JAMES F. JEFFRIES RESIDENCE BURNS

SUFFERS CONSIDERABLE LOSS

Fire Supposed to Have Started From Electric Wires—Insurance on House and Contents.

Fire believed to have started from electric wires, broke out in the residence of James F. Jeffries Saturday afternoon and caused damage to the building and contents estimated at $2,500. Some one passing the house saw smoke issuing from the roof and immediately notified Mr. Jeffries who was at home with his sister, Mrs. Fox, J. W. Tombs, who with his daughter, Mrs. M. A. Phillips, and guests at the Jeffries' house, was also at home. The frightened household turned in the alarm, and soon a crowd gathered. In a short time three lines of hose were poured water into the flaming attic, where the fire originated, and citizens made haste to empty the lower story of its furniture. The smoke was so dense that it was found impossible to get into the upper story. In the hurry and excitement of removing the goods, many pieces were broken and badly damaged. After hard work the fire was put out, but not until much injury had been done. The upper story was badly burned and the whole house suffered big damage. Mr. Jeffries estimates his loss on the house at $1,500, and on the goods at $1,000. He carried insurance of $2,300 on the house and $800 on the contents. Mr. Tombs and Mrs. Phillips, and Walter Norris who had a room in the house, and Miss Danne who was employed in the Jeffries home, were also considerable losers by fire.

LUMBER COMPANY TO PUT UP BUILDING

The Philco & VonSaggen Lumber Co. has completed plans for the erection of a new building, to be constructed of cement of brick, for an office and a modern automobile garage and repair shop. The company's present office will be moved away and the site occupied by the new building. It will have a fifty-foot front and run back eighty feet. The front will be high and the windows big and showy. An expert from Omaha has already been employed to take charge of the mechanical department. One corner of the building will be occupied by the company's office. This will be a very desirable improvement for Wayne, and the lumber company's enterprise is to be commended.

BASEBALL SEASON CLOSES IN WAYNE

(Record of local base ball as reported by Wayne fan.) The base ball season closed last Saturday with a victory over Laurel's team, score 5 to 3.

On Friday the Valentine team was snowed under by a score of 9 to 1, and on Thursday the crack team from Creighton, with Farmer Dunaway in the box, was beaten 8 to 4. These decisive victories over the best teams around us establish Wayne's claim to the championship of northeast Nebraska beyond a doubt. The failure of the Burke, S. D., team to come on Saturday was a disappointment to everyone, but the Laurel team who took their places played a better game than Burke would have played. This conclusion is drawn from the fact that Valentine defeated Burke twice before coming here and our team beat Valentine easily. This ends our first year's experience with a satisfied lot team. All of us who enjoy the base ball feel well repaid for the cost as we had a team together who played the best ball that has ever been seen around Wayne.

Next week a detailed statement of receipts and expenditures will be made and also a review of the games lost and won will be given.

BEEBE MAY BECOME CASHIER OF NEW BANK

Charles S. Beebe whose term expires next January after two terms as treasurer of Wayne county, is figuring on accepting the cashiership of a new state bank which is to be established at Wakefield. The new organization is now putting up a substantial brick building which will be modern and first-class. The capital stock of the bank will be $25,000. If Mr. Beebe declines to accept the position, he and his family will of course move to Wakefield. He has "made good" in other places, and would do the same in the capacity of bank cashier.

BANK STATEMENTS.

The statements of the First National and Citizens National banks, published elsewhere in this paper, show a prosperous condition which not only speaks well for those two popular institutions, but for the community in which they are doing business. The healthy condition of banks reflects the healthy condition of the territory which supports them. Therefore, not alone the managers and stockholders, but people generally have reason to point with pride to the excellent showing made. Also the Herald wishes to call attention to the splendid statement of the Alton bank appearing in this issue.

DOUBLE WEDDING IS BRILLIANT FUNCTION

An event of a good deal of interest to Wayne society was the double wedding which took place in this city on Saturday morning, and in which prominent young people were the contracting parties. Miss Mayme Moran having been married to Mr. Alford C. Lantz of Winslow, and Miss Claire Moran to Mr. E. J. Huntemer, the impressive ceremonies performed by Rev. Father Kearns of the Catholic church. The brides are the estimable daughters of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Moran of Wayne.

At 8 o'clock Saturday morning, at the Catholic parsonage, in the midst of a circle of invited relatives and friends, the marriage of Miss Mayme Moran to Mr. Alford C. Lantz was duly solemnized. Miss Claire Moran acted as bridesmaid and Mr. E. J. Huntemer as best man. Love's wedding march was played by Miss Hazel Weber.

Following this ceremony, the party repaired to St. Mary's church where the marriage of Miss Claire Moran to Mr. E. J. Huntemer took place. The ushers were Arthur, Ahern and Joe Meister. The groom, in the lead of the bridal party, was accompanied by his brother, Percy Huntemer. Mrs. Lantz, as maid of honor, was followed by two daintily gowned flower girls, the Misses Rose Barrett of Wayne, and Claire Lilly of Sioux City. They carried baskets of flowers and wore floral wreaths. They followed the bride on the arm of her father. The nuptial mass was sung by Mrs. L. J. Coyle of Lincoln, and Miss Rosina Waters of Sioux City. The sacred vows were spoken and the ceremony was finished.

The bride of Mr. Lantz was gowned in an exquisitely embroidered white marquisette, trimmed in pearls, and she wore a huge picture hat. Mr. Huntemer's bride wore white pearls and a handsomely trimmed with Irish purp and pearls, a splendid veil completing the costume. Both brides carried arm bouquets of bride's roses and altogether looked very beautiful.

After the ceremony the bridal party went to the home of the bride's parents, where after congratulations had been expressed, an excellent three-course wedding breakfast was served by Misses Alice O'Neill, Mary Twobig and Gaddy Chase. The color scheme, pink and white, was carried out in the table and general decorations. Roses and asters were used profusely with backgrounds of smilax and ferns.

There were many valuable presents among which are pieces of solid silver, cut glass, hand-painted china and pictures.

After the reception at the Moran home, the newly wedded couples left in an automobile for Wisner, there taking the train for the west. Mr. and Mrs. Huntemer going to Hot Springs, S. D., and Mr. and Mrs. Lantz to Denver, expecting to be gone two weeks. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Huntemer will be at home in their attractive new bungalow on College hill, and Mr. and Mrs. Lantz will locate at Winslow where Mr. Lantz is engaged in pharmacy, and where he is building a splendid modern dwelling for the reception of his bride.

The brides are Wayne products of the highest type. They grew up in Wayne, graduated from the Wayne high school, taught for a number of years in Wayne and Wayne county schools, and their lives have been knit to Wayne associations and Wayne's development. High-minded, educated and refined, they will make excellent life-partners for the fortunate and worthy young men who have won them. Mr. Huntemer, as a member of the State Normal faculty in Wayne, and Mr. Lantz, pharmacist at Winslow, stand deservedly high in the estimation of all who know them. The Herald joins the friends of the happy couples in extending congratulations and good wishes.

Following were out-of-town guests at the wedding: Mrs. John Mullen and daughter Kathleen of Chicago, Mrs. John Lilly, Miss Rosina Waters, Miss Mona Smith, Miss Mary Twobig and Mrs. John Coyle of Sioux City, Miss Bonnie Reed of Winslow, Mrs. Frank Lilly of Hinton, S. D., Mrs. Jane Lilly and Mrs. Henry O'Neill of Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. P. Coyle, Richard Coyle and Miss Sadie Gates of Craig, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Coyle of Lincoln, Mrs. H. D. Blanchard of Omaha, Mr. Huntemer, father of E. J. Huntemer, and Percy Huntemer of Madison, S. D., Miss Pauline Braunger of Emerson, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. ## FUNDS RAISED BY CITIZENS

Contributions Secured to Make the Location Possible—Attractive

Park Designed.

