FLÉGE CASE IN SUPREME COURT

ASKS FOR NEW TRIAL

FRED S. BERRY OF WAYNE AND J. J. MCCARTHY OF PONCA APPEAR FOR DEFENDANT.

ARGUMENTS MADE YESTERDAY

Case Taken Under Adversment With Prospect of Decision Soon—Omaha Bee's Review of the Case.

The appeal of William Flége, charged with the murder of his sister, Louise, was argued in the supreme court yesterday. Attorney Fred S. Berry of Wayne, who prepared the abstract and brief for the appeal, was one of the attorneys presenting oral arguments to the court. The case was taken under adversment, and it is expected a decision will soon be handed down.

This morning's Omaha Bee contains the following Lincoln special regarding the case and its hearing yesterday:

"Whether or not the evidence brought out at the district court trial of Wilhelm Flége of Dixon county for the murder of his sister Louise, June 30, 1910, justified his conviction and the life imprisonment sentence which he received was the question argued before the state supreme court today. The state was represented by Assistant Attorney General Edgerton, and County Attorney Kingsbury of Dixon county, while the side of the defense was taken by ex-Congressman J. J. McCarthy of Ponca and F. S. Berry of Wayne.

"The Flége case is one of the most important and hardest fought murder cases in Nebraska criminal annals. The circumstances surrounding the killing of the Flége girl, the unusual confession made by the man who lays claim to being the only eye witness of the tragedy, following the early statements that he knew nothing about the matter, the desperate fight to save him from prison, all combining to make it a most spectacular court fight.

"The state's case is based largely on the testimony of this Eichtenkamp, who swore that before Flége left the farm on the day of June 30, 1910, the two quarreled and that he saw the tyro come out of the house, the girl with her back to him. Afterward, when he was told by Flége to get out of the way and run to the barn, he heard two shots and he saw Louise on her knees, with Wilhelm standing over her, a revolver in his hands."

CHILD DRINKS LYE.

The 3-year-old son of John Reeg, living southwest of Wayne, accidentally got hold of a can of lye yesterday and drank some of the contents before being discovered. The child's throat was badly burned, but Dr. Leisnering, who was promptly summoned, thinks there will be no serious results.

PHILATHEA HUNT TONIGHT.

All the churches of the city have joined in the unique social function under the auspices of the Philathea society of the Baptist church tonight. It is expected that over 300 will participate in the hunt preliminary to the festival. A grand time is assured.

Methodist Church.

(Rev. William Gerst, Pastor.)
Next Sunday there will not be any preaching services either morning or evening, but the Sunday school will meet at 11:45 a. m., the usual hour, and Epworth League at 6:45 in the evening.

There will be a great Epworth League social on Friday evening. Young people of the college, particularly those who may be interested in the Methodist church, are invited to attend.

The closing of the year's work at Wayne shows that thirty-seven people have been received into the church by certificate, seventy-three on profession of faith and from other denominations which, added to 288, raised the membership to 400. From this number must be deducted fifteen, dismissed by certificate, two withdrawn, six died and twenty-one during the year removed without certificate during the year and former years, leaving a net membership of 356. Thirty-nine have been baptized, eleven of whom were infants. Of those received into membership on profession of faith, nineteen were married people, fifteen between the ages of 16 and 21 years and thirty-six ranging from 8 to 16 with an average age of about 13 years.

MASS CONVENTION.

The democrats of Wayne county will hold a mass convention at Wayne next Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock to select delegates to the congressional convention to be held at Norfolk on Tuesday for the purpose of nominating a candidate for congress.

BEST ON THE MARKET.

Kate's Clothing Store has established a reputation for handling the best on the market in the way of suits, overcoats, hats, caps and other things that men and boys have to wear for comfort and good looks. People who want highest grades at moderate prices should inspect the big stock at Kate's. See Kate's advertisements in this paper for particulars as to kinds of clothing carried in stock.

CONTRACT FOR HALL SITE.

The Herald is informed that a contract has been made by the municipal authorities for the Fisher lots on which to erect the proposed new city hall. The site will be cleared, filled in and converted into an attractive park.

MRS. LITTELL.

Mrs. Elsie Littell republican nominee for county superintendent, is asking for a second term. She has shown excellent fitness for the office, as attested by the advanced condition of the schools of the county, and the cordial unanimity with which teachers of the county have commended her services and urged her reelection. There can be no higher nor more reliable testimonial of her work than that which comes from the teachers. They are on the inside. They are in touch with her work. They know exactly what she has done and is doing. If at their institute they had given her record mere perfunctory endorsement, less importance might be attached to it. But they not only directed attention to her services with emphatic praise, but boldly appealed to voters to continue her in the office which she has filled with unflinching zeal and most creditable efficiency. The fact that she is a woman, and a woman of exemplary manners and influences, should strengthen the favor in which she is held. It is not all offices that a woman can manage successfully. But certainly the superintendency is one she can fill with eminent satisfaction. She is naturally adapted to school supervision. Her sympathies are alert and responsive. With one of Mrs. Littell's training and experience, she is keen and alive to the needs of the school room. The teachers, most of whom are ladies, do not hesitate to have heart to heart talks with her, and receive earnest counsel and assistance, all to the betterment of the schools of the county. No one has found fault with Mrs. Littell's school management. All will concede that she has made a superintendent of highest ambitions and most worthy accomplishments. She has always been "on the job," and results have reflected her conscientious, faithful work. She needs and deserves the superintendency again, and the superintendency, quite as well, needs and deserves her services again. And voters are wise and just enough to reelect her with an immense majority to her credit.

STATE NORMAL RESUMES WORK

AN AUSPICIOUS START

MORE THAN DOUBLE ENROLLMENT HAD AT THE BEGINNING A YEAR AGO.

LAYING OF THE CORNER STONE

New Building to be Given Big Send-off Amidst Appropriate Ceremonies and Speeches.

The second year of the State Normal school at Wayne opened on Tuesday of this week. At the first chapel service nearly two hundred were in attendance. This is more than double the enrollment of one year ago, and, while it is too early in the week to give any definite figures for the attendance for the year, present indications are that the number will reach 450 before the close of the first semester. It is also very gratifying to note the number of students who are registered in the advanced classes. This year there will be at least a class of twenty who will complete the work leading to a life certificate. There is a goodly number registered for the work of the junior year and for the elementary state certificate course.

The registration cards show that practically the entire school is from this state, all of the counties of northeast Nebraska being represented in the enrollment. Naturally Wayne county leads with forty-five students in attendance. Then follow Cedar and Dixon each with nineteen, Knox with thirteen and Madison twelve. Cherry county near the northwest border of the state sends two students and there is one registered from Saunders on the south. All classes met on Tuesday, and the work in all departments has started off nicely.

Laying of the Corner Stone

As announced last week, the corner stone of the Library and Science building of the State Normal school will be laid on Friday afternoon, September 22, at 10 o'clock p. m. The exercises will be in charge of the Grand Lodge A. F. & A. M., and Grand Master Henry Gibbons will be present and conduct the ceremonies. Master Masons will leave Masonic hall at 12:45 and march to the grounds of the State Normal school. After the ceremony of corner stone laying by the Grand Lodge an address will be made by R. W. John F. Poucher, Grand Orator, and Hon. George W. Wiltz.

A large number of people from out of town will be present. President Conn has letters from Senator Volpp of Scribner and Representatives Felix H. Gallagher of Rosalie, H. C. Matrau of Madison and John Kuhl of Randolph, notifying him that they will be present on this occasion.

The work of the Normal will be suspended for the afternoon, and the pupils of the high school will be dismissed and attend in a body. Citizens of Wayne and vicinity and friends of the school are most cordially invited to attend.

RAIN SPOILS PICNIC FEAST SPREAD IN HALL

The Rebecca lodge had made plans for a picnic yesterday in a grove west of town, and the ladies had done some of their choicest cooking for the occasion. But along came a rain, and a day spent under the trees was made impossible. Instead, however, members of the order, not to be entirely frustrated, gathered at the hall early in the evening, and enjoyed a sumptuous supper, dispatching with relish the viands that had been prepared for the picnic. About fifty were present.

The best hose you can buy are the cheapest. For your boys and girls it will pay you to buy stockings with linen woven into the heels, toes and knees because that is where the wear comes and linen will stand the wear better than any other yarn. Wayne Knit hose are just such stockings. They cost no more than ordinary hose. Get them at Ahern's.

FOR COUNTY CLERK.

F. S. Benser, republican nominee for county clerk, came to Wayne county in 1886, and has been a resident of Hoskins since 1901, having previously lived at Winside. He has been a citizen of these two points for twenty-five years. At Winside he published the Watchman for a time, and then engaged in the grocery business with his father. At Hoskins he served as postmaster in connection with the mercantile business. He suffered the loss of one leg in an accident six years ago, and from that time the task of being on his feet in a store, waiting on customers and handling heavy goods became so great that finally last spring he sold out, determining to turn attention to service he could perform under less disadvantage. After his accident six years ago, the republican county convention, appreciating Mr. Benser's clerical ability and realizing his serious physical handicap, through the loss of a leg, in pursuing most lines of endeavor, nominated him for county clerk. But the present incumbent of that office who was seeking a second term, was re-elected, and Mr. Benser, understanding the natural course of voters in giving a second term, was not greatly disappointed. But as the present incumbent is now asking for a fifth term, having served four terms as county clerk following a term of four years as clerk of the district court,—twelve years in all thus far,—the friends of Mr. Benser feel justified in believing voters will at the coming election reverse the majority of six years ago, and give him the position. No man has been heard to question his thorough fitness for the office, and all, whether supporting him or not, will agree that no man in the county is more deserving of it.

