CLOSING OF COLLEGE TERM

ALUMNI MEETS THIS MORNING

College Reunion Followed by Old Settlers' Picnic—Basket Dinner—Rev. Corkey Speaks.

Citizens of Wayne and vicinity are attracted to the college today. It marks the close of the institution under private management. When it reopens on September 19, the state will have charge, and the faculty, employed by the state normal board, will be installed.

The annual alumni meeting took place this morning when the members listened to appropriate speeches, and enjoyed a reunion.

Following the alumni, the old settlers gathered at 11 o'clock for their annual picnic on the college campus. Basket dinner spread on the lawn at noon was followed by a brief business session. Rev. Alexander Corkey of the Presbyterian church, is down for an address to the old settlers at 2 o'clock, and his reputation as an eloquent speaker will again be verified.

A free ball game at 4 o'clock this afternoon will attract lovers of that sport.

The Wayne commercial club is taking an active interest in the events of the day.

GRADUATION EXERCISES.

The past week has been a lively and interesting one at the Nebraska Normal college. Classes have graduated from the different departments, and the heads of the college have been pushed with the task of bringing the work to an end and turning the institution over to the state. The attendance during the week has been large, many former students returning for the exercises.

Thursday night the literary contest took place, with the following winners: Orator, Miss Lottie Johnson, of Norfolk; recitation, Miss Emma Anderson, of O'Neill; debate, Miss Edna Baluss, of Atkinson; essay contest, Miss Emma Marilyn, of Winslow.

The elocution department presented "The Cheerful Liar," to a good-sized and appreciative audience at the opera house Friday evening. The cash proceeds amounted to $70.

Nine took part in the oratorical contest Saturday night, and the result was a tie between Miss Etter of Niobrara, and Miss Elsie Myer of Belden, between whom the award of $20 was divided.

Sunday afternoon the baccalaureate sermon was delivered by Rev. Mr. Corkey whose effort was made very appropriate and was listened to with strict attention. The singing was excellent.

Sunday evening the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A. and Catholic Club gave a program jointly. The leaders were Mr. C. R. Chinn of Concord for the Y. M. C. A., Miss Minnie Goadsell of Craig for the Y. W. C. A., and Miss Margaret Carroll of Randolph for the Catholic Club.

Monday night the department of elocution contested for the Mines prize, the winner being M. F. Weitenhiller of Hartington.

Tuesday night took place the debate for the Craven medal. The winner was Thos. Jenkins of Neligh.

The graduating exercises were held last evening. The address was given by Robt. I. Elliott, a former student, and now superintendent of the Broken Bow schools. Fred Pile presented the diplomas, and included in his speech words of farewell to the institution which his father founded and with which the members of the Pile family have long been associated. The program closed with the singing of the college song, written by John Neidhart and put to music by Miss Nellie Stewart.

Last night a prize of $20 was awarded to Milo J. McGee for the most substantial improvement.

FOUND NOT GUILTY.

The Hoskins case in which August Deck was charged by City Marshal Ernest Sasse with carrying a concealed weapon, was threshed out and disposed of in the county court Tuesday afternoon, the defendant being found not guilty. The testimony showed that the defendant had carried in his hip pocket merely the frame of a revolver and that the handle which was exposed was about all there was to it. The evidence showed that Mr. Deck's wife had put the dismantled weapon in his pocket. The showing that the defendant didn't wear a coat and thus that the frame of the gun was visible, and that the weapon was not full-fledged and therefore not dangerous led Judge Britton to defeat the action of the plaintiff.

YOUNG LADIES ENTERTAINED

Thirty young ladies were entertained Monday afternoon at a porch party by Mrs. W. A. Wightman and Mrs. Jas. Ahern at the home of the former, in honor of the Misses Clara and Martini Ahern, of Kankakee, Ill., being sisters of Mr. Jas. Ahern. The hostesses were assisted by Mrs. Harry Fisher, Mrs. Fen Ellis of Omaha, and Mrs. P. H. Kohl. A musical program to which different voices contributed, was followed by a conversational contest which proved of stirring interest. Prizes appropriate to Blue Monday, wash day, were awarded as a result of the contest, the first prize, an embroidered laundry bag, going to Miss Zoe Mellor, and the consolation prize, a miniature wringer, falling to the lot of Miss Kate Gamble. Sherbet and cake were served, and the afternoon passed swiftly and pleasantly for all.

LIBRARY BOARD.

The Library Board held its first meeting since the last of May on Tuesday evening. In the meantime the city council approved the by-laws and fixed the bond of the members at $500.

Five standing committees were appointed by the chairman, the most important of which are the finance committee consisting of Doc. Green, Mrs. Ley, and Mrs. Brown, and the committee to investigate Carnegie's proposition, consisting of Mr. Culler, Mrs. Wilson and Mr. Ahern. The other committees were a lot and location committee, a book and periodical committee and a furniture and supplies committee.

PLEASANT SURPRISE.

Mrs. Dan Harrington gave a successful surprise party Friday afternoon for Miss Nathalie Harrington and the latter's guest, Miss Margaret Benton of Sioux City. Sixteen of their young friends gathered at the Harrington home, and had a joyful time throughout the afternoon. A hunt for animal crackers that had been hidden among the shrubbery on the lawn, proved of lively interest. A prize was awarded to the one finding the most animals. Also later a prize was given for the best picture of an animal drawn on a blackboard. Refreshments crowned a delightful afternoon.

DENIES REPORT.

Under conspicuous headlines the Sioux City Journal of Saturday reports that the death of little Jessie Hiscox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hiscox of Wayne, may have been due to some candy which she ate. Mr. Hiscox denies the suggestion of possible poison. He says his little nephew ate some of the same assortment of candy which the little girl had, and was not in the least sick. The trouble from which the child died was pronounced illetholitis by the attending physician.

ANNUAL MISSIONSFEST.

The German Evangelical Lutheran church will celebrate the annual Missionfest on Sunday, August 21. There will be services in the forenoon and afternoon. Revs. Athendstedt of Emerson, and Ollendorf of Wisner, will assist the local pastor. Services will begin at 10:30 a. m. and 3 p. m. Rev. Athendstedt who has been a missionary for six years in South Africa, will be able to tell personal experiences in the missionary field. All are cordially invited. Rev. J. H. KARPENSTEIN.

FAST RECORD.

Last week the Herald contained an item in relation to a trotting feat of Alice L. Woodford, owned by McClelland Miller of Wayne, on the driving park at Sioux City. Last Thursday the mare made a record that made all of her former records look tame and beat anything ever seen on the Woodland Park course. In company with "Cooksey," she trotted a mile in 2:10 flat, which is the fastest mile ever trotted on that course, either in a race or workout.

HOTEL IMPROVED.

The Union Hotel of which A. G. Bohmert is proprietor, has been generally overhauled and improved lately. The rooms have been repainted and repapered and considerable new furniture has been added. Guests are now assured every comfort and convenience. Mr. Bohmert says he makes a specialty of Sunday dinners, and is ready to serve in a first-class manner families who wish to forego preparing the mid-day meal on that day.

ANNUAL CAMP AT CRYSTAL LAKE

WAYNE COUNTY BOYS INVITED

Asked to Join Second Outing of Northeast Nebraska Y. M. C. A.—Rules of Camp.

Y. M. C. A. boys of northeast Nebraska are joyfully looking forward to the annual outing at Crystal Lake from August 18 to August 25, and the Herald is requested to say that any Wayne county boy between the ages of twelve and seventeen years is entitled and invited to join the party. It will be a week of recreation and pleasure for all who attend, and no doubt Wayne county will be well represented. Those who want to join the party should communicate with A. D. Holloway, secretary, at Wakefield.

The secretary sends out the following statement of requirements and rules:

The second annual camp of the Northeast Nebraska Y. M. C. A. will be held at Crystal Lake August 18 to 25. The camp will be open to any boys between the ages of twelve and seventeen inclusive, in Cedar, Wayne and Dixon counties.

Every boy enjoys camp life, and no better place can be found in Nebraska for a week's outing than Crystal Lake.

Swimming, boating, fishing, base ball, athletics and hikes will be the recreation features.

Educational features will be provided by means of practical talks and lectures. Dr. J. B. Modisett, physical director of the Sioux City Y. M. C. A., will give lectures and demonstrations in first aid to the injured.

The spiritual life will not be neglected. Bible study groups will meet each day, and devotional talks will be given.

The cost to each boy will be $5.00 and railroad fare.

Tents and meals will be provided, but each boy must bring the following outfit:

The camp outfit must be packed in a sack, or a box with handles. Do not take a trunk with you. Wear everyday clothes. An outfit should contain two or three heavy blankets, oil cloth or rubber blanket 7x4 feet, a suit of heavy underwear for sleeping garment, extra stockings, shirts and underwear; towels, soap (in metal box), comb and brush, toothbrush, tennis slippers, swimming trunks, tin plate, tin cup, knife, fork and spoon, and a Bible.

The following may also be taken: Baseball outfit, tennis racket, camera and photo materials, rubber coat, rubber boots, bath robe, pajamas, musical instruments and books.

NO BOY SHOULD ENROLL FOR CAMP UNLESS HE IS WILLING TO BE CHEERFULLY GOVERNED BY THE FOLLOWING RULES:

No firearms will be allowed in camp.

No smoking will be allowed at any time or place.

No swimming except at stated periods and when in charge of leaders.

No boy will be permitted to leave camp without permission of the camp director.

Each boy will be expected to remain for the entire time unless excused on account of sickness or by previous arrangement.

The consent of the parent will be required before any boy will be enrolled for camp, and each application must be accompanied by a deposit of $3.00. Applications are to be sent to A. D. Holloway, Wakefield, Nebraska, after August 1, and none will be received later than August 16. In case any application is withdrawn not later than August 19 the deposit will be returned; if the application is withdrawn later than August 19, or if the boy fails to appear in camp, the deposit will be forfeited to the camp treasury.

MAYOR GAYNOR SHOT.

Mayor William J. Gaynor of New York, who was shot down Tuesday when he was about to start on a voyage to Europe, was not necessarily fatally wounded, and attending physicians believe he will recover unless blood poison sets in. The shot was fired by James J. Gallagher, who had been discharged from the service as night watchman on account of neglect of duty and misconduct. His dismissal from the police force was the basis for his murderous attack on the mayor.

After the shooting the mayor said "I have done my best and this seems to be the result." Mayor Gaynor is

NEW POULTRY ASSOCIATION

Proposed Organization to Encourage Raising Pure-bred Poultry by Wayne County Farmers

J. H. Kate, president of the X-Ray Incubator company, will organize another enterprise for Wayne county. He is now making arrangements to organize a Logan Valley Poultry association. This association will be located in Wayne, and its purpose is to ship eggs and poultry to any part of the United States. The fact that a farmer is usually unable to do the necessary amount of advertising to sell any fancy poultry, has been a drawback to him.

This association expects the farmer to produce the eggs and poultry, and bring it to their office in Wayne. They will advertise it thoroughly in all the farmers' papers in the United States, and will take and ship all orders received, dividing up with the farmer, who produces the eggs and poultry.

By this association the farmer will be able to keep on his farm but one variety and that variety of the very best. He will then have a chance to buy more expensive chickens, knowing full well that the eggs and poultry will be shipped by this association to people who send their orders to Wayne.

This association expects to use the advertising that the X-Ray Incubator Company is now contracting for, getting the names and addresses of people interested in poultry from all over the United States.