A plan is on foot to help the city buy the vacant lots owned by Harry Fisher and situated west of Kryger & Vibber's meat market for the new city hall. The proposed site has been under consideration for some time, but has been held at a price beyond the limit which the council figured its available funds could well reach and have an ample amount left for the building. Therefore, a movement was started to raise money with which to aid the city in purchasing the site desired, and it is believed the enterprise will be successful. If so, the proposition will be submitted to the council at its meeting next Monday night, and favorable action asked. It is proposed to grade up and park the lots with the city hall rising in the center. It is expected to thus have an attractive, grass-covered plot near the center of the business district.

SCHOOL NOTES.

There are twenty-one in the senior class.

Is your child of school age? Is he in school?

Our schools opened Monday morning with an unusually large attendance. There were over 500 on the enrollment.

In the high school the effort is so large and the work so heavy that the board of education find it necessary to employ another teacher.

Come and see the work of the schools. By taking a greater interest in the schools you will encourage greater interest on the part of the pupils and teachers.

Some of the grade rooms are so crowded that unless the model schools of the State Normal will relieve us greatly it will be necessary to employ another grade teacher.

WE HAVE SUCCEEDED IN GIVING THE PEOPLE OF WAYNE AND VICINITY A SANITARY STORE, WHICH COULD Justly be Called the "IDEAL GROCERY". A REMANENT SALE OF QUALITY GROCERIES. In testing out the various lines of canned goods to find the QUALITY that would please the exacting public, I have decided on the Grand Canon and Yellowstone brands, therefore all others must go to make shelf room and furnish money to enable me to handle new goods which are now arriving. Hence the Bargain Tables which we will use Friday and Saturday to Close Out Several Items. Cost will be entirely disregarded in disposing of surplus stock. Come and see for yourself. Goods will be arranged on 8c to 25c tables. This sale will include optics, extracts, pickles, canned goods, macaroni and many other items. It will pay you to buy these goods in quantities as Every Dime invested will show a saving in actual money from 3 cents to 5 cents. A great many people have been heard to speak of this store as the Ideal Grocery, which name has been adopted. BEAMAN'S IDEAL GROCERY "Where You Get the Best Things to Eat." A lady is running against a man for county superintendent in Cedar county, and in such a case the woman usually has the advantage, because people rather concede that members of the fair sex have superior fitness for school supervision, and are not often permitted to hold any other county office.

In his annual address before the old settlers' picnic at Dakota City last Thursday, Emmet Gribble, president of the association, made the statement that at one time Wayne county furnished more boys and cattle for the packers than any other county in the United States. Perhaps it does so now. Wayne county is acknowledged a top-notch in production along all stock-raising and agricultural lines.

TOWN MARSHAL DISCHARGED.

Humphrey, Neb., Sept. 5:—Marshal Bechold of this town has been discharged by the town board, following investigation by Governor Alrich into Dr. Condon's charges. The governor told the board that if they didn't discharge the man he would begin ouster proceedings.

The governor declared the marshal was unfit for his job; that he brazenly lied on the witness stand, even denying every statement made by the Catholic priest of Humphrey; that Humphrey had a great many hardy in it during the carnival and that there was widespread debauchery, which the marshal made no effort to suppress.

The governor said the marshal's assault upon Dr. Condon was uncalled for and not the civilized way of settling things. The town board then met and complied with the governor's request.

MEN DEFT EMPLOYERS.

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 4:—Union labor of Des Moines virtually flung defiance at the street car management in the Labor day parade today.

The street car men were given the place of honor to lead the parade and they selected to carry their banner, Ben Hiatt, the discharged conductor whose troubles caused the recent strike and who has a second time been discharged by the company for alleged violation of rules. Back of Hiatt came over three thousand members of organized labor, making a parade thirty blocks long, one of the longest in the history of union labor here.

Fully 20,000 people went out to the Labor day picnic. The fact that Hiatt had been discharged a second time, following his re-instatement by the court order, indicates that the old trouble is sure to be opened in acute form and may involve all the labor union interests of the city.

STRIKE CONFERENCE.

Chicago, Sept. 5:—The question whether a strike will be called or whether another effort will be made to adjust the controversy between the federated shop employees of the Illinois Central and the railroad is to be settled at a conference of the officers of the international unions involved to be held at 10:30 today.

The apparent crisis was brought about by a communication sent last night to W. F. Kramer, secretary of the blacksmiths and helpers union, by President C. H. Markham of the road, refusing to grant an audience to the federation representatives. Mr. Markham also made it plain that he would not recognize the federation.

Despite the fact that the letter apparently left the union men the alternative of calling a strike or receding from their demands, both President McCreey of the federation and Secretary Kramer asserted that they still had hopes that an amicable adjustment might be reached. Although the union men would not say what their plans were, they made it known that arbitration as a last resort had been discussed. The international officers said that a strike will not be called until all possible means to settle the differences have been exhausted.

"We don't know ourselves what will be done," said Kramer. "The decision will be reached Thursday morning."

BOY BURNED TO DEATH.

Tilden special to Tuesday's Norfolk News:—Fire in a barn at the farm of F. L. Danes yesterday afternoon cost the life of a little 2-year-old boy who died at 3 o'clock this morning from his burns. He was badly burned about the face.

The father was in town and the first the mother knew of the fire was when she looked up and saw her child, sitting on a pile of hay and wrapped in flames. She ran and seized him and the little fellow walked into the house. Mrs. Danes then untied the horses but one miled went back into the flames and was a badly burned that it had to be shot.

The barn was built two years ago and had room for sixteen horses. There was a big sawed and granary. Some oats and wheat were saved.

This is the second tragic death in the Danes family within three years. A daughter was smothered to death in a pile of sand three years ago.

The barn burned yesterday was partly covered by insurance.

Real Epochs of Life.

Real action is in silent moments. The epochs of our life are not in the visible facts of our choice of a calling, our marriage, our acquisition of an office, and the like, but in a silent thought by the wayside as we walk; in a thought which revises our entire manner of life and says: "Thus has thou done, but it were better thus." Emerson.

With Tact.

"How did they break the news of her sudden bereavement to his wife?" "It was done with considerable tact and with every precaution to lighten the blow. Her lady friend selected for the task, said to her, 'I have some bad news for you, Hilda, about James, but it might have been a great deal worse. It certainly is a blessing you put off getting your summer suit, for you will look simply stunning in widow's weeds.'" Emerson.

The offerings amounted to $70. Between and after the services the ladies of the Frauenverein served meals to the many who had come. A tent had been put up on the west side of the church.

First Baptist Church. (Rev. B. P. Richardson, Pastor.) Worship and preaching at 10:45 a. m. Sunday. The subject for the morning sermon will be "Christian Stewardship." Sunday school follows the preaching service immediately. The Bible and Philathea classes are showing a substantial growth.

At 7 o'clock Sunday evening our young people will have their first meeting of the fall. A large number of members is very much desired.

At 8 o'clock, instead of preaching, the young people will have charge of the service. The following will take part in the program: Misses Ruby Hughes, Bue Rickbaugh, Pearl Hughes, Hazel Norton, Ethel Huff, Jia Hughes, Mrs. Eli Laughlin and Messrs. Shirley Sprague, Ray King and Charley Nicholas.

