THE EARLY DAYS IN TWO COUNTIES
HAPPENINGS AT THREE FEBRUOS
Chief Events in Wayne County Thirty Years Ago—Old Times in Dixon County.
From the Wayne Review, published by Hunter & Childs, at LaPorte, June 23, 1881:
Strahan and Frazier brought in 500 more cattle this week.
Colonel Jesse F. Warner delivers the oration at LaPorte on the Fourth.
R. T. Maxwell will erect the first building in the new town of Wayne tomorrow. It will be a dwelling, 16x24, story and a half high.
E. S. Cooper has put in his law over bridge over the South Logan for the third time this season, and the Park Hill people will not be able to get their mails with more regularity, and in this view they are no doubt confirmed by the Dixon county commissioners, either.
We notice that very many of our exchanges in writing of the prospects of Wayne—see Brookdale, a-ount it as an accomplished fact, that the county seat will be removed from LaPorte to the 'future great' of the county, and in this view they are no doubt confirmed by the strong partisans and interested owners of the new town site. In regard to this removal we would suggest to the railroad officials and town site owners, that it is not good policy to 'count your chickens before they are hatched,' and that another wise maxim says, 'First catch your hare before skinning it,' and that before they skin the people of this county by removing the county seat of bricks in our court house it would be well to consult the first and see if they are willing to sit thus skinned.
From the Wayne Herald, published by W. H. McNeal, July 2, 1881:
Married, Mr. Andrew A. Polk to Eva Aegler, by Rev. F. P. Baker.

The relatives will have the sympathy of the many old-settlers in their sad bereavement.
From the Wayne Herald, published by W. H. McNeal, July 4, 1881:

Married, Mr. Francis House of Chadron to Miss Fessie Winterburn of Wayne.

From the Ponca Journal, published by William Huse and W. N. Russ, June 29:
A heavy comet was seen above Carrol, appearing in the northeast. The head of the comet is not very large, but it swings a tremendous tail.
Tuesday we had a ferocious kind of a storm, including a gale of hot air. It seemed as though the furnace doors of the earth had been flung open, or that the comet had fallen with a fiery star in the face with its tail.
Arrangements have been made here, through freight rates from this place to and from Chicago, via Chicago & Northwestern railway, to be as follows: For first class, $11.50; second class, 95 cents; third class, 75 cents; fourth class, 55 cents.

G. M. Christensen returned Monday evening from the hospital at Sioux City, having fully recovered from his operation for appendicitis. Mr. Christensen's case was a most critical one, and it was only his iron nerve that carried him through.

Mrs. C. W. Nye, of Huron, S. D., returned Monday from Omaha where she visited her daughter, Miss Hattie, who is recovering from an operation of the Presbyterian hospital. The young lady was also in town some yesterday, as her mother, Wayne friends will be glad to know.

At the beautiful country home of W. A. K. Nedy, a party of young folks from Wayne and vicinity were entertained Sunday at a three-course "black and white" luncheon. The entertainment was given by Mrs. Nedy in the evening to Harvey and Mary. The company departed at a late hour, thanking the Nedy family for their hospitality, which was thoroughly enjoyed.
The regular meeting of the state fair board closed contracts and set plans for two aviators and two airplanes for the coming state fair, September 4 to 8. The contract calls for four flights a day, "air mail" to consist of 2000 feet of altitude, and remaining up for a period of ten minutes. The accident which befell Hoxey on Tuesday morning of the last fall determined the board to secure two complete outfits so that patrons who come from outside will have reasonable assurance that they will not again be deprived of the opportunity to witness modern "bird men" in action.

LYNN-PAWELSKI.
Mr. Arthur J. Lynch of Neola, Ia., and Miss Winifred Pawelski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pawelski of this city, were united in marriage at St. Mary's Catholic church, Tuesday morning at a simple wedding. The bride wore a dainty white French lace, trimmed with baby's breath lace and she wore a full veil, held in place with carnations and eggs, and she carried a bouquet of carnations and ferns. The officiating was performed by Pastor Hoover and Mr. Joe Meister.
After the ceremony at the church the bridal party repaired in automobile to the home of the bride, where a light refreshment was taken with the young couple, and a delicious two-course dinner was served. Only relatives and immediate friends were present.