This association expects to publish a neat catalogue that will be sent to all the names that send for catalogues of the X-Ray Incubators. This catalogue will set forth the different breeds in poultry, giving the description of each variety and good cuts, so that prospective customers can easily buy any kind of chickens that meet their fancy.

It is expected that this association will ship from Wayne each day from two to five thousand eggs during the breeding season. They also expect to ship poultry in the fall, to fancy breeders, giving the farmer a chance to dispose of his cockerels in the fall at a good price.

There is no question that this association will be of great benefit to Wayne county. Farmers have always been desirous of having better chickens on their farms, but it has seemed to them that it did not pay to invest in them because eggs at the stores brought the same price, but by this association they will be able to get more than double or treble the price ordinarily paid on the market for eggs to ship. They will have no expense in selling these eggs, as they will only be required to bring them to the office of this association once a week, and will be paid each month for the amount received.

No one enterprise could be of greater benefit to the poultry raisers in Wayne county than an association like this. Mr. Kate has for a number of years encouraged farmers to raise but one variety of chickens, and that the very best. He now proposes to help these farmers that have started in the business of raising good poultry, and of one variety. He believes in a short time that all farmers, as well as townspeople, who raise poultry will find it to their advantage to keep the very best of one kind. By the use of this association it will be possible for anyone to raise the very best variety of chickens on the market, because it will be profitable to take care of chickens at the price received for eggs through the association. People may look forward to the time when this association receives, during breeding season, nearly all the surplus eggs that farmers of Wayne county sell.

COUNTY TEACHERS' INSTITUTE

What promises to be one of the best teachers' institutes ever held in Wayne county will take place here during the week beginning August 22 under the direction of Elsie Little, county superintendent. Well-known and high-class instructors have been employed. W. L. Stephens, of Lincoln, will have charge of geography and subjects touching school management. F. M. Gregg, of Peru, will handle parliamentary law, hygiene and physiology. Miss Lura Phillips, of Ames, Iowa, will teach primary work and agriculture. Mrs. M. A. Phillips will conduct the vocal music during the session.

Prof. Gregg is arranging for a parliamentary law tournament on the last day of the institute, and he will give a lecture in the evening. He is an authority on parliamentary law, and his work as an educator is fully understood in Wayne county. Everyone who expects to teach in Wayne county during the coming year is required to attend the institute. In fact, every teacher should want to attend. Time cannot be turned to better advantage.

RURAL ROUTES.

Postmaster McNeal has received instructions from Washington concerning a change in handling rural route No. 2, out of Wayne, the same to become effective September 1, and in regard to the necessity of action on the part of road overseers in repairing the public thoroughfares traveled by the carriers.

Instead of a circuitous route in reaching Altona, as now followed, the carrier on No. 2 will go direct to Altona in the morning and digress to serve the rest of the route after leaving that point. The new rule will be a convenience to the postoffice at Altona.

Postmaster McNeal is directed to notify road overseers that certain repairs to roads used by three of the rural routes must be made soon to insure the service against the liability of being abandoned. If repairs which are pointed out by the department, are not made within thirty days, the postmaster is asked to report the neglect to Washington. It is therefore up to road overseers to get busy.

Next Sunday there will be no services in the German Lutheran church at this place as the pastor, Rev. J. H. Karpenstein, goes to Bloomfield to assist Rev. Rabe in conducting the annual Missionfest.

IN THE VICINITY.

Magnet Mail: Rolla, the four year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hal- leen, while playing around the house of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Dawson, ran into a scythe and cut one of his legs to such an extent that it was necessary to have it sewed up. The services of Dr. Bow- den soon had the little fellow on his feet again.

Laurel Advocate: Frank Graffis is here from Minco, Oklahoma, and informed The Advocate that it was quite probable he would rent a place in this vicinity and return to Nebraska before another season. When asked about the crops in his part of Oklahoma, Mr. Graffis said: "You can say it is pretty dry, pretty dry," and that's about all we could get from him on that subject; but probably that was enough.

Wakefield Republican: Geo. Bar- to fell down in his cave Monday evening and broke three ribs, one of them being torn loose from his back- bone. He had been at the home of his father-in-law and going home about ten o'clock it was very dark and he went to close the cave door when in some way he fell in, going clear to the bottom with the above result. At last reports he was get- ting along as well as can be ex- pected.

Will Hubert, farmer in the vicinity of Emerson, has had more than his share of ill fortune this season, according to the Enterprise. Be- sides recent damage to his crops by hail, he has just suffered loss by fire, Monday evening, while he and his wife were away from home, his barn, with four head of horses, two sets of harness and a granary with 150 bushels of oats, was consumed by fire. He carried a small amount of insurance against fire.

Winside Tribune: G. E. French was rather disgusted with automo- biles Wednesday morning. The evening before he took some ladies out for a ride in his fine Oakland car and just within two miles of town, the batteries gave out and of course the machine wouldn't go. They happened to be near a farmhouse where they could telephone to town for assistance and arrived home just before the rain struck, after being out in all that dust storm.

Battle Creek Enterprise: News comes of the death of little Jessie, the three-year-old daughter and only child of Mr. and Mrs. Will His- cox of Wayne. The little one was sick only a short time and death came from summer complaint. In their great loss the parents have the sympathy of many Battle Creek friends. Mrs. H. G. Whitney was called to Wayne Wednesday to render any necessary aid, but tele- graphed shortly after arriving that the little one had passed away.

Bloomfield Monitor: Coming home from Crofton last Tuesday morning about four o'clock a. m., one car load of boys who had gone over to assist in organizing the W. O. W. camp, ran into a ditch and embank- ment while going to a pretty good clip with the result that John Mc- Court and E. L. Durbin were pitched out head first and got pretty badly jolted up. Ed was rendered insen- sible for a short time having lit against the bank head end first. The other boys, Ed Berryman and Char- ley Eberly, were not thrown out. The machine belonging to O. L. Eis- enbeiss was quite badly damaged, the front axle being badly bent.

Laurel Advocate: Mrs. F. V. Flint spent Tuesday at Allen, and reports ten homes in and around the town under quarantine on account of in- fantile paralysis. The first death was that of a six year old cousin of Mrs. Flint, who lived in the country. A younger sister of the dead child is also seriously affected. The Allen physician seems quite encouraged about the cases that are at present under quarantine. While at Allen a few minutes one evening last week the editor and wife called upon Mr. and Mrs. Q. H. Stevens of the News and found them worrying a good deal on account of their own little boy, a home only a few doors away being under quarantine. Nobody seems to know what causes the dis- ease, or how to cope with it. Mason City, Iowa, is having a terrible siege, not only children but several young men having died.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.

The committee of ladies, consist- ing of Mrs. Jacobs, Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Epler, Mrs. Chace and Mrs. Harrington, who were appointed last spring by Prof. Kemp, under authority of the board, to oversee the purchase of pictures and other works of art for our new high school building, have just received a ship- ment of pictures from Whittemore, the art collector, of Omaha.

The Improvement Club last spring offered prizes to the different rooms for improvement in writing and the pictures which have been received for these prizes are as follows: 2nd Grade, "The Divine Shep- herd".....Murello 5th Grade, "The Windmill".....Ruydsael

6th Grade, "The Matinee".....Corat 7th Grade, "My Vernon"

The committee have also received a beautiful copy of the "Aurora" by Guido Reni, which was purchased with the receipts from the class play by the graduating class, and is the gift of the class of 1910 to its alma mater.

After the writing prizes were paid for, also the balance due on kinder- garten tables, from the receipts of the Season's Social, the committee decided to use the money that was left toward buying a handsome piece of statuary, "Diana of Ver- sailles," which is to be placed in the main hall, in sight of all the pupils, as they enter and leave the building. The funds on hand are not quite sufficient to pay for this piece and an exchange is to be held on Satur- day of both this week and next at Mr. Epler's store at 2:30 p. m.

Everyone is asked to contribute to this, bake-stuffs, home-made candy, butter, cream, etc. We feel sure that everyone is interested in furnishing our school building and making it as beautiful on the inside as it already is on the outside, and any money that may be raised or contributed will be carefully used by the committee, who feel that they have now made a very small beginning of what is hoped for.

MRS. DAN HARRINGTON,
Secretary and Treasurer.

Some Rare Ones

Although wild beasts are vanish- ing before the advance of civiliza- tion, and the increase of the earth's population, and though it is certain that all wild beasts will become ex- tinct in time, yet a larger portion of the public fails to inspect the men- ageries that are brought to their doors. The Gollmar Brothers paid $6,500 for a giant hippopotamus. It is a magnificent specimen of the river horse of the river Nile, and a most interesting source of study for the student of nature. Very few peo- ple can tell whether a hippopotamus is web footed or whether it has teeth. The average person does not know that it is an animal allied to the elephant; that it has a thick and heavy body, short legs, terminated by four toes; a short tail, skin with- out hair, except at the extremity of its tail, and that it feeds on herbage exclusively. Can be seen at Wayne August 19th.

Open Air Meeting

The open air union Sunday evening meetings on the court house yard have been a great success. The closing of the series will be next Sunday evening at 6:30. The M. E. church choir will render some special music. The subject of the discourse will be "The Kind of Religion this World Needs."

POLITICAL ADVERTISING

TO THE PEOPLE OF NEBRASKA.

The primary election for the nomination of candidates for of- fice by the several parties will be held Tuesday, August 16, 1910.

I am a candidate for the office of United States senator on the republican ticket.

I am in favor of all the legislation declared for by the repub- lican party in its platform this year.

I am in favor of the performance of every promise made by the republican party in its national platform of 1908, and for such a revision of the tariff downwards as can be discovered without the aid of a search warrant.

I am in favor of placing lumber and other material used in the construction of dwellings on the free list, and of doing it at the next session of congress.

I am in favor of placing on the free list at the next session of congress, agricultural implements, mechanics' tools of all kinds, sewing machines, and everything which can be produced here, the importation of which yields the government practically no revenue, and which are manufactured here and sold for export at a less price than for home use.

I am for placing sugar on the free list at the earliest day pos- sible.

If the laws now in force are not sufficient for the effective prosecution of forbidden trusts and combinations, I am in favor of the enactment of such further laws as will drive that class of combinations out of existence.

I am in favor of such governmental control of transportation companies as will prevent unjust discrimination and extortion and the imposition of rates for service intended to yield an income on nothing invested.

Insofar as that object may be accomplished by legislation I am in favor of the enactment of laws which will tend to decrease the cost of living.

I am opposed to ship subsidy.

I am in favor of such legislation, state and national, as will af- ford to every depositor in a bank the greatest possible security for his money.

I am in favor of restricting the franking privilege to the free transportation of the Congressional Record and parts thereof; the reports and public documents of the government or any depart- ment thereof, and of making it a criminal offense for the free transportation of anything else through the mails.

I am in favor of reducing the postage on first-class matter, fifty per cent., and that at the next session of congress.

I am opposed to all unnecessary appropriations of public funds all of which appropriations must come from the people either by direct or indirect taxation.

I am opposed to all legislation which tends to the creation of great interests and combinations by the few, to the ruin of individ- ual effort and the destruction of industries, independent action of the many and the deprivation of labor of its just compensation.

I am in favor of liberal appropriations to all ex-soldiers who have rendered faithful service to the government in time of war.

I am in favor of such federal legislation as will tend to prevent "bootlegging." I do that I am in favor of the enactment by congress at the earliest possible day of a law which shall prohibit the government from selling stamps or issuing permits for the sale of intoxicating liquors in territory where such sales are prohibited by local law, and making such sales in such territory crimes against the federal government.