Our Wednesday evening prayer meetings during September will deal with different aspects of our church life. We desire very much that the members will plan to be present at each meeting. A cordial invitation to all to attend our services.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church. (Rev. C. J. Ringer, Pastor.) Sunday school will commence at 9 o'clock and preaching services at 11 a. m. No services in the evening.

We are studying the Epistle to the Romans at the midweek meeting.

The Epworth League holds its annual meeting at 8 o'clock Friday evening for the election of officers and other business.

Next Sunday morning the services will be devoted to "Old People." "A Bright Outlook." Messrs. C. A. Githen, W. R. Gamble, A. P. Gosard and J. M. Cherry will furnish transportation to and from the church for all who desire it. Let requests for transportation be made known to any of the above names, or to Mrs. C. O. Fisher or Mrs. C. L. Culer.

Epworth League services Sunday evening at SEVEN and preaching at eight o'clock.

We are still in need of $170 on our apportionment benevolences. The pastor does not want to ask those who have already given, to give more to make up the deficit, until every member has paid something on these funds. Hence, if any member has overlooked this great privilege and important duty, may it not be attended to at once? Conference meets September 20.

Presbyterian Church. (Rev. Alexander Corkey, Pastor.) The Sunday school meets at 10 a. m. on Sunday morning, and the service of worship begins at 11. The juniors meet in the lecture room at 3 p. m. and the C. E. society at 7. Evening preaching service at 8 o'clock.

The C. E. society has elected the following officers for the coming year: President, Miss Edna Neely; vice-president, Miss Henrietta Moler; secretary, Miss Neva Orr; treasurer, Paul Mines.

Preparations are being made for the proper observance of "Rally Day" in the church and Sunday school.

The midweek service for the church has been resumed every Wednesday evening.

ATTENDS ASSOCIATION.

Eight members of the First Baptist church attended the meeting of the Northeastern Association at Greighton last week. The meeting was quite well attended by delegates and was full of help to all present. Next year the association meets at Norfolk. Mr. I. W. Alter of Wayne, was elected moderator for next year.

STATE COMMITTEE MEETS.

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 4.—The republican state central committee tonight selected Omaha headquarters for the year, elected John L. Kennedy chairman and adopted the rules of 1910 for the coming year. Twenty-seven members of the committee were present. Mr. Kennedy was empowered to select his own secretary. The vote on location of headquarters was seventeen for Omaha and nine for Lincoln.

Secretary of Agriculture Wilson addressed the committee.

GOTCH IS VICTOR.

Chicago, Sept. 4.—The center of the wrestling world was more strongly than ever fortified at Humboldt, Ia., the home of Frank Gotch, today. Moreover, Referee Ed. W. Smith who proclaimed the world's champion victor over George Hackenschmidt in two straight, quick falls, declared that for the next ten years there would be no shift of the wrestling capital unless Gotch should choose to change his place of residence.

The Russian's showing was pitiful. The crowd decreed that he had "quit," but the defeated challenger, through copious tears, averred that he had entered the arena with a wrenched knee, on which Gotch worked and speedily reduced him to an almost helpless state.

Unusual and Joyous Event.

The recent dinner given by Confederate veterans at Gastonia, N. C., to 100 former slaves was an unusual event, and one also which cannot take place at all after the passing of a few more years, says the Springfield-Republican. It was a joyous occasion, according to the reports—the dinner taking the form of a reunion of old-time bondmen, their former masters and mistresses, and the children of the slave owners. In view of the way in which the races have seemed to grow apart, the event inspires the hope of more sympathetic relations in the future.

There Is Something Back of Trade Marks

When a man does a thing he knows is good—other folks recognize it's good—he likes to sign his name to it. This rule applies to the manufacturing world. When the manufacturer puts out a product he knows has quality and the public approves of it as "Quality," then he puts his trade mark on it. Take wearing apparel for instance. When you are shopping you will find in our Ready-to-wear department a lot of garments with the WOOLTEX label. They have proven extra good value. That's why we have them. We want to present our customers with best on the market—and only that. We've equally satisfactory WOOLTEX models for the stylish stout woman and the little woman at reasonable prices.

THE SEPARATE SKIRT.

The Separate Skirt still much favored. The woman who dresses for practical comfort—who wears a simple waist and skirt—is the woman whose good judgment is to be commended. She is a "good dresser." We are showing a complete line of BUCKINGHAM and WOOLTEX Skirts in the new $6 to $15

Era of Drunkenness.

Nowhere in all the world today can be found as many confirmed drunkards as there were among the Thracians, the Iberians, the Celts, or the Greeks. The man who didn't get drunk every day or two was regarded as queer. The Greeks were moderate drinkers until they began to copy the luxury of the Persian feasts. The Romans imitated the Greeks. Then the whole world went on a mad drunk. It was a saturnalia. Caligula owes his niche in the hall of fame to the drunken banquets with which he made even Rome marvel. The excesses made fashionable by such potentates as Lucullus, Nero, Verres, Tiberius, Caligula, Vitellius, and Domitian really began in the days of Pompey and they mark the beginning of the end of the republic.

Fashions Change Little.

From the fresco paintings of women in the Cretan palaces of the period about 2,000 B. C. it is learned that the women of that time pinched in their waists, had flounced or accordion plaited skirts, wore an elaborate coiffure on their heads, and hats which might have come from a Parisian hat shop, while one woman might be described as wearing a jupe colotte.

A Puzler.

Mrs. Gaddy—There are some interesting things in life which are very puzzling to me.

Professor Pundit—Like what, for instance?

Mrs. Gaddy—When you write everything bad and mean in a man's life in a book for everybody to read, it is biography, but when you just tell the same things—to a few people on a front porch, it's gossip.

Yellow Journalism.

Grandpa often read aloud from the newspaper for mamma as she went about her work. One morning five-year-old Maxine brought a paper and sat down at his feet. Grandpa noticed that she, too, was pretending to read aloud. "A little girl ate a chicken alive and feathers grew out all over her back." Was the startling bit of news he heard.—From the House-keeper.

Work and Worry.

"Worry wears out more people than work does," said the ready-made philosopher. "Of course it does," replied Mr. Growcher, "for the simple reason that so many of us would rather put in our time worrying about work than doing it."

NEWS ITEMS FROM HERALD EXCHANGES

The county board of Knox county has made arrangements to build an addition to its court house.

Bloomfield advertises a flying machine as one of the attractions of its carnival this week. Flying will be a leading attraction at public gatherings until the novelty wears off.

Randolph Enterprise: W. H. Root says that on Wednesday of this week he picked two bushels of pears off his own trees. On one tree alone he counted 230 pears. In all he had five trees, and will have a fine yield when they are all picked.

Randolph Times: The question of an early frost is now the paramount issue with the farmer and the phases of the moon, and other signs have been carefully watched. It looks to us like the present cold spell would pass without frost—we hope so at least.

Carroll Index: People should be very careful about leaving or putting any large pieces of paper where the wind can blow them around. Some horses are very fondly about loose paper and we have seen some horses break loose from hitching posts very recently from this cause.

Cedar County News: Jas. Lively exhibited a skull today at the 84-ers picnic that is certainly that of an old settler in Cedar county. It had been plowed up the week before by Francis Keegan on his farm one-half mile north of St. James. It was brought to town, and from its conformation and the development of the teeth, the wisdom teeth not having yet been developed, it was pronounced by physicians to be unquestionably that of a young Indian. As the place where the skull was plowed up has been farmed by Mr. Keegan or his father for over fifty years, it is evident that the owner of the skull, if having now, would be entitled to be a member of the old settlers' association.

