Our Questions:

Have you said all along that all player pianos are mechanical?

What is to be your answer to this proposition?

We make the sweeping statement that no one, not even a musician, can tell the difference between Apollo playing and expert hand playing, and take this unusual method of proving that this claim is unqualifiedly true.

LIFE SENTENCE FOR FLEGE

JUDGE GIVES THE LIMIT

Motion for New Trial Denied—Appeal to Supreme Court Flege to the Pen in Few Days.

The motion for a new trial in the case of William Flege, convicted of murdering his sister, was heard by Judge Graves at Ponca last night and denied. Whereupon the court sentenced Flege to the penitentiary for life, with the provision that on every anniversary of the crime, June 30, he be given solitary confinement. This morning's Sioux City Journal gives the following account of last night's proceedings in the case: William C. Flege, who last Saturday night was found guilty by a jury of twelve farmers of the murder of his sister, Louise Flege, on June 30 last, at their home near Wayne, Neb., was last night sentenced to life imprisonment in the state penitentiary by Judge Guy T. Graves. The penalty is the limit for second degree murder.

J. J. McCarthy, who conducted the case for Flege, filed a motion for a new trial tonight and made his argument, but the judge overruled the motion. Mr. McCarthy said he would take the case to the supreme court, and stated that the fight had just begun, and he expects to get a new trial for the convicted man.

When the sentence was read to Flege as he sat in the court room last night he dropped his head and appeared to give up all hope, and even when Mr. McCarthy tried to cheer him up by telling him he might get a chance in the supreme court, his manner remained unchanged. He was taken back to the county jail in the custody of Sheriff H. A. Maskell and will be taken to Lincoln in a few days by the sheriff or Deputy Sheriff Gene Cook.

Jury's Verdict.

Here is the report of the return of the jury with a verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree in the case of William Flege, as sent out from Ponca: William Flege was found guilty of murder in the second degree. He was accused of killing his sister, Louise, in a particularly brutal fashion. The jury retired for consideration of the charges at 4:15 Saturday afternoon and reached a decision at 10:30.

The penalty is from twenty years to life imprisonment. Flege sat expectantly as the foreman arose. When he heard the words "We, the jury, find the defendant guilty of murder in the second degree," the face of the prisoner took on an expression of utter despair. He remarked: "Well, they have got me, but I didn't do it."

Two of his brothers, who had arrived in the courtroom, shook hands with the forlorn prisoner, but they said not a word. He was taken into custody by Sheriff Maskell and remanded to jail without bond.

Attorney J. J. McCarthy polled the jury and then filed a motion for a new trial. This will be argued before Judge Graves next Wednesday night, and in case this is not granted Flege will be sentenced.

On the afternoon of June 30, Louise Flege was foully murdered at the Flege farm near Wayne, Neb., by being shot twice, once in the head and once in the breast. For some time it was thought that a tramp passing by had killed the girl, with robbery as the motive. Almost a month had passed before Albert Eichtencamp, a 17-year-old boy employed on the Flege farm, confessed to Sheriff Grant Mears of Wayne county that he had seen William Flege kill his sister after a quarrel following the noonday meal. He told of how, after dinner, he went out to fill the radiator of the automobile with water.

He had hardly started to work on it when he heard Louise and William quarreling, and on looking up saw the two come out of the doorway together. They came out into the yard and the girl screamed, "Leave me alone! Leave me alone! What have I done to you?" William Flege then pulled a revolver and shot his sister, who dropped upon her knees. The boy then rushed to the barn, and just as he reached the barn he heard another shot. Turning around he saw the body of the girl stretched at full length upon the lawn.

Eichtencamp said that Flege then went into his house, but soon came out and told him that if he said anything about the shooting he would give him some of the same medicine.

A reward of $2,500 was offered for the arrest and conviction of the murderer. Flege himself put up $500 of this. He erected a $500 monument over his dead sister's grave. Sheriff Mears, to whom Eichtencamp confessed, will claim the $2,500 reward. Detective Davenport of Sioux City, is also a claimant, declaring that he ran down the case.

Flege's Condition.

This report of Flege's condition appeared in Monday's Sioux City Journal from a staff correspondent who attended the trial:

As he sits in the county jail today, accused and convicted of the murder of his sister on June 30 last, little does William C. Flege look like the confident, well groomed man of yesterday morning. He appears to be a man who has aged 40 years in the last twenty-four hours. His face displays an insight of the severe tortures he has undergone. His eyes are bloodshot and sunken in. His face has taken on several wrinkles.

Out of the kindness of Sheriff H. A. Maskell the prisoner is allowed the freedom of the whole jail and the sheriff's office. When talked with this afternoon Flege answered questions in a surly manner and was very downcast. He kept repeating to himself: "I didn't do it, I didn't do it. How could they find me guilty of murdering my sister?"

The brothers of the convicted man left for their home near Wayne this morning in an automobile, as did also his sister, Mrs. Frevort. The brothers and the sister hardly spoke a word. When at the breakfast table this morning they ate scarcely anything. Flege has not eaten a thing today and says he cannot eat.

The people of the vicinity express themselves as satisfied with the verdict and say it was a just one.

The feeling against Flege which manifested itself at the time of his arrest and which had been allayed somewhat during the interval before the trial returned at its resumption. Several people here today say if a verdict of guilty had not been returned something would have happened to the convicted man.

J. J. McCarthy this morning said: "All these people who are prejudiced against the prisoner flocked into the courtroom and their feelings were lodged in the minds of the jurymen. Then Dixon county has the reputation of having never convicted a man of murder, and the jurymen must certainly have felt it their duty to show the people that there was one jury who could do it."

C. A. Kingsbury, senior attorney for the prosecution, this morning said he did not see how the jury could have returned any other kind of a verdict conscientiously. "I think," said Mr. Kingsbury, "that nine persons out of ten expected the verdict which was returned."

Dixon County's First Murder.

The trial at Ponca of a man charged with murder and the Sioux City Tribune's allusion to the criminal annals of Dixon county suggest history of the first murder committed in that county and the summary manner in which justice was dealt out by the determined early settlers. These settlers were fired by the fiendish brutality of the crime and by the fact that the slain man was struck down while going into the county to buy land and locate with his family.

It was in 1870 when Ponca was a small huddle with no railway connection with the outside world. A stage running between Ponca and Sioux City twice each week accommodated passengers and carried the mail. If one missed the stage at Sioux City, he would have to wait for the next trip, or find some other means of conveyance. When a man by the name Dunn who was on his way from Iowa to Dixon county with the intention of investing and remaining and sending for his family if the country suited him, landed in Sioux City, the stage to Ponca had just gone.

The prospect of waiting in Sioux for another stage was not encouraging, and when he chanced to meet a young man who said he lived in Ponca and was going there on foot the next day, he gladly accepted the opportunity to accompany him. The young man's name was Mat Miller, son of the saloon keeper at Ponca, and he frequently left home and devoted his time to the vilest haunts in Sioux City.

Thus, the next morning the two men set out together on foot for Ponca. A few miles from their destination, they entered a thicket of timber to rest and drink from a running stream. From a solitary cabin on a hill, a woman saw the two men go into the timber and later only one man come out and resume the journey to Ponca. A few days afterwards Dunn's mutilated body was found in the thicket, and various circumstances pointed to the guilt of young Miller. He had killed his victim, for money with which to make himself acceptable to a wicked siren in Sioux City. The sheriff pursued him from that city to Council Bluffs where he was found spending money lavishly.

Brought back to Ponca, the settlers organized and dispossessed the sheriff of his prisoner. The crowd assembled in a church and listened to the confession of Mat Miller. The meeting was presided over by a minister of the gospel who opened the proceedings with prayer, and was conducted in an orderly and decorous manner. After listening to Miller tell how he had murdered the prospective new settler, a vote was taken as to the proper disposition of the prisoner. The verdict was almost unanimous for hanging, and accordingly the will of the people was quietly and resolutely carried out. On a spot where the school house now stands, gallows were improvised, and the first murder of Dixon county was avenged.

A man by the name of Bridgeford was arrested by Marshal Miner Saturday on the charge of being drunk and disorderly, and was released Monday on promise that he would leave town and not return.

Carroll Index: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brower and daughters Lulla and Mary of McCluska were pleasant visitors of W. R. Olmstead and wife Saturday, being on their way to Walla Walla, Wash., where they will make their future home. Miss Eva Prince, a daughter of Wm. Prince has closed her school, west of Carroll for a few days on account of sickness.

Laurel Advocate: While oiling the Dan Griesel corn sheller in Belden Tuesday forenoon Elbert Wingett had his left arm severely crushed. J. V. Harper brought him down in the auto to catch the train for Sioux City. W. F. Schwerin accompanying him. The necessity for amputation was apparent; the only question being as to how much of the arm could be saved.

Pender Times: The board of county commissioners met yesterday and adjourned until Monday, December 19. The Walthill county seat removal petition was not presented just why, we do not know and you can do as good a job guessing as we can. Emmitt Rossitor of Walthill was present during the day but didn't try to snake away the court house, or any of the county officers.

South Sioux City Record: J. S. Sanders, proprietor of the Island Beach Hotel expects to make a trip to Lincoln the first of the year in the interests of the fishing at the lake. Mr. Saunders believes that the state does not properly protect the game fish and is collecting evidence to lay before the authorities. He will try to have a small salary attached to the position of deputy warden at the lake.

Laurel Advocate: Lincoln Walton of Highmore, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Snyder and son of Howell, S. D., arrived Friday for a short visit at the Louis Walton home. Mrs. Snyder is a sister of the Messrs. Walton, and had been to Sioux City to consult physicians. Mr. Walton says the crops in his part of South Dakota were poor; that he and the boys had in a large crop, but hardly got pay for their work. There are lots worse places than Nebraska, after all. They expect to return home this week.

Speaking of two young couples—Walter C. Davis and Miss Sophia Christofferson, and Martin R. Christofferson and Miss Maud Davis—who were married in Wayne last week, the Winside Tribune has this to say: "These young people are well known to Winside people. Walter and Maud being the son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Davis and Martin has been farming the place abutting town on the north, with his sister Sophia, as housekeeper. It might be said that the young men just traded cooks. Mr. and Mrs. Davis will live on the farm of his father where a new house has just been built for them and Mr. and Mrs. Christofferson will live where he does now."

CHARLES EMERSON AUSTIN

The second number on the lecture course, which is being given this winter at the Presbyterian church under the auspices of the C. E. society, was a complete success. The entertainment was given last Friday evening, and the entertainer was Charles Emerson Austin, of Cedar Bluffs, Nebraska, who is a reader and impersonator of remarkable ability. The church was crowded with an enthusiastic audience and their repeated outbursts of applause showed that Mr. Austin's program pleased them all. Prof. J. T. House, of the State Normal college, introduced Mr. Austin, and showed himself a master of the art of introducing by his happy and appropriate speech.

The program of the evening was varied, but was carried out completely by Mr. Austin except one number, a solo by Herbert Welch, which was delightfully rendered and which was also most enthusiastically applauded. After a few humorous selections as introductory, the entertainer of the evening gave a beautiful rendition of "Enoch Arden," and never has a Wayne audience listened to a more artistic or sympathetic rendering of classic literature than Mr. Austin's reading of this famous poem. He divided the piece into three acts, of about twenty minutes each, and he held the immense audience spell-bound as he portrayed, in the most vivid manner, the scenes in this masterpiece of Tennyson. The program was closed with several other humorous recitals, one of the best being the "Confederate Pig," which kept the audience in uproarious laughter. The "Barnyard Melodies" were inimitable. Mr. Austin reproducing the various calls and sounds of the farm with a life-like naturalness that was almost startling. He closed with a patriotic selection, "Old Glory."

The next number on the course will be given on January 21 next, when H. H. Harmon, of Lincoln, will give an "Illustrated Travelogue," describing his recent trip over the Mediterranean Sea and across Palestine. The course, so far, has not only been an artistic success, but it has been quite a financial success, netting the C. E. society a neat sum over and above all expenses. This money will be used by the society in the promotion of C. E. enterprises.

Dave Theophilus and William Jenkins of Carroll, returned home Saturday after a visit with Forest Hughes at this place.

Attorney A. R. Davis and Attorneys Frank and Fred Berry who were engaged at the Flegle trial at Ponca, returned home Sunday morning.

Miss Myrtle Bell arrived home Saturday morning from Sanders, N. D., where she had been visiting her sister, Miss Pearl, who is holding down a homestead.

Miss Harriett Bothein who has been assisting Miss Temple in the millinery department of Jas. Ahern's store, departed Monday for her home at St. Paul, Minn.

William Worthing and wife left Saturday for Fort Collins, Col., to look at land with a view of buying. They were accompanied by Mr. Stevens who has gone there to visit his brother.