PLANT INSECTS AND DISEASES.
At this season of the year, we receive a great deal of correspondence from plant growers and planters affected with insects and diseases. We are always glad to tell the name of the insect or disease which is causing the trouble, and the best method of treatment to be prevented. The insects and diseases which bother the cornfield, grain field and meadow are most of them very hard to reach, and the only way to reach them is by such a method as follows:
(1) Insect means a rotation of crops, early fall plowing, clean cultivation, etc. The garden pest, though, may be reached "more directly," and it is concerning them that we now wish to give some information.
The insects of the garden are of two general kinds, those that bite and those that suck. The cabbage worm, the potato beetle, the melon bug, are common examples of biters, while the planthopper are those which suck.

HAZEL LATHROP, SOPRANO.

HAZEL LATHROP'S work as a soprano attracted attention a few years ago at a small musical festival in an Eastern Conservatory. She was sent to Europe as a young girl to study in the Sterns Conservatory at Berlin. She finished her studies, and after a few months spent in a concert tour through Europe she came back home and is now recognized as one of the greatest sopranos of America. There is this that is charming in Hazel Lathrop—she was at one time a very plump little American girl. Now that she is a great singer, she loves to sing the songs not only that are classics, but the songs that are loved by every person. She sings the songs that are dear to every heart and retells them in a thoroughly artistic way—sings them as only an artist can sing.

PATRIOTIC PROGRAM AT NORMAL SCHOOL

TO BE CARRIED OUT JULY THIRD

Appropriate Songs—Readings and Brief Talks To Be Given—Other State Normal Notes.

The school will have a holiday on July 4. The day exercises held at the Normal on June 14 were so much appreciated by the school that requests have come to the office to make the chapel exercises on July 4 the occasion for a patriotic program. Miss McBeth has consented to read a selection from the "Man Without a Country." Professor Coleman and his chorus will sing several patriotic songs and a few brief talks will be made which is cordially invited to attend these services.

Normal Notes.
President Conn spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Lincoln.

Mr. Cooy, brother of Mrs. J. G. W. Lewis, was a visitor Tuesday.

Miss Ida Johnson resumed her work in the kindergarten department after a few days' absence.

We have learned that the term hotel quarters which so delightfully entertained us a few months ago are planning to return to Wayne for a concert during the summer time. They will be given a large hearing should they appear again at the Normal.

At a recent meeting of the board of the Wayne Normal school was requested to furnish a gravel for the use of the board of education. A gravel has been turned out by the department of manual training, which will be presented to the board on their meeting of June 21.

President Conn has received a letter from a young man living in Boston, asking he whether to enter the school at Wayne. The reason for coming to Wayne, as explained in this letter is that he has had pneumonia under Professor Wiley and desires to continue in work under his instruction.

The chapel periods for the summer term are from 8:30 to 9. While attendance at chapel is not compulsory, the students find they cannot afford to miss the general exercises of the school. During the past week the school has had the privilege of listening to a number of excellent talks and has greatly enjoyed the special music furnished at the construction period.

In the June issue of the Manual Training Magazine, published at Peoria, Ill., there appeared a full report on showing the work of the manual training department of the State Normal at Wayne. "The Normal is justly proud of this department of the school and we are glad to see the good work being done by Professor Huntman given such recognition."

A large shipment of furniture and equipment have been received during the past week. More than 2,000 square feet of slate blackboard have been ordered and will be placed in all the recitation rooms during the summer. The chairs were in use will be equipped with tablet armchairs, and a new adding machine and the latest improved Gammeter multiplex have been installed in the office.

New students continue to register for work in the summer school. Among the names recently added to the registration list are Roscoe Garner of Moscow, Frank M. Gailoy of Elgin, Gladys Kings of South Sioux City, Mary E. Young of Pender, Janette D. Haddock of Sioux City, Ia., and Lois Patrick of Wakefield. Miss Patrick was graduated from the Nebraska Normal college in 1909 and will take special work in literature and history.

On Saturday evening the members of the faculty and their wives were entertained by President and Mrs. Conn in their spacious home. The event was one of a social nature given the new members of the faculty might become better acquainted with the old. During the evening two piano selections were artistically rendered by Professor Coleman, and Miss McBeth gave a number of readings, which were greatly enjoyed by those present. Delicous refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Misses Fannie Britzell and Ardath Conn.

