

We Wear Them Ourselves

Any time you want to talk to men who have tried out a line of clothing, call and see us, we will be glad to give you our personal experience with the clothes we sell.

We have given them every kind of a test that clothing could possibly be subjected to. We have ripped and torn up these clothes to see how they are put together on the inside. We have worn them for months and years to see how they stand up. We have compared them with other lines to see whether they are technically stylish and up-to-date. They are. They deliver the goods. We can heartily recommend them to you.

We are fellow citizens and ask for your trade on the strength of actual experience with the goods we offer.

Right now we are in a position to show you the new ideas in spring apparel.

You'll find it to your advantage to make this store an early call. You'll find this store a good one to "tie to."

Open every week day from 7:00 a. m. to 6:30 p. m. and Saturday evenings.

PARADISE FOR THE CURLER

Scotchmen flock to Van Cortlandt Park, New York. They have exclusive clubhouse.

Scotchmen who still keep alive in this vicinity the ancient sport of curling have finally received recognition from the park officials and have had a clubhouse built for their exclusive use at Van Cortlandt Park. The Scotch were happy enough when the bill was made on which they might curl without the interference of skaters, who cut up the ice so that the skaters could not run. They are glad that they have a little house where there are lockers in which to keep beams and other appliances of the sport there have been some lively days.

The curlers come to Van Cortlandt from all over Greater New York, Yonkers and several towns in New Jersey, and fish and pool alike indulge in the Scotch national game. Practically every "stano" in use, at Van Cortlandt was carried at the little island of Ailsa Craig in Scotland. The Scots feel that there are some early squatters in this granite that makes it superior to anything of a domestic nature. Their weight is thirty-eight to forty-two pounds, and it takes a lot of skill to slide them properly. —New York Herald.

MEETINGS TO CLOSE SUNDAY

CONTINUOUS SESSIONS TODAY

Evangelist's Talk to Men on Sunday — Made an Impressive Plea for Strong, Clean Living.

The series of evangelistic services conducted in the tabernacle will close next Sunday night. There have been in the neighborhood of 250 converts since the beginning of the meetings. Today meetings are being held all day with a lunch at the tabernacle at noon.

The evangelist's sermon Friday night sought to impress people with the need of not only preparing for the world in some way, but also preparing for the dangers of delay.

Friday afternoon was devoted to men only, and the address was an impressive plea for a strong, clean life. Following are brief excerpts from his sermon:

"Keep thy heart with all due diligence for Jesus said that out of the heart proceed evil thoughts. So we should strive to keep the heart pure. The evil heart leads to gambling, to vice, but righteousness leads to honor."

He asked how many are strong in character for right. How many can stand without hitching? Then brief sketches were of men who, in great emergency, were not found wanting. He mentioned their character and their environment in the hour of trial. Great men prove pure in thought and act.

Samuel asked them to name whom they had wronged and Israel answered "No man." He then asked them to name whom they had wronged and Israel answered "No man." He then asked them to name whom they had wronged and Israel answered "No man."

General Robert E. Lee would not even let his good name to a lottery, many years he has been a sufferer in that offered $25,000 a year for its use. He said his name was all that was left left him but it was not for sale.

"Was to the man that buildeth a town in blood." He then mentioned the names of insurance companies and corporations have no use for a drunkard.

"Saloons are closed on election day so that voters' minds may be unclouded by drink." Are saloons less of a danger to the man who has a vote after the earthquake came.

San Francisco saloons were closed by martial law. When the saloons opened again the period of order during the close was succeeded by disorder, and drinking had broken bad from the panic lead to ruin. If fathers would save their boys they must be given good associations. Bad pictures in the home are demoralizing.

"Sow a thought, reap an act; sow a deed, reap a harvest." He urged all men to live a life of purity, to preserve the home and the race. The knights of the twentieth century will protect virtue.

"The world is past disbelieving in the deity of Christ. In Christianity is hope of the future that life is worth living."

