HOGREFE TRIAL IN PROGRESS

THE OPENING STATEMENTS

What Each Side Expects to Prove - Taking of Testimony - Chemists on Stand for State.

Henry Hogrefe, the Altona blacksmith, is on trial in the district court charged with first degree murder. The case was called Monday morning when the information charging the defendant with poisoning his wife with strychnine was read to him, and his plea of "not guilty" was entered. Monday forenoon when the work of securing a jury was undertaken, the court room was packed with spectators, many from the Altona vicinity, where the crime is alleged to have been committed. County Attorney A. R. Davis of Wayne and R. E. Evans of Dakota City appear for the state, and F. A. and Fred S. Berry for the defendant.

Twelve men, acceptable to both sides, were sworn in at 6 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Besides the regular panel, twenty-five talesmen had been examined for service. Only two of the regular panel are among those chosen to pass on the Hogrefe case. Names of the jury: Louie Koch, farmer; August Miller, Carroll merchant; Henry Glassmeyer, farmer; John McDonald, farmer; Oscar Johnson, farmer; Adolph Kieper, farmer; Bert Francis, Carroll implement dealer; E. M. Hyatt, Winslow drayman; August Behmer, farmer; Chris Behn, farmer, Art

Ziegler, farmer; Nels Herman, farmer.

The opening statements to the jury were made before the adjournment of court Tuesday afternoon by County Attorney Davis for the state and Fred S. Berry for the defense.

Mr. Davis began by briefly reviewing the history of the Hogrefe family. He said Henry Hogrefe was married to his wife in March, 1904; that a year later there was born a child which died; that in another year twins were born, and they survive their mother; a year later another child was born, and it died. Mr. Davis said he would show that Mrs. Hogrefe was about 40 years old, and that from infancy she had been afflicted with a kind of paralysis, which infirmity, however, did not interfere with the performance of her household duties.

He said he expected to show that about October, 1909, when Mrs. Hogrefe was in delicate health, the deceased woman's niece, Amelia Moseman, aged 20 years, entered the family to assist in the household. He said he expected the testimony to show that about December or January, Henry Hogrefe, aged 32 years, began to pay particular attention to Amelia Moseman. The county attorney described the interior of the Hogrefe house, and detailed the growing familiarity between the defendant and niece. He said the state expected to prove that Hogrefe talked disrespectfully about his wife to Amelia Moseman, and talked to the latter about marrying her. The attorney stated that he believed the evidence would show that Hogrefe told Amelia Moseman that his wife would probably die but if she didn't, he would give her poison. The state charges that on Sunday preceding the day on which Mrs. Hogrefe died, Amelia Moseman left the Hogrefe home, and was taken by the defendant to the home of her sister, and that on the way, Hogrefe spoke of giving his wife poison.

He declared that the evidence would show that on the fatal week, Mrs. Hogrefe did a large washing and engaged in her usual household work; that on the evening before her death, her neighbor, Mrs. Bert, saw her on the front porch and asked her how she felt, and she replied that she felt all right, aside from being tired.

On Friday, May 13, Mrs. Bert was hurriedly summoned to the Hogrefe home by the defendant who said his wife was sick. The state says it will show that the woman was rigid, with her head thrown back, that she suffered a series of convulsions, and passed away at 7 o'clock. The state charges that following her death the defendant sat down and ate a hearty breakfast, apparently unconcerned.

The county attorney said the evidence would show that the defendant had told Mr. Panning at Altona that he gave his wife a dose of salts, and would show that Dr. Williams, coroner of Wayne county, and a Wisner doctor removed the stomach from the dead woman, sent it to Sioux City for analysis, and that it was found to contain a quantity of strychnine, more than enough to cause death. Mr. Davis said he expected to prove that on the day after the funeral the defendant asked Amelia Moseman to keep house for him, and shortly afterwards he talked to her about marrying him.

Fred S. Berry followed with a statement in behalf of the defendant. He said the defense would not deny improper relations between the defendant and Amelia Moseman, but charges main responsibility to the latter. Mr. Berry said the defense expected to show that Mrs. Hogrefe suspected the infidelity of her husband, and on one occasion had a violent quarrel with him over his relations with the girl, threatening that she would kill him and herself. The attorney said the defendant told her she could not do it, as she had no gun, whereupon she replied that she would find other means. This quarrel, the defense alleges, was the cause of Amelia Moseman leaving the Hogrefe home.