A meeting of the board of education is called for Wednesday, June 22. At this time the contract for the new building will be let. After twelve years of continuous service Dr. Luther B. Luden retires from the board of education and his place as been filled by the appointment of A. H. Vialle of Norfolk. Mr. Vialle will become a member of the executive committee and to him will be referred matters of special importance pertaining to the Wayne school. He has been a member of the board of education at Norfolk for a number of years, is well acquainted with the needs of a normal school and he will prove a valuable man on the board of education. The fact that he resides in this part of the state and is possessed of such excellent business qualifications makes his selection especially fortunate for the normal school at Wayne.

WHAT IS HAY MAKING?
(Wallace's Parable)
The farmer can push his clover harrow or cart fairly rapidly, if he has a correct theory as to hay making. During the whole period of the life of any grass or any other plant there is a constant stream of moisture, sap we call it, passing from the soil into the root hairs, from the root hairs into the rootlets, from the rootlets into the roots, from the roots to the stalk, and from the stalk to the leaves; and the watery part of it is passed out through the leaves into the atmosphere. All plants take their food in liquid form, and the soil that penetrates the tiny spaces of the plant are thus taken up, combined with the carbon that comes from the air, and thus form the substance of the plant.

Now, hay making is simply carrying off the plant from its natural position, earth and then evaporating through the leaves the water that remains in the stalk. We say "evaporating through the leaves," remember that this is the natural course of moisture through the plant.

If clover hay, particularly, or alfalfa hay, is to be at its best, this water must be evaporated through its leaves. Before the leaf structure of the plant is destroyed by the hot sun. Usually in hay making we have hot weather, and if the leaves are exposed to the very hot sun for a day or even half a day, the leaf structure is destroyed and the remaining water must be evaporated through the stalk, which is an entirely unprofitable method.

When the good wife picks a bouquet she always puts the flowers in water, knowing that the water in the bowl or vase will continue to pass up through the stems into the leaves and flowers will keep some time for an astonishing length of time. She aims to prevent just what the farmer wants to accomplish. She wants to keep her flowers fresh by maintaining the supply of water in the stems, and she does this by sap or water in the stalks and get this hay into the barn.

Farmers have often noticed that when a heavy shower of rain is out during moist weather and allowed to stand in the open weather, the clover leaves die and the stems in the upper part will remain quite green, while the leaf structure of the upper part is entirely destroyed. Take the leaf away from the air, or rather, keep the air and away from the leaf, and your clover will not cure at all, or at any rate, cure very slowly. Herein lies the philosophy of toasting your swath, that is, exposing it to the air. Herein lies all the philosophy of a side delivery rake, in that it carries the swath over and makes it small, so that the air blows through and the sun shines only on a small part of the proposed hay. The objection to the large windrow is that it does not allow this free exposure.

The Strawberry crop was out short, and if it keeps dry the Raspberries will go the same way. Now is the time to buy your Pineapples. The market is low as it will be.

I have bought the Mason Jar, also have put in the Economy Jar. Remember these points and tell your neighbors:
POINTS OF THE ECONOMY JAR—Marvelous, because it uses no rubber lining. Economy Jars embody ALL the essential features of a perfect Jar.

The only jar that uses no rubber ring. Rubber rings in time become porous, leak air, taint, mould and spoil the contents.

Instead of a rubber ring the Economy has a pure, tiny, everlasting, always airtight, gasket which is a part of the cap. It is guaranteed odorless, tasteless, sanitary, unaffected by any food acids, and remains airtight forever. Nothing else like it. Easy and simple to seal and open.

Wide, smooth mouth, your hand can easily slip into, easy to fill, permits the large fruit and vegetables to be preserved whole. Easy to clean.

Straight sides—smooth edge. Made of Crystal-Flint glass, even thickness, very little breakage. Caps are gold lacquered, absolutely unaffected by any known food acid, are as sweet and clean as the glass itself. Sure Seal, and self-sealing, airtight. Most economical. You need never lose an ounce of food—you can test every jar. Sanitary—no zinc to corrode—no hidden corners—NO RUBBER RING—no mould, discolored or soured fruit.

A child can seal and open it. No screw top to twist on or off, no rubber ring to adjust, no cut or burned fingers.

