

A WOMAN EXPECTS a rest in the summer and she deserves it. She wants to get away for a few days where she can forget the cares of the household and enjoy a complete change.

The Chautauqua is the place. It offers rest and entertainment. It is the popular summer outing and retreat. It is the greatest summer amusement.

And it comes right to you. Don't miss a day of it.

John F. Bessler and wife and daughters, Misses Ruth and Dorothy, and Charles Craven and wife arrived home Saturday evening from Idaho, where they proved up on tracts of land under the state ticket. They had to travel near Hollister. They cleared the land near water on it, and raised and sold the crops. They report the condition of crops generally very Idaho, first class. After giving up on their status they took a trip through the various national park, and they enjoyed some of the greatest national wonders of the west. Mr. Bessler says the crops are better than he has ever seen. The experience in the west was pleasant and beautiful, but they are glad to be home again.

The opera, "Ginevra," presented Friday night by local talent under the direction of Mrs. John W. Evans, was greeted with the young men and women and children were very pleasing, and the entertainment was carried out without tedious delays which often happen when a great number take part. The performance gave evidence of the high class of musical talent in the city. Whenever Wayne singers have attempted a musical entertainment they have made good and really exceeded expectations.

The library fund gets $71 from the opera. The gross receipts amounted to $176.25, of which the library board received half and Mrs. Evans half. The library board paid $150 for the opera books and $75 for piano tuning, drawing and lectured course, so that they could forgive a man who supported a Wall street candidate for president, but would not forgive a man who refused to go to the brewers for admission to the convention.

"It is not often that any crowd of men will openly admit their insincerity, but these people do in finding fault with me, but endorsing Mr. Harmon. If they were as honest as they are, they would not be so angry. They are angry because they have been above democracy and that their objection to me is not because I bolted the ticket, but that I am not willing to help them in debauching the party in the name of democracy by putting before everything else the financial interest of the brewers."

"I am glad to have the issue made so plain. I shall be interested in seeing whether the Democrats of Nebraska, which has stood in the front ranks for twenty years, is willing to announce that it has no other interest than to be the mouthpiece of liquor dealers. The Douglas-Douglas convention does not represent democracy. It represents booze, booze, booze."

IN NEW QUARTERS. The Wayne Variety Club, of which J. C. Vane is the proprietor, was moved to its new quarters on Main street the latter part of last week, and is now attractively located there. It has started out with a second breaking business. The rest room arranged by Mr. Vane is a new feature of comfort and convenience. It has already been much used by visitors, and will continue to be. They are made welcome, and appear to appreciate the provision for the rest and comfort of the wants of the public, and it is bound to forge rapidly ahead.

DEMOCRATS CENSURE MR. BRYAN. The Douglas county democratic convention meeting here Saturday, highly censured W. J. Bryan, and endorsed John Harmon for presidential nominee. James Dabham, who was defeated for governor last fall, having the opposition of Mr. Bryan, attacked the speaker on the floor of the convention, and urged the adoption of resolutions censuring him for his conduct during the campaign last fall. The day after the convention Mr. Bryan called for an interview and expresses his opinion of Dabham and the action of the convention in very forceful fashion.

Following are the resolutions: "The Democrats of Douglas county, in convention assembled, send greetings to the local democrats of the state of Nebraska, about to assemble in delegate convention at Fremont, standing in the adamant foundation of democracy that in the party cannot be swayed by the temptations of money and the action of William Jennings Bryan who having repeatedly received the loyal support of the democratic party of Nebraska, earned treacherously from it in its hour of need and accomplished its defeat."

"They congratulate the local democrats of the state: "First—On the success attained at the polls at the last general election by the notwithstanding a bold front from the state convention held at Grand Island, led by William Jennings Bryan, who, as a democrat, had received more loyal support at the hands of the democratic party of the state than he had any other democrat in its history."

"Second—That at that election there were among loyal democrats, notwithstanding the betrayal by the man who had been its own leader, the vast majority of democrats to each house of the legislature."

"Third—That the majority in the legislature passed laws fulfilling every pledge of the platform of the party and consistently supported and stood for measures in the interest of the state and its people."

"Fourth—That in spite of that betrayal Hon. Gilbert M. Hitchcock was elected to the United States senate from this state by a democratic house and a democratic senate in obedience to the wishes of the people of the state and of the democratic members of the legislature."

"Fifth—That Douglas county democrats, by the principle of the national constitution and the laws of the state."

Other resolutions were also adopted.

EVERY ONE LOVES A CHAUTAUQUA BAND

It is the Greatest Demand of All the List of Musical Companies.

WILLING TO PAY TO HEAR THEM

Ferrante's an Italian Aggregation—They Have Charmed Thousands Both in Europe and America—Director Looks Like Noblieman.

Of all the things that stir the human emotion nothing is quite so effective as a great band. There is something about the glitter and shimmer and splendor of brass, both as heard and seen, that produces a thrill that is neither the production of any other music or form of entertainment.

And this effect is all-good. It is always the latent energy, and there is always SHIMON FERRANTE. An abundance of latent energy is not without. A Chautauquian program without a band would be about as weak a thing as a glass of ginger ale with all the ginger and "pop" out of it. It would be a human entity without the performers and the committee's sanction. It wouldn't be satisfactory, and it wouldn't pay well.

Seated at the angle on the Chautauqua here this summer the feature will be Ferrante's Royal Italian Guards band, one of the strongest musical bands that a strong Chautauqua organization has ever had for weeks and weeks at a time, could buy.

It was easily possible to get the most Chautauquian band that is known, because the band itself is so much a Chautauqua entity. There is no objection but that your willing to pay to hear such a band, and "band days" will be the most eventful day of the entire week.