Mr. Berry stated that the defense would show that the family had salmon for supper on the day previous to Mrs. Hogrefe's death, that the defendant complained to his wife that it tasted bitter, and that it did not stay on his stomach. He said the defense would show that on Friday morning, May 13, Mrs. Hogrefe got up early and brought him a dose of salts; that he was feeling better and refused the medicine, saying she could take it if she wanted to. Defendant doesn't know whether she took it or not, and denies having given her any salts.

Mr. Berry said it would be shown that while the defendant and Amelia Moseman were picking up things at the Hogrefe home, the girl grabbed a sack and threw it into the stove, exclaiming that it contained salts belonging to her and that it was a

For Sale - Good cow, coming fresh; also milk for sale. - A. G. Bohnert, 1512.

Guest Carlson and wife who live eight and one-half miles north and one-half mile west of Wayne, were in town Tuesday, and while here arranged for advertising a public sale at their home Tuesday, January 31. Mr. Carlson expects to move with his family early in February to Texas, where his son went some months ago in the interest of his health. The change has greatly benefited the young man's health, and so the family will locate there.

The Naughty Little Milliner

A TRUE STORY OF THE SECRET SERVICE

By Col. H. C. Whitley, Former Chief United States Secret Service

HE sympathy of the public is usually bestowed upon the weaker sex, although Heaven knows it is a mistake to suppose that the weakness of humanity is confined to woman alone.

The several novel expedients resorted to by the Widow Wood, better known in police circles as "The Naughty Little Milliner," for throwing dust into the eyes of the detective...

It was along in the early part of the year when it became known that there was circulating about New Orleans a dangerous counterfeit five-dollar treasury note.

Operator James Fitzpatrick, who was at that time in charge of government secret service affairs in New Orleans, began an investigation for the purpose of ferreting out the source of this bad money.

Following the girl one day the officer traced her to a little variety store on St. Joseph street, near the corner of Tchoupitoulas street.

The officer made a plausible explanation of the matter, and, to satisfy the curiosity of the boy, was now quite certain that he was on the track of the source of the counterfeit bills and that the occupants of the little variety store were the distributors of the bogus stuff.

Opposite the variety store across the street was the sign "Furnished Rooms to Rent," and Fitzpatrick was fortunate enough to be able to hire a front room where he could sit at the window and watch the suspected place.

Without further ceremony she introduced herself as Mrs. Wood, the lady who had been falsely accused by a United States detective. She said she had approached him because she had learned that he was a benefactor of the worthy poor and that she now stood in need of assistance.

so he saw a signal of recognition between the man and the woman. The latter, having completed her seeming errand of love, peered cautiously around for a moment and retired from the cemetery.

It was Sunday that the occurrence described took place. On the day of the week following the date the girl, dressed as a decrepit old man, appeared almost blind, went into the cemetery and took a seat beside a tomb not far from the one upon which the woman had placed the flower.

The woman was arrested, but nothing of an incriminating nature was found there. The woman said her name was Wood, and that her husband had died but a short time before.

There were at that time existing in New Orleans as in other cities at least two classes of persons subject to suit on juries. On the one hand there was the fellow with the dark brow, who thought there was no great harm in passing counterfeit money.

The Widow Wood told a lame story in regard to the counterfeit bills, but the tale of her struggles to support herself and keep her head above water was touching in the extreme.

One evening a few months subsequent to the widow's honorable exoneration, a nondescript gentleman, a member of the jury that had acquitted her, was on his way to his home from his office on Carondelet street.

only shove off the trouble for a short time. The good-hearted southerner's sympathy was not confined to words alone. He went at once to her little store and paid the $300 demanded by the keeper of the house.

When the woman had placed the flower on the tomb, she turned and saw the man who had been sitting on the bench in the cemetery.

It is recalled that when Tecumseh was notified to move his band of Indians to the government land, specified in the treaty of Greenview, he replied:

ing lady came in here one day and tried on my bonnets; she wanted a nice one but I could not fit her. She said she lived somewhere in the suburbs and she was in a great hurry. She finally picked out one and said it would do well enough for size, but she wanted it trimmed differently.

