Dan Marlane, who has been living on Dr. Wightman's farm three miles north of town, has decided to take a rest this year, and look around and buy a farm. From the fact that he could not get a house in Winside, he moved to Carroll Monday.

Jas. Lowry of Dubuque, Ia., arrived Friday evening, a few hours after his mother was buried. His train being a little late into Sioux City he was unable to make the proper connection. He returned to his home Sunday afternoon.

Frank Kauf loaded three cars here Wednesday, and departed for his new home in Minnesota. Mr. Kauf sold his farm last fall, and he has been pretty busy ever since looking up a desirable location. He bought land at Marshall, Minn., where he will try farming.

The latter part of the week Thos. LeRay moved on the farm five miles west of Winside, which is owned by J. E. Wilson. Mr. Wilson is retiring from farm life. He has invested in property in Early, Ia., where they will make their future home. The family left Wednesday for their new home.

He has taken up the Sunday school work, and his territory is made up of seven counties in the southern part of the state. His headquarters will be at York. We predict for Mr. Coats much success in his chosen work, as he is a most earnest and devoted worker.

A message was received in Winside Saturday conveying the sad news of the death of J. P. Marvyn. He had not been in good health for some time, and had recently entered a hospital at Bismark, N. D., where he was at the time of his death. Mr. Marvyn resided in Winside for many years, and was highly respected by all who knew him. He moved to McClusky, N. D., about eight years ago, which was his home at the time of his death.

The Woman's club met at the home of Mrs. A. T. Chapin last Thursday afternoon. At the close of the afternoon the hostess served dainty refreshments. Mrs. L. S. Neehan will entertain the club in two weeks.

PLANS FOR THE CHAUTAUKA

AUGUST IS THE TIME FIXED

Course For Session Soon to be Selected: Last Year's Assembly a Gratifying Success.

Directors of the Wayne Chautauquun association met Tuesday night, and decided to hold this year's assembly the middle of August, and conduct it in accordance with the plan followed last year. A representative of the Redpath-Slayton Lyceum Bureau of Kansas City will be here in a short time to arrange the course.

Last year's assembly was a success financially as well as meeting expectations in the way of an intellectual treat. Prior indebtedness was paid off, and a small balance was left in the treasury. Enough support has been pledged to justify the belief that the coming assembly will fully equal, if not surpass, the success of the one held last year.

Whether this year's assembly will be held on the same site on Main street as last year, or on the school ground, remains to be decided. While the Main street location is more accessible from the business district, it is not so attractive as the school ground.

MR. CROSSLAND'S VICTORY.

The Wesleyan: One year ago the intelligence was spread abroad that Mr. Crossland of the Nebraska Wesleyan had won first honors in the state oratorical contest, and that he would represent the state in the inter-state contest which would occur later in the year. Wesleyan felt honored; it was a triumph based upon ability. Several days later Mr. Crossland discovered there had been a mistake in the markings and immediately gave up on his own account the honors for which he had labored for two years. Again Wesleyan, though disappointed, felt honored by her representative. This was a triumph of principle. Mr. Cross-chapter one, was read by Mrs. Weber, and chapter two, by Mrs. Mines. Mrs. Jacobs read the legend of "Two Discreet Statues," by Washington Irving. The next meeting is to be held with Mrs. Theobald.

Minerva Club.

The Minerva club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Gorst. The paper describing a steamship by Mrs. Bright was very interesting, as were also the poems from Whittier, read by Mrs. Roe and Mrs. Dean. Mrs. Berry's paper dealing with the beautifying of home, gave more emphasis to the importance of a cheerful household than to the style of furnishings. She urged simplicity of furnishings, with no part of the house left shut up and not used.

Monday Club.

The Monday club met this week with Mrs. H. G. Leisenring and read the second and third acts in Winter's Tales.

U. D. Club.

The U. D. club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Harry Fisher. Roll call was responded to by quotations concerning art. Mrs. Craven was the leader for the occasion and asked questions touching old American masters and some representative American sculptors. A reading, "A Notable American Sculptor," was given Mrs. Felber. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Miller.

Presbyterian Brotherhood.

The Presbyterian Brotherhood enjoyed a banquet in the church parlors last evening. The ladies had prepared a savory repast which was served by them at 7 o'clock. Following the feast, short speeches were made preliminary to the main address of the evening which was given by Rev. R. D. Echlin, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church of Sioux City. W. H. Morris acted as toastmaster, and introduced the speakers. Prof. J. H. Kemp, Rev. William Gorst, Mr. F. D. Jones and Rev. Alexander Corkey responded land began at once to do over that which he had worked upon for so long a time. The result was that one year later at the state contest on Thursday evening Wesleyan was awarded first place upon a grading of three first and one second out of a possible four firsts. Perhaps there has not been in the history of the school or even that of the state so decisive and clean-cut a victory. This was a triumph of both ability and principle. Mr. Crossland is to be congratulated upon his victory, but still more upon that spirit of principle which makes ability and wins victories, that pluck and determination which makes men do big things. The college is grateful and appreciative of what its representatives do in its behalf; and wishing to show that it stands behind those who go out to contest for honors in their name, it takes this opportunity of expressing its gratitude to Mr. Crossland for that which he has done.

THE WEEK'S SOCIAL EVENTS

Shakespeare Club.

The Shakespeare club met with Miss Effie Bufington Tuesday evening, taking up the study of Othello. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Phillips.

Acme Club.

The Acme club met at the home of Mrs. Mines Tuesday afternoon, answering to roll call by giving current events. The United States to their names with appropriate remarks. In closing Rev. Corkey introduced an old friend of the Corkey family, Rev. Samuel McComb. Rev. McComb was a close friend of Rev. Corkey's father, and had known the family for many years. He lives in Sioux City, and joined Rev. Echlin in his trip to Wayne yesterday afternoon. Rev. McComb gave a lively talk, full of Irish wit and good humor. Rev. Echlin held the attention of the crowd for nearly an hour, pointing out the work men had done in the church and the greater need and opportunity for them in religious lines in the future. The banquet was a success in all respects.

The different societies of the M. E. church joined in giving a farewell party for B. E. Elliott and wife at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. T. B. Heckert last evening. Besides an hour of sociability, talks were made by the pastor, Rev. William Gorst, and representatives of the church societies, being Mrs. Fortner, Mrs. Crossland, Mrs. L. C. Gildersleeve and Mrs. E. B. Young. About forty were present. At an appropriate hour light refreshments were served.

The friends of Miss Blanch Elliott gave a party in her honor at the P. G. Crockett home last evening. Games were played, and refreshments were served.

DEATH WAS DUE TO LAUDANUM

J. D. BECHTEL PASSES AWAY

Struck Over Head by Potato Thief Monday Night: Coroner Williams Holds Inquest.

Dr. J. J. Williams, coroner, A. R. Davis, county attorney, and Grant S. Mears, sheriff, returned this afternoon from Sholes where they went last night to investigate the cause of the death of J. D. Bechtel who died at his home, three miles west and a half mile south of that place, early yesterday morning. The question determined was whether he died from the effects of blows dealt by a thief who was plundering his cellar or from the effects of a dose of laudanum which he had taken. The coroner's jury found that he had taken nearly two ounces of the poison and that it caused his death. The evidence showed that he had sent for the laudanum saying he wanted to give it to some sheep, but instead drank it himself. The investigation disclosed no fracture or blood clots as a consequence of the assault made on him by an unknown individual Monday night.

It was nearly midnight Monday night when Mr. Bechtel heard a noise in his yard, and going out to investigate met a man coming out of his cellar with a sack of potatoes. Bechtel asked him what he was doing, and he dropped the potatoes and struck the farmer over the head three times with a plow handle. Bechtel was knocked down, but later dragged himself into the house. He could not identify the thief.

FOR MUNICIPAL OFFICERS

The first Tuesday in April the city will be asked to elect a mayor to succeed Mayor Bressler, and three councilmen to succeed Messrs. Gildersleeve, Lamberson and Kingsbury. Mayor Bressler says he will not be a candidate again, and so it will be necessary to pick his successor.

For the mayoralty the Herald's attention has been called to the availability and fitness of Lambert W. Roe. It is pointed out that Mr. Roe is a citizen who has long been identified with the growth and business interests of Wayne, has had considerable experience in handling municipal affairs, and is capable of sound and unbiased judgment.

The Herald has not heard whether the councilmen whose terms expire will run again or not, and has heard no other names mentioned in connection with those offices.

WAYNE NORMAL BILL PASSES

House roll No. 54 carrying an appropriation of $55,000 for a new building at the Wayne State Normal passed the house on Monday, and went immediately to the senate for consideration. Of the members present, all but six voted for it. (And it is noted with pleasure that every member of the house committee recently visiting Wayne and inspecting the school, supported the measure. It is believed the bill will meet little if any opposition in the senate, and that Governor Aldrich will give it executive approval without hesitancy.

