THE INSTITUTION PAYS WELL

Total Sum Appropriated Will Permit Needed Improvements and Proper Development.

The educational interests of the state have been well provided for by the action of the Nebraska legislature which has just closed. The state normal at Wayne has been treated especially well, and the appropriation allowed for maintenance and permanent improvements inside the school makes a strong school during the next year. The amount reserved for salaries and equipment will permit the establishment of several departments which have thus far been left unprovided because of a lack of funds. Teachers will be elevated in the departments of public reading and education and agriculture and geography, and work in these subjects will be strong features of the summer session.

Additional teachers will be secured for the model school and the training department will be greatly enlarged and strengthened the coming year.

Preliminary steps toward the erection of a new library and science building will be taken at the meeting of the board of education to be held at Peru on April 1. The construction of this building will be rushed as rapidly as possible so that it may be completed and ready for the September term. The appropriation of $15,000 for sewer water has been signed by the governor and the fund is available for immediate use. All of the buildings owned by the state will be made available for the next year. The general appropriation bill has an item of $6,000 for repairs. This will be used to fund repairs in making needed repairs and improvements on the buildings how in use, also for placing fire escapes on the dormitories.

Another bill which has just received the signature of the governor makes change in the entrance requirements to the state normal schools. This is known as Senate File No. 831 and was introduced by Senator Tillet of Knox county.

The law as it now stands provides that no pupil shall be admitted to the state normal who does not possess at least a two years' high school education, or its equivalent, but the board of education may admit mature students who have completed the eighth grade and have received satisfactory marks in some districts. For example, under the law as amended, a student residing in a district which provides instruction in two or more years of high school work cannot be admitted to any of the state normal schools unless such student has credits showing the completion of the ninth and tenth grades.

The following shows the total amount of appropriations allowed the Wayne Normal school for the biennium beginning in April, 1911, and ending March 31, 1913:

Maintenance	1,000
Printing and office supplies	8,100
Fuel and lights	9,000
Telephone, telegraph, freight and express	1,900

Gorham, 715 Second avenue, in compliment to Mrs. Wightman, who is here from Wayne, Neb., on a short visit. The guests will be given by Mrs. P. B. Blakely and Mrs. J. E. McKnight, as well as Mrs. Gorham, all three of whom were intimate friends of Mrs. Wightman when, as Miss Minnie Sprague, she was a pupil of the school here. ## WAYNE IS MADE DEFENDANT

DAMAGE SUIT AGAINST CITY

Mrs. Maggie E. Warner Sues to Recover $15,000 Alleged to Be Due on Account of Injuries.

On Monday afternoon Harry & Bertha built a bridge over the street north of Mrs. Maggie E. Warner, wife of George Warner, against the city of Wayne, the action being one seeking to recover damages placed at $15,000 on the part of the city as a member of the city of Wayne, signed by James B. Britton principal and John S. Lewis, attorney, was read and approved by the court.

The master appointed Councilman Springs, Lamberson and Kingsbury to canvass the returns of the city election held April 3, 1911. Their report was as follows: John Kate, mayor; H. S. Ringland, treasurer; Forest Hughes, clerk; James Britton, police judge; Councilmen—First ward, W. Kingsbury; Second ward, D. S. McVicker; Third ward, Charles H. Bright; School board: W. M. Orr, P. H. Kohl and J. P. MacFarland. Action was recorded and carried that the report of the committee be approved.

Whereas it appearing that notice of rebuilding sidewalks along lot 19, block 6, eighth ward of Wayne had been served on the owner of said lot, and said walk not being rebuilt, it was moved and seconded and carried that the clerk be instructed to issue a final notice to rebuild said walk upon said owner.

COUNCIL MEETING.

Minutes of a regular meeting of the city council held April 10, 1911: Meeting called to order by the mayor with the following members of the council present: Gildersleeve, Kingsbury, Larson; Lamberson; Meister; Sprague.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

During the storm last night, lightning killed three horses belonging to Oliver Conley, who lives three miles east of Wayne. Mr. Conley had been in the field plowing when a live bolt of lightning struck the animals, which was using. He was shocked and rendered insensible, but soon recovered.

Phil H. Kohl arrived home last evening from Lincoln.

Wilson Kirkbaugh and F. A. Berry returned this morning from Hastings.

We live in hope of always being able to find some more satisfactory way of disposing of our leisure time than playing hoards.

E. Blackmer returned to his home in Lincoln this morning after visiting a few days at the home of his father-in-law, J. E. Hecron.

WILL MOVE TO CALIFORNIA.

W. S. Goldie, former proprietor of the Wayne Hotel, who returned Saturday from the Pacific coast, says he might on some record of two or three half-acre adjoining Ontario, Cal., a city of 4,000 inhabitants, situated 100 miles from Los Angeles.

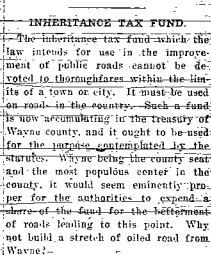

He expects to leave with his family to that place the last of next month. He does not intend to engage in the newspaper business again for a year but will devote his time to stock and speculation.

And looking after his orange grove in Ontario is a thriving city of modern improvements, with streets and surrounding roads, paved and kept in good shape. The place has only one newspaper well equipped and valued at $20,000. Mr. Goldie met Judge Jones and Dan and John Harrington at Ontario, and they expressed themselves as being well pleased with that country.

INHERITANCE TAX FUND.