INCREASING REWARD.
Tecumseh, Neb., Sep. 18:—A petition is to be circulated in Tecumseh to raise a purse of $1,000 to be added to the $1,000 now offered by the state of Nebraska and the county of Johnson, jointly, for the arrest and conviction of E. E. Hesse, charged with the murder of his wife and stepdaughter, Wauweta Laverne McMaster, in this city, either July 21 or 22, 1910. Petitions are also to be circulated asking the state of Nebraska to raise the amount it offers in the rewards from $400 to $1,000, and the county of Johnson to raise its reward from $500 to $1,000. If all the petitions are granted the total reward for Hesse will amount to $2,000.
It has now been five weeks since the bodies of the women were found in the old well and, with the exception of his first being located at Ogden, Utah, Hesse has not been heard from nor has there been any clue as to his whereabouts at any of the time. Sheriff E. L. Roberts has flooded the country with notices of the man and the offer of the reward, and almost every mail brings letters from officers somewhere that think they have located Hesse.
Sheriff Roberts is just home from a trip to Osborn, Mo., where the officers felt confident they had the right man, but they did not.
Tecumseh people are wondering how it was possible for Hesse to get away from the Ogden officers. He went by the name of Hesse in that city. Officers there were wired to hold him and the nature of the crime was communicated to them, but for all that he left Ogden on an afternoon train at least several hours after the bodies of his victims had been found.
The bodies of Mrs. Hesse and the girl have been taken from the potter's field and placed in a lot in the cemetery here. C. S. McMaster, former husband of Mrs. Hesse and father of the girl; paying the bills incurred.

Why we handle The FAVORITE

Being a Story of How we Were Convinced

First, we were attracted by the handsome appearance of the Favorite, but we did not decide to handle it for this reason alone, although we decided it was the most handsome base burner on the market.

We wanted a better reason than an attractive looking stove, so we looked it over thoroughly, comparing it point by point with other base burners, and this is what we found:

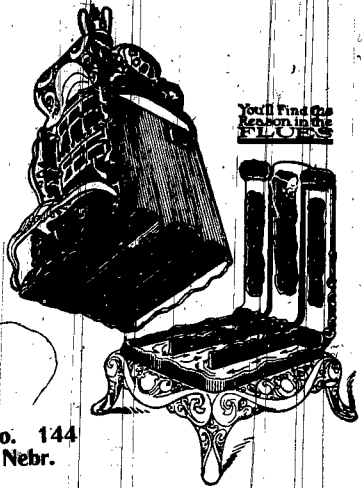

That the material from which it is made is all of the highest grades—the doors, mica frames and joints being absolutely air and paper tight.

We were told the Favorite produced the most satisfactory results with about half as much coal as other base burners. We discovered this to be true. We found the reason to be in its Triple Exposed Flues.

The sectional cut herewith explains these flues better than we can in words. The heat passes from the fire pot into the two outside down flues, across the bottom of the stove, under the ash pan, where it enters the central flue. It then passes back over the bottom and up the central flue to the chimney. Just think of this great radiating surface, and it is more than doubled, because the flues are SET OUT from the back of the stove. The flues therefore radiate from all sides, and the back of the stove radiates heat, also. This feature alone places the Favorite in a class by itself, making it the best and most economical heating stove in existence. But other features of its construction must not be overlooked. Would like to tell you all about them.

Do not put off buying your heating stove until the cold days come. Come and see us now, and our Favorite will be your Favorite too.

RAILROAD CLAIMS TO BE A NON-RESIDENT

JUST A MERE NEBRASKA VISITOR

Therefore, Asks to Have Wayne Depot Case Heard in Federal Court—Lives in Wisconsin.

From Saturday's Lincoln Journal: The Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha Railroad company yesterday presented a motion to the supreme court of Nebraska asking leave to remove to the circuit court of the United States a case which it had appealed to the supreme court direct from the decision of the railway commission. The commission ordered the company to build a new depot at the town of Wayne.

Attorney Herman Aye, acting for the railroad company, presented to the supreme court a bond of $500 and asked the court to approve it and to issue an order allowing removal. He said it was not necessary for the court to approve the bond or to issue an order of removal, but he asked that it do both so that all concerned would know where they stand until such time as the federal court decides whether or not the case is removable.

The court took no action on the bond or the request for an order of removal, the reason given being that Judge Letton, one of the seven judges of the court, was not present.

Attorney Aye immediately ordered a certified copy of the transcript made and when this is completed next week he will file it in the federal court and that court will decide whether or not the case is removable from the state court.

Attorney General Martin will resist the railroad company's action of removal and will ask the federal court to remand the case to the supreme court of Nebraska.

It is conceded that no action is necessary on the part of the state court, because the question of removability of the suit must finally be decided by the federal court. If the case is not removable it remains in the supreme court as if no request had been made for removal. If it is removable, it will be tried by the federal court.

The state court in the case of the Rock Island sustained the state law under which the railway commission ordered the company to build a new depot at University Place. There being no prospect that the state court would reverse itself, it is the intention of the M. & O. to try for a reversal in the federal courts. A motion to advance the Wayne case was filed recently by the attorney general in the supreme court and this motion was to have been taken up next Tuesday by the court, but it is understood that the court will not proceed until the federal court passes upon the right of the railroad company to remove the suit.

History of the Wayne Case.

F. A. Berry filed a complaint against the railroad company alleging that inadequate depot facilities were maintained at Wayne. The commission held a hearing and issued an order requiring the company to rebuild its depot and furnish adequate facilities and to file plans of the construction with the commission by June 15. The railroad company appealed from this order. Under a new law it appealed direct from the commission to the supreme court of Nebraska, July 22, and now it proposes to remove the case to the federal court.

Railroad Not a Citizen.

The motion of the M. & O. railroad for leave to remove its suit from the state court to the federal court shows that the company takes the position that it is not a resident or citizen of Nebraska. Although the railroad has been in Nebraska many years, has bought lands and built a railroad line and done business with the people, it is merely here on a little visit and it expects to take its hat and get its trunk out of the boarding house, pull up its railroad line and go back home to Wisconsin where it can vote.

This is not exactly what the motion filed by Herman Aye says. The motion alleges that the amount involved in the case appealed to the supreme court of Nebraska is more than $2,000, and that the railroad company never was and is not now a resident or citizen of Nebraska, that it is incorporated under the laws of Wisconsin and therefore the dispute between itself and Mr. Berry of Wayne about depot facilities is a controversy wholly between citizens of different states. It makes no reference to any interest the state or state officers of the railroad commission may have in the dispute, because the last time a railroad company did that the federal court sent the suit in question back to the state court because the state was a party.

The company alleges in its motion for removal that the work ordered done by the railway commission will cost $8,000. It is the desire of the company to reconstruct its frame depot, but the Wayne city council and mayor refused to suspend the fire ordinance for the benefit of the company.

Mrs. Louis Ehtencamp and children were arrivals from Arlington, Neb., yesterday to visit the parents of Mrs. Ehtencamp, Mr. and Mrs. H. Hinrichs, northeast of Wayne.

THE WEEK WITH THE CHURCHES.

St. Mary's Catholic Church. (Rev. William Kearns, Priest.) Eight o'clock mass Sunday morning and (Carrol) at 10 o'clock. Sunday school 3:30 p. m. and benediction at 7:30.

German Evangelical Lutheran Church. (Rev. J. H. Karpenstein, Pastor.) There will be no services at the church next Sunday on account of the pastor going to Hastings to assist in the missions. Sunday school will take place at the usual hour.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church. (Rev. C. J. Rilger, Pastor.) Sunday school at 10 a. m. and services at 11. There will be no services in the evening owing to the pastor going to Emerson in the afternoon where he holds services. The catechetical class will begin at 2 p. m. sharp, Saturday afternoon.

Presbyterian Church. (Rev. Alexander Corkey, Pastor.) "God, a Stranger in the Land," will be the subject of the sermon in the morning at the Presbyterian church. In the evening the pastor will preach "Satisfying the Multitudes." This is the fourth sermon in a series on the Life of Christ.

Rally day will be observed in the church and Sunday school on the second Sunday in October. The entire Sunday school will be represented, including the Cradle Roll and Home Department, and a suitable program will be given. The flag contest will also be a feature of the day. Sunday school begins at 10 a. m. each Sabbath.

The young people of the church will give a series of socials this fall and winter. On each occasion some great man will be specially honored, and his work in the world brought to notice. The first of these socials will be held one week from next Friday evening, September 29, at the home of Mr. J. T. Bessler, and the poet, James Whitcomb Riley, will be honored. Besides readings and songs from the poet of the evening, some games will be enjoyed and refreshments will be served.

First Baptist Church. (Rev. B. P. Richardson, Pastor.) The pastor will preach at 10:45 Sunday morning. Sunday school convenes at 12 o'clock. The Sunday school is growing nicely, especially in the adult department. The B. Y. P. U. meets at 7 o'clock. We are glad to see the increased interest in the society. Our young people are very enthusiastic over the work.

- At 8 p. m. instead of the regular preaching service, there will be an evening of music under the leadership of Professor Davies. The following program will be rendered:

FARMER SUICIDES AT NORFOLK.
Norfolk, Neb., Sep. 18.—Driving up Norfolk avenue in a buggy this afternoon, bound for home, Ernest Fenske, a well known farmer, put a revolver to his head and fired. He fell dead on the dashboard and his horses were stopped by passersby two blocks away. Fenske was in the residence district when he ended his life. Several people saw the tragedy. Trouble with his wife is said by a brother to have been the cause. Fenske was 50 years old and had several children. He owned his farm.

PRESIDENT IN OMAHA.

CAMPAIGN IN CANADA OVER RECIPROCIITY
One of the most bitterly fought political campaigns in the history of Canada drew to a close last evening. Reciprocity with the United States has been the paramount issue, and people have considered the question with lively interest and often vehemence. The elections are in progress today, and the result will be known in a few days. Whether reciprocity with Canada can be carried out or not depends on the attitude of the Canadian people, to be determined by today's balloting.

MARRIED IN WAYNE.
Richard Edward Roberts and Miss Ora Edith Wagner, both of Randolph, were married by Judge James Britton at the court house yesterday morning. They were accompanied to Wayne by Mrs. T. Q. Kerley, sister of the groom, and Miss Hazel Wagner and Ross Wagner, sister and brother of the bride, and Mr. S. VanStack, all of Randolph. Mr. and Mrs. Roberts left on the 2:10 train in the afternoon for Litchfield, Ill., where they will visit relatives before returning to Randolph where they will locate.