HAYTIAN CUTLERY SALUTE

Steward of Naval Vessel Put Knives and Forks in Gun and Hotel Was Punctured.

Discipline aboard men-of-war being strict as that obtaining on the vessels of colder countries. Indeed, in some instances, it is very lax.

The U.S.S. Albatross, a Haytian naval vessel, was lying in the harbor of Port-au-Prince, Oct. 1, when a mess cook, for some reason, clenched a peck of knives and forks on the gun deck, and being suddenly called away, and not wishing to spend time to go to the galley, he seized the messpots full of knives and forks and stuck 'em in the muzzle of the ten-inch gun, putting the tampion in after it. About an hour afterward the admiral came aboard, and as the gun was loaded with blank cartridges, they used it to fire a salute.

It happened that the gun was aimed toward the town and almost point blank at the Grand Hotel. The guests assembled on the porch to witness the ceremonies, when they were saluted with a ram of knives and forks, which struck against the wooden walls like quills on a porcupine. Fortunately no one was hurt, although there were many narrow escapes.

Queer Marital Relations.

Curious marriage customs prevail among the people dwelling in the Tangi Valley in India. Here it seems that the women are polygamous, and that several brothers possess one wife in common. The custom is said to be due to the poverty of the people. The children bear the names of all the husbands of the mother. How such a custom as to name works out in practice it is difficult to comprehend. The divorce customs are very simple. If the husband establishes that his wife is a bad cook it is a sufficient ground; and on the wife's side, if she can show that her husband falls to provide for the upkeep of the house she obtains a divorce.

Let us be of good cheer, remembering that the misfortunes hardest to bear are those which never come.—Oliver Wendell Holmes.

A Money-Making Crop

The season of 1910 was a splendid one for producing a good wheat crop, which yielded from 20 to 30 bushels per acre, the bulk of which was sold for 90 cents per bushel. It netted the producer from $15.00 to $20.00 per acre. If this was done last year why can it not be done this year? "Rotate your crops." There is a great deal written on the subject of rotation of crops; practically there is not enough of this being done. Try some spring wheat. If you want some seed wheat, let us know; we will try to get it for you. We will clean it up in fine shape to sow, free of charge.

We are also in the flour manufacturing business and have been for thirty-five years. We make the best; we not only make it, but sell it and sell it right. All the Wayne merchants handle it and you can get it from them if you ask for it. The Wayne normal college, the Wayne bakery, hotels, restaurants, boarding houses and hundreds of private families right here in Wayne use it. Try it and you will use no other.

Bell Telephone Service
What It Means

The Blue Bell Emblem, the Seal of the Associated Bell Telephone Companies, stands for one of the greatest business instrumentalities in the country—a comprehensive association of affiliated companies co-operating to give universal communication over eleven million miles of wire by means of five million telephones.

The need of efficient and universal telephone service is exemplified by the rapid progress of the associated Bell companies.

Ten years ago there were only 700,000 Bell Telephones in use, while today every Bell Telephone is connected with five million other telephones.

The Nebraska Telephone company has connection with 120,000 telephones in this state, including about 50,000 instruments of connecting companies.

The average increase in the number of Bell Telephones in Nebraska is 600 a month, while more than 1000 miles of wire is strung every thirty days.

THE 1911
United States Separator
A MARVEL OF EASY RUNNING

There have been tremendous advantages in the running qualities of the United States Cream Separators.

The skimming power is there. The same that won the world's record in fifty consecutive tests extending over a period of thirty days with the milk of ten different breeds of cows—0.138 of one per cent.

With the new Interlocking skimming device, the centrifugal action on the milk is so intensified, the course along which the milk is forced to travel so lengthened, the skimming force so increased, that the Interlocking bowl for any given capacity is reduced nearly one-half and runs with about half the power required for older models.

Now add to this great improvement the fact that the United States Separator is the only successful separator that distributes the incoming volume of the whole milk evenly outside the cream zone, thus preventing any mixing of cream and skim milk, and you will see why it is that the Interlocking Style U. S. Separator is gradually displacing every other separator on the market.

ROME THE ETERNAL CITY

ROME'S big exposition, which was opened in January, will make 'The Eternal City' better known to the outside world.

ROME'S big exposition, which was opened in January, will make 'The Eternal City' better known to the outside world. It is international in scope and it is expected 1,000,000 visitors will be attracted to it.

As the Capitol at Rome in the center the great structures which conveyed water from the mountains beyond rise up before you. Some have yielded to the vandalism of the invader and their broken arches attest the spoliation of Hun and Goth.

The Capitol is in the very heart of Rome. Here is a majestic flight of steps crowned at the summit by colossal statues of old Roman gods found in the ruins of Diocletian. It was down the steps which those have now replaced that Rome, 'The Eternal City,' had in its last moments, to fall at their base, bleeding from twenty wounds, white from a window in their palace burning on the hill, his beautiful young wife looked down and saw his tragic death. In the square at the summit of this staircase is the place where Brutus harangued the unwilling populace after the murder of Caesar.

St. Peter's, Rome. The Vatican gardens are as beautiful as the lovers of landscape have so often depicted. Here the Italian garden is idealized. I have often seen representations of these exquisitely laid out grounds in different countries but they pale alongside of the beauties of the kind found in the territory of the pope.

THE VATICAN GARDENS

ONE WAY OUT

By Martha McCulloch Williams

(Copyright, 1911, by Associated Literary Press.)

"Go wherever, wherever, you please. But understand, you can't take my grandson. Remember, I'm his legal guardian." Miss Steel said in a hard, measured voice, not looking at Fenella, but over her head.

Fenella was slight and small, with eyes as dusky as midnight, yet shining like midnight stars. She was beautifully made, notwithstanding she was so little—therefore she had an impressive air of distinction. "I think you forget, dear madame, that I am Billy's mother," she said.

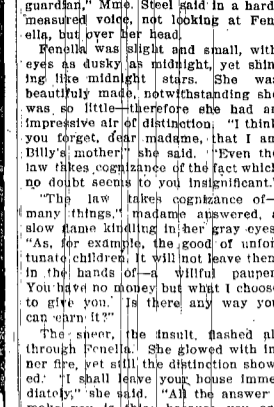

The new law, taking cognizance of many things, madame answered, in a slow tone that kindled in her gray eyes. "As for example, the fact of my being unfortunate, it will not leave them in the hands of a willful pauper. You have no money but what I choose to give you. Is there any way by which you can earn it?"

"The sweep, the insult, flashed all through Fenella. She glowed with inner fire, yet still the distinction showed. 'I shall leave your house immediately,' she said. 'All the answer I make you is this: because you are Billy's grandmother, I am sorry you choose to insult me, but of respect to his father's memory, I can not provoke you to do it any more.'

"As you will, but I shall keep Billy—I have taken notice," madame began. Fenella held up her hand. "Let us say no more," she said. "But Billy goes with me. You are guardian of his property—his court will take a child of three away from a fit mother."

Fenella was already away. She gained the sphinx with the older woman panting ponderously at the foot, behind her. There she turned to say: "Billy is safely out of reach. I sent him away, hoping to spare you pain."

An hour later, cloaked and bonneted, her eyes shining through her widow's veil, she sat in the office of Judge Jennings, who had charge of the big Steel estate. The judge sat regarding her with something between a scowl and a smile. "Tell me what's back of all this?" he asked.

Fenella Glowed With Inner Fire.

smashing of hearts and reputations and all that." "I won't kill myself! You make it appear that's the only way out," Fenella said earnestly. The judge drew a deep breath. "George! If only you were not you, I believe you'd conquer Fate," he said. "You'd do it anyway—only Fate happens to be a woman!"

"Thank you," Fenella said, still superb. Suddenly she crumpled in her chair, sobbing hard. "I can starve myself—and laugh over it," she said at last. "But Billy! Suppose he had actually got you hungry?"

"You've got to go home," the judge said almost sternly. Fenella sobbed again. "If only I had a home—the poorest, the place—it would be heaven," she managed to say at last. "I had a home—the cabin Billy took me to, up in the mountains. But the castle—it has been only a prison. I can't go back to it. But how can I let my baby suffer?"

"There is a way out—it may be harder," the judge said, loudly. Fenella looked up at him, moist eyes and tremulous lips. "Only tell me. Nothing can be harder, will work, and pluck, and save—I have tricks enough to last ages. And Billy is so little it won't take much for him—only he must have a doctor to play with—and I hope he can have a pony."

"Certainly," the judge interrupted. "Also three square meals, a French nurse—and a college education. Also again a better training than his daddy had."

"How? Only tell me how? You said it was hard, but I shall find a way. Anything," Fenella said, her eyes sparkling, then blushing vividly, the lids dropping. "You would not let me do anything that would make my boy ashamed?"

WAS JUST COPYING MAMMA

Child's Actions That at First Mysteriously Father Were Easily Explained. The little six-year-old daughter of a well-known club woman was found in her play room the other day doing all kinds of acrobatic stunts and gesticulating wildly and weirdly.

