A poultry club has been organized at Pender.

An M. W. A. basket social at Laurel netted $81.60.

At a farm sale near Coleridge one span of horses sold for $590.

A Woodman lodge has been organized at Sholes with 17 members.

R. N. Hurlburt and the Hartington town council are playing a sort of hide and seek game on the electric light question.

Cedar county clerk is having his hands full of business these days.

In one day the legal papers filed made him fees to the amount of $102.60.

Hoile, of Laurel, and Ware, of Wakefield, have formed a partnership under the firm name of Hoile & Ware, and will open a store at Coleridge.

At the Duroc Jersey hog sale of William Moderow, five miles southeast of Wisner, one hog sold for $135, and the average for 38 head was $65.40 per head.

Fifteen car loads of emigrant goods from Harlan, Iowa, arrived at Randolph one day last week.

That is a goodly number to pull out of one community and settle in another side by side.

President Taft has also broken some records. He traveled 20,638 miles by railroad train and 5,000 miles by automobile the first year of his term of office and made 242 speeches.

Herman Schmidt and Gus Mathies, two Cuming county farmers, came as near death's door as they ever wish to when a fast moving train struck their team and wagon on a highway crossing and smashed the wagon into kindling wood and hurt both horses.

The Bloomfield papers have at last broken their long silence regarding the much talked of test well at that place.

The Monitor says it is at a standstill, and has been for some time on account of lack of funds to sink it deeper.

Perhaps if the government were to take the franking privilege away from the congressmen there would not be quite as much of a deficit as there is.

It would work as a saving in two ways. The railroads would not have near as much mail to haul and the congressmen would pay their own postage bills, as they should.

There is no good reason, it seems to us, why men who are receiving as large a salary as those who are in congress, should not pay their own postage.

When our nation became republic, over 90 per cent of the population tilled the soil. In 1861 barely 63 per cent followed the same occupation. In 1900 the percentage had fallen below 45 and at the present time it has less than 40. This means that 40 per cent of the population is trying to do for the nation of today what 90 per cent did 125 years ago.

Tom Allison, of Hartington is of the opinion that the numerous hospitals are simply a graft, and that too often the attending physician shares in the "hold up." If this be true it is as he says: "that a family doctor who will order a patient to a hospital in order to get a 'rake-off' is surely the most despicable thing that ever appeared in the form of a man."

Thomas C. Platt, for many years U. S. Senator for New York, and a man who had been caricatured perhaps more than any other man in public life, died very suddenly Sunday afternoon. He was a national character for many years and even those who were most opposed to him will no doubt say something in his favor now he is dead.

The Pinchot-Ballinger controversy and investigation does not appear to be doing much good. Those who have taken sides one way or the other are of the "same opinion still."

Pinchot's testimony in the matter was not as conclusive as it was hoped it might be. In fact at the close he admitted that he knew nothing about it from his own personal knowledge, but from hearsay and inference only. These things would convict many an innocent man.

Fine state of affairs we are coming to in this country. A number of the congressmen received a communication last week which read as follows: "Dynamite will be your portion if you do not get busy for the people, and if you would save your life and property you had better pay some attention to this gentle reminder of your duty. Your homes will be dynamited if you do not heed this warning."

Of course cowardly curs like that would dynamite a man's property and injure his wife and children rather than be a man and meet his proposed victim face to face. There would be a whole lot of argument in a procedure like that but some men's only argument is a fire brand or a bludgeon.

"The Journal," the official organ of the Knights of Labor, published at Washington, D. C., in its March issue, says the senate of the United States has among its members men who care but little for the condition of those who toil. This does not apply to the men of one party alone; for such men are found in both parties and are ready with their tongues and their influence, to lower and belittle the workers because such sentiments find favor with the money interests. When we find a man in this, the greatest legislative body in the world, who can stand up and be counted as a friend of the people, who will not be silenced on the demands of capital, nor crawl and cringe at the withering glances of corporation attorneys, we know that he can be relied upon as the friend of all the people. We have a man of this character in the person of Senator Burkett of Nebraska.

Wayne Mention

Emerson Enterprise:

Thirty-five Wayne county farmers visited Bannon Bros. farm the past week and bought seed corn.

Pender Republic:

Miss Mable Gammon is home from the Wayne Normal for a few weeks as she has had the studies included in the course for this semester. She will return to school at the beginning of the next term and finish the course, graduating in August.

Wisner Chronicle:

Mrs. F. L. Graves and little son went to Wayne Tuesday to meet Mr. Graves at that place. He has sold his place at Blunt, South Dakota, and is looking up a new home. In the meantime Mrs. Graves is here with her home folks, T. D. Rich and family.

Randolph Times:

Ivo Lorge has entered the Wayne normal college as a student.

Mrs. Kerley and Mrs. Harker and their children spent last Friday visiting friends in Wayne.

A deputy state veterinary from Wayne was in town this week and tested some cattle to be shipped out of the state by movers.

Carroll Index:

Mrs. Ed. Phipp and daughter, of Wayne, came up Wednesday for a visit with relatives.

Ed. Williams was up from Wayne Saturday and Sunday, working Saturday in the Dobbin Mercantile store. He will finish his studies at the Wayne Normal in August.

Mr. Claud Bailey and Miss May Beal were married at Wayne Wednesday. They will make their home on the place formerly occupied by Chas. Morris. These young people enjoy the respect and esteem of all who know them and their friends wish them well in their wedded life.

Pierce Call:

Miss Hazel Whalen, of Wayne, visited from last Friday until Sunday noon with her aunt, Mrs. W. W. Riley.

Will Lea and Harry McCrady came over from Wayne last Thursday where they had been attending the normal college. Harry returned on Tuesday while Will stayed to help his folks move to town.

One of our business men who has been over to Wayne several times within the past year, remarked the other day that what Pierce needed was to revive the Commercial Club and do a little boosting for our city. The Wayne Commercial Club is alive and doing the town a lot of good.

Mrs. Whipperman Dead

Mrs. J. H. Whipperman died at her home six miles south and two miles east of Wakefield, on Tuesday, March 1, at 6 a. m., aged 72 years and three days.

Deceased was born in Washington, Ill., February 26, 1838. Was married in that town to J. H. Whipperman on the 6th day of February, 1865. From there they moved to different places in Illinois, coming to Wayne county, Nebraska, in the spring of 1882 where she lived until death.

To this union was born eight children three girls and five boys, three of them dying in infancy, the living ones are H. H., Geo. and Chas. of Wakefield; Frank of Omaha and Mary of Buffalo, N. Y.

Deceased was converted to God in her 14th year at Washington, Ill., and joined the Evangelical church and was a faithful christian until death.

The funeral services will be held at the Presbyterian church, Friday, March 4, at 2 o'clock, Rev. Connell officiating.—Wakefield Republican.

Laurel does not intend that King Solomon mine shall have all the good things going, and the Advocate reports that the Laurel Mining company in Nevada is turning out turquoise and stock has jumped from ten cents a share to fifty cents. That's the way to get rich quick.

West Point will improve its water works system by the purchase of a new boiler, construction of a boiler house, and the driving of forty new wells.

Burdens Lifted From Bad Backs

Weariness is the back that bears the burden of kidney ills. There's no rest nor peace for the man or woman who has a bad back. The distress begins in early morning. You feel lame and not refreshed. It's hard to get out of bed. It hurts to stoop to tie your shoes. All day the ache keeps up. Any sudden movement sends a sharp twinge through the back. It is torture to stoop or straighten. At night the sufferer retires to toss and groan. Backache is kidney ache—a throbbing, dull aching in the kidneys. To cure backache you must first cure the kidneys. Plasters or liniments won't do. You must get at the cause, inside.

Doan's Kidney Pills Cure Sick Kidneys

Six Months of Misery

Doan's Kidney Pills Brought About a Complete Restoration.

CHARLES EASTER, E. Lewis St., Watsela, Ill., says: "In the summer of 1914 I was attacked by pain in the small of my back and at the time passed. The trouble increased until my whole back was affected. For six months I could not sit in a chair and I was unable to sleep nights. I lost forty pounds in weight and had so much pain that I could not raise my hands to my face. I was lame, had no energy and was bothered by a sharpness of breath. During all that time I doctored and used a great amount of medicine but to no avail. Sometimes there was an almost complete recovery and then they would come and there was much suffering in between. My wife finally persuaded me to try Doan's Kidney Pills. After taking such pills as relief that I could not find elsewhere and gradually my condition improved. The trouble with my kidneys was corrected and my back and pains were removed. I am so grateful for this cure that I cheerfully recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to other persons suffering from kidney complaint."

HOW TO TELL WHEN THE KIDNEYS ARE DISORDERED

Painful Symptoms—Backache, side-ache, pains when coughing or lifting, sudden sharp twinges, rheumatic pains, neuralgia, painful, scanty or too frequent urination, dizzy spells, drowsy.

Urinary Symptoms—Discolored, or cloudy, urine. Urine that contains sediment. Urine that stains the linen. Painful passages. Blood or albumen in the urine. Let a bottleful of the morning urine stand for 24 hours. If it shows a cloudy or floccy settling, or a layer of fine grains, like brick-dust, the kidneys are disordered.

Twice-Told Testimony

A Wonderful Cure Fully Verified by the Test of Time.