Who Are The United Doctors?

Some information about the specialists who will be in Wayne on Saturday, August 13th.

Since the announcement has been made in these columns that the Chief Consulting Physician of the United Doctors, who have their permanent Nebraska institute located on the second floor of the Neville Block, corner 16th and Harney Streets, Omaha, Nebraska, would pay a short visit to the Boyd Hotel at Wayne the question has been asked many times: Who are the United Doctors and what do they do? The answer is this:

The United Doctors, as the name implies, is an association of expert medical specialists who have united to organize a new school of medi- cine; a new and more scientific and positive system of curing human ail- ments. For centuries the world has been full of different "cults" and "isms" of medicine. We had the old root and herb doctor with his bitter potions; the Allopath with calomel and quinine in heroic doses; the Eclectic without his calomel; the Osteopath and the Christian Scientist. We were doctored by heat, by electricity, by baths at the Hot Springs and by a multitude of men and methods. Some of the patients were cured, some died who should have been cured. It was im- possible for the ordinary person to say which method of treating dis- eases was the best, and the physi- cians of the various schools, were so biased that they could see no good only in their own methods; all others were, necessarily, bad.

Evidently there is good in all of them, for they all cured some cases. Also there is bad in all, for they all failed at times and allowed misery to remain or death to come where a cure should have been ef- fected.

A tremendous stride forward was made, when the association of the United doctors was formed. The founders of this association consist- ed of eminent specialists from the various schools of practice; Eclectics, Homeopaths, Allopaths, Regu- lars and Irregulars, met and agreed to drop their prejudices and form a new system of treatment, which should embrace all the good points of the old methods and leave out the bad. The result of the efforts of these world famous specialists, of the various schools, was the wonder- ful treatment now being used by the United Doctors. All of this was not accomplished in a day or two, but has taken years of patient work by these specialists in their great institutions in the east; Homeo- paths, Eclectics, Allopaths, all work- ing side by side, each throwing away his old ideas when he was convinced there was something better, until at last out of the old chaos and confu- sion, came the new and perfect sys- tem, as it is now used by the United Doctors.

The cost of these specialists was great not only in the labor of form- ing the new system of treatment, but also in the years of patient work by these specialists in their great institutions in the east; Homeo- paths, Eclectics, Allopaths, all work- ing side by side, each throwing away his old ideas when he was convinced there was something better, until at last out of the old chaos and confu- sion, came the new and perfect sys- tem, as it is now used by the United Doctors.

Mrs. Housewife:—There's a Happy Medium in Everything

This is especially true of baking—and it is just as true of baking powder. If you use the cheap and Big Can Kinds you are getting quantity at the sacrifice of quality. It cannot be as good—or as economical as Calumet—the medium price kind. If you use the High Price Kind, you are paying tribute to the Trust—the quality is no better.

Here's the "Full Value" in BAKING POWDER

Calumet, in the Standard 1 lb. can, sells at a moderate cost—but is great in all-round satisfaction. You use less of it—it makes the baking lighter, purer—more delicious. Any baking will prove its superiority—try it. Ask your grocer and insist on Calumet. Free—large handsome recipe book. Send a n d slip found in pound can.

Calumet Baking Powder Co., Chicago

The Cheap and Big Can Kind

In this can you get more substance but not more baking powder. It is great in quantity only—not in economy—not in satisfaction.

The Trust Kind

Great in price, little in quantity and the quality is no better—if as good.

THE IMPORTANCE OF HEALTHY KIDNEYS.

Weak kidneys fail to remove poisons from the blood and are the cause of backache, headache, urinary troubles and dizzy spells. To insure good health, keep the kidneys well. Doan's Kidney Pills remove all kidney ills. Read what a physician says: Dr. H. Green, 215 N. 9th St., No. Yakima, Wash., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills in my practice for years and they have given satisfaction. I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills personally and pronounce them the best remedy I have prescribed in my long career as a physician and surgeon. Remember the name—Doan's. For sale by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y."

It was the Other Way. "Mr. Jones," said the senior partner in the wholesale dry goods house to the drummer who stood before him in the private office, "you have been with us for the past ten years."

"Yes, sir." "And you ought to know the rules of the house. One of them is that no man of ours shall take a side line."

"I have none, sir." "But you have lately got married." "Yes; but can you call that a side line, Mr. Jones?"

"Technically, it may not be." "You needn't bring that having a wife is going to bring me in off a trip any sooner."

"Oh, I don't. It is the fear that having a wife at home you'll want to stay out on the road altogether!"

Seeking Comfort. "I've got a long way to go and I'm not used to travel," said the applicant at the railway ticket office. "I want to be just as comfortable as I can, regardless of expense."

"Parlor car?" "No, I don't care for parlor fixings." "Sleeper?" "No, I want to stay awake and watch the scenery."

"Then what do you want?" "Well, if it wouldn't be too much trouble, I wish you'd put me up in one of these refrigerator cars. I've read so much about 'em."

What They Did With Them. An American who spends much of his time in England tells of a cockney who went to a dealer in dogs and thus described what he wanted: "I want a kind of dog about so high an as you know, a kind of gr-yound, an' yes, it ain't no gr-yound, because 'is t'yle is shorter, an' 'is nose is shorter, an' 'is snout is shorter, an' 'is tail is shorter, an' 'is kind of gr-yound. Do you keep such dogs?"

"We do not," said the dog dealer. "We drown 'em."

His Busy Season. "How's business?" "Brisk," answered the druggist. "I've bought tickets for two picnics and four excursions this morning, and donated goods for several indoor affairs."

Playing the Market. "Crombro never pays for his meat a month afterward." "So, I hear. Prices in the meantime go up, and he feels as though he'd made something."—Puck.

THE QUICKENING

CHAPTER XVII.—(Continued.) She looked up at him appealingly. "Don't make me say such things, Tom. Love is sacred." "I was never further from making fun of things in my life. I mean it with every drop of blood in me. You said you didn't want to find me changed, but I'm not changed in that, at least."

"You're a delicious boy!" she said; but that was only a stop-gap, and Longfellow added another by coming to a stand opposite a vast obstruction of building material, half damming the white road. "What are you doing here building more additions?" she asked.

"No," said Tom. "It is a new plant—a pipe foundry." "Don't tell me we are going to have more neighbors in Paradise," she said, in mock concern. "I'll tell you something that may shock you worse than that; the owner of this new plant has camped down right next door to Deer Trace."

"How dreadful! You don't mean that!" "Oh, but I do. He's a young man, of poor but honest parentage, with a large eye for the main chance. I shouldn't be surprised if he took every opportunity to make love to you."

"How absurd you can be, Tom! Who is he?" "He is Mr. Caleb Gordon's son. I think you know him, but you don't; nobody does." "Really, Tom? Have you gone into business for yourself? I thought you had another year at Boston."

"I'll be another year coming to me, but I don't know why I shall get it. And I am in business for myself; though perhaps I should be modest and call it a firm—Gordon & Gordon. I built this new firm, and it is all that has kept me here during the last six months. Duxbury Farley and his son had deliberately wrecked the company."

"You must not say such things of Mr. Farley and—his son to me. If you do, I can't listen." "You don't believe what I say?" "I believe you have convinced yourself. But you are vindictive; you know you are. And I mean to be fair and just."

"Tell me one thing, Ardea, and maybe I'll shut my mouth. What is Vincent Farley doing—anything more than Eva's brother?" "Another young woman might have claimed her undoubted right to evade such a pointed question. But Ardea spoke safely only in instant frankness. "I have asked me to be his wife, Tom."

"And you have consented?" "I wonder if I have," she said, half-murmuringly. "Don't you know?" he demanded. "And then 'Ardea, I'd rather see you dead and in your coffin. You don't know Vint, Farley.'" "Don't I? My opportunities have been very much better than yours, she retorted.

TOOK A SECOND THOUGHT

Aggrieved Visitor Agrees With Man Who Spoke About the Better Part of Valor. Bishop William M. McVickar of the Episcopal diocese of Rhode Island has hundreds of Boston friends who will be interested in a story they are telling down in Providence about him. The bishop is as big physically as he is mentally. On a certain occasion some years ago he preached a sermon on the need for missionary work in the back towns of his state, and especially mentioned the town of Foster, which certainly deserved as much as he said about it.

There are a good many fighters in Foster, and the worst of the lot announced to all who cared to hear that when he went to Providence he would make it his business to chastise the bishop. He didn't happen to visit the city until a month or so ago. On his return he joined the crowd about the stove in the village post-office.

"Well, hi," said one of the gray-beards. "Did ye lick this here Parson Vickery when ye was down to Providence?" "Hi spat deliberately before he replied. "Lick him!" he said. "Say, he's eight foot tall and four foot broad. Lick him? I saw him."—Boston Traveler.

NOT JOKING THEN. "On, but I do. He's a young man, of poor but honest parentage, with a large eye for the main chance. I shouldn't be surprised if he took every opportunity to make love to you."

"How absurd you can be, Tom! Who is he?" "He is Mr. Caleb Gordon's son. I think you know him, but you don't; nobody does." "Really, Tom? Have you gone into business for yourself? I thought you had another year at Boston."

The Tenderfoot Farmer. It was one of these experimental farmers, who put green spectacles on his cow and fed her alfalfa. His theory was that it didn't matter what the cow ate as long as she was fed. The questions of digestion and nourishment had not entered into his calculations. It's only a "tenderfoot" farmer that would try such an experiment with a cow. But many a farmer feeds him-ings for all the good he gets out of his food. The result is that the stomach grows "weak"; the action of the organs of digestion and nutrition are impaired and the man suffers the miseries of dyspepsia and the agonies of nervousness. To strengthen the stomach, restore the activity of the organs of digestion and nutrition and brace up the nerves, use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is an all-failing remedy, and has the confidence of physicians as well as the praise of thousands healed by its use. In the strictest sense "Golden Medical Discovery" is a temperance medicine. It contains neither intoxicants nor narcotics, and is as free from alcohol as from opium, cocaine and other dangerous drugs. All ingredients printed on its outside wrapper. Don't let a dealer delude you for his own profit. There is no medicine for stomach, liver and blood "just as good" as "Golden Medical Discovery."

While the scarcity of houses to rent in Wayne is a hardship to those who are seeking homes, it is a sure indication of the healthy condition of the city.

Through the commercial club let us make Wayne a bigger and busier city. Attract more people to Wayne to trade, and add from time to time an industrial enterprise that will employ labor.

New political issues make the average politician do some "trimming." His passionate zeal for the public welfare is inspired somewhat by his yearning for a place in or next to the public crib.

The Lincoln Journal mentions with much relish that an Adams county man who has voted nothing but a populist ticket for twenty years, has about concluded to support the republican ticket this year. Has the populist party caught up with us or have we caught up with it?

The intention of the primary law is to give all voters a direct hand in the making of nominations, and the system is too expensive to be disregarded and not used. Thus, when primary day rolls around, August 16, people should remember to gather at the polls and express themselves.

Just a word for A. E. Cady of St. Paul. He is a republican candidate for governor, and it may be said with truth that he is one of the best equipped men in the state for that high office. He says he will sign a county option bill if one is passed by the legislature, and that is all he would be expected to do.

Leaders at Lincoln regard the Wayne state normal the most promising institution of the kind in the state. It has a big, rich territory, and will attract students from three states. The importance of the school will entitle it to liberal consideration at the hands of the legislature next winter.