"What are you doing?" asked the child's father. "I'm playing 'mamma,'" she answered. Then she made more intricate movements with her little arms and said, "There, father, you accept them. That's what they do when mamma makes them."

"What shall I accept?" asked the father, still more mystified. "And what does mamma make?" "Tell me what you are doing." "Why," she said, "I'm playing that I am mamma at her club. Whenever mamma goes to her club she makes motions and the others accept them. I heard her say so over the telephone to Mrs. Smith this morning."—Illustrated Magazine.

PRAIRIE DOGS. We usually write your own side, but will let a user 'Rough on Rats' for extermination of Prairie Dogs write this one. Mr. H. B. Moseley, a ranchman, under the name of 'Rough on Rats,' writes as follows from Hill Top, Douglas Co., Colorado: "I have read your advertisement of 'Rough on Rats,' it not only reads good but it is good. I have been troubled twenty years with Prairie Dogs; have used many so-called exterminators to no purpose. Not long since I used a poisoned wheat prepared by an expert who had made it a study for years, but it did no good for me; they ate it, but cleared out the wheat. Then I was eating up a field of corn for me; was at my wit's end what to do; I could only get the small live rats here of 'Rough on Rats' and I was sure to get rid of many of them. I then mixed it with corn meal and placed it on days not windy near their holes. 'Rough on Rats' is for the best thing I have tried, but I fancy I am using it unnecessarily strong, or you may suggest a better way than I have used. I wish our druggists would keep the largest (75c.) size; could you send me the 75c. size? It clears them out in great shape; you should make it better known to Ranchmen."

The above are facts as stated by Mr. Moseley of 'Rough on Rats' is equally true on Prairie Dogs, Skunks, Chipmunks, Gophers, Rabbits, Mice, Rats, weasels, and every kind of pest. It is a mixture of over nine kinds of chemicals, and is used in the following way: It is put in the holes of the mice, rats, and other pests. For Prairie Dogs, it would be mixed with corn meal and placed in their holes. 'Rough on Rats' is a mixture of five gallons of water; let it stand a week, shaking frequently; you can use the same mixture over and over again if needed; or mix 'Rough on Rats' thoroughly and instantly, say one part to twenty of water, and mix with it as you wish. It is sold in 10c., 25c., and 75c. wooden boxes only. E. S. Wells, Chemist, Jersey City, N. J.

WOMAN'S KIDNEYS. Are Often Responsible for Untold Suffering. Mrs. W. H. Kaiser, Whitney, Neb., says: "Many times during the night I was obliged to arise because of too frequent passages of 'kidney secretions.' Again they became scanty, were very thick and attended by burning and scalding. Soon a dropsical condition became manifested and I was unable to get up. My feet and ankles were bloated and I was in a bad way when I began with Doan's Kidney Pills. I used four boxes and was entirely cured."

Remember the name—Doan's. For sale by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. THE FINAL SETTLEMENT. "A verdict for $10,000 isn't so bad," said the junior partner. "How much shall we give our client?" "Oh, give him $50," answered the senior partner. "But hold!" "Don't be hasty. Promise to give him $50."

THAT AWFUL BACKACHE

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Morton's Gap, Kentucky.—"I suffered two years with various ailments, my health was very poor and I had a continual backache which was simply awful. I could not stand on my feet long enough to cook a meal's victuals without my back nearly killing me, and I would have such dragging sensations I could hardly bear it. I had soreness in each side, could not stand tight clothing, and was irregular. I was completely run down. On advice I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills and an enjoyable good health. It is now more than two years and I have not had an ache or pain since. I do all my own work, washing and darning, and endeavor have the back as my neighbor. I think your medicine is grand and I praise it to all my neighbors. If you think my testimony will help others, you may publish it.—Mrs. OLMIE WOODALL, Morton's Gap, Kentucky.

Her face was half-hidden by her hair, and her eyes, covered by their deep lids, gave no sign of her thoughts. The same old voice went on.

"You might, for instance, tell Mr. Polk, which is to say Mr. Van Zandt, that if his name goes on this little treaty for Texas, nothing will be said to Texas regarding his proposal to give Texas over to England. It might not be safe for that little fact generally to be known in Texas as it is known to me. We will keep it secret.

"You might not see your father and have my chance again?"

"No," said I; "I will not tell you where I got it."

"Why?"

"Because that would involve another woman."

"Involve another woman? Do you think, then, that on this one day of her life, a girl likes to think of herself as involved with any other woman?"

"But you loved me once," I said banally.

"I do not consider it fair to mention that now."

"I never loved that other woman. I had never seen her more than once. You do not know her."

"Ah, is that it? Perhaps I could tell you something of one Helena von Ritz. Is it not so?"

"Yes, that was the property of Helena von Ritz, I told her, looking her fairly in the eye.

"Kind of you, indeed, to involve me, as you say, with a lady of her precedence."

"I hardly think any one is quite just to that lady," said I slowly.

"Except Mr. Nicholas Trist! A beautiful and accomplished lady, I doubt not, in his mind."

Still I went on stubbornly: "But may I not see your father and have my chance again? I cannot let it go this way. It is the ruin of my life."

It was a part of my duties, when in Washington, to assist my chief in his personal and official correspondence, which necessarily was very heavy.

"We have good news of some kind this morning, sir," I inquired.

"The answer he mentioned me to a document which I opened upon his table. It was familiar enough to me. I glanced at the bottom. There were two signatures!

"Texas agrees!" I exclaimed. "The Donna Lucrezia has won Van Zandt's signature!"

"I looked at him. His own eyes were swimming wet! This, then, was that man of whom it is only remembered that he was a pro-slavery champion.

"We are certain to encounter opposition," the senator may not ratify."

"But, then, does that not end it?" "End it? No! There are always other ways. If the people of this country wish Texas to be one of our states, they will see to it."

"What will it do?" I hesitated.

"God knows. For me, I have no party. I am alone." I have but few friends in all the world," he smiled now—"you, my boy, as I said, and Dr. Ward and a few women, all of whom hate each other."

"I remained silent at this shot, which came home to me; but he smiled, still grimly, shading his head.

"Rustle of silk, my boy, rustle of silk—it is over all our maps. But we shall make these maps! Time shall bear me witness."

"Then I may start soon for Oregon?" I demanded.

"You shall start to-morrow," he answered.

CHAPTER XXIV. The Whodunaw Trail.

There are no places where women are un-Marie de Romba.

In our own caravan, now pressing on for the general movement west of the Missouri, there was material for a hundred canyons. The world of our great western country was then still before us. A stern and warlike people was resolved to hold it and increase it. Of these west-bound I now was one. I felt the joy of that thought. I was going west.

The old trail to Oregon was laid out by no government, arranged by no engineers, planned by no surveyor supported by no appropriation. It sprang, a road already created from the earth itself, covering 2,000 miles of our country. Why? Because there was need for that country to be covered by such a trail at such a time. Because we needed Oregon.

We carried with us all the elements of society, as has the Anglo-Saxon ever. Did any man offend against the unwritten creed of fair play, did he shrink duty when that meant danger to the common good, then he was brought before a council of our leaders, men of wisdom and fairness, chosen by the vote of all; and go he was judged and he was punished. At that time there was not west of the Missouri river any one who could administer an oath, who could execute a legal document, or perpetuate any legal testimony; yet with us the law marched pari passu across the land. We had leaders chosen because they were fit to lead, and leaders who felt full sense of responsibility to those who chose them.

At the head of our column, we bore the flag of our republic. On our flanks were skirmishers, like those guarding the ranks of an army. It was an army—made up of our people. With us marched women. With us marched men. That was the difference between our cavalcade and that slower and more selfish one, made up of men alone, which that same year was facing westward along the upper reaches of the Canadian plains. That was why we won. It was because women and plows were with us. (TO BE CONTINUED.)

Alfalfa Show at Valentine. Cherry County.—The alfalfa show was held at Valentine in the large machine sheds of the Valentine Harber yards. There was plenty of room in which to display the exhibit, as well as accommodate the large crowd that came to see it. An interesting lecture was given by Professor Hunt of Syracuse, on the best way to grow the alfalfa, as well as showing the profitable side of the industry, proving that it was one of the most profitable crops a farmer could raise. Farmers have realized as much as $75 per acre on their crops of alfalfa.

A Pioneer Gone. Otter County.—J. W. Armstrong, known as "Ukole Jack," one of the oldest pioneers of Otter County, died at his home in Nebraska City, Aug. 27, 1888. He was known to almost every man and woman in that part of the state and held in high esteem. He was born in Warren County, O., and resided there for many years. He was 92 years old.