The speaker referred to Walter Scott's farewell testimony: "There is but one book your mother's bible." Then he named the world's greatest man as Christian.

Thursday night, "Thou Art My God," Friday night, "Sin unto Death," and Sunday the "Closing Day." Services at 10:30, and was conducted by Rev. Alexander Corkey, assisted by all days.

9:30, United Sunday schools meet at tabernacle. 10:00, preaching. 11:00, Social. 12:00, Cook Jubilee service. 7:15 pm, Closing service. "The Call of God."

DEATH OF MRS. E. E. HUSE

Mrs. Ruth Elmina Huse, aged 72 years and nine days, died at the home of her son, E. W. Huse, in Wayne Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. She had been suffering illness since the family moved here, only last fall, and had had periods of poor health for a number of years. It was not supposed her condition was critical until within a week of the time she passed away. She was attacked with what was pronounced malaria fever early in November. She had had the malaria several times previously, and after a long struggle seemed to regain her strength. Every effort to combat her late illness proved unavailing, and when kidney complications appeared, the seriousness of the case was manifest.

Mrs. Huse was born in Chautauque county, New York, March 17, 1839, and was married to William Huse June 20, 1857. The family moved west about the time of the close of the war, and wintered in Mississippi, then moving to Wayne county, Minn., where Mr. Huse practiced law. In 1870 the family moved to Ponca, Neb., where Mr. Huse founded the Ponca Journal. Twelve years ago the family moved to Klamath Falls, Oregon, and four years later returned to Nebraska, locating in Wayne where Mr. Huse died on October 24, 1906. About that time E. W. Huse with his family moved to Beatrice, accompanied by his mother. Mrs. Huse was the mother of seven sons and daughters two of whom died in infancy and one a daughter, Mrs. Huse was a member of the Presbyterian church and there in Minnesota suffered the hardships incident to the early days.

N. Huse of Norfolk, Mrs. W. M. Wheeler of Lincoln, W. Huse of Wayne and Mrs. E. A. Hopkins of Spokane, Wash. All were with her during the closing days of her life. There are two living sisters—Mrs. William Porter of Ponca, and Mrs. E. H. Huse of Omaha. She was the grand-daughter and two great-grandchildren, one of whom was born on her last birthday.

Funeral services were conducted at the late home in Wayne Tuesday afternoon by Rev. Alexander Corkey, with interment on Wednesday in the family lot at Ponca.

OBITUARY

Virginia Henricks (Clyde) was born in Lincoln county, Pennsylvania, on November 14, 1841, and departed this life at Wayne, Nebraska, on March 27, 1911, aged 69 years, four months, and thirteen days.

She was married to David Cunningham on February 13, 1862, in Pennsylvania, and from the union there were born eight children. Five of these survive to rear a mother's loss, being Mrs. W. H. Gildersleeve, Mrs. C. E. Gildersleeve, Mr. William L. Cunningham, who resides in Wayne, Nebraska, and Mrs. C. D. Gearheart of Burwell, Nebraska, and Rev. Lloyd Cunningham, of Marion, Kansas.

In the year 1882 the family moved from Pennsylvania to the state of Iowa, settling in Marshall county. In the spring of 1883 they removed to Wayne county, establishing their residence on a farm three and a half miles southeast of Wayne, where they resided until 1904, when she and her husband moved from an acre farm to a moving to the city of Wayne. For several years she has been a sufferer in that offered $25,000 a year for its use. He said his name was all that was left left him but it was not for sale.

During her early married life Mrs. Cunningham identified herself with the Presbyterian church at Milton, Penn., transferring her membership to Iowa, and thence to the Presbyterian church of Wayne upon coming to this county. She has lived a consistent Christian life during all the years and has been a devoted member of the church and abiding friendships. She was able to put aside the superficial things of life and to lay hold of things eternal. Her heart was pure and she was God and was satisfied in loving by drink. Her beautiful character and her children arise up and call her blessed, her husband also and his good associations. Bad pictures in the home are demoralizing.