You see if it isn't. This band of Ferrante's is an Italian aggregation. Ferrante himself is a very handsome man and he looks like an Italian nobleman. He has been directing bands ever since he was large enough to swing a baton. He seems to have been a band leader.

But whatever impressions you get of Ferrante and his band before he comes, get the idea that it is not only a band that plays soul stirring music, but that it is a band that plays this soul stirring music with such skill and grace that it has come to be one of the greatest of all bands. They will charm you every minute of the time.

You will feel when you have heard them that at times they have heard such music, and you will always remember them in that way. Thousands and thousands in this country and Europe and in their far off native land have—and is because of the impressions of these thousands of persons that they always the recognition they are receiving.

They will be on your Chautauqua program on a whole day, and it will unquestionably be the most eventful day of the week—the day you must plan for even if you must miss all the other.

Get a Chautauqua season ticket early and then begin to talk Chautauqua.

A penny newspaper is a penny Chautauqua. Both instruct and entertain.

The Chautauqua keeps people home, and in that it centers community growth.

When you give a boy or girl a week at a Chautauqua you give them a big boost to better things.

HOT WEATHER CAUSES HAVOC IN EGG CROPS

Lincoln Correspondence in Omaha: Inspector E. R. Harby of the state food department, visited fourteen egg dealers in Omaha last week and checked fourteen shipments comprising thirty cases of eggs. The quality of the eggs showed 86.3 per cent of No. 1 eggs, 16.9 per cent of No. 2; 7.5 per cent cracked and 35.8 per cent rotten. The worst lot candled showed 93 per cent loss. This was a shipment of three cases shipped July 29 and received July 8 from Danbury, 300 miles distant, by local freights. The best lot was shipped July 10 by express, a distance of thirty-five miles and was called the same day, showing only 1 per cent loss.

Two dealers at Norden, a town thirty miles inland, shipped eggs by freight from Ainsworth to Omaha. Both shipments arrived the same day. One consignment of 200 per cent rotten and the other 68 per cent rotten, showing a marked difference in the care of the eggs. The 9 per cent lot consisted of nine cases and the 68 per cent lot of three cases. Two cases were candled from each lot.

Mr. Harby believes the very bad eggs caused by extreme hot weather will doubtless be cleaned up this week. A large per cent of those bad eggs are called "blooded" by consumers, and eggs that have started to incubate, develop the hot weather. One Omaha firm had twenty-four cases of eggs in buckets ready to be hauled to the dump. These were candled and 90 per cent were found to be rotten.

The Chautauqua has the reputation of the best people of the community. It is the way where there is a good Chautauqua.

When a town has a Chautauqua it has the cream of the big city in music and entertainment, with all the scum left out.

That they have been kept a long time by either the farmers or merchants. He says they should be shipped by express in hot weather.

The Pursuit of Beauty. I know and you know things have been equally beautiful we could have received the idea of beauty at all, or matter. Her certainty it had become a little thought, whereas through the sagest of ordering of degrees in its manner. The beauty of man was stirred by its occasional occurrence. Its noblest form, and all their energies are awakened in the pursuit of it, and endeavor to treat it or recreate it for themselves.—Ruskin: Modern Painters.

Well Occupied. Lady (receiving assistant gardener) And if I engage you, besides your other duties, you will have to attend to the ferns and clean out their kennels, also clean out the parrot's cage, clean up my own workshop and clean both their bicycles.—Also clean the car which the souls be clean and pure; not dead walls, encompassing dead heaps of things, known and numbered. Sweet Drinks in Burma. There are no soda fountains in Burma. A large amount of aerated water is sold throughout Burma. The English population consumes an immense quantity of aerated water, the national drink of whisky and soda, and also some ginger beer and bottled lemonade. The natives, however, prefer the locally brewed and colored drinks, such a rose water, pineapple cream soda, etc.

Cinematograph in Great Britain. Great Britain imports from the United States a majority of the cinematograph films used by it. It costs from 6 to 50 cents a foot, and a moving picture show in Great Britain.

FARMER FINED FOR SELLING BAD EGGS

Madison Special in Norfolk Daily News: The repeated statement that the state pure food law is a job, and disproved in this city, yesterday, and should be a warning to all future offenders. Otto Lindstadt, residing several miles west of Madison, brought his doerage to the Madison Butter and Egg store, which, when called by the proprietor, Jesse Livingshous, were inspected and set aside to be disposed of by Mr. Lindstadt as he saw fit. It happened, however, that Deputy Food Inspector L. J. McGillis of Central City, dropped in before Lindstadt was informed that his eggs were unsalable, but as his custom grabbed the first box in sight, which happened to be Lindstadt's eggs, and proceeded to transfer them, after which he informed Mr. Livingshous that they were rotten, and inquired rather critically if he did not know that the eggs in question were unsalable, whereupon Mr. Livingshous informed the inspector that they had been candled, rejected and would be turned over to the owner when he returned.

The inspector, being inclined to disbelieve the charges, called on Lindstadt around until Lindstadt returned to be told to take his eggs as they were unsalable. Lindstadt, after some words, took his eggs, insisting that they were good and if the butter and egg merchant had not said so, he would not have taken them back home and eaten himself. Later in the day Lindstadt offered to dispose of his box of eggs to Matt Henness, another butter and egg merchant. The inspector, Matt Henness, and, not being recognized by Lindstadt, snapped up and purchased the eggs, paying the market price for same and taking a receipt therefor, and immediately after the transaction he swore to a check for 50 cents for the amount of Lindstadt, who was tried before County Judge Bates and fined the minimum penalty of the law, $50, and costs, making a total of $56.60.