Professor J. T. House of the State Normal, has received a commission from Governor Aldrich appointing him a delegate to the National Prison congress which is to be held at Omaha October 14-19. Professor House has made a specialty of sociological questions, and he is therefore well fitted to serve as a member of the body mentioned.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT TO AWAKEN INTEREST OPPORTUNITY FOR AMATEURS

Schedule Significantly Called "Handicaps"—It May Mean Advantage to Novices.
Local tennis players have organized for another tournament this fall, and an attractive prize will be hung up to stimulate the skill and courage of the participants. Not all chosen to take part have had recent experience, or might not be classed as experts, but those high up in the technique of the game inform the Herald that according to the arrangement the most skilled player may be defeated by one who has the reputation and action of an amateur. How former victors can be vanquished by those whose feats of tennis-manship might be termed a trifle awkward by high critics, the Herald doesn't know, but is assured that it can be done by the way the playing is scheduled. The list of contestants is headed "Handicaps for Tennis Tournament," giving a hint to the uninitiated that some advantages are to be enjoyed and disadvantages suffered. Here is the list:

- Miller—scratch.
- Gamble, Morgan—1-6 of 15.
- Bebe, Pile—2-6 of 15.
- Fisher, Kemp—4-6 of 15.
- Gildersleeve—5-6 of 15.
- Kohl, Straha, Leavens—15.
- Hickman, Welch, Corkey—15 1-6.
- Lewis, Strickland, Mines—15 3-6.
- Blair, C. M. Craven—15 4-6.
- H. B. Jones, H. Craven, Hayos Mair—15 5-16.
- James Pile, J. J. Ahern, Salisbury, W. Shulteis—30.
- Norris—30 1-6.
- Morris—30 2-6.
- Kate, Barrett—30 3-6.

ALTONA. (From Wisner Chronicle.)

A force of six carpenters is now busy building the church.
The little son of Mr. and Mrs. William Stutlman was baptized by Rev. Schaller Sunday and received the name Alfred Willie Otto Stutlman.
While returning from the Frauverein last Tuesday, Mrs. August Theis had the misfortune to be thrown out of the buggy by the horse running away. Although she received several bruises no bones were broken. The accident was caused by the neglect of fastening the breeching strap to the shaft, causing the buggy to run onto the horse.
During a thunderstorm on September 6, lightning struck the house of William Ferres which stunned Mrs. Ferres for awhile and killed a dog. Mr. Ferres happened to be in another room of the house at the time and didn't get stunned so bad, which was lucky for he had his hands full attending to Mrs. Ferres and putting out the fire.
During the stock show we met many people from all parts of the globe and the remark: "What has become of the Altona news reporter?" was frequently asked me. Well, I'll tell you. Your dutch uncle went to the state fair with the rest of the people that had time, and although I don't intend to give you an account of the trip, I want to say that every son-of-a-farmer ought to attend the state fair and see what progress the world is making.

There.
It's a wise child that resembles its richest relative.

MAKING TARGETS OF PASSING VEHICLES

Complaint has been made that some boys in town have developed the rather barbarous habit of throwing stones and other things at automobiles and other vehicles. As a result, an automobile tire, belonging to the machine of a visitor to the town, was punctured one day this week. In a civilized country, and in a time of general peace, people journeying along don't expect boys to run out, like Indians from ambush, and fling things at them. It is a trifle annoying to be hit when one isn't looking for it. The attitude of the boys is no doubt kindly and well intentioned, but offers a new sort of greeting which travelers are not accustomed to and therefore can't appreciate. The way for the boys to do is to exercise their playful spirit in a way that will not imperil drivers or their vehicles. If the youths have got the habit so firmly fixed that they can't stop it without help, they should be arrested, and if necessary, sent to the reform school. If the boys can't quit, a counter-irritant should be speedily applied.

A complete variety of seasonable goods and extra effort to secure freshest and most palatable articles for your table.

Now as the cool weather is coming on and a fire in the range will add comfort to the kitchen, let us suggest a few things that we think you will appreciate.

Pan Cakes! Hot Biscuits! Delicious Coffee!

We can supply you with the ingredients for any kind of Pan Cake you want from plain old flap jacks to the daintiest productions of Batter-ology. And you know what part fresh eggs play in the game—we guarantee every egg candled fresh every morning.

Next time you bake bread or make biscuits try White Pearl or Mystic Flour. We hear many comments on the lightness and quality of bread and biscuits made from these two brands of flour.

As expression plays its part in a picture, Chase & Sanborn's Teas and Coffees prove their place in the complete meal.

Political alarmists have predicted calamity and destruction for the country ever since the government was established. They have shouted political lies and paraded political ostrichs, but the country has gone serenely on, ever progressing and getting better and stronger all the time.

A suspicious and ambiguous writer on the Winside Tribune tries to make political capital out of the omission of a paragraph from the resolutions adopted by the late teachers institute commending Mrs. Littell and recommending her for another term. It is possible the Tribune has a clear idea of what it suspects in regard to the omission, but if so, it doesn't express it. The Herald's explanation last week to the effect that the paragraph was unintentionally left out, will, we hope, set that paper's suspicions at rest.

It will not be long before glib politicians will harangue people and tell them how bad off they are. The farmer who has a quarter section or more of land, all paid for, who makes good profits every year, and who could buy all the possessions of the average politician and not feel it, will be told that he is hard up, will be given the reasons why, and told the shade of politics he should adopt to land him on the road to triumphant success. It is unfortunate that politicians who preach discontent, which they do from selfish motive, can't at least be compelled to take out a license, and thus in a measure compensate the public treasury for the damage they do to the general peace of mind.

On account of the election of a successor to the late Congressman J. P. Latta, this district will naturally be the scene of greatest political activity in the state this year. Nearly every paper in the district had available timber to offer last week, but few aspirants have come to the surface as active and determined candidates. The candidate of neither side has a sure thing. There is so little agreement of opinion in either party that there is unusual uncertainty how citizens will vote in determining a choice for an office involving national politics. Therefore, no candidate can go into the race with assurance of great advantage in gaining popular favor.

One who heard Congressman Norris at the little fair recently and paid close attention to his speech, writes the Herald that his talk was devoted mainly to reciprocity which he claimed would lower the price of wheat. His chief effort seems to have been put forth to make the farmer think he would receive less for his wheat. As we are exporters of wheat and now compete with the world's markets, it is inconceivable that the proposed reciprocity would influence the price. As a matter of fact, it would not. If we ever become importers of wheat, it would then seem time to consider protection for the wheat industry in this country. It appears unnecessary for Norris to over-exert himself for a future condition to which due attention can be given when it develops, if ever. If the wheat market is the source of greatest fault with reciprocity, farmers who know prices would not be changed by it, will not take Norris' belligerent attitude seriously.

The railroad company asks to have the Wayne depot case tried in the United States court on the ground that it is a non-resident. When it is at home, it is in Wisconsin. But it cannot deny that it has been a long and steady visitor, and that while it has been visiting it has been harvesting profits from its host with regularity and relish. We have never before seen a guest stay so long, exhibit such an insatiable appetite for hospitality, and then show so little disposition to reciprocate. We have never before seen a guest behave, as the railroad company is behaving, when courteously requested to fix up quarters, where stopping while visiting, for the accommodation of a generous host. A guest usually endeavors to be agreeable to a host. One who happens to be an ingrate, will move out and go home after visiting a long time and an opportunity to return the favor is presented. But we now have the spectacle of a guest that not only goes into court to avoid reciprocal treatment of its host, but one that still prolongs its sojourn and shows no tendency to pick up its things and go home. One would think the company would now discontinue its visit and go back to Wisconsin. As a guest, its conduct is amazing and unaccountable.

ODDS AND ENDS.

Our guest, the railroad, should not overtax hospitality by prolonging its visit. And its home people in Wisconsin will not feel right to have it stay here so long.

One desirable feature in a ball game among business men—there is no quarreling with the umpire, because the players don't know the game well enough to pick flaws.

Superintendent Miller of Cedar county received a good deal of publicity last year on account of a row with his sister, and the incident promises to be pawed over and aired in the present campaign. Miss Dendinger has decided to take the republican nomination, and a vigorous effort is to be made to elect her.

As the city grows bigger and more active, people get up earlier in the morning, and therefore if the municipal management would not be doing unreasonable violence of custom, we would suggest that the electric lights be turned on earlier. The sun is getting a little slow, and people can't wait for it.

One democrat says the reason there are not more Wayne democrats on the county ticket is because there were not more offices to be filled. But Wayne as a whole, should not be blamed. The city is not forgetful of the worth and importance of outside territory, and can be depended upon to support a fair and just recognition of outside precincts.

The Ponea Leader complains of the existence of a political ring in that town made up of both democrats and republicans. The Leader's complaint suggests that members of the two parties have combined to run the politics and especially the offices of the county. We are surprised and grieved to learn that under the primary system any semblance of ring politics is suspected anywhere in the state.

We have heard it suggested that a certain man was too highly educated to talk to a body of teachers. The conviction was expressed that he would fire over their heads. Is that so? Not much. No class of people see more quickly or clearly than teachers, and the suggestion does their standard of learning and power of comprehension a great injustice. The assumption that teachers are too dull to understand ideas above the mediocre, is absurd to say the least.

Ex-President Roosevelt attended juvenile court in New York recently and participated in the examination of youthful culprits brought before the judge. One youth who had amused himself by standing on an elevated railroad and showering people with a miscellaneous assortment of tobacco juice as they passed underneath, was informed that he ought to be spanked. The ex-president told him he would like to be his father for a brief time. But while Roosevelt's advice to the young offender was eminently sound and proper, how the shadows would have gathered if some one had been brave enough to suggest that if a certain young lady had been properly trained she would not have learned to smoke cigarettes. The viewpoint has much to do in influencing one's attitude.

Over fifty years ago a big steamboat on the Missouri river struck a sandbar not far from Ponea, caught fire and sank with its cargo, mostly whiskey. The boat was bound for Montana Indian agencies, and besides a large number of barrels of whiskey, it had on board a lot of groceries. At the time of the accident passengers and crew reached shore safely, and soon afterwards the vessel disappeared under the water and sand. Twice since then the wreck was located and some of the cargo taken off. Discovered lately again, workmen are now engaged in an effort to land all the salvage, and turn it to profit. Without standard breakfast foods in the lot, and without having been inspected by a pure food commission, it may be feared that the groceries will not be readily marketable. As to the whiskey, it is safe to say it will find plenty of patrons.

Many young people are content to do only what is necessary to draw present salaries, with no ambition to rise to higher standards of earning ability. They are not interested in how much they do nor how well they can do things. Their main thought is to put in no more time than they are paid for. They shirk when not watched, are certain to not begin work ahead of time, and quite as sure to stop work on time. As a consequence, they drag along in mediocrity, starting for nowhere and getting nowhere. They wish they might inherit some money. They would like to get something for nothing. They are tired and don't feel like working. But the young man and woman, determined to make good and win in the world, and always loyal and faithful to trusting employers, steadily rise in positions of responsibility, and their services are always in demand.