MRS. J. M. BARNHART, 912 N. Jackson St., Frankfort, Ind., says: "Several years ago I was running into Bright's disease. My body wasted, great deal and I had such terrible pains in the small of my back that I could scarcely stand. I resorted to the kidney medicine containing a lot of herbs, also being distressing in passage. I tried various operations but steadily grew worse and when Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention, I procured a supply. The contents of the box did me so much good that I continued taking the remedy until I was cured. I gave a public statement on July 12, 1916, recommending Doan's Kidney Pills and now I can add that I have had no need of a kidney remedy in over a year."

Strength at Various Ages

According to excellent authority the muscles, in common with all organs of the human body, have their periods of development and decline, our physical strength increasing up to a certain age and then decreasing. Tests of the strength of several thousand individuals have been made and the following figures are given as the averages derived from such tests:

The lifting power of a youth of 17 is 280 pounds; in his twentieth year this increases to 320 pounds and in the thirtieth and thirty-first years it reaches its height, 365 pounds. At the expiration of the thirty-first year the strength begins to decline, very gradually at first. By the fortieth year it has decreased eight pounds and diminution continues at a slightly increasing rate until the fiftieth year is reached, when the figure is 330 pounds.

Subsequent to this period strength falls more and more rapidly until the weakness of old age is reached. It is found impossible to obtain trustworthy statistics of the decline of strength after the fiftieth year, as the rate varies greatly in different individuals.

A QUEER WEDDING RING.

An African Tribe Whose Wives Wear a Heavy Brass Ornament.

Among the Bayanzi, who live for many miles along the upper Congo, there exists a strange custom which would seem to make life miserable for the married women. Brass rods, which are the favorite currency in the country, are welded into great rings around the necks of the wives. Many of these rings worn by the women whose husbands are well-to-do weigh as much as 20 pounds, and this burden must be carried around by the poor women as long as they live.

Frequently one sees a woman whose neck is raw and sore under the heavy weight, and in places the skin is rubbed off. This is a sure sign that the ring has been recently welded around her neck, for after a time the skin becomes calloused, and then the strange ornament produces no abrasion. But the weight is an inconvenience; they never get used to it, and it is a perpetual tax upon their energies. In every crowd of women may be seen a number who are supporting the rings with their hands, and thus for a time relieving their weary shoulders of the heavy burdens.

It may be said that with every movement of their bodies the rings give discomfort. Once on, it is no easy matter to get them off. The natives have no such thing as a file, and though they can hammer a lot of brass rods into one, it is very difficult for them to cut the thick mass of metal in two. Women who increase largely in flesh after the rings have been fastened on their necks are in danger of strangling to death, and instances of this sort have been known to occur. Yet these women regard the cumbersome ornament with pride, imagine that it enhances their importance and beauty, and wear the burden with light hearts.

Ben's Intellectual Promotions.

Ben's intellectual achievements were far from notable, but in the eyes of his small sister, he was none the less a wonderful personage. She keenly resented allusions to his lengthy stay in the last desk row at school, although Benny himself took quite a cheerful and philosophic view of the matter.

One afternoon the little girl appeared, flushed and panting, in the library doorway.

"Daddy," she exclaimed, "you promised Benny a doll when he got moved off the bottom bench, and now he's up in the next row with me and—"

Benny himself interposed just then, in his usual unobtrusive way.

"Why, what's this I hear, my son? My father welcomed him. 'I'm very glad you've moved your way up.' The boy started uncomprehendingly. 'Elsie says you're in the second row now,' his father continued, in explanation.

"Course!" returned the youngster, impudently. "We're all in the second row—the bottom bench's being painted."

Couldn't Stand Sitting.

A burglar while attempting to rob a bondholder of Maryville, Mo., was obliged to get into the humble residence of an editor next door. After unsuccessfully rummaging about for suitable articles for some time he was disgusted to observe the tenant of the house sitting in bed and laughing at the caper. "You old Skinkender, the editor," he inquired of the housebreaker. "Nary time," chuckled the journalist, "in the editor of the Screaming Eagle."

"Judicial!" said the burglar, looking at his stemwinder. "And here I've been waiting four precious hours on this branch almshouse. I say, old fellow, give you never poke fun at your subscribers, do you?"

"Not the dash ones," said the burglar, taking the wallet. "Here's six months' subscription to call this thing square. It's there's one thing on earth I can't stand," said "London Tit-Bits."

The Koreans are inveterate smokers of tobacco, which they like in thin bowls and stems two or three feet long. They stick their fingers down the back of the neck when smoking them.

There is a deal of drinking, too, and they have many proverbs about it. "Heaven and earth are too small for a drunken man." "White whiskey makes a red face." "There is no bottom to the appetite for drink."

The Man-of-War Bird.

The frigate pelican, or man-of-war bird, is usually met with by travelers in the tropics. Although when stripped of its feathers it is hardly larger than a pigeon, yet no man can touch at the same time the tips of its extended wings. The long wing bones are exceedingly light, and the whole apparatus of air cells is extremely developed, so that its real weight is very trifling. It flies at a great height above the water, and from that elevation pounces down on fish, especially preferring the poor, persecuted flying fish for its prey. According to some authors, the name of man-of-war bird was given to it because its appearance was said to foretell the coming of a ship, probably because the frigate pelican and real frigates are equally adverse to storms, and both like to come into harbor if the weather threatens.

Mixed.

A sergeant was once drilling a squad of recruits. They were incredibly ignorant. One of them could not tell his right hand from his left. The sergeant proceeded to teach them and at last attained some degree of success.

Sergeant—Now, yer blessed idiot, hold yer hands in front of yer and twist them round one over the other. Stop! Now, which is yer left hand and which is yer right?

Recruit (looking at his hands for a moment)—I'm blowed if I know. I've gone and mixed 'em!—London Answers.

William Morris did not always get his jokes right end first. In a biography of her husband, Mrs. Edward Burne-Jones tells of the ease with which he reversed them.

A dinner gathering had all been asking conundrums.

"Who killed his brother Cain?" asked Burne-Jones.

Morris fell into the trap at once.

"Abel!" he shouted.

Later in the day he came in laughing.

"I trapped the parson by Jove!" he exclaimed. "I asked him, 'Who killed his brother Abel?'"

"Cain," he said at once.

"Ha!" said I. "I knew you'd say that. Every one does." I came away and left him puzzled enough, and I doubt if he's found out yet what the joke was.

Doily's Retort.

"I won't wash my face!" said Doily defiantly.

"Naughty, naughty," reproved grandmother. "When I was a little girl I always washed my face."

"Yes, and now look at it!"—Every body's.

The Quest of Betty Lancey

"You mean," asked Morris, "the boy's name is Betty?"

"Betty?" asked Larry. "I've lived there," volunteered Betty. "Where are we going now?"

"Anywhere to get away from them," replied Johnny.

"Then don't go far to the right. Turn at the next crossing—there—now turn to your left again—see? Beyond those hills we'll find a snug den. Here we'll stay if to be, and when the moon is up, we'll be in the hills."

The motor ahead and grunted and turned awkwardly into the delugement of the mountain side.

"Would you come to get in such a scrape?" asked Larry. "Ever see that woman before? Do you know her name?"

"What was her name?"

Benny nodded. "Yes, I gave her passage money to go back to Mine to her family once, and she thanked me away. Then she came to me again and wanted some more money and I gave her it. I don't know what she's been ever since, I guess. I hadn't seen her for years."

"Like a woman," commented Johnny.

Larry smiled in silence. He had asked: "Exploring? Or just touring?"

"How long since you've been in the States?" asked Johnny.

"Just come from there a week ago," replied Benny.

"You've heard of the Wayne murder mystery of course? Well, you're hunting for the abandoned Miss Lancy. We think she's in Africa here."

Benny raised his woolly eyebrows.

"You're a nice hunt," he observed.

"Have you any trace of where she might be? Africa is very large, larger even than your vaunted State of Texas."

"I know," responded Larry, curtly. "I don't mean to reckon the length of the chase."

Benny smiled. "You are related to Miss Lancy?"

"Not yet," said Johnny. "It's just happen that way."

Benny spent one of the car. He passed by its side for a few seconds, and then stopped beside Larry.

"I am black, as you see," spoke Benny. "But I own the best of skins with my mind has been worked out thorough course of education in European universities. I am in Africa now on an errand similar to yours. I am seeking my wife, Meta. Unlike you I have an inkling as to where I may find her. Perhaps the woman you are hunting for is not far away from Meta. Will you join forces with me? I am single, and I really need foreign adventures. You?"

Larry and Johnny looked at the straw. It was something tangible anyway. In this great waste of sun and sky, desert and barbarism. And far more likely of result than the newly re-puted government assistance that had been proffered them.

"So they made a compact with Benny. It was taking a long glance with a stranger, but the boy had learned that Johnny frequently went when the short are filled altogether. The three were to meet at the den on the morrow—early before the sun waxed unbearably hot. Benny told them to leave behind all luggage; that he would attend to all of that, and to take with them but a nominal sum of money, if any at all.

"Well, it can both ride," he questioned Johnny.

"I know," said Johnny, "I know."

The black surveyed the small red-headed man half contemptuously. "I know what you're thinking," he blurted out the American. "You're thinking that barring the color of the skin and head that you've got me beat on being a man. Perhaps you have. Anyway, I don't grudge you anything, and you needn't me."

One morning she appeared before her mistress and, with glowing eyes, announced that she had named the day and would become a wife at the end of the week.

"Are you going back home, then?" the lady asked.