BARTENDER WAS IRRITATING

One in St. Louis Aggravated the English Actor and Then "Collared" to Be Kicked.

An English actor, who has an agent as English as they make 'em, does not like American bartenders in general and for the lastestone in St. Louis he entertains a particular aversion.

"I went into a bar in St. Louis, dear boy," he said on one occasion, and I ordered a bottle of beer. The bartender said 'you mean at my hand me the beer. He dashed it down on the bar and sild it about ten or twelve feet, don't you know. It stopped right in front of me. I looked at him with a steady stare, as was quite proper, but he paid no attention to me."

"Then I gave him a quarrel. He threw on the bar a coin which rattled on the floor. Again I sild it, as him, as if to insult him, but he paid no attention to me whatever, and what was the matter with him? He said 'what. So I called a small black boy and said to him:

"You will find a coin on the floor, and you can have it for your trouble." "Then I turned to the bartender and said 'If you will come from behind that bar I will kick into you some knowledge of what is polite and propah on the part of a bartender."

"But he would not come from behind the bar. Then I gave him the number of my room, and told him I would be glad to see him there at any time and give him the kick which he deserved. But he never came to the room."

"So, you see, dear boy, four American bartenders are foolish, and they won't be kicked. What is a gentleman to do?"—Popular Magazine.

Telephone Proposal Won Bride. One of the Polish belles of Holopke was married a short time ago to a cutter who used the telephone to propose to her, but the bride and groom were rivals who resorted to the mails. The bride-elect attended a dance in Georgetown and made a tremendous hit.

Three young men, after pondering fervently over her charms, wrote her a letter. A proposition came in the same mail the next day. But just before the mail arrived the fourth suitor, more enterprising than his fellows, called the girl to a pay station telephone, proposed and was accepted.

The girl went home and found the three proposed letters. But she was satisfied to her telephone sweetheart and had her trousseau purchased within a few days. —New England Telephone Topics

Too Smart for a Lawyer. B. Davis Noxon was one of the ablest lawyers in central New York. A case involved his office as a student and was set at Blackstone to study. At the end of the term he asked Mr. Noxon what he would read next. "Yes," was his answer.

"Read Kent," was the order. "In another month he announced that he had finished Kent and 'What next?" "Have you read Blackstone and Kent?" "Yes." "Do you understand them?" "Yes." "Well," said Mr. Noxon, "you had better go to some other business; you are too smart to be a lawyer." —Kathoboth Sunday Herald.

Stealing a Comet. A European astronomer has tried with some success to steal a comet. Some weeks ago a new comet was announced and received the name of the comet Curruil after its finder.

Soon, however, other astronomers were unkind enough to point out that he had appropriated what belongs to others. Curruil is 53 years of age, reporting it is seventeen years ago, and now resuming its regular beat.

Its period is a little less than 7 1/2 years and it will reappearance on time up to 1895.

It should have come back in 1903, but failed to show up. But they are sure that the comet is Curruil's comet, reporting it is seventeen years ago, and now resuming its regular beat.

Another Phase of the Problem. "Doubtless the servant girl problem is very annoying to you. I have a really splendid housewife. I have a really desperate time getting said my clothes won't it."

WE HAD TO GIVE UP
Within the first week we have had to surrender our first and constant love who remains very interested in the family for a year yesterday.

When we reluctantly yielded to the inevitable decree, we turn to grief to the assurance that she has passed to a higher plane, and that we will be reunited in the body of some future life.

The Nebraska Legislature seem to have waked up to the fact that in the construction of the various public buildings, they must be secured for money paid in advance.

The Supremacy of Splendid Flour

It is not and never could be founded on imaginary results. Thirty-six years making flour of unquestionable quality has created a record of unusual importance. In city or hamlet, it matters not where Splendid once introduced never fails to become the leading flour.