Be sure and lay in a supply of our Economy soft coal.—Graves & Lambert.

The Fall Season is Here and this Store is Ready

With a Fine Big Stock of Fall and Winter Merchandise.

For months we have been buying and planning and getting our store ready for a big business this Fall. Our preparations are now complete, new goods are here and on display and we are ready to show you the best stock of Fall and Winter Merchandise we have ever had. We will be pleased to have you come early while our stock is most complete.

Your Fall Suit! The Best Way to Buy it!

In the last few years the method of selling Ladies' Suits has undergone a great change. The woman of today demands a suit that will be different in cut and material from any other suit in town. She has grown more particular, too, about the fit and style of her suit. To meet these conditions most satisfactorily we have found it necessary to have every suit made to measure.

We adopted this plan last spring and the suits we took orders for were so much more satisfactory in every way than suits sold from stock that we will in the future sell our suits made to order.

We guarantee the fit of every suit—you pay no money until the suit comes and you are satisfied with it. You can have your fall suit made from any one of 375 new materials in your choice of 75 styles.

In this way you get a suit of better materials, better linings and better fit than you have ever been able to buy and your suit will be the only one of its kind in Wayne.

A large portfolio contains more than seventy-five designs of unquestionable style, the best efforts of the best designers obtainable. In this book are also shown 375 large samples of materials all selected by cloth experts. Any material shown may be made up in any style, and price list shows clearly the cost of the finished garment.

By an accurate system of measurements we are able to fit any figure.

Your own selection of style, material, lining and trimming goes into the garment. It is made for YOU, from measurements that are YOURS. This suit that's made for you is better made and better finished than the same grade could be in a ready-to-wear suit, for each garment gets individual attention—not possible where suits are made by the dozen. Every piece of goods is shrunk and inspected before cutting, and every stitch is put in with silk thread, too.

The world's largest retail store would show no greater range of materials suitable for garments of this kind than we show you. Every piece is selected by an expert who knows cloth value and style requirements. Don't for an instant think that all this care and expert work means high-priced products. On the other hand, the perfect system means a saving to you. Better value, fit and finish can be given you by this means than you will get from ordinary ready to wear garments.

Every garment we deliver MUST BE RIGHT in fit and finish. Taking special orders is not an occasion with us—it's a regular business, built by many satisfied patrons. Behind our personal guaranty is the house that makes the suits, whose guaranty covers every point of material and workmanship. We want you to be satisfied and will make it our business to see that you are. We want to sell to you again.

Delivery of suits is made from ten days to two weeks after the receipt of order. This is not a promise, IT IS A FACT, proven by past dealings. You'll not have to wait indefinitely, as with some so-called "special order" houses. Every step in this MADE-TO-ORDER garment business is accomplished by the aid of men trained to this work—no longer an experiment—and a distinct success.

The Fall Book is now ready. We ask you to look at it. We will gladly explain everything, show you what we can do, and give you prices on anything you need. You'll find us ready to do all we can to get you acquainted with a system of garment making that's not ordinary. We believe you will find this a satisfactory solution of many clothes problems.

Your Fall Shoes Are Here.

We have never before shown such a fine array of fall and winter boots as are here now. There is a style of last for every foot, button blucher and straight lace. Heights from the low walking shoe to the extreme storm boot, in tan, gun metal, patent cravenette, velvet and suede. They are the Famous Queen Quality make which is sufficient guaranty of their style and worth. Make your selections early while the stock is complete.

An Especially Fine Stock of Ready-to-Wear Goods

You can clothe yourself and your girls from head to foot from this complete stock of Ready-to-Wear Goods.

So great is the demand for Ready-to-Wear Goods that half our store (the whole north room) is devoted exclusively to the sale of Ready-to-Wear lines.

You can buy dresses, skirts, waists, suits, coats, wrappers, house dresses, shoes and millinery here as conveniently as in the city stores and at much lower prices.

You'll find some lines of Ready-to-Wear goods on sale here which you may be planning on making this fall. Before you sew, come in and examine these goods ready-made. You'll find the sewing on these garments just as good as you could wish. The materials are first-class and the styles are even prettier than you see in the fashion plates. Your save yourself a good deal of work and worry by buying your clothes and your girls' clothes ready-made. We have the lines that will please you.

New Coats and New Dresses.

What are the Most Stylish Coats?

There are two favored styles in coats this fall. The semi-fitted coat of some rough mixed material, cut with large reverses, sailor collar and deep cuffs, and trimmed with extraordinarily large buttons just pleases the young people. There are so many mixtures to choose from that you had better come early to get one you like.

The warm, rich looking coat of plush or caracul is the other favored style. If you will come soon and get your plush coat you'll buy it cheaper than if you wait a month. We bought these coats in July when they were much cheaper than they are now. As long as this stock lasts you can Save from $2.50 to $5 on your coat.

One-piece Worsted Dresses as Popular as ever.

The one-piece dress is too convenient and useful a garment for women to give up. This season they will be more popular than ever. The useful every-day dresses are made of serge and come at $12.50. The finer dresses are made of voile, fine Panamas and silk and are priced $15 to $20. If I have not the color or size you want I will get it for you in ten days without extra charge.

BUY Your Girls Dresses Ready-Made

You could not possibly sew your girls' dresses any better than these dresses are sewed, you would not want nicer materials and you'll find the styles will please your girls to perfection.

All the dresses have 4-inch hems which can be let down next season, the washable dresses' button full length in the back to permit of easy laundering. The trimmings used are all washable colors. They come in all sizes 3 years to 18 years. The prices are lower than you would pay if you hired the dresses made.

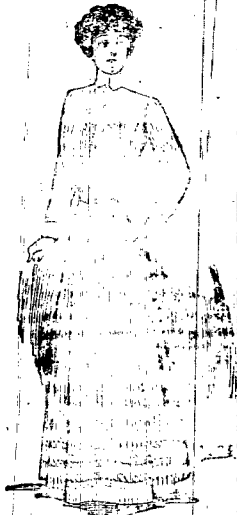

Mendel's Make House Dresses and Wrappers Will suit you exactly.

We will welcome an opportunity to show you a line of house dresses and wrappers that are faultless in make.

The stitching is as fine, close and even as you would do it. The flounces and band trimmings are put on evenly and neatly, the waist linings are of firm muslin, the buttons are well sewed on and the button-holes evenly worked, the arm holes are bound and hangers are sewed in. These garments are cut generously full—they fit like a dress should fit and are made in neat, pretty styles.

The materials are the best percales and gingham. We describe these simple garments at such length because we are anxious to have you try one. We are anxious to have you try one because so many women have been prejudiced against everything ready-made by poor wrappers and house dresses and we want to overcome that prejudice by showing you that house dresses and wrappers are made just the way you want them. It is just a question of finding a place to buy them. They cost no more than ordinary dresses.

THE EARLY DAYS IN TWO COUNTIES.

(We have discovered another file of the 'Wayne County Review,' continuing the publication at LaPorte, and will resume extracts from the first number at hand, being October 13, 1881. In running over the file we find that the Review which fought Wayne through the summer, later capitulated to the new town and moved here early in the following December. Thus, we will be able to reproduce facts of increasing interest touching the first year of Wayne's history.—Editor.)

From the Wayne County Review, published at LaPorte, October 13, 1881:
A coal famine is reported imminent.
Alex Scott's children are sick with diphtheria.

Mark Stringer lost fourteen loads of hay by fire.

Deer are reported very plentiful in the upper Logan valley.

It is reported that track-laying on the Norfolk branch will stop on account of a scarcity of iron.

D. D. Lash has his hotel at Wakefield nearly completed, and is enjoying big patronage.

Prairie fires have done damage, and warning is given that settlers should be on the lookout to guard against losses.

The nomination of Isaac Powers of Dakota City for regent of the state university by the republican party is given editorial praise.

Sioux City market: Hogs, $5.75;
steers, $3.50; cows, $2.60 to $2.25;
wheat, $1.25; corn, 46 cents; oats 30 cents; potatoes, 90 cents to $1; eggs 16 to 18 cents; butter, 15 to 30 cents.

District court was in session at La-Porte, with Judge J. B. Barnes presiding. Among non-resident lawyers in attendance were: J. C. Crawford, R. S.
Stevenson; W. M. McLaughlin and J.
W. Pollock of West Point.

From the Wayne Herald, October 1, 1891:

birthday.

Judge Isaac was renominated judge of the Ninth judicial district by the republican convention.

Married, at the Lutheran parsonage
by Rev. M. L. Melick, Mr. Jacob Miller and Miss Emma Peters, both of Carroll.

At a meeting of the committee of the Nebraska Normal college, Professor J. M. Pile was appointed president of the institution.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. William Beckenhauer, September 29, 1891, a son; to
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spahr, September 28, 1891, a girl.

A Rochester lamp exploded in the postoffice building, and only prompt discovery by people on the outside prevented a serious fire.

The Winside Watchman reported the injury of Nellie Miller, daughter of H. B. Miller, by being dragged by a horse which she was riding.

From the Wayne Herald, October 3, 1901:
The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. T.
E. Lindsay died.

The new Methodist church is to be dedicated October 20.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Holtz,
September 29, a daughter.

Dr. W. A. Ivory was married October
2, to Marion Craner at Jordan, N. Y.

The work of laying the foundation for O. D. Franks' new brick building has begun.

Dedication of the new German Lutheran church in Wayne takes place October 13.

Mr. Charles Glimsdale, formerly of Wayne, later of Alliance, was married to Miss Anna Vennerberg of Wayne.

Married at the Lutheran parsonage
by Rev. C. J. Ringer, October 1, Mr.
Merit Weeks and Miss Emma Reise,
both of Winside.

From the Ponca Journal, October 6, 1881:
The rails are now laid about four miles beyond Wayne, or a little more than half way from Emerson to Norfolk.

NEED OF BUSINESS INTEGRITY.