"Oh, no, ma'am; it's an American gentleman," replied the maid.

"Well," remonstrated her mistress, "we've only been here a fortnight."

"That's no matter. He wants the wedding to be on Saturday."

"Well, can't you get him to postpone the marriage just a little till I can get another maid?"

"Well, ma'am, I'd like to oblige you; but, you see, I don't feel well enough acquainted to ask him to do that."—London Answers.

JAPAN'S ANCESTRAL GODS.

Quite Commonly Performed Every 21 Years Since A. D. 690.

One of the most marvelous manifestations of patriotic and religious enthusiasm in modern Japan was occasioned recently by the transference of the Imperial shrines at Ise to their new tabernacles just completed, the London Standard says. This remarkable Shinto festival may be witnessed only every twenty-one years, when the temples of the ancestral gods are reconstructed and the sacred objects are removed to their new abode. The festival has been thus renewed every score of years since A. D. 690 at least, and for how long before that no one knows, the present occasion being the fifty-seventh rebuilding on record.

Such a periodic reconstruction will appear quite necessary, if it is recalled that on these shrines no mortal hand is ever permitted to execute repairs. After they are built the gods of the nation take possession of them and thenceforward they are not touched till they go the way of all things. At all times Ise is the mecca of the Japanese patriot, but on no notable occasion as this thousands flock from all parts of the empire.

The work of rebuilding the sacred shrines begins almost as soon as the appointment of an imperial commission entrusted with the important enterprise. Every stage is marked by religious ceremonies, from the felling of the trees to the driving of the last nail. The completion is emphasized by a special festival of purification, after which the temples pass from the hands of the commissioners to the priestly custodians of the Imperial shrines.

Finally comes the great festival of removing the ancestral gods and the sacred treasures and relics to the new "holy of holies," which took place this month. It is computed that no fewer than 40,000 persons were present on the night of the actual removal. Though the august spectacle takes place at night, the preparation for it appears to go on for two or three days previously, but the ceremonial of the notable day itself are the most interesting. The day opened with the appearance before the new temple of a specially chosen virgin, who went through a peculiar ceremony of bathing in the ground before the shrine, a jar containing offerings to the gods of earth. This observance is intended as an act of thanksgiving for the successful completion of the new abode of the ancestral gods.

Later in the day began a long procession of priests in gorgeous robes of green and gold, chanting weird litany and motioning sutras to the strains of archaic instruments. It is affirmed that the service has in no respect been changed during the last thousand years. With the sounding down of a drum came a "re-creation" of a princely representative of the Imperial house, went into the soon to be abandoned shrines to examine the treasures, and to measure the sacred fabrics. As the latter are reputed to be more than 330,000 feet in length, this was no small matter.

CONVINCING PROOF

OF THE VIRTUE OF

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

What is the use of procrastinating in the face of such evidence as the following letters represent? If you are a sick woman or know one who is, what sensible reason have you for not giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial? For 30 years we have been publishing such testimonial letters as these—thousands of them—they are genuine and honest, too, every one of them.

Mrs. S. F. Barber says:
"I think Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the best medicine in the world for women—and I feel it my duty to let others know the good it has done for me."
I had a tumor which the doctor said would have to be removed by an operation or I might have been more than a year in bed. I wrote Mr. Pinkham, for advice, and he sent me a box of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and to my surprise the tumor is gone and I am a happy woman. I hope my neighbors will be benefited by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
—Mrs. S. F. BARBER, Scott, N. H.

Mrs. George May says:
"No one knows what I have suffered from for several years. I have neuralgia, rheumatism, backache, my doctor said he could not give me anything to help me through. Through the advice of a friend I began to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and the pain soon disappeared. I continued to use it until I was in perfect health. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been a God-send to me as I believe I should have been in my grave if it had not been for Mrs. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."
—Mrs. GEORGE MAY, 86 4th Ave., Waterson, N. J.

Mrs. W. K. Housh says:
"I have been completely cured of a severe female trouble by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I want to recommend it to all suffering women."
—Mrs. W. K. Housh, 1101 8th St., East New York, N. Y.

Mrs. E. F. Hayes says:
"It was under the doctor's treatment for a tumor, I suffered with pain, soreness, bloating, and could not walk or stand on my feet any length of time. I wrote to Mrs. Pinkham for advice, and she sent me a box of her Vegetable Compound, and to my surprise the tumor was expelled and my whole system strengthened. I can now do all the work I wish to do, and I am a happy woman. I hope my neighbors will be benefited by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."
—Mrs. E. F. HAYES, Washington St., Boston, Mass.

Mrs. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice, she will gladly guide thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

For Pain in Chest
For sore throat, sharp pain in lungs, tightness across the chest, hoarseness or cough, have the parts with Sloan's Liniment. You don't need to rub, just lay it, or lightly. It penetrates instantly to the seat of the trouble, relieves congestion and stops the pain.
Here's the Proof.
Mr. W. P. Pines, Frank, Kan., writes: "We have used Sloan's Liniment for a year, and find it an excellent thing for sore throat, chest pains, colds, and hay fever attacks. A few drops taken on sugar stops a cold, and relieves instantly."

Sloan's Liniment
is easier to use than porous plasters, dets quicker and does not clog up the pores of the skin. It is an excellent anesthetic remedy for itching, neuralgia, and all inflammatory diseases of the throat and chest; will break up the dead membranes in the nasal cavity and will kill any kind of neuralgia or rheumatic pains.
All druggists keep Sloan's Liniment.

No Man is Stronger Than His Stomach
A strong man is strong all over. No man can be strong who is suffering from weak stomach with its consequent indigestion, or from some other disease of the stomach and its associated organs, which impairs digestion and nutrition. For when the stomach is weak or diseased there is a loss of the nutrition contained in food, which is the source of all physical strength. When a man "doesn't feel just right," when he doesn't sleep well, when he has an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach after eating, when he has a headache, when he is losing the nutrition needed to make strength, each a man should use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, it cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enriches the blood, invigorates the liver, strengthens the kidneys, nourishes the nerves, and it gives health and strength to the WHOLE BODY.

any purpose. This kind of treatment soon teaches the fowls to expect as a regular thing, and the result is that they depend upon having feed thrown down in front of them every few hours, and consequently they will not work or scratch to keep their solves in good condition by taking desirable exercise.

Poor food and bad both the fruit-fat sources of ricin influences.
Small quantities should always be kept that they can easily be cultivated.

House plants will be benefited if they are given an application of liquid manure.
Allow ample space between the rows for cultivation of strawberry and blackberry patches.

Set raspberries eight feet apart and trellis by two wires, the bottom being thirty inches from the ground.
The cream separator has greatly reduced the milk in places because the skin milk can always be fed while sweet.

Where cows' teats are tender they are easily scratched. Put on lard or vasoline after milking and keep skin pliable.
You may have a lot of trouble buying nursery stock. It is better to buy in advance for five or ten days before you wish to buy.

Good stables, well lighted, well ventilated and arranged with a view to the comfort of the cows quarantered there are some of the requisites of a good dairy farm.
To make the best country butter one must not let the cream get too warm nor stir it up too much, but with the proper care it will be of good quality.

Selling to Consumers.
The poultryman who is unable to deliver, regularly and continuously, goods of guaranteed superiority will experience no trouble in securing and holding good customers. But selling direct to the consumer means much more care and considerably more labor and expense. There is also more risk. "One bad egg will ruin the reputation and ruin a thousand good ones."

Feeding Poultry.
Here is a prolific source of trouble. Many men feed liberally as far as quantity is concerned, and yet really keep their animals on short rations because the material which they supply contains only a small proportion of nutriment. The animals can not eat and digest enough of this kind of feed to get a sufficient quantity of the elements needed to enable them to do the best that they are capable of doing in the way of growth or production.
—Agricultural Epitomist.

Effects of Ivy on Walls.
A writer in the Revue Scientifique discusses the effects of ivy growing on walls of various kinds, and arrives at the following conclusions: It is not advisable to allow the plant to grow on walls formed of newly cut stone, since it soon destroys the smooth surface, although the damage does not extend to any noticeable depth; it is bad for ancient walls of cut stone, the joints of which have been opened by the various effects of time and the weather; it is not injurious on brick walls, if the inhabitants are not subject to rheumatism; and it is useful on ancient walls of rubble, since its interlacing branches tend to prevent the fall of loose stones.

Destroying Rats.
Many devices have been recommended for driving rats from premises. Some are based on superstitions, but it must be remembered that nothing is gained when they are simply driven from one place to another. Their destruction must be sure and complete. Traps are good, but the rats are so cunning that after a few are caught the others seem to understand and stay away. To destroy rats, each evening when the cows are milked place a little fresh milk in shallow pails around where the rats can get it. Keep this up for a week until they get bold and impatient for it. Then mix arsenic in the milk and await results. It will kill every rat that licks milk, and that means almost every one.
—Missouri Dairymen.

Hutting Trees.
The Ohio Experiment Station believes that it is a good plan for the farmer to learn something of a man's reputation through his neighborhood before buying trees of him. Then, if possible, go early in the season and examine his trees. If an order is given, specify that the trees must be of his own growing and that there must be no substituting. If ordering from a distant firm, select those who advertise in first-class periodicals, and specify, as before, no substituting. Reputable nurserymen and seedsmen try to keep their stock pure and the varieties true to name, but they often buy of others, and mistakes may occur in handling. It is necessary and seedsmen are to be consulted more than other business men for tax methods, says the director of the Ohio station. It is because they get stock through doubtful sources, by exchange or purchase, and because they so often substitute a variety which is "just as good."

