

THE WAYNE HERALD.

All the News and a Square Deal for All

Consolidated with The Wayne Republican

WAYNE, NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1910

Volume 35, No. 41

Jones' Book Store in Holiday Dress is

JONES' Christmas Store

New goods received every day and placed in stock, when the greatest line ever shown in our store will be ready. Watch the change.

Music Dep't---Everything in Music

We carry a fine line of high grade PIANOS and PIANO PLAYERS. Note these names:

- Melville Clark Apollo Player
- Milton Invisible Player
- Davenport and Tracy Piano
- Ludwig, Schumann
- The Matchless Milton Piano
- Victor and Edison Phonographs
- A Complete Line of Records
- We carry them all.

Thanksgiving Here Again!

The advent of the Thanksgiving time this year finds us with a large stock of everything seasonable in merchandise for the time of year. If your demands are for edibles, table coverings or comfortable clothing we are in excellent position to meet your demands. Come in and see us.

Table Linen Our stock comprises all the qualities up to $2.25 per yard. One special number is a 72-inch linen in a very pretty pattern, extra good value, per yard 75c

Lunch Cloths Doilies, Center Pieces in a good variety of patterns, Drawn Work, allop Edges and Battenburg, 30x30 Art Linen, 12-inch Cloths in fine drawn work, each $1.75

Table Sets and Napkins that will represent as good values as can be had anywhere. Separate napkins may be had from $1.50 Up

Women's, Misses' and Children's Coats, Underwear for the Whole Family, Sweaters, Mittens, Blankets, Comforters, Dress Goods, Gloves.

Our grocery department contains nothing but the best, always fresh, always clean. Make arrangements to buy your Thanksgiving dinner here.

- Pure Country Sorghum 75c
- Cane, Corn and Sorghum 60c
- Pure Maple Syrup $1.65
- Best Corn Syrup 35c
- Pancake Flour, large sack 75c
- Pure Buckwheat 45c
- Large package Rolled Oats 20c and 25c
- Sweet Potatoes, per pound .3c
- Cranberries, quart 10c
- Navel Oranges, dozen 40c
- Grapes, basket 30c
- Apples, peck 40c

All kinds of fruit for Thanksgiving table.

Orr & Morris Co

PHONE 247, WAYNE

Your Produce Will Buy More Here

M O V E D

During the construction of our new store building you will find us next door, in Craven & Welch's store.

MINES, THE LEADING JEWELER

LIST OF CORN SHOW PREMIUMS

NAMES OF PRIZE WINNERS

Corn Show Big Success in All Respects—Interesting and Helpful Lectures given.

With nearly three hundred entries and an interesting program of talks and lectures, the annual corn show was fully up to the standard expected. The attendance was large, and the outcome financially was satisfactory. The lectures were instructive, and were given close attention. The result will encourage the effort for another show next year.

Following is the list of winners and prizes:

Best 10 ears yellow corn; entries 22; first, C. G. Roggenbach, $25 cash; second, Geo. C. Morgan, $15 cash; third, Richard Hansen, $10 cash.

Best 10 ears sweet corn; entries 3; first, Carl Thompson, $7 overcoat; second, Buford Short, $4 pair shoes.

Best 10 ears pop corn; entries 19; first, Austin Bressler, $7 overcoat; second, Hobert Auker, $4 rifle.

Best 10 ears white corn; entries 9; first, R. F. Roggenbach, $10 pair spectacles; second, W. R. Gillette, 100 pounds flour.

15 largest ears corn any variety; entries 27; first, Roy E. Fisher, free sewing machine; second, Dewey Jones, 100-pound quarter beef; third, E. W. Stang, $10 gun.

Best half bushel winter wheat; entries 6; first, Earl R. Miner, $10 cash; second, Fred Hefti, 25 cement posts; third, Henry Westerhouse, $7 sheep lined duck coat.

Best half bushel velvet chaf spring wheat; entries 7; first, R. F. Roggenbach, 300 pounds flour; second, Herman Woehler, $8 laprobe; third, Milo Kremke, $5 cockerel.

Best half bushel blue stem spring wheat; entries 6; first, W. G. Busby, 300 pounds flour; second, John Lienemün, $5 storm front; third, Christ Wible, 100 pounds flour.

Best half bushel late oats; entries 8; first, A. J. Lundin, $10 cash; second, Herman Woehler, $10 fencing; third, Fred Ash, $10 pair spectacles.

Best half bushel early oats; entries 15; first, Oscar Anderson, $10 cash; second, W. G. Busby, $8.50 buggy pole; third, J. R. Hefti, $5 worth of coal.

Best half bushel barley; entries 2; first, C. A. Soderberg, ton soft coal; second, Otis Stringer, $2.50 box cigars.

Best half bushel early potatoes; entries 4; first, Henry Wert, 50 gallons coal oil; second, Otis Stringer, $5 pair blankets; third, Carl Splittgerber, $2.50 collar box.

Best half bushel late potatoes; entries 12; first, E. W. Stang, $5 pair shoes; second, Richard Hansen, $3 cash; third, Albert Sabs, 2 years subscription to Wayne Herald.

15 largest potatoes; entries 18; first, Roy E. Fisher, $10 cash; second, E. A. Miller, $5 ham; third, Wilbur Gillette, $2 cash.

Best sheaf alfalfa; entries 5; first, Clark Taylor, $10 cash; second, R. F. Roggenbach, $5 laprobe; third, C. O. Johnson, 100 pounds flour.

Largest pumpkin; entries 12; Clifford Francis, $6 suit of clothes; second, Paul Soderberg, $4 coaster wagon.

Best dressed doll; entries 9; first, Gladys Goldie, $5 music roll; second, Bessie Rew, $3 cash.

Best loaf white bread; entries 11; first, Ida Henerich, $6 pyrography set; second, Nita Foster, $5 brush and comb; third, Pearl Madden, 100 pounds flour.

Best pan corn bread; entries 10; first, Pearl Madden, $8 magazine rack; second, Vivian Johnson, 15 pounds creamery butter; third, Edna McVicker, $2.50 cash.

Best dozen cookies; entries 11; first, Grace Banister, $5 chocolate set; second, Gertrude Beutow, $3 cash; third, Dorothy Jones, $2.50 cash.

Best pumpkin pie; entries 12; first, Pearl Madden, $5 parlor lamp; second, Lorene McIntosh, $3 fountain pen.

Best hand made apron; entries 5; first, Hattie Crockett, $7 dozen photographs; second, Bernice Moler, $4 pair shoes; third, Lotis Realy, $2.50 cash.

Best machine made apron; entries 3; first, Martha Weber, $5 hat; second, Lillian Johnson, $3 cash.

Best work apron; entries 8; first, Ida Henerichs, $3 cash, second, Gertrude Beutow, $2.50 box candy.

Washable sofa pillow; entries 6; first, Lottie Bush, $5 manicure set; second, Lillian Johnson, $2.50 cash; third, Lucile Gildersteeve, $2 cash.

Washable shirt waist; entries 6; first, Mona Fletcher, $5 silk waist; second, Louise Wendt, $5 manicure set.

Best row buttons and button holes; entries 8; first, Edna McVicker, $5 hat; second, Minnie Will, $3.50 pair shoes.

NEWS FROM WAYNE SCHOOLS

Will Thielman of the 6th grade is absent on account of an injury received in a run-a-way.

Recent visitors were; Mrs. F. G. Philleo, Mr. and Mrs. Culler, Mr. Penn, A. J. Ferguson, Rev. McClenahan of Madison and Rev. James S. Corkey.

Football on the local grounds Saturday at 2:30. Pender vs. Wayne. In our first game of the season Pender defeated us 5 to 0, but next Saturday's game will be Wayne's victory, (we think.)

Score last Saturday—Wayne 37; Wakefield 0. It was a nice quite clean game of football. Wakefield has a clean gentlemanly bunch of football players and a clean model crowd of rooters.

We have recently lost Dorothy Von Seggern and Clara Liedtke, two of our best high school students. The former went to Oregon to visit and will attend school there and the latter dropped high school work to attend German school.

On Wednesday morning the 9th grade gave the following 20 minute program, with Hays Main presiding: Piano solo by Ensign Young; recitation, "The Preacher's Vacation" by Lucile Carpenter; description of Switzerland, by Irwin Sears; piano duet by Ferne Oman and Henrietta Moler.

Last Friday, G. A. Gregory, inspector of normal training in high schools, visited us and briefly addressed our high school on straight thinking and straight talking. This talk was well received and very beneficial to our students. Mr. Gregory told us that he was very much pleased with what he saw here.

Have you heard about it? About what? The "School Fair" on Saturday afternoon and evening December 3, 1910. Every pupil, patron, teacher and friend of the public schools is invited to donate something fancy work, eatables, etc., anything that will command a price. The proceeds are to be expended for school decorations. Let everybody heartily support the good cause.

Have you heard about the special train to Norfolk on Thanksgiving? Well, it is to leave Wayne at 1:30 and return the same evening. Don't miss going. It will be a great game of football and you will want a little outing after that big Thanksgiving dinner. Let every one who can, go—-we need a good crowd of rooters and all will have a good time. Boost for the Wayne high school and boost Wayne.

PERSONAL AND OTHERWISE

Attorney H. E. Siman was down from Winslow today.

Mrs. W. O. Miner and Mrs. Lou Owens visited Sioux City today.

Whalen's will be stocked with the best of ice cream for Thanksgiving day. Leave your order early.

Shelled nuts for the salad, lettuce to serve it on, curly moss parsley to garnish. EPLER'S GROCERY.

"The way to a man's heart is the way of his stomach." Feed him on Epler's groceries, and you'll have a thankful heart.

A number of Wayne county teachers plan to attend the meeting of the State Teachers' association at Lincoln next week.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Lutheran church met this afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. O. Johnson, one-half mile south of Wayne.

Meat prices have taken a tumble, and turkeys for Thanksgiving and Christmas will be more plentiful and cheaper than for several years, according to reports.

George Warner went to Sioux City today to consult with physicians over the condition of his wife who is in the Samaritan hospital at that place. He is not certain whether an operation will be necessary or not.

Mrs. Littell, county superintendent, will hold regular teachers' examinations at her office on Friday and Saturday of this week. It is expected that twenty to twenty-five teachers will go through the ordeal.

DISTRICT LODGE MEETING

SESSION HELD AT NORFOLK

Wayne Has Largest Representation From Outside Camps—Local Women Among Officers.

Twelve members of the Wayne lodge of Royal Neighbors attended the district meeting in Norfolk yesterday afternoon and last evening.

Several camps from neighboring towns were represented, though Wayne had the largest delegation from any outside lodge. Following persons attended from here: Messdames Barnett, Crockett, Schroer, Madden, Ash, Cozad, James, Rispen, Groose, Lamberson, Rennick and Short.

About 100 were present, and eight candidates were initiated into the mysteries of the order, being seven from Norfolk and one from Wayne. At an appropriate hour in the evening, a sumptuous spread of viands and delicacies was provided for the guests by the Norfolk hosts.

The election of officers for the year resulted in the choice of two Wayne ladies—Mrs. Barnett for vice orator, and Mrs. Schroer for assistant marshal. State Supervising Deputy Remington of Omaha was present, and took part in the ceremonies. The next annual district meeting will be held in Creighton.

IN SOCIETY.

The Acme club met with Mrs. J. G. Mines Tuesday afternoon, and followed the usual reading course. The next meeting will take place at the home of Mrs. Walter Weber.

The Minerva club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Fred Berry Tuesday afternoon. After the program as published, with the exception of a paper by Mrs. Hanson in the place of Mrs. Ley who was unable to be present, Mrs. Berry served delicious refreshments.

The Westminster Guild, an organization of young ladies of the Presbyterian church, met at the Bressler home Friday night and initiated a number of applicants for membership. After the formal ceremonies, refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed. The Guild will meet on Friday night of this week with Miss Emma Hughes.

The Monday club met this week at the home of Mrs. John Kate, and took up the study of Henrik Ibsen, whose life was reviewed and writings quoted. Next Monday the club will have an old-fashioned meeting at the home of Mrs. Dan Harrington. Quilts will be pieced, and quotations given from "Aunt Jane of Kentucky."

The U. D. Club had its program at the home of Mrs. J. H. Kemp Monday afternoon. Mrs. Kinne gave a paper on the life of James Russell Lowell, Mrs. Hafford read a poem, Mrs. H. B. Jones a biography of Oliver Wendell Holmes, and Mrs. Harry Fisher read the "One Horse Shay." The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. H. B. Jones.

COUNTY TEACHERS' MEET.

About 100 Wayne county teachers attended their association meeting at the high school room Saturday afternoon. The program was carried out as arranged, and was valuable for all present. Among the leading features was an address by Prof. J. T. House, of the department of literature at the Normal. He gave some helpful ideas about inspiring children with love for literature. Music by the different grades of the Wayne school also enlivened interest. The meeting was considered a genuine success, for which Mrs. Dittell, county superintendent, who led in arranging the program, received large credit.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES.

The communion will be observed at the Presbyterian church next Sunday morning. In the evening the pastor will preach on "The Glory of the Cross." Rev. J. S. Cotkey will preach his closing sermon on Thursday evening. On Friday evening the pastor will preach. Mrs. Emily Collins will sing both on Friday evening and at the Sunday services.

Don't forget the Free Coffee and White Bakery Demonstration at Rundell's store all day next Saturday. The optical illusion may be of interest. Don't miss this event. Everybody invited.

Buy your ice cream for Thanksgiving day at Whalen's.

Are You Ready for Thanksgiving?

Are you sure that you have forgotten nothing? Perhaps we can help you with a few suggestions. Here are three Thanksgiving Specials right in line for the big holiday:

OUR CANDIES—The most delicious confections you ever ate—pure and wholesome—just what children need to make them supremely happy.

OUR CIGARS—Here is something the men folks will enjoy. The cigars we sell have a smoke quality that will give to each smoker a full measure of satisfaction. We have good cigars for all tastes.

OUR PERFUMES—A complete stock of fine perfumes in fancy bottles, packages and bulk. All the popular odors. Milady's toilet is not complete without a dash of dainty perfume. You owe it to yourself to try ours.

We don't know just the article that you want, but if an up-to-date drug store ought to carry it, we have it.

HAVING bought half interest in the Central Meat Market, formerly owned by W. O. Hanssen, I wish to state that on and after the 21st I will be at said place on Main St. and close the one I am now in. This move may not be approved by all, but I assure you just treatment, and hope to convince you by you calling at the new home.

Respectfully,
OSCAR WAMBERG.

Clipped Prices!

We simply must have more room and the following prices prove it:

- 7c Graters, 19c 17-inch Coal Bucket, 25c 14-qt. Enameled Dish Pan; 8c Toasters; 13c large, decorated Meat Platters; 10c good wool Infant's Mittens; 9c 1 1-2-qt. Corn Poppers; 5c Steel Stove Scrapers; 68c Bracket Lamps, bronze bracket, silvered reflector, No. 2 burner; 5c Enameled Pie Plates.

Our big Saturday Special

50 12-quart DAIRY OR WATER PAILS, full weight I-X Tin Plate 10c

This pail is an extra good bargain and will positively not be sold before two o'clock in the afternoon.

Our China always pleases—yourself and your pocketbook.

WAYNE VARIETY STORE
OPPOSITE POSTOFFICE

15 Per Ct. Discount

German Store

On our entire stock of Ladies' and Misses' Cloaks and Coats. Most merchants will give you a discount along about January, when the winter is about over with and the customer does not get much benefit from the discount they get nor the coat, therefore we have decided to put our entire stock of Cloaks and Coats at a 15 per cent. discount that you may get the benefit now instead of next January, and this will make you a good saving. We have a large line to pick from. Look them over. We are always glad to show, whether you buy or not.

Dress Goods

Our Dress Goods business is picking up. We have more new dress goods to show you than we had last spring or fall. We are always pleased to show you the goods.

Just at this Sweater-Buying Time

You ought to realize what a remarkable line of Sweaters and Sweater Coats is here waiting for you. We have a large assortment in colors and sizes. While we are talking about

Gold Weather Goods

Don't forget that we carry a large line of FUR COATS, SHEEP-LINED COATS, FUR-LINED HATS and CAPS, WOOL and COTTON BLANKETS.

The Groceries

That you get at our store are guaranteed to be fresh and of high standard. Your produce will not buy any more here than your cash will, but it will buy just as much. Bring us your produce. Phone 136.

Furchner, Warner & Company

The German Store

"The only knocker most folks are indifferent about is Opportunity says Judge Wise. "She is knocking now, listen—E. J. Raymond has the goods."

LOCAL BRIEFS

Orlando Adams, Undertaker, 013. J. C. Ecker was in Wayne Saturday.

Dr. Naffziger went to Sioux City Monday.

O. D. Franks was up from Sioux City Saturday.

Dr. and Mrs. Adams went to Norfolk Monday.

Mrs. Kane of Sioux City, was in Wayne Saturday.

Miss Minta Lewis was up from Emerson Saturday.

You can get old papers at this office—5 cents per bunch.

Country lard at Rundell's. Bring your jars for a quantity.

Ed. Johnson arrived home from his trip out to Denver, Colo.

President Conn of the State Normal, went to Lincoln Spiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kellogg went to Verdel, Neb., Saturday to visit for a few weeks with relatives.

H. C. Bartels, representative-elect, was down from Carroll Monday.

Attorney Rhoney spent Sunday with home folks at Battle Creek.

W. I. Lowery visited over Sunday with his mother at Win. Id.

Miss Lucy Elson departed Saturday morning for Cleveland, Ohio.

Have again opened the dye works at my home. MRS. GEO. HEADY.

The Anchor Grain Co. sells the best hard and soft coal. Phone 109.

Miss Warren of Neigh was a guest of Miss Emma Selwerin over Sunday.

Miss Helen McNeal went to Omaha Friday for a visit with relatives over Sunday.

Mrs. Robt. Gemmill of Carroll, was in Wayne between trains on Monday.

Harry Armstrong went to Platte Center Monday where he has a job of plumbing.

Miss Minnie Poreth of Valentine, Nebr., was in town Monday, en route to Laurel.

Misses Ina Hughes and Hazel Norton attended the football game at Wakefield Saturday.

The Misses Kardler of Fullerton, visited the Reynolds and Craven families over Sunday.

Mrs. Worthing went to Randolph Monday for a visit with her brother Ed. Stephens and wife.

Mrs. F. M. Skeen went to Ponca Monday morning to visit her daughter, Mrs. Frank Davey.

Miss Lulu Wood enjoyed a visit from her sister of Hartington, between trains Saturday.

The Misses Martiny and Blanche Miller of Winside, were in town Saturday between trains.

For sale, two second-hand stoves, one hard and the other soft coal burners. Inquire of J. E. Hufford.

FOR SALE Pure Blood, Rose Comb Brown Leghorn Cockerels. JOHN S. LEWIS, Jr., at Harness shop.

Mr. and Mrs. M. VonSagern and daughter Dorothy leave this week for Portland, Or., to spend the winter.

A few Poland China male pigs of early farrow for sale, by E. T. Rennick, one half mile west of Wayne. S22-tf

Arthur Garwood, who has been seriously ill with typhoid fever, is recovering nicely, the nurse having left last Friday.

Mrs. S. A. Wright left Tuesday for Wenatchee, Wash., where her son resides and where she expects to spend the winter.

Attorney F. S. Berry is expected home this week from Aberdeen, S. D., where he has been on business the past ten days.

The Misses Pearl and Ruby Hughes and Iva Sala arrived home Monday from their visit with relatives in Dallas, S. D.

The Misses Jennie and Minnie Nelson, who attend Morningside college in Sioux City, spent Sunday with Wayne friends.

Miss Lizzie Ketchmark left Saturday for her home at Winner, S. D., after a pleasant visit with her brother Will and wife.

Ted Perry is having his barn raised and remodeled and a new foundation of cement put in. Clason, Nelson Bros. doing the work.

Rev. Alexander Corkey left Monday morning for Malvern, Ia., called there to officiate at the funeral of a cousin. He returned yesterday.

The dance given by Sullivan's orchestra at the opera house Saturday night was well attended and a general good time was had by all.

Harry Mahler, formerly of Wayne, was in town Monday from Sioux City. He expects to work in the X-Ray incubator factory this winter.

Don't think that piles can't be cured. Thousands of obstinate cases have been cured by Doan's Ointment. 50 cents at any drug store.

Mrs. Ben Hill of Streator, Ill., left for her home Saturday, after an enjoyable visit with her aunts, Mesdames R. Durrin and Wm. House.

Miss Margaret Carroll and Miss Anderson of Dorsey, Nebr., were in Wayne Friday enroute to Sioux City, where they went to look over the art studio.

Misses Madge White and Blanche Young, of Carroll and Miss Wadsworth of Winside, spent Saturday and Sunday with home folks in Wayne.

A card received by Wayne relatives from Mr. and Mrs. Elaine Skeen on their way to Washington, said they had a delightful trip over the Rockies.

Clason, Nelson Bros. have just finished building a new five-room house for R. A. McEachen on his farm six miles west of town. The cost is about $1,500.

Mrs. Lloyd Teyrrell returned to her home at Peader Saturday, after a visit of a few weeks with relatives and friends here. Mrs. Teyrrell was formerly Miss Sellers of Wayne.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Wiemers leave tomorrow for Los Angeles, Cal., where they will spend the winter. They will return to Wayne again in the spring and make this their home.

Misses May and Hazel Aegerter of Randolph were in Wayne between trains Saturday on their way to Omaha to spend Sunday with their sister, Pearl, who attends Boyle's college.

Among those from Wayne who went to Wakefield Saturday to witness the football game between Wayne and Wakefield high schools were: Prof. J. H. Kemp, O. P. Depew, Jas. Burton and the Misses Woods.

"Pinkey, The Pinkerton Girl," is a musical melodrama and has been added to W. F. Mann's list of successes and will be the offering at the opera house for November 18. It's a show with a real bunch of performers.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Epler left Monday morning for Omaha and from there went to Council Bluffs, where Mr. Epler attended the horticulture show and Mrs. Epler visited at the Geo. Damon home.

Lowie Brothers' liquid paint is a high-grade quality, the best on the market for durability and looks. If you want to paint your home or barn, you can do no better than use this noted make. It is for sale by Otto Voget, hardware dealer. S29-tf

E. Cunningham arrived home Monday from Fremont county, Idaho, where he has been looking after his land interests since spring. His son Don will return later. Mr. Cunningham says that while crops in Idaho were not quite up to the rule, on account of hot weather, the yield was good and commands high prices. He is busy looking sales for the winter, and from the outlook will be kept rushed as usual.

Frank Mettlen, one of the leading and prosperous merchants of Winside, was in Wayne Friday to attend the corn show and renew acquaintances. Mr. Mettlen has lived in Winside for eighteen years, having moved there from Wayne. He has lived in Wayne county most of his life, and he fully appreciates the fact that his lot was cast in the richest county in the state. He reports that Winside is prosperous and making good progress along different lines.