Fremont Tribune: What the young men of this town and of every other town in this day and age need, is a higher conception of business integrity.
By and large they are woefully lacking
in a sense of obligation to pay their debts. The young man who doesn't keep up his bills for personal expenses
is a mighty punk young man and he sadly needs to have some sense pounded in to him. When he begins to buy things for which he cannot pay and finds it necessary to "stand off" his tailor,
the jeweler, the livestock man, the florist and everybody else he patronizes, he is laying the foundation for a career of dishonor. And when he adds to this a long list of promises to pay to which he pays not the least attention, he is on the highway that leads to social and moral as well as financial failure. A Fremont banker the other day said, it was surprising how many young men, without family responsibilities and with apparently no excuse for indebtedness, came to the banks to make loans to pay up their bills. It is not necessary to add that the banks are not encouraging that kind of reckless extravagance by accommodating such applicants. It is plain to most observing and experienced persons that one of the evils of the day is the lightness with which young men regard their financial obligations. The old-fashioned integrity or the old-fashioned view of things, that impelled a young man to buy according to his income and not to put a strain upon his credit nor a stain upon his character by plunging into debt has been too largely abandoned. No young man of sense will mortgage his future by such conduct. He may not be able to have everything going; he may have to keep away from the theatre occasionally; he may have to cut out a few automobile joy rides; he may have to apologize to the florist for not buying many roses and orchids; the jeweler may account him a poor customer at the diamond counter; but he will soon have such a substantial worth that he can pay for a good deal more than he buys, and he will own an automobile and hire a flister to look after his lawns and his shrubbery. The young men of today, too many of them, have inverted and subverted views of life and need to be converted. They want to begin at the bottom, from whence they fall to the bottom. They should understand that the only way is to begin at the bottom and work toward the top; and they can never go in the right direction unless they have regard for their financial credit and pay their debts. A dead beat is an excessiveness, a parasite, a sapper and he is worse than useless in the world.

OVER THE STATE

The corner stone of the new auditorium at West Point will be laid amidst appropriate ceremonies next Saturday.
Notwithstanding that Senator LaFollette had been reported as saying he would not decide about being a candidate for president until after congress convenes in December, LaFollette headquarters are to be opened at once in Lincoln and will be in charge of F. F.
Corrick, secretary of the newly organized LaFollette league.

Dan V. Stephens of Fremont, chairman of the democratic congressional committee, and four times manager of the congressional campaign of the democratic party in this district, has formally announced his candidacy to succeed Congressman J. P. Latta, deceased.

The body of an Indian who belonged with Kit Carson's wild west show, which appeared at Wymore Friday, was found in Indian creek under the Burlington bridge, a mile west of that place Saturday by section hands. The show left for Washington, Kas. Saturday morning and it is thought the Indian was knocked off the bridge when the train passed over it. The manager wired back that one of the Indians belonging to the show was missing. Cor-nor Read decided that an inquest was not necessary.

Nebraska City special to Sunday's Omaha Bee: Taylor McGuire, the custodian, and Mr. Goldsburly, one of the trustees of the Church of Christ, went before Judge Wilson and secured a restraining order against Rev. Mr. Mc-Farland and the other two trustees to prevent them from interfering with the church or any of the property therein.
They allege that Rev. Mr. Parker is not an ordained minister and came here and without their consent and with the consent and aid of S. H. Parker and Mr.
Gardner, trustees, broke open the church, placed new locks thereon and are preaching different doctrine than that laid down by the ethics of the church. Mr. McGuire claims to have purchased the lots on which the church is located and the property is dedicated for a certain cause and a certain sect and the elders of that church refused to ordain Rev. Mr. Parker as a minister at their meeting at Rulo. The case will come up for hearing at the November term of the district court.

Dust on the Family Bible.

Rev. Patrick Bradley, preaching upon the prevalent neglect of the bible, said: "Whilst I have walked through the different families of my congregation, I have found too little use made of the sacred volume which contains our right and title to a happy immortality. Many plead that they cannot have the bible always in their hands. True, but in many cases I find family bibles lying so unused that, with my finger, I could write damnation upon the covers of them!
These things ought not to be."

A Vase Safeguard.

When one has vases that are either very expensive or that are treasured for their associations she will be glad to learn of some safeguard that will keep them from shattering when top-heavy from a profusion of flowers.
The simplest method is to place silver sand or a handful of white pebbles so that with their additional heaviness the bottom of the vase will be less unstable and thus giving the advantage of arranging the stems more to one's desire.

Easily Satisfied.

There is a bachelor who says that all he should ask in a wife would be—a good temper, health, good understanding, agreeable phylognomy, figure,
good complexion, domestic habits,
resources of amusement, good spirits, conversations, talents, elegant manners—money! The unreasonable rascal!
Isn't there anything more he can think of?

Futile Arguments.

There was once an orator, Themistocles, and as he reasoned a Colonel Boanerges in the audience hurled a stone at the speaker. He took it up and showed it to the audience with the remark: "A weighty argument, but not convincing," and the arguments of some are like the stone of the fellow in the crowd.

Advantage of High Living.

Medical scientists have arrived at the conclusion, after various experiments, that the blood of persons living at a high altitude is much richer and therefore much more capable of resisting disease germs than the blood of persons living near sea level. They also claim that lack of oxygen in the atmosphere at a great height is the cause of mountain sickness.

For Breaking Out.

"Why do you have those glass cases with the ax, hammer, crowbar and so forth, on these cars?" asked a traveler on the railroad going to New York.
"Oh, those are put there in case any one wants a window open," replied the facetious man.

NEED OF BUSINESS INTEGRITY.

Fremont Tribune: What the young
men of this town and of every other
town in this day and age need, is a
higher conception of business integrity.
By and large they are woefully lacking
in a sense of obligation to pay their debts. The young man who doesn't
keep up his bills for personal expenses
is a mighty punk young man and he sadly needs to have some sense pounded in
to him. When he begins to buy things
for which he cannot pay and finds it
necessary to "stand off" his tailor,
the jeweler, the livestock man, the florist
and everybody else he patronizes, he is laying the foundation for a career of dishonor. And when he adds to this
a long list of promises to pay to which he pays not the least attention, he is on
the highway that leads to social and moral as well as financial failure. A

WHY Does the Wayne Variety Store Gather the Crowds

BECAUSE it is the Bargain headquarters for Bargain seekers.
 BECAUSE it is ahead in Variety and lowest in price.
 BECAUSE it specializes in popular priced goods of a standard grade.
 BECAUSE its expenses are down to a minimum and don't increase the initial cost of the goods much.
 BECAUSE it does business in its own Variety Store way—a small profit on each of many quick turns.
 BECAUSE it offers—not only Saturday, but any old day—Specials of the right calibre.
 Just follow the crowd inside once and you will find out all this for yourself.

Main Specials for Next Saturday are:

- Large Cutters—with large square box, 3 knives, the large size for less than what you usually pay for the smaller size. 95c
 - Set of three Mrs. Potts' Nickel Plated Sad Irons—highly polished, full nickel plated, with aluminum bronze tops. Extra Special for Saturday only, per set. 78c
 - Silk Mull Scarfs—24x68 inches. You need them now and here they are at a price you cannot overlook. 50c

Inefficient Paris Postoffice.
 Paris chamber of commerce and foreign chambers of commerce in a letter to the Paris Chamber of Commerce, have been complaining bitterly of the non-delivery of mail by the first post in every morning. The mails get there at ten minutes to six. If they are very late they sometimes arrive there before 6:15. It happens the letters are not delivered until the second post. It means that their recipients do not know much before midday. As newspapers and printed matter are never delivered by first post, it matters no matter how early they arrive. The French senate has ordered an extensive inquiry into the matter, but there have been figures of delay before and the postoffice changes amendments every few days. Meanwhile the letters and newspapers continue to arrive late. The heads of the two countries suffer. Paris Correspondent. London Express.

Pacific Coast Whaling.
 The steam whalers St. Lawrence and White, working from the Kyquot station, reported much success during the past two weeks according to advices received by wireless from the west coast of Vancouver Island. When the steamship Tees called at the Kyquot station Sunday the whalers reported that in the previous ten days they had taken seven sperm, thirty-one humpbacks, two finbacks and one sulphur bottom whale. While the Tees was making her run between Quatsino and Kyquot the whalers added another eleven whales to their record for the past two weeks. At Sechart the total catch during the same time amounted to twenty-five, making a grand total of seventy-five whales taken off the west coast of Vancouver Island during the past two weeks.—Seattle Correspondence Portland, Oregonian.

No Rest for the Opulent.
 "I thought you said you were going to retire when you made a fortune?"
 "Retire!" echoed Mr. Dustin Stax, bitterly. "Why, I don't even dare take a chance on being caught napping."

 Daniel in the Lion's Den. Dan. vi. Golden Text—The angel of the Lord encampeth round about them that fear him, and delivereth them. Ps. xxxiv:7.

- (1.) Verse 1—Who was King Darius, whom did he succeed, what kind of a man was he?
- (2.) Verses 2-3—What had been Daniel's history up to this time?
- (3.) What is the relative importance to success in life, of intellectual ability and an excellent spirit, that is a kind heart with polite and winning manner?
- (4.) What are the really essential qualities to success in life?
- (5.) Verses 4-5—Why did the "presidents and princes" dislike, and seek the injury of Daniel?
- (6.) What proportion of men are jealous of the success of others?
- (7.) Why are so many men jealous instead of rejoicing at the success of others?
- (8.) Is it possible for all Christians to so live, as to perfectly please God?
- (9.) Verses 6-9—Are rich or highly educated men, as liable to be jealous and seek the injury of another, as are the poor and ignorant?
- (10.) There are two classes of men one which seeks to injure, and the other which seeks to help their fellows, where do we mostly find them, in or out of the church?
- (11.) What was the scheme of these men for injuring Daniel?
- (12.) Verses 10-11—Why is it wise or otherwise in these days, to open our windows, so our neighbors may hear our prayers?
- (13.) Does the narrative indicate or is it anywhere in the bible stated as to how many times a day we should engage in formal prayer?
- (14.) Verses 12-15—What is the moral difference in the turpitude of killing a man in anger, and killing him by a cold blooded and systematic follow up plan?
- (15.) What reasons are there for or against the breaking of a promise that never should have been made?
- (16.) Verses 16-17—Was Darius sincere in saying it, and what reason had he to think that God would deliver Daniel?
- (17.) Verses 18-23—What did fasting avail the king, and of what use is it to us?
- (18.) What is the spiritual value of this miraculous deliverance of Daniel to us?
- (19.) If this story should prove to be of the nature of a parable, and not actual history, would its religious value be any the less or more to us? (This is one of the questions that may be answered in writing by members of the club.)
- (20.) Verses 24-28—Was the king just as bad in causing the cruel death of all these enemies of Daniel, as he had been?
- (21.) What is the character of the act to try by threat to make people serve our God?