WITH Clearing Sales being held in almost all the stores you have a harvest of money-saving opportunities presented to you this month. The all important question with you is: "At which sale are the money-saving opportunities the greatest?" In making up your mind on this point it will pay you to consider these advantages, which you are offered at AHERN'S Clearing Sale: First: Our stock is a very large one and you will naturally find more bargains than elsewhere. This is particularly true of our Ladies' Ready-to-wear department which is always by far the largest and best stocked in the county and in which we now have a much finer assortment of Ready-to-wear Goods to close out than you will find elsewhere. Second: In all our former clearing sales we have proven that we are not afraid to sell our goods at a loss where necessary in order to close them out. In our last January clearing sale we priced our goods low enough to sell every coat, every suit, every fur, every skirt, every dress, every winter shoe, and every blanket in the store, besides making an almost total clearance in our other winter goods. That means that at AHERN'S people found the right goods and found them priced so much lower than elsewhere that here is where they did their buying, and this year you will find the prices cut in just the same liberal way. Third: Our method of pricing our bargains wins our customers' confidence because we leave the old selling prices with which you are familiar on the goods just as they were and mark the new reduced price beside them in red ink, in plain figures, where you can figure for yourself and be sure you are making a big saving. Fourth: We go through our stock thoroughly and get all these goods which are to be sold at reduced prices out where you can examine them carefully and at your convenience. Everything is in plain sight and every price is marked in plain figures. Trading is a pleasure at our sales. Fifth: We are careful in advertising to describe goods in quality and price just exactly as you will find them when you come. We give where possible a complete list of sizes so that you can determine at home just what goods you want to buy in many lines. And last, we guarantee the goods on sale down to the last item to be first-class and just as represented in every respect. We will gladly exchange or refund the money for any goods bought at our sale if they prove unsatisfactory in any way. With these advantages, namely: More bargains than you'll find elsewhere, greater reductions in price than others are making, both the old and new prices on the goods in plain figures, and every article guaranteed first-class, don't you conclude that AHERN'S Clearing Sale is the sale for you to attend? The earlier you come the greater selection you'll have, and Free Trading Stamps with Double Stamps Thursdays.

AHERN'S JANUARY CLEARING SALE STARTS TODAY

NOW FOR THE GREATEST BARGAINS OF THE WHOLE YEAR IN WINTER GOODS

Both in the amount of goods offered for sale and in the money-saving opportunities offered in price this sale will be the best we have ever held. The success of all our former sales has proven that we are not afraid to cut the prices, even to a loss. If you will compare our goods and prices with goods and prices elsewhere we will get your business this month.

G.; Mrs. Edith Berry, V. G.; Mrs. Minnie Shulthess, secretary, and Mrs. Jessie Lamberson, treasurer. After the formal ceremonies, a two-course supper was served by the ladies. During the evening Mr. Alexander favored the crowd with a piano solo. About eighty were present and all had an enjoyable time. According to the census returns reported from Washington, covering cities of over 5,000 population in Nebraska, Grand Island ranks next to Omaha; Lincoln and South Omaha. Beatrice and Hastings come next with about equal population. The census of 1890 was either most recklessly padded or there has been an amazing slump in population. In 1890 Beatrice was given a population of 13,886 and in 1910 a population of 9,366, and in 1890 Hastings rolled up 13,684, and in 1910, 9,388, Nebraska City which made a showing of 11,941 in 1890, has only 5,488 in 1910. These towns are not so ambitious as they were twenty years ago. Chas. Kelly of Minneapolis, passed through Wayne Monday on his way to Denver. He said he had made a wager of $500 with a Minnesota man that he could walk from Minneapolis to Denver with a push-cart and ten cents in his pocket, making his way and reaching his destination in sixty days with $200 in his pocket. He is selling silverware polish, clothes cleaner and furniture polish and buys furs and hides. While coming through southern Minnesota he made $30 in one day. He has been on the road just a month and has $175 ahead already. According to his arrangement, he telegraphs the record of his hide purchases, and the money for the same is then telegraphed to him, so he will not have to wait. His cart weighs 100 pounds and he travels from twenty to thirty miles a day. Last March a move in the national house to reduce the power of the speaker in committee appointments was made successful through a combination of insurgent republicans with the democrats. Cannonism was overthrown, and insurgents and democrats were given over to exaltation. On Monday a very similar move developed, and but few democrats rushed to the support of the insurgents. Defeat was of course the result. One democrat justified his inconsistency by explaining that the revolution last March was designed as a rebuke to Cannon instead of the house rules. At the time and for months before, it was carefully explained that it was Cannonism rather than Cannon that the warriors desired to check or supplant. With the prospect of possession, the democrats do not propose to curtail future power. COUNCIL MEETING Minutes of a regular meeting of the city council held January 9th, 1911. Meeting called to order by the mayor with the following members of the council present: Kingsbury, Gildersleeve, Larson, Lamberson, Meister and Sprague. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The following bills were then read and allowed: J. E. Hufford, supplies $ 2 70 Wayne Herald, printing.... 3 10 John Bressler, exp. on water examination..... 15 25 Murray Iron Works, supplies 2 16 Hartford Insurance Co..... 125 00 H. S. Motion carried. Motion made and seconded that the light and water committee discontinue service of light and water to all consumers who have not paid their light and water bills on or before the 15th of each month. Motion carried. Motion made and seconded that the meeting adjourn. Motion carried. Noted Rupture Expert Here Seely, Who Fitted the Czar of Russia, Will Be at the Boyd Hotel, Wayne. F. H. Seely of Chicago and Philadelphia, the noted truss expert, will be at the Boyd hotel and will remain in Wayne this Sunday and Monday only, January 15 and 16. Mr. Seely says: "The Spermatic Shield Truss as now used and approved by the United States government will not only retain any case of rupture perfectly, affording immediate relief, but closes the opening in 10 days on the average case, and costing only proportionate with common trusses." This instrument received the only award in England and Spain, producing results without surgery or harmful injections. Mr. Seely has documentary references from the United States government, Washington, D. C., for your inspection. All charity cases without charge, or if any interested, call he will be glad to show the truss without charge or fit them if desired. Anyone ruptured should remember the date and take advantage of this unusual opportunity. Home Establishment, 70 Dearborn Street, Chicago. Vital Necessity. Wounds cannot be cured unless they are probed.—Livy.