Success from start to finish is the verdict of the dramatic critic in speaking of W. F. Mann's newest and brightest offering "Pinkey, The Pinkerton Girl." The title impresses one as a through and through melodrama but it's not. It's what the critics termed it, a musical melodrama, carrying a company, who know how to wear stylish clothes, look pretty and sing and dance to a nicety. Jack Rollens who plays the title role of Willie Wynn has several bright and catchy musical numbers.

E. Cunningham went to Creighton Tuesday to officiate as auctioneer at a sale of pure-bred Poland China hogs from the herd of A. E. Rich. Mr. Cunningham has handled several sales for Mr. Rich, and with such success that the latter would not plan a sale without an assurance of being able to secure his services.

For sale, eighty acres in Fremont county, Idaho, two miles from Sugar City, where a sugar factory is situated, and four miles from St. Anthony, the county seat; all under irrigation, with perpetual water right. It is a fine place to stock in different seasons. Price $60 per acre. Inquire at the Herald office, Wayne, Neb. 027-tf.

W. F. Mann's latest musical offering, "Pinkey, The Pinkerton Girl," will be seen at opera house on November 18. The leading role of "Pinkey," a female detective, is played by Jack Rollens and whose versatility is well known in this production the same is put to good service as he is compelled to don several different characters. He appears as Willie Wynn, "the messenger boy," "the bootblack," etc. Song numbers have been written to fit each disguise, by H. Peters and DeLong. These numbers are well sung by Willie Wynn.

Wakefield Republican: Three boys were fined $10 and costs by Judge Marriot for disturbing the peace. Hollaway. This should be a warning to others to be careful lest they get a similar package handed to them.

Dixon Journal: George Clark, who is working for Shafter Bros., met with a painful accident last week. While cutting/kalfir corn, he made a miss lick with a butcher knife and split his middle finger almost to the second joint. He will not be able to husk corn for some time.

The Dakota City Eagle says the sheriff of Dakota county has bought a bloodhound from a Beatrice man, and warns people who get into jail, not to try to get out, for they will now be caught. The Herald regards a bloodhound as a formidable animal, appropriately associated with the pursuit of criminals, but has yet to hear of one that actually made good.

Tekamah Herald: Mr. and Mrs. Dan Harrington of Wayne were in the city Monday enroute to Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Bryant. Mr. Harrington was a former Tekamah boy and received his business education while in Mr. Bryant's employ which was a factor in later years in the success that attended his business career in Wayne in the last ten years.

Wayne Gazette: The little 18-month-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Hamann, while playing around the yard Monday, found a bottle containing some carbolic acid and drank part of the contents, spilling the rest over its body and face. Medical aid was at once summoned and measures taken to save the little one's life. Although quite severely burned, it is thought that the child will get along all right.

Columbus Tribune: Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Mason were called to Carroll Saturday by a message announcing the death of Mrs. William Griffith, a cousin of Mrs. Mason. Mrs. Griffith lived in Larrow township for many years prior to moving to Wayne county a few years ago, and is well known to many of our readers in the northern part of the county. Her husband died several years ago. She is survived by a son and a daughter.

Winside Tribune: People from the country who attend the evening services at the M. E. church, have been annoyed by having their ropes, whips and even part of their harness removed from conveyance and scattered around promiscuously. This kind of work has been carried to such an extent that it became necessary to call upon the village board to see if it could not put a stop to such proceedings. It is a very grave offence for anyone to disturb religious gatherings of any kind, and a little more so when property is destroyed. It is presumed to be the work of boys who think they are having fun and doing something cute.

This reminder of wicked Covington in Dakota county, appeared in the Sioux City Journal, November 8: Broken in health and with his fortune gone, John Peyson of South Sioux City, Sunday became an inmate of the Dakota county poor farm. In the early 90's Peyson was known as the "Car of Covington." Peyson then had plenty of money and he spent it with a lavish hand. His friends were many. He was the New York McKane in Dakota county politics. Peyson at one time had to be reckoned with by politicians seeking office, but for years his star has been dimmed. He was a conspicuous figure in Pearl street when it was the "white way" of Sioux City. He conducted the Bijou theater at Pearl and Third street, a notorious variety house. In those days the pontoon bridge connected the wicked district of Sioux City with Covington. Previous to coming to Covington Peyson was a respected German farmer of Plymouth county.

FOR SALE—Pure Bred Durock Jersey Boars. See John S. Lewis Jr., at Harness shop.

The Quality Grocery Store

"Home of the Best Groceries That Money Can Buy"

John F. Clinkenbeard & Co.

Prompt service and deliveries at all times. We buy right, sell right and treat you right. Phone 366. We want your patronage. All kinds of farm produce wanted. Will pay you highest market price.

Potatoes! Potatoes! Potatoes!!!

We have a car of good Iowa potatoes, shipped from Schleswig, and have been screened so that the small ones are taken out. Anybody that has not potatoes better buy now. When the snow flies you will find the potato crop short. Buy now.

Flour!

We carry three brands, Superlative and Snow Flake, made by your home mill, and Sleepy Eye flour, a northern hard wheat. Every sack guaranteed. Good or your money refunded.

We have in our second shipment of Crackers since we started. So they are fresh and good, and when we say good we mean good.

Canned Fruit!

Such a treat as you have not had in years. The rarest fruits in all California ready for your table. Rich, sun-mellowed, tree-ripened peaches with the juices so close to the surface, they melt on your tongue; apricots that leave a pleasant taste in your memory as well as your mouth; big, ripe, luscious cherries that remind you of the fragrant blossoms from which they came, and pears that will make you declare you never tasted a pear before until that hour. Our canned fruits are the pick of the finest orchards of California. The flavor of the fresh, ripe fruit is in every can. Ask us about them.

YOURS FOR BUSINESS

John F. Clinkenbeard & Co

THE CHET WITTER OLD STAND

THE WAYNE HERALD

WAYNE, NEB. E. W. HUSE, Editor and Manager

EXPLOSION SEALS 60

BELIEVED MANY MINERS ARE DEAD IN DELAGUA (COL.) MINE SHAFT.

FIFTY MAY HAVE ESCAPED

Force of Blast Felt Four Miles Away— Rescue Parties Are Rushed to Scene—Mouth of Main Slope Badly Caved.

Trinidad, Col.—Sixty or more miners were entombed and may be dead as a result of an explosion Tuesday in Mine No. 3 of the Victor American Fuel company at Delagua, 30 miles northeast of Trinidad. Three men were killed at the mine's mouth.

Fifty of the men in the wrecked mine are reported to have escaped through entry No. 2. Two of the men who were in the mine at the time of the accident have been taken out. They were unable to tell anything that would lead to the belief that their comrades are still alive.

The force of the explosion was felt at Hastings, four miles down the canyon, and the news of the disaster spread rapidly. Rescue cars of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company was manned with a force of 75 trained rescuers and taken by special engine to the scene.

W. G. Gatchel, general manager of the Colorado division, was at Gray Creek when notified of the disaster and left at once in an automobile and in personal charge of the rescue work.

The mouth of the main slope is badly caved and rescuers are directing their efforts to reaching the entombed men through the rear of No. 2 mine.

Two of the men injured at the south of the mine were brought to the local hospital in a serious condition. Officials seem to be unable to state how many men were in the mine.

BRANDS DR. COOK A SWINDLER

Rasmussen Sends Report From Far North—Eskimos Say Traveler Did Not Reach Pole.

Copenhagen, Denmark.—Knut Rasmussen, the Danish explorer, brands Dr. Frederick A. Cook as a swindler in a communication sent to his wife in this city.

Rasmussen incloses a narrative given by the two Eskimos who accompanied Doctor Cook and Commander Robert E. Healy on their recent Arctic expeditions in which they declare that Doctor Cook journeyed in a circle and did not reach the north pole.

The explorer writes in part as follows: "Already in the fall of 1909, when I was on an expedition to Greenland there existed grave doubts as to whether Doctor Cook had been near the north pole and I made up my mind to secure through thoroughly disinterested people a bona-fide report of his Eskimo fellow travelers, It sukuk and Apilak.

"These young men belong to a tribe near Smith sound, the members of which still live the life of savages. They possess no written language and therefore I had to get somebody to write down the young men's report. Rev. Gustav Olsen and Katekat Sochmann Rosebach, both born in Greenland and newly-arrived missionaries to this tribe, did the writing. Further, I received from the manager of a copper mine in Greenland, a man named Nyboe, assistance in getting the report. In the fall I forwarded a letter from South Greenland by sledge to the missionary station and the letter reached its destination in the winter.

"On my arrival at North Star bay this summer I found the report in the Eskimo language awaiting me containing the narrative given by Doctor Cook's companions to Rev. Mr. Olsen. I myself have not seen the young men since they returned with Doctor Cook, but I know them from earlier times. They are clever and trustworthy men and I consider their report obtained by wholly disinterested persons on the question of the reaching of the north pole by Doctor Cook, more valuable than any I myself could have obtained."

CIVIL WAR IN HONDURAS

President Davila Will Probably Appeal to U. S. to Take Charge of Affairs.

San Salvador.—A general rebellion has broken out in Honduras and insurgents are gathering in the interior, according to reliable dispatches received here. It is likely that President Davila will appeal to the United States or the Cortazo court to take charge of his administration, as his government is in no condition to meet a crisis at this time.

Marks Birthday by $50,000 Gift. Poughkeepsie, N. Y.—John Bigelow, the veteran diplomat and author, who will celebrate his ninety-third birthday this month, Monday presented to his native village of Malden on the Hudson, in honor of the occasion, a $50,000 recreation hall and library.

Japs to Seek South Pole. New York.—The explorers' club was notified Monday that a Japanese expedition to the south pole will leave Tokyo November 15.

Methodists to Pass Spain By. Baltimore, Md.—The board of foreign missions of the Methodist Episcopal church, in session here Saturday, decided after long discussion not to establish missions in Spain for the present at least, but to prosecute vigorously the work in Italy.

Typewriter Magnate Dead. Smith, N. Y.—The multi-millionaire typewriter manufacturer, died here Sunday. He leaves a fortune estimated at more than $10,000,000.

ENGINEERS TO VOTE

RAILWAY EMPLOYEES WILL BALLOT WHETHER TO STRIKE OR NOT.

SIXTY-ONE ROADS INVOLVED

Negotiations That Have Been in Progress Since September 26 Are Broken Off—Men Demand 15 Per Cent. Raise in Pay.

Chicago.—According to the grand officers of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, for whom Grand Chief Warren S. Stone of Cleveland, O., was the spokesman, a strike of all railroad engineers upon the sixty-one roads running north, south and west of Chicago may be called in January next.

According to Mr. Stone, and admitted by railroad representatives, conferences were begun between a committee from the engineers' and the Western Managers' association September 26, and nearly twenty-five sessions have been held since, and Monday all negotiations were broken off as the last amicable arrangement of differences was declared to be unacceptable.

The union committee was composed of a fifty-two general chairman from all over the country, with six grand officers, and the railroad, sixty-one in number, were represented by a conference committee of five, being General Manager E. W. Ward, Burlington road; F. C. Bachelder, first vice-president B. & O. C. T. F. Durham of the M. K. & T. G. H. Emerson, assistant general manager G. N.; T. J. Foley, assistant general manager I. C.; F. C. Fox, general superintendent, general power C. P. R.; H. J. Simmons, general manager E. P. & S. W., and A. W. Trenholm, general manager C. & M. & St. P. W. B. Scott, assistant director, was chairman of the committee.

The engineers presented a demand for an increase of 15 per cent. in salaries, together with a number of arrangements improving conditions. The railroad men offered compromises which were refused, and the word was taken back to the local unions to vote whether or not to strike. The reply will be brought back by December 15. The present working agreement in force can be terminated on thirty-days' notice. The brotherhood contains 60,000 members in the United States, Canada and Mexico, and 33,780 engineers will be affected on the lines in dispute.

DR. CRIPPEN GAINS DELAY

Convicted Slayer of Belle Elmore Given Lease of Life While Attorney Prays for Reprieve.

London, England.—It was announced locally Monday that Dr. Hawley H. Crippen, convicted and sentenced to death for the murder of his wife, would not be executed Tuesday as originally arranged, as the law provides that two weeks must elapse between the dismissal of an appeal and the carrying out of the sentence.

November 23 has been fixed upon as the date of the execution. Solicitor Newton, Crippen's counsel, is drafting a petition for a reprieve.

Blast Bank; Steel $2,000. Toledo, O.—After blowing a portion of the vault through the ceiling with nitroglycerin, crackmen secured $2,000 from the Southern bank, a private institution of Jerry City, O., 33 miles from Toledo, Tuesday. The robbers escaped in an automobile.

Illinois Bank Is Robbed. Champaign.—The vault of the bank of Penfield, Champaign county, was entered Tuesday and $900 in stamps deposited by the postmaster for safe-keeping were taken.

Wife-Slayer Escapes Death. Salt Lake City, Utah.—Thomas Vance, convicted in 1908 of the murder of his wife, and sentenced to be executed by shooting, was Monday found guilty of assault with intent to commit murder. The penalty is one to twenty years.

Safe-Blowers Get $2,000. Toledo, O.—Crackmen blew the safe of the Home Savings bank at Mettamore, O., 22 miles west of Toledo, early Monday, and got away with $2,000.

Sleeps in Buggy; Killed by Car. Bloomington, Ill.—Homeward bound and asleep in his buggy, Frank Wober, a wealthy farmer residing near here, was killed Saturday when his rig was struck by a street car.

PEACE PLANS ARE REFUSED

STRIKING GARMENT WORKERS REPUDIATE AGREEMENT.

Citizens' Committee Declares Tailors' Strike Is Justified After Investigation of Trouble.

Chicago.—Just when everybody thought peace was in sight the 40,000 striking garment workers turned down almost unanimously an arbitration agreement signed by Thomas A. Rickert, president of their national union, and officers of one of the largest firms concerned in the walkout.

The rejection of the agreement puts the strike back where it was before the peace negotiations were started. Simultaneous with the rejection of peace terms the committee of citizens interested in the strike—several of them social settlement workers—issued a report covering a week's investigation of the strike troubles.

The report declared the walkout justified on the ground of numerous grievances existing in the various establishments. The investigators found the strike was spontaneous in origin and not the result of dissension spread by union agitators.

The report closed by recommending a union or shop organization of the employes for the purpose of dealing collectively with the employers in the adjustment of possible future disturbances.

The effect of the report undoubtedly will be to encourage the strikers to hold out for recognition of the union and for the closed shop as a condition for the termination of the strike.

DEITZ GIVES $40,000 BAIL

He Is Released But Rearrested on Charge of Attempting to Shoot Man in 1904.

Hayward, Wis.—Attorneys Zabel and Schultz, head of the Deitz defense committee, arrived here Monday from Eau Claire, where they received Judge Wickham's approval of the bonds of $40,000.

The bond was approved and recorded after which procedure Deitz was notified that for a time at least he was again a free man. His wife and Clarence were overjoyed and quickly bringing his overcoat, Clarence assisted his father to put it on and stepped out on the porch of the jail. However, his period of freedom was very short. Barely had the overcoat been placed on him when Sheriff Madden read a warrant to him for the alleged attempted shooting of Patrick McGin on May 8, 1904, and once more the famous Cameron Dam defender was placed behind the bars.

IOWA LOSES IN POPULATION

Decrease of 1,082 Shown by Census Returns—Result Is No Surprise to Officials.

Washington.—The population of Iowa is 2,234,771, according to the enumeration in the thirteenth census. This is a decrease of 7,032, or 0.3 per cent, under 2,241,803 in 1900. The increase from 1890 to 1900 was 319,572, or 16.7 per cent.

The decrease did not surprise census bureau officials, as it was in line with what was expected in the agricultural regions of the middle west. Unless the present basis of apportionment is retained it is probable that Iowa will lose one of her 11 members of congress.

65 MILES IN 66 MINUTES

Aeronaut Flies Across Country with Cargo of Silk in Fastest Time a Biplane Ever Made.

Columbus, O.—Phil O. Parmelee, one of the Wright brothers' aeroplane operators, made the fastest cross-country flight ever made in a biplane. He flew from Dayton to Columbus, passing over South Charleston and Loudon. The air line distance as given by the Wrights is sixty-five miles. The flight was made at a height of 3,000 feet in sixty-six minutes.

Parmelee carried $1,000 worth of silk for a dry goods firm. It is said this is the first time the biplane has been put to such commercial use.

Fate Is Decided by Cards

St. Louis.—After a game of solitaire, he decided his fate, Charles W. Eggers, twenty-nine years old, ended his life by swallowing a mixture of carbolic acid and wood alcohol. Eggers took the fatal mixture when the ace and nine of spades, which he considered the worst cards in the deck, came out while he was playing a game of cards to which he had determined to leave the question of life or death, and blocked further play.

Caught Printing Pay Checks

Salt Lake City.—Five of the act of printing forged Chicago, Burlington & Quincy pay checks at an engraving plant, F. H. Rockmeyer, a printer, and Elmer Peterson, a boy of seventeen, were arrested here Tuesday.

Coronation Band Leader Dead

Seattle, Wash.—Thomas C. Cannell, leader of a band at the coronation of Queen Victoria, died here Tuesday in his ninety-sixth year, leaving 95 descendants, including seven great-grandchildren.

William St. John Harper Dies. New York.—William St. John Harper, artist and illustrator, died at the Presbyterian hospital here Monday of pernicious anemia, after an illness of several weeks. He was fifty-nine years old.

ALL OVER NEBRASKA

Accused of Robbery. Lancaster County.—Al Abel of Lincoln, who has been making his home with his sister there for some time, had a load of wheat to the Schminke mill. The owners of the mill became suspicious and called Sheriff Fischer, who got near the mill when Abel, seeing him coming, jumped into his wagon and started for one of the roads leading out of town. But the sheriff was too fast and headed him off. Abel turned down another road and after being chased about three miles jumped from the wagon and took to the timber and brush. The sheriff's son, who was with the father, took after Abel and chased him nearly a half mile, through the undergrowth, firing at him all of the time, before the fugitive stopped.

Boy Drowned at Fairbury. Jefferson County.—Fred K. Boy, the five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kelley, living near Fairbury, was drowned in a well at his home. It was an old unused well made of twelve-inch staves and a brick top. The little fellow was playing around the well and in some manner slipped down feet first. He was unable to keep above two feet above water until help arrived. As the well was so small, it was impossible for any one to get in after him, and before they could climb out he had slipped down into the water and was drowned.

Fair Boasting the State. Douglas County.—The publicity bureau of the Commercial club is working hard to create sentiment in favor of an appropriation by the next legislature for the proper advertising of the state. Men just elected to the legislature will be informed of the proposition most thoroughly so that when the legislature does assemble they will know in advance what is desired. Every year commercial clubs of Omaha, Lincoln and other Nebraska cities receive inquiries from men and farmers who are eager to secure information.

Four Deaths Same Day. Buffalo County.—Four deaths occurred in Kearney Monday. Mrs. Charles M. Kearney, 28 years old and the mother of four children, died of blood poisoning. Miss Ollie A. Bain, a school teacher, 26 years old, died of typhoid, which is prevalent here now. Mrs. Sarah E. Kerr, 60 years of age, died of pneumonia. W. J. Clark, a pioneer of Buffalo county, died at his home near Amherst at the age of 83.

Hotel Men's Banquet. Douglas County.—The Nebraska and Iowa Hotel Clerks' association is making elaborate preparations for the annual banquet and reunion which is to be held in Omaha Monday, December 5. Preliminary arrangements were discussed at a meeting held in the Paxton hotel, and it was decided in a general way to make the forthcoming occasion the greatest event of its kind ever given in Omaha.

No New Jail. Cass County.—From the way in which the voters expressed themselves at the recent election, Cass county is not likely to have a new jail in the near future, as the bond proposition was overwhelmingly defeated. The condition of the old jail is such that anyone so inclined can kick out bricks enough to make an opening sufficient for escape.

After Bank Robbers. Gage County.—Sheriff J. L. Schick was called to Beatrice, Kan., to assist the officers in trying to run down several bank robbers who dynamited the safe in the Beatrice State bank and secured $2,500. The robbers were followed to the Nebraska-Kansas state line, south of Wyniow, where all trace of them was lost.

Shelton's Oil Well. Dawson County.—The Shelton oil well is being worked by a force of men experienced in drilling. Two shifts are at work one night and one day, and good progress is being made. Many different layers of stone, slate and clay have been gone through and drilling has now reached a depth of 800 feet, and several times a substance much resembling oil has been brought up, and at times the smell of gas has been plainly in evidence, and the promoters of the well, who are all Shelton and vicinity citizens, feel sure that a valuable find will soon be made.

Death of a Teacher. Gage County.—Word was received in Beatrice of the death at Kearney of Miss Ollie A. Bain. She was a teacher in the public schools of Shelton, having for the last two years had charge of the grammar and third primary grades and was an efficient instructor. Two weeks ago she went to her home and was taken with typhoid fever.

Teacup Rejects Bond Propositions. Johnson County.—The proposed water and extension bonds for $12,500 and sewer bonds for $5,500 were both lost at Teacup by a very small majority.

Suit Against State. Johnson County.—Walter A. Philpot of Teacup has brought suit for damages against the state in the sum of $5,000. Up to recently Philpot was employed at the Lincoln asylum. He was engaged in feeding a corn pig when his hair was caught by the blades and cut off.

County Division. Cluster County.—Although fiercely fought at the polls in Tuesday's election, the situation on county division remains practically the same as it did one year ago. Returns from all parts of the county show no material gains for the divisionists, while in some of the strongholds, the vote has fallen off. Broken Bow polled the largest vote in the county, while in the other anti-divisionist towns, a good showing. County division is defeated by at least 1,500 votes to escape.

Grant G. Martin Appointed. Attorney General Arthur Mullen has appointed Grant G. Martin deputy attorney general. Mr. Martin now holds that position as an appointee of Attorney General Thompson. When the latter resigned to accept a federal job Governor Shallenberger appointed Mr. Mullen, a democrat, attorney general. Mr. Mullen retained all of his office force prior to election, and now that the election is over, he has announced that Mr. Martin, the present deputy attorney general, will be retained.

Chief Donahue of the police department of Omaha pleads "not guilty" in supreme court in reply to the ouster suit filed by Attorney General Thompson at the request of Governor Shallenberger, who alleges dereliction of duty in enforcing the saloon closing law and laws relating to dives.

John Elliott, a convict from Douglas county, who lacks four years of having served out a fifteen year term for burglary, made an attempt to escape.