Inspector McGillis filed the report before Justice T. M. Leffler and Malloy & Jewett, Madison's two meat merchants, in an unsanitary condition, and brought charges against them under the pure food law. The hearing was before County Judge Bates and Mr. Leffler pleaded guilty to two counts and was fined $20 and costs, amounting to all to $28.50, and Malloy & Jewett pleaded guilty to one count and were fined $10 and costs, amounting to all to $18.50. Each merchant was given forty-eight hours in which to pay the amount of the fine.

A BAND OF GENIUSES.

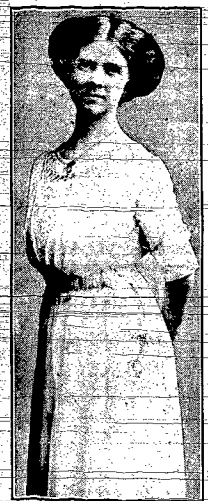

Every One of Ferrante's Men Would Have Made a Mark Anyhow.

THEY'RE ALL FROM SUNNY ITALY

And Music Plays a Greater Part in Their Lives Than in the Case With Most Musicians.

The Royal Italian Guards band, which will play here Chautauqua week, will attribute its fame largely to the genius that directs them and not entirely. The man at the head of a great band is too exalted for all but the greatest things and perhaps more than he must be a musician of most extraordinary ability, and if these qualities of leadership are essential it is to a bandmaster. Ferrante has great genius as a leader and great ability as a musician. But every one of Ferrante's musicians is himself more or less of a genius. Every one would have made a great mark in the musical world, whether in Ferrante's band or some other. Music plays a greater part in the lives of these men of sunny Italy than in most men's lives, even most musician's lives. That's why they play as they do. Put their whole soul into it. And that is what makes geniuses.

SOPRANO WHO WILL SING HERE CHAUTAUQUA WEEK

Miss Clara Burson is one of the best known sopranos of Chicago. She has been on the Chautauqua platform three summers. Her singing will be one of the features of the musical festival features of Chautauqua week.

READER WHO HAS WON FAME ON CHAUTAUQUA PLATFORM

Miss Beulah Light is one of the few readers who have succeeded on the Chautauqua platform. Only a reader of very strong voice can be heard in the outskirts of a Chautauqua tent. Miss Light's voice is strong and pleasing. Her success has been phenomenal.

FATAL FALM AT ROXBORO

Theodore Warratist, a stinger employed in John Fryer's hardware store at Norfolk, stepped backward off of a house top Monday and fell to the ground, breaking his neck. He died at the hospital.

THE WEEK WITH THE CHURCHES.

Methodist Church. (Rev. William G. Foster.) Mr. and Mrs. Noah Williamson and Miss Louise Bave were received into membership last Sunday on their certificates from Webster City, Ia.

The letter sent in the interest of the annual homecoming has been honored by a goodly number of favorable responses. Let the good work go on. Dr. C. N. Dawson will occupy the pulpit in the interest of the Methodist hospital on Sunday morning, July 23.

Both for the sake of the man and the cause he represents the people will be glad to attend this service and enthusiastically co-operate in the same. A very many people are in the air for some day of the week preceding August 6. But it is not for the Sunday school only. It is a long time since the whole congregation and Sunday school have met at a special service.

And the plan is that families on the farms—even at long distances from Wayne—in the shops, stores, factories, schools and everywhere else who are members or attendants on any of these services should call at the hall for all day in their various vocations. All their baskets with good things and take a day off to encourage the children and young people and to have a good time and get acquainted with the Methodists. The time and place will be announced from the pulpit and in the papers next week.

Instead of the usual mid-week meeting on Wednesday, July 26, there will be two meetings for the women of the congregation for prayer and counsel, the other for the men of the brotherhood to elect officers and take counsel in a particular interest—both of much importance.

This noon service next Sunday morning. Last Sunday brought a large congregation and an increased attendance at Sunday school. Everyone interested will fill the church to overflowing at both services.

First Baptist Church. (Rev. B. P. Richardson, Pastor.) It was most gratifying to see so many boys and girls out to hear the children's sermon last Sunday morning. We hope to have one such sermon each month.

On next Sunday morning Dr. L. A. Garfield of Grand Island will fill the pulpit. He is sure he will give us a good message in the morning.

On Friday evening of this week, at the church parlors, there will be a meeting of all our Sunday school teachers and officers. This meeting is held in connection with the Sunday morning prayer and fellowship meetings.

Our members can ill afford to miss this service. A cordial invitation to all our members. (Rev. Albin Cook, the pastor.) Next Sabbath morning there will be a reception of new members into the fellowship of the church and the ordination of adult baptism will be administered. The communion will also be held.

The address given in the morning address being "In Memory of Me." The Sunday school begins at 10 and the communion service at 11 o'clock. The session of the church will meet at the same study at 10:30 to receive the new members and attend to membership. There will be no services in the evening, as the congregation will meet in the union evening service on the church house lawn.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church. (Rev. C. J. Ringer, Pastor.) Preaching services at 11 o'clock next Sunday morning and Sunday school at 10 a. m. Members of the congregation will meet at 10:30 a. m. for a meeting on the court house lawn in the evening.

St. Mary's Catholic Church. (Rev. Father William Kearns, Priest.) Mass will be held at 10:30 a. m. and 8 o'clock on Sunday. Benediction services at 7:30 p. m.

German Lutheran Church. (Rev. J. H. Karpenstein, Pastor.) Services at the church will be conducted at the usual hour, 11 a. m., and Sunday school at 10 a. m.

TYPHOID AT BEATRICE. Beatrice, Neb., July 15.—A statement was issued last night by the officials of the feeble minded institute that twenty-four cases of typhoid fever existed there. Dr. W. H. Pond, the superintendent, is seriously ill from the disease. Professor H. H. Waite of the Nebraska university lays the cause of the disease to the water supply which comes from Bear creek near the institute.