The inheritance tax fund which the law intends for use in the improvement of public roads cannot be devoted to thoroughfares within the limits of a town or city. It must be used only on the country. Such a fund is now accumulating in the treasury of Wayne county, and it ought to be used for the purpose contemplated by the statute.

Wayne being the county seat and the most populous center in the county, it would seem entirely proper for the authorities to expend a share of the fund for the betterment of roads leading to this point. Why not build a stretch of oiled road near Wayne?

"S. N." Green Stamps Absolutely Legal

Law Does Not Affect Them

You who are benefitting from the Multi-Million Dollar Free distribution of merchandise to collectors of "S. N." Green Trading Stamps, will be pleased to know that the Law relating to "Gift Enterprises" does not affect you, nor us, nor "S. N." Green Trading Stamps.

The Courts of Twenty-Four States have decided that the Trading Stamp business of this Company is absolutely legitimate, and that no Law can Constitutionally interfere with it.

Justice Holmes, of Lancaster County, Nebraska, declared that the giving of Stamps is an inducement for the sale of merchandise as a—

"Proper method of advertising" and "Involves no Turpitude whatever."

He further held that the Trading Stamp business of this Company does not in any manner affect the safety or morals of the public, and that there is no element of chance in it whatsoever.

The Supreme Court of the United States decided that a "Gift Enterprise" is unlawful only when it includes an element of chance.

When referring to a North Carolina case (Winston vs. Beeson) the Supreme Court of the United States approved of the Decision in which it was expressly declared that the business of The Sperry & Hutchinson Co. is not a "Gift Enterprise."

Therefore, the "Gift Enterprise" Law of Nebraska does not in any way affect collectors of "S. N." Green Trading Stamps, nor the merchants who give them. It does not affect you, the Sperry & Hutchinson Co.

We are, and we have been, doing a legitimate business for fifteen years.

It is right and proper that you who pay cash for your purchases should receive a discount.

It is right and proper for a merchant to encourage trade and prompt payments by giving a discount.

Yes, it is right and proper, and the highest Courts hold that no merchant can be legitimately interfered with in his method of paying that discount.

Whether he pays the discount in cash or in merchandise, are not matters which can be regulated by Law. Nor can a merchant be restricted as to whether he in person hands this discount to his customers, or whether he employs another to attend to that business for him.

MOVE IN BEHALF OF WM. FLEGE

BODY OF DEAD SISTER EXHIBITED

Sensational Article in Sioux City Tribune—Reported Excitement in Wayne—A Mistake.

Thursday evening's Sioux City Tribune contained an article of the humoring of the body of Louise Flege, of whose murder her brother, William Flege, was pronounced guilty in the district court of Ponca and sentenced to the State Penitentiary at Lincoln.

The Tribune speaks of excitement in Wayne due to the taking up of the body, whereas, as a matter of fact, there was not only no excitement, but as far as the move and such things were so reluctant that neither local papers received a suggestion that would lead it to go after the news.

When questioned, F. A. Berry, one of the attorneys, did not deny the basis of the suggestion that the Tribune had exerted its imagination to a considerable extent in preparing the article.

The Herald reproduces the Tribune's account of the move, and while it is worthy of any stirring interest in Wayne, there was none, because the move was securely covered. Whether the other details are equally colored or not, the Herald does not know.

It is "Flegh's" rumor that the body of Louise Flege was taken to the penitentiary, in Lincoln, was exhumed, and the stomach taken to Sioux City for further examination. Dr. W. Meis of Sioux City had charge of the stomach which was examined by Dr. A. Naffziger of Wayne, Henry Flege, brother of the murdered woman, and J. J. McCarthy, Fred Berry and E. A. Berry, who defended Flege in the murder trial.

All those who attended the post mortem refused to say a word regarding the findings. They were pledged to secrecy, saying that what few results were found will be what is reported by the medical expert.

All Wayne was excited when the doctors, lawyers and others interested in the famous trial, took their places in two automobiles and went rapidly to the cemetery northeast of Wayne where the body of Louise Flege was being resting since last July. A school house is located near the cemetery and the children at once crowded around the men, anxious to learn further news of the case.

The body was found to be in an excellent state of preservation. Although the woman was murdered June 30, 1910, Henry Flege assisted in lifting the coffin of his sister from the grave and stood in the tent while the physicians were making preparations for the post mortem. He was overzealous by the scene and was forced to leave the tent while the doctors were carrying out the work. It was found that a quantity of water had entered the grave and that the body had become covered with white mold.

When the party returned to Wayne the streets were lined with townspeople who had heard that the body was being exhumed and had been anxious to be the first to see the members of the jury, but were anxiously besieged by questions, but were refused to divulge the details of the finding. Dr. Meis returned on an evening train carrying the stomach and other parts of the body in plastic jars. The stomach was sealed in the presence of the attorney and will not be opened until the final details of the examination to be held in Sioux City are completed.

As the result of the post mortem will be the question that is being asked on all sides here today. It was the contention here during the trial that had the stomach been examined at the time it would have been proved that the woman had been murdered at three different hours after dinner and this fact alone would have cleared Flege. The prosecution claimed that she had murdered her sister during the afternoon while Flege was at home.

When the post mortem was being arranged a letter was addressed to Flege, who was then in Lincoln, asking that he should appear in person for this reason he was given the chance to state his opinion regarding the advisability of holding a post mortem. Flege, writing in his prison cell, begged his attorney to return to him, and again pleading his innocence of the crime. Acting upon this advice, the attorneys summoned Dr. Meis and ordered him to conduct the post mortem. Flege generally believed that the post mortem will have a sensational effect upon the trial, which it is thought will be granted.