When You Buy Clothes Our Way

Copyright 1910
The House of Kuppenheimer
Chicago

you cut out the element of doubt. We've the habit here of using the word "satisfaction" as something more than a mere "talking point." It's an existing reality, and it proves out in the clothes. That means a lot of care and knowledge on our part. We handle only clothes on which we know you cannot fail to get the greatest measure of service. Our garments from carry, back of every thread of material, every stroke of cutting, and every stitch of tailoring—the maker's guarantee—you'll find it in the pocket of every garment. On top of that we give our guarantee. The clothes must prove right in every way, in every service. And that double guarantee is your absolute protection, not only when the clothes are new, but through long months of wear. If there's a risk, we take it, if there's a loss, it's ours.

The House of Kuppenheimer

KATE'S
ONE PRICE OUTFITTERS FOR MEN AND BOYS.

Copyright 1910
The House of Kuppenheimer
Chicago

perintendent N. M. Graham did a great service to the teachers. The lecturer told things that are known generally to most teachers, but told them in a new way. He showed how the gang rule may be turned to good advantage in the school room, and how it may be used as a force by the teacher if she knows how to use that force. The spirit of the gang rules the school-boy as it rules men in the world. Every boy likes to do what the crowd does or what the crowd wishes him to do. This, the speaker said, is true also with men in the world."

CHEERFUL SPIRIT A DUTY

Happy Disposition Largely a Matter of Individual Habit and Can Be Acquired Easily.

Comparatively few persons possess uniformly cheerful dispositions. Most of us have our sad hours and moods. But whatever the disposition, we are bound by the laws of our own being, and by those of our social relations, to cultivate the virtues of cheerfulness, as a duty and constantly.

No one has a right to injure his neighbor's happiness any more than to interfere with his pecuniary property, and one cannot indulge in venting ill-humor and complaints, or even carrying a sour, frowning visage without sensibly diminishing the enjoyment or comfort of others, and thus infringing on their rights, says an exchange.

Any individual who tries to do so can win himself from despondency and sourness. The power of enjoyment is in itself a faculty capable of improvement, and as practice always enhances power, it is a good thing to form the habit of enjoyment. It is not true that the sources of pleasure are few and rare, but it is easily true that we pass them unnoted.

We create the excitement of business, or politics, or fashionable life, and forget the world of innocent enjoyment we trample under foot. Nature and art offer their treasure in vain; the "liveliness of childhood, the attractions of home, the real satisfaction of honest labor, the simple pleasure of little things, all plead for utterance and we repulse them.

How can we possess a cheerful spirit and a glad heart when we scornfully despise our simple pleasures? Every innocent means of happiness should be welcomed, and gloomy thoughts persistently banished.

Women as Smugglers.

Smuggling never will go out of fashion among women until some sort of edict shall attach to this form of law-breaking. In some instances fines of impressive magnitude have been imposed, but in each case upon offenders rich enough to pay them without embarrassment. There are female travelers to whom notoriety is not distasteful and who, if forced to pay duty, regard the price as not extortionate when the spice devoted to the incident by the newspaper is taken into consideration. There are others who consider detection by customs officials as an impertinence or a joke, and in no manner discredit to themselves. These same women would never be stirred by the impulse to engage in shoplifting.—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Twenty-Century Old Example.

We will never bring disgrace to this our city by an act of dishonesty or cowardice, nor ever desert our suffering comrades in the ranks; we will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the city, both alone and with many; we will never obey the city's laws, and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in those above us who are prone to annul and set them at naught; we will strive unceasingly to quicken the public's sense of civic duty; that thus, in all these ways, we will transmit this city not only as less, but greater, better and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us.—Oath Taken by Citizens of Athens

Prayer Acceptable.

A dear old lady in Ansonia, Conn., sent for a clergyman, as she was very sick, and needed ministerial consolation. After talking on general religious topics, the good man inquired if it was her wish that a should pray with her. "Sartilly, minister, sartilly," was the reply. The sick one fumbled around her bed, and finally produced an old-fashioned ear trumpet, with the request, as the minister opened his prayer book, that he should "pray into that."

The Unlucky Mandrake.

From time immemorial the mandrake has been associated with enchantments, and has ever been believed to be one of the most powerful charms of witches. Mr. Conway in a paper on "Mythic Trees and Herbs," states that "by popular superstitions in some places it is said to be perpetually watched over by Satan, and if it be pulled up at certain holy times and with certain invocations, the evil spirit will appear to do the bidding of the petitioner."

Discoveries at Venice.

Some very interesting discoveries have been made in the course of excavation work around the island of Lido, at Venice, where a number of ancient pieces of artillery have been found beneath six feet of mud. The cannon are all in a state of excellent preservation, though it is clear from their construction, that they must date back to the period almost immediately after the discovery of gunpowder, and it is believed that they will prove of very great artistic and historic value.

An Emergency.

An emergency is something that every man should be ready for, but usually never is.—Detroit Free Press.

WANTED—Nine or ten high-grade, Silver Laced Wyandotte cockerels. Address M. Mangels, R. F. D. 2, Wayne, Nebr.

STATE NORMAL SCHOOL NEWS

Miss Sara Nelson of Plainview was a visitor Tuesday.

Glen E. Gildersleeve registered for work Monday morning.

Miss Ella M. Stipe of Omaha has written President Conn saying she will register in the Normal on January 3.

Miss Elsie Ford Piper spent Saturday and Sunday at Norfolk, the guest of Superintendent and Mrs. Fred M. Hunter.

Miss Jennie Bovee gave a reading last Tuesday morning at the chapel period, which was very much appreciated by the school.

Professor W. F. Richardson, formerly a student of the Nebraska Normal college and now principal of the Battle Creek schools, visited us last Thursday.

President Conn attended a conference held by the board of examiners for state certificates at Lincoln Monday morning, and from there went to Chadron to witness the laying of the corner stone of the new state normal school.

The art classes of the Normal are now designing floor covering. The units have all been arranged from the cottonwood leaf and the colors taken from leaves and plants which now show beautiful, soft tones.

The pupils of the fifth and seventh grades of the Model School, which is under the direction of Miss Rachel F. Fairchild, are making clay tiles. The school expects to have a pottery kiln in the spring and the pieces will be glazed and fired so that each child will have a finished product. The work in the Model School is progressing nicely along all lines. The shop work is under the direction of Professor Hunter, Miss Killen has charge of the drawing and clay modeling, while the work in weaving and basketry is directed by the regular critic teachers, Miss Stocking and Miss Fairchild. In the fifth and seventh grades the pupils are trying hard to arrange their work neatly and systematically in "ink-tablets." We are proud of the work being done in the Model School and hope that parents interested will find it convenient to inspect frequently the work of their children.

At the beginning of the year Professor J. T. House of the department of English offered a prize for the best oration by a member of his class in advanced writing and speaking. The class is now busy with their orations and essays. The subjects are as follows: "An Address to the Republican National Convention of 1912, Placing in Nomination for the Presidency the Name of Theodore Roosevelt," Mr. Britton; "The Same for William H. Taft," Mr. Christenson; "International Amity," Mr. Derry; "Working Women," Miss Donaldson; "A Plea for Athletics," Mr. Bressler; "The Non-economic Effects of Trade-unionism," Mr. Hahn; "A Defence of the Trade Unions," Mr. Hickman; "Booker T. Washington and the Future of the American Negro," Mr. Chinn; "The New Nationalism and its Leader," Mr. Samuelson. The members of the class have all chosen live topics. They have also studied authorities on their subjects, the library being ransacked, government documents examined and specialists consulted on each theme. The papers are now being prepared under careful supervision, due regard being had to the development of the independence of the student.

The Normal football team lost their second game of the season to Norfolk last Saturday by a score of 23 to 5. The game was one of the kind that all enjoy watching. The forward pass and punts were used several times for good gains. Norfolk scored first, but the Normal boys soon did the same, and at the end of the first quarter the score was 6 to 5 in favor of Norfolk. During the second quarter Norfolk scored 11 more points and in the first quarter of the second half the other six. Norfolk has a strong team and when we consider that the men have played together from two to four years, their chances are far greater than a team of entirely new men. Saturday was the third time this season that Norfolk was even scored on. Having won all but one game they claim the championship of this part of the state. The Normal team will go to Oakland Saturday and expect to play at Bancroft on Thanksgiving day. The game between the Normal and the Wayne high school will perhaps occur December 2. This will be the last game of the season and promises to be a fast game.

We are pleased to know that the members of the faculty of the State Normal School at Wayne are in demand among the school people of the state to fill engagements to lecture before educational meetings. It is also very pleasing to know that they make good when they appear before an audience to give an address. Last Friday afternoon Professor Hahn spoke to the teachers and patrons of South Omaha, and the following very complimentary mention of his address appeared in the Saturday Omaha World-Herald: "At a general assembly of the teachers of the local schools Friday afternoon in the high school auditorium Professor H. H. Hahn, dean of the Wayne normal school, delivered his lecture on 'The Law of the Gang.' Professor Hahn is an able lecturer and his efforts Friday afternoon were both entertaining and instructive. In securing Professor Hahn, Su-

Free Coffee Demonstration!

Saturday, November 19, all Day

That the public may know more of the merits of GOLDEN SUN COFFEES, noted for their cup quality. Everybody is cordially invited to come and judge for themselves.

ITEN'S WHITE BAKERY LINE will also be demonstrated. Everything free. Come and bring a friend. The optical illusion will be of interest. Remember the date.

Saturday Specials, Cash or Produce

- 5 lbs. Seedless Raisins 25c
- 2 packages Tip Matches 5c
- 1 gallon Sauerkraut 25c
- 10 dozen Clothes Pins 10c
- Best Jelly Beans Candy, per lb. 10c

One-half gallon National Light FREE with four and one-half gallons.

10 lbs. Best Granulated Sugar 50c with a $2 grocery order.

Your Thanksgiving order, don't forget; Everything new and fresh. In fact I always try to please.

RALPH RUNDELL

The Wayne Herald

The Oldest Established Paper in Wayne County

Entered at the postoffice at Wayne, Nebraska as second class mail matter

Herald Publishing Co., L. W. HUSE, Editor and Manager.

Official paper of Wayne and Wayne county Published Every Thursday

Subscription, $1.50 a Year Telephone No. 140

Advertising—Rates made known on application. Copy for display advertising should be in by Wednesday noon to insure publication that week.

The defeat of the republican party will be beneficial in bringing its rival leaders to their senses.

The automobile has somewhat lessened the hardship imposed on candidates by the primary system.

Wayne ought to put forth organized effort to get a government building. We need it and deserve one.

Thanksgiving day comes, and then Christmas, and the next five or six weeks will be a season of busy preparation and happy anticipation.

The Third congressional district is entitled to the speakership of the house of representatives, and John Kuhl of Randolph appears to be the man in whose behalf forces should be united.

William Hayward is too young, ambitious and brainy to be long downed by his defeat for congress in the First district. He will yet rise to a high place of trust and responsibility.

The Tekamah papers have been such bitter opponents during the pre-election contest that it may take some time to get the campaign poison out of their systems and restore amicable relations.

People get tired of a chronic knocker. Besides the real injury he does, he is disagreeable to have around. The interests and feelings of people invite optimism and boosting, not growling and knocking.

Few papers these days bring forth the antiquated campaign roster to express satisfaction or displeasure. Most country papers accept results philosophically, and believe in neither a childish show of joy or grief.

If the referendum dooms a man to wade through and study a ballot eight or ten feet long, loaded with nonpareil, detailing proposed laws, we should prefer to hire specialists to do it, the same as we hire specialists to treat diseases, figure out lawsuits, plan architecture or build a railway.

If Dahlman had remained at home and kept still he would not have been elected, but his defeat would probably not have been so great. Every time he opened his mouth, he gave utterance to sentiments that were unintentional proof of the folly and impropriety of electing him to the governorship.

The people of the east were not so much with the democrats as they were against the republicans. They had become tired of seeing the party beset from within by hateful wrangles and rival sword-thrusts, and therefore used the colors of the opposition to deliver a rebuke and restore equilibrium.

It has been suggested that the charges lodged against G. M. Hitchcock during the campaign by Edgar Howard ought to be investigated by the coming legislature. This would take time needed for other purposes. A court proceeding would seem to be the better way to sift the evidence and if possible get at the facts.

While the south Platte country may be expected to carry out the pledge, in both platforms, for reapportionment, it will be well to keep the demand to the front and be satisfied with nothing less than fair treatment for the north part of the state. The South Platte will gain nothing by reapportionment, and is not apt to relish the idea in practice. It will need some urging and prodding.

Great beds of pumice are said to have been found on a farm in Webster county, and it is proposed to turn the product to profit. This reminds us that Senator Brown contended for a tariff on pumice at the time the Payne bill was in the congressional hopper. He insisted that pumice would become the basis of an important industry in Nebraska, and therefore, of course, felt that it ought to be protected.

To help make the postal department self-sustaining, it is now proposed to increase the postage on magazines whose circulation is widely extended and which therefore cost more for transportation than newspapers. The magazines which complain that the government is discriminating against them, and hint that the action is a sort of punishment for muck-raking policies which some of them have pursued.

An article in The Mother's Magazine of October treats at considerable length the causes of typhoid fever. It points out that the disease is more prevalent in small communities where sanitary conditions are not apt to be so good as they are in large centers. It mentions that typhoid germs cannot get into the body except through the mouth, and that they are usually conveyed in impure milk or water. Cleanliness in feeding and watering the cow and in handling the milk is important, as well as assurance that water used is free from contaminating filth. If people guard themselves carefully and effectively along these lines they need not fear typhoid.

Democratic victories in the east were not unexpected, and are generally accepted as the inevitable and proper consequence of the division and disension within republican ranks. We have yet to hear one who does not express the belief that the republican party, at war within itself, and with rival leaders trying to strike down one another, to the sacrifice of principles and unity, got exactly what it deserved and needed. The rebuff will do it good. Out of the fire of defeat the party will rise burnished and bettered. While the so-called Roosevelt policies will continue to be developed and made practical, the colonel has suffered a setback from which he is not likely to soon recover. He acted too much the part of a dictator and showed too plainly the traits of a politician since returning from abroad to again win the popular approval which gave him the presidency. The candidates whom he particularly supported in different states of the east were defeated. Those whom he bitterly attacked, were elected. His own voting precinct at Oyster Bay, usually republican, turned against him. "The old guard" which deserved defeat in New York, was not responsible for the action of voters in other states which swept aside the men for whom he went forth, with his big stick to help. He has been too free to impugn the motives of men and apply ugly words without seeming warrant, often appearing inconsistent. The country has profited greatly by Roosevelt's policies, but, as the election returns show, will not stand his late tendency to dangerous radicalism and imperious dictatorship. With frenzied radicals pulling one way and the type of the "old guard" pulling the other, it is no wonder voters deserted party ranks and fled to the fold of the opposition. President Taft will yet be praised as a real progressive—perhaps not in time to be re-elected two years hence, but some time when people have learned to appreciate what he has accomplished amidst warring extremists within the party. He will yet be appreciated as a statesman, not a politician. The late turn to democracy should be a lesson to those who have struggled for party stagnation on the one hand, and those who have fought for party revolution on the other. Elimination of hysteria and moderation of methods and reunion on a safe, progressive basis give the only hope of victory for the republican party in 1912, and recent defeat will tend to bring warring factions of the party together.

Democratic victories in the east were not unexpected, and are generally accepted as the inevitable and proper consequence of the division and disension within republican ranks. We have yet to hear one who does not express the belief that the republican party, at war within itself, and with rival leaders trying to strike down one another, to the sacrifice of principles and unity, got exactly what it deserved and needed. The rebuff will do it good. Out of the fire of defeat the party will rise burnished and bettered. While the so-called Roosevelt policies will continue to be developed and made practical, the colonel has suffered a setback from which he is not likely to soon recover. He acted too much the part of a dictator and showed too plainly the traits of a politician since returning from abroad to again win the popular approval which gave him the presidency. The candidates whom he particularly supported in different states of the east were defeated. Those whom he bitterly attacked, were elected. His own voting precinct at Oyster Bay, usually republican, turned against him. "The old guard" which deserved defeat in New York, was not responsible for the action of voters in other states which swept aside the men for whom he went forth, with his big stick to help. He has been too free to impugn the motives of men and apply ugly words without seeming warrant, often appearing inconsistent. The country has profited greatly by Roosevelt's policies, but, as the election returns show, will not stand his late tendency to dangerous radicalism and imperious dictatorship. With frenzied radicals pulling one way and the type of the "old guard" pulling the other, it is no wonder voters deserted party ranks and fled to the fold of the opposition. President Taft will yet be praised as a real progressive—perhaps not in time to be re-elected two years hence, but some time when people have learned to appreciate what he has accomplished amidst warring extremists within the party. He will yet be appreciated as a statesman, not a politician. The late turn to democracy should be a lesson to those who have struggled for party stagnation on the one hand, and those who have fought for party revolution on the other. Elimination of hysteria and moderation of methods and reunion on a safe, progressive basis give the only hope of victory for the republican party in 1912, and recent defeat will tend to bring warring factions of the party together.

Democratic victories in the east were not unexpected, and are generally accepted as the inevitable and proper consequence of the division and disension within republican ranks. We have yet to hear one who does not express the belief that the republican party, at war within itself, and with rival leaders trying to strike down one another, to the sacrifice of principles and unity, got exactly what it deserved and needed. The rebuff will do it good. Out of the fire of defeat the party will rise burnished and bettered. While the so-called Roosevelt policies will continue to be developed and made practical, the colonel has suffered a setback from which he is not likely to soon recover. He acted too much the part of a dictator and showed too plainly the traits of a politician since returning from abroad to again win the popular approval which gave him the presidency. The candidates whom he particularly supported in different states of the east were defeated. Those whom he bitterly attacked, were elected. His own voting precinct at Oyster Bay, usually republican, turned against him. "The old guard" which deserved defeat in New York, was not responsible for the action of voters in other states which swept aside the men for whom he went forth, with his big stick to help. He has been too free to impugn the motives of men and apply ugly words without seeming warrant, often appearing inconsistent. The country has profited greatly by Roosevelt's policies, but, as the election returns show, will not stand his late tendency to dangerous radicalism and imperious dictatorship. With frenzied radicals pulling one way and the type of the "old guard" pulling the other, it is no wonder voters deserted party ranks and fled to the fold of the opposition. President Taft will yet be praised as a real progressive—perhaps not in time to be re-elected two years hence, but some time when people have learned to appreciate what he has accomplished amidst warring extremists within the party. He will yet be appreciated as a statesman, not a politician. The late turn to democracy should be a lesson to those who have struggled for party stagnation on the one hand, and those who have fought for party revolution on the other. Elimination of hysteria and moderation of methods and reunion on a safe, progressive basis give the only hope of victory for the republican party in 1912, and recent defeat will tend to bring warring factions of the party together.

Democratic victories in the east were not unexpected, and are generally accepted as the inevitable and proper consequence of the division and disension within republican ranks. We have yet to hear one who does not express the belief that the republican party, at war within itself, and with rival leaders trying to strike down one another, to the sacrifice of principles and unity, got exactly what it deserved and needed. The rebuff will do it good. Out of the fire of defeat the party will rise burnished and bettered. While the so-called Roosevelt policies will continue to be developed and made practical, the colonel has suffered a setback from which he is not likely to soon recover. He acted too much the part of a dictator and showed too plainly the traits of a politician since returning from abroad to again win the popular approval which gave him the presidency. The candidates whom he particularly supported in different states of the east were defeated. Those whom he bitterly attacked, were elected. His own voting precinct at Oyster Bay, usually republican, turned against him. "The old guard" which deserved defeat in New York, was not responsible for the action of voters in other states which swept aside the men for whom he went forth, with his big stick to help. He has been too free to impugn the motives of men and apply ugly words without seeming warrant, often appearing inconsistent. The country has profited greatly by Roosevelt's policies, but, as the election returns show, will not stand his late tendency to dangerous radicalism and imperious dictatorship. With frenzied radicals pulling one way and the type of the "old guard" pulling the other, it is no wonder voters deserted party ranks and fled to the fold of the opposition. President Taft will yet be praised as a real progressive—perhaps not in time to be re-elected two years hence, but some time when people have learned to appreciate what he has accomplished amidst warring extremists within the party. He will yet be appreciated as a statesman, not a politician. The late turn to democracy should be a lesson to those who have struggled for party stagnation on the one hand, and those who have fought for party revolution on the other. Elimination of hysteria and moderation of methods and reunion on a safe, progressive basis give the only hope of victory for the republican party in 1912, and recent defeat will tend to bring warring factions of the party together.

Democratic victories in the east were not unexpected, and are generally accepted as the inevitable and proper consequence of the division and disension within republican ranks. We have yet to hear one who does not express the belief that the republican party, at war within itself, and with rival leaders trying to strike down one another, to the sacrifice of principles and unity, got exactly what it deserved and needed. The rebuff will do it good. Out of the fire of defeat the party will rise burnished and bettered. While the so-called Roosevelt policies will continue to be developed and made practical, the colonel has suffered a setback from which he is not likely to soon recover. He acted too much the part of a dictator and showed too plainly the traits of a politician since returning from abroad to again win the popular approval which gave him the presidency. The candidates whom he particularly supported in different states of the east were defeated. Those whom he bitterly attacked, were elected. His own voting precinct at Oyster Bay, usually republican, turned against him. "The old guard" which deserved defeat in New York, was not responsible for the action of voters in other states which swept aside the men for whom he went forth, with his big stick to help. He has been too free to impugn the motives of men and apply ugly words without seeming warrant, often appearing inconsistent. The country has profited greatly by Roosevelt's policies, but, as the election returns show, will not stand his late tendency to dangerous radicalism and imperious dictatorship. With frenzied radicals pulling one way and the type of the "old guard" pulling the other, it is no wonder voters deserted party ranks and fled to the fold of the opposition. President Taft will yet be praised as a real progressive—perhaps not in time to be re-elected two years hence, but some time when people have learned to appreciate what he has accomplished amidst warring extremists within the party. He will yet be appreciated as a statesman, not a politician. The late turn to democracy should be a lesson to those who have struggled for party stagnation on the one hand, and those who have fought for party revolution on the other. Elimination of hysteria and moderation of methods and reunion on a safe, progressive basis give the only hope of victory for the republican party in 1912, and recent defeat will tend to bring warring factions of the party together.