Laurel Advocate: Marshal West ordered several huggers out of town the past week. One outfit was a man and a woman, the man having one leg off at the knee and walking on crutches. The woman with him presented a subscription paper asking for aid to secure an artificial limb for her husband. Why the friends and neighbors at their home did not help them financially is the question. If a person is deserving they can secure aid where they are known, and not be compelled to beg from strangers. Marshal West and the city authorities are bound to put a stop to this traffic. So if a huggar comes to your home as a place of business simply turn him off and phone or notify Marshal West. He'll do the rest.

Wayne Tribune: Now that Winside and Wayne have had a playing field for tax year, it is hoped both towns will resume their usual calmness and that a citizen of either place can visit the other after dark. Mrs. Bert Baldwin, formerly of Winside, told her 2-year-old daughter from drowning and a few days later killed a rattlesnake that she found crawling under the same child in their home. Last week P. E. Moses and sons shipped two cars of Angus cattle of their own breeding and feeding, which sold for eight cents in Chicago. This is about the highest price received for any cattle shipped out of Wayne county this year. A good deal like bread, if you want the best, you must have the home grown or home made article.

WAYNE AUTHOR IN COLORADO.

Daily News, Grand Junction, Colo., August 29: Dr. Alexander Corkey, one of the leading and most popular authors of the country, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. David Hopkirk at their pretty country home north of the city this week and will preach at the Presbyterian church this evening in place of the regular weekly prayer meeting.

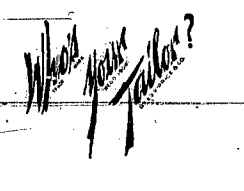

Dr. Corkey has been in the limelight much of late especially since he wrote 'The Victory of Allan Rutledge' in answer to Harold Bell Wright's book, 'The Calling of Dan Matthews.' Those who have read Dr. Corkey's reply are unanimous in their praise of the map who could write such a masterful production.

Dr. Corkey has also written another book in answer to 'The Leopard's Spots.' In this book Dr. Corkey takes a strong stand in opposition to Dixon's fearful arraignment of the negro; This book is now running in serial form in the New York Christian World and Evangelist. It will be published in book form by a New York publishing company October 1. Dr. Corkey is on his way from Wayne to Salt Lake City and stopped off here on a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. Hopkirk who are old friends. He will speak this evening at the Presbyterian church. He was driven about the valley yesterday and was greatly pleased and interested in what he saw. He leaves Thursday morning for the west.

PROTECTING THE CREDULOUS.

Fromip Tribune: A new law which goes into effect today in New York state is intended to put fake-estate dealers out of business. It is aimed at the swindlers in New York City, whose business it has been to live like leeches off the people by exploiting land on Long Island and elsewhere within a radius of 100 miles of the big population center. By widespread, deceptive advertisements lot sales have been conducted through the mails in such a manner that fabulous sums have been realized from practically worthless property which will never be the valuable 'suburban investment' that is claimed for it. The act passed by the legislature makes a false statement as to the worth or description of real estate punishable by a fine of $1,000 or one year's imprisonment. It is a good law which will serve in some measure as protection for credulous people all over the country who are being inveigled into 'city investments' by shrewdly written letters. It would be better if its scope were wide enough to catch the thousands of swindlers of similar variety who infest most of the big cities of the east, with their schemes of getting money from those who work for it. One of the curses of the country is the great number of big city people who make a fat living by their dishonest wits.

The scarcity of houses to rent speaks well for the town, but is mighty inconvenient for people who are moving here.

Hay fever victims are anxiously looking forward to the time when frost can come without interfering with plans for a big corn crop.

As a safeguard against possible fires, residents should see that their electric wires are not a source of danger. Everyone might well investigate and see that their wires are all right.

It will be a source of daily comfort to users of the telephone when the system is reconstructed in Wayne. The time and irritation saved in getting connections will be worth a good deal in the course of a year.

The school enrollment being bigger than a year ago, and with a scarcity of houses unprecedented in the history of Wayne, isn't there ground for suspicion that the city has made big growth in population within the past twelve months?

Omaha has adopted the commission form of government by a big majority vote. Other cities of the state contemplate the same municipal policy. If the larger centers find the commission form more satisfactory than the prevailing plan, towns like Wayne may find it advantageous to make the change.

The county board proposes to go after the collection of all inheritance tax money due the county. As we understand, such funds, when available, are calculated for use in improving the public roads. People will approve of the effort.

To secure funds due, and will appreciate use of the same in making better roads in the county.
 Keep your money in circulation in Wayne county as far as possible. Buy of those who invite your trade through newspaper columns. They have business supported by no foreign home. When you get ready to lay in fall and winter supplies, be governed by the information you get from advertisements in local papers.

David Nettleton who has just returned from a tour of Oregon, Washington and Idaho, says he is convinced more than ever that Wayne county is the place for a man to locate and stick. No locality in the west impressed him in the west not heard of until one goes but to look around for himself. In Wayne county, agriculture can be depended upon and the character of citizenship here—which is vitally important—is uniformly high.

It is distressing to note the ruthless barbarity with which an occasional exuberance treats correct usage of spelling and grammar. An editor is supposed to know how to spell most words correctly, and to be able to frame sentences that don't limp along as though they had the strangling. Therefore, it looks as though the editor who makes an assault on good English every time he writes a sentence ought to take a post-graduate course in a kindergarten or change his occupation.

Soon after the first of December congress will meet again, and then Wayne should begin making a noise that will be so clearly understood by the Nebraska delegation that something real will happen toward a federal building here. The city should present an array of facts that will forcibly show an aggravating need that has long been neglected. If there is a point in the United States that has been unjustly overlooked—that the distribution of government buildings, it is Wayne. And this injustice should not be allowed to continue.

The non-partisan judiciary plan, loudly advocated by the democratic party, should apply in the case of Judge Welch, republican if it justly applies in the case of Judge Graves, democrat, of the Eighth district. Several candidates for judges, named by the democratic party, are running without opposition—virtually conceded election by all parties. Is truth, Judge Graves was nominated by the republicans as well as democrats. Should not the same policy—put forward by the democrats—hold good in relation to Judge Welch? His record is unimpeachable. There, to be consistent, should not the democratic help the republicans elect him?

Secretary of Agriculture Wilson and Congressman Geo. W. Norris have furnished the oratorical attractions at the state fair at Lincoln. They were gentlemen and republicans, though Wilson supported the ground of the national administration, while Norris criticized and opposed it. But people who have gathered to see the exhibits at a state fair, the races, the airplane flights and other things, are not attuned to the intricate problems of government, and therefore neither speaker received the attention that he would have on some other occasion when there was less competition in the way of noise and excitement.

SUMMER ON A HOUSEBOAT JOY IN SEEING BOY EAT JAM

Vessels in a Colony Out in Oregon Have the Conveniences of a City Flat.

Houseboating on the Willamette river is the proper way for the people of Portland, Ore., to spend their summers, according to a writer in Suburban Life. He says that there is an entire colony of houseboats just above the city. Probably there is no similar houseboat village anywhere. They possess almost all the conveniences of a city flat. The houses are lighted with electricity, city water is piped to the door, and in some cases the houses are supplied with it," he says. "Telephones are installed in most of the houses, and an electric street car runs within easy reach—but just far enough away to give the colony the desired seclusion. "To make it still more enticing it is proposed to install gas from the city system during the present year. The finest boat in the colony cost $1,500, and is 35 by 60 feet. The average houseboat, however, is worth about one-half this sum."

Peculiar Attraction That Lures Customer to Particular Restaurant Day After Day.