THE EXCLUSIVE FEATURES which Splendid flour offers: First, uniform quality; second, color, so efficiently brought about by proper blending; third, absorption. Splendid will absorb more moisture than ordinary flours. This accounts for the three extra loaves housewives obtain from each sack; fourth, the guarantee printed on the back of every sack. Use down to the red line or three-fourths of contents, and if it does not SATISFY return the unused portion and receive full purchase price.

Every sack of Splendid contains the results of 36 years' continual night and day actual milling experience. High standard always maintained—made for women who care. Endorsed by 400 local users. Special sale on Splendid, See Specials.

Falger's Pure Tea

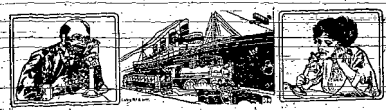

Last week we mentioned the arrival of this high-grade line of teas. It is worthy of mention that Falger & Co., submitted tea samples to the U. S. Government which were accepted as grade and quality standards of all teas accepted at our ports in the future. After May 1, none but natural uncolored teas will be permitted to be sold in this country. Unwholesome, chemically treated teas must join the list of impure food products. Their sale is forbidden after May 1. Our pure teas are on sale in advance of the new regulation. A trial is convincing of their superiority.

1 pound can Calumet Baking Powder, 25 cents, FREE with every sack Splendid Flour.

100 Cans Yellow Peaches, Fancy yellow stock. Cans chock full, packed in syrup. Regular price 25 cents. Sale price 15 cents.

100 Cans Hominy, First Quality. 3 cans for 25 cents.

No Time to Lose.
Baby Paul, being daily urged to have his ruff face washed so as to reduce it to fissible condition, one morning balled his surprised mother with the exclamation: "Oh, mamma, mamma! Cans and lids will only ruin my face! Clean!"

Seek and Find the Cure.
There is a cure for every ailment! Remedy the cause. A buggy won't do anything but jerk and its wheels can do nothing else than scrape so long as the axle is out of the frame and the wheels will go around.

NEED OF REFORM.

These are the days of reforms and it occurs to the Herald that the city of Wayne could not have a better fit municipal finances than would be highly beneficial and work no injustice. At present the city does not pay anything into its treasury for either fire protection or street lighting. Somebody has to pay for this and it is never clear to you who it is? A pump and sewer plant has to be maintained, help has to be employed and paid for operating the same and somebody has to foot the expense account; but who is it? Under present methods it is private users of water and lights, and not taxpayers of the city as a whole and it is the latter on whom this burden should rest. The drainage in this city is a profession to the taxable property within the city and as such should bear its proportionate maintenance. If these plants were the same is true of the entire street lighting system of the city, it is for the convenience of the people of the entire city and not alone for the individual users of electric lights in their homes or places of business. Under present methods the entire source of revenue of either water or light plants is that derived from private users of water and lights and this is a large amount distributed to hundreds of individuals. If these plants were owned and operated by a private individual or corporation, every public hydrant and every street light would have to be paid for out of funds raised from taxation and it does seem as though the same principle could be applied to municipally owned plants as to private owned institutions.

COUNCIL RAISE RATES.

The city council at its last meeting determined to raise rates on the use of electricity. The new schedule will be 12 cents per 1000 watts up to 25000, and from that amount up to 100,000 watts per month $1. The minimum is to be fixed at $1 per month hereafter. The present rate is 10 cents per 1000 watts up to 25000, and from that amount up to 100,000 watts per month $1. The minimum is to be fixed at $1 per month hereafter. The present rate is 10 cents per 1000 watts up to 25000, and from that amount up to 100,000 watts per month $1. The minimum is to be fixed at $1 per month hereafter.

NEVER SATISFIED.