Democratic victories in the east were not unexpected, and are generally accepted as the inevitable and proper consequence of the division and disension within republican ranks. We have yet to hear one who does not express the belief that the republican party, at war within itself, and with rival leaders trying to strike down one another, to the sacrifice of principles and unity, got exactly what it deserved and needed. The rebuff will do it good. Out of the fire of defeat the party will rise burnished and bettered. While the so-called Roosevelt policies will continue to be developed and made practical, the colonel has suffered a setback from which he is not likely to soon recover. He acted too much the part of a dictator and showed too plainly the traits of a politician since returning from abroad to again win the popular approval which gave him the presidency. The candidates whom he particularly supported in different states of the east were defeated. Those whom he bitterly attacked, were elected. His own voting precinct at Oyster Bay, usually republican, turned against him. "The old guard" which deserved defeat in New York, was not responsible for the action of voters in other states which swept aside the men for whom he went forth, with his big stick to help. He has been too free to impugn the motives of men and apply ugly words without seeming warrant, often appearing inconsistent. The country has profited greatly by Roosevelt's policies, but, as the election returns show, will not stand his late tendency to dangerous radicalism and imperious dictatorship. With frenzied radicals pulling one way and the type of the "old guard" pulling the other, it is no wonder voters deserted party ranks and fled to the fold of the opposition. President Taft will yet be praised as a real progressive—perhaps not in time to be re-elected two years hence, but some time when people have learned to appreciate what he has accomplished amidst warring extremists within the party. He will yet be appreciated as a statesman, not a politician. The late turn to democracy should be a lesson to those who have struggled for party stagnation on the one hand, and those who have fought for party revolution on the other. Elimination of hysteria and moderation of methods and reunion on a safe, progressive basis give the only hope of victory for the republican party in 1912, and recent defeat will tend to bring warring factions of the party together.

Democratic victories in the east were not unexpected, and are generally accepted as the inevitable and proper consequence of the division and disension within republican ranks. We have yet to hear one who does not express the belief that the republican party, at war within itself, and with rival leaders trying to strike down one another, to the sacrifice of principles and unity, got exactly what it deserved and needed. The rebuff will do it good. Out of the fire of defeat the party will rise burnished and bettered. While the so-called Roosevelt policies will continue to be developed and made practical, the colonel has suffered a setback from which he is not likely to soon recover. He acted too much the part of a dictator and showed too plainly the traits of a politician since returning from abroad to again win the popular approval which gave him the presidency. The candidates whom he particularly supported in different states of the east were defeated. Those whom he bitterly attacked, were elected. His own voting precinct at Oyster Bay, usually republican, turned against him. "The old guard" which deserved defeat in New York, was not responsible for the action of voters in other states which swept aside the men for whom he went forth, with his big stick to help. He has been too free to impugn the motives of men and apply ugly words without seeming warrant, often appearing inconsistent. The country has profited greatly by Roosevelt's policies, but, as the election returns show, will not stand his late tendency to dangerous radicalism and imperious dictatorship. With frenzied radicals pulling one way and the type of the "old guard" pulling the other, it is no wonder voters deserted party ranks and fled to the fold of the opposition. President Taft will yet be praised as a real progressive—perhaps not in time to be re-elected two years hence, but some time when people have learned to appreciate what he has accomplished amidst warring extremists within the party. He will yet be appreciated as a statesman, not a politician. The late turn to democracy should be a lesson to those who have struggled for party stagnation on the one hand, and those who have fought for party revolution on the other. Elimination of hysteria and moderation of methods and reunion on a safe, progressive basis give the only hope of victory for the republican party in 1912, and recent defeat will tend to bring warring factions of the party together.

Democratic victories in the east were not unexpected, and are generally accepted as the inevitable and proper consequence of the division and disension within republican ranks. We have yet to hear one who does not express the belief that the republican party, at war within itself, and with rival leaders trying to strike down one another, to the sacrifice of principles and unity, got exactly what it deserved and needed. The rebuff will do it good. Out of the fire of defeat the party will rise burnished and bettered. While the so-called Roosevelt policies will continue to be developed and made practical, the colonel has suffered a setback from which he is not likely to soon recover. He acted too much the part of a dictator and showed too plainly the traits of a politician since returning from abroad to again win the popular approval which gave him the presidency. The candidates whom he particularly supported in different states of the east were defeated. Those whom he bitterly attacked, were elected. His own voting precinct at Oyster Bay, usually republican, turned against him. "The old guard" which deserved defeat in New York, was not responsible for the action of voters in other states which swept aside the men for whom he went forth, with his big stick to help. He has been too free to impugn the motives of men and apply ugly words without seeming warrant, often appearing inconsistent. The country has profited greatly by Roosevelt's policies, but, as the election returns show, will not stand his late tendency to dangerous radicalism and imperious dictatorship. With frenzied radicals pulling one way and the type of the "old guard" pulling the other, it is no wonder voters deserted party ranks and fled to the fold of the opposition. President Taft will yet be praised as a real progressive—perhaps not in time to be re-elected two years hence, but some time when people have learned to appreciate what he has accomplished amidst warring extremists within the party. He will yet be appreciated as a statesman, not a politician. The late turn to democracy should be a lesson to those who have struggled for party stagnation on the one hand, and those who have fought for party revolution on the other. Elimination of hysteria and moderation of methods and reunion on a safe, progressive basis give the only hope of victory for the republican party in 1912, and recent defeat will tend to bring warring factions of the party together.

Democratic victories in the east were not unexpected, and are generally accepted as the inevitable and proper consequence of the division and disension within republican ranks. We have yet to hear one who does not express the belief that the republican party, at war within itself, and with rival leaders trying to strike down one another, to the sacrifice of principles and unity, got exactly what it deserved and needed. The rebuff will do it good. Out of the fire of defeat the party will rise burnished and bettered. While the so-called Roosevelt policies will continue to be developed and made practical, the colonel has suffered a setback from which he is not likely to soon recover. He acted too much the part of a dictator and showed too plainly the traits of a politician since returning from abroad to again win the popular approval which gave him the presidency. The candidates whom he particularly supported in different states of the east were defeated. Those whom he bitterly attacked, were elected. His own voting precinct at Oyster Bay, usually republican, turned against him. "The old guard" which deserved defeat in New York, was not responsible for the action of voters in other states which swept aside the men for whom he went forth, with his big stick to help. He has been too free to impugn the motives of men and apply ugly words without seeming warrant, often appearing inconsistent. The country has profited greatly by Roosevelt's policies, but, as the election returns show, will not stand his late tendency to dangerous radicalism and imperious dictatorship. With frenzied radicals pulling one way and the type of the "old guard" pulling the other, it is no wonder voters deserted party ranks and fled to the fold of the opposition. President Taft will yet be praised as a real progressive—perhaps not in time to be re-elected two years hence, but some time when people have learned to appreciate what he has accomplished amidst warring extremists within the party. He will yet be appreciated as a statesman, not a politician. The late turn to democracy should be a lesson to those who have struggled for party stagnation on the one hand, and those who have fought for party revolution on the other. Elimination of hysteria and moderation of methods and reunion on a safe, progressive basis give the only hope of victory for the republican party in 1912, and recent defeat will tend to bring warring factions of the party together.

Democratic victories in the east were not unexpected, and are generally accepted as the inevitable and proper consequence of the division and disension within republican ranks. We have yet to hear one who does not express the belief that the republican party, at war within itself, and with rival leaders trying to strike down one another, to the sacrifice of principles and unity, got exactly what it deserved and needed. The rebuff will do it good. Out of the fire of defeat the party will rise burnished and bettered. While the so-called Roosevelt policies will continue to be developed and made practical, the colonel has suffered a setback from which he is not likely to soon recover. He acted too much the part of a dictator and showed too plainly the traits of a politician since returning from abroad to again win the popular approval which gave him the presidency. The candidates whom he particularly supported in different states of the east were defeated. Those whom he bitterly attacked, were elected. His own voting precinct at Oyster Bay, usually republican, turned against him. "The old guard" which deserved defeat in New York, was not responsible for the action of voters in other states which swept aside the men for whom he went forth, with his big stick to help. He has been too free to impugn the motives of men and apply ugly words without seeming warrant, often appearing inconsistent. The country has profited greatly by Roosevelt's policies, but, as the election returns show, will not stand his late tendency to dangerous radicalism and imperious dictatorship. With frenzied radicals pulling one way and the type of the "old guard" pulling the other, it is no wonder voters deserted party ranks and fled to the fold of the opposition. President Taft will yet be praised as a real progressive—perhaps not in time to be re-elected two years hence, but some time when people have learned to appreciate what he has accomplished amidst warring extremists within the party. He will yet be appreciated as a statesman, not a politician. The late turn to democracy should be a lesson to those who have struggled for party stagnation on the one hand, and those who have fought for party revolution on the other. Elimination of hysteria and moderation of methods and reunion on a safe, progressive basis give the only hope of victory for the republican party in 1912, and recent defeat will tend to bring warring factions of the party together.

Democratic victories in the east were not unexpected, and are generally accepted as the inevitable and proper consequence of the division and disension within republican ranks. We have yet to hear one who does not express the belief that the republican party, at war within itself, and with rival leaders trying to strike down one another, to the sacrifice of principles and unity, got exactly what it deserved and needed. The rebuff will do it good. Out of the fire of defeat the party will rise burnished and bettered. While the so-called Roosevelt policies will continue to be developed and made practical, the colonel has suffered a setback from which he is not likely to soon recover. He acted too much the part of a dictator and showed too plainly the traits of a politician since returning from abroad to again win the popular approval which gave him the presidency. The candidates whom he particularly supported in different states of the east were defeated. Those whom he bitterly attacked, were elected. His own voting precinct at Oyster Bay, usually republican, turned against him. "The old guard" which deserved defeat in New York, was not responsible for the action of voters in other states which swept aside the men for whom he went forth, with his big stick to help. He has been too free to impugn the motives of men and apply ugly words without seeming warrant, often appearing inconsistent. The country has profited greatly by Roosevelt's policies, but, as the election returns show, will not stand his late tendency to dangerous radicalism and imperious dictatorship. With frenzied radicals pulling one way and the type of the "old guard" pulling the other, it is no wonder voters deserted party ranks and fled to the fold of the opposition. President Taft will yet be praised as a real progressive—perhaps not in time to be re-elected two years hence, but some time when people have learned to appreciate what he has accomplished amidst warring extremists within the party. He will yet be appreciated as a statesman, not a politician. The late turn to democracy should be a lesson to those who have struggled for party stagnation on the one hand, and those who have fought for party revolution on the other. Elimination of hysteria and moderation of methods and reunion on a safe, progressive basis give the only hope of victory for the republican party in 1912, and recent defeat will tend to bring warring factions of the party together.

Democratic victories in the east were not unexpected, and are generally accepted as the inevitable and proper consequence of the division and disension within republican ranks. We have yet to hear one who does not express the belief that the republican party, at war within itself, and with rival leaders trying to strike down one another, to the sacrifice of principles and unity, got exactly what it deserved and needed. The rebuff will do it good. Out of the fire of defeat the party will rise burnished and bettered. While the so-called Roosevelt policies will continue to be developed and made practical, the colonel has suffered a setback from which he is not likely to soon recover. He acted too much the part of a dictator and showed too plainly the traits of a politician since returning from abroad to again win the popular approval which gave him the presidency. The candidates whom he particularly supported in different states of the east were defeated. Those whom he bitterly attacked, were elected. His own voting precinct at Oyster Bay, usually republican, turned against him. "The old guard" which deserved defeat in New York, was not responsible for the action of voters in other states which swept aside the men for whom he went forth, with his big stick to help. He has been too free to impugn the motives of men and apply ugly words without seeming warrant, often appearing inconsistent. The country has profited greatly by Roosevelt's policies, but, as the election returns show, will not stand his late tendency to dangerous radicalism and imperious dictatorship. With frenzied radicals pulling one way and the type of the "old guard" pulling the other, it is no wonder voters deserted party ranks and fled to the fold of the opposition. President Taft will yet be praised as a real progressive—perhaps not in time to be re-elected two years hence, but some time when people have learned to appreciate what he has accomplished amidst warring extremists within the party. He will yet be appreciated as a statesman, not a politician. The late turn to democracy should be a lesson to those who have struggled for party stagnation on the one hand, and those who have fought for party revolution on the other. Elimination of hysteria and moderation of methods and reunion on a safe, progressive basis give the only hope of victory for the republican party in 1912, and recent defeat will tend to bring warring factions of the party together.

Uncle Walt The Poet Philosopher

My neighbor did an evil trick that put me badly in the hole; his villainess made me pretty sick, and jarred the texture of my soul. I said: "Of this, friends, make a note, and paste it in your diary."

VENGEANCE Sunday hats: Some I'll get his goat, as sure as whiskers grow on cats. Then vengeful projects filled my dreams, by day they flitted through my brain; I thought up fifty frightful schemes to make my neighbor's life a pain.

One evening, when the lights were dim, I wandered forth to plan some more, and met a stranger tall and grim, who in his hand a bludgeon bore; and he had other lethal tools; he cried in tones that made me shake: "I am the man who butchers fools— is there defense that you would make? I've studied fools a thousand years—of fools I claim to be a judge; the biggest fool in all these spheres is he who holds a foolish grudge. His thoughts are all of bootless strife, of doing harm to other men; he shuts the sunshine from his life, and wallows in his gloomy den. O clump, poor clump, your life is short, and you're a fool to tear your hair, and sidestep all the joyous sport, and plan cheap vengeance in your lair!"

The wise men choose a lot of books, and say to us: "Read 'this, gadzooks! Pass up the cheap and dizzy rot, and read some dope that hits the spot! These dreary volumes represent the lives of sages, nobly spent! The ripest thought this tone conceals; in this you'll find the poets' spels; in this old Darwin rants a bit, in this Lord Bacon throws a fit; with these ten books you do not need another dad-blamed thing to read!" I like to read such books as these when I am sitting 'neath the trees, where passersby can see and cry: "It takes good books to please that guy!" But when I'm resting in my den, fatigued by stunts with fountain pen, I get some good, rip-snorting yarn of pirate gold in gloomy tarn, some tale that reeks of blood and groans, and kidnaps maids and dead men's bones. Those volumes full of precious thought may lie around the house and rot.

The north wind comes from its retreat among the wastes of ice and sleet; it comes from some far arctic coast, and hits us where we feel it most. And now the man who blithely wrought in summer, when the days are hot, has in his larder flour and jam, limburger cheese and pies and ham. His bins are running o'er with coal, and in his barn the horses roll in hay that came, from Battle Creek; and he, himself, is fat and sleek. The north wind comes with wailing cry, and dark and sullen is the sky. And now the man who spent his days in idle and in foolish ways, who loafed about the weary town and called the nation's statesmen down, is asking hand-outs at the doors of those who wrought and did their chores. The idler's larder has no jam, no kraut or wienerwurst or ham; the idler's wife is weeping sore; his children raise a hungry roar. Oh, let us heed the idler's plea, and give him stuff to drink and eat, and keep his children from despair, and ease his poor wife's load of care, but when the summer comes again, and there's demand for working men, let's prod the idler from the street, and make him labor and repeat!

When you leave your downy couch with a big three-cornered grouch, and begin your morning's labor with the manner of a bear, then your friends will wish you'd slide to the forest wild and wide, and like any other brulin do your growing in your lair. I have figured it this way: If I want to spoil my day, if I want to fuss and clamor till my jaws are flacked with foam, I should seek a place remote, there to shed my shoes and coat, and kick up a holy rumpus till the cows are coming home. For I haven't got the right to go snapping day and night, making life a weary burden to the people that I meet; and although my nature's dour, and my temper hard and sour, I have made some folks imagine that it's reasonably sweet! Life is more or less a bluff, and pretension is the stuff; just pretend that you are gentle, though you're savage as a bear; just pretend that you are kind, and the people are so blind that they'll say you are a daisy, and they'll praise you everywhere!

Mary had a little lamb, it's fleece was white as wool, and sundry statesmen held her up, hard by the village school. "Your little lamb," the statesmen said, "you soon will have to shear, and then the woolen plutocrats will sew you up, my dear. They have the tariff doctored up in such a beastly way that little maids with wool to sell can get but little pay. They rob consumers on the left, producers on the right; and little girls with little lambs are in a fearful plight. And when your lamb is nice and fat, and fit for butcher's stall, the meat trust reaches forth its claws, and takes it, bleat and all. The meat trust, backed by tariff laws, are the nation's shame, is on the trail of little lambs, and you should dodge its game. Go home, go home, dear little maid, and take your lamb along, and tell your pa to seek the polls, and right a grievous wrong. If he will cast his vote for us, we'll guard your lovely sheep, and never more in all the world shall little maidens weep." Then Mary leaped upon her lamb, and gave a mighty yell, and galloped to the booby hatch, and took a padded cell.

I gazed upon the noble oak that threw its shadows far and wide, and to the husbandman I spoke: "That tree should be your boast and pride. Perchance a thousand years it's stood—a thousand years of sun and rain—the sole survivor of the wood that one time clothed this verdant plain. Before Columbus sailed the sea, to find Chicago and New York, the red men rested by this tree, or slung his hammock in its fork. Since first these branches swayed and sighed a thousand wars have shaken thrones; a thousand kings have reigned and died, and given to the earth their bones. And cities that were mighty then have crumbled into ruins gray; and dynasties, and tribes of men, have lived and laughed and passed away. Oh grim survivor of a time when knights went forth, in steel arrayed! I yet might sing one song sublime, could I but dwell within thy shade!" The farmer scratched his toilworn head, and chilled the fervor of my soul; "I guess I'll cut it down," he said, "they charge a man so much for coal."

NOTICE The "Willing Workers" of the Baptist Sunday school, will have a candy sale at Orlando Adams' furniture store Saturday afternoon.

The Tabernacle. The tabernacle was the holy place of the Israelites until the erection of Solomon's temple. It is said that the Tabernacle was constructed about B. C. 1491. The Tabernacle set up by Joshua, at Shiloh, B. C. 1444, was the head center of the Jewish religious life until the year B. C. 1004, when the great Temple of Solomon was finished at Jerusalem.

Preparing to Look His Best. Rastus—For the love of heben, Samb, what for you got you 'alls pants tucked wrong side before-must? Samb—Sh! Don't talk so loud. You see, I's invited to a swell reception tonight, and I's gettin' de bulge out'n de knees—Success Magazine.

Sea and Sun in Harness. It would certainly be amazing if we should live to see both old ocean and old sun hitched up and working like buzzes in harness in team together. The task is not more incredible than the wireless or the telephone. But these two hitched up to work as servants by the day, year and century would tap an inexhaustible, eternal store of working energy at a time when alarm is justly being beginning to be felt at our steadily feeding resources. One inventor has an alloy that turns sun heat into electricity. Many have long ago shown that wave and tide powers can be tapped into electric energy that can be used for all practical uses. But cheer up; never despair.

Every-Day Virtues. Great virtues are rare; they are seldom needed; and, when the occasion comes, we are prepared for it by everything which has preceded, excited by the greatness of the sacrifice, and sustained either by the brilliancy of the action in the eyes of others, or by self-complacency in our ability to do such wonderful things. Small occasions, however, are unforeseen; they recur every moment, and place us incessantly in conflict with our pride, our sloth, our self-esteem, our haughtiness, and our readiness to take offense; they are calculated thoroughly to subdue our wills, and leave us no retreat. Paulsen.

The Right to Die. The man who has killed himself on Monday, and on Saturday have wanted to live, but only kill one's self once. Man's life is made up of past, present and future; so life must be a burden to him, if not for the past, the present and the future, at least for the present and the future. If it is only a burden for the present he is sacrificing the future. The evils of one day do not authorize him to sacrifice the life that is ahead of him. Not the man whose life is unhappy and who could have the certainty—which is impossible—that it will always be so, and that conditions and desires will never change, either through modification of circumstances or situations or through habit and the lapse of time—which again is impossible—only this man would have the right to kill himself—Napoleon Bonaparte.

MARY'S LAMB

My neighbor did an evil trick that put me badly in the hole; his villainess made me pretty sick, and jarred the texture of my soul. I said: "Of this, friends, make a note, and paste it in your diary."

VENGEANCE Sunday hats: Some I'll get his goat, as sure as whiskers grow on cats. Then vengeful projects filled my dreams, by day they flitted through my brain; I thought up fifty frightful schemes to make my neighbor's life a pain.

One evening, when the lights were dim, I wandered forth to plan some more, and met a stranger tall and grim, who in his hand a bludgeon bore; and he had other lethal tools; he cried in tones that made me shake: "I am the man who butchers fools— is there defense that you would make? I've studied fools a thousand years—of fools I claim to be a judge; the biggest fool in all these spheres is he who holds a foolish grudge. His thoughts are all of bootless strife, of doing harm to other men; he shuts the sunshine from his life, and wallows in his gloomy den. O clump, poor clump, your life is short, and you're a fool to tear your hair, and sidestep all the joyous sport, and plan cheap vengeance in your lair!"

The wise men choose a lot of books, and say to us: "Read 'this, gadzooks! Pass up the cheap and dizzy rot, and read some dope that hits the spot! These dreary volumes represent the lives of sages, nobly spent! The ripest thought this tone conceals; in this you'll find the poets' spels; in this old Darwin rants a bit, in this Lord Bacon throws a fit; with these ten books you do not need another dad-blamed thing to read!" I like to read such books as these when I am sitting 'neath the trees, where passersby can see and cry: "It takes good books to please that guy!" But when I'm resting in my den, fatigued by stunts with fountain pen, I get some good, rip-snorting yarn of pirate gold in gloomy tarn, some tale that reeks of blood and groans, and kidnaps maids and dead men's bones. Those volumes full of precious thought may lie around the house and rot.

The north wind comes from its retreat among the wastes of ice and sleet; it comes from some far arctic coast, and hits us where we feel it most. And now the man who blithely wrought in summer, when the days are hot, has in his larder flour and jam, limburger cheese and pies and ham. His bins are running o'er with coal, and in his barn the horses roll in hay that came, from Battle Creek; and he, himself, is fat and sleek. The north wind comes with wailing cry, and dark and sullen is the sky. And now the man who spent his days in idle and in foolish ways, who loafed about the weary town and called the nation's statesmen down, is asking hand-outs at the doors of those who wrought and did their chores. The idler's larder has no jam, no kraut or wienerwurst or ham; the idler's wife is weeping sore; his children raise a hungry roar. Oh, let us heed the idler's plea, and give him stuff to drink and eat, and keep his children from despair, and ease his poor wife's load of care, but when the summer comes again, and there's demand for working men, let's prod the idler from the street, and make him labor and repeat!

When you leave your downy couch with a big three-cornered grouch, and begin your morning's labor with the manner of a bear, then your friends will wish you'd slide to the forest wild and wide, and like any other brulin do your growing in your lair. I have figured it this way: If I want to spoil my day, if I want to fuss and clamor till my jaws are flacked with foam, I should seek a place remote, there to shed my shoes and coat, and kick up a holy rumpus till the cows are coming home. For I haven't got the right to go snapping day and night, making life a weary burden to the people that I meet; and although my nature's dour, and my temper hard and sour, I have made some folks imagine that it's reasonably sweet! Life is more or less a bluff, and pretension is the stuff; just pretend that you are gentle, though you're savage as a bear; just pretend that you are kind, and the people are so blind that they'll say you are a daisy, and they'll praise you everywhere!