NEWS ITEMS FROM HERALD EXCHANGES

Speaking of one of the players in a ball game at Colveridge, the Blade of that place says, "Young Pratt was a sensation of the game. Fans are delighted over the fact that the father now resides here and contemplates moving his family from Wayne to this burg. This will mean much strength to the ball team."

Enrol-Advocate: "A traveling salesman, whose territory covers Nebraska, Iowa and South Dakota, told J. B. Folber Monday that the best eggs he has seen anywhere on his territory are in the county in northwest Nebraska. He said: "You have nothing to complain about in this part of the country."

Carroll Index: The Carroll autoists have started a good work in filling in around the bridges on the roads between here and the neighboring towns. The night last week they went out and filled in around the bridges on the Sholes road, and on Tuesday night went out and filled around the bridges half way to Wayne. This is a good thing, and if the municipalities of Wayne and the neighboring towns will cooperate with the Carroll bunch, we can have well kept roads and bridges.

Fremont Tribune: Grasshoppers are invading the territory along the Johnson line of the Northwestern, according to M. B. Lutz, traveling freight agent for the Walsh, who returned from a trip through the southern part of the state. Mr. Lutz says that several roads about three miles west of Corral have been visited by the pests. The corn stalks were stripped as though they had weathered a hail storm. The damage wrought by the grasshoppers seems to be local to those fields, however, says Mr. Lutz, as no other fields in that locality show evidence of a grasshopper visit.

Allen News: The little 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Manley Burgess, residing a mile east of town, accidentally fell into a jar filled with water in which was diluted soap and lye, on Monday afternoon. Somehow the child was playing near this large jar and it accidentally fell in head first and when found by the hired girl a few minutes afterwards was utterly drowned. He probably was immediately called and upon his arrival the child was suffering from the burned condition of its mouth and throat. The boy at this report is resting quite well, but is unable to eat because of the inflamed mouth and throat. The little fellow about a week ago was caught eating poison by paper, but was discovered before eating enough to cause any serious damage.

Fremont Tribune: Better roads are now for Nebraska. There has been a wonderful crystallization of sentiment within the next few months, and the sentiment is all for highway improvement. Everywhere in eastern Nebraska, enthusiastic men may be found plighting for a betterment of this or that road route. Every town has elected out some highways which above others need immediate attention. Nearly every town has some organization at work "boosting" a good road route.

To say that the automobile has furnished the impetus for this recent rash of good roads sentiment is but to put it in words a fact that must be apparent to everyone who is at all familiar with the situation. People could not get along somehow when they had to content with old Dobbin, but it is altogether a different question now with a $2,000 rubber-tired machine that will save fifty miles an hour to be reckoned with. Fortunately, the farmers are finding themselves as able to purchase these conveyances as their city cousins, and the country need for them is no less than the city. The automobile is a great purse-saver. It will make a expense of a treatment over a little bit quicker than anything else ever invented. Nebraska with its rapidly increasing number of automobiles, its prosperity and its steady development, is on the verge of becoming a great community for good roads.

LINCOLN LAWYER DROWNS.

Lincoln, Neb., July 17.—Frank C. Burke, a young attorney of this city, was drowned Monday in Lake Michigan, according to reports received here from Michigan City, Ind., where his sister was visiting. Young Burke, who strayed beyond the danger lines, was rescued by a life savers' crew at that station, but they failed to revive him after two hours' attempt.

DOG SAVES DOCTOR'S LIFE.

Union, Neb., July 17.—Ella Sunday morning destroyed the residence and dental office of Dr. R. L. Newell. The doctor was aroused about 2 o'clock by the furious barking of his little dog, which was tugging away at the bedclothes in its efforts to awaken him. He sprang up to see the flames shooting above a trapezoid in the dining-room and barely had time to escape.

Watch Your Kidneys.

Your action controls your health. Read what Foley Kidney Pills have done for your neighbor. Mrs. H. W. Allen, Quincy, Ill., says: "About a year ago my kidneys began troubling me. I had a swelling in my ankles and limbs, then backache and nervous drizzy spells, and later severe headaches. I was getting worse when I began taking Foley Kidney Pills. I kept on taking them until I was once more free of all kidney troubles and suffering. I have a great deal to thank Foley Kidney Pills for, and shall always recommend them."—Folber's Pharmacy.

BEN WHITE OF OMAHA DEAD.

Omaha, Neb., July 15.—Benjamin T. White, general attorney for the Chicago and Northwestern lines west of the Missouri river, died suddenly Saturday evening at his home of neuralgia of the heart. He had been on the golf links of the Country Club during the afternoon in company with three other attorneys. They did not exert themselves at any time. Mr. White felt the links about 4 o'clock and rode home in his automobile. Almost immediately his car was struck with a sudden pain in his heart and died at 5:45 p. m. He was 59 years of age.

Ben T. White, general attorney for the Northwestern lines in this state, came to Nebraska from Massachusetts, where he grew up, and attended school. He first located at Okadale, this state, where he began the practice of law. Later he moved to Norfolk, and while at Norfolk was offered the position of assistant general attorney for the old Fremont, Elkhorn and Missouri Valley railroad. He was later made general attorney for the lines west of the river and this property was taken over by the Northwestern.

TELEPHONE GIRLS EXEMPT.

Enrol- Correspondence Omaha Bee: Telephone girls may work all night and their employers cannot be fined for violating the female labor law of Nebraska. This is the decision of Deputy Attorney General Ayers, given in answer to a question asked by Labor Commissioner L. V. Guye. Mr. Guye prosecuted the keeper of a restaurant in Omaha for employing a girl after 10 o'clock at night, and Judge Estelle of the district court of Douglas County decided that women or girls cannot be employed from 10 p. m. to 6 a. m. This decision appeared to strike telepho companies who employ girls all night, but the deputy attorney general has decided that the female labor law does not apply to telephone companies because a telephone office is not manufacturing a mechanical or a material article. The establishment mentioned in the law is a restaurant.

