STATE NORMAL INSPECTED

SENATE COMMITTEE HERE

Members of Upper Legislative Branch Ascertain Needs of the Local Institution.

On Tuesday the State Normal school was honored by a visit from the public lands and buildings committee of the senate. This committee consists of the following members: John E. Reagan, Douglas, chairman; Phil H. Koller, Wayne; George W. Tibbels, Adams; W. B. Banning, Cass; Fred Volpp Dodge, E. E. Placek, Saunders; James B. McGrew, Franklin; Henry H. Bartling, Otoe, and L. A. Varner, Johnson. Every member of the committee was present and the afternoon was spent in looking over the buildings and grounds of the Normal with a view to learn the needs of the institution and to report conditions back to the senate. The committee reached the school at 10 o'clock and were taken direct to the chapel where they were received very enthusiastically by the faculty and student body. After several fine musical selections by the orchestra and brief devotional exercises conducted by Rev. Mr. Corkey the hour was spent in listening to addresses by the various members of the committee. The senators expressed themselves as being highly pleased with the beautiful location, and congratulated the school upon its remarkable growth during the past few months.

Upon introducing Senator Banning, President Conn recalled the time when the Nebraska Normal college bill was pending in the legislative session of 1909. Friends of the measure had pushed it successfully through the house, and, despite the fact that the finance ways and means committee of the senate had submitted an adverse report recommending the bill for indefinite postponement, it was passed to a third reading. When placed upon final passage the vote stood 16 for and 16 against. One senator was absent, and under a call of the senate, the sergeant-at-arms was dispatched to bring in the missing member. After a diligent search he was found in the office of the governor and escorted to the senate chamber where they were waiting for him to answer to roll call. The vote of house roll No. 139 depended upon the vote of one man, and when Senator Banning of Cass county was recorded in the affirmative the bill authorizing the establishment of a state normal school at Wayne had passed both branches of the state legislature and was ready for the signature of the governor.

At 12:15 the committee gathered in the large dining-hall and were entertained at luncheon by President Conn. The senators were served with the regular student fare and were greatly surprised to learn that the dinner they were enjoying was furnished at a cost of a little less than twelve cents. Having concluded their inspection of the State Normal, members of the committee were tendered a reception at the club rooms in the second story of the new Bressler building. Business men met the senators, and tried to make their sojourn pleasant. The visitors were impressed with the needs of school, and expressed themselves as favorable to liberal action on the part of the legislature. Senators visiting this part of the state for the first time were surprised at the evidence of wealth and prosperity. They usually conceded that this is the richest part of the state in agriculture, but the one most neglected in the way of legislation. They seemed to appreciate the possibilities for the Wayne school if properly aided by the state. The members of the commercial deserve credit for the active manner in which they entertained the visitors and boosted for the Wayne institution.

SOCIAL EVENTS OF THE WEEK

Rural Home Society.

The Rural Home society met at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. J. McIntosh last Saturday, and the husbands of the members being invited to join in the festivities of the day. The ladies brought well-filled baskets of eatables, and at 12:30 o'clock an excellent three-course dinner was served. During the dinner hour the crowd was lighted with some fine music rendered by Miss Hazel McIntosh. Music and social amenities made the afternoon pass swiftly and pleasantly. Misses Hazel and Mable McIntosh and Jean Palmer gave by vocal and instrumental selections, and kept the party in a merry mood. The supply of provisions was so far from exhausted that the crowd remained for supper, and the evening meal was heartily enjoyed. The shades of evening had fallen before they expressed gratitude to Mr. and Mrs. McIntosh and dispersed. The day was a joyous one, and will long be remembered. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Palmer.

Minerva Club.

The Minerva club will meet January 31, with Mrs. Grothe as hostess, carrying out the following program. Roll call. Quotations from a president. McKinley. January 31. As a youth. Mrs. Mink

WINSIDE HOTEL HAS A SCARE

FIRE NARROWLY AVERTED

Some One Forgets to Shut Off Flow of Oil, and When Burner is Lighted, Flames Spread.

The Commercial hotel at Winside had a narrow escape from a serious fire this morning. Only prompt and effective action prevented destruction. An oil burner is used in the cooking range, with a tank three or four feet away. Last night the one in charge forgot to shut off the oil, and the inflammable fluid filled the ash pan and covered the kitchen floor during the night. When at 6:30 this morning the burner was lighted, flames enveloped the stove and scattered over the floor. The alarm was turned in, and the hose company hastened to the hotel. In the meantime the hotel proprietor with his helpers fought the fire successfully, and it was extinguished before it became necessary to throw water from the public main. Fortunately no damage was done, but all concerned were frightened for a time. The oil burner was not at fault in the least. The trouble was due purely to carelessness in not turning off the flow of oil.