"A boy who eats jam all over his face from eating is the cause of my taking lunch at the same place every day," said a big man who carries a sunburn in his countenance. "I have never forgotten when I was a boy, and I never see a real boy—I don't mean one of the faking players—that I don't feel like taking him in my arms and kissing him every day from school every day about the time I get to the cafe for my lunch. His mother is sweet of the place. A lot of his cashiers are on the counter behind which she sits to take in the cash. When her boy comes in he goes behind the counter and climbs to a high stool. His mother has a lot of sandwiches with jam for them ready for him. He loses no time in getting away with the goods. In his eagerness and haste some of the jam attacks to his lips and about his mouth. He is the pleasure of a contented boy when he gets through. "Then his mother applies a damp napkin and removes the overflow jam from his face. After this she kisses the youngster and he is off to school. Maybe I am an old fogey and a bit sentimental, but that boy jam eater and his mother's attention to him have made a regular customer for the little cafe. Just how it happens that the boys get the same amount of jam on his face every day and in the same place I haven't figured out, and I don't care if I never do. We don't see enough of this sort of thing in this busy life of the great city."

COULD NOT SEE THE FUTURE
 Probably Good Public Official, But Henry W. Ellsworth Surely Was a Mighty Poor Prophet.
 In one week recently the United States patent office issued 778 patents. The total number issued up to date was 994,104—in sight of the million mark.
 In view of these figures the following excerpt from the report of the commissioner of patents for the year 1842, Jan. of 1843, is interesting. It reads: "I have even a commissioner of patents, can miss his guess: The whole number of patents issued by the United States up to January, 1844, was 13,523. The patents granted for the past year (1843) were 631 in number, exceeding those of the previous year by 24.
 The advancement of the arts, from year to year, taxes our credulity and seems to presage the early arrival of that period when human improvement must end."
 HENRY W. ELLSWORTH,
 Commissioner of Patents.
 In 1844 there were no telegraphs, telephones, automobiles, electric lights, or motors, phonographs or airships. Antiseptic surgery was still in the dim future, and doctors were awaiting typhoid fever patients in blankets and immersing them in unventilated rooms, while people still walked ten miles to see a railroad train!

MONEY MAKING AS AN ART

No Question That America Has the Best Bank Notes That Are Produced.
 To say that Americans make the best bank notes in the world may sound at first rather boastful, and yet any history of the art and industry of note-engraving which failed to record that fact would be incomplete. Paul Revere was the first American bank note artist, and from the time of the chartering of the Bank of North America under the direction of Robert Morris, in 1781, up to the present, American engravers have excelled not only in the artistic quality of their designs, but in their provisions against counterfeiting.

The American style of bank note has become the standard in the countries of Central and South America. The experiences of the Brazilian government led the way in this, after various disappointments. First, the much-vaunted Austrian system was tried, the notes being engraved and printed in England under that system. They proved a complete failure. Counterfeiters flourished. The Brazilians tried bank notes made in France, and these were promptly and extensively imitated as the plates and counterfeits would go—the Austrians and paper ready-made tried. German and English establishments, but still without securing protection to the bank note circulation, and at last turned to the United States and found a type of bills practically impossible to counterfeit. So it is no boast but a mere record of fact to state that Americans make the best bank notes in the world.—Harper's Weekly.

Ancestral Pride of the Future.
 "One of my forefathers was a signer of the Declaration of Independence." "That is something," replied Mrs. Votely Guim. "But think of the proud satisfaction with which my great-great-granddaughters will point to the fact that one of their foremothers was a militant suffragette."
 His Right to Title.
 A French paper says that a New Zealand chief had just taken up his residence upon a piece of land, his right to which was contested. "I have got an ancestral title to the property," he observed, "as I ate the preceding owner."

Rundell's the best place to trade.

"After all, Rundell's is the best place to trade. I've made the rounds, but unless I could not get entire satisfaction in groceries until I got back there. Their goods suit me the best and I suppose it's because their years of experience has taught them how to judge the best goods. Those good White House canned goods, and the Beechnut line of delicacies, beat them all, and with the use of Splendid flour, I never had a failure. It's a pleasure to use it."

This statement is from a lady who had "made the rounds" and tried them all. This is but one of many satisfied patrons. Our years of experience have been the means of enabling us to judge quality, and when we tell you a line of goods has merit, you may depend upon it. That's why we have selected the entire line of Folger's Products. Their teas and coffees especially appealed to us as the best we have ever seen, and in order to convince you that they excel all other lines, we will give a demonstration September 28, 29, 30.

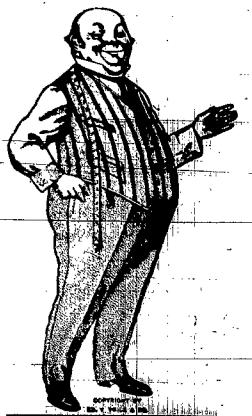

In connection with this Big Coffee Demonstration we will have a Cake Baking Contest for which liberal prizes, both cash and staple goods, will be given.

Saturday evening, September 30, the cakes that have been entered in the contest will be auctioned off to the highest cash bidder and the entire proceeds of the sale will be given to the library board.

Every lady, also girl under 15 years, is invited to compete. List of prizes and requirements will be announced next week.

While the spirit is strong there is a possibility that the flesh may be too weak to carry every man through nine innings of this strenuous game, so 18 men have been chosen from each side in order to guarantee our audience a full game.

SUGGESTED CHANGES IN FARM METHODS.

Wallace's Farmer: Farmers change their methods very slowly and mostly under compulsion; not the compulsion of their fellow men, which they always naturally resent, but by compulsion by great natural forces. To these they yield as to a superior power. They are having this sort of compulsion put upon them in various ways.

It is becoming increasingly difficult each year to secure a stand of clover when sown with a nurse crop. This is due partly to the waning fertility of the soil and partly to a lack of proper physical condition, the result of this waning fertility. It may be that except on the best managed farms we shall be obliged to give up sowing clover with nurse crops and give it the full use of the land.

We are greatly interested in the experiments that will be carried on this year in sowing clover in mid-summer or in the month of August. If this should or trial prove practical, then we think it would be desirable to give up the use of a nurse crop altogether, but grow the largest amount of grain possible both winter and spring grain, and as soon as the grain is removed seed the land to timothy and clover.

Again, it seems to us likely that we shall be obliged to give up sowing spring wheat even in the northern part of our territory. Spring wheat is after all a makeshift. The standard varieties of grains are the winter varieties. The spring wheats have been developed for the purpose of growing a crop during the short season and on very rich land.

We shall probably not be able to give up the growing of oats altogether, but we think it highly probable that it will have to be given up in the portions of the country that are not naturally well adapted to it. We believe that in the future winter wheat may very largely take the place of oats.

way of doing it, we have no doubt we shall hit on it by and by; and as the whole thing will be for the benefit of the farmer, we are quite certain that the amount of stock on the farm can be doubled by the methods we have suggested. We hope our farmers who are able to experiment in this line will try it and thus point the way for those less able. We believe it is only a question of time when those of our readers who are raising grain exclusively will have to quit and gradually learn how to grow live stock. We are quite well aware that it is possible to maintain soil fertility without live stock, but on the whole it is easier for the land owner to find tenants who can handle stock properly than it is to get tenants who will grow legumes and plow them under, which they must do if they are to maintain soil fertility without live stock.

Too many letters of recommendation are likely to arouse suspicion as to why the man who carries them lost so many jobs.

UNDER PROTECTION OF KING

Fortunate British-Youngster is to be Maintained and Educated at Monarch's Expense.

A smart little lad, who had come all alone from Newcastle, in the north of England, walked down the gangway of a steamer and proudly set foot the other day for the first time in London. He was Francis Campbell, eight years old, chosen by the king from hundreds of other English boys to be the "king's scholar" at the Royal Merchant Seaman's Orphanage at Sharnbrook. He was met by an official and escorted to the Essex home where, to use the formal phrase, "the king has provided for his maintenance and education."