This message had been broadcast by peculiar people. It is either too hot, too cold, too wet or too dry, too much or too little wind—in fact we are always in a struggle against it. Just now it is the dry weather that is keeping the country in the grip of worry. The real reason for it is the world's experience ought to be a pretty fair teacher and if it counts for anything it would tend to remind us that dry springs in this particular vicinity have usually been followed by pretty good crop seasons. Dry springs put the earth in the best possible shape for good cultivation and usually make the farmer up to the necessity of doing his work thoroughly. The drying of the crop put into the earth in good shape is really a prime necessity and after that a little moisture goes a long way towards the making of a good crop. It is just a little early to go the jinjams over the outlook for this year.

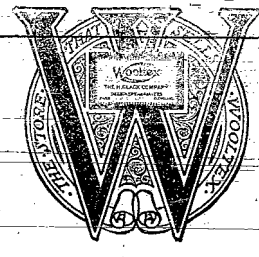

EVERYBODY SHOULD BOOST.

Every man ought to be a booster for the town and community in which he lives. You really believe it is the best place on earth, or else you would not stay there unless you were a fool or knave; then why can't you say so? Nobody likes a knacker, everybody loves a booster. The booster is a good fellow wherever you meet him. The sun always shines for him. There are no cloudy days in his life. He pushes his town and country. He is the man that builds a good home, makes its surroundings pleasant, encourages or builds the factories, gives employment to labor, enables others to enjoy life as well as himself, sympathizes in times of trouble, points you to the bright days ahead, makes you take a new and better hold on life. Be a booster where you live, or else go where you can boost. Hats off to the booster; his cup kind.

His Only Chance.

He-1 would die for you. She-1 would you? Well, that's about the only chance there is of us two becoming one.

Circumstances Alter Cases.

It is easier to appear worthy of a position one does not hold than the only chance one has—A. Reebstock could.

The Exception.

When a man talks about himself a good deal his ego is so big that he says on the world unless he has a page to have a woman in love with him. Atchison Globe.

Only Real Need for Competence.

The pursuit of wealth is not the aim and end of existence. For whether it be laborer at his bench or the managing director at his desk, the accumulation of a competence is only desirable in that it allows each to enjoy his life in his own way.

Surely Record in Descent.

A barefoot six yards long and a foot wide, writing in quaint fifteenth-century tract the descent of King Henry VI. from Adam, has just been placed in the Welsh National Library at Aberystwyth.

Just So.
"The poor are often ungrateful."
The poor are not often handed their money. People insist on giving their canton flannel when they'd rather have crayon portraits of themselves.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Getting It Anyhow.

Wife—What you refuse to give me a simple little hat of 25 francs. Well, then give me a check for a thousand francs to buy coal.—Papez Follon.

Annual Elephant Slaughter.

There are annually killed in Africa some one-half of one per cent of the total number of the somewhat drab animal in the United States.

Women "Drummers."

It has been estimated that women form one-half of one per cent of the total number of the somewhat drab animal in the United States.

Macaulay's Handwriting.

I showed a professor of calligraphy a letter I had received, written in ink in the Three-Cornered Essays. He took a very unfavorable view of the handwriting. It was the handwriting, he told me, of a man without learning, without genius, without feeling. "And now, sir," I said, "will you look at the signature?" The letter was written by Lord Macaulay.

The Preacher's Trade.

If the minister knows nothing about politics let him keep clear. But if he knows, and knows what he knows, and how to say it, let him do the thing. His utterances then will trouble some brother of course. But what of it? To trouble human conscience is the preacher's trade.—The Continent.

Trade With Argentina.

American exports to Argentina consist of lumber, rosin, turpentine, petroleum, lubricating oils, agricultural machinery, windmills, sewing machines, typewriters, leaf tobacco, binder twine, office furniture and steel products, controlling in some of these.

Way of the Lazy Man.

As a general rule, the man who bates hard work is most likely to become a follower of some new variety of prophet whose message is peace.—Atchison Globe.
