wayne and helped to frame the present constitution of the great state of Nebraska. He served three consecutive terms as County Judge of Wayne county. In 1872 he was appointed postmaster at La Porte, the county seat of Wayne county, and served continuously until the county seat was discontinued to Wayne and the office discontinued. In 1885 he moved from his homestead at La Porte, Wayne county, to Wakefield, Dixon county, where he has resided since. In 1889 he was appointed postmaster at Wakefield, which office he has held for over twenty years consecutively. Notwithstanding one democratic administration, Mr. Hunter has always been a staunch republican. Mr. Hunter has also been active in Masonic work during all these years. He assisted in organizing the first lodge in Wayne county at La Porte which was afterward removed to Wakefield and of which he has been W. M. for 21 terms. He also assisted in organizing Wayne lodge of which he was U. D. He also assisted in organizing a Chapter of Royal Arch Masons at Wakefield, of which he has been High Priest for 21 years. He is also a member of Jordan Commandery Number 15 K. T. at Blair, Nebr. Mary E. Agler was born at Chestnut Grove, Lyncoln county, Pa., June 10, 1838, and moved with her parents to Illinois in 1849. There has been born to this couple fourteen children of whom 10 are living and were all present on the occasion of the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage. Those present from out of town were Geo. Hunter and daughter Inez of St. Paul, Minn.; L. E. Hunter and C. C. Hunter and wife of Akeley, Minn.; F. J. Hoyer and wife of Crofton; J. E. Hunter and wife, Council Bluffs, Iowa; C. F. Lehr and wife, Pender, Nebr.; P. A. Fritschoff and wife, Sioux City; B. F. Feather and wife, Lee Hunter, H. Merriman and wife and daughter Elsie, John Agler and wife Judge Britton and wife, John T. Bressler and wife, Wayne, Nebr., Wakefield Republican.

NEWS, NOTATIONS, NOTIONS

WRITTEN, CREDITED, STOLEN

Items Relating to People, Events, and Different Things.

The state of Nebraska had $760,999.15 of cash in its treasury March 1st.

The Catholic church at Hartington will soon install a new pipe organ to cost about $1800.

The editor of the Cedar County News does not believe in foreign missions, nor any other kind of naps.

Nebraska has not had a bank failure in a year. Here's hoping that it may be several years before the state has another one.

A. G. Higgins, near Hartington, received $1,651.50 for a shipment of hogs—sixty-three of them in the Omaha market one day last week.

E. L. Dimmick, of Laurel, has been awarded the contract for the construction of a sewerage system at Hartington, to cost $7,189.50.

E. L. Macrill has brought suit against the town of Hartington for $1500 damages on account of falling on a slippery sidewalk and dislocating his hip.

The Hartington business men have decided not to buy any more calendars but will put the money thus expended heretofore into advertising in the local papers.

The Albion News says that there is not salt enough in all the earth to save the democratic party in Nebraska, if it fails to follow Bryan in his county option program.

Hartington business men have got it into their heads that they will never be happy unless they get Sunday railway trains. It beats all what queer notions people will get sometimes.

Some of the farmers around Wausa have been stung by a gang of traveling grocery salesmen. It is always safe to let such fellows alone. Your home merchant will treat you right at all times.

I. C. Elliott, editor of the West Point Republican, practically admits in his last issue that the congressional race is buzzing in his bonnet, as a candidate on the republican ticket in this district.

There will be no chance for the pot to call the kettle black in the coming state campaign, between the two parties go far as internal dissensions are concerned. Both parties are badly broken up on various questions.

Belden had its second bad fire last week, within a year. The Atlas elevator and lumber yards, coal sheds, 1,000 bushels of corn, and 1,000 bushels of oats were burned. The fire is thought to have been of incendiary origin.

The editor of the Cedar County News is of the opinion that the initiative and referendum law applies to counties as well as to towns and villages therefore no further action is necessary in order to secure county option, as we already have it if the voters wish to use it.

The Pender Times says: "It is up to Omaha—she can either take Shal-berger or some prohibitionist for governor. The quicker she appreciates the situation the better it will be for her. If one must take a tumble it is a good thing to tumble in time—you may land easier."