HAPPINESS IN IDEAL STATE It is Relative Thing, Depending on Environment, Previous Conditions and Status of Mind. Happiness is the supreme object of man largely, we may suppose, because it is an ideal state, which few beings have attained except for short periods in their existence. Perhaps this is because happiness is a relative thing, depending on environment, previous conditions, and the status of the individual's mind. Just as to the man who has been out in the winter's cold a room in which the temperature is 50 degrees will seem warm, so one who has been buffeted about in the battle with the world, beaten down at every turn will find much happiness in a status which to another would be supreme unhappiness. Happiness depends on one's training, and still more on the natural tendencies of a person. One man finds delight to books, in earnest study all his life; another finds joy in the open, communing with nature. One holding money before him as the great goal obtains comparative happiness in obtaining it. Another finds in the love of wife and children even greater happiness, albeit he have but the simple means of living. Ingersoll would rather have been the poor peasant toiling in his rocky fields for bread than Napoleon with all his glory. Caesar would rather have been first in a little Iberian village than second in Rome. Woolsey, after a long life spent in the service of his king, died regretting that he had not served God with half the zeal he had served his earthly master. FARMING BACK IN 1800 Agriculturist Lived in the Simplest Manner and in the Strictest Economy. In a well built cabin of logs the farmer lived in the simplest manner and with the strictest economy. His rooms were warmed and his food was cooked by a fire in a 10-plate iron stove, which sent the gases up the flue of a solitary chimney that rose from the middle of the house. His food was chiefly pork and rye, onions and sauerkraut, milk and cheese, turnips and Indian corn. Sometimes fresh meat was added. But no beefs nor sheep were slaughtered till every part of the carcass had been disposed of among the families on the neighboring farms. With this exception, everything he ate grew upon his own land. Everything he wore was made under his own roof. The good wife and her daughters cultivated the garden patch that lay near the house, trained the honeysuckles that shaded the door, spun the flax and woven yarn, worked the loom, made the cheese and butter and, when harvest came, toiled with the sickle in the field. If he had a servant on the farm, the man or woman was a redemptioner.—From McMaster's "History of the American People." Winning Cockerel

The winning Barred Plymouth Rock cockerel at the Poultry Show held at Norfolk recently was one purchased of me a few days previous for $4. It is doubtful if this bird could be purchased today for $25. I have dozens of birds of the same quality, some better, at $4. The big, well advertised breeders will ask you three or four times this money for the same stock.

It stands unrivalled as a remedy for all throat and lung diseases. Sold by all dealers.

Uncle Eben. "Some men," said Uncle Eben, "has a way of telling you to be good that soun's like dey thought dey was improvin' on de Ten Commandments."