Fatal Accidental Shooting. Dodge County.—John Beck, an employe of the Kendrick meat market, was shot and instantly killed at Fremont by C. H. Bucklin while the latter was shooting at a target. The affair occurred at Kendrick's slaughter house, west of Fremont. A number of young men were shooting at a target, which was put up opposite the end of one of the buildings. Beck stepped out from behind the buildings just as Bucklin shot the bullet striking him in the neck, severing the jugular vein, instantly killing him.

Needs of Industrial School. Buffalo County.—A committee of three business men from the Kearney Commercial club, W. J. Scott, S. A. D. Beattie, and W. H. Rice, was recently appointed by the state superintendent C. B. Manual that the State Industrial school need a larger appropriation for the next biennium. The committee spent a day at the institution, but were not convinced sufficiently to make any report to the Commercial club, and so have secured a competent contractor to estimate needed repairs.

What She Thought. Mrs. Gumm—And what d'yer think of that there Jones as is moved in next door but one to you?

Mrs. Gumm—Why, I don't like talking about my neighbors; but as to Mr. Jones, well, I think, and then again, I don't know, but after all, I rather guess he'll turn out to be a good deal such a sort of man as I take him to be.

COULD NOT STAND SUFFERING FROM SKIN ERUPTION. "I have been using Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment for the past three months and am glad to say that they cured me of a most annoying skin eruption. It began by my noticing red blotches appearing on my face and scalp. Although they were rather disfiguring, I did not think anything of them until they began to get scaly and dry and to itch and burn until I could not stand the suffering. Then I began to use a different soap, thinking that my old skin might be hurting me, but that didn't seem to do any good. I went to two different doctors, but neither seemed to relieve me any. I lost many nights sleep in continual scratching, sometimes scratching till I drew a blood on my face and head. Then I started in to use the Cuticura Remedies and in two months I was entirely relieved of that awful pest. I am so delighted over my cure by Cuticura Remedies that I shall be glad to tell anybody about it." (Signed) G. M. Macfarland, 221 West 115th St., New York City, Oct. 5, 1910.

Nine or Ten Deposits. "It is expensive to travel to fly," said Clifford Harman, at Mineola. "Your aeroplane costs more than $5,000. You must pay a fare of $500 or $1,000. You must deposit, too, about $500 more for damages. All the damage you do to the machine you learn on must be paid for, and your deposit may easily be eaten up."

"I was talking one day at McCo's an English flyer."

"I learned to fly in a week," I said. "How long did it take you to learn?" "Oh, nine or ten—"

"What?" I interrupted. "Not nine or ten weeks?" "No, aeroplane," said he.

Rattlesnakes Appear Early. Not in the recollection of the oldest inhabitants have rattlesnakes appeared so early in the year. (Casper Correspondence Denver Republican.)

Civilization was staid one day last week by an attempt at pugilism in the distinguished house of representatives.

It is not wise to feel chesty over success, for in the heyday of success one is likely to be hit amidship by bolts of ill luck or adversity.

Competition is not only the life of trade, stimulating the best effort, but is important in preventing much undesired criticism.

The tabernacle will be dedicated next Friday evening at a union prayer meeting which will be led by Rev. William Gorst.

MAN'S INFLUENCE. One man who is dismal and grim as a shroud, with grief that's abyssal, disheartens the crowd.

SPRING IS COMING. The winter is going, with freezing and snowing, and soon gentle spring will be with us once more.

STINGY WITH PRAISE. I know a man who always sighs, and looks disgruntled, tired and sad, when he sits down to eat the pies his wife has baked to make him glad.

TRUTH AND LIES. A certain man infests our town, who views all falsehoods with a frown; He never has, since early youth, dished up a word that wasn't truth.

should our wincing bosoms wring. It's cheerless as an epitaph; few men will tell the truth and laugh; and that, perhaps, is why the wise have such a lurking love for lies.

One day I had to take a board and fix the roof, which let in rain; I sawed my fingers off and roared until the neighbors had a pain.

Great preparations are being made for the union meetings which are to be held here during the month of March.

The following is a newspaper clipping on the success of Hart and Magann in a revival at Shendoah, Iowa:

Perhaps the most successful revival ever held in Shendoah has gripped the city. Men of large business made the revival first and business secondary.

The tabernacle was 78x127 feet, and accommodated over two thousand people, and this proved too small on many occasions.

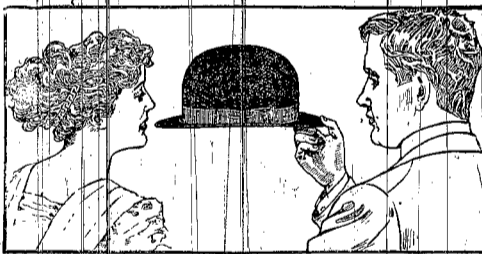

Conservative men said that the greatest day ever known in Shendoah was March 8, 1908, when over a half hundred in the men's meeting, that well filled the tabernacle, gave themselves to God. Mr. Hart's address was a most powerful appeal for men to live a clean, noble life.

Mr. Arthur S. Magann, his associate, is a brother and excellent director of the great chorus he organizes.

The way Evangelist Hart manages the finances is delightful and amazing. He easily raised the incidental expenses in the nightly basket offerings.

You will see, from these reports, that a great opportunity is coming to our community. Probably a work on so large a scale has before never been undertaken here.

Mr. 2-14) Mrs. Pearson was an arrival from Boone, Io., Tuesday morning and will have charge of the trimming department of the Misses Van Gilder millinery. Mrs. Pearson comes well recommended as an artist in her line of work and will bring out many new and fashionable ideas the coming season. Comparatively small shapes in hats rule the millinery of early spring. Some of these are in the popular Ding-a-ling shapes; others have rather tall cone-shaped crowns, and still others are seen with crowns which may be termed modifications of the Tyrolean. A full showing on display at Misses Van Gilder's. M2-tf For the benefit of the local baseball team the Crystal theatre has agreed to divide cash receipts on two nights of each week. Thursday and Friday were the benefit nights last week, and netted the ball team $40. The movement for the baseball season has started, and it is the purpose to have a stronger team than ever before. He recovered from the operation satisfactorily, and it is believed he will soon be restored to good health. Miss Mary Gettman went to Carroll Monday to attend the funeral of the late B. P. Petersen, which took place there that afternoon. Mr. Petersen had been ill for a long time with tuberculosis of the bones and therefore when the final summons came it was not unlooked for by his family. Mr. Petersen was at one time employed by the Philico Lumber Co., and was well known in Wayne. The case at Hoskins against Gus Maratz, jr., and August Beitz who were charged with the theft of some hogs by Eugene Reichstadt, was dismissed because of lack of evidence. The case was taken from Justice Templin's court at Hoskins to Justice Baker's court at Carroll, where it was dismissed and the defendants discharged. County Attorney Davis appeared for the state and Attorneys Berry & Berry for the defendant. Fremont Tribune: The Winnebago Indians have submitted to the legislature the question of untangling their marriage relations. When Minne-kah-du-sah is the affinity for a while of Ball-With-a-Ring-in-His-Nose and later is swapped by him with Great-Horn-Toad for a flask of firewater and his process is repeated a few times, it naturally leads to complications, especially where land titles may be involved. If the present legislature has enough genius to solve the puzzle it has more men with long, level heads than is generally believed. It certainly presents a more intricate problem than stockyards legislation. The First National Bank has this week installed a new system to strengthen its protection against burglars. The vault containing the steel chest has been lined with steel which is charged with electricity. Any one trying to penetrate this lining, which covers the sides, floor and top, will set off loud-sounding gongs in and around the vault and on the outside of the bank. The noise would arouse the neighborhood before the burglars had proceeded far in their attempt to plunder the bank. There is no way to prevent the gongs from ringing. This system of gongs and electric work would seem to be a perfect safeguard. Mr. and Mrs. R. Philleo and Mrs. E. B. Philleo and children arrived here Monday morning from Twin Falls, Idaho. They were delayed two days on their return by a wreck while traveling on the Rio Grande railroad in Colorado. One of the two engines drawing the train left the track, crushing a number of cars. Several were hurt, but none killed. The Philleos escaped without injury. It is understood Mrs. E. B. Philleo and children will remain here permanently, while Mr. and Mrs. R. Philleo will return to Twin Falls before long. The Twin Falls News reports that Mr. Philleo has arranged for the building of a bungalow at that place.

KING SOLOMON MINE

Leadville (Col.) Herald-Democrat: The Tunnel of the King Solomon T. & D. Co., Frisco, is being pushed into the mountain by two shifts working with machine drills. Two weeks ago a winze was started on vein No. 11, and today the president of the company reports the opening of one of the finest veins of ore to be found in Summit county. The character of the ore is steel galena carrying 12 ounces gold per ton with good silver and copper values and 50 per cent lead; the vein is two and one-half feet wide. An extra force of men will be put on to develop the vein as quickly as possible.