Miss Emma Dornberger came home from Tekamah Saturday morning. She just recently recovered from typhoid fever with which she was stricken while visiting her sister in Tekamah.

Henry Kay and Carl Doose who live seven and eight miles respectively southeast of Wayne, were in the city Saturday. They report that W. P. Agler, superintendent of the county farm at LaPort, is still in very feeble health.

All interested in the rural telephone lines out of Wayne are requested to meet in Wayne the first Saturday in January to consider the advisability of putting in a farmers' central. Meeting will be held at the city hall at 3 p. m.—Committee.

Miss Bessie Rennick who has been under treatment for typhoid fever in a hospital at Sioux City, returned home Saturday night. She is a student at Morningside college, but her studies have been interrupted by sickness. She came home Saturday particularly on account of the illness of her father.

Wayne's attorneys took conspicuous and creditable part in the late Flegle trial at Ponca. They figured prominently in questioning witnesses, and in the closing arguments were clear, forceful and eloquent. A. R. Davis' portrayal of the state's case was considered one of the ablest forensic efforts ever witnessed at Ponca, and the pleas of F. A. and Fred S. Berry in behalf of the defendant ranked high in the scale of court room oratory.

Rosemary—that's for Remembrance

A Christmas Story by S. R. Crockett

THE Morris-Moores had just had their first—no, not quarrel—Mr. Harry was now in his study pulling down books he did not want and piling them up on his table. He selected a row of note-books bearing titles, "The Grisons and the Italian Valleys," "The Alps of the Little Ladine," and "The Alps of the Little Ladine," paper printed at Sarnaden. He had got all this up thoroughly on his last journey, and now was the time to dip deep into the pile of printed and annotated "stuff." It would help him to forget anything so absolutely silly as a little wife upstairs in her room, the tears of temper still wet on her cheeks, and employing her small white teeth in reducing to factored "waste" a soaked lace pocket handkerchief.

But—it was over. So much was fixed. Never, never would it be "fixed, confident morning again." Henry had settled that when he spoke those words—those cruel dividing words he had said—had said—well, Clara could not herself swept off the piano stool and installed where, on the rounded arm of a big easy chair, she had little more liberty of movement than that of swinging her feet naughtily and rebelliously, while her husband questioned her. "What book were you reading so intently this afternoon when I came upon you in the corridor? Let me see it?" "Hush!" (A thimble). "Oh, you coward! Because you are strong! I shall go to—to—" "Where? To whom?" said Harry, easily. "To my—Aunt Laetitia."

And she paused, waiting, with her finger in its place. "Oh," said her husband, "I don't think there is much."

"And you call yourself a writer?" "Well, shall I begin?" Clara was all on still and needles now. She could hardly keep the quill as she read. "Christmas eve" (she read). "A dull day—Phil calls in the lane—Went to Margaret's. Baby is adorable and Tom begins to love me and calls me Auntie dear. Came home by Grant's and brought back fruit for dinner. There is a man coming, a friend of father's. It is a horrid nuisance."

Here Clara Moore broke off suddenly. "Oh, I wrote everything fresh, you see. I wanted to remember. You've no idea how bad my memory used to be in those days. Being married helps. One has to remember one's husband's iniquities."

"Set in a notebook, learned and conned by rote," murmured Harry. His wife stopped and looked severely at him.

"Well," she said, "I did write a lot, I know, and yours is no fair exchange. I did it partly as an exercise, you see, for I was considered very good at composition at school, whatever you may think. Besides, I don't believe you have anything in that book at all."

"Oh, yes—I have!" and he flourished a closely written page of memoranda before her eyes. "Well," she said, with a sigh (and her eyes were dim and distant). "I will read—though I never thought to let anyone see—not even you. But since you have been so horrid to me, I will."

It seemed an odd reason, but Harry wisely nodded. Clara fluttered some leaves thoughtfully. "Where shall I go on?" she asked, knitting her brows. "You did begin from the beginning," he smiled as he spoke, "why not continue?" She glanced up with sudden shyness, almost, as he spoke, "why not continue?" She glanced up with sudden shyness, almost, most like a surprised Eve.

"You were saying that it was a horrid nuisance, having me come to dinner," said Harry Moore, "did you change your mind?" "Here it is," said his wife, running her eye down the columns of close-knit writing. "11:00 P. M. He is gone. It was not so horrid after all. But I think he likes Edith best. He is big and badly dressed. Why can't writers and artists people dress humanly?" He had on the funniest I ever saw, and a beard, and he came in a big gray cloak like one of Millet's shepherds. But he talked—yes, it was worth while hearing him talk. Not much to me, though, but he looked at me a lot, and somehow seemed to be conscious of everything I was doing. Dr. Stonor came in after, and wanted me to look out music for him. We went into the corner together and got out the folios, and though he was talking to father, I know very well he was watching us. That's all," Clara concluded. She had been reading very rapidly, as if anxious to get to the end. "Now for yours!"

"Mine? Oh, mine's no great thing," said Harry, opening his little black pocketbook, "jottings merely."

"Go on, please," cried Clara, stamping her foot. "And mind, don't after a word or put in more. I shall know."

"Christmas eve" (began Harry) "worked at Guardian article, took it round, saw proof of yesterday's Chief wants me to go to Armenia about the atrocious Shant. To club in afternoon—Clifton, McCosh, Dixon and several of the fellows there, who wanted me to stop. Told them I couldn't. Had to go out to old Linklater's to dinner—girls, music, but I should look in later."

"Oh!" interjected Clara, with her head suddenly hunched, "a bore—was it?" "You said a horrid nuisance!" remarked her husband, and continued his reading without troubling to defend himself further.

"I got there early—long way out of town—several false trails. At last found the place—a big house under trees. From the doorway I could see in the hall a girl standing on steps, putting up holly and green stuff. Presently old Linklater came and introduced me. 'This is Clara,' I became conscious of two great, dark, steady, grayish-hazel eyes. The dinner went all right after that. Pretty—well, I don't know; a fascinating and glamorous person certainly. There was also a sister."

"Nonsense!" said Clara. "You are making up as you go along. I know you." Her husband silently handed her the book. Decidedly it was so written.

Clara did not apologize for her unbelief. She only remarked, "Oh, but you are a dear." And, rubbing her cheek against his coat sleeve, she purred.

"Go on!" she said. "Dinner quite informal," Harry continued. "Talked too much, but got led on somehow. Everything went well. Doctor fellow there, who put on a lot of friend-of-the-family side-sat in a corner and talked to the girl with the eyes."

"Ah, ha! You see—you were jealous already!" cried Clara, clapping her hands joyously. "Nonsense!" said Harry Moore. "Of little Stonor? I think I see myself!" "Read the next day—go on—go on! No, the day you came to Elton again!"

"Went to make my 'digestion' call. Took some flowers up to Elton, and talked to the old lady. Think I made a conquest. But the Lady of the Eyes did not show up. Waited an hour and a half, but don't think I wasted my time entirely. Dear old lady!"

"Harry, you are a cold-blooded wretch!" "Very much the contrary, Mrs. Moore!" "Now shall I read?" And without giving him time to answer, Clara opened the solid half-bound and continued, "Dec. 28th: Went out all the afternoon with Miss Grierison. Down the lane—soup kitchen, girls' club, and went home with her to tea. When I got home I saw mother had a secret. You always know by the satisfied way she has of looking mysterious. She would be disappointed if you didn't ask her at once. So I teased her to tell."

"Do you know whom I've been entertaining all afternoon?" she said, her shoulders shaking with repressed laughter. I understood well enough. "Oh, the curate, I said, as carelessly as I could. 'I saw him going down the lane like a pair of compasses let loose.'"

"Do you think the curate would bring me those?" said mother, triumphantly. And she showed me a lovely bunch of roses, a wagon-load nearly, which she had set well back in the dust of the piano, and had her little triumph. My! they must have cost heaps of money this time of year. 'They are all mine,' said mother, 'but if you are good you can have just one bud for yourself. You see what one gets by staying quietly at home!'

"She was teasing me, of course, this dear old sweet-hearted mother."

"You see what one gets for doing works of charity and mercy!" I said. 'He would have given them to me if I'd been here. I'll never do a good action again!'

"Now turn on to 'Four Seas Cottage,' and read about that," cried Clara. Her eyes were not gray now, nor yet hazel. The dark pupils had swallowed up all the rest, overflowing everything with the soft blackness of a misty night of few stars.

"Oh, I want to get to the end—the end!" Clara whispered, excitedly. "Quick, quick—I can't wait!"

"Well, here it is: 'April 8th. We went a walk along the beach, she and I. We talked. I told her that unless something was going to come of this, I must go away.'"

"What," she said, "for altogether?" And I said "Yes." Then she walked a good while silent, and when I looked, I could see—"No, you didn't," said Clara. "I could never have been so silly!"

"Tear after big tear rolling slowly down her cheek," Harry continued, imperturbably. "I needed no more than that—who would?" "You don't want me to go?" I cried. "She shook her head, still weeping, and not caring how whether I saw or not. "So I stayed."

They sat long silent that night in their own home, near each other, and happy Harry's heart was softened. He was in the mood for confessions. "Dear," he said, "if you would like Aunt Laetitia to come and stay with us a month—" "Oh, bother Aunt Laetitia!" exclaimed Mrs. Henry Moore. "I only want you!"

And thus did Clara Murray-Linklater deny her father's house and cleave to her husband.

SOME DELICIOUS PUDDINGS

DELICIOUS CONCOCTIONS THAT WILL TEMPT PALATES.

Recipe: That Will Furnish Housewife a Pleasing Variety in Desserts—Pumpkin With Eggs—Cocoanut Candy.

Grape Juice Pudding.—Three table-spoonfuls tapioca, two teaspoonfuls hot water, juice of one lemon, one teaspoonful grape juice, sugar enough to sweeten to taste. Roll all together, stirring constantly to prevent scorching, until the mixture begins to "jelly." Pour in a dish, and, when placed in the ice. When ready to serve, fill with the pudding, garnish with whipped cream, and a cherry on top.

Bitter Almond Pudding.—Put one pint of milk over the fire; beat the yolks of two eggs with a quarter cup of grated nutmeg and a few drops of bitter almond extract. Stir into a pudding dish and cover with a meringue made with the whites of eggs and powdered sugar.

Caramel Mousse.—Cook half a cupful of sugar to a caramel, add one-third of a cupful of boiling water, drawing it to side of fire and stir until the caramel is melted. Then set away to chill thoroughly. Fold this mixture into a pint of double cream, beaten to a dry solid froth. Or use the chilled whip from one and one-half pints of single cream. Beat the whole together until solid, then pack and freeze in the usual manner.

Steamed Ginger Pudding.—Put one cupful of milk and three table-spoonfuls of butter in a saucepan, and when boiling throw in quickly three-quarters of a cupful of flour, and stir until thick and smooth. Take from the fire, beat and set away until cool; then add one at a time five unbeaten eggs, mixing and beating each in thoroughly before adding the next. Add three ounces of preserved ginger cut in small bits, add two table-spoonfuls of the syrup. Butter a pudding mold, dust it with sugar, pour in the mixture and steam it for two hours.

Prize Apple Pie Without Eggs.—One cup of raisins, one quart of fresh stewed apple sauce, one quart of milk, five soda crackers, rolled or ground fine, one and one-half cupfuls sugar, one table-spoonful salt, one tea-spoonful ginger, one tea-spoonful cinnamon, one-half tea-spoonful nutmeg, one-half tea-spoonful cloves, and table-spoonful melted butter. Beat all well together and pour into three open crusts. These are held and held and as good as though eggs were used and much cheaper, now that eggs are so scarce. Baked with milk and water may be used with equal good results.

Prize Angel Food. Nine large eggs, whites, one and one-fourth cups granulated sugar, one-half cup flour, one fourth cup corn-starch, one tea-spoon cream tartar, one tea-spoon baking powder, and salt. Sift sugar four times, then measure. Sift flour four times, then measure. Mix flour and cornstarch and cream tartar and baking powder and sift. Beat whites of eggs to stiff froth; fold in sugar and flavoring. Lastly fold in sifted flour and cornstarch. Bake in moderate oven 40 minutes in any ungreased pan. This makes a cake that will melt in your mouth. Measuring cup should hold one-half pint. If you wish to put anything boiling hot into glass set the glass on a wet cloth and it will never break. Yolks of eggs can be kept from getting a crust over the top by greasing a cloth with lard and spreading over top of bowl.

Boston Baked Chicken. Cut a chicken into small pieces as for stewing, wash and wipe dry, sprinkle with salt and dip each piece in melted butter, then coat with flour. Put into a bean pot, laying the larger pieces in the bottom of the pot and putting any pieces of chicken fat on top. When the chicken is all in pour over it one and one-half cups of boiling water and cover lightly with the lid. If the chicken is a young one bake it for an hour and one-half hours. The juices, fat and one-half cups of excellent butter. Take out the chicken when done and arrange with the gravy on a dish or serve direct from the bean pot, first seasoning to taste.