NEWS FROM WAYNE SCHOOLS

The attendance in the lower grades is poor this week.
Much preparation is being made for the preliminary debating and declamatory contest which is to be held soon.
New classes organized in the high school this week are botany, agriculture, physiology, English history and debating and argumentation.
The reports for the first semester will be given out this week. Examination your child's report for the first half-year carefully and see whether there is anything wherein you can help him improve the next half-year report.

On Monday morning President Turner of Hastings college made a most helpful and entertaining address to our high school. Mr. Turner's theme was "Do one thing—Do it the hard way—Do it well—Do it all the time," and very impressively taught that the highest standard of culture is developed by following this motto. He also spoke on the advantages of the educated over those without education. Dr. Turner won the admiration of all the students and was heartily applauded.

HARTINGTON MURDER CASE

A special to the Sioux City Journal of yesterday morning speaks of the preparation for the trial of Maggie Davis, charged with the murder of Ira Churchill. The account says: Preparations for the trial of Maggie Davis for the murder of Ira Churchill, a prosperous farmer, at the Mansfield, Mo. court, are being made by the attorneys for the defense and prosecution.
At the trial Judge Graves will occupy the bench, and the state of Nebraska will be represented by the newly elected county attorney, Frank O'Gara, assisted by other able counsel. The new county attorney will endeavor to "win his spurs" in the big case with which his term of office is to be initiated.

R. J. Millard, head counsel for the defense, one of the leading criminal lawyers in northwest Nebraska, is working hard on the case, and also expresses great confidence in the result.
It is generally supposed that insanity will be the plea of the defense. Is Maggie Davis insane? Was she insane when she killed Ira Churchill? Was there justification in the events of the preceding months for her crime? These and many others will be the questions which will be in every mouth before long.

Meanwhile, Maggie Davis sits and waits. There are no outbreaks, no paroxysms of crying now. She is very quiet, very composed, very patient. When she was first conducted to her cell she at once set about making it homelike and comfortable. She has some plants in her window in which she spends much time every day. She is a great reader, and passes many hours poring over books which have been supplied her.

Rev. C. D. Gearhart who was here for a few days visiting at the David Cunningham home left Tuesday for his home at Burwell, Neb. Mrs. Gearhart remains for a more extended visit.

Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Gamble expect to leave soon for southern California to spend a few months. They will buy round-trip tickets good for nine months, and will return when they grow tired of the west.

While in Lincoln last Friday on legal business, Fred S. Berry took occasion to visit William Flege at the penitentiary. He says Flege does not look well, having lost considerable but says he expressed hope as to the final outcome.

Dr. A. White, father of Mrs. J. F. Chikenbeard, is very ill, and his recovery is considered doubtful. Dr. and Mrs. White came here recently.

Rev. H. H. Harmon will give his lecture, describing his recent visit to the land of Jesus and the Prophets, on Thursday evening of this week, January 26.

Winside Tribune: Rev. Fetzer had the misfortune to lose his colic a few days ago. The colic was in a pasture in the country and when found one of its legs was broken being one of his bad cuts and it had to be shot. Besides the pecuniary loss, the colic was a pet with the family and they had made great calculations of driving it the coming summer.

The second story of the Allen opera house, occupied as lodge rooms, was considerably damaged by fire of unknown origin on Wednesday night of last week. The news says a "Hoskins family" who occupy the house adjoining this building, had most of their goods on the street and suffered considerable loss by breakage in moving.

TEN MILLION PEOPLE IN THE CANADIAN WEST BY 1920

"Toronto Star," Dec. 16th, 1910. The prediction is made that before 1920 Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia will have ten million people. It is made not by a sanguine Western journal but by that very sober business newspaper, the New York Commercial.

All these estimates of population are in the nature of guesses, and must not be read too literally. But the enormous area of wheat-growing land, the rapid construction of railroads, and the large volume of immigration are facts which must be recognized.

While production in Canada is still running ahead of consumption at a prodigious rate, consumption in the United States is overtaking production, and the surplus for export is growing smaller year by year. It is true that the United States is now producing wheat for its far away.