Mary had a little lamb, it's fleece was white as wool, and sundry statesmen held her up, hard by the village school. "Your little lamb," the statesmen said, "you soon will have to shear, and then the woolen plutocrats will sew you up, my dear. They have the tariff doctored up in such a beastly way that little maids with wool to sell can get but little pay. They rob consumers on the left, producers on the right; and little girls with little lambs are in a fearful plight. And when your lamb is nice and fat, and fit for butcher's stall, the meat trust reaches forth its claws, and takes it, bleat and all. The meat trust, backed by tariff laws, are the nation's shame, is on the trail of little lambs, and you should dodge its game. Go home, go home, dear little maid, and take your lamb along, and tell your pa to seek the polls, and right a grievous wrong. If he will cast his vote for us, we'll guard your lovely sheep, and never more in all the world shall little maidens weep." Then Mary leaped upon her lamb, and gave a mighty yell, and galloped to the booby hatch, and took a padded cell.

I gazed upon the noble oak that threw its

"Let not him who is houseless pull down the house of another, but let him labor diligently and build one for himself."—Lincoln.

Your commercial structure is strengthened by your banking connection. Keep your check account where ample resources, efficient service and courteous attention obtain. That's the

CITIZENS' NATIONAL BANK

H. H. Bohney, Pres.; A. L. Tucker, V. Pres.; H. B. Jones, Cash.; P. H. Meyer, Asst. Cash.

CHRISTMAS will soon be here

Order Your Photos Now

and give us plenty of time to finish them. Nothing will please the folks so much as baby's photo, and it don't make any difference how old the baby is, either. We are showing some new and beautiful designs in mountings. We are doing as good work as the city galleries, and at a good deal less price. Don't put it off. Have them made now.

C. M. CRAVEN
PHOTOGRAPHER

WAYNE OPERA HOUSE
FRIDAY
NOVEMBER 18

W. F. Mann Presents
THAT MUSICAL SUCCESS

"Pinkey the Pinkerton Girl"

With Jack Rollins
As Willie Wynn

10 Song Hits, 5 Big Specialties
Endorsed by Press and Public
SEATS NOW ON SALE
Prices 25c, 35c and 50c

LOCAL BRIEFS

Mrs. Elsie Littell was in Sioux City Tuesday.
Mrs. Henry Ley went to Sheldon, Iowa, Tuesday.
Mrs. W. K. Burns of Witten, S. D., was in Wayne Tuesday.
Miss Hattie Blazer arrived home Tuesday from a visit with her sister at Coleridge.
Miss Mary Mellor went to David City, Nebr., Tuesday morning for a visit with friends.
The Bible Study Circle will meet with Mrs. E. Hunter next Wednesday afternoon at 2:30.
Confirmation school at the German Lutheran church in Wayne will commence Monday, November 21.
Mr. and Mrs. O. Berkeimer were passengers to Texas Tuesday morning to look after land interests.
I offer my residence north of Emil Weber's for sale. Inquire at P. H. Kohl's office, L. M. Robbins.
Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Stringer left Tuesday morning for Denver, Colo., where they will visit for a few weeks.
Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hiscoc went to Omaha Tuesday morning where the former attended a convention of implement dealers.
Chas. Drewe of Gettysburg, S. D., arrived here last Thursday to visit his sister, Mrs. John Sabs, eight miles northwest of Wayne. He expects to return home on Friday of this week.

Miss Truax, trained nurse who attended the late Wm. Donner during his illness, returned to her home at Omaha Tuesday.

Misses Alice Bradham and Zulu Van Gilder went to Brunswick Saturday for a few days' visit with relatives of the latter and from there went to Neligh.

The Wayne friends of Mrs. George Newton, nee Helen Pile, will be pleased to know that a son was born to her on Wednesday, November 9. The family live in Rochester, N. Y.

Dr. J. J. Williams returned Tuesday from a few days' absence on his farm near Bridgewater, S. D. He brought back with him samples of the corn raised on his place, and the ears are as well developed as any grown here.

Mrs. Rollie James of Duluth, Minn., visited her mother, Mrs. Wright, the past week. She left with her mother Tuesday morning accompanying her part way on her trip to Washington.

Catalogues are out for the annual exhibition of the Northeast Nebraska Poultry association at Norfolk on December 13, 14 and 15. This promises to be a splendid show of pure-bred chickens, with lively interest manifested.

Judge Hawley, Democrat, who was elected governor of Idaho against Governor Brady, is the father-in-law of E. W. Tucker, formerly of Wayne. Judge Hawley was one of the lawyers in the trial of the notorious Haywood case.

Pingree C. Hughes, local manager for the Nebraska Telephone company, left Tuesday for Texas to look at a tract of land which he owns there. He will be gone two weeks, and during his absence Miss Gay Hunter is looking after the affairs of the company here.

Wayne people will be pleased to see the substantial interest being taken in Wayne property by the heads of the State Normal. Four of them, President U. S. Conn, Dean H. H. Hahn, J. H. Brittel and E. J. Huntmer, have bought lots not far from the college, and are doing some grading preparatory to putting up modern dwellings next spring. Other members of the faculty contemplate doing the same. This proposed improvement in the vicinity of the Normal shows confidence in the future of the institution and confidence in the future of Wayne. It will materially help the city.

An Iowa report boasts of the skill of two young ladies in picking corn, saying that they can gather 100 bushels per day. Wayne can beat that record. Misses Anna and Margaret Anderson living four and one-half miles north of Wayne, have husked as high as 110 bushels per day, and never fall below 100. Wayne county girls excel as corn huskers or school teachers or in any test of physical or mental skill. The average Wayne county girl is not partially developed along one line, capable of doing one thing poorly. She is not an anaemic hot-house plant, but sturdily, educated and keen-witted, and is capable of doing many things well.

DEATH OF W. A. DONNER

William A. Donner died at his home in Wayne Sunday morning. The remains were taken to Malvern, Iowa, his old home, Tuesday, for interment.
—Mr. Donner was born September 1, 1840, near Berlin, Germany, and when but a mere lad emigrated with his parents to the United States, spending the first winter in Michigan, and moving from there to Mills county, Iowa, the following spring. He traveled the entire distance on foot and drove a flock of sheep. The family took a homestead north of Malvern, and there the subject of this sketch endured all the rigors and hardships incident to pioneer life.

On November 27, 1864, Mr. Donner was united in marriage to Miss Florence M. Johnson of Hills, Io. This union was blessed by the birth of three daughters, the eldest dying in infancy, the surviving two being Mrs. Eva Norton and Mrs. Manie Meeboer, both of Wayne.

This family was broken by the passing of the mother November 14, 1899. On November 25, 1903, at Malvern, Mr. Donner was married to Mrs. Emma S. Dyer, who has always been a true and loving companion.

Mr. Donner united with the Baptist church at Malvern in 1904, and on moving to Wayne, at once became identified with the Baptist church at this place. He ever maintained an active and earnest interest in everything pertaining to the welfare of the church, being at the time of his death one of the church trustees.

About four years ago he left his farm home in Iowa to move to Wayne, where with his faithful wife and surrounded by his daughters and families, he enjoyed to the fullest extent his well earned rest from active work on the farm. The death of Mr. Donner makes the passing of the last of a family of twelve children, being eleven brothers and one sister.

Funeral services were conducted at the home on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. Parker Smith who had charge of the services, accompanied the family on Tuesday to Malvern, Iowa, where the funeral and burial took place yesterday.

MANY NEW SUBSCRIPTIONS

The great subscription contest being conducted by the Herald and Nebraska Farmer is growing more lively as the day for the final count and awarding of prizes approaches. The contestants have been turning in many new names the past week, and the next few weeks will see lively times in the subscription-getting line. There are yet many Wayne county people who will become regular subscribers if asked to do so, and they will be asked before the campaign is over. The purpose of the contest is to make a quick canvass of the county for new subscribers; and the four active contestants promise to produce the desired results. People owing for the Herald should pay up, and if they wish to help the contestants they will pay up before the contest closes.

Jas. Steele.....51,000
Mrs. Roy E. Fisher.....44,500
Albert Sabs.....39,300
Marie James.....32,500

WAYNE SCHOOLS STAND HIGH

G. A. Gregory of the state superintendent's office, took occasion to visit the city schools while here last week in connection with the corn show. His business is the inspection of the normal department of the public schools, but on account of a State Normal in Wayne that department is omitted from the course in the city schools here. However, Mr. Gregory went through the schools and observed conditions and methods very critically. He found a better building, equipments and conveniences considered, than he has seen in any other town of Wayne's size in the state. He found perfect harmony among instructors, and excellent discipline in every department. He was surprised and pleased at the efficiency of the work being done and the high standard attained. He remarked that there was no better school work in the state and perhaps none quite so good. This ought to make Superintendent Kemp and the teachers, the parents and students feel all right. The report is certainly encouraging.

DEFENDS WAYNE'S POLICY

As a feature of a series of revival meetings conducted at the Presbyterian church, a mass meeting was held Sunday afternoon, addressed by Rev. James Corkey, the evangelist, who had announced in advance as his subject, "Defending Wayne's Policy." As introductory remarks he set forth that Wayne's policy of having attractive homes and substantial business houses, excellent schools and modern churches needed no defense. What the speaker proposed to defend was the policy, adopted less than a year ago, of getting along without saloons. He denounced the liquor traffic and painted in flaming fashion the woes that follow in its wake. He related instances to show interperence as a source of degradation and crime, and insisted that while for years temperance efforts have been influential in removing men from drink, it is time for legislation to step in and remove drink from men.

The church was crowded, and the large audience listened attentively to what the speaker had to say.

ITS POPULARITY ASSURED.

Concerning the forthcoming volume written by Rev. Alexander Corkey of Wayne, the Beatrice Express has this to say editorially: "Doubtless hundreds of Beatrice people have read the book by Harold Bell Wright, entitled, 'The Calling of Dan Matthews.' The city library has two volumes of the book and the librarian reports that calls are constantly being put in advance for the book. The readers of the book will be interested in knowing that a Nebraska man, a man who has several times occupied the pulpit in a local church, has written a reply to the book wherein he seeks to prove that Dan Matthews book takes a wrong view of churches. The Dan Matthews book is purported to be the personal experiences of the author, and depicts the life of a young minister who is "called" to the pulpit, but who leaves it in disgust at the hypocrisy he finds there. The new book, whose author is Rev. Alexander Corkey, shows the opposite case from that of the other. The scene is laid in Nebraska, and a number of Nebraska characters enter into it, among them being William J. Bryan. The first book has awakened great interest among church people and outsiders, and the reply will doubtless be read with equal interest."

GOT THE WRONG HORSE.

Here is an interesting corn picking experience, related by a Herald correspondent:

One of the horses used by Mada Choon in picking corn for Jas. McIntosh, two miles north of Wayne, is stone blind. All went well with Mada and the venerable old horse until one morning last week when he went into the stall to hitch up the animal, and it did not seem to understand what was wanted. The horse refused to be harnessed and effort at coaxing availed nothing. Mada called Louie Rosacker to his assistance, and with their combined energy and persuasion finally managed to get the animal ready for the wagon. Continued difficulty was experienced in connecting the reluctant horse with the wagon. This was, indeed, strange behavior for an animal that had been blind for years and long known for its excellent gentility.

At last climbing into the wagon, Mada was amazed, to find the horse anxious to run away, shying at every object en route, with its head high in the air. As his team passed Louie on the dead run, Mada shouted back angrily: "The old, blind fool has gone crazy," but tightening his grip on the lines, succeeded in turning into the rows of corn.

After a most exasperating hour trying to pick corn and hold a demented horse, Louie Rosacker joined Mada to make a more critical inquiry into the cause of the trouble. Looking into the face of the horse, Louie exclaimed in astonishment: "Well! If the darned old brute can't see," and upon further investigation they were startled to find that instead of the old blind horse they had taken a high strung, fractious three-year-old colt which had never before been hitched. Both were afraid to drive the colt back to the barn. But finally Mada's offer to pick a load of corn for Louie if he would take the high-spirited colt back and bring forth the old, reliable blind horse, was agreed to and carried out. Thus ended a rather harrowing, though also ludicrous, incident of the corn field.

NORFOLK DEFEATS NORMAL

Norfolk News: Norfolk high school defeated the Wayne normal football team on the driving park gridiron Saturday afternoon by a score of 23 to 5, after a hard fight for the pigskin during which two Norfolk players and one Wayne man were slightly injured. For the first time of the season was there any "rag chewing" and "rough necking" in evidence. To show the good will toward their less weighty opponents who defeated them, the normal players gave the victors three cheers at the end of the fourth quarter, the only quarter ending in no score.

Captain Willey, Parish, Kelleher, Fisher, Emery and other star players on the Norfolk team made their usual expected sensational plays while Kirvier, Schulthies, McGee and Dering featured for Wayne. Schulthies, however, had several fumbles recorded against him.

In the first quarter some fast playing was in evidence, the weight of the normal boys showing plainly over their much lighter opponents. The pigskin was brought by the Norfolk players to within a foot of the Wayne goal line where Norfolk lost the ball on downs to Wayne who, on a forward pass, brought the ball back forty yards. Here Parish secured possession of the ball and made a spectacular run and touchdown after which Fisher kicked goal beautifully. On a fumble on the part of Norfolk, Wayne got the ball near the end of the quarter and made a touchdown after hard work, but failed to kick goal, making the score 6 to 5 in Norfolk's favor.

Fisher's nose was bleeding badly and Parish received a bump on the face in the second quarter. Foster, the Wayne right end, declared he had dislocated his ankle and went out of the game being replaced by Courtwright. At one time in this quarter Norfolk's goal was in danger but the ball was steadily but surely brought back to the Wayne's line where on a forward pass Emery made a sensational touchdown. Fisher failed to kick goal.

Another tryout was made with success. Mapes cleverly made a touchdown and Fisher kicked goal in good style. The score was 17 to 5 in Norfolk's favor.

Foster, whose knee still inconvenienced him, went back into the game in the third quarter in which Captain Willey did some telling work. Logan, the second team star, was in the game in this quarter and showed some good work. Odiorne blocked a good forward pass from Wayne in this quarter and Captain Willey took the ball over for a touch down which was followed by Fisher's goal kick.

The third quarter ended after Willey, Emery, Denton and Landers did some very good playing while Kelleher and Logan exhibited clever tackling. The fourth quarter was an even break, neither side getting much ground. The game ended 23 to 5 in Norfolk's favor.

Norfolk has but one more game to play, that with the Wayne high school on Thanksgiving day. Wayne high school is considered a better team than the normal but the Norfolk players are confident of defeating them and hold the last year's team record with but one defeat.

COUNCIL MEETING

Minutes of a regular meeting of the city council held November 14, 1910.

Meeting called to order by the mayor with the following members present: Gildersleeve, Kingsbury, Larison, Lambertson, Miester and Sprague.

The minutes of the last meeting were then read and approved by the council.

The following bills were read and allowed:

- John Harmer, bal Oct salary $ 2.40
- Geo Heady, labor..... 22.00
- Bert Johnson, labor..... 6.00
- Phoebe Elming, barn rent to Nov 3rd..... 4.00
- Chas Reece, police service..... 1.20
- Frank Skeen, police service..... 1.20
- Graves & Lambertson, oats..... 14.71
- Barrett & Dally, sledge handle..... 25
- Blaine Skeen, meter returned..... 17.00
- Wayne Herald, printing..... 6.00
- Udpike lumber Co, coal..... 41.10
- H S Ringland, freight paid..... 133.90
- H S Ringland, freight paid..... 9.99
- H S Ringland, salary to Nov 1, 1910..... 25.00
- Sam Gilbert, line work..... 11.62
- W. P. Rooney, postage..... 1.80
- W H Hoguewood, burying dogs..... 1.00
- P Pryor, rebate on water bill..... 1.00
- Jno Short, drayage..... 7.00
- Frank Powers, hauling fire carts..... 8.00
- Jno Short, burying dogs..... 1.00

The petition asking the city council to pass an ordinance closing the moving picture theatre on Sundays and the petition requesting that the council should not pass an ordinance to close the moving picture theatre on Sundays were read and laid over until the next meeting.

The reports of H S Ringland, city treasurer, and W P Rooney, city clerk, for the first half of the fiscal year, were read and referred to the finance committee.

Motion made and seconded that the meeting adjourn. Motion carried.

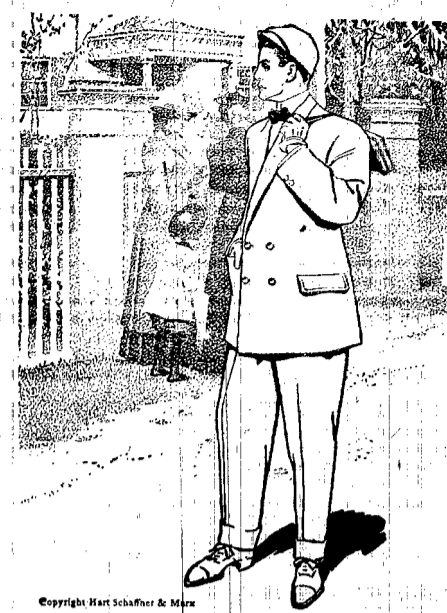

House Cleaning

On The Farm Simplified and Lightened By Old Dutch Cleanser

Housecleaning has no terrors for the housewife who uses this wonderful, all-round Cleanser. It keeps everything in and about the farmhouse in spick and span condition in half the time and with half the labor required by old-fashioned cleansers. This one cleanser

Cleans, Scrubs Scours, Polishes

In the kitchen, dining room, sitting room and bed rooms, and does it quicker and better. The best thing for pots, kettles, pans, floors, in the dairy, etc. No caustic or acids. Hygienic. This ideal cleanser works mechanically — not chemically.

Copyright Hart Schaffner & Marx

ANY style you like in suits here; single or double-breasted; one, two, three-button styles; browns, grays, tans, blues; foreign and domestic weaves. Any style in overcoats.

Hart Schaffner & Marx

make everything in clothes worth while; and we've a special lot of them to sell.

SUITS $15 TO $35. OVERCOATS $15 TO $28.50.

Dan Harrington

This store is the home of Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes.

Today may be Warm, but Tomorrow may be Cold

However....

From now on the heating stove set in place is by no means an unseasonable or ungainly sight. Make a selection from the greatest array of heating stoves ever shown under one roof.

Universal, Garland, Acorn, Etc.

IMPERIAL UNIVERSAL VOGET'S HARDWARE

COMING

THANKS-GIVING

which reminds us that turkey right soon be here. You cannot cook that turkey right unless you have a first-class range. We have a fine line of stoves and ranges. Come in and see them, and many other things that will add to your comfort and convenience during the cold days.

Barrett & Dally
Wayne, Nebraska

LOCAL BRIEFS

A year ago yesterday six inches of snow fell over this section of Nebraska.

Father Kearns went to Jackson yesterday to attend a conference of Catholic priests.

William E. Von Seggern has begun the foundation for a new, modern dwelling on his lots near the park.

On complaint of George Miner, Park Phillips was on Tuesday charged with gambling, and the hearing was set for next Monday before Judge Britton.

Mrs. W. G. Ketchmark went to Norfolk yesterday to live, her husband having located there and being in the employ of the Northwestern railroad as a brakeman.

A movement is developing for an excursion to Texas early in December to be accompanied by a brass band. Messrs. Phil Kohl and Albert Berry are the local promoters.

Now is the time to begin using buckwheat flour. Particular ones who desire a pure, unmixed flour, I solicit your patronage.

RALPH RUNDLELL.

The Orr & Morris company is making special prices on ladies' suits, and is showing the latest and best styles. Ladies should inspect the excellent line on display before buying.

Within two weeks most of the corn of the county will have been husked. Farmers have taken advantage of the fair weather, and have been pushing the work of corn picking as fast as possible.

The Rural Home society met with Mrs. P. M. Corbit, five miles north-east of Wayne, today. There are seventeen members, and they meet every month. The meeting lasts all day, and is made pleasant and profitable.

Weber Brothers are installing a new machine in their flouring mill. If there are any later machines to insure the perfection of flour making than the Weber Brothers have got, they don't know what they are. They are up to the best in the world in the milling line.

An anxious voice called up Judge Britton by phone Tuesday and told him that a Norfolk couple, under the legal age, had eloped and headed for his court to get a marriage license. But they did not appear before the judge, and therefore their names were not learned.

The sale on Wedding Breakfast maple syrup has been phenomenal. The second 500-gallon shipment is now being distributed. Pure Food maple syrup at $1 per gallon, full measure. A trial may be the means of your purchasing five gallons for winter-use. Call for sample.

RALPH RUNDLELL.

Increased movement of live stock to market has begun. On Tuesday Henry Henrichs shipped a car of hogs and R. Douthitt a car of cattle, and yesterday W. L. Chichester shipped a car of hogs and Herman Vahlkamp a car of cattle, both to Omaha.

The corn yield will fall somewhat below the estimates made early in the fall, and this is said to be the rule generally. The yield is reported to vary between twenty-five and thirty bushels to the acre in this county. The price for corn has gone up during the past ten days, due no doubt to the generally lighter crop than expected.

The Wayne Commercial Club band is planning for its grand annual concert on the evening of December 17. There will be at least eighteen members of the band, and a program of new and attractive music will be presented. The program will be varied by other features besides music. The moderate prices of fifteen and twenty-five cents will be charged, and there ought to be a packed house.

This evening is "Educational Day" at the meeting of the P. E. O., which will be held at the home of Mrs. Kate. The husbands, know as the B. I. L.'s, are also invited, to partake of the sociability, refreshments and incidentally help raise the sum which the ladies have pledged toward the educational fund. This fund is a national one in the sisterhood and is loaned to young women to help their schooling expenses.

ACME OF MAULIN ORATORY. If Dahlan's speech on the night of election when he thought he had landed a majority for governor, is quoted correctly, in the Omaha Daily News, even those who voted for him will be glad that he suffered defeat. Here is a part of what he is reported to have said: "When I am pilot of this great ship of state, I'll teach the W. C. T. U. and the prohibitionists that the office of governor means something. They'll receive no quarter at my hands. And by the way, if one of the steps inside of the governor's office I'll kick the clear across the capitol grounds. And now then gentlemen, I invite you to the barbecue at Lincoln that we have talked of so much. We'll have that barbecue on the state house lawn and the beer will flow more freely and there will be more of it than there ever was in any saloon in the city of Omaha. "For the rank and file of the party, you have made it possible for me to be elected to the office of governor of this great state of Nebraska, if you say that I am going to throw wide open the city of Omaha and the state of Nebraska. I'm going to exercise the power you have vested in me."

PLANT THRIVES ON FLIES

Little "Red," Grown in England, Helps in Work of Ridding Homes of Pest.

In England there grows a little red, disheveled, out-looking plant known as "red." It is but an inconspicuous weed, and yet literary and scientific minds have been heaped upon it. The leaf is round and flat, and is covered by a number of small red glands, which act as the attractive advertisement to the misguided insects. Their knobby ends are covered with a glutinous secretion, which glistens like honey in the sunlight, and so gains for the plant its common English name. But the moment a business fly, attracted by hopes of meat or nectar, settles audaciously in its midst, on itsitable thoughts intent, the viscous liquid holds him tight immediately, and clogs his legs and wings, so that he is snared exactly as a sparrow is snared in birdlime. Then the leaf closes over him slowly but surely, and crushes him by folding its edges inward gradually toward the center. The fly often lingers long with ineffectual struggles, while the cruel crawling leaf pours forth a digestive fluid—a vegetable gastric juice, as it were—and dissolves him alive.

