The New Baptist Church Will Be Dedicated Next Sunday, March 27, 1910

Some Early History and Other Items of Interest Concerning This Society

The Baptist Society in Wayne was organized on December 17, 1881, by Rev. J. F. Heilner. The first class consisted of seven members, viz: Rev. J. F. Heilner, A. M. Heilner, R. J. Morgan, Anna Morgan, W. B. Jordon, Mary E. Jordon, and M. N. Conover. R. J. Morgan and W. B. Jordon were the first deacons; J. F. Heilner, W. B. Jordon and R. J. Morgan trustees; M. N. Conover, clerk, and Anna M. Heilner, treasurer.

The first church building was erected in 1882 and dedicated June 25th of that year. Rev. W. B. Watson of Sioux City, was moderator and Rev. L. C. Rush, of St. Edwards, clerk. The church was dedicated free of debt. On April 5th, 1884, Rev. Heilner resigned as pastor and was succeeded by Rev. G. T. Travis in June 1884, who until November 1885 devoted half his time to Wayne and half to Hartington, and from the latter date until November 1886, he was pastor in charge. Rev. C. A. Hartzog was a supply for a short time and on June 1887 Rev. E. M. James came to the charge but only remained a few months. In August 1888, Rev. W. H. Swartz came to the charge and was pastor until March 11, 1890. On April 27th 1890 Rev. W. W. Theobald was chosen pastor for four months, and gave such excellent satisfaction that he was engaged as permanent pastor, and continued in that capacity until December 1st, 1897, with the exception of one year while he completed his education in Chicago. It was under the pastorate of Rev. Theobald that the building which now gives place to the modern brick structure was erected, at a cost of $2,700, it being dedicated May 1, 1892. From the organization of the society up to the time of Rev. Theobald's departure there were 298 members received, but deaths removals and other causes had taken away 158 so that at that time the real membership was 140.

January 1, 1898, Rev. C. A. Lemmon was chosen pastor, and continued in labors abundant until June 1, 1899, at which time Rev. C. R. Weldon took up the work and carried it successfully forward until June 15, 1903. Under his pastorate 98 members were received and a $2,000 parsonage erected. In the summer of 1903 Rev. E. E. Duely, of St. Paul, was called to the work, and entered upon his duties on August 30th of that year, continuing until June 1906. His labors were blessed with an accession of 56 members. On July 1, 1906 Rev. Parker Smith, the present pastor, was called to the charge and began his work on August 1, 1906. On December of that year the society celebrated the 25th anniversary of its organization at which time it had a membership of 177, with a promising Sunday school of 150. Since that date, under the leadership of Rev. Smith there has been a steady advance along all lines and today the society has a membership of nearly 230.

The steady growth and development of Wayne and surrounding country, and the growth of the church, has led them for several years to begin to think about a new edifice, one larger and more in keeping with the advancement of the community and their own needs, the erection of churches, yet it is the modern style, and the interior is finished according to all the most modern plans for such edifices. In size the building is 60x62 feet. The main auditorium is 38x38 feet with a side room 18x33 feet separated with a rolling partition so that it can readily all be thrown into one room. The main auditorium is seated with pews finished in golden oak, and has a seating capacity of 220. The side room is seated with chairs and has a capacity of 100. Across the front end over the porch entrance is a gallery seated with chairs that will accommodate 80 persons.

The basement auditorium is 38x38 feet, with a side room 18x33 feet, folding doors separating the two. Now that the building is completed this main basement room will be used as a dining room and other purposes required. The basement has sewer connections, kitchen and closet conveniences and all the accessories of an up-to-date building. To the rear of the main auditorium on the first floor is the Bapistry, the pulpit and choir platform and space for a pipe organ. The entire building has furnace heat, is electric lighted, woodwork being grained in quarter oak style. The plastered walls are left in shape that they may be frescoed later on. There are handsome stained glass windows and the whole structure is a credit to the architect, the society which has erected it, and the town in which it is located. The cost of the entire structure is about $16,000.

The building committee was Rev. Parker Smith, Herman Henney, Jno. Donner, John Larson, C. E. Sprague, I. W. Alter, J. W. Bartlett, Eli Laughlin, O. A. King, C. D. Martin and S. R. Theobald, each one of them having some part of the work to look after, and to which they have given careful attention.