PRISONER DIES FROM EFFECTS OF OPERATION

Hastings, Neb., Sept. 4.—Bartlett Richards, wealthy rancher, sent to the Adams county jail to serve a one-year sentence for fencing pigskin, died in a sanitarium here at 8:45 this morning following a surgical operation, the second he had submitted to since being imprisoned. The first was at Rochester, Minn., for which he was temporarily released. He returned here about five weeks ago. The second operation was performed here Saturday night. Mr. Richards' operation at Rochester was for gall stones and, although he gained strength rapidly, he never fully recovered. Last Friday he became acutely ill from illness, or obstruction of the bowels by adhesions with inflammation. Dr. Davis and DeForest Richards, nephew of Bartlett Richards, were summoned from Omaha and, following a consultation with Drs. Beghtol and Hopkins of Hastings, the sick man was removed from the jail to the sanitarium, where Dr. Davis performed the operation. Yesterday Dr. Davis was again summoned from Omaha, but the patient continued to sink during the day. Saturday the pain was so intense he was kept constantly under the influence of opiates.

A brother of Mr. Richards arrived from Denver yesterday. Mrs. Bartlett Richards was summoned Saturday from San Diego, Cal., and is now on her way to Hastings. The body of her husband will be taken to San Diego for burial, and if possible, Mrs. Richards will be intercepted by telegram in California.

Mr. Richards was president of the Nebraska Land and Feeding company and was one of the wealthiest ranchmen in the country. He began his sentence on December 3 last and deducting good time would have been released October 6 next. His home was at Coronado Beach, near San Diego.

THIEF BUENS BARN.

Page, Neb., Sept. 5.—A large barn on the George Brecher farm three miles northwest of Page burned down at mid night Sunday night. Seven head of horses, 600 bushels of grain, harness and about a dozen hogs. Some of the neighbors who were visiting and were returning home noticed the fire and got to the farm before the barn was entirely consumed. John Casey and family who were tenants on the farm, were fast asleep and did not know there was a fire until the neighbors woke them. A few bushels of small grain was all that was saved out of the barn. After the fire had died down it was noticed that one of the best horses was missing, also the saddle which hung in the out bin. The missing horse was tracked through a gap in the trees west of the farm yard and diagonally across a stubble field to the section line road where the fence was down. The thief must have been acquainted with the premises and the fence. The tracks led up to the road west of the barn. Sheriff Brady arrived on the scene about eight o'clock and after an investigation decided that the barn was burned by the thief in order to cover his crime.

Search is being diligently made for the thief. The property destroyed is partially covered by insurance but the loss will be heavy. Mr. Casey who rents the farm, is considered one of the best farmers and one of the best citizens hereabouts, and has no enemies. The missing horse is about eight years old, weighs 1400 pounds, color bay with small white spot on left hind foot; coat scars on shoulders; black mane and tail; holds head high and good stepper.

"DOPE."

(Emporia Gazette.) Chicago Tribune: One man says to another: "I think so and so gave me the right dope." He means that he has been given accurate information. The person to whom he is talking so understands him if he has kept up with the progressive English language.

Not so many years ago "dope" was an obscure word, seldom heard. It had only a few meanings. It could be used of any thick, semi-liquid, pasty thing for eating—a thick sauce or gruel. A mixture of pitch, tallow, etc., put on the soles of shoes to keep the wearers from slipping on moist snow was also known as "dope." So, too, was an absorbent material such as cotton waste suitable for holding thick liquids. There the dictionary stops. They have refused to record or have been unaware of the rich development of the word in recent years.

The first step was in calling opium when prepared for smoking "dope." That was not an illegitimate use, for the smoker's opium is a purely medicinal substance. Then, where it had been customary to call a man an "habitual user of opium," it seemed shorter to call him a "dope fiend." Next came the verb "to dope," to put drugs in a person's drink to stupefy him and make robbery easy. Then followed easily enough the metaphorical use. "What kind of dope are you giving us?" was expressive of the belief that an attempt was being made to deceive—that false information had been imparted. And lastly we have "dope" meaning information which may be correct—the "right kind of dope," or incorrect, but which is more likely to be the latter. There are purists who do not like to see new words and phrases on the flourishing trees of the English language, but they cannot prevent their appearance. It must be admitted, however, that the new meanings of old words not yet caught up with by the dictionaries do bewilder and grieve the cultured Englishman who thinks he is master of English.

SUPPORTS THE PRESIDENT

Lincoln, Sept. 5.—Secretary of Agriculture Wilson who is here to speak at the state fair today, attended a meeting of the republican state committee last evening and spoke briefly in defense of President Taft and his administration. He declared that the republican party will be returned to power. "The only question is who shall be the next president to carry on the policies of the party," said Mr. Wilson. "I have no hesitation in saying that it will be President Taft. He is a great man—and has grown greater as president. His state papers are models. He goes into every detail of things on which he writes. He is not a politician but understands the great principles of government and applies them."

"I have not the slightest doubt in the world as to his re-nomination. It is up to the people of the west and middle states to elect him. And I think they will do it. I have been in Washington for some time and I know how well he is considered here. And I have been in Iowa for a week. I find that younger more vigorous men have taken hold of politics there. They talk right from the shoulder. They are doing things right now for the president and they will keep at it. I have great faith that this magnificent young state will not be found wanting when the roll is called."

Proof of Age.

"Mrs. Billerock is getting old—I know it." "What now?" "She says that the stores don't have as good bargains now as formerly."

NO THEN THE WORM TURNED

Remark Really More Than Suffering Street Car Passenger Could Stand Without Complaining.

At either end of a seat in a Broadway-open car was an individual, the one at the far end smoking a very bad cigarette. Midway between these two sat something very fat. Not only was it very fat, but its fat was fat with feathers. Its fingers were fat with many jeweled rings, its neck was superlarded with chains, long nettes, vanity (C) boxes and falls of lace. It was in fact so fat and so accurately placed in the exact center of the seat that between it and the two individuals at its ends there was not room for the thinnest of passengers to right or left.

The car stopped to take on a small person in a bee-hive hat, just from rehearsal. She inventoried the car with the sweeping glance of the experienced New York and picked the seat containing the offending and obese passenger as the offering the best chances for room, seeing that it held but three, counting the one in the middle as only one passenger. The newcomer inhaled her small frame between Mrs. Fatness and the man with the bad cigarette. She wriggled, pried and shoved, but got no further than halfway back in the seat. Then she took the cigarette gentleman with a scathing glance. "Kindly move over," said she to him with considerable acidity. The gentleman had paid no attention to her shovings and wriggings, since he was too tightly jammed against the rail-to-have-them-matter-one-way or the other. But this was too much. He slowly turned—and lo! at his feet was his feet, resting on one side to hold the cigarette in safety. Then he growled: "Kindly direct your remark to the dime museum thing on your right."—New York Press.

Another and the third national victory for FLANDERS "20" within a month. This time a clean sweep in America's hill climbing classic. The THREE speed FLANDERS "20" won event in her class Saturday at Worcester, Mass. climbing Dead Horse Hill in 1 minute 18.85 seconds, breaking all previous records for her class by 46 seconds, and defeating second car in her class by 37 seconds. She also beat records made by the following high powered and higher priced cars in other classes. Velie Buick, Cole, Hudson, Firestone, Oakland, Cameron, Krit and Empire.

FLANDERS "20" was the lowest priced car in the contest. Dead Horse Hill is one mile long with a rise of over 400 feet to the mile. Newspaper accounts say course was slow because of bad surface and one very bad spot near finish line.