DEATH OF MRS. WELBAUM. Mrs. Benjamin Welbaum, aged 80 years, 1 month and 10 days, died at her home four miles east and one mile north of Wayne last Thursday, after an illness lasting three weeks. The funeral took place at 10 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Rev. Mr. Davis of Tecumseh officiating. Mrs. Welbaum was born in Virginia January 13, 1831. At the age of 18 she united with the United Brethren church. She was married to Benjamin Welbaum at Fort Wayne, Ind., March 14, 1850. She was the mother of eleven children, seven of whom, with her husband, survive her. She had lived for many years in Wayne county, and was highly respected by her many acquaintances.

HELD TO DISTRICT COURT. Carl Wittenburg who is charged with the embezzlement of four hogs valued at $82.85, Otto H. Kruger being the complainant, was given a hearing in Justice Clyde T. Ecker's court at Winside Monday, and as a result was bound over to the district court with bond fixed at $400, which was furnished. It seems that Kruger had rented a farm south of Winside and that Wittenburg was working for him for a division of the proceeds. Kruger charges that Wittenburg sold four hogs without authority from him and did not divide the money, and therefore charges him with embezzlement. Wittenburg claims that he was instructed to sell the hogs and apply the proceeds on running expenses of the farm, which he says he did. County Attorney Davis prosecuted the action, and Attorneys Berry & Berry appeared for the defendant.

D., where they had gone to attend the funeral of Mrs. McVay's father. Read the announcement of C. W. Hixcox in this paper. He has a big line of farming implements, and farmers wanting new machinery should see him. The supper given by the men of the M. E. church Thursday night was a big success. The fare was first-class, and the cash proceeds amounted to $60. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Porter arrived home Monday morning from Osborn, Mo., where they were called some weeks ago on account of the illness of a relative. Herbert F. Lessman and bride returned Saturday from their trip to Omaha. They are getting ready to begin house-keeping on the Morgan farm northwest of Wayne. P. G. James this week moved from the residence near the college hill in to the Wm. House residence, which was occupied by C. F. Shurtleiff, the latter moving on the farm. W. M. Orr and wife left Monday afternoon for Chicago where they have gone to buy new goods for the store of Orr & Morris. They expect to be gone about a week. Frank Skeen and family went to Randolph Tuesday to visit the parents of Mrs. Skeen before leaving for their new home at San Jose, Cal., where Blaine Skeen is located. This admonition from Zion's Herald: Long prayers in the study and in the closet; short prayers, full of life and thought, and soul and fire, in the pulpit—this should be the rule. C. O. Lewis of Carroll was in town Saturday. This was Mr. Lewis' first trip to Wayne since his recent severe illness, and his many friends were glad to see him about once more. Frank Hitchcock, wife and baby were arrivals from Omaha Monday evening for a visit with Mr. Hitchcock's mother and also to look about for a location, with a view of going into the merchandise business. W. A. Miller was assisted by his neighbors in serving dinner at his sale last Friday. Mr. Miller goes back to Pennsylvania to visit his father for a few months, and then expects to return to Wayne county. Mrs. Ed. Williams and daughter, Mrs. Bradstreet, nee Helen Williams, returned to their homes at Lynch Tuesday. They were called here on account of the death of Mrs. Williams' mother, Mrs. Ben Welbaum. R. P. Williams has sold the residence occupied by the family of Lee Buroker to Leonard Elsing for $1,650, and will give possession this week. Mr. Buroker will move into the Ulrich house in the western part of town. G. W. Schwede of Norfolk and H. H. Sachtjen of Hoskins were doing business in Wayne Tuesday. Mr. Schwede used to live in the Hoskins vicinity, and Mr. Sachtjen is a prosperous farmer in the western part of the county. Archie Lindsay who was taken with pneumonia on Christmas day, was down town for the first time since then on Monday. He had a long and at times precarious struggle, but is now regaining his strength steadily. Thos. D. Davis of Tecumseh, promoter for the W. O. W., informs the Herald that a class of about 100 will be initiated into the order at Wausa, March 30, and that the degree work will be put on by the Sioux City team. Bert Johnson and family and Levi Lewis, father of Mrs. Johnson, left yesterday morning for Spirit Lake, Iowa, where they will make their home. Mr. Lewis will this year take care of Arnold's Park, which is located near Spirit Lake.

400,000 Women Have Hoosier Cabinets In Their Kitchens

The Hoosier Special Saves Miles of Steps for Tired Feet

ONE MILLION WOMEN in the United States have kitchen cabinets in their homes today.

It is unthinkable that you should try to keep house without the Hoosier.

You cannot afford to wear yourself out—you cannot afford the long, tedious hours of kitchen work in the old-fashioned way.

Think of the millions of steps you now have to take from the pantry to the kitchen table, from the kitchen table to the pantry and to and from the shelves and hooks for your materials and utensils.

The Hoosier saves you these steps. It saves you from reaching to high shelves. It saves you the back-breaking strain of stooping over barrels and bins.

You who do not know the blessing of a cabinet now, will surely have one in your kitchen some day.

The HOOSIER KITCHEN CABINET gives you more for your money than any other cabinet.

Metal flour bin with sliding glass panel and removable sifter.

Bin holds 55 pounds. Self-feeding metal sugar bin. When a scoopful is taken out the same quantity drops down.

The cabinet is 70 1/2 inches high and 40 inches wide.

It is solid kiln-dried golden oak, three thicknesses.

Note the pure aluminum extension top of the Hoosier—the work table that you draw out.

(3) It is possible here for two to live in the same house, and in the same outward circumstances, one enjoying heaven and the other suffering the pangs of hell.

(4) What reasons have you for or against, the thought that heaven is peopled by beings with material bodies?

(8) Verses 2-8—Why did Eljah act as if he wanted to get out of the company of Eljah?

(10) What qualities did Eljah display in refusing to leave Eljah? (See verses 2, 4, 6, 9.)

(11) What is the chief reason for men being failures?

(12) Did Eljah know that his master was going to heaven, in the near future, and if so how did he behave?

(23) How may we impart to others the good qualities we possess?

(24) Verses 11-12—Is there any way to explain Eljah's translation to heaven other than by miracle?

(25) Verses 13-18—To-day there is no more chariot, or wonder working power, in the garment of a good man than of a man not good, how then do you explain the power in Eljah's mantle?

(26) Suppose the miraculous part of his narrative should not be historical how should that affect your faith in the essentials of Christianity? Lesson for Sunday, March 12, 1911. Eljah, the Prophet, Restores a Child to Life. 2 Kings 14:8-37.

"No, Andy, I don't love you, and I never shall, and I'm not going to marry you. I'm sorry you feel so bad, can't we be friends?"

Andy Barrows had an intimate friend, Malcolm Thomson, a close-mouthed, crafty Scot, and to him Andy confided his troubles.

Plans for the marriage were discussed, and Thanksgiving day was decided on for the wedding.

A TRUE STORY OF THE SECRET SERVICE

By COL. H. C. WHITLEY Former Chief United States Secret Service

THE barren, rocky little farm in Northern Vermont, a mile or two out from the village of Newtown, near the Derby line, was suggestive, mainly of hard work and small returns, to the ordinary observer.

She had known John Barrows long and intimately since the days when they went to the little village school together. In later years, often she had been a guest at the Barrows farm house, wherein the family was made up of John and his mother and his brother Andrew.

"Yes, I know you won't marry me. You're in love with John. He's younger than I, and better favored, and you've fallen in love with his handsome face. But you're mine by rights—I'm the oldest. I should have the first choice. Oh, do say you love me, Jane!"

"Why, Andy, you know I couldn't say that when you know I do not care for you in that way. I'm so sorry—"

"I don't want your pity. Even if you don't love me, I love you enough for both—can't you marry me? I could fix it so we'd have all the farm, and you need never want for anything."

"No, Andy, I don't love you, and I never shall, and I'm not going to marry you. I'm sorry you feel so bad, can't we be friends?"

"Yes, we can be friends, but even if you won't marry me, neither shall you ever marry John. Mark my words."

Andy Barrows had an intimate friend, Malcolm Thomson, a close-mouthed, crafty Scot, and to him Andy confided his troubles.

Plans for the marriage were discussed, and Thanksgiving day was decided on for the wedding.

"The weather is always a convenient topic of conversation. 'I don't think so. You are so often compelled to think twice in order to select polite phrases.'"

You don't know how happy you make me. I'll go and whittle for Andy—I see supper's nearly ready."

Several days elapsed, and Andy did not return. His mother and brother thought he might have gone to visit his friend, Malcolm Thomson, who lived a short distance over the line in Canada.

John Barrows and his mother, of course, were the last to hear these stories, and when they finally reached his ears, John started an immediate investigation, in which nearly all the men of the village willingly joined.

Here the searchers were horrified to find a partly burned body. Raking in the ashes, someone found a bunch of keys and a pocketknife, which were recognized at once as having belonged to Andy Barrows.

Suspicion at once pointed to John Barrows. Who else could have committed the awful deed—who else could have had an object in doing it?