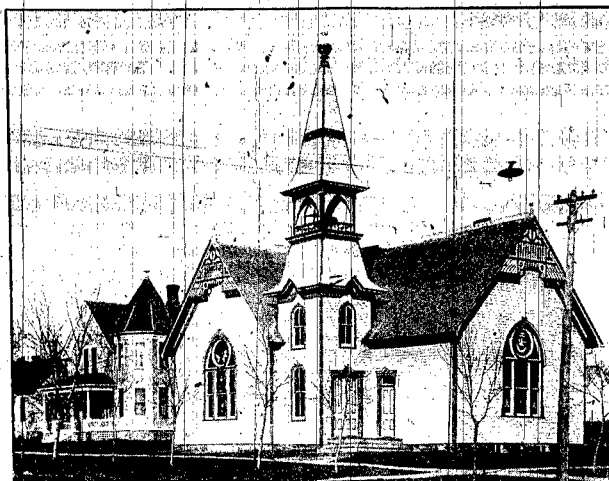

Rev. Haynes, of Iowa, will have charge of the dedicatory service next Sunday. There will be other clergymen in attendance, some most excellent music by a large choir under the direction of Prof. M. S. Davies. The whole day will be one of rejoicing and praise, with devout thankfulness to the giver of all good and perfect gifts for the way in which He has led them along the years. Everyone will be made welcome to these services, and are invited to attend.

Telegraph Letter

Under the new system which went into effect the first of the month, the Western Union will transmit a fifty-word letter at night at the same rate as a ten-word day message. The message will be taken at destination and mailed for the first delivery the next morning. It will undoubtedly become quite popular.

Try It and See

It takes a rich man to draw a check, a pretty girl to draw attention, a horse to draw a cart, a porous plaster to draw the skin, a toper to draw a cork, a free lunch to draw a crowd, and a well displayed advertisement in this paper to draw trade.

POWER OVER ILLNESS

In securing the English Players' Shakespeare's delightful comedy, "As You Like It" for a tour of the West it was necessary for Manager Walker to provide for the small stages which are to be encountered in even the best of western cities. A special production was built, in exact duplicate of the original which can be used on any stage. This, with the beautiful and correct costumes, will make the engagement in this city notable in many respects. "As You Like It" appears here April 14.

Epworth League Sociable
The Epworth League is going to hold a unique sociable, with a good program, at the M. E. parsonage on Friday evening of this week. All the members of the League and its friends have been furnished a little sack, in which they are asked to place as many pennies as they are years old. The proceeds are to go toward the new organ the League will buy.

And others will furnish a musical treat. The Epworth League, with greetings most hearty.
Feel sure you will come to your own birthday party.

Everyone is invited whether he has a sack or not.

Gen. Charles F. Manderson, one of Nebraska's foremost citizens, is chairman of a committee of well-known men formed for the purpose of providing for a History of the Trans-Mississippi Exposition of 1898. The cost of publication was provided for in advance. The book is profusely illustrated with splendid views of the grounds and fine photographs of the great structures. In one sense the History is an album of beautiful pictures, well worthy of preservation. The Exposition did more to advertise the advantages of Nebraska than any other enterprise, and the History of the achievement is at this late day a big advertising card, descriptive of Nebraska's greatness.

Evolution of a Term

Many persons are puzzled to understand what the terms "four penny," "six penny," "ten penny," mean, as applied to nails. "Four penny" means four pounds to 1,000 nails and "six penny" means six pounds to 1,000 nails, and so on. It is an old English term, and meant at first "ten pound nails" (the 1,000 being understood) but the English clipped it to "ten puns" and from that it degenerated until "penny" was substituted for pound.

Sudden Death
No event has produced more of a shock to a large part of our community than the announcement Wednesday forenoon that Mrs. Emil Weber was dead. She was at the home of her daughter in Laurel at the time, having been there several days. While her health has not been of the best for the past few years she retired Tuesday evening apparently as well as ever. As she did not arise in the morning some one went to call her about 8 o'clock when it was discovered that she was dead. Life having passed away some time in the night while she was peacefully sleeping. Her husband at once secured an automobile and went to Laurel as did other relatives during the day. The remains were brought here this morning at ten o'clock, but we understand that no definite arrangements have as yet been made for the funeral. Mrs. Weber has been a resident of Wayne for over 20 years and had a very large circle of acquaintances, all of whom are saddened by her untimely death. We will try to give fuller details in our next issue.