Sweet Potato Pie. As an acceptable change a sweet potato pie will be found delicious. This is a Virginia dish which need only be tried to commend itself to further favor. To make it cream together one-half pound of butter and add a scant table-spoonful of ginger and alternately four beaten eggs and three-fourths of a pound of grated sweet potato. Beat well then add one-half cupful of sour milk and one-half tea-spoonful of soda has been dissolved. Beat again, then pour into a buttered baking dish and bake two hours.

Scotch Buns. Scald four cups of milk, dissolve half yeast cake. While milk is scalding cream one and a half cups sugar, two eggs and two-thirds cup butter. When milk is cool pour in above mixture with a heaping tea-spoon of salt and bread flour enough to make batter nearly as stiff as for bread. Set to rise over night. Roll out to half inch thick. Spread with flour and butter, sprinkle with brown sugar and three small seedless raisins and cinnamon if liked. Roll up as for jelly cake. Cut in slices half inch in thickness, place in greased pan two hours and bake. Cover tops with powdered sugar and water to spread. Great.

To Save Her Gloves. Having been unfortunate in losing or mistaking my gloves quite frequently, or even one of what was always sure to be a new pair, I devised the plan of saving my gloves by putting the inside of the wrist of each glove. This has saved the expense of more than one new pair and has been a reliable source of comfort. G. A. in Harper's Bazar.

Sounded Best When Silent

In a railroad office in West Philadelphia there is an old and trusted clerk of Celtic extraction who keeps his associates in a constant state of good humor by an unending series of witticisms, interspersed with bulls so glaring that even he himself has to join in the laugh that invariably follows such a break on his part. There was some trouble on the telephone one day recently and Mike, as

Wine If He Dies.

"So you are going to be operated on for appendicitis? You are taking big chances." "No bigger than the doctor is taking. It is a no cure no pay proposition." Stung. "I had a lovely dream last night!" "Have all the dreams you want to, dear, they don't cost a cent." "This one will, it was a dream of a bonnet."

Paper Hints

To straighten out paper that has been rolled, open it with the inner curve away from you and run it over the sharp—not the curved or beveled—edge of a table. The sharp edge is good, too, for tearing paper better than a paper cutter, in fact. Draw the paper to be cut straight and quickly across the edge, and there will be a clean tear, produced equally well in tissue or wrapping paper. It is not generally known that bread crumbs are the finest cleansers for white paper. Rub an old crust of stale bread over the paper and every sort of stain, fingermarks, dust, water stains, will disappear like magic. It is safer to use on fine books and pictures than the softest of rubbers. Blow, do not rub, the crumbs off afterward.

RESCUED IN SAFETY

OLYMPIA'S CREW AND PASSENGERS ARE ALL TAKEN OFF WRECKED STEAMER.

WIRELESS PROVES WORTH

Traveling Victims Commend Bravery and Good Judgment of Capt. Daniels and His Men—Poor Prospect of Saving the Grounded Vessel.

Valdez, Alaska.—All the passengers on the Alaska Steamship company's steamer Olympia, which went on the rocks at Bigh Island, Prince William sound, Saturday night, were taken off the ship at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, together with the mails and baggage, and were conveyed to Valdez and Hillemar. Most of the passengers are here. Those at Hillemar are well cared for in the Hille village.

The Olympia left Cordova Saturday evening after unloading a large quantity of coal in her after hold, and soon ran into a fierce gale. The empty stern stood high out of the water, and in the heaviest of the ship became unmanageable and was spun about by the wind. About midnight she went hard and fast on the Bigh Island reef.

Wireless Operator Hayes sent out the distress signal, which was picked up at Cordova and Valdez, and also gave much information of the wreck to the coast guard, for the water soon put out the fire and made the wireless unusable. The government launch, Donaldson, from Port Liscomb, and the steamer Juno left at once for Bigh Island and took off the passengers without mishap to any of them. The crew also was saved.

FLOODS DO NOT ABATE.

Heavy Damage to Property by High Water in Italy.

Rome.—The railroad service to France is still interrupted in consequence of the storms. Mr. Jowolsky, former Russian foreign minister recently appointed ambassador to France, has been obliged to stop here on his way to Paris. Several streets in this city are flooded and many of the houses in country districts are surrounded by water, the occupants making their escape in boats.

Bodies Are Recovered. Rome, Dec. 14.—All the bodies of the miners killed in the Bellevue explosion last Friday evening have been recovered. Thirty men lost their lives. All were employees of the West Canadian collieries, except Fred Anderson, the boss at the Hosman mine, who sacrificed his life by giving his oxygen helmet to a companion who was about to succumb to asphyxiation.

URGES MONEY REFORM PLAN

Secretary MacVeagh Says, In Annual Report, Our Present Currency System Breeds Panic.

Washington.—Currency reform, extension of the scope of the national banking laws, if there are no immediate general changes in the monetary system; civil service retirement; a customs service free from practical politics; businesslike methods in the daily transactions of the government and abolition of red tape wherever it clogs the wheels of the government's business are among the recommendations in the annual report of MacVeagh, secretary of the treasury, presented to congress Thursday.

Methodist Church Growth.

Shot by Deputy Sheriffs.

LeRoy, Mo.—Michael Misourick, a striking miner, attacked the homes of nonunion miners with a pick at Brantville, beating down the doors. Deputy sheriffs fired on him, killing him.

MRS. EDDY AT REST

BOSTON SERVICE AT BIER OF CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LEADER ATTENDED BY 120.

JULY PINK ROSES ON CASKET

Relatives, Members of Household and Officials of Church Make Up Company of Mourners—Body Placed in Vault at Mount Auburn Cemetery.

Boston.—The body of Mrs. Mary Baker Glover Eddy was placed in the receiving vault at Mount Auburn cemetery Thursday after services attended by 120 persons, including her family, relatives, members of her household, officials of the Christian Science church, and publishing house and her personal students reading in Boston and vicinity.

Funeral services at the Chestnut Hill home were simple and were conducted with quiet dignity. Long before the time for the services to begin the holders of cards of admission began to arrive. Judge Clifford P. Smith, first reader of the mother church, conducted the services.

A great hall divides the house. At the rear are two parlors and in the rear parlor in the bay window was the coffin of massive bronze, containing the body of Mrs. Eddy. Upon the coffin, which was closed, Mrs. Eddy's son and her grandchildren and her adopted son having seen the well-known face, was a bunch of pink roses from the members of the household. This was the only floral offering to be seen. In the rear of the hall Judge Smith was stationed. Those invited to the services were in the hall, the front parlor and the library, to the right of the entrance. Grouped on the second floor at the head of a wide staircase were Mrs. Eddy's family, her other relatives and members of her household. The furniture had been removed from the room where the coffin sat. The old rose draperies harmonized with the wall decorations, and the soft light of day illuminated the surroundings.

Judge Smith began the services by the reading of a lesson sermon correlating passages from "Science and Health, With Keys to the Scriptures." The poem by Mrs. Eddy, "Mother's Evening Prayer," was read by Mrs. Carol Hoyt Powers, second reader of the mother church.

This concluded the services and the coffin was then carried out of the door to the porte cochere, where the hearse was in waiting and the journey to Mount Auburn cemetery was begun.

There was no service at the receiving vault other than the reading of the XXIII Psalm by Judge Smith and last verse in Jude: "To the only wise God, our Saviour, be glory and majesty, dominion and power, both now and ever," given as a benediction. The coffin was then taken within by the pallbearers, the vault was sealed and there a guard will be maintained until a mausoleum has been built on the plots chosen for the final resting place of the body.

LIBERAL LOSSES WIPED OUT

CAPTURE FIVE UNIONIST SEATS IN THIRD DAY'S POLLING.

Hope of Changing Complexion of Government Has Become a Folly for One to the Opposition.

London.—The third day's polling in the general election to decide control of the next parliament proved the most severe blow the Unionists have received. Going into the contest with a net gain of five seats, they came out with a net loss of one in the 299 seats now filled.

The Liberals captured five Unionist seats, Whitehaven, Coventry West, Southwark, Burnley and Woolwich. Against these decisive victories the Unionists have won only one seat, that of St. Helens in Lancashire, where they defeated a Laborite.

This net gain of four on the day's polling, added to the two Sunderland seats, leaves the government with a net gain of one seat. As they went to the country with a majority of 124, this net gain of one, counting two on division, marks the beginning of the advance to a majority of 150 anticipated by the Liberal whips, and possibly to the 175 lugubriously predicted by the Unionist whips.

The voting has been remarkably steady. With the exception of Birmingham, where the Unionist plurality went down by 2,000, Liverpool, Preston, Nottingham and all the industrial towns, with a population of over 100,000, have recorded majorities for the Liberals. As far as the boroughs of London are concerned, the result of the election is a foregone conclusion, although there are still many boroughs to vote.

ACQUIT BALLINGER

MEMBERS OF CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE REPORT FAVORING INTERIOR SECRETARY.

Critics of Cabinet Official Held Overzealous in Findings of Nelson and Colleagues—Coal Land Entries Taken Up.

Washington.—The Ballinger-Pinchot investigating committee, after eleven months of work, made its final report to congress Wednesday. The majority report, which is signed by seven Republican members, completely exonerates Secretary Ballinger on all the charges brought against him and condemns his accusers as having been inspired by animosity, built upon a supposed difference of policy respecting conservation.

After stating that the evidence presented related in the main to charges of various kinds against Mr. Ballinger and that these came chiefly from two sources—L. R. Glavis and Gifford Pinchot—the majority announced the following conclusion: "The evidence has wholly failed to make out a case. Neither any fact proved nor all the facts put together exhibit Mr. Ballinger as being anything but a competent and honorable gentleman, honestly and faithfully performing the duties of his high office with an eye single to the public interest."

This report is signed by Senators Knute Nelson, chairman; Frank P. Flint, George Sutherland and Elihu Root, and Representatives Samuel W. McCall of Massachusetts, vice-chairman; Marlin E. Olmsted of Pennsylvania and Edwin Denby of Michigan, all Republicans.

A few months ago the Democratic members, Senators D. C. Fletcher and William E. Borah, and Representatives Oliver M. James of Kentucky and James M. Graham of Illinois, with Representative Edmund H. Madison of Kansas, progressive Republican, issued another report, which they maintained to be a majority opinion, condemning the conduct of Mr. Ballinger as secretary of the Interior. This report was made public after a meeting of the committee at Minneapolis last September, which was not attended by several of the Republicans who now have exonerated Mr. Ballinger. The natural minority became a majority and the Republicans who were present, with the exception of Mr. Madison, withdrew and broke the quorum.

In speaking of the "animosity" caused by differences respecting the conservation of natural resources, the majority of the committee said that the accusers evidently had this policy deeply at heart, and were "evidently disposed to take a most unfavorable view of the character and motives of anyone whom they supposed to be opposed to their views."

LABOR HEAD IS SLAIN

San Francisco.—In a riot, between 800 union and nonunion workmen Wednesday Domingo Navarro, president of the Ship-sealers' union, was shot and killed by Augustino Savarelo, a nonunionist. A number of others were badly beaten.

Shearer Gets Life Term.

Mason City, Ia.—Prosecuting his innocence John S. Shearer was Wednesday sentenced to a new trial and was sentenced by Judge Kelley to imprisonment for life.

Fire Threatens Town.

Menominee, Mich.—Fire Tuesday almost totally destroyed the plant of the Lelsen & Henes Brewing company, entailing a loss of about $75,000, covered by insurance. For a time the entire town was threatened.

Sam Langford Whips Harris.

Boston.—Two rounds were sufficient to put Sam Langford, middleweight champion, to rest. Harris, the New York heavyweight, to lumberland in the feature bout at the Armory A. A. Tuesday night.

Mrs. James McKinney Dead.

Washington.—Mrs. James McKinney, the wife of Congressman James McKinney of the Fourteenth district of Illinois, died here Wednesday of pneumonia.

Blow at Tariff on Cattle.

Washington.—The first offer made in the present session of the house to have a change made in the tariff law was by the introduction Wednesday by Representative Suizer of New York of a bill to repeal the duty on meats and cattle.

Eighteen Hurt in Wreck.

Springfield.—James T. Uppergrove of Chicago sustained a broken rib and 17 other passengers were slightly injured in a collision on the Illinois Interurban line near this city Thursday.

TORONTO MOTOR CARS

WILD RIOT FOLLOWS MEETING OF PROTEST.

Eighteen Men Are Injured—Eleven Coaches Destroyed—Police Powerless to Keep Order.