John Barrows was formally charged with the murder of his brother, and a warrant was sworn out by Thomson for his arrest.

Jane Heath, when the first suspicion fell upon her, was made public, and she was seen in the street, and she would stand by him, and eventually would see the criminal punished.

"He had nothing to forgive, my dear," said Mrs. Barrows, "but I'm glad as you are to see him in a more reasonable frame of mind. I only wish there were two of you. Jane, she is a good, sweet girl. It will be the wife of any man."

"Bless you for saying that, mother."

REJECT ROADS' PLEA

COMMERCE COMMISSION UNANIMOUSLY DECIDE AGAINST INCREASE IN RATES.

ADVANCE IS NOT NECESSARY

Decision Shows Carriers to Be Profoundly Do Not Need Larger Revenue to Maintain Their Credit or Insure Against Adversity.

Washington.—The Interstate commerce commission in a decision handed down Thursday rules against the railroads in both the eastern and the western rate cases.

The railroads are prohibited from advancing first-class rates and they are ordered to reduce second-class rates.

The commission shows that at the moment when the railroads were arguing their justification for a raise they were emphatically prosperous.

The report, written by Commissioner Franklin K. Lane, is an elaborate, optimistic review of the American railway situation.

Despite what the railroad reports say of the considerable increase in wages and the increase in the cost of fuel during the last six months of the year 1910, in which the new wage schedules were in effect, the report shows for the carriers the largest operating income they have ever enjoyed.

The report opens with a consideration of the effect of railroad rate regulation has had upon the revenues of the carriers, in which it is shown that, by reason of the law and its enforcement, the railroads have been protected against each other.

As a result the revenues of the carriers have increased under regulation and their dividends and their surplus have also increased as in no other period of their history.

In the past ten years the railroads of the United States have borrowed over four and one-half billion dollars, or twice the amount of the national debt at the close of the Civil war.

This is evidence of the faith the public has in these properties. The rate of dividends and the total amount has increased more rapidly than the additional mileage built.

The western roads have increased their surplus over 100 per cent in ten years. Comment is made upon the fact that the railroads are now seeking to increase rates which were voluntarily made by them under competitive conditions and which they admit could not be increased under such conditions.

The carriers are seeking to gain the benefits of protective legislation and at the same time asking for a free hand and criticizing the law for the restraints which it casts upon them.

It is found that the carriers do not need larger revenue for purposes of maintaining their credit or insuring them against temporary adversity.

The report closes with these words: "We shall ask the carriers to withdraw the proposed tariffs and, if such action is not taken, the commission will further suspend these rates and make an order directing the maintenance of present rates for a period of two years."

FIGHT ON FLOOR OF HOUSE

Mondell of Wyoming and Wickersham of Alaska Come to Blows Over Alaska Bill.

Washington.—Violent language boomed and blows were struck in the house Thursday when Representative Mondell of Wyoming and Delegate Wickersham of Alaska clashed over the former's bill for leasing coal lands in Alaska.

Delegate Wickersham, in opposing the Mondell bill, quoted from his statement from the interior department.

"That is a lie," said Mondell, in an undertone, turning in his seat to speak to Mr. Burt of South Dakota.

"You are a liar if you say that," shouted Wickersham, who had overheard.

Both men then apologized to the house for the language used and the house lifted the bill that had caused the trouble. After the adjournment friends of the two men tried to effect a reconciliation, but without success.

The governor received assurance from other county officials that the situation was serious and at once ordered four companies of state troops from Springfield and Decatur to proceed at once to this city. At the same time the sheriff has no disturbances have occurred.

RATIFY JAP TREATY PACT UP TO SENATE

COMMITTEE REPORT M'CALL BILL WITHOUT RECOMMENDATION. No Amendments Adopted—Measure Is Submitted in Exact Form as Passed by House.

UCHIDA MAKES A STATEMENT

Japanese Ambassador Gives Written Assurance That His Government Will Maintain Present Regulations Regarding Emigration of Coolies.

Washington.—The new Japan treaty was ratified Friday by the senate on the understanding that Japan will not impose coolies on the United States.

The objection to the convention has consistently been that it did not throw sufficient safeguards around the immigration of Japanese to the United States.

President Taft personally pushed the ratification of the treaty by his assurances to the governor of California that the question of immigration was effectively covered by the Japanese declaration, which appears above and which has been declared the treaty's efficiency and sufficiency.

The treaty was taken up for the third time in the senate and after two hours' discussion was ratified.

The western senators who had continuously opposed the treaty, reluctantly voted for it, it is understood, while not surrendering any of their opinions that grave consequences might ensue from this peculiar form of immigration.

The sole basis for the belief that immigration is safeguarded is the following personal statement for his government of Baron Uchida.

"In proceeding this day to the signature of the treaty of commerce and navigation between Japan and the United States, the undersigned Japanese ambassador in Washington duly authorized by his government, has the honor to declare that the Imperial Japanese government are fully prepared to maintain with equal effectiveness the limitation and control which they have for the past three years exercised in regulation of the emigration of laborers to the United States.

(Signed) "Y. UCHIDA." This was deemed sufficient certainty by the president and the state department and the president was active in his efforts to impress the California legislature with his view of the treaty's efficiency and sufficiency.

Although the text of the treaty has been published the intimation of secrecy has not been removed and so far as the senate is considered it continues as a confidential document.

HULL IN FAREWELL SPEECH

Iowa Congressman Urges That Army Be Increased by Addition of 250,000 Men.

Washington.—In his farewell speech to the house after a service of twenty years in that body, Representative Hull of Iowa, chairman of the committee on military affairs, urged upon congress the necessity of supplementing the regular army of this country with an effective reserve force of 250,000 trained men.

Mr. Hull said that such a force as he proposed could be maintained for $20,000,000 a year. It would be under the control of the president, who would designate the officers.

IS READY TO REVISE

DEMOCRATS ARE TO TAKE UP TARIFF REVISION.

Underwood Gives Out Authoritative Statement—Farmers Protest Against Treaty.

Washington.—The Democrats of the house are prepared to go to work at once on the revision of several schedules of the Payne-Aldrich tariff act should an extra session be called following the present session of congress.

An authoritative statement to this effect was given out Tuesday by Representative Underwood of Alabama, who has been selected as chairman of the new committee on ways and means. It was made to correct an erroneous report which has gained circulation in the last few days. Mr. Underwood said:

"The statement that if an extra session is called the Democrats in the house will not begin the work of revising the tariff is absolutely unfounded. The Democrats are pledged to revise the tariff and if we go into an extra session the house unquestionably will pass some tariff bills, revising some of the schedules of the Payne act downward, before it adjourns."

Farmers registered protests against Canadian reciprocity at the hearing before the senate committee on finance. Former Governor W. J. Bullock of New Hampshire, master of the national grange, made the opening argument and announced that if the committee had the time to hear them he would be followed by masters of granges in Indiana, Delaware, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Maryland, New York, West Virginia, New Hampshire, Connecticut and Massachusetts, as well as representatives in the various states of dairy, horticultural and other associations, including directors of state experimental stations.

JUSTICE'S PAY IS TOO SMALL

Harlan Quoted as Saying He Can't Repay $1,000—Still Owns Amount, Borrowed When Married.

Washington.—Justice Harlan of the United States Supreme court has not been able to save enough out of his salary to pay back $1,000 which he borrowed at the time of his marriage.

This statement was made to the appropriations committee of the house during its hearing on the sundry civil bill by Albert Rosenthal, a Philadelphia artist.

Mr. Rosenthal has partially completed a collection of paintings of former members of the Supreme bench and has offered the collection to congress for purchase. He was asked by a member of the committee if he had made any paintings at the personal solicitation of the justices.

"I have not been paid by any of them," said Mr. Rosenthal. "They all told me they were too poor to buy them. Justice Harlan said: 'I would like to have that portrait. I borrowed $1,000 when I was married, and every year since when I see my mortgage for the year I find I still owe that $1,000. They are all too poor to buy them. Justice McKechnie wanted to buy the one of himself, but the price was too high.'"

PASS ARMY INCREASE BILL

Reichstag Takes Action to Add 10,000 Soldiers to Force—Socialists Oppose Increase.

Berlin.—The reichstag passed the second reading of the five-year military bill, designed to strengthen the army gradually by more than 10,000 soldiers. There was no opposition except from the Socialists.

General von Heeringen, Prussian minister of war, denied that the bill was the result of a sudden decision of the military authorities, but had been under careful consideration for years.

The great progress Germany had made in the last forty years, he asserted, was largely due to universal military service.

SENATE BRIBERY CASE FAILS

Jury Acquits Frank J. Gardner of New York of Offering $50,000 to Influence Vote.