W. P. Rooney of Wayne and William Prince of Winside, are rival republican candidates before the primaries for the nomination for representative. Both have warm supporters, though the contest is friendly. Either would give creditable service in representing Wayne county in the legislature.

Speaker Cannon is certain to forfeit the speakership as soon as the time rolls around for congress to vote on his case. The old gladiator will then have to be content to hurl his thunderbolts of flaming English from the floor of the house with no advantage in station over the rank and file of the membership. This conclusion supposes that he will still be permitted to represent his Illinois district.

The drought and crop failure in Canada have driven settlers who went there some years ago from the United States, to leave by the thousands and return to find homes again in this country. It is frequently found a costly mistake to leave a dependable county like Wayne. Its soil and climate can be trusted to insure a big harvest every year. Therefore, if a man is doing well on a Wayne county farm, he can usually do no better than stick to it.

Farmers societies of Christian Endeavor have passed resolutions asking Mrs. Nicholas Longworth to quit smoking cigarettes. As the daughter of an ex-president who was a leader in reform movements, it doesn't look well for her to puff noxious and pernicious cigarette fumes. Leaders of force and widespread influence for betterment are often unable to altogether direct members of their own families and perhaps Roosevelt has labored with his daughter's objectionable habit without avail.

C. O. Whedon is a very able lawyer and when he listened to the whisper of political ambition and decided to enter the contest for United States senator, he thrashed out a platform that he thought would win a majority of the jury of voters.

His platform contains a number of good points, but it also contains some declarations that suggest buncombe and really mean nothing. One thing he forgot in making up his platform. He should have deplored the drought which has rested heavily on parts of the state and declared himself in favor of such legislation as will prevent its recurrence.

It is suggested that the withdrawal of Mr. Patrick as democratic candidate for governor was part of a plan for an alliance between Governor Shallenberger and R. L. Metcalfe, the latter democratic candidate for United States senator. Thus, in democratic ranks, Shallenberger and Metcalfe are pitted against Dahlgren and Hitchcock. The fact that both Dahlgren and Hitchcock live in Omaha makes a coalition of their interests less practical, though both are strong candidates, and their place of residence may be forgotten by those who want to support the stand taken by the Omaha mayor on the liquor question.

Chas. McLeod of Stanton, who has no opposition in the primary for the republican nomination for state senator, was circulating among voters in Wayne Saturday, returning home Sunday morning. Mr. McLeod, who had been an opponent of county option prior to the state convention has since come out squarely for the county option plan in accordance with the party's platform declaration, and will support a county option measure if he is elected to represent the district in the senate. Phil Kohl who will without doubt be the democratic nominee, will be against county option, and thus each side to that question will be represented by a candidate in the election in November.

We assume that the Democrat is sportive in its reference to the Herald's circulation and that the same was not designed to discredit or injure the standing of the paper. The Democrat is smart enough to know that we would not buy a paper whose subscription list had been impaired. Truth is, the Herald is one of the most desirable newspaper properties in the state, and we have interviewed enough propositions of late to speak advisedly. To be fair, the Democrat is also good property, and whatever is done by either paper to develop the newspaper business here will help the other. Two local papers, active in serving the public, are quite as essential to each other as to the city and county in which they are published. Either alone could not flourish so well. Two develop the field, and are desirable properties.

This department was treated to a "joy" ride to Wakefield recently, and was surprised at the large and substantial growth that town has enjoyed during the past ten years. Its business blocks and elegant residences suggest years of prosperity and enterprise. And between Wayne and Wakefield the panorama of rich fields spread before the traveler can be surpassed nowhere. Similar views greet one in going any direction from Wayne. While the hail did considerable damage in spots, the corn (which thus suffered, is rapidly overcoming the setback and will yet make a good crop. The drought which has afflicted many parts of the country this year, has touched Wayne county in a very mild form. When it is rather too dry here, it is infernally dry in less favored localities.

PROGRESSIVE REPUBLICAN. Some interest has been taken in our political attitude—people have wondered whether we were "insurgent" or "standpat," so called. If the terms mean radicalism on the one hand and stagnation on the other, we could not be unreservedly allied with either. Because we are not always pleased with everybody and everything connected with the republican party, there is no reason why we should want the party of progress to commit political harakiri followed by wrecked values and a pall of gloom. A progressive republican, going forward without useless destruction, neither goaded to dangerous hysteria by one extreme nor sunk into palsied conservatism by the others, follows most nearly the right course.

The farmers on whom cities like Wayne mainly depend, are vitally interested in the general principles of a party under whose regime values have been stimulated and production has been made profitable. They would get rid of faults without destroying the party.

A man would not burn down his house because there are rats in it. He would exterminate the rodents, but preserve the structure. So we may cling to the republican party, free it from imperfections and make progress without ruin, deserving in the future the same popular confidence that has been won and deserved in the past.

SOUTH PLATTE COMES TO IT The south Platte country has awakened to the advisability of recognizing the demands of the north part in the way of redistricting the state. The south part is oldest in settlement, and when legislative districts were last formed, some twenty years ago, it was greatest in population. During the years following, the north part has grown rapidly, and for many years the division of numerical strength and weight of influence in the legislature has been plainly unfair. For a long time the north part has been entitled to larger representation in the legislature. Growth of the state in ten years has been mainly in the territory north of the Platte. It is doubtful if the south part, taken as a whole, has grown any. Seward county, for instance, shows a population less than it was twenty years ago, and only about 200 more than it had ten years ago. On the other hand, Madison county has increased its population more than 2,000 since the former census. There will no doubt be proof of similar growth all over the north part. It has been forging ahead, while the south Platte country has been plugging along with about the same numbers that it had twenty years ago. The merit in the proposition to redistrict is so apparent that both republican and democratic platforms favor it, and the south Platte will yield, though perhaps not joyfully.

PLEA FOR HOME PATRONAGE A communication in the Wood River Sunbeam and republished in the Omaha Trade Exhibit, emphasizes the wisdom of trading at home. The practical argument presented should be considered by every farmer in the state. It follows: "Suppose that our beautiful little town could be picked up and moved out of existence in one day, how much would the land around and adjacent to Wood River depreciate? That thought came to me last Monday after being solicited by one of those box car grocery peddlers, who drove into the field where I was stacking wheat. After complimenting me on the fine field of wheat and crops in general in and around Wood River, he introduced himself as representing a foreign mercantile company. As he drove up he no doubt pictured in his mind selling a nice bill, as he took out his little order book and a little paper box with about forty-three grains of coffee which he told me was a blend of Mocha and Santos, which he was selling to the farmers direct for thirty cents, f. o. b. Omaha.

"Of course, I was like every other farmer and wanted to act like one. I naturally asked how he sold granulated sugar by the sack. He said $6.75 per sack. I said: "Why, my good man, I can beat your prices from any merchant in Wood River." He says: "No, you can't." Of course, I felt like anyone would to bet when he knows he has a sure thing to bet on—so I told him I would bet $50 to $5 that I was selling a better coffee for twenty cents a pound than he was selling for thirty cents, and that any farmer could buy a sack of granulated sugar, beet or cane sugar, from any merchant in Wood River for $6.25 and $6.50. Of course he had to take water, as I knew I had his prices beat. You can figure the per cent, yourself.

"I asked him how much tax his house paid for the education of our children and how much his house gave and donated to the support of our churches and other things which the local merchants and business men are solicited for during the year. Any school boy can answer the question.

"Now, Mr. Farmer, nobody disputes your right to buy from whom or where you please. That is your business. But are you not paying more for your goods when you patronize the grocery peddler—sending your money out of the county?"

"The home merchant buys your produce the year round, pays you all it is worth, helps to support your churches and to educate your children by paying his share of the taxes, builds up your town and makes your community a desirable place in which to live by helping to furnish all the little necessary conveniences of every-day life.

"Can you do less than to patronize him, especially when he gives you more good, clean, honest goods for your money than does the traveling peddler?"

COMMENTS.

Judge Britton says the grades on other streets than Main ought to be established without delay. "I would like to see Nebraska street which leads directly to the main building at the college, put in good shape first, and then give attention to the other streets as fast as possible," says the judge. "The interest of many strangers coming to town will center at the college, and a splendid thoroughfare leading from that institution will aid materially in creating a favorable impression of the city. Clean and properly graded streets and alleys, together with well kept yards, are too important to be neglected."

"I believe Northeast Nebraska will go for county option," said J. C. Ecker of Winside, while in Wayne Saturday. When not at home editing the Tribune, to which by the way, he gives little personal attention, Mr. Ecker travels over the country selling insurance, and aside from business, devotes his time to contemplating political conditions and crop prospects. As to the latter he observes: "Crops are rattling good wherever I have been, and the corn will be all right."

Dr. Leisenring thinks when one wants to find an agreeable climate in which to spend his declining years, he can do no better than go to San Diego, Cal., where he visited several weeks recently. Much of the boasted climate of the west, however, he believes is not so good as Northeast Nebraska. "So far as business is concerned," he says, "Wayne is as good as the best anywhere, and it is growing better. I look for a city of 5,000 here."

W. S. Jay, formerly with the Lincoln Journal and Evening News, was in Wayne Tuesday in the interest of the senatorial candidacy of C. O. Whedon. Mr. Jay is not a natural politician, but an able newspaper man. Therefore, his campaigning stunt is rather outside of his jurisdiction. He has got into the habit of saying that Mr. Whedon will be nominated, and really believes it himself. Speaking of Wayne, he says it is one of the best towns on the Nebraska map. "And the Third congressional district," he declares, "will raise more corn this year than all the rest of the state put together."

Word was received Friday that Ed. Behmer, who had gone to Hot Springs for a few months stay there, underwent a serious operation and is making fair progress towards a complete recovery.

TWO BALL GAMES.

The fast LeMars, Iowa, team came here for two games with the Wayne club Tuesday and Wednesday. A big crowd watched Tuesday's contest. Outside of his pitcher, the LeMars aggregation did not show more than average skill, although it had two strong batters. Despite such strong points, the result might easily have been different if there had been fewer errors on the part of the home team. Up to the last half of the fifth inning the Wayne boys had only made one score, but in that inning Landers started something doing by batting out a home run. Two scores were made in this inning, and it looked as though the home team were going to snatch victory from threatened defeat, of at least tie the game, which might have been done if Sabs had not hesitated too long at third base and lost his chance of getting home. The game should have gone to ten innings and if it had done so, it would have given the home boys a chance to win as they were battling the LeMars pitcher freely in the last inning.

Here is the line-up for the home team: Sabs, p; DePew, c; Landers, 1st b; Pickeral, 2nd b; Nemo, 3rd b; Siman, s; Hunter, 1st b; Sparger, cf; Ringer, rf; Fisher, umpire.

Score by innings:
1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
LeMars..... 0 0 3 0 0 0 3 0 0—6
Wayne..... 0 0 1 0 0 0 1 3—5

In Wednesday's game the line-up was changed materially for the home team. Siman was put in the box and pitched a very creditable game, striking out at least two men. The line-up: Siman, p; DePew, c; Landers, 1st b; Pickeral, 2nd b; Nemo, s; Hunter, 3rd b; Woodruff, rf; Sparger, cf; Ringer, lf; Krause, umpire.

There were no special features, the most noteworthy on the part of the home team being a long-drive catch by Ringer in the left field and a similar one by Woodruff in the right field, and a double play by Nemo and Pickeral. At the beginning of the game it looked as if the visitors were going to have a walk-away, as the first man up got a two-bagger and the second a three-bagger, but after such discouragement, Vic settled down to business, and in the end the score looked like this:
1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Wayne..... 4 1 0 1 0 1 1—8

The LeMars team consists of a gentlemanly lot of young men, and both games passed off pleasantly.