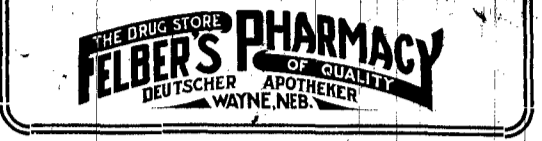

The senior editor of the Osmond Republican has had charge of the paper eighteen years, and he says in his last issue that the years have been very "pleasantly spent among the good people of Osmond, God bless them." It must be that they have all got along well together.

The Wausa Gazette says that Peter David started farming six years ago near that town without a dollar. Now being about to move away from there, he has marketed $9,420 worth of stock, had a public sale that netted him $7,500—making $17,000 in six years. No business man has done that well.

Why President Taft should wish to retain Ballinger in his cabinet even after there was a breath of suspicion regarding his actions in certain land deals, is what puzzles us, and it is a still greater mystery why he hangs on to him after the suspicions have seemingly grown to be absolute facts. There ought to be plenty of men above reproach whom he could choose as his advisers.

A Garretick incident. The picture of Garretick in the witness box, tongue tied and smothered with confusion, is an amusing one, for Garretick, when speaking was concerned with the pride of London. Members of parliament envied him his powers, Burke envied him. There is that instance in parliament when during a heated debate a member moved that the gallery be cleared. This was ordered to be done, and the strangers with drew, all save Garretick. Still the member objected. Then up spoke Burke. Would it be fair to exclude from the debate the master of eloquence, the genius who taught them the art of speaking? he demanded for himself he was proud to acknowledge his indebtedness to Garretick. Fox followed, in the same strain. And Fox's speech. The house then voted that the stranger should remain. And Garretick did not judge. St. James Gazette.

A TEXAS PIANIST.

Helen Lewyn, a Texas girl is one of the latest of the American "Invaders" to make an impress on music-loving Germany. After four years of study in Berlin, supplementing her work since childhood at her home, she made her professional debut and scored a distinct success, which she has accentuated since by her concert.

So favorable were the criticisms that she has been offered a number of professional engagements in Europe, which would occupy three years, but she has declined them to accept an invitation from Prof. Danzsch to play in New York at his spring festival next April. She has been the pupil of Godowsky and has studied composition under Stillman Kelly, an American who has added to his reputation by his work in this country. After her first appearance on the public stage in Berlin she gave, by request, last fall concerts at Hamburg, Baden-Baden and Bad-Naumburg, at each of which she was enthusiastically received. Her concert in Berlin at the end of last month attracted much attention from the masters, and they declared that the brilliant promise of her early years is being well fulfilled. She has a repertoire of extraordinary length and variety, considering her youth—she is 19. Her compositions, and a few women students have had the reputation that has been accorded her. Her technique has been pronounced almost flawless, her execution brilliant and sentimental. The young woman is from Houston, where her family lives. Her concert has been attended by many of the American colonies here, and elsewhere in Germany and they felt a pride in the newest success of their compatriot.

Miss Lewyn is a typical western girl in size and strength, which is of no small aid in the exhibition of some of the heavy more difficult movements of the old composers.

O. N. Potter, south of town, shipped three fine Poland China hogs the kind he breeds, to Crofton, Neb., Wednesday morning.

Just after the crew was through switching Wednesday morning, and while the train was still on the main line, the engine hauling the west bound local freight broke down in the yards here, delaying the west bound passenger train about twenty minutes, and itself until another engine could be secured from Emerson, which was not until one o'clock.

NOTICE OF ELECTION PENDER DRAINAGE DISTRICT.
Notice is hereby given that a petition for a drainage district under the name of "The Pender Drainage District," has and can turn out the work that has the earmarks of the expert's hand. When they get married they'll be able to repair their broken chairs, straighten up warped doors, turn out rolling pins on a lathe with their own hands, and, if need be, help to build the family dwelling house.

Wayne Herald Supplement, March 3, 1910

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Crowder, of Panama, Iowa, visited relatives here this week.

FOR SALE. A good, quiet driving horse, also buggy and harness. CHAS. S. BEER.