MADISON PIONEER KILLS SIBL.

Madison, Neb., July 17.—A neighbor residing about twelve miles northwest of Madison, took his life Monday evening at 6 o'clock by discharging one barrel of a shotgun into his breast, leaving a few almost all of his heart still beating. The victim seems that he had some words with a member of his family and grabbing the shotgun and two shells fell into the house for a corn field close by, saying he wanted to kill a rabbit. His wife, knowing that he had threatened to take his life as a former occasion and suspecting his intent, immediately telephoned to a neighbor, but before the neighbor arrived the tragedy was enacted. The county coroner was notified, who decided that no inquest was necessary. Mr. Smith leaves a wife and nine children to mourn his death.

GENERAL RAIN IN NEBRASKA.

Specials—Omaha Bee: Almost every town in Nebraska got a good soaking on Sunday and again Monday morning. General rains throughout the entire state were reported Sunday and early morning reports received Monday showed rain over every division of the Burlington route, and over practically all of the Union Pacific lines. ANNOUNCEMENTS.

(Candidates' announcements, 45 space, payable in advance.)

I am a democratic candidate for the office of sheriff of Wayne county at the coming primary. I pledge my best services to the county if nominated and elected. Your support solicited and will be appreciated.

PINGREE C. HUGHES.

FOR COUNTY TREASURER.

I wish to announce myself as a candidate for nomination for county treasurer subject to the will of republican electors as expressed at the August primary. If nominated and elected, I will give the best possible service to the taxpayers of Wayne county.

JAMES C. MILLER.

FOR COUNTY TREASURER.

I wish to announce my candidacy for the nomination for county treasurer on the republican ticket. If nominated and elected, I will give the utmost care to the duties of the office. I respectfully solicit support.

OLIVER E. GRAVES.

FOR COUNTY TREASURER.

I wish to thank the people for their kindness and loyal support in the past, and I announce my candidacy for the office of superintendent of public instruction at the coming primary for a second term. If my work in the past merits your support, it will be sincerely appreciated.

ELSIE LITTELL.

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT.

I wish to announce myself as a candidate for nomination to the office of superintendent of public instruction, subject to the wishes of republican electors as expressed at the August primary.

MRS. ALICE H. PHILLES.

FOR SHERIFF.

I wish to announce that I am a candidate for sheriff subject to the will of the republican voters at the primary August 15. If nominated and elected, I will attend strictly to the duties of the office and do my best to make a record that will merit general satisfaction.

HOWARD WHALEN.

FOR SHERIFF.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the nomination for sheriff subject to the approval of the people of Wayne county at the primaries August 15th, 1911.

ADGUT C. WALTER.

FOR COUNTY CLERK.

I desire to announce my candidacy for the democratic nomination for county clerk of Wayne county, subject to the will of the voters at the primary party to be held on August 15.

CHAS. W. REYNOLDS.

How a democratic paper like the Nebraska Liberal, published at Oregenton, warns up to irreconcilable insurgent journals of republican extraction.

A vote against the city hall heads will be a vote for the city to take a backward step. Like individuals, cities cannot stand still. They must either retrograde or go ahead. We cannot afford to fall back.

In contemplating its own ranking and overlooking the interests of each of the two great political parties can proceed with satisfaction to a similar affliction that possesses the other. Especially in politics, misery loves company.

Water can now size up all candidates, and name at the primary those whom they deem best fitted for county offices. It may not be easy to make a choice with so many eligible candidates in the field, but the exercise of choice is one of the duties of voters, and none should shirk the responsibility by remaining away from the polls on primary day.

If state egg inspectors would take a vacation during hot weather when the product of the hens is most apt to spoil, there would be less likelihood of trouble for careless dealers. But they will do so. On the contrary, they are on the alert all the time, and are liable to come to the surface when and where least expected, and inaugurate a ban inspection. The only safe way to do is to candle every egg bought or sold.

Road improvement is in progress everywhere in Nebraska. People appreciate the importance of better highways, and nearly every town is striving hard to make roads in its vicinity more easily passable. In Wayne county, Winslow and Carroll have taken steps to improve surrounding roads. It is expected Wayne will not be behind in looking out for the best interests of the city. If every center of population in the county will take active steps in the same direction it will not be long before we have uniformly good roads.

As will be seen by the list of candidates for positions on the supreme bench, none of them come from the north-west of the state. The fact that most candidates for state offices every year come from territory south of the Platte and be attributed to surprising brilliancy on the part of the people down that way nor to any sweeping and irrepressible demand for their services. It is because they want the jobs and have enough confidence to go after them. People in this part of the state either don't need state offices and don't want them, or are too modest to ask for them.

The railroad company is taking steps to appeal to the supreme court to defeat the order of the state commission for a new depot in Wayne. The commission acted on the evidence presented at the hearing in Wayne, and evidence presented at the hearing in Omaha to justify the order. The court will review the evidence, and either sustain or overthrow the action of the commission. The facts which appeared reasonable and justifiable to the commission are likely to appear equally as sound to the court, and thus the commission's order rightly upheld. The fact that the commission is vested with authority to order depots built on behalf of the people is the belief that their exercise of authority in behalf of Wayne cannot be defeated.

TRIP TO PONCA.

The Hill family took a trip by automobile to Ponca Saturday, stopping on the return for the night at the hospitable farm home of John Wilbur. Mr. Wilbur, who is a son of Russ Wilbur, deceased pioneer of this vicinity, homesteaded near Wayne about the early days. He now owns 600 acres, six miles southwest of Ponca, and his most farmers, has become well off. His magnificent residence is supplied with every modern convenience and comfort, and with his household, like that of the average farmer today, there are none of the hardships that were many in the early struggles of the country.