Batting averages, Wayne Commercial Club team, including last game with LeMars.
Hunter..... .335
DePew..... .323
Siman..... .303
Landers..... .283

LIGHTNING DOES DAMAGE.

During the storm last night lightning struck the big barn on the farm of D. A. Jones, three and one-half miles southwest of town, and burned it to the ground. The fire occurred between 8:30 and 9 o'clock. All live stock and one harness were safely taken from the barn. Some machinery and other contents of the structure were destroyed. The loss is estimated at $1,500.

Three valuable horses belonging to John S. Lewis, standing in the pasture south of town, were struck and killed by lightning. Two were high-class mares, one worth $500 and the other $300. The third one was valued at $175. One of the animals was so gentle that it was a favorite of the Lewis family, and hence its loss is felt severely.

Sheriff Mears was in Hoskins Friday afternoon to post notices of the forthcoming primary. And according to indications of indifference, all the public notice possible will be none too much to get people out to the polls to participate in the nominations.

It is the opinion of Wayne county farmers that there has not been a better crop of wheat and oats in the county since 1895 than there is this year. Corn has not been injured much as yet, although it would have been better if there had been a little more rain.

Gust Will has traded his Wayne residence property to Dr. Adams for a business block at Meade, Nebraska, and will give possession next week, he having rented the house now occupied by Wm. Beckenhauer, who moves to his own new residence next week.

The Ideal Concrete Stone Works, of which Clasen & Nelson Bros. are proprietors, have furnished cement blocks for twenty-five foundations for buildings thus far this season, and are employing twenty men steadily to supply orders. Their business is growing rapidly.

Walter Weber was called to Florence, Neb., Sunday by a telegraph message announcing that his mother had suffered a second stroke of paralysis, having the first one about a year ago. His brother Emil had gone before to see his mother a few days before she was stricken.

The local telephone exchange is not what it ought to be in the way of service, but probably as good as it can be made without changing and improving the system. The Herald understands that the Bell company appreciates the needs of the plant, and has been figuring on some changes for the better.

Last Friday at Winside complaint was made in Justice Clyde Ecker's court by Emanuel Johnson charging Jas. Worthing and Ned Downey with the theft of sheep oats. A change of venue was taken to Justice Baker's court at Carroll, with time of hearing yet to be fixed.

Rev. Lloyd Cunningham, a former Wayne boy, who is now pastor of the Presbyterian church at Marion, Kansas, who is here on a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Cunningham, preached at the union service last Sunday evening, a very practical and helpful sermon on the parable of the sower.

Mrs. J. J. Dornberger and three daughters arrived home Sunday afternoon from Ocean Park, Cal., where they had been for the past three months. Mrs. Dornberger reports Mrs. Aug. Piepenstock and family, former Wayne residents, as doing nicely, and no desire to leave that country. Mr. Dornberger will return to Wayne in the course of a few months.

Lambert Roe demonstrated to his satisfaction Thursday evening that a talking machine cannot out-talk a lot of women and children. He took a phonograph to the social in the M. E. church and started it going but one could not even hear the sounds it made, let alone understand any of its music. One or two selections convinced him of the impossibility of competition and he shut it off.

Robert Smith, one of the thoroughly good Wayne county farmers, residing near Carroll, accompanied by his wife, went to Manchester, Iowa, their old home, Saturday afternoon to attend a family reunion. Mr. Smith said ten out of the twelve members of his family are living, but that they have not all been together for the past thirty-seven years. One sister at Denver, Colorado, will not be present this time.

Three of Wayne's long-time residents, well advanced in years, are lying in a critical condition this week. They are Martin Stringer, David Elson and Dr. R. B. Crawford. Messrs. Stringer and Elson are old soldiers, while Dr. Crawford is one of the very oldest settlers in the county. Dr. Crawford and Mr. Elson are afflicted with heart trouble, while Mr. Stringer is suffering from a cancer.

The Winside Tribune has evidently heard good reports concerning the chautauqua program carried out in Wayne this year, remarking that if more had been known about it in advance the attendance from up the line would have been larger. Winside people and others may look forward to an even better program next year, and the chautauqua management will doubtless see that the outside public is duly advised ahead of time.

The following friends from out of town of the family of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hisecox were here Friday to attend the funeral of their little girl: H. J. Hall and wife of Atkinson, H. W. Whitney, wife and daughter, Mrs. Curas, Mrs. Morris, and Oscar Reeves and wife of Battle Creek, F. A. Peterson of Madison, Mrs. W. E. Harvey and son of Newman Grove, Mrs. Hopkins of Meadow Grove, L. J. Springer and wife, and H. C. Hooker of Leigh.

The past week has been a gala week at the Nebraska Normal College, it being commencement week. At nearly every outgoing train there has been a large number of young people bidding goodbye to each other, singing class songs and giving their class yells. The memories of the days gone by will linger with them through the years and their alma mater and the friendships formed there will serve to remind them of the many happy days they spent together climbing the hill of knowledge at the old N. N. C.

Big crowds were down from Winside and Carroll Tuesday and Wednesday to see Wayne and LeMars meet in the baseball diamond. Proof that Wayne and neighborhood have the baseball fever very elaborately is seen in the multitude gathered in the baseball park with every game. And there is no healthier nor more interesting pastime than baseball. It deserves title as the national game. The series of games in Wayne this year not only affords diversion for Wayne people, but draws hither many from the surrounding towns and country.

Mrs. Kemple and daughter of St. Paul, Minn., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Brown, Mrs. Kemple being an aunt of the latter. This was their first meeting in thirty years.

Mrs. Ella Brown, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Demuth, to Sioux City this morning, where the latter goes to submit to an operation on her eyes.

VOTE BUT ONE TICKET

Voteurs have a choice of tickets at the primary next Tuesday, but a voter cannot support part of one ticket and the rest of another. He must vote a straight ticket in order to have it counted. Republicans can vote for democrats, and democrats for republicans, but each must stick to one ballot.

NO RIOTING IN SPAIN

SAN SEBASTIAN SPENDS A DAY OF COMPARATIVE TRANQUILITY.

TROOPS IN COMPLETE POWER

Priests Leading Trudging Bands of Peasants Appear, by Hurry Off of Seeing City in Hands of Soldiers—Their Followers Are Disarmed.

San Sebastian.—The government's rigorous measures and the formal renunciation by the clerical junta of the threatened demonstration in this city injured comparative tranquillity Sunday and a largely attended bull fight was the chief incident of the day. From daybreak the streets were patrolled by cavalry, infantry and gendarmes, while heavy bodies of troops were held in readiness in the barracks at Miramar palace, where the queen mother and royal children are in residence.

The gravest incident occurred Saturday evening, when groups of clerics assembled, shouting, "Death to Spain; long live the pope."

Thousands of indignant people pushed toward the manifestations and only the personal intervention of the governor at the head of a platoon of police prevented an attack. Nearly 150 arrests were made.

Many arrests were made. Priests leading trudging bands of peasants took to their heels when they found the city in the possession of the militia. The peasants, all their courage gone, were disarmed and calmly persuaded to return to their homes.

The local authorities are convinced that the clerical demonstration marked a Carlist plot. Clericals are extremely indignant at the government's repressive measures. Senor Urgulio, the chief organizer of the movement, declared Sunday that the policy of the government was opposed by the entire Spanish people. "Even the queen mother is bitterly hostile to it," he added.

EXTRAORDINARY FEATURES

For the Mitchell, S. D., Corn Palace, During the Week Commencing September 25.

Contract has just been closed for the appearance of Fort Cpnway's Concert Band at the Corn Palace festival, at Mitchell, S. D., which will be held during the week commencing September 25th.

Another attraction of exceptional merit which appears on the program is the Lyric Sextette of Chicago. The committee in charge considers itself exceptionally fortunate in being able to secure the services of both of these organizations, which are recognized as "Top Notch" entertainers and artists in their lines.

In addition, the committee on attractions has secured several of the best vaudeville stunts on the road, and the most complete program ever produced is thus assured.

Swims Twelve Miles.

Boston, Mass.—A 16-year-old Dorchester girl, Rose Pittino, swam from Charlestown bridge to Boston light, a feat attempted many times by most of the best distance swimmers of the east, but heretofore accomplished by one person, Alois Adlerer of New York. The girl was in the water 6 hours 50 1/2 minutes.

New York Banker Dead.

Mohank Lane, N. Y.—J. Edward Simmons, the New York banker, died here at 1 o'clock Friday morning. NOT QUITE THE SAME THING Party Tickets Had Changed Somewhat Since the Old Gentleman Handed Out Advice.

Everybody who had known old Henry admired him for the clarity of his tongue when he spoke of his neighbors. It was his most marked characteristic—except the independence which he manifested in his political affiliations. It made a young man who was visiting in the neighborhood curious, and one day he managed to lead up to the subject and ask the old man what had taught him to keep such a good watch on his tongue.

"It was my father," replied the old man, "and I remember him. He always disliked to hear folks gossiping unkindly about each other. I've seen him, when they began it, get on his feet, just like a cow grazing and gradually working toward a hole in the fence, and before any one knew it he'd be out of the room, so he couldn't hear 'em."

"He talked to me about it," Henry, he'd say, 'when you're of age never say anything about a man if you can't say good of him, and always vote the straight party ticket.'"

"But you don't vote that way."

"Well, sir," said Henry, "you see my father said the straight party ticket; and when I came along to vote, the peasy thing had got so crooked that I don't believe had got so crooked."

THE BEST OF ITS KIND

Is always advertised, in fact it only pays to advertise good things. When you see an article of value in the paper, after you can be absolutely certain that there is merit to it because the confidence of other people in the merit and to keep on advertising one must keep on selling. All good things have makers, but failures do not advertise. They have no reputation to maintain, they never expect to have any personal sale and your dealer would never sell them if he studied your interests.

Sixteen years ago Allen's Foot-Powder, the most famous of all foot powders, was first sold, and through newspaper advertising and through people telling each other what a good thing it was for tired and aching feet it has now a permanent sale, and nearly 200 so-called foot powders have been built up for Allen's Foot-Powder. When you see an article of value in the papers see that you get it. Avoid substitutes.

History Cleared Up.

The third grade was "having history." Forty youngsters were making guesses about the life and character of the Father of His Country, when the teacher propounded a question that stumped them all.

"Why did Washington cross the Delaware?"

"Why, indeed? Not a child could think of anything but the answer to the famous chicken problem: 'To get on the other side,' and, of course, that wouldn't do. Then little Annie handed into the air. Little Annie crossed the Delaware every summer hence, hence the bright idea.

"Well, Annie?"

"Because he wanted to get to Atlantic City."—Philadelphia Times.

The Nurse's Opinion.

A nurse had been called as a witness to prove the correctness of the bill of a physician.

"Let us get at the facts in the case," said the lawyer, who was doing a cross-examination stunt. "Didn't the doctor make several visits after the patient was out of danger?"

"No, sir," answered the nurse. "I considered the patient in danger—as long as the doctor continued his visits."

An Unnecessary System.

"You ought to have a burglar alarm system in your house," said the electrical supply agent, "so that you will be awakened if a burglar raises one of the windows or opens a door at night."

"No burglar can get in here while we are peacefully sleeping," replied Mr. Newpop. "We are wearing our baby."