The Wayne Butter Co. shipped seventeen tubs of its fine product to St. Joe, Missouri, Wednesday morning by express. They are shipping to Denver, Colorado, the east and there are calls from all directions.

Never buy spectacles of men who come along offering you great bargains. The chances are that you will not get a fit and you will pay more than the glasses are worth. The eyes are too precious to be tampered with in any such way. Go to some reliable man and have your eyes really fitted. That's the way to do it.

One of Wayne's young ladies had quite a scare on Tuesday evening. On going home from the mail the young lady almost stepped on a man who was drunk, lying flat on the James brick sidewalk. It was so dark the young lady was unable to see the man till she almost stumbled over him. When he started to reach out his arm she made a hasty departure.

A Good Thing
It will be seen by the council proceedings in another column that the city council has taken the initial steps toward establishing a public library in Wayne. At the meeting last Monday evening a delegation of ladies appeared before the council and asked the city to purchase a tract of ground suitable for a public library, and on motion Mayor Le appointed Kingsbury, Jones and Stringer as a committee to investigate the purchase of such property. We hope that the project will get further along than this and that ere the close of the year we may see a fine building erected to serve a double purpose—city hall and public library.

Progressive Supper
One of the most thoroughly enjoyable social gatherings of the entire past winter in which about twenty people participated, was that which took place last Friday evening. A number of the young ladies put their heads together and laid their plans, which might be termed a progressive entertainment and supper. The first course was served at the home of Mary Mellor, the second course at the home of S. T. Theobald home; the third course at the Harry Fisher home and the fourth course at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Bressler, where the guests tarried for a time and indulged in a social dance. Those having a hand in the affair had no end of a good time, and the young men paid back this social occasion with a dance at the opera house last evening for the young ladies.

Can Drive Nails
Some of the girls of northern Nebraska can drive nails better than their fathers, can equal the veteran carpenter at sawing a straight line and can turn out the work that has the earmarks of the expert's hand. When they get married they'll be able to repair their broken chairs, straighten up warped doors, turn out rolling pins on a lathe with their own hands, and, if need be, help to build the family dwelling house.

It's something new. This radical departure of girls into the heavy manual labor that has been performed since the time of Father Aylam, when at all, by the masculine end of the human family. But it demonstrates that there's little the north Nebraska girl hasn't the nerve to undertake.

It is in the manual training department of the Wayne Normal school that this "new girl" has come into existence.

Here she goes, with the hard-muscled sons from the farm, and does her share of the class work in hammering things together, driving nails, cutting boards to pieces in straight lines with the saw and turning out real lathe work.

While the boys wear overalls, the girls in the class wear great, big aprons like their mother used to make. And they pitch into the work like professionals.

Besides using the knowledge when they go out to teaching school, they will be equipped for practical remedies in case of many emergencies.

Among those in the manual training class at the present time are: Lyllia Buttkowsky, Margaret Carroll, Rosella Van Connette, Ethel Johnson and Mimi Goodsell.

NORMAL NOTES
The second winter term opened on Tuesday of this week with a good attendance.

Already reservations are being made for the two summer terms, the first of which opens April 25th, and the second June 29th.

On Thursday morning of last week occurred the graduating exercises of the Commercial class. Pres. Fred Pile made the address. The music for the occasion was furnished by the College orchestra.

Prof. Humfeler will return June 1st and will give special instruction in manual training for all grades of public schools. This one feature of the work will be worth much to the teachers of Nebraska.

As usual, a certain amount of farming will be done at the College. One item will be the planting of seven acres of potatoes. The fine weather of the last few days makes us feel that winter will soon be gone.

The Election Department are hard at work on Isen's "Doll's House" which will be presented before the end of the year. This department has done some splendid work this year, and the results are highly satisfactory.

Just one year ago, the founder of the school passed into the vale of the unseen and eternal. This has been a most trying year in many respects and when we look back over the hard road beset with so many obstacles, we wonder at the courage with which they have been met.

High School Notes.

We must beat Randolph. We are having very good attendance.

Frank Martin is a newly enrolled pupil in the second grade.