How Often to Feed.
Some poultry keepers fall into the very bad habit of throwing a handful or more of grain to their fowls every time they visit the poultry quarters or wish to call the fowls together for any purpose. This kind of treatment soon teaches the fowls to expect as a regular thing, and the result is that they depend upon having feed thrown down in front of them every few hours, and consequently they will not work or scratch to keep their solves in good condition by taking desirable exercise.

Volume of Poultry Business.
Census reports tell us that in the United States we have today at least 232,585,075 chickens, 6,389,757 turkeys, 5,675,825 geese, and 4,387,375 ducks. Poultry is an asset on at least 82 per cent of the farms of this country, and at least 250,000,000 chickens, not counting other varieties of poultry, are consumed annually. The Secretary of the United States Department of Agriculture says that in 1910 about 1,100,000,000 dollars of eggs were consumed, amounting to about 200 million dollars of the national debt.
Again, we are confronted with the fact that the poultry and egg crops comprise 14 per cent of the total animal products of this country, and that exclusive of the eggs and poultry consumed by the owners of the farm, the eggs alone bring annually $2,000,000,000 and the poultry crops are worth $1,900,000,000 a year. Still in their report the agricultural colleges poultry has hardly been touched.

Hiring a Hand.
The hiring of a farmhand ought to be regarded as a most important act; yet many farmers are careless about the matter, for which they must pay as well as the hired man, and often brought to grief.
In employing a hand one should not be too exacting as to his attitude and temperance. Still, we would not bind ourselves by any hasty agreement to a hand till we first had the opportunity of observing his characteristics, or knew him by undeniable reputation or recommendation.
So it is preferable to hire some steady, dependable farmboy of your own neighborhood. Where this can not be done, take the stranger who is seeking employment on trial for a week or two, study him from all sides, give him a chance to learn your ways, and if the trial seems satisfactory to both the risk in hiring him will not be so great as though he were hired during the first hour of your acquaintance.

Have your agreement with a hired man drawn in black and white. A written agreement never injures anybody and no honest, fair-minded man will object to one. All points liable to cause any misunderstanding later on should be thoroughly discussed, settled and included in the articles of agreement, all of which may be the means of saving the farmer from being left in a tight place with no help, and the farm hand from being out of employment—hunting for another job of work at a season when wages are at the highest.
—M. Albertus Coverell in Twentieth Century Farmer.

Wearing Out the Land.
Prof. Milton Whitney, chief of the Bureau of Soils of the United States Department of Agriculture, says that the productivity of the newer agricultural soils of the United States and of the older agricultural soils of Europe, taken as a whole and for the nation, are not declining, as is popularly supposed. Individual farming deteriorates, and soils wear out, as they have always done, but as a whole it seems probable that we are producing more crops on an acre than formerly.

This is undoubtedly due to many factors—to better and more intelligent cultivation and more and better systems of rotations of crops, and in later years to the intelligent use of fertilizers through measures of control in the hands of every individual farmer. In addition we must recognize the increase in farm animals and stock, and the improvement in seed by selection and breeding and increased density in population, which is forcing attention to more intensive methods. Prof. Whitney says that so far as his information goes there is apparently no significant difference at the present time between the composition of the old agricultural soils of Europe and the newer agricultural soils of the United States with respect to potash, phosphoric acid, lime and magnesia.

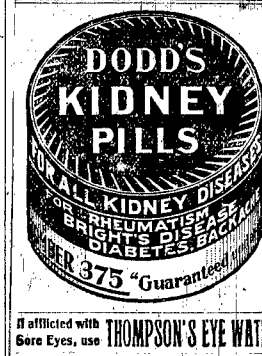

According to a very old English work, the course of Roman agriculture was of the simplest description—a crop of grain and then the land was untilled or unseeded for a year or more. Every year one-half of the arable land was in grain and the other half allowed to remain untilled. A third of this was sown with a green crop of some kind, to be given to the cattle, and this was the only portion of the tillage that received the benefits of manure. The result of this method was that the arable land was manured once in six years, and in that period produced three crops of grain and one of green stuff. This system, by degrees, wore out the land. It took the very best out of it so to speak so that, in the time of Nero, a great falling off had taken place in the returns for the quantity of seed sown. Fifty years later Cicero gave an account of the rich Sicilian lands, and claimed two and a half bushels to the statute acre. This well cultivated, seemed to have yielded eight or ten for one, equal to twenty or twenty-five bushels, respectively. In another half century Columella told us that over a large part of Italy the instances were few in which the return was more than four to one.

Teaching Baby to Walk.
Never encourage a baby to try to walk if he seems unwilling to learn. The sockets of the joints are very shallow in tiny children and the bones so feebly connected that they are easily dislocated. Besides, bowed legs are very much easier to avoid than to cure, and standing before the legs are strong enough to bear the weight of the body may result in permanent deformity.

WORTH KNOWING
Simple but Powerful Prescription for Rheumatism and Lamp Backs.
This was previously published here and cured hundreds. "Get one ounce of Syrup of Sarsaparilla compound and the ounce Turps Compound. Then get half a pint of root whiskey and put the other two ingredients into it. Take a tablespoonful of this mixture before each meal and at bed time. Shake the bottle each time." Good effects are felt the first day. Any druggist has these ingredients on hand or will quickly get them from his wholesale house.

Obedient Dog.
Schnapps is a dachshund, and the people who know all about the breed call the queer-looking animal handsome. In the house in New York where he is the pet he is credited with more than ordinary dog sense and with understanding every word said to him in English or German. In order to demonstrate his sagacity his master told him a few evenings ago: "Schnapps, the young people have been here long tonight. Go down and tell the boys to go home." Downstairs he waited and, standing before the "flying" stairs, backed and howled, then ran to the front door and jacked again and kept up the performance until, as his proud master explained, "the young man heard and saw the point. Pretty smart for a dach, eh?"

How a Doctor Cured Scaly Disease.
"When I was ten or twelve years old I had a scaly disease, something like scald head, though it wasn't that. I suffered for several months, and most of my hair came out. Finally they had a doctor to see me and he recommended the Cuticura Remedies. They cured me in a few weeks. I have used the Cuticura Remedies also for a breaking out on my hands and was benefited a great deal. I haven't had any more trouble with the scaly disease."

WESTERN CANADA
What Governor Denison, of Illinois, Says About It:
Governor Denison, of Illinois, once a member of the Land in Saskatchewan, the Canadian West, has written:
"I am delighted to see the progress of the Western Canadian Colonization. I believe that the people of this country are bound to prosper, and I have no doubt that they will do so. The Western Canadian Colonization is a great enterprise, and I believe that it will be a success. I have no doubt that the people of this country are bound to prosper, and I have no doubt that they will do so."
125 Million Bushels of Wheat in 1909
Western Canada sold 125 million bushels of wheat in 1909. This was an increase of 100 per cent over the amount sold in 1908. The increase was due to the fact that the crop was a record-breaking one, and the demand for wheat was unusually high.
The wheat crop in 1909 was valued at $250,000,000. This was an increase of 100 per cent over the amount valued in 1908. The increase was due to the fact that the price of wheat was unusually high, and the crop was a record-breaking one.
The wheat crop in 1909 was the largest ever raised in Western Canada. It was a great success for the farmers of the West, and a great benefit to the people of this country.

A Big Job for Big Men

More than 6,000 invitations have been issued by the committee for the Laymen's Missionary Conference beginning with the big banquet at the Auditorium in Sioux City Tuesday evening, March 22. In addition to this the invitation has been made general through the press and pulpit and acceptances already received indicate that fully 2,000 laymen from the four states of Iowa, South Dakota, Nebraska and Minnesota will be present to participate in the "movement" for the evangelization of the world in the present century. The high water mark for banquets was at the Kansas City conference where 1,840 men sat down to the feast, in New York City there were 1,800 who braved a blizzard to be present, and Sioux City promises to eclipse both occasions and make a new record for boosters of the "big job for big men."

Cuming County

E. Hubenka bought two forty-acre tracts of land last week paying therefor $125 per acre. This land sold twenty years ago for $23 per acre, an increase of $5 per acre per annum since that time.

Henry Kloke and his family have removed their residence to Pierce county. Mr. Kloke is one of the very oldest local settlers now living. He came to Cuming county in the year 1858 and has resided here continuously ever since. His departure is much regretted.

The celebrated pacer, Captain Mack, owned by J. H. Krause, of West Point, succumbed to an attack of pneumonia. This horse was ten years old and very valuable. He made a record of 2:13 at O'Neill last summer. He captured all the prizes but one in the race meets south of the Platte last fall. The loss to Mr. Krause is very great.

Sensible Way to Retire

Lewis Beckman, one of our good farmer readers north of town with his son John, were callers at our sanitarium Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Beckman has been a reader of the Herald for a number of years, and a tiller of Wayne county soil for more, and has reached the period in life when he has decided to take life a little easier than heretofore, but unlike many farmers, while he will retire from work to some extent he will not leave the farm and move to town but will take the wiser course of remaining on the farm amid the scenes with which he is familiar and where he can get more solid enjoyment than he possibly could from town life. If more farmers would use this method of retiring from farm work they would live longer, enjoy life more fully and their declining days would be among the very happiest and best of all their lives. His sons, Fred L. and John, just coming to manhood's estate, will take up the farm work where father lays it down, and will put into it all the vim, energy and industry of vigorous young manhood, aided and directed by large views of the possibilities of the future. Rest, joy and contentment should be the portion for father and mother, while peace, prosperity and happiness as a reward of work well done should come to the young men who thus launch out on the sea of life for themselves.