Cleaned Out.

"I can't pay this taxicab bill."

"Then I'll take you to a police station."

"I'll pay it. But take me to the poorhouse and leave me there."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

WILL BE A HUMMER

A GREAT OUTLOOK FOR THE COMING STATE FAIR.

BEST EVER, IS THE PROMISE

Race Program Alluring and all Attractions of Former Years to Put in the Shade.

"While the Nebraska State fair in former years has been wonderfully successful and has been the admiration of visitors from other states, the 1910 exhibition, September 5 to 9, promises to exceed all others from every standpoint," said Secretary W. R. Mellor.

"The race program is especially alluring at this time. The increased entries in the six early closing speed events denote that the management made itself solid with the race men last year when after a week of bad weather and no races could be had with much satisfaction on account of a wet track, the management put on ten harness events to a successful termination, the last day of the fair. This has proven a good advertisement and this visitor this year will reap the benefit by seeing some fast work. Three of Wright Brothers' aeroplanes will be here and they have guaranteed four flights each day.

"The other exhibits at the fair will be above former years in nearly all departments, none of which can at this time be selected as being the best.

"Lombardo's Symphony Band and Grand Opera company, with its sixty-eight artists, including eight soloists and a chorus of sixteen singers, will alone be worth a visit to the fair by those who like good music.

"To the lovers of the national game, an opportunity will be given to see some of the best games of ball in the country, except in the big leagues. Sioux City will be here Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, and will play the Lincoln team of the Western league. It should be remembered that both of these teams are composed mostly of players who have been purchased from some of the strongest teams of the National and American leagues and the American association; in fact, the Lincoln team has but two men outside of its pitching staff, but who are from one of those leagues, with its pitching staff is considered one of the best in the Western league. The same also may be said of the Sioux City club."

"Asks About 8 O'clock Law." Governor M. E. Hay of Washington has written to Governor Shallenberger asking for information regarding the 8 o'clock closing law. The Washington executive had been advocating such a law since his trip with Governor Shallenberger down the Mississippi river and was anxious now to know how it worked out in practice in Nebraska.

Reduced Rates to Fair. The railroads doing business in Nebraska which are members of the Western Passenger association, will apply within a short time to the state railway commission for permission to reduce the passenger rate 1 1/2 cents per mile to the Nebraska state fair. This rate will be made where the round trip is not less than one dollar.

Miss Ferguson Named. Miss Billa T. Ferguson was appointed county superintendent of Lancaster county Saturday by the board of commissioners to fill the place made vacant by the death of Superintendent George Burkett.

Dr. Roe's Report. Dr. Roe, superintendent of the institution for the feeble minded youth at Beatrice, has reported to the board of public lands and buildings that he will have 110 tons of alfalfa and clover for the state's cattle and horses this winter. The alfalfa was grown on state land and the clover hay was bought of the cemetery association at Beatrice.

State's Strong Box. The statement of State Treasurer Brian on the condition of the state treasury at the close of July shows total deposits on hand of $785,552. Of this sum nearly $350,000 is available for investment. Most of this money will be put into the Douglas county court house bonds as soon as it is needed. The receipts during the month were heavy. The balance a month ago was $676,487. The receipts during the month were $508,990 and expenditures $339,925. The permanent fund shows an investment of $8,689,324.

Assessors Reply to Inquiry. Thirty-six counties have replied to the inquiries sent out by the State Board of Equalization regarding the assessment of bank stock. Of those, all have followed the schedule prepared by the board except five—Hamilton, Thurston, Dodge, Douglas and York. The county assessor of Lancaster explained the decrease in the valuation of bank stock in this county by saying it was due to mistakes of precinct assessors. Some of these assessors listed the stock in the wrong columns.

Dahman Not a Defendant. Attorney General Thibault will not make Mayor James C. Dahman a defendant in the ouster suit to be filed in the supreme court against three members of the Omaha fire and police commission. The attorney general is directed by the governor to sue certain persons and the mayor is not one of the defendants named. The governor did not direct suit against Dahman because the complaint filed does not designate the mayor as one of the defendants in the matter.

LET'S FILINGS STAND.

Demurrer of the Attorney General is Sustained.

BECAUSE the attorney general had ruled that the payment of only one filing fee is necessary for a candidate for office to have his name placed on one or more primary ballots, Judge Lincoln Frost of the district court sustained the demurrer of the attorney general in the primary ballot suit instituted by Victor Rosewater, republican national committeeman. Mr. Rosewater sought an injunction to prevent Secretary of State Junkin from certifying to the various county clerks the names of those candidates who had filed on more than one ballot and paid only one filing fee. Assistant Attorney General Ayres and John J. Sullivan and T. J. Doyle, democratic attorneys who appeared for Mr. Junkin, filed a demurrer to the petition filed by John O. Yeiser for Mr. Rosewater.

In sustaining the demurrer Judge Frost discussed the points raised in the case briefly, holding that a court in equity would take jurisdiction in matters involving political rights, but that the courts would not go so far as to interfere with rules of political parties such as were formerly in vogue. But in cases where the matter is controlled by statute, as in this case, the court rules do not apply, he said. The secretary of state has certain specific duties to perform and if he does not perform them, then there should be some way to make him.

Continuing, Judge Frost said he would not rest a decision on the demurrer, but without going into the case any farther he would sustain the demurrer. He did this, he said, because the attorney general had given two decisions to the effect that only one fee was required of candidates who desired to file on more than one ticket, and that the secretary of state had been acting in accordance with those decisions. Therefore, he would not overrule them. In reading the statute, however, the judge said it could be interpreted two ways and there was a question whether the opinion of the attorney general was correct, but he preferred not to overrule him unless he was absolutely sure that he was wrong.

The members of the supreme court, except Judge Rose, are out of the city, so Mr. Yeiser cannot appeal the case in time to have the ruling passed on before the primary election.

New Postal Cards. Blue postal cards have gone on sale at the Lincoln postoffice, in place of the old white ones. A shipment of the new skytinted cards, numbering 200,000, was received from Washington. They contain McKinley's picture, like those they supersede.

Valuation of Live Stock. The state board of equalization listened to a dozen or more county assessors in regard to proposed changes in the valuation of live stock. The changes made from the returns of the assessors as finally divided are as follows: Horses, Dodge, Douglas, Hayes, Kearney, Morrill, Perkins and Wayne, 10 per cent. increase; Butler, 5 per cent. increase; Boyd and Valley, 10 per cent. decrease. Mules, Fillmore, Kearney and Morrill, 10 per cent. increase; Banner, 25 per cent. increase; Hooker, 100 per cent. increase; Boyd, Perkins and Valley, 10 per cent. decrease; Grant, 20 per cent. decrease. Cattle, Perkins, increased 10 per cent.; Thomas, 30 per cent. increase; Cass, Nance, Nuckolls and Valley, 10 per cent. decrease; Hamilton and Boyd, 5 per cent. decrease. Hogs, Garfield, 20 per cent. increase; Holt, 30 per cent. increase; Valley, 10 per cent. decrease; Kearney, Hayes and Gasper, 15 per cent. decrease; Phelps, 20 per cent. increase; Wheeler and Hitchcock, 30 per cent. decrease; Boyd, 40 per cent. decrease.

Autos Double in Number. The number of automobiles returned by county assessors to the State Board of Equalization will be double the number returned in the year 1909. In that year there were returned 3,611, while, with six counties not yet reported, there has been returned a total of 6,481. April 1, when the assessment is made, there were registered in the office of the secretary of state a total of 9,286 machines and the year before a total of 4,877. This number, however, does not represent the total number of machines in the state.

Brief in Stock Yards Case. Frank Ransom, attorney for the Stock Yards company, filed a brief with the State Railway commission in support of his application for injunction to stay rates. The attorney sets out that the plaintiff has proven that the valuation of the stock yards is $2,591,890.50, and that the charges they should make are just and reasonable compared with the charges made for the same service by the railroad companies in switching.

Assessment of Hogs. The assessment of hogs and pigs came up before the state board of assessment. In some places a sow is assessed at so much and no account is taken of the little pigs. In other places a certain value is placed on a sow and the value of pigs in the various counties shows great variation, and the state board of equalization is in danger, according to the assessors protesting, of making unwarranted changes in an attempt to equalize widely disproportionate values.

Troubles of Irrigators. The water troubles of irrigators in the western part of the state have become so acute that Secretary Simmons of the state irrigation board, wired Under Secretary Willis to patrol head gates to keep irrigators from using the water belonging to others. The complainant before the board was A. Wickstrom of the North Platte Irrigation and Land company. This company has the prior claim for water from this stream, but others above have taken water without right authority.

WILLY WAS TOO LIBERAL

Over-supply of Alcoholic Stimulants Disturbed Schedule of Funeral Arrangements.

Dean Ramsay's memoirs contain an anecdote of an old woman of Strathpey. Just before her death she solemnly instructed her grandchildren: "Willy, 'My dear, and as you'll see the church of St. I have mind now that as much whisky is to be used at a funeral as there was at my baptism."

Willy, having no record of the quantity consumed at the baptism, decided to give every mourner as much as he wished, with the result that the funeral procession, having to traverse ten miles to the churchyard on a short November day, arrived only at nightfall.

Then it was discovered that the mourners, halting at a wayside inn, had rested the coffin on a diplo and left it there when they resumed their journey. The corpse was a day late in arriving at the grave.

RAW ECZEMA ON HANDS.

"I had eczema on my hands for ten years. I had three good doctors but none of them did any good. I then used one box of Cuticura Ointment and three bottles of Cuticura Resolvent and was completely cured. My hands were raw all over, inside and out, and the eczema was spreading all over my body and limbs. Before I had used one bottle, together with the Cuticura Ointment, my sores were nearly healed over, and by the time I had used the third bottle, I was entirely well. To any one who has any skin or blood disease I would honestly advise them to foot with nothing else, but get Cuticura and get well. My hands have never given me the least bit of trouble up to now."

"My daughter's hands this summer became perfectly raw with eczema. She could get nothing that would do them any good until she tried Cuticura. She used Cuticura Resolvent and Cuticura Ointment and in two weeks they were entirely cured. I have used Cuticura for other members of my family and it always proved successful. Mrs. M. E. Fahn, Speers Ferry, Va., Oct. 19, 1909."

The Wrong Sort.

An old Irish peasant, one Sunday sitting in front of his cottage puffing away furiously at his pipe.

Match after match he lighted, pulling hard at the pipe the while, until at last the ground all round his feet was strewn with struck matches.

"Come in to your dinner, Patsy," at length called out his wife.

"Faith, and Oi will in a minute, Biddy," said he. "Molke Mulgoney has been a-telling me that if Oi smoked a bit av ghlass Oi'd see the shpoons on the sun. Oi don't know whether Molke's been a-fooling me or whether Oi've got hold av the wrong kind av ghlass!"—Scraps.

Only One Cobb.

The morning after Judge Andrew Cobb, a one time justice of the supreme court of Georgia, tendered his resignation, an Atlanta lawyer and a shoe drummer sat in the same seat in an outgoing train.

The lawyer bought a newspaper and looked over the headlines. Then he turned to the drummer and said:

"Well, I see Cobb has resigned."

"Gee!" said the drummer. "What will Detroit do now?"—Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post.

149 Years Old When He Died.

Paddy Blake, who was born at Ballygreen, parish of Kilnasegagh, county Clare, Ireland, in 149 years ago, has died in the Corcoran Union hospital. Paddy had a clear memory of events that happened a hundred years ago and was one of those who went to St. Daniel O'Connell passing through Dunratty Park on his way to Paris for the great election of 1828.