$10, $7 and $5 respectively are the first, second and third prizes offered by the ladies of the Improvement Club to the grades showing the greatest improvement in writing by the end of the school year. These are certainly prizes meriting the best efforts of both teachers and pupils and we feel assured every grade is trying hard to win first prize.

The Randolph-Wayne debate was to have taken place on the evening of March 4, but owing to the fact that we had some difficulty in getting paired, Randolph is not ready to meet us on the above date and the date has been postponed two weeks. Remember it will take place on Friday evening, March 18, in the assembly room of the high school.

The following table shows the percentage of attendance and punctuality of each grade for the month ending February 26.

Grade	Attendance	Punctuality
Kindergarten	96	99.7
First	90.4	99.7
Second	96.3	99.8
Third	95.7	99
Fourth	95.7	99.9
Fifth	96.5	100
Sixth	97.6	100
Seventh	95.9	100
Eighth	97.7	99.6
Ninth	96.7	99.9
Tenth	96.7	99.7
High School	98.7	99.6
Senior	97.1	100

We must beat Randolph.

The funny part of it however was that they all traded heating stoves one with the other so that there was no moving of the stoves and the fires did not go out. This lecture has been given in twenty-seven different Nebraska towns on various occasions, three times in Fremont within the past year and is asked for again there. He has also visited Ellis Island and other places of interest to every American. Rev. A. W. Ahrendts, of Chambers, Nebraska, says: "You ought to hear the story of the Immigrant," and Rev. J. V. Osborne and wife gathered at the Presbyterian parsonage and church and gave them a surprise visit ere their departure for their new field of labor at Scotts Bluff. Well filled baskets of such good things as Wayne housewives know how to cook were very much in evidence and their store of eatables helped to make the evening a very pleasant one indeed, while social conversation added zest to the gathering and made the hours pass swiftly by. After the repast was over W. H. Gildersleeve, on behalf of the Ladies Aid Society and those present, presented Rev. and Mrs. Osborne with a handsome cut glass water set, pitcher and tumblers which they accepted with thanks for their appreciation of labors well performed and their friendship and well wishes. Such gatherings help very materially in binding more closely together the bonds of good fellowship and fill the storehouse of memory with thoughts and pictures from which may be drawn from time to time those things which help to pass away other hours along the years to come. The association of pastor and people is not one of mere dollars and cents, or sentiment, but affection and friendships are formed that the lapse of years can not dim, or other scenes and faces cannot erase. Mrs. Osborne and children will go next Tuesday to Hastings to remain with her parents until the home at Scotts Bluff is ready for them. Rev. Osborne will occupy the pulpit two more Sabbaths.

Have The Real Stuff O. A. King returned from Frisco, Colo., last week where he had been with a couple of men from Iowa looking over the property of the King Solomon Company. Upon their arrival in Frisco they were met by old miners and citizens, shouting the praises of King Solomon. The mining men of that district pronounced the last vein cut in the King Solomon tunnel the biggest thing ever opened in Summit county, and the fact that this vein was cut at a greater depth than any vein that has ever been opened in that district is very significant. Another fact which goes to show that the King Solomon people have the real stuff is that the character of the ore in this last monster vein is very similar to that which made Leadville famous and we understand that Leadville has produced more mineral than any other camp in the United States. We also understand that the two parties whom Mr. King had with him on this trip were men who are well versed in the mining industry and who are now drawing 60 per cent dividends in another mine and they expect their dividends to increase to 120 per cent before long. These men were very much impressed with the King Solomon proposition. So much so, that they are both figuring on taking a big block of the stock. One of them made the remark that old No. 11 vein was the largest vein he had ever seen and that it alone would make a big mine and a good dividend payer. They now have nearly one hundred feet of drifting on this vein and the high grade shaft has held up right from the first. We are informed that some of this ore was sent to the Stern Rogers Company to be treated by a new process and they sent word back that the ore responded splendidly to the treatment and that if they had much of that character of ore, they had a big thing.