Resolutions of Respect

Adopted by the Tribe of Ben Hur Lodge in Wayne.

WHEREAS, the great ruler of the universe has, in his infinite wisdom, removed from our midst our worthy and esteemed Keeper of Tribute, James Bishop.

WHEREAS, the intimate relation held by him with the members of Balthasar Court, Tribe of Ben Hur, of which he was an honored member make it fit that we record our appreciation of him, therefore, be it.

Resolved, That the wisdom and ability which he exercised in aid of our work, by counsel, services, and funds, will be held in grateful remembrance.

Resolved, That the sudden removal of such a brother from our midst, leaves a vacancy and a shadow that will be deeply realized by all members and friends, and will prove a grievous loss to our membership.

Resolved, That with deep sympathy to the afflicted relatives and friends of the deceased, we express an earnest hope that even so great a bereavement may be overruled for the highest good.

Resolved, That these resolutions be recorded in our records, and published in the Wayne papers, and that a copy be sent to the bereaved family.

NORMAL NOTES

The Young Men's Christian Association Young Women's Christian Association and Catholic Club held a joint meeting last Sunday afternoon. The address was made by Rev. Kirkpatrick.

The first one o'clock Saturday talk of the term was made by Mrs. Pile. Prof. Bright will speak this week at one o'clock.

Many teachers are coming in for review of the common branches and also to take advanced work. They are making good use of every minute of their time and will be ready for good positions.

Basketball has been discarded for baseball and tennis. The grounds outside are being put in shape and everything being gotten ready for the outdoor work.

Last month over thirty students took the examinations. This is the first that we have held this year, but from now on they will be given each month. It saves the students much time, which is an important matter with them.

The Manual Training students are turning out some splendid work, which shows that Prof. Huntemer has left this work in good hands.

HOSKINS NEWS

Of those on the sick list for the past week are the Messdames Wetzlich, Lueders, Foster.

Judson Garwood of Wayne was in Hoskins, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Green returned from their trip to Wisconsin last week.

Rev. Mr. Gruber is in Gresham visiting his son.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Templin and daughter Ruth, were in Loretta to attend the funeral of Mrs. Templin's father, Mr. Daugherty.

SHOLES NEWS

There is still some corn in the field.

Clayton Trip will leave for Canada in a few days to take up a homestead there.

James Larsen is moving onto the place just vacated by F. C. Cleveland.

Come out to hear the Easter cantata to be given by the Sunday school on the afternoon of that day.

Rev. E. B. Young came up from Wayne and conducted religious services here Sunday afternoon. A splendid crowd was out to hear him.

The program given by the literary society last Friday evening was the best of the season. The play entitled "Asking Her Father" was first-class in every respect, and the young people merit much commendation for the splendid manner in which it was given.

Among Sholes people attending the sale at the Carroll pavilion last Saturday were Steve Hohlender, Charley Webb, Earnest Klebe, Lou Horn, Ben F. Robinson, Fred Marsh and Jeb Laplant.

A. G. Carlson has traded his blacksmith shop for a quarter section of land near Presho, South Dakota, and is moving his family there. Mr. Haines, the new blacksmith, will begin work here at once, and while we regret to lose Mr. Carlson yet we extend a cordial welcome to Mr. Haines.

CA Baking Powder

Received Highest Award
World's Pure Food Exposition
Chicago, November, 1907
What does this mean?

It means that Calumet has set a new Standard in Baking Powder—the standard of the World. Because this award was given to Calumet after thorough tests and experiments, over all other baking powders. It means that Calumet is the best baking powder in every particular in the world. And this means that Calumet produces the best, most delicious, lightest, and purest baking of all baking powders. Doesn't that mean everything to you?

FOR SALE—A good organ for sale cheap if taken at once. Call on or write Lola M. Douthit, Winside, Nebraska.

Norfolk will do some street paving this year. It would be a good thing if Wayne could put it eight or ten blocks of paving.

The Ladies of the Federation will hold a food exchange at the store of Craven & Welch, next Saturday afternoon, at 2 o'clock.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. church will meet with Mrs. Kirkpatrick at the parsonage Friday afternoon.

S. B. Scafe loaded his household effects into a car Saturday and the family will go to Wyoming to try ranch life for a time at least.

Mrs. and Mrs. C. F. Whitney returned Monday evening from a few days spent with Omaha relatives, which they thoroughly enjoyed.

Arthur Merriman, who has been living at Colomine, South Dakota, has returned to Wayne county and is now on route 4, about three miles north of town.

Keep in mind the fact when you go to the Citizens' Caucus on the 18th that John Stokes is a candidate for City Clerk and wants the nomination for that office.

Walter Weber went to Laurel Saturday afternoon and remained over Sunday with his children. His wife, who had been there some little time, accompanied him home Monday.

We say something new, at least to us, last Saturday evening, and that was a live, caterpillar crawling along on the ground, the 5th day of March. That may not be an unusual event for Nebraska, but it is in our experience.

You will be amply repaid if you attend Rev. Bihell's lecture at the M. E. church Friday evening. The subject will be "The Story of the Immigrant" given under the auspices of J. E. Marsteller's Sunday School class for the church improvements.

J. M. Coleman shipped one of his fine Poland China brood sows to Loup City, Nebraska, Tuesday morning.

Mayor Ley went to Crystal Lake Tuesday morning for a few days hunting and his wife went to Sioux City.

Mayor Ley says that under no circumstances will he be a candidate for re-election at the coming spring election.

It looks now as if there would be nearly an entire new selection of city officials at the city election. The old saying is "A new broom sweeps clean."

Rev. Kirkpatrick makes a trip to Kansas this week to visit his mother and transact some business. He does not expect to return for Sunday services.

G. S. Mears disposed of another one of his residence properties Saturday, what is known as the Savidge house, selling to Mrs. Blakely, north of town.

The first indications of spring were seen last Thursday afternoon. The boys began playing marbles on that day and the first robin put in an appearance.

J. M. Coleman reports fine success with his pigs this spring. Seventeen young sows have produced litters of nine on an average, which is considered very excellent.

Whalen has the ONLY place in town where hot water is piped to the work tub of the soda fountain, therefore making it very convenient for every dish to be washed in hot water.

E. P. Olmstead, of Norfolk, formerly in the hardware business in Wayne, but now in the real estate business, where he lives, was calling on friends in Wayne Monday afternoon.

Last Tuesday, the 8th, The North Nebraska Odd Fellows Association held its 8th annual meeting at Emerson. Wayne had a good delegation in attendance and all report a fine time.

Geo. Brammer, one car load of cattle, Lund & Gildersteeve one car load of cattle, and Strahan & Kingsbury a car load of hogs were the stock shipments from this station Monday afternoon.

There is a fine display of drapery goods, lace curtains in Ahern's South window. The material for curtains have been draped just as they will appear at the windows in your homes. Some very pretty effects are shown.

The Randolph debating team which comes here on the 18th to debate with the Wayne team, is composed of two young ladies and one gentleman. It would be too bad to have our team beaten under such conditions but such things have been known to happen.

Mrs. Welch is to act as hostess for the Monday Club at its meeting March 14. The motto of the day is "Education is a better safeguard to liberty than a standing army." The roll call will be a prominent feature of colonial times. Mrs. Main will have a paper on "The Spirit of the Mayflower." Mrs. Marsteller's theme will be "The Little Red School House," and Mrs. Mellor "Eminent Colleges Founded in Colonial Times." Mrs. Beebe will be the leader of music.

Dr. Mies, of Sioux City, was here Friday in consultation on the case of Fred O'Neal, and it was found that, while pneumonia itself had run its course and he was better from that disease, that there were other complications, one of them being an abscess in the pleural cavity. An operation was performed and a drainage tube put in and it is now hoped that his recovery may be steady and permanent.

J. E. Marsteller was the victim of an accident Friday which gave him a very sore hand. He and C. A. Grothe were fixing a door at the butter factory when it slipped from their grasp and the sharp edge of the heavy door struck Mr. Marsteller on the back of one of his hands cutting through the flesh almost to the bone and tearing the skin backward several inches. A physician had to take several stitches in the wound to hold the skin in place.

There were 425 attended the district Odd Fellows meeting at Emerson Tuesday. In the contest between Bloomfield and Winside for the 1911 meeting Bloomfield won.

Some of the city residents have begun cleaning up their yards. A good plan. The alleys should all receive a good cleaning as soon as the weather will permit.

A fine line of candies such as only the Baptist girls of Wayne can make will be for sale at the Easter Sale in basement of the Baptist church on March 17th, next Thursday.

Grant Mallory was in Sioux City Tuesday and while there bought a complete newspaper outfit, including presses. He will locate some where in Iowa, probably in Davis City, Deatur county, where they have no paper, and want one.

Mrs. T. C. Osborne and children departed Tuesday for Hastings, Nebraska, where they will visit with her relatives until Rev. Osborne goes to Scotts Bluff. Many friends sincerely regret her departure from our midst.

Harold Hufford is in the contest on the sale of Saturday Evening Post for a prize of a Shetland pony. He is now the 16th on the list of contestants and only a few copies behind a large number. You can help the boy get the pony by buying a copy each week.