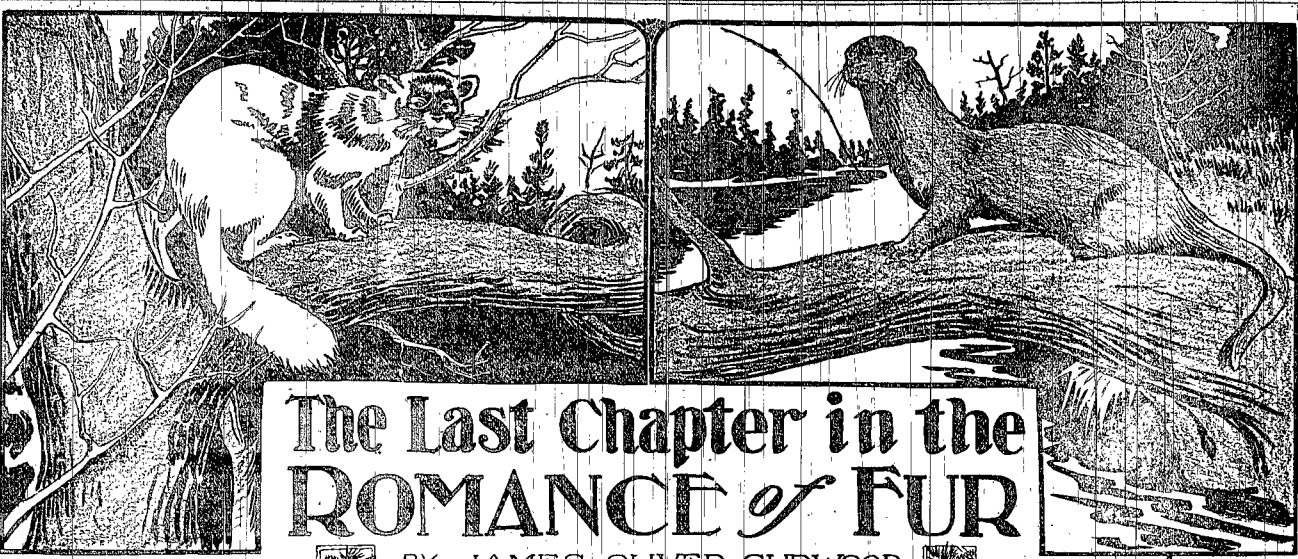

It must be remembered that while the Northern States resemble Canada in climate and products, the resemblance diminishes as you go southward. The wheat belt gives place to a corn belt, and this again to semi-tropical regions producing cotton, tobacco, citrus, oranges and other tropical fruits.

The man who secures a farm in Western Canada at the present time secures an investment better than the best of bond or any government or bank. It is no unusual thing for a farmer in Western Canada to realize a profit of from $5 to $10 per acre.

Mrs. Stokson Bonds—Stockton, that stenographer of yours is what I think is the habit of whistling when she is not working.

IT IS A MISTAKE Many have the idea that anything will sell if advertised strongly enough. This is a great mistake. True, a few sales might be made by advertising in an absolutely worthless article but it is only the articles that pay.

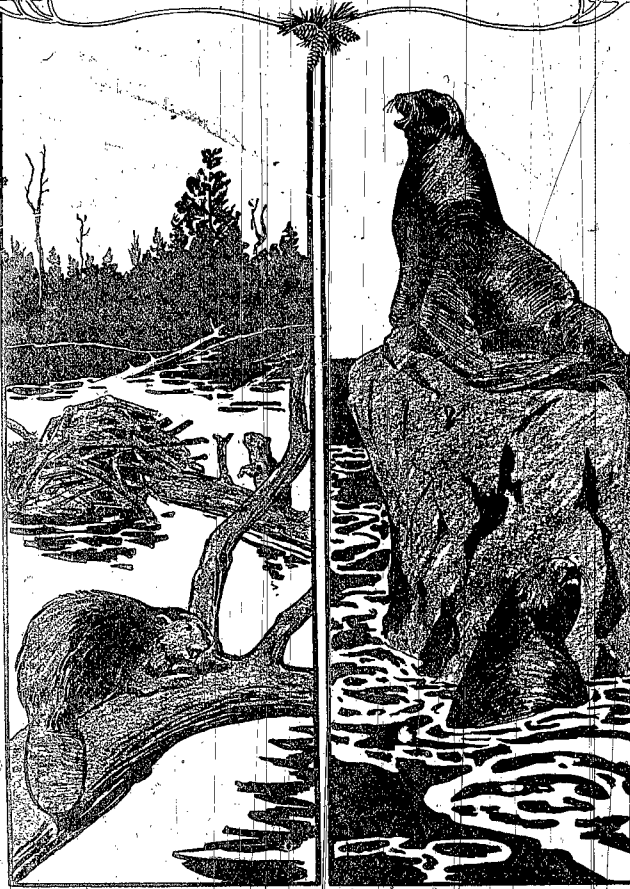

Farmer Göbel (heartily)—The longer you stay, the better, miss! Fact is, the birds have been very troublesome this season. (Loves, London, Tattler)