Ponca is one of the oldest towns in the state and for many years was one of the best trading points. But other, towns sprang up in the county, Ponca's trade circle diminished, and while the people there are doing well, they must be content without the business stimulation that made the first settlements flourish for a series of years. Modern residences, neatly kept yards and miles of cement walks testify to the prevailing spirit of pride and good feeling.

Many of the old residences have been sold to the city, and have been converted into a public building, and has been...

person's stores, one at Ponca and another at Newcastle. His store is the only one that escaped the late conflagration at Newcastle. Mr. Mitchell, who has passed the age of greatest activity, devotes much of his time to the leisure and comfort of his splendid home, and is the fortunate father of sons who have proven capable and dependable in carrying on the business so securely entrenched.

The fields of growing corn between Wayne and Ponca could not look more promising. In fact, Dixon county, also Wayne county, will gather an immense crop.

ODDS AND ENDS.

It is now too late to file for sheriff. The balance of the county can file for that office next time.

One is often reminded of the suggestion that men and women are but children grown tall.

A man should not make a mistake of fort at imprudence of speech. He will make a fool of himself often enough if he exercises care in what he says.

It is said farmers receive a good deal of attention from candidates and agents these days. Which class meets the more cordial reception, we have not heard.

Contentment is after all the important thing. It does not matter where nor how one lives. If he feels happy and satisfied with his lot and circumstances, the fires of discontent should not be kindled in his breast. Why disturb him?

A preacher in a Stone City pulpit Sunday said all children were savages at birth, and that their civilization depends on environment and training. The Journal took the trouble to interview a number of women or the subject and found them, altogether out of harmony with the preacher. They don't believe an innocent little cooing babe is a mere

The Way to Save Money.

The certain way to save money is to start a bank account, no matter how small, and add to it from time to time. People have started fortunes in that way. The man who spends all his money as fast as he earns it will never have anything ahead to sustain ease and comfort in declining years. The time to begin saving is now, and the easiest and surest way to do it is by getting into the banking habit. The Citizens' National Bank gives the same friendly and careful attention to small accounts as to big ones.

Candidate for Treasurer.

LAMBERT W. ROE, republican candidate for county treasurer, has lived in Wayne county twenty-six years. He has never before asked for an office at the hands of the party with which he has always been consistently associated. He rightly believes he is now asking no more than should and will be gladly conceded. His generally known fair and square methods of dealing with people in handling private business will appeal to voters as qualities eminently fitting a man to deal with the public in handling public affairs.

CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF

Charles Reize, republican candidate for Sheriff, has been a resident of Wayne County for twenty-eight years. He spent most of his life on a farm near Winslow. He is a man of splendid character, and would give the best of satisfaction if entrusted with the duties of Sheriff.

WAYNE, NEBRASKA

GENERAL FAVOR FOR BIGGER COUNTIES

The Pender Times voices the sentiment of people in its territory in support of the Herald's proposition to reorganize four counties and convert them into three, each with a larger area. At the Dixon county republican convention at Emerson last Friday, the proposition was freely discussed, and while it is said there was some evidence of opposition, representatives from different parts of the county were generally in favor of it.

A Wayne paper has proposed the plan, it would be eminently proper for the Wayne Commercial club to take the initiative in getting the proposition before the people. The late issue of the Pender Times has this to say: "The small map printed in this paper a couple of weeks ago by courtesy of the Wayne Herald attracted a good deal of attention and the scheme has met with much approval. The idea is to eliminate one county in northeastern Nebraska, and let three county organizations do the work it requires four to do now, making a great saving in administration and reducing the county boundaries so that each will be a more compact body. A good many people in this county favor the change and some of Pender's leading business men are enthusiastic over the plan with a few slight changes. The Dakota City Eagle favors the plan, and a number of Homer business men have informed us that the plan looked good to them. However, Dawson and Emerson would be part of this county, as well as Seward, and Cleveland townships in Cumming county."

Stains Practically Indestructible. A fight of states has been erected to Paris over which fourteen million persons have passed without so much as scratching the surface. These stones are almost imperishable, for in the concrete of which they are constructed a generous quantity of carbonyl iron is introduced, and since carbonyl iron is almost as hard as the diamond, it has given the concrete a wearing quality which no other granite could possibly approach.

To Remedy Corrosion Corrosion in metals is said to be prevented by the passage through the metal of a weak current of electricity. This is a "like cure like" remedy, for the pitting of metals is said to be due to the local electrical action, that is, the current developed by the action of water on dissimilar metals, often impurities in the metal itself, at the point of corrosion.

She Wanted to Know. At one of the public schools in the city of Hamilton, a history teacher, several years old asked her teacher who named Adam and Eve. It was what we'd like to know, but as the teacher couldn't answer the question she complained of the child and had her punished, and lost her place as teacher in consequence. The school board said it was right for anyone to find out if he could. Can you tell?

Saved by Beer Barrels. If Felix Mehl, a five-year-old patient in a New York hospital, lives he can thank a pyramid of beer barrels for the rear part of his remaining life. He fell five stories from the roof last night while playing leapfrog and struck the apex of the beer barrel pyramid. The barrels fell and were under him, breaking his fall, and he slid down gradually.

THEY SING AND PLAY

Sometimes There is Something Lacking In Concerts by Male Quartets.

THAT SOMETHING IS VARIETY.

Here's a Chautauqua-Attraction That Throws In a Little Instrumental Music, and It Goes Well.

The Singers and Players' club, which will appear here tomorrow week, is more than a male quartet; it is a male quartet that sings and plays too.