R. S. Whitley, superintendent of the Sioux City schools, has been invited to act as one of the judges in a debate between the Wayne and Randolph High School Debating league, to be held at Wayne, March 18. The question to be debated is: "Resolved, That labor unions are, on the whole, beneficial."

W. F. Ramsey announces a sale of stock and farm machinery on his farm one and one-half miles south-east of Wayne on Friday, March 11. He has six good dairy cows, some calves, hay, corn, farm implements, ten dozen chickens, household goods, organ, stoves, and many other things he will sell. Look for one of the bills and read it. He is going to quit farming.

James Ahern is in Chicago this week to complete the buying of his spring goods. The purchasing of ladies' and children's ready-to-wear goods, in the sale of which, his store specializes, will occupy most of his time. The great retail stores of Chicago hold their spring openings this week, and this affords a good opportunity for observation of the latest styles. Mr. Ahern expects to have his new purchases in ladies' suits, coats, skirts, silk dresses, fancy waists, muslin underwear, and children's dresses here in town for his spring opening which will be announced next week.

Helen, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Reynolds, who was taken to a hospital at Omaha for examination, and afterward underwent an operation, was brought home Monday evening. Her case was a puzzling one to the physicians, several of them having been brought into the case, and the operation itself was a disappointment to the physician performing it, as it revealed that his diagnosis of the matter was not correct, or at least he did not find the trouble to be what he thought it was, and apparently no beneficial effects came from the operation at first, but after a couple of days the trouble seemed to disappear, and the fever was cured, so it is thought that she must have derived help from the operation, after all. She is getting along very well at present. The difficulty seemed to be in her head and that is where the operation was performed.

Remember the Wayne-Randolph debate on Friday evening March 18th. We want the high school assembly room full of people. A large crowd of students and patrons will encourage and inspire the debaters.

Boost for the Wayne High School.

Was a Success

The entertainment given at the M. E. church last Thursday evening by "The Workers" was a decided success in every particular. The decorations were very tasty and appropriate, the instrumental music was excellent, likewise the songs. The drill by twelve young girls was well executed, the tableau was pleasing, Mrs. Lutgen's reading was appreciated, and the play was well acted. If the Workers shall always succeed as well with everything as they did with that entertainment the word failure will never be written over against anything they undertake. The old soldiers, in whose honor the program was given, highly appreciated it and are thankful to Mrs. Lutgen and her class of young men for the pleasure of the hour. The proceeds go toward the improvements of the M. E. church, and netted the class about $60 for their work.

BIG BASKET-BALL GAME

For Benefit of Lecture Course at the Opera House Wednesday, March 15, at 8:30 P. M.

Basketball is a clean, wholesome sport and very interesting to watch. The college has an exceptionally good team this year and on this occasion will play the strongest team that can be arranged with the down town athletic club.

The down town team will probably be, Rooney, Morgan, Kemp, Osborne and Ley. Don't miss this chance to see a good, clean game of basketball. Admission 25c. Tickets at Raymond's, Hufford's and Jones'.

In addition to the above will be a game between the well trained high school team and an athletic club team, probably composed of Wilson, Orr, Harrington, Saulsbury and Meyers.

Sarah Wathena Brown and the Chicago Boy Choir

Sarah Wathena Brown, harpiste of national fame, appears with her musical boys in a novelty concert that exceeds any juvenile lyceum attraction. No harpiste of greater fame graces the American platform. In technique Mrs. Brown is unsurpassed. She knows just how to touch the instrument in order to bring out its best qualities and no instrument handled by a master hand is more quietly thrilling than is the harp. At Opera House March 15.

High School Notes.

WE MUST BEAT RANDOLPH!

Remember the Wayne-Randolph debate on Friday evening March 18th. We want the high school assembly room full of people. A large crowd of students and patrons will encourage and inspire the debaters.

Do farmers eat the proper sort of food?

The farmer of today buys a much larger proportion of the food that goes on the table than he did ten years ago. It's a good thing that this is so because he has a great variety to select from.

He should, however, use great care in selecting for the best results in health and strength.

The widespread tendency in the city to increase the amount of Quaker Oats eaten is due very largely to the recent demonstrations by scientific men that the Quaker Oats fed man is the man with greatest physical endurance and greatest mental vigor.

Farmers should give this subject careful thought and should increase the quantity of Quaker Oats eaten by themselves, their children and the farm hands.

I. W. Alter and wife went to Omaha this morning.

The Bible Study Circle will meet with Mrs. J. W. Kirkpatrick next Wednesday afternoon.

John Ahern returned to Wayne Sunday from Rochester, Minnesota, and is here for this week, resting up, before going to Chicago to assume the position he has in the windy city.

Accidentally Shot

Kenneth Huff, the 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Huff, living six miles south of Belden, just over the Wayne county line in Cedar county, accidentally shot himself in the leg Saturday morning. He was trying to load a 22 caliber rifle, and in some manner the gun was discharged, the ball striking him in the leg and passing under the knee cap. A local physician was unable to locate the ball so the boy was taken to St. Joseph hospital Saturday afternoon for an operation.

Word of Appreciation

To Mrs. S. A. Lutgen and her Sunday School class of young men, Greeting.

We, the officers and members of Casey Post No. 5, Dept. of Nebraska, take this opportunity to manifest in some degree the universal satisfaction and appreciation of the honor conferred on us as a body by inviting our presence at the M. E. church on the night of March 3, to attend the rendering of your magnificent Patriotic Program, which we assure you was very good, and was much appreciated by all of us, and together extend to you and your class our sincere thanks for same.

Watch for the Kuppenheimer Style Book

This book is of value to every man who respects his appearance; who thinks twice about his clothes. It's a book that accurately describes and pictures the advance styles for men and young men.

The House of Kuppenheimer is an actual creator of styles. Their models are regarded as authoritative. They are accepted, imitated, unequalled. They include clothes for every age, mind and mood. College men, young business men, and older men who are keen, alert and willing to stay young, will find their ideals in these models. Other models along more staid lines for those who prefer simple dignity.

The Kuppenheimer Label this season means everything to you. It means the garment is pure virgin wool; that it is correct style, to the finest drawn line; that it is well, thoroughly, intelligently tailored by picked craftsmen. It means that the fit, wear, style and satisfaction of the clothes are fully warranted. It's a guarantee that guards you, a promissory note for satisfaction that is absolutely valid.

Better see the new garments on display at our store. Many are arriving. Our stock will be more complete than ever before. Watch for this Style Book—about to come. If you do not receive one, drop us a postal—We'll see that you are supplied.

MILITIA IS HELD IN READINESS

Labor Leaders Assert 100,000 Union Workers Will Obey Order—Impartial Estimate 40,000.

A general strike of the unions in sympathy with the striking street car men went into effect in Philadelphia at midnight the other night. Simultaneously it became known, despite the denial of Gen. Duff, head of the police force, that every national guard regiment in the State of Pennsylvania has received orders to be ready to enter Philadelphia at an hour's notice.

The labor leaders are shouting exultantly that 100,000 men have lined up with the striking motormen and conductors. The police canvassers made the figure less than 20,000. An impartial estimate is 40,000, a little more or a little less.

While the labor leaders are receiving moral support from their fellow workers in all parts of the country, many associations of employers have sent letters and telegrams to the officials of the Rapid Transit Company and the city officials recommending the stern taken and urging them to restrain them in their determination not to submit to the strikers' demand for an independent investigation of the strike of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company against the car men's union has broadened into a fight between employers who insist on their right to run open shops and labor unionism. From now on the issue is the life or death of labor unionism in Philadelphia.

All policemen, firemen and specialists who have been on duty since the strike began received orders to remain at their posts. The emergency automobiles in the city had couraged were increased in number and measures taken to send a force of men to any section of the city at a moment's notice. Many of these machines are driven by their owners, wealthy men, who have volunteered for police duty and have been sworn in.

The outlook is ominous, even to the most cheerful observer. So much bitterness has developed in the last few days that the people of Philadelphia are preparing for any kind of trouble.

ON ICE FLOES FOR HOUR.

Mother Saves One-Year-Old and Her Sister After Accident in Miami River.

Huddled, drenched and shivering on cakes of ice, Mrs. William Evans and her two little children floated for two hours in the Miami river near Springfield. Of the other night before they could be rescued, the woman attempted to ford a shallow swollen river in a buggy. A cable of ice struck the horse, which reared and overturned, the vehicle. Mrs. Evans, keeping herself afloat by holding to an ice cake, assisted her children aboard the ice and then mounted another herself. All were near collapse when rescued.

OKLAHOMA IS FOR INCOME TAX.

Both houses of the Oklahoma Legislature without a dissenting vote, adopted resolutions ratifying the income tax amendment to the constitution of the United States. In his message Governor Haskell seriously questioned the advisability of the amendment, but the Legislature did not seem to share his fears.

TRADE AND INDUSTRY.

The common council of Duluth adopted the proposed franchise of the Canadian Northern road for entrance to the city. The road is required to pay street assessments in the same amount as other streets.

Repetition of the benefits of good roads to both State and farmer, methods of road building, agricultural schools as a means of increasing the State's wealth and similar questions will occupy much of the time of the cooperation and agricultural development congress which will be held in St. Paul.

EFFECTS OF A SNOWSLIDE IN THE MOUNTAINS.