New York.—The state's first endeavor to make a criminal case out of an alleged attempt to purchase legislators' votes to defeat the anti-trust act failed here Friday. The jury in the criminal branch of the supreme court, acquitted former State Senator Frank J. Gardner, who was charged with offering a $100,000 bribe to former State Senator Otto G. Foelker, who is now a congressman.

TO AMEND THE BILL

HOUSE ORDERS IT ENGROSSED FOR THIRD READING.

STOCK YARDS BILL RECOMMITTED

The House Don't Like Civilian to Wear Soldier Clothes and Knock on Governor's Staff—Governor Wants Nebraska Day.

The house has completed its labor of amending the initiative and referendum bill and wound up by ordering the bill engrossed for third reading. As amended the bill is similar to the senate bill differing in only two important particulars. It has one restrictive feature not possessed by the senate bill and lacks one which the senate bill possessed.

The amendment adopted Wednesday requiring a 15 per cent petition to initiate a constitutional amendment is not in the senate bill. On the other hand the house has adopted an amendment which requires 35 per cent of all the votes cast to carry a constitutional amendment, excepting statutes from this provision. The bill passed by the senate requires the 35 per cent vote to carry both statutes and amendments.

Recommit Stock Yards Bill. State senators are figuratively sleeping on their arms, having acceded to the demands of Senator Olin for the recommitment of his disfigured stock yards bill, only on condition that the bill be put to a vote early Friday morning.

The cause of the complex condition was the call of the house, Jansen and Placek were absent and could not return until Friday. Under this call the senate was threatened with the unalluring prospect of eating supper and breakfast at the senate or going without, and of sleeping on the uninviting red carpet or in the cramped chairs.

Must Be Member of Guard. The house committee on militia proposes to knock out the (senior) governor's staff. It has introduced a bill which provides that aides on the governor's staff cannot assume any official rank, unless entitled to do so by a commission in the National Guard of the state.

Another bill prohibits wearing a military uniform unless the wearer is a member of the guard.

After it had supposed its work all finished (except for drafting a report, the committee appointed to look into alleged frauds in Omaha has decided to go after more evidence. It was stated today that a meeting will be held here the first of the week, at which more testimony, both documentary and oral will be introduced. Some of the poll books may be brought down from Omaha for inspection.

W. C. T. U. Invades Capitol. Four hundred members of the Woman's Christian Temperance union invaded the capitol expecting to present two pictures of Frances Willard to the legislature in joint session. No joint session was held so the delegation, after singing "America," visited the governor. One of the pictures will be hung in the office of the state superintendent and the other in the pure food commission rooms.

Have Returned from Fremont. The house finance ways and means committee have returned from Fremont where they went to investigate the proposal of the proprietors of the Fremont normal to sell that institution to the state. A bill appropriating $130,000 for this purpose has been introduced. The committee is not ready yet to announce its decision in the matter.

Annex Digs Up Armory Bill. Representative Anness took a turn at the resurrection game when he rescued from the waste basket a bill to appropriate $20,000 for an armory at Nebraska City. It is proposed to build the armory on the site of the original Fort Kearney and to make it both a home for the local company in Nebraska City and a memorial to the historic old fort.

Recommend Both Bills. The house committee on miscellaneous subjects unanimously recommended for passage the Bartling Sunday baseball bill, and the new expurgated capita removal bill. Don Despain, owner of the Lincoln Western league team, appeared before the committee and made a brief argument favoring the Bartling bill.

All day Wednesday the house battled around the Hatfield initiative and referendum bill and although it still retains enough of its original form to be recognizable, other missiles are being aimed at it which, if they hit the mark, will put it in such shape that even the author will hardly recognize it.

Governor Aldrich has sent special message to the legislature asking that Wednesday, October 18, 1911, be named as Nebraska day at the Omaha land show. It was stated that the land show would be made an annual affair and that the next exposition would be held in Omaha, October 19 to 28.

As was anticipated, the committee on live stock and grazing at its meeting appointed a sub-committee to make a trip to the South Omaha stock yards in order to investigate matters with a view of obtaining, if possible, an idea as to whether or not the contents of the shippers behind the Taylor-Bolezon bill are just. The committee appointed by Chairman Skeen consists of Representatives Metzger, Nitzman and Lindsey.

Until that committee reports as to its findings there will be no formal action taken on the remodelled bill.

Bartos of Saline, who made a plea last week for a bill that would permit the senate to pay its employees $5 a day (a trip to the South Omaha stock yards in order to investigate matters with a view of obtaining, if possible, an idea as to whether or not the contents of the shippers behind the Taylor-Bolezon bill are just. The committee appointed by Chairman Skeen consists of Representatives Metzger, Nitzman and Lindsey.)

When the Scheele-Wertman contest camp up, the votes were almost entirely along party lines, with the Democrats early victors. This result had been early foreseen and although the reports of the committee which had investigated the claim of Wertman to the seat were made the occasion for many speeches the anticipated result occurred. Scheele was declared the legal occupant of the seat, which wrong from that gentleman the exclamation: "Thank God, I am a free man at last!"

Kemp of Nance presented a petition from 500 taxpayers of the Polk county farmers' institute asking the legislature to provide for more farmers' institutes, training in schools, high schoolers, an east and west highway through the state, for county highway commissioners and liberal appropriations for the university and agricultural college, closing with a request for the legislature not to appropriate $100,000 or any other sum of money for a second state agricultural college in the western part of the state.

Canada Opposes Annexation. Ottawa, Ont.—The Canadian parliament Wednesday declared its sentiment to be that the proposed reciprocity agreement with the United States shall not lead to annexation.

Scheele Gets the Seat. When the Scheele-Wertman contest camp up, the votes were almost entirely along party lines, with the Democrats early victors. This result had been early foreseen and although the reports of the committee which had investigated the claim of Wertman to the seat were made the occasion for many speeches the anticipated result occurred. AMONG HERALD EXCHANGES

Bixby in Lincoln Journal: No matter what sort of a face you have, you will not be accounted homely if you cultivate a sunny disposition. Try it for a few years, and you will never be sorry.

Windsor Tribune: We understand that Prof. Bicknell has been secured for a period of two years longer than his present term. Mr. Bicknell has quietly been making improvements in the school here and the board was glad to contract for a period that will insure good schools in Windsor for a long time.

From "South of Town" news in Wakefield Republican: Some Indians have been calling on the farmers south of town trying to buy draft horses and offering as high as $400 a team providing the parties would drive them to the agency for their pay; so you see even the Indians know where to look for good quality.

Randolph Times: The debating team of the Wayne high school consists of three boys and our team is composed of girls. It will be a lively time at the opera house in Randolph March 10, when these two teams meet to contest for honors. Last year our team defeated Wayne. Of course we must not surrender that honor this year.

Wakefield Republican: When Andrew Anderson and bride returned from Omaha last Monday evening to their home north of town they found a big surprise awaiting them in the shape of a reception. About 60 people had gathered to welcome them home. A fine luncheon was served and a very enjoyable evening was had by all present. They were given a number of presents.

The Stanton Register sounds this warning: "If a bunch of machine politicians in both parties will take a vacation this fall Stanton county will have a fine set of officers for the next two years and we'll have a clean campaign. No dark lantern methods or violations of the 'corrupt practice act' are going to be used to defeat good, clean men who run for office this fall."

Bixby in Lincoln Journal: What is Senator Volpp going to vindicate his right to immunity from resolutions from the road overseers of Dodge county, calling upon him to resign?

I place my ear upon the ground
And listen with a vim,
But so far not a vocal sound.
No word comes up from him.
Were I one of the lucky boys,
Grown great through politics,
I'd made a devil of a noise
Or go home 'kiting. BIX.

Pilger Herald: Hon. Chas. McLeod was in Pilger Tuesday afternoon on business. Chas. is always a welcome visitor here and people are always glad to shake his hand and talk over the days gone by when he lived among us and shared our joys and sorrows. Chas. taught the Pilger school years ago when it had two teachers, and when he was much younger than he is now. Mr. McLeod has bought a half interest in the Stanton Picket and with his name associated with that publication insures it will be conducted along progressive lines and we trust there will be more amicable relations between the Picket and this paper in the future than in the past.

This is the way the West Point Republican estimates Taft and reciprocity: The opinion in regard to President Taft as a politician and a statesman has risen considerably since the beginning of the present session. It is conceded that he is in the main master of the situation and when reciprocity with Canada is established, as the better minds of the country think it will be, there is prospect of reciprocal trade relations between the United States and Mexico and with the Central and South American republics. With these ends accomplished close on to the completion of the Panama Canal, the administration is sure to finish with éclat, if not with another term for President Taft.

Norfolk Daily News: Chester Cramer, an 18-year-old boy of Creighton, Neb., was run over by Northwestern train No. 406 in the Junction yards Friday afternoon, and it is possible he will lose his left leg, over which the wheels of one car passed. Cramer says some one pushed him from the car platform, on which he was standing, and his leg went under the wheels. The young man was taken to the home of his brother-in-law, Conductor O. P. List, 1208 Madison street, where Dr. P. H. Salter, the Northwestern surgeon, attended him. Cramer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Cramer, who have been farming near Creighton, but left that vicinity recently for Minnesota. Chester Cramer was en route to Minnesota from Creighton to join his parents when the accident occurred. The train was approaching the Junction depot when the accident occurred.