The Last Chapter in the ROMANCE of FUR

BY JAMES OLIVER CURWOOD

THE day of romances—romance of the old sort, of pirate-riden seas, of peril-riden lands of gold, of strange and unknown countries filled with the lure that has drawn men from the beginning of time—has rapidly passed away. It is followed now by the romance of iron and steel, the romance of invention, of progress, of a civilization that is fast crushing out the last vestige of the primitive and adding each day new chapters to its own marvelous achievements.

For three thousand years the pelt of wild beasts have played their part in the lives of men. For the last ten centuries fur has played an important part in history. It has held out the lure of romance—of adventure and gold. It has caused wars, and has led to the discovery of new lands.

Last year the raw fur industry of the world amounted to forty million dollars. Next year it will be fifty million, and the year after that the figures will be larger still. Five years ago it was less than twenty millions. Yet in spite of these figures—in the face of the fact that the fur trade of the world is increasing in value each year, and will continue to increase for perhaps another decade, the furred things of the earth are fast becoming extinct.

These statements are not made at random, but only after the closest personal investigation of the fur situation as it exists today, and after a long acquaintance with the great fur companies, buyers, and trappers. But a few facts are necessary to show that millions upon millions of fur animals have gone on during the past decade.

The world's prosperity and its rapid increase in population are, of course, the chief causes of the extinction of fur. As recently as ten years ago the people of the United States were not counted among the great buyers of fur. Now the majority of women among ninety million people are purchasers of fur of one kind or another.

London and Paris have now taken second and third places in the actual making of fur garments, though London handles more raw fur than the other two combined. Last year the value of New York's "finished" output was nearly $20,000,000, and fully sixty per cent of this was represented by the furs, which a few years ago were considered almost worthless.

The silver and black are now so rare that they are "bid" for only by dukes and duchesses, the rulers and the heirs of kingdoms and empires. Seldom does one sell in the London or Paris markets for less than from $700 to $1,000. A year ago one pelt sold for $400. In this same way are being sold the black and the little white ermine whose pelt has been worn in the robes of royalty for more than seven centuries.

London and Paris have now taken second and third places in the actual making of fur garments, though London handles more raw fur than the other two combined. Last year the value of New York's "finished" output was nearly $20,000,000, and fully sixty per cent of this was represented by the furs, which a few years ago were considered almost worthless.

"Three years will clean out the cheaper class of fur," said a Montreal buyer to me, "and then the real famine will be at hand." This passing of the old romance of fur is marked not only by the paths of the furred things themselves, but by that of the wild and picturesque life of those thousands of wilderness people whose centuries-old livelihood must go with the things which gave it birth.

It is a land where for six months out of the year man's life is a bitter fight against deep snows and fierce blizzards against hardships of all kinds, starvation, and a cold that reaches sixty degrees below zero and which is so "dry" that one may freeze almost to the point of death without being aware of special discomfort or pain.

A constant stream of treasure for nearly two and a half centuries. Last year, according to Canadian export figures, this treasure amounted to $2,719,822, but no credit was given for the enormous home consumption of raw pelts. The actual catch was worth at least $5,500,000. The coming season will see $7,000,000 worth of furs caught in Canada, in spite of the fact that the annual number of skins will be at least a quarter less than a year ago.

In a vast desolation one-third as large as the whole of Europe there is no railroad, no white man's village, and its population is less than that of the Sahara Desert. In its center is Hudson's Bay, the great "ice box" of the north—nine times as large as the state of Ohio. Over this vast territory at distances of from one to three hundred miles apart are scattered the Hudson's Bay Company's posts and those of its French competitors, the Revellon Brothers.

From the moment he leaves his door to go over his line, three days' supply of food and a thick blanket in his pack-sack, a knife, a belt-ax and a rifle as weapons, every foot filled with excitement for the hunter of fur. On his snowshoes he speeds swiftly from trap to trap, revealing the mysteries of the wild things to him as plainly as a picture-book.