Toronto, Ont.—In a riot of citizens 18 men were injured, 11 street cars demolished and the windows in 200 more were smashed, and quiet was restored only when the street car service in the downtown district was stopped.

Incessant by fiery speeches, an audience of several thousand persons at a mass meeting called by Mayor Geary to protest against the installation of pay-as-you-enter cars was swept beyond control and became a mob whose carnival of destruction continued unchecked for over an hour. Except when motormen ran at high speed through the mob, every car that came within reach was demolished.

Two weeks ago the Toronto street railway installed pay-as-you-enter cars on the principal car lines. Much dissatisfaction developed over the innovation. It was claimed that antiquated cars not adapted to that kind of service were used. In addition it was said people getting on have been subjected to rough talk from conductors and crowding which, in the case of women, almost amounted to indecency. Ill feeling on the part of citizens has been growing steadily.

Much popular indignation has been aroused by the company's orders prohibiting smoking on the rear platforms and requiring persons to leave by the forward exit. The company asserted the right to fine persons infringing these rules and the provincial railway board affirmed this claim.

DUVEEN BROS. OWE $5,000,000

Collector Loeb Announces Art Firm Has Defrauded Government Out of Vast Sum.

New York.—Duveen Bros., the great art and antique dealers and connoisseurs in America, owe the United States government $5,000,000, according to an announcement made by Collector Loeb Tuesday.

This vast sum represents the customs duties out of which the government has been defrauded by the Duveens since they established their famous house twenty years ago. The amount was arrived at by the government experts, who have been comparing the book values of the firm with invoiced values sworn to on articles entered at the New York custom house. The amount claimed does not represent the value of the imports, but the actual amount out of which it is alleged the wealthy Englishmen have swindled this government in tariff duties.

John B. Stanchfield, attorney for the Duveens both in the civil and criminal actions pending against them, has instituted negotiations with officials of the treasury department and department of justice at Washington to compromise the cases against his clients, one condition of which is that the criminal proceedings against them shall be stopped upon the payment of a large sum of money by them.

JACKPOT STORY IS DENIED

Robert E. Wilson Testifies Before Senate Committee at Washington in Lorimer Case.

Washington.—The issue of whether or not William Lorimer is entitled to his seat in the United States senate will be submitted to that body before the Christmas recess of congress, according to the present plans of the sub-committee that is taking the evidence in this case. This was the program announced Wednesday by Senator Burrows, chairman of the committee on privileges and elections.

The announcement was made at the conclusion of the testimony of Robert E. Wilson of Illinois, the alleged distributor of the "jackpot" of the last Illinois legislature. Wilson, after being much sought after, followed the footsteps of his predecessor on the witness stand—Lee O'Neil Browne—by entering a general denial to all the charges that he personally profited by the election of Lorimer to the senate, or that he gave out the "jackpot" money in any packages to White, Link, Beckman and the other southern Illinois "jack-potters."

MOTHER MAKES FATAL ERROR

Gives Her Two Little Sons Tartar Emetic for Worms Salts and They Die.

DeKalb, Ill.—Two sons of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Brown died within a few hours of one another from the effects of a dose of tartar emetic which was given them instead of spearmint. The children were moving from Spearmint to DeKalb.

The children had complained of not feeling well, and the mother decided to give them a dose of salts. In the confusion of the goods which were packed and ready to be hauled to DeKalb, she picked up the wrong bottle, which contained tartar emetic and which had been used about the house to drive ants away. It was from this bottle she gave the children the dose which took their lives in a few hours. The grief-stricken mother is lying in a prostrate condition.

Safe With $15,000 Disappears.

Minneapolis, Minn.—Mystery surrounds the disappearance of a small safe Thursday, said to have contained $15,000 and valuable merchandise, from the office of the Adams Express company.

Rich Recluse Dies in Incendiary Fire.

Caldwell, O.—Mrs. Minerva Williams, eighty-five, a recluse, was brought to death in a fire that consumed her home near here Wednesday. Mrs. Williams, it was rumored, had $5,000 in currency concealed in the house, and it is believed thieves looted her and set fire to the house.

Makes New Aviation Record.

Memphis, Tenn.—Rene Barriere made a new world's record here Wednesday when he flew 16 miles at the rate of almost 88 miles an hour.

ALL OVER NEBRASKA

Nebraska National Guard.

More national guardsmen turned out to inspection this fall than were on the rolls of the guard a year ago; that is, that the national guard minus absentees is stronger now than it was a year ago, absentees included.

At the federal inspection of April, 1909, there were 1,022 enlisted. The absentees amounted to 20.5 per cent. In the following fall the enlistment was 1,192 and the percentage of absentees 37.5. The greater number of absentees at the state inspection was due largely and is ordinarily to be expected, because of the more stringent requirements of the federal inspection.

The federal inspection in April, 1910, showed 1,117 men, with only 13.6 per cent of absentees, a showing that placed Nebraska in the front rank of the national guard of the country, only a few states like New York making better showings.

At the state inspection just completed, 1,442 men were enlisted, with only 23.5 per cent absent. The decrease of absentees decreased in about the same ratio in both federal and state inspections.

These figures are the best criterion of the real improvement that has been made in the guard during the last year. As the first regiment is short three companies it is not impossible that at the federal inspection in the spring 1,600 men will be on the rolls, with 1,300 or more showing up for inspection.

Low Price for Land.

Gage County.—The lands of the late John Ross, a wealthy bachelor who resided near Crab Orchard, who died some time ago, were sold at the court house in Beatrice at referee's sale. The estate included 1,010 acres of land, and the average price was a trifle less than $40 per acre. The land is extremely rough in places, which, together with the fact that finances are found at their lowest ebb just at this season of the year, accounts for what seems to be an amazingly low price for lands in that part of the state.

Frontier Makes Good Showing.

Frontier County.—The Frontier County Agricultural society held its annual meeting. Reports were read by the director of the county exhibit to the state fair, the secretary and treasurer. The reports show the buildings and grounds to be in good condition. The principal improvements this year were a new handstand and a new poultry house. All debts were paid in full and a small balance remains in the treasury.

Hog Cholera Prevails.

Dundy County.—Hog cholera has made its appearance in the vicinity of Benkelman, being communicated by a shipment of Colorado hogs which had passed inspection at Beatrice, and which were rapidly for several days, but the application of the cholera serum and other effective remedies has checked its advance considerably.

He Is in Mexico.

Gage County.—Lucien Meis, the Beatrice business man who jumped into prominence last week by having the sheriff attach his goods in his absence, has been located in Mexico City. Mr. Meis left here to spend Thanksgiving with friends in Chicago, and when he failed to show up after a week's absence, creditors attached the stock.

Keeney Pioneer Drops Dead.

DuBois County.—Alexander Rodger, 77 years old, dropped dead of paralysis at Kearney. He had been in apparent good health and no indication of disease had been given. He was one of the pioneers of that section of the state.

Nearly Asphyxiated.

Cass County.—R. E. Clynner and wife, living one mile east of Greenwood, were nearly smothered to death by the gas fumes escaping from a new baseburner they had put up the day before.

Farmer Accidentally Killed.

Pawnee County.—Bert Hall, a farmer living southwest of Pawnee City, met with an accident that resulted in his death. He fell from a horse, fracturing his skull.

Another Net Weight Case.

Pawnee County.—The supreme court issued a writ of habeas corpus returnable January 3 for Law Agnew of Pawnee City, who was brought before a court in that county charged with selling misbranded packages of National Biscuit company goods. His case is similar to that of O. J. King and H. T. Page in Lincoln of the third of the group of test cases that have been begun to test out the validity of all the different phases of the net weight section of the Nebraska pure food law.

Farm Home Burns.

Buffalo County.—The home of William C. Spellman, living three miles east of Shelton, was entirely consumed by fire. The fire originated from a defective stove.

Church Dedicated.

Brown County.—Sundry the German Lutherans dedicated their new church in the north part of Alton north. The dedicatory services were performed by the Rev. Emil Just of Madison county, assisted by the home minister, the Rev. F. Egger.

Sent to the Asylum.

Merrick County.—Because he took the trouble to come to Central City and explain to his father-in-law that he was sure something awful was going to happen to himself and his wife and he wanted the father-in-law to take good care of the children after they were gone, George Grage, a farmer living a new miles west of Central City, was taken before the board of insanity and after an examination, was adjudged a fit subject for treatment and, has been placed in the asylum at Lincoln.

Barton's Semi-Annual Report.

State Auditor Sijar R. Barton has filed the semi-annual report of his department with the governor, this report relating entirely to the number of warrants issued and the number paid, together with the expenditure of the fund that is for the conduct of the office itself. This report shows that the warrants paid in the six months amount to $1,662,885.85; the warrants issued amount to $1,499,513.15; the amount of warrants outstanding on December 1 amount to $224,452.04.

STATE HOSPITAL LINCOLN NEBR.

Makes Some Appointments.

Governor-elect Aldrich has announced his first batch of appointees. Will Hayward, chairman of the republican state committee, gets the office of inspector of mines, a labor leader of Omaha, will be labor commissioner. C. B. Mahuel, superintendent of the Kearney industrial school under governor Shallenberger, is responsible to his present position.

Following are the appointees already named: Chief deputy oil inspector, William Huseneter of Lincoln, Neb. Deputy oil inspector for first district, Will S. Jay, Lincoln. Deputy oil inspector for fourth district, James Schoonover, Aurora. Chief deputy game warden, Henry N. Miller of Wahoo, Neb. Chief deputy state veterinarian, Dr. A. Boardman of Minden, Neb. Superintendent of the Nebraska Institute for Feeble Minded, Dr. W. N. Thomas of Pickrel.

Chief deputy fire commissioner, Charles A. Ruppell of Newman Grove. Secretary in fire commission, Miss Mary M. Galt of Omaha. Superintendent of Boys' Industrial school, Kearney, C. B. Mahuel. Secretary to the governor, L. B. Fuller of David City.

Chief clerk, governor's office, L. S. Fiegenbaum of Geneva. Record clerk, governor's office, C. C. Husted of Lincoln. Warden of state penitentiary, James Delaney of Clay Center. Chief deputy labor commissioner, Louis V. Gage of Omaha. Adjutant general, Major E. J. Phelps of Lincoln.

Superintendent school for the blind, R. C. King of Nebraska City. Deputy oil inspector, Fifth district, U. G. Eberhart of Bartley. Stenographer to chief oil inspector, Mrs. Ella Stevenson of Lincoln. Commandant of soldiers' home at Grand Island, D. W. Hoyt of York.

No Politics at Peru Normal. State Superintendent of Schools Crabtree has named the following appointees and declares that partisan feeling will not hereafter be tolerated at that institution: G. A. Gregory, re-appointed inspector of normal training in high schools. Miss Anna V. Day, Beatrice, assistant.

Superintendent A. H. Waterhouse, member board of inspectors. Superintendent Fred M. Hunter, Norfolk, member board of inspectors. Superintendent E. J. Badwell, Beatrice, re-appointed member of board of inspectors. Superintendent James E. Dezell, Lexington, inspector of graded schools. Superintendent Clifford M. Penney, Blair, examiner and rural school supervisor.

Miss Jennie B. Adams, re-appointed head stenographer. Miss Elizabeth T. Pollock, re-appointed stenographer. Miss Doris M. Goethel, re-appointed stenographer. Effie A. DeBham, re-appointed stenographer. Helen C. Mathewson, re-appointed secretary on certification. Minnie Murrell, re-appointed stenographer.

Findings Are Approved.

Governor Shallenberger has approved the findings of the court martial which sat on the delinquencies of about forty members of the national guard, and those findings will be embodied in an order from the department. They will not be found to be harsh. It is the first court to sit on the members of the guard and it holds them accountable for their deeds and mistakes and the attempt was not to let the members of the court die, not like dealing too harshly in the first lesson. Indeed, the defendant foot card, under whose jurisdiction the inquiry was instituted, has reduced the sentences in some instances. Nothing but fines have been imposed and these usually not more than $10 per man. In some cases the fines have been remitted.

Jefferson's Fat Cattle.

Fairbury.—This county had the distinction of topping the live stock market in South St. Joseph with one of the largest shipments of cattle that has been received at that point in a long time. These fat cattle were from the feed lots of James Hughes, a well-known farmer living west of Fairbury. The shipment was made up of three cars, or sixty head of fat steers which averaged 1,425 pounds apiece and sold straight for 36 per hundred.

Come Near Catching Him.

Governor-elect C. H. Aldrich was it a state of siege at the Lindell for a time after he arrived in Lincoln from David City to get some pointers from Governor Shallenberger on official decorum, things which the outgoing governor has learned by experience and which the incoming governor wants to learn by a gentler route. He got no farther than the Lindell when he was cornered to take refuge, the hotel people coming loyally to his aid by refusing to know anything about his presence there.