Meis admitted that he had brought the stomach to Sioux City and that the examination would probably be held Saturday. Two well known Sioux City physicians will assist Dr. Meis. He stated that he is bound to secrecy and that the result of the examination will never be revealed except in the witness stand in case another trial is held.

BB READY TO SWAT THE FLY. Omaha Trade Exhibit. The fly is a frequenter of oafal; the female lays her eggs in the manure pile or other filthy spots.

All the germs—all the magnifiable, all the microscopic bacteria, when they get on the spongy feet of the fly, he brings them into the house and wipes them off his feet. The fly you see walking over the food you are about to eat is covered with fifth and typhoid germs.

If there is any spit in your house or about your premises, or those of your neighbors, he has just come from it in his house. Watch him as he stands on the nose of your neighbor, wiping his feet. He is wiping off the disease germs, rubbing them on the sugar that you are going to eat, leaving the poison for you to swallow.

He wipes his feet on the food about you, gets on the faces and on the lips of your sleeping children. This does more to spread typhoid fever and cholera infantum and other intestinal diseases than all other causes when they are brought in contact with it. For instance, you cannot get typhoid fever unless you swallow the germ of typhoid, and you do not swallow these germs unless they get on the food you eat or in the liquid you drink, or on the glasses or cups from which you drink.

Not only does the fly scatter the germs of disease from his body over the food, but before your fruit and vegetables are placed on the table they have been subjected to his filthy habits, either in the kitchen or in the dining room.

Intestinal diseases are more frequent wherever and whenever disease is most abundant, and they, and not the summer heat, are the active agents in its spread.

PEOPLE KILLED BY TORNADO

HITS OKLAHOMA AND KANSAS

Main, Rail and Lightning Accompany Tropic Wind—Two Towns Nearly Destroyed.

More than a score of persons are reported dead, at least 200 injured, two towns practically swept away, scores of others with portions of buildings destroyed as the result of a tornado in Kansas and Oklahoma yesterday.

The most northern point from which damage was reported from the tornado was Stillwater, the accompanying rain and hail storm extended over a wide area. Omaha was visited by a high wind which probably will result in the death of one man.

The storm was followed by rain, hail and lightning. Many buildings were struck by lightning and burned. Western Missouri was visited by a rain and hail storm, but not in the main part of the tornado.

At Lawrence, Kan., telephone wires were reported useless in the worst stricken sections and it is probable that the complete reports of the death toll and the property damage will prove much greater than the first indications.

The town reported practically destroyed at Big Heart, Okla., where four persons were killed, ten injured and almost every building in the town was wrecked.

Whiting, Kan., was practically wiped off the map, sixty buildings being blown down, thirty people hurt, and Mrs. David Stone killed.

At Lawrence, Kan., a woman and a child were killed. A high school building was wrecked at Eskridge, Kan., a number of houses damaged and from fifteen to twenty persons injured.

At Timbuctoo, Kan., three children were killed. George Nelson, General 12 years old, a small child of Otis Melton and a boy whose name is given as Pelton were the victims. The Nelsons were in a country school house and the building was wrecked soon afterward. The dead girl's companions were injured. It is not known how the Nelson child met her death. The Pelton boy was also killed when a school house was blown down. Several buildings were struck by lightning.

In Kansas City the storm did little damage. A few horses were killed by lightning and some buildings struck. The rain in Kansas City lasted about an hour and was heavy.

FATAL AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT.

A Beatrice report states that Frank Kimball, the wealthy lawyer over, was killed and three men were injured, two seriously, when an automobile turned turtle at a cross-roads Wednesday afternoon, two and one-half miles south of Beatrice.

E. P. Mumford and Walter Meyers are in a serious condition. A. M. Lavalle was slightly hurt. The homes of all four are at Beatrice.

The party left Beatrice at 1 o'clock for Wynora and started home about 3:30 o'clock. Mr. Kimball was driving the car. After the machine left a small curve it was in a zigzag manner about fifteen yards, plunged into an embankment on the east side of the road and, over twice, surging into occupants beneath it.

Mr. Kimball was instantly killed, his head crushed. The other three, who were pinned under the car, where they were found.

Mr. Mumford was on his way from Omaha to Salina, Kan., in a touring car. Help was sent from Beatrice to Wynora, where they were removed from the wreckage and taken to town in ambulances. Kimball's body was found lying face downward in the middle of the road about a rod away from the car.

Mr. Mumford was crushed and his injured internally. Mumford sustained an injury to spine and several internal injuries. Lavalle escaped with a ugly contusion on the side of his face and a broken jaw. The injuries to Mumford and Meyers cannot recover.

Rev. Father Kearnes went to Carroll this morning.

Brown Bread and Beans.

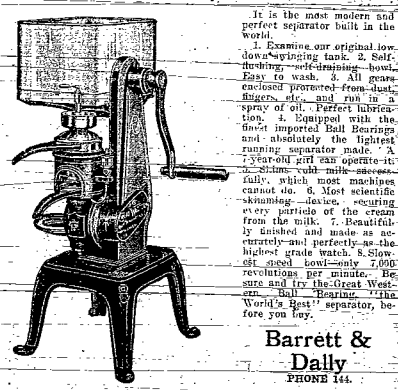

The story of the bread and baked beans is more interesting and important than local historians appear to think. Perhaps the most inclusive record of the bread and beans which is a good proportion of Indian meal, June 20, 1764, the selectmen ordered that the proportion of Indian meal in Indian bread must be increased one-half. The use of Indian meal in bread is mentioned in the selectmen's order of October 25, 1782.