Can be used twelve months in the year for every article in season and every day in the year. Is as perfect for vegetables, meats, fish, game, etc., as for fruit.

With it you save all surplus food in your kitchen. In this respect alone it more than pays for itself. The only airtight jar used by professional packers.

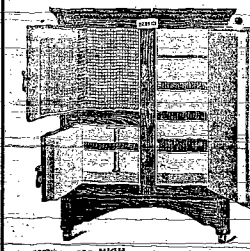

Absolutely the only jar known, of which all the above mentioned facts are true. Ask us about the ECONOMY JAR.—We will be pleased to show you.

to let it stand all-winter. Half of it will be good anyhow, and that is quite as much good hay as you will get out of it if you shake it out and handle it again.

While we would not cut clover hay early in the morning when the dew is on it, we would not hesitate to cut it in the evening. It will take no damage from dew if it is cut before the dew sets and it will hold a much greater amount of dew in the swath than standing. That small amount will be on the surface and readily evaporated after the sun rises. In fact, when we want to make a good deal of clover hay we often save the practice of cutting late in the evening before the dew falls. Then should rain come, it need give no concern, for clover will keep green in the swath.

Time is often saved by this method. Again, if a fodder is used and the grass left in small windrows, however frequent it is possible in good weather to get the hay in the barn under a tarpaulin in twenty-four hours from the time of cutting, and this is about as quick work as could be expected.

GET LIVE STOCK ON YOUR FARM

We have never felt like urging farmers to start in the livestock business when prices were high because we know that when prices get very high, the stock are just as certain to fall as the sun in the sky. Says Wallace's Farmer, "But when prices begin to fall and people want to sell their livestock, there is the time for you to buy. We did not feel like urging the farmer to start in the business from sixty to seventy-five cents per bushel, and the price of hogs soared up to go into the livestock business. We tell them that it is better for him to start the time being at such a low price. It is not a business to be run during the other farm products proportionately, as well as the finished product, it is a good time to go into the livestock business. Now don't jump into it if you have never been in it before, you have a new business to learn, and you will learn it cheaper by commencing with a small number and caring for them intelligently, than you will by plunging in and doing so without any thought. The man who has a few cows and a few pigs and puts out all his life may imagine that he can handle the livestock business. This is not his neighbor being done, and it is not as smart as his neighbor. His money is spent in the stock, but he has no opportunity to be and there are lots of things about livestock that cannot be learned from books or papers. There is a knack about handling livestock of any kind that, like most things worth having, can be acquired only by doing it.

Now, as to the kind of livestock that depends upon the tastes of the man. Some men do finely in growing young cattle but are not worth much when it comes to finishing them for the market. There are men who would sell you every thing who will think about balanced rations; men who are not afraid of ashum or too lax to milk, and do not object to being home morning and evening at the same hour; men who know how to grow a calf by hand and can select a calf to strike with its head forward instead of up without inward profanity; these are the men who should choose their cows for their livestock.

They do not do it finely, with broad wares; other men are polite to women and ought to have wives. Possibly if the United States government succeeds in raising enough dollars, which run a cross between the zebra and the donkey, they will have just about what will fit them; but that's a long ways off yet.

There are other men who succeed with sheep, and there are men who want to keep a sheep every time they see one. "One lot should not be cut," says Wallace's Farmer, "but when prices begin to fall and people want to sell their livestock, there is the time for you to buy. We did not feel like urging the farmer to start in the business from sixty to seventy-five cents per bushel, and the price of hogs soared up to go into the livestock business. We tell them that it is better for him to start the time being at such a low price. It is not a business to be run during the other farm products proportionately, as well as the finished product, it is a good time to go into the livestock business. Now don't jump into it if you have never been in it before, you have a new business to learn, and you will learn it cheaper by commencing with a small number and caring for them intelligently, than you will by plunging in and doing so without any thought. The man who has a few cows and a few pigs and puts out all his life may imagine that he can handle the livestock business. This is not his neighbor being done, and it is not as smart as his neighbor. His money is spent in the stock, but he has no opportunity to be and there do not come so rapidly as all that. They will come slowly, but they will come just as fast as the market for livestock products increases; and that is faster than the average man is likely to go into the business.

Sewing Harsh Goods.
Exchange:—It is very hard to sew some harsh goods, as different textures, muslin, since the needles break very easily. This difficulty may be overcome by rubbing the hem or seam with a drop piece of soap, when the needle will penetrate without difficulty. This plan is equally good for both machine and hand-work.