Picturesque Language.

"I'm afraid fire hits very poor table manners."

"Why so?"

"A young reporter says the 'greedy flames devoured everything in reach and then licked the paint off an adjoining building.'"—Birmingham Age-Herald.

RECEIVES SHOWER OF DISHES

The remodeled basement of the M. E. church was formally thrown open to the public Thursday evening with what the Ladies' Aid society of the church were pleased to term a "kitchen shower," their idea being to have articles donated for use in the kitchen part for suppers, etc. Their laudable ambition was fully realized, as they were given five dozen each of plates, cups and sauce dishes, besides a large variety of glassware, and decorated ware in separate pieces. The ladies are so well pleased over the outcome that they can sing heartily: "There shall be showers of blessings." But this was not the only feature of the evening, as ice cream and cake were served, very many partaking of this part of the affair.

The gathering also proved to be a very social event, there being interchange of greetings and conversation, making the time pass pleasantly.

The basement is to be used for Sunday school purposes and social gatherings and is very nicely arranged for the uses intended, being furnished with kitchen and cupboards, sink, closets, and supplied with city water and electric lights. A concrete and cement block floor prevents any dampness and affords a neat appearance as well as stability.

The ladies are to be congratulated not only on the success of the evening's entertainment but also on having such a desirable place to hold future gatherings of a similar character.

OFF FOR THE MINES.

O. A. King, representing King Solomon's mine, accompanied a large party to the company's property in Colorado this week, leaving here Monday morning. Members of the party from this place are the following: Dr. Blair and wife and son Harold, Dr. Heckert and wife and daughters, Theodore Duerig and son, S. R. Theobald and wife, O. A. King and wife, Ray King, Arthur Gustafson, Carl Erxleben, H. J. Worth and wife, W. H. Gildersleeve and son, Otto Voget, sr., Mrs. Wm. Pond and daughter, Mrs. Robt. Warnock, B. E. Elliott and wife, Mrs. Mauff and Mrs. Arleigh and daughter, formerly of Wayne. Ten people from eastern Iowa and twenty others joined the party at Norfolk. A special car conveyed the crowd to Fremont where a Pullman was reserved to complete the journey to Colorado. After spending two days in Denver and attending the annual meeting of the King Solomon company, the travelers will take a trip to the mines and devote several days to an inspection and enjoyment of the mountain range. They will fish in Lake Unaqua, and have all the pleasures of a summer outing amid the Rockies.

WEED LAW.

Until the fifteenth of August the owner of land is given to cut the grass and weeds on the highway next to his place. After that time the law requires the precinct road boss to cut the weeds and grass and charge it up to the land to be collected in the taxes. The road boss is allowed $4 a day for this work and the law says they shall do it. Maybe he will not have time to attend to it, having troubles enough of his own, but anyway, it should be done, and in many places it has already been attended to. It makes the roads look better, improves the looks of the country and is an advertisement of a favorable kind for the owner. Country residents owe it to themselves to keep down the weeds and grass along rural mail routes with especial care. It will make a lot of difference in the regularity and promptness of their mail service next winter if the snow catching weeds and grass are removed now.

MORE CAUCUSES

Another precinct caucus will have to be held in the various precincts before election this year. Road bosses must be nominated and in some precincts assessors and justices of the peace, elected for two years, failed to qualify, so there must be candidates selected this year for the vacant offices. An appointed assessor holds his place for only one year. Road overseers are elected every year.

Conservation of a Community

The farmers of Rock Creek, Illinois, found that the retirement of farmers from their farms for residence in the towns was destroying the social and religious life of the community. They took counsel to devise measures by which to save the community. Their first proposal was a farmers' union or syndicate which would rent the land offered by retired farmers and sublet it to desirable tenants whose presence in the community would not be a detriment. But this plan soon proved its weakness. The retiring farmers were only too willing to put their lands in the hands of the syndicate and go to the town or city, reassured that while they were enjoying town life, its good schools, its music and lectures—for the retired farmer is an intelligent, aspiring man—their farms would be well rented.

Finally, the sons of the early settlers decided that they must go deeper. They undertook to provide their community with better schools. They erected a building as good as one finds in town or city, and they abandoned the old country schools with their small districts and poor teaching. They thus assembled about one hundred children in one school company. They hired wagons to carry them back and forth. They employed good teachers and put in laboratories, work benches, sewing machines and ranges for teaching manual training and domestic science. They heated it well and lighted with gas, and in the third floor they had room for a meeting place for all the people of the community. Out-of-doors they have grounds for games, baseball, tennis and foot-ball. The result has been that the retirement from the farm has been stopped. The place has come to be so desirable as a place of residence that the rental of land has gone up and the average tenant will not go there. Foreigners are excluded and the drifting element of the population has ceased to be restless. Social life has been restored and the continuous life of the institutions of the country-side has been assured.

This cannot be accomplished by mere prosperity of the individual farmer, nor by the increase of the general products of the soil. Without the saving of the community all other gains are only partial. Even the saving of some souls will do little good unless they have a home to live in and that home is a part of a growing, intelligent community, in which women shall be happy and children shall be contented to live all their lives. The country community must make itself the best place on earth, not only to the men who make the money, but to all the members of the family among whom the money will have its greatest value.—Brederers' Gazette.

Addison Waite for State Secretary

Lincoln Journal: There ought not to be any question as to the election of Addison Waite for the position of secretary of state of Nebraska. Mr. Waite, as deputy to the present secretary, has made an admirable officer. He is fully acquainted with every detail of the office and under his direction the affairs of the office will be most ably carried on. Mr. Waite is one of the younger soldiers of the war of 1861-5. He served ably and well and at its close received an honorable discharge. It would be a fitting remembrance to those who went forth in that great struggle to remember their deeds by a place upon the republican ticket of one of their number. But a few short years longer and there will be none left and we believe it right and proper that the candidacy of Addison Waite should be received with enthusiasm at this time. But that alone should not be the reason for his election. He is well qualified for the position and amply able to fill it, both from natural ability and from a personal association with the duties of the office. When a man has made an efficient deputy, he should be given a promotion. We have been personally acquainted with him for several years. Four years of that time as an associate in the state house, and we know his true worth and competency to fill the position of secretary of state. Should he receive the nomination, there is little doubt but that he will be elected. When you go to the polls do not forget to remember the candidacy of Addison Waite and vote for a good official.

Big Lotus With Gollmar's Circus

One of the most annoying things to the animal keeper with a menagerie, is the surprising ignorance and indifference of many people toward the rare and costly beasts and birds of the forest. There are not half a dozen real zoological gardens in this entire country, and hence about the only opportunity a majority of the people of this country have to study natural history from real life is upon the occasional visit of some of the big circuses.

"Big Lotus," the "hip" with the Gollmar Shows, knows his value, and he also knows that the public is not as well acquainted with him as it pretends to be. When he first joined the circus he seemed annoyed because the cheap, sickly, treacherous little monkey attracted more attention than he did; but he is over that now. Although he is not paid the homage and attention that is his due, this giant beast does not show his disappointment, but lies contentedly in the mammoth tank of water in the bottom of his cage, and in parade he will occasionally make goo-goo eyes at the crowds or open his great mouth. When the menagerie is opened he is so provoked that people devote so much time to the other numerous attractions of the Gollmar Brothers' zoological display that he frequently turns his back to the whole crowd.

"Big Lotus" comes here with the Gollmar Brothers Circus August 19,

What You Should Learn Before Coming for Final Papers.

That the government of the United States is a Constitutional Government made by the People and controlled by the People.

That the head of the government is the President. That the President is elected by electors who are chosen by the votes of the People every four years.

The Constitution of the United States is the foundation of all the laws of all states must comply with it. It was written by the men who first founded the government of the United States. It tells how our laws shall be made and who shall make them. It declares that we shall have a Chief Magistrate of the Government, a President who shall be elected by the votes of the citizens of the United States through electors, and shall hold his office for four years.

The Constitution declares that we shall have a certain number of men to make laws for the United States. That a part of these men shall be elected every two years by the votes of the people of the various States and sent to Washington to represent the people in making laws. These men are called members of the lower House of Congress or Representatives.

The other part of this number of men are chosen by the Legislatures of the different states (two from each state.) They are called members of the Upper House of Congress or United States Senators and are chosen for six years. Together these two houses make the Congress of the United States.

Each State has but two United States Senators, no matter how many or how few inhabitants the State may have.

Each State has a larger or smaller number of Congressmen, according to its population.

The Constitution provides for four Courts to examine the laws made by Congress and other law making bodies. The highest court is called the Supreme Court of the United States. The decisions of this court are final.

The President is the Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States.

The Judges of the Supreme Court of the United States are appointed by the President and most of the other officers of the National Government are likewise appointed by him.

All laws passed by Congress must be signed by the President.

The President lives at Washington, D. C., which is the Capital of the United States.

Congress meets in Washington. The Supreme Court of the United States is held in Washington.

There are 48 states and 3 territories. Learn the names of each state and each capital.

ABOUT THE STATES

Each state has its own government, which is similar to that of the United States.

Each state has its Courts, also a lawmaking body known as the legislature, which has two branches; the lower one known as the House of Representatives, and the upper one as the Senate. These two branches make the Legislature or General Assembly of the state and make the state laws. They are elected by the people.

Each state has its chief executive, who is called the Governor, who carries out the laws of the state through the different officers of the state, most of whom are appointed by him.

ABOUT CITY GOVERNMENT

The City Government is a government entirely by the people, acting through a Mayor and Council, the Mayor being Chief Executive of the City Government.

City laws are called Ordinances and are made by the Councilmen or Aldermen.

The Mayor and Councilmen or Aldermen constitute the City Council.

COUNTY GOVERNMENT

The principal officers of a county are the Supervisors, Judge, Sheriff, Clerks of Courts, Recorder, Treasurer and School Superintendent, and are all elected by the people.

One of the things that is worrying a great many farmers in Nebraska today is the impurity of many of the seeds purchased from dealers. Since farmers have begun to sow tame grasses, alfalfa and clover in this state the weed flora of many neighborhoods has been completely reformed. We now see weeds growing abundant here and there that were almost unknown in the state a few years ago. Only a few weeks since we talked with a man who introduced quack grass into his farm through timothy seed. At present we are without any form of protection against the sale of impure seeds and the chief of it is that Iowa and other states around us have somewhat stringent laws regulating the sale of farm seeds. The natural result of this combination is to make Nebraska an easy mark for seeds that cannot be sold in other states.—Nebraska Farmer.

Consolidation of Rural Schools.

Superintendent Bishop has issued a 40-page bulletin on the "Consolidation of Rural Schools." Consolidation is explained as meaning the uniting of two, three, or more small and weak schools into one that shall be large enough in point of members to be interesting, and strong enough in the way of money to afford a comfortable building, two or more good teachers, and reasonable facilities for work. It also means that outlying territory with few children shall be combined with a nearby school that is strong, rather than to remain unorganized into a separate but weak district. In its fullest sense it means the uniting of all the schools of a township into one or two so located as to be most accessible, though not necessarily at the geographic center.

The bulletin emphasizes very strongly the need of better schools for country children, and advocates a system of schools that will educate the country children as successfully as city schools educate city people. In the study of the subject of consolidation in Nebraska two facts are apparent, says Mr. Bishop: First, the farmers are really supporting a double school system, one at home by the process of taxation, the other in the nearest town or city in the form of tuition paid for high school privileges. This tuition often amounts to more than enough to pay the salary of the superintendent of the entire city school system, to say nothing about the added expense and disadvantage of educating the children away from home and home influence.