HUNDREDS LOSE LIVES IN IDAHO AVALANCHE

Slides Swept Trains Over Edge of Canyon

Twenty-three Dead, Twenty-five Missing, Under Avalanche in State of Washington.

Conditions almost unprecedented in that section have virtually cut off the entire northwest and have tied up traffic on half a dozen transcontinental railroads. Thaws in the mountains have caused avalanches and snow slides that have swept away mountain towns and sections of railroad tracks from Nevada to British Columbia. Floods also have caused widespread damage.

In the Cascade mountains in Washington two Great Northern trains were buried by an avalanche. Twenty bodies were recovered and scores are injured or missing. The exact number of deaths caused by avalanches in the Rockies, in Idaho, and in western Montana probably will not be known until the summer sun melts the great masses of snow and ice in the canyons into which several mining towns were swept.

Further details of the disaster in which an avalanche swept two Great Northern passenger trains and a part of the town of Wellington, Wash., down the mountainside at the west portal of the Cascade tunnel shows it to be more serious than first reported. Twenty-three lives are known to have been lost when the mass of snow, stones and uprooted trees hurled the cars containing seventy sleeping persons over the narrow ledge to the bottom of the canyon 200 feet below, and twenty-five more were reported missing. Besides these a score were injured.

The avalanche rolled down the mountain at 4:30 a. m. The two trains, three locomotives, four powerful electric motors, the depot and water tank were swept off the ledge and deposited in a twisted mass of wreckage at the foot of the mountain. The noise from the wreckage could be heard throughout the valley. Of each other 200 feet below the sliding on which they stood when the avalanche swept over them. The cars were crushed into kindling wood and no one in the train escaped injury. The slide filled the chert on which the tracks at Wellington are laid and rolled off the edge into the valley.

Messages telling of the disaster were sent to Everett and a relief train bearing physicians, nurses and work cars, was made up and dispatched. On the previous slides which blocked the road and swept away parts of the track, the rescue train could get no further than Seattle, whence the rescuers had to make their way on foot over the snow.

In the later wreck of Oriental Limited train No. 2, east bound, on the Great Northern, one person was killed and twelve were injured. The entire train escaped plunging down a fifty-foot embankment near Millan by a narrow margin. It carried 175 passengers. As the train was rounding a curve the engineer, Alonzo Carl, of Spokane, saw a great mass of bowlders blocking the way. Carl threw on the emergency brakes twenty-five feet before the train ran into the rocks. When the train struck the mass gas tank in the cars exploded. Fire started immediately in five of the forward cars and they began to topple over the embankment. Conductor B. S. Robertson ran forward and uncoupled the last three cars, saving them.

The exact number of dead in all the disasters will not be known for weeks. Not until the snow, which is over forty feet deep in the canyon, has melted. Workmen digging in the snow and wreckage report finding dismembered bodies, severed arms and hands.

Four transcontinental lines into Washington and Oregon are blocked. Only one railroad is operating into Salt Lake City. West of Utah the Southern Pacific and Western Pacific lines have been cut by swollen mountain streams.

MOB RULES DALLAS, TEXAS.

Snatched Aged Colored Man from Court and Put Him to Death.

Snatched from before the bar of justice, where his trial on the charge of criminally assaulting a 2-year-old white child was about to begin, Allen Brooks, an aged negro, was lynched in Dallas, Texas, by a mob of 5,000 men.

Brooks was seized in the courtroom by fifteen leaders of the avenging mob and was tossed through a window to the main body, which waited like a pack of ravening wolves for their prey in the street below. His broken body was dragged through the streets and he was hanged to the Elks arch, which adorns the heads of the seventh citizens. The mob was led by an old negro. With it all hardly a loud word was spoken, not a shot was fired, and above the dull murmurings of the mob could be heard the aged negro's pleading shrieks for mercy.

After Brooks was hanged Dallas for nearly three hours was in the hands of the mob. The jail was stormed and death was threatened to three other negroes, held on charges of murder. They had been spirited away, however, and after searching for them in vain the mob dispersed.

The crime for which Brooks paid the penalty was one of the most brutal in the history of Dallas. His victim is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Ruven.

POISON PLOT LAD TO SUITOR.

Minnesota Taken on Charge of Sending Girl Poisoned Candy.

Leo Radtke, a bachelor, 30 years old, was arrested on his farm north of Litchfield, Minn., by Sheriff Bertelson, of Meeker County, and is now held in the county jail on a charge of attempting to poison Miss Minnie Lathens, 20 years old, his former sweetheart, who is soon to marry another man. The poison alleged to have been found in a box of honeysuckle candy, presented to Miss Lathens, who will be married to Frank Wurdell Sunday. It is alleged that Radtke once vowed before Miss Lathens that she would never marry any man but him. A part of the candy, when it was received by Miss Lathens, was fed to a dog, which immediately died. It is alleged Dr. Sheppard, of Hutchinson, then sent the rest of the candy to the State University in St. Paul and received a report claiming that it contained quantities of strychnine.

PLUG WRECK AND LOOT.

Boys Open Switch with Idea of Robbing Victims' Homes.

The arrest of George Lenko, aged 10 years, Stephen Yaski, 14 years, Edward Gydowski, 12, Andrew Michien, 12 and Arthur Gydowski, 15, revealed the attempt of these youngsters to wreck the early New Haven Railroad train leaving New York shortly after noon for the purpose, as they confessed, of looting the bodies of the dead and injured. They got so far as to open the switch near the east Port Chester (Conn.) freight yard. A switchman happened to see them and closed it in time to avert an accident. The boys admitted that they were regular attendants at moving picture shows in Port Chester and had acquired some of their ideas of outlawry from the melodramatic scenes of the "canned drama."

FOREIGN

The German emperor's military of war have decided to introduce the aeroplane in some form into the regular army equipment, with the intention of attaching a flying corps to every regiment.

It is learned on excellent authority that the emperor of Germany intends to go for a cruise in the Mediterranean as soon as the season is over, but it is not likely that Greece will be visited this year. The emperor may go again to Albania with his daughter and one of her sons for a week or two.

At Des Moines, Iowa, the court, room at the police station was recently turned into a church, and a service was conducted by the Rev. J. Calfee, an evangelist, who took the judge's usual place and preached a sermon to the entire night shift of the Des Moines police force. This convert was made.

Serious friction between the police and thousands of Socialists occurred in Berlin and other cities of Germany when the Socialists held meetings and marched in the streets to protest against the proposed franchise bill of the government. The police used their sabres in dispersing the marchers, who in some places made a show of resistance by throwing stones and other missiles. Many were wounded on both sides before the police, with the aid of soldiers, were able to repress the demonstrations.

IDENTIFIED AS TORTURER.

Age Victim Admits a Prisoner 14 Years After Robbery.

This is the man that bound me and my wife and burned out feet until we told where we had hidden our money, said John Wagner, 80 years old, as he picked Frank Donahoe out of a line of eight men at the Elva police station, Pittsburg. "It was fourteen years ago, but I shall never forget his face." Donahoe was sent to jail to await trial for burglary. Two companions are serving terms in prison for the crime but Donahoe fled and was captured on his return home. As the prisoner was being led away the aged man wept and said: "I have prayed that the guilty one would be captured, because those men were responsible for my wife's death."

WOODSMAN EATEN BY WOLVES.

James Smith, a woodsman, was eaten by wolves in the forest near Ally, Mo., after fighting a desperate battle for his life. The wolves attacked him while he was alone, awaiting the return of his brother. When the latter returned he found his brother's bones in the center of a circle of five dead wolves, while an empty repeating rifle showed that he had been overpowered before he could reload the weapon.

PERSON LOOKS GOOD TO HIM.

Declining to take advantage of the pardon granted to him by President Taft, Thomas Taylor, sentenced to fifteen years in the Atlanta penitentiary for the murder of his wife, will remain there as one of the "trusties."

ENGINEER AND MINER KILLED.

William Douglas, engineer of the McAlester Coal Mining Company at Buck, Okla., was killed, and Paul Talcher and Case Manual, miners, were fatally hurt when a cage they were in dropped to the bottom of the shaft. Talcher died later.

SLIDE SWEEPS TRAINS OVER EDGE OF CANYON

Twenty-three Dead, Twenty-five Missing, Under Avalanche in State of Washington.

FAMILIES TRAPPED IN SLEEP

Stowslides That Destroy Property and People Start by Chinook Winds and Warm Rains.

Sixty lives have been lost, it is feared, in two great snowslides which brought disaster to the mining towns of the rich Coeur d'Alene district in Northern Idaho. At 10:35 o'clock the other night a snowslide swept down the mountain, striking the Little town of Mace and burying twenty-five houses and their sleeping occupants in a mass of snow and ice at the bottom of the canyon. At 5:30 a. m. the next day, another slide rushed down on the town of Burke, crushing a score of houses under thousands of tons of earth and snow. There is fear that the number of dead at Burke may be even larger than that at Mace. Because of the larger population of Burke, about 800, the houses were closer together.

Mothers hauled their children to the side hills; brothers dragged little sisters to places of safety; and when the slide struck many of the homes were deserted by fear-stricken women and children, while the bread providers were rescuing injured at the stricken sister town.

Old-timers in the Coeur d'Alene district had been sounding daily warnings to Mace, Burke and Black Bear that because of the record depth of the snow, slides were imminent. For sixteen winters these towns have escaped devastating slides and so long had the confidence of the miner residents been that their homes and families were safe that no precautions had been taken.