It is worse than useless to take any medicine for muscular or chronic rheumatism. All that is needed is a few applications of Chamberlain's Liniment. For sale by all dealers.

The Sill and Man.
The Kansas Farmer says, aside from the scientists of the weather, practically all of the misfortunes that come to the farmer, or his farm, can be traced to the haste to secure the present dollar without providing for the future good of his soil. Take care of the soil and it will take care of you and any other method is a downhill pull.

Don't use harsh physics. The repetition weakens the bowels, leads to chronic constipation. Get Doan's Regulents. They operate easily, tone the stomach, cure constipation.

Whooping cough is not dangerous when the cough is kept down and the irritation weakened by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It has been used in many epidemics of this disease with perfect success. For sale by all dealers.

Wayne County Teacher

School Laws.

Notices, Contents.—All notices of annual or special meetings after the first meeting has been held as heretofore provided, shall state the day, hour and place of meeting, which place shall be within the district, and shall be given at least fifteen days previous to such meeting, by posting up copies thereof in all public places within the district; but no annual meeting shall be deemed illegal for want of such notice. No school house site shall be changed nor taxes voted for building, purchase or lease of a school house at any district meeting unless notice shall have been given of such meeting as above provided, in writing, and the reading of such subjects will then be considered.

Any person who shall vote in any school district in this state in which he has not been a resident for such length of time as required by law, next preceding the election, or into which he shall have come for temporary purposes, and shall be held in any sum not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, or be imprisoned in the jail of the proper county, shall be liable to a fine of not more than $500, and to imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six months, or both, under Section 7845, Criminal Code, Compiled Statutes of Nebraska for 1903.

County Clerk Makes Levy.

When the county clerk is present at the annual school district meeting, or where the district votes to have no school, or where no action is taken by the annual meeting to provide for a school, it shall be the duty of the county superintendent of the proper county to make and deliver to the county clerk of such county in any part of the district in which he is present, on the first Monday in August following the annual meeting an itemized estimate of the amounts necessary to be expended during the ensuing year for the schools in such district. It shall be the duty of the county clerk to levy such taxes on the taxable property of the district, to be collected by the county treasurer at the same time and in the same manner as the state and county taxes are collected, and when collected to be paid to the treasurer of the proper district in the order of the auditor countersigned by the moderator of said district.

At last we have heard of something new purchased with special money by a law-mover. Not only was it purchased, but it has been used every week since on the lawn about the school house, and praised by the teachers. The teacher who can get her boys and girls to take yards and then keep them mowed and in good condition from late of potatoes and the wages even she earns, her wages even if she teaches them nothing else. This would be an impossible condition, however.

Experienced teachers are needed in this county for a number of schools. Wages are "subject to change." Anyone who has "made good" and thinks the climate of Wayne county would be agreeable to him will be gladly received.

State Treasurer George has made the statement that the past year's apportionment of school moneys was larger than that of any previous year. He pays to get all the children in the district on the school census, that each district may get its full share of the state money.

Annual Meeting.

Moderator is chairman. Director is secretary. Suggested order of business: 1. Call to order by moderator. 2. Reading of minutes of last meeting by director. 3. Reading of directors' annual report by moderator. 4. Reading of treasurer's report. 5. Election of officers (by ballot). 6. Vote on the number of months of school for next year. 7. Vote on repairing the building, fixing up the grounds, purchasing furniture, stoves, etc. 8. Vote on district officers.

salary of a salary is to be paid). 9. Vote the amount of money to be expended the coming year. School boards should have an estimate prepared (which, of course, may be changed). 10. Reading of minutes of last meeting. 11. Adjourn.

Duties of Officers.

Moderator: It is your duty to act as chairman of all meetings; to take the acknowledgment of director who swears to his annual report; to sign all orders allowed by the board and to keep an accurate record of same in a book which is provided for that purpose. You are secretary of all meetings, you should keep a record of all actions of the board and of the voters at the annual and special meetings; you should take the school census, see that it is taken and make an annual report to the county superintendent on blanks which he has provided you. Your annual report will account for all money received by your district treasurer and all money paid out by him, as well as the amount still in his possession. The accounts must be balanced, and the amount shown should show the names of the teachers hired, the months of school voted, the amount of money voted, etc. etc. You are in charge of the money received. It must reach the county superintendent within ten days after the annual meeting in order to entitle the district to a share of the state appropriation. You should have your report before the moderator. This is a new law—see page 25 of the school laws.