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is not a common, every-day cough mixture. It is a meritorious remedy for all the troublesome and dangerous complications resulting from cold in the head, throat, chest or lungs. Sold by all dealers.

At His Request? "At our church," said little Kitty to the caller, "the women are just as polite as the men. They take off their hats to the preacher."

Have you a weak throat? If so, you cannot be too careful. You can not begin treatment too early. Each cold makes you more liable to another and the last is always the harder to cure. If you will take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy at the outset you will be saved much trouble. Sold by all dealers.

Stimulated Interest. Harlow—"Jimson seems to have a wonderful amount of adaptability." Barlow—"You bet he has. Why, I once saw him get excited over a game of chess."

The busiest and mightiest little thing that ever was made is Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They do the work when ever you require their aid. These tablets change weakness into strength, listlessness into energy, gloominess into joyousness. Their action is so gentle one don't realize they have taken a purgative. Sold by all dealers.

The Philosopher of Folly. "God bless our wives," exclaims the Philosopher of Folly. "Every time we lose our jobs they spread the news that we quit to accept a much larger salary elsewhere."

FOR LAGRIPPE COUGHS AND STIFFY COLDS

Take Foley's Honey and Tar. It gives quick relief and expels the cold from your system. It contains no opiates, is safe and sure. Felber's Pharmacy.

When the Hair Darkens. Hair darkens some 55 per cent. during the first five years of life, and a further 33 per cent. up to the age of 45. This darkening is more marked to males than in females.

LOOK FOR THE BEE HIVE

On the package when you buy Foley's Honey and Tar for coughs and colds. None genuine without the Bee Hive. Remember the name, Foley's Honey and Tar and reject any substitute. Felber's Pharmacy.

Something of a Novelty. "Come on and go to the theater with me this afternoon." "Anything special?" "A professional elocutionist is going to try to recite 'Curfew Shall Not Ring Tonight,' with her hands tied."—Houston Post.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY REMEDY—AN APPRECIATION

L. McConnell, Catherine St., Elmira, N. Y., writes: "I wish to express my appreciation of the great good I derived from Foley's Kidney Remedy, which I used for a bad case of kidney trouble. Five bottles did the work most effectively and proved to me beyond doubt it is the most reliable kidney medicine I have ever taken." Felber's Pharmacy.

The Simple Truth. Famous Painter (angrily)—"I hear, sir, that you're boasting that you studied art under me?" Near-Painter (calmly)—"And so I did, sir, so I did—why, I occupied a room under your studio for nearly a month!"

A RELIABLE COUGH MEDICINE

Is a valuable family friend. Foley's Honey and Tar fulfills this condition exactly. Mrs. Charles Kline, N. 8th St., Easton, Pa., states: "Several members of my family have been cured of bad coughs and colds by the use of Foley's Honey and Tar and I am never without a bottle in the house. It soothes and relieves the irritation in the throat and loosens up the cold. I have always found it a reliable cough cure." Felber's Pharmacy.

Present-Day Evil. It is the habit of calling black things by white names which is responsible for so much of the jellyfish morality of the present day.—Exchange.

FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS

Are tonic in action, quick in results. A special medicine for all kidney and bladder disorders. Mary C. Abbot, Wolfeboro, N. H., says: "I was afflicted with a bad case of rheumatism, due to uric acid that my kidneys failed to clear out of my blood. I was so lame in my feet, joints, and back that it was agony for me to step. I used Foley's Kidney Pills for three days when I was able to get up and move about and the pains were all gone. This great change in condition I owe to Foley's Kidney Pills and recommend them to anyone suffering as I have." Felber's Pharmacy.

Here's A New And Better Way To Keep Things Clean

Avoid drudgery in the kitchen in cleaning pots, kettles and pans, in scrubbing floors, cleaning wood-work, bath-tubs and keeping things clean throughout the house. Old Dutch Cleanser has revolutionized house work. This new, handy all-round Cleanser does the work of all old-fashioned cleansers put together.

Old Dutch Cleanser Cleans Scrubs Scours and Polishes

In the kitchen, pantry, dairy, bath-rooms, bedrooms, parlor and throughout the house. It keeps everything clean and spotless, from milk-pails and separators to wood floors, wood-work, bath tubs, etc. The Easier and Quicker Way. Wet the article, sprinkle Old Dutch Cleanser on cloth or brush and rub well, rinse with clean water and wipe dry.