Liverpool.

The population of Liverpool is mixed. At the 1901 census the population was 685,000. Of these 65,000 were Irish, 20,700 Welsh, 17,000 Scotch and 12,000 foreign (3,000 of whom were naturalized residents). The foreign residents consist of wealthy merchants and representatives of foreign firms; a Jewish quarter engaged chiefly in the clothing and furniture trade; a Chinese quarter, and a little patch of Scandinavians. Liverpool is the stronghold of the Roman Catholics in England, one-quarter of its citizens being members of that body. The Low Church party is also strong, and between a certain section of that party—the Orangemen—and the Catholics a bitter feud exists. Of the other religious bodies, the Unitarians are strong, not numerically, but in influence. The corporation has 13 parks and 50 open spaces laid out as gardens or recreation grounds—in all about 1,069 acres.—Westminster Gazette.

None for Him, Thank You.
 Representatives Hughes and Kinkead of New Jersey and Cravens of Arkansas, wits of the house, had just returned from the funeral of a colleague. They were discussing the pomp and publicity of a congressional funeral.

"I do not want such a funeral, do you, Gene?" said Mr. Hughes to Mr. Kinkead.

"No, Billy, I do not care to be put away with so much display. What about you, Ben?" said Mr. Kinkead, turning to Mr. Cravens.

"I don't want any funeral," responded the southerner, dryly.—Washington Correspondence in New York World.

A Bishop's Suspenders.
 Suspenders are modern, decidedly so. There are men still living in South Carolina who remember when an effort was made to discipline the great Bishop William Capers of the Methodist church for wearing them. It was contended that in doing so he set a bad example by a display of worldliness.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

The Minerva club meets next Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. W. Huse.

The Acme club resumes with a meeting at the home of Mrs. E. S. Blair October 2.

The U. D. club begins its year's meetings at the home of Mrs. Ray Reynolds next Monday afternoon.

The first meeting of the Monday club takes place October 2 at the home of Mrs. Charles Beebe.

The Westminster Guild met Friday evening of last week with Miss Helen McNeal. Dainty refreshments were served.

The Bridge club met with Miss Edna Neely Tuesday evening. Light refreshments were served during the course of the evening.

The Guild of the St. Mary's Catholic church meets this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Wendell Baker. Refreshments will be served.

Misses Florence and Lila Gardner entertained a crowd of young friends at a watermelon party at their home Friday evening. The guests had a feast of rich, ripe melons, and a good time playing games.

The Bible Study circle will meet at the home of Mrs. Judson Garwood next Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. P. C. Crockett will lead the meeting and all are cordially invited to be present and enjoy the service.

At the social meeting of the Ladies' Missionary society of the Presbyterian church last Thursday-afternoon, at the home of Mrs. J. H. Jones, in honor of Mrs. Feather, Mrs. McClure and Mrs. Durrin, each of the three ladies was presented with a beautiful souvenir fork. Following an afternoon of sociability, a picnic supper was served on the lawn.

Twenty-five neighbors and friends of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Whitney surprised them Saturday evening by gathering at their home for a social time. They brought baskets filled with splendid eatables, and besides feasting, the crowd spent the evening in games and visiting. The surprise was complete, and the occasion made very enjoyable for all.

Tuesday evening the members of the A. F. & A. M. and Eastern Star participated in a farewell reception to Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Feather who will soon leave for their new home in California. Parc of the membership attended from 8 to 9 o'clock and part from 9 to 10. The function had been carefully planned and passed off very successfully. Cordial handshakes, with Mr. and Mrs. Feather receiving special attention, were followed by ice cream and cake. Misses Neva Orr, Alma Craven, Marjorie Kuhl, Goldie Chase, Freda Ellis and Helen Blair served the refreshments. During the evening delightful music was furnished by a harpist. Mr. and Mrs. Feather came to Wayne county in 1879, and but for a few years spent at LaPorte, have lived continuously in Wayne. Mr. Feather is a charter member of the local A. F. & A. M. lodge, and both he and his wife are charter members of the Wayne lodge of Eastern Star. Therefore, it was most appropriate for them to be honored by the two orders on the eve of their departure for their new home on the Pacific slope.

ROCHEFORT'S VIEWS ON LOVE

Famous Journalist Notes Tragic Way in Which It is Manifested in France Today.

Henri Rochefort, the French journalist who is becoming quite a moralist in his old age, has given vent to some personal comments on love.

"Love is being practiced in an original manner in France today," he says. "A young man loves a girl and to prove the intensity of his affections he puts a bullet, or two into her head and then blows out his brains."

Various examples of these tragic amours have been given us within the last few days. A boy of nineteen thus disposed of himself and a girl of thirteen.

Then a dragoon stationed at Tours came to Paris for a similar exploit. He was deeply in love with Suzanne. Suzanne is dying with two bullets in her head. The dragoon is already dead. Excepting his passion the dragoon had all the qualities of a good soldier.

The latest tragedy centers around a baker and two girls who worked in the shop he was employed. The baker, it seems, loved both, and each of the damsels loved him. His solution of this perplexing situation was sanguinary. He killed them both and then pierced his heart with a huge broad-knife.

The Rural Uplift.

"Has your family been of much assistance to you in running the place?"

"I should say so," replied Farmer Corntassel. "Food has been so high that the summer board season would have been a failure if it hadn't been for mother and our son Josh."

"They saved the expenses of help?"
 "No, sir. But Josh is a right good hand in a poker game an' the way mother picked up bridge was something amazing!"

Where Wesley Wrote Hymns.

The Rev. J. H. Wicksteed, vicar of Bexley, Kent, has presented to the Wesleyan Methodistists of Gravesend and Dartford Circuit a tree from the vicarage garden, a sapling of the old oak under whose branches John and Charles Wesley, with George Whitefield, often met in friendly conference. It is believed that Charles Wesley composed some of his hymns under its shadow, and John in his diary of September 22, 1740, writes: "I went to Mr. Piers (the vicar) at Bexley, where in the mornings and evenings I expounded the sermon on the mount and had leisure during the rest of the day for business of other kinds." He was there again on Saturday, December 2, 1749, "and preached about 11."—Church Family Newspaper.

Syphoned Oxygen.

The dark, unfathomed caves of ocean are continuously supplied with air, else life in the depths could not be supported. Dr. Carl Hering suggests in Science that the oxygen is syphoned down by pressure. Those who have witnessed the opening of a champagne bottle understand that a liquid will hold more gas in stable solution under pressure than when unconfined. The spraying of the waves saturates the surface of the ocean with air. The layer beneath, which is under higher pressure, in turn forces the captured air particles still lower, until at the utmost depth the richest content of oxygen should be found.

Science, with an eye to the manufacture of artificial wood from straw, is now experimenting in London. At the outset it is proposed to utilize the process for the manufacture of matches, and it is claimed the cost will be lessened.

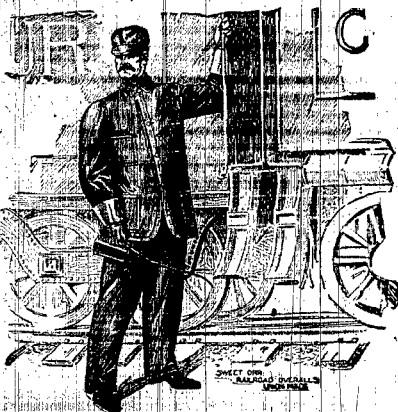

Advertising Topham.

Dr. Topham is a surgeon at the Central Emergency hospital. It wasn't his fault, but when the reporter wrote his story of the accident he wrote too much, and the copy readers had to cut it down to space requirements at the office. So that is how it happened that this appeared:

"The man was treated by Dr. Topham and the body removed to the morgue."—San Francisco Chronicle.

SCHOOL NOTES.

Several new pupils were enrolled this week. The transfer of pupils to the model schools was made this week. This has somewhat relieved the crowded condition in the first, third, fifth and seventh grades. Miss Frida Ellis has been engaged to assist in the kindergarten. Miss Ellis is a very good assistant and we hope she will prepare herself for kindergarten teaching. In a called meeting of the board of education on Monday evening, Miss Seward's "Holdings" was elected to the sixth grade. Miss Leahy, who has the six grade now, will have the third grade which was left vacant by Miss Ferguson's resignation. Next Saturday, September 23, our football team will play their first game of the season with the Wakefield team on the Wakefield tennis grounds. On the following Saturday, September 30, our team will play the Norfolk team at Norfolk. On Friday morning the Senior class gave the following program with J. M. Strahan presiding: Vocal solo, Willis Fleetwood; the recent special session of congress; Tracy Kohl; select reading, Myra Bell; vocal solo, Marguerite Hockett. Recent visitors were: Rev. and Mrs. Karpenstein and Messrs. Brugger, Miss Hoyt of Bloomfield, Mrs. White, Mrs. Ward, Mrs. Wightman, Mrs. Reynolds, Professor Stickman and son Ralph, Professor Coleman and the Misses Mafteller, Britell, Blair, James and Mellor. Mr. H. G. Leavens, the newly elected assistant in the high school, arrived last Friday and entered upon his duties Monday. Besides teaching in the high school, Mr. Leavens has charge of the athletics and every evening after school a good crowd of boys may be seen practicing football on the grounds joining the high school building on the west. Coach Leavens says the boys exhibit material for a winning team. We hope the boys will prove winners. On Wednesday morning Rev. Richardson of the Baptist church addressed the high school. Mr. Richardson's theme was "Moral Decision" and he taught that a person's character is the result of that person's decisions. A good character is the sum total of many good decisions while a bad character is the sum of bad decisions. The speaker emphasized the necessity of making good decisions while young. The necessity of having a good aim and end in view to regulate our conduct not only after we are grown and through school but while we are in the school as well.

CYCLONE" DAVIS COMING.
"Cyclone Davis," the Texas orator, who was a leading advocate of populism in its flourishing days, is scheduled to make a speech-making tour of the Third congressional district next month.