In Praise of Fried Tomatoes.

We may be wrong, for no one is infallible in questions of taste; nevertheless, we opine and make bold to maintain that the most delectable product of the gardener's toil and the housekeeper's magic is the fried tomato. To us it is utterly inconceivable that the ancients should have considered the fried tomato poisonous, and that their view should be held by many persons of intelligence today. But, of course, it makes a difference who does the frying.—Newark News.

The Pipe in Germany.

Among the European smokers the meerschaum and the porcelain bowl find favor with the German, and the rivalry between their respective makers affords a constant topic of controversy among the burghers or youths of the universities. The possession and becoming use of the pipe mark the transition from youth to manhood, and the raucous rank being assumed, the pipe, which is its recognized emblem and representative, is seldom out of the hand of its owner.

Care of the Eyes.

Keep the eyes cool and clean by washing them once or twice a day in rose water or in equal parts of witch hazel and warm water. Keep the eyebrows and eye lashes free from dust by brushing them with a tiny eyebrow brush. Eye strain and inflamed eyelids are two of the almost unavoidable evils of a summer holiday. Bathing the lids in much diluted sea salt eradicates the redness, while rest in a darkened room with a bandage of cool tea leaves placed across the eyes will relieve the strain.

Women Sailors.

Women sailors are employed in Denmark, Norway and Finland, and are often found to be excellent mariners. In Denmark several women are employed as state officials at sea, and particularly in the pilot service. They go out to meet the incoming ships; they climb nimbly out of their boats; they show their diploma, and they steer the newcomer safely into the harbor. It is the same in Finland.

Hardly Caught Meaning.

Little Mary always learned her golden text for Sunday school. One Sunday the golden text was "Beware of covetousness." Her mother explained to her what it meant. The next day she repeated the golden text for her grandfather. Her grandfather said: "I don't believe you know what covetousness means." "Yes, I do, grandfather," she said; "it means you mustn't want anything that somebody else has, but something just 'xactly like it."

Absent Minded.

The son of a prominent glass merchant of this city is noted for his absent-minded lapses. He once bled his watch instead of an egg, which he held in his hand, and he tried on another occasion to tie himself out of his home with his hatch key. His latest effort, however, consisted in removing his libeled cigar from his mouth and carefully shutting it up in his eyeglass case.—Philadelphia Times.

CHRISTMAS CARDS FREE.

Not Cheap Trash, But 10 Beautiful Ones.

I want to send free to every reader of the Herald 10 beautiful, imported, embossed, colored Christmas post cards, all different, without any advertising of them whatsoever.

I do this because I want people to know the high grade cards I carry at manufacturers' prices. If you prefer beautiful New Years cards say so when you write. All I ask is that you send me 4 cents in stamps to cover postage. Address, C. T. Johnstone, Pres., Department 593, Rochester, N. Y. N17-42

REPARTEE ON THE STAGE

Some of the Amusing Remarks Which Actors in Paris Make to One Another.

Paris actors are fond of saying things to one another on the stage which will confuse them and make the answer very awkward. A few days ago, during the progress of a costume play, one of the actors who was wearing a sword knocked the thunder plates down in the wings. Thunder plates are sheets of tin which are shaken to produce thunder, and the noise of the fall of a couple of them can be imagined. The king, who was upon the stage, turned to one of the pages and haughtily asked: "What's that?"

To his surprise the page, who, as stage pages often are, was a charming young lady in real life, answered: "Thirty deafmutes are down in low, sire, asking for conversation with your majesty."

The king, without moving a muscle, although the audience laughed, replied: "Are you quite certain they are dumb?"

"They say so, sire," replied the page, with great solemnity.

"Well," said the king, "they make an awful noise about it."

It was in the same theater that the stage manager, who was playing the part of a noble lord in the play, found when he got on the stage, that only two lords-in-waiting instead of five, were on the stage in one scene. He could not leave the stage and fetch them, and as five lords were indispensable, he gaged: "What do I see," he said, "only two lords-in-waiting on the stage. What ho, without there! Send me three more lords and let them be clean men!"

The entrance of the three "clean lords" brought down the house.

Sport and Morality.

There is much more than a grain of truth in the contention of a Massachusetts woman that athletics will conduce to healthier and more normal lives for women. The same may be said for men. The men and women who take plenty of exercise in golf, tennis, swimming, baseball or rowing will not be as often heard of in divorce courts as those whose leisure is spent in idleness. Healthy bodies and clean minds go oftenest together. That is one reason why sports for young or old are encouraged. It is the reason colleges urge their students to do gymnasium work and join the athletic teams. The recreation centers of large cities, the playgrounds, football and baseball parks, the full swimming beaches and public golf links will all have their beneficial effects on the bodies and minds of the coming generation.

Chinese Traits.

The Chinese are orderly, law abiding and well behaved; they have a strong sense of right and justice—are fair minded, they are reliable in commercial dealings—they pay their debts and keep their agreements, whether verbal or written; they are dutiful to parents, fond of culture and mindful of etiquette and punctilious about returning courtesies or favors; they are respectful to elders and superiors; they honor and respect character and intellectual ability, and do not recognize an aristocracy of wealth. This list might be largely extended, but it is enough to show what I have undertaken to show—that China has not by any means to seek abroad in the requisites for national greatness, and popular welfare; some of the most important are here already. Address to Students at St. John's College, Shanghai.

Expansive Little Water Snake.

Not every creature can swallow another bigger than itself, but there is a little water snake at the aquarium that does this, namely, This water snake is a foot and a half long, and about as big around as a half lead pencil, say a scant five-sixteenths of an inch in diameter, but it will corner and capture a killifish an inch and a half long and close to half an inch in diameter and gulp it down whole easily.

Kitchen Microscopes Banned.

One piece of kitchen furniture that the average housekeeper cannot be persuaded to buy or to use is given to her as a present by a microscope, and a visiting teacher of cookery, "Wives excuse their negligence by saying that they do not care to borrow trouble." In vain do I urge that a kitchen microscope is essential to good health. With a microscope kept in a convenient place on a shelf above the sink where it can be picked up at any time to study meat, fruit and vegetables a higher grade of provisions can be secured. Housekeepers admit the truth of that, but still shun the microscope. Sterilize as they may they have made up their minds to eat a certain amount of microbes anyhow, and they prefer taking them sight unseen.

Balked at the Altar.

A young girl named Wahl, who was about to be married at Regensburg, Germany, had entered the church and taken his place beside the bride when he was suddenly seized with terror, and, rushing out, took a cab to the station and jumped into a moving train. Commotion reigned in the church, and the deserted bride fell in a swoon.

Mrs. Nippy Grumbles.

"This is a provoking world," said Mrs. Nippy. "I go down to the stores to buy things that I want, and I can't get a blessed clerk to wait on me—in hot weather, at least. But forty or fifty peddlers will call me to the door at home and offer to sell me things I don't need at all."

A New Kind of Cud.

The family lived in a small town and pastured their cow in an adjacent lot from which she sometimes escaped. "Sammy," said mother one day, "I wish you would see what Daisy is doing." "Sammy hurried to the window. "O, she's just lying out here chewing her kidney," said he in a satisfied tone.—Delincoeur.

South Omaha Live Stock Market.

Special Report, So. Omaha, Nebr., November 15, 1910.

Cattle—Receipts 17,500 for two days; market unsatisfactory and prices lower. Apparently a case of "too much meat." $6.60 for top 1250 lb corn feds, the general average being $5.35 to $6.00 and quite a few at $4.50 to $5.00. Western now of much poorer quality but outselling natives. Top $5.60 with bulk $4.50 to $4.90; best feeders $5.00 to $5.35, bulk being medium steers at $4.50 to $5.00; good yearlings $4.80; native cows $3.80 to $4.40 but the big end is common grades at $3.00 to $3.50, the demand being quite brisk for "canners," calves a little stronger, best veal top $7.50; bulk $6.00 to $7.00; bulls strong at $3.50 to $4.00 for good cutters. Indications are for heavy supplies this week and a dull market.

Hogs—Receipts growing heavier.

9000 for 2 days; 15 to 20 cents lower yesterday and again today. Bulk $7.40 to $7.60; top $7.90. With provisions lower, indications really point to a still further decline.

TODAY'S LOCAL MARKET.

Table with 2 columns: Item and Price. Fat cattle... $5 to $7.00, Hogs... $6.75, Spring Wheat... 84c, Winter wheat... 78c, Spring wheat at Wayne mill... 86c, Winter Wheat at Wayne Mill... 80c, Corn... 33c, Oats... 23c, Barley... 57c, Butter... 25c, Eggs... 25c.

ORDER OF HEARING OR ORIGINAL PROBATE OF WILL.

The State of Nebraska, ss. Wayne County.

At the County Court, held at the County Court Room, in and for said County of Wayne, on the 10th day of November, 1910.

Present, James Britton, County Judge.

In the matter of the estate of Mary Griffith, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of Daniel Davis praying that the instrument filed on the 10th day of November, 1910, and purporting to be the last Will and Testament of said deceased, may be proved, approved, probated, allowed and recorded as the last Will and Testament of said Mary Griffith, deceased, and that the execution of said instrument may be confirmed and that the administration of said Estate may be granted to Daniel Davis as Executor: Ordered, That December 2nd, A. D. 1910, at 10 o'clock A. M. is assigned for hearing said petition, when all persons interested in said matter may appear at a County Court to be held in and for said County, and show cause why the prayer of the petitioner should not be granted; and that notice of the pendency of said petition and the hearing thereof, be given to all persons interested in said matter by publishing a copy of this order in the Wayne Herald, a weekly newspaper printed in said County, for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing.

[A true copy.] James Britton, County Judge.

No. 3392

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF First National Bank

at Wayne, in the state of Nebraska, at the close of business, November 10, 1910.

Table with 2 columns: Description and Amount. Loans and discounts... $32,065.82, Overdrafts, secured and unsecured... 5,345.52, Bonds to secure circulation... 18,750.00, Bonds, securities, etc... 5,000.00, Banking house, furniture, fixtures... 1,100.00, Due from National Banks... 15,000.00, (not reserve assets) $15,000.00, Due from approved agents... 29,910.27, Checks and other cash items... 49.10, Notes of other Nat'l Banks... 1,120.00, Federal Reserve Currency... 2,500.00, Notes and Coins... 52.50, Legal-tender notes... 2,135.00, Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer... 407.50, or 5 per cent. of circulation... 474,511.75

LIABILITIES

Table with 2 columns: Description and Amount. Capital stock paid in... 75,000.00, Surplus fund... 15,000.00, Undivided Profits, less Expenses and Taxes Paid... 8,441.87, National Bank Notes outstanding... 18,750.00, Due to other National Banks... 35.80, Due to State and Private Banks and Banks... 4,801.00, Individual Deposits subject to check... 100,000.00, Demand Certificates of Deposit... 571.94, Time Certificates of Deposit... 14,850,140.58, Total... 474,511.75

STATE OF NEBRASKA, ss. County of Wayne.

I, H. P. Wilson, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

H. P. Wilson, Cashier. Frank E. Strahlan, John T. Brunsler, H. S. Resholder, Directors.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 15th day of November, 1910. A. R. Davis, Notary Public.

No. 9244

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF The Citizens National Bank of Wayne

at Wayne, in the state of Nebraska, at the close of business Nov. 10, 1910.

Table with 2 columns: Description and Amount. Loans and discounts... $38,708.32, Overdrafts, secured and unsecured... 962.51, Bonds to secure circulation... 24,000.00, Premiums on U. S. Bonds... 4,000.00, Banking house, furniture, fixtures... 4,200.00, Due from National Banks... 15,153.01, (not reserve assets) $15,153.01, Due from State Banks... 2,100.00, Due from Approved Agents... 61,070.00, Checks and Cash Items... 315.38, Notes of Other Nat'l Banks... 800.00, Fractional Paper Currency... 33.70, U. S. Notes and Coins... 7,740.00, Legal Tender Notes... 16,774.00, Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer... 1,200.00, or 5 per cent. of circulation... 467,334.70

LIABILITIES

Table with 2 columns: Description and Amount. Capital stock paid in... 60,000.00, Surplus fund... 2,000.00, Undivided Profits, less Expenses and Taxes Paid... 1,577.08, National Bank Notes outstanding... 24,000.00, Due to other National Banks... 1,100.00, Due to State Banks... 4,075.00, Individual Deposits subject to check... 170,007.08, Demand Certificates of Deposit... 10,500.85, Time Certificates of Deposit... 101,001.20, Certified checks... 2,000.00, Total... 467,334.70

STATE OF NEBRASKA, ss. County of Wayne.

I, H. E. Jones, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

H. E. Jones, Cashier. H. C. Henney, T. Resholder, S. H. Threlkeld, Directors.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 15th day of Nov. 1910. A. R. Davis, Notary Public. My commission expires April 11, 1913.

DISPERSION SALE! Shorthorn Cattle! Sale to be held at the Thompson feed yards, south of the railroad track, at WAYNE, NEB., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1910. There will be in the offering 9 bulls and 45 cows and heifers. Several of these cows have calves at foot. Most of these cattle are Scotch topped and a very desirable lot. Sale will be held under cover and no postponement on account of bad weather. For catalogues address the owner at Winside, Neb. GEO. P. BELLOWS, Auctioneer. HARRY TIDRICK

BIG SALE! Going Out of Business! Most Ridiculous Slash of Prices $8,000.00 worth of first-class and up-to-date Clothing, Gent's Furnishings and Shoes must be sold at any price rather than move the stock. Sale will continue the following six days only. Come early and get a full selection while the stock is unbroken. New York Clothing Store, Winside, Nebraska

Thanksgiving Special Star Cut Glass Water Sets By making a large purchase of this one pattern, we got them at a very low price and for ten days we are going to make a special price of $2.00 for a full water set, a three-pint pitcher and six bell shaped tumblers. This is the genuine American Star cut, and has always sold at $2.50 to $2.75 for set. Have a set of this cut glass on your table Thanksgiving Day. J. E. HUFFORD

MADE HIS APOLOGY AMPLE

Irish Legislator Even Withdrew the Words That He Was About to Utter.

There is in congress a western representative of Celtic origin who has more than once "stirred up the animals" by his propensity to bait the opposition.

On one occasion he rose to denounce the statements made in a speech that had been delivered by a member of the other party.

ENCOURAGEMENT.

First Boy—Mother says if I go swimming she'll lick me when I get back.

PUTS STOMACHS IN ORDER.

No indigestion, Gas, Sourness or Dyspepsia Five Minutes After Taking a Little Diaprepin.

Supreme Test.

"I thought you said this bathing suit was in fast colors," said Blinke indignantly to the bathing master of whom he had bought his dollar suit that morning.

TRY MURINE EYE REMEDY

for Red, Weak, Watery, Itchy Eyes and Granulated Eyelids. Murine Doesn't Smart—Soothes Itchy Pain. Druggists Sell Murine Eye Remedy. 14c, 25c, 50c, $1.00. Murine Eye Salve, in Assault Tubes, 25c, $1.00. Eye Drops and Eye Advice Free by Mail.

What the Editor Has to Stand.

Indignant Caller—Your paper, sir, refers to the man charged with entering my house as "the alleged diamond thief."

The Number.

"I hear your new auto made a good record on its trip."

There are times when the still, small voice of conscience seems congnated.

WE SELL GUNS AND TRAPS CHEAP

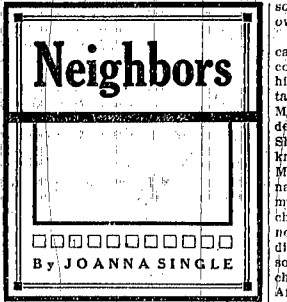

By Mail and Under Contract. 105, N. W. Hill & Co., Minneapolis, Minn.

A stubborn deer to get even has brought about man a man's down fall.

YOUTH AND AGE

There never was aught that troubled us in the days when we were young. We were light of foot and light of heart.

The dear ones gone to the home above Arcs ours as when they trod Loyal and loving beside us here.

By JOANNA SINGLE

The whole neighborhood held its breath when the three-room cottage, vacant a year, was bought by one Reuben Farr.

Mrs. Jones talked as fast as she worked, which speaks well for her industry, and defended her chicks impartially. Mame was really pretty, with the courage of that justness, and kept the girlhood of the little street in a ferment by her wholesome and conscienceless amercement of their beaus.

But the head and front of the neighborhood offenders had been Joseph Jones, aged twenty and one-half, the owner of pigeons and rabbits and guinea hens, all nuisances and trespassers. Worse than that, Joe kept chickens. That is, the neighbors kept them. They were ostensibly kept in, and the widow was so neat and clean and industrious, so valiant a mother, that officers were inclined to think the neighbors were simply "down on the tribe."

The day the new householder took possession the neighbors were hidden behind curtains, or openly out in yards and porches. Reuben Farr was a year or two younger than Mrs. Jones, tall and silent and gaunt, a carpenter by trade, his own cook and housekeeper. He nodded to everybody, said good-night or morning when he met them, but talked with no one. He minded his own business. It was bleak March when he moved in, and at nights and odd free days he tinkered about his little house and got his affairs in order. In April he appeared one night with horse and plow and broke up his entro and generous back yard. He was questioned.

"Garden," was his laconic response. The next night he harrowed the ground. Then, he methodically made beds and planted things, vegetables and flowers, and set out bushes and little trees. A few ones tried to warn him of Joe's rabbits, his pigeons, his chickens. But gossip, aimed at him, seemed to die on the lip. The neighbors finally decided to let him get his own equipment. But they admired him. Moreover, he was rather nice-looking, and not a day older than forty.

Mame Jones tried to lure him into a flirtation. But, to the joy of the interested, she did not succeed. He was polite, that was all. As for Joe, he found no fault with the boy. But one fine morning in May when he found the pet rabbits had eaten the tender tops from his upgrowings vegetables, he stood thoughtfully. That night he fenced his place in high and tight with chicken wire of the finest, closest variety.

And the next morning as he went to work, after getting his own breakfast, Joe, safe on his own porch, called at him and made a gesture of scorn. It was awful to be ignored. Used to raising trouble, Joe would stand an open row to silence—and a fence.

It was not long thereafter that, in some indescribable manner, the Jones' chickens got over the fence—miraculously, since they were clumsy, heavy fowls without power of flight. They uprooted several flowerbeds and gobbled off the tops of the peas, now well above the ground. Reuben Farr sowed more peas, and lifted the hens over the fence.

That night he called on the widow, casually as if in passing. She welcomed him on the porch, and bade him smoke if he liked. He did not talk more than a word or two, but Mame came out to the height of his defence, and inwardly much excited. She wished her mother could learn to know when she was not wanted. But Mrs. Jones stayed, rocking interminably. When he rose to go she stammeringly mentioned the matter of the chickens and the rabbits. It was a new thing to have a neighbor who did not resent things. She was so sorry, but it was accidental, and children must have pets, and so forth. After a voluble discourse in her pleasant Irish voice, Mary Jones, nee Ryan, finished with her favorite bit of wisdom. "Boys," she said, "will be boys."

"Boys will be boys," he said, dryly. Then he went away uptown. The next evening he added an extra foot to the height of his fence. The neighbors grinned, knowing Joseph would simply consider himself challenged. Natural history tells us that the rabbit will bore its way under almost anything on earth. It also teaches us that, like most mammals, it multiplies very rapidly. There had been originally some seven or eight rabbits. Now there were, it seemed, dozens of them. One night they worked steadily, having somehow escaped from their alleged haunts, and the morning found them in Reuben's garden. They were keen and hungry, and the young cabbages and cauliflowers suffered.

Bringing the Mango to Porto Rico. Missionaries, ministers, Christian workers and their friends who believe in feeding the hungry as well as teaching the ignorant, have introduced into Porto Rico a new industry, the growing of the East Indian grafted mango fruit.

Joe was fascinated into decency for a week or two. He did not understand. And now, every free evening, Reuben would saunter over to the widow's porch and sit on the steps and smoke. He got to exchanging dry jokes with Mame, who was so excited about this wary new specimen, that she forgot to breathe Sade Dugan, four doors on, or her latest beau.

Farr called Joe over and sternly helped him to get the creatures out. His eyes were blazing, and his lips close set. Old Dugan, who came along, said he heard the outraged gardener swear, but Dugan had a fine imagination. This time, Mrs. Jones dared not even apologize. To do her justice, she was stiff with fear. And the mischief was not all intentional. Piqued by the padlock Joe, like all boys, had tried all the keys which he could find. He had a few arsenic, which opened with difficulty—but which would not lock again. He had shut the gate, but the cow, pulling up her stako, had pushed it wide. The boy was frightened, and his under-conscience was working. He kept himself out of the way the following evening, being sure that something would happen. It did; but it was not the expected. Reuben Farr, after his supper, came over to the Jones' house, and dressed in his best, newly shaven, and glistening. Mame began something and, to the surprise of her life. He simply asked Mrs. Jones if she would send the children away while he spoke to her a moment. Angry and surprised, they went, standing out of earshot, but anxious as to what was going on. The man talked, and the widow, from a showing of fear at first, began to protest, then to laugh, and protest again. Finally he showed her a paper and Mame held her breath. Had it something to do with the law? They continued to talk. Then the widow went indoors.

Mame followed, eagerly, but got no word of an answer to her inquiries, save a command to help her mother get into her best dress. The girl had an idea that her mother wished to make a good impression on some magistrate and did as she was bidden. Joe had sneaked up behind the garden, peering around to see what had happened.

It was still broad light when the widow and Reuben Farr went together down the street. Sophie, at a safe distance, trailed them and came back to report that they had gone to the pastor's, a few blocks off. It seemed that the church was to intervene! The whole neighborhood, in shirt sleeves and dressing sacks, came out on the porches, and into the yard.

The Reason.

"It is no use to apply for a position. I can't get a hearing."

"Because you have no influence?"

"No; because I'm deaf."

WANTED SATAN SENT NORTH

Good Example of Scottish Humor in Remark Made by Railroad Porter.

Scottish humor is dry rather than boisterous, and I always think there is exquisite drollery in the story of the Stonehaven railway porter and the Salvation Army captain.

GAVESTON'S GRIM MEMORIAL

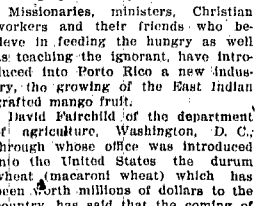

Cross in Beautiful Warwickshire Marks the Spot Where Barons Beheaded Favorite of Edward I.