Perhaps you have heard concerts by male quartets in which there was something lacking, except as the men might have been.

Well, that something was variety. There should have been a little instrumental music.

But it is very difficult to organize a company of four men who can sing and play.

It required the selection of four of the most talented musicians that could be found and years of careful training.

The Singers and Players have been out for three years doing concert work, and the success they have made has been amazing.

FATHER P. J. MAC CORRY.

Father MacCorry (a member of the faculties in an American order of Roman Catholic priests, and he is the most widely known of the Paulists.

He was born and reared in this country, and received his education in the Catholic university of Washington.

He has traveled extensively. He is known not only in this country, but in Europe, Asia and Africa.

It is said that he is the most dramatic of the great orators among preachers. His delivery of the "Story Beautiful" is a most beautiful and charming thing.

The musical setting by Mr. MacDonald is almost itself a entire sacred concert, and yet it is an integral part of the story.

There are more than 100 pictures, accurately reproduced, and the original illustrations are of the most impressive, permanent that presents the explorer's experiences of the orient and the tropics. These pictures are reproductions of great modern religious paintings.

Father MacCorry has been on the Chautauqua circuit for more than five years. He knows the audience of all creeds.

Mr. MacDonald's work as a baritone has attracted attention on two continents.

He is known better in Canada and England than in this country, but he is regarded as one of the greatest of baritone.

He is assisted in his work by Mrs. MacDonald, an accompanist of rare ability. The coming of these two great Chautauqua men is one of the biggest events of the week.

Do Not Dwell In Harmony. At Sutton, in Northern Vermont, and a blackbird has started housekeeping on the cooperative principle, paying their eggs in the same nest. The same pair of birds tried a similar experiment last year, with dire results to the young mannie, the young blackbird having gently coaxed them out of the nest into the cold world. But the enterprising parents apparently insist on giving the scheme a fair trial.

Colonial School Days. In Colonial days school buildings were small and unimpressive. Boys were without desks, the desks only a shelf in most cases and oftentimes there was only the bare floor for a floor. The hours of study were long and the play hours few and short. One's heart is moved to pity only to read of the poor little backwoods children, driven in from sunrise and driven out toward dusk, after hours of mental and physical discomfort.

Our Mental Horizon. In childhood we fancied ourselves walled in by the horizon, as by a glass ball, and doubted not, by distant travel, we should reach the path of the descending sun and stars. On experiment the horizon flew before us, and leaves us on an endless continuum, sheltered by no glass ball. Yet the strange how tenaciously we cling to that ball-horizon, as a protected domestic horizon. - Emerson.

A Barber's Idea. In Chicago a voice has been raised against the cat's whiskers, which are alleged to carry microbes. The future may develop savings for cats. It is not to be supposed that in this age of enlightenment and facts cats will be permitted to go about with microbe-laden whiskers. - Jugs.

Its Degree. Mrs. Blount—Are you planning an expensive gown? Mrs. Knott—Well, it will take at least five courses and his favorite dishes to get it. - Harper's Bazar.

SAVING MONEY

Use of Attar of Rose.
More than 400,000 worth of attar of rose is brought into this country every year. The best is from roses grown near Constantinople. Not only does this bring a higher price than the product of the Bulgarian rose fields, but its superiority is recognized as a valuable classification in the trade. Where does the $90,000 worth of this attar perfume get some of it as "base" for other perfumes, and some of it where few appreciate its manufacturers of smoking and chewing tobacco.

Companionship to the Young.
Expressed with home objectives the author's aim is a position to appreciate as her sister in the commercial field does, the wisdom of being sociable with the beautiful boys and girls; of knowing every single detail which affects their young lives, of keeping in touch with every playmate and knowing every move the youngsters make. A little tact and diplomacy will work wonders in ascertaining facts worth knowing.

Only Married Men Count.
In Copenhagen it even now is important and essential for a man to be it for a woman as until a man is wed, he is a being of no account. If a father has not selected wives for his sons are they reach the age of twenty he is considered worthless and neglectful.

Emblems!
"Emblems!" is a pretty, pastoral mood, and is not often possible of the use of the law. Old law writers, too, struck by its emotion, have given it attractive definition. "Emblems," they say, "are the products of the soil where art combles with nature—strawberries, potatoes of one's garden, corn and wheat of one's field are emblems—though the fruit trees are not. The attention indicates that erudition and poetry are not always in the hand for the poetic definition is thus exact."
What a delicious phrase for farming, agriculture, truck gardening this "Emblems" are combined with nature! How truly, too, it harvests the best service of mankind with the dignity it merits. It is an art to make two pieces of corn grow out of one; and only one-grow-before. What artist creates with fine greater genius than he who sculpts-out of air and soil and his own fine fruit of labor, a more delicious peach, a better vegetable? Who has patented with worthier inspiration than he who has patented a new "Hy" a more delicate rose?—Kansas City Star

Praise for Piano Players.
In the course of the past few years an ingenious invention has made all departments of musical composition to a certain degree accessible even to those who are not expert pianists. I refer to the mechanical piano players which were at first looked upon with suspicion and often with abhorrence by professional musicians, but which are proving themselves an agency of immense usefulness in the hands of the people.—Prof. B. Dickinson, "The Education of a Musician."

One Kind of Greatness.
There is a kind of greatness which does not depend upon fortune, it is a certain manner that distinguishes us and which seems to destine us for great things; it is the value we in ourselves and upon ourselves; it is by this quality that we gain the deference of other men, and it is in this which commonly raises us more above them than birth, rank or even wealth itself.—La Rochefoucauld, "Reflections"

Plumb-Line into Porto Rico.
There are places where the direction of a plumb line is not vertical. Irregularities of density in the crust of the globe may produce this effect. A remarkable instance is pointed out in the island of Porto Rico, where the deviation from the vertical is so great that in mapping the island the northern and southern coast lines, as shown in the older maps, had each to be moved toward half a mile.—Scientific American.