The pastor of the M. E. church will speak to the women of the congregation Sunday morning in the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society work. The evening discourses will be specially for men. A subject of paramount interest to all men will be considered. The men are not excluded from the morning service nor the women from the evening service. But if anyone can attend but one service we would be specially pleased to have the women in the morning and the men at night. We have a flourishing Sunday school which meets at 11:45 and there are classes to suit all. You will find the S. S. lessons specially helpful at this time. All who are not attendants at other churches are most cordially invited to join with us in worship and in the study of God's word. J. W. KIRKPATRICK, Pastor. Rev. Bithel Will Lecture On Friday evening, March 11th, Rev. Bithel, of Fremont, a former pastor of the Wayne M. E. church, will deliver a lecture here on "The Immigrant." He comes under the auspices of J. E. Marsteller's Sunday School class, and the proceeds will be devoted to the church improvements now under way. This lecture has been given in twenty-seven different Nebraska towns on various occasions, three times in Fremont within the past year and is asked for again there. Dr. Bithel came across the Atlantic ocean as a steerage passenger, therefore knows hereof he speaks, being personally acquainted with the hardships of the immigrant. He has also visited Ellis Island and other places of interest to every American. Rev. A. W. Ahrendts, of Chambers, Nebraska, says: "You ought to hear the story of the Immigrant," and Rev. J. V. Hawk, of Neligh, Nebraska, says: "The Story of the Immigrant" secured the attention of, and interested, captivated and inspired the large audience." The boys will solicit you for the sale of tickets the first of next week. A Surprise and a Gift Tuesday evening a goodly number of the friends of Rev. Osborne and wife gathered at the Presbyterian parsonage and church and gave them a surprise visit ere their departure for their new field of labor at Scotts Bluff. Well filled baskets of such good things as Wayne housewives know how to cook were very much in evidence and their store of eatables helped to make the evening a very pleasant one indeed, while social conversation added zest to the gathering and made the hours pass swiftly by. After the repast was over W. H. RIVERS LEAVE BANKS

INCENSENT RAINS DOING DAMAGE IN NORTH OHIO.

Property Loss at Fremont and Akron Will Run Into Thousands—Whole of Crawford County Submerged—Streams Rapidly Rising.

Hundreds of people have been driven from their homes at Fremont and other points throughout northern Ohio by the floods, which after thirty hours steady rain reached their climax Sunday night. The damage to property will run into many thousands of dollars, and if the situation is not relieved by a cold snap or a cessation of the rain it is predicted that extreme suffering and destitution will follow in the next few days.

At Youngstown two of the biggest steel plants are threatened by the rising water of the Mahoning river, along the entire valley of which water has spread over the lowland, driving the farmers from their homes. The Sandusky river is five feet above the danger line at Bucyrus and an immense ice gorge has formed in the heart of the city.

The most serious conditions are reported from Fremont, where half the town is under water, and the merchants at Akron both the Rocky and the Cuyahoga rivers have left their banks. Many houses are flooded and the entire city has been ordered out for emergency.

Especially the whole of Crawford county is submerged and it is feared that in some points in that another county famine may ensue if prompt measures of relief are not taken. Local authorities throughout the whole district are dynamiting the numerous ice gorges which have formed on the rivers.

Up to a late hour Sunday night there was no immediate danger apprehended in Cleveland, although both the Rocky and Cuyahoga rivers had risen considerably.

The only river at Cincinnati rose to a stage of 6 o'clock Sunday morning and 7 o'clock that night.

The beef trust of the United States, embracing six great packing companies, and twenty-one packers, several of them multimillionaires, was indicted by a grand jury in Hudson county, N. J., Friday, charged with conspiracy in limiting the supply of meat and poultry.

The indictment is drawn under the law of New Jersey, which provides a conviction a maximum penalty of three years in the penitentiary or a fine of $1,000, or both.

The offense is extraordinary, which means practically that the meat barons must either successfully resist extradition or come to Jersey City for trial.

Pierre Garven, the public prosecutor of Hudson county, Friday night stated that he would forthwith notify the defendant of their indictment and would be ready to force extradition in each case where the individual concerned is not willing to face trial voluntarily.

STREET RUN AT NIGHT.

Start Under Guard of Keystone State Police.