Barton's Semi-Annual Report.

State Auditor Sijar R. Barton has filed the semi-annual report of his department with the governor, this report relating entirely to the number of warrants issued and the number paid, together with the expenditure of the fund that is for the conduct of the office itself. This report shows that the warrants paid in the six months amount to $1,662,885.85; the warrants issued amount to $1,499,513.15; the amount of warrants outstanding on December 1 amount to $224,452.04.

Useful Christmas Presents

Are the ones most appreciated by a majority of your friends, and this is the kind we have taken the most pains to put in stock. You may be very sure that everything we offer you, from our large and varied assortment will be the best of its class and dependable in every respect. Exchange of sizes will be cheerfully made after Christmas and we can only mention a few of the lines, that we have taken special pains to have complete:

LADIES' COATS! Here we will make SUBSTANTIAL REDUCTIONS in price as our stock is too large. You don't have to wait till after the holidays for this cut in price. The same is true of Misses' and Children's Coats.

A large selection of SEPARATE SKIRTS on which very small profits will be asked. Every skirt shown is of the best workmanship and cloth for the price.

LADIES' AND MISSES' FURS! A good selection of the new things in furs. Scarf and Muff sold separately or together. We guarantee satisfaction in our furs. Nothing makes a lady a nicer present.

LINEN OR SILK WAISTS, all ready to put on. Perfect fit and workmanship. Often at less price than the cost to make at home.

LADIES' KID GLOVES, all the new shades. We sell the best $1.50 kid glove in the county (a real French kid) and guarantee the same. All kinds of Golf and Fabric Gloves and mittens for Ladies and Children—not to mention the Men, we don't neglect them.

HANDKERCHIEFS! Here is where WE DO SHINE. We selected this line while in Chicago and had them packed and shipped for this holiday season. We have any quantity of Irish Hand Embroidered handkerchiefs. The daintiest pattern you ever saw at 35c to $1 each. Also hundreds of fine cambric and linen handkerchiefs at 5c to 25c.

LADIES' AND GENT'S HOUSE SLIPPERS are nice gifts. We have them in all sizes and guarantee a fit. See us for all footwear needs. "Bannigan" Rubbers are the best.

Very suitable and useful gifts of which we have a complete assortment are LADIES' SWEATERS, Men's Coat Sweaters, Boys' and Children's Sweaters, Knit Tufflers, Neckties (Ladies' or Gent's), Belts, Combs.

SILK WAIST PATTERNS, Single Dress Patterns, no two alike.

RIBBONS for the hair, a special assortment at 10c and 15c, all silk.

Something new in SILK SCARVES, "Senorita Silk Spun" for the head. You must see these. The latest and best, all colors.

100 FINE VELVET RUGS (make a useful present to any home) worth up to $2.50, a special price of $1.50 while they last.

SOME OF THE NEW ARRIVALS: Ladies' black button suede shoes. These are very popular. Our price is $1 per pair less than asked for same shoes in the city. Black Velvet Bags, the latest fad, very useful and swell. Velvet Belts, Persian Belts, great variety Ladies' Neckwear. Some very stylish Silk Messaline Dresses just opened. Nice for evening wear. Our Toy counters at 10c and 25c will interest the kids and save you money.

Lest You Forget

We have Chase & Sanborn's line Teas and Coffees, the finest grown. Also Christmas Nuts and Candies of No. 1 quality.

J. W. EPLER

OUR CHRISTMAS STOCK IS MELTING

Did you buy all the gifts you intended to buy? If not, don't wait any longer. Our Christmas goods are melting at such a rate that you run the risk of not getting the particular things which you figured on, unless you buy them right now. Our stock of is, with a few exceptions, complete yet. For how long we do not know. Do your trading now as long as you have the goods to select from and them at Variety Store prices.

Here are a few of our gifts for older people:

Stationery, handkerchiefs, suspenders, neckties, all in holly boxes. Fancy mirrors, smoking sets, water sets, wine sets, fancy china, parlor lamps, glassware, etc.

It is just one year now since we started our Variety Store. We have worked hard to gain the confidence and good will of the people in Wayne and vicinity; we have always tried to treat everybody as we would have liked to be treated, and we thankfully can say that we have enjoyed a very prosperous year. To all those who have given us their trade, much or little, we are truly grateful and we hope that we may not only retain all our old friends, but win many new ones in our second business year. We want to run this store right and want to give you the best possible values at the lowest possible prices. We can do this only with your co-operation. If you can help us in any way, by pointing out to us our mistakes, by offering us your advice, by recommending us to your friends and neighbors and by giving us your patronage, we shall be sincerely thankful to you.

STATE NORMAL SCHOOL NEWS

Miss Jewell gave a good talk to the students at chapel Tuesday morning.

Professor Hahn returned to his work after a week's absence at his old home in Ohio.

Boys' basketball practice is now well in progress with four strong teams on the floor.

Earl Lewis who was employed as Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds at the last meeting of the board, began work Thursday.

The contract for printing 4000 copies of a new bulletin has been awarded to the Wayne Herald. This bulletin will be mailed on January 1.

The windmill, towers and tank now located on the grounds of the Normal have been sold to Ted Perry, and the hog house was purchased by James McIntosh.

A Session of the Philo Literary Society is announced for next Saturday evening in the chapel. This is the first meeting of the year and a good program will be given at that time.

Students and members of the faculty are pleased to know that Miss Fairchild's father, Dr. L. A. Fairchild of Peru, is improving in health and that hopes are entertained for his speedy recovery.

The Holiday vacation will begin at noon on Friday, December 23, and work will resume January 3, 1911. The correspondence indicates that a large number of new students will enter after the first of the year.

Miss Piper, of the department of Latin, will lead in a discussion at the meeting of superintendents and principals to be held in Lincoln on January 12 and 13. Her subject is, "The Part of a Normal School in Bringing About a Better Sanitary Condition."

Professor Bright has been a prime favorite among the young people of the institution for many years. He has had an experience such as brings him close to the lives of students of the type that attend the State Normal school at Wayne. Further, he is gifted with much of the emotional nature that pertains to the effective public speaker, and a natural eloquence of no mean order.

On next Saturday evening, December 17, Miss Kingsbury's classes in German are preparing to give a very unique program, consisting of German school and songs. Among the parts announced on the program will be a Christmas song by the class, a duet sung by Mr. Britton and Miss Harris, dialogue Mr. Samuelson and Mr. Hahn, dialogue by Mr. Nordgren and Mr. Derry. Program will close with a song by the class, "The Watch on the Rhine."

The best advertisement for any school is the endorsement given its work by the students who are in attendance and who know conditions. At the opening of the year three students registered at the Normal from a town in South Dakota. As a result of the good words spoken of the work at Wayne by these students four friends have recently enrolled from the same place, making seven now in attendance from the little town of Jefferson, South Dakota.

"The sum of your successes makes up the sum of your joys and happiness; the sum of your failures makes up the sum of your sorrows and regrets." Such was the notable epigram with which Prof. Bright closed his chapel address last Monday morning. The earnest and modest person may rate himself with reference to success in the calling he wishes to follow. This is the wise thing to do. The thoughtful person weighs chances and with reasonable courage undertakes that for which, all things considered, he seems fitted. Such a one succeeds whether or not he ever holds high office. Recognition such as that comes to so few and largely by accident. But to be worthy of such recognition lies within the power of all, and such worthiness is in itself success.

NEWS FROM WAYNE SCHOOLS

A number are absent on account of sickness.

Mrs. Phillips was absent Wednesday on account of sickness.

Basket ball practice in the gymnasium every evening after school.

In the death of Kenneth Graves the sixth grade lost one of its good loyal members.

Verine and Mildred Powers returned to school this week after a long absence because of sickness.

Recent visitors were the Misses Brown and Schwerin, teachers in the Belden public schools, and Miss Weber.

As a part of their language work our fourth grade pupils are exchanging letters with Miss Theobald's pupils of Virginia City, Montana. Very interesting.

We are to lose Everett Raymond from the eighth grade and Claire and Alberta Brown from the sixth grade. The pupils are going to California with their parents to spend the winter.

On Friday morning the seniors gave the following program with Irma James presiding: Piano solo, Fannie Brittle; reading, Nellie Juhlin; Leslie Epler and Alfred Lewis performed and explained an experiment from natural philosophy demonstrating the making of a fountain by a partial vacuum; piano solo, Tot Chapin.

The building of a big, new hog house on the farm of Gus Wendt, seven miles northwest of town, was completed Tuesday.

Teachers' examination will be conducted by Mrs. Littell, county superintendent, at the court house on Friday and Saturday of this week. This will also be the occasion of semi-annual examination for life certificates.

Mrs. Adam Grier who lives four miles north of town, had an alarming experience Saturday as the result of having a tooth extracted. She suffered a serious hemorrhage from the cavity from which the tooth had been taken, and had to call a doctor.

Mrs. A. C. Zehner, the noted lecturer, spoke to the women at the Baptist church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock on the "white slave traffic." She spoke from information which she had gained as a member of an investigating committee sent out into the large cities by the M. E. church, south, to inquire into the truth of reports that were rife in regard to this matter. She spoke plainly of the evil.

Practical, Sensible Gifts

Every year a lot of holiday money is wasted on mere trinkets which possess neither usefulness nor beauty and which in a few weeks are discarded. Why not give sensible gifts this year? These things if well chosen fully convey your good will, are far more acceptable and certainly show better judgment than gifts chosen for their showy qualities. We have scores of these better gifts of which the following will give you only a hint:

Brushes

High-grade hair, tooth, clothes, hat and various other brushes, singly and in sets, in such materials as French stag, ebony, foxwood, and other fine natural woods. Some mounted with Sterling Silver or Oriental Pearl.

Toilet Sets

Combination toilet sets—brush, comb and mirror, at a score of prices. The quality is of the kind you would select if you were as well posted on values as we are.

Manicure Goods

Have them in single pieces and in sets. Each piece is made strictly for use. Some full sets in handsome, silk-lined cases.

Perfumes

Perfume is always looked for at Christmas time. We have none of the ordinary "holiday perfumes" in which more attention is given to the package than the odor. We sell the same goods we sell the year round and we cannot match them for excellence. Also have all the good triple extracts, colognes, toilet waters, sachet powders, etc., and some of the prettiest atomizers ever seen here.

Leather Goods

Our usual ample line of pocket books, hand bags, purses, card cases, bill books, cigar and match boxes, etc., has been considerably augmented for the holiday season. These are always acceptable gifts and getting them here you escape paying the usual holiday profits.

Stationery Items

Our stationery line contains many good gifts which should not be overlooked—fine box papers, ink wells, desk sets, letter openers, gold and fountain pens, etc.

Are You Ready for Christmas?

Are you sure that you have forgotten nothing? Perhaps Raymond's up-to-date Store can help you out. Here are a few big specials right in line for the holidays:

LOWNEY'S CANDY

The most delicious confection you ever ate, pure and wholesome, just what the children need to make them supremely happy. In pound and half-pound boxes.

TOILET ACCESSORIES

We have been particular to select for our exclusive assortment the substantial kind. Among them combs, brushes, the brushes will not pull out, dainty hand mirrors and manicure articles.

PERFUMES

Perfumes are not only in good taste, but are quite the proper thing for Xmas gifts. Intense perfumes are exquisitely dainty and delightful. Our Xmas packages are as captivating as perfume they contain.

NATIONAL CIGARS

If he smokes, nothing you can give him would be more appropriate than a box of choice cigars. We make a specialty of box trade, and offer many desirable brands in boxes of 25, 50 and 100.

The beffy sports of Europe are coming to these shores, and soon their loud ki-yoodles will fill all out of doors. All through the long, sad winter they'll bind us with a spell, and make the sporting writers roll up their sleeves and yell. THE WRESTLERS with challenge they'll fill the public prints, they'll dish up threats corrosive and most blood-thirsty hints. They'll thunder and they'll chortle, they'll bellow and declaim, and they may do it safely, for Gotch has quit the game. O Gotch! The cornfield called him, and so he quit the mat, to feed his Poland-China, and watch them pile on fat; and while he gathers henfruit and plants the mellow spud, a lot of foreign lions are clamoring for blood. A lot of brawny terrors are telling what they'll do to this or 't'other terror when he comes into view; and so they nail the roubles and burnish up their fame, and nothing can prevent them, for Gotch has quit the game...

And when the foreign wrestlers banded to great a bore, it may be Gotch will offer to chase them from this shore. Forgetting James J. Jeffries and all that Reno dope, the husky Humboldt farmer will come forth as a hope—but let us draw a curtain upon this mournful theme; the beffy sports of Europe are coming in a stream. The rabbits roar like lions, and oh, it seems a shame, to earnest, soulful people, that Gotch has quit the game!