There are many haunted spots in Warwickshire. The benighted peasant never lingers on Ganesle Heath, for there, at midnight, dismal bells have been heard to toll from Blacklog Hill, the place where Sir Piers Gaveston, the corrupt, handsome, foreign favorite of King Edward I, was beheaded by order of the grim barons whom he had insulted and opposed.

This was long ago. Everybody knows the historic incident, but no one can so completely realize it as when standing on the place. The scene of the execution is marked by a simple cross, bearing this inscription: "In the hollow of this rock was beheaded, on the first day of July, 1312, by barons lawless as himself, Piers Gaveston, earl of Cornwall, in life and death a memorable instance of misrule."

No doubt the birds were singing and the green branches of the trees waving in the summer wind on that fatal day, just as they were at this moment. Gaveston was a man of much personal beauty and some talent, and only 29 years old. It was a melancholy sacrifice and horrible in the circumstances that attended it.

NOT WORRYING.

Guest—Scientists claim that in a million years this earth will be a mass of ice.

BABY WASTED TO SKELETON

"My little son, when about a year and a half old, began to have sores come out on his face. I had a physician treat him, but the sores grew worse. Then they began to come out on his arms, then on other parts of his body, and then one came on his chest, worse than the others. Then I called another physician. Still he grew worse. At the end of about a year and a half of suffering he grew so bad that I had to tie his hands in cloths at night to keep him from scratching the sores and tearing the flesh. He got to be a mere skeleton, and was hardly able to walk."

"My aunt advised me to try Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. I sent to a drug store and got a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of the Ointment and followed directions. At the end of two months the sores were all well. He has never had any sores of any kind since. I can sincerely say that only for Cuticura my child would have died. I used only one cake of Cuticura Soap and about three boxes of Ointment."

"I am a nurse and my profession brings me into many different families and it is always a pleasure for me to tell my story and recommend Cuticura Remedies. Mr. Egbert Shelton, Litchfield, Conn., Oct. 23, 1909."

The Law in Germany.

Take care how you pick up a thing that is lost in Berlin. The other day one of the French deputies going through the Prussian capital on his return from the congress at Frankfurt noticed a key at the edge of the sidewalk. It stuck it up to hand it to a police agent. The representative of the city police refused to take it, saying: "You should take this key to the special bureau of things that are lost."

The Limit.

"John, I want to buy some gloves—will you give me a check?" "Sure—how much can you do with?" "How much have you got in the bank?"

Fortunate is the man who wants only what he can get.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

The best blood purifier as clock-work. The red blood corpuscles are increased in number—and the many distressing symptoms which indicate poor circulation and bad blood. A heart tonic, blood and body-builder that has stood the test of over 40 years of cures is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

Will Keep Your Harness Oiled

Putnam's Harness Oil is a fine, penetrating oil that keeps your harness supple and free from dirt. It is made of the finest oils and is of a rich, dark color. It is sold in 1/2 gallon and 1 gallon cans.

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES

Color more goods brighter and faster colors than any other dye. One 10c package colors all fibers. They dye in cold water better than any other dye. You can dye any garment without rinsing out. Write for free booklet—New to Dye, Bleach and Mix Colors. MORRIS DRUG CO., Quincy, Illinois.

WANTED SATAN SENT NORTH

Good Example of Scottish Humor in Remark Made by Railroad Porter.

Scottish humor is dry rather than boisterous, and I always think there is exquisite drollery in the story of the Stonehaven railway porter and the Salvation Army captain.

GAVESTON'S GRIM MEMORIAL

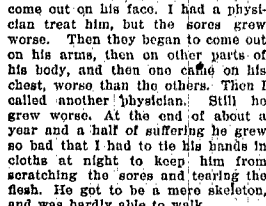

Cross in Beautiful Warwickshire Marks the Spot Where Barons Beheaded Favorite of Edward I.

There are many haunted spots in Warwickshire. The benighted peasant never lingers on Ganesle Heath, for there, at midnight, dismal bells have been heard to toll from Blacklog Hill, the place where Sir Piers Gaveston, the corrupt, handsome, foreign favorite of King Edward I, was beheaded by order of the grim barons whom he had insulted and opposed.

This was long ago. Everybody knows the historic incident, but no one can so completely realize it as when standing on the place. The scene of the execution is marked by a simple cross, bearing this inscription: "In the hollow of this rock was beheaded, on the first day of July, 1312, by barons lawless as himself, Piers Gaveston, earl of Cornwall, in life and death a memorable instance of misrule."

No doubt the birds were singing and the green branches of the trees waving in the summer wind on that fatal day, just as they were at this moment. Gaveston was a man of much personal beauty and some talent, and only 29 years old. It was a melancholy sacrifice and horrible in the circumstances that attended it.

NOT WORRYING.

Guest—Scientists claim that in a million years this earth will be a mass of ice.

BABY WASTED TO SKELETON

"My little son, when about a year and a half old, began to have sores come out on his face. I had a physician treat him, but the sores grew worse. Then they began to come out on his arms, then on other parts of his body, and then one came on his chest, worse than the others. Then I called another physician. Still he grew worse. At the end of about a year and a half of suffering he grew so bad that I had to tie his hands in cloths at night to keep him from scratching the sores and tearing the flesh. He got to be a mere skeleton, and was hardly able to walk."

"My aunt advised me to try Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. I sent to a drug store and got a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of the Ointment and followed directions. At the end of two months the sores were all well. He has never had any sores of any kind since. I can sincerely say that only for Cuticura my child would have died. I used only one cake of Cuticura Soap and about three boxes of Ointment."

"I am a nurse and my profession brings me into many different families and it is always a pleasure for me to tell my story and recommend Cuticura Remedies. Mr. Egbert Shelton, Litchfield, Conn., Oct. 23, 1909."

The Law in Germany.

Take care how you pick up a thing that is lost in Berlin. The other day one of the French deputies going through the Prussian capital on his return from the congress at Frankfurt noticed a key at the edge of the sidewalk. It stuck it up to hand it to a police agent. The representative of the city police refused to take it, saying: "You should take this key to the special bureau of things that are lost."

The Limit.

"John, I want to buy some gloves—will you give me a check?" "Sure—how much can you do with?" "How much have you got in the bank?"

Fortunate is the man who wants only what he can get.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

The best blood purifier as clock-work. The red blood corpuscles are increased in number—and the many distressing symptoms which indicate poor circulation and bad blood. A heart tonic, blood and body-builder that has stood the test of over 40 years of cures is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

Will Keep Your Harness Oiled

Putnam's Harness Oil is a fine, penetrating oil that keeps your harness supple and free from dirt. It is made of the finest oils and is of a rich, dark color. It is sold in 1/2 gallon and 1 gallon cans.

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES

Color more goods brighter and faster colors than any other dye. One 10c package colors all fibers. They dye in cold water better than any other dye. You can dye any garment without rinsing out. Write for free booklet—New to Dye, Bleach and Mix Colors. MORRIS DRUG CO., Quincy, Illinois.

Have You Tried?

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? We can furnish positive proof that it has made many remarkable cures after all other means had failed.

Women who are suffering with some form of female illness should consider this.

As such evidence read these two unsolicited testimonial letters. We guarantee they are genuine and honest statements of facts.

Cresson, Pa.—"Five years ago I had had fall, and hurt myself inwardly. I was under a doctor's care for nine weeks, and when I stopped I grew worse again. I sent for a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, took it as directed, and now I am a stout, hearty woman."—Mrs. Ella E. Atkey, Cresson, Pa.

Baird, Wash.—"A year ago I was sick with kidney and bladder troubles and female weakness. The doctors gave me up. All they could do was to just let me go as easily as possible. I was advised by friends to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier. I am completely cured of my ill, and I am nearly sixty years old."—Mrs. Sarah Leighton, Baird, Wash.

Evidence like the above is abundant showing that the derangements of the female organism which breed all kinds of miserable feelings and which ordinary practice does not cure, are the very disorders that give way to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Women who are afflicted with similar troubles, after reading two such letters as the above, should be encouraged to try this wonderfully helpful remedy.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ill. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made of purest roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

Advertisement for W. L. Douglas's shoes, featuring a portrait of the man and text describing the quality and variety of his footwear.

Advertisement for Household Lubricant, highlighting its use for various household tools and machinery.

Advertisement for Headache relief, featuring a portrait of a man and text describing the effectiveness of the medicine.

Advertisement for Live Stock and Miscellaneous Electrotypes, offering various printing services.

Advertisement for Plain Talk on Florida, providing information about the state and its resources.

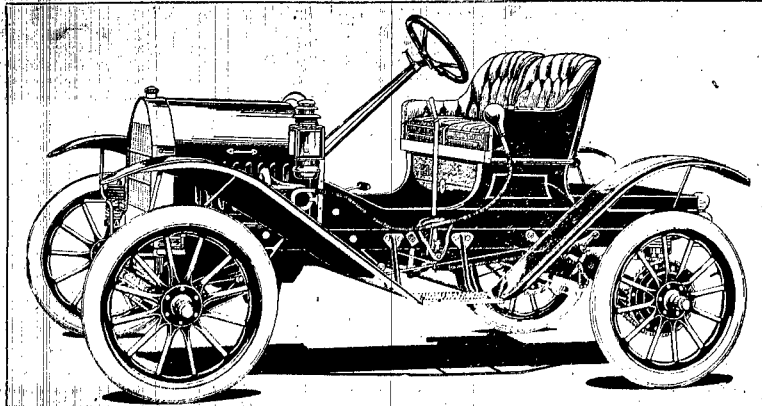

Advertisement for Roosevelt's Great Book 'African Game Trails', featuring a portrait of the author.

Advertisement for Sporting Goods, listing various items for sale and their locations.

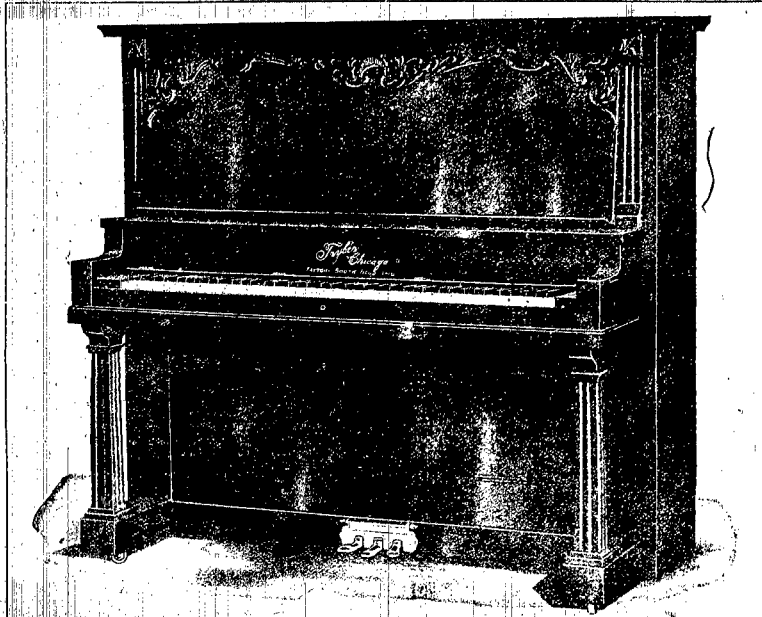

Advertisement for Patents, offering legal services and information about patent law.

Advertisement for Putnam Fadeless Dyes, promoting their long-lasting and vibrant colors.

Wayne Herald Nebraska Farmer Subscription Contest

Brush Automobile on Exhibition at R. A. Clark's Garage and Repair Shop First Door North of Depot

Tryber Piano on Exhibition at F. H. Jones' Book and Music Store

The Prizes are worth working for and from the interest developed, the contestants realize that fact.

FOR SPEAKER OF NEXT HOUSE

John Kuhl of Randolph, who has been elected for the third time a member of the lower branch of the legislature, was in Wayne Monday, and while here made known that he would be a candidate for speaker at the coming session. As the legislature will be democratic, some democrat will of course be chosen for the honor, and the fact that Mr. Kuhl enters his third term, with a creditable record of service, should give him effective strength for leadership. The speakership went to the southeast corner of the state two years ago, and if it lights in northeast Nebraska next time it will be only a deserved recognition. This part of the state ought to unite in behalf of Mr. Kuhl, and ask for a fair concession from the south Platte section. By experience and training he is well fitted for the speakership.

DOCKET FOR NOVEMBER TERM

Copies of the bar docket for the November term of the district court have been printed by the Herald this week. While actions to be heard by the court alone will receive attention in November, the jurors have been notified to appear January 9 when cases requiring their services will be taken up. On the docket are thirty-eight civil and six criminal cases, among the latter of which is the state vs. Henry Hogrefe who is charged with poisoning his wife. Trial of this action will prolong and enliven the term.

DEMOCRATIC MAJORITIES.

Phil Kohl of Wayne, was elected to represent the four counties of Wayne, Madison, Pierce and Stanton in the next state senate by a majority of 708 over his republican rival, Chas. McLeod of Stanton. J. C. Bartels was elected to the lower house, representing Wayne and Stanton counties, by a majority of twenty-four over William Prince.

ESTRAY.

Taken up on my premises one-half mile south and one-half mile east of Wayne, one roan heifer calf. Owner can have same by proving property and paying cost.

N17-13 W. O. GAMBLE.

Farmers, mechanics, railroaders, laborers rely on Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Takes the sting out of cuts, burns or bruises at once. Pains cannot stay where it is used.

To Relieve Corns.

A hot onion placed on a corn that is inflamed will give relief provided it is not hot enough to burn.

Lame back comes on suddenly and is extremely painful. It is caused by rheumatism of the muscles. Quick relief is afforded by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. Sold by all dealers.

The Human Heart.

The ordinary weight of the human heart is nine and one-half ounces, and in size the organ is equal to the closed fist of the person to whom it belongs.

A HOUSEHOLD MEDICINE

To be really valuable must show equally good results from each member of the family using it. Foley's Honey and Tar does just this. Whether for children or grown persons Foley's Honey and Tar is best and safest for all coughs and colds.

Plenty of Room.

Supporting the whole population of Great Britain stood at equal distances from one another all over the land surface of Great Britain, each would be 85 yards from his next neighbors.

The old, old story, told times without number, and repeated over and over again for the last 36 years, but it is always a welcome story to those in search of health. There is nothing in the world that cures coughs and colds as quickly as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Sold by all dealers.

Many school children suffer from constipation, which is often the cause of seeming stupidity at lessons. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are an ideal medicine to give a child, for they are mild and gentle in their effect, and will cure even chronic constipation. Sold by all dealers.

A Thing to Be Thankful For. One thing we have to be thankful for—that we didn't live when gentlemen were expected to wear tight boots on their feet and bear grease on their hair.

Group is most prevalent during the dry cold weather of the early winter months. Parents of young children should be prepared for it. All that is needed is a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Many mothers are never without it in their homes and it has never disappointed them. Sold by all dealers.

Another Sure Thing. Another thing which is about as sure as death and taxes is that no man can go on blinding indefinitely without being called—Atchison Globe.

Mr. Otto Paul, Milwaukee, Wis., says Foley's Honey and Tar is still more than the best. He writes us,

"All those that bought it think it is the best for coughs and colds they ever had and I think it is still more than the best. Our baby had a bad cold and it cured him in one day. Please accept thanks.

One of the Biblical Axioms. "The Bible says that no man can serve two masters." "Yes; that's probably the first law against bigamy ever put down."—Cleveland Leader.

DRESSED IN "BLACK AND YELLOW."

Not "football colors" but the color of the carton containing Foley's Honey and Tar, the best and safest cough remedy for all coughs and colds. Do not accept a substitute but see that you get the genuine Foley's Honey and Tar in a yellow carton with black letters.

Weighty Cause for Sympathy. A scientist figures it out that the earth weighs ten trillion tons, and the sympathy we always felt for old man Atlas is immensely increased by the discovery.

HEXAMETHYLENETETRAMINE

Is the name of a German chemical, one of the many valuable ingredients of Foley's Kidney Remedy. Hexamethylenetetramine is recognized by medical text books and authorities as a uric acid solvent and anti-septic for the urine. Take Foley's Kidney Remedy promptly at the first sign of kidney trouble and avoid a serious malady.

Poor Business. "How foolish to settle a million on a duke." "When a girl could marry some nice American man and make him happy by handing him a ten-dollar bill every morning."

GOOD RESULTS ALWAYS FOLLOW

The use of Foley Kidney Pills. They are up-building, strengthening and soothing. Tonic in action, quick in results.

Barred From Citizenship. The law says that "no alien, who is a native citizen, or subject of a denization of any country, state or sovereignty, with which the United States is at war at the time of his application, shall be then admitted to become a citizen of the United States."

When a cold becomes settled in the system, it will take several days' treatment to cure it, and the best treatment to use is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will cure quicker than any other, and also leaves the system in a natural and healthy condition. Sold by all dealers.

Cleansing the Eye. Tears have their use, apart from the crying aspect. The eye requires to be kept clear and clean, and tears perform this duty. A striking example of this is shown when the eye is hurt. It at once commences to water, and often this natural method of cleansing relieves the pain and removes the cause of the discomfort.

BOTH SPEEDY AND EFFECTIVE

This indicates the action of Foley Kidney Pills as S. Parsons, Battle Creek, Mich., illustrates: "I have been afflicted with a severe case of kidney and bladder trouble for which I found no relief until I used Foley Kidney Pills. These cured me entirely of all my ailments. I was troubled with backaches and severe shooting pains with annoying urinary irregularities. The steady use of Foley Kidney Pills rid me entirely of all my former troubles. They have my highest recommendation." Felber's Pharmacy.

NOTICE OF INCORPORATION.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned have hereby associated themselves in business as a body corporate as follows:

1st. The name of such corporation shall be the Herald Publishing Company of Wayne, Nebraska.

2nd. The principal place of transacting the business of said corporation shall be in the City of Wayne, Wayne County, Nebraska.

3rd. The general nature of the business of said corporation shall be editing and publishing a newspaper known as The Wayne Herald, transacting a general newspaper business including job work, the purchase and sale of newspaper supplies and legal blanks, and such other business as may be necessary or incident to the powers of the corporation, and for such purposes to own, lease, sell and convey such real estate as may be incident or necessary to conducting said business.

4th. The amount of capital stock authorized is $10,000 divided into shares of $100 each. At least 60 shares thereof shall be subscribed and fully paid upon the organization of the corporation.

5th. The commencement of the corporation shall be August 20th, 1910, and shall exist for twenty years from said date.

6th. The highest amount of indebtedness to which the corporation shall at any time subject itself shall not exceed one-half of the paid up capital stock.

7th. The officers of said corporation, by which the affairs of the corporation, shall be conducted, shall consist of a President, Vice President, Secretary-Treasurer, General Manager, and a board of three directors. The office of Secretary-Treasurer and General Manager may be held by one and the same person.

Dated at Wayne, Nebraska, this 20th day of August, 1910.
E. W. HUSE
R. E. HUSE
JOHN T. BRESSLER } Incorporators.

WHITE WYANDOTTE COCKERELS

I have a choice lot of these birds and it will pay you to see them before buying.

Geo. Grunemeyer

If you want

A Quick Short Order

go to

ED. ELLIS' POOL HALL.

He is once more ready to feed the people in a neat, clean room in the rear of the pool hall.

OYSTERS A SPECIALTY.

I. E. Ellis, Prop.

THE UNION HOTEL

Been newly furnished and papered throughout and will give the people the best of service. Special Sunday dinners 35 cents.

A. G. BOHNERT Proprietor

Graves & Lamberson, GRAIN & COAL

Best prices paid for Grain Coal sold at Low Price.

We aim to please both buying and selling.

Dr. A. G. Adams Dentist

Phone, Office 29

Wayne, Nebraska

Wayne Feed And Exchange Mill

Grinds all kinds of Feed and sells Feed, Tankage, Bran, Shorts Oil Meal, Hay, Straw, all kinds of seeds and CINDERELLA, SUPERLATIVE AND NORFOLK FLOUR

Eggs and Poultry taken in exchange or we will pay cash for it

ROE & FORTNER

Poland China's THE BEST BRED

J. M. Coleman, R. F. D. 2

Auto Livery

Day or Night Drives

Call Phone 152, Clark's Garage

When you want

Anything in the harness line, be sure and see our goods. The largest stock of harness in northern Nebraska. High grade quality, reasonable prices.

Wm. Piepenstock

Office Phone 53 Residence Phone 241
D. D. TOBIAS, M. D. C.
VETERINARIAN
Office at Citizens National Bank
Wayne, Neb.
Graduate Chicago Veterinary College

Office at White Barn
Barn 164, Hotel 11
DR. J. R. SEVERIN
VETERINARIAN
Specialty in Dr. W. B. O'Neal
Authorized to do state work
Wayne, Neb.

S. A. LUTGEN
Physician and Surgeon
Answers all calls promptly day or night.
Phone No 130
Wayne, Neb.

A. R. DAVIS
Attorney-at-Law
over Citizens Bank, Wayne, Neb

A. NAFFZIGER, M. D.
Office in Motor Block, Lady in attendance. Hospital accommodations.
Duitscher Arzt
Phone 65 Wayne, Neb.

H. G. LEISENRING, M. D.
Surgeon and Physician
State Electricity for Chronic Diseases. X-ray examinations
Wayne, Neb.

F. M. THOMAS
Osteopathic Physician
First floor Wayne National Bank building
Phone, residence 147, office 119

J. J. WILLIAMS, M. D.
Office in old Wayne
Nat'l Bank Building.
Vibratory Treatment
given after 7 p. m.
Phone 12 Wayne, Neb.

DR. G. J. GREEN
Dentist
Office over State bank. Phone 51

I. W. ALTER
Bonded Abstractor
Real Estate and Loans
Insurance Collections
Opposite Union hotel, Wayne

Lincoln Sanitarium
Sulpho-Saline Springs
Located on our own premises and used
Natural Mineral Water BATHS
Unsurpassed in the treatment of Rheumatism
Heart, Stomach, Kidney and Liver Diseases
Moderate Charges. Address
DR. G. W. EVERETT, Mgr., Lincoln, Neb.

Courtright & Son,
PAINTERS AND PAPER HANGERS
Wayne, Nebraska. Phone 299

THE
New Meat Market
Has opened and is ready for business. A share of your patronage is solicited.

Beef, Pork, Sausage, Smoke
Meats, Cooked Meats, Etc
And all other kinds of the best meats will be kept constantly in stock.
Prices right.

Oscar Wamberg

Walnut Grove Herd of Duroc Jersey Swine
A choice lot of young boars for sale, sired Crimson Challenger, Ruby Wonder, Commodore Boy, Wallace's Wonder, Pride's Kant, Echo King Top and other noted boars.
GEO. BUSKIRK,
10 miles west of Pender

Superlative flour is $1.60 per sack and Snowflake $1.35.

Dr. S. A. Lutgen, Physician and Surgeon.