The little mining town of Mace lies between precipitous mountain sides, a straggling line of cottages in the creek bottoms, bisected by the lines of the Northern Pacific and Oregon Railroad and Navigation Company. Its one industry is mining and its big mine is the Standard. With scarce a dividing line perceptible the towns of Black Bear, Gem, Mace and Burke form a long string of houses for six miles.

Mace is divided into two parts, known as Upper and Lower Mace, respectively. The catastrophe occurred in Lower Mace, where dwelt about 300 miners, employed in the Standard mines. Most of these men were unmarried and lived in the Hotel Standard. Reports are that this hotel was in the path of the avalanche.

Though first reports of the disaster were that the town of Gem, Idaho, a mile above Mace on the same side of the canyon, had been overwhelmed, later news indicated that the town escaped. The slide was half a mile long and thirty feet deep.

Thirty-five Italians, sleeping in an outfit car on the Northern Pacific siding, who were swept away with their car in the bottom of the canyon, used the tools in their car to dig themselves out.

LIVE-STOCK RECEIPTS FALL OFF.

Government Figures Show Drop from Previous Years in January.

Internal-commerce movements in January, according to statistics of the department of commerce and labor, showed heavy movements of coal and coke in the east, increased grain receipts at the interior markets and light movements of live stock in the middle west and of cotton in the south.

At seven primary interior markets live stock receipts during the month aggregated 3,081,892 head, compared with 3,705,892 and 4,528,833 head in January of 1909 and 1908. Receipts of hogs were 31 per cent below those of January, 1908, and 48 per cent below the January, 1909, total. All the cities sharing in the decline.

Shipments of packing house products from Chicago aggregated 167,701,123 pounds, compared with 159,834,534 and 212,298,423 pounds during January of 1909 and 1908.

TOWNS IN OHIO INUNDATED.

Thousands in Distress, Traffic Impeded, Business Demoralized.

Fully a thousand people homeless, other thousands living on the second floors of their homes, traffic impeded and business demoralized in many places, is the situation in Ohio as the result of the floods. A bridge was washed away at Defiance. Mechanicsburg is still under water. Boats used in the greater part of Warren, where the Mahoning is on a rampage. Water is creeping upon the business section of Napoleon, and the Cuyahoga River has inundated Clinton and Warwick. Rain is still falling in the southern part of the State, which will add to the flood in the Ohio River valley. At Zanesville several hundred families have been driven from their homes and the suffering is acute. At Fremont great danger still lurks about the gorged Sandusky River.

TRAIN ROLLS INTO RIVER.

Two Dead and One Missing in Pennsylvania Wreck.

One man was instantly killed, one died; another is unaccounted for and believed to be dead, and nearly a score of others had narrow escapes when the Linesville passenger train of the Pennsylvania Railroad jumped the track at Rock Point Park, Newcastle, Pa., and plunged down a fifteen-foot embankment into the ice-filled Beaver River. The engineer and fireman of the train were carried into the river with the locomotive and were rescued by means of a long hose.

FIREMAN FIGHTS TEN STORIES TO DEATH.

In fighting fire which destroyed the tenth floor of a twelve-story building on Murray street, New York, occupied by printing firms, Harry Burgess, a fireman, was instantly killed. Burgess accidentally walked into the elevator shaft and dropped ten stories.

ADAMITS PART IN RULER'S MURDER.

Asserting he took part in the assassination of Ellenbogen, Empress of Austria, in 1898, Christian Keppler, aged 49, gave himself up to the police in Cincinnati. Blackball by a former convict, says Keppler, drove him to surrender.

WIFE UNDER KNIFE, MAN DIES.

Under the strain of anxiety as to the outcome of an appendicitis operation being performed upon his wife in an adjoining room, John McCarthy dropped dead of heart disease at his home in East Hampton, Mass. Mrs. McCarthy survived the operation.

GRANT WITNESS COMBATS EVIDENCE.

Walter Dagen, 50 years old, who was expected to be the principal witness for the State in the prosecution of former county commissioners indicted in Tiffin, O., recently for alleged grafting, committed suicide to-day. His death will seriously hamper the prosecution.

CAPTAIN BREAKS THROUGH.

The captain of a Russian ship, suffering from a severe nervous attack and her condition is considered exceedingly unsatisfactory.

THREE LOST LIVES IN N. Y. C. FIRE.

The Railroad U. M. C. A. building at Rotterdam Junction, N. Y., belonging to the Boston & Maine Railroad, was destroyed by fire and three employees of the road perished in the flames.

TRAMP SAVES CHILD'S LIFE.

Frank Strone a few days ago was a tramp leading his wife westward on a freight train with El Paso as his destination. To-day he owns a half interest in the Valverde cattle range, said to be valued at nearly $1,000,000, with its 30,000 head of cattle and 100 square miles of land in Jeff Davis and Pecos counties in Texas. The range is owned by Samuel W. Jennings, reputed to be worth several millions. A few days ago the 7-year-old daughter of Jennings was crossing the railroad track. A train was bearing down on her and she seemed doomed, when Strone grabbed her and pulled her from the track. Strone went on his way, but persons who witnessed the rescue reported the matter, and three days ago he was located by Jennings and taken to the ranch. A day or two later a deed was filed transferring a half interest in the property to the girl's rescuer.

EX-SOLDIER TO HANG FOR MURDER.

In Ansonville, Neb., District Judge Harrington has sentenced Walter Rifenberg, convicted of the murder of Joseph Davis, to be hanged June 17. Rifenberg, who was formerly a soldier in the regular army, will be executed in the State penitentiary at Lincoln.

Specific Enumeration
 Census enumerators are required to enter on the schedule the name of every person whose usual place of abode on April 15, 1910, was with the family or in the dwelling place for which the enumeration is being made. The head of the family is to be entered first, then the wife; next the children, whether sons or daughters in the order of their ages; and lastly, all other persons living with the family, whether relatives, boarders, lodgers, or servants. The head of the family, whether husband or father, widow or unmarried person of either sex, is to be designated by the word "head"; and the other members of a family as wife, father, mother, son, daughter, grandson, daughter-in-law, uncle, aunt, niece, boarder, lodger, servant, etc., according to the particular relationship which the person bears to the head of the family.

How Roosevelt Cut a Gordian Knot
 In his now famous series, "Traveling with Taft," running through each issue of Human Life, Alfred Henry Lewis in the March number tells the following: A certain Scotch-English nobleman, one Fraser, who had commanded in the Boer War, was with Mr. Roosevelt socially. General Crozier, of our own army, came in per appointment. General Crozier in his spare moments has invented a "rod" bayonet. Also he has arranged its adoption by our army in lieu of the sword bayonet.

Mr. Roosevelt had sent for General Crozier to come and defend the device. After talking pro and con, Mr. Roosevelt said suddenly: "Well, there's nothing like a test. Aside from the work your bayonet does, Crozier, the troops complain that it is too weak. Suppose we have a trial."

Mr. Roosevelt sent for a couple of Springfielders, one armed with a sword and the other with a "rod." He gave General Crozier the one adorned with his own invention, keeping the sword bayonet himself. Feet well spread, weapon in position, Mr. Roosevelt gave the word. "On guard there, Crozier!"

The noble North Briton sat agast. Surely the head of the greatest nation on the map was not about to fence with real bayonets against an experienced soldier! With the best and most skillful play, with the most forbearing caution, there was obvious peril in it! Either one or the other might get himself stuck like a pig!

The play went on for full two minutes. Then there was a rasping sound, a lock, a twist, and—snap! The Roosevelt sword bayonet had broken the Crozier "rod" bayonet off at the shank.

The enthralled North Briton heaved a deep breath and came out of his trance. He tells the tale in English army circles, where it is greatly disbelieved.

A young men's association has been formed at West Point and rooms have been rented and furnished for the use of its members.

Robinson Brothers of Waterloo, Neb., have made from thirty to forty tests of corn from all parts of Nebraska every day since November 15. The corn was sent to them to test as they buy 250,000 bushels or more each year for seed. This is the plain, matter of fact statement made by the firm:

"Fifty per cent of the corn gathered before the snows early in the winter will not germinate. The corn gathered since the snows and early frosts is absolutely worthless as seed. We have made hundreds of tests and always with this same result."

Washington, D. C., Feb. 21.—Not in many years have the affairs of any tribe of Indians been so fully and carefully examined by the government as have those of the Omaha Indians in the last three months, and the conditions disclosed in Thurston county have somewhat appalled the probers.

The competency commission which was set in motion by Commissioner Valentine and Assistant Commissioner Abbott has discovered that the Omaha Indians have been the victims for years of white men who have grown rich at the expense of the red men. Already orders have gone forth from the secretary of the interior for the cancellation of hundreds of fraudulent leases and sub-leases and for the prosecution of certain white men on the reservation for various offenses against the federal laws.

SIGNALS OF DISTRESS
Wayne People Should Know How to Read and Heed Them
 Sick kidneys give many signals of distress. The secretions are dark, contain a sediment. Passages are frequent, scanty, painful. Backache is constant day and night. Headaches and dizzy spells are frequent. The weakened kidneys need quick help. Don't delay! Use a special kidney remedy. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys, backache and urinary disorders. Wayne evidence proves this statement.

Form mild, easy action of the bowel's a single dose of Deaer's Regulets is enough. Treatment cures habitual constipation. 25 cents a box. Ask your druggist for them.