Did Not Buy
The council committee having in charge the matter of securing a site for a city hall and public library had in mind the purchase of the old National Bank building at the corner of Main and 3rd streets, now occupied by Dr. Thomas and others, but before they had a chance to make a report and the council to act on the matter, J. W. Mason and others acting with him, secured an injunction against the council buying the building, so the committee reported adversely to the purchase and that settled the matter so far as that site was concerned, and perhaps any other in the matter. The objectors raised the point that the council had no authority to purchase a building for the purpose designated, and that it was contrary to law for them to do so without first submitting the question to the voters for their sanction. If that is the law, it is no doubt a wise provision. The city, however, needs both a city hall and a public library building and it is certainly hoped that the necessary arrangements can be taken to get these improvements for our thriving little city.

L. A. Fenske spent Sunday with a brother at Pierce.
Dr. J. J. Williams went to Sioux City Monday afternoon.
Rev. Ringer was a passenger to Sioux City Tuesday morning.
J. W. Alter has been out on his ranch in Holt county the past week.
M. T. Munsinger went to Tabor, Iowa, Tuesday morning, on business.
The Baptist ladies, as usual, scored a success with their bazaar, dinner and supper on St. Patrick's day.
W. J. Lowery took a vacation nearly all last week from wielding the razor and shears at the Hotel Boyd barber shop.
Prof. A. Crego, superintendent of the Randolph schools, accompanied his contestants in the debate to Wayne Friday, and was the guest of St. Kemp and wife over night.
The good roads, warm weather, and the opening of the automobile season has made work so lively at Ralph Clark's automobile repair shop that he hardly finds time to eat.

Bonds Taken Up
At the special meeting of the city council last week an action was taken by our city fathers that will meet with the hearty approval of all the tax payers. It was unanimously voted to take up all of the electric light bonds outstanding, amounting to $3,500 and interest a little over $3,000 in all. This action will leave the plant free of debt and it will now prove a source of revenue toward keeping up and making other city improvements as the need may arise.

Accident at Norfolk
Norfolk, Neb., March 22. Frank Kayl, aged twenty-eight and unmarried, was fatally injured in a printing press at the Daily News plant tonight. The press was a flat-bed perfecting machine and Kayl was leaning his head to make a correction in the page form. He had neglected to turn off the motor attached to the press, and the belt accidentally slipped over so that it started the press. His head was caught by the bed and badly mangled.

High School Notes.
Examinations this week.
"It costs a lot to raise a child and he ought to be made worth it."
Francis J. Gabel.
Our high school boys will cross bats with the Wakefield high school baseball team on the local diamond, Friday afternoon at 3:30.
Anyone wishing to start pupils in the kindergarten this spring may do so, but it will not be any advantage over starting them next fall since they will have to remain in this work all next year.
Our high school Agriculture class will test free of charge not to exceed a bushel of seed corn for any farmer who will bring in his corn for that purpose, the corn to be carefully and accurately tested, each ear separately, a definite report to be made and every ear to be returned to the owner. Farmers, give us a trial.