CRYING FOR HELP

Lots of it in Wayne, But Daily Growing Less

The kidneys cry for help. Not an organ in the whole body so delicately constructed. Not one so important to health. The kidneys are the filters of the blood. When they fail the blood becomes foul and poisonous. There can be no health where there is poisoned blood. Backache is one of the first indications of kidney trouble. It is the kidneys' cry for help.

South Omaha Live Stock Market. Special Report, So. Omaha, Nebr., December 13, 1910. Cattle: Week opens with 13,000 on sale, 10 to 15c lower. Chicago has had 55,000 and is a full quarter off. Choice baby beef yearlings, 981 lbs., last week, $6.75. Bulk, however, consists of pretty good steers, $5.35 to $5.85; medium grades $4.50 to $5.25, representing a set back of 25c. Still a good demand for feeders, present weights being 700 to 950 lbs., at $4.50 to $5.00. Six loads yesterday, 1085 lbs. brought $5.30. Best cows and heifers steady at $4.50 to $5.25. Canners also strong at $3.00 to $3.25. Medium butcher stock at $3.35 to $3.75 is a quarter off in sympathy with steers; fair to good grades $3.85 to $4.40. Calves also lower, top $8.00, bulk $5.50 to $7.50, common grades showing the most loss. Stock calves $4.25 to $5.00. Bulls strong at $3.25 to $3.80 for grassers and $4.00 to $4.85 for corn-feds. Smaller supplies are imperative for awhile to allow a chance to recover. Hogs:—Receipts very heavy today, at all markets; South Omaha has 9400 at prices 20c lower, bulk $7.35 to $7.45; top $7.65 which is about the same as Tuesday of last week. The provision market is very weak and a further set back is not improbable but the number on sale will be the governing factor.

PERSONAL AND OTHERWISE

Mrs. A. Naffziger visited Sioux City today. P. W. Mueller of Altona, was a Wayne visitor today. Fresh Corn Meal made from new corn. WAYNE FEED MILL, Fancy China at less than cost. D8-tf L. A. We want you to give us a trial. D15-t2 H. B. Miller of Chelan, Wash., who is visiting Wayne county friends, went to Winside this morning.

Mrs. A. J. Boston of Malvern, Io., and W. E. Boston and son of Green River, Utah, visited the past week at the J. H. Rimel home. We carry a full line of fancy groceries, fruits and candies; also a line of all kinds of fancy dishes and China ware. Brooking's Grocery. D15-t2 The Herald is requested to announce that the public library will be closed from December 17 to December 31, and that all books should be returned before the closing day. Bert Brown and family departed this morning for southern California where they will spend the winter. En route they will stop at El Paso, Texas, and Tucson and Yuma, Arizona. Jas. Turner, hotel man of Randolph, formerly of Wayne, was here this week, and while here engaged L. J. Courtright to repair his hotel. Mr. Courtright went to Randolph this morning to do the work. Robert Wendt, aged 20 years, of the Hoskins vicinity, was brought before the board of insanity at this place Tuesday, and was adjudged a suitable subject for treatment at the hospital for the insane at Norfolk. He was taken to Norfolk today by Sheriff Mears. Clyde Oman, J. E. Berger and C. H. Brooks arrived home yesterday morning from the San Louis valley, in Colorado, where Mr. Oman had accompanied the two men to show them some land. Mr. Berger bought a tract, and Mr. Brooks expects to make another trip out there with the same end in view. The Willows (Cal.) Journal makes this reference to B. F. Feather who is enjoying a visit on the Pacific coast: "B. F. Feather of Wayne, Neb., has been spending the past two days in Willows. He has made a tour of the western states and is spending the winter in California. The Sacramento Valley; he stated, was destined to progress as no other part of the nation, but Willows and the country about it was easily superior to any part of the valley. Mr. Feather departed on the noon train for San Francisco, but will return at the end of the week for a longer stay."

When you start out to buy your Christmas gifts remember that in no store are you more apt to find suitable gifts and welcome gifts than in a general merchandise store where they have more special preparations for Christmas trade. In such a place you'll be able to get the nicest kind of gifts for every one you wish to remember and on account of their usefulness such presents will be remembered for a long time and be an almost daily reminder of the giver. Drop into Ahern's and see what a splendid lot of gifts a general store can display when they give the matter time and thought and do the work necessary to displaying them in attractive ways. D15-tf An unusual condition is presented in the matter of reward offered in the case of William Flege. Before William was charged with the crime, members of the Flege family, including the defendant, offered a reward of $2,000, besides which is a reward of $500 offered by Dixon county. If the conviction of William Flege is sustained, Sheriff Grant Mears of Wayne county, will ask for the reward, which he believes to be due him on account of having secured the confession from Albert Eichtenkamp, on whose testimony the state's case was mainly based. There is likely to be a dispute over the reward, if the conviction stands, but according to the vital part taken in the case by Sheriff Mears, it looks as though he would be able to prove his right to it.

EASTERN STAR MEETINGS.

The order of Eastern Star has had two largely attended and interesting meetings this week. At a regular session Monday night, five candidates were duly initiated, being the following: Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Hanssen, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Kemp, and Mrs. Fred Phillo. Tuesday night the lodge met again and listened to instructions from Mrs. Harry Wright, Deputy Grand Matron. Her talk was very pleasing. These candidates were initiated: Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Wilson, Mrs. W. H. Morris, Lambert Roe and Pingree C. Hughes. Light refreshments were served at the conclusion of the ceremonious part of the program.

DIES FROM APPENDICITIS.

Kenneth, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Graves, died Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock from appendicitis. Though the boy had been ailing for some days previous, his condition did not become serious until Sunday afternoon. Before then, he was up and around and seemed only slightly indisposed. But Sunday afternoon he was taken violently sick, and Dr. Hess of Battle Creek and Dr. Salter of Norfolk were called in consultation with Dr. Blair. The little boy attended school regularly, and was a bright and promising youth. The stricken family, father, mother and three surviving children, have the sympathy of all. Funeral services were held at the M. E. church this afternoon at 3 o'clock, Rev. William Gorst officiating.

HOARDED DOLLARS.

The Kearney Hub points out the importance of keeping money in circulation. It says: "Hoarded dollars will not build up a busy industrial and commercial community. Big lines of deposits that increase the swelling of a bank reserve do not necessarily make for business. This is true everywhere. Therefore it is true in Kearney. Dollars are just like men, a drag on the community if they are just idle, nothing more and nothing less. A busy dollar and a busy man are worth something to a community. The dollar that earns only 3 or 4 per cent. or lies on deposit, or is soaked away in a sock without bearing any interest is a drag, a drag, a detriment. Now suppose that every mother's son in this town who has a bunch of idle dollars should put them to work next Monday morning! It may be hard to suppose, but suppose that you try to suppose it for a minute or two and see what you get."

FORTY YEARS OLD.

A Wayne man who was 40 years old yesterday, says he had been looking forward for fifteen years to that particular birthday, believing he would by that time have accumulated a stock of wisdom that would make him a more useful and creditable member of society. He confesses some disappointment over what he is able to radiate and accomplish after the winds of two scores of years have fanned his physiognomy. But a retrospective squint unfolds a panorama of experiences and vicissitudes that ought to have taught some things that would facilitate getting over the breakers during the next forty years. A man is no older than he feels, and in the case under consideration he feels as young as he looks and looks younger than he is. But notwithstanding the seemingly youthful throbs that pat the pericardium of a man of forty, he must admit that he is jogging along in life, and that if he is going to saw any considerable amount of wood he had better get at it.

Leaders in Their Line. The greatest bank, says Harper's Weekly, is the Bank of England, in London; the oldest college is University college, Oxford, founded in 1050; the largest library, the National in Paris, containing nearly three million volumes.

OLE GRANQUIST DIES.

Ole Granquist who lives six miles southwest of Wayne, was operated on Tuesday noon for an abscess of the bowels, the operation having been performed by Dr. Sibley of Sioux City assisted by Dr. Williams of Wayne. Since the above paragraph was put in type, Mr. Granquist's death has taken place. He died at midnight last night, surrounded by his wife and children. He was aged 53 years and 7 days. The funeral will be held from the Lutheran church in Wayne Saturday afternoon between 1 and 2 o'clock, Rev. C. E. Ringer conducting the services. Mr. Granquist has been a resident of Wayne county for nineteen years, coming here from Washington county and locating on the farm where he spent the remainder of his days. He was the father of ten children, eight of whom, with his wife, survive him. He had been sick only about a week. Mr. Granquist was well known, and leaves many friends whose sympathy is extended to the sorrowing family.

"I know a fellow," remarked the man on the car "who says that every time he hears a band play 'Yankee Doodle' he can feel the goose pimples creeping all over him, and yet it takes a precinct committeeman to drag him to polls on registration day." Patriotic. He that lives upon hopes will die fasting.—Franklin. Unheralded Heroes. Half the real heroes of the world are never heard of. To Test Tinned Foods. An infallible test for tinned fruit or vegetables of any kind, is to open and plunge into the contents a very bright steel knife. Keep it there a few minutes, and if copper is present, even in the minutest proportions, it will be visibly deposited on the blade. Strange, Almost Weird. "We have decided to sell our automobile in order to make a payment on our home." "The deuce you have! Is it possible, then, that there can be such a thing as a home that is worth while without an automobile?"

THE BEST FLOUR IN THE U. S.

This is what a small mill in a small town in Ohio manufactures. It was awarded First prize at the Centennial Exposition held at Philadelphia 1876. First prize at World's Fair held in Chicago 1893, First prize at Pan-American Exposition held at Buffalo 1901 and First prize at Exposition held at St. Louis. Having made the BEST FLOUR continuously for 34 years is a record to be proud of in the face of all kinds of competition, especially large 5,000 and 10,000-barrel mills, where high salaried men are employed. It only proves the theory advanced by large concerns, that they make the best--because they are large concerns--to be a myth and that there is nothing in it. Forty years ago Peter Schuttler made the best lumber wagon in the United States. Why? Because he put in the right kind of material and personally superintended the manufacturing of each spoke, hub, felly, tongue, bolt and screw that went into it. That's just what we are doing. We buy the bluestem wheat which is conceded by all practical millers to be the best for flour manufacturing. We pay 4 cents per bushel premium for it. This season in this section of the country it is perfectly developed. The flour feels like velvet. Makes a strong dough. White, flaky and sweet tasting bread. Insist on having Wayne flour. It's the best on the market today

The M. E. Sunday school is preparing a cantata to be rendered Christmas Eve.
Mrs. H. B. Jones and little Dorothy Felber were Sioux City visitors Friday.
Louis Faller who was here buying live stock, returned Tuesday to his home at Tilden, Neb.
Mrs. J. P. Gaertner went to Randolph Tuesday for a visit with her son, Henry and family.
W. B. Hughes returned home from Carroll Tuesday, having visited his daughter at that place.
Mrs. J. C. Leverenz and two daughters of Carroll, were shopping in Wayne between trains Tuesday.
A. J. Ferguson and wife are planning to leave next Tuesday for Hardin, Kentucky, to spend the winter.
Attorney Fred S. Berry went to Ponca Tuesday to help press the case for a new trial in the Fluge case.

Mrs. Clara Ellis has moved into her new residence. The house which she vacated has been rented by Chas. Kate.
Eight new members were received into the M. E. church Sunday morning, following an appropriate sermon by Rev. William Gorst.
Miss Pearl Beil arrived from Sanders, N. D., the latter part of last week, and will remain with her parents until after the holidays.
Mrs. Mac Miller, daughter Minnie and son Walter went to Winside Tuesday where they attended the funeral of the late Thos. Loud.
Mrs. Gard and children of Bloomfield, who visited Wayne friends Monday and Tuesday left for Montana to join her husband on a claim.
Prof. H. H. Hahn returned Sunday from Baltic, Ohio, where he was called by the death of his mother. He was absent about ten days.
E. W. Stang has some very attractive things to offer at his public sale next Monday, and people interested should plan to be on hand promptly.
Have you seen The Golden Treasury from Gifted Minds, by Mrs. Stella Hadley Hickman? It will make an ideal gift book for Christmas. On sale at Jones' Book Store, D1512.
F. Siasler and wife and H. P. Greeley and L. Marsh of Atkinson, Neb., stopped in Wayne Monday on their way to O'Neill, near which place they expect to look at some land.
Otto Voget, hardware dealer, keeps the best hog waterer on the market. It does not permit the water to freeze, and is just the kind that every owner of hogs ought to have.
Prof. J. T. House has been invited to entertain the Monday club on Thursday night of next week at the home of Mrs. D. C. Main. He will present the life and work of Browning.

Mrs. Wright, associate grand matron of the O. E. S. was in Wayne Tuesday, and in the evening conducted a school of instruction for the Eastern Star. While in the city, Mrs. Wright was entertained by Mrs. J. G. Mines.