The use of Indian meal as a substitute for wheat flour was due to poverty. Or is there any evidence to show much of the Indian meal in the several tenth century. The term "brown bread" is medieval, but had nothing to do with Indian meal. It began as a common name for bread made of rye and was a famous man.

THE WEEK AT STATE NORMAL

President Cass will attend a meeting of the board of education at Peragon Monday, April 17.

Several photos have recently been made showing an exhibit of industrial work in the model school.

The school was pleased to have Miss Patten at convocation Monday, and her rendition of "The Green Lizard" was very highly appreciated.

Miss Cora Mae Patten reached Wayne on Saturday evening and was entertained by Miss Kingsbury until Tuesday of the following week.

A number of letters are being received from students who expect to attend the summer session of the Wayne Normal school. Several teachers have already engaged rooms in the ladies' dormitory for the term.

Remember that grades one, three, five and seven will be offered in the model school during June and July. All parents having children who expect to attend in any of these grades will kindly notify the office of the same.

Arrangements are nearly completed for commencement week. The baccalaureate sermon will be preached on Sunday, May 28, and Thursday, June 1, is commencement day. Among the special features of the week will be the singing of the hymn "The Hymn of the class play, field day exercises and the banquet reunion.

On Saturday evening, April 15, in the dining room of Kingsbury Hall will occur the annual Junior-Senior banquet. This banquet is given by the seniors to members of the faculty and members of the faculty. The seniors bring the special guests of honor. The banquet will occur at 8 o'clock and the supper will be followed by a number of toasts.

A large and appreciative audience attended the performance of the dramatic reading of "The Servant in the House." Miss Patten possessed dramatic power of the highest class, and every character was brought out distinctly in her excellent presentation of the various parts of the play. Her interpretation of Mason, the bishop of Bonares, who broaches the spirit of brotherhood; of the bishop of Lanchester, typifying in a marked degree the spirit of expediency and selfishness; and other characters, was exceedingly well done, and the attention given by the large audience present showed a thorough appreciation of the excellence of her work.

Time's Changes.

A New York dancing master, at a recent meeting of teachers of the poetry of motion, said that dancing was an amusement but lost much ground in the last few years, and that he saw no prospects of a revival. "True," he said, "there are dancing parties in all every season, but they are not what they were once upon a time. They begin late and end early, and the music is not so good. Some do not go to dance. The parents and the grandparents of our pupils used to go to balls where dancing began at 7 o'clock and where there was dancing until the 'supper march' was played. Supper over, there was dancing again until all hours. The dancing and the supper were more popular now than the dance floor."

WHAT PAPERS IN VICINITY SAY

Excerpts from Their News- and Editorial Columns—Facts and Opinions That May be of Interest to Readers.

At the city election in Bloomfield the initiative and referendum was adopted by a vote of 172 for and 26 against.

Personal Trifles: With the wet or dry question settled in the towns, attention is directed to the country, where the question of a wet or dry season will now be uppermost.

Time Leader: Those Wayne papers are spreading themselves these days. Each is printing ten and twelve pages every week, which is going some for a country newspaper.

Barroughl Enterprise: John Linden was married on Wednesday of this week by Doctors A. E. Cook of this city and J. Williams of Wayne. The position was twice broken out and the boys took it. It is now believed the young man will gradually mend.

Prize worth the jury trying on April 10th, 1911, on a charge of assault on J. Williams of Wayne. A verdict of guilty of first degree murder and the next morning the presiding judge sentenced the prisoner to life imprisonment. The case will be taken to the supreme court.

Wayne Times: City presents the first example of a man resigning as postmaster before his time is out, and because he wants to give more attention to other business. L. Kruger, who has been postmaster at that place for eight years, has sent his resignation to the department at Washington.

Wayne Republican: Wayne has a marshal, George Mink, who has served for twenty two years. Pretty good service. Bill Murphy says "I don't know if it will serve that long or not. But, anyway, he seems to be doing it."

Wayne Times: The spring so far has been backward and cold, no rain, but considerable snow and sleet and ice. The weather is still so cold that it is put in some ten or more days ago is not sporting very fast. On the whole, farmers would rather see the cold weather come now and all at once than later, when a freeze would greatly weaken the strongest grain and ruin the prospect for fruit.

Wayne Chronicle: A meet in the yard at the home of Mrs. Mary Stuck near Hooper. Like a ball of fire it came out of the sky and burst itself into a shower of sparks and flames surrounding the hole it had been burned to a crisp. Mrs. Stuck had the muddog out of the earth. It is about the size of a baseball and is composed of some blue-colored substance.

Wayne Times: Alfred Pong, alias Alvin Stanton Register, has been elected mayor of that town. Editor Pong, though a democrat, opposed Dahlman for governor last fall, and aroused so much ire in the democratic ranks at Stanton that another paper was started there. It believed his election to the majority is designed as a rebuke to those who took exception to his stand on the governorship.

Wayne Times: This fish story in the Colveride Blade was a fraud. A man at Westport picked up his net and grabbed it. The man jerked back so quick that he hauled the fish out on the ice. He has marks of the fish's teeth in his nose to prove the tale.

Wayne Times: Horse buyers have made quite a business here the past month or six weeks, and paid fairly good prices. It seems the more automobiles there are in use the better the price of horses. Statistics show that there are more horses in the United States now than there ever has been, and the demand for larger and better horses is increasing all the time. Funny, isn't it, when only a few years ago the prediction was made that the automobile would put the horse out of business?