With the first breath of winter the fur-gatherers begin to bury themselves in the vast desolation about them, traveling one and sometimes two hundred miles away from the post to their old trapping grounds.

It is in order that your mind may be refreshed, I am herewith enclosing a copy of your good letter, also a copy of the little book, and if you will give me the privilege of printing this story of your signature, I will accompany the writing with an explanation as to why your permitted its use in publication in order to refute falsehoods, and under that method of treatment, I feel so far as I know, there would be no reach of the robe of ethics.

Early Marriages Are Best.

To Grow Alike in Tastes and Hopes and Aims is Certain in Youthful Pair. deplora the bad old times when they were all too common; yet, for so-called "boy-and-girl" marriages, there are many things to be said.

It must be acknowledged, however, that at subjects for youthful marriages are considerably more rare than they were in the last two genera-and this probably has much to do with the prejudice against such marriages. Husband and wife must be friends—congenial companions—or there can be no lasting happiness for either.

There are certainly the hooker, anyway, which makes and makes him who are so young that they have not yet gotten their own babyhood, and so bring a ray and comprehending sympathy to childish joys and woes, they thrive as only in the atmosphere that suits them children, do thrive, and grow up with never a hint of advantage in their parents to adduce them.

The Oldest Established Paper in Wayne County... Entered at the postoffice at Wayne, Nebraska as second class mail matter...

Some people feel hateful naturally. They suffer a mental disease which breeds prejudice and hate. Their limited brains are idle unless they are revolving ugly thoughts or berating some neighbor.

The latest market reports are very encouraging. They show an increased demand for manufactured goods, and a healthy condition generally.

A private letter to the editor from the state auditor's office comments in high terms the report recently made to that department by County Treasurer Beebe.

The list of bills before the legislature asking for appropriations includes one of $55,000 for a new building at the Wayne Normal.

The feeling that money spent for road improvement is not effective in producing results commensurate with the cost, has inspired several bills before the legislature.

Accompanying a picture of Representative Bartels, the Lincoln Journal says he is the representative of Wayne county, neglecting to mention that Stanton county is also in this district.

Consideration of a bill to provide money for improvements to the present statehouse will start the cannonading over capitol removal.

S. R. Theobald calls attention to the need of a pool at this place for boys to bathe and learn to swim.

Cold storage plants are indispensable to proper regulation of markets, though sometimes the power they possess is abused, and prices are accordingly boosted by an unsatisfied demand to an unreasonably high level.

The spiteful nature is so manifestly childish and cussed, that its poisoned darts, aimed at another, usually return, like a boomerang, to afflict the one who sends them.

The Omaha Trade Exhibit contends that parcels post extension is inevitable, but that it can be made operative without the least damage to retailers in small cities of the country.

A woman has a potent influence in shaping the trend of a man's life, and figures largely in his success or failure.

he soon left the state, in time married again, his political star sank, and triumphs that reflected credit on his name, ceased.

When a case of disease requiring quarantine restrictions breaks out, people torture themselves with much fright that is needless.

Shallow, prejudiced newspaper clack often does a good man a great injustice. Judge Smith of Council Bluffs, who has just been appointed to the federal bench, has been criticized because his practice in congress did not suggest destruction nor smell of bribe.

A co-operative movement at Hartington to discourage patronage going to foreign houses, and stimulate local trade, suggests a plan that might well be taken and followed at Wayne.

The suggestion met with an unanimous and ready response and this week beholds the inception of the Home Trade movement, a movement which we are disposed to believe will result in permanent good to the business interests of this city.

From the standpoint of this paper, the situation as it exists today spells opportunity for the city of Hartington and, as long as the business men continue as responsive as they have already shown themselves, the Herald will labor cheerfully to protect and promote our mutual interests.

Whereas, it has pleased Almighty God to call, from our midst to his eternal home, our esteemed brother, Edward T. Rennick, Therefore be it resolved: First, that in the death of brother Edward T. Rennick, Wayne lodge number 118 H. O. F. has lost a faithful and highly esteemed brother, and the community an upright and honorable citizen.

Uncle Walt The Poet Philosopher

A strange, weird beast of dingy gray, he goes his silent, lonely way. Domestic joys are not for him; he wanders where the lights are dim; the fireside, where the Tabbies dream, to Tom does not allure; not alluring seem, no childish hands do him bedeck, he wears no ribbon on his neck.

I'm sitting in my easy chair before the fireside's cheerful glare. All modern comforts are at hand; electric lights and music canned; the triumphs that great men have wrought are gathered in my cozy cot.