Every farmer ought to have a tank heater, sold by Otto Voget, hardware dealer. It warms water and food for stock, and makes an animal drink and eat more, and thus become fat quicker. The heater is rust proof and will never leak.

Friends of Mac Miller will be pleased to learn that he is now able to be up and around, after a six weeks' siege with rheumatism. As soon as Mr. Miller's health will permit he expects to go to Arizona with the hope of gaining relief in that climate.

The first quarterly conference of the M. E. church will be held next Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock, Dr. D. K. Tindall, district superintendent, presiding. Dr. Tindall will preach Sunday morning in connection with the quarterly communion service.

E. B. Young, district superintendent of the American Sunday School union, and W. H. Kimberly, state superintendent, have started out together on a tour of inspection of Sunday schools in Wayne, Dixon, Madison and Stanton counties. They expect to address twelve meetings in those counties.

To one hearing Charles Emerson Austin, reader and impersonator, comes the suggestion that his impersonation would be better if he would appear with a smooth face without a mustache, thus strengthening facial expression. Whiskers are a nuisance at all times, but more especially when one attempts impersonation.

SUCCESSFUL BAZAR.

The Baptist ladies realized $250 from their bazar and supper on Saturday. Seven booths, trimmed and stocked to represent the seven ages of woman, attracted attention from early forenoon until night, by which time the articles offered for sale had been largely disposed of. The supper was generously patronized and greatly enjoyed. The Baptist ladies are naturally delighted over the success which crowned their plans and labors.

A visit to the bazar afforded an opportunity to inspect the new church edifice by any one not having already done so. The building cost $18,000, and the size, arrangement and finish testify to the fact that the money was spent to advantage. The design is strictly modern, and it is evident that those who had the plans in charge, were particular to have nothing lacking that would serve convenience and comfort.

ment and finish testify to the fact that the money was spent to advantage. The design is strictly modern, and it is evident that those who had the plans in charge, were particular to have nothing lacking that would serve convenience and comfort.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES.

Miss Ruth White will lead the C. E. meeting next Sunday evening.

The Christmas season will be observed in the usual way by the Sunday school. There will be an appropriate program, a tree, and the customary treat for the children.

"The Preparation of the World for Christ" will be the subject of the morning sermon at the Presbyterian church next Sunday. In the evening the pastor will continue his sermon on "Religion in Every Day Life." His subject next will be "Religion in our Amusements."

The address of Mrs. A. C. Zehner, of Dallas, Texas, at the Union meeting in the Presbyterian church, was pronounced by some as the best address ever given by a woman in Wayne, and some thought that it was the best general address on the subject which they had ever heard. Mrs. Zehner is a master speaker, with a message, and with power to deliver it. The vast audience which filled the church auditorium, and overflowed into the lecture room and gallery, gave the speaker the closest attention, and at the close broke into spontaneous applause.

ALL OVER BUT THE SHOUTING

The contest is about all over but the shouting. At 6:00 p. m., on Saturday of this week, the voting will close and the judges will take charge of the ballot box and make the final count which will take an hour or so and as soon as that is done the automobile, piano and other prizes will be awarded. Some remarkable gains were made last week, but since that time the votes have not been counted and no one knows how the contestants stand. No one will know who the owner of the automobile will be until the final count is made. If you want to help a favorite contestant you will have to do it before 6 p. m. Saturday. (Make your promise good as it might be the means of that contestant winning the automobile.)

E. W. Stang's big auction sale at his farm home, one-half mile north of Wayne, takes place next Monday, December 19, and promises to be largely attended.

 Mrs. Brown Palmer went to Sioux City Saturday to visit her son George and family.
 Miss Edna Neely is expected home Saturday from Drake university at Des Moines, to spend the holidays.
 Miss Katherine Gamble will return Saturday from St. Paul, where she has been attending McAllister college.
 L. E. Panabaker returned to Omaha Monday morning after a few weeks' visit with his family in Wayne.
 Mrs. Jack Liveringhouse returned to her home in Norfolk Saturday after a few days' visit with relatives in Wayne.
 Miss Alvina Sahs is planning a box supper at her school, December 23. Everyone is invited, and a good time is assured.
 Attorney A. R. Davis went to Ponca yesterday afternoon to help resist the motion for a new trial in the Plege case.
 Mrs. Jas. McIntosh of Wayne and Alex Laurie of Carroll, received a telegram from Park Hill, Can., that their mother died Monday morning.

On account of distance and unfavorable railway connections, it was impossible for them to be there to attend the funeral.

Mrs. E. W. Ebert of Missouri Valley, will arrive here Saturday morning to spend the holidays with the Gamble family.

A. J. Breckenridge, who has been visiting John Horn near Carroll, passed through Wayne Tuesday on his way to his home at Baker, Mont.

Miss Florence Surber, daughter of D. A. Surber, living four miles northwest of Wayne, is reported suffering from a severe attack of rheumatism.

O. K. Booth of Randolph, who had been taking treatment at Hot Springs, S. D., stopped in Wayne Tuesday on his way home, being much improved in health.

Jas. McIntosh purchased a hog house from the college and is having it moved to his farm one mile north of the college. Mada Choan did the moving with the aid of a threshing machine engine.

The library board was to have had a regular meeting Tuesday night but could not do so on account of the absence of a quorum. It is understood a meeting will be called for the last of the week.

Mrs. Elsie Littell, county superintendent, has about completed visiting schools for the winter, having made the rounds with few exceptions which will receive attention in due time. She reports the schools generally in satisfactory condition. The rural schools have no holiday vacation, as it has been supplanted by the one held at corn picking time.

They have certainly done things out of the ordinary in preparation for the holiday season at Ahern's. The advertising, the windows, the decorations in the store, the convenient way in which the holiday goods have been displayed and the great amount of special Christmas goods which have been gotten together all show careful preparation for interesting the Christmas trade. From the throngs of people in the store such work pays well. D15-tf

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

The Monday club met this week with Mrs. J. E. Marsteller, and listened to a program treating of domestic science. The club has decided to postpone further meetings until after the holidays. The next one will be held January 9 at the home of Mrs. Mellor.

Mrs. J. G. Mines entertained the Acme club Tuesday afternoon, the honored guest being Mrs. Wright, Grand Associate Matron of the Eastern Star order. Several local members of the Star, outside of the club, were also guests. Delicious refreshments were served after an afternoon of general sociability.

The Minerva club met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lambert Roe and carried out the following program: "Conservation of Natural Resources," Mrs. Jas. Britton, sketch of Cuba and Porto Rico, Mrs. Lou Owen; "Progress of the Panama Canal," Mrs. Roe. These papers were followed by a general discussion.

The U. D. club had its meeting Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Green. Roll call was responded to by thoughts from the life of William Dean Howells. A reading from Howells was given by Mrs. Green; paper on life and work of Lew Wallace by Mrs. Hufford, and a book review by Mrs. H. B. Jones. Mrs. Green served splendid refreshments. The club will enjoy a Kensington on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ringland.

ORDINANCE NO. 182.

An ordinance regulating theatres, operas and moving picture shows, providing for the closing of the same on Sundays and fixing a penalty for the violation of the same. Be it ordained by the Mayor and Council of the City of Wayne, Nebraska.
 Sec. 1: It shall be unlawful for any person or persons owning, maintaining or directing any playhouse, theatre, opera house or moving picture show house or for any person or persons employed therein, to keep such places open on the first day of the week commonly called Sunday, or to give to the public any exhibition, picture show or other theatrical amusement on the first day of the week commonly called Sunday.
 Sec. 2: It shall be the duty of any person or persons owning, maintaining or directing any playhouse, theatre, opera house or moving picture theatre or any play house of whatsoever kind where exhibitions for public amusement are given to keep the same closed on the first day of the week commonly called Sunday.
 Sec. 3: Any person or persons violating any of the provisions of this ordinance, upon conviction shall be fined in any sum not less than five dollars nor more than one hundred dollars.
 Sec. 4: All ordinances and parts of ordinances in conflict with this ordinance are hereby repealed.
 Sec. 5: This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, approval and publication, according to law.
 Passed and approved this 12th day of December, 1910.
 Attest: W. P. ROONEY, Clerk.
 JNO. T. BRESSLER, Mayor.

Christmas Greetings

As Christmas draws near we know many ladies are puzzled to know what to give a man—husband, son, brother, friend; it's an annual problem.

Now, we want you to know that we recognize the difficulty presented by this problem; and that we've made some special preparations to help you solve it satisfactorily.

It seems to be quite clear that the best present you can give a man, is to give him something he wants. And naturally, the best place for you to get what a man wants is to go to the place where HE gets what he wants.

This store is that sort of a place; full of things a man wants; things for his special or his regular needs; big things such as Hart Schaffner & Marx suits and overcoats; small things such as a handsome cravat, a pair of gloves, house coat, bath robe or slippers.

We can hardly include in a letter all the things we have. We offer you our help in selecting what you want; and anything you get here that isn't satisfactory may be returned.

Respectfully,
 DAN HARRINGTON.

THRESHING RETURNS FROM WESTERN CANADA.

They Reveal Larger Averages of Wheat and Oats Than Anticipated.

The returns from the grain fields of Western Canada as revealed by the work of the threshers, show much larger yields than were expected as the crop was ripening. It is a little early yet to give an estimate of the crop as a whole, but individual fields selected from various points throughout Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta show that the farmers there as a rule have had reason to be thankful over the results. Excellent yields are reported from many portions of Manitoba and a large district of Saskatchewan has turned out well, while the central portion of Alberta is splendid. There will be shown at the land exposition at St. Louis a sample of the 'Marquette' wheat—a new variety and one that appears to be well adapted to the soil and climate of Western Canada—that yielded 53 bushels to the acre. The exhibit and statement will be supported by affidavits from the growers. This variety yields well, and being a hard variety will find a ready market at the highest prices obtainable for a first-class article. It is interesting to point out that a field of one hundred acres of this wheat would give its producers 5,300 bushels. Sold at 85 cents a bushel would give him $45 an acre. Counting all the cost of interest on land at $20 an acre, getting the land ready for crop, seed sowing, harvesting and marketing, the entire cost of production would not exceed $5 an acre, leaving the handsome net profit of $40 an acre. Is there any crop that would yield a better return than this, with the same labor and initial expense? Cotton fields will not do it, apple orchards with their great expense of cultivation and the various enemies of the fruit cannot begin to do it. While what is considered an exceptional case just now is presented, there is no doubt that this man's experience may be duplicated by others who care to follow his example. As has been said the growing of this wheat is but in its infancy, and what growing is still largely confined to other older varieties that do not yield so abundantly. Even with these we have records before us of farmers who have grown 40 bushels to the acre, others 35, some 30, and 20 bushels, and some farmers report that amount. It is found that the returns from such a yield would be $17 an acre. This wheat will cost to get to market, including all expenses, about $8 an acre, and the farmer will still have a net profit of about $9 an acre. Certainly the provinces of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba are progressing well, and there is a general contentment all over the country. The social conditions are splendid, the climate is excellent, and there is every condition to make the settler satisfied. At the farming congress, held at Spokane in October, wheat shown by the Alberta Government, took the silver cup, awarded by the Governor of the State. It completely outclassed all other specimens on exhibition, and it was but an ordinary selection, hundreds of fields in Alberta and Saskatchewan being able to duplicate it. There are still available thousands of Aomonts, as well as large areas of first-class land—that is being offered for sale at low prices. The agent of the Canadian Government from whom the above facts have been learned expects that the rush to Canada will next year largely exceed the numbers who have gone this year.

In the Haunted Homestead

By DOROTHY BLACKMORE.

The old Stanlaw homestead that stood on a hill in the outskirts of Cedar Rapids was known as the haunted house. It never had been inhabited within the remembrance of the rising generation of the town although the pioneers and older citizens recalled the good old family that had once lived at the place.

The house was low and rambling, and the two great wings on both sides that reached far out among the ancient beech and chestnut trees were quite hidden from the view of passers-by in the lane below. The faded green shutters were always closed; the paint had long since faded into colorless nothing; the rain pipes were rusted and bent with age and the one-time beautiful home was a sorry wreck.

The place was listed with the estate agents of the town but before an unsuspecting stranger could be induced to buy it, the story of its long vacancy and its supernatural occurrences though he might be, he passed it by.

As in the tales of all haunted houses, there was in this one a vague notion that only added interest, especially to the young people of the town. The uncertain mystery of it all and the very fact that their parents and elders could—or would so they believed—tell them so little of the history of the place added zest to the situation.

Every year as the weird season of Halloween approached a club of young people discussed the prospect of raiding the haunted house and making merry within its walls on the night when, tradition says, ghosts and evil spirits roam the earth. In the favor of the "Haunt" party as one of the southern boys called the prospect, the function, and the club had contented itself with a make-believe ghost party in the home of one of its members.