INSURANCE
Fire, Lightning and Tornado Insurance. The best is the cheapest. I have eight of the very best companies.
Phoenix of Brooklyn
Continental of New York
Security of New Haven
German American of New York
Sun Insurance Co. of London
North British & Mercantile, Nebr.
Underwriters of Omaha
Farmers Mutual of Lincoln
I will write your insurance at the very lowest rates.
Grant S. Mears

FOR SALE—Pure Bred Short Horn bulls of serviceable age. See John Lewis Jr., at Harness shop.

FOR SALE
My farm, nearly 340 acres, adjoining the town of Wayne on the west, known as the Ran Frazier farm.
E. T. RENNICK. S22-tf

STATE BANK OF WAYNE
HENRY LEV, President. G. A. CHASE, Vice President. E. W. LEV, Cashier
INDIVIDUAL RESPONSIBILITY $200,000
Will do a general banking business. Interest paid on time deposits

New Firm!

Having sold a half interest in my business, I wish to announce that the new firm will be Hanssen & Wamberg, beginning Monday, the 21st. As you are acquainted with both of us for the past two years, we ask for a continuance of your confidence in us, combined in our comfortable place on Main street, which is no doubt a credit to any city. It is our desire to serve you with the best and best only at prices to meet all competition. Our motto shall be small profits and a large business. Respectfully,

W. O. Hanssen

ON THE WAY
To make a deposit in our bank gives you a certain feeling of success and independence. It gives you the respect of your fellow-citizens. You whom spend money thoughtfully if you have a BANK ACCOUNT.
The act of drawing a check makes you think before spending. Every dollar deposited in our bank is as secure as it would be in the Treasury vault.
THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK
OLDEST BANK IN WAYNE COUNTY
WAYNE, NEBRASKA

COUNTY CORRESPONDENCE

ALTONA.
Messrs. Oltman and Ahlyers are building an addition to Frank Erxleben's barn.
Rev. Schaller and family are visiting with Mr. Schaller's brother at Meridian, Ia., this week.
Mr. and Mrs. Gust Behrens and Albert came back from Germany Thursday, after a two months' visit with relatives.
Mrs. Henry Panning returned to her home at Hooper Saturday, after a week's visit with her son, Fred and her daughter, Mrs. J. G. Bergt. Mrs. J. G. Bergt accompanied her home.
Talk about your automobiles! Frank Erxleben has them all beat. Last Monday he hauled twenty-four bunches of shingles on his machine from Wayne to his place, which is a distance of nine miles.

WINSIDE
Miss Jessie Snowden of Winside and her friend Miss Myrtle Jones of Gettysburg, S. D., visited Mrs. Roy Fisher near Wayne during a couple days last week, Miss Snowden being a sister of Mrs. Fisher.
On Tuesday evening, November 8, a number of friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Snowden, and surprised their daughter, Jessie, in honor of her birthday. Miss Jessie was over at one of the neighbors' when the party assembled, and when she arrived home at 9 o'clock, the music began. The singing was by the Irish quartet, composed of Oliver Smith, Tom Stewart, Carl Taylor and Carl Smith, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Roy Fisher. After a series of games, a two-course supper was served. Miss Jessie received a number of beautiful presents, among the lot being a music roll, presented to her by the Irish quartet. She was also given a postal card shower. At a late hour the guests departed, all reporting a fine time.

CARROLL
Grandma Young is quite ill this week.
The Carroll stores will all close on Thanksgiving day.
The carpenters have just about completed the hose house.
Geo. Holeykamp and wife are the happy parents of a new boy.
John Dobbin was transacting business in Sioux City early in the week.
Ben Peters is home from Arco, Idaho. Funny how they all come back again.
Miss Lizzie Williams is visiting her sister, Mrs. Ella Holmes, at Norfolk this week.
Chas. Grewe is back from Gettysburg, S. Dak., where he has been located for the past year or two.
One of the largest crowds that was ever seen in the Methodist church assembled last Friday evening to hear the concert by the Rachel Steinman Concert company.
Arthur L. Peterson died of typhoid fever at the home of Lyngen Bros., last Friday morning. Arthur had only been in this country about two years, but was a favorite with all who knew him. He leaves a wife and parents and brothers and sisters to mourn his loss. He has been married about four months.

CARROLL VICINITY.
A number of farmers will finish husking this week.
H. C. Bartels transacted business at Wayne Monday.
Fred Schraeder is plastering for Jas. Finn this week.
Mrs. Chas. Nairn attended the corn show at Wayne Friday.
Mr. and Mrs. Lou Surber spent a few days with Mrs. Surber's parents last week.
Mr. Locinbar of Fremont, spent Sunday at the O. C. Lewis home east of town.
Howard Porter and wife were visiting friends in this vicinity Saturday and Sunday.
Rev. J. L. Phillips was here Saturday to attend the funeral of his nephew, Arthur Peterson.
W. W. Garwood had a bunch of Hereford cattle shipped in from western Nebraska recently.
Miss Florence Bartels and Miss Myrtle Kingston attended teachers' meeting at Wayne Saturday.
Mrs. E. Phillips of Laurel, visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Roe, the fore part of the week.
Miss Minta Lewis, who is doing stenographic work for an Omaha creamery company, spent Sunday with her parents.
Arthur Peterson passed away early Friday morning after several weeks of hard struggle with typhoid fever and complications of other diseases. This is very sad for his young wife who had just recently been called to mourn the death of her mother and baby sister. The funeral was held Saturday, and was attended by a large crowd.

HOSKINS.
Nora Ziemer spent Sunday at home.
Sara Ziemer was a Wayne visitor last Thursday.
A. C. Lantz of Winside was a Sunday visitor in Hoskins.
John Crosby spent several days of last week in the village.
Frank Hart went to Uehling Saturday to visit his brother.
A handsome new touring car arrived Monday for Mr. Chas. Green.
Hugo Wantoch, Sr., arrived from a visit in S. Dakota, Saturday morning.
R. Roerke and wife were Sioux City visitors last Sunday and Monday.
A son was born, Sunday to Rev. and Mrs. Frantz, two miles west of town.
Harry Ziemer arrived from Decatur Tuesday, and will be in town several days.
Miss Grace Fletcher left for her home Friday after a seven weeks' stay at Hoskins.
Mr. D. Averill of Blair, was seen on our streets Tuesday. He reports having sold his residence property in Blair and may locate in this part of the state again.

Rev. and Mrs. Aron went to Wayne Friday to visit with Rev. Spuring and family.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. John Papapi, is suffering with an attack of lung fever.

Miss Meta Aron left Sunday for Norfolk where she has accepted a position in the Beeler store.

Mrs. Frank Benser, and son, Kenneth spent a part of last week visiting Mrs. Wm. Berge of Fordyce.

The former Luders farm, now owned by Mr. Meir Henry, will be occupied by the Van Schoik family.

Wm. Behmer and family in company with Ed. Behmer and family went to Pilger Sunday in an auto to visit relatives.

The Misses Anna Nelson and Elsie Dobbins went to Norfolk Thursday evening to take in the "House of a Thousand candles."

The Misses Pauline and Anna Clausen of Pauline, Iowa, left for their home Wednesday after a few weeks' visit with the Aron family.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Raymer arrived Tuesday from a western trip. Mrs. Raymer will remain with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Foster, for several weeks.

Among those who attended teachers' meeting in Wayne from Hoskins were: Misses Reed, Moran, Schemel, Dobbins, Wagner, Anna and Pauline Clausen.

Joe Overman and daughters, Ida and Alta, returned from South Dakota Friday, where they had gone to attend the wedding of Mr. Overman's daughter.

Mrs. Sonneken and granddaughter, Frances Voget, of Nyaak, New York, left Thursday for her home after a several weeks' visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Zutz.

Wm. Krause bought the Mrs. Aronschild property in Norfolk and will remove there within a few days. The Krause property will be occupied by Mr. Leusen and family, the section foreman recently of Fordyce, Nebr.

A family re-union of the Gleasons Sunday, at their home two miles east of town, was attended by the following: Mr. and Mrs. Will Weatherholt, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Weatherholt, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wetzel, all of Norfolk.

Mrs. Sonneken and granddaughter, Frances Voget, of Nyaak, New York, left Thursday for her home after a several weeks' visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Zutz.

Wm. Krause bought the Mrs. Aronschild property in Norfolk and will remove there within a few days. The Krause property will be occupied by Mr. Leusen and family, the section foreman recently of Fordyce, Nebr.

A family re-union of the Gleasons Sunday, at their home two miles east of town, was attended by the following: Mr. and Mrs. Will Weatherholt, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Weatherholt, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wetzel, all of Norfolk.

Mrs. Sonneken and granddaughter, Frances Voget, of Nyaak, New York, left Thursday for her home after a several weeks' visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Zutz.

Wm. Krause bought the Mrs. Aronschild property in Norfolk and will remove there within a few days. The Krause property will be occupied by Mr. Leusen and family, the section foreman recently of Fordyce, Nebr.

A family re-union of the Gleasons Sunday, at their home two miles east of town, was attended by the following: Mr. and Mrs. Will Weatherholt, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Weatherholt, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wetzel, all of Norfolk.

Mrs. Sonneken and granddaughter, Frances Voget, of Nyaak, New York, left Thursday for her home after a several weeks' visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Zutz.

Wm. Krause bought the Mrs. Aronschild property in Norfolk and will remove there within a few days. The Krause property will be occupied by Mr. Leusen and family, the section foreman recently of Fordyce, Nebr.

A family re-union of the Gleasons Sunday, at their home two miles east of town, was attended by the following: Mr. and Mrs. Will Weatherholt, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Weatherholt, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wetzel, all of Norfolk.

Mrs. Sonneken and granddaughter, Frances Voget, of Nyaak, New York, left Thursday for her home after a several weeks' visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Zutz.

Wm. Krause bought the Mrs. Aronschild property in Norfolk and will remove there within a few days. The Krause property will be occupied by Mr. Leusen and family, the section foreman recently of Fordyce, Nebr.

A family re-union of the Gleasons Sunday, at their home two miles east of town, was attended by the following: Mr. and Mrs. Will Weatherholt, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Weatherholt, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wetzel, all of Norfolk.

Mrs. Sonneken and granddaughter, Frances Voget, of Nyaak, New York, left Thursday for her home after a several weeks' visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Zutz.

Wm. Krause bought the Mrs. Aronschild property in Norfolk and will remove there within a few days. The Krause property will be occupied by Mr. Leusen and family, the section foreman recently of Fordyce, Nebr.

A family re-union of the Gleasons Sunday, at their home two miles east of town, was attended by the following: Mr. and Mrs. Will Weatherholt, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Weatherholt, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wetzel, all of Norfolk.

Mrs. Sonneken and granddaughter, Frances Voget, of Nyaak, New York, left Thursday for her home after a several weeks' visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Zutz.

Wm. Krause bought the Mrs. Aronschild property in Norfolk and will remove there within a few days. The Krause property will be occupied by Mr. Leusen and family, the section foreman recently of Fordyce, Nebr.

A family re-union of the Gleasons Sunday, at their home two miles east of town, was attended by the following: Mr. and Mrs. Will Weatherholt, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Weatherholt, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wetzel, all of Norfolk.

Mrs. Sonneken and granddaughter, Frances Voget, of Nyaak, New York, left Thursday for her home after a several weeks' visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Zutz.

Wm. Krause bought the Mrs. Aronschild property in Norfolk and will remove there within a few days. The Krause property will be occupied by Mr. Leusen and family, the section foreman recently of Fordyce, Nebr.

A family re-union of the Gleasons Sunday, at their home two miles east of town, was attended by the following: Mr. and Mrs. Will Weatherholt, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Weatherholt, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wetzel, all of Norfolk.

Mrs. Sonneken and granddaughter, Frances Voget, of Nyaak, New York, left Thursday for her home after a several weeks' visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Zutz.

Wm. Krause bought the Mrs. Aronschild property in Norfolk and will remove there within a few days. The Krause property will be occupied by Mr. Leusen and family, the section foreman recently of Fordyce, Nebr.

A family re-union of the Gleasons Sunday, at their home two miles east of town, was attended by the following: Mr. and Mrs. Will Weatherholt, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Weatherholt, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wetzel, all of Norfolk.

Mrs. Sonneken and granddaughter, Frances Voget, of Nyaak, New York, left Thursday for her home after a several weeks' visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Zutz.

Wm. Krause bought the Mrs. Aronschild property in Norfolk and will remove there within a few days. The Krause property will be occupied by Mr. Leusen and family, the section foreman recently of Fordyce, Nebr.

A family re-union of the Gleasons Sunday, at their home two miles east of town, was attended by the following: Mr. and Mrs. Will Weatherholt, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Weatherholt, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wetzel, all of Norfolk.

Mrs. Sonneken and granddaughter, Frances Voget, of Nyaak, New York, left Thursday for her home after a several weeks' visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Zutz.

Wm. Krause bought the Mrs. Aronschild property in Norfolk and will remove there within a few days. The Krause property will be occupied by Mr. Leusen and family, the section foreman recently of Fordyce, Nebr.

SOFT-WINGED PEACE

ONCE MORE BROODED OVER CLABBER HOUSEHOLD.

Head of the Family Arises and Declares Himself—Moral Contained In This Story Not Hard to Perceive.

Mr. Clabber had stood all the rest with as much equanimity as he could muster. But when Mrs. Clabber began to sniff and sniff and sniff just because he was smoking his old briar pipe—then indeed Mr. Clabber stood up for his rights as a sovereign man.

"Mrs. Clabber," said he, arising and speaking with much dignity, "ever since I came home this evening from a hard day's work in the marts of trade, you have sought every reasonable and unreasonable opportunity to aggravate, irritate and otherwise annoy me. You have frowned and scowled and your conversation has been confined to monosyllables. You have burned the steak and you have undercooked the potatoes. Knowing that I like my rice pudding soft, you have let it cook hard. You have mislaid my slippers and have lost the evening paper. Knowing that I like to play with the canary, you have put him to bed.

"Nor, madam, is this all. You have grumbled and you have growled. I repeat it, madam: you have growled. You left your sewing in my easy chair. You opened a window so that the draft nearly blew my head off. You are wearing that old Persian wrapper, which you know I dislike, and you have referred to my family four times—each time in disrespectful terms. You have snuffed when I have gently remonstrated with you or—worse yet—you have either remained truculently silent or you have banged a door. Not only have you banged doors, but you have banged plates, knives forks, spoons, cups, saucers, windows and overdoors. And now, Mrs. Clabber, when I light my pipe you begin to sniff in such a manner that I can stand it no longer. What, madam—what is the reason of all this? Oh! You are out of sorts, are you?"

"I see! Out of sorts! Permit me to suggest, Mrs. Clabber, the strong advisability of having in an early supply of 'sorts.' You possess a quantity of 'sorts' is waxy and disgusting to a degree. It threatens the happiness—the life happiness, Mrs. Clabber—of two human beings. I do not know where sorts are to be had, but let me suggest that you apply there, wherever it is, as soon as possible for a generous stock. Sorts are evidently necessary to your wellbeing and happiness and I think it would be advisable for you to lay in enough sorts to last you over an emergency. You, being out of sorts, have used all mine and I find out that I am out of sorts myself. That is why I am putting on my hat, Mrs. Clabber. That is why I am putting on my coat and taking my pipe with me. I am going out to see if I can accumulate a few choice sorts and bring them back with me. Perhaps when I return you will have found a few available sorts and—What? You think you have scraped a few together now?"

"Well, well! This is encouraging news, Mrs. Clabber. I see, too, that you have recovered that pleasing smile which was ever your dearest charm. And so, madam, I will take off my hat. You may hang it on the rack. And here is my coat. I think that now you can even find my slippers. And my tobacco, too. Bless her heart! And now I know she is going to sit on the arm of my old armchair and light my old briar pipe. Ah, yes! It is very evident that we have all sorts of the very finest sorts back in stock again, Mrs. C. Out of sorts, indeed!"

SOUTH SEA TRAMPS' WHARF

Strange Fights That May Be Seen on the Old Meigs Pier in San Francisco.

"When old Henry Meigs built the long pier that juts out from the foot of Telegraph Hill in San Francisco," remarked the Californian, "he probably didn't guess that it was destined to become the most picturesque wharf in the country. He intended it to accommodate his own line of steamers, but in later years he settled in Peru and the wharf fell into other hands. "While retaining his name, it began to take on a peculiar character. It is nearer to the Golden Gate than any other pier in San Francisco harbor, and the South Sea tramps found it convenient to dock there. Their patronage became so important that in time it was entirely given over to them and to the other rovers of the sea that drift into San Francisco from the ports of all the world. "And so it is that you can go down to Meigs' Wharf any afternoon, when the trade wind is blowing from the Pacific, and watch brown Kanaka sailors loading on the decks of boats that reek of coconut oil and strange spices odors. And you can see copper being unloaded, and a shell and other products of Polynesia. Or you may chance to find an old-fashioned square rigger in port that has been three months or more coming from New York by way of the Horn. These boats have no schedules. No one knows when they will drift in through the Golden Gate and pause for a short while under the lee of Telegraph Hill. "Meigs' Wharf also has the reputation of being the starting point for filibustering expeditions to the Latin American republics, and is always closely watched for smugglers."

Not Nisi French.
In the dining-room of a hotel at Nice, on a huge placard posted over the mantelpiece, you can read the following: "Our English visitors are kindly requested to address the waiters and servants in English, as their French is not generally understood."

Best grade of bottled cider for mince meat.
J. W. EPLER.
Thanksgiving day comes one week hence, and everybody can find something to be thankful for.

Autumn's reddest apples, grapes, dates, figs, celery, cream cheese.
Come and see. EPLER'S STORE.

Mrs. W. P. Hill and Mrs. Lou Holtz of Randolph, were in Wayne last Friday to attend the corn show and visit friends.

Candies fresh for the Thanksgiving table. The finest nuts on the market. Olives and pickles of every style. EPLER'S GROCERY STORE.

Sheriff Maskell of Ponca was in Wayne this week. He was serving papers on Dixon county witnesses for the district court which opens at Ponca November 28.

Has Fought His Last Duel.
A couple of quarrelsome schoolboys in Paris, aged respectively fourteen and fifteen, fought a duel in the Bois de Boulogne, with shabby folks. Both were wounded, one in the thigh, and the other under the armpit, under the fifth rib. The mother of the elder duelist so "warned" the lad when he returned home, that his feelings have been severely lacerated, and he says he has fought his last duel.

It Has No Followers.
Arguing against hypnotism with his doctor, old Mr. Bent was interrupted by an intolerable pang in his right leg. "After all," he ended, with sudden tolerance, "of all theisms none is so bad as rheumatism."—Youth's Companion.

Urgallant.
It's all right for a woman to have an open countenance, but she should occasionally shut it.—Exchange.

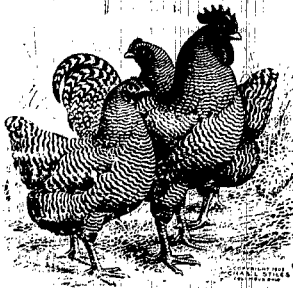

OVERSTOCKED

We are overstocked on Ladies' Suits, Ladies', Misses' and Children's Coats and right now, in the midst of the season, are willing to make great reductions, amounting in some cases to more than the profit. You need the clothing right now; we need the money. It's a mutual advantage. Come in and be fitted while the sizes last.

Another shipment of those two-thumb husking mittens, the best in town. Men's .85c per dozen; boys' 75c. For all winter needs, see us.

S. R. Theobald & Co.

Do You Want Eggs in Winter?

You will want to be able to gather the eggs during the winter season when the price is high. I have a big flock of March and April hatched pullets, THOROUGHBRED BARRED ROCKS, that will commence laying before winter sets in. They are the big kind, thoroughbred "Ringle's" from stock direct from the farm of E. B. Thompson, Amenia, N. Y., breeder of the world's best Barred Rocks. They were grown on free range and are good, healthy birds. Priced at $1.50 each. Buy now. The price will be higher next spring. Fine cockerels now at $3.

FRANK WHITNEY, Wayne, Nebr. Phone 195

HOW SHE DANCED BORROWER

Cleveland Woman's Clever Method of Avoiding a "Touch" Without Giving Any Offense.

Men have something to learn from women in the art of warding off "touchers" for coin. Women respond to such requests once in about every thousand cases, but they are scientific in their refusals. A woman with a reputation as a borrower turned up at the home of one of her friends the other morning with a much done-over story about a persistent and threatening door-scraper, and the usual request for the loan, "May it back tomorrow, certain?"

"Why, my dear, certainly," was the pleasant response to her carefully rehearsed little yarn; "you poor thing, you." Just as she said "I'll run upstairs and get my purse."

"She ran upstairs. The male head of the house happened to be in the room where she kept her purse. He saw her die the purse out of a chiffonier drawer and deliberately remove a wad of bills from it, leaving a about thirty-seven cents in silver and copper in the change receptacle. The man was mean enough to lean over the stair railing when his wife went downstairs to the parlor with her "formal pocketbook in her hand."

"Oh, Pm so sorry, dearie," he heard her say, "but I really thought I had the money. I find, though, that Frank, as usual, has been at my purse—I heard him say something about settling a plumber's bill last night when I was half asleep, and the man thing has only left me enough for carfare. Too bad! Of course, you know, if I had it," and so on.

Poverty.
Poverty is, except where there is an actual want of food and raiment, a thing much more imaginary than real. The shame of poverty—the shame of being thought poor—is a great and fatal weakness, though arising in this country from the fashion of the times themselves.

Too True.
A Sunday school teacher, after reading the story of Ananias and Sapphira to the juvenile class, asked, "Now, children, why doesn't the Lord strike everybody dead who tells a lie?" "Cause," answered a bright little fellow, "there wouldn't be anybody left, hardly."

BELL TELEPHONE SERVICE

Has reached its present high state of development because its policy has always been based upon the conviction that

"Success consists in gaining the confidence and support of intelligent people."

How well this attitude has won public approval is shown by the astonishing growth of the Bell system in all parts of the country.

STATISTICS SHOW

One Bell Telephone installed every minute.
One thousand miles of wire strung every day.
More than six billion connections made every year.
Five million telephones in use in 40,000 American cities.
In Nebraska the installation of 600 new telephones a month.
In Nebraska the building of 6,200 miles of copper toll lines last year.
In Nebraska 120,000 telephones in 500 cities and towns.

OUR POLICY

Has always been to deal frankly and fairly with the public and rely for our achievement on square dealing and satisfactory service.

NEBRASKA TELEPHONE CO.

PIAGREE C. HUGHES, Local Manager

HILLARD WIGHT PRESENTS

"Reaping the Harvest"

A Great Comedy-Drama

Opera House, Thursday, November 24

Special Scenery and Cast

Including Geo. L. Dick & Gail Hamilton

PRICES 25, 35, and 50 cents

Reserve Seats at Raymond's Drug Store