A horse brought to an evil pass, was given speech, like Balaam's ass, and it remarked, in mournful tones, while rude winds chilled its ancient bones: "My master sits beside the fire, and there he'll talk, and never tire, of equal rights, square deals and things of which the jawsmith always sings, and I stand haltered to a post, most ready to give up the ghost."

The simple fact of the matter is that the stores of Hartington are abundantly equipped to meet all the demands of the people of this vicinity; and, if through the gentle stimulus of this movement, buyer and seller can be brought into closer touch with each other untold good will result.

W. H. Houguewood, of Wayne, Neb., says: "About a year ago my back was so painful and lame that I could scarcely get up after sitting. Other symptoms of kidney trouble left no doubt as to what sort of treatment was needed. Doan's Kidney Pills had been used in our home for a similar complaint and had given such great benefit that I finally decided to take them. I was not disappointed with the results. I found relief almost immediately and in a short time completely cured. The bores all come to my roost," he said, "and oft I'm wishing that I were dead! They ask me questions and poke my slats, and borrow stogies and kick my cats." Then the great man asked me to kindly fit, and turned a handspan and had a fit. I stole a hen from her nest of eggs, and left the place on my speedy legs, and sadly muttered: "To see the great but makes one glad he's a common skater."

legs, and sadly muttered: "To see the great but makes one glad he's a common skater."

O rattlesnake Jim was an ornery limb, who waded knee-deep in golf; he carried a gun that weighed half a ton, he snorted and rapped and swore. He painted things red and buried his dead, and bluffed all the people down, till Alkali Jay, on his ewe-necked bay, came pestering into town.

The rich man gives ten million yen to benefit his fellowmen. And when he takes it from the bin where he has stored the shining tin, he still has hoards of grandy plunks, and bullion lying round in chunks. Before he shuts the cellar door the bin is full and running o'er, for money's piling in so fast the little hole he made can't last. Yet I applaud these wealthy ducks who cast abroad their silver bucks. If millionaires could only live a thousand years, they'd learn to give according to the wholesome plan that's common to the working man. I saw a man in flannel shirt, a man begrimed with grease and dirt dig up his little wad of green to help a man he'd never seen. He gave five bones he had but ten to help his unknown fellowmen, and he had worked, day after day, to earn the plunks he gave away. It seems to me this working man looks big beside the million man. I'll bet recording angels wink when millionaires hand out their chink.

Lincoln Journal: A man without conceit doesn't amount to much, at least in his own estimation, so it is pardonable in one to think well of himself if he doesn't overdo the job. It is hardly possible for any man to be of as much consequence in the world as some men think themselves for none are remembered long after the carriages return to town and the hic jacket is erected above the crumbling dust. A man should so order his doing and coming as to have a right to think well of himself, but he deserves no special meed of praise from himself or others from the ability he may have acquired for doing others instead of doing for them. If his life of service has been simply service to himself; and if extortion has been one of his methods of "getting to the front," he deserves condemnation rather than praise. What are you? That is the only pertinent question. If you are a white man; if you are just and fair and square and honest and law-abiding, you deserve the respect of men, and have a right to respect yourself, but there is such a thing as carrying the joke too far. Be modest lest you lay claim to virtues that you do not possess.

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to all who in any way assisted us during the sickness and death of our beloved husband and father, to the kind physician, the singers and ladies who assisted us in our home and for the beautiful flowers and expressions of sympathy. Ada Rennick and family. Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Wright.

(1) Verses 1-4—What advantage was it to Jehoshaphat in being the son of a good father and the successor of a good king?

(2) Does a good predecessor, in any position lessen or increase the responsibilities of his successor? Why?

(3) What did Jehoshaphat do to protect his kingdom and how did it show wisdom?

(4) What should we do to protect ourselves from our spiritual enemies?

(5) What king or kings reigned in Israel while Jehoshaphat reigned in Judah?

(6) Why was God so good to Jehoshaphat?

(7) If a man is true, all roads to God, does that alone guarantee his success?

(8) Verses 5-6—Which gives us the greater influence, and why, great ability or thorough goodness? (This question must be answered in writing by members of the club.)

(9) What are the qualities in us which tend most to make people love and be kind to us?

(10) Is it possible for everybody to have his heart "lifted up in the ways of the Lord," and what are its advantages?

(11) Will love and loyalty to God guarantee us against the seduction of riches and every other temptation, also against every other real loss?

(12) Verses 7-8—What is the chief guarantee of the permanent success of this country?