Wayne Times: Special from Tilden to Saturday's Norfolk Daily News: William Mook was drowned yesterday afternoon in a slough about a mile and a half north-west of Clinton. The young man was engaged in hauling brush when the fatality happened, and his elder brother, Charles, who was with him, had a very narrow escape of sharing the same fate. The brothers were using a hay rack which was piled up with willows and other bulky underbrush, and were driving along the edge of an old channel of the Elkhorst river; the road was slippery from melting snow and at a party place the topography had swung round in the slough which catches water to the depth of several feet. The wagon rack broke and the whole load was turned over into the slough. William was forced to the muddy bottom by the weight of the load, and although he tried to get up, he was unable to keep his head above water. The boys, whose home is not far from the scene, happened to see the load or it was being overturned and ran to the place to give assistance, having first hastily requested Mrs. Bliss to telephone for a doctor. Unfortunately a telephone pole was broken when the wagon was falling into the slough, and the wires were snapped, consequently communication by the method was not available. Mrs. Bliss was only just in time to rescue the older brother, who was so nearly drowned that it was almost impossible for him to call for assistance. Despite heroic efforts on the part of Mr. Bliss and others who soon arrived, William's body was not recovered until too late for resuscitation. The parents of the dead boy live on their farm a half mile north of Tilden, where they have resided for several years. The drowned boy was about 15 years old, and his brother who was with him was about two years older. No blame for the tragic occurrence can be attributed to any one, and the parents have the true sympathy of the whole neighborhood.

DEATH OF MICHAEL LEAHY.

Michael Leahy, aged 78 years, 8 months and 6 days, died at his home in this city Monday evening after a brief illness. Three days before his death he was stricken with rheumatism which affected his heart and proved fatal.

He was born at Peterborough, Ontario, Canada, August 1, 1832, and was married at that place to Bridget Porter (deceased) January 19, 1859. The family moved from Canada to Clinton, Ia., in 1858, and to Wisner, Neb., in 1868. They lived in Wayne nine years and have lived here since then with the exception of two years spent in Omaha from which place Mr. and Mrs. Leahy returned to Wayne recently.

Mr. Leahy is survived by his wife and nine grown sons and daughters, all of whom were present at the funeral, which was held at the residence of Mrs. P. Collins of Taylor, Okla. Frank Leahy, of Winner, S. D.; Mrs. H. O'Connell of Revere, S. D.; Dr. B. J. Leahy of Jackson, Neb.; James T. Leahy of Plover, Neb.; William J. Leahy, Sr. of St. Louis, Mo.; Kenneth A. Leahy of Jackson, Neb.; Ella Leahy of Wayne and Agnes Leahy of Omaha.

Other relatives and friends from out of town attending the funeral were: A. Leahy of Harrison, Mo. and Mrs. J. Leahy of Irving, Neb.; John and Katherine Leahy of Wisner, Neb.; Matt and Marie Leahy of Jackson, Neb.; Mrs. Garvey and daughter of Harrison, Mo.; and Mrs. O. Funeral services were conducted yesterday morning by Rev. William J. Leahy pastor of the Roman Catholic church of Wayne and Rev. Devereux of Jackson and interment took place in the Catholic cemetery.

DEATH OF W. ALFRED JONES.

A Wisner report in Monday's Star and Daily News, announces the death of W. Alfred Jones, who lived on a farm nine miles north of Wisner. He died in the Presbyterian hospital at Omaha from the effects of gall stones.

It is believed he was the oldest settler in Wayne county, having lived here thirty-seven years. He leaves a widow, four sons and one daughter. The funeral took place Monday under the auspices of the J. O. O. F., of which Mr. Jones was a member.

BIG PROSPERITY WAVE COMING.

This business forecast, which is being published, is encouraging if true. Leading capitalists of industry, reading signs of the times, say that year 1913 will be an era of prosperity the like of which the world has never seen beyond the scope of the imagination. This judgment is based upon detailed information from business men in all parts of the country.

Forecasts made by government experts, the world's leading international trade balance in favor of the United States by the end of the fiscal year, June 30, will not be far from $500,000,000, a figure rarely equaled, are reasons for predicting this long-expected business boom will soon be under way.

Two important factors stand in the way of the immediate development of the forecasted boom. One is based upon a political and legislative situation, especially upon the situation in which the railroads find themselves. The other is that next year will be the year of presidential politics. Therefore, it is the opinion of these experts, that before the country will hit us about this year.

According to this argument until March 4, 1913, the business of the country can be described as simply waiting for political and legislative action to begin, but a gradual increase. Means, while the country will be accumulating surplus capital, through the opening of our export and import trade.

Well, by Jove!—exclaimed the jurist, "if that isn't the key to my room at the Hotel Tourist." Say, how much is this thing worth, say, how?

"About fifty cents," he was told.

"Well, then," he thought that I have sent men to jail for stealing less than that!"—New York Sun.

views speak with enthusiasm of prosperity, when it does come. They say that in magnitude and scope in investment of capital, in development of natural resources and vice industrial or railway promotions it is to be an era of unexampled activity.

How Filippino Captured Monkey.

The Filippino—catch monkey in a very funny way. Monkeys are very fond of the meat of cocoanuts. They go very close to the trunk, about 10 feet through the outer bark, and will cut out an when very hungry. The Filippino takes advantage of this greed and indolence of the animal opening through the shell, just large enough for Mr. Monkey's long thin nose to penetrate. When one gets inside he gets a hand full of delicious daint meat, and his hand is naturally wider when in this set than when he is outside. Finding his hand will not come out, the monkey clatters, and scolds, and scolds, and scolds, and scolds. The way he has been stripped, but never thinking of releasing his hold on the cocoanut meat and withdrawing his hand as easily as he put it in. There he stands, an angry monkey, until the native who set the cocoanut trap, comes and takes him captive.