Really-Logical Suggestion.
At a musical evening the hostess herself sang several times. "She was generally applauded, excepting by one man, an absolute nobody in the aggregate of all the contradictions in the world.—Jonathan Edwards."

Ingenuous Old Clock.
Well, there is a wonderful clock one of the oldest in the world, which dates from 1325. When it strikes the hour, four lights on the outside go flashing round, and the clock strikes twice two small bells, but his bells as he has been doing every fifteen minutes for eight years. This clock was the work of Peter Lightfoot, another monk of Glasterbury.

Probably Holds Record.
Mr. Elias Taylor, parish clerk of Faldon, England, has retired on reaching the age of ninety, after fifty-one years of service. During his term of office he daily ascended the church tower to wind the clock. He discharged that duty 18,500 times, and climbed 700 miles of stairs.

The Man and His Book.
A fool reads a book, and understands nothing in it. A witling reads it, he flounders he is perfectly master of it all without exception. A man of discernment sometimes does not comprehend it entirely, he distinguishes what is clear from what is obscure, what the beaux esprits will have him to understand, and what he will not.

The Eternal Now.
"Concern yourself as little as possible with your past. Unpleasant recollections over what you have possibly only cripple you in your noble battle to be better. Now is the only point in time that ever matters to you. You devote yourself to the past will be a great hindrance to your progress."—Joseph Campbell, "The Way of Zen."

Uncomplimentary Comparison.
A Philadelphia school director is mostly bald, and one of his teachers took advantage of it to make plain to his teacher his understanding of geography. The teacher had defined a desert as a barren tract and in order to impress the pupils with it he had asked them to define it and give an example. When the school director's boy was questioned, he answered promptly and correctly, and by way of illustration said: "A desert is a great big tract that's barren, like pa's head an' neck above his ears."

Most Powerful Poison.
From the microbes which give rise to human beings to the disease known as tetanus or lockjaw, poison called tetanine is obtained which is over 100 times more powerful than strychnine. A fragment of tetanine so small as to be invisible to the naked eye could kill almost instantaneously the strongest man. One fifteen-thousandth part of a grain of it has caused the death of a horse 1,000,000 times its own weight.

Equal at the Time.
Boswell, after making his great work, indulged himself in a long period of leisure and did not write a line of music. A friend once called on him and found him writing his autobiography, with a sentiment at the bottom of some photographs of himself. One of these said, "Mr. M. talks with my friend and my equal in music."
"What!" cried the visitor, "you are not serious?" M. smiled. "Will it not occur equal to music?" "Certainly not," said Boswell. "I am doing nothing," explained Boswell.

Our First Families.
Science tells us that the Tipitidae, or Daddy Longlegs, were the original inhabitants of North America, and that their ancestors in Colorado in vast numbers during the tertiary period! It is understood that the descendants of Colonial families have protested against the "infringement" of their rights. Don't cry, cry.

Blue Arctic foxes are bred extensively on the islands of the Alaska coast. These creatures cannot be tamed; but they are fed all the year round and trapped for their skins by the winter when their coats are in suitable condition.

Literally "Write in Sand."
Kangaroo-dung does not wash out of boxes instead of states. They write the difficult Chinese characters and have to learn them early in life. The character is drawn in the sand with a stick and then the box is shifted to prepare for another.

Salmon Roe for Caviar.
Owing to the diminishing supply of sturgeon—caviar, Siberian fishermen have been experimenting with salmon roe. A commodity that was formerly known as valuable or even luxurious to health.

Tender and Yet Tyrannical.
Mother love has little kindness to any other love. Tender to the object it can be infinitely tyrannical to itself and hence its power of self-sacrifice. —Low Wallace.

Luxury Becomes Necessity.
The luxury for which we sacrifice our necessities has in a general sense become a necessity for which we sacrifice all our other luxuries.—Universalist Leader.

A Difficult Matter.
Love scenes are always difficult. I would rather murder any woman than propose to her that is in my fiction.—John Oliver Hobbes (Mrs. Galswiler).

New Use for Gettenswood Tree.
The cottonwood tree is rich with gas and experiments are being conducted with the view of extracting it and burning it from a boiler.

Land of Tobacco Lovers.
All Spaniards are great smokers. The most popular article used in the package of twenty-five cigarettes sold at eight cents.

Blissful Ignorance.
May the world does not know how many things the other half is ignorant of.

Putting it Up to the Men.
It is practically settled that a large proportion of the "blue-line" theory of property and exchange human life are stirred by careless smokers. Now, if smoking were a distinctly feminine habit there would be something odd. —From "As She Goes In" in the Lowell Courier-Citizen.

Remarkable Coincidence.

OLD TIME HAY MAKING. (Wallace's Farmer)

The arrangement of the boys and girls was to take them back some sixty years and tell them how hay was made in those days.

The only way we then knew of cutting hay was with a scythe.

The next thing was to get it into stacks and windrows, and coming back finished it up.

It must then be put in cock, unless the weather was exceedingly fine, when it could be loaded onto the wagon out of the stack.

There was a deal of knack in pitching it on, and little in building a load that would stack or hold together.

For the prairie had not yet been opened up to any great extent and hay had to be hauled over steep and sidling places.

The stack was usually built in a central spot in the field; then a boy with a horse and a long rope hauled the stack to the place where it was to be put.

There are Seven Musical Companies and more than a dozen entertainers, lecturers, and orators on the Chautauque program...

And the band! That's only an incident. There are six other great musical organizations...

Say - you plan for this Chautauque. Get a season ticket and go every day...

Starts Aug. 11 Lasts a Week