FLANDERS time better than time made in 1909 by any car less than three times her price. And faster than time made last year by any car but one of three times her size and price. She averaged a little over 46 miles an hour up to the eight per cent grade. Strictly stock chassis. Event run under A.A.A. rules and supervision. FLANDERS "20" was sensation of the sixty and seventy horse power cars barely beating her phenomenal performance.

Sending you photograph of WITT in victorious FLANDERS on the hill.

She has now only to win the three hundred mile Savanna Road Race to prove her invincibility in speed as she proved her reliability in the Little Glidden; her staying powers in Minneapolis, to Helena, Montana reliability run, and her hill climbing qualities on Dead Horse Hill. Watch the little wonder at Savanna.

BORACIC ACID IN COMMERCE

Scientists Finally Have Devised a Way to Produce Commodity Comparatively Cheaply.

Formerly all the boracic, or boric, acid of commerce was obtained from borax by heating it with calcined ferrous sulphate in closed vessels, whereby sulfotoric acid was formed, and boric acid was carried on with the watery vapors, which escaped.

This was a long and tedious process, and not much progress was made until it was discovered that boracic acid could be obtained from the boiling springs and jets of vapor in Tuscan. Long after the discovery of boric acid in these springs, the brilliant idea struck the physicist as well as the chemist to employ the heat of the "natural steam" jets. This method had the effect of converting an unprofitable branch of industry into one of the most successful. The lagoons are situated near the top of one of the highest hills. As the volcanic vapors pass through the waters of the lagoons the boracic acid is arrested by the water, which becomes impregnated with it. In California it occurs as the mineral sassaparilla, and as a saline incrustation on the crater of a mountain in the Lipari group, north of Sicily.

A Cure for Leprosy.

An inmate of the leper asylum at Cocorite, Trinidad, has been declared cured and has been discharged from that institution. The patient was a West Indian, coolie about thirty-five years of age and of good physique about two years ago. He was suffering from the anaesthetic form of leprosy, and about eight months ago began the so-called Naasin treatment. At the time of entering the institution all external and other symptoms were so evident that attending physicians, who have been familiar with such cases for years, entertained no possible doubt of its being a pronounced case of leprosy. He was given an injection once a week for about forty weeks, when he was discharged as cured.

KNEW THE SENATORIAL LIFE

Woman Had Her Own Idea as to Why Statesmen Opposed Early Hours.

United States senators may talk solemnly to the effect that there are good business reasons for meeting at two o'clock every day instead of noon, but they cannot fool a certain Washington woman, who has her own ideas on the subject. This woman occupies a prominent place in society at the capital, in which senators are so common that they do not cut any more figure than debutantes. She was visiting the senate wing of the capitol, in company with some friends. It was about one o'clock in the afternoon and, as she happened to glance into the chamber, she noticed that it was vacant. "Has the senate adjourned already?" she asked, in surprise.

"Oh, no," a man in the party said. "You know it meets at two o'clock now, in order to give the senators more time for committee work." "Ah, yes," she said. "I remember now; and it really is a very good idea. I have no doubt that it expedites public business wonderfully. It gives the senators plenty of time to shave, take a bath, dress, read the paper and eat breakfast—after having been up all night."

Quackery Paid Better.

A quack at a fair near Paris was driving a roaring trade selling nostrums, drawing teeth and beguiling the crowd in the usual way. The letter of the French law against unqualified practice is very strong, though, owing to the indifference of the magistrates, it is not strictly carried out. This, however, was a particularly flagrant case, and the police felt compelled to intervene. The quack was therefore accosted by the guardians of the law, taken to a tent at the back of his stand and requested to show his diploma. To the satisfaction of the gentlemen he exhibited a perfectly authentic degree of doctor of medicine of the University of Paris. They were profuse in their apologies, which the doctor cut short with an urgent entreaty that they should say nothing about what they had seen. "For," he said, "if the people know that I am a qualified doctor I shall have no more customers."—British Medical Journal.

Doubtless dames deserve the lallot and the other things they wish. I won't stand around and argue—I had rather go and fish. I have met the suf-
SUFFRAGISTS frage-women, listened to their tale of hope, but not one of all the legion could persuade me to elope; I can listen quite politely while such dames quote their dross, but I'd never buy them peanits or invite them to see cream. I can seem quite sympathetic while the suffragist orates, but I'd never want to take her for a whirl on roller-skates. It is strange that lovely dummies who don't cure a whoop for votes always had as many lovers as a husbandman has shovels. Men admire them and adore them; lovers fret away—their lives till they have secured a promise from those girls to be their wives. Why are men so blind and foolish, inquiring these trifling girls, who have thought to recommend them but their starry eyes and curls? Why not hang the orange blossoms on the noble-suffrage-dames, with their tragic eyes and voices, and their missions and their aims? Why not wed some worthy relic with her sex's good in view, rather than some blushing maiden who has charming eyes of Lilud?

Doer Wiley's called on to decide the pregnant question: "What is beer?" He'll split the subject open wide and hand a verdict down this
WHAT IS BEER? He might re-entail some dreary lum who has a dark and moroseful tale of how from affluence he's come to occupy a well in jail. Beer is a good and harmless drink if you but let the stuff alone; while bathed up, like purple ink, it never causes a sign of groan. But if you pour it down your throat, one hot clamour for its name, it starts right in to get your goat, and it will get it, soon or late. This drink in which such virtue lies, will fill your head with aches and pains, and give you puffed and crimsoned eyes, and scatter cobwebs through your brain. On energy it puts the cramp; in useful work you hate to launch; it puts new outlines on your shape until it leaves you mostly wretched. It spoils your appetite for food—beer, beer-alone is all you beg—the good old brew from glass or wood—until you are a human keg. And when your love for beer you lose, because it fails to hit the spot, you fondly turn to stronger booze, and drink until your insides rot.

I sat one day in my figtree's shade and watched a man as he plied his spade. The man was old and his steps were weak, and deep were the furrows upon his cheek.
WORTH I grieved for him as he bravely wrought, for his task was hard and the day was hot; and the paltry wage that the diggers get won't buy them hunkies to dry their sweat.
"Old man," I said, with a friendly smile, "do you really think that your life's worth while?" With red bandanna he mopped his head, and leaned his weight on his spade and said: "I am the happiest man in town. Last night I married the Widow Brown!" Then the bridegroom turned to his awaiting wife, and his heart was glad and his life was rich.
"It often happens, my thinks, that those who draw our sympathy for their woes, get more from life than we pampered guys who feed on lobster and schrimps and pies.

Roggie, you're a fine young fellow, but you're bound to have your way, and you'll marry Arabella spite of all that I can say. Though
THE BASH advice from me is futile, since you're firm as any rock, though the things I say seem brutal, yet I've simply got to talk. Arabella is a daisy, smoothest girl I ever saw, but the neighbors say she's lazy, and she will not help her ma. She is stylish, she is classy, and her eyes are simply grand; but the people say she's sassy to her mother, understand? I have lived and loved and suffered, and I've found it is the law that no sane, well-balanced duffer'd wed a girl who'll sass her ma. She may have a thousand graces to adorn her fair young life, but you'll find she'll snub the traces when you get her for a wife. You had better hunt some other dame in this country wide, for a girl who'll sass her mother will gold brick you as a bride.