THEIR CONCEPTION OF DUTY

Bookkeepers Rightfully Put Welfare of Firm Before Their Personal Conventions.

"You wouldn't think that devotion to duty could be carried to a ridiculous extreme in these careless days, would you?" asked a young man who was sitting at a board house. "Why, I tell you about a year ago (follow who come under my observation every day. They are brothers, and must be pretty close to their duty, isn't it?"

Bookkeepers by the name firm, the wholesale house. They are inconstant in their refusal to take the same as they would be if coming home from business. They leave the house, together, walk to a street car station, and then take a coin to see which one takes the first train, and which waits for the next. I had noticed this proceeding several times and finally asked one of them about it.

Well, you see, it's this way, he said. My brother and I have kept the books for our house for about 20 years and we have an intimate knowledge of the necessities. If anything is to be done, it must be done in a second, for instance, it would be almost impossible to get a man to take the firm a great deal of railroad. That's why we never take the same train."

"Dickens would have gloried in idealizing those two old chaps."

A VITAL DUTY.

Before a girl of the more fortunate classes goes out into society, she must be protected in some way or another. If she be, for instance, convent bred, or if she come from an ideal home, she may very well be and often is the best protected in the world. It is because she is, in fact, already made unapproachable by the tempter. For a girl, indeed, is such a girl. But those who are not so fortunate, who are not, as it were, parents and guardians who are not being deceived and assume more than they are entitled to, to any rate, the very best instruction is necessary. It is the mother who must undertake this responsible duty. It is not for her to admit the girl to the perils of the world. Further, by some means or other, instruction must be afforded for the ever increasing knowledge she is to go on to business. It is to be a never ceasing marvel that loving parents, devoted to their daughters' welfare, should fail in this cardinal and vital part of duty, so constantly as they do.—Dr. C. W. Saleeby, in the Forum.

A Right and Lawful Road.

An eminent lawyer, in a rough and ready method of arriving at a measurement is the Elizabethan way of getting the feet. Fatherly Leigh, who wrote an surveyor's treatise, after service on Sunday sixteen men were stopped at the church door, just as they happened to come out. They were asked to step on a foot-plate. The length thus obtained was taken as "a right and lawful road to measure and survey, and to be a right and lawful part of it as a right and lawful foot." Although big and little men, were thus roughly averaged against each other, the results naturally varied to some extent. Hence it is as Shaw-Sparrow notes in discussing this method as "an architectural 'bam' which gives us 'by window' that a bay is sometimes 'four-foot'—he rather less than sixteen feet of treble inches London-Christians."

Early Betrothal.

Under the auspices of infant "Bethothals" the American Hebrew tells of two patients of the Jewish Talmud Hospital, in New York, friends of long standing, who had betrothed to increase the population of the world in that building by a boy and a girl on the same day. They had often expressed their determination to match between their offspring and the occasion seemed as propitious that Isaac Lemons and Sarah, the betrothed couple, were betrothed to each other in the presence of the staff before, either of them was a day old. Lemons, a love laugh, with such bonds and the very fact of their being tied together in this unprecedented way may turn out to be an epoch in history. Fortunately, at present, the betrothal is merely a pious wish and has no legal validity either in Jewish or American law.

Where the Billionaire Failed.

The billionaire might as be looked at the clouds gathering the links, and yet, no such high event was born of missing a game. His trouble was deeper.

Despite all he could do the billionaire knew that his stock of gold was increasing at a rate little short of astounding. It was a money tree that bore apples and chunks, sometimes for a good purpose, and occasionally for a purpose beyond being consumed.

But he was not content with a string of expensive monuments, each one costing him a pretty penny. Nevertheless, money poured in upon him, so that he could have kept at impending disgrace, for his ambition was to die poor.—Life.

America's Oldest Windmill.

Nantucket possesses what is believed to be the oldest windmill in America. It was built by a Nantucket sailor, who had won the ship, windmill of Holland as a prize in the Dutch-Spanish war of 1748. There has never been a day in all the 165 years since that tide when it has not blown. It is always a wind to turn its outstretched wings.

Washington and Pocher.
An example of "Washington's" "Spain's" "Spain's" "Spain's" tells of an occasion when Washington was aroused to quick action upon discovering a poacher on his grounds. Hearing the discharge of a gun he supposed the poacher was sitting in the direction of the sound, so fired the intruder, who quickly jumped into his canoe and paddled out into the water. Washington took his rifle into the water in spite of the poacher's threatening him with his fowling piece, and within the boat, he "drew" it to the shore, disarmed the poacher and gave him a sound thrashing, then and there, from H. A. Ogden's "Washington's" "Spain's" "Spain's" "Spain's".

New Species of Potatoes.
A new species of white-potato has for some years been cultivated in France from plants found in Uruguay. Originally a very bitter tuber, the South American vegetable bore, after three or four years of cultivation, an admirable food product. It is very in enormous, and it is exempt from the maladies that attack the ordinary potato. It grows best in moist soil, its native habitat being the marshy shores of the River Marcondo in Uruguay. Its flowers have a Jasmine-like odor, and a delicate perfume has been extracted from them. After one plants the plant perennates itself from the broken roots left in the soil.

Brought Home to Him.
A Cincinnati judge entered the Wolfcott yesterday morning and regaled him. He said he had just come from Boston. "Then he put his hand in his hip-pocket, looked puzzled, fished about while the clerk struggled to bear him, say he had lost his pocketbook, and then pulled out a key, from which a tag was dangling.