A VISITOR FROM IRELAND.
Last week Rev. Alexander Corkey had the pleasure of a visit from an old friend from Ireland who is making a trip through America. This friend, whose name is Andrew Thompson, has just completed his studies preparatory to becoming a clergyman in his native land, and he came to this country before settling down in order that he might have the advantage of some post graduate work at Princeton seminary, and also that he might enjoy a tour over the country. He spent some time in the east and has recently been traveling throughout the west, coming here from California. He expects to sail from New York for home within two weeks. Mr. Thompson has greatly enjoyed his visit to the "New World." "Man," he said in his enthusiastic Irish fashion, "this is a wonderful country. I like the west best of all. No one can appreciate America until he travels from New York to San Francisco. Ireland will seem small to me after this."

As Mr. Thompson lives near Londonderry, where Dr. Corkey spent his boyhood, and as the two families have been intimately acquainted for many years, the meeting in Wayne was a happy occasion for both of them. Mr. Thompson was greatly pleased with this city and the surrounding country. After a visit of a day, he left last Saturday morning for St. Louis, and from there he will go direct to New York.

FOUR TIMES IN SAME PLACE.
How John Lee Worked the Filmfreak Game on the Female Tobaccoist in London.

John Lee, a laborer, was charged with stealing moneys by a trick called "ringing the changes" from Clara Eliza Cannon, a tobaccoist of Roscoe street, Conning Town.

Mrs. Cannon said that a few nights ago Lee entered her shop and asked for a pennyworth of tobacco. He gave her a sixpence and she gave him five pence change. He put a penny to the five pence and asked for a sixpence. She gave him the sixpence and he put it with the coppers. Then he asked for a shilling for the sixpence and the coppers. She gave him a shilling and took the sixpence and the coppers. Then he left the shop. Twice after that he came and repeated the operation.

He came the fourth time, and putting down a shilling asked for three half-pennyworth of sweets. She gave him the sweets and 10 1/2 pence. He put 1 1/2 pence to the 10 1/2 pence and asked for a shilling. The shilling was given him and he put it to a shilling's worth of coppers. Then he said: "Can you give me a two-shilling piece to save me carrying all this about with me?" She gave him a forlin in exchange for the silver and bronze and he left the shop.

He came a fifth time and asked for a pennyworth of tobacco and put down a sixpence. When he got the five pence change he put a penny to it and asked for a sixpence for the bronze. Mrs. Cannon gave it to him and this time demanded the bronze. He said: "Why, you've got to give me a shilling for this." She declared he had "rung the changes" on her and that she would give him into custody. He ran out of the shop, but was chased and caught.—London Standard.

KAISER CAREFUL OF PENNIES
Wilhelm Would Not Let His Daughter Pay Mark for Buttons That She Desired.

The German emperor is a great man for detail, and even the dresses worn by his fair subjects receive his attention. At Wiesbaden on one occasion he exclaimed: "In this town all the ladies dress well. But only here. Ah! I wish all German women were as a la mode as the Wiesbadeners." When some one rallied him for picking a fault with his own countrymen, he exclaimed: "But I'll do them this justice—thank heaven, they do not make up their faces like English women. No German lady who respects herself files to the rouge or powder pot." The Kaiser is exacting, too, and an amusing story is told regarding a dress that was made for the Princess Victoria Louise, and in which she was to appear at a great military parade. The princess complained to the court dressmaker that the buttons were of insignificant size, and accordingly the dressmaker showed some far more attractive ones, but they cost one mark (one shilling) each. The princess admired them, but doubted if she would be allowed to pay the price, and in the absence of the Kaiser, decided to ask her imperial father. The result was that when the court dressmaker returned the same afternoon to learn the decision it was to hear that the emperor had decided that a mark was too high a price and that the princess had been told that she must not think of being so extravagant.—Dundee Advertiser.

GOVERNOR ALDRICH IN AN INTERVIEW.
Washington, Sep. 19.—"I am not a candidate for senator, I am a candidate for re-nomination for governor," said Governor Chester H. Aldrich of Nebraska.

Governor Aldrich arrived in Washington from Spring Lake, N. J., where he attended the conference of governors, accompanied by his secretary, L. B. Fuller. He called at Senator LaFollette's headquarters and after making the assertion that Nebraska would be found in the LaFollette column he started out on a tour of the capital, visiting every point of interest he could crowd into ten hours of sightseeing and taking his hat off in every shrine that seemed to breathe the spirit of progressivism.

Later in the day Governor Aldrich had a long conference with Senator LaFollette.

Governor Aldrich said he thought Nebraska was anti-Taft today but he would not predict how the state would vote in a preferential primary six months hence.

"If Taft is nominated will you support him?"

"Why, of course," said the governor instantly, "I am a republican."

Governor Aldrich and his secretary left for Cleveland, O. From there he will make a side trip to Connecticut, O., to pay a visit to his father and mother on his way to Nebraska.

HAD HIS REVENGE PLANNED
Editor Who Was Cut by Plain but Successful Author Knew How to Get Even.

The editor of a newspaper having been cut at Brighton by a plain little man, said to his wife, in explanation: "Well, why shouldn't he cut me? He has produced a novel that actually sells, and all great men are vain. Look at Gibbon."

"Gibbon, you know, wrote in his diary: 'I am the greatest historian that ever lived. No one can equal me in this direction.'"

"Victor Hugo wrote to Bismarck: 'The giant greets the giant; the foe the foe; the friend the friend. I hate thee furiously because thou hast humbled France. I love thee because I am greater than thou art.'"

"And Wordsworth said of the Swan of Avon: 'There is an immensity of trick in all he wrote. If I had a mind I could write exactly like Shakespeare.'"

"No wonder, then, the weedy little chap cut me," the editor concluded. "But I'll get even with him. I'll snap shot him in his bathing-suit and send the picture to the illustrated papers read by ladies and children. This will cause his sales to fall off at least 80 per cent."—London Tit-Bits.

Her Dad's "Pants."
"Father came to see me in the '192' cast. He had never seen daughter 'play act,' and it was some occasion for him. Right proud he was, too. He sat down in the front row, and turning continually to the people at his elbows, remarked that 'that one in the pink dress is my darter.'"

"It didn't make any difference to father. He'd pick out any one of the girls. He couldn't have singled me out for sure on a bet. Every time he'd see some one dressed particularly fetching he'd say: 'That's Bertie; that's my darter.'"

"In the show I had to play the boy in one of the scenes. When I came tripping out father guessed right for the first time. He stood straight up in his seat and yelled: 'Well, I'll be dinged if Bertie hasn't got on my pants!'"

"Father was right. I had swiped a pair from him and had been using them without his missing them."—Exchange.

Wanted to Have It Done With.
Emily Gordon Baird is the name of this young lady whose people are summing at Ridgeville, near Elyria. Her four-year-old curiosity impels her to close approach to the family washtub for a more intimate acquaintance with the soap bubbles as they swirl about the edges. In consequence she requires a frequent change of garments to keep her dry.

"Emily," said her mother last Monday, "if you get your dress wet again I shall punish you severely. Do you understand?"

"Yes, mother," replied the young lady.

Nevertheless her curiosity overcame her training and in half an hour she needed a dry dress to keep her from taking cold.

"Do you remember what I told you a little while ago?" asked the mother.

"Do you remember I told you I'd have to punish you if you didn't mind?"

"Well, mother," said the little rebel, "come on and do it, and let's have it over with."

The mind is the master over every kind of fortune; a great mind becomes a great fortune.—Seneca.

When All Will Be Rich.
Hop Sing is a Chinese laundryman with a cheerful, though somewhat unusual philosophy. After bewailing the hard times and lack of business, he added, merrily: "Bimeby everybody be lch, velly lch, bimeby." "How's that?"

"Alla poor people got no money; no can eat. Then alla poor people die."

NOT WHAT LORD INTENDED
Too Many Young Ministers Felt De-stined to Marry the Pretty Young Woman.

"Among the attendants at a late Methodist conference was a very beautiful and intelligent looking young lady, who drew the admiring gaze of many eyes, particularly eyes masculine, always on the lookout for pretty feminine faces. During the intermission at noon, a spruce young minister stepped up to the presiding elder, and said, with an air of secrecy—

"Did you observe the young lady who sat by the first pillar on the left?"

"Yes," said the elder, "what of her?"

"Why," said the young man, "I feel impressed that the Lord desires me to take that lady for a wife. I think she would make a good companion and helpmeet in the work of the ministry."

The elder, as a good Christian ought, had nothing to object.

But in a few moments another candidate for ministerial efforts and honors, and for the name of husband, came confidentially to make known a like impression regarding the same identical young lady.

"You had better wait a while. It is not best to be hasty in determining the source of such impressions," said the prudent elder.

And he said well; for hardly were the steps of the second youth cold at his side, ere a third approached with the same story; and while the worthy confidant still marveled, a fourth drew near with the question—

"Did you notice the fine, noble-looking woman on your left?"

"Yes," cried the swelling elder.

"Well, sir," went on the fourth victim of that unsuspecting girl, "it is strongly borne in upon my mind that it is the will of the Lord that I should make proposals of marriage to that lady. He has impressed me that she is to be my wife."

The elder could hold in no longer.

"Impossible! impossible!" he exclaimed in an excited tone, "the Lord never could have intended that four men should marry that one woman."

Possum Points the Way.
In removing the debris from the cellar of the old Riggs house, which has been torn down, a number of Washington workmen the other day discovered a big fat possum, which they mistook for an enormous rat, and fled precipitately. The effects upon the negro of the refinements of higher education and the white man's civilization may well be challenged when it destroys the nature of the race to the extent that its members fail to recognize a fine fat possum when they see it, says the Baltimore Sun. About one more generation of progress along the same line and we will see a colored man and brother shying at the watermelon and running from the yellow-legged pullet.

Her Favorite Worm.
Dorothy came running up the walk one morning her baby hand extended and on the tiny palm a huge brown and black caterpillar. "Just look what I've found, Mrs. H.," she exclaimed, joyously. "I never even looked for it, but this is my favorite worm!"

BODY IS TOO MUCH IGNORED
Herbert Spencer on the Proper Balance That Should Be Maintained in Education.