I often drop my helpful book to watch fair Arabella cook. No weary kitchen drudge is she; she cooks with gladsome ecstasy. I've seen her take some flour and grease, and then produce a masterpiece. With soul inspired and glowing eyes she makes the pudding and the pie; when from the oven she will take some lovely and triumphant cake she feels the rapture that is known by geniuses, and they alone. And when she gathers round the board and views with ecstatic temptings hours of things that make our stomachs glow, we hand the cook a large bouquet of praise. I learned to cook, she said, large pictures of a brook; and peo- green cattle stand therein, 'neath bug-house-trees with leaves of fan; and crimson crows are soaring by beneath a stretch of bridled sky; the sun that shines on bird and beast is sinking slowly in the east. We turn away, with sinking heart, from fair Jemima's staid art, give her the job that she deserves, and watch sweet Arabella's curves.

He's writing books about the lives of all his plain and fancy wives. A few of them he may forget, but all the rest are in a sweat, for Nat's his heart devoid of ruth.

NAT GOODWIN declares he'll tell the ghastly truth. Since girls are bound to marry Nat, they'll have to stand for things like that. To wed that sassy Goodwin had got to be a sort of dud, which shows a low, degraded taste, for other games are far more chaste. The women of this modern day consider life a giddy play, to find amusement as they go is all the yearning that they know. When I was party the sober dames bent o'er their trusty quilting frames and made straw bonnets day by day, to send to heathen in Ca-thay; they brewed yarb tea and put up jam, and cured the large and luscious ham. Also, unlike the old time dames, the modern girls have trifling aims; to drink champagne at gilded bars, to drive around in motor cars, to send to Paris for a hat, to smoke cheroots and marry Nat—this is the circle of their lives, such is the limelight brand of wives.

From the Experience of Wayne People

We are fortunate indeed to be able to profit by the experience of our neighbors. The public utterances of Wayne residents on the following subject will interest and benefit thousands of our readers. Read this statement. No better proof can be had.

Mrs. Joseph Schmalsteig, of Wayne, Neb., says:
"It gives me pleasure to confirm the public statement I made in 1907, endorsing Doan's Kidney Pills. I was troubled by a heavy, dull ache through my kidneys and back. I also had dizzy spells and headaches. The kidney secretions were excessive and plainly showed that my kidneys needed attention. Doan's Kidney Pills drove away the pains in my back and toned up my system. Since then whenever I have felt in need of a kidney medicine, I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills and they have relieved me."

GOVERNOR VISITS
DAKOTA COUNTY LAKE

The following account of Governor Aldrich's inspection of Crystal Lake, published in Friday's Sioux City Journal, was of interest to Wayne people who have visited Dakota county's summer resort.

Hon. Chester H. Aldrich, governor of Nebraska, yesterday afternoon, following the receipt given to him at the Dakota county settlers' picnic, was taken on a boat by officers of the Crystal Lake Improvement association and shown what the association is attempting to do in the way of raising the water in the lake.

The governor was in charge of a committee composed of N. S. Bruner, president of the association; Judge Evans and Honors of Dakota City, and Fred Wood, a Dakota county pioneer. Geo. D. Perkins was a guest of the committee and accompanied the governor and his party on the trip around the lake.

Eleven automobiles filled with Crystal Lake boosters, followed the governor's car. Among those from Sioux City who made the trip were the following: Judge James L. Kennedy, general counsel for the Sioux City Service company; E. L. Kirk, general manager for this company; F. L. Eaton, secretary for the Commission Bridge company; George F. Parker, president of the Live Stock National bank and president of the Sioux City Commercial club.

Seven of the cars were filled with Dakota county men.
Upon leaving the picnic grounds the procession of cars headed for the lake. The first stop was at the Dakota City landing. At this point the governor was given a view of both arms of the lake. The route from this point led to Crystal Lake, which at Dakota City is a narrow strip along the beach for one mile and then around the upper end of the lake. From this point the party drove to the Saxe & Limes' landing, from which a part of the committee made the trip around the Bruner head to Forest beach where automobiles were in waiting.

The governor's party made the trip from this point around the lower end of the lake to Foley's park, where the final halt before the run to Sioux City was made.

Governor Aldrich alighted from the car here and studied the shore line and asked many questions just as he had at previous stops. Mr. Bruner, president of the improvement association, had just informed the governor that the Sioux City Service company had given assurances that its South Sioux City line, which ends near the South Sioux City depot of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railway, would be extended next spring to the entrance to the lake front park.

Governor Aldrich then expressed his opinion regarding the lake and what should be done to improve it.
The governor said: "Get up your surveys; complete your plans and profiles, and then come down and see me."
Five thousand cottagers should be housed upon the banks of Crystal Lake at this very time, in the opinion of the governor. He said about 300 citizens of Lincoln spend every summer at the Minnesota lakes, while they might just as well be at Crystal Lake. He thought the Improvement association should make an effort to raise the level of the lake about four feet.

Following the inspection of the lake, Governor Aldrich was brought over to Sioux City by members of the committee and, after a dinner at the West hotel, escorted to his train, which left over the Chicago & Northwestern railway at 7:30 o'clock.

Out in Swarthmore, where everybody is unusually bright and clever, a little girl was asked by a visitor who is spending the summer at Strath Haven Inn if she knew anything about fairies, relating to the Philadelphia Times.

Composition of Precious Stones.
The iridescence of the opal is due to the amount of water in its composition and contraction fissures in the stone; but similar characteristics are found in other stones where films cause diffraction. The opalescence of the moonstone is caused by the enormous number of planes of separation in the stone, light being totally reflected from these planes.

National Training School For Corsetiers.

Held at Meadville, first two weeks in August, was attended by Mrs. M. A. Spears who returned this week. Over eleven hundred banqueted in one hall. An army of women received valuable instruction along the lines of salesmanship and corsetry.

Mrs. M. A. Spears returned home this week from attending the National Training School of Spirella Corsetiers, held at Meadville, Pa., August 1 to 11, inclusive. Over four hundred corsetiers were in attendance at the sessions which were held daily, morning and afternoon. The Spirella company manufactures high grade corsets which are sold only through its corsetiers who are trained and educated by the company through a correspondence course. These national training schools held annually and other schools held in selected cities throughout the United States and Canada during the year. The National training schools are held in Meadville and are always very largely attended.

The sessions were presided over by the executive officers of the company and an able corps of instructors in designing, advertising, salesmanship and the many features pertaining to an expert corsetiere's business.

The Spirella company has a strong organization and spends vast sums of money in educating its army of over 5,000 corsetieres to make them professional in the art of corsetry.

It also looks after the comfort and welfare of its employes with zealous care and is one of the few large manufacturing concerns interested in Welfare Work. Its employes have the advantages of free instruction in music, both vocal and instrumental, millinery, fancy work, china painting, penmanship, etc., and many outdoor sports.

During the convention the visiting corsetieres were given a complimentary outing at Conneaut lake, near Meadville, by the Spirella Welfare association. A picnic dinner was served at which 1150 plates were laid. The choral class of the association gave the visitors a fine musical entertainment in the Meadville opera house, and the business men of the city tendered the executive officers of the Spirella company and all its visiting corsetieres a banquet and entertainment at Ponce De Leon Springs, another summer resort near Meadville. At the close of the convention many of the corsetieres went home via Niagara Falls, some to visit for the first time this grand natural wonder and take the trip around the famous gorge.

Mrs. Spears is very enthusiastic over her trip to the National Training School and states that the entire course of instruction was far beyond her expectation. Four hundred corsetieres were in attendance, some from Canada, and the whole course of two weeks was characterized by close attention, a hunger for knowledge and an enthusiasm surpassing all previous schools. She feels that her patrons will appreciate this extra training which she has availed herself of. It is the aim of the Spirella company to develop every corsetiere to the highest degree in the art of fitting made-to-measure corsets.