"Well, by Jove!"—exclaimed the jurist, "if that isn't the key to my room at the Hotel Tourist." Say, how much is this thing worth, say, how?

"About fifty cents," he was told.

"Well, then," he thought that I have sent men to jail for stealing less than that!"—New York Sun.

Thinking of Having One.
Aeroplane are becoming increasingly costly. Six months ago $4500 was about the price of a motor plane, but now the latest lot cost between $15,000 and $20,000. While the aeroplane is a wonderful thing, it is not a household word. Blériot, fitted with 100-horse-power 14-cylinder Gnome-engines, costs $170,000.

Asking Too Much.
"My dear," said Mr. Clarkson, "I don't want you to think I have any desire to criticize you for the way you live within our income." "Within our income? Goodness! And be so kind as to point out in my act as 'accidental?'—Judge."

Immense American Tonnage.
On the railroads of the United States there are 100,000 motor cars, weighing billions of cars and hauling 2,000,000,000 tons of freight. This practically equals all the tonnage carried in the world.

THE 1911 United States Separator A MARVEL OF EASY RUNNING

There have been tremendous advantages in the running qualities of the United States Cream Separators.

The skimming power is there. The same that with the world's record in fifty consecutive tests extending over a period of thirty days with the milk of ten different breeds of cows—0.183 of one per cent.

With the new Interlocking skimming device, the centrifugal action on the milk is intensified, the course along which the milk is forced to travel so lengthened, the skimming force so increased, that the Interlocking bowl for any given capacity is reduced nearly one-half and runs with about half the power required for older models.

Now add to this great improvement the fact that the United States Separator is the only successful separator that distributes the incoming volume of the whole milk evenly outside the cream zone, thus preventing any mixing of cream and skim milk, and you will see why it is that this Interlocking Style U. S. Separator is gradually displacing every other separator on the market.

LETTER FROM MRS. FILE.

Rochester, N. Y., April 8, 1911.
To Editor of Wayne Herald: When I left Wayne last October, I fully intended writing you long ere this. The months have passed so pleasantly that I can scarcely realize so many have gone.
Recently in the company of two teachers from Mechanics' Institute, I spent two weeks in New York City, visiting schools and places of interest. We spent one day on Ellis Island, the great thoroughfare for immigrants. It must come. It is of this visit I shall write. I hope my description will be as interesting to your readers as it was to me.
Before attempting this journey, one is required to have a permit from the commissioner of immigration, which is secured without much trouble. You then go to South Ferry and are given the Ellis Island ticket. We were early, hence had an opportunity to watch our fellow passengers. There were only three other ladies, ourselves—three in number—on the same mission. However, scores of persons were seen carrying each carrying a red ticket, which said the bearer was either going to visit a friend on the island or to meet a new arrival. The holders of these tickets were shown another waiting room and took in the first second dressed in the best clothes. We were told this was the custom of those who had been here for a time to look his best, thus impressing the new arrivals with the fact that he was reaching a land of plenty.
As soon as the ferry whistle sounded, an officer called out: "Visitors, go aboard first." We went to the farthest end of this magnificent boat and took our seats before a large crowd. Those holding red tickets were given aboard a few about 44 years of age crowded in front of me so as to have a view from this window. He seemed perfectly oblivious to his surroundings. I asked him if he were going to meet friends. In his broken English, he replied: "My father and mother." Upon further questioning he told us his older brother had come over four years ago and had brought him a lot of gold. This brother had now sent money which was bringing over the father and mother. I presume many of these passengers could have related a similar story.
Ellis Island is a large island covered with handsome buildings and well kept grounds. Just between South Ferry and Ellis Island is the statue of Liberty, situated on Bedloe Island. Her index finger points toward America. The flag flies at the top of the ship. I cannot conceive of a more beautiful sight than New York as seen from the harbor on a clear day. The tall white buildings, a background for this great statue, with ships from all the countries of the globe, and all covered with beauty and greatness. Upon landing we were taken to the administration building, where we showed our credentials and registered. After this procedure we were told we could go anywhere we wished and ask all the questions we could think of, which I followed to the letter. As a ship from Russia would land 511 immigrants in company with us, we spent the time in waiting for our arrival. Finally Uncle Sam has for caring for the thousands who are daily arrivals. It is seldom a day passes but what a foreign ship docks in New York.
We went first to the immense dining room, where we were seated at our table. The superintendent said they would have for dinner the 511 immigrants and, besides, 900 who were detained from the day before. The steamship companies must provide for all this. Our government makes it obligatory that certain food must be provided and an ample amount. Government inspectors are there to see that these regulations are enforced. Many of these immigrants have eaten little or nothing during the voyage, so are anxiously hungry once their journey by sea is ended. From the dining room we were taken to the dormitories. These were immense rooms filled with rows of beds lowered and bolted together with iron chains. A force was at work scrubbing the floors with powerful disinfectants. The floors and walls, like in all the buildings, were of white tile. Everything was so clean and so strange contrast to the motley crowd of occupants. There was also a hospital, supplied with all modern appliances and an array of trained nurses.
We next found ourselves in a large reception room. Those who were detained met in this room. Many pathetic scenes were here presented. Some were of that pathetic form that borders on the ridiculous. One man was visiting his brother. The new arrival was detained on account of defective vision. Never in my life have I seen such utter despair depicted on any countenance as was seen on this man's face. He wept bitterly and showed his handkerchief and sobbed most pitifully. His brother was trying to comfort him, but evidently was unable to do so. A woman whose husband had died at sea, and who was waiting for friends, was called to see the friends had come. She looked like a stone. She led by the hands two boys, 6 and 8 years of age. The woman's face never changed. She seemed dazed. The little boys though, pulled a deck of soiled cards from their pockets and, oblivious to all around them, began playing cards. These were only a few of the many who were stranded. As the shipload of immigrants were now due, we went to another building, so as to watch the making of some of our American citizens. These "Protestant" men, this is the name, were divided into a number of groups, each separated from the other by iron railings and numbered.