The Frank Martin home was the scene of a jolly party Friday night. Friends of Miss Nellie gathered at her home and made the hours pass swiftly and pleasantly with music, games and refreshments. The event was given as a farewell to their friend before she leaves town for her new home in the country.

THE TEST OF MERIT.

Wayne People Are Given Convincing Proof.
No better test of any article can be made than the test of time and this is particularly true of a kidney medicine. Doan's Kidney Pills have stood this test and stood it well. What better proof of the merits of this remedy could you demand, than the statement of a Wayne resident who has been cured and has stayed cured?

Read the following:
Mrs. Ira Hoshan, of Wayne, Neb., says: "About a year ago I was confined to my bed for several weeks by an attack of La Grippe and upon recovering found that my kidneys were badly disordered. I suffered intensely from sharp, darting pains across the small of my back and my loins. I did not rest well and the kidney secretions passed too frequently. After taking Doan's Kidney Pills a few days, I felt better and in about three weeks, all symptoms of my trouble had disappeared. There has never a return attack."

After months of severe suffering which was borne with Christian fortitude, B. P. Peterson passed from this life February 25, 1911.

While eminent doctors tried to give him some relief from that dread disease, tuberculosis and cancer, nothing but the great hand of death gave him that peace from bodily pains which he sought. Mr. Peterson was one of Carroll's most highly respected citizens, being one of the pioneers of the county. Being a very industrious, thrifty man, he did much to improve the community and by his tireless energy accumulated considerable of this world's goods. About four years ago his wife died, but he did all in his power to make the home happy for his motherless children, being a most kind and devoted father. The funeral services were held at the German Lutheran church and were conducted by Rev. Rex of Laurel. Two sons, four daughters and a brother, besides a host of friends, are left to mourn his loss. Our heartfelt sympathy goes out to those loved ones in their bereavement.

QUEER THING IN BIRD LIFE

Fantail Pigeons Hatch out a Bantam Chick but Have Trouble in Feeding It.

The following experience, says a writer in the Strand, I have recently had may be of interest to your readers. I have two fantail pigeons, both male birds, and I noticed one day that they built a nest and then were sitting on it intently, as if they were going to hatch eggs. It struck me that it might be a good idea to put an egg of my bantams into the nest to compensate the pigeons for the trouble they had taken in building it. Apparently they appreciated my doing so, as from that time they never left the nest for about three weeks, when, to my great surprise, I found a little chicken peeping from the pigeon's nest. It was touching to see how the pigeons tried to feed the chicken by opening their beaks. The pigeons do, and trying the contents of their crops, which, of course, it refused to eat because it is a chicken and not a pigeon. The pigeons are very fond of the little one and take it under their wings to keep it warm whenever it wants it. exactly as a hen treats her chickens.

American Robins in England. An attempt has been made to introduce the American robin into Surrey, with apparent success. Six pairs turned loose last June near Guildford have reared about 40 nestlings. The name of our robin was given by the Pilgrim Fathers to the largest and most numerous of the American thrushes (Turdus migratorius), because of its red breast, and friendly association with man.

The American robin is closely related to our blackbird, and has a sweet, melodious song. Its introduction to Surrey will be regarded by market gardeners with much misgiving, for though his food consists chiefly of worms or insects, he works sad havoc among the cherries.—Westminster Gazette.

Cynical Florida Buck. Mr. B. Beacham, who recently returned from the forest, among other trophies of the hunt brought back a pair of buck horns, and upon the extreme point of each prong was the perfect formation of a dog's head. Mr. Beacham's only reasonable conclusion is that it is the result of a former exciting chase. After having it exultingly mounted he may present it to the Smithsonian institution at Washington.—Orlando Reporter.

Show Cattle Massaged. British bull exhibitors have caught on to the old American trick of massaging and brushing and rubbing show cattle several times a day so as to bring them to the pink of perfection sought by buyers of beef. Grooms spend as much time on steers as they used to on show horses and it pays.—New York Press.

Possible to Forget Color. That the human eye, though trained to distinguish colors, may by want of use, forget how to make such distinction, was proved by the experience of Dr. Hartley, a fellow of the Royal Society in England. In his case it was shown that color can be forgotten as well as learned, by human sight.

Shrewd Father. "Mercy on us!" exclaims the mother. "Gertrude has stopped with the chauffeur!" "Telegraph them our forgiveness," promptly says the father. "They can live with us, Hub! I guess that will not only shut off his salary, but will cut down those garage bills."—Judge.

HOTEL'S GREAT PIPE ORGAN

Largest Musical Instrument of the Kind in America Is in the Astor, New York.

The Hotel Astor, in New York, boasts the largest pipe organ in the United States and one of the largest in the world. A pipe organ is an innovation in hotel fixtures, and as such is of more than usual interest.

The great organ represents all orchestral instruments and its many speaking stops, nearly 100, make the total resources of the instrument almost inexhaustible. It is divided into four distinct divisions, the main organ occupying two chambers on the east and west sides of the ball room. The other two divisions are arranged on either side of "Orange" room. Completely hidden from view by the decorations of the walls and ceilings, the music comes as a surprise.

The pipes, varying from 32 feet in length to only a fraction of an inch, are hundreds of feet away from the playing cabinet containing the keys and stops, and each one is operated by a hand on the console. The pneumatic action, the pressure of a key gives current to a wire that finds its way through various cables and switches to a magnet, which operates pneumatic mechanism that opens a valve and gives pressure to the pipe.

Gulls Furnish Spectacle. The great gathering of gulls on the new retaining reservoir in Central park makes a pretty spectacle. On most mornings between 500 and a thousand mallards are gathered at the reservoir, with others drifting in from all quarters of the sky many of them apparently from the East river. From the distance two kinds of gulls seem to be present, white ones and black ones. The white birds are really the gulls, while the black are really herring gulls; the blacks are the spunky, clouded young.—New York Tribune.

Juvenile Entertainment to Date. The small daughter of a New York millionaire who dwells in Westchester county, asked her friends to have a luncheon to celebrate the "closed season" for hocks. "The table was round, and in the center stood a Dutch pipe tree with a pond containing fish. On the branches of that tree hung miniature turkeys and sugar plums and fruit, and something from it was given to each little guest. And each turkey and sugar plum contained a dainty little gift in jewelry from the hostess.

Expensive Fur. Attresses who wish to assert victorious power in their toilet have a mantle for rich furs. The supply grows scarcer and the demand rapidly rises. The skin of the Andes rat now costs, first hand, 90 francs. It is this little animal that gives us the beautiful Chilli fur, now so prized for motor wraps, stoles, mufflers and garments. A further rise is expected, the Bolivian government having forbidden the export of the pelts of the Andes rats. Furriers have fallen back on the skin of the opossum, which costs but eight francs.

Vegetarian Boots and Shoes. An enterprising manufacturer has discovered a process whereby a passable imitation of leather may be manufactured from a vegetable product. The novelty owes its introduction to London vegetable tanner, who showed at the thought of the number of animals that were killed annually to keep humanity in boots. The imitation leather is being used for the manufacture of boots, shoes, Bible covers and a hundred other articles usually found in the art leather department.

Buildings of Paper. Paris is always doing something out of the ordinary. The latest innovation is a novel church that has fairly distinguished the surrounding houses which is fitted up with electrical conveniences and has house made of glass. It is said to be made of paper, made waterproof by means of curdled milk and white of egg. It accommodates 1,000 persons, and novelty-seeking Parisians are now contemplating the construction of paper country homes.

Mall Coach in River. A peculiar accident happened recently in Spain when a mall coach on its way to Malaga with the mails and 14 passengers, fell into a river and was borne away by the current. After many efforts to free the coachesmen managed to rescue the passengers, but the 12 horses were drowned.

Immune to Bacilli. The director of water examination to the London metropolitan water board states, in his sixth report, that during his tests he drank half a pint of Thames water, containing 218,000,000 typhoid bacilli, without any evil effect.

Conforting Him. "I say, a man of the same name as mine has just been run in for fraud by credit. Beasty awkward, you know." "Don't alarm yourself, my dear fellow. Every one knows you can get money on credit at all."

Various Appeals. "How did you like the big frosted cake I made?" inquired the young woman who cooks. "It depends," replied the cautious man, "on whether you are discussing it as food or (statuary)."—

Candor in the Home. "Your sister's a fine time about making her appearance," suggested the caller. "Well," said the little brother, "she'd be a sight if she came down without making it."

The Way of the World. "Isn't it awful? According to the papers, there just seems to be one revolution after another." "Yes; that's the way the world goes round."—Judge.