Nature is a strict accountant; and if you demand of her in one direction more than she is prepared to lay out she balances the account by making a deduction elsewhere. If you insist on premature or undue growth of any one part she will, with more or less protest, concede the point; but that she may do your extra work she must leave some of her more important work undone. In primitive times, when aggression and defense were the leading social activities, bodily vigor, with its accompanying courage, were the great desiderata; and then education was almost wholly physical; mental education was little cared for, and, indeed, was often treated with contempt. But now the muscular power is of use for little else than manual labor, while social success of nearly every kind depends much on mental power, our education has become almost exclusively mental. Instead of respecting the body and ignoring the mind, we now respect the mind and ignore the body. Both these attitudes are wrong. We do not sufficiently realize the truth that as, in this life of ours, the physical underlies the mental, the mental must not be developed at the expense of the physical. The ancient and modern conception must be combined.—Herbert Spencer.

Bad Little Girl.
"Who is a bad little girl?" said a friend of ours playfully to a wee thing in frock and pantalets, just now. "I am a bad girl," was the naive reply. "Oh, no, you are not a bad little girl." "Yeth I am," persisted the little one. "Then tell me why you are a bad girl." "Beacauthe I'm a boy!" answered the wee rascal.

Cause of Rust Spots.
Many rust spots on clothes are caused by bits of soap adhering to the latter when they come in contact with the bluing water. Avoid having these unsightly marks by cutting the soap into small pieces and tie them in a salt bag kept for the purpose.

These are the doctors you no doubt have read about. While you may not know them personally, you may know their reputation, or through some of your neighbors they have treated.

The remarkable success of these talented physicians in the treatment of chronic diseases has aroused much enthusiasm in the northwest.

This is said to be and no doubt is true, one of the most able specialists' organizations of its kind in this section of the country, and must be a successful one from the many good results they are getting.

The Associated Doctors, licensed by the state of Nebraska for the treatment of deformities and nervous and chronic diseases of men, women and children, offer to all who call on them consultation, examination and advice free.

It is specially requested that married ladies come with their husbands and minors with their parents.

The name "Associated Doctors," is what it implies, a union of specialists, twenty in number, that have gotten together for the treatment of chronic and nervous diseases. Not to be understood that they treat all diseases that the human body is heir to. They mean to be very careful in selecting and taking cases as they want good results, which mean good returns in the way of their patients recommending them to others.

They estimate that over eighty per cent of the patients now coming to them come from recommendations of those they have treated.

They do not treat any acute diseases whatever, their time and attention being devoted to such diseases as follows:

Diseases of the stomach, intestines, liver, blood, skin, nerves, heart, spleen, kidneys or bladder, rheumatism, sciatica, neuralgia, bed-wetting, leg ulcers, weak lungs and those afflicted with hemorrhoids, deep seated, chronic diseases that have baffled the skill of the family physicians, should not fail to call.

According to their system, no more operations for appendicitis, gall stones, tumors or goitres. They were among the first in America to earn the name of the "Boneless Surgeons," by doing away with knives, with blood and with all pain in the successful treatment of these dangerous diseases.

BELOW ARE THE NAMES

of a few of the many patients that have made good things to say for the Associated Doctors:

Mr. Frank Dell Rapids, S. D., ear-ache and deafness.

Mrs. O. G. Anderson, Mina, S. D., nervous and kidney trouble.

Mrs. John H. Keiser, Yankton, S. D., nearly blind with heart and kidney trouble, after long hospital, was given only weeks to live, in short time under their treatment was doing some of her household work.

Old Gerlach, Ager, S. D., old sore on face.

Mr. Clark, Selby, S. D., so pleased with "Associated Doctors' treatment, thought his father-in-law for treatment.

Mrs. Frank Gray, Hazelton, N. D., trouble of stomach, general debility.

Atton De Young, Ashton, S. D., rheumatism, writes he is doing fine.

Mrs. Sherman Vann, Haron, S. D., feels that she has struck the right doctor this time.

Mr. J. L. Hall, Hot Springs, S. D., writes she is doing nicely under their treatment.

All sealed proposals shall be deposited in the iron box for that purpose in the Citizens National Bank, Wayne, Nebraska, in envelopes marked on outside "Proposals for Library Building." Plans and specifications may be examined at the store of J. J. Ahern, Wayne, Nebraska, chairman of the building committee. Bidders must qualify to the satisfaction of the building committee, both as to financial responsibility and capability of efficient execution of work; must furnish information with bid on these and other subjects as required by the conditions and instructions to bidders accompanying said specifications and in all respects comply with the requirements therein contained. Bids must be in form specified with alternate and unit prices as required.

The bidder to whom contract is awarded must furnish a bond for fifty per cent of the contract price; all bids must be accompanied by a certified check for two and one-half (2 1/2) per cent of the bid, all as provided more particularly in said conditions. Contract will be made subject to all the provisions of said conditions.

Any other information desired will be furnished by the architects.

The building committee reserve the right to reject any or all bids and to accept such bids as may be deemed advisable.

Barns and Barnacles.

"Pretty handsome barn, don't you think?" said the member of the city group who had been on the farm before. "Which is that?" asked the one who was on her first visit. "The large red building is the barn!" "Oh, yes! And the little buildings around it are the barnacles, are they?"

THE LEADING NEWSPAPER.

Readers of the Herald who want to keep in touch with the daily happenings of the world in general and the northwest in particular; who want a market page that in scope and accuracy is unsurpassed; who demand all the special features that go in the make-up of a modern newspaper, in short, readers who demand a down-to-the-minute newspaper, should subscribe for the Sioux City Journal, either direct or through this office. The Journal needs no introduction to Herald readers. It stands pre-eminent in this section as the leading daily newspaper.

In Glibrous Italy.

It has been observed that in Italy the memory does more than the eye. Scarcely a stone is turned up that has not some historical association, ancient or modern, that may not be said to have gold under it.

Peat deposits in northwest Germany are to be used as fuel for the development of electrical energy.

Itch! Itch! Itch!—Scratch! Scratch! Scratch! The more you scratch the worse the itch. Try Doan's Ointment. It cures piles, eczema and skin itching. All druggists sell it.

Sound Philosophy.

A correspondent of the Portland, Mass., Times asserts: "Men are like bugs—the more mass they contain, the further you can let them. Women are like tulips the more modest and retiring they appear, the better you love them." There it says truth, we think it that.

Foley's Honey and Tar Compound.

Still retains its high place as the best household remedy for all coughs and colds, either for children or grown persons. Prevents serious results from a cold. Take only the genuine Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, and refuse substitutes.—Foley's Pharmacy.

Whistles for the Deaf.

Every deaf person should carry a whistle. If the family make it an invariable rule for some one to appear in answer to the whistle the one afflicted with deafness will be pleased with the result. It will prevent useless calling and save many steps. It has been tried and found most satisfactory.

Hookworm Needed Also.

"See that measuring worm crawling up my skirt?" cried Mrs. Bjorks. "That's a sign I'm going to have a new dress." "Well, let him make it for you," growled Mr. Bjorks. "And while he's about it, have him send a hookworm to do you up the back I'm tired of the job."

Hold Yourself in Reserve.

Reserve is power. He is wise who lives a good part of his life inside of himself. Too much speech is weakness. It is better to hold much of ourselves in reserve, to be discerned by degrees, and never to the uttermost limit.

Sanity and Feet.

Two Persian scientists have advanced the idea that the sanest type of men have large feet, while the sanest types of women have small ones.

Pretty Likely.

When a woman enters a prize contest she is likely to feel pretty sure that the winner had a pull with the judges.

Mr. Ramsey moved to Phillip expecting to engage in the livery business, but owing to failing health decided to abandon a business enterprise, and has again moved out on the ranch. He states that Mrs. Ramsey has been enjoying very good health since they moved from Winside.
 The directors of the lecture course entertainments for this season met at Dr. Cherry's office Friday evening and elected the following officers: Dr. Cherry, chairman; A. C. Lantz, secretary; and D. B. Carter, treasurer. Committee on selling tickets, A. H. Carter, Professor Rickmill, George Gaddler and A. W. Stockman; committee hall management, H. G. Smith and Charles Neppham. The entertainments and dates are as follows: Mozart concert company, October 8; Dr. J. T. Robertson, November 21; George C. Rheinfrank, December 14; Lyric Trio, January 8, and Fraternity Glee Club, not as yet dated. The committee on tickets has met with fairly good success, selling 115 season tickets for the first afternoon. The season tickets are on sale at the drug store, $2 for the five entertainments. This promises to be the best course ever given here and the numbers secured are clean, moral and intellectual aid should have the support of the community.
 The business men, or nine of Wayne's representatives, met a similar aggregation from Winside's business men, at the local ball grounds on last Friday afternoon to determine who should be rewarded with the base ball pennant of the season. It would be useless for us to attempt to delineate or narrate the special features of the game for none could appreciate them unless they were an eye witness. I think all will agree that everybody worked hard, and when the scores were counted they footed up something like 19 to 10 in favor of the home team. James Shannon proved to be the right man in the right place, for there was not a dissenting voice in regard to any decision, and that is a remarkable record for an umpire to make, especially with Wayne and Winside at bat.

THE SEPARATE SKIRT

One Great Fashion Authority Says:
 "Dresses may come and Dresses may go, but Separate Skirts go on forever."

And this is true. It really doesn't matter how many suits you have, or how many one-piece gowns, the need of the separate skirt is distinct and different—and is always there. We wish for an opportunity to show you our very good and varied stock of new fall skirts.

Imported Scotch mixtures in pretty new fall models $5.50 to $12.50	Fine black dress skirts in Panamas, serges, voiles and poplins, all the very newest models $5.50 to $12.50
Plain fabrics in the newest and most popular colors in Bedford cords, Panamas and poplins $5.00 to $12.50	Several special numbers in misses' and also special large skirts that you will appreciate when you see them.

You may be one of those to whom a Wooltex Guarantee has always seemed Unimportant.

Another of our customers felt that way about it last season. But she has changed her mind. She bought a Wooltex suit, which, as you know, always carries a two seasons' guarantee, and now she knows. Probably no amount of talking could convince you. But one season with a Wooltex garment such as any we sell will make a convert of you for all time.

Coats $12.50 to $30. Suits $20 to $30.

New Fall Dress Goods, Silks and Trimmings.

We were never in better shape to supply our customers with just the right things in fall dress fabrics. See our display of these new goods and compare them with anything else you may see at the same prices—50 cents to $1.75.