As soon as the immigrant train entered the building, each card was carried in his hand. A boarder took an either directed them to one of two avenues. Just inside stood two inspectors. If a child old enough to walk was being carried, the inspector tested the carrying, testing the feet down. All heads, as well as hands, must be uncovered. If one was suspected of being an undesirable person of low "support" was written on his card and his name was stamped on two plates, who were fastened to his eyes. The next moment they were for trichoma, a most contagious disease and one which eventually means blindness. Those sent into either avenue while the inspector went sent in an opposite direction, where a more careful diagnosis of their case was made. Those who had low "support" were now directed into a room containing the names of the person carried. This brought the immigrant to a man who must have seen that each had $25 in good American money. The women invariably carried their in a handkerchief and selected in the baggage or the suitcase. All seemed to be provided with the necessary funds, hence this was unnecessary. I forgot to state that each carried his baggage with him. It carried in other ways, strange to us, but after you have been in the old world and know something of the way language is transported, this does not seem so strange. When this gang of immigrants was taken to the baggage and taken to the baggage, the baggage room, where it is fumigated and carefully examined. After all this, they are certainly ready for the hearty meal awaiting them. After they had their meal, they were taken to another baggage room with luggage, and, of course, hand made. After embracing the brother, he opened the suit case and proceeded to array this youngster in clothes of the latest cut. It must confess the apparent make transformation. The recipient of all these clothes was so overjoyed that after donning some new duds, would hug and kiss his brother. "It certainly was new to me."
Everywhere in all the buildings, in several languages, are notices to the effect that anyone in any way mistreating an immigrant will be summarily dealt with. Uncle Sam's army of inspectors, and men, besides the representatives of many religious organizations, are ever on the alert to lend aid to these wayward applicants for admission to this land of plenty. On the other hand, to fulfill their duty, they are often obliged to do things that seem rather heartless. Only a few months ago, a husband and wife with three little girls and two boys, landed. The boys had trichoma and must be quarantined. The father took the boys back to his mother in Sweden, while the mother and little girls were detained. During the husband's absence these little girls were taken with measles and all died. These are some of the tragedies daily enacted. Any one going to New York could not spend a more profitable day than going to Ellis Island. In my next I will tell you something regarding the school.
With best wishes to my many friends in and around Wayne, I am, yours truly,

Has Experience in Subway in Which Elements Described Was Lacking.

On one of the intermittent warm days of this winter, a certain Mrs. Upper-Westend, who is a kind-hearted as she is handsome and well-dressed, took a Subway-train downtown to call at her husband's office and to luncheon with him.

Choosing Your Best Friends.

One has a greater power to choose his friends in books than in life, and even at the cost of considerable trouble it is well to take the opportunity given us to meet the best.

JOY FOR THE HOUSEKEEPER

Some of the Delights of Life in the Himalayas Described in Graphic Style.

My housekeeping was a never-ending source of amusement to me, wrote Mary Blair Beebe in Harper's Magazine. Tandook came every morning for the day's orders, saying "Verrry-well!" to all my suggestions, turning the words together as though the whole phrase was one, and rolling his r's as sonorously as a Spanish. Certain, he had no idea of the masculinity implied, for he sometimes varied his response by saying "Yes, madam."

LANDER ACROSS SOUTH AMERICA.

The English explorer and author, Henry Hargrave, has completed his arrangements for his expedition which will cross South America from the Atlantic to the Pacific along the equator.

A Corner in Candles.

As an example of trusts and monopolies prevalent even in that early day it may be mentioned that in 1750 one Benjamin Franklin obtained the exclusive right to make soap, candles in Massachusetts for 14 years.

Up to Doctor Eliot.

The City Mothers' club met at the Hotel Astor the other day, says a New York letter, just after President Eliot (hus Eliot of Harvard had announced that every wife should welcome the work at least eight times between the ages of twenty-seven and forty. The mothers looked not merely shocked, but sore. "It did a little scientific jangling," said Doctor Eliot, before he sent a reply to Doctor Eliot's letter.

Differences in Alcohol.

More than two-thirds of the total production of German alcohol is obtained from potatoes, but only a comparatively small portion is sold in the form of beverages for the reason that other kinds of alcohol are better adapted to the manufacture of liquors and brandies.

Suro Sign of Age.

I used to be a young man of new shoes, says Leslie M. Shaw, former secretary of the treasury. Then the number was reduced annually by four, four and three pairs. I don't want only two pairs of new shoes. I had only two last year, but now I have four and three pairs for work as ever; but I know that I am growing old, because my shoes last longer." The Sunday Magazine.

Short Cut to Publicity.

Yes, says the young man, "I want to jump right into public life. I have some theories to advance that will improve the world, and I want to get out at once. You will advise me, won't you?" "I will advise you to get a position of comparative obscurity to a position of comparative fame, and then you can where my name will be known."

From Dickens After Death.

When I was in Australia my father and I used to correspond with each other. I remember that once he had a letter to me after he had heard the news of his death. In this letter he signed himself plain "Charles Dickens." "You will advise me, won't you?" "I will advise you to get a position of comparative obscurity to a position of comparative fame, and then you can where my name will be known."