The census report of the ages of all children should be shown. You should have your annual report filled out as much as possible before the meeting is called to order in order that you may be able to read it to the meeting—see item No. 3 in the order of business.

Treasurer: It is your duty to keep an accurate account of all money which you receive or pay out for the district. All receipts and disbursements are to be read the account of the school money as shown by your books—see item No. 4 in the order of business.

The treasurer should have on file with the county clerk a bond for not less than $500. It is the duty of the board to see that the bond is given and filed.

Of Interest to School Officers.

The moderator has a right to vote at school district meetings on all questions pertaining to school matters. In case of a tie vote, however, he could not cast a second vote to break the tie.

The director and moderator should not become surety upon the treasurer's bond, for the reason that they are the officers to approve such bond.

The district at the annual meeting may determine whether or not a contract for a winter term of school is to be tampered in the district, but it is the business of the school board to hire the teacher and fix the wages.

A district board cannot make a firm contract with a teacher who does not hold a valid certificate, and members of the board will be personally responsible for money paid to a teacher who is not legally qualified.

In order to be binding upon a district a contract need not be in writing. If not in writing its existence must be fully proven.

Members of the school board have a perfect right to see the teacher's certificate. In fact, it is a duty incumbent upon them to satisfy themselves that the teacher is a legally qualified teacher. The certificate is the teacher's evidence.

The census must be taken ten days before the annual meeting. Marriage will not excuse a teacher from the school census unless otherwise entitled to be enumerated. People of school age residing in the district for any other purpose than to attend school should be enumerated in the census. Children of persons transferred to a district should be counted.

Institute in session in Pierce county this week.

The last legislature made the public school library optional with the school board.

Don't give your teacher a recommendation simply to get rid of him. Remember the Golden Rule.

Districts Nos. 6, 13, 20, 21, 41 and 79 have as yet failed to file a teacher's term summary with this office.

All the public schools in Wayne county with the exception of the Hoskins school, have closed for the summer. Hoskins has another week.

Hoskins will have ten grades and four teachers next year. Miss Wegner and Miss Anna Fair have been hired. The other two places are yet to be filled.

Fifty applications for free high school tuition for next year have been received. Some of the districts sent as many as six pupils to the nearby high schools.

The eighth grade graduation exercises in Wayne county will occur in the court room, Friday, June 23, at 3 o'clock. A class of forty-six will receive diplomas.

After school is closed and the teacher is gone criticism upon her work is useless. The time to have helped matters would have been early in the school year.

Minnie Black and Pearl Brees have received Diplomas of Honor, having been neither absent nor tardy for three years. Twenty-nine received certificates of award.

Question in penmanship, eighth grade examination: "Name three good movement exercises." Bright boy's answer: "I can't do any more than pull away and one o' cat!"

Consternation prevailed among the teachers writing on the May examination in history over the question: "Name five progressive republicans and one standpat democrat in the national congress."

If a teacher has applied for several schools she should notify all the others when she has accepted of any one. This is only common courtesy and gives the director a chance to secure another teacher.

Today is short; tomorrow never comes; if you have anything to do GET BUSY—Now.

Ninety-four people wrote on the county teacher's examination on last Friday and Saturday. Two young men were writing on the state examination also.

Years ago there were three or four teachers after every school. Now there are three or four school boards after every school teacher. Who or what trained the laides?

There will be two examinations in July. One on the regular date, July 10th and 22nd and one week later on the 27th and 28th. The certificate examination will be given on the last named date.

We are very glad to learn that the statement in last month's issue to the effect that Alice McDonald did not intend to teach next year is a mistake. Miss McDonald will teach the same school again. She will spend the summer in Canada.

The amount of money asked for by the annual district meeting will be raised by the commissioners. In some instances in previous years school districts have asked for a certain sum expecting the county clerk to deduct the amount on hand in the county treasury. This will not be done. A district needs at least five hundred and fifty dollars on hand at the close of a school year to meet the current expenses of the following year until the taxes begin to come in, or until January of the next year.