Surface cars were operated on the principal streets of Philadelphia until midnight Thursday for the first time since the beginning of the present strike against the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company. Street Saturday all cars were withdrawn from service at midnight, but tonight, guarded by members of the state police, the cars continued to run, even through the turbulent mill districts of Kensington and Frankford.

Although the company reported Thursday night that 84 cars had been stoned during the day, no violence was permitted to attain serious consequences. Outbreaks were quickly quelled by the police and not a riot call was sent in.

During the day, according to the company's figures, 744 cars were in operation and 56 of these continued to run until midnight. Increased service is promised by the company, which announces that 400 new men, many of whom were formerly in the employ of the company, were hired Thursday and will take out cars.

Officials of the company refused to comment on the request from the committee of churches that the grievances of the strikers be submitted to a board of arbitration. It will be referred to the directors of the company.

This proposal for arbitration, which was made by representatives of twenty-six distinct religious denominations, including the leading clergymen of the city, has been approved by the strikers, who suggest, however, that one of the seven members on the proposed board of arbitration be a representative of organized labor.

At the hotel where he was arrested Capron was posing as a bankrupt business man, saying he had come to Chicago to rehabilitate his finances. When he was accosted by a detective he denied his identity, but the detective reached over and pulled off his wig. Capron then broke down and begged to be given a chance to reimburse the express company.

SENSATION IN MEAT PROBE.

An attempt has been made to bribe Prosecutor Garven, of Hudson county, N. J., to drop the prosecution of the meat packers, according to a statement made Thursday by an official of Mr. Garven's office in Jersey City. The allegation is that two men from Chicago had approached an acquaintance of Mr. Garven's and indirectly suggested that the prosecutor could retire a rich man if he would drop the prosecution of the packers.

The official declined to give the name of Mr. Garven's friend who was approached.

When the report of the alleged attempted bribery was brought to Mr. Garven's attention, he made no statement regarding its truth or falsity, but remarked:

"No bribes will go and I will push the beef trust to the limit."

The remainder of this gorgeous chain is to be wrought of small reproductions of the seals of the forty-nine States and territories of the United States, linked together with jeweled golden doves to symbolize the peace and unity in which they all dwell together in one republic.

Science AND INVENTION

Continuing his researches, begun with the ordinary ultraviolet rays, Billon-Daguette in France has recently experimented with still shorter rays of the spectrum, measuring down to 1,000 units for the sterilization of all kinds of liquids.

He finds that the very short rays are 25 times as effective as the longer ones in their sterilizing power. He uses quartz vacuum tubes, immersed in the liquid, and illuminated with currents much more feeble than those required for the mercury vapor lamps at first employed.

One of the pressing problems in aerial navigation is that of producing automatic stability. Some investigators think that a way may be found to cause an aeroplane to adjust itself to atmospheric vagaries so that its balance will be maintained without interference. Others are doubtful, believing that stability must always be obtained very much in the manner in which it is acquired by a bicycle rider, that is, by unconscious adjustment.

Birds, the best of fliers, it is remarked, do not possess mechanical stability, but maintain their balance in gusty weather by action which has become so habitual that it is unconscious. Thus the element of intelligence is involved, although by virtue of long practice it is applied without conscious exertion of the will.

From 1900 to 1906 L. S. Berg carried on investigations round the Sea of Aral, and the results have been published in Russian. They lead to the conclusion, contrary to that reached by others, that there is no general drying up of this inland sea, but that periodic changes of its water level occur, and that the level has been rising continually since 1880. Berg finds the salinity 10.75 per 1,000, as against more than 12 per 1,000 about 1870.

Now a superficial area of about 24,000 square miles, but is very narrow depth being about one-tenth of that of the total volume of water is only about one-fifth of that of the Lake of Geneva, which has but little more than half its area. The water is supplied wholly by the rivers Amu and Syr, which together deliver, on the average, 1,500 cubic meters per second. The water is derived from melting mountain snows.