This year, as usual, the subject arose. "It's getting to be too much of a good thing—this haunted house story," said John Sloan, a young lawyer in the town. "The place is so overgrown and dilapidated that it is a blot on the landscape."

To Bed Unwashed. His little hands are folded now And peace is in his breast; There where a curl lies on his brow His mother's lips were pressed.

How calmly peacefully he lies, Not knowing I am dead; The lids are closed upon his eyes, My sighs he does not hear.

His little hands, alas, awake! Lie on the spotless spread; And, oh, but they are soiled and black— His wet unwashed hair!

dispel the idea that it is haunted and thereby a civic good. "Suppose we decide that way," acquiesced the young man who was not interested in ghosts, "and impose a penalty on any member who refuses to come. He who does not join the crowd at the Halloween party at the haunted house is a coward!" declared the youth, waxing eloquent.

"Here! Here!" shouted the crowd. But the Halloween party was planned and the night rolled around when, one and all, the members assembled at the foot of the hill in sheets and pillow cases to mount to the old homestead beneath the trees. The moon shined brightly and the boys carried lanterns on their heads, lanterns fashioned of pumpkins.

The white-clad figures wended their ways slowly, climbing the narrow pathway that had once been a driveway to the house. Now it was overgrown with brush and weeds and tangled with wild vines. Katydid and tree-toads chirped and all the night noises sounded weirdly near as the lithe band climbed step by step closer to the house they had known all their life to be haunted. If fearful hearts beat beneath the white garments, no one said so. The spirit of Halloween was upon them.

Arrived at the old gardens, they stood and gazed at the ancient ruin, for that it looked, indeed, in the queer light that sifted through the heavy trees. "I see no spooks but ourselves," laughed the girl, indistinguishable in her enveloping white robe.

"If your Aunt Mary could look up here now she might see ghosts," said John Sloan to the little lady near him. He believed it to be Helen Ware. Whether it was or not, she did not say.

One by one the little group found courage to seek the old verandas and explore the premises. And, at last, when they had made merry in the old-fashioned manner at Halloween sports, they assembled for the picnic supper they had carried with them.

very house from which my mother escaped to be married!" Executions of wonderment came from all sides. "Let me finish," said the girl, holding up the weird white arm beneath the sheet. "I did not know when I accepted Claire's invitation to visit her that it was the former home of my mother and father, and I met Claire at college five years ago, and we have been friends ever since. After my mother died I lost my father—I came to the States and educated myself with what money they had left me, and now I am a successful business woman in a big city. This is my vacation, and it is as strange to me as it is to you that I should have come to this very town, the very home from which my mother disappeared, a mystery to everyone. I knew when I first heard of the party tonight and was told of the haunted house and its history—that that had been my mother's own story."

When the little party broke up and the pillow-cases had been lifted from the heads, John Sloan looked at the girl who had told the real ghost story. "And your mother was the ghost Helen's Aunt Mary Ann saw?" he asked. He had become strangely impressed with the sweetness of the girl's voice. She nodded. "And under your own business-like exterior, have you not, perhaps, a trace of the romance that was in your mother?" "I might have," she laughed. "And to himself John Sloan vowed, and there, to find out. He did find out. Before Hope Strange returned to the city she had promised the young lawyer to forsake business and marry him. She also promised that she would live in the old Stanlaw house to prove to the community in general that her tale was true and that it was haunted by nothing but memories of the happy night when she met John Sloan."

HE THOUGHT OF ANOTHER Pricer Accused of Kneeling Plaintiff Had Excellent Appeal to Make to Jury.

Genlemen of the Jury: "The prisoner has been accused of kissing the plaintiff. Let me tell you how it happened, so that you will have a fuller understanding of the case. The prisoner is a promising young man and a great social favorite in his set. Among his other accomplishments he knows a number of very interesting parlor tricks.

"He can draw rabbits from hats, eggs from ears and he can invariably produce the queen of spades from a full deck of cards. While performing some of his most difficult tricks he asks for the help of an assistant to hold his hands and to look him in the eye. In this way he proves that there is no deception, no mechanical device, nothing in his hands and nothing in his eyes."

"On one night when the prisoner called upon the plaintiff she asked him to teach her one of these tricks. "I must get an assistant," he said, "to hold my hands and look me in the eye."

"I will be your assistant," she answered, "and I will hold your hands and look you in the eye." "In a moment of weakness my client consented. She held his hands and she looked him in the eye. What happened? Genlemen of the Jury, what happened? He forgot his tricks; he couldn't think of a single, solitary one."

"What's the matter?" she asked. "I have forgotten the trick I was going to show you." "She looked at him in a very coy manner. "Well," she said, "can't you think of some other suitable trick?" "Genlemen of the Jury, it is then that he kissed her and that is the case upon which we await your verdict—guilty or not guilty."—New York Evening Sun.

Dobbins—Is there a list of millionaires published? "Bronson—Not that I know of, but you can probably get a list of the fellows who dodge their taxes."

SAVED OLD LADY'S HAIR "My mother used to have a very bad humor on her head which the doctors called an eczema, and for it had two different doctors. Her hair was very sore and her hair nearly all fell out in spite of what they both did. One day her niece came in and they were speaking of how her hair was falling out and the doctors did it no good. She says, 'Aunt, why don't you try Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment?' Mother did and they helped her. In six months' time the itching, burning and scalding of her head was over and her hair began growing. Today she feels much in debt to Cuticura Soap and Ointment for the fine head of hair she has for an old lady of seventy-four."

"My own case was an eczema in my feet. As soon as the cold weather came my feet would itch and burn and then they would crack open and bleed. Then I thought I would flee to my mother's friends, Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. I did for four or five winters, and now my feet are as smooth as any one's. Ellsworth Dunham, Hiram, Mo., Sept. 30, 1909."

Progress in Railroading. "Yes," says the lady whose dress case is covered with strange foreign labels, "the way railroads are run nowadays is a great improvement over what they were 50 years ago." "But surely you had no experience as a traveler 50 years ago," says her friend. "I don't mean that. But nowadays, don't you notice, when there is a wreck it is always had at some point convenient to a cluster of farm houses where the victims can go for coffee and to get warm?"

Why Kiek? Louis Wiana, the Newark artist, wore a gloomy look on his usually cheerful face. "It has just struck me," he said to Charles Stasse, "that my shoes don't cost me as much as my youngsters." "Then what are you complaining about?" asked Stasse. Chambermaid-Report! First Chambermaid-Look! You let your pillow slip. Second Chambermaid-Now, the coverlet is—Exchange.

The Human Heart The heart is a wonderful double pump, through the action of which the blood stream is kept sweeping round and round through the body at the rate of seven miles an hour. "Remember this, that our bodies will not stand the strain of over-work without food, pure blood any more than the engine can run smoothly without oil." After many years of study in the active practice of medicine, Dr. R. V. Pierce found that when the stomach was out of order, the blood impure and there were symptoms of general breakdown, a tonic made of the glyceric extract of certain roots was the best corrective. This he called

Ahern's

Our Display of Christmas Goods is ready and it is so far ahead of any holiday display we have ever before made that we will take special pleasure in showing it to you. This year we have made a great deal more preparations than usual for the Christmas business, we have bought more and finer special holiday goods than we usually do and we have taken great pains to get them displayed in a way that would make it easy for you to look them over and make your selections.

You are sure to be well pleased; both with the extra fine assortment of special holiday goods here for you to choose from, and with the convenient way in which they have been arranged.

Bear in mind that no store can offer you as great a variety of appropriate and useful gifts suitable for every member of your family as the General Merchandise store that has made special preparations for the Holiday trade.

In a store like ours, where the Christmas stock has been so carefully planned for, you'll find hundreds of things especially appropriate for gifts—they have the true Christmas character—and in addition they are sure to be especially appreciated and long remembered on account of their usefulness.

You'll save yourself time and worry if you'll come to Ahern's first to do your shopping—you'll be especially welcome every day from now till Christmas.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS AT AHERN'S

CHRISTMAS LINENS—The gift that pleases the woman who takes pleasure and pride in her home. Showy table cloths and napkins—beautiful damask linen towels, suitable for dresser scarfs and stand covers—lunch cloths and centre pieces in drawn work and eyelet work designs—tenderie doilies—dresser scarfs of finest linen, beautifully embroidered—surely you find a welcome gift in such a stock as awaits you here.

HANDKERCHIEFS—By far the finest assortment of handkerchiefs we have ever carried. Linen handkerchiefs with neat initials are 124 cents. Dainty lace and embroidery trimmed handkerchiefs at 10 cents to 50 cents. Sheer linen handkerchiefs with real eyelet work—the finest handkerchiefs we have ever carried at 50 cents to $1.50. Children's colored Mother Goose handkerchiefs at 2 for 5 cents and 5 cents. Men's initial handkerchiefs—initial worked in silk, 10 cents each. Men's linen initial handkerchiefs, 25 cents. Men's silk initial handkerchiefs, 50 cents. Hundreds of pretty patterns in every kind of handkerchiefs to choose from and all displayed so conveniently that you can see the whole assortment and choose your handkerchiefs in a very short time.

SILK SCARFS—We call your particular attention to our entirely new idea in silk scarfs which have just been received. They are made of silk thread beautifully woven and have long silk tassels fringe. They come in all the delicate shades and are by far the prettiest head scarfs yet brought out. They are perfectly washable too. We have them in three sizes at $1.50, $2.50 and $3.50. They will make a beautiful gift for any lady.

TWO NEW STYLES IN HAND BAGS—We have just added a line of black velvet hand bags and some of the imitation tooled leather bags to our always large assortment. We have always made a specialty of our hand bag display and there are dozens and dozens of hand bags here to choose from. From 50 cents to $6.00 you'll find hand bags suitable for a Xmas gift that will have constant use and be a daily reminder of the giver.

FANCY APRONS—A pretty apron makes an inexpensive but effective gift. We have them in dainty styles prettily trimmed in laces and ribbons, with or without bibbs at 50 cents, 75 cents and $1.00.

FURS Make the exceptional gift. Not every one is fortunate enough to get them—you'll please some one particularly if you give them. Just one point to be certain of, buy your furs of a store that will tell you exactly what skin the fur is made from and give you an idea of how long it will wear. A rabbit skin, dyed a rich brown or black looks about as pretty as a Marmot or a fox for a week but after that they shame the giver. Don't give furs unless you know what you are giving. I believe I can tell you exactly what skins most any ordinary fur is made from—I can tell you how it will wear—whether it will fade and about what it is worth. I sold furs on the road for some time and I had to know. If I sell you a fur I'll guarantee it to do just as I represent it will, and to be well worth the money I ask for it. I can get you a fur coat, a little better and a little cheaper than the average merchant and I'll get it from a firm who'll take it back from me any time it fails to do what I represent it to do. I expect a lot of furs on approval next week. Watch the papers for announcement.

RUGS—Don't forget a present for the home this Christmas. Mother will appreciate the giving of a nice Rug. We have a new assortment of velvet and axminster rugs in sizes 27x54 and 36x60 in both floral and oriental patterns. These are not carpet samples with a piece of fringe added, but genuine patterned rugs of the best quality. Price $2.00, $2.50 and $3.00.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS AT AHERN'S

WAISTING SILKS—Make a rich gift. The new Persian silks are especially desirable and you'll find them here in dozens of pretty patterns. Just enough in each pattern for a waist and no two alike. We will put them in a pretty holiday gift box for you free of charge.

PRETTY NECKWEAR—Dozens of new styles in Holiday Neckwear just received. Mostly pleated silk and net Jabots for wear with tailored waists. All packed, one in a pretty Christmas box, and prices no higher than usual, 25 cents and 50 cents.

SWEATERS—Not a member of the family but who would welcome a sweater. Our stock of sweaters has been replenished for this occasion—we can fit every one, from the baby to grandpa. Prices 50 cents to $3.00. A new lot of Ladies and Girls' fine red sweaters just received.

SLIPPERS AND JULIETS—of course you would expect to find a nice assortment of Christmas slippers in Wayne's finest Shoe Department. You won't be disappointed. There are Slippers and Comfy shoes galore—every new and good style—every color and every size. Slippers for baby, for girls and ladies from the famous Daniel Green line of Juliets and Comfys which you see illustrated in so many magazines. Also slippers for the men. If slippers are down on the list, come to our shoe department—there, will you find slippers and slippers and slippers, from which to make your choice. Priced 40 cents to $2.00.

FOR THE MEN FOLKS—Every man welcomes and appreciates the useful gifts that you can buy in a store like this. Of the articles named below we have put in extra nice assortments for this special occasion and you can buy presents for your men folks here, that are sure to please.