The other fact is that in spite of all the arguments as to the impossibility of transporting pupils, pupils are now being transported in large numbers and have been for years in different sections of the state, often traveling as far as seven miles and back daily during an entire high school course. This is being done in many cases at private expense and often for several members of the same family and for several families of the same district. And so the farmer not only supports his own school system, but because it is insufficient he also helps support that of his city neighbors.

Among the advantages claimed for consolidation are:

1. It is much cheaper for the same grade of school.
2. At the same expense much better schools can be secured, because fewer teachers being needed a better grade can be secured, a division of labor established, and at least some sort of supervision inaugurated.
3. It makes possible a country school equal in every sense to the best city schools, yet within reach of farm homes.
4. The health of children is better when conveyed in wagons and landed warm and dry than when sitting all day with wet feet and dragged clothing after tramping through all kinds of roads in all kinds of weather.
5. The inspiration that comes with numbers puts life into the school that is impossible in classes of one or two each.
6. It makes possible the employment of at least one experienced, well educated, broad minded teacher, under whose supervision even young and inexperienced teachers covering fewer things will do far better work than when working alone trying to teach everything.
7. It increases property values as a whole for those who care to sell, and broadens life for those who stay.
8. It makes unnecessary the sending of young boys and girls away from home for high school privileges on the one hand, or the breaking up of homes on the other, in "going to town to educate the children."
9. It makes unnecessary the present costly system of sending the young men and women at private expense to village high schools, thus supporting a double system of education for country children.

New Postoffice Regulations.

With a view of making a saving of about a half million dollars each year the postoffice department will put into effect soon a new form of "money order." The local postoffice has already received word of the new regulation.

Another change will be made in the registered mail department, in which the receipt card will be done away with and the sender of a registered letter will no longer get in return the red tag which advises him of the receipt at the destination of his letter. This receipt, it is said, will be entirely done away with unless a request for it be made to the postmaster by the sender of registered mail. With the doing away of this card, the government also expects to make a saving.

The new money order form is the feature of the new regulation. As the present form requires two copies, one a carbon copy of the order which goes to the paying postmaster the new order will have a coupon attached to it. The order, after being filled out with the coupon, which takes the place of the old device, is given to the purchaser of the order. When the paying postmaster pays the order at its destination, he tears off the coupon and sends it into headquarters as credit.

THE OTHER NORMALS.

It will be of interest to the Wayne public to know the appropriations that were made by the last legislature for the state normal schools at Peru and Kearney.

FOR PERU:
Maintenance	$ 39,400
Salaries, etc.	105,000
New building	40,000
Deficiency	3,500
Total	$187,900
FOR KEARNEY:
New building	50,000
Salaries, etc.	82,000
Maintenance	24,700
Total	$156,700

About the Size of It.

"Halt! the world doesn't know how the other half lives," said the professor, trying to be polite. "Yes," put in the grocer, "and what's more, it's too busy to care."

To keep your health sound; to avoid the ills of advancing years; to conserve your physical forces for a ripe and healthful old age, guard your kidneys by taking Foley's Kidney Remedy. Felber's Pharmacy.

Not That Kind.

"My husband laughed at me this morning till I got as mad as a hornet." "Why?" "Just because I heard him talking of wash sales and asked him to get me a tub suit at once."

Most disfiguring skin eruptions, scrofula, pimples, rashes, etc., are due to impure blood. Burdock Bitters is a cleansing blood tonic. Makes you clear eyed, clear-brained, clear-skinned.

The Shortest Town Meeting.

Prosquo late, in Maine, thinks it has the record of holding the shortest town meeting ever known. A special town meeting was called to vote additional money for highways. The meeting was called to order, warrant read, moderator chosen, article passed over and meeting adjourned in less than ten minutes.

Itching piles provoke profanity, but profanity won't cure them. Doan's Ointment cures itching, bleeding or protruding piles after years of suffering. At any drug store.

Misplaced Rapures.

To show the absurdity of Swedenborg's ideas, the preacher drew a graphic account of the supposed Swedenborgian heaven, with beautiful fields, fine horses, cows, etc. In the midst of his glowing description one of the sisters went into raptures, and shouted: "Glory, glory, glory!" "Hold on there, sister!" said the preacher, "you're shouting over the wrong heaven!"—Success Magazine.

Foley Kidney Pills

Tonic in quality and action, quick in results. For backache, headache, dizziness, nervousness, urinary irregularities and rheumatism. Felber's Pharmacy.

Consider the Trees.

The trees are lovely in summer, so are the women. But how different are the women and the trees as to their clothes! To be sure, both are delightfully clothed; yet, with the abundant talcum with which the trees are supplied, they require but one think to hold it all.—Smart Set.

In buying a cough medicine, don't be afraid to get Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. There is no danger from it, and relief is sure to follow. Especially recommended for coughs, colds and whooping cough. Sold by all dealers.

Bold Pennsylvania Burglars.

While the chief of police of Mount Oliver, near Pittsburg, was guarding the homes of the borough, burglars entered his home the other night, and carried off a good watch, silverware and diamond rings that were secreted in a china cabinet. Two thieves in the immediate vicinity were also entered.

If your liver is sluggish and out of tone, and you feel dull, bilious, constipated, take a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets tonight before retiring and you will feel all right in the morning. Sold by all dealers.

Built Nest of Clothespins.

A remarkable discovery was made by a chimney sweeper at Moffat, Dumfriesshire, England, while engaged in removing soot obstruction in a chimney caused by a jackdaw's nest. Two hundred and fifty wooden clothespins were removed from the chimney, all of which had been utilized for the purpose of nest building.

From Sickness to Excellent Health.

So says Mrs. Chas. Lyon, Peoria, Ill.: "I found in your Foley Kidney Pills a prompt and speedy cure for kidney trouble which bothered me for many months. I am now enjoying excellent health which I owe to Foley Kidney Pills." Felber's Pharmacy.

How He Got a Meal.

Tramp—"Lady, have you got a pair of old shoes you don't need?" Mrs. Lindhart—"I have—a pair of my husband's, but I fear they're hardly fit for further wear—my good man." Tramp—"At last! Lady, I can't afford to wear them—I only wanted them to stew 'em out."

Be sure and take a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with you when starting on your trip this summer. It cannot be obtained on board the trains or steamers. Charges of water and climate often cause sudden attacks of diarrhoea, and it is best to be prepared. Sold by all dealers.

Contemplation as Well as Action.

Good company, lively conversations, and the endearments of friendship, fill the mind with great pleasure; a temporary solitude, on the other hand, is itself agreeable. This may perhaps prove that we are creatures designed for contemplation as well as action.—Burke.

When the digestion is all right, the action of the bowels regular, there is a natural craving and relief for food. When this is lacking you may know that you need a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They strengthen the digestive organs, improve the appetite and regulate the bowels. Sold by all dealers.

Her Diaphragmatic Resistance.

The wonderful endurance power of women is evidenced again by the fact that a husky New York college man, who was rehearsing in a girl's part in a play, fell in a fit and remained unconscious for some time, and for no other reason than that he had been wearing a tightly laced corset for a couple of hours.

Dysentery is a dangerous disease but can be cured. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has been successfully used in nine epidemics of dysentery. It has never been known to fail. It is equally valuable for children and adults and when reduced with water and sweetened, it is pleasant to take. Sold by all dealers.

Clung to Their Tin Cups.

In the middle ages drinking glasses and cups were rare and they were generally silvered upon a foot or stem of gold or silver, enriched with precious stones. Not until the fifteenth century, when Venice began to send her wares abroad did the use of glasses become quite general, and even then, in ordinary life, the people clung to their "tin cups," which were often of beautiful design and workmanship.

For Quick Relief from Hay Fever.

Asthma and summer bronchitis, take Foley's Honey and Tar. It quickly relieves the discomfort and suffering and the annoying symptoms disappear. It soothes and heals the inflamed air passages of the head, throat and bronchial tubes. It contains no opiates and no harmful drugs. Refuse substitutes. Felber's Pharmacy.

Pride That Had a Fall.

He was standing among his fellows this lion of the salon of the Independent Artists, telling what art and life meant to him, when he was approached by a matter-of-fact citizen, who wanted to know: "Can you tell me," he asked, looking straight into the eyes of the great man "if these here darned pictures were done by real artists or just amateurs?"

Acute or Chronic Which?

No matter if your kidney trouble is acute or chronic, Foley's Kidney Remedy will reach your case. Mr. Claude Brown, Reynoldsville, Ill., writes us that he suffered many months with kidney complaint which baffled all treatment. At last he tried Foley's Kidney Remedy and a few large bottles effected a complete cure. He says, "It has been of inestimable value to me." Felber's Pharmacy.

Big Demand for Talent.

Scenarios for moving picture plays are asked for. "If you have never checked writing a scenario," an attorney says, "it doesn't matter how good is a good idea to what would constitute a good story to be shown on the screen—comedy, tragedy, drama or educational." In explanation of the circular a man in the business said that the moving picture as a means of amusement had assumed such gigantic proportions that new talent must be secured to satisfy the demand for novelties.

They Have a Definite Purpose.

Foley Kidney Pills give quick relief in cases of kidney and bladder ailments. Mrs. Rose Glaser, Terre Haute, Ind., tells the results in her case. "After suffering for many years from a serious case of kidney trouble and spending much money for so called cures, I found Foley Kidney Pills the only medicine that gave me a permanent cure. I am again able to be up and attend to my work. I shall never hesitate to recommend them." Felber's Pharmacy.

The Best Cars in the World at the Price

CHALMERS "30," $1,500	CHALMERS "FORTY," $2,750
------------------------	---------------------------

Chalmers cars for 1910 have met with more success in the hands of individual owners than any car ever marketed. Their perfect running qualities and ease of operation have appealed to all, and their elegance of line and finish have been universally admired.

CHALMERS FEATURES ARE DISTINCTIVE

The two-bearing ball-bearing crank shaft and cylinder cast in block are distinctive features of Chalmers cars. Annular ball-bearings on the crank shaft, in the transmission, the differential, the wheels, and even in the circulating fan, are new features in a car at this figure.

The finish and upholstery in Chalmers cars are equal to that in any car at any price.

Chalmers cost of up-keep and repair has been less than even the manufacturers claimed it should be.

Before investing your money in a motor car get our prices on what has proven itself the best car in the medium-priced class.

HEED THE WARNING.

Many Wayne People Have Done So

When the kidneys are sick they give unmistakable warnings that should not be ignored. By examining the urine and treating the kidneys upon the first sign of disorder, many days of suffering may be saved. Sick kidneys expel a dark, ill-smelling urine, full of "brick-dust" sediment and painful in passage. Stagnant kidneys cause a dull pain in the small of the back, headaches, dizzy spells, tired, languid feelings and frequently rheumatic twinges.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys only; they cure sick kidneys and rid the blood of uric poison. If you suffer from any of the above symptoms you can use no better remedy. Wayne people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills.

D. S. McVicker, of Wayne, Nebr., says: "A member of my family was troubled by backache for a long time. That the complaint was caused by disordered kidneys was plainly shown by irregular passages of the secretions from these organs. Doan's Kidney Pills were finally used and they brought great relief. It is a pleasure to recommend this excellent remedy."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York; sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