Titanium steel rails for railroads were first made experimentally in 1907. The results that they showed led to their manufacture by several steel companies in 1908, and during 1908, according to the Engineering and Mining Journal, their manufacture entered upon the commercial scale. Experiments on the New York Central have contrasted those made elsewhere in

WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON

There is a national interest in the Jefferson day dinner, to which Gov. Harmon of Ohio, Gov. Marshall of Indiana, Mayor Gaynor of New York and other Democrats whose names have been more or less conscientiously mentioned in connection with the Presidential nomination, will be present. Before the dinner was pronounced the National Democratic Committee was consulted. The speakers will spend a keynote for 1912, it is expected. Gov. Harmon appears to be in most favor as Presidential possibility, southern Democrats in Congress, as a rule, favoring his candidacy. There was much talk at the Governors conference in Washington in December. Much will depend on the State campaign in Ohio. If Gov. Harmon is re-elected this fall, it is claimed here that his chances for the nomination will be advanced almost to a certainty.

Showing farmers how they may increase their income from crops, all the way from two to five times, a bulletin issued by the department of agriculture declares that some farmers realize the 400 per cent increase that may be produced by the systematic introduction and rotation of clover. Other leguminous crops over the entire area of their tillable land. Discussion is collected in the bulletin of a run-down farm in Illinois and plans are given of six different types of farming that may be substituted for the usual one of raising only corn and pigs, now practiced.

In all probability the corporations will avoid all fear of penalties through a loophole in the tax provision whereby no mention is made of an appropriation to carry out the expense of this feature. Though President Taft has cited the need of an appropriation for $200,000 it is not likely that Congress will be in any hurry to grant it. The returns to the commissioner of internal revenue were due March 1. It will be seen, therefore, that unless some provision is made for the public debt feature the corporations may escape the full force of the law.

A delegation of Creek Indians have been to Commissioner of Indian Affairs, Valentine, their objections to a bill for the opening to settlement of the remainder of the unallotted Indian lands on their reservation in Montana. This involves about 1,500,000 acres of land which is valued at $100,000,000 per year as the result of mining. The bill provides for leasing grazing privileges as against $10,000 per year.

The Borah bill, providing for an issue of $200,000,000 worth of readjustment bonds will be recommended to the Senate for adoption by the upper house committee on irrigation. The bonds are to bear interest at the rate of 3 per cent. The money is to be borrowed as needed to prosecute work on the government reclamation projects now under way.

A bill has been passed which opens to settlement the unallotted lands in the Pine Ridge Indian reservation in South Dakota. # PHILADELPHIA FACING PARALYSIS BY STRIKE

Walk-Out Which May Involve 100,000 Men Ordered and Attacks on Cars Go On.

POLICE SHOOT TWO YOUTHS.

Bloodshed as Street-Railway Situation Gets Worse—Organizer Pratt Held in $3,000 Bail.

While a strike which may cost the city at least one million dollars is going on, the Central Labor Union of Philadelphia is facing a sympathetic strike of its members in the city. The union has a membership of 140,000. Its action was the result of the arrest and detention of Clarence O. Pratt, national organizer of the street car men.

Whether the order will be obeyed by all cannot be told now. President Murphy of the Central Labor Union declares that the order will not go into effect until it receives the approval of the presidents of the unions. The Central Labor body is composed of 200 delegates, said to represent 100 unions in various trades. The labor leaders are holding conferences to decide when the strike order shall go into effect.

It is carried out to the extent that it means serious consequences for the city, which probably will be felt in other places than Philadelphia.

Pratt was arrested and held in the city jail, charged with inciting to strike. His arrest was indignantly protested by the city officials for taking him into custody.

Pratt was reported from Kensington in the western part of the city. A crowd of youths gathered around him as he passed. The youths threw stones. Two police officers on the car as protectors opened fire on the boys. Both youths fled. It was found that one had been wounded. Both were taken to a hospital and an examination showed that the other was slightly injured.

KING SAYS "TIGHT LORDS."

"Undivided Authority on Finance Legislation" Commons. King Edward Monday afternoon opened in state the third parliament of his reign. In a momentous speech from the throne his majesty outlined the plan of the ministerial campaign against the House of Lords as follows: "Recent experience has disclosed serious difficulties due to recurring differences of strong opinion between the two branches of the legislature. Proposals will be held before you with all convenient speed to define the relations between the two branches of parliament so as to secure the undivided authority of the House of Commons over finance and its preeminence in legislation. These measures, in the opinion of my advisers, should provide that this house should be constituted and empowered as to exercise legislative authority in respect to proposed legislation and subject to proper safeguards of delay."