(13) What are the three public institutions upon which we most depend for our true prosperity?

(14) What analogy is there between the methods of Jehoshaphat and that of our public schools, and adult Bible classes?

(15) Verse 9—Is view of the moral grandeur of the Bible, what can you say for, or against, the State making its teaching compulsory in the public schools?

(16) Why ought not all adults, whether professed Christians or not, attend and take part in some adult Bible class?

(17) Verses 10-11—Taking the world as it is, which is the stronger influence a great nation like this can exert among the nations, and against invasion, a powerful navy or loving righteousness?

Monday's Norfolk News: Randolph is quarantined with thirty to forty cases of smallpox. All public buildings, including churches and schools, are closed. News of the epidemic reached Norfolk Saturday from a Randolph citizen, in a telephone message.

Baby won't suffer five minutes with croup if you apply Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil at once. It acts like magic.

Secure From Disaster. He who, with good health, has a true friend, may laugh adversity to scorn, and defy the world.

Regulates the bowels, promotes easy natural movements, cures constipation—Doan's Regulents. Ask your druggist for them. 25 cents a box.

Beginning of Development. When the fight begins with himself, a man's worth is something—Browning.

For either acute or chronic kidney disorders, take Foley's Kidney Pills. An honest and effective medicine for kidney and bladder disorders. Felter's Pharmacy.

"Blister-Roos" Pipes. "Blister-roos" pipes are really made from brusser root, which is the root of the white heat of the Mediterranean. Corsica supplies most of the material.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is not a common, every-day cough mixture. It is a meritorious remedy for all the troublesome and dangerous complications resulting from cold in the head, throat, chest or lungs.

A Long Wait. A party of East Indian natives were found sitting in a row on the platform of a station after the train had left, and being asked the reason, one of the men replied, "Oh, sahib, we are waiting till the tickets are cheaper."—London Globe.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a very valuable medicine for throat and lung trouble, quickly relieves and cures painful breathing and a dangerously sounding cough which indicates congested lungs. Sold by all dealers.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy never disappoints those who use it for obstinate coughs, colds and irritations of the throat and lungs. Stands unrivaled as a remedy for all throat and lung diseases. Sold by all dealers.

Her Idea. "But what do you keep it in that case for?" "Madam, that is a snobbard; all swords are kept in snobbards." "A sword? Why, I thought it was a hatpin."—Houston Post.

Have you a weak throat? If so, you cannot be too careful. You cannot begin treatment too early. Each cold makes you more liable to another and the last is always the harder to cure. If you will take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy at the outset you will be saved much trouble. Sold by all dealers.

Indiana Strong Swimmers. Some of the Indians of South America are powerful swimmers and use the stroke popularly known as the "Australian crawl," which, however, they discovered for themselves.

The busiest and mightiest little thing that ever was made is Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They do the work when ever you require their aid. These tablets change weakness into strength, listlessness into energy, gloominess into joyousness. Their action is so gentle one don't realize they have taken a purgative. Sold by all dealers.

Competition That Counted. The first direct cable between Argentina and Europe was opened a short time ago. The other cable company at once reduced the rates to the United States by 15 cents a word.

FOR LAGRIFFE COUGHS AND STIFFY COLDS

Take Foley's Honey and Tar. It gives quick relief and expels the cold from your system. It contains no opiates, is safe and sure. Felter's Pharmacy.

A Snuff-Taker's Text. There is a story of a clergyman who, mounting the pulpit for the sermon, refreshed himself with several pinches of snuff before announcing his text. This, aptly enough, was, "My soul cleaveth unto the dust."

LOOK FOR THE BEE HIVE

On the package when you buy Foley's Honey and Tar for coughs and colds. None genuine without the Bee Hive. Remember the name, Foley's Honey and Tar and reject any substitute. Felter's Pharmacy.

Tabby Cats From Bagdad. Tabby cats are so called from the resemblance of their markings to a kind of watered silk called tabby, after the name of the quarter of Bagdad where it was originally made, which in turn was derived from one Prince Attab.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY REMEDY—AN APPRECIATION

L. McConnell, Catherine St., Elmira, N. Y., writes: "I wish to express my appreciation of the great good derived from Foley's Kidney Remedy, which I used for a bad case of kidney trouble. Five bottles did the work most effectively and proved to me beyond doubt it is the most reliable kidney medicine I have ever taken." Felter's Pharmacy.

Gets Comfort From License. "Every time the automobile breaks down, I notice you examining your state license." "I do that for encouragement. The license says I'm competent to operate the machine."—Holston Chronicle.