NEWS, NOTATIONS, NOTIONS
WRITTEN, CREDITED, STOLEN

Items Relating to People, Events, and Different Things.
Belden is to have a baseball club for the season of 1910.
W. G. Archer, of Winside, has had his pension increased to $15 per month.
Nelson Moore and wife, of Coleridge, have celebrated their golden wedding.
John Larson and family, of Stanton, have gone to Sweden with the intention of remaining.
A good many business changes at Wausa this spring. The Gazette noted at least five in its last issue.
Alliance has brought suit to restrain the State Normal board from locating the 4th school at Crawford.
The City of Stanton has $10,000 invested in its electric light plant, water works and street improvement.
Several families will leave Winside about April 1st for their claims on the irrigated lands of Idaho, says the Tribune.
Prof. O. R. Bowen has decided not to be a candidate for the superintendent of the Pierce schools another year.
Winside, like a good many other Nebraska towns, is losing a large number of its residents this spring by removal to other fields.
Work on the new Catholic parochial school building at Bloomfield has begun. The structure is to cost about $15,000.
The Osmond Republican says: "Mind your own business and maybe some day you will have a business of your own to mind."
Geo. L. Parker, who has been cashier of the State Bank at Coleridge for the past 13 years, goes to the First National Bank at Hartington.
All of our exchanges indicate that there is a great demand for Nebraska real estate this spring. There are numerous sales and at good prices.
Oscar Borg, of Wakefield, has sold to a Yankton, South Dakota, firm 3,000 bushel of his 1908 corn crop at $1.00 per bushel. It will be re-sold for seed.
Coleridge has passed a curfew ordinance and hereafter children under sixteen years of age must be off the street within ten minutes after the ringing of the bell by the village marshal.
By winning his fight for a change in the rules of the House, Representative Norris has placed himself in a position to be a strong candidate for the office of U. S. Senator from Nebraska, if he desires the place.
The Wausa Gazette is of the opinion that it pays to be a hog, at the present price of pork, and bases its statement on the fact that O. C. Nidy, a farmer north of that town, sold four hogs that averaged 505 pounds each and brought him $197.
After being at the head of the First National Bank at Hartington for 19 years, President F. Nelson has resigned and will go to an Omaha insurance company. George L. Parker, of Coleridge, will be his successor.
We notice that some of our exchanges are inclined to publish all the stuff the Rambler automobile company is inclined to send. If their machines are no better than the inclination of the firm to pay for what it gets, they are not much good.
The Stanton Register wisely says: "There will be something doing in this United States the next two years. Labor troubles are multiplying and as cost of living increases the demand for more wages gets more fierce. Coupled with the facts that speculation is getting near the limit, a reaction is sure to come."
There must be a good deal of religious atmosphere in Pierce. E. M. Richmond, who has been working in a laundry there, and D. J. Malone, who has been a book-keeper in a lumber yard each announced last week that they would enter the ministry at once. Richmond has secured a pastorate near O'Neill, and Mr. Malone will take up pastoral work in the fall in the Congregational denomination.

Normal Notes
Prof. and Mrs. Bright spent Saturday and Sunday in Winside, the guests of Mr. Bright's brother and sister.
In looking over the roll of prospective graduates, we find there are more than ever before. This is certainly very gratifying.
Already applications are coming in for teachers for next year. This is evidence that school boards are anxious to secure good teachers.
The campus is being raked, trees trimmed, etc., so that in a few weeks the Hill will be one of the most beautiful spots in Wayne.
Fred Pile spent the week end in Omaha. His Fraternity, the Phi Delta Theta, held a banquet at the Omaha Club on Saturday evening.
A number of the faculty and students will be in attendance a part of the time at the Norfolk Teachers' Association next week. Several members of the faculty are on the program.
More than thirty students were taking county examinations at the College on Friday and Saturday of last week. Several will teach spring terms but the majority are getting their certificates early so they may contract for schools this fall.
The special literary program given on last Saturday evening was quite an unique affair. It was after the manner of a regular Teachers' Association and was called the N. N. C. Teachers' Association. The papers given, and the discussions were splendid.

Mr. Ray Robinson and Miss Ida Larsen, were united in marriage on Wednesday March 23, 1910, at the St. Paul's Lutheran parsonage by Rev. C. J. Ringer. Both of these young people are well known and highly esteemed. The young couple will make their home on the Lund farm two miles northeast of Wayne, where the well wishes of their many friends will follow them.

Will Close Up
We are very sure that this item will come as a sort of thunder-clap of a surprise, but when Roe & Fortner close their meat market Saturday night it will be for good. They have reached the point where, after over 20 years serving the people, they are going to quit the business. We have not time to say more at this time, but will do so next week.

Fine Seed Potatoes

We shipped in a carload of Pure Stock Early Ohio Seed Potatoes from Long Pine, Nebraska. These potatoes were grown in a light, sandy soil and should do extra well in the rich land here. Being grown near here, these potatoes will not be affected by change of climate as is often the case with seed shipped from a long distance. We have hand-picked them and guarantee them free from small or rotted potatoes. It is a good plan to change seed occasionally. Having bought these potatoes last fall when prices were much lower than now, we can sell them to you 25c to 35c a bushel cheaper than you are asked elsewhere.