$200,000 BONDS ON $720 PLANT.

Illinoian's Suit in Indiana Reveals Gas Company's Holdings. The suit of D. E. Brooks, of Illinois, to prevent the disposal of land which he deeded in connection with the purchase of $75,000 of bonds issued by the Rushville Gas, Heat and Water Company, has developed some sensational facts in respect to that corporation. It has been found that the total holdings of the company are worth not to exceed $720,000 on the plant of the company. The suit is valued at $200,000 of bonds and sold $75,000 of the issue to Brooks, taking in exchange real estate in Chicago and some farm lands in Illinois. The corporation was formed with Owen L. Carr as president and Fred Carroll and John Henry Walters as directors. Bonds were issued and a mortgage covering the $750 gas plant in favor of the Farmers' Bank of Rushville for $100,000 was made. The Farmers' Bank became merely the payer of the interest. Brooks bought $75,000 of these bonds on the supposition that the bank was the trustee. He now wants the court to prevent the sale of the property he traded.

AD WOLGAST CHAMPION.

Defeat of Battling Nelson Brings Him Light-Weight Title.

Battling Nelson is not the durable Dane any more. The conqueror of Joe Gans was forced to relinquish his hold on the lightweight boxing championship in forty rounds to Ad Wolgast of Milwaukee at Point Richmond, Cal. Nelson was not counted out, but probably would have been in that session had not Referee Smith called a halt and awarded the fight and title to Wolgast. When the battle was stopped the Dane was in a pitiable condition. One of his eyes were completely closed and the other parts of his face were swollen to twice their size. Besides he was tottering around the ring for weeks to hold up his hands. This was the first time that Nelson, since being injured in the highlight in 1913 by beating Goo Morsic in Milwaukee, has beaten to a standstill at his own game of slugging. He met his master at the identical style which won him the lightweight championship of the world and also made him famous.

Wolgast's victory was complete and decisive. Had Referee Smith not stopped the contest and it had gone the limit he would have been given the verdict. He had the better of nearly every round and during the course of the forty rounds struck probably five blows to Nelson's three in every session. Wolgast has been fighting exacting four years, having entered the game in 1906 in Cadillac, Mich., where he was born Feb. 8, 1888.

COMMERCIAL FINANCIAL

CHICAGO.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Chicago Trade says:

"A slight comparative decrease in the volume of payments through the banks, additional stocks interlocking with freight movements, rising security markets and still higher levels for breadstuffs and meats furnish the outstanding features of current developments. There is also a slower flow of new demands in prominent branches of manufacturers, which is due to temporary causes and does not weaken confidence in the general business outlook."

"Commercial defaults in both number and facilities mark the best month thus far this year and the position of credits is very encouraging and favorable to a larger use of capital. Other gratifying factors which impart strength are the easier tendencies in money and the steady progress which appears in production of the mills and factories."

"Some accumulation appears in hides, with prices more favorable to tanners, and the buying is steady in leather, footwear and novelties. Building materials again are under widespread request for the coming spring work. Country buyers attend the general merchandise markets in remarkable force and the buying is broad to dry goods millinery, clothing, shoes and house furnishings."

NEW YORK.

Trade reports are rather more cheerful. Visible evidences of expansion in the jobbing trade, in consonance with the advance of the season, are found in the reports from the large markets for buyers in the leading markets, especially in the West, Southwest and parts of the South, have taken hold more freely, although even in the markets of the South, there are evidences of conservatism, based largely on the high prices asked for goods. The least favorable feature in the country's trade at present is the continued sagging in export trade in farm products, an effect easily traceable to the high prices ruling for breadstuffs, meats, animals and cotton."

"Business failures in the United States for the week ending July 17 were 269, as against 299 last week; 232 in the like week of 1909, 228 in 1907 and 189 in 1906.—Brad streets."