A RELIABLE COUGH MEDICINE

Is a valuable family friend. Foley's Honey and Tar fulfills this condition exactly. Mrs. Charles Kline, N. 8th St., Easton, Pa., states: "Several members of my family have been cured of bad coughs and colds by the use of Foley's Honey and Tar and I am never without a bottle in the house. It soothes and relieves the irritation in the throat and loosens up the cold. I have always found it a reliable cough cure." Felter's Pharmacy.

In New York's Early Days. The west end of Trinity churchyard used to be a high bluff. It was a favorite resort for the inhabitants in that part of New York. From the top there was an uninterrupted view of the Hudson. It was in early days as much of a promenade as is Riverside at the present time.

FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS

Are tonic in action, quick in results. A special medicine for all kidney and bladder disorders. Mary C. Abbot, Wolfelton, N. H., says: "I was afflicted with a bad case of rheumatism, due to uric acid that my kidneys failed to clear out of my blood. I was so lame in my feet, joints, and back that it was agony for me to step. I used Foley's Kidney Pills for three days when I was able to get up and move about and the pains were all gone. This great change in condition I owe to Foley's Kidney Pills and recommend them to anyone suffering as I have." Felter's Pharmacy.

Many in this vicinity are experiencing the sensations of an attack of grip. Paul Wohlfel, E. LaPlant and many others are among the victims.

School was re-opened on Monday morning of this week. The danger of the spread of smallpox has passed and the school board thought it best to continue the school work.

The same teachers will have charge of the school during the term of 1911-12 as have had charge the present year. All teachers have been hired for a term of three years.

Asher Hurlbert suffered the loss of a young horse on Tuesday of this week. He was breaking the animal when it suddenly threw itself and came down on its neck, breaking it and causing death.

Word has been received from John Davis, who is in North Dakota, that there is a foot of snow or better, on the level in that country. And yet they say that Nebraska is not a good place to live.

CARROLL VICINITY.

Martha Wagner is on the sick list this week.

Phil Horn and family moved to Colorado Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Spickler were Wayne visitors last week.

Miss Frances Bartels was a passenger for Wayne Saturday.

James Wollam moved to the farm recently vacated by W. H. Barbee.

H. C. Bartels returned to Lincoln Monday, having been home over Sunday.

A fine livery barn is being erected on the lots where the old one was destroyed.

Will Phillips will farm the D. M. Davis land one and one-half miles north of town this year.

As usual the Baptist ladies served dinner Saturday, the pavilion sale day, and a neat profit was realized.

Godfrey Larson moved to the Shannon farm east of town and will work for Lee Mason the coming year.

E. H. Busch went to Dixon Tuesday to attend the farm sale of his son-in-law, Albert Reap, which was held on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mick are visiting friends and relatives in Iowa, and it is reported that they will reside there the coming year, renting their farm here to their son.

The Baptist church is holding revival meetings this week. A very forceful speaker is here helping in the services, and they have already succeeded in getting several converts.

George Getman and family who recently returned from Washington, are spending the week at the home of John Getman east of town. George is trying to rent a farm for the year but most of the farms are rented.

HOSKINS.

Mrs. Ave is on the sick list.

Mrs. Carl Busse was a Winsad visitor Saturday.

Mr. C. W. Manke gave a very successful moving picture show in the hall Tuesday evening.

Don't Miss the Auction Sale

at Ahern's Tomorrow and Saturday The Two Last Days

This is the Greatest Money Saving Opportunity of the Whole Year

The Winter Goods are being sold at Auction to the Highest Bidder. All week we have been auctioning these goods and they have been selling at ridiculously low prices. We shall continue to sell them that way if necessary until they are all gone. Why do we employ this unusual manner of selling these goods and at prices that mean a loss to us? Because we know from experience that it pays to keep a stock like ours new, fresh and up-to-date. Next fall our winter goods will all be new (you will like that and come here to trade.) You won't find any moth-eaten underwear, or rotted overshoes, or tattered wool blankets, or out-of-date coats, or out-of-style shoes—or old goods of any kind—at Ahern's next year. We know it pays to sell this year's goods THIS YEAR even at a loss and we are doing it. It is your chance to get the big bargains of the year. Coats, Furs, Underwear, Blankets, Wool Hose, Shoes, Overshoes, Sweaters, and other winter goods are put up at auction tomorrow and Saturday at 2 o'clock and sold to the Highest Bidder. Come early and examine the goods. Clyde Oman, Auctioneer.
